would be extremely challenging to find a better way of causing a few embarrassments among members of the press and prognosticators who predicted an off-year for L.G. Wilson and his troops.

Yes, a second consecutive upset would stir things up a bit, and possibly wake up a few folks around 4-AA who will receive the privilege of doing battle with the Whirlwinds when October rolls around.

There's just one small problem, and this obstacle does not deal with what to do for an encore following last week's 14-7 win over Friona. It has to do with just how you defeat a team just coming off a mere 7-0 loss to Lubbock Monterey, ranked two in the state, that fields a club as strong as 1976's squad, the same team that thumped Floydada 26-6 in Buffalo Stadium a mere season ago. The Eagles have strong hopes this season for improving on last year's 7-3 ledger and sport a good-sized squad that has learned to think big—really big.

A few of the personnel eager and willing to make 1977 a successful start with fullback Robert Scott, a 5-10, 185 pounder and unanimous all-district selection last year. Scott also anchors a fine linebacker duo on defense, and Canyon coach Deane Wright considers him an excellent candidate for all-state honors this season.

Another two-way starter Wright will be counting on is offensive tackle-defensive lineman Tab Keener, a 6-3, 225-pound senior standout, and another all-district choice in '76.

The only other two-way performer the Eagles possess is tailback-defensive tackle Vince Price, still another all-AAA player.

Signal caller Chess Bostick, a 166-pound senior, will be expected to lead the Eagles at Quarterback against the 'Winds. Bostick hopes to rebound from a disappointing performance against Monterey last week, completing just one of eight pass attempts.

Coach Wright could not have asked for a better defensive performance in the opener. The Plainsmen could reach the Canyon goal but a single time and threatened inside the 20 only once, also.

Hoping to help perform an encore for that effort on Friday are defensive lineman Dick Funk, Terry Fennison, Tab Keener, and Allen Adams. Scott and Jay Morrison will fill the two linebacker roles, while the secondary, Juniors Jeff Weisbart, Steve Schmidt, and Eddie Clement, along with Seniors Brent Anderson and Steve Zanechettio, will assume responsibility.

Few lineup changes are expected for the Whirlwinds, with Kary Helms and Brad Feuerbacher alternating plays at the split end post, and with Larry Jones filling in as the club's lone two-way starter, at halfback and defensive cornerback.

Junior Cuevas will replace Paul Radloff at offensive tackle, who will be transferring positions with Kenneth Griggs. Griggs started at defensive tackle last week and will switch to offense against Canyon.

HOSPITALITY
Hospitality is the art of making people feel at home when you wish they were.

A FRIEND IS one who knows all about you and likes you just the same.

I HAVE A GOOD NEIGHBOR.....a couple of weeks ago I was about two weeks behind on my yard work. As I was frantically trying to catch up on grass mowing, I looked up and my neighbor had brought his mower over, and was busy mowing my front lawn while I was mowing the back.

This week as I mowed my lawn, I thought "this is not nearly as much fun, as when there are two of us mowing.....this is just a pretty lonesome job."

So, I think I'll suggest to Howard that we mow our lawns together. We'll mow mine in the summer time, his in the winter!

I THOUGHT TUESDAY'S COUNTY FARM TOUR was most informative, and like county agent Doyle Warren, I was disappointed that more farmers did not make the tour. "Doyle, it may be that our Floyd County farmers just already know how to farm better than they're doing, so don't want to learn any more know how."

We think farmers would do well to take this tour every year.....pastors think our people should attend church more.....people just don't do what we think they should do. It may be that people don't attend church also because they already know how to live better than they do.

ALL OF US WHO live in Floyd county sorta take credit for the Lockney race horse win at Ruidoso and now we can enter into another race....."The Miss America Contest". The niece of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cagle, Evelyn Foster, "Miss New Mexico" will be vying for the honor. Might possibly see Evelyn on channel 13 at 9 p. m. Saturday.

Many Floydada Texas Tech students probably know Evelyn as she has become pretty famous over on the campus. She is a senior home economics major from Lovington. We'll try to reproduce her picture in this edition of the Hesperian.

PAYMASTER FARMS (ACCO) began back in 1927 as "Lockview Farms," named after both Plainview and Lockney. The folks at Paymaster are celebrating 50 years of being in business. The farm headquarters is right out in the middle of the best land and water in Floyd County north of Aiken.

This is a pretty big industry for our county and in peak seasons as many as 200 employees are on the payroll.

The folks at Paymaster are nice folk, and came through with a fine barbecue meal for the annual Floyd Farm tour Tuesday.....an act of hospitality performed many times through the years.

Weldon Pruitt Wins

Football Contest

Weldon Pruitt of Route 3, Floydada, captured the $10 first prize in the grid season's opening contest for the Hesperian by guessing correctly on all but two of the 23 games and by winning an extremely close tiebreaker runoff.

Pruitt missed only the Plainview-Estacado contest, and the Brownfield-Levelland matchup, as well as predicting Floydada to win over Friona, with 14 total points. (The total was 21.)

