Cone Farm Women Report On Lubbock American Ag Meeting

Cone farm women Grace Ashley and Margie Green took notes on the Wednesday American Agriculture meeting in Lubbock and will be going out to an Oklahoma meeting of the movement Monday.
 Here are the highlights of the Lubbock meeting.
 Gerald McCathern of Hereford said: 220 votes were pledged to us A.F.L.—C.I.O. polled and said we had it won. One hundred people were sent to the hill Wednesday morning to buy votes that were pledged to A.A.M. Farmers need to be ready to go back to Washington.
 American Agriculture still beased on combined efforts, we will get a bill we can live with. Until then:
 1. We will not buy unless necessary.
 2. We will not sell unless necessary.
 3. We will reduce plantings until we short the market. Bill will then be easier to get.

 A deal had been made that administration would pass a bill to increase loan prices if Congress would vote the bill down.
 Make an all out effort in State of Texas to defeat Jim Wright.
 Gerald quotes Teddy Roosevelt. "No man is worth his salt if he is not ready to risk his life for a great cause."
 Things we should be working on:
 1. Try to get more of our local farmers involved.
 2. Need to get money built up so we will be ready when future bills come up.
 3. Need to get our Farm Bureau members to check their organizations for backing of future bills instead of lobbying against same.
 4. Texas will be keeping two people in Washington for information purposes.
 5. Be active in upcoming elections. (Work to defeat those that voted against bill.)

S. W. ROSS tells a couple of women from Lubbock about the Mackenzie Lake. The visitors are Kathrine Elrod and Dee Lyde. They are standing near a picnic area on the north side of the lake. (Staff Photo)

U. S. Farm Population Drops 450,000 Persons

WASHINGTON, April 8—The U.S. farm population dropped 5.4 percent during 1977, or by some 450,000 persons, according to a report issued today by the Bureau of the Census and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.
 An average of 7,806,000 persons, or 3.6 percent of the total U.S. population, lived on farms in rural areas of the United States during the 12-month period centered on April 1977.

 According to researcher Vera J. Banks of the department's Economics, Statistics, and Cooperative Service, total farm population averaged a 3.1-percent decline annually during 1970-77. The rate of loss differed significantly by race over this period, with a 2.5-percent average annual loss of white farm residents, compared with 10.3 percent for blacks.
 The decline in farm population since 1970 contrasts with renewed growth that has been widely reported for the nonmetropolitan population as a whole.
 Single free copies of "Farm Population of the United States, 1977 (advance report)," Current Population Reports, Farm Population Series, are available while supplies last from room 0054-S, ESCS, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Please include your zip code.

All Time High Building Permits

Floydada building permits hit an all time high in 1977 with a total of $1,702,116.00 reported to City Hall.
 New apartment buildings, new motel, additions at the Fieldan Motel, The First Assembly of God church, Floydada Vegetable and Pepper, Pizza Gold, Minit Mart, and migrant housing were some of the major building projects.
 Home building seems to be slowing down in Floydada but there are some major commercial building prospects that could begin this year.
 The building permit records for the past five years are: 1976, $1,162,654; 1975, $1,284,400; 1974, $504,375; 1973, $305,025.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE A CATCH OF 115,000 WALLEYE? State Parks and Wildlife employee Kenny Conway holds a plastic bag of fish to be planted in Mackenzie Lake Thursday. A total of 450,000 were put in the lake Wednesday and Thursday. The fish were delivered by plane from a Nebraska hatchery. (Staff Photo)

Whitaker-Jones Capture 4-AA Doubles Tennis Title

By Doug Simpson
 Confident, dynamic, and overpowering Bobby Whitaker and Zane Jones struggled through exciting 6-4, 2-6, and 7-5 sets to knock off a determined Abernathy team and claim top honors in the finals of the district 4-AA tennis doubles competition Wednesday in Plainview.
 After capturing decisive victories at top-seeded area tournaments, Whitaker and Jones set sights of the competitive district meet and the coveted championship. They won it—by the very skin of their teeth.
 The persistent Cuevas-Dominguez duo ignored a narrow opening set loss and returned with power in the second to score a 6-2 win and vault right back in the thick of the match.
 Whitaker and Jones jumped off to an early 5-0 advantage in the deciding set, but the Antelope team took wins in the following five games to suddenly make it anybody's match once again.
 With calm and decisive determination, the Floydada duo took command of the final two games to salvage the first place crown and a previously-earned trip to the regionals April 28.
 Third place was decided in Thursday's competition, but FHS had already captured first place in the overall standings.

