

Taxes Much Lower Than Taxes In California

Wendell Tooley, city and county tax assessors, Floydada says taxes in California are now being taxed with the highest taxation with the passing of Proposition 13.

2,000 square feet of floor space, the city collects about $318 in taxes, the school gets about $250 and the county and state combined total amounts to about $143. These taxes all add up to $711. The owner of a typical $60,000 house on the West Coast has been paying an average of $1,400 a year in state, county, city and school taxes. Lubbock homeowners with homes valued at $60,000 pay about $1,380 per year in property taxes to support their city, school, county, state and hospital. (please note Lubbock's total includes a hospital tax).

For a comparison of smaller towns, Littlefield people pay a total of $680 in taxes...a little lower than Floydada's 711. Littlefield people with a similar home would pay $225 city, $290 school and $165 for county-state taxes.

HOSPITAL-MACKENZIE TAXES

Because the California taxes did not include hospital and lake taxes they were not listed in the Floydada resident's total.

Floydada tax payers would also pay $165 for the Mackenzie Lake and $102.60 for the hospital tax...making the total per year around $978.

Lockney tax payers pay $90 in city taxes on this type home and $300 school taxes.

Although this feature does not have a lot of towns for comparison it seems that the smaller town you live in, the less taxes you pay.

SCS Office To Move

The Soil Conservation Service office will move to a new location Tuesday June 20 according to an announcement this week by District Conservationist, Jon J. La Baume. The SCS office will move 1/2 block south from their present location in the County Agriculture Building. The location is the southeast entrance of the Arthur B. Duncan Abstract Building 208 So. Wall St. The location was previously occupied by Peggy's Beauty Shop. It is next door to the Texas Employment Commission Office.

La Baume stated that the opportunity to move into a larger, nicer building that was conveniently located and suited the needs of the SCS was found in the building. A rear entrance to the building is convenient for loading and unloading engineering equipment used by the SCS in their every day operations.

Mrs. Duncan Hollums, owner, remodeled the building to fit SCS needs.

Bell Telephone's Jim West Tells How Obscene Calls Traced

We discussed with Jim West, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company how telephone traces are made. West stated, upon request and signed authorization from the customer they can install equipment to reverse call party hold which enables the company to trace the call to the telephone number the call was made from.

The party who receives the call leaves the receiver off the hook and notifies the company that they have the person on the line and wishes the call to be traced. Once the call is traced the information is passed on to law enforcement officials for further handling.

West was very complimentary of the local law officials for the manner in which they handle telephone abuse cases.

Also West pointed out that the law concerning annoyance calls is stated in call guide pages of all directories and is stated on call guide page 4 of the Floydada and Lockney directories.

Disaster Payments For Hailed Out Cotton

What help is there for a farmer who gets his cotton crop hailed out?

According to a report from the ASCS office there are disaster payments that will help cover the cost of fertilizer, insecticide, pre-irrigation and other costs.

If a farmer has been making around a bale to the acre and gets 100% hailed out, he will receive disaster money of

VA News

Some veterans and dependents may be needlessly failing to receive benefits they are entitled to because they can't locate formal documents which reflect marriage and child dependency relationships, according to Jack Coker, Director of the Waco VA Regional Office.

The Veterans Administration tells veterans and their dependents that the loss of marriage or birth certificates and other important documents should not keep them from seeking benefits, Coker said.

The original documents are important and they should be protected, but they are not absolutely necessary to establish entitlement to veterans' and dependents' benefits.

For example, VA will accept a certified statement instead of an original birth or marriage certificate to establish eligibility provided it is the first marriage for each partner and VA has no contradictory information on file.

In the past, VA policy required formal documentation to support claims for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children.

Now, VA will accept a certified statement regarding the birth of a veteran's child or as proof of age and relationship in disability cases.

Coker said veterans and their dependents who have eligibility questions should contact their nearest VA office.

SPORT TALK

By Doug Simpson

WHÔ SAYS SUMMER-TIME and organized sports competition don't mix?

