Cotton Farmers Indicate 205,000 Acres

By Wendell Tooley
According to a report from the county ASCS office, Floyd County cotton farmers indicated they had... or would plant 205,000 acres of cotton this year.

acres of cotton are up, but the 205,000 acres represents the sign-up indication. Recent rains have really helped the row crops and all the cotton needs now is plenty of warm weather.

GRAIN ACREAGE DOWN
Wheat, corn and grain sorghum acreage is all down from last year... mainly because the price is low and it takes a lot of water to make a good grain crop... and irrigation water is mighty expensive nowadays.

The wheat sign up is 67,000 acres, corn 18,000 and grain sorghum 43,000 acres. The ASCS records show 38,000 acres set aside and 79,000 "other acres".

Concerning the wheat program Moore said, "Some of you who do not intend to harvest your wheat and others who will harvest some wheat will need to make application for an appraisal. Remember, you have only 15 days after harvest to file your request for low yield payment. Acreage not harvested must not be plowed until an appraisal is made if producers are interested in payments. Compute eligibility for low yield as follows: Planted acreage X payment yield X 60% = Disaster Level."

Stenholm Wins Run-Off

Stamford's Charles Stenholm overwhelmed Abilene's Dusty Rhodes in Saturday's Democratic Primary Run-off for U.S. Congressman by a huge margin 46,599 to 22,871.

Floyd County voters again supported Stenholm, favoring him 667 to 168 over Rhodes.

Farmer and businessman Stenholm will face Republican Bill Fisher, an Abilene attorney, in the November general election.

Floyd voters joined the state in electing Poerner over Sadler by a voter

Public Hearing

A public meeting on the Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (public law 95-192) is scheduled June 9 at 8 p.m. in the Lighthouse Electric Building.

The meeting, sponsored by the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District and the USDA Soil Conservation Service, will be conducted by Chairman G.L. Fawver and District Conservationist Jon J. La Baume.

Comments resulting from the meeting will be summarized and used at the state and national level to assure that public needs and desires are considered in future conservation programs, according to Fawver. Any and all who are interested in conservation are invited.

AND RISING

Mackenzie Reaches 94 Feet

Lake Mackenzie stood at 94 feet Tuesday morning and a one to two inch rain in its watershed Monday night had not yet reached the lake. Despite the 12 feet rise since rains began a week ago Sunday, the lake is only about 26 per cent full.

Bob Thompson and Gary Reeves, professional engineers, have located what they think will be a suitable site for a boat ramp on the north side. Plans are to extend the present ramp on the south side, providing two ramps, according to Gary Martin, assistant manager.

White Sox, Cubs Launch 1978 T-Shirt Season Victorious

By Doug Simpson

The Red Sox will battle Dodgers at 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday, June 8), and the Floydada Tri-Countians will host Idalou at 8:30 on the big diamond. Johnny Soliz' A's baseball team's slated matchup with Petersburg was postponed Wednesday, also due to the field conditions caused by rain.

Weather permitting, there will be more T-Shirt action tonight (Pirates and White Sox) in addition to the Little League game, and the Tri-County game.

Coaches for each of the T-Shirt league clubs are: PIRATES: Jr. Martinez, Bud Rainey, Jakey Younger; WHITE SOX: Wayne Lipham; CUBS: Ricky Vasquez; YANKEES: Johnny Harris, Jr., Gene Ehler.

District's Annual Water Measurements Completed

The annual depth-to-water measurements were completed in January 1978, in approximately 800 water level observation wells located within the boundaries of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1. These privately owned wells are documentally maintained and measured each year by District employees.

Information in the accompanying tables concerning water level changes and depths-to-water are indicative only of that portion of the county within the District.

The table, "Average Decline of the Water Table" presents a comparison of the average changes in water levels of the observation wells within the District area of each of the counties for the period 1977 to 1978 (one year change) and for the average annual changes for the period 1969 to 1978 (ten year average annual change). It is interesting to note that eleven of the fifteen District Counties have one year county averages in excess of the average annual values for the ten year period. The differences for these eleven counties ranged from a minimum of 0.02 feet for Armstrong to a maximum of 1.96 feet for Crosby. The significance of these observations would be to verify the continued decline of the water table during 1977 in most counties at a rate which approximates, and in some cases exceeds, the historical ten year average annual rate for corresponding counties.

The table, "Summary of Water-Level Measurements" presents county averages for depths to water in feet below land surface. The "Number of Wells" columns for both 1969 and 1978 refer only to those wells currently in the program in 1978 that were also being measured in 1969.

To somewhat clarify the average depths to water, tabulations of the minimum and maximum depths to water reported in individual wells in each of the counties is also presented. Inspection of this data reported for the District Counties in 1978 develops appreciation of the extreme variables in these figures within individual counties. Thirteen of the fifteen reported differences in excess of 200 feet. The difference between the minimum and maximum depth-to-water for the District area is over 350 feet. Although these depth-to-water figures do not totally parallel availability of groundwater in storage, they do serve to demonstrate the great variability in aquifer conditions inherent in the Ogallala of the Southern High Plains.

