Crowd Fills Council Chamber In Zoning Protest

What turned out to be far from a quiet meeting City Councilmen gathered for nearly four and a half hours Tuesday night with problems arising from a protest against a zoning change to passing an ordinance limiting time periods between council meetings within the city limits.

Members present were Parnell Powell, Johnny Bill Sue, Leroy Jerry Thompson, Wayne Russell Carl Jarrett.

Approximately all the available chairs for council chambers, most of them were occupied by protesters who came to speak in a public hearing.

A zoning request from the Housing Authority. That group has requested the Planning and Zoning Commission to rezone the east one-half of the Baker Addition, from R-1, Single Family Residence to R-1C, Single Family Residential Zoning.

Presently, the Housing Authority is proposing changing the fire limits from Lots 13 through 30, Block 82, from the present fire limits, to the boundary west from the street west to the alley.

Protesters requested zoning changes were home owners in the immediate area and feeling uneasy among the group in opposing zoning change which would allow the building of a 10-unit public housing facility.

Seemingly uppermost on the minds of those protesting the zoning request was what the construction of the 10-open housing units would do to property values in the area.

Duane McQueen, architect for Whitaker and Hall of Lubbock, on hand to make the presentation and show artist's drawings of the proposed housing units, replied that "I feel structures themselves will enhance the value of surrounding property in the immediate future. In the long term it will depend on how the property (housing units) are maintained," he told the assembled crowd.

Asked by one zoning protester, John K. West, a Floydada developer in his own right, if the units would be of quality construction, and "do you have anything to back up your opinion on this?" McQueen pointed out other housing authority units in Floydada and noted their present good condition and maintenance, even though some are as much as 16 years old.

Several times council members were asked "if they would want the housing units built across from their property?"

One man pointed out that he had bought one-fourth of a block in the area of the proposed Housing Units on the assurance there would be no rezoning for this type of housing.

Actually the Housing Authority proposal is for two distinct units, one development of 10 units for family occupancy, and another 10 units for the elderly. The latter 10 units were seemingly not being protested.

Appearing at the meeting representing the Housing Authority was Mrs. Ina McDowell, executive director of the Floydada Housing Authority. Mrs. McDowell fielded a number of questions from both the council visitors and the councilmen themselves about Housing authority policies and procedures.

Total cost of the 20 units, as part of a package deal, would be about $435,000 McQueen told councilmen.

Apparently several more persons had planned to attend the meeting to appear against the zoning proposal, but did not show up.

After asking if any one else wished to speak for (there were none) or against the proposal, Mayor Parnell Powell closed the public hearing, assured the departing crowd that the council would give their protests every consideration and act in the best interest of the city as a whole.

In a lengthy discussion of the zoning problem later in the meeting the council agreed to study the protests, check with the architect on some possible changes to the site plan, and make a decision at a special called meeting.

City Manager Bill Feuerbacher advised the council that the body had only until May 22 to reply to HUD (Housing and Urban Development) authorities on the proposal, which HUD has approved for the city of Floydada.

It was brought out during the meeting by questions from the crowd that the Baker Addition site for the proposed Housing Units was the only one available within the city that met HUD requirements. Architect McQueen pointed out during the meeting that his firm and HUD officials had looked at several possible sites in the city, but none proved to be feasible for varying reasons.

Mayor Powell agreed to call a special meeting in a few days at which time the council would make their decision.

In other actions Doyle Walls, representative of the Caprock Hospital Board, appeared before the council to request the city increase their contribution to the hospital district's ambulance service from $250 to $350 per month in order to help defray deficits incurred. Floyd County fathers had agreed earlier this week to increase their contributions by a like amount and requested that the city take similar action. The council unanimously agreed to the request after questioning Walls at some length about the ambulance operation.

City Manager Feuerbacher was told by the council to proceed with his request for an application to HUD for a single purpose grant of $483,000 for paving, housing standards and demolition work in the city.

Councilmen also authorized Feuerbacher to get bids from Texas Municipal League on workman's compensations plans for city employees and also approved the purchase of a strobe light for a city patrol car when funds become available.

In other action it was also agreed that Feuerbacher should obtain bids on new hardware for Floydada Power and Light in order to purchase 1,000 KW of electricity from Southwestern Public Service Co.