Sharing second prize of $3 apiece with two misses and a deadlock on total points with 31 were Tammy Gentry of Route 4, Box 109, and John Dunlap of 905 W. Georgia, both of Floydada.

Third prize of $4.00 goes to Treva Hambright of 815 W. Missouri, Floydada, who also missed two contest but with a 34-point guess.

Honorable mention status went to the following contestants with two or three misses apiece: Cody Paty, who failed to indicate total points, (2), Treva Hambright (2), Jerry Cannon (3), Todd Denton (3), Beth Vinson (3), Danny Bradford (3), and Bill Kincaid (3).

Most contestants missed the Plainview-Estacado upset, and the Pampa-Hereford game.

Winners may pick up their prize money at the Hesperian.

Whirlwind Band

Calendars To Be

Sold At Game Friday

Floydada Whirlwind Band calendars will be sold during the football game Friday night for $1.50 each. Proceeds from the sales will go for band activities. Your support will be appreciated, a Band Booster official said.

The calendars are centered with a picture of the band, surrounded by its sponsor's names. It begins with the month of September and continues through August, 1978 listing important meeting dates of various organizations, a listing of all Floydada football games, Junior High and High School, and school holidays.

Gordon Kirtleys Buy L & J Food

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kirtley of California have purchased the L & J Food Mart in Floydada and this week took over management of the business.

The business will now operate as Kirtley's Market and will retain the same opening and closing hours six days a week.

Gordon was a trucking company manager for some 20 years and his wife, Teta, has 15 years of grocery store experience.

They reside at 305 West Tennessee and have a daughter, Penny, in school. Teta is a native of Texas and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hughes live in Floydada.

"We look forward to getting acquainted with the people of this community and we plan a Grand Opening later," the couple told the Hesperian Wednesday morning.

MR. AND MRS. LEE NEFF

"I have been in the grocery business for some 20 years and I'm not retiring. I have some other business interests," Lee Neff said in regard to selling the Neff's grocery business.

"My wife and I want to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to everyone for their loyal patronage and friendship," Neff concluded.

4 counties consider 'Country Metro Unit'

PLAINVIEW (Sp) — Four counties in the southern Panhandle may form their version of the Metro Intelligence Unit, which operates in the Amarillo area.

The "Country Metro Unit," which would include law enforcement officers of Hale, Swisher, Castro and Floyd counties, is still in the planning stages with no budget, manpower or facilities decisions yet made.

"Some of our major investigations uncover information vital to criminal investigations of other departments," said Hale County Sheriff Charles Tue. "By forming a unit, we would be able to open up the lines of communication that will make this information available to other lawmen."

Tue said he hopes such a unit could be started at a little cost to participating entities.

"Each member agency would probably assign one officer to the unit," he said. "These members would be available to assist local departments in investigating major crimes in their locality, but the officers would spend most of their time in their own departments."

"It will definitely help us to serve the people in Plainview and Hale County better," he said.

"Right now, the unit is in the early planning stage. We now are trying to work out some proposals to put on paper," he said.

DDT was developed in 1939 by Swiss chemist Paul Muller.

Youth gumshoes may be enlisted to save money

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Come October, that knock on your door could be some kid suggesting you turn off the decorative yard light or put more air in your tires.

And he or she — maybe even they — may ask to come in and find other faults with the way you're running your place.

This prospect is raised by a scheme under consideration at the White House to enlist the nation's youth as door-to-door detectives, ferreting out waste of energy and water.

No need getting all disturbed, though, because it could save you some money — and maybe even make you a little proud of yourself for being a good citizen.

As Greg Schneiders, director of White House projects, explained it Wednesday: "The information is not going anywhere. It's more a list of tips on how to conserve energy in the home."

The proposal will be put to President Carter "in a week to 10 days," said Schneiders, and will take effect in October if he goes along.

Using a manual provided by the government, volunteers would check the outside of a home, then knock on the door and offer to do a full-scale energy-use survey taking about 45 minutes.

The youngsters would point out, for example, that underinflated tires waste gasoline and that water can be saved by putting bricks or special devices in toilet tanks.

The program would be strictly voluntary, Schneiders said.

And he said the cost of setting it up — including preparation of checklists and promotional spots for broadcast — would "not be in excess of $100,000 — extremely cheap by any standards."

cause he considered it part of his job. On the night of February 7, 1976, his effort took on special meaning and became a cause. Two of his sons were among 12 persons killed when a train and camper collided at an unprotected crossing.

On the day after the tragedy, as he waited for the funeral director who would make burial arrangements for his boys, Mr. Moorleghen

VETERAN'S SERVICES

Almost five million Americans — 300,484 of them in Texas — will get the opportunity next month to begin enjoying one of the benefits of the computer age — having their Veterans Administration compensation or pension payments deposited electronically in their bank, savings and loan institution or credit union.

The new program is all part of VA's participation in a sophisticated computer system called Electronic Funds Transfer.

