'Winds, Ponies Tangle In Olton

By Doug Simpson

Although the Whirlwind varsity football squad may not hold a high ranking in the Harris ratings for high school teams or possess a very respectable season record at 1-2, they have definitely discovered a unique and different way of approaching each upcoming battle of the non-conference schedule.

The 'Winds have not met with a team on equal terms of ability since the opener at Friona and the 14-6 victory, but they may just be able to be playing that same role again Friday night when they square off with the Olton Mustangs at Memorial Stadium. Kickoff for the crucial encounter for both squads is 8 p.m.

Winning is something each of the clubs must do in order to regain badly needed momentum for rapidly approaching district competition, and not too many teams have a better way of preparing for a conference slate than do Floydada and Olton. If you doubt this, just compare their schedules with other AA teams in this area.

If nothing else, the showdown should have significance as being one of the premier grudge matches of the entire season. Last season, the visiting 'Winds thoroughly defeated the Mustangs at Wester Field by a convincing 41-0 count. It was sweet revenge for Floydada, who was thumped by the same team at Olton's home field in '75 by 32-7 and the bi-district loss later. An impressive list of past game scores backs up the heated rivalry between the two clubs.

Floydada will see some lineup changes in this week's lineup and more alterations on the offensive unit are expected to help improve last week's performance against Post, in a 7-0 loss. At presstime, head coach L.G. Wilson said that he was still observing his team's performances in workouts and had not determined a starting lineup.

The Ponies, currently at 1-2 on the year, hope to rebound from last week's disappointing 26-19 defeat at home against Lockney. Perhaps the most valuable asset coach Ed Miller and his troops have going for them besides aggressiveness and attitude includes tradition.

The Mustangs have dropped just two decisions in the past couple of years at Memorial Stadium.

Quarterback Brad Alcorn is being counted on to bring Olton the leadership it needs on offense this grid season. Alcorn, operating out of the "I" formation, will work with fullback Charles Brown, a 159-pound sophomore, and David Johnson, a very quick and dangerous man in the backfield at tailback.

Alcorn will be throwing to Mike Landrum, a senior at an extremely light frame of 112 pounds, and also to tight end Rene Saldivar.

On the line, 222-pound Rodney Smith is among the cream of the crop at the right tackle position, along with Greg Davis and Martin Brown at the guard spots.

Defensively, the Mustangs are solid and very aggressive. Manning the front four are Roger Russell and Genio Lopez at tackle, along with Manuel Garcia and Jeff Neinst at ends, and Steven Rose at noseguard.

The remainder of Olton's 5-2 defensive formation is partially composed of Every Fuentez and Martin Brown at the linebacking positions.

In the secondary, Saldivar and Billy Kersh maintain the corner spots, while Luis Casares and Vance Stroebel, a junior and a sophomore, are expected to fulfill the halfback positions.

Friday night's contest should be one of significant interest to both squads for basically identical reasons. Each hopes to regain lost momentum with a win and to achieve something the other has wished for for a number of seasons, sweet satisfaction. That quality should be an even greater reward for any two foes as old as the Mustangs and Whirlwinds.

Sheep show winners included Doug Sparkman and Jeff Bayley, grand and reserve champions in the fine wool class; Sparkman and Phillip Thornton, grand and reserve champions in the fine wool cross classes; Tracy Womack and Nicky Powell, grand and reserve champions in the Southdown class; Womack and Monty and Rusty Teeter, grand and reserve champions in the Shropshire class; Brett Cyfert and Sparkman, grand and reserve champions in the medium wool class.

Bill Kincaid Wins Football Contest

Bill Kincaid of 101 North Main Street, Floydada, guessed correctly on all but four of the contests for this week's Hesperian football quiz to become the $10 first prize winner outright.

Kincaid was the only contestant to miss as few as four contests, although that number of misses is the most for a first place winner in three weeks of competition.

Taking second place and receiving $6 in prize money will be Floydada's Tommy Cathey, of 112 South Wall with five total misses.

Gerry Norrell, of Route 1, Floydada, also missed five contests but was further off on the tiebreaker with 28 total points (total was 7). Norrell takes third place and the $4 prize.

Only two contestants achieved honorable mention status and they are Grady Freeman, of 308 S. 5th, Floydada, and Johnny Soliz, of 401 S. 2nd, Floydada. Each of the contestants missed five games.

Floydada Senior Citizens Wednesday president announced that the plans would soon be complete for a Senior Citizens Center in Floydada.

Rev. D.D. Smith of Roaring Springs gave the devotional. Mayor Parnell Powell and Hesperian Publisher Wendell Tooley also spoke to the group about the planned Senior Citizens Center.

About 35 Senior Citizens and guests enjoyed "dinner on the ground" and fellowship.

MUSICAL GRAYS realized the folk who attended the banquet Tuesday night, former Wandell Russell's piano, her husband the pianist, Erman, played everything from "San Antonio" to "Melody of Love".

