'Mild' Recession Foreseen By Babson

Business And Financial Forecast For 1979

Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Mass. A year ago, our forecast for anticipated further progress on the business front. Despite a long coal strike, an increase to peak levels of interest rates, and a falling decline in the value of the U. S. against the stronger currencies of the general business did actually display staying power than had seemed probable. Unfortunately, the specter of inflation—about which we had warned—also its presence felt during the past year. A "hidden tax" proved to be a double-edged sword: On the one hand, the psychology prompted buying of goods and homes in expectation of rising prices, thus helping to sustain the business pace; on the other hand, it was instrumental in generating the inflation from the dollar and the consequent performance of the stock market. So, the public confidence undermined by the twin forces of inflation and interest rates even while there were advances in industrial activity, personal income, and corporate profits.

SOME LETDOWN FOR BUSINESS
 1979 makes its debut, the present business cycle is already longer than the average life of this nation's expansion phases. This trend reversal is imminent, but a downturn which has lasted 44 months is still vulnerable. After careful consideration of all relevant factors, the staff of Babson's Reports predicts that the American economy will slip into a recession in 1979. It will appear that enough business vitality existed to sustain the upturn through the better part of the year, at least to avert a recessionary course of the year.

The situation was changed, however, when the Administration and the Federal Reserve took radical measures to dampen the inflation and to arrest the rise of the dollar. The chief steps were to boost interest rates and the curbing of credit, plus the implication that interest rates extremely high, prospective barometers as inventory accumulation, home building and general construction capital expenditures, and purchases of automobiles and high-priced items.

DEEP, PROLONGED RECESSION UNLIKELY
 Through a recession is now more a possibility than a mere possibility, its severity is a matter of debate. A recession will depend not only on how much pressure the nation's leadership bears upon inflationary forces but also on its degree of determination. To offset too soon or to fail to administer pressure could allow inflation to gain momentum quickly, perhaps necessitating subsequent measures far more drastic to the economy than a job properly administered at this time.

With the economy at its present high level, the anti-inflation game will not produce traumatic consequences. Babson's foresees, instead, a gradual down in the business tempo of intensity and duration to qualify as a recession—that is, at least successive calendar quarters of back-to-back national output. We look for the national product (output of goods and services less inflation) to record slip in the second and third quarters of 1979, beginning sometime in the final months. Should the scenario work out as a "no growth" period, mild in comparison with other recessions in our past, but this would be a small price to pay compared with what might happen if inflation were allowed to run unchecked.

PLENTY OF WORRIES—HOPES TOO
 There may be as many reasons for public uneasiness in 1979 as there were in 1978. Prices will rise further—though not as sharply as in the past year—and there will naturally be concern about the effectiveness of the battle against inflation. Also, the diminution of business vitality will spawn fears about possible layoffs, reduced job openings, and less hefty pay checks because of curtailments in overtime and shorter workweeks. In a year chock-full of key labor contract bargainings, the threat of strikes will be much in evidence. There could, of course, be some optimistic influences. If anti-inflation efforts make some headway, for example, the status of the dollar could improve, lifting the confidence of investors and businessmen.

GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT
 Gross national product—on the basis of current dollars—will undoubtedly trend higher, owing principally to inflation. But the gain will be substantially less than that of 1978. Activity in the credit-dependent sectors of the economy will slow, and government spending for most of the twelve months ahead will be more restrained than in past recessions, reflecting the new-found concern of the electorate with paring public spending and achieving tax relief. How long this attitude will last under recession pressures remains to be seen, and especially the effects upon the country's legislators at all levels. Though the economy may stutter during some of 1979, the real GNP (with inflation factored out) still ought to be able to manage a sliver of an increase of about 2% for the year as a whole.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION
 Despite price inflation along a broad front and the sequence of step-ups in borrowing costs in 1978, the urge to act before prices advanced even further brought sales of cars and houses last year to a higher level than one would have thought likely. Since consumer demand in these—and a number of other—fields represented at least to some degree an advance siphoning from 1979 markets and the incurring of debt in the process, the task of duplicating last year's results seems formidable. With interest rates now even higher and credit supplies tighter, the task for the next twelve months will be even more arduous. Babson's forecast for industrial production in 1979, therefore, is for a moderate—around 2%—backslide from 1978 levels. Strong showings in output of transportation equipment, military goods, and computer equipment—plus a rebound in coal mining—should help to prevent a more painful slump in total industrial production.