Also competing for the Whirlwinds was a very determined Monty Lyons—Bobby Green duo, which fell in the quarterfinals 7-5, 6-2 to the pair that eventually played Whitaker and Jones for the outright title.
 Oscar Barrera lost also in the quarterfinals to Juan Dominguez of Abernathy by the narrow margin of 6-4, 6-4, in singles play. Greg Pruitt was defeated in the quarterfinals of singles competition, 6-1, 6-4.
 Floydada's freshman squad lost in the overall standings 38-24 to AHS but managed to score some impressive performances. James Hale fell to an Antelope player in the semifinals, and in doubles, Cervera-Hayes knocked off teammates Myrick and Jones in extremely close 5-7, 6-4, 6-3 sets to cop third place honors.
 In junior high competition Wednesday, David Galvan and Sammy Rodriguez sewed up the doubles championship with a 6-4, 6-1 victory over a Lockney duo. Poage and Holcomb lost a close decision to a pair from Lockney (the same pair that claimed second place honors) in the quarterfinals.
 Steve Griffin of FJHS reached the third place match before being defeated by Malcomb of Tulia, 6-0, 6-0.
 Jay Miller was defeated in the quarterfinals by an Abernathy netter, 6-1, 6-0.

What One Person Can Do

Sherrill Cross, Visiting Nurse Practitioner

Sherrill Cross is one of a new breed - a pediatric nurse practitioner. "It isn't like being a nurse in a hospital where you can just reach out for a sterile this or a sterile that," says the young registered nurse. "You have to adjust."

Adjusting, for Mrs. Cross, means many things, from helping create family environments conducive to recovery to overcoming fear that she is "some kind of welfare worker" sent "to spy and

Alpha Mu Delta To Observe Founders Day

Founders Day of Beta Sigma Phi, a social, cultural and service organization for women, will be observed in Floydada by Alpha Mu Delta on April 27th in the community room of the First National Bank. The event will mark the 47th anniversary of the founding of the international organization which was founded in Abilene, Kan. by Walter W. Ross.

Jo Ann Patterson and Kay Powell are chairmen of the Founder's Day activities in Floydada. Tostmaster will be Brenda Watson, Alpha Mu Delta Chapter president.

Other members taking part in the program are Donna Henderson, Lynn Daniel, and Vickie Allen. Ilene Kendrick has been selected for the honor of presenting a special message from the sorority president. She has received the message from the International office in Kansas City, Missouri. Awards will be presented to local members as well as outstanding members.

Outstanding projects and activities of the Floydada Chapter include a scholarship fund, nursing home and local love funds.

Beta Sigma Phi is the largest women's sorority in the world. Celebrations will take place in the 24 countries in which the organization's 250,000 members in over 12,000 chapters exist. The organization is non-academic, non-political and non-sectarian. The keynote of Beta Sigma Phi is friendship.

Chapters of five different degrees meet the growing needs of various age groups. Members are active in small chapter groups. Each chapter adapts the plans for social, civic, and service and cultural activities to fit the interest of its members.