The District average depths-to-water figures are somewhat nebulous data, but their significance probably lies in their mathematical difference. This difference is specifically 18.77 feet which, with reservations, can be interpreted as the total average change in the average depth to water from 1969 to 1978 for the entire District area. Use of this specific figure, however, to describe any particular area of the District probably should be discouraged.

TAX ASSESSMENT
Texas Research League reports that tax assessors in 254 Texas Counties value property on their tax rolls at $36.4 billion in 1975, compared to a total state government estimated market value of $232.6 million. These figures reveal the average assessed value is 15.6% of the government computed market value; the range was from 2.6% to 35.6%. Seventy-one counties assessed at less than 10% of the state computed market value while 31 counties were 20% or more.

There are some real problems in reporting county assessment ratios. The primary fallacy in the state market value figure is that most of the property in the city is intangible, which escapes the tax rolls, compared to rural property, which is practically all real estate which is easily inventoried.

Avoid "big fall" accidents two ways. Keep throw rugs away from the foot of stairs, and teach children to wipe up spills immediately.

There are areas which exceed this decline for the ten year period and other areas which would not approach this figure. The significance of the average decline lies in the fact that declines are occurring in individual observation wells to the extent that an average of their changes for the ten year period approaches 19 feet of water table decline.

The complete records of the individual wells in the District water-level observation well program, as previously discussed, are maintained in the District files in the Lubbock office. This information is available for public inspection and is currently being used in preparation of a reproducible permanent file to provide copies of the information to interested persons. If additional information is needed, please contact the District office at 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas.

TICKS IN SEASON--Tick numbers are high this spring, causing inconvenience and health hazards, notes an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Two of the most common ticks in home landscapes are the brown dog tick and the American dog tick. Several sprays or dusts are effective against ticks--diazinon or ronnel in the home and diazinon or carbaryl (Sevin) on the outside. Heavy infestations in the home may require treatment by professionals. Cutting grass and weeds and clearing debris from the landscape reduces tick numbers.

STEADY COTTON MARKET--Although the U.S. cotton crop will be much smaller this year than last, prices are expected to show little improvement, according to a marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

World cotton supplies remain large, as in U.S. cotton in public storage. While exports are strong, domestic mill use remains weak. And the competition between manmade fibers and cotton remains intense.

Functional furniture makes use of existing says Glenda Mann and home interior specialist with the Cultural Extension Service. The Texas A&M System.

The Administration in Washington is moving to plan to make "meaningful, all-county, all-plains insurance available to farmers.

According to Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland, combine the insurance now offered by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, emergency Federal and Small Business Administration loans and payment programs.

Bergland has delivered for the consideration of Congress of the Farm Production Protection Act of 1978 and enactment by July 1, which he says would give the 1980 crop year. Low yield and prevented plantings provisions of the Agriculture Act of 1977, unless they expire at the end of 1979.

Officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, say the disaster program, conceived by PCG and enacted in 1973 farm law, has been a great boon to farmers on Plains where weather is such a significant production factor. Secretary Bergland has repeatedly called the disaster "a disaster in itself."

"By no means will we abandon our efforts to extend the disaster program beyond 1979," Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "we will exert whatever influence we can to get an all-plains program that will serve the needs of producers in this area."

The Administration's bill would offer farmers a different protection levels on all crops now covered by the disaster program plus a dozen others, including grown crops of soybeans, sunflowers and sugar beets. Minimum coverage, according to a Bergland spokesman, would be 50 percent of production costs. At that level the government would each pay half the premium. Choosing 70 percent protection would pay most of the additional 20 percent, and to get coverage on 80 percent production costs the producer would pay the final 20 percent of coverage.

The proposed bill would authorize CCC to the planting protection. But in his letter of transmittal, Speaker Thomas O'Neill, Bergland referred to this as "specialty" insurance and said such coverage should be on an experimental basis.

"I'm sure our Board of Directors will object to thinking," notes Johnson, "because present protection is badly needed on the Plains and 'specialty' would be a misnomer from the start if such program made available to all producers."

 The Westbrooks have been keeping a close watch on Mr. Westbrook's garden just west of the home. Our devotion has been so nice this week. The residents have come out each morning to take part in the singing. We would like to thank Mrs. E.L. Widener, Doris Drysdale, and Ruth Sanders for the dishes, lids and patterns, they so willingly gave us for our crafts. We also had two sacks of large scraps left by the office door Wednesday afternoon. No one seems to know who left them. We will use them making our biscuit pillows.

Our trip Wednesday took us northeast of Cedar Hill to the home of Billy Ruth and Lindsey Lackey. We forgot to call and tell them we were coming, and they were in town shopping. Those enjoying the trip were Henry Love, Green Bostick, Effie Smith, Robbie Bratton, Victoria Asher, Hope Hammonds and Anis Franks. We also drove by Anis's farm. Her cotton sure is looking good.

