Five Elections Scheduled Saturday

Balloting For Schools, City, Hospital District

Five area elections will be held this Saturday; Floydada Independent School District, City of Floydada, Caprock Hospital District, Dougherty School District, and South Plains District. Polls are to open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Contests have developed in city, Floydada school, and hospital balloting.

Following are details on each election:

FLOYDADA SCHOOL BOARD

Names of incumbents Travis Jones

One-Act Play To Be Presented Tonight

Floydada High School will present its one-act play, a cutting from "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams, this (Thursday) evening at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Members of the cast are Terry Willson, Theresa Whiteley, Angie Neff and Kelly Marble.

and Lawrence Stovall, as well as newcomer Weldon Pruitt, are listed on the ballot for terms on the Caprock Hospital District board of directors. Three will be elected for three-year terms.

Candidates are: Louis Anderson, Donald Bean, William Bertrand, Laron Fulton and Jo Wester.

Bertrand and Fulton are incumbents, and another vacancy is being created by the resignation of Sammy Hale, who gave up his seat before negotiations get underway with his son, Andy Hale, about a future medical practice in Floydada.

CITY OF FLOYDADA

Three men have filed as candidates for the two vacancies on the city council. Aspirants are Richard Bertrand, Wayne Russell and Jerry Thompson. The latter two men are present officeholders.

Parnell Powell is unopposed in his bid for re-election as mayor. Voters may cast ballots at city hall. Gene Ehler will serve as election judge.

Ten absentee ballots were cast, according to City Secretary Jimmie Lou Stewart.

CAPROCK HOSPITAL DISTRICT

Five persons have placed their names on the ballot for terms on the Caprock Hospital District board of directors. Three will be elected for three-year terms.

Candidates are: Louis Anderson, Donald Bean, William Bertrand, Laron Fulton and Jo Wester.

Bertrand and Fulton are incumbents, and another vacancy is being created by the resignation of Sammy Hale, who gave up his seat before negotiations get underway with his son, Andy Hale, about a future medical practice in Floydada.

Three polling sites will be open for the hospital election: the county judge's office at the courthouse in Floydada, and at the schools in South Plains and Dougherty. The hospital balloting is to be held simultaneously with the latter two school elections.

Doyle Moore is to be election judge in Floydada.

DOUGHERTY SCHOOL

Lance Poole is the lone candidate for three vacancies being created on the Dougherty Independent School District board. The other two places will be filled by write-ins.

Terms of trustees Poole, Ricky Pernell and Richard Ward expire this year.

A.O. Dennington, administrative officer of the Dougherty school district, says that the state initially stated that all seven trustees' position would be declared vacant following the change from a common to an independent district.

However, the Secretary of State later advised Dennington of a new ruling stating that trustees whose terms do not expire this year may continue to fill those positions.

Ruth Daniels will be judge for the election at Dougherty school.

SOUTH PLAINS SCHOOL

Seven candidates for seven places on the South Plains School District board is the situation for that Saturday election. Mrs. Fletcher (Hazel) Powell will be election judge.

The seven — all presently serving — include: Oliver Clark, Ira Henderson, Kendis Julian, Fred Marble, Nathan Mulder, Dwight Teeple and Howard Staples.

South Plains officials were informed that all seven trustee positions would be declared vacant as a result of the change from a common to an independent district. "We haven't heard anything different" (from the Secretary of State's office), one official noted.

CONTRIBUTION to the Floydada Chapter of American Cancer Society being handed by J.C. Beckham of 111 J.B. Avenue to Mrs. Bill Tye (center), crusade chairman, and Julie Cathey, special events chairman. The residential crusade is planned for 2 p.m. this Sunday.

Volunteers Will Solicit Cancer Contributions Sunday Afternoon

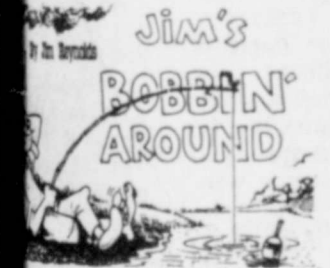

Volunteers representing the Floydada Chapter of the American Cancer Society will be making solicitations on Sunday, April 8, beginning at 2 p.m. Sunny McDonald is the crusade leader. ACS volunteers will be contacting their friends, neighbors and business associates to give them an opportunity to contribute to the cancer research. They will be part of a team of some two million ACS volunteers working nationwide the month of April.

