Some Spots In County Get Good Rain

Wendell Tooley
Wendell Amelia just didn't get the Caprock in a "general" rain last week, but some spots across the county received good rains.

Out at Dougherty Henry Hinton received 1.2 and ten miles south of Dougherty a good 1.3 inches were recorded. Just west of Dougherty very little rainfall was reported.
Barwise received .3 four miles south of Floydada .5 was reported, and J.E. Waller on the county line south of Floydada received .7.
The Lakeview community received a half inch. Harmony received only a shower.
Floydada's official rain gauge at Pioneer Natural Gas showed .9 with a total of a little over 11 inches for the year.....some five inches less than this time last year.

John Hill Coming To Floydada Wednesday

Attorney General John Hill announced today his campaign for governor will visit 180 towns during Aug. 15-18 as 10 separate caravans led by family members and other supporters cover 5,500 miles while heading simultaneously for a shared goal of Waco.

Aug. 18 - Valley Mills, Waco.
"Our campaign pioneered the caravan idea in Texas politics, with 23 different caravans during the Democratic Primary campaign," Hill said.
"My wife, my three children and their husbands and wife, and dozens of campaign workers led these caravans across more than 13,000 miles of Texas to take our campaign message to all the voters in every part of the state."
"Every statewide public opinion survey taken since our May 6 victory show me ahead of my Republican opponent by more than 45 percentage points, so we're confident of victory-but we're not going to get overconfident."

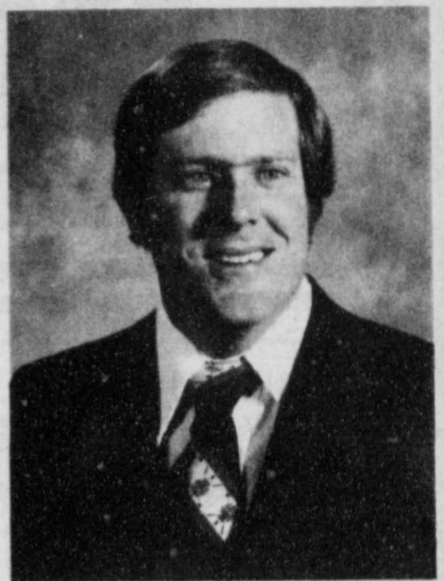

Whirlwinds Begin Workouts

Sure as death and taxes, football season comes again!
And because the young men need much preparation before facing their opponents this fall, two-a-day workouts must begin.

The Whirlwind football players begin two-a-day workouts Monday morning and will come before the people of this community with their annual "Meet The Whirlwinds" night Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the football stadium.

Merchants To Offer Free Dallas Trip For Two

Registration begins Thursday in 21 Floydada firms for a free trip to Dallas for two to see the Dallas-St. Louis game.

Registration will end on Saturday September 9 when a drawing will be made in downtown Floydada for the lucky winner.

The trip includes bus fare, motel, and game tickets to see the Cowboys play.

Only requirement is that registrants must be 18 years of age or older. You do not have to be present at the drawing to win, and no purchase is necessary in the 21 sponsoring firms. The promotion is sponsored by the retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce. An advertisement will appear in The Hesperian telling where to register for the two free trips.

Probation Office Future Depends On Commissioners

Recently this newspaper reported that government funding has ceased for the Floyd County Probation Office and at the request of the editor, Choise Smith presents the following review of the situation:

"The Floyd County Probation Office opened September 1, 1975 with Choise Smith being the probation officer. The first four months that the office was open it received thirty-four referrals with four juveniles being placed on official probation and forty-six receiving informal adjustment.

In 1977 the office expanded to serve all the 110th Judicial District which includes Briscoe, Motley, Dickens and Floyd County. Two hundred and forty-one juveniles referrals were received with nine cases being placed on official probation and forty-eight on informal adjustment.

In 1978 two hundred and sixty-one referrals were received. Fifty juveniles were on informal adjustment and three juveniles on official probation. The number of referrals received by the Probation Officer are from sheriffs office, city police, school officials, concerned parents and juveniles themselves. Mr. Smith likes working with youth and feels that the method of informal adjustment is the most effective with juveniles. They report to the Floyd County office twice a month and a home visit is made once a month. The juveniles from other counties report by mail. They write twice a month and a personal visit by the officer is made in their homes once a month. Informal adjustment also indicates progress since it is necessary for the juvenile and his parents to cooperate. Some juveniles are placed on informal adjustment on their first offense.

MR. AND MRS. CARROLL SIMS of Dyson's Shoe Shop this week received a great honor. The Western store in Lubbock that sells their handmade belts called over on a special order for three of the belts for Iranian dignitaries. The purchasers were to pick up the belts Thursday night.....got lost and trying to find Floydada the Sims family met them in Idalou to deliver the belts.

