Tax Increase For City Residents

The council joined the school board in making an announcement that there would be no increase for this coming year of...

insurance rate"
The council made some changes in the zoning ordinance concerning size of homes built. Some areas required 800 to 1100 square feet. This was taken out of the ordinance because HUD said it was discriminatory. The council did approve distances homes may be built from the street and adjoining property owners.

JUNK CAR ORDINANCE
City Attorney Bill Kincaid presented to the council and received its approval of a new junk car ordinance that will make it possible for junk cars to be picked up in the street and on private property. The ordinance appears in this edition of The Hesperian. All members of the council were present except Leroy Burns.

Doyle Warren To Receive Distinguished Service Award

DOYLE WARREN

COLLEGE STATION, July--(Spl)... Doyle G. Warren of Floydada, who has served as Floyd County Extension agent for the past eight years, has been named to receive the Distinguished Service Award, the highest recognition given by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

According to Calhoun County Extension Agent Gilbert Heideman, president of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association, the award is presented annually to county agents throughout the nation who have made outstanding contributions to agriculture and rural living for ten years or more.

Warren is one of eight county agents with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to receive the award. Others (and their counties) are Roger Corbin, Ellis; Angus Dickson, Jr., El Paso; Robert Hoermann, Hill; Tom Sistrunk, Brazos; Bill Thane, Washington; Joe Doby, Galveston; and Norman Vestal, Nueces. The Texas award winners will be recognized at the state association's annual meeting Aug 6-9 in Lufkin. Actual presentation of awards will be at the national association meeting Aug. 13-18 in Boise, Idaho.

Warren's Extension Service career began in Dawson County in 1965. He also served in Lubbock County for three years before assuming his position in Floyd County in 1970.

Since moving to Floyd County, the county agent has given major emphasis to educational programs designed to increase the net profit of agricultural producers. Marketing and management have been key points that have been combined with programs in crop production and soil fertility. Examples of Warren's effective programs have been a quadrupling of the corn acreage in the county over the past five years and a sharp increase in soil sampling to better manage soil fertility.

Warren has tailored special educational efforts in financial management for young farming families to help them increase their stability in the farming business.

The county agent has also been a driving force in building a strong 4-H program in Floyd County which has led to a doubling of 4-H membership during the past seven years. The 4-H budget in the county is now six times greater than in 1970 due to expanded programming.

Warren holds a B.S. and M.S. degrees in agricultural education from Texas Tech University and has done graduate work at Texas A&M University.

He and his wife Judy have four children--Michelle, Chad, Brad and Ric. Warren is active in the First Baptist Church, Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Floyd County Development Board.

WHEN THE NEW 55 mile speed limit went into affect back in 1974 the death toll on the highways went down. Now for the last two years it has taken and increase because over half the motorists are exceeding the 55 mile speed limit.

The deaths of motorcycle riders are on the increase because a new state law allows the riders over teen age to not wear helmets.

No doubt, slower speed mean less fatalities. I can remember back when the speed limit was 70 mph, and I many times looked down at my speedometer and I was cruising along at 80 mph.

So.....the new speed limit has certainly slowed us all down.....and slower speeds give us all more reaction time should a driving emergency arrive.

I topped a New Mexico hill the other night and there right across the highway was a pickup in the process of turning around right in the middle of the highway. If I had been speeding along at 70 or 80 miles per hour, that would have probably been "thirty" for old Wendell.

INFLATION IS easily recognized as that time when necessities and luxuries are selling for about the same price.

Pirates Eliminate White Sox, 14-5 Cubs Clinch T-Shirt League Title

By Doug Simpson
A vastly improved Pirate ball team took advantage of an inconsistent White Sox pitching attack, as they downed the Sox 14-5 and awarded the T-Shirt League Championship to the Cubs Tuesday night.

Ricky Vasquez' 7-3 Cubs destroyed the Yankees 9-1 Saturday night in the first of two make-up games needed to determine the league winner. Had the White Sox won Tuesday, a playoff game would have been necessary.