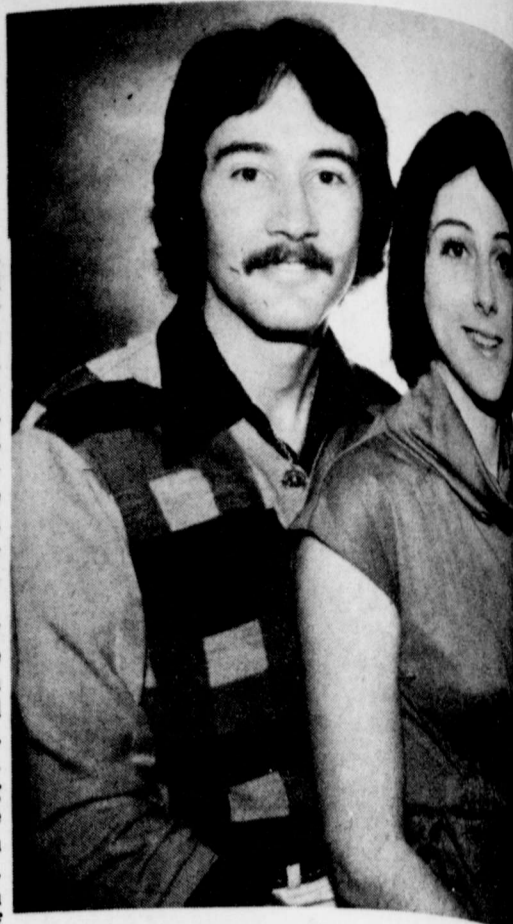

When Beta Sigma Phi events or civic endeavors are larger than one chapter can plan alone, all chapters in a City or area, may combine their strength. There are state conventions each year which any member may attend.

Internationally, the chapters have created several special funds: The International Loan Fund, through which members help one another; The International Endowment Fund, which has donated over one million dollars to cancer research, cystic fibrosis, homes for under privileged children, and many other causes; The Exemplar Fund, which helps to support Literary Village in India; and a college scholarship fund for members or the children.

take my child away."

"Most people aren't even aware of our services," says Mrs. Cross, who handles child-patients in Missouri's North St. Louis and St. Charles counties. Her pediatric services, supervised by physicians, are available to all area children on a priority basis. Families are charged according to ability to pay. In her work, Mrs. Cross sees creativity as a keynote. One patient is Kathy whose severe handicaps at birth combined with her mother's emotional problems made institutional care necessary at first. Now at five, the child is home and Mrs. Cross comes in as nurse, friend and teacher. But gradually she is letting Kathy and her mother take more responsibility.

"We try to establish short-range goals and long-range goals for families. The short range is to take care of the patient. The long-range goal

PREPARE SHRIMP CREOLE EASILY, ECONOMICALLY

Prepare Shrimp Creole-an old-time favorite-easily and economically at home. It can be prepared economically because, though the price per pound of shrimp may seem high, it can be stretched to serve six people.

When the French invented cuisine a la Creole, they began a whole new era of dining. Old cuisine artists developed methods of cooking that have stood the test of time and are well-loved today.

For example, try this recipe for Shrimp Creole:

SHRIMP CREOLE

- 1 lb. cleaned and deveined shrimp
- 1 lg. chopped onion
- 2 cloves chopped garlic
- 1 chopped green bell pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 6 slices cooked bacon, reserve fat
- 1 can (6 oz.) tomato paste
- 1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 can (13 oz.) chicken broth
- 2 Tlbsps. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 1 tsp. chili powder
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. liquid hot pepper sauce
- 1 tsp. gumbo file
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper

for that food as anticipated. Consider these factors in preserving this year. These guidelines show how long canned and frozen foods can be kept:

- All unopened canned foods-12 months
- Canned fruit juices-9 months
- Frozen fruits-12 months
- Citrus fruits and juice frozen at home-6 months
- Fruit juice concentrate-12 months
- Vegetables-10 months
- Examine containers of frozen foods for tears in wrapping materials and use those items as soon as possible.

PREVENT FOOD POISONING-KEEP HOT FOODS HOT, COLD FOODS COLD

To help prevent food poisoning, keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold-and live longer in good health.

- Specifically:
 - cook foods thoroughly and serve them hot,
 - prevent recontamination through cleanliness and use of sanitary utensils,
 - promptly cool or freeze foods after preparation to retard bacteria multiplication,
 - and, fully reheat stored foods to destroy bacteria.
- In a survey of 2,503 households, 63 percent of those sampled used at least one high risk practice in handling, preparing and storing selected meat and poultry products.
- Most of these high risk households left fresh meat, poultry or fish out at room temperature for more than two hours thinking it was safe to eat. They were wrong-meat is a haven for bacterial growth.

INVENTORY FOOD STOCKS NOW

Before the 1978 food preservation season begins, inventory pantry and freezer stocks. Plan weekly menus around these foods to use them before or during the preservation of new crops. If last year's foods are not used before this year's canning and freezing starts, store them in front of or on top of the newer foods. If too many containers of a particular food are left from last year, too much of that food was planted and preserved, or the family may not care

Over two and one-half million people were affected in 1976 by Salmonellosis, one of the major food borne illnesses affecting man. Many more cases go unreported because people assume they have a "bug" or the flu.