The gifts were from the U.S.A. to be presented to a special dinner. The belt with the name "Khatami" was to be given to the Royal Iranian Air Force General. The belt with the name "Mansour" was to be given to the number one body guard of the Royal Family, and the belt named "Yadolla" was for the chef for the Royal Price who is now taking training with the U.S. Air Force in Lubbock.

Pioneer Natural Gas Tells About Rate Increase

AMARILLO, TEXAS.....August 11, 1978.....Pioneer Natural Gas Company today provided the cities on its West Texas Distribution System a supplement to the rate application made by the company on June 30.

In filing the original rate application K.B. Watson, company president, had told the cities that a comprehensive study was being made of Pioneer's operations by H. Zinder and Associates, Inc., as well as company personnel. This study was to determine the amount of deficiency in the gas service revenues at Pioneer.

rate increase is September 15, 1978, and will apply on a system-wide basis to all domestic and commercial type; small industrial; and large gas air-conditioning and/or electric generating gas service customers served by Pioneer.

"Pioneer does not retain any of the increased cost of gas and, in fact, fails to recover much of the increase because of several cost items not recoverable in the cost-of-gas adjustment." Watson said at that time.

The cowhide belts had red and blue velvet for the engraved letter background.

The Floydada name will go back to Iran because the Sims stamped the inside of the belts with their "S" brand and the inscription "Floydada, Texas".

In his letter to the city officials, Watson said that study, as well as the company's related research, has now been completed and the company was submitting its formal Statement of Intent to Change Rates.

As Watson pointed out in the original application on June 30, Pioneer's last base rate increase was effective in 1970. He said that since that time, in spite of the increased cost of gas to the customer, the company's rate of return has decreased substantially due to many factors. He went on to point out that the increase in the customer's cost of gas over the past several years has come about by the "cost-of-gas adjustment", an adjustment that is designed to pass the increased cost of gas in the field directly through to the consumer.

The rate requested in Pioneer's Statement of Intent to Change Rates will result in an average increase for all classes of service of 26.36 percent over the rates presently in effect. The increase to the average domestic customer on the Pioneer West Texas Distribution System will be about $6.00 a month.

The rate requested is calculated to produce a gross revenue increase of $19.8 million which is below the deficiency determined by the Zinder study.

Texas Second Lowest In State And Local Taxes

AUSTIN---State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Tuesday a recent study by the Wisconsin Department of Revenue proves once again that Texas' business climate is among the most favorable in the nation.

The study focused on the state and local tax burdens faced by six make-believe corporations in 16 states, including Texas.

For five of those six firms, Texas ranked second only to Alabama in having the lowest combined state and local tax liabilities, Bullock said. "This is just another feather in that big Texas sombrero," the Comptroller said.

Warren Lubbock Horse Show Superintendent

LUBBOCK--Mary Hopkins of Vicksburg, Miss., will judge the Quarter Horse Show that will help ring down the curtain on the 61st annual Panhandle South Plains Fair.

The Quarter Horse Show is slated for Sept. 30, last day of the eight-day run, fair general manager Steve L. Lewis announced.

Book Sales Drive Planned

A concentrated book sales drive with personal contact will begin next week by members of the Floyd County historical book committee.

Mrs. Taylor and others of her committee met Tuesday morning in Floydada with the book publisher representative. They reluctantly decided that only one picture could be used with each family history due to the large number (over 1100) of histories that were submitted.

When spider webs unite, they can tie up a lion." —Ethiopian proverb

NOW FRIENDS, I don't often attempt to forecast the big news headlines a week or two ahead, but I'm going to very boldly declare this community will see the biggest sports upset ever when the Rotarians defeat the Lions in a softball game schedule Monday, August 21.

Doyle Warren will be show superintendent, assisted by Randy Upshaw. Ring steward will be Bob Middleton, while D'Lynn Whitten will be the secretary for the event.

Tickets are available at the Fair Office at 105 E. Broadway and mail order requests for tickets are being accepted by the fair at P.O. Box 208, Lubbock, Texas 79408. Requests for mail order tickets must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope. All seats are reserved and tickets for all shows are $4, $5 and $6.

I make this statement after watching the Rotarians practice session Thursday evening. You know the Rotarians have the dedication and the will to win when you see players like Aldine Williams, Floyd Bradley and Edell Moore come out for practice.

Now I'll have to admit we didn't risk.....well not exactly risk.....let's say we didn't let these fellows run the bases, but they did look good in fielding the ball and at bat.

Total premiums of $2,350 are being offered.

Entry fees include: halter classes, $7 per horse; youth activity, $4, performance classes, $12 per horse ($8 per horse jackpot), except calf roping, $15 entry fee and $10 jackpot, and junior/senior cutting, $25 entry fee and $17.50 jackpot.

Books are selling for $24.50 each plus tax for a limited time. The next phase of the book project will require that the book price is much higher.

Books may be ordered from Mrs. Joe (Virginia) Taylor in Lockney (652-2131) or from the Floyd County Historical Museum in Floydada. Virginia urges individuals to tell all members of their families about the "last chance" book sales.