VA Administrator Max Cleland, hailed the newest wrote an open letter to government officials and railroad officials. It read in part:

"We squander millions on ridiculous and sometimes immoral research...but we cannot spend dollars for safety devices to preserve life itself."

"We have spent billions of dollars to support and to fight a useless war, with a tremendous loss of life..."

"We have spent billions to bail out banks and big business..."

"We have spent billions to subsidize railroads..."

"But we cannot provide the dollars to erect gates and warning lights at railroad crossings because it would cost too much money."

Robert Moorleghen still crusades for safety. What began as a matter of job-related responsibilities, has taken on a new dimension and more powerful force because of his personal loss.

We can let sorrow — even tragedy — cause us to give up in despair. Or we can find in it stronger motivation for our beliefs. In even the blackest darkness, it is possible to light one small candle.

supper was provided by the members of L.C.C.A. Special guests for the evening were the ladies of the congregation who were not presently members of L.C.C.A.

Speaker for the evening was Mrs. Carisse Berryhill, assistant professor of English at L.C.C. Linda Cash, home economics instructor, accompanied Mrs. Berryhill. Mrs. Berryhill, who is a graduate of Harding College in Arkansas, told those in attendance what she owes to Christian Education. She had some very interesting facts about Lockney Christian College, which several of her relatives attended, and showed some pictures in which some of the ladies were able to find their own relatives.

Following the program, a short business meeting was held. The booth for the Floyd County Fair was planned in which members will again sell cookbooks and baked goods. Also arrangements were made for providing the booth at the South Plains Fair with pies and workers for their pie booth.

All the available 124 booths at the Running Water Draw Arts and Crafts Festival have been filled, according to its director, Rob Strong. The third annual Festival is scheduled for October 14-16, 1977 at the Hale County Agriculture Center in Plainview, Texas. Co-sponsored by the Plainview Rotary Club and Llano Estacado Museum, the Festival has attracted almost 150 talented artists and craftsmen from Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma.

These artists and craftsmen represent many media including painting, sculpture, weaving, pottery, glassblowing, eggquetry, quilting, photography, wood working, and quilting, among others. Many of them will be giving demonstrations of their art or craft form during the Festival.

The Festival will be open to the public from 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and from 12:00 noon to 5:00 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is $1.00 for adults and $.25 for students. Proceeds from the Festival benefit the Museum and various Rotary projects in the community.

The Festival last year attracted almost 30,000 people. A capacity crowd is also expected this year.

Mrs. Barnard Honored On 80th Birthday

Mrs. J.H. Barnard was honored Saturday in her home with a party in observance of her 80th birthday. The event was hosted by her daughters, Barbara of the home, and Mrs. M.W. Vineyard and her husband, who were here several days from Willington, North Carolina, to visit.

Other out of town relatives and friends who joined scores of area friends in wishing the Floydada woman many happy returns included her sisters, Mrs. Roland S. Bond of Dallas and Mrs. S.M. Gose of Wichita Falls; a brother and sisters of her late husband, John Barnard Sr., of Wichita Falls; Mrs. W.P. Sherrill of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. D.W. Brinkerhoff of Scottsdale, Ariz.; also Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gose and Mr. and Mrs. John Barnard Jr., of Wichita Falls; Billy Henry, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Minor Jr., Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bledsoe, Brownfield.

The honoree is semi-retired from her many civic deeds and is still considered always on the giving end of those in need. She has been active in every corner of her church, First United Methodist, and has served as chairman of Commission on Missions and was active in district work.

In the past she has given numerous book reviews and while working with Andrews Ward School PTA many years ago was able to secure a library for the school. Later she originated and organized a drive for a free public library. When the Floyd County Library became a reality she instructed the workers in a basic course and then served the first two years as chairman of the library board.

Before the 1922 Study Club disbanded, Mrs. Barnard had held every office in the club since its organization.

In 1959 she was named Woman of the Year by members of the 1950 Study Club, an honor given those who are dedicated to the betterment of Floydada and the untiring deeds they so graciously give.

We would like to thank Mrs. Lyles and Mrs. Howard for the quilt scraps.

The Sunshine Sunday School class of First Baptist Church brought cup cakes and bananas again. This is such a treat. May God richly bless you for your love.

Thursday was Hingo Day. Hope Hammonds was the big winner with three games, Clara Williamson and Willie Stambaugh each won two and Lillie Luttrell, Ray Reed, Agnes Anderson, Pearly Carrick, Hallie Bertrand, and Colesta Caffee one each. All enjoyed it.

We appreciate all the visitors to the Nursing Home last week.

It was fashioned with a tiny Peter Pan collar and accented with Alencon lace in a V-shaped panel from the shoulder to the waist. The bodice buttoned down the back and had similar bands of lace going the full length of the cathedral length train. Alencon lace also complimented the full gathered skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was borrowed from a Stephens College friend. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Don Kremer was matron of honor for her sister and Robin Snooks. Linda Nelson and Sana Decker were bridesmaids. All wore long sleeveless dresses of sky blue crepe and carried yellow daisies with blue carnations. Leeta Nelson was junior bridesmaid.

