Dell Tooley, Floyd county officials, will file 400 appeals on traffic tickets because of the cost of court. Most of them are by policemen with the county costs. Kenneth Bain says that ticket appeals in Floyd county will be thrown out. He says the traffic court is closed for the present, although none of them has been filed this year.

Block Chat

Proposed changes for Omar in Congress have a lot to say. The 17th Congress is larger than seven almost $30,000 for all types of fines. Most of the traffic fines are written by the Department of Public Safety. Although Ford would not give an estimate of how much he has collected this year, he said, "it won't be nearly as much as Porter has collected." Some people think the more fine money a J.P. collects, the more salary he gets...this is simply not correct. Porter said, "I get $328 a month whether I

G. B. Johnston Jr. Announces For Judge

G.B. Johnston Jr. of Lone Star has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of Floyd County Judge in the May Primary. Johnston was born and raised in Floyd County and graduated from Lockney High School. He served overseas as an officer and pilot in the 8th Air Force in World War II. He is a member of the Lockney First Baptist Church and a men's Sunday School class teacher. Johnston is a Floyd County school trustee. A farmer-sheepman, Johnston lives eight miles north of Lockney in the Lone Star community. He and his wife, the former Naomi Huckabee, have four children—Barry Tandy Johnston of Olney, Chris Johnston, a junior at Texas Tech, Kary Martin of Lockney, and Lori Johnston, a junior at Lockney High School. Johnston said in his announcement statement: "If elected, I will serve the county to the best of my ability, and cooperate with all county officials and the people of the county." Johnston added: "I plan to contact all voters in the county between now and the May primary."

Whirllette Rally Sinks Ralls

Forward Jill Poague scored with only 34 seconds remaining on a dramatic driving layup and stole the ensuing inbound pass to lift the Floydada Whirllettes to an impressive come-from-behind victory over Ralls Tuesday, by the margin of 47-46. The win left Floydada with a 2-4 season record and was accomplished through an almost unbelievable comeback scoring surge in the contest's final minute and a half. Poague's bucket and steal climaxed a 16-point third quarter performance by her team and put the Whirllettes into the lead to stay at 47-44. The hosting Jackrabbits managed to score at last-ditch-desperation bucket on their next possession, but it was not enough to overcome the three-point lead Coach Linden Weese's troops had mounted in the closing stages. Poague's heroics was also characterized by a 9-point free throw effort (83 percent from the line) and a 19-point performance for the entire game, and to finish up as Floydada's second-leading scorer.

But in spite of this, it took teamwork on the part of both the guards and forwards for the victory to even come about. On the defensive end of the floor, Rhonda Bennett, Janie Guest, Tolya Hickerson, and Rosemary Barnes each helped stifle the Ralls' offensive attack in the final period. Together, they collected 23 defensive rebounds, 8 steals, and held Ralls to 14 points in the final frame. The contest had begun in a totally different manner. Behind the shooting guard and rebounding of Kim Curry, Floydada raced to a 16-6 first quarter advantage and a still fairly commanding 23-14 halftime lead. In the first half of play, Lisa West and Kathy Davis contributed four and three points apiece, and Curry led the pack with 12. But in the would-be disastrous third period of play, the swift Jackrabbits swarmed the Whirllettes on both ends collect 100 fines or none..." Porter puts in a 40 hour week in the office and has to make a lot of night calls. He receives $125 a month travel expense. He has asked the Commissioner's Court for a larger salary, maintaining that he does most of the JP work in the county, but his request was turned down by the Commissioners Court.

Porter said the state gets $3.50 of every traffic ticket, the rest goes to the county.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY WORK
District Attorney Randy Hollums says most of his docket work is pretty well up to date, although he had to take out a month or two prosecuting the murder of the Motley County sheriff this year.

"The Speedy Trial Law" may mean that we will need a grand jury once a month, and more juries as many of these cases come to court in a hurry and are not carried on the docket for a year at a time," the D.A. said.

"Many cases are simply thrown out because they are so old when they come to court, it is impossible to find the arresting officer, or by then many officers, if they are around can't remember the people involved in the situation," Hollums said.

COUNTY ATTORNEY SALARY

The county attorney receives a salary of $822 a month, so must depend on private practice for much of his income. The County Attorney of Hale County recently resigned because he couldn't handle all the cases on what he considered a part time salary of around $16,000 per year. He was behind some four or five hundred cases.

Shoppers Urged To "Try Floydada First"

As the busy holiday season gets underway in Floydada and local residents shop for Christmas gifts and items, Chamber of Commerce officials are reminding everyone to "Try Floydada First" before shopping out of town. "We are only asking citizens to give local merchants a chance for their business" a spokesman for the chamber said. "We believe he deserves the first opportunity to make the sale."

Whirlwind Rally Short, 53-48

The Floydada varsity Whirlwinds finally began executing their very potent fast break attack a little too late in a heart-breaking 53-48 loss to Ralls Tuesday night.

Coach Mike Cocanougher's troops, who had trailed by as much as 11 points with less than three minutes to play, outplayed their hosting opponents for the entire remainder of the contest and had a chance to win when Jimmy Jackson stepped to the free-throw line with 19 seconds left.

The score at this point stood 51-45 and after Jackson made one of his free shots and proceeded to inbound the ball as a result of a technical foul charged against Ralls, a little uneasiness could be felt among members of the Jackrabbit bench and stands. Quinn Coleman made one of the technical shots and then, Kary Helms came through with a layup on the next possession to make it 51-48 with 11 seconds left.

