off the Floor, Whirlwind Mac and an idolous player battle for which opened the overtime Tuesday night. The Winds won double overtime following a fourth quarter rally. Other Floydada players ready to get into action after Collins controls the tip are Troy Marquis (30), who scored the winning basket, and Tim Collins (42).

Public Encouraged To Purchase CofC Banquet Tickets

"Hey, Look Us Over" has been chosen as theme for the annual Floydada Chamber of Commerce Banquet. C of C Manager Lance Barrow believes that is just what the Panhandle-South Plains area will be doing Monday, Feb. 12...."looking Floydada over."

Barrow is eager to have "at least 400 people" in attendance at the banquet. He encourages those who have not purchased banquet tickets to do so right away because "the tickets are moving well."

They may be secured from any chamber director or at the C of C office.

Final Call For 'Boss' Nominees

What do Dortha Westbrook, Lon Davis, Randy Hollums, and Bob Copeland have in common?

The four are past recipients of "Employer of the Year" awards, given by the Woman's Division of Floydada Chamber of Commerce. The 1979 recipient will be revealed Feb. 12 at the annual Floydada Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

Individuals are encouraged to submit nominations for this year's "outstanding boss" by Feb. 1. Correspondence should be addressed to P.O. Box 291.

'My Favorite Woman' Is... 'Mother'

This question was asked of Floydada fifth graders. Several mentioned teachers, a few went for celebrities, local women who have befriended children drew a scattering of voters, and grandmothers and aunts were popular.

But the clear winner — by a margin of almost two-to-one — was "Mother" or "Mom" or "Mama". Fifty-four of the 82 fifth graders responding declared that "Mother" was their favorite woman.

A fifth grade boy says his "Mom" is special because "she helped me through school. She taught me good manners."

Another mother is "famous to me and my sisters and brother." One mom is popular to her son "because when I'm in trouble she will come and explain to a teacher or somebody why I did this or that and because she is not mean to me." One is acclaimed as "the best cook."

Mothers were cited for numerous reasons. "The reason I have chosen my Mom is because she always gets up even when she doesn't want to get up," states one fifth grader. Another "cooks real good," an attribute of many mothers in the eyes of their offspring. "Love" is a frequently used word.

Some children list the sacrifices of their mothers.

"She is always there when we need her," states one boy of his mother. That, generally, could be why "Mother" is "My Favorite Woman" in the eyes of fifth graders!

Births, Deaths Decline; More Marriages, Divorces

Births and deaths for 1978 were down from the previous year in Crosby County, according to information from the county clerk's office. However, both marriages and divorces increased.

The downward trend has continued on both births and deaths. Floyd County recorded 216 births last year compared to 233 the previous year and 287 in 1976. The number of deaths slipped to 68 during '78, down from 84 in '77 and 96 in '76.

Marriages jumped above the century mark for possibly the only time in the county's history. One hundred and six marriages eclipsed the 95 record in '77 and 96 the year before that.

Divorces in this country appear to be on a fairly steady plain. Thirty divorces were recorded last year. This compares with 26 in '77 and 32 in '76.

Figures reveal there were 28.3 per cent as many divorces in this county last year as marriages. This ratio would mean that slightly more than one of every four marriages ends in divorce.

Two Additional City Block Grant Hearings Wednesday

Two additional hearings concerning City of Floydada's application for funding through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development Community Development Block Grant Program are scheduled next Wednesday, Jan. 31.

City Manager Bill Feuerbacher says that hearings are scheduled for 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. at city hall. The evening meeting was added "for the convenience of those who could not attend the day hearing due to their work."

Members of the committee named to present the city's proposed CBDG citizen participation plan to the city council are: Oscar Santos, Ricky Gonzales, John Campbell, Nancy Willson, and Doyle Miller.

Feuerbacher asks that anyone who has a suggestion for the block grant funding to attend one of the hearings or present their idea to a committee member, the city manager, or City Secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart. Citizen input is "vital" to securing the grant, Feuerbacher believes.

"We need the public's ideas....the town belongs to all of us, regardless of where they live," the city manager emphasizes.

The first hearing was conducted this Wednesday.

Floydada Vs. Lockney Here Tuesday Night

Basketball Thrillers Expected

What can Floydada and Lockney basketball teams do for an encore?

When the longtime athletic rivals clashed Jan. 12 in Lockney, the Lady Horns outlasted the Whirlwinds 41-35 in a thriller and the Whirlwinds stopped the Longhorns 71-70..... in overtime!