TOMATOES... Mrs. Barker Chunn, 306 South White has raised tomatoes under her backyard clothesline. She set them out, around them for wind protection, then tied the limbs to the clothesline to keep tomatoes clean and from rotting in mud. (Staff Photo).

removed but leave peeling on. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. Add seven cups of sugar at one time and mix well. Return to burner and bring to full rolling boil, boil hard one minute stirring constantly. Remove quickly from heat, remove lemon slices, skim off foam with metal spoon and pour jelly paraffin, cover with lids. Yields five pints. (Note: Prickly Pears are usually ripe for picking in late September when they are very dark red or almost purple in color.) Thanks to Mrs. Schulz for sharing her recipe with us.

RILLA Sue Woody has come up with a solution of cleaning tar off youngsters feet. Since some of the city streets are being tarred, youngsters will no doubt get it on something. Rilla Sue said in a Betty Crocker book she noticed where you could use shortening to get tar off of clothing so why not the skin. She tried it and it worked. She said to rub the shortening in real good then wash, on both clothing and skin. Several applications may be needed but the tar does come off.

If you are suffering from end-of-season madness or are too tired to drop the other shoe just lie back and relax and allow yourself a lazy few minutes for a bit of Irish storytelling that might put a smile in your day. . . . If you think your husband is a sound sleeper think of the plight of Connell, the ancient Irish hero, who won the hand of the daughter of the King of Ulster by his display of valour. But on his way home with his new wife he was overcome with "warrior's sleep," from which his bride could not rouse him, and she was carried off IN A BASKET by warrior who had waded in through the sea. Since Connell did not wake up for seven days after the fair lady was taken like a loaf of bread from the supermarket, the villain had quite a start on him. However, Connell finally brushed the sleep from his eyes and raced after his bride. He must have been wearing seven-day boots because he finally caught up with the abductor and overcame him in single combat. And they lived happily ever after.

Then there is the story of Iolanth and his two brothers who set out to recover three teeth which had been knocked out of their father's mouth by a strange warrior. Those chaps would have been right at home at one of our 20th century hockey games.

The Irish had a lovely way of getting the housework done. Every Irish child loved the old stories and if you were a practiced storyteller the children would follow you like the Pied Piper. In order to hear a well-turned tale the youth of the area would do all the household chores for a neighbor—especially an elderly one—in order that the storyteller would be free to weave his magic in storytelling. As a point of history—women storytellers were less numerous than men. Which brings up the question again of the say-ers and the do-ers.

Fiddling Contest New Fair Attraction

A new feature at the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair this year will be an old time fiddling contest, scheduled Saturday, September 17, last day of the three-day fair.

Registration begins at 11 a.m. and the music starts about 1 Saturday afternoon and continues until 6 p.m. in the entertainment building on the fairgrounds in Lockney according to Louis Ray Stapp and Dowell Brewer, contest directors.

Some top-notch area fiddlers are expected for the contest, as some good prize money is being offered. There will be three age divisions. Prize money in both the 19-60 and 61-up age groups will be $100 for first, $80 for second, $50 for third, down to $10 for seventh place. Prizes in the 0-18 age group will be $60 for first, $50 for second, $35 for third and $25 for fourth.

First and second place winners in each division will play for grand and reserve champion fiddler honors, with the grand champion earning an extra $40 in prize money and the reserve champion winning an additional $20.

Cash prizes will be awarded/best accompanists, with $50 going to the first place winner, $40 for second and $30 for third.

The contest is to be conducted according to the rules of the Texas Old Time Fiddlers Association and is an approved contest. The judges will be approved by the Association.

The contest is sponsored through the joint efforts of the Floyd County Fair Association and the Lockney Lions Club, the Lockney Rotary Club and the Lockney Chamber of Commerce. Also by the many Lockney, Floyd and Plainview business firms and with the help of many individuals. These people have contributed money and much time in order to bring this fiddling contest to the Floyd County Fair for the pleasure and entertainment of fair-goers.

Artist Duo Sharing FNB's Guest Spot This Month

The First National Bank of Floydada is privileged to present two artists as guests for September. The oil paintings of Nell Pritchett and Wanda Armstrong offer the public an interesting variety in size and subject matter.

Nell Pritchett, well-known local artist from the South Plains community, has studied for several years under Connie Martin, Pat Krahn of Lubbock, and Ben Konis of Amarillo. Currently she works with Ruth Barnett of Hale Center. Having worked in acrylics, pastels, and some pen and ink with oil overglaze, Nell finds her best expression in oil painting. Her exhibit in the bank includes "Fire and Ice" and a portrait, "The Portuguese Seaman."

Wanda Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Freeman, grew up in Floydada and has always been interested in art. After moving to Lubbock, Wanda studied under Juanita Polard at Lubbock Christian College; then Jeanie Elliot and Melba Mabry of Lubbock. From Mabry, her current instructor, she has gained a knowledge and love for painting sand and seascapes.

