

Could Padlock Caprock Hospital Doors

Caprock Hospital Methodist Hospital's department in Lubbock of guidelines proposed by the Department of Health and Human Services. Caprock Hospital administrator Troy Patton said he would report Friday.

"Enough people have complained so loudly about the high costs that DHEW has decided to take action. Under this guide, the federal regulations for the Medical Facilities Administration Construction Program will require that hospitals maintain empty beds to a maximum of 10 percent of the total number of beds in areas with significant fluctuations of occupancy. An average occupancy of 80 percent is required by small hospitals with fewer than 4,000 beds. An average occupancy of 80 percent may be required for larger hospitals.

Caprock must have, in order to provide obstetrics services, a minimum of 100,000 deliveries per year. The hospital is required to comply with regulations on open heart surgery, renal dialysis and other diagnostic procedures. In addition, geographic restrictions that are available to a hospital are available to a hospital in 45 minutes travel time from rural areas in which a hospital would otherwise have a 45-minute drive time from a hospital, a ratio of greater than 4 to 1 is justified; (2) a hospital's services in rural areas must be provided in minutes under normal conditions for 10 percent of the population on a basis of 500 minimum and maximum in sparsely populated areas.

The stated purpose of the guidelines is to reduce the cost of health care while improving the quality of care, yet no consideration is given to the medical needs of the rural population.

Establish ceilings which would limit the number of people within a hospital area by denying admission to four patients. Caprock has 5.3 hospital beds per 1,000 population according to the guidelines. They plan to reduce the number of beds to 3.7 beds per 1,000 population.

Lockney Rotarians last week elected Phyllis Johnson as their new president. Johnson said she would like to see the hospital created by the Rotarians would conduct a study to determine the needs for the hospital by number, type and location.

Lockney voters will go to the polls Tuesday, November 8, to vote in a special election to consider seven proposed constitutional amendments.

With no state or local offices on the ballot a light vote is anticipated here and over the state. Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

The seven amendments as they appear on the ballot are as follows:

1. Increase the size of the Court of Criminal Appeals to nine judges, and permit the court to sit in panels of three judges.

2. Provide for an additional $200 million in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the Veterans' Land Fund and to allow surviving widows of veterans to purchase tracts under certain circumstances.

3. Permit denial of bail to a person charged with a felony offense who has been there before twice convicted of a felony offense committed while that person was admitted to bail on a prior felony indictment, or charged with a crime involving the use of a deadly weapon where there is evidence such person has been convicted of prior felony offense; providing for a 60-day limit to that person's incarceration without trial; and providing for that person's right of appeal.

4. Authorize tax relief to preserve certain cultural, historical, or natural history resources.

5. Authorize the formation of agricultural or marine associations which may mandate the collection of refundable assessments for improvement of production, marketing, or use of their products.

6. Give the legislature the power to authorize state and national banks to exercise banking and discounting privileges by use of electronic devices or machines.

Wildcats Spoil Whirlwinds' Upset Dreams, 17-6

By Doug Simpson

If ever there was a doubt as to whether the Idalou Wildcats were really the quality football team everyone figured and forecasted them to be, well, there are no longer any doubts and the state's #3-ranked football team is on the verge of wrapping up its first championship season in its history, fans!

The Wildcats protected their ranking along with area supremacy Friday night by eliminating the varsity Whirlwind footballers, 17-6, and in doing so, clinching at least a share of the 4-AA crown and a sure post-season playoff berth.

Idalou can capture the title outright next Friday by defeating Lockney on its home field. The loss leaves Floydada with a 6-4 season record, and a 2-2 district record, its worst for each in nine years.

The Wildcats did not win the contest with as much ease as you might expect. The 'Cats had to take advantage of three costly Whirlwind turnovers to put 10 of its points on the scoreboard, and the hosts were forced to withstand a temporary second half surge by a stubborn Floydada ball club.

In the game's initial period, the key was control. Of possession, that is. The Whirlwinds could manage but seven offensive plays during the first quarter, a major reason why the 'Cats offense was

He succeeds Al Harrison who has retired to golf and travel. Al was local FHA manager 16 years.

Floydada Is A Good Place To Make A Home

By Jan Sherman

This week the Hesperian features the Melvin Lloyd family.

Melvin Lloyd graduated from Floydada High School in 1961 and attended Texas Tech. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lloyd, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Lloyd and Mrs. B.L. Breed.