Salmonella-a group of bacteria almost worldwide in distribution-may be found in water, poultry, meat and meat products, eggs and egg products, fish, shellfish and oysters. Freezing does not kill salmonella-it only prevents multiplication.

Many homemakers are not aware of the problems involved with handling food safely at home. Food handling in the home is extremely important and one that most consumers can correct.

Follow strict sanitation measures because cleanliness in food handling is the most important way to prevent the bacteria from being carried.

In old India, coral was supposed to ward off the effects of too much sun.

MR. AND MRS. F.A. FAULKENBERRY celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner. Faulkenberry and Pauline Wise were married at Paducah on April 14, 1928. The couple moved to Floyd County in January 1934. Children of the couple include Wayland of Lubbock, Freida Brooks of Paducah, and Scott and Don of Floydada.

SAVORY FRANKFURTERS combined with fresh vegetables make a nutritious and speedy skillet supper.

Smart meal planners always have a package of hot dogs on hand to fill the need for a hurry-up dinner that's satisfying and nutritious. Frankfurters are already fully-cooked and each of these bundles of flavor provides protein, vitamins and minerals that boost the nutrition of casseroles, salads and sandwiches.

Speedy Frankfurter Skillet

Cut 1 pound frankfurters in thirds. Pare and slice 4 to 5 medium potatoes, place in large frying-pan. Slice 1 medium onion and place in layer over potatoes. Add a layer of 8 cups thinly sliced cabbage. Add 2 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper to 1/4 cup boiling water, stirring to melt butter; pour over vegetables. Place pieces of frankfurters on top and sprinkle with 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese. Cover tightly and cook slowly 22 to 25 minutes or until vegetables are done. Stir to combine and sprinkle with paprika. 4 to 5 servings.

PAINT IT YOURSELF

If bright sunlight brings out the worst in your painted walls, gather your ladder and your painting supplies and get to work. Don't be afraid to tackle the job; today's paint and equipment is economical and easy to use.

Here are some basic tips to help you prepare your room for painting:

- Remove all pictures, wall accessories and lamps from the room. Place furniture in the center of the floor and cover it completely with drop cloths. Rugs should be rolled and either removed or covered completely.
- Paint adheres better to clean surfaces, so be sure to dust the walls.
- To prevent new paint from bubbling, scrape away

FARM & RANCH NEWS

Texas Cotton Producers See Their Dollars Put To Work By Cotton Inc.

RALEIGH, N.C.—Some 35 West Texas cotton producers got a first-hand look here recently at how the dollars they invest in Cotton Incorporated programs are being used to strengthen cotton's competitive position and earn greater returns to growers.

The producers, from Gaines, Andrews and surrounding counties, came to Cotton Incorporated's modern research center during a Southeastern tour sponsored by the Ocho Gin Company in Seminole, Texas.

During their trip, the group also saw cotton being used at two major textile mills in the Carolinas.

Wayne Mixon, general manager and a part-owner of the Ocho Gin Company, said the trip was arranged because "we wanted to do something for the cotton growers we serve. We think of them not only as our customers but also as our friends."

Mixon said the Raleigh research facility was a priority stop on the tour because of the gin's desire to help the producers get a clearer and more complete understanding of Cotton Incorporated and its programs.

"In our area, with the unrest in the farm situation, there seems to be a lack of knowledge of the role of Cotton Incorporated and the difference between it and the National Cotton Council," he said.

"We do, by the way, support both organizations," he added, "but we felt that it would be good to bring some of the farmers here and let them see the projects that are being carried out by Cotton Incorporated to expand markets for cotton and help producers cut their costs."

Cotton Incorporated is a private fiber company that solely works for and is controlled by the nation's cotton producers. Under federal law, its activities are restricted to research and promotion/marketing activities designed to reduce producers' costs and increase cotton's share of fiber markets. It is a nonpolitical organization specifically prohibited by law from lobbying. Agricultural, textile and economic research and development activities are centered in Raleigh, while headquarters and marketing are in New York City.