But it was the Pirates playing the role of the spoiler that put an end to the Sox' championship hopes, as the Shannon Barbee-Leif Younger duo combined pitching and hitting efforts to produce an easy triumph.

The Pirates' victory left both clubs with identical 6-4 final season records and in a deadlock for second place in the standings. The Yankees finished last in the league standings with a 1-8 mark.

In Saturday night's contest, Julio Flores captured winning pitcher honors for the Cubs. Joe Collins was the Yanks' losing hurler. Vasquez praised his Cub team's strong hitting attack and good base stealing efforts.

Leif Younger was the Pirates' winning pitcher in his team's upset of the White Sox. Cornelius Campbell took the loss on the mound for the Sox, and was relieved by Jerry Dale Nelson.

An All-Star game, in which the league's best players will be feted against the champion Cubs will be played at a later date.

The Cubs, along with Barbee and Younger from the Pirates, and Campbell representing the White Sox, will participate in New Deal's area tournament July 24. New Deal, Floydada, Abertnathy, and Idalou will compete for the tournament championship.

Kitchen-Lingerie Shower In Lubbock Honors Miss King

The home of Mrs. Kathy Loskill of 4813 58th Street, Lubbock, was the setting for a kitchen and lingerie shower honoring Miss Joan King bride-elect of Nick Davidson of Lubbock. Associate employees of TESCO called from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday, June 29th. Hostesses with Mrs. Loskill were Shirley Smith and Teresa Burrow.

The serving table was covered with an ecru cloth and centered with an ivy plant entwined as a basket handle to a brown wood chip planter which was later presented to the bride-elect. Blue snack trays were used to serve the punch and assortment of sausage rolls, cheese balls, blue berry muffins, chips and dips.

Miss King was presented a corsage of white carnations and brown sprigs tied with blue ribbon, carrying on her chosen colors of blue and brown.

The hostess gift was an electric fry pan.

Special guests were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Herman King of Lockney and groom elect's mother, Mrs. Carl Sayles and his sister, Mrs. Wayne Rhodes and daughter Siane, all of Lubbock.

Wedding promises were exchanged in a double ring ceremony by Miss Robin Gay Roberts and Russell Lane Pratt Saturday evening, July 8, in a 7 o'clock ceremony.

Rev. Jim Smith, pastor of First United Methodist Church, and Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor of First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony in the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church, performed the ceremony in the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church, Floydada.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Roberts of Tulia, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Pratt of Floydada.

Miss Christy Stringer, soloist, presented wedding selections including "The Twelfth of Never", "I Love How You Love Me," "Always and Forever," "The Lords Prayer," and "The Wedding Song." Miss Penny Nuncy accompanied her at the piano. Also presenting wedding selections was Mrs. Bill Hardin at the organ.

Large palms formed a backdrop for the altar, centered with a fifteen branch arch candelabra decorated with yellow glads and yellow pom pom mums backed with emerald and salal foliage with matching seven branch candelabra on either side. The unity candle, circled with yellow pom pom mums, was placed to the left of the altar and a replica was placed in front of each set of parents.

Johnny Roberts escorted his daughter down the aisle and presented her for marriage. Her dress was a family heirloom hoop skirted four tiered chantilly lace dress, hand made by the bride's late great-aunt. The dress, which took over a year to create, had a pointed, fitted bodice, scalloped neckline, long cuffed puffed sleeves, and rows of hand sewn sequins complementing each scallop on the skirt. The hat was a large brimmed picture hat covered with matching chantilly lace and complemented with a satin ribbon and a bow in the back, mid-length veil and blusher.

The bridal bouquet was of white butterfly rosebuds with stephanotis, baby's breath, and long-strands of satin ribbon cascading from the open pages of a white Bible edged in gold. This Bible had been carried by other members of the bride's family at their weddings, this carrying out a family tradition.

Following tradition, for "something old" Robin wore a string of pearls which was the first gift ever given to her grandmother by her grandfather 53 years ago. "Something new" was the hat which was specially created to match the dress. "Something borrowed" was the heirloom dress which had been worn by five previous brides. "Something blue" was a lace handkerchief which was carried in the weddings of both the groom's grandmother and his mother.

