Commissioners Approve County Budget

The 2 o'clock budget hearing after noon Floyd Commissioners approved a $990,218 budget and tax rate at 95 cents per $100. There is no tax increase for taxpayers over last year's.

Commissioner Bob Jarrett served as the meeting in the absence of Judge J.K. Holmes, who was ill.

Commissioners paid the $636 bill of Murray (Boley) Jones at Caprock Hospital board of Doyle Walls. Jones had an operation while in the jail. The Commissioners are the ruling of the State Attorney so they will have some should the situation ever arise.

Commissioners voted to discontinue services of Redd Pest Control Chemical Company. They did not approve deputation of Emerit, Rickie Pernel and Wylie as reserve deputies.

People met with the Commission about how the next period's Revenue Sharing money be spent. The Commissioners to use $40,000 for precinct 2 for the Plainview Mental Retardation Center, $1,000 for the Floyd County Day Care Center, $1,000 for the Floyd County Museum and $144 for the jail construction.

had petitioned to the Grievance Committee a request for an additional $125.00 per month salary increase and that his $125 per month travel allowance be added to his salary.

The Grievance Committee approved the petition, which was then presented to the Commissioner's Court. This means that Porter will now receive $714 per month and no travel pay. JP of Precincts 2 and 3 R.H. Ford will receive $464 per month and $125 per month travel pay.

The Grievance Committee based its unanimous decision to give Porter the $125.00 per month raise because his work load is larger than that of Ford's. Porter collected over $26,000 worth of finances last year while Ford collected over $5,000 in fines.

THE GRIEVANCE COMMITTEE LAW
In 1971 the State Legislature created the formation of a Grievance Committee in each county. This committee has final say, even over the Commissioner's Court. Any person who feels that he has been treated unfairly can petition a meeting of the Grievance Committee.

Three citizens are selected on the committee as their names are drawn at random from a recent Grand Jury list. The other six members are the County Sheriff, County Tax Assessor-Collector, County Treasurer, County Clerk, District Clerk, and the County Attorney.

The three residents of the county as provided by the law are Mrs. Robert Ward, Kenneth Poole and Jerry Miller. The County Judge presides over the meeting.

OPINION ASKED
The Commissioners voted to ask County Attorney Kenneth Bain to seek an opinion from the State Attorney General "under the open meeting law" which requires three day's notice be given before the Grievance Committee meeting.

One Commissioner said he felt that a $3,000 yearly salary increase was just too much for anyone to get.

School Enrollment Down 28

According to a report from the downtown school office Tuesday, Floydada school enrollment is down some 28 students from this time last year. The official count Tuesday was 1410 students, down from last year's 1438. Enrollment at Duncan was 459 (463), Andrews 291 (303) Junior High 246 (253) and high school 414 (419).

SOUTH PLAINS
South Plains school reported an increase from 35 to 40 enrollment and Dougherty was down from 30 to 26. However, the Dougherty spokesman said there were possibly another four or five students yet to enroll.

LOCKNEY
Lockney's enrollment is estimated to be down about 30 students with a total of 950 reported after Labor Day--304 in high school, 231 in junior high, and 415 in elementary school.

Library Town Hall Meeting Well Attended

Some 50 persons attended the library town hall meeting Tuesday night. Any Hollums conducted the meeting and led the discussion.

The group finally developed five resolutions of progress for the library:

1. Financial plan to provide a new ground level location which would include resources information, community room for use of film, records, tapes, stories, etc.
2. More coordination between public school and county library.
3. Provide these community services: a. Delivery of books to home-bound, b. Group some materials for special age level, c. Make selections of Spanish language books available, d. Have a regular story hour or program for children and adults.
4. Get up-to-date materials for students and adults (college catalogues, vacations catalogues, new Reader's Guides, films, periodicals, resource material) and organize them in an easily accessible resource area.

'Winds Take On State Ranked Mules

By Wendell Tooley

The Floydada Whirlwinds will probably have their hands full Friday night as the Muleshoe Mules gallop into Wester Stadium. The Mules are ranked in the top ten state AA teams and are fresh off a 20-14 victory over Portales last week.

The Mules made their move toward the last of the game, making too late TD's to win. Their last touchdown came with just 28 seconds remaining in the game.

Junior quarterback Mike Northcutt threw a pass touchdown and made a couple more TD's running. The Mules tied for the district championship last year and although their coach was hired by Hereford, new coach Mike Wartes coached them to 350 offensive yards in the Portales game. Coach Wartes is mighty proud of his defense which held Portales to only one first down the last half of the contest. He has seven returning defense players from last year.