We had eight to play bingo this week. Clara Williamson won three games, Pearl Carrick with two, Hope Hammonds, Ray Reed, Anis Franks, Victoria Asher, Mamie Gray and Agnes Anderson won one each. It was so nice having Agnes play bingo with us again. Hope she continues to improve.

We would like to thank the City Park Church Bible School class for the delicious cookies, the residents along with the entire staff enjoyed Friday afternoon in the dining room.

We want to thank each of our visitors: Parnell Powell, Anne Swebston, Ed and Faye Walters, Otis Anderson, Thelma Jones, Roxie Cowey, Artie Webb, Opal Ashton, Anne Smith, Ethel Carmack, Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Davis and Dustin Holladay, and Lorene Reasoner all from Floydada.

Mrs. Bob Burns: Amarillo, Evelyn Crull, David, Connie and Jim McCulley from Lubbock.

Corene Stewart: Leveland, Mrs. Bill Smallwood, and Thanie Smallwood-Matador, Ruby Pharis: Fort Worth, Floyd and Marie Murry: Canadian, Ausie and Estelle Watson: Abilene, Gene Stom: Snyder, and J.M. Pan: Noconk.

Farris-Marble Tennis Duo Wins

By Doug Simpson
 A sparkling performance by former FHS tennis greats Elizabeth Farris and Donnette Marble achieved a sweep of the women's division of the Plainview Closed Tennis Classic Friday and Saturday.

The Farris-Marble duo edged a determined pair of netters from Hale Center and Plainview, enroute to the championship of women's doubles competition. The winning margin by which the local team triumphed? It couldn't possibly have been closer—a 6-4, 5-7, 7-6 (4-4 tiebreaker) scorecard enabled Marble and Farris to reign as title-holders.

For the reading club. Registration for the reading club will begin June 15. In August members of the Study Club will have a special event for those children who have read their quota of books.

As they read and play in Chimera, children will continue to use the reading skills developed during the school year and they will learn to use and appreciate the Public Library. Come to Chimera!

In singles play, the Floydada duo eliminated competition during opening, quarterfinal, and semi-final rounds to reach the finals.

Farris and Marble will battle each other on the FHS courts at a time still undetermined at presstime.

Also competing from Floydada included Frank Barrow and Tommy Baxter in men's doubles, Gerry Norrell-Greg Pruitt in high school boys' doubles (lost in finals to Hale Center duo) and Galvan-Rodriguez, who reached the semis in Jr. High doubles play.

Christy Norrell competed in girls' singles competition.

Community Profile

WORKER — Flora McNeill of Floydada stands by a water color painting of the house her father's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Day, pioneers, lived in when they came to the Estacado Community in Crosby County, a Quacker settlement south of Petersburg. Mrs. McNeill works hard at home, on the farm and in the community.

Busy woman finishes job

By MARIE HARRIS
Herald Regional Editor

FLOYDADA — "I never learned to ride a bicycle, swim or dance but I was taught to work," said Flora McNeill, lifetime Floyd County resident. "When I start something, I work and finish it."

And work she always has — first for her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. G.H. Day, on the family farm in the McCoy Community where she was reared. The Days moved there in 1916 when she was a year old from the Allmon Community, her birthplace.

She graduated from Floydada High School at 15 — "too young", according to her parents to go to college. "Anyway, it was in the depression and times were too hard for me to go," stated Mrs. McNeill.

AFTER FLORA and Malcolm J. (Mac) McNeill were married May 26, 1935, she devoted herself to assisting him. Today they still are working side by side, farming their 1,000 acres and tending to nine irrigation wells. "We do everything, except hiring someone to hoe, including the harvesting," Mrs. McNeill explained. She drives a tractor and a truck to haul wheat, grain and cotton, and helps with the seed when he plants.

"I can hardly wait until we retire!" she exclaimed. "There are so many places we want to go." The couple already has gone to Europe and Hawaii and taken a Caribbean cruise. They have fun traveling in their Airstream trailer to Florida, California, Missouri, Las Vegas, Nev., the Mardi Gras in New Orleans and attending rallies of the travel group.

Mrs. McNeill, not only gives of herself for her family, but also for her community — she is one of those busy women who easily pick up non-paying and often thankless jobs. For many years probably no fund raising drive was conducted in Floydada without Mrs. McNeill taking part. She was often a division chairman, getting workers and campaigning for Cancer, Heart, Red Cross, Polio, United Fund or whatever worthwhile charity needed money.

WHILE LIVING in the country — in the Campbell Community in 1935-43 and then two miles north of Floydada — Mrs. McNeill was a home demonstration club member and served as Floyd County HD Council chairman. She gave up this work when the McNeills built their present beautiful brick home in Floydada in 1954.

She is a member of the 1934 Study Club and of the Women's Division of Floydada Chamber of Commerce of which she has been social chairman.