Miss Genell Matthews of Lubbock, college roommate, served as maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were bridesmaids Miss Tracey Puckett, Miss Nesa Jackson, and sister of the bride Debi Gobin of Colorado.

The attendants' dresses were long A-line dresses made of soft Qiana. The dresses were "seafoam" in color and had sleeves made of loosely crocheted knit. Their flowers were silk completing the color scheme of ice green, yellow, and apricot and were assembled by the bride and mother's of the bride and groom.

Rex Bell served as best man. Groomsman were Van Miller, Greg Bishop, and Kerry Pratt, brother of the groom. Ushers were Don Warren, and brothers of the bride, Macy Roberts and Kenny Erickson. Pale green tuxedos with accents of darker green were worn by the groomsmen and the ushers. The groom wore an all white tuxedo.

Flower girl was the groom's cousin, Miss Donna Kay Crawford. Her dress was pale yellow with a short circular skirt of scalloped ruffles with lace insets. She carried a white lace basket filled with rose petals.

Ring bearer was the bride's nephew, Travis Erin Erickson. He wore a yellow tuxedo suit and carried a white lace heart-shaped pillow.

As wedding guests entered the church foyer, their names were secured in the bridal book by Mitzi Hale and Lori Gilly. They also handed out scrolls with a "thank-you" poem from the bride and groom.

Reception

The reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Attendants at the bride's table were Nancy Roberts and Charlene Erickson, both sisters-in-law of the bride.

A three tiered wedding cake of light green with apricot rosebuds and yellow daisies was centered on a large table with a crystal punch bowl with banana punch, light green chocolate mints on a cut crystal plate and a large brass candelabra which held 17 apricot candles and was surrounded by the bridesmaids' bouquets.

Boston fern in a copper brass pot centered on a mint green cloth decorated the groom's table. Serving from the copper and brass coffee service were Julie Womack and Rosemary Hardin. Chocolate pound cake and melon balls were served by Shannon Bell.

The bride chose for her "going-away" attire an eggshell, embroidered blouse with large sleeves and button front with an ankle-length skirt of pink and lavender floral print with a large round of lace at the hem.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the couple will make their home in Lubbock at 4702 4th St. The groom is a junior mechanical engineering major at Texas Tech and was graduated from Floydada High School. The bride was graduated from Floydada High School and attended Texas Tech last year and is now employed at T.I. in Lubbock.

trait necklines and made a cap effect over the sleeveless bodices. The attendants also wore matching hairpieces of flowers and carried nosegays of yellow and white daisies, frenched apricot-colored carnations and gypsophila accented with apricot-colored tulle and satin.

Accompanied to the altar area by her father, the bride wore a romantic gown of sheer imported white organza. It was designed with a high sheer neckline encircled with reembrodered alencon lace. Alencon motif adorned the cuffs of the long, fitted sheer sleeves. Horizontal rows of reembrodered alencon lace spanned the bodice and were repeated of the bouffant skirt and chapel train.

The former Miss Frizzell wore a two-tiered, waltz-length veil made from imported silk illusion. It was completely edged in tiny seed pearls on both tiers, and alencon motifs accented the top tier. It was attached to a Camelot caplet covered in reembrodered alencon lace and sprinkled with seed pearls.

Her bouquet was a Victorian design of yellow sweetheart roses, white daisies and dahlia poms frosted with gypsophila carried atop a lace-covered white Bible, a gift of her parents. She carried for "something old" a dainty handkerchief given to her by Mrs. Bob Knox who had added new tatting. She wore for "something new" diamond earrings, a gift of the groom; an old ring "borrowed" from her grandmother Frizzell, and a "blue garter" to complete the bridal tradition.

Reception

The bride's parents hosted the wedding guests at a reception in the church fellowship hall. A yellow cloth overlaid with lace covered the serving table where the bouquets of the bride and her attendants had been placed. The three-tiered white cake was trimmed with yellow icing. Fresh flowers were arranged around the cake and between the tiers. The cake was topped with fresh flowers and wedding bells.