Muleshoe runs the offense from the "veer formation." The offensive line will average around 170 pounds. Most of the backfield muscle is 170 pound halfback Jeep Shanks. The other running back is Zeke Pecina, a 150 pound Junior.

WHIRLWINDS
Coach L.G. "Love Green" Wilson's Whirlwinds are in good physical condition. Although Ricky Day is out with an injured ankle, Jay Waller and Brad Feuerbacher should be back in the starting lineup. Jay and Brad were sidelined last Friday night with physical problems. Kick-off time is 8 p.m.

Green Peppers!

Hey, all you Mean Green Fans! The Mighty Whirlwinds started their 78-season on the goodfoot last Friday by beating Dimmitt. This week they will play their first home game against Muleshoe. We hope that everyone will come out and support the Winds on their way to the top.

The game will begin at 8:00. The Pep Rally will start at 3:15. We hope everyone will come and show the Mighty Winds, WE LOVE GREEN!

Bacon, Sausage, Eggs And "Roast"

Friday morning (tomorrow), somebody "gets it". It's the fourth annual Floydada Chamber of Commerce breakfast where all the employers and their employees are invited and everything is free, courtesy of twelve Floydada merchants.

Seven "roasters" are scheduled to throw barbs at one "roastee", Dean Martin Style. The only guarantee is lots of fun and good food.

The breakfast will be served promptly at 6:30 a.m., program to begin at 7:25 and will adjourn at 7:45, in time for everyone to get to work by 8 o'clock. There have been three other breakfasts of this type the past three years and each year it grows larger and there always seems to be plenty to laugh about in order to start your day right.

The Women's Division of the C of C is doing the decorating, and the art work seen around town advertising the event was done by Dallas Ramsey while the program was put together by the breakfast-banquet committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Sponsors for the breakfast are 12 Floydada merchants:
Goen & Goen Insurance, Adams Well Service, Blanco Offset Printing Co., Baker Insurance Agency, First National Bank, Floydada Real Estate, Floyd Co. Farm Bureau, Hale Insurance Agency, Don Hardy Car Wash, Plainview Savings & Loan, Williams Ins. & Real Estate, and Willson & Son Builders Mart.

The modern new steel building, complete with drive-way, signal tower and satellite dish is located at 119 E. Kentucky. Interior is neatly carpeted and paneled.

Kay Ford is receptionist. The business office will be open from 8:30 to 5:30 Monday through Friday.

The Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce will help with the open house Saturday and refreshments will be served.

BECOMINGS

By Duffy

On the "Today" program recently, Kenny Rogers (The "You Picked a Bad Time to Leave Me, Lucille" singer) said that one time he and his grandfather were talking about life and his grandfather said something that really knocked him out. Kenny then played his guitar and sang the song he had written using his grandfather's thought. The simple but profound words were: "Youth only happens to you one time. So if you don't have it in your young time, have it in your old."

Reader Response
Aging is something we start the day we are born. Each stage in life seems more interesting. And why anybody minds growing old, I don't understand.

I am 66 years old. There are so many things I have learned down through the years. One is if you are a nice happy person to those around you, they will never notice your grey hair and wrinkles. (But who minds the wrinkles? It sure has been fun putting them there.)

I have lived at this same little town for 63 years where some of the best people in the world live... Where we all visit and exchange fresh fruit and vegetables and always have the door open for our grandchildren and their friends with something to eat and drink in the ice box. They can sure make you feel young.

As we look back we can think of a lot of happiness and also a lot of disappointments. But there are so many things we can do to make our lives enjoyable. I'm not sure how I feel about so many programs to keep us older people entertained. The young people are having to pay high taxes to keep us going. When maybe we could do it ourselves. Perhaps the reason some look on us "as being with it anymore" is because we give up too soon. Just because we have to be helped across the street doesn't mean we don't know where we are going. We should never say let someone young do it until we have tried.

Somebody may ask that our house we go to baseball, football, and basketball games, play 42, paint, and play in a string band, plus a lot of other things. But most important, we go to church three times a week and try to treat our fellowman as God expects.

So let's forget our age and get busy and make this a better world to live in just because we past this way once.

I could write a whole tablet about this subject. I didn't know my life had been so full until I started thinking about it. Name Withheld.

She is currently an LVN at General Hospital. Enriquez is a Plainview School graduate and is employed at the home in Floydada. After their marriage, they will be at home in Floydada.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By: Dorothy Neff

I visited with Mr. David Moore this week in Plainview and he sure does miss everyone down here. He is confined to a wheel chair because of leg trouble. If you're in Plainview go by and visit with him, he will love it.

