Floyd Voters Nix Weather Modification

VILLAGE PIZZA IN FLOYDADA... is expected to get underway this week at the Y formerly Thriftway Grocery. Owners, JMB Inc., formed by Jack Bounds, Myrna Widener (pictured above), display just a sample of the variety of pizzas which will be available with seating capacity for 160. The Village Pizza will have an adjoining ice cream parlor offering hand-dipped ice cream, soft ice cream and frogart. Opening date will be about Oct. grand opening to be announced later. Widener said. (Photo by Joe Don Hancock, Plainview Reporter News)

Weather modification voters soundly rejected propositions on hail suppression flights in Floyd County Tuesday. Floyd County voters were not the only ones to turn down the propositions handily. Castro and Bailey voters also voiced their opinions strongly against the propositions. In the election held Tuesday 851 people went to the polls to determine the fate of weather modification efforts in Floyd County. With a total vote of 727 against and 124 persons for, voters turned down the issuance of a weather modification permit which includes hail suppression in a major portion of Floyd County. With 14 precincts voting, only two precincts voted in favor of the proposition, those being Sandhill and Allmon. At Allmon only nine persons turned out to vote and at Sandhill only 34. Those in the communities of Goodnight, Baker and Dougherty were not eligible to vote because they are not in the target or operational areas in Floyd County.

Weather Improvement Association of Plainview. The overall vote in the target area was 116 for and 505 against. The middle 1/3 of the county is within the operational area of the permit. In the operational area 10 boxes voted against hail suppression activities. The operational area is a strip of land eight miles wide immediately to the east of the target area, over which planes may fly to seed clouds. The vote in the operational area was 7 for and 200 against.

Immediately thereafter, companies will be notified to cease flights over operational areas which voted against the propositions. Modification companies made their biggest gains last Saturday with the Lamb County elections. Voters in eight target area precincts there approved modification activities, while the proposition failed in only one area precinct. Voters in seven other operational precincts also defeated the proposition.

Voters in Southwest Floydada cast 11 for to 136 against; East Lockney, 13 for to 74 against; Providence, 6 for to 18 against; Lone Star, none for, 34 against; South Plains, one for and 51 against; Cedar Hill, none for to 48 against; Harmony, 7 for to 8 against; West Lockney, 43 for to 165 against; Northwest Floydada, 2 for to 59 against; McCoy, none for to 11 against; Southeast Floydada, four for to 65 against; Northeast Floydada, one for and 28 against; and absentee, one for and 22 against.

At Cedar Hill, more voters turned out for this election than for any in the history of that election precinct.

W.R. Ware of Cedar Hill and with the group opposing the weather modification efforts, said, "We are very happy with the results of the election."

Of 52 voting boxes over the South Plains eligible for the election, only nine approved of continuing suppression flights by Plains Weather Improvement Association of Plainview or Atmospherics Inc., of Littlefield. Voters were eligible to cast ballots only on the proposition affecting their area.

He went on to say, "We certainly appreciate the efforts of those who worked on the petitions and on the election, and we want to express our thanks to the Citizens for Natural Weather for their help. After seven years of struggle to end cloud seeding, the Citizens for Natural Weather hope that at last politicians across the state will take notice that people disfavor these weather modification efforts." Ware stated that six out of every 7 people disfavored cloud seeding in the election.

Exact results of the election will not be known until the Texas Water Development Board convenes in Austin sometime in September or October to certify election results and amend the companies' permits to operate, according to board general counsel Bruce Bigelow.

On Friday morning at 9:00 Floyd County Commissioners Court will meet in special session to certify the results of the election. Notice of the results of the election will be on to the Texas Water Development Board in Austin.

Only in clear cut operational areas will election results be final and valid, and then only as soon as Bigelow receives a certified copy of the results from county commissioners.

New County Budget Filed

The new Floyd County budget of $759,164.00 has been filed in the county clerks' office at the court house by auditor, Olin Watson, and is open for public inspection. A public hearing on the budget will be held at 1 p.m. on September 12 in the county court room.

There is little change in the new budget...with no new tax increase. The tax rate remains at 95 cents per $100 valuation. Estimated tax valuation for the county is $54,514,500.00 as given by the tax assessor. The budget includes a five percent raise for all county employees, subject to the approval of county commissioners, according to the auditor.

Whirlwinds, Cubs Battle To 1-1 Standoff

Fullback Larry J ones accounted for a single score, as Coach L.G. Wilson's Floydada Whirlwinds survived a late Brownfield comeback and salvaged a 1-1 tie in the season's opening scrimmage last Friday. The Cubs trailed early in the contest following J ones' TD run, but capitalized on a turnover in the late stages for the tying TD.