All funding for Cotton Incorporated comes from the per-bale assessments paid by producers throughout the Cotton Belt. Forty-two cotton producers currently serve on the board of directors, the number related to the bales produced by states.

Tours through various laboratories and presentations by staff members gave the West Texas producers the latest information as to how Cotton Incorporated is working to meet cotton's challenges from seed production through the development of new fabrics and finishing processes.

Mixon said he was particularly impressed with the way Cotton Incorporated works directly with textile mills to convince them of the advantages of using more cotton and to provide them with technical assistance in the production and processing of many types of all-cotton and predominantly cotton fabrics.

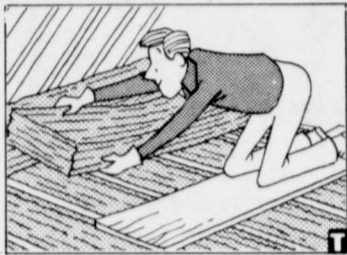

"I guess we more or less take the planting of cotton and the growing of it as our part of the challenge, but we don't have this relationship ourselves with the textile mills," he pointed out. "I feel that we would be lost in this area, and that we do have to have somebody to handle this end of the business for us," he noted.

The visiting Texans also got an overview of Cotton Incorporated's total program—including sales/marketing activities—through the showing of a film highlighting activities and accomplishments in 1977. They were told that copies of the film can be borrowed for showings at meetings in their own communities by writing to Mr. Robert Boslet, Cotton Incorporated, Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10019.

The Ocho Gin Company is a producer-owned firm. This past season, it ginned approximately 28,000 bales of cotton.

TIPS FOR HOMEOWNERS

A tip on adding insulation to an attic floor: Use batts or blankets that don't have a vapor barrier, which is a layer of heavy paper or foil on one surface. A vapor barrier might trap moisture within the old insulation.

If the vapor-barrier type is all that is available, slash the barrier freely with a knife. Then install the insulation with the slashed side on the bottom.

If no insulation already exists, thick batts with a vapor barrier should be laid between floor joists with the vapor barrier down.

More tips are available in a 24-page booklet, "How to Save Money by Insulating Your Home." Send 30 cents to National Mineral Wool Insulation Association, 382 Springfield Ave., Summit, N.J. 07901.

Counties eligible for assistance by SBA in the 17th District are as follows: Baylor, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Crosby, Eastland, Erath, Floyd, Jack, Knox, Montague, Palo Pinto, Parker, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Throckmorton and Wise.

Loan applications for physical damage may be filed until close of business on October 11, 1978, and for economic injury loans until close of business on December 11, 1978.

Applications should be filed with the nearest Small Business Administration District office.

Planning Ahead Makes Money For Vegetable Farmer

LUBBOCK—Forewarned is forearmed. By planning ahead to reduce the price risks farmers could add several thousand dollars to their total gross income by planting vegetables, according to Dr. Bob Davis, professor of agricultural economics at Texas Tech University.

Several factors are involved in lessening the risk and reducing the disadvantages in growing vegetables, Davis said.

Because of the price fluctuations in vegetables a farmer needs to plant them year in and year out in order to reduce price risk. Through constant planting the excellent profits offered by vegetables when prices are high counteract losses that might be sustained when prices are low, he said.

Before entering the vegetable market, however, a farmer needs to learn as much as possible about vegetables by reading and studying available material and by talking with knowledgeable people.

Then before planting the farmer should secure a packer for the harvest. Vegetables are highly perishable and should be harvested, packed and shipped to market within a day or so of fruition. Contracting with a packer before planting will assure the farmer that his crop will not rot in the field, he explained.

Before adding vegetables a farmer needs to know recommended production practices, including when and how to plant, how to protect them for diseases and insects, when to harvest and how much and when to irrigate.

In West Texas two of the most common vegetable crops are summer onions and Irish potatoes. Both are grown for harvest in the early summer period beginning in early July.

The main reason they are good crops for this area, he said, is the ready market for fresh vegetables in the early summer. Few other areas of the country are able to produce good quality 25 and 45 percent of the national market for potatoes and onions during early summer.