"Having tried pastels, pen and ink, and tempera, I find a greater scope in oils and work primarily in that medium," said Mrs. Armstrong. Her exhibit in the bank includes "Bluebonnet Field" and "Sea and Sand."

Residents of Floydada and the surrounding area are cordially invited to view the paintings in the lobby of the First National Bank during the banking hours all this month.

PP&K Registration Now At Reed Ford Sales

Registration for the 1977 Punt, Pass and Kick competition has started in the showroom of Reed Ford Sales. In making the announcement, Ray Reed, owner of the dealership, said: "We're looking forward to a big local PP&K competition in Floydada. We hope all the youngsters 8 through 13 years of age in this area will come in to register and take part."

Reed pointed out that PP&K—throughout its six levels of competition—is free of any charge, and that youngsters need only have a parent or guardian accompany them to the showroom to register.

"Our competition here will have 1st, 2nd and 3rd place trophies for contestants in each of the six age groups, or 18 trophies in all," said Reed. "Increasing each entrant's chances of winning is the fact that youngsters compete only against others in their own age group," said the Ford Dealer.

"Of course there is no body contact in PP&K. It's punting, passing and place-kicking for distance and accuracy points, just as the name says. First place winners in each age group in our competition will go on to the Zone competition. And from there, top winners go on up the ladder through District, Area, Division and National Finals," he said.

"This year the National Finals will be held at Super Bowl XII in New Orleans on January 15, 1978. Naturally, we hope some of our Floydada PP&K winners will make it all the way to the Finals," Reed said.

The Ford Dealer further explained that each entrant, upon registering, receives a free PP&K Tips Book. In the 1977 edition there are competition tips by NFL stars Marv Bateman, Ken Stabler, and Toni Linhart. The Tips Book also includes complete PP&K rules and helpful conditioning exercises for contestants.

PP&K registration will close at Reed Ford on September 30.

This is the 17th anniversary year of PP&K. From its inception the youth activity has been sponsored by the Ford Dealers of America in cooperation with the National Football League. In that time, more than 14 million youngsters have taken part in PP&K, making it one of the largest youth activities.

SPEMS Plans Lubbock Meeting

The first meeting of the executive committee of the South Plains Emergency Medical Services, Inc., will be held Tuesday, September 13 at 7:30 in the community room of the George and Helen Mohon Library, 1306 Ninth Street, Lubbock.

Jackson's 'Bargain Filly' Wins All-American

Hot Idea, the $4,000 "Bargain Filly" owned by Floyd Jackson of Lockney and his son-in-law Ted Bruce of Estelline, won the World's richest Horse Race Monday, the All-American Futurity at Ruidoso Downs.

The filly, undefeated in her three lifetime starts, won by 1 1/4 lengths over the favorite, Town Policy on a track made heavy by Sunday-night rains. In spite of track conditions, she went the 440 yards in 21.75 seconds, fastest time on the track this year, according to Jackson.

Hot Idea returned $9.20, $4.80 and $3.60. Town Policy placed second and paid $4.60 and $3.20. Call Me Gotta, a 12-1 longshot, paid $5.20 to show.

Her share of the $1,030,000 purse was $330,000. She was the only colt purchased by Jackson and Bruce in the 1976 All American Sale. Born with a crooked front leg, Hot Idea wore a cast for a short time. That fact depressed her value at the sale, but trainer Gene Tefertiller talked Bruce and Jackson into buying her. Jockey Terry Lipham rode the filly in the Labor Day race.

What One Person Can Do

ford, the Therman Perrys, Mrs. Eula Battey, Lloyd Cumbe, the Fay Harts and granddaughters, and Mattie Wester, Lee Burton, and Bob Bradford.

Juanita Senter is a one-woman social agency for the people in her Manhattan neighborhood. At 82 she is a block watcher for the 24th precinct, on the look-out for anything suspicious. She climbs the three flights of stairs from her small apartment five or six times a day. Besides her routine rounds, she may assist in delivering a baby at 2 a.m., shop for sick neighbors in the morning and read the Bible to an invalid in the afternoon. "If they're Catholic, I tell them I'm Protestant, and we say Hail Mary and Our Father together," she says with a smile. Juanita's mother was a full-blooded Sioux Indian, sister to the legendary Olympic runner Jim Thorpe. Her father was Irish, and her brother, Smiling Bear, was the first Tonto of the Lone Ranger movies. In the 1930's, Juanita was in vaudeville and seven movi-ed nursing, and served as a lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps in England. Although her only big meal of the day is the 25-cent lunch served at the Manhattan Valley Senior Citizens Center, she stretches her small Social Security income to help dozens of her neighbors. Each Thanksgiving and Christmas, she roasts ten chickens, bakes pies and passes them out to the sick and helpless. "I never go hungry," she says. "If I spend a dollar for someone it gets back to me somehow." For her friends who want her to rest, she has one stock answer: "Look here, I've got too much to do, and you're not going to make an invalid out of me."