Three touchdowns in aiding with the triumph. The Junior Varsity club battled its opponents to a 0-0 standoff. The Floydada Whirlwind underclassmen will be taking on the Plainview Bulldogs of Class AAAA in the season's second scrimmage this Friday afternoon at Wester Field beginning at 2:30 p.m. The Whirlwinds will be going for their initial victory of scrimmage-type competition, as L.G. Wilson's troops salvaged a one-touchdown-apiece deadlock last Friday with Brownfield. Following the Plainview scrimmage, Floydada will begin preparations for the September 2 showdown with Friona, the season opener for both squads.

"We were very pleased with our performance against Brownfield," was the opening comment of Coach Wilson following the contest. "The game was a standoff, and was really very even as scrimmage conditions were concerned. Neither team dominated the game." In earlier showdowns, the Freshman squad handed the Cubs an impressive 3-1 defeat, with Jeff Rainey scoring

Pair Clinch Partnership Victory

Lubbock's Ted Watts and Plainview's Jack Williams breezed through Sunday's final 18 holes of the Floydada partnership tournament with an unbelievable 10 under par 62, and a dramatic come-from-behind victory by four shots. The pair, which had previously trailed Bucky Sheffield and Floydada's Kent Hale in the tourney's opening round, combined for a whopping 10 birdies in the final round to outduel runner up team Matt Monzingo and Alan McNally, and Hale and Sheffield by comfortable margins.

In the president's flight competition Joe Priddy and Floydada's Max Dyess clinched first place by overcoming four other opponents for a dramatic playoff win.

Parts of the city received more moisture than mentioned above, especially the west and south parts. Figures are the official count from Pioneer Natural Gas. TOWER TALKS

by U.S. Senator for Texas
JOHN TOWER

Crude Oil Price Deregulation

WASHINGTON—The Administration's repeated talk about the ill-effects of deregulated energy on the consumer is a good example of how misinformation—if unchallenged—becomes the conventional wisdom, despite facts to the contrary.

Such tactics do a gross disservice to the American public, obscuring the issues with political propaganda at a time when Texans and all Americans deserve straight talk about energy policy and how it will affect their pocketbooks and their way of life.

Unfortunately, the public has been subjected to so much contradictory information about the consequences of various energy proposals that distrust may be the prevailing attitude.

Yet it is critically important that we understand that the policy decisions made now will have far-reaching implications, affecting the quality of our lives well into the next century.

Vitality important to our industrial and economic future—and among the energy issues most consistently misrepresented—is crude oil supply and its price. The Administration has argued that a cap must be continued on the price of crude oil to prevent an alleged rip-off of the consuming public. Oil companies, so the argument goes, would reap windfall profits and would be under little pressure to plow back profits into exploration and production, so that little additional supply of oil would result.

Such claims are patently exaggerated and do not stand up under examination when even basic economics are applied.

The real consumer rip-off, it is important to understand, is an energy policy which assures a scarce supply of domestically produced oil, while at the same time continues reliance on the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) for oil at a price they can raise at the drop of a hat.

The Administration's crude oil plan is just such a policy.

Basic economic facts argue forcefully for deregulation. Even though Arab oil is priced high, it sells and will continue to do so on the world market because Federal regulation of the domestic oil companies discourages American exploration and production. With little or no American supply competition, OPEC has a corner on the oil market.

American companies, like most businesses, must justify the soundness of their investments. Oil exploration and production, hobbled by excessive regulation, is simply not a sufficiently attractive investment. Unable to realize a return on investment, American companies have been forced to produce less and the consumer therefore pays a price dictated by the Arabs.

Deregulation would reverse this perversion of the marketplace. American companies could begin to bring in new sources, eliminate the OPEC monopoly on supply, and allow the marketplace to determine prices.

Windfall profits? Every reliable study comes to the same conclusion—profits would remain about the same as for other segments of industry. Congress has considered an excess profits tax before. Should deregulation result in higher prices not accompanied by increased supplies, such a tax could again be considered.

More importantly, we would begin to rely on American production, not Arab whim or costly government controls to assure a vital supply of oil.

Seminar Seeks Solutions To Gin Waste Problem

For cotton gins throughout the Cotton Belt, gin waste is a problem of staggering dimensions.

In Texas alone, assuming a 4 million bale production, gin waste would total about 2 million tons.