BUSINESS INVENTORIES
 The economy will not receive any upward impetus from business inventory accumulation during much of 1979. Management's thinking on this matter will reflect the high cost of borrowed money, while the need to stockpile will diminish as industrial activity slackens. There are, of course, bound to be sporadic inventory build-ups owing to possible labor disputes, but these will give way to liquidations once the danger is over. For the coming year, the key consideration is that the country will not be confronted with an economic adjustment either caused by or intensified by top-heavy inventory positions. The need to liquidate redundant inventory holdings has spawned many a cyclical business down-phase in the past. But during the last three and a half years, businessmen have by and large kept their inventory positions lean. So, while their inventory policies will not impart much stimulus to business in '79, neither will they drag it down.

BUSINESS CAPITAL EXPENDITURES
 Business outlays for new plant and equipment lagged markedly in the early stages of the economic advance that began in the spring of 1975. This was perfectly normal since there was an abundance of productive capacity at that time. Over the past two years, however, capital expenditures have gained momentum as climbing production rates have increasingly strained plant facilities. Rising operating costs and the exigencies of complying with environmental quality regulations have also spurred spending for more efficient equipment. But the upsurge in the cost of borrowed funds has adverse implications for capital investments. For 1979, the staff of Babson's Reports expects only a modest increment instead of another smart increase—perhaps amounting to 3% in real terms and about 10% with inflation included. Yet, outlays will still run at a brisk tempo, sustained by hefty backlogs.

THE LABOR FRONT
 1979 faces a busy schedule of labor negotiations involving a number of important industries such as petroleum, trucking, auto, electric products, and rubber. The voluntary wage-price restraints will undergo stern tests in these bargaining sessions. Labor groups have expressed disapproval of the 7% ceiling on wage hikes and fringe gains combined. They will acquiesce only if the lid is applied to direct wage increments alone and if living costs are restrained. It is too early to rule out formal controls on pay rates and prices.

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION
 Residential building enjoyed a banner year in 1978. Generally available mortgage credit—though at costly rates—kept housing starts extremely high. Added to the need for shelter dictated by population pressures was the impetus to home building stemming from the inflation psychology. Now that mortgage rates have reached levels making home ownership more difficult, and tighter bank credit has adversely impacted mortgage money supplies, home building faces a slower year. Babson's is forecasting a decline from around 2 million units in the private sector for 1978 to some 1.6 million for 1979.

In heavy construction there will be little real growth. Government and corporate budgets are under stress, and building costs have risen significantly. A sharp letdown, however, is not anticipated.

CORPORATE PROFITS—DIVIDENDS
 Business profits recovered from an opening-quarter loss owing principally to the effects of the coal strike, and the balance of 1978 experienced excellent operating results. But 1979 will not see a repeat of the past year's outstanding achievement in corporate profits. Militating against it will be further cost advances, slower business conditions, the restraints on price boosts, and the widespread repercussions of the seemingly unavoidable OPEC hike in oil prices. Babson's is projecting for 1979 as a whole only a slight upshading in corporate profits after taxes, and even this will be mostly the result of the slight paring of federal corporate income taxes. Still, by historical comparisons, the 1979 profit level will look good.

Strengthening corporate financial positions over the past three years will permit well-maintained dividend payments, and there can still be a goodly sprinkling of rate step-ups.

EMPLOYMENT—JOBLESSNESS
 After three successive years of healthy employment gains, easing conditions in a number of large job sources will restrict 1979's increment to only token proportions. During the recession we expect, the number of jobholders could shade off, but the frightening rash of layoffs which occurred in late 1974 and early 1975 is not in the cards for 1979. Nevertheless, there will be some gain in the number of jobless workers as well as in the unemployment rate. The latter will, in fact, work its way back up over the 7% mark of the civilian labor force, even though it was pushed back to 5.7% in mid-1978. The real problem will not be layoffs but rather not enough job openings to absorb the additions to the nation's labor force.