The formal baskets of flowers from the nuptial area were placed at the ends of the table.

Crystal appointments were used in serving the refreshments by Miss Donna Spencer and Mrs. Craig Cummins, both of Weatherford, Oklahoma, Mrs. Martin Stoerner, Mrs. Ray Bennett of Enid, Oklahoma and Miss Kathy McCarter of Lubbock.

TRAPTION is a "Bean Buggy," at least it was so designated by its manufacturer, a Sioux Rapids, Iowa, farmer Delton Jack is using it in cotton on his place six miles south of Lockney in the Pleasant Valley community. The bean buggy was designed to be used in soybeans, but Jack says "If it works in soybeans, it'll work in cotton." Riding and manning short-handled hoes are (left to right) Robert Delton Jack and Tommy Holcomb. The thing has hydrostatic drive, speed of 10 mph, foot-pedal steering, covers six rows (adjustable, 30 to 40 inches), and, according to Jack, cuts hoeing time in half. The long-handled hoes mounted on the front of the machine? Those are just in case the buggy breaks down and the crew has to finish in the conventional manner... (Staff Photo)

New Deal Sweeps Twin Bill From Floydada

By Doug Simpson
 Powerful New Deal defeated the Floydada tri-countians twice in a baseball doubleheader here on Tuesday night, shutting them out 10-0 in the first game, and winning 9-2 in the nightcap. The losses left Coach C.O. Woody's Floydada team with a 5-10 season mark. Mac Collins and Pete Castillo were the losing pitchers for Floydada. In the second game of the twin bill, Joey Luna and Ronnie Minner accounted for Floydada's two runs.

By Doug Simpson
 New Deal's Bravos, with second place riding on the line, defeated the Floydada A's 20-5 in the semi-final game of the Floydada baseball tournament last weekend, but a powerful Plainview club captured first place with a convincing 11-0 thumping of the Bravos in Saturday's title game. A few nights earlier, Plainview had had difficulty in handing the A's their first loss of the tournament before finally winning, 5-4. The A's used five pitchers to try and stop the New Deal hitting game, but to no avail, as the Bravos compiled 20 runs and won the contest in 5 innings. Rance Young, Glen Lane, Carmen Soliz, Steve Westbrook, and Johnny Soliz pitched for the A's in the New Deal showdown. David Marricle unloaded a 2-run home run, and along with Westbrook, Ruben DeLeon, and Young, accounted for Floydada's runs.

Windbreak Trees To Be Available

In West Texas damage can be done by high winds every year. One of the methods of protection are farmstead and field windbreaks.

In previous years, people in this area had to either purchase trees from a local nursery or order the trees from the Texas Forest Service at Alto. If the trees were ordered from the Forest Service, they were usually shipped all the way across Texas with bare roots exposed. The survival rate of those trees was not very good at all, they were real small.

The Texas Forest Service has opened new facilities for seeding production at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station north of Lubbock. The facilities will service 35 counties in the Amarillo-Lubbock areas.

AT THE PRESENT time, the Forest Service has approximately 23,000 Austrian and Ponderosa pine tree seedlings in production, which will be ready for marketing this Fall. They plan to double this number next year. These seedlings are grown in greenhouses with automated environment controls that allow the trees to grow the equivalent of two years in one season. This will enable the buyers to purchase 10 to 12 inch trees for transplanting this fall. The trees will come with roots contained in a peat moss/vermiculite mixture, which will make easy transplanting procedures and much better survival rates, the minimum amount will be 30 trees.

If you're planting these species of pine trees for farmstead windbreaks, they should be transplanted in single rows with 8 to 12 ft. spacing between plants, or multiple rows with 10 to 16 ft. spacing between plants. For field windbreaks, the trees should be transplanted in multiple rows with 12 ft. spacing between plants and 12 to 20 ft. spacing between rows.