ONE MORE REMINDER.....don't miss the Chamber of Commerce fun breakfast Friday morning at 7 o'clock in Duncan Elementary Cafeteria. Employees remember to invite your employees.....it's a free breakfast with plenty of entertainment.

GOOD FOOD is always worth mentioning...and I thoroughly enjoyed the Kiwanis banquet food...and the dinner with the Senior Citizens yesterday. Fact is, those Senior Citizens are just pretty young at heart...plenty of excitement at their dinners.

READING FROM THE Suggestion box outside his office the boss said to his secretary, "I wish these employees would be more specific. What kind of kite? What lake?"

WE HAVE A RULE at our house that if you're not going to eat doves, you don't shoot doves. So, we don't shoot doves, because we don't particularly like the taste.

Down at Colorado City some dove hunters really got in trouble...here's the story:

COLORADO CITY-A tip from the Mitchell County sheriff's department lead two Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game wardens to a dove-hunting hotspot where ten men from the Houston area were found to be in violation of Texas fish and game regulations.

Texas game wardens Rue Gambol, Snyder, and Ronnie Aston, Colorado City, observed the Houston men for two hours and when the hunt was completed and the hunters went back to camp south of Colorado City, the wardens moved in for a license and bag limit check.

By the time the total tally of dove were counted, 191 birds were found in the camp. Since the daily bag limit during the current dove season is 10 birds per day, the Houston hunters had bagged 91 birds over the limit.

The South Texas hunters were taken before a Mitchell County Justice of the Peace and guilty pleas were received from all the hunters. Fines totaling $1970 were set by the judge and paid by the hunters.

Panhandle and South Plains game wardens have been busy since the opening of dove season Sept. 1 with over 212 citations being issued for various game violations including over limit, shooting from the public road, no hunting license, shooting migratory birds from vehicles, and taking game and non-game birds during closed season.

VOTERS TO DECIDE ON EIGHT

Constitutional Amendments Include No-Bail Provision

Texans will vote on seven proposed constitutional amendments Nov. 8 on issues which, if passed, will make a total of 228 additions to the 1876 state constitution.

Two of the amendments pertain to the courts. The first would enlarge the court of criminal appeals from five to nine judges and would permit the court to sit in panels of three judges.

Number two would provide for an additional $200 million in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the veterans' land fund and would allow surviving spouses of veterans who died in line of duty to purchase tracts under certain circumstances.

Expected to be of special interest is the third amendment which permits denial of bail to a person charged with a felony offense who has been convicted of a felony offense twice before. It would also apply to those charged with a felony offense committed while that person was on bail for a prior felony indictment, or charged with a crime involving the use of a deadly weapon to commit a second felony. It also provides for a 60-day limit for persons jailed without bail and provides for their right of appeal.

Tax relief for preservation of certain cultural, historical or natural history resources would be given in amendment number four.

Number five would allow the legislature to authorize producers of poultry, livestock and other raw agricultural commodities to form associations and collect assessments on their product sales. The legislature will be given power to authorize state and national banking and discounting privileges by use of electronic devices or machines in amendment number six.

Number seven on the ballot will also relate to the courts. It will change the name of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission to the State Commission on Judicial Conduct. It also relates to the suspension, censure, removal or involuntary retirement of a judge or justice of the peace under certain circumstances.

Stockpile Decline Forecast

WASHINGTON — Despite prospects for the largest grain crop in U.S. history and a near-record world crop of wheat, feedgrains and rice, stockpiles next summer are expected to decline for the first time in three years, the Agriculture Department said Tuesday.

Even so, the 96.3 million metric tons of wheat and 184.6 million tons of wheat and coarse grains combined that USDA expects to be left in the bins next June 30 would be more than 50 per cent greater than at that time in 1976.

About 16.2 million tons of rice are expected to be carried over at the end of 1978, compared to the 16.3 million projected a month ago, the 15.7 million expected this December and the 12 million two years ago, the Foreign Agricultural Service said.

The agency's circular said that the crops in the Soviet Union and large parts of Europe have been damaged by wet weather during harvesting.

That is the main reason, it said, for the unexpected drop in its carryover estimates and a companion prediction that world trade in wheat may set a new record this marketing year.

For the time being, however, it has lowered its estimate of the total trade from 67.5 million tons projected on Aug. 18 to 66.9 million, still a 10 per cent increase over 1976-77 levels.

Trade in wheat and coarse grains combined was put at 141.2 million tons, down 1 million from a month ago and almost 3 million below last season but almost 14 million above the 1974-75 season.

Because significant amounts of their own wheat crops may have to be used as animal feed rather than stored or milled for flour, there is a world market whose wheat is not man consumption. But the U.S. kept at 28.5 million tons. General public is focused on the use of traders and others to projections of wheat. The effects of all prices consumers. Including rice, production was projected, just 3 million year's record. placed at 28 million from last season down 20.9.

Lana Sue Bailey James Becker

Lana Sue Bailey became the bride of Kelly James Becker in a garden ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Haskell on August 28th. Rev. David Bradshaw performed the wedding at 6 o'clock p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bailey are parents of the bride and of Floydada are parents of the groom.