The purpose of the Crusade is two-fold. Fund raising is important, but so is cancer prevention. A brand new leaflet with the heading, "You Do Make A Difference," as well as other pieces of literature will be distributed. Thirteen million tracts will be given away this year. It tells how lifestyle and health care can influence the outcome of cancer. Thousands of cancer patients could be saved with the knowledge available today — if everyone understood the importance of actually preventing some cancers, or starting treatment early — when the chance of success is greatest.

The Floydada ACS has been instrumental in raising funds needed to support the many ACS programs. When people think of the American Cancer Society, they think of research, the fight against cigarettes, or perhaps programs to convince women to protect themselves against breast or uterine cancer.

All of these things and more is done. One-quarter of the money goes to the support of cancer research. Through a professional education program all kinds of medical personnel is helped — physicians, nurses, dentists — to keep abreast of new developments in cancer diagnosis and management. And, importantly, service and rehabilitation programs help cancer patients and their families. The ACS has

Mercury Slides To 25 Degrees

The calendar says Spring has arrived. Apparently someone has forgotten to inform the weatherman! Early Wednesday morning the temperature slid to 25 degrees, according to Jon LaBaume. Frost covered windshields that morning. LaBaume said the Tuesday morning low was 33. County Extension Agent Birch Lobban expects "substantial fruit damage" where trees were in full bloom. Trees in partial bloom or budding stages "should not have much damage." Lobban explains that there are "many variables" which will determine losses. In addition to the stage of trees, their location in regard to protected areas also will be a factor.

BLOOMS on Mrs. H. W. Roberts' trees, 704 South Main, may not have withstood the Wednesday morning frost but they previously had endured hard rains, wind, and frigid temperatures.

Ann Willson Reviews

"The Rest Of The Story"

The 1934 Study Club was called to order by the president. The "club collect" was led by Mildred Wylie. The roll call was given by the secretary and the minutes were read and approved.

The president announced that everyone should make a special effort to be present next meeting because important business will be presented. Jettie Moss introduced the program person which was none other than our own Ann Willson. She gave a book review, which was Paul Harvey's "The Rest of the Story". The book contains stories of many facts of important people and their lives. The review was enjoyed by everyone.

Those present were Eva Parker, Margaret Springer, Thelma Crawford, Jo. V. Bingham, Opal Ashton, Ruth Trapp, Wanda Turner, Kay Hale, Lorene Newberry, Effie Foster, Verna Lynn Stewart, Diane Glover, Jettie Moss, Flora McNeill, and the hostesses Mildred Wylie and Betsy Dempsey. Delicious refreshments of fruit salad and sandwiches were enjoyed by everyone.

Lockney Study Club April Fool Joke

April Fool's Day was Sunday, and Il Penseroso Junior Study Club members used the nearness of that date as an excuse to "fool" Athena Junior Study Club members Saturday morning.

By 8:30 Sunday morning, the tables had turned and Athena had retaliated with a very-early-morning "come-as-you-are" party.

To add merriment to each party there were members of each club who were not in on the gags.

Il Penseroso started the joke with dainty letters to Athena members asking them to a style show Saturday morning. There was a style show, but it was not held at the school cafeteria as had been announced — but at the F & F Recreation Center (pool hall) in downtown Lockney.

After the guests had modeled their spring dresses, games of pool, pinball and foosball were played.

Refreshments were sandwiches, popcorn, pickles, boiled eggs and home-bottled "brew" and "hootch" — in reality, fruit juices.

Favors were junky prizes in brown paper sacks.

"He who laughs last, laughs best" seemed to be Athena's motto as its members quickly planned the Sunday morning "steal" of Il Penseroso members. To be sure, Athena members suspected hanky-panky before the pool-hall style show and made preliminary plans just

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

Families with "ailing" budgets will get free advice on how to "cure" them during "Dollar Watch," a new computer program for Floyd County residents.

"Dollar Watch" is set from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on April 5, 6, and 7 at the Lubbock Civic Center.

During the program, a computer will look at spending habits — and set up a new personalized budget — for families who request one.

"Dollar Watch" is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It is open to people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

In addition, those attending will receive order blanks for several different types of publications designed to help them study their budgets and develop stronger spending habits.