But it took just one other play by the sagging Ralls offense from that point to cool things down and end the Whirlwind threat. Ralls beat the Floydada full-court press with a cross-court pass and layup with eight seconds to play that made it a five-point advantage, obviously with not enough time to catch up. In the record books, it was the third consecutive loss of the season for the Whirlwinds. On paper, it was the best

Forest Lawn Cemetery Association In Fund Raising Project

The Forest Lawn Cemetery Association held a meeting November 21, at 7:00 p.m. the meeting was called to order by President Dorothy Kerr. Plans and projects for raising money for the upkeep of Forest Lawn Cemetery were discussed. It was decided to give a box of groceries valued at $25 or more for donations of $1 per ticket. This will be the third fund raising project for the association. The first was the Halloween Carnival for the children. The second was a turkey

HOT AIR BALLOON is pictured at right as it "blasted off" from the J.E. Waller farm, ten miles south of Floydada the day after Thanksgiving.

Kent Clark of Kansas, brother of Mrs. Waller and son of Mamie Clark hauled the balloon here in a U-Haul trailer when he and his family came down for Thanksgiving.

The $8,000 balloon, basket, and fan to inflate it rises when the propane jet flame heats the air... descends when the air cools. Kent is a qualified pilot who received instructions on how to "fly it." It takes a real calm day, but there is always enough breeze in this county to make it drift.

Several Floyd folk enjoyed watching the balloon fly this area.

Godfrey Seeks Congress Office

Fike Godfrey

Fike Godfrey, who resigned last month as executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, officially launched his campaign for Congress this week by pledging the use of "West Texas common sense" in trying to help solve the problems facing Washington.

Godfrey, a Kent County rancher and former automobile dealer in Spur, served the West Texas Chamber, which represents 132 counties, for seven years. In making his formal announcement for the congressional seat being vacated by U.S. Rep. Omar Burlison of Anson, Godfrey noted that he had worked with all members of the Texas congressional delegation and would not need "on-the-job training" to start representing the 17th District.

"Frankly, I am excited over the prospect of carrying on my efforts to bring industrial development to this district — with the resources of a congressional office to back me up," Godfrey told a gathering of supporters and news media representatives in Abilene.

"I look forward to representing the views of the people of this district trying to bring some of their common sense to Washington decisions in trying to help solve the many critical problems which are facing us," he declared.

"We must solve the energy problem, in such a way that people will not be bankrupted simply by using their cars and keeping their homes comfortable," said Godfrey. "We must solve the inflation problem, which is caused by unnecessary, wasteful government spending.

"While this foreign travel is certain to be helpful," he said, "I take the greatest pride in the knowledge I have gained of the people and their problems in the 33 countries in the 17th Congressional District. The people of this area are the greatest on earth. I admire their independence, their self-reliance, their moral values, their common sense and their patriotism. These qualities helped us to maintain the healthiest economic climate in the nation during the last recession."

Double-Ring Evening Ceremony Unites Victoria Stout, Ronald Huffman

Mrs. Ronald Neal Huffman

Miss Victoria Lynn Stout and Ronald Neal Huffman were united in marriage in an evening ceremony held Nov. 12 at Calvary Baptist Church in Lubbock, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Nita Stout of Grants, N.M. and Gene Stout of Leland, Miss Huffman is the daughter of Mrs. Barbara Huffman of Lubbock, and Joe Huffman of Dimmitt.

The Rev. Dale Cain performed the candlelight ceremony.

Jacque Brazzel, Cheryl Sanders, and Ruth Ann McCauley sang the 'Wedding Song', and 'Sometime'. Dalene Husky, cousin of the bride, and Perry Bice accompanied them. Gary Schwantz played guitar and sang 'That's the Way'. He was accompanied by Bice on the base guitar, and Miss Husky on the piano.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Eugene Stout of Grants. She wore a gown of white shirred organza and Chantilly lace. The mouled bodice featured a sweetheart neckline, framed in Venice lace. Long bishop sleeves were gathered at the wrists by bands of lace and ruffles. The full circular skirt of Chantilly lace ended in a chapel length train. The entire hemline was edged in Chantilly lace.

A matching pearl and lace campulet headpiece held her veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of miniature pink roses and baby breath atop a white satin Bible.

Mrs. Walt Griffith, sister of the groom, served as matron of honor. Carol Wilmeth and Glyndene Spencer were bridesmaids. All three wore gowns of burgandy velvet trimmed with white lace. Mrs. Griffith carried a white rose, the others carried a single pink rose.

Walt Griffith served as best man. Groomsmen were Jet Wilmeth and Gary Wright, the groom's brother-in-law. Jerry Wright, nephew of the groom was ringbearer.

Ushers included Marcus McFaul, cousin of the bride, Jon, Jason, and Jerry Mooney, cousins of the groom.

Tika Collier, cousin of the bride was the flower girl.

Phaedra Booth, the groom's niece was train bearer. Cecilia Thomasson and Belinda Wright lit the candles.

Several of the bride's cousins, including Melonie Collier, Carol Marie Collier, Jeanette Castor, Cathy Castor, Carla Thomasson, Charlotte Thomasson and Jana Thomasson assisted at the guest book and reception which was held in the church fellowship hall. Valerie Wright, sister of the groom, also assisted.

Mr. and Mrs. Huffman both graduated from Lubbock High School. Mrs. Huffman graduated from South Plains college in May 1977 and is currently employed by Tresco. Huffman also attended SPC and is employed by State Chemical.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will make their home in

Out of town guest included the bride's mother, Mrs. Nita Stout of Grants, the bride's brother, Mr. Eugene Stout Jr. of Grants; the groom's father, Mr. Jo Huffman of Dimmitt; the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Collier of Kaufman; the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Huffman of Lockney; Mr. and Mrs. Walt Griffith of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. James Collier and daughter, Melonie of Albuquerque; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Collier and daughters, Carol Marie and Tika of Grandprairie; Marcus McFaul of Dallas; and Carla and Jana Thomasson of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. Jet Wilmeth of Tokio.