A new ordinance regulating time periods between carnivals to 45 days intervals was discussed and passed by council members.

Slated for upcoming council meetings, members were told, are new ordinances on junk car removal and weed control.

City attorney Bill Kincaid was instructed by the council to prepare such ordinances for the next meeting.

In a final action, nearing midnight, the council voted to give the fire department $1,000, which had been budgeted, toward the purchase of new equipment, as soon as the funds become available to the city.

After routine approval of city bills the council adjourned.

Joe Cisneros unloaded a 3-run home run that cleared the centerfield lights to inspire a 19-hit performance and lift the A's baseballers over the Floydada Chicanos 21-5 in a Farmers League battle at the diamond here Tuesday night.

The triumph evened the A's season record at 5-5, and was characterized by a tremendous output at the plate on the part of the A's.

Carmen Soliz went the distance as winning pitcher, and Frankie Morales was credited with the loss for the Chicanos.

Todd Vickers and Steve Westbrook contributed solo homers in the first and fourth innings to aid in the victory.

In a contest placed Sunday at the diamond here, Lubbock's Indians upset the A's by a narrow 14-10 margin. Keith Marricle delivered a pair of home runs and Westbrook and Soliz shared the pitching duties.

The A's will face the Crosbyton A's here on May 18.

Cattlemen Encouraged By Import Reduction Possibilities

T.A. Cunningham, president of the Independent Cattlemen's Association, says his association is encouraged by the U.S. Senate Finance Committee's recent passage of a beef import reduction proposal by a 13-1 margin.

"We can see our four years of work finally beginning to pay off," Cunningham said. "However, although this move is encouraging, we must realize that it is just a first step. The bill still must pass on the floor of the Senate."

Cunningham said that the bill accomplishes three things:

1. It reverses the present formula, allowing beef imports to decrease when domestic production is high. The present formula causes domestic markets to be swamped with foreign meat at a time when domestic production increases.

2. The legislation includes all processed meats in the quota system. At the present time, the law includes only boned, chilled meat.

3. Presidential authority to suspend quotas would be reduced unless a national emergency is at hand as defined by the National Emergency Act.

3. Presidential authority to suspend quotas would be reduced unless a national emergency is at hand as defined by the National Emergency Act.

The biggest fight that remains, according to Cunningham, is to have live cattle included in the quotas. Although U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentson of Texas has assured the cattlemen's association that there will be attempts from the Senate floor to indicate live cattle, the National Cattlemen's Association is against that move. The NCA has refused to accept or support any legislation that includes live cattle.

There has been no time table set as to when the measure will reach the Senate floor.

RELAXATION

ODDITIES-HELPFUL TIPS
By Joy Miller

The straight truth about croquet is that it is named after a French word, "croc," meaning crooked stick. Fashionable in the mid-nineteenth century as a game played on English lawns by English lords, it remains a graceful and relaxing way to pass the time.

A croquet player must hit his ball through strategically placed hoops in correct order and then hit a wooden peg. The game has its own strange language, so here are a few guide words. A "roquet" is hitting your ball against another ball. "Peeling" is knocking one partner's ball through the hoop. And a "rover" is a ball that has run through all the hoops.

"Cauliflower is nothing but cabbage education."

Blood Pressure Needs Control

COLLEGE STATION - Controlling high blood pressure often requires daily medication, advises a health education specialist.

High blood pressure, a serious, chronic disease, has no symptoms to warn of its presence. The only way to know if blood pressure is high is to have it checked, Carla Shearer warns.

Shearer is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. High blood pressure is one factor associated with cardiovascular problems that's often overlooked.

Commissioners Approve Grader, Shift Funds In Routine Session

A new grader was purchased and some funds moved to different accounts in a routine county commissioner's court meeting Monday in the courthouse.

Meeting in an all-day session were County Judge J. K. Holmes and Commissioners Jack Lackey, Aaron Carthel, Bob Jarrett and Grigsby (Doodle) Milton.

The county fathers accepted a bid by Hamilton Roofing Co. of Lubbock for the re-roofing of the sheriff's building at Lockney at a cost of $1,597.

In other action they voted to retain their membership in the National Association of Counties and also agreed to increase the ambulance payment to Caprock Hospital and to the City of Lockney from $250 a month to $350 per month, effective June 1, 1978.

