

Additional Moisture = Better Ag Prospects

The creek did rise, literally speaking, Wednesday night....and the agricultural picture keeps improving!

Rainfall in Floydada that night was 1.6 inches. The soil resembles a "sponge" in some areas after significant rains during the past 10 days.

"I can't remember having more moisture in the ground at this time in March," one farmer stated. Winter and Spring moisture have greatly enhanced prospects for this crop year.

Turbulence again dotted the weather picture Wednesday night. Tornado warnings were issued for the county, with particularly threatening conditions developing in southern portions.

A cloud with a "hook" was observed approaching Cone at one time.

Hall filled ditches north of Blanco Canyon — just over the line in Crosby County — early Thursday after falling the previous night [photo at right].

South Plains has received "four to five inches" of recent rainfall. One "good rain" fell there before moisture was received in central and western parts of the county.

Lake Mackenzie Rises 3 Inches After Rainfall

The depth of Lake Mackenzie has risen approximately three inches due to last week's rainfall, according to John McCammon, Mackenzie Lake public relations director. The increase is attributed to "local runoff" as Tule Creek is not running yet.

Work is continuing on the park on the south side of the lake. This is a joint project of the Rotary Clubs of Tulia, Floydada, and Lockney. Members of the clubs are financing and constructing picnic tables and playground equipment.

There will be a "Tot Lot" and another area for older children with tether ball, slides and swings. The two play areas will be separated for the protection of the younger children.

SHADE TREES

McCammon reports that 28 shade trees have already been planted but more are needed to complete the landscaping of the park. Trees are still being accepted as memorials and can be purchased for that purpose at a discount from E-Kay Supply in Tulia.

Interested persons may contact Anne Billington at E-Kay Supply, 995-3588, or John McCammon at the lake, 633-4318. The park will be sown with Texas Turf, a grass developed for heavy traffic areas such as parks.

Fishing has improved slightly. A two pound bass and a 1½ pound crappie are the largest fish to be taken so far this year.

Fortenberry Death Conviction Overtuned

Motley Likely To Seek Funds For Retrial

Motley County must seek another grant from the Criminal Justice Council for the retrial of Larry Carnell Fortenberry, charged with the Nov. 12, 1976, shooting death of Motley Sheriff Jalmar (Jinks) Wilson.

"It's a terrible expense," Motley County Judge Bill Whitaker said in referring to another capital murder trial.

Expense of the trials of Fortenberry and Stacy Albert Carter, an accomplice, have been placed at $57,500. Motley County was liable for the trial expense since Wilson's death occurred in that county. However, a Criminal Justice Council grant was secured to pay expenses.

Fortenberry, a 30-year-old Mount Herman, La., resident was tried in Hale County on a charge of venue and was given the death sentence after an exhaustive trial in August 1977.

SENTENCE OVERTURNED

Wednesday, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin overturned the conviction and ordered a retrial.

The appeals court struck down the death sentence because, it claimed, the presiding judge failed to instruct jurors properly on the corroboration needed to convict a suspect on the basis of an accomplice's testimony.

Carter pleaded guilty to murder and testified against his companion on that fateful November 1976 day when the Motley County sheriff was gunned down. Carter told the jury that Sheriff Wilson had identified himself before the defendant shot him twice at close range with a shotgun.

IDENTITY ISSUE

The appeals court agreed with defense attorneys that the judge should have instructed jurors that Carter's testimony alone was insufficient evidence to prove that Fortenberry realized Wilson was a lawman.

Wilson was wearing no uniform and his car displayed no official words or emblems, the court contended. The Motley sheriff was to have retired in less than two months.

John D. Rogers, a Matador farmer who also was injured in the melee, was riding with Sheriff Wilson when they came upon the two Louisiana prison escapees removing license plates from Rogers' vehicle. He was unable to relate any conversation which transpired between the sheriff and Fortenberry prior to the shooting.

Department of Public Safety Patrolman Kenneth Witt apprehended Fortenberry and Carter less than two hours after the murder. They were arrested five miles east of Crosbyton.