Many Guests "Drop In" At Q. D. Williams' Ranch

Thanksgiving holiday visitors at the Q.D. Williams home included their son and family Mr. and Mrs. James D. Williams and Austin, of Midland; Mrs. Williams' cousins and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jones, sons Charley and Raymond, and Mrs. Albert Jones, Dumas, accompanied by Alvin Peters of Sunray. Relatives from Truscott included Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Jones; her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Brown, Billy, Jacquelyn of Lubbock and Ruth of Houston. Another sister, Mrs. Norma Lee, Farmington, New Mexico, met her daughter, Sonsee Lee, at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, and joined the family gathering on Thursday.

The Dumas guests stayed until Saturday morning. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Bobby Jones attended the Sunray-Petersburg football game in Plainview Bulldog Stadium Friday night. Monte Williams returned to Texas Tech Sunday.

HOT AIR BRINGS IN OTHERS

Other drop in guests included Mrs. J.E. Waller and members, the Clark family who drifted into Blanco Canyon in a hot air balloon after dinner. The Williams' family and relatives sighted the balloon as it headed toward the ranch house, but the wind shifted the vehicle to the north rim. The men and boys drove their pick ups to the caprock where the balloonists alighted, folded their air craft and put it into the pick up that had been following them.

This Worcestersted Cheese Christmas Tree is a delicious spread for the holiday snack table. It couldn't be easier; just mix the two cheeses and chopped nuts with a measure of Lea & Perrins sauce. Might as well make a triple batch and refrigerate it, ready for guests.

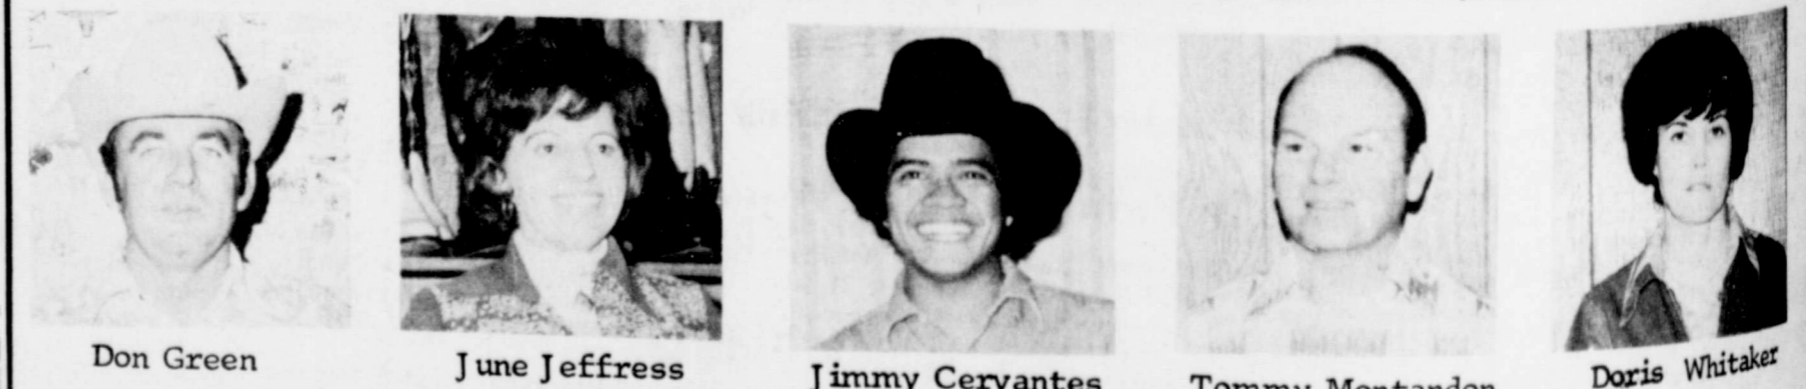

Shape it as a Christmas tree and decorate with sliced pimiento stuffed olives or strips of red pepper as shown above. Any leftover cheese mixture can be "recycled" and shaped into a yule log or another Christmas tree. If you're not in the mood for art work, serve it nicely piled in a pretty bowl.

WORCESTERED CHEESE CHRISTMAS TREE

- 1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 4 ounces (1 cup) shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1 tablespoon onion powder
- 2 teaspoons original Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 roasted red pepper, cut into 1/4" wide strips

In a medium bowl mix together cream cheese, Cheddar cheese, onion powder and Worcestershire sauce until well blended. Stir in nuts. With hands and a small spatula, shape into a cone shape. Make a spiraling ridge from top to bottom. Into ridge, press red pepper strips. Recipe may be doubled or tripled if desired. Serve with crackers. Yield: about 1 1/2 cups.

"Fast Foods" And Nutrition

COLLEGE STATION.—Home-cooked or "fast food" meals—they're about the same in nutrition, but not in calories or in cost, says Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. More and more women in the labor force and a busy lifestyle are sending Americans out to eat, especially "fast foods," the specialists says.

Specifically, how do fast foods compare, in cost and nutrition, with home-cooked meals? One USDA comparison shows that fast food chain meals are as nutritious as their homemade counterparts but cost about twice as much.

For example, in the Washington, D.C. area in July 1976, a meal of hamburger (or cheeseburger) + french fries + soft drink cost about 1.8 times as much as it would shakes made at home from whole milk and ice cream. The french fries prepared at home supplied more vitamin C than the restaurant product, depending, of course, upon the variety of potato, storage conditions and the method of preparation.

Of course, the fast food meal provided over the recommended allowance for calories than for some nutrients—assuming an allowance of around 2,600 calories. Women and children who have lower energy allowances would need to be aware of the higher caloric percentage of these meals.

When families elect to eat at a fast food restaurant, it is wise to remember that the remainder of the day's food should provide the recommended amount of nutrients without an excess of calories.

Across the nation, the popular fast food restaurants are a convenience that save the busy homemaker's time.