If the weather cooperates, 1978 can potentially be one of the most successful seasons for sporting events Floydada has witnessed in many years.

Various local tournaments will add flavor to summertime events, including the annual Floydada Partnership Golf Classic, the Floydada Open Tennis Tournament, and also on tap for July is the Floydada baseball tournament.

That event, which according to A's baseball team mentor Johnny Soliz, will hopefully accommodate 12 area teams, is to be hosted by the A's ball club on the 19th and 20th of that month (July).

Prestigious teams like Lubbock's Wheelers, Altus, Oklahoma, Tulsa, Kress, Petersburg, Lorenzo, and the Floydada Chicanos will be among those invited, and are soon expected to cast their reservations....

...OF COURSE, the A's remain in contention for a berth in the NBC Area Tournament in July. This event includes baseball clubs

.....THE ENTIRE GOLF WORLD must have been pulling vainly for courageous legend Arnold Palmer last weekend in the Kemper Open Tournament in North Carolina.

Although the 48-year old Palmer has slowed down considerably in durability not to mention tour winnings, many Americans are impressed with Arnie's remarkable attitude and courageous spirit.

Perhaps age indeed had a definite factor on the golf immortal's game last weekend, as he watched a commanding lead wither to a 10-strike deficit.

.....Hang in there, Arnie!...

from all over West Texas, including Midland, El Paso, Lubbock, and others.

The Open tennis classic is slated for July 19-23 and the Partnership Golf Classic for August. Watch future issues for definite dates on these highly-touted events....

...ALSO ADDING FLAVOR to summertime sports competition is the youth baseball program. Plenty of exciting T-Shirt, Little League, and Tri-County League baseball remains, and should help, along with the aforementioned tournaments, to make Floydada, athletic-wise, one of the most progressive little communities in the entire state....

...WASHINGTON BULLETS COACH Dick Motta might not possess the poetic license of some, but his now nationally-famous quote, "The opera ain't over until the fat lady sings," certainly installed confidence into his world-champion team, as they downed Seattle 105-99 Wednesday for the NBA Title.

At the same time, you have to admire Supersonics mentor Lenny Wilkins for taking his troops from a dismal 5-17 record in the early-going all the way to the championship series. Actually, the Bullets' commanding 35-point triumph in Landover, Maryland Sunday had to have an effect on both clubs going into the title shootout. While boosting Washington with additional momentum, it may have deprived Seattle of the right amount of momentum needed to overcome Coach Motta's inspired Bullets.

Lockney 14, Floydada 13

In the Tri-County baseball league play Thursday night in Floydada the Lockney team took a heart breaker 14-13.

In the last inning Larry Westbrook tried to steal home on an overthrow to third....and if he had made it safe, the game would have been tied up. However, the umpire called him out at home, and Floydada lost by one point.

Floydada led 7-2 at the end of the first inning, it was tied up 9-9 in the fourth, Floydada led 14-9 in the sixth inning.

Losing pitcher was Tracy Womack.

Floydada plays Abernathy there Tuesday night at 8:30.

Floydada is 3-4 for the season.

Miss Teresa Strickland, Alan Demetri Wed

MRS. ALAN DEMETRI

The wedding vows uniting in marriage Miss Teresa Diane Strickland and Alan Dean Demetri were read Tuesday night in Amarillo in Christ on the Plains Church.

Phil Borden of Amarillo directed the 7 p.m. service. The former Miss Strickland is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy W. Strickland of Lockney. Her husband is the son of M/Sgt. and Mrs. Allen Ray Demetri of Washington, D. C.

The wedding setting was centered with an arched candelabra holding white tapers. Small candelabra were on each side. Light blue bows were tied with boxwood greenery to accent the candelabra. Unity candles were arranged with greenery and daisies. Candles in yard light lamp posts marked the mothers' pew.

Ushers were Lana Turner of Lockney, cousin of the bride, and Tony Demetri of Washington, D. C. brother of the groom.