Headache Remedy

You can save yourself a lot of headaches by using Deutz air-cooled diesel engines. First of all, a major source of breakdowns is entirely eliminated. No liquid cooling system. No radiator. No water pump. No hoses. No cavitation. No freeze ups.

And they're quieter—about 10 decibels below most engines, without sound shielding. OSHA likes that. So do operators.

And you'll get instant relief from constantly increasing fuel costs. Diesel fuel versus gasoline—Deutz air-cooled diesel engines versus water-cooled diesel engines. And you'll save a lot of money on maintenance costs, too.

Buy or specify Deutz—manufactured by the world's oldest and largest manufacturer of air-cooled diesel engines. 10 to 500 bph.

Caprock Hospital Auxiliary Hears Program On Child Abuse

The Caprock Hospital Auxiliary met at 9:30 a.m. in the hospital dining room on Monday July 10. Five members were present.

Jack Barnes, local Child Welfare worker spoke of the child abuse program as he had worked with it in Floyd and Motley Counties.

Child abuse is a hangover from one's own childhood experiences. Psychological counseling over about a month's time usually enables parent to cope normally with the problems of parenting.

Gradually more cases of incest and sexual abuse are being brought to light and are mostly cleared up over a short period of time with assistance of counseling.

No local programs have been set up to teach parenting and infant care classes.

It was with regret that we learned that both Linda Epps and Jack Barnes are slated to leave their positions in the Floydada Department of Human Resources office.

Mrs. Tye, president of CHA reported on a request from Blood Services of Lubbock have asked CHA to either sponsor or find a sponsor for a local blood drive as soon as possible. Caprock Hospital uses an average of ten units of blood each month. The last blood drive some six or eight weeks ago obtained only five units of blood from Floydada people.

Mrs. Moore is to approach the Woman's Chamber of Commerce to ask them to consider being sponsors of the blood drive.

It was reported that Miss DeZane Carter, psychologist now comes each Thursday to the Mental Health Office in the courthouse in order to be of service to clients with personal emotional problems. She has been seeing from three to eight people each Thursday for the past several weeks. Appointments may be made through the local Mental Health Office 983-2584.

Mrs. Whitaker, CHA treasurer reported all outstanding debts had been paid with $297 remaining in the treasury.

GETTING THE GANG GOING

can start by saving today's deering-do before they move on to tomorrow's. And because the camera will film virtually anything you can see through the viewfinder, you can record their achievements at the pool, the ballet class and the baseball diamond as well as the playground.

Previous moviemaking experience is not necessary but, for maximum enjoyment now and in the years to come, follow these tips from the Kodak experts.

• Hold the camera rock steady. Remember the action should be in the movie, not in the camera.

• Include short sequences of related interest. By interrupting scenes of children climbing or swinging with ones of patrons lining up at the ice-cream truck, you're adding variety and interest to your movie.

• Shoot from different distances to increase the visual impact. An overall shot is great for identifying the setting. Move in to medium ranges for footage that portrays specific action; get closer still to emphasize details. With the Kodak "Our Gang" camera, there's no need to refocus every time you move.

• Make each scene long enough for the audience to recognize what's happening. A view of a busy grounds-keeper can be recorded in the rule-of-thumb length—five to thirteen seconds—while a crawl to the top of the slide and the trip downward will take longer.

It doesn't take much to get kids active. A warm, sunny day, a playground packed with things to crawl into, onto, or under—and they're on their way to "Hey, Mom-look-at-me!" achievements that deserve to be recorded in movies.

With a new Kodak "Our Gang" movie camera, you

Facts from a pro on driving to survive.

Q. The other day an ambulance came up behind my car. It had its headlights and flashing parking lights turned on, but no siren or red lights. Should I have pulled over out of the way?—L. T., Austin

A. Whenever an emergency vehicle sounds a siren or bell or flashes a red light, motorists must pull over to the curb and stop. These are warning devices required by law and they should be obeyed. However, any time an emergency vehicle signals to you in any way, it is a good idea to slow down and give way to the right. Stop if you can do so safely.