Of course the Rotarian big guns weren't there for practice.....they're so good they didn't need to practice.

There's Jim "Slider" Smith, big Lance "Blast It" Barrow, Charles "Take 'em" Tyler and Alton "Hit 'em" Higginbotham who know how to play the game and can definitely be counted upon to come through in the pinch.

Payoffs will be as follows: $35 for first, $25 for second, $20 for third, $10 for fourth and $5 for fifth and sixth places.

The event is sanctioned by the American Quarter Horse Association. Entries are not limited; however, a rider may ride only one horse per class.

Books are selling for $24.50 each plus tax for a limited time. The next phase of the book project will require that the book price is much higher.

Families who would be willing to pay a fee to have other pictures printed with the story should contact the museum for fee price and other details.

Then, you have to remember that Rotarian Jimmy Willson may be one of the umpires and rumor has it that he personally favors the great Rotarian ball club.

So.....like I said, look for a big Rotarian upset over the "laggin' Lions".

The event is sanctioned by the American Quarter Horse Association. Entries are not limited; however, a rider may ride only one horse per class.

An open horse show also is scheduled on opening day of the fair.

Books are selling for $24.50 each plus tax for a limited time. The next phase of the book project will require that the book price is much higher.

Business, tribute and memorial pages can still be purchased. For more information, contact Mrs. Don Marble.

Where Does A Person Go To Get Born Around Here???

By Duffy Ratheal

A Peanut's cartoon once showed Linus complaining about the impact of environmental factors upon him in that many things were decided for him without his consent "even before he had a chance to fill out an application form to be born." Currently, though, his problem might be more apt to read, "Where do you go to fill out an application for a place to be born."

Figured on minimal federal standards—one doctor for every 1500 people—we are now suffering a nationwide doctor deficit of 50,000. After World War II advances in technology and knowledge led to an increased emphasis on scientific method and research. This in turn has led in recent years to a trend of specialization and centralization of medical care.

In 1923 only 11 percent of all physicians were engaged in specialized, limited practice, but by 1967, 71 percent of all practicing physicians were involved in some type of specialty—either to particular organs, specific illnesses or using special procedures. In 1973, of 295,300 physicians involved in patient care, 20 percent were in general medicine and 80 percent represented some 61 specialties.

The move toward specialization and its emphasis on large medical centers has occurred side by side with the shortage of medical personnel, a shortage which is also felt in our area. Lubbock educational sources recently reported that while there is an overabundance of college trained persons in the field of education, there is a need for trained medical personnel.

As specialization increased, the number of local general practitioners has decreased and many small hospitals have given over various services to the larger specialized centers. Prenatal, delivery and postnatal care is one example.

Caprock Hospital in Floydada has not provided maternity care since Dr. Terry James moved to Dallas in June, 1977. Dr. Jack Jordon is not presently accepting obstetric (OB) cases. Other area hospitals which do not have delivery services include Spur, Matador and Crosbyton. Women from Spur usually go to Lubbock, Post, Stamford or Rotan; from Matador, to Plainview and Lockney.

In Lockney, Dr. W.J. Mangold continues to accept obstetric patients. Women from Lockney who do not use these services, usually travel to Hale Center, Amarillo, Lubbock or Plainview. In Plainview, three doctors who provide OB care in connection with Central Plains Hospital are: Dr. John W. Dorman, although he is not accepting new OB patients; Dr. Larry Karrh, who currently is not accepting new OB clinic patients; and Dr. James Robins, who does accept new OB patients.

Swisher Memorial Hospital in Tulia also continues to offer maternity care. In Lubbock, it has been estimated that complete costs involved in delivery and hospitalization range from $800 to $1200. By comparison, Floydada's Dr. A.E. Guthrie said, "Many years ago I would drive to a home in the country and deliver a baby for $35.00". In Lockney costs are about $550 which compares to average Floydada costs in the past.

The trend toward specialization, and in some instances impersonalization of services, has caused a counter-trend which emphasizes community and family-centered concepts of medical care. Some hospitals are using trained midwives to deliver babies and calling for the doctor only when complications arise. RN's cannot deliver babies unless they have the necessary educational training in obstetrics to become midwives.

In American culture, childbirth procedures seem to have come full circle—from midwife home delivery to hospital delivery by a family doctor to delivery by a medical specialist and finally again including the concept of trained midwives and family style confinement. In coming full circle, the medical profession would seem to be following the pattern becoming widespread in other disciplines—that is, utilizing an eclectic approach, selecting the best of various methods and combining these to better general methods and to meet particular needs. And in this particular instance, hopefully providing improved methods for assisting entrances into this world.

Lockney Girl Marries In Oklahoma

Gayle Spence and Rickie Schmidt of Cordell, Oklahoma, were married Saturday in Cordell.

Spoken in the presence of the Rev. Gary Miller of the groom and the Rev. Don Weatherford, officiant.

