Doctor scared by patient's trip to hell and back

CHATTANOOGA (EP) — A doctor who considered religion "all hocus-pocus," changed his mind after reviving a technically dead patient and "brought him back, terrified, from hell."

"It scared the fool out of me," Dr. Maurice Rawlings told AP reporter Eric Newhouse afterward. "That night I went home, dusted off my Bible and started reading it. I haven't stopped yet. It's just the way it says in the Bible."

Dr. Rawlings, 54, is an American College of Cardiology fellow, a cardiovascular disease specialist, and an American Heart Association national instructor.

Later the patient couldn't remember his desperate cries. "Don't stop, I'm in hell, doctor. Don't let me go back."

Dr. Rawlings said half his patients who have been resuscitated have had bad experiences. "The usual pattern is that they hear the alarm go off, see the doctors run in and start to work. Then they wonder who the doctors are working on, so they edge between them and look down and see themselves."

"The next thing they know, they are in a dark passage, tumbling through space. Some come to a light place, a meadow or a big city. Some never come to the light at all, but go to a dungeon or an enormous lake of fire or a crowded cave."

None recalled seeing the devil, some thought they saw Christ.

"All through recorded history, people have predicted life after death," Dr. Rawlings said. "But only now with modern resuscitation methods are we beginning to see beyond that door. And the things we are seeing would curl your toes."

FHS Netters Compete In Area Tournaments

By Doug Simpson

First Baptist Church Media Center
For children we have a number of Bible stories on cassette tape. One of these is "Bible Stories For Children" by Bethann Van Ness. Cassette tape 134 has the story of Joseph and other Old Testament characters. Beside the name of each story is the page number of the book, BIBLE STORY BOOK, in which you will find the story and pictures.

Older adults will particularly enjoy listening to Agnes Pylant as she shares problems and joys of this time in her life. The tape is entitled "The Best Of Agnes Pylant." Another tape that many will find interesting is Dr. W. A. Criswell's "What I Believe About the Second Coming." Some of you who have been listening to the Hal Lindsey tapes, might enjoy comparing the two viewpoints.

While we have not seen the film recently shown in Lubbock based on Hal Lindsey's recent book, THERE'S A NEW WORLD COMING, we do have the book. The latest of this popular author's titles is THE LIBERATION OF PLANET EARTH. It is the story of the liberation of "man" from the shackles of self-centeredness, loneliness, alienation, frustration and hopelessness. He begins the book with a very personal account about the miracle God worked in his life. His challenge is for you to move from the ranks of the ordinary into a world of limitless possibility.

For those of you listening to the Sunday service on radio, we have the cassette tape of each service available. There have been some problems with transmission in the radio station and if you failed to hear a service we would be glad to check out the tape to you.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Dorothy Neff

If you didn't attend our noon buffet last Tuesday, you really missed a good meal, and a good visit. Our residents enjoy this very much.

Our devotions and exercises were really good. Mr. Steven Tockett was able to go back home last Friday. We will miss him around here. However we wish him the very best, and a quick recovery.

Mrs. Viola Marshall of Roaring Springs also went to live with a son. She was a big help in making our braided rugs.

The candy that was sent to our residents by Otis Anderson, was compliments of Floydada Producers Co-Op Elevator and not the Co-Op Gin.

I apologize for my mistake.

We would like to thank the Sunshine Class of the First Baptist Church for the bananas and cheese crisp.

We had another death in our home last week. Fred Brown. Fred had been with us a long time, and we will miss him very much.

Mr. Ray Reed and Clara Murry are still in the hospital. They are both resting comfortably.

We would like to thank Willson & Son Builders Mart for the spray paint.

Hope Hammonds was big bingo winner with four games. Clara Williams, Pearl Carriek with two games each. Agnes Anderson, Anis Franks, and Willie Stambough with one game.