Mrs. Mary Jordan went home for a few days to visit with a grandson and his family from the Dallas, Fort Worth area. Hope she has a real nice visit. We miss having her in our activities.

The employees would like to thank Otis and Dorothy Mae Anderson for the delicious canteloupe they brought to us this week. They are always giving the employees something.

We would like to welcome our new resident, Mrs. Juanita Bailey of Matador to our home. We hope she will be happy here with us. She lives in Room 7 down the West wing and she would enjoy your visits.

We only had four to take the bus ride Wednesday. Henry Love, Will Mooney, Anis Franks and Docia Manning. We drove out to Cedar Hill and visited with Billy Ruth and Lindsey Lackey for a while. Then we drove Anis Franks by her farm to take a look at her cotton crop. Looks pretty good!

Our big winners in bingo this week were Clara Williamson and Victoria Asher with three games each. Ray Reed, Anis Franks, and Mamie Gray with two games each. Juanita Bailey and Wille Stambough with one each.

Grady and Ester Freeman flew to Houston Thursday afternoon to visit their son James and his family. They were also to see the Houston baseball game Friday night in the Astro Dome. Hope they have a nice trip. Grady assured us he would be back to drive the bus Wednesday.

Thanks to all our visitors this week, which included: Wayne and Patsy Bessley-Temple; Mr. and Mrs. E.H. Childs-Farwell, Tex; Mollie Burleson; Mrs. S.G. United Methodist Women Open Fall Season

The Martha Ann Circle of the UMW met in the church parlor on September 6 for the first meeting of the fall season. A salad luncheon was served to nine members.

Mrs. Ruth Trapp, assisted by each member, presented the program "Women in Hunger". It was noted that except for Canada and the U.S., women do most of the agricultural work in the world and with few conveniences. By means of grants and allotments of funds UMW are aiding the farming women in their work programs. After some discussion the local group came to the conclusion that two important factors to help relieve hunger are adequate and safe water supply and transportation.

Floydada Coop Gin Inc. Annual Membership Meeting Held

The annual membership of the Floydada Cooperative Gins, Inc. was held in Massie Activity Center Tuesday September 12. A regular business meeting was held, including the election of Roger Dawdy to replace B.A. Robertson on the board of directors. Dividends amounting to $167,000 were distributed. Refreshments were served to approximately 140 persons, many of whom received door prizes.

SMALL BUT HIGH TEXAS PECANS--Texas pecans will be smaller than usual this fall due to the severe dry weather, but the crop will still be of high quality, points out a horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. This year's crop should average 25 to 26 million pounds compared to average production of about 40 million pounds. The 1978 Texas crop was plagued by a severe winter, heavy pecan nut casebearer damage in the spring, and a season-long drought.

SODSEEDING TO STRETCH PASTURES--Overseeding pastures with winter grasses (sodseeding) can provide for additional fall, winter and early spring grazing, contends a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. With sodseeding, oats, wheat, barley or rye are seeded into an undisturbed perennial grass pasture in late September or early October. Plenty of fertilizer is needed along with fall and winter rainfall for good growth.

Juvenile Probation Office Remains Open

The juvenile probation office in the house has received enough funding to stay open the rest of this year. Smith will be in charge of the office until January 1, 1979, when he becomes County Judge. Lyn Busbee of Spur will continue to serve as adult probation officer for Floyd, Dickens, Briscoe and Motley counties.

Funds may be available from the Texas Youth Council to keep the juvenile office open, and applications will be received later in the year for Smith's successor.

SMALLER COTTON CROP BRIGHTENS PRICE OUTLOOK—Prospects for a smaller cotton crop than expected earlier this year have improved the price outlook despite sagging demand, says a cotton marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

While the U.S. crop will be down some, foreign production should be up slightly over last year.

Caprock Hospital Auxiliary Report

The regular fall meeting of the Caprock Hospital Auxiliary was held on September 11 at 10 a.m. with seven members present. A representative of Alcoholics Anonymous gave a distribution to the work of that organization. No dues are required to enroll in A.A. Only an alcoholic can help to another. The general public is slow to accept help as a disease. In hospitals as the state at Big Spring, a doctor is employed to help alcoholics.

It was reported that in Floydada, alcohol and drugs are easily available even in the jr. high school level. This is particularly true in homes where parents are non-caring regarding the activities and whereabouts of their children. It was suggested that educational programs could be helpful if offered in the elementary grades.

Floydada does not have an organized chapter of A.A. Plainview has three which are listed in the phone book.

President of the auxiliary Mrs. Bill Tye, presided over a short business meeting.

On August 27 the Lockney 4-H Club new and old officers and adult leaders joined to plan the 1978-79 yearbook.