Paul told the early Christians, "Be not weary of well doing." For us, as for Juanita Senter, there need be no "retirement date" from acts of kindness."

RALLS HIGHWAY FLOYDADA

An important message to our customers.

The House of Representatives has just voted to raise the price of your electricity! And the Senate is looking at the same legislation. These bills are going to cost you plenty — nearly $50,000,000 a year for the next ten years. That's almost half a billion dollars!

Who cares? Of course you care. And we care. That's the reason we want you to know what's happening in Washington.

Not only did the House vote to raise your electric bill, there's a strong chance you'll get less reliable service, too. The Government is trying to take over regulation of your electric company. That's right! A Washington bureaucrat will decide who gets electric power and how much instead of your state and local officials.

That means your electric company will lose control over how we operate our own power transmission lines and facilities. We might not be able to give you our customers — first priority. The Federal Government could use some of the money you pay for your electric service to make your electric company build a transmission line for a government subsidized utility. You pay twice that way: in your electric bill and in your taxes. And you don't even get to use the line.

Let's not beat around the bush. The cost of doing business is going up. It costs you more for your electric service than it used to. But now when you pay your electric bill, you pay only what it costs to serve you, plus a controlled profit, so that we can keep updating our generation facilities and our technology to keep serving you better.

Well, if some Congressmen have their way, some people will pay less than their fair share of the electricity cost. Who will decide who gets the special rates? You can bet it won't be you — or us — or our state and local government who know our needs best.

It will be some government official in Washington!

There's a whole lot more bad news in this legislation that has passed the House and is now being considered in the Senate. It's all part of Senate Bill 1469. Part E — and now for more bad news... Senate Bill 1472!

That's a dandy. It's the one that takes you because some of your electricity is generated with natural gas. The gas users tax is a case of the Government telling us to build coal-fired power plants faster than you can afford them.

It's as though the folks in Washington just woke up one day and decided there was an energy crisis and decided to try to right all the wrongs over night. The facts are that your electric company has been doing something about our diminishing natural gas reserves for more than six years. We haven't planned or constructed a gas-fired generation facility since 1971. And since that same time we've been planning to use coal as our primary generation fuel. We've just completed and put into operation Harrington Station — a coal-fired generation plant near Amarillo.

But we need the opportunity to phase out the gas-fired facilities at a savings economical to you, our customers. New power plants cost money — cost you money, because you are our only source of money. We have a program that makes it possible for us to stop using natural gas to make electricity by 1995 at the latest.

It's a program you can afford. It's a program that will help alleviate rising costs. Sure, you'll pay more for electricity in the future. You'll be paying more for everything, but under our plan you'll pay a lot less than you'll have to pay if Senate Bill 1472 passes. $423,000,000 less between 1983 and 1990.

Why? Because Senate Bill 1472 says that even though we are building coal-fired power plants as fast as you can afford them, you're still going to be penalized, by almost a half billion dollars. Just because some staff member in Congress thinks you should build them faster. And remember it's your money that builds these new plants.

The Good News in all this is that your Congressman voted against raising your electric bill, voted against giving you poor service... but he was outvoted. Now what you can do is write your United States Senator (His name and address are printed below for your convenience) and tell him to vote against Part E in Senate Bill 1469 and against the gas users' tax in Senate Bill 1472. Why? BECAUSE YOU CAN'T AFFORD THESE BILLS. And that's a darn good reason. Let the people in Washington know that YOU CARE what they're doing with YOUR MONEY!

Thank you

Why fight needlessly to defend the Canal?

WASHINGTON — I watch the escalation of anger and emotionalism in the debate over the Panama Canal and I ask myself: Why? Why? Why?

Why is it the old men — the octogenarians of Congress, the white-haired jingoists of a Veterans of Foreign Wars convention, the geriatric gallants of the American Legion — who throw out macho talk about going to war to retain U.S. control over the canal?

MEMORIES OF A debacle in Southeast Asia have not died away — mostly because the young men who fought and suffered there are still screaming about how this society has betrayed them — yet a bunch of old men now want to send the same young men to Latin America to fight to defend this country's worst example of colonialism and racism.

Why would anyone want to fight to retain a canal that we could never defend against sabotage when we can have complete access to that same canal under secure circumstances by merely signing a treaty under which we treat the Panamanian people as equals? Why?

IT SEEMS THAT these old soldiers of the VFW and the Legion never die; they just bore the rest of us to death trying to prove what heroic patriots they are.

Why would Sen. Strom Thurmond (R-S.C.), leader of the anti-treaty forces, slander members of the military Joint Chiefs of Staff by dismissing their support for the new treaties with the comment: "They would be forced to, or they would ruin their careers."

Gen. Bernard W. Rogers, the Army chief of staff, went before the VFW with a powerfully logical statement that the canal is of importance to U.S. security, and that the military is convinced that the U.S. and the canal will be more secure if we "deal with the realities of today's world and not be deluded by myths or emotional non-issues."