Potatoes are more easily harvested mechanically than many other vegetable crops. Onions are harvested by hand but in one time throughout the field. Cucumbers, melons, peppers and other hand-harvested crops must be picked several times. Davis said vegetables require more constant management than other crops, more man-hours, more water and more treatment against disease and insects than do crops such as cotton or grain.

Even with extra labor he maintains that raising vegetables can be considerably more profitable per acre than other crops. Irrigated cotton generally returns a gross revenue of $250 per acre. Onions and potatoes average a gross return of $1,200 per acre.

By obtaining a market, by growing year and by the best raise vegetable said it would be a farmer's time and add small acreage tables to traditional

RELIEF FOR LABOR SHORTAGE

Many labor markets are experiencing a shortage of workers rather than a shortage of jobs because employers are not making the best use of the current labor force, contends an economist in business development with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Employers should consider all segments of the labor force, including handicapped persons, older as well as younger workers, and women who are entering the labor market in non-traditional occupations. Employers should also review applicant procedures and educational requirements and should be flexible to employee needs.

Edwards Featured Artist At FN Bank

Charla Edwards is the daughter of Mrs. Weldon Edwards, pastor at the First Methodist Church in Floydada. She is a painter and a second time in the lobby. She has such a talent that it could never become boring," said Charla, "and Dr. Cabelero inspires and encourages anyone who attempts self-expression in art." He encouraged Charla to "adopt as her own" the technique out of the many approaches that she feels most comfortable with; and Charla's paintings are intriguing to study and pleasing to view.

When asked about the unusual technique in her "Flower Springs," Charla explained that "it was lots of fun to splash, drip, and spray on the background with a toothbrush, turning the illustration board and allowing the paint to slide. Often there will be a distinct shape formed in the process that can be incorporated into the painting." In the painting, "Forgotten Days," houses and barns superimposed on each other give a feeling of warm memories and places past.

The public is cordially invited to view Charla's paintings during banking hours: Monday, 9:00-5:00; Tuesday-Friday, 9:00-3:00. In addition to the paintings named, others are "Distant Mesa," "Secluded Mansion,"

CONSUMER FOOD NEWS

Meat prices will be higher than earlier forecasts for the year at Texas grocery markets, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with A&M.

Select meat according to intended use to get the most for each dollar, she advises.

This week's price trends show economy values on some fresh vegetables, grapefruit, some canned fruits and vegetables and poultry products, she says.

Fresh Vegetables — New potatoes have relatively low prices. Other economical choices are collards, mustard greens, carrots, cabbage and turnips. Green peppers are worth considering.

Fresh Fruits — Grapefruit is about the best choice, price-wise and quality-wise. Pineapples and strawberries generally have more attractive prices. Varying price levels appear on oranges, bananas, apples, grapes and pears.

Poultry — Eggs have low prices. Fryer chicken prices are slightly higher, but a few specials are available on whole birds and parts.

Grocery Market Aisles — Features include canned Clingstone peaches, pears, corn, tomatoes and tomato products.

Beef — Prices continue to go higher slowly. Most features are on chuck cuts. Scattered economy values appear on sirloin and T-bone steaks, round steaks and liver.

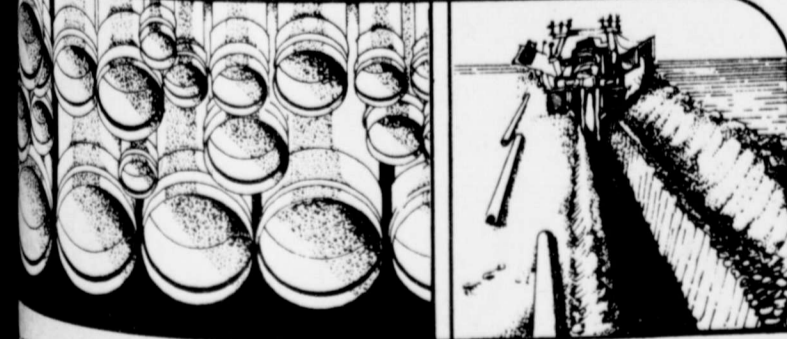

Pork — "Feature" prices on fresh cuts are few. They can be found primarily on Boston butt, whole loins, rib and loin-end roasts, end chops and liver.

Scattered specials appear on bacon and frankfurters.