Janet graduated from Floydada High School in 1962 and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Boren. The Borens owned a furniture and appliance store in Floydada for 18 years then moved to a ranch near Farmersville, Texas in 1968.

Melvin and Janet are the parents of three daughters, Terri, age 14, Karen, age 12, and Mary Ellen, age 9. They are members of the First Baptist Church where Melvin and Janet work in the high school department. Janet reasoned that their philosophy of working in the youth department is because the youth is our key to the future. "Parents need to be more aware of the needs of their kids—spiritual as well as physical needs," she further stated. Janet also sings in the choir and enjoys being a member of the hand bell choir, and loves to sing anytime or anyplace.

The Lloyds farmed in the Floydada area until 1969 when they had the opportunity to move to Friona. Three years ago they began to consider the possibility of an implement dealership. January of this year, they made the decision to sell their farming operation so that they might look into dealership offers and some other possibilities. "But the Lord really was in this and He began to work and open doors for us not only here but in several areas. After much prayer and effort, this finally opened here so we bought control of Collins Implement, where Melvin is now co-owner and manager. If our kids hadn't had the attitude they did and prayed along with us about where we needed to be—this move would have been much harder."

The move back home required not only the usual time, but extra care and planning. They found the same housing

County Agent Continues Explanation Of Farm Program

SET-ASIDE

The 1977 farm bill gives the Secretary of Agriculture the authority to require producers to set-aside a percentage of their planted acres of wheat and feed grains as a condition for price support loans, deficiency payments, and disaster payments. In contrast to land retirement programs of the 1960's the producer DOES NOT receive a per-acre payment in return for not producing.

President Carter has already announced a set-aside requirement for wheat. Producers will be required to set-aside 20 percent of their 1978 wheat acreage if they are to have the advantage of the price support loan, target price and disaster payment provisions of the bill.

A producer has two options to qualify under the wheat set-aside program. The first option is that he can reduce 1978 wheat plantings for harvest by at least 20 percent of his 1977

Band Director Pleased With One Rating

On November 2nd the Floydada Whirlwind Band, under the direction of Rusty Sherman, traveled to Lubbock and competed in the Region XVI Marching Contest held on the campus of Texas Tech in Jones Stadium. As usual, the Whirlwind band put on a sterling performance and came home with the very thing they had been working for, the coveted first division award. Many hours of long, hard work paid off as, of the seventeen AA bands competing in the contest, only six were awarded the top rating. Along with Floydada, the other AA bands receiving the first division award were Dimmitt, Lockney, Littlefield, Friona, and Frenship.

When asked to comment on the contest, Whirlwind Band Director Sherman stated, "It was an extremely tough contest, and I was certainly proud of the way the band performed. It was a great win for the kids, because they have really worked for it. I have found that Floydada kids really produce when the pressure is on."

Some of the judges comments were as follows:

Jim Priest, Hereford: "Overall, an excellent show, well planned, well executed. Good job band, really enjoyed your performance."

Clyde Wilson, Midland: "Nice big sound from this band. In general, a good band and well rehearsed."

G.T. Gilligan, Kermit: "Fine band, fine show, congratulations on fine work. Good teaching and hard work."

Other ratings from other AA bands were as follows:

Lockney I, Roosevelt IV, Olton II, Tahoka IV, Denver City III, Muleshoe II, Morton II, Abernathy II, Slaton II, Post IV, Idalou III, Cooper III.

Establishment of grain reserves in the range of 30-35 million tons of food and feed grains has been announced by the Carter Administration. Included would be 8 million tons of wheat and 17-19 million tons of feed grain stored by farmers under long term (3-5 year) loans where the government has the authority to pay part of the cost of storage and waive or adjust interest charges. When the national average price reaches between 140 and 160 percent of the loan rate for wheat, the Secretary may discontinue payments and charge interest to encourage producers to redeem the loan and sell the grain. The loan may be recalled when the market price reaches 175 percent of the loan. The minimum release price for feed grains is expected to be equal to 125 percent of the loan, and loans would be called when the price reaches 140 percent of the loan (now $2.80 for corn).

The Carter reserve plan also calls for the purchase of 6 million tons of wheat under CCC purchase. The Secretary could not resell this CCC grain until the market price reached 150 percent of the loan rate when grain is also held in 3-5 year extended loan. Otherwise, the CCC resale price would be 115 percent of the current loan.