Graves Gymnasium in Floydada is expected to be packed Tuesday night when the Green and White host the Red and White.

Action unfolds at 5 p.m. in the girls junior varsity match. Varsity girls collide in the second game and varsity boys tangle in the nightcap.

The overtime victory against Lockney was the first of three overtime encounters the "Winds have played in their last four outings.

Lal Lewis Re-Routed A Creek To Water His Orchard

By Felicia Applewhite

You turn off the Floydada-Matador highway just before you come to the H.H. Campbell Historic Marker if you are looking for Lal Lewis's granddaughter Betty Campbell and her husband Vance.

You observe that the marker is all about Vance's grandfather H.H. Campbell, of Matador Ranch fame.

You have already made a careful choice of the time of day to go to the Campbell home.

You don't go early in the morning because Betty and Vance will be feeding the however-many-hundred cattle on the place. Or they might be irrigating, or stripping cotton, or hauling hay.

They might be in the vegetable garden in an attempt to beat the coyotes to the carrots. The coyotes ate the carrots this year.

They might be doing a nature study on some hide-a-bugs busy at their trade.

Anyway, after you turn off the highway, you follow a right-on-top-of-the-Cap Rock winding road that curves around two dozen or more cotton trailers parked close to a ridge, out of danger of the wind. You drive through some whiteface range cattle that show that they are accustomed to motor vehicles.

In the house, you arrive in an atmosphere of enchantment. It is the home of Lal Lewis's many-talented granddaughter and her husband Vance, who is rich in cowboy and ranch heritage.

The talk, the books, the memorabilia all are about ranch life when ranching began in this part of the world, and about ancestors such as Lal Lewis.

Really, you haven't come to see the Campbells about all these things. Much of it is fringe benefits for your trip there.

You hardly get a conversation going with Betty when Vance comes in. The talk really picks up then. An hour or two with these two people—actually, you stay four—will leave you with the feeling of having just been a special guest in a select corner of the Smithsonian Institute.

All of Vance's talk isn't directly on Lal Lewis, but it is indirectly, you'd say. There is no doubt that he knows the history of that part of the country through experience and inheritance.

You find that Betty has complete files where she has traced the Lewis family history all the way back to England, and she has compiled material to prove it.

Her files remind you of the heavy files in the county courthouse in size, but not, of course, in subject matter.

"Our first line of Lewises came from Monmouthshire, England—we think around 1640. I found the record of a land grant from the crown head of England to a Lewis.

"I have all of Grandad Lal Lewis's family brought up to date." Betty is a Daughter of the American Revolution from the Lewis line.

One cross-eyed patriot, a Fielding Lewis, was so cross-eyed he couldn't bear arms in the Revolution, so he ran a munition supply line for the Revolutionary Army.

Betty has a document showing that George Washington's half-sister, fifth generation back, willed to Betty Lewis (not the present Betty Lewis) "my phaeton and bay horse."

Marriage records in 1861 were written not as marriage license but as marriage contracts between families. A man promised to marry a woman. If he did not marry her, he had to forfeit money he had put up to marry; he had to have a witness.

"My grandad Lal Lewis came to Matador in 1883. He worked at the Matadors at odd times in order to have money to buy food in the summer months.

"When he first started on a Matador cattle drive, he was quite young and green. He got as far as into Kansas when he and two or three other young ones decided it was not for them and quit.

"Matadors wouldn't hire a man back after he had once quit them, so, Grandfather went back to Missouri to marry. He came back after he had married but couldn't be hired at the Ranch until after H.H. Campbell left the management of the ranch.

"He built a home on top of the Cap at Hill Crest, Floyd County, near Goose Tank."

It so happened that the young wife from Missouri didn't like the Plains with no trees nor creeks. She didn't like the wind on the Plains.

"Grandad Lal went below the Cap-Rock in 1893 and built a dug-out by a spring. This was right off the Cap three miles, near White Flat, southeast of Cedar Hill.

"Grandmother went back to Missouri to have her second child and to wait

El Progreso Club Meets In Lockney

The El Progreso Study Club of Lockney met in the home of Marie Brock for the first meeting of the new year. As guests arrived they were served delightful refreshments from a beautifully decorated table.

The business meeting was called to order by president Anna Dell Quebe. A report from the nominating committee was heard, and the club year:

president, Hazel Johnson; vice-president, Marie Brock; secretary, Dimon Schacht; treasurer, La Verna Sams; parliamentarian, Anna Dell Quebe; reporter, Cornelia Johnson. Several changes were discussed in the program book. The next meeting will be Feb. 14, 1979 in the home of Josie Taylor.