Among the publications is a "Financial Record Book," (MP-1304), available for one dollar from the Department of Agricultural Communication, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas, 77843.

This publication helps families figure out where their money is going — the first step in discovering what is "ailing" the family budget.

During "Dollar Watch," families will learn how to analyze their current spending habits in detail — by using checkbook records or cash register receipts or the "Financial Record Book."

Then they will learn how to examine family goals and set realistic goals.

Study Current Goals
Next, examine family goals — both short-range and long-range.

Short-range goals may include anything from new tennis shoes for the kids to paying off your revolving charge account bill.

Long-range goals may include a house, a new car or security for your retirement years.

Resources, Goals Must 'Match'

In view of the resources you have to work with, are your goals realistic? Can you honestly hope to have a home, two cars, a boat, new furniture, a new coat as well as a secure retirement and college for the kids? If you had to set priorities, what would you be willing to do without? Are you already in over your ears trying to accomplish goals that you really can't afford?

Finances Set Goal Limits
Setting goals requires answering the question, "Where do I want to go? For an answer to "How am I going to get there?" take a close look at your family finances.

How To Look At Finances
Estimate your total income for the coming year. Be realistic. If a year-end bonus is "iffy," don't count on it.

Also, exclude overtime, which may or may not be available, and include a raise only if it's a sure thing.

Is unemployment a possibility? Then find out what your income would be if you had to depend on unemployment compensation to tide you over.

If you are a two-income family, take into account what would happen to your family finances if one income stops. A new baby, a long illness or a lay-off could mean coping on only one income—or hurting.

Is your income holding steady or rising only slightly while expenses are skyrocketing? That means your buying power is shrinking, and that's part of the picture, too.

If you're just scraping by now, another six months of rising prices may have your back against the wall.

Get Ready—Set—Goals
Now you're ready to set realistic goals — and then a workable budget to achieve them.

Births

STAPP
William Chad is the name given by Randall and Virginia Stapp of Lockney to their firstborn child.

The baby boy was born March 27 at 12:16 a.m. in Central Plains Regional Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs. 2½ oz. at birth.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hurl McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ray Stapp, all of Lockney.

Maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Archer of Amarillo.

Engagement Announcement

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT....Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rogers, of Turkey, Texas, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Juanita Nicholas to Glen Roger Taylor, Quitaque, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Taylor, Quitaque. The Rogers and Juanita are former Floydada residents. The couple plan a May 6 wedding. They hope to reside in Quitaque.

BUDGET 'CHECK-UP'

In looking at spending habits and in setting goals, families must do several things — steps we will teach during the "Dollar Watch" program. Some of those things include the following:

A Look At Spending Habits
Before looking at goals and resources, first get down to the nitty-gritty: where is your money really going?

How much do you spend on the so-called fixed expenses — rent or mortgage payment, installment payments, utilities, taxes, insurance?

What do you spend on flexible expenses — food, clothing, household furnishings and improvements, gifts, health care, entertainment and recreation?

Principal Thanks Mothers

"We would like to express our thanks and appreciation to the mothers who helped us at A.B. Duncan Elementary School on March 16 and March 29," Principal Bob Copeland told The Hesperian.

These mothers substituted in the classrooms while teachers attended a reading workshop in Lubbock and while teachers worked on materials for bilingual instruction.

The volunteers included: Kaye Orman, Antonia Garcia, Carolyn Ramazoni, Brenda Watson, Molly Vallejo, Luanne Smith, Rhonda Rowley;

Also, Maria Vasquez, Rebecca Burns, Shelba Neilson, Ilene Kendrick, Linda Morris, Jan Nichols, Connie Bertrand, and Angie Cortinas.

"They worked a full day in the classrooms, which enabled our teachers to attend two very profitable meetings," says Principal Copeland, adding: "Thanks again for a job well done!"

DECA Student Of The Month

Robby Thrasher is the DECA student of the month for March. He is employed by Thrasher and Co. which is located twenty miles east of Floydada.

Robby's duties vary from operating heavy equipment to maintaining the equipment. He is now assistant manager of the firm.

Robby is the son of Mrs. Leo Thrasher of 529 W. Ollie in Floydada.