We want to say "Thanks" to each of our visitors:

Mrs. Henry Rogers, Ida Jernigan Crawford, Otis Anderson, Christine Robertson, Mrs. Bill Smallwood, Thanie Smallwood, Clay and Mildred Anderson-Stinnett, Evelyn and Jack Crull-Lubbock; Atha Ginn-Littlefield; Loretta Duvak, Jane; Duvak, Vergie Flowers- Amarillo;

COTTON FARMER'S CORN...

So different from commonly grown corns we call it "the other crop."

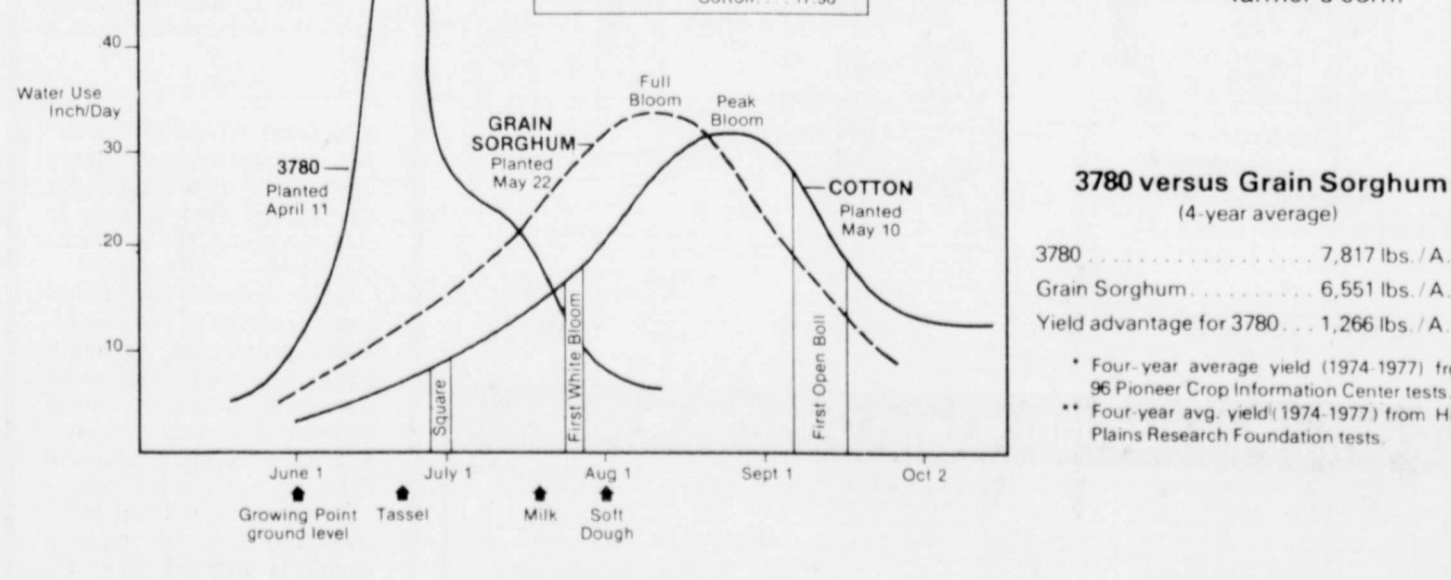

- Yields more than grain sorghum for greater income potential.
- Early water use makes it an ideal companion to cotton.
- Dries fast to reduce harvest, hauling and moisture dockage costs.
- Requires less fertilizer and insecticide than commonly grown corn.

3780

Pioneer brand 3780 is an ideal companion to cotton because its peak water use comes early in the growing season... long before cotton's. And because of its unusual water use pattern, 3780 won't need water later in the season when wells begin to draw down, either. 3780 matures earlier, dries faster, and requires less insecticide and fertilizer than commonly grown corns. So it will be harvested and in the elevator long before your cotton is ready for harvest... and you'll use manpower more efficiently.

Looking for an ideal companion crop for your cotton? Consider "the other crop"... 3780, the cotton farmer's corn.