Q. Which lights are the safest to use if you have to drive in fog?—R.N., Angleton

A. When driving in fog, dust, heavy rain or other adverse weather conditions, always use your low beam headlights. Bright lights will only hinder your visibility more. And fog, for instance, will reflect bright or high beam lights almost like a mirror. You should also remember to switch to your lower beams when within 300 feet of following or 500 feet of meeting another vehicle. And never look directly into approaching headlights. The brightness could momentarily blind you.

Q. I try to drive at the speed limit but I often feel as if I'm being forced to speed by tailgaters. Is there any way to handle them?—M.L., Kellerville

A. The best way to discourage a tailgater is to slow down. He can then either pass you or slow down himself, making it easier for him to stop safely if you should stop. Slowing down will also increase your distance from the vehicle ahead of you. Even if the driver brakes suddenly, you will have enough room to roll to a halt and thus lessen your chances of being hit by the tailgater.

 "We have traveled most of the central and eastern United States and some of Canada since starting this style of sightseeing in about 1962," David said. "Riding a bike puts you in the middle of scenery instead of at the edge from inside of a car." Gilmore is an elementary school principal and farms as a hobby (which we agree is the only way to farm these days). In their leisure time they like biking across country.

 The children are both teenagers. Keith and Karla ride double on one bike while Dad and Mom wheel the other. They plan to hit I-40 at Amarillo and head east toward home with maybe some side trips along the way. Make you wanta buy a bike?

 ...Growers, Inc., Lubbock, representing producers in 25 High Plains counties, made its wishes known to Goad July 7 in hopes of having a measure of influence on 1979 program details prior to the initial announcements.

 According to PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, High Plains producers are most keenly interested in the 1979 loan level and regulations governing operation of the disaster program.
 The Secretary of Agriculture now has authority to base the 1979 loan solely on average U. S. spot market prices, in agreement with PCG legislative policy, Johnson says, "and we are urging that he use that authority to set the 1979 loan at the legal maximum."
 Disaster program regulations being recommended by PCG include changes in the method of determining prevented planting payment eligibility and the way payments on hail and wind damaged crops are calculated.
 In 1978 producers unable to plant cotton before the June 1 required planting date were denied a prevented planting payment if they received moisture for planting some other crop at a later date. But when crops were destroyed after planting and after June 1, producers could qualify for a "failed acreage" payment whether or not they chose to plant some other crop on the acreage.
 "There is no good reason for determining prevented planting payment eligibility on a basis different from that used to decide failed acreage payment eligibility," Johnson contends, "and we hope to see this inconsistency in program administration corrected for 1979."

Crops damaged by hail and wind this year are being "appraised" as a certain percentage destroyed and the pounds on which payments are being made are reduced by the number of pounds USDA says the remaining stalks would produce if carried to harvest.
 "This is being done even when crops are damaged to such an extent as to make continued efforts to achieve production totally impractical," Johnson points out. "This has been USDA's policy since the inception of the disaster program in 1974, but it is still wrong and we are continuing our efforts to get it changed."

DESPITE INFLATION the American dream of owning your own home has not turned into a nightmare.
 These high costs have even priced many American families out of the single-family home market. Many of these families have turned to mobile homes as the answer to their housing needs, because of their low initial cost, low maintenance costs and minimal cash tie-up.
 According to the Manufacturing Housing Institute, mobile or manufactured homes represent nearly 30 percent of the entire new single-family housing market and 76 percent of all single-family homes sold for less than $20,000. In a survey by Market Facts, Inc., 74 percent of owners of manufactured homes said they purchased a manufactured home because it was more economical than any other type of housing.
 If you have both feet planted firmly on the ground, housing costs will not make you hit the ceiling.

double a figure can be obtained by dividing its rate of growth into 72.
 By chance, the projected 7.2 percent inflation rate divides 10 times into 72, which means a doubling of prices every 10 years.
 Consider the price of your home. If it now has a market value of $50,000, it will be double that after 10 years. After 20 years it will have a pricetag of $200,000, and after 30 years, $800,000.
 That's not a million, but neither is a $50,000 home the upper end of the scale today. It is, instead, close to the median, which means that one-half the homes are valued higher and one-half lower than it.
 The $75,000 home, doubling in price every 10 years, would have a market value of $600,000 after 30 years of 7.2 percent

With home prices soaring through the roof, it's hard to buy a roof over your head without spending over your head.