Gayle is a daughter of Robert L. Lockney, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Miller of Cordell. She is the daughter of a candelabra holding white tapers with greenery and pastel daisies entwined. In flanking positions were two brass spiral candelabras. A portrait prayer bench completed the setting. Candles were lighted by the groom's cousins, Barry Bartel of Cordell and Tammie Bartel of Hesston, Kansas.

The pews were marked with hurricane candles and flowers.

At the guest book were Mrs. Craig Cummins of Altus, Oklahoma, and Lisa Nightengale of Cordell.

Ushers were Danny Lambert of Lockney and Rodney Miller of Cordell, cousin of the groom.

Organist Mrs. A.B.P. Schmidt of Cordell presented the pre-nuptial program of music and the marches. Pianist was Terri Bartel of Houston, cousin of the groom.

Songs included "The Wedding Song" and "You Light Up My Life" by soloist Joyce Ann Robertson of Cordell, and duets on "The Wedding Prayer" and "Make Us One" by Jim Evetts of Cordell and Jim Bartel, uncle of the groom, from Hesston, Kansas.

Sisters of the bride and of the groom were attendants. Miss Kem Spencer was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Connie Miller of Cordell and Sharon Spencer. Flower girl was the groom's cousin, Michelle Kiehn of Altus, Oklahoma.

The maid of honor was gowned in a pink organza dress designed with a three-tiered skirt with white lace trim and scoop neckline with ruffle and lace trim. Her bouquet was of colonial style created of pastel daisies with pink streamers.

The bridesmaids' dresses were of organza in rainbow colors and were designed like that of the maid of honor. Their bouquets also matched the maid's of honor.

Best man was Dale Parrish of Cordell, and groomsmen were Brad Lenaburg of Cordell and Montell Vogt, cousin of the groom, of Oklahoma City. Male attendants and the bride's father wore white tuxedos with black trim. Ring bearer was Michael Kiehn, cousin of the groom, of Altus.

Given in marriage by her father, Robert L. Spencer, the bride chose a gown of white organza. The bodice was covered in French chantilly lace and sprinkled with pearls. Her full bishop sleeves were capped in lace and ended over the wrists in tight lace cuffs that were dotted with pearls. The A-line skirt was edged with wide French chantilly lace flounce ruffle extending into a chapel length train.

Her veil was of bridal illusion edged in lace and attached to a lace caplet. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of pink sweetheart roses, baby's breath and pastel shades of silk blossoms.

Following tradition, her "something old" was a necklace; "something new" was her wedding attire; "something borrowed" was a handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother; "something blue" was a garter. In her shoe she wore pennies minted in the birth years of the bride and groom.

Reception
Miss Kathy McCarter and Mrs. Rick (Melanie) Bixler, both of Lockney, and Mrs. Lindan (D'Lyn) Morris of Floydada were assistants at the reception held in the church fellowship hall.

The table was draped in white and garlanded with smilax greenery and pink

House passes tax cut package

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House on Thursday passed a $16.3 billion tax cut bill after rejecting a version backed by President Carter and one on which the Republicans have made a campaign issue.

The bill was sent by a 362-49 vote to the Senate, where prospects are that the tax reduction will be enlarged.

As approved by the House, it would reduce the taxes of an average single taxpayer with $10,000 income next year by $15, one earning $15,000 by $71 and one earning $20,000 by $105.

For a family of four in the same income brackets, the savings would be $62, $77 and $146.

The measure also contains a once-in-a-lifetime capital gains tax break by allowing up to a $100,000 exemption for those who make a profit when they sell their primary home.

The House moved swiftly to pass the measure after rejecting by a vote of 240-177 a last-minute Republican drive to substitute their own plan.

Earlier, the House rejected by a 225-193 vote President Carter's preferred version of a tax cut. After the succession of votes, the surviving bill was one recommended to the House by its Ways and Means Committee.

The White House had only a one sentence comment, indicating displeasure about the House vote. "If you make $50,000 or more the House vote is great," said White House press secretary Jody Powell.

The GOP measure has been pushed by Rep. Jack F. Kemp, R-N.Y., and Sen. William V. Roth Jr., R-Del.

Opponents, headed by Democratic Leader James Wright of Texas, termed the Republican measure irresponsible, citing estimates that when fully effective it would add $100 billion to the deficit.

Congressional specialists calculated that the Kemp-Roth measure would reduce taxes by $31.9 billion in 1979, $69.8 billion in 1980 and $120.7 billion in 1981. Kemp and other supporters, however, said the stimulus to investment and employment would make up the lost revenue.

In an earlier vote, the House approved by a 249-167 margin a provision that would greatly reduce taxes on capital gains beginning in 1980. The tax cut would be based on a formula that takes into account the rate of inflation.

While none of the tax-cut bills that remained before the House came close to Carter's original recommendations, the administration was supporting one that would make an $18.1 billion reduction.

The House, however, refused to substitute the Carter plan for the $16.3 billion version developed by the House Ways and Means Committee. Carter has criticized the committee's bill as too generous to the wealthy and those enjoying capital gains.

Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, despite recent instances of coolness with the administration, took the floor to make the final plea for the Carter-favored measure.

He called it a more equitable bill and said Carter would sign it. At the same time, however, he criticized the administration for slow progress coming to Congress with proposals.

At the outset, the House rejected an effort by many members who wanted to add to the bill a special provision to offset in part the Social Security payroll tax increases beginning next year. The House voted this down by a 284-130 margin.

In so doing, the House sustained the Rules Committee's recommendation that no vote be allowed on an amendment that would reduce income taxes by 5 percent of the money deducted for Social Security. Proponents were promised a full review of Social Security law next year.

Rep. Bill Archer, R-Texas, author of the capital gains provision, said it would simply provide for taxation of real capital gains, but not the values created by inflation. Opponents said it would eventually reduce total gains taxation in half, reducing the revenue yield from this source by $4 billion in 1983. Archer contended that economic stimulus would offset the tax reduction.

Carter opposes sharp reductions in the capital gains tax which he said would give too much of a tax break to people with high incomes. A net gain is the profit earned from the sale of stocks, real estate or other assets held at least a year.

Carter had asked Congress in January to enact an overall $25 billion tax cut as part of a package containing several administration proposals, including a limitation on the businesses' deduction for such as for the so-called "three-martini lunch."

In the seven months that have elapsed since then, the administration toned down its hoped-for income tax cut for individuals and businesses settling on a $20 billion proposal.

The options the House considered on Thursday bore little resemblance to Carter's original proposal.

There was little so-called tax reform in the bill sent to the House by the Ways and Means Committee, or in two alternative proposals.

The alternative, backed by the administration, would have provided an $18.1 billion general tax cut, directing more reduction to incomes under $15,000 and less to those over $50,000, as compared with the original bill.

COTTON

Bollworms and tobacco budworms are expected to be a major concern in the Crosby - Floyd County area before long. The majority of bollworms being found last week consisted of large worms from a previous egg lay. Little can be done at this time except be on the lookout for the next egg laying period which is expected to start this week!

Last week few eggs were being found with numbers ranging from 0-1 per 100 plants. From 0-2 worms per 100 plant terminals were found and green square damage ranged from 0-9%.

Recent showers and milder temperatures will tend to aggravate the bollworm situation. Rains increase plant attractiveness for bollworm egg laying activity.

Fields should be checked at least twice a week to enable you to catch egg laying in time. At least 100 1/3 grown or larger green squares (not yellowed or flared) should be checked in each field. Since egg lays can be spotty at least 4 sites, representative of the field, should be checked. While examining squares for damage, egg and worm counts should be made. Count separately the number of white and brown eggs per 100 plant terminals also. Eggs that are brown are probably within 24 hours of hatching. By counting eggs you can determine what level of worm infestation you can expect in the next day or so, and just how much control is coming from beneficials. If you find 20 or more eggs per 100 plants and beneficial activity is low, excessive square damage could result following egg hatch.

Newly hatched bollworms are difficult to detect. Small worms (1/4 inch or less) are most easily controlled. Worms up to 1/2 inch can be controlled to some extent. Large worms are usually inside the bolls and not exposed to insecticide treatment. Prior to first treatment 10 or more small bollworms per 100 plant terminals could cause excessive fruit loss.

In addition to the insecticides mentioned with the attached information are several biological insecticides that will kill worms without harming beneficials. These materials are Dipel (R), Bactur (R), Thuricide (R), and Elcar (R). These have a bacteria, Bacillus thuringiensis as the active ingredient Elcar (R) contains a virus. Effectiveness can be enhanced if these suggestions are followed: (1) apply against small worms only, (2) use 3-5 gallons of water per acre if by air or 15-20 gallons with a ground rig, (3) use a spreader-sticker such as Bivert (R), (4) apply late in the day or after dark if possible when temperature is below 95 F, and (5) most effective when beneficials are present in high numbers.

With these microbials worms stop feeding soon after ingesting the material but do not die for 1-4 days. Check your fields for results about 72 hours after treatment.

GRAIN SORGHUM

Greenbugs are reaching the economic threshold in fields that have not yet been treated. Excellent control has been seen in those fields treated with recommended insecticides. In some fields receiving early treatments greenbugs may have a chance to build to economic levels before the end of the season. Parasitic wasp activity continues to be spotty but a slow increase in these beneficials has been noted.

If I can be of any assistance please feel free to call me at these numbers. Office 675-2426, Mobile 253-2990, Home 675-2416.

Working Wife Costs In Long Run

COLLEGE STATION —

To make working-wife employment rewarding, think through all reasons for and against working, and consider costs of earning a second income. Working-wife families are likely to save less and consume more than families with non-working wives, says Linda McCormack, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Families often think the wife's earnings lessen their need to guard against the husband's job loss, the specialist explains.