Secretary La Verna Sams introduced Jeanette Marr, who gave a most informative talk in house plants. Assuming the role of a beautiful house plant which has just been bought to a new home form the ideal situation found in the floral shop, she discussed the trials of a plant that exist in most homes. Drafts, dry air, too much water or not enough, too much fertilizer, or not enough, too much light or not enough were some of the enemies of a healthy plant. It was suggested that habits of plants be studied, and the right plant be purchased for the space where it will live in the home. Last, but not least, love the plant as if it were a member of the family.

Guests present were Alice Mitchell, Mrs. Sams, Ann Brock, Gilbert, Jeanette Marr, Dimon Schacht, and Marie Holmes, and Mrs. Marr.

HOW TO BOIL

To prepare fresh broccoli for cooking, trim to serving size before cooking.

Then boil quickly in small amount of water until tender crisp.

Since the fleshy stems take longer to cook than the buds, stand stems down in a covered pan. Cook in boiling salted water letting the buds steam cook.

Or cut in pieces and cook the stems a short time before adding the buds.

Or place broccoli one-layer deep in a saucepan.

Pour boiling water over it and cover with a damp towel. Boil broccoli gently for about 10-15 minutes until tender. The towel helps steam the stalks evenly.

HOW TO PRESSURE COOK

Broccoli cooks well in a pressure saucepan.

Wash broccoli and slit stems to one-half thickness.

Place on rack in saucepan with one cup water to six-quart saucepan.

Fill no more than two-thirds full with broccoli. Season with salt if desired.

Put cover on pan and place on heat.

Allow steam to flow from vent pipe to release air from pressure saucepan.

Place weighted gauge on vent pipe and cook 1 1/2-3 minutes at 15 pounds pressure.

Cool saucepan at once under a faucet of running water or in a pan of cold water until steam is down. Then remove lid and season.

BROCCOLI SEASONINGS

Season broccoli with all-spice, basil, caraway, mint, poppy seed, sage, tarragon, cheese, sausage, honey, mustard or onion.

Try these recipes for tasty broccoli treats:

HOT BROCCOLI AND CHEESE DIP

1/4 cup butter or margarine
3 stalks celery, thinly sliced
1 medium onion, chopped
1 4-oz can sliced mushroom, drained.

1 10-oz package frozen chopped broccoli, thawed
OR 2 cups fresh broccoli, chopped
3 tablespoons flour

1 10-3/4-oz can condensed cream of celery soup
1 garlic cheese roll, cut up (5- or 6-oz roll)

In small skillet, melt butter and saute celery, onion and mushrooms. Stir in flour. Turn into lightly greased slow cooker. Stir in remaining ingredients. Cover and cook on high setting, stirring about every 15 minutes until cheese melts. Turn to low setting for about 2 hours or until ready to serve. Serve hot with corn chips, crackers or raw vegetables. Makes about 1 quart.

SCALLOPED BROCCOLI

2 cups fresh broccoli, chopped
OR 1 10-oz package frozen broccoli, thawed and chopped

1 cup cheese, grated
1/4 cup onion, chopped
2 eggs

1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup (1 slice) soft bread crumbs

1 2-oz jar pimientos, chopped
1 10 1/2-oz can cream of celery soup

Beat eggs slightly and add broccoli, cheese and onion.

Mix in salt, pepper, bread crumbs and pimientos.

Then add the cream of celery soup and stir all ingredients together.

Turn into a well-buttered one quart casserole. Set in baking pan partially filled with hot water.

Bake at 375 degrees F. for 50 minutes. Serves four.

BROCCOLI SUPREME

4 cups fresh broccoli OR 2 10-oz packages frozen spears

1 cup American cheese, grated
1 10-oz can cream of mushroom soup

1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 3-oz can french fried onion rings.

Prepare the frozen broccoli as package directs, but only cook five minutes; or cook fresh broccoli in boiling water until tender crisp.

Drain and put into greased two-quart casserole.

Sprinkle the grated cheese over broccoli.

Bake 25 minutes uncovered. Remove from oven and add the onion rings.

Bake 8 to 10 minutes longer, until onions are crisp and golden brown.

Makes six servings.

Interested In A Sewing Class?

Anyone interested in "learning how to sew" is asked to contact Kathy Green at the Caprock Community Action Multi-Purpose Service Center. The phone number is 983-3134.

Time of the class and fee will be announced later.

What has become an annual American tradition — Girl Scout Cookie Sales will begin in Caprock Girl Scout Council on February 2, 1979 according to Mrs. Buster Owens, president of the board of directors.