Pianist was Suzzette Dziuk of Amarillo. Soloist Steve Davis of Amarillo sang "I Could Never Promise You" as the ceremony began, and then "You're A Gift" as the couple lighted the unity candles.

Honor of attendants were Miss Sharon Demetri, sister of the groom, and LaWayne Strickland, brother of the bride.

The maid of honor wore a light blue voile dress fashioned in southern style with puffed sleeves and rows of ruffles on the long, full skirt. The bodice had a high collar. Her bouquet was of colonial nosegay style of blue and white daisies and baby's breath.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Billy Strickland. Her gown was of candlelight voile with re-embroidered bridal lace. The Empire waistline was encircled with a band of lace. Tiny pearl buttons trimmed the lace bodice which had a low rounded neckline. The long sleeves of lace were elasticated at the wrists. Wide ruffles accented the hemline of the slim, gored skirt which had a vertical panel of lace. Her veil of re-embroidered bridal lace was circular and elbow-length and had scalloped edges. It was fitted to a headpiece with tiny pearl buttons to match those on the dress bodice. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of blue daisies, white sweet-heart roses and baby's breath.

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of Christ on the Plains Church. Reception attendants were Rhonda Brotherton of Lockney and Kristi Lindsey of Wichita Falls, cousins of the bride, and Marcia McCurry of Amarillo.

In the houseparty were Mrs. Ronald Strickland of Amarillo, the bride's cousin, her aunts Mrs. Johnny Willis and Mrs. Larry Burge, both of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Joe Taylor, Mrs. Floyd Lyles and Mrs. Larry Christian, all of Lockney.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Jerry Smith of Lockney. The reception table was laid with a blue and white cloth. The bridal bouquet centered the table. The three-tiered wedding cake was iced in pale blue and accented with white icing daisies. Atop the cake was a bride and groom figurine standing in front of a cross.

The bride's traveling attire was a white knit dress with blue polka dots. After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 1619 S. Polk in Amarillo where both are employed. She works at Kilgore Children's Hospital and he works at Bilt-Rite Pallet Co., Inc. The bride was graduated from Lockney High School and attended West Texas State University. The groom is a graduate of high school in Omaha, Nebraska.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Willis of Lockney and J. T. Strickland of Floydada.

Don't use utility rooms or storage closets for "junk rooms."

There is danger of fire from spontaneous combustion in a place where paper, old clothing and oily rags are stored, warns Claudia Kerbel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Summer Reading Program Underway

50 children accepted the invitation to "Come to Chimera" this past Thursday at the Floyd County Library. They enjoyed a film and stories told by members of the 1956 Junior Study Club, who are sponsoring the summer reading program. Story time for children 3-5 and 6-8 is at 10 a.m. each Thursday through July.

37 elementary age children have signed for the Reading Club. They began their journey to Chimera by receiving book marks and book logs. Theme for this year's Reading Club appeals to the imagination and spotlights imaginative literature available in the public library. Registration will continue for the Reading Club through July. In August a special event has been planned by the club members for children who will have read their quota of books.

Tortoise Or Hare?

Everyone has heard the old fable about the tortoise and the hare. The tortoise shocked everyone by winning the race. In real life, it doesn't always work this way. Sometimes, the tortoise is just too slow to make it across the finish line before the final whistle blows.

Which are you? Tortoise or hare? If you are the hare, you might have already bought all of the copies of the Floyd County History Book you will need. If you are a tortoise, you'd better quit resting on your laurels, and get with it! That final whistle will be blowing before too long.

There's nothing wrong with being a tortoise. Just don't let yourself be left holding an empty bag just inches from the finish line when you could have that bag filled with copies of history books. Remember that your children need their own copies so they won't be taking yours when they leave home.

To place your book orders, please contact the Floyd County Historical Museum, P. O. Box 304, Floydada, Texas or call 983-2415.