Consumer Watchwords: For economy, buy fish that gives several servings per pound. Whole fresh fish provides only about one serving per pound, "pan dressed" fish yields about two servings per pound, and fish steaks offer three servings.

For I Am Not Ashamed Of The Gospel

ROMANS 1: 16-17

Notice that in the writing of Paul there are no loopholes. He has proved everything he said. He never said anything carelessly. Paul had no reason to be ashamed of the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Many people can not say that today. They love God but they cannot testify for Him.

Paul found Christ on his way to Damascus. Before his meeting with Christ he had threatened the Christians. But after this meeting he said "For me to live so Christ." Paul knew exactly what he was talking about when he said "I am not ashamed of the gospel! Something had occurred in his life. Paul did not write this down because he was excited. He knew what this gospel could do for others.

The gospel of Jesus Christ gives power for an overcoming life. Paul said "in all these things we are more than conquerors.

Someone ask a child why he always fell out of bed. He said "Well I reckon it's because I stay too close to where I got in." We Christians have a lot of trouble because we stay too close to the place we got in and never grow in Christ. We should be better Christians today than we were yesterday. There are some people who are ashamed of the gospel, the church, and even their pastor, who preaches the gospel. If you are, then God is ashamed of you.

There are people who serve Christ because they are afraid of going to hell. We will never get anything from God if that is the reason we serve Him. They have no joy, no peace, no happiness. Paul preached this gospel before kings and it made their knees snite together.

This gospel has removed the fear of death. Paul wrote "O death where is thy sting and grave where is thy victory."

This gospel promises the most tremendous experience ever known. Again Paul wrote "The Lord Himself shall descend from heaven."

This gospel promises eternal fellowship with Jesus Christ. First Thessalonians 4:17 "So shall we ever be with the Lord."

Stenholm Wants Farmer To Make Profit

Candidate for Congress Charles Stenholm was in Floydada Wednesday speaking to the Rotary Club and based much of his talk on the farming economy.

He emphasized that he was for the farmer receiving a price that would cover his production costs, plus a reasonable profit.

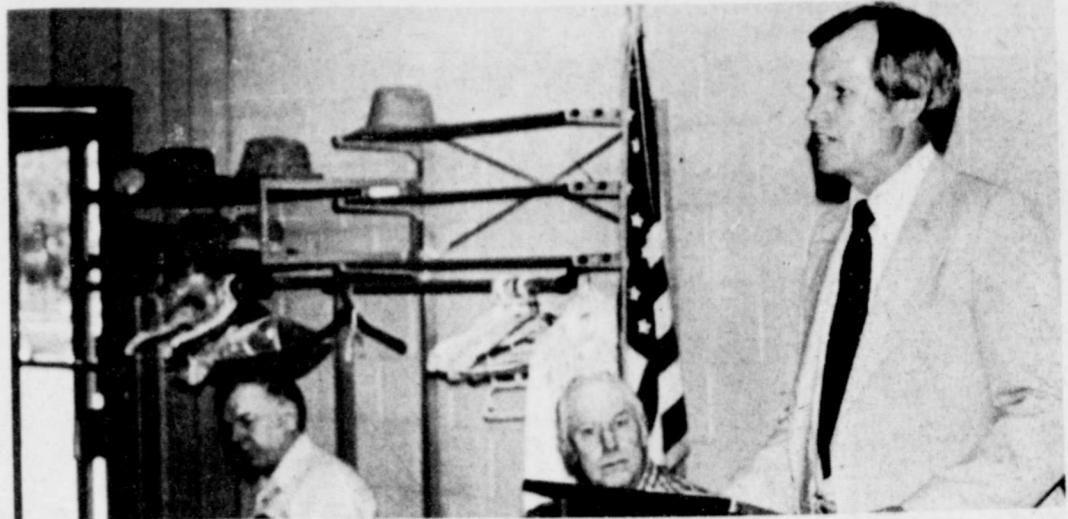

Stenholm said he was interested in deregulation of gas and oil, saying he felt supply and demand would adjust to a price that would not be prohibitive while making it possible to buy less foreign oil in the future.

"People are fed up with paper work created by government bureaucracy," Stenholm said. Free enterprise is one of Stenholm's major concerns of the issues and problems facing America today.