In deciding whether you can afford a particular home, be sure to figure in your property tax and home insurance along with the monthly mortgage payment. Remember also that the house price tag is actually almost doubled by interest charges on the mortgage.

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

Before shopping for a new refrigerator, do some planning.

Start planning now—sales during the next several weeks may offer the lowest prices during the year.

First, look to the future. A typical family will keep the refrigerator 15 years—so determine what the family's future needs will be.

Consider the number of young children and teenagers or whether no children will be in the home during the next 15 years. Also, consider food storage needs—frequent shopping means less capacity is needed.

In addition, a large freezer compartment is less important if the family has a separate freezer.

Next, decide on what features are needed.

Remember, more gadgets add to the initial cost and to potential repair problems.

SIZE, TYPE

Size and type are the features to decide on.

Conventional refrigerators are available in nine to 14 foot capacities. These single-door units have a small section for freezing ice cubes and short term storage of frozen foods. The freezer will require defrosting every two to three weeks or before frost deposits is one-fourth inch.

Two-door refrigerators with a top or bottom freezer compartment are available in 12' to 22 cubic foot capacities. They come with semi-automatic defrost or automatic defrost freezer compartments.

Most two-door semi-automatic defrost units are no larger than 13 to 15 cubic feet and will require defrosting before the frost is one-fourth inch deep.

Side-by-side models offer two doors the full length of the appliance and come in 17 to 25 cubic foot capacities. The newest side-by-side models feature two freezer doors opposite the refrigerator door.

These refrigerators usually offer more freezer space and are only available with no-frost freezers.

ENERGY USE

Single-door refrigerators cost the least to operate when defrosted regularly, however they are smaller capacity and have only short term frozen food storage.

Among the two door makes, the manual defrost costs only slightly less to operate—with an estimated difference in monthly costs between a 14 cubic foot manual defrost and a 14 cubic foot no-frost of 15 cents.

Some manufacturers are producing "energy-saving" models.

Some of these models have extra insulation, others have a switcheable heater which saves energy when turned off.

The switcheable heater, used when condensation forms around the door, is most efficient in dry climates where condensation will form less readily and the heater will need to be turned in frequently.

OTHER FEATURES

Other features that are available includes:

- automatic ice-maker,
- ice and cold water dispenser on the door,
- adjustable shelves and half shelves.

- dual temperature controls,
- wheels, and
- storage bins of various types and sizes.

COMPARISON SHOP

Wide price variations for the same models make comparison shopping pay off with big savings. Look at discount stores and clearance sales for low prices.

However, don't sacrifice reliable servicing and repair for a low price.

Compare warranties for each model and ask what is covered by each warranty.

GUARD AGAINST HEAT EXHAUSTION, SUN-STROKE, HEATSTROKE

Guard against heat exhaustion, heatstroke during the hot Texas summer.

The combined effects of sun, exercise, heat and excessive perspiration which result in loss of fluids and salts can produce a serious condition, SHE WARNS.

HEAT EXHAUSTION

The body's normal reaction to high temperatures is to pool blood near the surface of the skin so that sweat is formed and then evaporated into the air releasing heat.

This can cause a lack of sufficient blood in the vessels deep in the body if a person is exposed to high temperatures—especially combined with a high humidity—for a long period of time.

Some symptoms of heat exhaustion include muscle cramps and weakness, and although the victim's temperature may be near normal, the pulse is often very weak. The skin is usually cool but very pale and moist.

Treatment consists of getting the person out of the sun immediately. Slowly sipping cool—not cold—water will help to cool down the body.

SUNSTROKE, HEAT-STROKE

Heatstroke, or sunstroke, is more serious than heat exhaustion.

It's often a medical emergency.