Mrs. McNeill had a part in founding the Floyd County Library. Representing Precinct 2, she secured signatures for a petition asking the commissioners court for the library. She also assisted in getting the library branch in Lockney.

MRS. McNEILL joined the Methodist Church at Rushing Chapel near Floydada and became zone leader of the women's group and in the 1940s served as Plainview District promotional secretary. As a member of First United Methodist Church in Floydada, she was president of the Women's Society of Christian Service and has ended another two-year term as president of the present United Methodist Women. She is on the church administrative board, has served on various committees, taught a Sunday School class, worked in the nursery, and sings in the choir.

Three years ago when nobody else dared, Mrs. McNeill was swinging on the ladder putting decorations on a 20-foot Christmas tree at the church. A year ago she was the sole decorator of the annual tree after a plea from the pastor on Friday to have it ready by Sunday.

Mrs. McNeill has directed memorial programs at the Floyd County Pioneer Reunion and the Floydada Ex-Students Reunion three times each.

SHE IS VERY active in the Floyd County Democratic Party and with her husband and daughter attended the inauguration of President Lyndon Johnson. Their daughter is Janice Adams of Lubbock, whose husband Roland is a pharmacist. They have one granddaughter, Misty.

A former worthy matron and longtime secretary of the local chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. McNeill became Esther Saturday night. She was a deputy grand matron in 1956-57, district deputy grand matron in 1962-63, and Grand Electa of the Grand Chapter of Texas in 1970-71. Now on the state level she is a member of the Legacy of Love committee and is section chairman.

McNeill has been OES worthy patron three times and was worshipful master of Floydada Masonic Lodge during its 75th anniversary. Mrs. McNeill helped organize the Floydada Assembly of the Order of the Rainbow for Girls and was mother adviser two years. Her husband was Rainbow dad. Both served on the advisory board and were awarded the Grand Cross of Color.

A WOMAN with drive, Mrs. McNeill found it difficult to be ill in bed five months in the winter of 1944-45 and assumed some of her heaviest OES duties following recuperation.

"I could not believe that I had to quit my activities," she recalled. "I had to prove to myself that I could still do things and get back in real deep."

Full of nervous energy, Mrs. McNeill does all of her yard work, housework and home decorating. She likes to make scrapbooks and do needlepoint. She has made Christmas tree ornaments and four lovely net and felt or satin tablecloths, one for each season, with appliques, pearls, sequins and other trim. She has collections of plates, spoons and items that have sentimental meaning. On a wall of their family room are water color paintings by Ted Bell of every house in which she and other family members lived. Whatever she does, Mrs. McNeill, the perfectionist, does well.

March Accident Total Released By Texas DPS

By Doug Simpson
If you drive a motor vehicle in traffic on a U.S. or state route between the hours of 4 and 6 p.m., chances are you might become a statistic.

According to a recently released report by the Texas Department of Public Safety, 989 of the 6,834 reported accidents in rural areas of Texas during March occurred under those exact conditions.

The summary indicated that a mere margin of one was the only difference between mishaps occurring at 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. on rural Texas highways.

Four hundred ninety-five accidents resulting at 4 p.m. topped the long list of times, places, and types of mishaps, with the 494 figure belonging to rush-hour traffic time (5 p.m.).

The report revealed that 173 persons died on rural highways during March, 1978. Most of the deaths occurred in traffic on U.S. and state routes. The time of death differed, however, with night sight and 7 p.m. topping the list.

Traffic mishaps claimed the lives of 129 men and 44 women during March. Nine pedestrian deaths were reported.

For comparison, 31,710 mishaps occurred throughout Texas. The majority was again the motor-vehicle-in-traffic category. But most accidents happened on city streets, rather than on state and U.S. routes, and more mishaps were reported in the rush hour category, rather than during the 4 p.m. time.

Two-hundred persons died in Texas accidents, most in the 25-34 age category. The 20-24 group ranked a close second, and the 15-19 age category ranked a strong third.

As of March, 722 persons died in deaths in motor vehicle traffic mishaps have been reported. This is a 72-death increase over last year's figure at that time.

Some 37,829 injuries have been reported, a slight increase over 1977's figure.

FFA Boys To Attend Workshop

Blake Kitchens, Andy Langley and Clinton Ware, Floydada High School members of Future Farmers of America, have been selected to attend Southwestern Public Service Company's 16th annual Farm Electrification Workshop.

More than 100 FFA members and leaders will attend the workshop to be held June 12, 13 and 14 at the Episcopal Conference Center in Amarillo.

The FFA members, who come from Texas and New Mexico, will be competing for five trips to the National FFA Convention at Kansas City, Mo. Thirteen hours of instruction are offered in each of three subjects, Farm Motors, Farm Wiring and Electric Controls. Two students from the Wiring and Motor courses and one from the Controls course are selected as outstanding and receive the trips to Kansas City for their accomplishment. Each student who finishes the course he is enrolled in is awarded a certificate. Alternates are selected in each course in the event the winner is unable to attend the convention.

