Late Adoption

COLLEGE STATION -- Quality care and love can come from outside the natural family and adoptive parents can rear emotionally healthy children even when adoption occurs after two years of age, says a family life education specialist.

The focus of a recent study was to determine the effects of late adoption by examining adopted children and those who had been restored to their natural parents, Debby Johnson with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, continues.

Within the limitations of the study, the findings indicate:

(1) Adopted children scored higher on IQ tests than restored children.

(2) Adopted children had fewer behavior problems, were very obedient, slept and ate well, and had fewer temper tantrums than restored children.

(3) At age four, the adopted children were better adjusted and faring much better than children who were restored to their natural parents.

The fact that couples who wish to adopt are carefully examined, whereas natural parents are not, may in part explain these findings, the specialist says.

Also, the intense desire of couples to adopt is probably the greatest contributing factor to the differences between the children studied.

Often the natural parents whose children were either removed from the home or voluntarily given up, did not want children, did not love them after they arrived, or knew very little about the day-to-day of a child. In addition, while money is not the most important factor, adoptive parents must meet the prescribed income standards.

Farming Third Most Dangerous Occupation

LUBBOCK—Farming is the third most dangerous occupation in the nation, surpassed only by the mining-extraction and construction industries.

Many farm accidents can be prevented, though, simply through self-education, according to Dr. Willie L. Ulich, professor of agricultural engineering at Texas Tech University.

Several safety tips to follow, Ulich said, include knowing how to use equipment correctly, making sure people are clear of machinery, avoiding the use of equipment when overtired and knowing how to handle common potentially hazardous situations when they arise.

Ulich said there are a number of reasons for the inherent occupational hazards in farming.

Farmers generally work long hours, longer than people in most other occupations. Accidents happen most frequently when people do not react fast enough, Ulich said. This occurs when they become too tired.

Nearly 50 percent of all farm accidents involve farm machinery, including trucks and automobiles, he said.

Farming also involved many different jobs, from mechanics to chemical application to planting to engineering. A farmer doesn't always have the opportunity for safety training for each job he handles. Lacking knowledge on safe equipment operation or chemical application can lead to many accidents, Ulich said.

A farmer also doesn't have a safety engineer with him as someone in a manufacturing plant might have, Ulich said. There is no one there to warn the farmer when he is not handling the equipment safely or even to tell him how to handle it safely.

There are usually three answers to the question "What happened?" he said. The most frequent answer is "I didn't know," followed by "I didn't see it" and "I wasn't mentally alert."

"By educating themselves on the dangers of everyday chores, farmers can reduce the 'I didn't know' and help avoid the 'I didn't see' by knowing what to look for," Ulich said.

Mental alertness can also come from education, by knowing when to stop, he said.

Misuse of chemicals and equipment is frequent cause of farm accidents. One of the most common abuses on the farm is the misuse of gasoline.

"The explosive power of one gallon of gasoline is equal to about 44 sticks of dynamite," Ulich said, "and yet many farmers use gasoline to clean equipment parts rather than using commercial cleaners."

Commercial cleaners will not burn below 132 degrees Fahrenheit, Ulich said, but gasoline is combustible at minus 42 degrees F. Using commercial cleaners rather than gasoline can help eliminate gasoline-related accidents, he said.

As in medicine, prevention may be the best cure for farming accidents, Ulich said. Knowledge and responsible handling of equipment and materials are a farmer's best insurance against accidents.

How much are you worth?

How much do you think you're worth? And how much are you and bones actually worth on the market?

You could put a classified ad in this newspaper stating your worth. Calcium, magnesium, iron, and other chemicals from the body. Price: $5.60."

Ads presenting the sale of body chemicals aren't common. Inflation has made the body worth more.

According to a story seen recently, quoting Dr. Harry Jones, professor of anatomy at Illinois College of Medicine, he said he will keep going up, just like it's doing with cadavers and skeletons.

He said in Chicago that chemicals in the body that were worth more than a dollar in the early part of the 1970's are now worth only a few cents.

In a 160-pound person, there are about five ounces of calcium, nine ounces of potassium, six ounces of sodium, an ounce of magnesium, and an ounce each of iron, zinc, and iodine, he claims.

"When people were told they were worth only 98 cents each, they were shocked," Dr. Mosen said. "They feel better knowing they're worth $5.60."

He went on to say that cadavers used by medical schools are more expensive than ever. In April, the price went from $145 for each to $165 and the price is expected to increase to about $200.

So, should we assume our bodies are worth more after we're dead?

The Kemp-Roth legislation is the tax rate reduction across the board for individuals as well as businesses, providing relief for small businesses and middle-income taxpayers based on the premise that the individual can take better care of himself than can the federal government.

Fisher Meets With Leaders

Bill Fisher, candidate for Congress in the 17th District left last week for Washington, D.C., to meet with several Congressional leaders. He was asked by the Republican National Committee to go to Washington to discuss with John Rhodes, House Minority Leader, the possibilities of committee assignments, once he is elected to Congress.

Fisher, the Republican nominee to succeed retiring Omar Bureson, will also talk with others in Congress on tax legislation, specifically the Kemp-Roth Tax Relief Bill. Presently, the Steiger Amendment is being discussed in the House Ways and Means Committee. "On Friday, this committee will be talking up the Steiger Amendment," Fisher said, "and I'll be talking with John Rhodes and Jack Kemp, discussing the Kemp-Roth Tax Relief Bill and also the Steiger Amendment with some of the leaders of Congress, Republican and Democrat."

Fisher had stated earlier that he would do some lobbying when the tax legislation came back up for consideration. "That is another one of the purposes for my going to Washington, to lobby for the Kemp-Roth Bill and Steiger Amendment," Fisher said. "I'm not going to wait until after I'm elected to get some things done," Fisher emphasized. "I'm going to start work today for some of the things that are important to the people of the 17th District."