Caprock Girl Scout Council Brownie, Junior, Cadette, and Seniors will be selling cookies door to door for $1.25 a box the first two weeks in February. This year Mint, Chocolate Chip, Scot-Tea, Savannah, Country Oat, Chocolate, and Vanilla Creme Cookies; and Cheddarette Crackers will be available.

Every penny earned from proceeds of the cookie sale will remain in the council to benefit girls. Funds support troop activities, help local girls participate in national and international Girl Scout events, purchase equipment, camperships, and this year, finance building improvements at their resident camp, Rio Blanco, located near Crosbyton. Awards for cookie sellers include one and two week cookie scholarships to attend camp or other council-related activity, T-shirts, posters, patches, and certificates.

The sale ends February 18, 1979.

4-H'ers Dress For Energy Savings

Dress for energy savings by wearing fabrics that "breathe," colors that "fit" the weather, and layers that can be added or subtracted as temperatures change.

Energy-conscious young people in the national 4-H fashion revue program suggest wearing natural fiber fabrics — wool, cotton, silk and linen — or blends with a high natural fiber content, "next to the skin. These fabrics "breathe" by increasing air penetration and moisture absorption, points out Sharon Hillis, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dark colors, like the new burnt sienna and vintage plum, are good choices for winter because they absorb heat from the sun.

4-H'ers also recommend "layering" for the latest in fashion and energy conservation. Start with a cowl or turtleneck sweater, add a blouson big top, and complete the look with a boxy, unstructured vest. Air trapped between the layers of clothing acts as an insulator, so several light layers may be warmer and more comfortable than one heavy garment.

Girls and boys 9-19 learn-by-doing how to dress for all seasons and all occasions in 4-H fashion revue, an educational feature of the over-all 4-H clothing program.

CRUNCHY PEANUT BUTTER BALLS

1/2 cup chunk-style peanut butter

1 cup sifted confectioners sugar

1 cup flaked or shredded coconut

1 cup raisins

1 to 2 tablespoons milk

6 Savannah Cookies, crushed

Thoroughly combine peanut butter, sugar, coconut, raisins and enough milk to form mixture into a ball. Divide mixture into twenty-four 1-inch balls. Roll each ball in cookie crumbs; chill. Makes 2 dozen candies.

MINTY PEACH PARFAITS

24 Thin Mint Cookies

1 1/2 pints vanilla ice cream

One 16-oz can peach slices, drained

Break 12 Mint Cookies into coarse pieces. Alternate layers of broken cookies, ice cream and peach slices in tall parfait glasses or 12-oz drinking glasses, ending with a layer of ice cream. Garnish each parfait with a maraschino cherry and 2 Mint Cookies. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

WHEN SELECTING AN IRON, consider cord placement.

Cords fitted for right-handed persons contribute to accidents when used by left-handed persons, reports Becky Culp, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Right- and left-handed persons can use irons with the cord centered in the middle back, the specialist suggests.

Egg protein is so near perfection that scientists often use it as a standard to measure the value of protein in other foods.

CHOCOLATE BANANA DESSERT
One 3-1/4-oz pkg. chocolate pudding and pie filling mix
3 cups milk
2 eggs, separated
48 Scot-Tea Cookies
3 large bananas, sliced
2 tablespoons sugar
Combine pudding mix, milk and egg yolks in medium-sized saucepan; cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture comes to a boil. Line bottom of 8-inch square shallow baking dish with 16 cookies. Arrange a layer of bananas slices over cookies; top with 1/2 of pudding. Repeat to make 2 more layers ending with pudding. Beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually add sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Spread over pudding dessert. Bake in preheated hot oven (425 degrees F.) 3 to 5 minutes. Serve warm or cold. To serve cold, cool; refrigerate. Makes 8 servings.

The Floyd Philosopher

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses two widely separate subjects this week.

Dear editor:
 Now that the football season is over and there are so many world crises nobody can keep up with them - why at one time Secretary of State Vance was three crises behind and was thinking of re-fueling in mid-air - it's time to turn our attention to basketball. It's not dependent on foreign oil.

Years ago basketball was a game of skill and agility, the height of the player made little difference, but now it's mostly a matter of which coach can recruit the tallest players. Seeing a 7-foot man drop a ball through a hoop is about as exciting as football would be if a team were allowed to kick off from its opponent's 30-yard line instead of its own 40, and if the ball went through the goal posts it counted for 3 points.