For the sake of elderly people, Stenholm said he was interested in saving the Social Security system.

Stenholm was introduced by Rotarian Jimmy Willson at the luncheon.

Lon And Flo Davis Enjoy Trip To Spain

By Flo Davis
Wendell, as per your request for a story on our trip to Spain: As you know, the main purpose of the trip was to see our son, Blair, who is a student at the University of Durham in England for his junior year. Blair met us at the airport in Madrid and how great it was to see him! We were met by two T.W.A. hostesses who took care of our baggage and loaded our group of thirty-eight onto a bus for the Hotel Castellana in Madrid. Lon, Blair and I had a delightful day visiting and seeing the lovely city of Madrid. The next morning we were taken to Palacio Real de Madrid and the world famous Prado Art Museum. What breath taking beauty! The Royal Palace is still used today for State occasions by Juan Carlos. It is a magnificent edifice and filled with priceless treasures.

Maria Lisa, our tour guide while in Madrid, is a very handsome, brilliant woman that moves with the grace of a ballerina. She received her education at the University of Madrid, studied English in Ireland for a year and spent a year in Germany for the German language. She had a lovely voice and the most delightful way of placing a "ta" at the end of her words such as "righta" and "lefta". She was a marvelous guide as she had so much knowledge of the history of Spain and its people.

of the time.
Hordes of Islam crossed over from Africa in 711 causing the local people to take refuge in the mountains of Asturias and they would not return until led by Alphonso VI of Castille and his famous warrior "El Cid". After a seven year siege on Toledo, they finally triumphed and established their rule in 1085. During the seven hundred years of the Mahomedan dominion, the arts, crafts, science and letters flourished brilliantly.

expulsion of the Jews, much of Spain's intellectual achievements were lost. (Imagine at the time we were being discovered!) The end of the splendor of Toledo came in 1560 when Phillip 11 established his court in Madrid.
Since El Greco lived and worked in Toledo, we visited his house and once again enjoyed the privilege of seeing some more of his fantastic art. Since Toledo is so full of historical monuments, one could write volumes on it (and I almost have), but there is much more to see in Spain.

nis at the posh country club in Sevilla. Later they would go to a hardware store to purchase some heavy brass hinges found in that area. There they would discover the hospitality of the lovely people of Spain as everyone in the store dropped their own business to help them with their purchase and to offer advice.
Victor takes us on a tour of Sevilla and we see a magnificent cathedral which is the largest and richest in all of Spain. We also see the Arabian Alcazar, the Giraldo Tower and the Santa Cruz quarters. Spain is steeped in ancient history and what a thrill to see the Roman influence to the Moorish architecture and the remains of the intellectual influence left by the Jews. After Isabella drove the Moors and the Jews from the country, we find the beautiful mosques receiving Gothic additions, but the original beauty is still there and one finds the mixture of the Moors, Jews and Christians as having worked and lived in harmony at one point in time.

dish of Spain. Paella is a mixture of rice, fish, chicken, pork, even bones ground up in it! It can be very good, but this was terrible and so everyone gave Victor a hard time about it. After the paella, Victor took us to see a Flamenco show which was very good, so almost all was forgiven.
From Sevilla, we went by bus to Cordoba where we visited a mosque with one thousand colored columns. The day on the bus was very tiring with many stops on the way to Granada where we would stay at the Hotel Alhambra Palace with the beautiful snow-capped Sierra Nevada in the background. We toured the Alhambra and its gardens and the 14th century Alcazar. The Alhambra is an architectural miracle and defies description. It is a place of incomparable beauty of delicate complexity and ornamental decorations composed of polichrome tiles and fibreged plaster works. It is overwhelming to the mind and spirit and one feels in a world of pure fantasy.

bye and leaves us in the hands of two T.W.A. hostesses. We are taken on tours of Malaga and some Andalusian villages such as Mijas, high in the mountains several miles from Malaga. Our hotel is situated on the beach so we have a nice view of the Mediterranean.
Torremolinas along with other cities on the Costa del Sol is a tourist attraction for Europeans as well as Americans. There are miles of luxury hotels on the coast and the buildings of art, the clean white buildings of green countryside and beautiful people with manners.