Primarily, wives join the labor force to raise the family income in order to buy more goods and service, rather than to save for future expenses, indicates a recent study.

The study also shows that working-wife families spend more than non-working-wife families on work related expenditures such as transportation, child care, and lunches at restaurants.

In addition, expenses directly related to the working wife's job — clothing, taxes, transportation to and from work, personal care, paid-for help, convenience foods and appliances — account for forty percent of her gross earnings when the family consists of adults and older children, the specialist points out.

In homes with preschool children, the addition of child care expenses increases the work expenses to about 50 percent of the gross income, she adds.

Before deciding upon a second job, consider filling in a worksheet to determine the exact costs of employment, Mrs. McCormack suggests.

If two-wage-earner families are trying to save money, they should make definite plans to do so. Some suggestions include:

Start by reworking the spending plan. Think of savings as a fixed expense in the budget.

Make saving automatic through payroll and bank account deduction plans.

Also, remember the other household jobs that will still need care. These include cleaning, cooking, ironing, dishwashing, laundry and marketing, the specialist says.

Cotton Demand Stable

In 1978-1979

RALGITH, N.C. — Both domestic mill use of cotton and sales of U.S. cotton abroad in 1978-79 will be virtually the same levels reached in the cotton year just ended, say economists at Cotton Incorporated.

However, they say, cotton producers making selling decisions should keep an eye on several factors that could cause cotton prices to fluctuate during the coming months.

As Daniel Troxler, associate director for demand economics, notes, because of the drought in Texas and insect problems in California, "U.S. cotton production prospects have declined in recent weeks, putting upward pressure on cotton prices. Harvest is still many weeks away in most areas, so the market will continue to focus its attention on the production outlook."

"Any further deterioration in production prospects here or in other major producing countries could push cotton prices higher," he adds. "However, world crop conditions could improve, or business conditions weaken, pushing prices down — possibilities that must not be ignored."

The analysis of cotton demand is contained in the August issue of the Cotton Summary, monthly publication of Cotton Incorporated. Cotton Incorporated is the fiber company of American cotton producers.

According to Troxler, textile mill activity currently is fairly strong. Demand for lightweight woven fabrics of 100 per cent cotton and cotton blends "has been exceptionally strong for over a year." Other areas showing strength include cotton yarn for spinning, corduroy, towels and sheets.

"However, he says, "demand for one major fabric category — heavyweight women fabrics for apparel — remains weak. Mill cutbacks in denim production have been especially damaging to cotton use."

Demand for these fabrics, especially denim, must improve before mill use of cotton will increase significantly, the Cotton Incorporated economist points out.

"Consumer demand for cotton textile products remains fairly strong, an encouraging note for raw fiber use if consumer purchasing does not weaken," he adds. Troxler points out that since the start of the year, consumer confidence has been battered by rising inflation. While the loss in confidence has not yet caused consumers to cut back on spending, he says, further increases in consumer debt plus inflation eventually could have this effect.

"In total," says Troxler, "there appear to be more indications of an economic slowdown and reduced consumer spending sometime during the next six to 12 months than signs of the contrary."

The outlook for world cotton consumption combined with foreign production prospects points to a third straight strong marketing year for U.S. cotton exports, the economist says. Exports in 1978-79, he says, are expected to match the 1977-78 level of 5.5 million bales.

Due primarily to the problems in California and Texas, Cotton Incorporated's 1978-79 U.S. cotton production estimate has been reduced to 10.8 million bales, a 500,000-bale decrease from the estimate made a month earlier.

Senators Give Selves Most Expensive Building in History

By R. GREGORY NOKES Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — A single vote by the Senate last week shows why Congress probably cannot be counted on to help cut spending and restrain inflation without a lot more public pressure than there has been so far.

Despite pointed criticism by some senators, the lawmakers voted 65-13 to complete work on the most expensive federal building in history, a new Senate office building to cost $135 million.

The new building will have 16-foot office ceilings, a gymnasium, an indoor tennis court, a rooftop restaurant and a marble atrium. The cost of all this when initially proposed in 1974 was supposed to be $48 million, meaning the cost has tripled in four years.

The project was under way before the vote and the $16 million spent so far has bought part of a steel framework that would be an eyesore if work were to cease. And it is not hard to make a case that the senators need more space.

But Congress has voted to stop projects that have been under way before on the theory that it did not make sense to throw good money after bad. "I can't imagine a more galling symbol of congressional arrogance," said Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. "This building is a farce and it ought to be stopped," added Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C.

But Sen. John Chafee, R-R.I., saying the "Mussolini-style building is an outrage," lost on a 45-29 vote in his effort to have construction stopped.

One senator, noting that estimates of the cost could increase to $200 million, observed the limit could be raised later.

It would be hard to argue, of course, that stopping work on the office building by itself would have made a dent in the nation's inflation rate, or brought about a balanced budget, which will be in deficit by $51 billion this year.

But at a time when polls and voter actions show the public is deeply worried about spending and inflation, the Senate let pass a perfect opportunity to demonstrate it is responsive to that concern and will do something about it.