With federal and state regulations restricting the traditional ways of burning gin trash, gins are faced with either finding ways of burning without pollution or disposing of the trash some other way.

Solutions to this problem were the topic of discussion at a seminar on gin waste utilization and stick separation held earlier this year by Cotton Incorporated in cooperation with the Southern Cotton Ginners Association and the National Cotton Council. Cotton Incorporated is the fiber company of American cotton producers.

Proceedings of the seminar have recently been published to make them available to interested persons.

Alternatives examined at the seminar included heat-recovering gin waste incinerators, composting, using gin waste for building materials, and a feeder cleaner unit to remove the waste before it gets in the gin.

Outlining the problem at the seminar, Jack Hamilton, president of the Southern Cotton Ginners Association, told the ginners and producers in attendance that "we are just not going to be able to continue burning as we are burning now."

The results of tests of heat-recovering gin waste incinerators have proven "impressive" in tests, according to Beverly Reeves, extension agricultural engineer for cotton mechanization and ginning.

"We have a lot of people working on gin trash incineration and heat recovery, and I think we are making good progress," Reeves told the approximately 50 persons at the seminar.

Equipment manufacturers, scientists, and ginners outlined the pros and cons of various incinerator systems and their overall effectiveness. Engineers from Cotton Incorporated presented results of two seasons' tests on heat-recovering incinerators.

The audience also heard about alternatives other than incineration.

Composting offers some advantages as a disposal method, according to a report from Calvin B. Parnell Jr. of Texas A&M. He said composting of gin waste has the potential of bringing Texas ginners an additional $48 million revenue yearly.

Evangelos J. Biblis, professor of forestry at Auburn University, reported that gin waste from spindle-picked cotton could be combined with wood particles and wood fiber to produce insulation board that meets commercial standards.

Another alternative explored was a better system of removing trash from seed cotton before it enters the gin.

A unit that doubles as both a cleaner and a feeder was explained by Lambert Wilkes, professor of agricultural engineering at Texas A&M University. Wilkes reported that the feeder-cleaner removes over half the trash from seed cotton while providing the efficiencies of an automatic gin feeder.

Gary Underbrink, a research associate at Texas A&M, detailed research findings of tests in various parts of Texas of a field unit of the feeder-cleaner.

J.K. "Farmer" Jones, Cotton Incorporated vice president and associate director of agricultural research, told the seminar the feeder-cleaner has the potential to reduce energy per bale and airborne dust at the gin.

He said it could be a great aid in parts of the Cotton Belt where more and more stripper harvesting is taking place but where gins are equipped to handle only spindle-picked cotton.

Proceedings of the gin waste utilization and stick separation seminar have just been published as an agro-industrial report by Cotton Incorporated. Copies of the proceedings are available by writing Dr. William F. Lalor, Cotton Incorporated, 4505 Creedmoor Road, Raleigh, N.C. 27612.

MRS. JAMES JOSPEH

Vows Exchanged By Mitzi Terrell, Jimmy Glenn

Wedding vows were exchanged Saturday night in First Baptist Church in Lockney by Mitzi Gail Terrell of Lockney and James Joseph "Jimmy" Glenn of Plainview. Brook Sanders, cousin of the groom, and music and director of College Avenue Baptist Church, Levelland, directed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. B.J. "Jeff" Terrell of Route 1 Lockney, and Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Glenn of 207 SW 10th, Plainview.

Candlelight from a candelabras set the scene for the exchange of promises. Focal point of the nuptial area was a kneeling bench holding a unity candle. Tropical foliage tied with pink satin enhanced the candelabras.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Harley Terrell of Plainview and Mrs. Gary Morgan of Telham, Alabama, sister of the groom and then seated in the church by ushers, Bernie Ford of Lockney, Barry Street of Kress, and Greg Goree of Sabinal. Mr. Ken Watson of Lockney, brother-in-law of bride was organist and Mrs. Lavonia Vaughn of Petersburg, aunt of the bride was pianist. Gary Morgan, groom's brother-in-law of Telham, Alabama sang "With These Hands" and "Sometimes."

Mrs. Eddie Fullingim, of Petersburg, cousin of the bride, sang Russ's song and a duet, "There Is No Greater Love," with her brother Karl Vaughn of Edmonson. They both joined their sister, Mrs. David Foote of Petersburg in a trip by singing the "Wedding Prayer."