No weapons were in the suspect's auto, but two shotguns later were found near Matador by lawmen.

Clara Murry, 87, Oldest Native-Born Resident?

is the oldest "native-born" county resident? This question was asked in Thursday's Hesperian by C.E. McLain of Memphis,

Clara Murry could be the eighty-seven years old last Mrs. Murry is a lifelong resident of this county. Former Clara Day, daughter of Mrs. J.J. (Uncle Joe) Day, died Dec. 14, 1891, in Blanco County. Mrs. Murry and her sister, Clara Day, are the surviving Day offspring from a

Lorin Leibfried

'Mr. Peanut Brittle' Was First City Mail Carrier

Lorin Leibfried is well known in Floydada as "Mr. Peanut Brittle." The reason is obvious: he spreads good will by producing and delivering some 200 Texas-size patties to local friends each Christmas, as well as other times throughout the year.

But, not too many people realize that the 73-year-old Leibfried was Floydada's first city mail carrier.

He bears a wealth of fond — and a few not so pleasant — memories of those early days when mail was delivered exclusively on foot.

One woman who lived on his city route had "two German Shepherds" who learned that the best mode of attacking the mailman was for one to come at him from the front while the other canine slipped in from the back side.

On one occasion, this technique worked and one of the pooches secured a firm hold on Leibfried's pant legs (luckily, not the skin).

THEY WON'T BITE

About this time the woman-of-the-house emerged yelling, "They won't bite...they won't bite."

Another "dog story" which remains with the personable candy man occurred on West Jackson Street. A family pet with a nasty attitude "kept coming out to bite." The family was warned that unless the dog was fenced, the mail service would drop off.

The thought of that mean dog — even though he was supposedly secured inside a fence — prompted the mail carrier to keep a rock in his pouch...just in case! That need surfaced one bright day when the dog sped around the house in pursuit of the mailman, who grabbed the rock and plastered the mut squarely between the eyes.

The dazed dog fell and skidded on his belly, then ran off yelling.

In Piggly-Wiggly's the following day, the little girl who owned the dog kicked Leibfried in return for defending himself against the dog's attack.

WEATHER EXTREMES

Extreme heat and sand storms slowed the mail carrier, but they took a back seat to Winter's blasts. Early in his career, Leibfried was waiting on a relay amidst a "real Norther" of blowing snow. He "almost froze" while waiting inside a patron's garage.

His feet "so numb I couldn't tell if my feet were even hitting the sidewalk," he dragged himself through the wintry blast to a friend's house. "It took me at least 30 minutes to thaw out," he remembers.

The most severe Winter the retired mailman remembers came in February 1940. "The snow was terrible and a high north wind was blowing" by the time "Mr. Peanut Brittle" delivered his young daughter from school and a music lesson to their home, four miles north of Floydada on the Silvertown highway. That was a Friday afternoon.

Just as father and daughter were turning from the highway, their car died. Attempts to start it failed, and snow was too high by this time to push the vehicle into the garage.

Realizing that he probably would have no auto with which to reach town and deliver mail, Leibfried arose at 4 o'clock Saturday morning. Only "a spot about as big as my hat" was visible on his snow-covered car.

He walked on drifted snow over the top of a double garage to feed and milk his cows and care for other livestock. A "Big path was cleared" to enable the two milk cows to reach water.

Then...he walked four miles into Floydada to deliver the mail "along the Silvertown highway, where the snow had pretty well blown away." A friend delivered him home late that day.

His auto starter was replaced Sunday and a portion of the snow was shoveled away. Things looked better by Monday morning.

WET YEAR

The first Floydada mail carrier recalls 1941, "when it was raining so much."

LORIN Leibfried mixes syrup and sugar as he starts another batch of his famed peanut brittle. He bakes and delivers over 200 giant patties each Christmas.