Heading the staff of instructors at the workshop are Ken Pollard, Texas A&M Agricultural Engineering Department - Electric Controls; Bobby Browning, Textline - Farm Wiring; Don Ham, Dalhart - Farm Wiring; Frank Kennedy, Vega - Farm Motors; and Jay Eudy, Turkey - Farm Motors.

The program for the conference was coordinated by Walter Labay, Area I Vocational-Agriculture Supervisor, and Sam Thomas, SPS Agriculture Development Manager. Glenn Bickel, SPS Power Sales Engineer, will moderate the general sessions.

Texas Farmland Up

COLLEGE STATION — The value of Texas farmland went up 11 percent for the year ending Feb. 1, slightly outdistancing the nationwide increase of 9 percent.

The increase raised the national average from $450 to $490 per acre, noted Dr. William E. Black, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, citing

Suffragist, Presley Coin Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Suffragist Susan B. Anthony is the popular leader for depiction on the new $1 coin, but she has 54 rivals for the honor, including Klondike Kate, the Virgin Mary and Elvis Presley.

Most of the competitors are easily recognizable, like Helen Keller, Eleanor Roosevelt or, for that matter, Presley. But what about Kitty "Bulldog" O'Leary?

The Treasury Department said on Wednesday a list of the persons and symbols suggested by citizens who have written the government since plans for a small $1 coin were announced.

During this process, a movement sprang up to have the proposed coin bear the face of an American woman.

The Treasury list was transmitted without comment to the House Banking subcommittee on historic preservation and coinage. The Treasury Department recommended that the coin bear the image of Miss Liberty.

Nonetheless, the department provided a percentage breakdown on suggestions by private citizens.

Suffragist leader Anthony was ahead with 30.2 percent. Miss Keller, an inspiration to the handicapped, had 14 percent. Mrs. Roosevelt, 9.9; Betsy Ross, the flag designer, 9.4; Amelia Earhart, the pioneer aviator lost in the Pacific, 2.2; first lady Martha Washington and Harriet Tubman, who helped free slaves, also 2.2 each, and Jane Addams, social worker, 2. Miss Liberty rated 4.7 percent and no one else was supported by as much as 2 percent.

The minority nominations disclosed a sweep of American admiration and whimsy. Belle Starr and Klondike Kate, out of the raffish old West, were nominated. But so was the Virgin Mary.

The formidable-sounding O'Leary nomination presented a mystery. The Treasury said she was among those nominated without supporting information, and the Library of Congress reported itself unable without major research to find a trace of her.

Most of the nominees were well-known women from public life, social movements and the arts. Among the few male nominees, beside singer Presley, were Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

President John F. Kennedy's widow and mother were both on the list. So were Pocahontas and Sacajawea, the Indian girl who guided the Lewis and Clark expedition.

Testimony before the subcommittee Wednesday gave heavy support to the Anthony cause. However, there was some support for Maggie Lena Walker of Richmond, Va., described as a black almanac waif born two years after the Civil War ended, who became the first woman president of a bank in the United States.

Rep. Walter Fauntroy, D-D.C., said the subcommittee will continue its hearings. Fauntroy added that he believes there is general agreement on the principle of producing the coin.

But he said the panel would have to consider a long delay in coinage if the Treasury Department's recommended Miss Liberty design is not accepted.

figures from a U.S. Department of Agriculture report. "Although the rate of increase has slowed, land markets still can generally be called strong," said Black.

While Texas surpassed the national average increase, a number of states showed an even greater increase in farmland values. Wisconsin had the steepest gain, 18 percent, followed by South Dakota, 17 percent; Maryland, 16 percent; Louisiana and Mississippi, 15 percent; Missouri, 14 percent; California, Ohio and Kentucky, 13 percent, and Minnesota, Indiana, Tennessee, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Delaware, 12 percent.

Nebraska was the only state showing a decline in farmland values for the year, down 4 percent. Increases of 3 and 4 percent were common in the South-

ASK QUESTIONS
Some features are not visible, so ask salesperson questions about the quality.

EXAMINE TAILORING
Start by examining the tailoring. Look for no loose threads and concealed staples and tacks. Check that seams are straight and securely stitched. Pull on each side of a seam gently—they should not give. Look for straight—not wavy-welt cording.

Check that plaids and stripes are well-matched and that prints are centered on each cushion.

READ LABELS
Second, look for labels to see if the fabric is treated to repel water and stains.

BOUNCE IN FURNITURE
Third, bounce in the chair or sofa. The springs should not hit the frame. Seat construction should feel soft but provide good support. The furniture should allow your feet to rest on the floor. Squeeze the arms of sofas and chairs. If padding between the fabric and the wood is sufficient, the frame can't be felt.

First, ask about the frame. Better quality will have frames of steel or kiln-dried hardwood—maple, ash, birch, mahogany, alder or oak. Be wary of soft wood—fir, cedar or pine.