Escorted to the altar area and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her wedding a white Victorian gown of all over rope medallion chantilly lace. The sheer, ruffled yoke bodice featured a wedding band neckline and sheer lace cuff with scalloped lace tattering. Her five tiered chantilly skirt was accented by a crescent waistline and fullness that was gently shirred to the back creating her a chapel length train. A camelot cap held her tiered illusion which was edged in matching chantilly lace. Atop a white lacy Bible, the former Miss Terrell carried a bouquet arrangement of pink roses, gypsophalia and springeri fern.

Following bridal tradition, she used "something old" which was the original wedding rings of both the mother of the bride and the mother of the groom, tied to her bouquet. "Something new" was pearl earrings; "something borrowed" was pearls belonging to the

The reception was in the church fellowship hall. Covering the bride's table was a pink floorlength cloth trimmed and overlaid by a ruffled lace cloth. The centerpiece was a five branch candelabra surrounded by the attendants' bouquets. The four-tiered wedding cake was made by the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Watson. Silver and crystal appointments completed the table decor.

Assistants at the bride's table were Barbie Butcher of Lubbock and Joy Frizzell, Kathy McCarter and Cindy Christian, all of Lockney. For the groom's table, assistants were Carrie Vaughn of Tulsa, Kim Larkey of Floydada; and Dar Lee McPherson and D'Lyn Mathis, both of Lockney. The groom's table was covered with an ivory polyester tablecloth edged in ivory lace. The centerpiece was a blue jean cake made by the groom's sister-in-law Mrs. David Glenn of Ozark, Alabama, and a copper coffee service accented the decor.

Members of the reception houseparty were Mmes. Tom Marr, Tom Duvall, Jack Frizzell, Dub Merzer, Larnee McCain, Larry Christa Warren Mathis Pat Frizzell, Gale McPherson, and Glen Copper.

Parents of the groom hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday night at the Holiday Inn in Plainview. Guests were members of the wedding party.

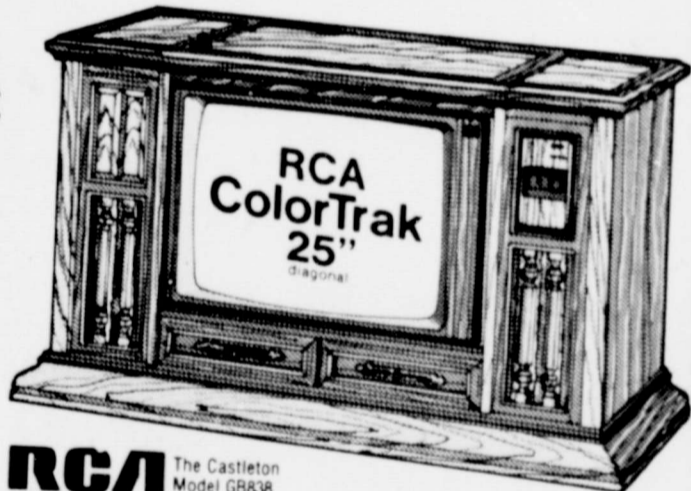

A bridal luncheon was given at noon Saturday in the home of Mrs. Tom Duvall. It was given by the maid of honor Miss Teresa Duvall. In attendance were the bride, her mother Mrs. B.J. Terrell; the groom's mother, Mrs. A.C. Glenn of Plainview, and his sister, Mrs. Gary Morgan of Telham, Alabama; the bride's sisters, Mrs. Ken Watson and Miss Kay Terrell of Irving; Misses Janis Marr, Kristie Ford, Barbie Butcher of Lubbock, and Joy Frizzell; Mrs. Tom Marr, Mrs. Claude Brown, and Mrs. Harley Terrell of Plainview, cousin of the bride.

Dunavant And Hahn Vows Read In Durango

Linda Elaine Dunavant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Dunavant of Bayfield, Colorado and Rick Hahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hahn of Durango, Colorado were married at 8 p.m. July 29. Gray Fields performed the ceremony in the Florida Mesa Church of Christ in Durango.

Baskets of yellow mums and orange candles were used in church decorations. Cheryl Byrne, Ron Dunavant, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Byrne were vocalists.

The bride wore a long gown of white satin with an inset yoke of lace and long lace sleeves. Her fingertip length veil fell from a head piece of embroidered pearls and she carried a cascading bouquet of orange and yellow carnations.

Sandra Dunavant was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Dawnella Sower, Monica Strohecker, and Lorie Green. All wore long gowns of yellow and orange flocked print and orange picture hats. Each carried a long stem orange carnation and baby's breath tied with a yellow ribbon. Davis Friemuth was best man. Dennis Patrick, Randy Mason, and Kevin Fields were groomsmen and also served as ushers.