Eddie Teeter, the adult leader president, announced plans for a drawing on Saturday, September 15.

Teeter also announced that a state adult leaders' meeting will be held at Brownwood at the state 4-H center. Juanita Brose and Ann Foster plan to attend.

How Does One Know If One Is Drunk?

By Wendall Tooley

Some people know when they're drunk (intoxicated) and some don't. Since the beginning of time there have been drunk people. Then came the automobile and the problem of drunk drivers. Driving while intoxicated people cause over 50% of highway fatalities.

Arresting officers for a period of time determined how drunk a driver might be by asking him or her to walk a straight white line. Some could and some couldn't.

Then came the blood check to see how much alcohol was in the blood stream. Today's officers use a machine or gadget that is called a Breathalyzer. The Highway Patrol has owned such a machine for years and know how to use it.

Recently county deputy Jim Gollahar completed a 40 hour course in San Antonio to learn how to operate the Breathalyzer.

If the Breathalyzer registers 0.10% breath alcohol content, the driver is declared DWI (driving while intoxicated) and charged.

Of course many times there is no doubt about how drunk a person is because the arresting officer first notices him as his car weaves back and forth across the road. However, the

DWI case will stand up in court if actual readings from the Breathalyzer are presented in testimony.

So...if you gotta drink....stay at home.....don't drink and drive.....don't drive and drink.

City Attorney Bill Kincaid knew his football "real good" last week and won the Hesperian football contest with only four misses of 24 contests. He will receive the $10 first prize. He missed the Plains-Morton, Petersburg-Abernathy games. Everyone missed the Canyon-Monterey and Crosbyton-Valley tie games.

The winners may pick up their prize money at The Hesperian each Friday noon. Second place winner of $6.00 is L.D. Bybee, Rt. 1, Lockney with only five games missed. Glenda Wilson, 103 W. Ollie is winner of the third place prize of $4.00. She missed six contests. She picked Floydada to win the tie breaker game with a total score of 21. The actual score was 13. Tracy Womack also missed only six games, but guessed the tie breaker at 37. Honorable mention goes to the following contestants who missed seven contests: W.O. Newberry, J.W. Womack, Cody Paty, Claude Estes, James McNeill, and Clarence Denton. Another big contest appeared in the Sunday edition...get to work on it right now....you might turn that football "know how" into CASH!

PUBLIC NOTICE SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 7, 1978

"The Tax Relief Amendment" (H.J.R. 1)

H.J.R. 1 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution allowing the legislature to exempt intangible personal property, requiring the legislature to exempt certain household goods and personal effects, and allowing the legislature to exempt all or part of the personal property homestead from state and local property taxation.

The amendment requires the legislature to provide for the taxation of farm and ranch land on the basis of its productive capacity instead of its market value and allows the legislature to provide for the taxation of timber land on its productive capacity.

The amendment permits local governments to extend the present exemption of not less than $3,000 of the residence homestead of persons 65 and older to include certain disabled persons.

The amendment grants an exemption from public school property taxes of $5,000 of the market value of the residence homestead. It authorizes the legislature to grant an additional exemption from public school property taxes of an amount not to exceed $10,000 of the market value of the residence homestead of persons 65 years of age or older and certain disabled persons. If a person 65 years of age or older qualifies for this exemption, the total amount of public school taxes imposed on that person's homestead may not be increased.

The amendment prevents local governments from increasing property taxes unless the governing body provides public notice and conducts a public hearing. The amendment requires the legislature to provide by law for each property owner to receive notice of the revaluation of his property and the amount taxes will be increased.

The amendment limits appropriations from state tax revenue to an amount not to exceed Texas' estimated economic growth rate, with the legislature authorized to make exceptions for emergencies.

The amendment prohibits the statewide appraisal of real property for property tax purposes. Enforcement of uniform standards and procedures for appraisal of property for property tax purposes is required to originate in the taxing authority where the property tax is imposed.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for tax relief for residential homesteads, elderly persons, disabled persons, and agricultural land; for personal property exemptions; for truth in taxation procedures, including citizen involvement; for a redefinition of the tax base; for limitations on state spending; and for property tax administration."

NUMBER ONE (S.J.R. 50)

S.J.R. 50 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to delete an archaic reference to the "Deaf and Dumb Asylum." The amendment would allow the State of Texas to purchase products and services done by handicapped individuals in nonprofit rehabilitation facilities without complying with bid requirements applicable to other state contracts. The amendment also would eliminate the formality of the approval of certain state contracts by the Governor, the Secretary of State and the Comptroller of Public Accounts.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment deleting the archaic reference to the 'Deaf and Dumb Asylum,' allowing certain products and services of handicapped individuals to be used by agencies and departments of state government, requiring the procurement of other products and services required in the operation of state government to be made under bids awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, making all such procurement processes subject to laws enacted by the legislature, and eliminating the requirement that the Governor, the Secretary of State, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts of Texas be personally involved with such transactions."