PERSONAL INCOME
 With no massive employment dislocations expected, the uptrend in personal income should continue next year. On the plus side will be the hike in the minimum wage, automatic pay increases under existing multi-year labor pacts, and fresh pay raises won in 1979 union settlements. Income from dividends and interest will post good gains, as will earnings in the farm sector. Hence, even though personal income will not climb as rapidly as it has in recent years, consumers will still have a heartening volume of purchasing power.

CONSUMER SPENDING
 Uneasiness over a less sparkling business climate and the specter of labor tie-ups and some job cutbacks will moderate consumers' buying intentions over a good portion of the new year. There will be a greater emphasis on reducing installment debt and on building up savings. This will, naturally, tend to strengthen the economy beyond the months immediately ahead, but the short-run impact will be to hold unit sales and gross dollar volume of retail trade somewhat below desired levels. But Babson's still does not foresee any radical curtailment of consumer eagerness to buy in the approaching twelve months.

AGRICULTURAL PROSPECTS
 1978 was another bumper crop year for American farmers, with incomes posting a good increase over 1977. Many in the agricultural sector feel, however, that farm prices have been laggard relative to the inflation in operating costs and the cost of living. Prospects do favor additional firming of crop prices, but huge carryovers are deterrents to any runaway price advances. As for livestock prices, the up-trend of the past year will progress further in 1979.

DOMESTIC POLITICAL SCENE
 The anti-inflation battle and the related wage-price restraint program of the Carter Administration will command much attention as the new year progresses. On Capitol Hill, though, there will be no dearth of issues. Making a big push in the coming session of Congress will be proponents of a comprehensive National Health Insurance program, as well as advocates of increased funding for seeking alternative fuel and energy sources. There will be, too, attempts to redress the energy and tax measures passed by the last Congress, both of which were compromised to the point of multilateral dissatisfaction. Also problematic for the Administration will be the drive to shape a less inflationary federal budget for fiscal 1980.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS
 The international arena remains loaded with anxiety-producing issues. The stop-and-go peace negotiations between Egypt and Israel—still with important points of disagreement at this writing—offer a possible beacon of hope. But the areas of sharply divided views do underscore the vast complexities of Mideast problems. The situation in Lebanon has yet to be resolved, and the turmoil in Iran has even more significant ramifications for the Western World. After all, Iran is a heavy exporter of petroleum; it borders Russia; and it is strategically located in terms of the shipping lanes for Mideast oil. In Africa, continued tensions are likely. Even in Asia, there are deep-rooted conflicts along with contemporary power-struggle connotations. It should be noted, however, that an accord on the second phase of the strategic arms limitation talks could improve U. S.—Soviet ties.

MONEY SUPPLIES—INTEREST RATES
 The tightening of credit will not let up for some months, and the rise in interest rates seems destined to persist well into this winter or even into the spring of 1979. Right now, we look for the prime lending rate of the nation's leading commercial banks to peak around the 12% mark, but a rapid and sharp subsequent turnaround is not likely. We do not, however, anticipate the awesome economic disruptions caused by credit crunches of the past dozen years or so.

STOCK AND BOND OUTLOOK

and the frightening climb in money rates in 1978 frustrated the stock market's attempts to sustain its upward drives. At present, with the economy seemingly fated to slip into a recession, the 1979 stock market outlook appears discouraging to many investors. Yet Babson's Reports expects improvement in the status of the dollar and in the nation's balance of trade to revitalize investment sentiment. And at some point the stock market will likely commence to discount economic recovery after the recession. So, with many stocks trading at very low multiples of their latest twelve-month earnings and even relative to their probable profits for the year ahead, forward-looking investors will find a wide selection of opportunities in common stocks and convertible securities. The Babson Staff expects the Dow Jones Industrial Average in 1979 to hold in the same range as in 1978. But if headway is made toward curbing inflation, bolstering the dollar, and improving our trade balance, the DJIA could well launch a drive which would carry it into new high ground.