Want To Do A Good Deed? Volunteers Needed

Anne Willson, chairman for the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Wheels For Life Bike-a-thon, today asked residents of Floydada to volunteer their time and energy for the April 14th ride. Volunteers are needed to help conduct the Wheels For Life Bike-a-thon to raise funds to support the world-famous research center in its battle against catastrophic childhood diseases. "We're looking for people who are willing to contribute a little of their time to help us help children live," Mrs. Willson said. "Our biggest need is for riders since they are the ones who will make this event a success. Those who want to ride should pick up their registration/sponsor forms at Builder's Mart now and start getting sponsors. Everyone who raises $25.00 will get a St. Jude Children's Research Hospital t-shirt, and those who raise $75.00 or more will get a special biker's back pack," she said. At St. Jude's, doctors and scientists are studying leukemia, Hodgkin's Disease and other forms of childhood cancer as well as other deadly diseases that strike the young. The results of research conducted there are freely shared with doctors and scientists all over the world, enabling stricken children to have a better chance to live. Founded by entertainer Danny Thomas, St. Jude's is the leader in the battle against these diseases. "But as long as children are still dying," Mrs. Willson, said, "St. Jude Children's Hospital must keep fighting. We need your help." Volunteers can contact Anne Willson 983-3113 or Jack Moore 983-2217.

WHOZITS . . .

LOCKNEY WHOZIT....This week's mystery picture for the Lockney area is a "Group Whozit." The photograph was taken about 1949. Four right is good, six or more gets an "excellent" score. Call The Beacon, 652-3318, Monday through Wednesday, to try your luck at guessing the subjects' identities.

FLOYDADA WHOZIT -- If this face is not familiar at first, look again. You should know! Anyone who would like to submit a guess is asked to contact The Hesperian [983-3737] in Floydada or The Beacon [652-3318] in Lockney from Monday through Wednesday.

Gladys Golden Lockney Whozit

Last week's Lockney Whozit must have been an easy one — nearly everyone knew it was Gladys (Mrs. Oscar) Golden. Mrs. Henry Bollman was the first to call with the correct Whozit identification. Ora Brown also knew it was Mrs. Golden, as did Retha Wofford and Helen McDonald. This newspaper solicits pictures from the past for the Whozit feature. Bring pictures to The Beacon office in Lockney or The Hesperian office in Floydada.

Billy Staniforth Floydada Whozit

Polly Cardinal and Emogene Stansell correctly named William Murphy (Billy) Staniforth Jr. as last week's Hesperian "Whozit." Staniforth was five years old at that time, four years before the family moved to Floyd County. Patricia Rannels guessed Charlie Tyer was the mystery personality. Isabell Luna also guessed Staniforth. Emogene Stansell also knew Gladys Golden, the Lockney Whozit.

Rabies Case Confirmed

Rabid Skunk Killed At D...

A skunk killed in the Dougherty County area has been confirmed as rabid. Dr. J. Overstreet sent the animal's head to the Department of Health laboratory in Atlanta which received a phone call Friday that the animal had been confirmed. No human had been bitten by the rabid skunk.

MOVIE RECOMMENDED

Donald Bean rarely attends a movie, he says, but the Bean family saw a film he highly recommended and was an early-day family going to the harvest season. Donald add that he was "intrigued by the scenery" and old machinery of operation. Steam engine tractors shown plowing and harvesting. He believes filming could have been in the upper Texas Panhandle area in Kansas because the terrain is "too rolling" to have been made in the immediate area. An Amarillo newspaper is shown in one scene.

SALES TAX RETURNS

A release from Comptroller Bullock — which appeared in Thursday issue — indicates that all Panhandle - South Plains counties and towns experienced sales tax declines for the first quarter of 1979 compared with the previous year.

However, Bullock points out that returns that have not hit the Comptroller's accounting system and retail sales during the period seem to be the chief culprits in the downturn in rebates.

Caprock Hospital
Board Candidates

Keeping with tradition, The Hesperian is providing information on the five candidates for the Caprock Hospital board. Photos are used if available.