The joints where the frames are put together should be double dowel or triple dowel with reinforcement blocks at points of stress.

Next, ask about the springs. Two types of springs are used in well-built furniture, coil spring and convoluted spring.

Finally, ask about the type of filling used in the cushions. Polyurethane foam, foam rubber and man-made fiber fill are non-allergenic, odorless, mothproof and mildew proof. Filling of down or down and feathers is usually used in expensive furniture.

Tax Representative In Floydada June 8th

AUSTIN—State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Lubbock office to Floydada on Thurs. June 8, 1978 to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes. Bullock said Enforcement Officer, Benito Rocha will meet with local taxpayers at the Floydada Court House, Room 103 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. "If Floydada-area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Rocha will be there to assist them," Bullock said. "We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added. Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on June 8th that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL-FREE tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555. The Lubbock office, headed by Donald F. Paxton, serves Lubbock and surrounding counties.

The Floyd Philosopher Finds That Foreign Tourists Finally Are Coming Over To Look At Us

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses tourism this week, more or less.

Dear editor: For years, the ambition of a lot of Americans has been to go abroad. You haven't lived, they said, till you've seen what the rest of the world is like, seen its people, their customs, their cultures, their historic buildings and monuments, their cathedrals and castles and museums and exotic foods and things like that.

don't want tourists tromping down the grass. Furthermore, while foreigners are supposed to have quaint ways, they've got no corner on the market. You can't get any quainter than our teen-agers or two-thirds out state legislators. The changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace is supposed to be a sight worth seeing and I'll admit it may be a better show than the changing of governors following an election, but the results frequently are about the same.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

TOP RURAL COMMUNITIES IN TEXAS--The top four rural communities in the Texas Community Improvement Program are Wildorado, Oldham County; Gause, Milam County; Dike, Hopkins County; and Mirando City, Webb County. These communities will be honored at a special Governor's Luncheon at the Marriott Hotel in Austin, June 14, according to a community improvement specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Leaders from each community will be presented a special plaque and a check for $300.

FARMLAND VALES UP--The value of Texas farmland went up 11 percent for the year ending Feb. 1, slightly outdistancing the nationwide increase of 9 percent, points out an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Texas farmland is currently valued at $316 an acre compared to $285 in February, 1977, and $195 in February, 1976. The national average value of farmland increased from $450 an acre last year to the current $490.

Cotton Export Sales Good

MEMPHIS, June 2 (Special) -- U.S. cotton is chalking up a banner year in export markets this season, and groundwork is being laid to keep the momentum going into 1978-79.

Reports to the National Cotton Council's board of directors here today indicated this season's total export commitments hit 6.4 million bales on May 21. With shipments moving well, actual exports by the season's end are expected to total about 5.3 million bales. Excess commitments will be carried over to next season. In addition, outstanding sales for next marketing year have already reached 1.4 million.

David C. Hull, Council Foreign operations director, said factors behind this year's strong exports include aggressive selling by U.S. exporters, adequate credit, excellent quality, plentiful supply, and competitive prices. He also cited a widening series of market development activities by Cotton Council International (CCI) which have added to the thrust.

Among activities described was a Cotton Belt orientation program for representatives from the Washington liaison office of the People's Republic of China. This led to a reciprocal visit by a U.S. cotton trade team to China in mid-May, and Hull said he believed the exchange will have a favorable long-term influence on U.S. raw cotton sales to PRC.

As a follow-up, six representatives of the China National Textiles Import and Export Corporation -- who buy all of the PRC's raw cotton imports -- will be invited to visit the Cotton Belt this fall. Also scheduled are separate Cotton Belt orientation tours for a group of 15 cotton buyers from Europe, and another group of top-level textile officials from Bangladesh. In addition, CCI will send two trade teams to Europe and two to the Far East this fall.

Overseas visits by the Maid of Cotton were cited as another important factor in U.S. cotton's bid for foreign markets. James T. Hazelwood, Council promotion manager, pointed out that the Maid's tour not only provides a peg for getting year-round promotion programs underway for U.S. cotton overseas but also helps establish relationships between textile industry leaders, foreign government officials, and U.S. representatives. Maid of Cotton Ruth Harman also reported on highlights of her recently completed tour to Europe and the Far East.

This season's strong export sales are a key factor behind the 8-cent rise in cotton prices since early February, Council Economist Arlie Bowling said. While the price increase is providing much-needed improvement in farm income prospects, it is not expected to result in serious market losses unless the price gap continues to widen between cotton and its major synthetic fiber competitors. With this season's domestic consumption expected to be about 6.6 million bales, total offtake for the current crop will probably equal 11.9 million.

Regarding the 1978-79 outlook, Bowling said a survey of Extension Service leaders indicated production could range from 11.5 million bales to 12.1 million. Prospects are promising for exports reasonably close to this season's level, and domestic consumption between 6.5 and 7 million bales. If this develops, it could result in a somewhat lower carryover than the 5.4 million bales projected for the current season.