I have given basketball considerable thought and have reached two possible solutions. (1) Raise the basket by at least 3 feet. This would eliminate dunking, equalize short players with tall ones, and return the game to one of skillful shooting. Or (2) paint a half-moon stripe around the goal 10 feet out and require all shots to be taken that far out. Come inside that half-moon and the shot, if good, doesn't count.

Since fans seem to enjoy nothing so much as scores, and since this new system would naturally out down on scoring and nobody wants to see a basketball game ending in something like 6 to 5, allowing each goal to count 10 points. You could still have scores of 110 to 120 and everybody would feel like he got his money's worth.

Back to world crisis. As you know, the evening TV news lasts only 30 minutes. One of two things must happen if world crises are going to be televised properly. (1) Countries planning on having a crisis are going to have to get in line and wait their turn, or (2) the networks are going to have to stretch their news programs to one hour. What fun is there in having a crisis if you can't make this evening news?

Also, you should hold your crisis down to no more than one week. After that, viewers tire and some bank robbery in New York or snow storm in Chicago will crowd you off the air.

Yours faithfully,

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

So They Say

WHOSE HUMAN RIGHTS ARE BEING VIOLATED IN U.S.?

You say criminal and inhumane? Take a hard look at this act and that of countless others.

It was a dark night, cold and rainy. He walks into a small neighborhood store run by Mr. I.A. Goodperson, the father of three children, ages four to eleven and the husband of Mrs. Goodperson.

Mr. Goodperson was talking to two young people. One was a 19 year old boy, starting his second year of college.

His name was Will Succeed, the son of dirt farmers who had spent their lives digging and working the soil to send their son to college to do all the things they had neither the education or ability to do. They had dreams of the future with their grandchildren, fathered by their son in their twilight years.

The other was a young 17 year old girl that was to start her first year of college in the fall and also deeply in love with the boy Will Succeed. Her name was Ima Goodfellow, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goodfellow.

Her parents too, had dreams and pride in their daughter. She had been very compassionate with people, working as a volunteer in the hospital and with old people in homes. She was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Goodfellow.

The store manager, Mr. Goodperson, was an orphan growing up, moving around from home to home. He had worked very hard to make a good home for his three children and wife. He was a good father to his children, served as a scoutmaster, deacon of his church and a community leader in charity groups for the orphan children and other charity organizations.

In he walked, Mr. Im A. Sorry, he pulled a gun from his coat and pointed it at Mr. Goodperson and his two young friends that he was talking with.

Mr. Im A. Sorry demands that Mr. Goodperson give him all the money. Mr. Goodperson, trying to avoid harm to himself and his young friends, puts all the money in a paper bag. The money totaling $60.00 was given to Im A. Sorry and he was then asked to leave and not harm Mr. Goodperson or the young friends.

Im A. Sorry looked at the three very terrified people pleading with their eyes not to harm them.

Mr. Im A. Sorry grinned and said, "I think you should die," and pulled the trigger. The first bullet struck Mr. Goodperson in the head killing him.

Mr. Im A. Sorry then fired two more shots, both at the 19 year old boy. One hitting Will Succeed in the chest, the other in the head. He falls to the floor in a pool of blood, dead, all life drained from his body.

The 17 year old girl was horrified at the incident she had just witnessed.

Mr. Im A. Sorry grabbed the girl and took her with him as he fled the store, leaving behind him the hideous crime.

He drove the girl to a deserted farm house where he forced her to submit to his savage, brutal and perverted sex act.

Mr. Im A. Sorry carried out his degrading and humiliating act on the 17 year old girl.

Afterwards he pulled his gun and shot her three times, presumably dead.

The young girl lived long enough to scratch her assailant's license plate number on the floor before she bled to death. She had also managed to scratch her assailant while she fought him in the attack.

Her body was found the next day by hunters that notified the police.

After many hard hours of work and with evidence accumulated, an arrest was made.

Mr. Im A. Sorry went to trial.

With all the evidence found along with the murder weapon, Mr. Im A. Sorry was convicted with three counts of capital murder and sentenced to be executed for his hideous actions.

Mr. Im A. Sorry and his attorney appealed the verdict and found that Mr. Sorry's Constitutional Rights had been violated by a small technicality, his attorney saying it was cruel and inhumane for him to be executed for what he had done.

The Supreme Court granted a stay of execution with help from civil liberty groups who were unconcerned about the lives he had stolen from the three murdered victims and the lives it affected by his vicious actions.

Mr. Im A. Sorry violated the three victims' rights and the rights of the victims' families and YOUR rights to FEEL FREE and protected from this kind of person's savage acts on mankind.