Penthouse In Floydada "Would You Believe!"

By Mary Tom Tooley
Most of us have probably had visions of living in a penthouse and connect with it the glitter and glamour of cities and neon lights. Well, you may be surprised to learn that Floydada has its own penthouse in down town, and that it has quite a history so here goes.
About two years ago, in search of a home Aldine and Wanda Williams, and son, Dean were in search of a thus the idea was born.

Once Wanda gave her consent, she became a unique type pioneer. The upper floor of their business had long been used for storage, and the remnants from the many businesses and offices located there through the years, could be found under the heavy cover of sifted dust that had freely blown through long ago missing windows. And all the walls (except one bright blue room) of the 23 rooms were painted a bright green, including the walls of the bountiful foyer which one enters as he tops the last of 25 steps up from the street door.
Now that the Williams are comfortably situated there following a couple of years of remodeling one room at a time, one finds it well worth the climb to view and enjoy the atmosphere which they have created after long hours of painful labor and some discomfort.

AS IT IS NOW
The foyer is a huge sitting room which could be termed a sun room with light pouring in from one of the three skylights. There are hanging plants unusual pieces of furniture, among which are antique pieces, and the focal point is the Backboard of the drugstore fountain (from next door) which had been put in White's drug Store in 1928. It is quite attractive with its marble counter and antique knobs and openers. The maple piece covers a wall about 12 feet by 8 feet. The coffee tables and two of the end tables are made of marble from the cigar counter in the drug store.
Going north out of the sun room through glass patio doors one enters a long hall filled with plants giving the impression of the out of doors.
Wanda has decorated four of the rooms as bedrooms, a kitchen, dining room, living room and a generous bathroom which is also her utility room with washer and dryer. Two of her rooms have ante-rooms, or what at one time were waiting rooms. They lend a unique air to the surrounding.

The most difficult thing to move into the tall quarters was the steel tub, and the most difficult to move out was a steel vault, which had to be taken out of the window by a special crane.

THE BUILDING'S HISTORY

As far as the history of the building, it is quite interesting, because it has housed many different businesses and professions.
It was built in the twenties by Mr. Reidheimer, a farmer near Dougherty. In the thirties the Brown Brothers bought it and put in the Hocus Pocus Grocery Store, which went broke in the late thirties. It was then used for grain storage. Rats invaded the building and ate the grain and left at least one upstairs door scalloped as a souvenir of their grand hour.
J.E. Bishop bought the building in the forties and used it to house his Ford Agency for years.
Upstairs, meanwhile, was used by a photographer; Dr. A.E. Guthrie, before he built his clinic; by Judge Grimes; by Mrs. Hyatt, a seamstress; by Dr. Thacker for dental offices; by Kenneth Bain and his dad, Judge Bain. Mr. and Mrs. Emory Roberson had a room upstairs following World War II until they could find other living quarters. Newell Burk used it for his accounting office when he moved to town.

Ben Ayers in recent years had law offices and Darnell Ayers, the Veterans Administration there.
Following J.E. Bishop, Ray Reed used the street floor as the Ford Agency followed by Ted Allen with the Chrysler Agency; and finally Caprock Hardware rented it for a period and then bought it in 1972.

IN SUMMING IT UP

The Williams occasionally have surprise callers who wander upstairs "looking for the lawyer."
Wanda says that her hardest job is getting her large bags of groceries transported from her car to her kitchen.
She remarked, "I always thought I'd find a treasure up here. Would you believe I haven't found a thing, not a thing." And I could only think at this point, Wanda, you've brought it with you... and she has, in her imagination, her excitement and spirit. She has helped to turn a dirty old building into a PENTHOUSE, interesting in 'things' and warm and welcoming in atmosphere.

ada is like many small towns with their shortages of doctors, concern about the water shortage, working for new industries, and business investments. The best thing about Floydada is the people. People who enjoy life and work to see that their town is progressive. The Loyds are like these people in their hopes that more industry will come in and that the town will support the A&M school and help it grow. One of the biggest problems, as they see it is the need for new housing in the middle income price range.

Quarterback Todd Vickers went to work, handing off straight up the middle to Joe Covington and throwing to Helms on a sideline route good for eight yards to the 23.