1/2 cup pitted ripe olives, quartered lengthwise
1/2 teaspoon dill weed
1/2 teaspoon salt
Lemon slices

MICROWAVE OVEN METHOD: In a two-quart baking dish, combine almonds and margarine. Cook, uncovered, two or three minutes or until butter and almonds are golden brown. Stir in lemon juice, wine, ripe olives, dill and salt. Arrange fillets in margarine mixture, turning under thinner end pieces to insure uniform cooking. Spoon sauce over fillets.

Cook covered with wax paper or plastic wrap, five minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with fork. Let stand, covered, two minutes before serving. Garnish with lemon slices. Makes four servings.

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

PREPARE TROUT IN MICROWAVE OR CONVENTIONAL OVEN
Prepare trout or other fish fillets, fresh or frozen, with equal success in either microwave or conventional ovens.

Trout are abundant and saucy for summer. And, when the sauce is a medley of almonds, white wine and ripe olives, seasoned with dill weed and garnished with fresh lemon, "Trout Olive-Amandine" for four is worthy of note.

In addition, fish is noted for its high protein content while boasting of a low in saturated fats.

Bake the fish in a conventional oven in about 15 minutes, or, in a microwave oven, the fish takes only about five minutes. Either way, fish and seafoods are fast, easy cooking.

Microwave owners can cook and serve seafoods in the same dish, saving dishwashing chores as well as energy and time. Plus, if any of the "Trout Olive-Amandine" is left for tomorrow, dinners can be assured that there will be no warmed-over flavor-another advantage of the microwave.

EXCUSES...EXCUSES.....EXCUSES

BILL ELLIS in The Bovina Bladder schools over the country have a rule generally, that an absent student must present an explanatory note from a parent or guardian when he comes back to class. This is the rule in Alabama schools.

And in one school in Mobile County, Alabama, an official has been saving these excuses. One of the reporters for the Mobile Press, Freda Roberts, went through the parental notes, chose a sampling which was later distributed by the Associated Press.

Here are some of them, spelled unchanged, some of the reasons kids didn't make it to school:

"My son is sick and under the doctor's care and should not take P.E. Please excuse him."

"Please excuse Ester from P.E. for a few days. She fell out of a tree yesterday and misplaced her hip."

"John have an acre in his side."

"Dear School: Please excuse Jim for being absent on Jan. 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33. And these other excuses:

"Jane could not come to school because she was bothered by very close veins."

"Joe had been absent from school because he had 2 teeth taken out of his face."

"Linda was absent from school because she had a going over."

Or, these:

"Please excuse Jack Friday. He had loose vowels."

"Please excuse Randal from being late because of his fathers fault."

"Harold was absent yesterday because he was playing football and was hurt in a growing part."

"My daughter was absent yesterday because she was tired. She spent the weekend with the Marines."

"Cindy was absent Dec. 11-15 because she had a fever, sore throat, headache, and stomach. Her sister was also sick with fever, sore throat, headache. Her brother had a low grade temperature and a headache over."

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M.C.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—AS IF AGRICULTURE DID NOT HAVE ENOUGH PROBLEMS, the Administration last week increased meat imports, to be effective the remainder of this year, by 200 million pounds. This is in addition to over a billion pounds presently permitted.

WE DO NOT PRODUCE IN COMMERCIAL QUANTITIES the type of beef which goes into hamburgers and some other meat products. We do, however, produce enough of this type for this increase to have an effect on livestock prices and probably could supply much more if imports were curtailed. A more important effect is psychological, coming at a time when producers are just recovering from several years of low prices. These increased imports will at least give an excuse for lower cattle prices. After prior years of reduced herds because of heavy losses, producers are just beginning to get decent prices and many are prepared to expand the Nation's beef production.

THE DECISION TO INCREASE IMPORTS will probably have little effect on consumer prices. Consumers may get a little help in the short run they may be hurt in the long run if cattlemen see the Government's action as a signal to delay in rebuilding herds.