The garden was divided by a white cloth aisle bordered on either side with a garland of greenery connecting poles with white and yellow daisies and yellow bows. Hanging baskets of yellow and white daisies accented a white back ground trolley and arch covered with emerald fern.

Pianist was Mrs. Hal Jones of Odessa, cousin of the bride. Solist was Mrs. Tony Littlefield of Anson, cousin of the bride, who sang "Evergreen" and "The Wedding Prayer". Emily Debusk of Anson passed out scrolls to guests immediately before the grandmother, Mrs. R.R. DeBusk of Anson and mothers of the bride and groom were seated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white eyelet designed by Vogue and made by her mother. A gathered elbow length capelet of scalloped eyelet was attached to a scooped neckline of a sleeveless bodice. The A-line skirt with a hemline ruffle of matching scalloped eyelet had wide ends gathered at the side and tied in the back. Her hat had rows of gathered lace that encircled the brim and a bow of French illusion attached to the back that extended below the waistline. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladiolus, white and yellow daisies, baby's breath and English Ivy on a white Bible. For something new she wore an anklet.

"I found this primitive system so fascinating that derved if I didn't go back to town later and buy myself a shirt at the men's store. Parked in front again, walked in, got waited on, and was allowed to pick out the shirt without being offered a vest, jacket, pants and tie to go with it. The owner thanked me for coming in and handed back the credit card without finger printing me", the columnist said.

book which says "Mr" is not to be used in any reference unless it is combined with "Mrs". This has been the preferred style for many years. Courtesy titles have always been used for women on second reference in an article: Susan Smith, Mrs. Smith, or Miss Smith.

With the advent of the title "Ms." some of the styles have changed. The accepted practice now is to identify a married woman by her own first name and her husband's last name, unless the woman requests that her husband's first name be used. Guidelines also call for the use of courtesy titles for women on second reference in news stories but reports that no titles should be used in sport stories unless needed to distinguish between persons of the same last name.

THE following came from the Dallas Herald from a columnist telling of a weekend trip to see the flora of East Texas. He discovered that shopping in a small town is different than in a big city. Seems he decided to purchase his son a pair of tennis shoes and made a series of discoveries about the "eccentric way people shop there". First, you pick out the store you want, and you do the thing called "Park Right In Front of The Store". Then you walk right into the store and something happens to you that is called "Being Waited On". He continued that things got eerie

"The Good News Is That God Still Loves Us."

By Jim Smith, pastor First United Methodist Church

One of the best loved stories of Jesus is recorded in Luke's Gospel, Chapter 15. It is the story of the prodigal son. The story is one that people still identify with and because of the teaching of love, we enjoy hearing it again.

The younger son, who had no right to claim his inheritance until his father's death, demanded his rightful share. The father gives in to the son's request, even though he knows it is perhaps not the best decision. The son cashes his share and becomes the world traveller, looking for fame and fortune and happiness. Finding fame and fortune easily accessible while he has money, but happiness not available at any price, he finds himself a three time loser who is faced with the chore of great dishonor, famine, or a penitent return home. After struggling to a decision, he begins his march homeward to face the father. The story is a story of love from beginning to end, and Jesus wanted those who heard the story to see that love is the great underlying principle and power of life. Genuine love gives a person the right to reject it, it does not demand love in return, and above all, it does not stop loving even when rejected.

This love most evident in the love which God has for his people. God is all powerful, he could force us to love him. But would it be genuine love if he forced every person to love him?

Because God has genuine love for us, he must give us the right to reject his love, even though he never stops loving us.

The story of the prodigal son is the story of many men and women in our own society. They have taken their lives, their rightful inheritance, and used them in search of fame and fortune with no thought to their heavenly father who has made it all possible.

When good fortune has turned its back on us, and happiness has eluded us like a day dream, we begin to search for love and acceptance that is genuine.

The good news of God is that he has always loved us, even when we were unaware of his love, and even when we have rejected his love for a time. Like the father of the prodigal in Jesus' story, our heavenly father watches for our return and when he sees us a far distance away, he comes to us and restores the greatest thing in our lives, our sonship.

We never turn so far away that God does not continue to love us. We never become so evil that he does not still love us. Although it is possible that some who have sought to escape God's love may never choose to return to the father, those who do are always welcomed and restored with love and joy.

The good news is that God still loves us.

Choose the right lamp for study

The start of school signals the need to take a good look at the area you provide for your young students.

According to the Better Light Better Sight Bureau, you should select fluorescent light or one of the incandescent lights that provide a wide spread of light. Avoid high-intensity lights, pole lamps and goose-neck lamps.

Adequate illumination is important. The bulb should provide about 3,700 lumens (usually 150 or 200 watts in an incandescent bulb). But, the light should be diffused to avoid glare and soften the lighting.

Ideally, the shade should be white and have an open top.

The light should be to the side opposite the writing hand. The bottom edge of the lampshade should be at eye-level.

Also, make sure your study area is quiet and comfortable. The table or desk should have a smooth, flat surface.

Make sure your students have a lighting environment for their home studying.