NUMBER TWO (S.J.R. 55)

S.J.R. 55 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to permit local governments to issue bonds for the reconstruction or acquisition of facilities (land, equipment and improvements) designed to develop employment opportunities. These bonds would be payable solely from the revenue from the sale or lease of these facilities. The building or acquisition of such facilities must be determined by the local government to be necessary to develop employment opportunities.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to provide that the legislature may permit political subdivisions to issue revenue bonds to develop employment opportunities for its citizens."

NUMBER THREE (S.J.R. 44)

S.J.R. 44 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution which would allow the legislature to authorize cities and towns to issue tax increment bonds to finance the redevelopment of blighted areas. The bonds are to be paid solely from revenue from municipal tax increments. Payment cannot be made from the revenue of municipal taxes, utilities, or other services.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to give the legislature the power to authorize cities and towns to issue bonds to finance the redevelopment of blighted areas and prohibiting any city or town from granting its money or lending its credit for such purposes."

NUMBER FOUR (S.J.R. 53)

S.J.R. 53 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to allow the legislature to exempt from taxation solar or wind-powered energy devices.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt from taxation solar and wind-powered energy devices."

NUMBER FIVE (H.J.R. 37)

H.J.R. 37 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to grant exclusive jurisdiction to justices of the peace in civil cases where the amount in controversy does not exceed $200, except where the legislature gives exclusive jurisdiction to another court.

The amendment grants justices of the peace concurrent jurisdiction with county courts where the amount in controversy is between $200 and $500, except where the legislature gives the county court exclusive jurisdiction.

The amendment also grants justices of the peace concurrent jurisdiction with both county and district courts where the amount in controversy is between $500 and $1,000, except where the legislature gives the county or district court exclusive jurisdiction.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to extend the jurisdiction of justices of the peace in civil cases."

NUMBER SIX (S.J.R. 45)

S.J.R. 45 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to allow the legislature to expand the number of judges on any court of civil appeals.

Presently courts of civil appeals are limited to a chief justice and two associate justices. The amendment also would allow the courts to sit in sections, with the concurrence of a majority of the judges sitting in the section necessary to decide a case.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to increase the number of justices on a court of civil appeals, permitting a court of civil appeals to sit in sections, and requiring a concurrence of a majority of justices to decide a case."

NUMBER SEVEN (S.J.R. 48)

S.J.R. 48 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution eliminating the State Building Commission and the State Building Fund. The authority of the State Building Commission has been transferred by law to the State Board of Control.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to repeal the constitutional authority for the State Building Commission and the State Building Fund."

NUMBER EIGHT (H.J.R. 42)

H.J.R. 42 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution allowing certain political subdivisions or districts in the state that can presently issue bonds or otherwise indebtedness or otherwise lend its credit to engage in fire-fighting activities and to issue bonds or otherwise lend its credit to support such activities.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit political subdivisions to issue revenue bonds to develop employment opportunities for its citizens."

The Floyd Philosopher Russians Will Have A Hard Time Teaching Everybody To Love Work

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has discovered a new project Russia has undertaken.

I have never believed that human nature doesn't exist in Russia but according to an article I read the other day the Russian government has set out to prove it doesn't. It's seeking a "psychological breakthrough" that'll make a person like whatever job he's told to do.

Discovering that its high schools are turning out too many college prospects and not enough manual labor prospects, the Russian leaders have issued a mandate to out it out. Stop teaching so much literature and other fancy subjects, they say. Too many students are trying to make high grades in high school so they can get into college and wind up with a desk job. The school teachers naturally will comply. I can hear them saying to their students:

"This morning we will take up the subject of the Joy of Digging Post Holes." Next day it'll be "The Delights of Changing A Flat Tire In Mid-August." The text books will be written by somebody who's never done either.

I don't know why, but there are people who like physical work and would be miserable behind a desk, and there are others behind desks who'd be flops anywhere else. If Russia can change that she's working with a different sort of human being I'm acquainted with.

Personally I like working with my hands, like turning the pages of a newspaper or hitting the keys on a typewriter, but as for digging post holes and changing flats, those courses never were offered in the school I went to.

Yours faithfully
 J.A.

Texans Love Pinto Beans, But Grow Very Few

AUSTIN--Texans love their pinto beans--and eat over 40 million pounds a year--but so few are grown here that crop figures are not recorded.