Louis

Anderson

LOUIS ANDERSON is a longtime civic leader who is seeking a seat on the hospital board. He is the owner-manager of Anderson's Department Store. Anderson has been a Floydada resident all but two years of his life. He returned here 21 years ago as manager of Beall's, a position held until August 1977 when he resigned to start his own business. He has served as president of the Lions Club and as a zone chairman, has served as a member of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce and as a member of the County Fair board, and was a member of the Floydada City Council for four years. He is a past chairman of cancer, Salvation Army and Red Cross fund drives. He is a member of First Baptist Church, where he teaches the Young Married Men's Sunday School Class. He and his wife, Ferne, have four children: the Andersons of Floydada, who is associated with the Texas Highway Department; Steve Anderson of Floydada, a Lighthouse Electric employee; Nancy Anderson of Lubbock; and Lisa Anderson of the home, a Floydada High junior. The Andersons also have two grandsons.

Donald Bean

DONALD BEAN, a Floyd County resident since 1959, is a Caprock Hospital Board candidate. He is a Silverton native. A former South Plains resident, he is a farmer. Bean formerly served on the South Plains school board. He is a graduate of Silverton High School and Texas Tech University. The Beans are members of First United Methodist Church. Mrs. Bean is a business and typing teacher in Floydada High School. The couple have a son, a sophomore at Texas Tech University, and a daughter, Judi, a Floydada High School senior.

William Bertrand

WILLIAM BERTRAND is completing his first year term on the Caprock Hospital Board and is a candidate for re-election. Bertrand, a Floyd County resident since 1934, lives 2 1/2 miles south of Floydada. He is a farmer. He has served on the ASC, Producers Cooperative Elevators, and Consumers Fuel boards of directors. He is a member of the First United Methodist Church. Bertrand and his wife, Faye, are parents of two sons and a daughter. They are: Ronald Bertrand, a district supervisor with the Texas Department of Agriculture; Randy Bertrand, a Floydada farmer; and Mrs. Martin (Jill) Warren, who farms along with her husband at Tahoka. The Bertrand family also has four granddaughters.

Laron Fulton

LARON FULTON is an incumbent Caprock Hospital board member who is seeking re-election. Fulton has served four years on the board. A lifelong Floyd County resident, Fulton is a member of the First United Methodist Church. He and his wife, Joy, are parents of a daughter, Shonda, 17, a Floydada High School senior, and a son, Chris, 15, a Floydada High school freshman.

Jo Wester

JO WESTER, a lifelong Floyd County resident, is a candidate for the Caprock Hospital board. Mrs. Wester is assistant treasurer of the FSC Federal Credit Union. Active in the First Christian Church, she is serving a second term on the area Christian church board. Mrs. Wester also is president of the Women's Fellowship and is a Sunday School teacher. She has served as treasurer of the Floyd County Historical Museum board and was on the organizing committee to organize the Women's Museum of Floydada Chamber of Commerce. She has been a member of the American Hewart Association and Community Action Council boards as well as serving on a number of drives for the welfare of the community.

She and her husband, Ed, Floydada postmaster, are parents of Mrs. Raleigh Long of Fort Worth, Todd Wester of Arlington, Brent Wester of Dalhart, and Debby Wester, both of San Angelo, and Ashley Wester of Lubbock.

"If I got a dollar an hour for my work (on hook rugs), I would have to sell them for $500. Besides, I don't know anybody working for a dollar an hour any more," he grins.

He and his wife Bennie, who is retired from the school office, want to stay active but they do enjoy retirement. "The main thing we enjoy is not being on a schedule," he explains.

Their only daughter, LaJuana Jackson, is a science teacher in Perryton and her husband is a coach. The couple have three children.

Chances are that when the grandchildren visit the Leibfried residence at 714 South Main in Floydada, they receive some expert lessons in candy making from their grandfather, "Mr. Peanut Brittle."

Well Decline Averages 1.26 Feet

Consumers Can Buy More Beef Today For Hour's Wage

The average American consumer, despite inflation and rising beef prices, can buy more beef today with one hour's wages than he or she could 30 years ago.

This startling statistic was revealed by President John B. Armstrong at the 102nd annual convention and trade show of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

Armstrong told the group that "the American public needs to be aware that one hour's wages, after taxes, will buy one and two-thirds pounds of beef today, compared to nine-tenths of a pound in 1949. I'm talking about average per capita disposable income today."