As soon as a toothbrush shows wear, replace it, advises Carla Shearer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

About five percent, or approximately one million older people, live in institutions of all kinds, reports Mrs. Vivian Blair, family life education specialist-aging, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

More and more women in the labor force and a busy lifestyle are sending Americans out to eat, especially "fast foods," the specialist says.

Specifically, how do fast foods compare, in cost and nutrition, with home-cooked meals? One USDA comparison shows that fast food chain meals are as nutritious as their homemade counterparts but cost about twice as much.

For example, in the Washington, D.C. area in July 1976, a meal of hamburger (or cheeseburger) + french fries + soft drink cost about 1.8 times as much as it would have at home, and dessert (apple pie) cost 3.5 times as much.

Seven meal-type combinations of food from the same chain and corresponding meals prepared at home were similar in nutritive value. Five of the seven restaurant meals provided one-fifth or more of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance for protein, riboflavin, thiamin and vitamin C.

None of the meals furnished much vitamin A, since vegetables in the usual "hamburger place" are almost limited to french fries. The meal with milkshake exceeded one-fifth of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance for calcium. This indicates that more of some nutrients and less of others were provided.

FIVE GENERATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bishop are great, great grandparents the fourth time. The picture of the first fifth generation was made at Pasadena, Texas Christmas 1947. In this picture is; Mrs. Matilda Ann Bishop, Earl Bishop, Mrs. Riley Teague, Mrs. Sue Tilson and Joe Mack Tilson.

The second fifth generation picture; Earl Bishop, Mrs. Riley Teague, Sue Tilson, Joe Mack Tilson and Jason Mack Tilson, made Thanksgiving 1977.

The oldest great great, is Patience Boyce daughter of Danny and Jennifer Boyce, Chelsea, daughter of Brad and Lou Teague, Blue Boyce son of Danny and Jennifer Boyce. The Boyce and Teague children are the grand children of Roy and Shirley Teague of Hurst, also the great grand of Riley and Lula Teague.

Mr. Bishop is 91, Mrs. Bishop is 89 years young.

In "fast food" hamburgers, thiamin values were consistently lower, though riboflavin values were higher. Protein levels in home-made hamburgers were higher, probably due to the amount (2 ounces) of ground beef used for the higher protein content of the beef.

Fat levels in the restaurant-type meals were not excessive. The percentage of food energy provided by fat was lower than 35 per cent.

In all but one of the fast food chains' hamburger meals, fat provided less than 42 per cent of the calories, the average in most U.S. diets. The "fast" fillet of fish sandwich used over one tablespoon of mayonnaise-type spread and the apple pie—more crust than fruit—contained more fat than the home-prepared versions.

The non-fat dry milk base of the fast food restaurant shakes provided considerably more calcium than the shakes made at home from whole milk and ice cream. The french fries prepared at home supplied more vitamin C than the restaurant product, depending, of course, upon the variety of potato, storage conditions and the method of preparation.

Of course, the fast food meal provided over the recommended allowance for calories than for some nutrients—assuming an allowance of around 2,600 calories. Women and children who have lower energy allowances would need to be aware of the higher caloric percentage of these meals.

When families elect to eat at a fast food restaurant, it is wise to remember that the remainder of the day's food should provide the recommended amount of nutrients without an excess of calories.

Across the nation, the popular fast food restaurants are a convenience that save the busy homemaker's time.

CHRISTMAS DECORATION SAFETY

Common-sense rules for decorating make holidays safer. A few tips for you on tree, light, ornament and plant safety are given below.

TREE SAFETY—In buying a natural tree, check for freshness.

Fresh needles will bend between your fingers. Signs of dryness include brittle branches and shedding needles. Tap the tree lightly on the ground to see if many needles fall off.

Don't depend on a healthy green color. Trees may be sprayed green to improve their appearance. To set the tree up, place it in a sturdy holder with a wide base. Fill the holder with water and refill as necessary all the time the tree is in use. Set the tree a good distance from any heat source. Get rid of the tree when the needles begin to fall off in large quantities. This is a sign that the tree is becoming dangerously dry.

LIGHT SAFETY—Be sure the lights are safe. First look for the UL (Underwriters Laboratory) label to insure pre-purchase safety checks. Then check the tree lights and outdoor lights for frayed wires, loose connections, broken or cracked sockets and spots where bare wire is exposed. Repair or throw out any damaged light set.

INDOOR TREE LIGHTS—In decorating with lights, fasten them securely to the tree, and make sure no lightbulbs are in direct contact with the needles or branches. Keep curtains and flammable materials away from the bulbs. Don't overload extension cords. More than three sets of lights on any extension cord invites danger. Finally, keep the connection joint away from the water supply of a live tree.

OUTDOOR LIGHTS—Don't try to use indoor lights for outdoor lighting. Make sure outdoor lights are weatherproof and the label clearly says they are for outdoor use. Before leaving the house or going to bed, be sure all lights are turned off. Remove outdoor lighting as soon as the holiday season is over. Even these lights are not designed to withstand prolonged periods of time in the elements.

ORNAMENT AND PLANT SAFETY—Avoid placing breakable ornaments or those with small detachable parts on lower tree branches where small children or pets can reach them and knock them off. Also, keep other decorations and holiday plants out of children's reach. Some traditional holiday decorations, such as mistletoe and hollyberries, may be harmful if eaten.

Wear several shawls at once. It's a cool weather layering trick, says Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She suggests a small one tied at the neck, a long oblong under the collar hanging loose, and a large square or triangle draped around the shoulder.

Buying fresh vegetables affected by decay is "penny foolish," says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Poultry must sometimes be repackaged for home refrigeration, says Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Chilled, raw poultry wrapped only in market paper should be unwrapped, placed on a platter or tray, covered with wax paper and refrigerated.

Increase In Texas Speeders Alarming

AUSTIN (AP) — A Highway Department study shows more Texans than ever before are lead-footing it down the road and thumbing their noses at the small white signs with "55" on them.