THERE IS PENDING BEFORE THE CONGRESS and, in fact has passed the Senate, a new beef stabilization plan designed to help level out boom and bust cycles in beef supply and prices by allowing added imports when domestic supplies are light and reducing imports when American production is high. Cattlemen need to be assured of tighter import controls at a time when supplies are big and prices are low but the Administration is now saying in effect that it will level off the peaks without any provision to fill in the valleys. This sort of policy will not give cattlemen the kind of confidence needed to build sup-

An Amarillo pathologist tentatively identified the cause of death as vascular tumors which created the lesions in the skull, a congenital defect which often caused death in the late 20s, according to Hughes. Hughes found his lower right arm encircled with ten broken copper wire bracelets. There is evidence of copper stains on both the upper right and left arms, but no other bracelets were found at the site, according to Hughes.

....if you haven't been in jail lately, here's what it looks like

The Sheriff of Floyd County and the Commissioners Court have submitted a remodeling plan to the state jail standards office in Austin to correct many of the inadequacies you see in the pictures on this page. The remodeling plans should bring the jailhouse up to state standards. The estimated cost is $250,000 to $275,000 and the money will come from Government Revenue funds.

Everyone who works in a public place like to have good equipment and facilities with which to do their job. These pictures seek to reveal some of the extreme disadvantages and needs of the present jail. The editor of this newspaper feels that if the needs are pointed out, the taxpayers of the county will more likely understand the planned remodeling of the jail.

THE JAILHOUSE WAS BUILT IN 1925

THESE PICTURES SHOW HOW EXTREMELY difficult it is for a deputy to maintain control of a prisoner while going up the narrow stairs to the 2nd floor cell blocks, prisoners have kicked deputies down the stairs while they were trying to unlock the door at the top of the stairs.

Market Growing For High Strength, Short Staple Cotton

The growing popularity of a new method of spinning cotton in the mills has created a potentially significant market for U.S.-grown cotton that is short in staple length but long on strength, reports John McNutt, Cotton Incorporated vice president for International Marketing.

The system, known as open-end spinning, particularly represents a marketing opportunity for cotton producers in areas such as the Texas High Plains, where shorter-staple cotton is more easily produced than the long staple varieties, says McNutt.

For many years, McNutt points out, American cotton producers have been encouraged to produce cottons for use in ring spinning systems, which demand long staple fiber to run most efficiently.

While ring spin systems still predominate, a substantial number of mills around the world have been turning to open-end spinning systems to produce yard for such bottom-weight fabrics as denims, ducks, drills and twills.

"With these systems," McNutt explains, "the important thing is not staple length, but fiber strength."

McNutt says the ideal fiber profile for cotton to be used in open-end spinning would include the following properties:

(1) Strength—26.5 grams per tex. (While there is not a good correlation between grams per tex and Pressley, "we would expect cotton registering above 90,000 pounds per square inch Pressley strength to give a grams per ex of 26.5").

(2) Micronaire—below 3.8 (the cotton should be mature).

(3) Staple length—should be relatively uniform between from one inch to 1-1/32 inches.

McNutt adds one word of caution: "When this cotton is harvested and ginned, it must be kept separate from other cotton varieties."

However, he says, practices followed in some areas of the Cotton Belt have shown that this can be accomplished without great difficulty.

Open-end systems now in use, he adds, represent a market for about 3 million bales of this kind of cotton.

"We're in a position to react to this market opportunity," says the Cotton Incorporated official. "There are several new varieties of high strength, short staple cottons that are adaptable to the High Plains and other areas of West Texas. Interestingly, these varieties appear likely to produce greater yields than the varieties traditionally planted in these areas."

McNutt says cotton producers interested in taking advantage of this opportunity should contact their local county extension service offices to obtain the results from the various varieties that have been grown.

McNutt directs Cotton Incorporated's efforts to increase export sales of U.S. cotton. He keeps close tabs on the cotton needs of the textile industry in Western Europe and other areas outside this country to help the U.S. cotton industry react to new export opportunities as they arise.