A new grader, meeting county specifications, was authorized to be purchased from West Texas Equipment Co. at a cost of $18,500 after the trade-in.

The commissioners also voted to participate in the Texas Surplus Property Agency, and organization that resells excess and worn governmental property for only a handling charge. There is an agency outlet in Lubbock.

Commissioners also voted to open the canneries at Floydada and Lockney on July 1.

Certificates of deposit for the Special Road Fund were extended for six months and a certificate for the library fund for $10,000 was cashed in to have operating funds.

In a final action the commissioners voted to transfer $80,000 from the Road and Bridge Fund No. 2 to the four precinct funds at the rate of $20,000 each precinct.

Cotton Apparel Gains Shown In U. S. Market

Cotton apparel has captured the fancy of the American consumer—a solid sign that the fiber will make strong gains in the U. S. market over the next few years, says David W. Cox, Cotton Incorporated vice president for economic research and development.

This, along with other factors, indicates that cotton will claim at least 40 per cent of all consumer textile purchases in the not-distant future, Cox told a group of textile and apparel security analysts here.

In the area of consumer purchases, Cox said cotton's share of the total apparel market climbed to 38.7 per cent in 1977 from a low point of 35.4 per cent in 1974, according to Market Research Corporation of American (MRCA) data. Gains of almost 5 per cent were made in both women's and men's wear, he added. Somewhat smaller gains were made in girls' and boys' apparel, which increased to 44.7 per cent and 50.8 per cent, respectively, of the market.

With cotton gaining in the U. S. textile market, Cox forecasts that competition between cotton and synthetic fibers will shift to developing countries. Cotton will come under attack in these areas as synthetic look for new markets, he told the analysts.

Sportsman's Group Teams With 4-H On Projects

COLLEGE STATION — The American Sportsman's Club, Inc. of Denver, Colorado, has teamed with 4-H to sponsor the Texas 4-H Wildlife and Fisheries Projects, according to H.T. Davison, executive director of the Texas 4-H Foundation.

"I am pleased that the ASC has chosen to assist 4-H youth to learn through their wildlife and fisheries projects by sponsoring several incentive awards," said Davison, a 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H.

Dr. Wallace Klussmann, Extension project leader in wildlife and fisheries, pointed out that the sponsorship of recognition awards by the ASC for 4-H members for outstanding project work will provide the extra incentive to expand project work.

Klussmann noted that 4-Hers will become eligible to receive county award medals for project work and the state winner will receive a $500 scholarship plus an expense grant to attend the National 4-H Wildlife Conservation Conference.

"The American Sportsman's Club, Inc. is a national corporation whose major goal is the perpetuation of quality outdoor recreation for both present and future generations," said Davison. "It is private family membership club which leases land, lakes and other recreation sites for the use of its members in five states. On these sites club members may hunt, fish, camp and enjoy other recreational activities."

Don Albert of San Antonio, southern operations director for the ASC, said he felt that the 4-H wildlife and fisheries project is an excellent way for young people to develop an appreciation for our many natural resources and that he is pleased that the American Sportsman's Club, Inc. could be a part. 4-H youth interested in enrolling in wildlife and fisheries projects may contact their county Extension office, added Davison.

Ag Secretary Reveals Cuts In Food Stamp Programs

Proposed food stamp reforms to eliminate over one million participants with the highest incomes, and to make the program more accessible to several million poor not currently participating — especially the elderly and working poor — have been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland.

Families owning luxury cars would be made ineligible for food stamps and persons convicted of food stamp fraud would be disqualified for up to two years. Some students would be dropped from the program, while others would have to sign up for work half-time to get food stamps.

The new regulations also would do away with the requirement that participants pay a certain amount in cash to receive food stamps. Under the proposed new regulations, a family currently required to pay $95 a month for $174 in food stamps — or a net benefit of $79 — would simply receive the $79 in stamps without having to come up with cash first. This action was proposed by President Carter, who said some poor families are unable to get food stamps because they cannot make the required cash payment.

The proposed changes announced today would implement reform food stamp legislation passed by Congress last year.

"We expect the changes to be of particular benefit to the elderly and working poor," Secretary Bergland said. "More elderly and low-income working families will now be able to participate and improve their nutrition."