Board members were warned, however, that the impending cotton dust standard could adversely affect cotton's demand outlook. Gaylon Booker, Council economist, and Dr. Phillip Wakelyn, staff technology manager, said the final standard -- expected to be published earlier this year -- has been delayed pending a review by the President's economic advisors of its inflationary aspect. The review followed a series of meetings and communications by Council and industry leaders with key Administration officials.

While the Occupational Safety and Health Administration has estimated the capital cost of its draft final standard at $625 million compared with $2.7 billion for the standard it initially proposed, Council staff members questioned the figures.

They said the current proposal's lower cost is partially explained by liberalized exposure limits in some work areas. OSHA's initial proposal specified a cotton dust exposure limit of 0.2 milligrams in all work areas in every industry sector. In contrast, the draft final standard calls for textile mill exposure limits of 0.2 only in yarn production areas; 0.75 for weaving; and 0.5 for non-textile industries except ginning.

Council staff members noted that capital cost at the textile mill level would run $1.1 billion in yarn production alone. This raises doubts concerning OSHA's $625 million estimate for all industry sectors. Indications are the biggest economic impact under the draft final standard would fall on textile mills, cottonseed oil mills, and waste cotton sectors.

Regardless of the final standard's outcome, staff members emphasized that research on cotton dust and byssinosis must be continued at a high level to provide a solution to the problem.

A report by Dr. Andrew Jordan detailed Council and industry efforts to relieve the severe freight car shortage shipments of baled cotton as well as oil mill products. While the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Interstate Commerce Commission are "cautiously optimistic" that more cars will gradually become available for loading cotton, he said the situation could get worse in view of next month's grain harvest in Texas unless more cars come on line and existing equipment is better utilized.

Council board members also heard reports on pesticides, trade negotiations and textile imports, farm legislation, Washington activities, and the United Nations Committee on Trade and Development program.

Social Security Answer Column

Janis Sherrod Social Security Representative Question: My mother has serious emotional problems. Her doctor wants to put her in a psychiatric hospital for treatment. Will her Medicare insurance pay for this care?

Answer: Medicare hospital insurance can help pay for no more than 190 days of care in a participating psychiatric hospital. Once a Medicare beneficiary has used these 190 days, hospital insurance cannot pay for any more care in a psychiatric hospital. In addition, there is a special rule that applies if the beneficiary is in a participating psychiatric hospital at the time his or her hospital insurance starts. For more information, contact any social security office.

For further information regarding Social Security benefits please contact the Social Security office, 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview, Texas. You may call free of charge by dialing operator and asking for Enterprise 8-4132. A telephone call to the Plainview office may save you time and a trip.

SOYBEAN YIELD CONTEST--Texas soybean growers can once again enter the Texas Soybean Yield Contest. The contest is being sponsored by the Texas Soybean Association and Elanco Products Company in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, notes an Extension agronomist. Contest rules and entry forms are available at any county Extension office. All entries must be in by Aug. 15. Entrants must grow at least 25 acres of soybeans, 5 of which must be harvested.

Why Advertise?

"Why is it? A man wakes up in the morning after sleeping on an advertised blanket, in advertised pajamas. He will bathe in an advertised tub, wash with advertised soap, shave with an advertised razor, drink advertised coffee after his advertised juice, cereal and toast (toasted in his advertised toaster), put on advertised clothes and an advertised hat.

He will ride to work in an advertised car, sit at an advertised desk, and write with an advertised pen.

Yet this man hesitates, saying that advertising does not pay. Finally, when his unadvertised business goes badly he will then advertise it for sale."

Estimated Tax

Installment Due

Taxpayers making estimated tax payments on their 1978 income must pay the second installment by Thursday, June 15. The tax installment should be paid using declaration-voucher 2 from the Form 1040-ES package, the Internal Revenue Service said.

Taxpayers whose anticipated income during 1978 has changed may have to file an amended declaration. Space appears in the estimated tax package to compute an amended estimate, the IRS said.

For more detailed information, taxpayers can obtain IRS Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," available free from local IRS offices. Supplies of the Form 1040-ES package are also available from these offices.

HORMONE CAUSES LEAF, BOLL SHEDDING--Leaf, square and boll shedding in cotton during droughty weather is caused by a balky hormone, according to research by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The hormone, auxin, prevents leaf fall, but its movement is restricted by drought conditions. Consequently, shedding of leaves, squares and bolls increases. Research is now being aimed at preventing this hormone imbalance.

STATE 4-H TENNIS TOURNAMENT--4-H boys and girls who enjoy tennis are invited to try their skills in a statewide tournament June 28-30 at Orange. The Texas 4-H Invitational Tennis Tournament will be at the Little Cypress Mauriceville High School courts. Hosting the tournament will be the Orange County Racquet Club, county 4-H council and county 4-H leaders' association, points out the state 4-H and youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H.

sponsored by the Texas Soybean Association and Elanco Products Company in conjunction with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, announces R.J. Hodges, Extension agronomist.