With interest rates nearing a peak, the bond market should also give a better account of itself in the year ahead. In coming months, investors in need of strengthening their position in fixed-income investments will have ample opportunity to acquire bonds and preferred stocks that provide attractive yields.

Chesshir--Keaton Vows Pledged In Floydada

Musical arrangements set the mood for a double ring ceremony in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church in Floydada on December 29 at 6:30 in the evening.

Donna Rhea Chesshir, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rhea Chesshir of Floydada, and Charles Russell Keaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Charles Keaton of Lubbock, exchanged wedding vows with evangelist W.M. McFarland of Lubbock, officiating.

Grant Hambricht of Lubbock, assisted by Treva Hambricht of Floydada, played soft music on the piano as guests were seated. He played "Time In A Bottle" as the mothers of the bride and groom were seated. David Logan, of Lubbock, accompanied by Grant Hambricht on the piano, sang "If" by David Gates.

"Annie's Song" by John Denver was sung by Sharron Watts of Dallas, Connie Wideman of Floydada, Roger Dawdy of Floydada, and David Logan of Lubbock. Grant Hambricht, assisted by Treva Hambricht, accompanied on the piano.

"You Light Up My Life" was sung by Sharron Watts, soloist, with Connie Wideman, Roger Dawdy, and David Logan accompanying and Grant Hambricht at the piano.

The groom sang "The Twelfth Of Never" to the bride as she entered the door of the sanctuary.

"The Wedding March" was played by Grant Hambricht, assisted by Treva Hambricht, as the bride approached the altar. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, Mr. Donald Chesshir. She carried a bible given to her at birth by Sandra Spence. Her bouquet was a cascade type arrangement of white butterfly rosebuds and showered with white velvet and baby's breath.

The bride chose a corsage of white sweetheart rosebuds from her bridal bouquet. Mothers of the bride and groom wore shoulder corsages of cyniludueim orchids to complement their dresses.

Attendants carried cascade type bouquets of white daisy poms and double baby's breath and showered with blue satin streamers.

The church was decorated with tall palms of commodore foliage in brass urns placed in the choir loft and centered with an arrangement of white gladioli, white mums and blue trim and flanked with brass hurricane type candelabra decorated with white mums. Don Garner Chesshir, brother of the bride, and Richard Cabiness of Lubbock, lit the candles.

Entrance to the wedding scene was formed with brass hurricane candles and the addition of a vow candle completed the wedding scene.

The bride wore an elegant white organza gown. Exquisite cotton Venise lace enhanced the sleeves, bodice, and the flowing A-line skirt that curved to a sweeping chapel train. The sleeves and back were closed with tiny covered buttons. The bridal veil was nylon illusion with a headpiece that framed the face. The long waist-length veil was edged with lace as was the gown.

The bride carried a linen handkerchief given to her by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Eula Johnson, for something old. "Something new" was her attire. She borrowed her mother's diamond necklace, for something blue she wore a blue garter made by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. O.D. Chesshir for her mother's wedding. She also wore pennies in her shoes that were minted the years of the bride and groom's birthdates.

Maid of honor for the occasion was Tammie Chesshir, sister of the bride. Tammie wore a floor length dress of light blue disco satin. Junior bridesmaid was Kristy Dawdy of Floydada wearing a dark blue disco satin floor length dress.

Bridesmaids were Lana Reed of Floydada and Connie Welch of Floydada. They wore dark blue disco satin floor length dresses like the one worn by the junior bridesmaids.

Stacy Dawdy of Floydada was flower girl wearing a light blue disco dress like that of the maid of honor. Stacy wore flowers on her wrist and carried a white basket with white streamers filled with rose petals.

Guests were registered by Shawnda Heflin of Floydada. Directing the seating of guests were head usher Jerry Waltrip of Maple, cousin of the bride, and Dewite Hogland of Lubbock.