The secretary said the new law, and the proposed regulations, were designed to "strike a fair balance" in food aid to the needy.

"The changes would assure that those with the highest income — and those not significantly in need of food stamps — would no longer qualify, while we do a better job of reaching those who truly are in need," Secretary Bergland said.

The proposed rules lower the net income levels for food stamps to the federal poverty level and simplify eligibility determinations by replacing most itemized deductions now used in the program with standard deductions.

The rules are intended to take effect late this year. The U. S. Department of Agriculture plans to accept comments on the proposals until June 16, and to issue final rules this summer. States will then be allowed several months to prepare for implementation of the rules.

Issuance of the proposed regulations follows 17 public hearings conducted by the department last fall in urban and rural communities across the country to assure

Superintendents Approve Five-Girl Cage Ruling

By Doug Simpson
In an effort to further prepare potential scholarship players, Texas superintendents chose to install the much-debated 5-girl, full-court basketball ruling recently, by the commanding vote of 549-369.

It was the second time that the ruling had been accepted for such a proposal, which had been called for an additional vote because a more accurate count of the schools involved was expected.

Class AAAA schools overwhelmingly favored the ruling by a 161-24 margin, and only Class A rejected the proposal, 106-74.

The new full-court rules will take effect for girls' basketball, beginning with the 1978-79 season.

The UIL Legislative Council and Texas High School Girls Coaches Association had apparently intended to put the issue up for an additional vote in an attempt to settle the matter "once and for all".

Alcohol Flow Noted At Park

CANYON—An excessive number of alcohol-consumption violations have been recorded at Palo Duro State Park in the Texas Panhandle by parks personnel. "A total of 28 citations for consumption of alcohol in public in a state park have been issued within the last three weeks," said Billy Baker, assistant parks superintendent.

"The rule allows no intoxicating liquors or beverages to be sold or publicly consumed within any Unit of the State Park System or a portion thereof," Baker continued.

State Parks visitors are asked to obey all parks rules which are posted in all parks in Texas.

MOTHERS

EXPECTING CALLS

Many women will be expecting on May 14 this year, but most will be expecting telephone calls.

That's why Southwestern Bell is gearing up to handle calling on Mother's Day, the busiest single day of the year, and offering these tips:

"The heaviest calling periods on Mother's Day are between 9 and 11 a.m. and 7 and 11 p.m.," Jim West, Southwestern Bell manager for Plainview, said. "Because telephone people and equipment are busiest then, some slight delays may result. To make sure those special calls go through, we are advising customers to call at off-peak times."

West said that extra operators will be on duty to handle the expected calling load. "But people should remember that customer-dialed calls cost less than operator-assisted calls regardless of the hour."

The manager said the lowest long distance rates will apply all day Sunday until 5 p.m., when evening rates go into effect.

"Nearly 1.7 million long distance calls will be placed in Texas this Mother's Day," West said, "and 15.4 million interstate calls are expected nationwide. Last year 1.5 million calls were made in Texas, up six percent from 1976."

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY THANK YOU

FOR YOUR SUPPORT IN THE DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

Will work to merit the confidence you have placed in me. Thanks to the many people of Floyd County who offered the encouragement and support. I am honored by your faith and confidence. The doors to my office will always be open to the people. I can truthfully say that this campaign was one of the most enjoyable experiences in my life—partly because I was able to meet so many wonderful people, and partly because my two opponents were such gentlemen. I also want to thank my opponents for the clean high level campaign they ran.

Sincerely
Choise Smith

More than 30,000 veterans recently discovered a better way to pay their GI life insurance premiums. Thanks to a direct mail notice from the Veterans Administration, they've changed to other than a monthly mode of payment - at a savings to themselves and VA.

Quarterly, semi-annual or annual payments offer advantages over the monthly plan, according to VA's

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M.C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C. - In March 1978, the Congress, by resolution, designated May 3 as "Sun Day." On March 27, 1978, the President in response to the action of Congress issued a proclamation making the day official.

Because of the great potential for energy from the sun, the day was celebrated across the Nation last week with some impressive ceremonies. Here in Washington, an estimated 25,000 people gathered around the Washington monument to hear how the gathering of the sun's rays can produce electrical power by several technical methods.