A breakdown of the cooling system of the body which causes the body temperature to rise uncontrollably causes heatstroke.

Because the sweating mechanism is not working, there is very little perspiration.

One symptom of heatstroke is dry, red, hot skin and a fast strong pulse. The victim may also be nauseated and have a headache. There is also a possibility of the person collapsing.

As in the case of heat exhaustion, the important thing is to get the victim out of the sun and to lower the temperature.

Sponge the person with water, especially around the head. Avoid giving the victim stimulants such as tea or coffee because of the possibility of complications such as increased blood pressure.

If the person is unconscious, give no fluids at all.

To prevent sunstroke or heatstroke, avoid being in the sun and heat for a long period of time, drink a sufficient amount of liquids and wear loose-fitting clothing such as cotton T-shirts which help to retain perspiration and keep the body cool.

'CASEY'S SHADOW' WAS A FAMILY AFFAIR

During a recent running of the All American Futurity at the Ruidoso Downs racetrack in New Mexico's pine forest, the onlookers included screenwriter Carol Sobieski. Her mission: to soak up the color and excitement of the world's richest horse race and write it as an adventure screenplay.

The result is "Casey's Shadow," which opens Friday at the Capada Theatre. The Columbia Pictures release stars Walter Matthau as colorful Cajun horse trainer Lloyd Bourdelle, who tries to overcome a lifetime of hard luck by winning the Futurity and its million-dollar purse.

Bourdelle's dream — and the family that helps him chase it — may have a familiar ring to some of the annual regulars along the Ruidoso Downs backstretch. Recalling her two-week stint at the track, screenwriter Sobieski explains why.

"The families are almost like the begonia," she says, "including the children, works in a different capacity. The members of the family are very proud of each other and very closely knit."

"What was fascinating was how many youngsters are used in professional capacities. At the oldest of the horse-soring boys can ride as well as the jockey, depending on the day.

Among the men involved with the race was a particular Cajun family. "The father was one horse and his son was with him — a jockey, and boy simply loved everything to do with horses."

As Carol Sobieski writes in "Casey's Shadow," the family like the one that the begonia.

Call the Capada Theatre for more information.

Indemnity Rate Hike Proposed

AUSTIN -- Separate brucellosis indemnity rates for female calves and non-registered dairy cattle have been proposed, as well as increases in the indemnity rate for registered cattle, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has noted.

The new rates now under consideration by the U.S. Department of Agriculture are: $250 for registered cattle, $150 for non-registered dairy cattle and $25 for female calves destroyed because of brucellosis infection or exposure. The $50 rate for other non-registered cattle would remain unchanged, Brown added.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Faye Walters
 Dorothy Neff has been on vacation this week and I have been filling in for her. I know everyone here has really missed her and will be happy to see her come back. I have enjoyed being of service to these dear people. We sure become attached to them in a hurry.
 It is a pleasure to be able to do something for them that will make their day a little brighter.
 Monday, Mary Jordan, Ray Reed, Tina Thompson and myself enjoyed playing dominoes.
 Tuesday was the 4th and Tina brought all the residents a pretty card. She is a volunteer worker and spends lots of hours doing little things for the residents.
 I know they all appreciate her and her work.
 Wednesday we had a nice bus ride. We went to Lockney, then out by Sandhill. The crops were so pretty.
 Green Bostick, Henry Love, Bill Mooney, Effie Smith, Robbie Bratton, Anis Franks and myself made this trip. Mr. Freeman drove the bus.
 Friday we played bingo. Ray Reed was the top winner with three games. Clara Williamson, Agnes Anderson and Anis Franks all won two games. Mary Jordan and Mamie Gray won one game each but they did not play long.
 We have had such good devotions and beautiful singing this week. We thank all who helped with this and we know God will bless them.
 We appreciate all our visitors which included:
 Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert E. Davis, Mrs. Floyd Webb, Mrs. Clarence A. Guffee, Parnell Powell, Lois Jones, Mrs. H.F. Pratt, Mrs. Jim Owens, Mr. and Mrs. J.C.