The Floyd Philosopher Takes A Look At International Money System And Winds Up Confused

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a look at the international money system this week but it's hard to tell what he sees.

Dear editor:

According to half a dozen news stories lately, the entire world is worried over the value of the American dollar.

"If the dollar's slide on international money markets continues, it could undermine economies throughout the world," monetary experts said.

The rest of the world must be made up of a lot of easily-scared people. Shucks, the value of the dollar has been dropping for years but people around here are still chasing it as hard as they ever did. Years ago you could buy six hamburgers for a quarter, now it takes about four quarters to buy one, but the American people's answer to that is to go out and buy ten times more hamburgers. I'm not sure I follow this, but it seems to be a fact.

Another thing I don't understand is the international money market and I don't think there's any use in anybody's trying to explain it to me. For example, in trying to "bolster" the value of the dollar, Japan recently bought 200 million dollars worth of dollars. Don't tell me how you buy a dollar. I don't think I want to know.

Although if anybody around here wants to sell me some at 75 cents apiece, I'm in the market.

Fundamentally, I'm told, money, like effective government leadership, is based on confidence.

This may explain the whole situation with the dollar, although on the other hand, who's to say those Congressmen accepting money from wheeler-dealer Tungstun Park didn't have considerable confidence in the stuff?

It'll be time to worry about the value of the dollar when politicians running for office refuse to accept any.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

and family visited Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walls Friday night.

We received word last week of the death of Sherman Stewart of Sweetwater. Many years ago Sherman lived at Fairview. He is a brother of Mrs. Jewell Cheves who has recently moved to Floydada to make her home.

Mrs. Verna Lee Cardinal went to Dimmitt Monday on a business trip to her farm.

We offer sympathy to the families of Sherman Stewart, Roy Hale and R. Fred Brown.

AGE IMPOR IANT TO MARITAL SATISFACTION

COLLEGE STATION — Age represents a key factor in marital satisfaction and happiness, says Debby Johnson, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Couples who marry later in life, in their mid-to-late-twenties, have more stable marriages than couples who marry in their early twenties or before, she explains. Recent research indicates that:

- religious males generally delay marriage and thus have greater satisfaction when they do marry.
- men who marry young are less satisfied with their standard of living and experience tension.
- for males and females, later marriage and satisfaction in marriage are related.
- females from low income backgrounds marry earlier and are less satisfied with their marriage.
- many women who marry young are unrealistic about their economical expectations in a marriage (they think it will be better than it is).

Several situations generally accompany early marriage and tend to account for the higher divorce rate in this age group, the specialist continues.

They include low education, premarital pregnancy, short premarital acquaintance, low income and social status, and lack of emotional and psychological preparation for selecting a mate and carrying out marital roles.

In addition, marital satisfaction declines the longer a couple is married, even for those who stay together and feel they have a happy marriage, Miss Johnson points out.

This is particularly true for females who traditionally devoted their lives to children and husbands, rather than to themselves, she continues.

In mid-life, many of these women were faced with an aimless feeling when their children left home.

However, this trend is expected to change now that more women are employed outside the home and have other life goals, in addition to those related to home and family, the specialist adds.

Register To Vote Now

public to be aware of the new laws governing voter registration. Texas is now considered one of the easiest states for voters to register. Anyone who is from out-of-state or from another county may go to the courthouse tax office 30 days before any election to register. Most Chamber of Commerce offices have voter registration forms which can be filled out and mailed to the County Tax Assessor-Collector. Most towns have deputies who can legally register a person on the spot.

For the May 6 primary, new voters may register through April 6. It is important that voters be registered in the precinct they vote. If a person has moved within the county, he must notify the tax office of the address change.

Current voters who haven't moved should have previously received new registration cards. Anyone who did not receive a card should contact his tax office, advised Stenholm. Stenholm recommended that each person check to make sure his voter registration ID card is yellow. Anyone not having a yellow card should check with the County Tax Assessor-Collector.