Even though the taxpayers are making known their demands that lawmakers spend the public's money with greater care, the message of the vote on the new Senate office building is that Congress is not yet convinced it must take the first step when its own interests are at stake. "How do we get involved in the concept that absolutely anything goes around here?" asked a frustrated Sen. John C. Danforth, R-Mo., during the debate on the new office building.

Perhaps only when there is a public outcry that is loud enough to drown out the pleadings of special interest groups, will the Congress then finally listen.

Toll Free Number For Parks And Wildlife

AUSTIN — The new toll-free number operated by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in Austin (1-800-252-9327) is receiving 900-to-1,000 calls per month according to the log kept by the Clarence Beezley, information specialist.

Information about state parks accounted for roughly 39 percent of the calls with wildlife, water safety, law enforcement, fishery and other department activities on the list.

Most of the calls have been from the large metropolitan areas of Dallas, Houston and San Antonio. Special activities such as the drama "TEXAS" in the Palo Duro State Park near Canyon in the Panhandle have also accounted for many calls.

The toll-free number 1-800-252-9327 is maintained five days a week from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the P&WD state headquarters

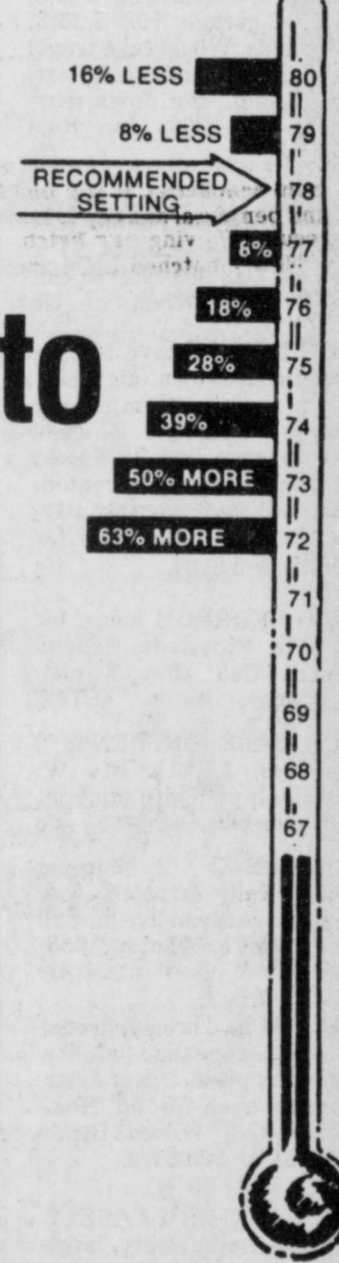

RAILROAD CROSSING DEATHS—The number of deaths at the nation's railroad crossings is climbing after a steady decline during the last 10 years. This increase is baffling many experts in accident prevention since most railroad crossing accidents occur during daylight hours, in clear weather, and when both the train and motor vehicle are traveling at less than 30 miles per hour. A safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service surmises that many of the accidents occur because motorists simply ignore flashing lights or automatic gates at railroad crossings.

GILMARTIN JOINS EXTENSION STAFF—John A. Gilmartin has been named a county officials program specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He will be working with Charles E. Lawrence in formulating and carrying out educational programs for elected county officials of Texas. He has been an assistant county attorney for Hood County for the past two years. Before that he served as an adult probation officer with the Dallas County probation department.

Texas Joins Grain Marketing Conference

App. to Probate.

[Cases Filed]
State of Texas vs a 1970 Olds. Auto - Petition to forfeit automobile.

[Divorce Granted]
Dimple Sue Adams and Gordon Allen Adams. Vada Webster Felton and C.W. Felton Jr.

Attorney General John Hill said today Texas is one of 12 states participating in an agricultural grain marketing conference called by the Kansas legislature to investigate the possibility of forming an interstate compact of grain producing states.

Hill sent a representative to the initial meeting last month. A second meeting will be held in topeka in October. "Texas was one of 12 states represented at this conference to explore the problems in grain marketing practices," Hill said.

"My representative, who was the only Texan at that meeting, reported to me that conference is exploring the possibility of joining the grain-producing states together in an interstate compact to give the states additional powers to solve grain marketing problems.

"The participants in the meeting expressed concern that their chances of relief from Congress do not appear good, and that individual states are powerless to address these marketing problems which extend across a number of states.

"The early discussions centered on transportation problems, such as railroad freight car shortages, and inspection regulations, which have sometimes proved inadequate to maintain a high reputation for American grain in the world market.

"There also is strong resentment against the speculation in the futures market, and a feeling that farmers should be able to create a mechanism to allow them to set an asking price for their crops in order to combat the effects of futures speculation. "I will continue to take part in these very important discussions on behalf of the grain farmers of Texas."