Larry Jones carried for five more to the 18, and the Whirlwinds suddenly were in reaching distance of paydirt and a TD that would certainly change the momentum. But that was not to be. On a 4th down, five situation, Vickers had the ball knocked out of his hands and picked off by Idalou's Larry Murphy, who coasted 80 yards untouched to a touchdown that just about established the momentum for the rest of the half and much of the game.

Junior Cuevas' extra point attempt sailed wide and with 3:16 left in the third quarter, it stood 17-6 in favor of Idalou. (The Wildcats scored earlier on a 33 yard fieldgoal by Danny Weems). The Whirlwinds got the ball back following a punt and went to work again, knowing that a second score would definitely give them a tremendous emotion lift.

SECOND HALF
The second half for the most part, was an entirely different ball game. It belonged to the Floydada defense, which allowed only three points by the hosts and helped the offense by setting up scoring opportunities. The Whirlwind only scoring drive was achieved by a 82 yard march, 56 of those yards coming off one play, the same play that has harrassed area defenses all season long, the sweep right to Larry Jones. Jones galloped all the way to the opposite end of the field, the 22, by making a tremendous cutback at midfield and picking up excellent downfield blocking. From the 22, on a fourth and 10, Vickers dropped straight back, got into trouble, was almost dropped by the Wildcat defensive line, and just hurled nic will not be able to meet the proposed regulations. Therefore, it seems a strong possibility it could be closed because we do not have an average of 80 per cent occupancy, nor the 1,000 patient days per 1,000 population, nor the 500 deliveries per year. Even though our occupancy is below 80 per cent we need the 20 beds we have on many days. It would be tragic to close some of our beds, or all of them, because of the average rate of the proposed regulations and deny some, or all, of our patients the medical needs they come to us for. "I do not believe DHEW has investigated the needs and situations in our rural areas, nor have they shown any concern nor compassion for health

She gave several reasons why the hospital is needed, including a considerable number of people helped by the hospital (in the fiscal year just completed, 821 admission, 4,000 patient days, 173 births, 16,278 patients seen through the clinic); 65 per cent occupancy by Medicare patients, who do not have immediate or adequate transportation for care out of this area; transportation problems because of the predicted national fuel shortage; chance of losing Lockney's one physician and prospects for another; probable closing of the Lockney nursing home without the hospital here; local merchants suffering for lack of business; 50 employees depending on the hospital for their livelihood; and, she said: "...We want to care for our own in the best way possible, in the manner to which we are accustomed, without hindrance from all sides. She asked the Rotarians to "...use your influence in any way you can by letters, personal contacts to local citizens and the surrounding areas we serve and to the government officials telling them what this hospital means to you, your family, your business." Mrs. Fortenberry said the hospital sent a letter Wednesday to the President of the South Plains Health Systems Agency, and copies went to the governor, state and U.S. senators and congressmen, DHEW officials, and Texas Department of Public Health officials. Names and addresses of those officials are available from Mrs. Fortenberry for others who wish to write.

Sales Tax Rep In Floydada Thursday

AUSTIN—State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Lubbock office to Floydada on Thursday, November 10, 1977 to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer, Raymond Bogus will meet with local taxpayers at the Floydada Court House, Room 103 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

"If Floydada-area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Bogus will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on November 10th that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL-FREE tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555.

The Lubbock office, headed by Donald F. Paxton, serves Lubbock and surrounding counties.

Hospital Guidelines Where To Write About

Lockney General Hospital administrator Gayle Fortenberry has made available a list of names and addresses for persons interested in keeping Lockney General Hospital open to write.

Proposed national health care guidelines could force the shutdown of the Lockney hospital, Mrs. Fortenberry warns, but personal letters from citizens could have an effect on the regulations.

According to an "advance notice of proposed rulemaking" from the HEW Health Resources Administration, "Interested parties are invited to submit written comments on the National Guidelines for Health Planning by November 22, 1977. After consideration of the materials received in response to this notice, the Secretary will make appropriate revisions and by regulation issue final Guidelines." The address:

What Is A HOSPITAL?

According To The Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, A Hospital Should be a Facility in a City Over 100,000 Population or Within 45 Minutes Traveling Time.

Proposed HEW Regulations Would Reduce the Number of Hospital Beds Across the Country By 17,500. This Will Be Accomplished By Closing Most Small Hospitals.