Making it public that no matter what he or any other person committing this kind of crime, that they would be punished with the kind of Justice they deserve.

Our lawmakers in the last 20 years have made human life virtually worthless.

Mr. Im A. Sorry got $60 in the robbery-murder he committed, making the lives of the three murdered victims worth only $20 a piece.

Wake up America, your lives depend on it.

This kind of crime will continue to grow unless you demand the reinstatement of capital punishment as a deterrent.

Gun legislation won't stop this kind of crime. The only thing it will accomplish is take away from you what little protection you have against this kind of person. If they know you don't have a gun for self protection, it will make their crime safer and more appealing because you can bet that they WILL have a gun.

Murder is increasing at an alarming rate because there is no deterrent to stop it, no punishment strong enough to make a man think about the punishment first.

Your police officers risk their lives everyday to protect you and some have lost their lives doing it. More and more are dying every day.

Look around you, do you want your husband, children, mother, father or wife killed by one of these people who do not care what they have taken from you?

Our lawmakers, in a sense, are just as guilty as the man who commits the act. If they don't stop letting this kind of thing happen without any just punishment to murder, it will be ever increasing.

Write your congressman, your president, your lawmaker and your Supreme Court and demand that they stop letting these people go free and not punished with their lives.

It's up to you if you care about your family's safety. Take a long look at what is happening around you. Murderers are walking the street with you after they have been convicted of murder and are paroled to commit the same act again.

THE YOUNG SAILOR was a prize winner in a baby show at the Isis Theatre in Lockney. Can anybody identify him?

Bob Miller Is Lockney
 'Whozit'

Bob Miller was the boy in the Lockney mystery photo in last week's paper.

First to correctly guess the identity of the Lockney "Whozit" was John Cox. Others guessing right were Mrs. Robert Ayers, Mrs. Herman King, F.L. Montandon and Dr. W.J. Mangold Sr.

WHOZIT — Who will be the first to identify this well-known Floydada businessman from a fifth grade picture? Look again....you know him! Persons wishing to guess at the mystery person's identity are requested to contact our office by Wednesday.

Art Ratzlaff Is Floydada 'Whozit'

Art Ratzlaff was the mystery personality appearing in the "Whozit" photo in last week.

Lila Collum guessed that the picture was that of Buddy Gatzler.

This newspaper solicits photos from yesteryear. The picture should be left at our office and will be used in the order in which they are received.

Farmers Union Supporting Protest, Washington Efforts

Delegates meeting in lubbock for the annual Texas Farmer Union convention have reaffirmed last year's policy statement in support of individual protest actions by farmers and ranchers and given strong encouragement to the thousands of family farmers who will be in Washington over the next few months.

In a resolution officially adopted from the floor, TFU delegates alluded to the fact that it "supports the objectives of 100% of parity farm prices and has done so since its (parity) conception, being the original pioneers of this justifiable formula."

Language added to the general farm organization's policy in 1978 stated recognition that "protest is a traditional and legitimate means of accomplishing a redress of grievances. We shall continue to participate in protest demonstrations as individual farmers and ranchers in order to make visible our dissatisfaction with the insensitivity of government toward the plight of agricultural producers." The language was overwhelmingly re-adopted for the official 1979 policy.

Various spokesmen for Texas Farmers Union stated they felt an unquestionable and critical need for farmers and ranchers everywhere to unify their numbers and harmonize their opinions

Parenting... No Simple Role

Rev. Joe F. Bixenman
Pastor
St. Mary Magdalen
Church
Floydada

The role of parents in forming their children and setting a life direction for them is not a simple one. On the one hand parents are the earliest and most dominant influence in the lives of their children and have a God-given responsibility to form their children in faith. On the other hand only God can give the gift of faith and each person must individually respond to the call of God. From our own experience, we know good parents do not inevitably have good children. We probably know several families in which the parents are staunchly committed Christians, men and women of solid faith, whose children have not turned out nearly so faith-filled. Sometimes parents can be overzealous that their children be Christian, and their children react against an overly spiritual upbringing. But in other cases it is not at all obvious that parents made grave mistakes — yet their children turn out indifferent to the Christian heritage. Sometimes some children in a family grow up with a love for God, while other children of the same parents seem to reject God's message for them. Clearly the lesson is not that parents can be indifferent to the way their children turn out. Parenting demands conscientious effort, daily intercession, and a gift of love. And the normal expectation should be that good parents will produce good children. But despite the best efforts of parents, it is not assured that their children will follow them in the faith. There still must be the call of God, and this call must be heard and responded to. We do not choose God for our children; God chooses them for himself, and they must choose to respond to him. After a certain point, parents must cosign their children into the hands of God, and acknowledge the mystery of his love for them.