Gen. David C. Jones, the Air Force chief of staff, told President Carter that the nation's military leaders were grateful to Ambassadors Ellsworth Bunker and Sen. Jones negotiating a treaty. The Chiefs can fully support it.

WHY WON'T these old men remain silent — why do they insist on shouting their views for integrity?

Why won't they admit our admirals and generals remain silent — why do they insist on shouting their views for integrity?

Why, something like does the American Legion say that it will come South in trying to drain the to the treaties?

Could it be that a large racism underlies this Panama Canal?

WHY IS NO ONE talking about the fact that long after the Canal Zone has been paid them in gold, the Panamanians the worst of them in silver — the over toilets, water in face windows to show for "whites only," and over facilities that "Panamanians only."

Why has no one said the fact that long after the Canal Zone has been paid them in gold, the Panamanians the worst of them in silver — the over toilets, water in face windows to show for "whites only," and over facilities that "Panamanians only."

WHY WOULD these old men think that we need sons to fight a needless war to defend this kind of madness? Why?

FU Asks That Wheat Farmers Be Allowed To Graze Set

In a letter to the Secretary of Agriculture, Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman urged that wheat farmers be permitted to graze set-aside acres and that diversion payments be made to compensate wheat farmers for their set-aside.

"Wheat farmers who are also cattle producers need the opportunity to graze set-aside acres to supplement low income from wheat production. It will encourage their participation in the wheat program," Naman said.

Texas Farmers Union has criticized the level of set-aside as being inadequate, but feels that the set-aside provisions can be administered in such a way as to get maximum participation. Permitting grazing on set-aside acres would encourage wheat farmers to comply and to participate in the farm program according to the Farmers Union.

Naman urged Secretary Bergland to announce a diversion payment in connection with the set-aside. According to Naman, the Secretary of Agriculture should authorize the payment of an amount sufficient to compensate farmers for abandoning set-aside acres.

Naman said, "The grain glut that farmers find themselves in was not their responsibility. They were encouraged and even coerced to expand acreage by the previous administration. It is the responsibility of the government and the general public to see to it that wheat farmers are extricated from their serious economic predicament."

The question of grazing set-aside acres is expected to be decided in a matter of days if the farm program is passed and signed by Pres-

Rural Areas Are Hardest Hit By Lightning, Brown Warns

AUSTIN—Four out of five human deaths or injuries from lightning take place in rural areas, Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown warns farmers.

This is because isolated rural buildings and equipment are often interconnected by a network of water pipes, electric wires and metal fencing which are excellent grounding agents and attract lightning, says Brown. Also, he states, a farmer perched high in the cab of a tractor or rancher straddling a metal fence make ideal targets for lightning bolts.

Brown notes that animals are also frequently victims of this awesome electrical force, and over 80 per cent of accidental livestock losses are a result of lightning.

Like humans, animals are not nearly as often hit directly by lightning as they are electrocuted by ground currents radiating from a tree or other object, Brown notes. And since animals tend to drift under trees or against fences to seek shelter from storms, their instinctive behavior easily makes them an even greater risk, he says.

Tells What School Pupils Did Before Television Ruined All Of Them

Editors note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm explains the effect television has on children this week, we think.

Dear editor:

According to a national study group, television is mainly to blame for so many high school graduates making such low scores on their college entrance exams. Scores on the Standard Aptitude Test have been declining steadily over the last 14 years.

"By age 16," the group reported, "most children have spent between 10,000 and 15,000 hours watching television, which detracts from their school work."

I got to thinking about this. What, I asked myself, did school kids do before television was invented?

Just look around. You can tell practically every grown-up you know was bound to have spent the first 16 years of his life with his head buried in a library book when he wasn't memorizing the multiplication tables. They must have driven their parents half crazy sitting around the house saying over and attributed to lightning, however. It is responsible for forming nitric-oxide gas, which is returned to the soil as an enriching nitrate through precipitation.

"While lightning presents an obvious danger, both in rural and urban environments, the wise person can protect himself and his belongings," Brown states. "Lightning rods are the best preventive measure, but once lightning has struck, check for fire damage immediately."

In case of a storm, get inside, stay low and stay away from metal objects, water, electrical equipment and telephones, Brown advises. If in the field, get inside a car or pickup, he said.

COUPLE IN BUSINESS DISCOVER

EARTHWORMS MORE THAN CUTE

By Jeanne Lessem
UPI Family Editor

Gretna Waters is the kind of mother small boys love. She not only doesn't mind worms in the house, she picks up red wigglers by the handful.

"They're cute," she says, adding, "I never thought I'd say that."

Mrs. Waters, a social worker, and her husband, Otis, an attorney and avid fisherman, moonlight as worm farmers near their home in the Orange County, N.Y., community of Vails Gate.

Their newest brainchild is a terrariumworm farm for indoor gardeners to use as miniature compost heaps.

For a joint interview, Mrs. Waters had brought along the ingredients (if that's the right word) to demonstrate the assembly of a farm.