A Department of Public Safety spokesman said the quarterly report that ended Sept. 30 indicates 74 percent of Texas motorists are zipping along faster than the law allows. Of that number, 39 percent average more than 60 mph and 16 percent more than 65.

"That 74 percent is the highest percentage we've seen," said Jim Robinson. "In fact, out on the interstate and rural highways, we have 86 per cent over 55. The average speed for the quarter overall was 59.2, but on the interstates, it was 61.8"

Robinson said the DPS is very concerned about the increase in speeders because statistics show the number of traffic deaths also has taken an upward turn.

"As of noon Friday, Nov. 19, our deaths were up 11 percent over the same period last year," he said. "And on the interstates, we have a 48 percent increase in deaths over last year."

Texas has 1,331 state troopers manning about 70,000 miles of highway. Robinson said part of the enforcement difficulty stems from day-to-day happenings such as court appearances and illness.

"Taking all that and averaging it out, it works out that we have one highway patrol unit every 120 miles across the state," he said. "It's a fact that we have to concentrate in urban areas, so they would be spread thinner in the rural areas."

Robinson said troopers are writing a million tickets a year. He said about 800,000 are for speeding.

The 55 mph speed limit went into effect in 1974. Robinson pointed to DPS statistics that indicate Texas highways aren't as safe as they were right after the gas-saving law became effective.

As of Nov. 23, 1973, just before the 70 mph signs were mothballed, 3,208 Texans had died in traffic crashes. The same period the next year showed a dramatic change: 2,601 dead. But things began to go from bad to worse with a mild exception in 1976.

"The latest figures show 3,063," said Robinson. "If we keep going like we are, we're going to catch back up."

Boone Leads Charts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Once upon a time, the daughter of a man who wore white shoes, drank milk and voted Republican decided to become a singing star. Daddy, having been there himself, warned his little girl of the perils of evil Hollywood, but she wouldn't be shaken.

She recorded a sweet little love song — the theme of a sweet little movie — gave it to a nice record-producer friend of her father's, and waited for it to become a big hit.

And lo, it did. Debby Boone has one of the fastest-rising, strongest hits of the year with her "You Light Up My Life," the theme song of the movie of the same name. It's atop all three trade magazines' pop charts and, judging by the number of people humming the tune in elevators, it might be there awhile.

Even papa Pat Boone, the man of the straight and narrow in a world of heathens and infidels, approves.

"He's very excited right now," says Debby, who at 21 still lives with her folks. "He's very supportive of what I'm doing."

There was a time, Debby says, when "he discouraged me from getting too involved in this business, having been there himself and knowing how difficult it can be, especially for a girl."

"He just knows that it was real rough on him, being alone on the road, all the different people, people taking advantage of you. He said you become a kind of merchandise instead of a person."

But Pat Boone made a mistake one day about eight years ago. While touring in the Orient, he let his girls join him on stage for one song.

"Once I got a taste of it," Debby says, "that was it. My enthusiasm for school went right out the window."

She says she listened to her father's warnings — "I took it all in and thought about it very carefully, because I respect my father very much" — and trod slowly when she decided to give it a go.

"I know you can't just go into something like this and expect that everything will be fine. It can change you and it can hurt you unless you keep your head together."

As for keeping from those evils in the land of golden spoons, Debby Boone says she has just the answer.

"I don't feel threatened by the corrupt side of show business," she says, "but I don't need to hide from it, either. I think if you're secure enough in your own morals and your own standards, you don't have to be afraid of the things around you."

"I don't really feel that I can be swayed or affected by any of it. I'm a old-fashioned person. I have really high moral standards 'm an old-fashioned ole to use the word reli-

Whirlwinds Lose At Post

By Doug Simpson
A tremendously improved Floydada varsity boys team journeyed to Post Tuesday night, only to suffer its second consecutive defeat of the young season, by the score of 46-40.

A behind-the-scenes look at the contest's total perspective, however, would reveal that the team, now 0-2 for the year, should not be acknowledged for its loss, but for the vast improvement it displayed over a period of just 24 hours.

On Monday, the season's opening night, Floydada had been embarrassed by a 65-47 count to a Littlefield club that was even missing three of its players in the lineup. Tuesday night, it was a completely different Whirlwind team that took the floor.

Floydada struggled through the contest, trailing by three at the end of the first period, 9-6, by 22-20 at halftime and by an increased margin of 36-24 after three full periods.

An it wasn't until late in the fourth period that the hosting Antelopes took control and completely sealed up the win for Post.

This fact was indicative of all three Floydada teams that took the floor Tuesday and remained in position to win until the final buzzer sounded.

In the second half, Post began to open up on offense, executing its running game with greater efficiency and more so, controlling the boards. Floydada's rebounding ability was considerably hampered by the absence of Tim Collins, who had been ejected from the game for unsportsmanlike conduct early in the first half.

The Lopes took a fairly commanding 36-24 lead at the end of the third period.

Mike Cocanougher's troops slowed down the pace in the final quarter and began to shoot better from the outside to close the gap. Twice, Floydada pulled to within six of the Antelopes before it was over.

Some clutch field goals and free throws with less than a minute left iced it away for Post.

Breezers Split Pair With Abernathy

Floydada's 7th and 8th grade boys basketball teams traveled to Abernathy on Monday night, with Coach Mike Brownlee's 7th Breezers winning their season opener in a squeaker, 22-18.

The 8th grade team, however, was not so successful, dropping a 46-42 decision at the hands of the Antelopes. The 7th Breezers are now

Whirlettes Drop Three In Queens Classic

By Doug Simpson

The Floydada varsity Whirlettes competed in the annual highly competitive Wayland Queens' Tournament of Champions over the Thanksgiving holidays in hopes of making a presentable showing only to be defeated handily on three occasions and came home with a last place result.