This new card became effective March 1, 1978. However, previously registered voters who do not have their new cards may still vote by giving the precinct judge necessary information at the poll. The entire process is much simpler if the person has his current voter registration card, noted Stenholm.

Stenholm is seeking the post presently held by veteran legislator Cong. Omar Burleson who is retiring at the end of the present term. Stenholm's campaign is based upon five major issues. He is concerned about inflation, energy, agriculture, senior citizens and government regulations.

"We must eliminate waste and balance the budget. We must deregulate oil and gas and increase domestic production. Farmers must have more stable markets and a fair return on their investments or every citizen suffers. We must make our social security system secure and keep down hospital costs. We must eliminate government intervention in our daily lives," stated Stenholm.

"It is not only every eligible citizen's right to vote but his duty, as an American, to exercise that right," commented Stenholm.

Double Checking Tax Return

Dallas, Texas-Taxpayers can prevent possible slower processing of their tax returns and delay in issuance of refund due by double checking their returns before filing, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Some of the most common taxpayer mistakes, according to the IRS, include arithmetic errors, use of the wrong filing status, failure to sign the return and especially to provide two signatures in the case of a joint return, and failure to attach all necessary documents.

The IRS also urge taxpayers to use the peel-off label that comes with the tax package on their returns in order to avoid possible social security number errors. Taxpayers can also save time and speed up processing by mailing their returns in the coded, pre-addressed envelope found in their tax packages, according to the IRS.

Golfers 3rd At Canadian

By Doug Simpson
Coach Mark Vinson's Floydada High School boys' golf team overcame hazardous conditions and rugged competition to notch third place in the 18-hole Canadian Invitational golf tournament Monday.

The tournament marked the second consecutive week that the Whirlwinds were able to place in the top three teams.

Today, FHS journeyed to Abernathy to compete in the first round of district play. Team totals and individual results appear below:

1st-Panhandle-333; 2nd-Memphis-347; 3rd-Floydada-368; (other teams and their scores were not available) INDIVIDUAL (Floydada) Jimmy Covington-88; Clay Simpson-90; Monty Smith-erman-94; Bill Starkey-96; Kerry Pratt-105.

Whirlwind Tracksters Finish 3rd IN TIGER RELAYS

By Doug Simpson
It's been a while since a Whirlwind track team posted third in a track meet of lower caliber than state competition.

But looking at the team from a prospective of its amount of experience that third place finish and the accumulation of 91 and a third points, has got to rank as impressive.

Floydada was very much in contention for the first place trophy at Frenship's Tiger Relays Saturday, and until the running events began to expose where experience really counts—hopes were high.

The mile relay was the event that the 'Winds in the past have capitalized upon many times. But this time they couldn't and the third place finish, behind Frenship's 105 points, and Idaho's 99, was the inevitable result.

In the field events, Floydada accumulated a single first place, a second, a 3rd, and a tie for third, two fourths, two fifths, two sixths, and a tie for sixth.

In the shot put, Paul Radloff captured 3rd, as Junior Cuevas netted 6th place.

When asked how so many of his paintings happen to be titled "Near" one place or another, Ted replied laughingly, "My mind is completely on what I'm painting and I don't stop very often to think of a title—so we end up calling a painting "Near" this place or that, or don't call it anything."

The public is cordially invited to see these art works during regular banking hours: Monday, 9:00 - 5:00; Tuesday through Friday, 9:00 - 3:00.

Congress must be held accountable for the laws it writes

Today, we're saddled with higher taxes than ever before and yet we get fewer services and benefits. Congress writes the tax laws.

Our Social Security payments are going up again, but the Social Security System is so mired in waste and inefficient management that many of our older citizens subsist on fatback and beans. Congress writes the Social Security laws.

Just about everybody you can think of has to fill out reports and forms in triplicate just to allow the government to meddle in your business. Congress writes the laws that require all these reports.

Thousands of people are out of work. And if you do have a job, inflation eats into your pay check before you even see it. Congress writes the laws that make economic policy.