Ernest Jaska of Texas Power and Light Co. (TPL) in Waco thinks that is a bad idea. He wants to see more pintos grown--perhaps as many as 25 million pounds from 50,000 acres--in the sandy soil running from Gainesville up North all along the west side of the Blacklands.

"Anywhere you've got sandy soil," he said, "Beans just grow better in sand."

To promote the idea and the crop from a recently completed pilot project on four farms in Milam and Bell counties, Jaska has been sending half pounds of the light brown speckled beans to politicians, media people and others he thinks would be interested. The beans arrive in plastic sacks accompanied by a letter--ostensibly written by a pinto bean.

"I think this shows how a good idea can be promoted inexpensively," said Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown. "We are all for the development of another fine agricultural product--especially one as popular as pinto beans."

Are You Fair-Minded?

Often, the way we look at a contest between others can tell us a lot about ourselves.

Some people, for instance, take sides on an issue before they're aware of all the facts.

A number of such people have been following the contest between the workers at J. P. Stevens and the Amalgamated Clothing and Textile Workers Union. Over the past 15 years that union has repeatedly charged the company with unfair practices.

Recently it withdrew 25 of 26 charges against plants at Aberdeen and Wagram, North Carolina. The withdrawal came after the charges had been fully investigated by the National Labor Relations Board, which concluded that they were without merit. No decision has been made on the remaining charge. This brings the total number of charges either dismissed or withdrawn to more than 200 over the past 15 years.

Do you perceive issues properly, look at both sides of a dispute, refuse to form any uninformed conclusions and try not to make up your mind in advance?

If you do, you have a pretty fair chance of being able to say you're fairly fair-minded.

The Law and Teacher-Pupil Ratio

by J. E. RAWLINSON

Teachers and parents are frustrated when they encounter classes exceeding 20 to 1 ratio, but actually, the law provides one "personnel unit" for every 20 students "in average daily attendance."

System claims an average dis- pupil-teacher ratio of 20 to 1: 34 students in Johnny's or who can argue that fewer stu- teacher equals better educa- teachers, and administra- constantly for state legis- to reduce the "pupil- and the last two Texas bills (HB 1126, 64th 1975, and SB 1, 65th Leg- 1977) supposedly aspired to 1977, state legislators passed a which many people believe classes of approximately 19- on the average. But the failing to understand the "and "average" aspects have misinformed many teachers, and even school ad-and parents today are and unhappy when they en- exceeding the 20 to 1. Unfortunately, the public some- that higher ratios are school district mismanage- involving diversion of "personnel units" into unjust- teaching positions.

belief that the Texas actually can produce classes 20 students is the real cul- controversy.

of the school has a 94 per- attendance rate, it would nnel units; however, these not only teachers, but staff (for whom the state appropriate specific funds). this particular school has a librarian, two counselors, secretaries. This would re- ble teaching units to about

According to law, each teacher must have a planning period; thus, if the school operates on a six-period day, about seven teachers will have a planning period at any one time, leaving only 33 teachers to instruct the 1,000 students, producing an average class size of 30.3 students.

A similar analysis could be con- structed for elementary schools: A 700-student elementary school with 100 students per grade level (K-6) and 95 percent attendance would generate 31.5 personnel units. Subtracting a principal, librarian, two secretaries, reading specialist, itinerant nurse, and music teacher leaves 25 teaching units. This produces an average 26-pupil class (kindergarten figured on half-day basis).

The above examples make no allow- ance for other legitimate staffing needs. When a district attempts to rely on the state program to hire curriculum spe- cialists, business office staff, vice-prin- cipals, and some other personnel, for example, the class size increases even more. Some districts hire these people at local taxpayers' expense.

Other factors tend to increase either pupil-teacher ratios or costs, if the district protects pupil-teacher ratios by spending local funds to hire additional staff.

For example, the size of the school is significant; it is easier to "absorb" the impact of providing support person- nel in a large school than in a small school.

In the elementary school mentioned previously, keeping the same support staff in a 500-student school would cause average class size to increase to 27 students.

Consider another cost factor: Vary- ing enrollment sizes in self-contained elementary grades produce "extreme" choices in pupil-teacher ratios.

For instance, in the first elemen- tary school, the average class size was 26 students; however, if a particular grade level has 60 students, the choice is between two teachers with 30 students each or three teachers with 20 students each.

A local district may choose the first alternative for upper elementary classes, the second for primary, and a wealthy district might consistently provide the smaller ratio.

School officials constantly face sim- ilar priority choices: If a high school principal elects to offer advanced math to 16 students, other classes must carry a larger load to compensate; if a senior class sponsor is given an extra con- ference period, this creates a class period with no students, so other classes must carry the load.