At Crosbyton, where a demonstration plant is being developed, daylong ceremonies were held to give education as to the great possibilities of this source of energy on down in the years ahead. Crosbyton people have been diligently working on the project for several years. Aided by technicians from Texas Tech University, all have done a magnificent job and there are a lot of people all across the country watching the developments there. Many will want to visit Crosbyton to see how giant mirrors capture the sun's rays and how they are converted into power.

Remember the fable about which is the most powerful, the sun, or the wind and which could make the man take off his coat? The fable did not involve the great and inexhaustible power of these two elements. The wind, too, is being harnessed to produce sources of energy. There is an irony in these two powerful elements which can render such havoc but can be converted for good. Winds can destroy and so can the sun, and both have to be respected even though both give great promise for sources of power. Life could not exist without both but both can inflict cruel damage unless their powers are observed and treated properly. Tornado season is coming on and nothing can be done about that except to know where they are and prepare as best one can for any eventuality. It is also the season when the sun's rays can be fiercest. Sunbathers, beachwalkers, fishermen, and golfers should taken note that too much sun can cause skin cancer. It is estimated that there are 300,000 cases a year and 6,500 deaths. The first and best way, of course, is to avoid too much sun. The next course of action should be to see a doctor when skin changes occur. Skin cancers can be treated successfully if attention is given soon enough.

Scientists have said about 60% of the ultra violet rays of the sun reach the earth's surface between 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. Whether driving a tractor or engaging in some form of recreation, we are told that this period of the day is the time to be more careful.

It will be years before we are able to fully utilize the powerful elements from the sun and must, therefore, depend on sources of energy we now have. The experts tell us, however, of the tremendous possibilities in nature and all efforts must be made to capture this inexhaustible resource. The environmentalists protest the burning of coal, and regulations make its use much more expensive. They object to the development of nuclear power and to exploration for oil and gas in our off-shore waters. It would seem they would have a hard time in making a case against sun power.

Lockney Senior Citizens Hear Program By Mrs. Applewhite

Lockney Senior Citizens met last Thursday in the First United Methodist Church fellowship hall with 31 in attendance. Barry and Algene Barker and Conrad and Marie Henderson served as hosts. A social hour preceded the covered-dish meal. Mrs. G. C. Applewhite presented the program, which she titled "Some of My Favorite Things."

OUR EDITOR for the month of May, Ralph Sellmeyer, promises to bring me a recipe from his wife to reprint in my column. Its intitled "Watergate Cake".... so we will see what comes of this. Speaking of a recipe I wonder how many of you read where they (they being Random House) have issued a "recipe recall". The publisher announced that there was an error in a recipe for "Silky Caramel Slices" in its recent book, "Women's Day Crockery Cuisine" which "could cause a serious explosion". Somewhere along the line...bad proof reading no doubt...water got left out of the recipe so the recipe calls for a can of condensed milk to be heated...it didn't say in water...so some housewife may do just that, put can and all in the crockery which could turn the whole thing into a blast!

TO REMOVE labels from plastic bowl lids, place them in the freezer for about 15 minutes. Label will then peel off easily.

FOR AN easy dessert, heat applesauce with a sprinkle of nutmet and lemon peel. Serve on toasted pound cake slices. Top with ice cream, or frozen whip topping.

ONE OF the funnies of American shopping has, traditionally been giveaways, specials, bonuses, trading stamps, etc.

In the late sixties, however, the trading stamp business became so widespread it lost its uniqueness--and effectiveness. Also, the fuel shortage and other economic factors tended to work against the system.

But trading stamps are staging a comeback. Officials of all the trading stamp companies agree that the turnaround came in 1977 and that 1978 was the low point. It's estimated that the number of grocery stores using stamps: sunk to only a few hundred in 1976.

In 1978 up to 18,000 stores will either try games or stamps for a minimum thirteen week period or use them full-time, according to Robert Herron, an official of the nation's largest game business company.

While it may be true that in most cases the buyer pays for the freebies, stamps, etc., millions of Americans enjoy the game. In most of the rest of the world, where competition is more restricted and merchants don't have to compete actively, the shopping atmosphere is grim. It's a sellers' market rather than a buyers' market, in comparison with the free competition, adequate supply, fun and games of American shopping. One likes it that way in this country.