Jimmy Vannoy of Dallas was best man. Don Garner Chesshir, brother of the bride, served as junior groomsman. Other groomsman were Glenn Young and Scott Young, both of Plainview, cousins of the groom, and Brian Copeland of Lubbock.

Groomsmen wore light and dark traditional tuxedos with matching cummerbunds and ruffled formal shirts.

Ring bearer duties were performed by Doug Cabiness of Lubbock. Andrea Smith and Rebecca Redding passed out blue rice bags to all the guests.

"We've Only Just Begun" was sung by Sharron Watts, Connie Wideman, Roger Dawdy and David Logan, accompanied by Grant Hambricht on the piano as the bride and groom left the sanctuary.

The bridesmaid's bouquets decorated the bride's table. Kim Bertrand of Floydada and Kathy Hogland of Lubbock served traditional wedding cake, banana punch, mints and nuts. House party members were Mmes. Dean Waltrip of Maple, aunt of the bride, Bill Smith and Milton Harrison of Floydada, friends of the couple. Members of the house party were dressed in floor length blue dresses and blue and white shoulder corsages.

Following a wedding trip to points in South Texas, the couple will be at home in Lubbock.

Those who are faced with the question of what to give a couple celebrating an anniversary frequently find that a consulting list of traditional anniversary presents is an excellent way of deciding upon a gift that is both practical and beautiful.

In any case, to satisfy the curious and to assist the befuddled, the following outlines the major anniversaries and the presents that symbolize them:

- First — Paper
- Second — Cotton

- Fourth — Linen
- Fifth — Wood
- Sixth — Iron
- Seventh — Copper

- Twelfth — Silk
- Thirteenth — Lace
- Fourteenth — Ivory
- Fifteenth — Crystal
- Sixteenth — China
- Seventeenth — Silver

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

Carbohydrates play an important role in the development and maintenance of dental decay. Sharon Hillis, D.D.S., D.M.D., DENTISTRY EXTENSION

For example, frequent intake of carbohydrates is a major cause of acid production within dental cavities. After meals contain carbohydrates.

Carbohydrates ferment in the mouth and produce acid which attacks the teeth's enamel. This acid production takes about 30 to 45 minutes for each carbohydrate intake.

Solid carbohydrates such as candies, cookies, pies, jams, jellies, dried fruits, sugared cereals and sweetened dairy products--are most damaging to the teeth.

Carbohydrates tend to stick to the teeth more than other foods. However, they're less damaging when eaten with other foods that are high in fat, protein or salt. To prevent tooth decay, serve snacks low in carbohydrates--they're less likely to produce acid.

Some lower carbohydrates selections are raw fruits and vegetables, cheese, hard-cooked eggs, plain mild or nuts.

In addition, these foods are more nutritious than the more decay-producing foods.

Also, to improve the odds of preventing decay, always brush teeth after meals and snacks.

The men that women marry. And why they marry them. will always be

A marvel and a mystery to the world.

Comptroller Representative In Floydada January 11

AUSTIN—State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Lubbock office to Floydada on Thurs., Jan. 11, 1979 to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Gene Cannon will meet with local taxpayers at the Floyd County Courthouse from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

"If Floydada area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Cannon will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-to-face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on January 11th that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL-FREE tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555.

An automatically played violin called the "violinista" was a popular feature of penny arcades of the 1920s. The first automatic violin to vibrate the strings with a bow, the violinista was electrically operated and controlled by air flowing through a music roll's perforations.

given in Lubbock at a later date, perhaps the last of January or early February." Over 10,000 boys and young adults are active each year in Scouting in this area, plus 3,500 adults who serve as unit leaders, committeemen, commissioners, merit badge counselors, and program and administration specialists.
Local councils of the Boy Scouts of America are members of more federated campaigns than any other national organization. The South Plains Council is in 14 campaigns in this area. It also conducts independent campaigns in 31 non-United Way communities.
The sustaining membership enrollment is the nationally recommended method for local councils to raise funds for the council's operating budget. The enrollment has been used by councils across the country for many years, including the South Plains Council.