Julie Green was flower girl. She wore a floor length gown and hat to match the bridesmaid and carried a nosegay of yellow and orange carnations. Mark Fields was ring bearer. A reception was held in the Bayfield Lions Club with Mary Ann Green, Mrs. Ron Dunavant, and Mrs. True Kirk assisting.

The bride attended Bayfield High School. The groom is a 1975 graduate of Durango High School and is employed by McNew Construction Co. The couple is making their home in Bayfield.

Out of town guests at the wedding included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A.B. Clark of Floydada and her aunt, Mrs. E.L. Norman J.R. of Lubbock.

Children from families whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced-price meals and free milk during the period of unemployment, provided that the loss of income causes the family income during the period of unemployment to be at or below the levels shown on the scale.

Application forms are being sent to all homes in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. The information provided on the application is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. In certain cases foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If a family has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for such meals and milk for them, it should contact the school.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color, or national origin. Under the provisions of the policy, school principals will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may make a request either orally or in writing to the Superintendent of Schools, 208 South Main, Floydada, Texas 79235 for a hearing to appeal the decision. The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedure. Each school and the Business Office has a copy of the complete policy which may be reviewed by any interested party.

VACATIONS are great! But its terrible on your nerves when you come back and find your boss is gone and you've got to hit the paper deadline on key without him...plus our book-keeper has to vacation too...so that leaves the office minus two with everyone else filling in trying to help. We had a former Hesperian employee in the office yesterday and we tried to put her to work but no luck. Gayle Fawver Ross, who now lives in Canada, is here visiting her parents and to be present for the wedding of her brother.

THIS is a good recipe for Bread N' Butter Pickles: 4 medium cucumbers, sliced (about 8 cups) 1 pound onions, sliced (about 5 cups) 1 medium green pepper, finely chopped (about 1/2 cup) 1/2 cup salt 1 quart water

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE COORDINATORS-Jose M. Rodriguez, pastor of First Baptist Mission in Abernathy; Lynn Godsey, pastor of First Baptist Mission in Kress; and Dr. Strauss Atkinson, director of missions at the Caprock-Plains Baptist Area Center make plans for the Spanish Fellowship's first Church Training Leadership Conference to be held Sept. 2 and 3 at the Caprock-Plains Baptist Area Center. Persons interested may contact one of the coordinators.

2 1/2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon mustard seed
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon tumeric
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1 1/2 cups vinegar
1 cup water

Place cucumbers, onions, and green pepper in large bowl. Dissolve salt in 1 quart water, pour over cucumbers and cover. Let stand at room temperature for 4 hours.

Drain cucumbers, place in a 6-quart Dutch oven. Heat remaining ingredients in medium saucepan to boiling, stirring until sugar dissolves. Pour over cucumbers. Heat to boiling.

Pack in sterilized jars leaving 1/2 inch head space. Seal. Process in boiling water bath for 10 minutes.

DID YOU know your child could be malnourished, even though he never goes to bed hungry? "It is disheartening to note the alarming number of children who are malnourished in this country not because they don't eat, but because they don't eat the right things," Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown states.

"With our abundance of good quality food there is no reason for malnutrition of any type," he continues. Brown warns parents that without a properly balanced diet, children may be affected during important growth years. In addition, he says, they may pick up bad eating habits which they will carry with them the rest of their lives.

PICNIC foods such as fried chicken, roast beef, or baked ham, as well as potato salad, deviled eggs or cole slaw should be avoided on outings unless there is a way to keep them very hot or cold.

Bacterial growth could make these foods unsafe to eat within three or four hours.

It was still summer this week but some days you could almost feel that Fall is getting close, and so much and it makes you wonder where the summer had gone.

Our devotions have been good this week. Every one received a blessing from them.

Wednesday we had a field trip and enjoyed ice cream. Taking the trip were Henry Love, Agnes Anderson, Hope Hammonds, Florence Badgett, Dora Langford, myself, and the driver, Grady Freeman.

Thursday the women of City Park Church of Christ gave the party of the month for our residents. They served cake and punch to all the residents, employees and visitors. Everyone enjoyed the party as they always do.