A district may decide not to pro- vide such "extras," or may provide them and overload some classes, or may pay salaries of additional staff out of local funds to protect pupil- teacher ratios.

The 65th Texas Legislature enacted two changes in the school finance system which supposedly improved the pupil-teacher ratio situation. Analysis of these changes reveals they are more cosmetic than substantive, and address only the first four grades of school (K-3).

SB 1 changes the formula for per- sonnel units based on attendance in grades K-3 from one personnel unit per 19 students to one per 18.5 stu- dents. This "improvement" actually produces only one more teacher for every two 700-student elementary schools.

The second change apparently came in response to the notion that large classes are created by local adminis- trators. Districts are required to use 95 percent of personnel units earned in kindergarten and first grade, and 80 percent earned in second and third grades, solely for instructional services.

However, the mandate was diluted by a specification that aides, librarians, special education teachers, and special area teachers (music, art, physical education) could be counted toward satisfying the requirement. A district already hiring such specialists achieved no significant increase in staffing for primary grades.

Comparison of pre-1975 school fi- nancing with 1975 and 1977 legislative efforts produces additional evidence that SB 1 does not create smaller classes.

Before 1975, districts received per- sonnel units by category: Classroom teachers, principals, counselors, aides, etc. Classroom teacher units were allocated at a 25 to 1 ratio.

The new system replaced the multi- category plan with an all-inclusive "per- sonnel unit" allocated on an approxi- mate 19.5 to 1 ratio. But the apparent smaller ratio was not a bona fide re- duction; it merely offset losses occur- ring when categories for support staff were eliminated.

Regarding legislative intent, the "proof of the pudding" is the legal stip- ulation that local districts must assign enough teachers to classroom instruc- tion to maintain a 25 to 1 ratio—the same ratio required three years ago!

Has no progress been made?

Clearly, the current finance system is better than the pre-1975 model. Im- provements have occurred in many areas of Texas public school education; however, reduction in class size may not accomplish as much as some ex- pect.

As more and more parents and teachers become aware of the facts, they can begin to influence legislation that actually will produce smaller classes.

What One Person Can Do

BILL BALL, FUND-RAISER FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN

"It's a great feeling to see a child running down a corridor, after doctors have said she'd die in the first two years of her life," says Bill Ball. "She's eight now and although she can't talk, she's alive and full of vigor. The sight of a child like that makes you want to work a little harder for something you believe in and help someone other than your- self."

Five days a week Bill Ball is a transportation stock and tool attendant whose job helps maintain the light and power supplies of Syracuse, New York. But Bill's efforts after working hours have brought light into the lives of hundreds of disabled youngsters. Several years ago he became interested in fighting the effects of cerebral palsy in children born with that crippling birth defect. Assuming the job of program chairman of his local Elks Lodge, he built the lodge's fundraising campaigns a- round pancake breakfasts, bowl-a-thons, walk-a-thons, raffles and circuses. The lodge's fundraising climbed steadily until it led the state's 143 Elks Clubs with $12,000 in 1977.

"I told my wife Shirley when I first joined the lodge, if I couldn't make a contribu- tion or help someone less fortunate than myself, I'd resign," Bill Ball remem- bers.

Anyone who truly loves God and those around him will find ways, both during and after regular working hours, to express that love. No talent need be left un- used. There is someone, wher- ever you are, who needs it.

SORGHUM TEAM TO CULTIVATE SOME EUROPEAN MARKETS

Lubbock, Tex.-The drive to expand grain sorghum sales overseas will continue in September as a sorghum promotion team leaves for Europe. Led by Elbert Harp, Executive Director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association, the team will depart Sept. 16 to work in the seven European countries showing the most interest in purchasing grain sorghum.

With Harp will be Dr. Reed Richardson of Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas and Ben Baisdon of Texas Department of Agriculture in Austin, Texas. Dr. Richardson is a livestock nutritionist and will be dealing with problems of nutrition in livestock and grain processing.

Mr. Baisdon is Director of Marketing For Texas Dept. of Agriculture and will assist Harp in planning ways to remove trade restrictions on sorghum and of development of better marketing news services to keep foreign buyers informed of price relationships between sorghum and other grains.

The team will hold conferences to discuss feeding programs and problems. The men will work in England, Scotland, Germany, Norway, Poland, Romania, and Spain. They will present research data concerning nutritional value of grain sorghum. Emphasis will continue to be placed on the difference in U.S. No. 2 yellow sorghum and the high tannin, (bird resistant,) sorghum being shipped from other countries.