Of the open-end systems now in use, he says, about 45 per cent are in Western Europe, 20 per cent in the United States, another 20 per cent in Japan, "and the balance elsewhere in the Far East."

Many of these mills, says McNutt, are looking for ready, continuing sources of cotton offering in right combination of properties for open-end spinning.

During 1979, he says, "500,000 bales of this type of cotton could be easily and readily sold by American producers." Eventually, he says, producers should be able to command a small premium for high strength, short staple cotton.

Cotton Incorporated is the fiber company of American cotton producers. Its activities are restricted by law to research and promotion, and its goals are to reduce production costs for growers and increase markets for U.S. cotton.

The Floyd Philosopher

Claims What's Coming Out Of California May Be Worse Than An Earthquake

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnston grass farm takes a look at the California tax revolt his week.

Dear editor:

When I first heard of California's Proposition 13 to set a limit on property taxes I thought so what, people don't outsmart politicians, politicians outsmart people and they'll figure out a way to keep those tax dollars rolling in.

But then I learned that under the proposition the market value can't be raised more than two percent a year, and furthermore the present value is rolled back to 1975 levels.

Looks like there's absolutely no way for the politicians to get around that, they're locked in tight, but you've got to remember that there's no such thing as an escape-proof jail if the inmates are smart enough, so let's wait and see.

Meanwhile, I understood shock waves from the California vote are rolling across the land and politicians are scrambling to get on the tax-reduction band wagon. Not just a seat anywhere on the wagon but up front in the driver's seat where they can get hold of the reins and try to head off a runaway.

Do you suppose the voters are going to act toward government like fed-up parents with an improvident son? After paying his bills time after time and warning him to hold himself in check, with no results, they finally cut his allowance in half and tell him to sink or swim.

I read just the other day that counting a Congressman's salary, his staff's salaries, his phone bill, his postage bill, his utilities, his elaborate high-ceilinged offices, his parking garage, etc., it now costs tax payers a million dollars a year to keep him in office.

That shock wave you feel isn't a California earthquake, it's the shuddering of office holders in high places.

Your faithfully, J.A.

KIDS TOURNEY - The 2nd Annual Plainview Bass Club sponsored Kids Tournament is another winner. Robert Hardy, left won the big bass award.

Lockney you wins bass me

By KENNY REDIN Herald Outdoor Editor

Young Brent Hallmark, 11-year-old son of W.H. (Dub) Hallmark of Lockney who has been fishing with a younger brother in the Annual Kids Bass Tournament sponsored by the Lockney and Bass Club.

Weather conditions couldn't have been much better for the young, but enthusiastic anglers and friends. Windy conditions prevailed, making it tough for the young, but enthusiastic anglers.

Robert Hardy, 10-year-old grandson of John Adams finished second in the tournament with the tourney's largest bass, a hefty two-pound specimen.

The only other youngster to catch a bass was Morren of Floydada. He finished third in the tournament fishing with his brother, guided by A.O. (Gill) Gilchrist.

Although the fishing and weather wasn't up to a hot dog cookout highlighted the windy day. There were twice as many hotdogs consumed as there were fish. But it was a great day for the youngsters. Father learned quite a lot from this younger generation last Saturday at White River.

And without the help of Mrs. Andy (Pat) Threlkeld lending her hand on the cookout, those old timers still be at White River trying to fix dinner. Thanks

RELIGIOUS SERVICE OF YOUR CHOICE

Buying A Home

BUYING A HOME

"For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God." Hebrews 11:10.

Religion has been commonly accepted by people of higher intellect as being an emotional or sentimentality part of the life of the ignorant classes. Our purpose is to consider the subject from a business standpoint to prove that it is worthy of the consideration of the brain of the highest degree of intelligence.

I. THE VALIDITY OF THE TITLE.

In buying a home the first thing to consider is the validity of the title of the property to be bought. In this deal which we purpose to mention, the first signature to this title is Christ's own hand. "I go to prepare a place for you". John 14:2. The second is God's own words, "Hear ye Him". Matt. 17:5. The third is the Holy Spirit. "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are children of God". Romans 8:16.