We appreciate these women so much. They never forget our residents and are always so good to them. We had three with birthdays in August Susie Mooney, Lydia Collins and Ida Womack. Everyone wishes them many more happy

All residents who were able to attend the party were ushered into the dining room, with the three honorees being seated at the "honor" table. Their places were marked with special birthday cards. The table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a floral arrangement in blue. The Hesperian photographer made pictures and the party was off to a lively start. The poem was read and all joined in singing the "birthday song." A delicious angel food cake with pink icing and a delightful fruit punch in a deeper shade of pink was served to the honorees, residents, guests and employees.

By Mrs. J.E. Green comes out near the foot of a hill, where my mother grew up. Then to Albertville to the home of a cousin, Mrs. Gertrude Bowen and her mother, my Aunt Namie Fiuch. (Tomorrow is Aunt's birthday, she'll be 97 years old.) The next day another daughter and husband from Washington D.C. arrived. I had not seen her in over 40 years. What a good time we had! Enthusiasm they have for life! Most of them visited us in West Texas years ago.

Thursday we drove to Tuscumbia and spent the night and visited Matthew's relatives, Margaret and Tom Anderson, my father's niece and husband, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lucille Matthews. Margaret's daughter came over from Atlanta Friday morning. There was a visit to Helen Keller's home. There were four Margarets at the dinner table where the Andersons' home is a beautiful old Ante Bellum mansion. We went thru one in Vicksburg, too.

Friday after dinner we left for Hubbard, and arrived at 3:30 a.m. Saturday. I visited the Rymans, then my brother and wife, Tarpley and Mattie Matthews at Hillsboro, and took the bus Tuesday for Big Spring to spend the night with son, Don C. and family and Wednesday to Plainview then home.

Visitors with Miss Vera Meredith last week were Mrs. George Stiles and Mrs. Green who visited Friday; Rev. and Mrs. Clay Muncy on Thursday, and Mrs. Muncy on Sunday p.m.

The Clarence Ashton's company Sunday was a sister, Mrs. Sharon Fowler and son and daughter and their mother Mrs. Hattie Fuqua of Amarillo. In the p.m. all along with the Joe Dunns met at the Floyd Fuqua home for a family get together.

Mrs. Joe Conway spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Carpenter. The Conways, recently of Plainview, are moving to East Texas.

Mrs. Green visited Miss Esther Peck after church Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Denison visited Mr. and Mrs.

Walls Sunday. Mrs. Frank Dunn had all her children visit her recently. Jimmy and Margaret and families of Lubbock, and Joe Lee and Mary Grace and families of Houston. Mrs. Dunn visited Mrs. Vinson one day last week.

Mrs. Elmer Warren was in Matador Thursday and spent the night in the home of her son, Bill and family. Mrs. Elmer Warren and Mrs. Flora Warren dined Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Wade Warren.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lightfoot were Doris and Joe Whitworth (Letha's sister and husband) and Mr. and Mrs. Coy Ingram and some friends all of Dallas.

Three Lubbock grandchildren spent the week with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brewer. Thursday had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Millard Watson. Others present were the Dean Watsons, the Ken Robersons, La Tonia Brewer of Idalou. The Millard Watsons and the Ervin Brewers dined Wednesday night with the Henry Brewers. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Goundy of Dallas and Sue and Milton Mensch and baby boy of Lubbock spent the weekend with Sue's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartline have had all their children and most of the grandchildren visit them, but not at the same time. They are Dub and wife and Robby and Buddy, Phoenix; June Landry and three children of Plainview and James and wife and sons of Levelland.

Mrs. Shelby Cook of Amarillo came Sunday and is visiting Mrs. Fred Battey. Mr. and Mrs. Charley Spence and Mrs. Green were among the more than three hundred people who attended the Pioneer Reunion at Crosbyton Saturday in spite of the rain. The meeting of old friends, the good dinner and good program were surely enjoyed.

Visitors at the Spences some time last week were Mrs. Higgins, Willie B. Eakin, Petersburg and Mrs. Kate Crabtree, city and daughter, Mrs. Leslie Jo

Moore of Tuscaloosa, Ala. who is visiting her mother and other relatives.

It was sad to find when I reached home that Mrs. Lillian Marble had passed on. She was a beloved primary teacher at Center when our children were small. We sympathize with her family and her many friends.

Today we attended last rites for a dear long time friend, Mrs. Noah (Bunny) Wright, who passed on Saturday after a long illness. Several weeks ago she and her husband had been taken to their daughter's home in Arkansas. We grieve with loved ones.