First, she set on the table a rectangular acrylic box with a ventilated lid. Then, coarse chunks of charcoal, a planting mix of sphagnum moss, peat and leaf mold, starflowers, a ventilated cardboard container of worms in a little loose planting mix and a screen cut to fit the plastic box. The starflowers act as barometers. When they open, the farm needs watering.

The screen is not to keep the wigglers from escaping, she said.

"It protects the worms from cutting themselves on sharp edges of charcoal."

Charcoal is for drainage and deodorant.

"If you're the kind who like to root plants, you can put cuttings in here for a week or so and leave the top off," she said, pointing to the farm.

Resident worms are better than simply adding fertilizer produced by worm castings every few weeks, she said.

"They tunnel," said Mrs. Waters. "They till the soil by aerating it."

No danger of their escaping, Waters assured us. "They're light sensitive. They hate being out."

Whereupon one poked its head (or tail? who can tell?) about half an inch above the soil.

"That's one I call the schlemiel," said Mrs. Waters. "There's one in every bunch." (Schlemiel is Yiddish for fool.)

But worms are no fools. Although they are more fertile than rabbits, Waters said, they practice birth control by self-destructing when overcrowded. But only enough to allow some to survive, he added.

So the Waterses figure their worm farms are self-perpetuating if an owner follows their enclosed use-and-care directions. The farms come in two sizes. The larger unit contains a minimum of 20 worms that

Hail pro violent threaten

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A Panhandle man told the Water Resources Board at its first meeting today there will be violence over the issue of cloudseeding to suppress hail.

Earl Cosby of Tulsa, in Swisher County, said he served in the air corps in Europe in World War II and he knows the seeding is being done outside authorized limits.

"I'm telling you there's going to be violence over this by somebody," Cosby said, his voice shaking.

Cosby said he personally opposed violence. He pleaded with the board to take another look at the whole program.

In Swisher County, the vote in a recent election on the issue was 98.22 per cent against seeding, he said.

"Fellas, if that's not a clearcut indication of what the public wants, I think you better go home and figure out what to do next," he said.

Board member George McCleskey of Lubbock said, "I think what this man has told us about violence is accurate."

Bruce Bigelow, acting board counsel, said he cannot yet certify election results in Panhandle that idea because their winters are too cold for the fish.

They considered digging worm pits on their own property, but changed their minds when one of Water's legal clients, a local nurseryman, offered the use of his greenhouse.

The Lubbock Memorial Civic Center will be the site of what is billed as the largest array of Agribusiness equipment, goods and services ever assembled on the High Plains Agribusiness Exposition opens September 8, 9 and 10.

More than 150 exhibitors will be displaying their wares in and around the spacious new center, located in downtown Lubbock.

With education as the theme, organizers have assembled special events to fill the three days for anyone interested in finding out what is going on in most phases of agriculture.

Heading the list of special educational events is a three-day symposium on Marketing, Estate Planning, Water and Energy Development, which will be keynoted on Saturday with an address by Senator John Tower.

Included in the symposium will be an opportunity for attendees to ask questions of the speakers.

The rural and urban homemaker will be able to visit a microwave cooking demonstration, a home decorating seminar, a natural fiber fashion show and a special presentation by Cotton, Inc. entitled "News in Cotton."

The show will open from 10:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. all three days.

Speakers for the Marketing symposium, which opens the show at 10:00 a.m. September 8, include:

Tom Duffy, a member of the Chicago Board of Trade and floor manager for Commodity Futures, Dr. Willard F. "Doc" Williams, a professor at Texas Tech and President of TARA, Inc.; Dalton Gandy, President of the International Harvester Co. The Estate Planning segment of the symposium will begin at 2:30 p.m., Thursday with Clarence P. Brazill, Jr. leading a panel of attorneys from the Lubbock firm of McCleskey, Harriger, Brazill and Graf, which includes Gary A. Ward and John A. Freels.

Friday's seminar on Energy Development includes: Alvin C. Askew, Governors Administrative Assistant for Energy Resources, Austin, Texas; Edmund Nichols, Special Assistant to the Deputy Secretary of Agriculture in Washington, D. C.; and Richard J. Kenyon, manager of the Fertilizer and Chemical Division of Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville, Oklahoma. The Friday session begins at 2:30 p.m.

Saturday, September 10 at 10:00 a.m. the Water Seminar opens with Dr. Herbert Grubb, Director of Planning for the Texas Water Development Board, John Saxton,

Director of Soil and Water Resources for the Arkansas Department of Commerce, and State Senator Kent

Our History

Everybody recognizes him—Uncle Sam—but practically nobody knows much about him. He's Uncle Sam, the top-hatted figure to status.

UNCLE SAM wants you to know more about him.

The term "Uncle Sam" was born during the War of 1812 as an unfriendly nickname given to the government by New Englanders who opposed America's declaration of war against the British, says The World Book Encyclopedia. The name is believed to derive from the initials "U.S." which were stamped on barrels of salted beef by Samuel Wilson, an Army meat inspector and provisioner of the time.