FARM & RANCH NEWS

For Amendment 5 Vote For Family Farms

Agriculture Reagan V. Texas citizens passage of Amendment 5 is a Texas' family associations are in reality consumer organizations as well, Brown added, "because assessments allow agriculturalists to increase research and marketing techniques which lead to a more efficient and plentiful food supply."

One out of every five jobs in the state is directly or indirectly related to the Texas farm and ranch industry so that the statewide goal of making Texas agriculture Number One means increased economic stability for every Texan, Brown said.

"A positive vote for Amendment Five will secure the future of farm associations which provide a major tool in our fight for economic stability as a state," he concluded.

Silverton Young Farmer News

Young Farmer regular meetings at the Ag Center were final. Next meeting will be held at 7:30 in room of the Ag Center, with the following speakers: Dr. Ham, roasts beef, and salads were served to members and their families. Card games and 42 were played following the supper. Members and guests present were: Fred, Linda, Katrice, & Anthony Minaryard, G. W., Veneta, Cynthia, & Stacy Chapell, Jerry, Vicki, & Kristi Bean, Van, Sue, Brian, & Brandi Breedlove, Doug, Jeanetta, & Lance Bradford, Fred, Lois, & Staci Hill, Orville, Carolyn, Scott, Robert, & Christopher Turner.

The Silverton Young Farmers held a regular meeting October 13 at the Pioneer Room. The guest speaker for the evening was Charles Wayne Mayfield. Mr. Mayfield spoke on the new farm program and its effect on the American farmer. The chapter will hold a turkey shoot on November 19 from 9 a.m. until dark. The chapter is ready and for sell at the news office. The chapter discussed having new vests made and decided on the type of emblem to be put on the vest.

Some cured hams say "water added," says Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Federal regulations say hams must weigh the same during curing as before. Ham that absorbs water in processing must read "water added," the specialist says.

Women will continue to outnumber men, reports Debby Johnson, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. According to statistics, by the year 2000 there will be 7.9 million women and 6.9 million men.

Apparel accounts for 44 percent of all fiber consumption, reports Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The quality of High Plains cotton classed through October 21 has been "fantastic," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Johnson compared this year's High Plains fiber characteristics with those reported from other areas of the Cotton Belt and said "High Plains cotton looks better by comparison than ever before, a fact which will make it saleable in markets not available to us in years past."

Grades, micronaire readings and fiber strength tests all are registering substantial improvements over previous years and all compare favorably with cotton from other states.

Staple length of High Plains cotton is always shorter than the national average, but this is the only category in which Lubbock-area cotton falls behind. "Exceptionally good growing and harvesting weather has helped raise High Plains cotton quality in other respects," Johnson explains, "but staple is primarily determined by variety."

Analysis of quality data on the 415,783 bales classed on the Plains through October 21, about 13 percent of estimated area production, shows a huge 76 percent of the crop grading Strict Low Middling White and above. Latest quality figures from across the Belt, covering the 2,366,000 bales ginned through October 1, put only 62 percent of the national crop in the Strict Low Middling and better grades.

Only three states, Arizona, New Mexico and California, have ginned a higher percentage of SLM+ cotton.

Just over 85 percent of the early Lubbock crop has "miked" in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9, a percentage equalled only by California.

Fiber strength, or "pressley," of High Plains cotton has been excellent to date this year, with 58 percent measuring 90,000 psi or above. This compares with a beltwide average of only 33 percent and is above all states except New Mexico and Georgia.

The chart below shows comparative figures for each of the 12 states included in USDA's October 17 "Cotton Quality Report for Ginnings Prior to October 1."

Hail Suppression Eyed

A-J Correspondent

PLAINVIEW — Calling for continued research and experimentation into weather modification in areas other than the High Plains, Dan True, an Amarillo meteorologist, told about 100 supporters of Hale County Citizens for Natural Weather "weather modification could eventually be successful but we just don't know enough about it at this point."

The recently formed group opposes a multi-year hail suppression and rain increase permit application filed by Plainview-based Plains Weather Improvement Association.

Voters will decide on the issuance of the permit to conduct activities over much of Hale County and portions of Lamb, Castro, Swisher and Floyd counties on Nov. 8.