Congress writes the laws that govern our lives. And Congress must be held accountable when these laws don't work. BUT IS IT?

We need someone who will be accountable in Congress. As your Congressman, Dusty Rhodes will be accountable to you. We need Dusty Rhodes in Congress.

Cotton Incorporated Tells About Operations

Hundreds of America's cotton growers have a better understanding today of how their dollars are being invested by Cotton Incorporated in sales and research as a result of a series of some 50 meetings held throughout the Cotton Belt.

During their recent annual meeting in Raleigh, N.C., Cotton Incorporated's 40 producer-directors reviewed the success of the first annual report meetings, held in December and January as part of an overall effort to improve the company's producer information program.

Following the meeting, W.B. Criswell, board member from Idalou, Texas, said the directors are more convinced than ever that the report meetings should be made an annual event in as many cotton-producing areas as possible.

"This was demonstrated," he said "by the positive way the producers responded to the information brought to them during the recent meetings, and also by the fact that some of them came to the meetings with misconceptions about the role and functions of their company."

For example, he said at some meetings, producers directed their dissatisfaction with current farm legislation to the Cotton Incorporated directors and staff members present.

"Some of the producers did not realize," Criswell said, "that Cotton Incorporated is specifically prohibited from attempting to influence any government legislation."

Criswell said some producers also did not realize that Cotton Incorporated has no formal connection with any industrywide organizations. Cotton Incorporated does cooperate on programs that will help the industry, but always through the eyes of a producer.

"During all these meetings," he said, "we pointed out that regardless of what happens in the way of governmental action, the continued total program of research and marketing carried out by Cotton Incorporated is essential to assure that there will be strong markets for U.S. cotton. In addition, the company's agricultural research activities help producers cut their costs."

He pointed out that since the establishment of Cotton Incorporated, the alarming erosion of cotton's markets by the synthetic fibers has been reversed, and today cotton is enjoying growing demand on the part of the consumer.

"Credit for this goes to Cotton Incorporated's aggressive program of developing, marketing, promoting and advertising 100 per cent or predominantly cotton fabrics for a wide range of uses," he said.

"There is real payoff for the cotton producer, as the record for 1977 shows. Cotton gained back one per cent of the retail market for all textile items other than carpeting, which means the sale of an additional 55 million dollars worth of cotton at the farm."

Cotton Incorporated represents the largest self-help agricultural program in the world. It is financed entirely with funds from the nation's cotton producers. Its activities include agricultural, textile and economic research and development as well as sales and marketing in the U.S. and abroad.

A 27 minute film covering all areas of the company's work in 1977 was shown at each of the report meetings across the Cotton Belt. Directors and staff members were on hand to hear producers' suggestions about future projects and to review and preview the company's programs in depth. Copies of the film can now be borrowed for showing at meetings by writing to Mr. Robert Boslet, Cotton Incorporated, 1370 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10019.

Success of NATURAL BLEND (a minimum of 60 per cent cotton) fabrics, the producers' own trademarked fabric concept, continues. Previously there were no predominantly cotton blends—most fabrics were 65 per cent polyester. This breakthrough began three years ago in the men's dress shirt field when the Manhattan Shirt Company introduced the first NATURAL BLEND shirt. Within 18 months, 13 additional brands were marketing NATURAL BLEND shirts, including such leaders as Arrow, Sears and Van Heusen.

Recently, another major breakthrough was accomplished by Cotton Incorporated when Cannon Mills announced plans to sell the first NATURAL BLEND bed sheet. Called the "Com-fortable" sheet, it is 60 per cent cotton—compared to the present standard 50 per cent cotton—and will be available in retail stores this spring, backed up by a major nationwide advertising campaign.

In agricultural research, cotton producers saved an estimated $7 million through the use of module builders in handling and transporting the 1976 crop. Savings on 1977 cotton production are projected at $14 million.

The module builders were developed through research sponsored by Cotton Incorporated at Texas A&M University.