U.S. No. 2 yellow sorghum does not have a tannic acid problem but much of the grain that has been exported from South Africa, Argentina, and Thailand is of the type that is low in nutritional value because of the tannic acid content. The result is that livestock feeders are afraid to use sorghum.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association and Texas Grain

Sorghum Producers Board (GSPA TGSPB) have been conducting a world-wide educational program since 1975 aimed at showing the difference U.S. sorghum and "brown sorghum". The U.S. Feed Grains Council sponsors the sorghum promotional work overseas in cooperation with the Foreign Agriculture Service

You Ought To Be Locked Up!

At least your home is safe when you are away. Many thefts occur in front of homes when the occupants are outside on the porch or deck or are in the yard. A thief can enter the house while the family is in the yard knocking on the door and enters when no one answers and pilfers the home while the residents are busy outside. Locking the front of the house while you are out back will normally prevent this type of burglary. Keeping the doors locked while the family members are in the house, especially if one member is home alone, will reduce the possibility of an intruder entering the residence and committing a crime against whoever is home.

It is a good idea to determine who is knocking on the front door before you open it. An intercom system or a peephole door viewer should be utilized. At the very least look out a window to see who is on the porch before opening the door. Many criminals have used a pretext of being a repairman, policeman, salesman or even a clergyman to gain access to a residence to commit a crime. If you are not certain who it is at the front door, do not open the door and admit that person if you are home alone. Do not admit to anyone that you are home alone. If necessary, call a neighbor and have that neighbor come out on their porch and watch while you open your front door and speak to whomever it is on your doorstep. You, of course, should offer to do the same thing for your neighbor.

Many times one expects to become the victim of crime if they go downtown or go shopping or go on a trip. But all too many times people become victims of crimes when they least expect it, when they open their own front door. Lock on to a good idea—keep your front door locked.

William H. Wester
Director, F.B.I.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome to the 25th annual Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair.

This is the twenty-fifth year of the Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair, and this year's Fair promises to carry on in the tradition of past years. In addition to being an educational and entertaining event, the Fair has always been a place for people to meet and exchange ideas, and renew old friendships. This year your Board of Directors has tried to create an atmosphere where all these things can take place.

The Board of Directors is proud to announce that the Old-Time Gospel Singing will return to the Fair this year adding to all the other exciting events which have become a normal part of each year's Fair.

I would like to offer a special thank you to the Board of Directors and to the many area people who provide their interest and assistance in making our Fair a continuing success.

Sincerely,

Paul Koonsman

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

"Special" Children Special Needs

Parents who accept their "special" child's needs take the first step toward meeting those needs.

This also means parents must accept their own negative feelings toward their special child—as normal feelings.

Special children are mentally or physically handicapped or gifted children with special needs.

These children all share one need, however—the need to feel they are worthwhile members of their family.

At the same time, these families may struggle through more problems than other families—and they may suffer many frustrations along the way.

Discovering Needs
Just discovering the child's special needs can be frustrating in itself.

Parents of special children must adjust to the fact that their child is—in some ways—not what they feel a child of the same age should be. He may also be too far ahead, as well as behind.

Parents may, at first, try to deny that the child has any problems at all.

"He may be behind other kids his age, but he'll catch up," is a familiar reaction to a child with learning problems. Or, "He's smarter than I am, and he's only eight years old. What will I do with him?"

Eventually these parents may have to re-adjust their plans and goals for their child.

Accepting The Child
Parents of special children also often find it difficult to accept the child himself—because of his special needs.

Seeing teachers, other parents and other kids accepting and valuing the child may make it easier for them to do so.

Normal Negative Feelings
Negative feelings toward the child—such as feelings of anger, rejection, jealousy or even revulsion—are normal.

Most of us have learned to be uncomfortable with difference in other people, especially physical differences.

We grow up separated from blind, deaf, physically or mentally disabled people.

In fact, many parents' first real contact with such a person may be with their own child.

In addition, this child has probably caused his parents much worry, mental anguish, extra time and extra money.

It would be abnormal for such parents not to have negative feelings about these children.

Parents, however, are usually afraid to express such feelings—or they may deny they exist, even to themselves.

Guilt feelings also are common.

Parents may feel guilty about their negative feelings—or even feel to blame for the child's special problem.

However, these parents are probably not to blame for the child's needs.

A Message To Parents
Parents of special children should remember that their child:

- is a member of the family
- needs to develop a real sense of self worth
- needs a family that places realistic hopes on his achievement
- needs to have limits set
- needs consistent guidance and help with learning skills and behavior
- needs to feel secure
- needs the chance to explore new experiences
- needs to know that negative feelings of anger, rejection, revulsion and guilt are normal reactions to new situations.