Marble Re-Elected Cotton Director

Don H. Marble of South Plains and Clifford Hoelscher of Garden City have been selected as Texas' alternate directors re-elected by Cotton Incorporated.

Twenty-four cotton producers elected or re-elected as members and alternate members of the Cotton Incorporated board of directors officially began their terms at the board's recent annual meeting in Raleigh, N.C.

Measurement of water levels in the network of approximately 800 wells measured annually by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District in its 15 county service area revealed an average change of 1.26 feet from January 1978 to January 1979.

Even though 1978 was an extremely dry year in most of the area, the 1.26 foot change compares favorably with the five year average change of 1.64 feet and the ten year average change of 1.45 feet. Water District officials attribute the reduced decline rate to improved water conservation practices and the high cost of energy to pump water.

The average depth-to-water below land surface in the water level observation wells measured in 1979 was 166.01 feet.

Budget Use Suggested For Cropping Decisions

Production budgets provide essential data to producers when they are making cropping decisions, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The critical indicator in allocating land, labor, machinery time and operating capital in 1979 is the expected income over total variable costs per acre, points out Ashley Lovell.

For the Central Texas Blacklands, cotton and grain sorghum are the leading warm-season crops although a significant acreage is planted in corn and hybrid sudan.

Expected per acre returns over total variable costs for these crops (with typical management levels) are cotton, $36; grain sorghum, $23.37; corn, $20.19; and sudan hay, $40.68. These dollar amounts contribute toward paying fixed costs — depreciation, land rent taxes and interest on investment — before a profit can be realized.

Another important consideration influencing a producer's cropping decisions is his knowledge, skill and experience with various crops. A producer having these traits will weigh expected prices and expected yields of each crop against projected costs, contends the economist.

When expected profits and a producer's knowledge, skill and experience are similar, the producer's preference becomes important in selecting one of the aforementioned crops.

If everything is similar except expected profits, a comparison between expected returns and variable costs offers an estimate of the trade-off between returns and preferences, Lovell adds.

Other considerations influencing producer decisions are the availability of a price support loan program (unavailable for sudan hay), existing livestock programs (the producer may wish to raise his own hay), and soil, climatic and economic conditions unique to the producer's locale. Additionally, some

Farmers May Graze Cattle Or Cut Hay On Wheat Acreage

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm advised today that farmers who planted wheat for 1979 harvest now have another option to consider: they may graze cattle or cut hay on their wheat acreage. Wheat grazed or cut for hay under the special wheat acreage grazing and hay program will qualify for the same deficiency payment rate as wheat harvested for grain.

Wheat program participants will be allowed to graze cattle or cut hay on wheat acreage equal to the higher of (1) 50 acres or (2) 40 percent of their total intended plantings of wheat, feed grains (corn sorghum and barley) and upland cotton.

This action is being taken to encourage the production of more beef later on this year. Calves now on wheat pasture ordinarily would have to come off and be sold about March 15 to permit the wheat to mature for harvest, while the action taken today would permit them to remain an additional 60 days or so. This should result in slightly higher rates of grain and therefore more beef later on this year. It should also encourage the movement of a few more calves onto wheat pasture and more beef from those calves as well.

Producers participating in the special wheat acreage grazing and hay program must also comply with the normal crop acreage (NCA) requirements and with set-aside requirements for wheat harvested for grain and feed grain crops planted on their farm(s). There will be no advance payment or minimum producers have already applied herbicide, preventing a timely acreage to other crops this year.

There is a need to consult market data and market information may suggest a minute adjustment in the following planting, marketing alternatives — forward contracting storage — should be considered. Local county Extension assist producers with their tion program, add the spec-payment guarantee this year as was provided in 1978 special wheat acreage grazing and hay program participants. The deficiency payment rate for 1978-crop wheat was 52 cents per bushel.

The 1979 Wheat Deficiency Payment Rate will be determined in December and will be the difference between the established target price ($3.40 per bushel) and the higher of either the national average market price during the first five months (June through October) of the marketing year, or the national loan rate ($2.35).