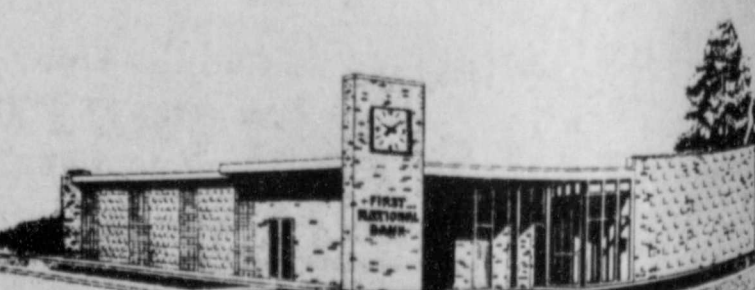

The Steiger Amendment is the rate reduction on capital gains taxes to help

Proper Nutrition For Athletes

COLLEGE STATION - Well-balanced diets-not fad foods-insure athletes of the proper nutrition they need, says Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Athletes may find food fads attractive because of the pressure on them for physical fitness.

Because of this pressure, they often accept any formula which promises quick results. They believe in any food or vitamin supplements they feel will improve their performance, she points out. However, no dietary special foods or vitamin pills give the athlete competitive

The WDCC Is Out

Blood....Yours!

In cooperation with the Central Plains Hospital Auxiliary, the women will be sponsoring the South Plains Blood Service bloodmobile on Tuesday, August 8, at Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, from 5 until 8 p.m.

Approximately 150 pints of blood are used by Caprock Hospital. The demand for blood is rapidly increasing as its tremendous therapeutic value is realized. Medical advancements and modern surgical techniques - such as the ability to transplant healthy human organs and perform open-heart surgery - have created this vital, ongoing need for human blood throughout the country.

Safe blood of all types must be available around-the-clock to assure the good health of our community.

We will get this blood from qualified donors who care enough to help those in need. All donors give on a completely volunteer basis, and the possibility of any commercialism is eliminated. The acquisition of human blood. Therefore, the charge to a patient who needs blood reflects only the blood center's actual cost for drawing, processing and distributing the blood. This service is generally covered by the patient's personal insurance. The patient is charged for the blood itself since it is given freely by concerned volunteer donors.

In addition to helping fulfill a vital community need, each blood donor receives a thorough pre-donation history and a careful medical history is taken and temperature, pulse, blood pressure and hemoglobin are checked. After the blood is drawn, it is carefully typed and tested for diseases which could be transmitted to the recipient. Should any of these tests indicate the need for medical attention, the donor is referred to a physician. It's like a "mini-physical" which benefits both donor and the patient.

Members of both sponsoring organizations will be recruiting other donors and service organizations in the area to contact their members about this special opportunity offered by the bloodmobile.

By Mrs. J.E. Green

July 24

Were we grateful for a cooler weekend! But this afternoon was hot again and no rain.

Friday afternoon visitors in the Claud Carpenter home were Mrs. Grady Hall and son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. T.G. Hall of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carpenter, City.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Green, Kenneth, Mark and Annie spent Tuesday night in the parental home on their way back to Peralta, New Mexico, after visiting relatives in the Dallas area, plus a few hours in Waco.

A phone call to the Don Clark Greens' by his mother, Sunday revealed they are home again after a 10 day trip and visit to California. They found hot weather everywhere and enjoy being back home in Big Spring.

Miss Vera Meredith in Lockney Hospital since last Friday, seems to be improving. Relatives, over the weekend, have visited here from Dallas, Austin and Amarillo. Mrs. Maudell Meredith is a house guest of Mrs. C.M. Meredith.

Bro. Hollis Payne entered Caprock Hospital last Friday and is feeling better. In his absence the Calvary Baptist pulpit was filled Sunday by Bro. Loyd Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mensch and son, David, of Lubbock spent over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas.

Weekend guests of Mrs. Ava Jackson were sons and wives, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jackson of Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. J.Q. Jackson of Ivanah accompanied by a son-in-law and children of the J.I. Jacksons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Huckaby of Stevenville visited over the weekend with her mother, Mrs. O.C. Vinson. All were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Vinson. Also present were the Vinson's daughter and husband.

Mrs. Elmer Warren was on the sick list over the weekend.

Mrs. Green visited Miss Esther Peek Sunday evening after church.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mayfield and children of Little Rock, Arkansas visited several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O.G. Mayfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Cumbie and grandsons were Sunday supper guests of the Mayfields.

L.D. Golightly is reported ill in a Dallas Hospital.

Mrs. Roe Jones reached home this Monday after visiting over the weekend with her daughters, Christine and Helen, and families in Petersburg and Ruidoso.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Fred Battey were Mrs. Ola Warren and the Thomas Warrens and all their children which included Mrs. Joyce Owen and son Jason, Edwin and Don of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stout and girls of Muleshoe. It was a birthday dinner honoring the two Mrs. Warrens.

Our sympathy is with the loved ones of Mr. R.H. Ashton who passed on early Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Forman of Wichita Falls arrived Saturday at the home of his sister, the Henry Brewers. Sunday afternoon the Brewers and Formans were in Lubbock with other relatives and seeing their brother Buren Forman of Anton, who was seriously injured in a car wreck weeks ago. Buren is in University Hospital.

Check with a physician or pharmacist for information on drug/sun interactions.

Certain drugs—for example, sulphas, and certain tranquilizers and antibiotics—can make the skin extra sensitive to sunlight, warns Carla Shearer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Window sills 30 to 32 inches high are desirable for elderly—bending to open windows is reduced, falls against glass are minimized and they serve as an easy escape in case of fire, says Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.