"The contest is designed as an educational tool to stimulate interest in soybean production," notes Hodges. "Benefits include the development of worthwhile cultural information, cooperation within the industry to increase production efficiency, and recognition of individuals who achieve superior yields."

Interested producers should contact their county Extension agent for contest rules and entry forms, points out the agronomist. All entries must be in by Aug. 15.

Each entrant must grow at least 25 acres of soybeans and designate at least 5 acres to be harvested. There

"Somewhat improved" but still "less than optimum." That's the evaluation of High Plains cotton prospects made by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. after windstorms during the last week of May and June.

The same storms that washed, hailed or blew out an estimated 220,000 acres of cotton on the Plains this season's first planting moisture to another 700,000 that otherwise would lay idle.

Much, but not all, of the cotton acreage lost will be cotton. Some, because of the late date and a dry season, will go to soybeans, sunflowers or feed crops much will go back to cotton to some extent will weather after June 1. The sooner fields get dry the planting, the more of the acreage that will be in cotton. "It is encouraging of course that most farmers had rain they had to have to plant," says PCG President Donald Johnson, "but the absence of rains to sustain the crop during the growing season leaves optimistic about prospects for even average yields without irrigation."

Historically a little over half the High Plains cotton has been on irrigated land, but available water for a given acreage is inadequate for maximum yields without in-season rainfall.

PCG's pre-season estimate of acres intended for the organization's 25 counties for 1978 was 3.7 million, same as 1977 plantings. "Now, even with the rains Johnson says, "it appears unlikely we'll get that much and without an underground season we'll probably have above average abandonment and below average production."

With regard to the prevented planting regulations Washington May 24, Johnson said PCG's protest had a lot of attention, some contradictory answers, and some still in effect.

So, the regulations making it extremely difficult to qualify for prevented planting payments, for the most part, still in effect. "However the last minute rains," Johnson adds, "have reduced the urgency of getting these regulations changed. Producers now can and will plant their land, but some farmers applying for prevented planting payments adds, "and we are still trying to get clarification of that portion of the law is to be administered."

Volunteers Needed To Work With Screening Of Children

Volunteers will be needed in Floydada on Monday, June 12, 1978, to work with the State Health Department's team that will be screening needy Floyd and Motley County children for health problems, according to Ms. Chris Nelson, case-worker with the Texas Department of Human Resources (DHR).

The clinic will be conducted from 8:45 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, 203 West Kentucky, Floydada.

Ms. Nelson explained that mothers need to be with the children who are receiving health checks, and volunteers are needed to supervise small brothers and sisters during this time, as well as to provide transportation to and from the clinic site.

Persons wishing to assist with the project are requested to call Linda Epps, county volunteers coordinator, at the Floydada DHR office, 983-2433.

Any Medicaid recipient under age 21 is eligible for the health screening, known as the Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment (EPSDT) program. Health Department nurses provide the service under contract with DHR.

"The way to prevent having big health problems, is to catch them while they are still small," Ms. Nelson said, and she urged any eligible individuals in the scheduled areas who do not already have an appointment to contact the DHR office immediately to schedule a time to be seen.

Art Barker Named SA Camp Chairman

Arthur Barker, Jr. of Barker's Insurance and Art Barker Originals in Lockney has announced that he will assume the responsibilities of Camp Chairman as well as Chairman for the Lockney Salvation Army Service Unit.

As Camp Chairman, Mr. Barker is responsible for selecting 4 boys from ages 8 to 14 to attend the Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle at Midlothian July 9-16.

All Texas communities are invited to send selected youths who would not otherwise get a chance to attend a summer camp. The Camp Chairman is responsible for selecting the boys. The Service Unit furnishes them with any clothing, toiletries or other items they might need, arranging medical examinations and providing them with $5.00 in spending money. It also arranges transportation to and from the camp.

The Lockney Service Unit guarantees local expenses in getting the boys ready. The Texas division of The Salvation Army pays all costs of the camp itself, which offers swimming, hiking, athletic contests and many groups activities in each of 4 one-week sessions.

NATIONWIDE AG INFORMATION PROGRAM—The Agricultural Council of America is planning a massive agricultural information program to focus on the farm economy and agricultural problems. The effort will start with a "call-in" Farm Line on May 24 to obtain opinions on what factors need to be told to the non-farm public. Calls may be placed from noon to 4 p.m. E.D.T. on the toll-free number, 800-368-8050, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

ACCIDENT CONTROL—Agricultural producers may hire minors under 16 years of age but with certain restrictions. Work assignments must be only in occupations considered "non-hazardous" under the Fair Labor Standards Act, notes the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In the fiscal year ending last August 31, some 2926 young people received

EPSDT screening for medical problems in the Lubbock and Amarillo regions. Of these, 1103 were referred to physicians for treatment, Ms. Nelson said.