Sparkman New Executive VP

Carroll Anderson Appointed President Of Lockney Bank

Carroll Anderson, who has been associated with Plains National Bank in Lubbock since August 1965, was elected Monday as the thirteenth president of First National Bank of Lockney. His duties officially began that day.

Joe Kirk Fulton, chairman of the board, announced that the 31-year-old Anderson has been chosen to succeed the late Gene Collins Jr. Collins succumbed March 20 after serving as president of the Lockney Bank for a greater length of time — slightly over 17 years — than any other person.

In a related action, Fulton revealed that a new position, executive vice president, had been created and that George Sparkman has been promoted to that post.

Sparkman joined First National Bank in June 1967 as vice president, moving to Lockney from Lamesa where he was involved in banking. He was elected to the board of directors in January 1968.

ANDERSON ON BOARD

In addition to being chosen as president, Anderson also was appointed to serve the remainder of Collins' term on the board of directors. The board consists of Fulton, J.E. Waller, T.J. Wallace, Anderson and Sparkman.

"The people I have talked with say there is not a cleaner bank around than First National Bank of Lockney," Anderson said Tuesday morning, adding: "This speaks highly of the bank personnel and also is a compliment to the company because a bank is an integral part of a community."

The new president said "I am very pleased to be getting back into a small town environment. Stanton, where I was reared, is very similar to Lockney."

He added that "I was shocked and saddened by the death of Gene Collins, who I knew through his association with Plains (National Bank)."

WALLY COMING NEXT FEBRUARY

Wally Fowler and his Country Gospel Music Festival return to Floydada next February according to Sheriff Fred Carlisle. Carlisle believes an earlier date would advance publicity will allow a greater crowd.

Fowler, known as "Master Music," has proven to be a pleasure to Floyd County residents who have heard him perform the past years.

An unfortunate series of events hampered advance publicity for the show. One P.B. woman for the show fell ill and underwent surgery about a week before she was scheduled to arrive. When another advance publicity person arrived in Floydada, it was only a few days prior to the show. "It was those unfortunate things," Sheriff Carlisle said, "which really was one's fault."

DOLLAR WATCH

Having financial problems? Dollars not stretching as far?

Most families are having problems, points out Crosby County Extension Agent Sharon Hillis, who has the public to come by the "Dollar Watch" booth at South Plains Show today (Thursday) through Saturday and have a personalized budget completed through a computer system. This is done via telephone computer system 1,000 miles away.

This information and printouts are returned to the person within minutes.

"Dollar Watch" is a free program about family budgets sponsored by Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The computer takes into account such facts as number of members, number of cars, telephone pay, food, car payments, mortgage, utilities, installment and other expenses.

Lions' Project 'Successful'

Floydada Lions Club grossed $390 from its broom sale and $1,138 from the club's portion.

Bob Copeland, second vice president and overall chairman for the two events, was "very little expense" involved.

Total proceeds go to Floydada community projects including: Children's Camp, Diabetes Camp, Eye Clinic, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, and local needy persons, youth baseball, and other needy community endeavors.

Green Thumb News

Green Thumb Workers from Floyd and surrounding counties met in the dining room of the Caravan Restaurant in Ralls on March 21. The purpose of the meeting was to conduct a training session. The group gathered about 9:30 a.m. and were registered by Mrs. Eunice Tomme of Ralls. The morning was spent getting health checks, which included blood pressure and diabetes checks.

In the afternoon about 60 workers, sponsors and supervisors were presented a program by John Keith Jr., Detached District Director-Large of Green Thumb. His talk covered work assignments in general, Equal Opportunity Employment, crew projects, benefits, working conditions, fringe benefits, supervision, training sessions and preparation of Green Thumb Workers for other employment.