Red Cross Helping Texans

WASHINGTON D.C. AUGUST 7, 78—Over 100 red cross disaster specialists from outside affected area are still assisting local chapters in caring for victims of widespread flooding that ravaged many communities in central and west Texas beginning August 2.

Latest reports show 26 confirmed dead, 127 injured, total of 887 families suffered losses in Bandera, Kerr, Kendall, Uvalde, Shackelford, Comal, Gillespie, Haskell and Throckmorton counties. Eight red cross shelters housed 1500 persons at peak of emergency. Red cross teams provided mass care to 3000 victims and emergency workers, including meals from fixed and mobile feeding stations. ARC assistance centers now open in Randeria, Kerr, Kendall, Uvalde and Shackelford counties providing aid to victims on individual family basis. Total cost of red cross relief operation is estimated to exceed $300,000. Fund appeals are underway in affected area and ARC chapters are accepting contributions to aid Texas flood victims.

Additional serious flooding was reported over the weekend along Brazos River in Young County (N. Central Texas). Many were evacuated from towns of Flisaville, South Bend, and Graham.

ARC personnel are on the scene providing emergency services and gathering damage survey information.

and lower the deficit with a moderate tax cut as reflected in the tax bill which will also be up for debate in the next few days.

This, all taken together, does at least give encouragement that handles can be placed on our economic situation working towards stabilization. As has been said here a number of times, the key issue in all efforts to correct the ills besetting our economy is reduced spending. Burdensome taxes need lowering but unless spending is commensurately cut, inflation will continue to rage and deficits climb. As this occurs, we pay more hidden taxes with absolutely no benefit.

The theory that if the Federal Government has its revenues reduced, spending will also be reduced, is fictitious. If costs are not cut, along with less income, the Government simply ups the supply of paper money. When this happens each dollar is worth less and the merry-go-round turns faster. To a degree there may be some merit in the argument that the inflationary condition we are experiencing is not of the classic type, but basically and fundamentally, inflation is caused by too many dollars chasing too few goods. Needed is tax reduction to leave more money where earned — to produce more goods and the means to pay for them at reasonable prices.

The Veterans Administration today reminded handicapped and elderly veterans about a guidebook, published by the Federal Aviation, making air travel, easier and more convenient.

Titled "Access Travel: Airports," the publication lists design features, facilities and services that meet the travel needs of the wheelchairbound, the blind, the deaf and the aged at 220 airport terminals in 27 countries.

The 20-page guide identifies 69 items important to aged and handicapped veterans and others. The list includes reserved parking, ramps, accessible rest rooms, elevator controls and raised telephones, and special transportation.

Single, free copies of the guide are available from the Consumer Information Center, Department 619F, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Organizations requesting more than single copies should write, citing quantity, use and justification to: Office of Public Affairs, APA-400, Federal Aviation Administration 800 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D. C. 20591.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M.C. 17th District, Texas WASHINGTON, D.C. — According to economic advisors to the president, Americans can be encouraged that double-digit inflation will not occur in the second half of this year. They do warn, however, that prices will continue to rise for several months but the increase will not be as great as the current annual pace of 10%. There are warnings from other economists that the economy is slowing down and that a mismanagement of policy could lead us into a new recession. There appear to be indications that our economy, although slackening, will stabilize. Some of these indicators are based on the fact that our trade deficit is narrowing as our exports increase and oil imports, particularly, are considerably down from what they were at this time last year. It is believed that oil imports will shrink by a million barrels a day by the end of the year.

In line with these economic projections is a $16 billion tax cut approved by the Ways and Means Committee and a reduction in the Second Budget Resolution setting spending ceilings for 1979.

The Second Budget Resolution voted out by the budget committee last week set the ceiling some $10 billion lower than that requested by the President in January and the deficit estimate reduced by $17 billion as compared to the figure in the earlier part of the year.

The resolution, to be debated in the House of Representatives on next Tuesday, August 15, will set a binding ceiling on spending and a floor on revenues for the fiscal year beginning on October 1. The estimates are designed to reduce both the inflation rate and unemployment during 1979. The figures in the Resolution — spending, estimated revenues and deficits — cannot absolutely be guaranteed. But, if the Congress is ready to moderately bite the bullet, we do have the machinery to reduce spending

"THE ELECTRIC SAVINGS MACHINE"

BUYING, BUILDING, REMODELING?

It's time to consider the heat pump. Southwestern Public Service Company can suggest the system that will give you the most for your energy dollar, and come up with some accurate information on installation and operating costs.

The heat pump is "the electric savings machine. And usually a machine of such sensitive operation calls for a lot of space and some pretty technical installation procedures. NOT SO WITH THE HEAT PUMP! "Split systems" — most adaptable to homes — consist of an outdoor and indoor section, easily tucked away in a closet, garage, basement or attic. The single package unit looks very similar to a central air-conditioning unit that's placed outdoors. Both systems can be installed in most every home or office that has central air ducts. If you're buying, building or remodeling, it's time you said . . .

"Yes, the heat pump!"