The Whirlettes, who went into the nationally recognized classic with a 1-1 season record, were badly beaten in the first round Thursday by powerful Canyon, 74-19 Kim Curry was high girl with 10.

The following day in a second round showdown with Silverton, the result proved to be the same. The Whirlettes were victorious by a commanding 51-24 count.

In that game, forwards Curry, Kathy Davis, Lisa West, Jill Poague, and Judi Lean each contributed to the scoring.

On Saturday, the final game saw Floydada register its highest point total of the tournament, only to fall to a strong Hale Center ball club, by the score of 59-44.

Lisa West paced her team's scoring with 20 points.

Coach Linden Weese said that guards Rhonda Lenett and Jill Probasco gave excellent defensive performances throughout the tournament.

Breezettes Overcome "Full-Court" Ruling

Coach Jackie Chadwick's 7th and 8th grade girls' basketball teams, playing for the first time in their lives under the new five-man, full-court ruling, defeated both Abernathy teams by commanding counts on Monday night at Graves Gym. The 7th grade was not only playing for the first time under the new ruling, but for the first time in their lives under organized school competition.

The 8th grade team didn't grab the lead with quite so much quickness in its game, but did manage to break away from a 18-14 advantage at intermission to win commandingly, 44-33.

Debra Alfaro led the scoring with 14 points, followed by Susan Turner and Terry Pleasant with 10 apiece.

The 7th and 8th girls teams will play at home again next Monday night against Lockney, beginning at 5 p.m.

The Breezettes took control early, leading 16-5 at the half, and coasting to an impressive 29-9 win.

Eloisa Anderson led the team in scoring with 10 points. Myra Ledbetter added 9, and Angie Anderson chipped in 6.

The 8th grade team didn't grab the lead with quite so much quickness in its game, but did manage to break away from a 18-14 advantage at intermission to win commandingly, 44-33.

Debra Alfaro led the scoring with 14 points, followed by Susan Turner and Terry Pleasant with 10 apiece.

The 7th and 8th girls teams will play at home again next Monday night against Lockney, beginning at 5 p.m.

A Cracker Dictionary to hep you
When Jimmy Earl gets to the White House the bluebellies north of the Mason-Dixon Line are going to need a Cracker Dictionary to understand him.
The dictionary also will be important to leaders around the world. English may be the international language, but for the next four years diplomats had better know how to speak Cracker.
For example, when the Carter folks talk about hog-killing weather, they mean it's cold enough to butcher a shoat without worrying about the meat spoiling.
If Jody Powell orders an Ar-Cee Cola and a moon pie, he will be sending for a soda pop bottled by Royal Crown Cola Bottling Co., headquartered in Columbus, Ga., and a chocolate-covered wafer and marshmallow sandwich.
Washington grocers will be getting orders for "ash potatoes" — the Deep South name for Irish potatoes.
In no particular order, here are selections from a Cracker Dictionary:
Cracker — Your new president. The term derives from the cracking of long whips by mule-driving teamsters hauling turpentine resin outside of Valdosta, Ga.
Tawk — To speak Cracker.
Mash — To press, as in "Mash down the brakes, P. W.," or as a Southern gentleman was overheard to say on an Atlanta elevator, "Lady, can I mash your button?"
Bidness — A company or corporate body, such as General Motors in Detroit City; also, concern, as in, "It ain't none of yore bidness."
Pony-ack — A car put out by the same bidness that makes the Shivuh-lay.
Co-Coler — The world's best-selling pop bottled by a big bidness started by Asa Candler in Atlanta.
Dope — A Co-Coler, also called a bottle dope.
Place — A farm: "He was raised on the Doc Hagan place."
Pender — The nut that Jimmy Earl grows on his place at Plains, also known as goober or peanut; a South Georgia farmer wishing to inspect his peanut patch is likely to say, "Let's go look at the penders."
Hep — To assist, as in "Hep me through the night"; also hired hands, as in "How much do you pay your hep."
Chunk — To throw: "Chunk it to me, Joe Willie."

If you know of a young person aged 9-19 call the county Extension office 983-2806 and we'll contact the individual about joining the 4-H program.

In an effort to meet the ever-changing needs of youth as we enter the third century of American history, a set of recommendations designed to guide 4-H programming, "4-H in Century III," has been developed. The recommendations include doubling the number of voluntary leaders serving 4-H during the next decade, which should result in doubling the number of 4-H clubs, special interest groups and 4-H participants.

"4-H in Century III" views the 4-H program in eight major areas of emphasis:

- economics, jobs and careers
- animal, plant and soil sciences
- environment and natural resources
- home and family resources
- health and safety
- leadership, citizenship education and community development
- creative and performing arts, leisure education and communication
- mechanical sciences and energy

These areas of emphasis provide the program thrust of the National 4-H council as it assists the 4-H program its leaders and members under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Services in the various states.

Boosting the 4-H program is the private sector which provided great resources of money, personnel and materials for the advancement of 4-H.

The many business and industrial leaders who have supported and continue to support 4-H give significant testimony that 4-H is a valuable educational program for America's youth.

Remember, you are what you want to be in 4-H. It is educational, interesting, challenging and lots of fun, emphasizes, Lobban.

4-H is open to all youth 9-19 years old without regard to race, creed, color, religion, sex or national origin.

Meetings Set On New Farm Bill

LUBBOCK--The new farm bill will be the subject of a series of educational programs across the South Plains this month. Understanding this legislation is one of the most important functions of the farm manager in 1978.

According to Billy C. Gunter, District Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, these programs will be held at 1:15 p.m. at the Community Building in Lamesa on Wednesday, December 14; at the Agricultural Center in Plainview on Thursday, December 15; and at the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill in Lubbock on Friday, December 16. All farmers and other interested persons are invited to attend.