Those attending from Floydada were: Mary E. Cross, Mabel Foster, May Jones, Kathryn Edwards, Georgia Finley, Allen Rendon, Andres Solis, Pedro Vallejo and Francisco Grados.

electric heat pump

- heats

The electric heat pump is a remarkable device that uses about one half as much electricity to heat your home as a conventional electric heating system. This means substantial savings on your winter heating bills.
- cools

Operating costs for summer cooling are about the same as conventional central air conditioning systems. During summer a heat pump works like a regular air conditioner. A blower pulls hot air from the house and passes it through a filter to remove dust and dirt. The air then flows across a cooling coil to cool and de-humidify the air. It then moves through ducts to all rooms in your home.
- conserves energy

During winter months this cycle is reversed. For the heating cycle, the heat pump does an unusually efficient job. The only electricity it uses is to run the fan and the compressor. This is why heating costs are dramatically lower. Heat is removed from outdoors and pumped inside to heat the house. This is the feature that surprises most people, until they realize that there is always some heat in winter air.
- saves money

Original installation costs for a heat pump are usually slightly more than for separate heating and central air conditioning systems. But depending on your installation, costs may be about the same—or even less than for separate systems.

A properly engineered heat pump . . . large enough to do the job . . . will mean important savings to you.

National FHA Week Observed By Floydada Chapter

Officers

Homemaking by today's standards is quite different from homemaking of yester year. No longer do you find all girl classes learning to cook and sew, but boys and girls are in classes together. The curriculum includes consumer education, nutrition, housing and home furnishings, home and family living, parenting, child development, social issues, human development, changing roles of men and women, and preparation for the future. The goal of home economics education is to improve the quality of personal and family living.

Homemaking was introduced in Floydada in the 1924 - 25 school year with Mrs. J. Clements teaching. Instead of preparing whole meals, girls were taught to cook one food at a time and for two people only. Now homemaking tries to imitate home situations as much as possible. A long list of teachers have brought changes with them. Some of the earlier teachers were Fannie Mae Rees, Lois Fouts, Geneva Marr, Jessie Fay Pitcock, Hazel Stovall, Euphris McMillan, Dorothy Weddle, Sharon Young, Lefern Parrish, Mrs. Cooper, Ethyl Emmons, Frances Huntington, Shirley Nelson, Linda Hull, Bobbie Bachus, Carolyn Hribek, Mary Alice Craig, and Deborah Judah.

Future Homemakers of America (FHA) is a youth leadership organization comprised of male and female home economics students. Floydada has two chapters of Future Homemakers which enables more students to participate in chapter activities.

A very special project all year has been the Secret Grandparent project. Students have learned about the aging process and the special needs and problems of the elderly. This has brought a little sunshine into the lives of some lonely people who have a lot of love to share. The students also benefit from this project by learning to care about someone other than themselves. They enjoy this relationship with a more mature person. Being around older people takes away fear of the future and they realize the need to prepare for life ahead.

Special FHA week activities include the Secret Grandparent Tea, when the students meet their special grandparents. There will also be a picnic, baseball and FFA, Mr. Irresistible Contest, a Bake-Off Contest, and Teacher Appreciation Day.

Floydada now has two full units of homemaking with Alice Baker teaching one class of Homemaking II, Homemaking III, Home and Family living, and Child Development. Mona Dean teaches four classes of Homemaking I. Miss Dean graduated in 1975 from Texas Tech University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics Education. She has taught in Floydada since her graduation from Texas Tech.

Alice Baker received her Bachelor of Science degree from Southwest Texas Teachers College with a major in Home Economics and a minor in Science. She also has an all level teaching certificate. Mrs. Baker has taught in the Floydada School system 29 years. During the war years two homemaking teachers were employed and were charged with teaching science and homemaking. Chemistry, Biology, and Homemaking I and II were her first assignments. Later science teachers were available and in 1974 one homemaking teacher taught all homemaking classes.

Under the quarter system Child Development, Home Furnishings, Home Management, and Home and Living are offered as quarter classes. Students can take as many quarter courses as they choose with no prerequisites in homemaking. Home and Family living is a two quarter class which hits the high points of Homemaking I, II, and III. It is offered to juniors and seniors and covers personal adjustment, marriage, management, food for the family, clothing the family, job and career opportunities and dual roles for homemakers.

The Child Development quarter class is probably the most popular of the quarter classes. This class includes preparation for parenthood with emphasis on nutrition, development, care and guidance of infants and young children, the role of the community in the development of children, and career and job opportunities.

Home Management enables students to identify their goals, values, and standards, manage daily living, manage home expenditures, and manage one's own mental health. It also covers income, records, savings, credit, consumer protection, and educational preparation for employment, advancement, and personal satisfaction.