Producers wishing to use this option may indicate their intentions at their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) county office during the 1979 wheat and feed grains program sign-up period currently underway. The sign-up period ends April 30.

CONDITIONS FAVOR POISONOUS PLANTS

A combination of conditions favoring the development of range plants, points out specialist with the Texas Extension Service. Arrive late summer, fall and a prolonged drought prior to poor range forage available extremely cold and wet weather.

Swine Course To Look At Artificial Insemination

The potential advantages for small commercial pork producers and pure-bred swine breeders who use frozen semen for herb reproduction is one of the topics to be explored at the annual Texas A&M University Swine Short-course, Wednesday, April 4, in Plainview.

Leading the discussion will be Keith Olson, director and chief operating officer of International Boar Semen in Eldora, Iowa. He is one of 11 leading animal scientists and producers from Texas and four other states who will conduct the course. Their topics will focus on the latest methods and strategies in management and production.

The shortcourse at the Hale County Agricultural Center south of the city begins at 8 a.m. and ends at 4:15 p.m. There is a $7 registration fee.

The course is organized and sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Cooperating are the department of animal science at Texas A&M, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Pork Producers Assn., and Texas

Pork Producers Board.

Artificial insemination of swine offers several possible advantages to the pork producer. One is a reduction in the number of boars needed to carry out a breeding program. It also provides access to semen from outstanding boars, provides a source of semen for the small producer who can't justify maintaining a herd sire, and reduces the chances of introducing a disease into the herd during breeding.

Olson will discuss such factors as conception rates, storage and shipment of semen, and procedures of artificial insemination.

In addition to heading IBS, Olson directs three swine production operations in Iowa. These are a 650-sow feeder pig unit, a 6,000-head swine finishing operation, and a 450-sow feeder pig unit. Olson also directs a 100,000 commercial layer flock and is a partner in a contract egg production operation.

He holds a degree in agricultural education from Iowa State University.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, is joining other cotton interest organizations across the Cotton Belt in a test of the Administration's proposed reductions in Federal cotton research for 1980.

The President's 1980 budget calls for cutting $3.42 million out of agricultural research funds, with $1,647,000 of that almost half, to come from research on cotton and cottonseed.

These severe cuts contrast sharply with the 7.7 percent overall increase in the President's budget and with a proposed increase in the budgets of seven of ten other Federal research agencies.

"So we can only conclude," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President, "that agricultural research in general has been singled out for more than its share of sacrifice that may be necessary to the Administration's effort for a balanced budget, and that within agriculture the President would make cotton a special whipping boy."

In 1973 a joint USDA-State-Industry task force recommended that the number of scientist years devoted to cotton research be increased to 691. In 1977 Title XIV of the Federal Act recognized research as a high priority government function and authorized five $115 million annual increases in Federal research funds for that purpose.

All of this has been ignored, along with the generally accepted principle that research is one of the most effective ways to improve efficiency and therefore fight inflation. Instead of an increase, the number of scientist years in USDA-State cotton research efforts where Federal funds account for almost 80 percent of the total has dropped from 504 in 1970 to about 400. The current proposal would reduce scientist years another 15 to 20 if it gets Congressional approval.

"Cotton needs more research, not less," says Johnson. "And our research needs have been made even more acute by government itself — through ill-advised administrative, the current cotton program and by government-imposed pesticide restrictions, cotton dust and flammability standards and other regulatory actions."

Hearings on the President's proposal are to be held in late March or early April by both House and Senate Agricultural Appropriations Subcommittees.

The largest gold nugget in the world was found in Australia in 1869 during that country's great gold rush. Rather appropriately named the "Welcome Stranger," it measured two feet long and weighed 200 pounds.

More than forty large mines in South Africa produce about three-quarters of the Western World's annual new gold supply, or approximately 700 metric tons. Russia does not disclose its gold production figures, but is estimated to produce over 400 tons annually. Some South African mines are so large, they produce individually more gold than the entire gold mining industry of the United States.