The producers also heard reports that Cotton Incorporated is giving top priorities to serious problems facing the cotton industry:

byssinosis and the worm complex. During the last five years, some $5 million in producer funds has been invested in programs to find solutions to byssinosis, the respiratory disease that affects a small percentage of workers in textile mills.

The problem of worms that caused an estimated $500 million in crop losses and production costs for American cotton growers last year is the subject of an intensive task force effort initiated and coordinated by Cotton Incorporated.

Other major areas of emphasis in agricultural research include testing of short-season cotton, gin feeder-cleaner units and dilute acid delinting system. Other recent accomplishments in textile research include the development of new machinery which makes possible more efficient and economical dyeing of cotton knits.

In international marketing, the company's textile research and promotion advances are being used to promote the sale of U.S. cotton in Western Europe. The goal is to increase the share of American cotton used by Western European mills from 11 per cent to 25 per cent. Mills using American cotton are provided technical assistance in the same way that domestic mills received these services from Cotton Incorporated.

Governor Briscoe Asks President To Help Farmers

Governor Dolph Briscoe has called on President Carter and the Congress to provide, without delay, relief to the agricultural community.

"Our agricultural producers in Texas and throughout the nation are caught in a vicious cost-price squeeze that requires immediate action," the Governor said in a letter to the President.

The Governor urged President Carter to consider——Requiring all federal agencies to purchase only beef and beef products produced in the United States.

—Requiring that all imported agricultural products meet the same inspection standards as domestically produced goods.

The Governor also asked President Carter to support legislation requiring imported beef and domestically produced beef.

Presidential support also was sought by the Governor for legislation which would establish new target prices for wheat, upland cotton and feed grains.

"The Flexible Parity Act would allow individual farmers to determine what percentage of the target price they would receive while balancing that determination against the percentage of their acreage which would be taken out of production," the Governor said.

Another proposal also would expand the commodity loan program for a longer period of time.

"Current federal efforts are not adequate to respond to the problems that threaten the very existence of the independent farmer," Governor Briscoe said in his letter. "I therefore recommend that you take immediate responsible actions to place agricultural products on a sound economic footing."

The Governor's letter, written March 7, pointed out that he, in 1975, signed into law requirements that all beef and dairy products purchased by Texas state-supported agencies be produced in the United States.

The Governor said that "in the interest of reciprocal trade, it is neither practical nor desirable to place an embargo on all imported agricultural goods."

"But, it seems fair and reasonable that all imported agricultural products must meet the same inspection standards as domestically produced goods."

"Not only would this requirement be in the best interest of the farmer, but it would also be in the best interest of better health standards," the Governor said.

They themselves, encourage research and promotion at relatively small cost to the individual farmer.

The Department is not in the business of formulating farm policy, of course, but we are in the business of promoting Texas farm and ranch products. We are currently concentrating our efforts in this area, and will continue to do so.

Texas Department of Agriculture

MAKING SURE CONSUMERS get what they pay for has long been one of the major tasks of the Texas Department of Agriculture, notably in the area of packaged foods in grocery stores.

However, the Supreme Court ruled last summer that federal net weight regulations take precedence over our stricter state laws. This severely hampered package inspections by our weights and measures personnel.

Our state laws call for accurate net weight at the time of purchase, while federal rules said net package weight must be accurate only at the time it leaves the plant. This did not take into account moisture and juices, such as in meat, which may drain off before the package ever reaches the consumer.

I'm glad to say these federal regulations are in the process of being revised. I feel the proposed rules changes will allow our weights and measures officials to return to the business of assuring that customers get exactly what they pay for, not "more or less" as the federal agencies had allowed.

TEXAS GRAIN FARMERS were hurt badly in 1977 by sluggish markets, drought and low prices. So reports of price-depressing high carryover stocks this year do not come as welcome news.

According to the latest estimates, stocks of corn, oats, barley and sorghum, the four major Texas feed grains, are up four percent over last year's levels. In addition, wheat and soybean carryovers are well above 1977.