Mrs. Morris Carroll and children, Robin and John, returned home last Tuesday from East Texas where for months Mrs. Carroll has often been at the bedside of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Morris Carroll Sr. in a Dallas hospital. Mrs. Carroll Sr. passed on August 5th. Last rites were in the Wiley Church of Christ (grandsons were pall bearers) and burial in a Paris Cemetery. Mrs. Carroll remained a while and visited other relatives in the area including her mother. She also took the children to Six Flags, and went thru the capitol at Austin.

Mrs. Clarence Foster, in Caprock hospital, is reported improving.

Myasthenia Gravis Clinic Set For August 26th-27th

The Northwest Texas Chapter of the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation announces the date for the annual MELBA BANDY MASTERS CLINIC for Myasthenia Gravis patients in this area. The clinic will be held the 26th and 27th of August 1977, at the Hi-Plains Hospital, Hale Center, Texas. The free patient clinic has been funded by a Trust set up by the Masters families of Amarillo and Cotton Center, is maintained through contributions enabling the free clinic to become an annual event. Time for the clinic will be from 10:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. each day. Appointments may be made by calling Hi-Plains Hospital, Hale Center, (806) 839-2471 ext. 36.

Dr. J.E. Tether of Indianapolis, Indiana will be in Hale Center to conduct the clinic, and will be assisted by the medical staff of the Hi-Plains Hospital. Dr. Tether is well known in this area as a noted authority on the diagnosis and management of Myasthenia Gravis, having been active in the field for over 20 years. He is Professor of Neurology at the University of Indiana School of Medicine, and is Physician in charge of the Myasthenia Gravis Clinic at the Indiana University Medical Center. As a member of the National Foundation of Myasthenia Gravis, Dr. Tether has served on the Medical Advisory Board since its inception, and is the author of several text books and articles on Myasthenia Gravis.

Myasthenia Gravis is a neuromuscular disease, characterized by varying weakness of the voluntary muscles of the body. It is aggravated by exertion, emotion, infection or stress. It is relieved, in part, by rest and anticholinesterase drugs. The first symptom may only be unusual fatigue, which may be accompanied by aching in the neck, back, or legs in milder cases. Ptosis of one or both eyelids, blurred vision due to difficult focus, or actual diplopia are the most frequent early signs and symptoms. Slurring, nasal tones, jaw weakness, and fatigue on chewing may occur in early or more severe cases. Many complain of arm fatigue on reaching up, as in the care of hair or in shaving. Legs tire on stairs or short walks, or may collapse without warning.

J.E. McVicker of Muleshoe is chairman of the Northwest Texas Chapter; Emory Hunter of Wellington is vice-chairman; E.E. Masters, Cotton Center is Treasurer; Cotton Center is Secretary; and Mrs. H.J. Carlisle of Plainview. Serving as area representatives are: John Dunbar of Clovis, New Mexico; James and Mamie Mason of Burkburnett; Don Hutton of Dalhart; Dr. George Payne, Jr. of Levelland; Mrs. Wesley Masters of Amarillo; and Mrs. J.E. McVicker of Muleshoe.

The Chapter supports the annual Free Patient Clinic and a Drug Bank through gifts and contributions. The Drug Bank makes it possible for M.G. patients to buy essential medication at the least possible cost. The

ASK BOB BULLOCK

Comptroller of Public Accounts

Dear Mr. Bullock:

I am a widow and am considering doing sewing in my home to supplement my social security check. My customers will provide the materials and I will be doing only the sewing.

Must I collect sales tax for my work?

Yes, a seamstress is considered a manufacturer or processor and manufacturing and processing labor is taxable under the law. Therefore, you must collect the tax.

Contact my Field Office nearest you. They will assist you in obtaining a Sales Tax permit, and provide any information you may need on collecting the tax.

Are soft drinks and other snacks dispensed by vending machines subject to the sales tax?

Yes, if the sales price of an individual item exceeds 16 cents. In most cases, the tax is included in the price to the customer. The vending machine owner then rebates the tax to the state.

Chapter also participates in area Health Fairs and distributes important educational literature on request. They answer many letters regarding Myasthenia Gravis problems.

On Friday evening, Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m., a meeting of the North West Texas Chapter will be held in the dining room of Hi-Plains Hospital, Hale Center. At this time, Dr. J.E. Tether will be the Guest Speaker. All interested persons are invited to attend both the Clinic and the Chapter meeting.

Floydada Folk Serve As Cotton Enumerators

AUSTIN—Three residents of Floydada travel to cotton fields in the area to check on the progress of the crop.

They're not cotton buyers. Billy and Eleanor Hendrix of 711 West California and Billie Moore are among 54 field enumerators in Texas employed by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service to provide a detailed study of a "section" of a cotton field, 10 feet x 2 rows.