Housing and Home Furnishings covers making housing decisions, evaluating housing, management and consumer aspects of housing and furnishings, household textiles, construction and styles of furniture, windows and window treatments, lighting, accessories, storage, equipment, room plans and furniture arrangement, maintenance, as well as job and career opportunities.

Sequence courses like Homemaking I, II, and III, cover the six main areas of home economics education. These courses are planned so that students progress from basic skills to more advanced technology. Each level of the sequence courses must be completed before taking the next level. The sequence courses cover the following skills:

Clothing and Textiles: purchasing, care of clothing, wardrobe planning, basic sewing skills, more complicated construction projects and tailoring.
Food and Nutrition: nutrition for the family, meal planning, purchasing food, preparation of meals, well balanced diets, time management.
Family Relations: decision making, appreciation of self, grooming, appreciation of others, dating, family problems, death, and aging.

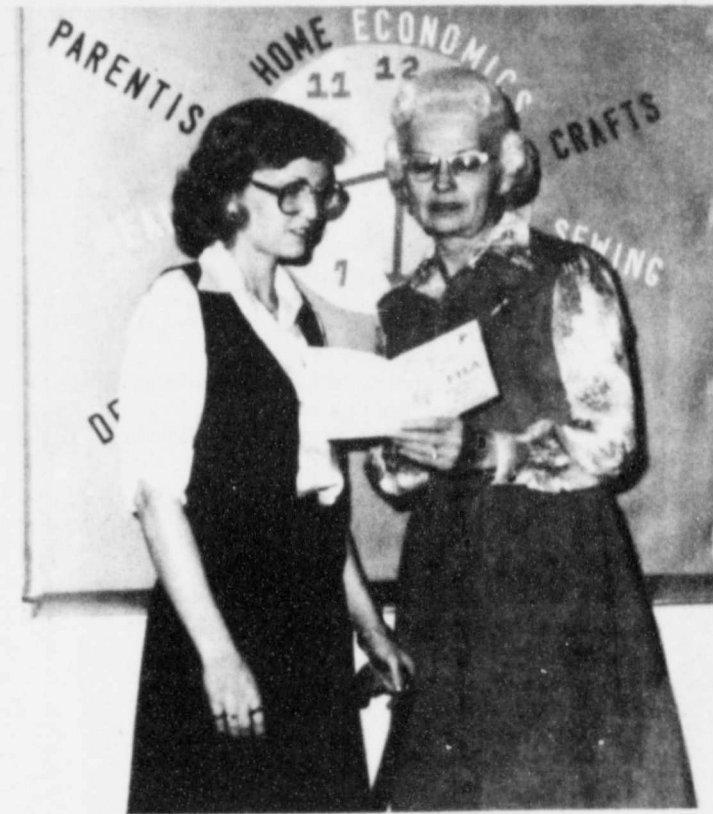

Child Development: home nursing, Health and safety, infant development, prenatal and post natal care, parenting, and babysitting.

Consumer Education: comparative shopping, budgeting, insurance, banking, legislation, self protection, and advertising.

House and Home Management: bedrooms, kitchens, house planning, landscaping, maintenance, managing resources, income, time, and energy.

Home Experiences are projects to be done at home under the supervision of both parents and teachers. Home Experiences are required each quarter and related to the subject matter for that particular quarter. Also, adult classes are offered free after school in any of the categories when as many as ten people wish to enroll.

PRESENT day homemaking teachers are Mona Dean, [left] sponsor of FHS Rosebud Chapter, and Alice Baker, sponsor of FHS Rose Chapter.

WRITING FUNNY

Some people write funny. Not that that's a put-down. I mean, some people walk funny. Some people sneeze funny. Some people laugh funny. Some people talk funny. Everybody does something funny.

That said, let me elaborate. Some people, when a pen is forced into their hand and they are coerced into writing a few lines, can put the strangest things on paper.

For example, let us study a few descriptions penned by the parties involved in traffic accidents:

--Coming home, I drove into the wrong house and collided with a tree I don't have.

--The other car collided with mine without giving warning of its intentions.

--The pedestrian hit me and went under my car.

--The guy was all over the road. I had to swerve a number of times before I hit him.

--I pulled away from the side of the road, glanced at my mother-in-law, and headed over the embankment.

--In my attempt to kill a fly, I drove into a telephone pole.