All topics of these programs will be related to the Food and Agricultural Act of 1977 with emphasis on explaining the opportunities, alternatives, and regulations applying to the 1978 crop year. Gunter notes that the speakers are local individuals who have been close to the formulation of the legislation and who can interpret it for the South Plains growers.

Eibert Harp, executive director of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Oscar "Cotton" Fanning, executive assistant of the Plains Cotton Growers, will present the discussion relevant to cotton production. Marvin Sartin, area economist management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will discuss the economics of alternative farm organizations under this law. A discussion period is scheduled to allow an opportunity for you to ask questions.

The Community Center in Lamesa is located at South Houston and 9th Street across from Forest Park. The Agricultural Center in Plainview is south of town on Old Highway 87. The Plains Cooperative Oil Mill is at 2901 Avenue A in Lubbock.

These programs are sponsored by the South Plains Development (SPD) Program as a part of their Cotton PROFIT thrust through the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Grain Sorghum Producers Association and the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. are cooperating in providing this information to South Plains residents.

MARCH OF DIMES PROGRAM CANCELLED

The March of Dimes Country Western Gospel singing program scheduled January 7, 1978 has been cancelled, and will be rescheduled later in the year.

It was found that the January 7 date conflicted with a similar program already planned.

JUDGE IN HOSPITAL

County Judge J.K. Holmes was admitted to Lockney General Hospital Tuesday suffering with a pain in the side. He was undergoing check up and medication at press time.

WALKER HEADS AG WORKERS--A.H. "Fred" Walker of College Station, formerly assistant director and range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service before retiring in 1972, is the new president of the Professional Agricultural Workers of Texas. Other officers are Bruce W. Miller, Central Power and Light Co., first vice president; Foy Page, Texas A&M University Agricultural Education Department, second vice president; and Clemon Montgomery, Texas Department of Agriculture, secretary-treasurer.

Farmers Subsidy

In November, the government is handing out deficiency payments to wheat farmers under the target price program amounting to something more than $1 billion.

This is the taxpayers' subsidy of consumers to provide cheap food.

A lot of comment has been raised about this dispensing of tax funds and the farmer has been the target of many attacks upon him as a parasite existing on the taxpayer.

What the American people need to realize is that while the taxpayer may indeed be subsidizing the farmer through this government program, the fact of the matter is that the farmer has been subsidizing the consumer a great deal more and because he is subsidizing the consumer we have food that is cheap by world standards.

Parity price for wheat, the largest crop grown in our area, is around $5 a bushel. Farmers say that production costs on wheat averages around $3.50 a bushel. Current cash market is around $2.50 a bushel.

The target price on wheat, the amount Congress has decided should be the least farmers should have to sell wheat for, is set at $2.90 a bushel.

A present price, it takes about three cents worth of wheat to make a loaf of bread. If the price of wheat were doubled, still below parity, it would take perhaps six cents worth of wheat per loaf of bread.

Thus the price of bread might be justified in going up about three cents a loaf. But experience has been different. In 1972 and 1973 when wheat went up to $5 a bushel, bakers cried that bread might go to $1 a loaf because of the high price. They used this as reason for raising prices of bread as fast and as far as they thought the public would stand.

The real scare story is that when the price of wheat dropped from $5 a bushel to $2 a bushel, the price of bread came down only a few cents, if at all.

Farmers feel that their products deserve a fair price and they are not getting it.

Consumers may not feel that they have benefitted from the farmer subsidy because food prices are up, but the government policy of keeping food prices down means lower prices for growers.

Farmers have produced food at less than the cost of production. They have done this by mortgaging land, absorbing capital accumulated in prior years or obtained from other sources and by donating their families' labor to grow them.

They feel that it is time for them to receive a fair return on their investment of labor and capital in producing food.

They have a logical and compelling case. It's time the nation recognized it. (Perryton Herald)

Senator Farabee Protests Hospital Guidelines

Austin...State Senator Ray Farabee has contacted the federal Health Resources Administration in protest of proposed HEW guidelines.

In submitting his statement, Farabee said, "it is important that those responsible for proposing standards understand the needs of smaller cities and rural communities."

"It is not always possible for a patient to be transported to a larger city for treatment. You don't always know when you will need hospital treatment as a result of a heart attack or an accident. Hospitals and other health care facilities should not be eliminated in the same areas which are producing the food, fiber and energy that are so vital to the remainder of the country", Farabee continued.

In urging HEW to consider these factors before adopting any proposed guidelines, Farabee said, "persons in these less populous areas deserve the same quality of health care as their counterparts in larger cities. Facilities in many of these communities have been built by the people through great personal effort and expense in an attempt to meet critical needs."

Farabee said that he hopes the response from areas such as the 30th District will help preserve the existing medical facilities in smaller towns and cities.

Basketball Teams Vie For Spur Tournament Trophy

Floydada High School's varsity boys and girls basketball teams will compete in the annual Spur Tournament this weekend, with the first tip-off beginning Thursday afternoon and the girls meeting Jayton in the first round.

For the Whirlettes, it will be the second tournament they have competed in this season, the initial entry being the Wayland Queens Classic over the Thanksgiving holidays.

The boys' team will play Thursday evening against Jayton, and both squads will return Thursday for competition, the time depending on the outcome of the first game.

If the teams win one of their games Thursday or Friday, they will return on Saturday for either a consolation or championship game.

of the floor, particularly on defense, to score 17 points and trim the advantage to a single field goal by the time the buzzer had sounded. Floydada put up only eight shots in the third period.

Things looked even worse in the final frame, when Ralls took command and led by as much as seven points in the last four minutes.

Perhaps the play that gave the Whirlettes the biggest emotional lift came with 3:05 left. Poague scored on a driving layup from the left side and was fouled in the process, the basket counting. She stepped to the line and swished the next ones to make it 42-40 (from 42-37), the least number of points

Floydada had trailed for quite some time.