Lal Lewis Re-Routed A Creek To Water His Famous Orchard

Granddad had the dug-out built. A regular cooling system was ar- rived near the spring to keep the milk cool.

Although they were in rattlesnake country, they had little snake trouble. It was the beginning of the Lal Lewis orchard that gave them trouble. Occasionally, some old timer will remember when "Mama and me went to Lal Lewis for apples. His trees were so loaded, he had to prop the limbs up. There were no worms. You can't describe how beautiful the orchard was. They were the prettiest apples you ever saw."

operate on a child of his when he referred to himself.

All the landmarks of the Lal Lewis orchard and of the Lal Lewis house are gone. The present owner of the land lives in a block house some distance away from the original improvements.

Occasionally, some old timer will remember when "Mama and me went to Lal Lewis for apples. His trees were so loaded, he had to prop the limbs up. There were no worms. You can't describe how beautiful the orchard was. They were the prettiest apples you ever saw."

As the time passed, he added another room to the house— "guess to use as another room every time they had another child."

Land did not have much growth to it. "There was not a mesquite in the country until 1900 when cattle came. Some people held up cattle to prevent scattering mesquite. Mesquite moved west with the cattle." Vance explained in the difference in the country and now.

As long as Lal Lewis started the orchard that came to be known as the Lewis orchard. Nevertheless he was still back in the winter months to work the Matadors.

His orchard was "going good." He was in the gardens and cattle were paying for the education of their children.

Floydada High School's business department is currently offering courses in Typewriting I, Accounting I, Record Keeping, and Vocational Office Education. When needed, Shorthand is taught instead of Record Keeping. These courses are taught by Janet Milam and Jane Bean.

In addition to these business subjects, students may gain journalism experience working on the school newspaper, the WHIRL, or the yearbook, the WHIRLWIND.

Janet Milam teaches Vocational Office Education, alternates the teaching of Record Keeping and Shorthand, and sponsors the annual Jane Bean Typing I and Accounting I, and sponsors the newspaper. Janet also sponsors University Interscholastic League (UIL) Shorthand (when Shorthand is taught), OEA which is a club associated with the Vocational Office Education program, the cheerleaders; and she is a sophomore sponsor.

Jane's additional duties include sponsoring UIL Typing, UIL Journalism events (news, feature, editorial, and headline writing); and she is head sophomore sponsor.

The high school business department has undergone many changes in the past 14 years. In 1964 Janet Milam, who had just graduated from West Texas State University, began teaching Bookkeeping and English. At that time Billy Jack Eudy was teaching Shorthand, Typing I, and Typing II.

In 1967 a new semester course entitled Clerical Practice was combined with Typing II. The new course enabled students to study a variety of business-related activities such as filing, copy reproduction, and other clerical duties.

With the advent of the quarter system in 1973, the Typing II-Clerical Practice course was changed to Business Quarters. Janet taught these courses, as well as Shorthand which she picked up in 1967.

In 1975 a vocational program was added to the business program, giving students an opportunity to gain job experience in the business field. Janet became the VOE teacher, and she alternated Record Keeping and Shorthand.

Jane Bean joined the Floydada business department in the fall of 1969 after graduating from Texas Tech University in January, 1969 with a BBA degree. At that time she taught four classes of Typing I and sponsored the WHIRL. When the vocational program was added in 1975, one class of Typing I was dropped; and Jane started teaching Accounting.

Little Dribblers To Be Organized February 1

The Floydada Junior Athletic Association will have a meeting, Thursday February 1, to organize the Little Dribblers Basketball program for 1979.

Three new board members will be elected at this meeting to replace the three members whose terms will expire. Current board members are Janet Lloyd, Jesse Martinez, LeAnn Neeley, Julie Finley, Jerry Thompson and Roger Gooch.

Volunteers are needed to serve as coaches, referees, score keepers and to serve on various other committees.

Parents of 4th, 5th, and 6th graders and any person interested in giving elementary age students the opportunity to participate in sports, should come to the First National Bank Community Room, Thursday, February 1 at 7 p.m.