ONE OF OUR BEST CHANCES to improve farm profits is to aggressively step up overseas marketing activity. This is one goal I support fully, and an area in which the Texas Department of Agriculture can have some influence.

Over $24 billion was added to the U.S. economy last year by exports of our agricultural products. Yet, only a relatively small amount was spent on market development. One of the best ways our producers can help themselves is by active support of their commodity groups. These organizations, funded by producers County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation now in the process of figuring the "established" yield on each farm in the 1978 government cotton program. The new formula just in from Washington.

The results will affect potential producer benefits program, and this in turn may have some effect on planting decisions.

Producer payments under the disaster section of the and price deficiency payments, if any, will be based on each farm's established yield as opposed to actual yield. Payments will be made to program cooperators at three cents per pound times the established yield when destroyed or production severely reduced by any other factor beyond producer control. Price deficiencies which will be due only if the national average price for farmers in 1978 falls below the 52-cent target price. The amount of the short-fall times established yield.

In essence the new ASCS instructions call established yields on the average actual yields for the years. However the average yield for the best four of the years will be taken, and if this average is below the yields of the last three years, the four-year average substituted for that low year.

The three-year average calculated in this manner farm's established yield, except that no farm's 1978 yield will be lowered more than ten percent from farmers at this reading can assume that their established for 1978 will be at least 90 percent of the 1977 established. And, since 1973 and 1977 were both good years, they may have a higher established yield in 1978 than in 1977.

In forming an example of the new yield-computer Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, used 1973 to average actual yields for the 25 High Plains counties territory. The area average was 498.1 pounds per acre. 263.5 pounds in 1974, 278.8 pounds in 1975, 365.4 1976, and is estimated at 445 pounds in 1977.

Thus the average of the best four of these five, leaving comes to 396.8 pounds per acre. This figure substituted low 278.8-pound yield of 1975, giving a three-year average through 1977, of 402.4 pounds per acre.

This figure would be the 25-county average established assuming that the ten percent reduction limit did not play.

SEPARATE CHECKS FOR SEPARATE

Dallas, Texas—Taxpayers paying two Federal taxes at the same time should use separate checks or money orders, the Internal Revenue Service said.

IRS processing problems and unnecessary correspondence with taxpayers can arise, for example, when a taxpayer makes out a single check for his or her 1977 tax liability and the first installment of the 1978 Declaration of Estimated Income Tax.

The IRS advises taxpayers making payments to include their social security number on every check sent to the IRS. Business taxpayers should use their employer identification number. Checks should be made out to the "Internal Revenue Service."

Whether a check is certified or noncertified, the tax is not paid until the check is paid, the IRS said.

If a check is not good and

Three From Here Attend Federal Land Bank Meet

Malvin Jarboe and Jackie Eubanks of Floydada, have just returned from Houston where they represented the Federal Land Bank Association of Floydada at the annual stockholders meeting of The Federal Land Bank of Houston. The meeting, held at the Hyatt Regency Houston, was attended by members of the 65 Federal Land Bank Associations in Texas. There were about 550 persons in attendance. George W. Cunningham, President, in his report to the stockholders, stated that there was an increasing demand for new loans in 1977 and four of the last five years' loan closings have exceeded $200 million. Speakers for the meeting included Donald E. Wilkinson, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C., and Dr. Carl G. Anderson, Extension Economist in Marketing, Texas A&M University. The Federal Land Bank of Houston makes long-term loans on farms and ranches throughout Texas and currently has 34,000 loans for approximately $1.3 billion outstanding. The Federal Land Bank Association of Floydada makes and services loans in this area. Members of the Board of Directors are Jarboe, Ed Lee, Tate Jones, Carroll Garrison, John Irwin. Others attending the meeting from this area were director Ed Lee. Eubanks is manager of the office. To help with the home, the level of tolls is the amount of water for flushing, sanitation, information, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, A&M University.