Kathy Davis had put her team into the lead for the first time in the period on a 22 foot jumper with 1:05 to play. That made it 45-44, and after Poague stole the inbounds pass the Whirlettes quickly called time to set up the play that sewed up the win.

JV Whirlettes

Drop Season

Opener, 26-20

The Ralls Jackrabbits' JV team mounted a considerably safe lead from the opening tip off and displayed superb defensive performances to carry them to a 26-20 victory over Floydada in a contest played Tuesday night at Ralls Gym.

The contest was the season opener for Linden Weese's JV squad.

Helped by a four-point performance by Darla Assiter in the opening period, the Whirlettes did manage to take an early 7-6 lead after a single period of play.

But a basket by Tracy Reddy was the only thing Floydada could score on in the disastrous second period and Ralls coasted to a 16-9 halftime lead.

An eight point effort by the Whirlettes in the third period cut the lead down to five, at 20-15 when the horn sounded ending the third period, and Ralls was able to hand on through its defense to grab a six point win.

500-Word Limit On Family Histories

The Floyd County Historical Museum wants every family's history to be included in the Floyd County History Book.

There is no fee for having a family story in the book if it does not exceed the 500 word limit. If the vast majority of families in the county—newcomers and pioneers participate, the space required in the free section of the book will be considerable. Therefore, a limit of 500 words has been placed on the story to be included in the free space.

If a family finds it difficult to tell their story in 500 words, they may purchase additional space at the rate of $45.00 for a quarter page, $80.00 for a half page, and $150.00 for a full page. Tribute pages for living members and memorial pages for deceased members of a family are also available for a fee.

The Floyd County Historical Museum wants to encourage each family unit to write their own story. A family unit is a man and his wife and their children at home. If there are four brothers or sisters who live or who have once lived in the county, each brother or sister should write their own family's story. If a family wants to write about their parents in their 500 words of free space; they can purchase a special page(s); or they can purchase a memorial page(s).

For additional information or questions, please contact the Floyd County Historical Museum 983-2415. Deadline for submitting stories has been extended to January 15.

Governor Protests Hospital Guidelines

President Jimmy Carter
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Mr. President:

On behalf of the State of Texas I take strong exception to the "National Guidelines for Health Planning" published by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare in the Federal Register.

The imposition of arbitrary, rigid formulas for determining the appropriate availability of health services and facilities for the citizens of Texas is highly offensive and will in the long run result in rationed health care. When fully implemented, these guidelines will further aggravate the problems that the citizens of rural Texas face in providing adequate health care facilities and in attracting and retaining physicians and other health care professionals.

In Texas we have 12 health system agencies, a series of state health agencies, a large number of interested consumer and professional groups, and hundreds of highly capable local and state elected and appointed officials who are quite capable of determining the health care needs of the citizens of this state without unnecessary federal meddling and interference.

We have made a substantial investment in the health planning mechanism that has just been created. We all share the same concerns about cost containment and developing a health care delivery system that meets the local health care needs of our people. These guidelines, however, go too far in failing to articulate exceptions and in placing too much importance on the Washington Bureaucrats' as opposed to the citizens' planning efforts.

It was my impression and hope that with the passage of P.L. 93-641 a system would be established whereby the health needs of the citizens of our state could be identified by region with the local citizens of our state could be identified by region with the local citizens themselves having a direct role in the process. These needs could then be communicated to the federal government so that they could be fully considered by the Congress and federal agencies. However, the actions by DHEW indicate that the bureaucracy has something else in mind.

"National Guidelines" are the antithesis of local needs. Arbitrary formulas that in essence maintain that the health care needs of the citizens of Wichita, Kans., San Francisco, Calif., Harlingen, Tex., New York, N.Y., and Anchorage, Ak. are the same, are foolish and unfounded in fact or logic. Further, these guidelines perpetuate the failure of the federal government to recognize that the federal government itself has been responsible to a large degree for the tremendous increase in the cost of health care. This is evidenced by the fact that federal facilities are covered by these "National Guidelines."

The bureaucracy in its fell swoop has undercut the hopes of many that the people themselves would have a voice in defining and articulating their health

Uncle Sam's turned tutor.

That was the reminder today from Jack Coker, Director of the Waco VA Regional Office, to veterans enrolled in college under the GI Bill.

Tutoring help is available to make sure veterans get the most from their college training, Coker said, and the free service isn't charged against the veteran's basic educational entitlement.

The government did not pay for tutoring assistance for World War II and Korean conflict veterans, but under present law VA will pay as much as $65 a month for such help up to a maximum of $780.

In addition to veterans and active duty servicemen, tutorial benefits are available to widows, widowers, spouses and children studying under the VA's Dependents' Educational Assistance Program.

Veterans and servicemen attending school at the post-secondary level on at least a half time basis are eligible if they have a deficiency in a subject required in an approved program of education, Coker said.

Applications should be made on VA Form 22-1990t within a year of the tutoring and should be submitted to the VA regional office which maintains the veteran's claim folder. Applications should be certified by the school, Coker said.

REDUCING CONSUMER PRODUCT HAZARDS—Spurred by the Consumer Product Safety Act, manufacturers now must not only make sure that products are free of hazards encountered during their normal intended use, but must also be free of hazards encountered during reasonable foreseeable misuse. Although manufacturers are trying to produce hazard-free products, consumers also have a responsibility to buy the right product for the intended use, says a safety engineer with the Texas Extension Service.

FARM POLICY REMOVES "BOOM," "BUST"—Policies designed to take the boom and bust out of agriculture have only removed the boom, leaving farmers to contend with the bust, says an economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The 1977 Food and Agriculture Act could lead U.S. producers back into the same policy dilemma of the 1960's due mainly to the 30 to 35 million ton grain reserve which will tend to hold prices near loan levels. With target prices in the four-year Act based on the national average cost of production, many small size family farmers may go out of business.