This work is part of the overall process of estimating cotton yields and harvesting losses in providing statistics on the state's cotton production.

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown commended the work of the enumerators. "We have found that these enumerators are trained well by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service and do a thorough job."

During the cotton growing season, special plant counts and measurements are made to indicate yield as a guide to production. There are 710 such sample units across the state.

The enumerator returns to the same units each month to count the number of squares, blooms, and bolls. This information, along with the acreage data, and a continuing response to mail questionnaires sent to cotton farmers are important ingredients in accurate monthly production forecasts, issued beginning August 1 through December.

Near harvest time, the enumerator, who started the season with an intensive course, picks the cotton in the sample units and sends it to the laboratory in Austin for moisture checks and

What One Person Can Do

RONALD E. GADDIE, earthworm farmer

Most of us associate "a can of worms" with either fishing or a problem. Ronald E. Gaddie turned worms into a solution—and a fortune.

Vermiculture is Mr. Gaddie's business. He is founder and president of North American Bait Farms, Inc., in Ontario, California—a world leader in earthworm technology and marketer of worms. He has proved that the lowly worm can make short shrift of solid waste accumulations and produce fertilizer in the process.

His company which spent $100,000 on research last year, put worms in work on 15,000 pounds of ground garbage from Los Angeles. Within three days, all odor was gone. In 28 days, the worms had consumed 90 percent of the solid waste and created hundreds of pounds of fertilizer selling for 70 cents a pound.

Ronald Gaddie had been a truck driver. In 1967, he underwent surgery for a back ailment. He was forced to go on welfare to support his wife and six children. As he recuperated, he started raising worms as a hobby. Now he is a millionaire.

In his book, "Earthworms for Ecology & Profit," Mr. Gaddie writes that billions of dollars are being spent to reduce pollution caused by burning and dumping of various types of organic wastes. "While all of this money is being spent," says the author, "1,000 lowly earthworms, which cost $5 to $6, and all of their descendants can convert approximately one ton of organic matter into one of the highest yield fertilizers available, within a year."

Mr. Gaddie's successful experimentation has interested several American cities and prompted his own city of Ontario to ask him to develop a worm-consumption program as part of a total waste-management system.

At a low point? That's where Ronald Gaddie started. But he didn't stay there.

Sharon Jones of Lockney attended the National Institute on Cooperative Education (NICE), at Texas A&M University, August 15-18 with about 800 other young people from all over the nation.

Nationally known speakers discussed specific solutions for farmer cooperatives around the 1977 theme, Cooperation-Making It Work. NICE, the largest annual gathering of agricultural and cooperative leaders in the United States is sponsored by the American Institute of Cooperation, a national educational organization for farmer cooperatives, headquartered in Washington, D.C. and Texas A&M University. The Texas Federation of Cooperatives, the Houston Farm Credit Banks, and Texas Cooperative are acted as hosts to the nearly 2500 attending.

The young people (ages 14 to 20 years) called Youth Scholars, participated in special sessions pertaining to cooperative fundamentals, as well as the general sessions where speakers discussed current challenges.

Alpha Mu Delta Holds Rush Party

Members of the Alpha Mu Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a party, Saturday, August 13, for their prospective rushees. Rushees and their husbands were invited, so that members and rushees could get acquainted. Several joined in a few games of volleyball and it was agreed unanimously, that members should play more often. There was only one near blace eye—when Branda Leonard tipped a ball back and it hit Ilene Kendrick; and only one near heart attack when Jan Nichols nearly stepped on a small waterdog. After the vigorous and exciting volleyball games, they retired to the house for refreshers consisting of cake, chips and dips, etc.

Next the couples participated in a game of "Tattle Tales." All enjoyed finding out who was the smartest, husband or wife; and that none of the women resembled their husbands first girlfriends.

After finishing a game of "Tattle Tales" the group proceeded with an exciting game of "Pit" in which everyone for themselves, as shown when Brent and Sarah Sanders had a near tie on ringing the bell, but Brent edged in and won the hand, no special favors for wives.

Those present were: Byron and Ilene Kendrick, Dean and Brenda Watson, Brent and Sarah Sanders, Mike and LuAnn Collins, Carl and Brenda Leonard, Danny and Lynn Daniel, Donna Henderson, Jan Nichols, Kaye Powell, and JoAnn Patterson.

The next opportunity for members to meet rushees will be Beginning Day, Monday, August 29, 1977.