--I had been shopping for plants all day, and was on my way home. As I reached an intersection a hedge sprang up obscuring my vision. I did not see the other car.

--I had been driving my car for 40 years when I fell asleep at the wheel and had an accident.

--An invisible car came out of nowhere, struck my vehicle, and vanished.

--I was sure the old fellow would never make it to the other side of the roadway when I struck him.

--The pedestrian had no idea which direction to go, so I ran over him.

--I saw the slow-moving, sad-faced old gentleman as he bounced off the hood of my car.

--I was thrown from my car as it left the road. I was later found in a ditch by some stray cows.

--The telephone pole was approaching fast and I was attempting to swerve out of its path when it struck my front end.

--I was on my way to the doctors, with rear end trouble when my universal joint gave way, causing me to have an accident.

--To avoid hitting the bumper of the car in front, I struck the pedestrian.

--As I approached the intersection, a stop sign suddenly appeared in a place where a stop sign have never appeared before. I was unable to stop in time to avoid the accident.

Enough said. Sometimes people write funny.

GOOD DAYS AND BAD

Sooner or later, people, if they are wise, discover that business life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take. They learn that . . .

—It doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul—that they should let some things go over their heads.

—A person who loses his temper usually loses.

—everyone has burned toast for breakfast now and then, and that they shouldn't take the other person's grouch too seriously.

—carrying a chip on one's shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight.

—it doesn't matter so much who gets the credit as long as the business shows a profit.

—buck-passing usually turns out to be a boomerang.

—it doesn't do any harm to smile and say "Good morning," even if it is raining.

—a lot of other people are as ambitious as they are, that others have brains that are as good or better, and that hard work not cleverness is the secret of success.

—most bosses are not monsters trying to get the last ounce of work out of them for the least amount of pay.

—the gang is not any harder to get along with in one place than another, and that "getting along" depends about 98 percent on their own behavior.

Examine Objectives For Investments

Note: This is the first of a series of five articles on real estate investment.

As you embark upon a real estate investment campaign, development of a clear statement of objectives is advised. Dr. Richard R. Rios, real estate economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that investment objectives should reflect your goals. The amount you have to invest should also be consistent with your objectives. Dr. Rios advises that a general feeling of being rich is not to be confused with a desire to provide a foundation for a future investment strategy.

A statement of objectives should include desired rate of return on the investment, risk, willingness to borrow, desire for liquidity, tax shelter and inflation protection. Transaction costs, including holding expenses and management fees, and personal satisfaction desired from ownership should also be examined, says Floyd. "Once you've established your investment objectives, compare them to actual performance of various investments," suggests the economist. "This allows you to determine which investments are best suited to meet your needs. The only relevant performance measure is that of individual experience, but each investor's evaluation will vary."

Lockett 77

Cotton like you've never seen!

This great new variety was introduced for wide-area planting only one year ago. And already it's becoming one of the most popular cotton varieties in the Southwest! Farmers who've seen it are excited about its performance. Here's what they liked about Lockett 77:

- "Disease was not a problem." Multiple disease tolerance includes protection against the fusarium wilt-nematode complex.
- "It came out of the ground real fast." Excellent seedling disease escape and cold tolerance provide good early-season vigor.
- "It fit my conditions exactly." Early maturity makes Lockett 77 a good choice for short season production.
- "The lint tested out real well." Fiber qualities are outstanding with good strength and uniformity ratings.
- "Lockett 77 was a beauty in the field." Foliage is sparse on short- to intermediate-size plants. Short, close-fruited branches make Lockett 77 ideal for stripper harvest.
- "The field looked white with my narrow-row planting." An excellent stripper cotton.

If you weren't among the farmers who planted Lockett 77 last year, talk to your ginner. If he doesn't have a supply on hand, he can get it for you. You're going to be really excited about the first field of Lockett 77 you see. It might as well be yours.

Irma Garcia and Lori Jarrett received a first place award for their pioneer dress, and Mitzi Julian — Cindy Mulder teamed to design a pioneer home which received a second place. Honorable mention went to Shereese Cannon — Christy Pruitt for their Texas windmill and to Angie Anderson — Vicki Powell for their Texas pillow.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

The Alpha Mu chapter of the nursing home had a party for our residents. Different kinds of fruit punch were served to all residents. Present were Sue Williams, Henderson, Donna Williams, Debbie Beaty, and Coward. Most of our residents are sick with colds and flu or so and were not able to participate in devotional activities.