WHO WILL TAKE GRANDMA?

Who will take grandma—who will it be? All of us want her, I'm sure you'll agree. Let's call a meeting—let's gather the clan; Let's get it settled as soon as we can. In such a big family there's certainly one willing to give her a place in the sun.

Strange how we thought she'd never wear out. But see how she walks—it's arthritis no doubt. Her eyesight has faded; her memories dim; She's apt to insist on the silliest whim. When people get older they become such a care! She must have a home—but question is where?

Remember the days when she used to be spry; Baked her own cookies and made her own pies; Helped us with lessons and mended our seams; Kissed away troubles and mended our dreams; Wonderful grandma! We all loved her so—Isn't it dreadful—she's no place to go?

One little corner is all she would need. A shoulder to cry on; her Bible to read; a chair by the window with sun coming through, some pretty flowers still covered with dew. Who'll warm her with love so she won't mind the cold? Oh! Who will take grandma now that she's old?

What! Nobody wants her? Oh yes there is one willing to give her place in the sun, where she won't have to worry, or wonder, or doubt. And she won't be our problem to bother about—pretty soon now—God will give her a bed. But who'll dry our tears when dear grandma is dead?

When seeking a house, apartment, condominium or mobile home, look at the total energy picture, advises Pat Seaman, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Consider local energy costs, insulation, building orientation, windows and doors, heating and cooling system (s), and water heater, she suggests.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — ON FEBRUARY 24, 1977, we wrote in this space about the snail darter whose habitat is in the Little Tennessee River where a reservoir is nearly completed. A court suit by the environmentalists stopped work on the $11 million project and it is still in the courts.

A THREE-INCH LITTLE PERCH has now been holding up for thirteen months the completion of the dam. Work stopped four days prior to the date set for dropping the gates and impounding water that would supply electric power at a time when we are short of energy. This is the case of having one law stop a project which other laws have authorized and financed. The Congress asked the General Accounting Office to look into the situation and suggest alternatives. Sure enough, a suggestion cheerfully came that the dam can be dismantled and the site restored to its original condition for around $16 million. This saga of the snail darter takes on the proportions of Moby Dick or the Loch Ness Monster.

IN ADDITION TO THIS WHOLE THING BEING UTTERLY RIDICULOUS, the same species of the fish has been found in the main stream of the Tennessee River and schools of them have been transplanted into other rivers in areas where they are reproducing. Surely, the Supreme Court will take note of this fact when they hear the case this month.

THIS EXPERIENCE OF THE SNAIL DARTER'S POTENCY as an obstructive force, inspires fresh foray by those who attack dams in the name of endangered fish. The environmentalists have found another menacing method forceful enough to cause Congress to have another look at its laws for developing all of our natural resources. It causes Members of Congress to hedge their positions by setting up review procedures that will lead to court cases and result in protracted delays on many projects.

NO ONE WOULD ARGUE THAT PERHAPS SOME DAMS HAVE BEEN BUILT where the ratio of cost to benefit was not justified and where safety was doubtful. But, unless we develop our natural resources needed for a growing population, hemming up water being vastly important, we subscribe to a no-growth, no-progress policy. New technology for better and safer dams has been developed and will doubtless be improved but simply being afraid to move in any direction is the opposite of progress.

THE SHOWDOWN ON THE GROWTH — NO GROWTH ISSUE — will have to be dealt with in more clean-cut ways or the question may and should arise as to which is the endangered species — the snail darter or those who would impede such progress for whatever reason. Care to preserve and conserve can be practiced while providing much needed benefits to society. We, in the West, know the importance of having adequate water supplies and this awareness is now taking hold in those parts of the Country which were heretofore being blessed with ample supply, and when the needs and demand were not so great.

ACCIDENT CONTROL—Accidents are prevented by controlling risk. Individuals should continually question themselves regarding the accident hazards involved in what they do. Risks can not be evaluated and controlled if they are completely overlooked, says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.