'Too Much Legislation'

A lot of HISTORY is being made in the 66th. Legislature. One member, Richard Slack, Pecos, has completed 26 years in the House. This sets a record for the longest continuous service. This will be the first time the legislature will serve with a Republican Governor in 105 years. The Honorable Bill Clayton was elected to an unprecedented third term. As for me, I have the distinction of serving in the 66th. Legislature for the 66th. District. A new electronic voting machine was completed just one day before the session opened. However, the bugs are not out of the machine yet. While the Governor was giving his address in the joint session on Tuesday he accidentally put pressure on the desk and it set off a short that lighted up a button on my desk that says "FRONT". This signal means you are wanted at the Speaker's stand. I froze in position hoping it was a short. Can you imagine my embarrassment had I acted on the command of a light that was shorted out. Yesterday someone hit the wrong button after a vote had been taken that changed all votes to yes. A recount had to be taken.

Another precedent is being set in that a contest has been made on seating one of the recently elected Representatives.

Valmeta Wisdom

Valmeta Wisdom teaches 4th grade Social Studies at R.C. Andrews Elementary, where she began teaching 5th grade Social Studies in the spring of 1975 following her graduation from West Texas State University in Canyon. She is a graduate of Hobbs High School, Hobbs, New Mexico, and holds a B.S. from W.T.

Individual honors Valmeta has received included Alpha Chi (Honor Society), Kappa Delta Pi (Honor Society in Education) and Sigma Tau Delta (Honor Society in English). She is currently working on her master degree through Texas Tech, where she is enrolled in the bilingual program.

Valmeta has three children, John Wisdom, who is married and farms west of Lockney; Brenda (Mrs. Darryl) Dennis who lives in Lockney and Joe, who lives in Lubbock; and two grandchildren, Cody, and Kelly Dennis.

She is a member of the Church of Christ. In addition to educational interests, she enjoys "politics, TSTA-NEA, oil and acrylic painting, photography, psychology and grandchildren—but not necessarily in that order!" She also enjoys bridge.

Of education, Valmeta says, "In my opinion the current educational system has much higher standards than in more recent years. One reason is that universities are teaching students to be more aware of the "total child" in education. Most teachers are trying to educate in this manner."

Century's Last North America Eclipse February 2

Barring overcast skies, on Monday morning Feb. 26, Panhandle residents will be able to observe the last eclipse of the sun in North America this century, according to Arthur Schneider, director of the Don Harrington Discovery Center, Amarillo. Although partial for this area, the eclipse will be total in the northwestern section of the United States and central Canada.

The moon's shadow first strikes the earth in the North Pacific, about 1000 miles west of Vancouver, at sunrise. It then swiftly moves eastward, striking land at the mouth of the Columbia River, between Washington, and Salem, Oregon near the path of total eclipse. The shadow continues to sweep eastward and then slightly northward, passing over Butte, Missoula, Helena, and Great Falls, Montana. At 10:40 a.m. CST, the shadow moves into Canada near Crosby, North Dakota. From there it is into the wilderness of northern Ontario, Hudson Bay, Baffin Island, and finally northern Greenland. Astronomically, conditions for viewing the eclipse are similar along the path of totality. The sun will be positioned fairly low in the southeast, with totality lasting only 2½ minutes. The Panhandle of Texas will experience a partial eclipse with 70-75% of the solar disc eclipsed by the moon. The event begins around 9:08 a.m. CST with a dark notch appearing on the upper right of the sun's face. Around 10:18 a.m. CST greatest eclipse will take place. Although nearly ¾ of the sun will be blocked by the moon and the sun's total light may be dimmed, it is extremely dangerous to look directly at the sun. The infra-red rays will be focused by the eye lens on the retina, burning the latter and causing blindness. Direct viewing is not recommended with any means, unless astronomical solar filters are available. TIMETABLE OF EVENTS

Partial Eclipse Begins, 9:08 a.m. CST; Maximum Phase of Eclipse, 10:19 a.m. CST; Partial Eclipse Ends, 11:37 a.m. CST. Percentage — 73%. NOTE The projected times may vary by several minutes. NAKED-EYE OBSERVING HINTS
For safety, one should never look directly at the partially eclipsed sun with the unprotected eye. One method of totally safe viewing is the pinhole projection method.

In a darkened room, facing south, a small hole in a window shade will cast a pinhole image of the solar crescent on the floor or opposite wall. In a similar manner this type of projected solar image can be produced inside a large box with one end having a small nail hole in it. The box acts as a shade allowing the image to be more easily seen inside the box. Remember, in each case the pinhole is utilized for projection and is not used to directly observe the sun.

A variation of the pinhole projection technique is to use a flat mirror on a shaded wall of a nearby house or other structure. In order to see the sun properly, this image should be projected 30 to 50 feet away. Again, do not reflect the light from anyone's eyes.