Friday our bus trip was to the home of Anis Gray and was so thrilled to see her home only for a year ago. This was her first trip back since entering the home a year ago.

Martin was able to go on this trip. He had all the good times and a boy growing up in the home. Most of his relatives live there and we have his sister Edith.

Her husband, Henry Love visited her granddaughter for a while. Others making visits were Docia Manning, Green Bostick, and Bailey.

There was bingo day and several to play. Victoria Asher was the winner with three 4-4 in the tiebreak. Girls sent a shot to Gray and Ray set 6-2.

In 6-1, 6-1 fashion Valorie McLane visited her quarters. She found herself really for the victory and were on the FHS duo fought for the victory, made by Kara and Sammy Bradley.

125 Hear Wally Fowler Show

Approximately 125 persons were treated to the talent of Wally Fowler, "Mister Gospel Music," at the International Country Gospel Music Festival last Thursday night in Floydada High School Auditorium.

For the second consecutive year, Fowler's show was "very well accepted."

The festival was sponsored by the Floyd County Sheriff's Department and Sheriff Fred Cardinal.

Sheriff Cardinal expressed appreciation to everyone who attended and to merchants who supported the event.

Wally Fowler will bring his show back to Floydada in February 1980, the sheriff says.

He explains that the advance publicity woman became ill and underwent surgery. By the time that Fowler learned that she had undergone surgery and sent another publicity person, it was Monday prior to the show. This delayed information to the public about the show and hurt attendance.

DRUG HANDBOOKS DISTRIBUTED. Drug handbooks, sponsored by Lockney and Floydada merchants, have been distributed, Sheriff Cardinal says. He expresses appreciation to merchants who sponsored the "informative" booklets.

Fairview News

By Mrs. Clyde Bagwell

Our weather continues to be rather on the cool side. We have had a few reports of some gardening being done, but for the most part, folks are waiting for more settled weather.

We received word this morning of the death of a long time friend and neighbor, Mrs. Luther Holmes. She died Sunday about 8 o'clock. Funeral services were Tuesday (April 3) at 2 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church. Our sympathy is with the family at this sad time.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Reeves of Plainview visited Friday with Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Upton and Rocky of Los Alamos, New Mexico, were here Wednesday and Thursday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L.H. Blum.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy returned home Wednesday from their ranch near Claude. Their son Charles Beedy came here Friday for several days to visit with his parents.

Wednesday night visitors in the Bill Beedy home were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson and Woodrow Wilson.

Mrs. Kate Crabtree visited Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Fannie Green. Sunday afternoon Mrs. Crabtree visited at the Floydada Nursing Home with several of the residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baxter visited Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Edell DuBois.

Sunday, April 1, was the birthday of Clyde Bagwell. We enjoyed several long distance phone calls wishing him "Happy Birthday." Those calling were our brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. P.L. Joiner, of Creswell, Oregon; a niece Mrs. Bill Pierce of Everett, Washington; Clyde's sister, Mrs. Edith Mulvaney of Albuquerque, New Mexico and Wayland Bagwell, a brother, of Los Angeles, California.

Wednesday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye were Mrs. M.O. Stapleton of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize; Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy and Karen Pruitt. In the afternoon Jane Pruitt, Carolyn Marble and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson joined the group. This was Edna Beth Tye's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Hatley visited Mrs. Lindsey Graham

Saturday night. Sam Crabtree visited his grandmother, Mrs. Kate Crabtree Tuesday and ate lunch with her.

Mrs. C.H. Wise visited Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Berch Gilliland and Mrs. Roe Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson went out to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize after church Sunday and had lunch with them and visited for the afternoon.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye and Mark and Todd Beedy.

Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Walls returned home Sunday afternoon late from a weeks stay in Oklahoma. They first stopped at Lake Texhoma where they were met by her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Percy of Wayne, Oklahoma. They tried their luck fishing but the water was too cold for fish to bite.

They went onto Norman, Oklahoma and visited Mrs. Wall's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Marsee, then to Nacoma Park to visit E.W. Walls sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E.C. Johnson. While in Oklahoma the Walls visited at several places with long time friends for short visits.