II. OUR NEIGHBORS.

The next consideration would be our neighbors. In selecting a home here on earth we are always anxious to secure its location among the very best people, morally, intellectually, and spiritually. To find out what kind of neighbors we are to have, we must first determine who will not be there.

In our heavenly home there will be no liars, thieves, nor murderers, nor any mischief-makers of any kind. But who shall be there? In Isaiah 35:9, we find that none but the redeemed shall walk there. So we are sure of good neighbors.

III. THE HEALTH PROBLEM.

Then we have to consider the health problem. We would never invest in a home in an unhealthy locality, no matter what other conveniences we might have.

So we are persuaded to believe that our heavenly home is a place of perfect health from the fact that we find the Bible filled with references of eternal life. This also brings to our minds that there are no cemeteries. If we knew of a city in our land with no cemeteries, oh, what a rush there would be to make our homes in that place.

Not only is it described as a beautiful home, but as a mansion as well. The great beauty of this mansion is that it is our own. Fifty per cent of our people have never owned a home and ninety five per cent of our people have never owned a home and ninety five per cent have never lived in a mansion. Probably a great majority of those who live in mansions do not own them, but we are told and know that the heavenly mansion is ours.

V. A PLACE OF REST.

Finally, we know our heavenly home is to be a place of rest. Matthew tells us in quoting Christ's own words, that heaven is a place of rest. Matthew 1:2829. Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls. How sweet rest will be after a life of toil! It will be perfect, eternal, heavenly rest. God and humanity hold a man responsible for his time while here on earth, but across the great Divide there will be eternal rest.

We are familiar with the story of Ponce de Leon who, after winning a fortune, was willing to give it all for youth and health again, lost his life in search for the same. Besides perfect health there will be no sorrow, there. Revelation 21:4 and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things are passed away.

IV. THE BEAUTY OF OUR HOMES.

Our next thought would be the beauty of our homes. Here on earth we strive to locate our homes in the most beautiful place we can find.

So let us examine the beauties of our eternal home. We have in Revelation a minute description of the beauties of heaven as a home. We are told of its golden streets, its gates of pearl and its walls of jasper.

The preacher will rest, for his mansion will be filled; the doctor can rest; for there will be no sickness; the lawyer can rest, for the docket will be forever clear; the tailor can rest, for we shall wear robes of righteousness; the teacher can rest, as the problems will be solved and we shall speak in one language, that will be God's language which all the people can understand; and finally, we shall all be fed the bread of eternal life.

Take Your Camera On A Family Outing

An amusement park is a wonderful combination of color and excitement and fun, all of which add up to great picture opportunities. Not only are there all sorts of magical sights to picture, but there are also all sorts of chances to catch your children in happy action on the various rides. An ideal camera for such an outing is a Kodak Tele-Ektra camera. With its choice of normal and telephoto lens at the flick of a switch, it is possible for you to bridge the distance between camera and subject when you can't move closer yourself. When you want a shot of the slightly scared, expectant faces of the kids waiting for the little car they are sitting in to whisk them off on a ride, the advantage of this is apparent. You are stuck on the ground, probably outside a fence. By using the telephoto lens, you can double the size of the faces in the finished picture. The background of such a shot would probably be the sky which is excellent. Be sure to keep a wary eye on the background in your other shots as well to avoid distracting clutter. With all of the interesting buildings, rides, greenery and possibly even boats available, it would be a pity to settle for lesser surroundings. Foreground framing is another good device to vary your pictures. By aiming through a booth, a flowering branch, or even a group of people, you can focus attention on your main subject. The frame can be in or out of focus, as you wish, depending on how close you are to it. Just be sure your main subject is at the correct distance to be in sharp focus. Most important of all, have your perceptive eye polished up and ready to see the picture possibilities as they occur. And have fun.