Past weather modification activities in Lamb and Hale counties may have benefited residents in those counties at the expense of others, True said. "Hale county has been having its cake and eating it too. By seeding some of the thunderstorms as they pass through the county, Hale County was sometimes able to get rain out of the clouds as well as less hail as they decreased in intensity and dissipated."

"In areas to the northeast, east, and southeast of Hale County, some people are getting about half as much rain as the surrounding area. We need more study on weather modification to see if it is causing this problem and we need this study done in other projects outside the High Plains before we let it continue here," True said.

He also called for more study on the possible effects of silver iodide and other chemicals used in cloud-seeding operations. "If a can of hair spray can hurt the ozone layer, we may have a bomb in weather modification and don't know it."

444 Aoudad Permits Ready For Landowners

LUBBOCK — Sportsmen will have an additional week to bag an elusive aoudad sheep when the season begins Nov. 5 in the Texas Panhandle.

Eight counties will host the season which continues through Nov. 18 in Armstrong, Briscoe, Donley, Floyd, Hall, Motley, Randall and Swisher with a season bag limit of one sheep per hunter by permit only.

A total of 444 aoudad permits will be issued to 100 landowners this month prior to the season and hunters must obtain this permit from the landowner before hunting the sheep.

Last year, 323 permits were issued to landowners and 132 hunters were successful in bagging an aoudad in the rough caprock country southeast of Amarillo.

Hunters unfamiliar with the aoudad sheep should become acquainted with the habits and characteristics of this imported mountain climber.

The aoudad or barbary sheep is rufous or tawny brown with dark brown areas about the head and forequarters. The inside of the legs, the chin, a line on the under parts and the inside of the legs are whitish in color. There is no recognizable color variations between the sexes or between seasons.

The mane on the older males may nearly touch the ground even when the head is held upright. A distinctive characteristic is the long, tufted tail which normally reaches the vicinity of the rocks.

Horn characteristics on both sexes include horn tips that remain sharp throughout life and sweep outward, backward, and then inward reaching a tip-to-tip spread of over 30 inches on some animals. A full curl is never reached by the aoudad as on native North American big-horn sheep.

The aoudad is gregarious and generally associates in small family groups consisting of an adult male and female with their young offspring of various ages. They escape detection by remaining motionless rather than leaving whenever danger threatens.

The aoudad is highly resistant to internal parasites which helped the P&WD transplant these animals to various parts of Texas. Aoudads are adept at climbing and jumping. They have been observed readily jumping a four-foot livestock fence and if pressed, they can jump a seven-foot fence, although it will normally contain them. This jumping ability is readily used in the caprock country of the Texas Panhandle.

Hunters looking for trophy aoudad rams will find the four-to-seven year old males carrying the longest, thickest horns. The experienced hunter would suggest that you spend 95 percent of your time glassing the surrounding caprock ledges and only five percent walking through the area or you might not see an aoudad on your entire hunt.

The heat pump

THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE™

time to consider the heat pump. Southwestern Public Service Company can assist the system that will give you the most for your energy dollar, and come with some accurate information on installation and operating costs.

A heat pump is the electric savings machine. And usually a machine of such relative operation calls for a lot of space and some pretty technical installation procedures. NOT SO WITH THE HEAT PUMP! "Split systems" — most adaptations to homes — consist of an outdoor and indoor section. Both systems can be installed in most every home or office that has central air ducts. If you're buying, heating or remodeling, it's time you said...

"Yes, the heat pump!"

Now! What you pay to lease a Zimmatic depends on the price of corn.

Here's another first from Lindsay... the Zimmatic Corn Crop Lease. Instead of a fixed lease payment, you pay for your Zimmatic based on the price of corn. If corn prices plunge, so does your lease payment.

By offering this new lease, Lindsay is sharing some of the same risks that you face every year. Corn prices fluctuate, which affects your profit picture. That's why Lindsay developed the exclusive Zimmatic Corn Crop Lease... a revolutionary program that tailors your lease payments to the changing price of corn, from one year to the next.

The Zimmatic Corn Crop Lease is designed so you can lease a Zimmatic without using your normal operating credit sources... your Zimmatic pays its own way by turning on your production.

The number of Zimmatics available under this program and the time period of this offer are limited so come in soon and get all the details on the Corn Crop Lease and other exclusive leasing programs available only through Lindsay Credit Corp.

Take advantage of a program that has never been offered in the industry before... it's the lease we can do for you.
