Moisture For Month: .4"

Weather Delaying Floyd Planting Operations

'Maybe Next Week' If Temperature Rises

Cool, damp weather conditions this week are delaying planting operation in Floyd County. Many producers have backed off original plans to begin planting "about May 1."

inches" moisture throughout most of the county. "We need more topsoil moisture, although I think our subsoil moisture is pretty good."

He regards subsoil moisture in this county "as good or better than in recent years."

MORE COTTON FORESEEN

Herber and the county crops committee anticipate "a 15 to 25 percent increase in cotton over last year's planting." Herber expects that between 230,000 and 250,000 Floyd acres will be planted to cotton.

Corn and milo production is foreseen as being "down substantially." Herber believes that "seed milo and corn will take up a good percentage of the corn and milo acreage in this county."

Soybean acreage is expected to be "comparable" to 1978. However, the amount of soybeans and sunflowers will depend to some extent on hail damage to cotton. Extensive hail would mean many producers would be forced to replant to these "fallback" crops.

Vegetable acreage also is anticipated to remain "about the same."

STRONG COTTON PRICES DOUBTED

Most farmers "realistically don't expect strong cotton prices," due to heavy planting intentions, the Extension agent believes.

What Is RIGHT With Floydada?

The Hesperian would like to carry a series of opinions from local residents about what is GOOD about "our town."

Anyone — any age person — who would like to submit his or her ideas on the matter is asked to bring written copy to this newspaper for publication. We would like to carry a series of public responses in Sunday editions.

Nominations Invited From Public

Floydada's 'Outstanding Mother' Will Be Selected Next Thursday

Does your Mom deserve to be 'Floydada's Mother of the Year'?

If the answer is "yes" — and most answers would have to be in the affirmative — then nominate your Mother for the honor.

"Floydada's Mother of the Year" will be recognized with a plaque and a long stem red rose and is to be featured in the May 13 Hesperian issue. An anonymous committee is to choose the honoree next Thursday, May 10.

The Retail Trades Committee of Floydada Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the salute to mothers.

NOMINEES REQUESTED

Individuals are requested to nominate their mothers for the honor. They should, in 25 words or less, explain why "my Mom is the best in the world!"

Nominations may be left with sponsoring Floydada merchants until noon next Thursday, May 10. After that deadline, resumes are to be collected and judged by the secret committee that afternoon.

The mother chosen will be spotlighted in The Hesperian issue which will be received by local mail subscribers Saturday prior to Mother's Day.

SPONSORS LISTED

Following is the list of Floydada merchants who are participating in the event and with whom nominees may be

SENIOR CITIZENS DAY

Cottage Hair Styles has come up with a novel idea!

Wednesday is being designated "Senior Citizens Day" with persons 62 and over receiving a discount on all beauty services that day.

Seems as if more persons are being concerned about the well-being of older persons.

BUSHELS OF LETTERS TO ATTRACT DOCTORS

Personal contact or correspondence is an effective "selling tool."

With a number of letters reportedly being forwarded by community residents to Dr. Pedro Ochoa in an attempt to interest him in relocating his surgical practice here, we wonder why Floydada residents couldn't prepare a bevy of letters — say 200 to 300 — to assist hospital personnel in enticing additional medical personnel to establish practices here!

The correspondence could bear a general heading and point out the many assets of this community, the fine Caprock Hospital facility, and its need for additional doctors and registered nurses. We believe that the letters should have an impact on any medical personnel considering a move to Floydada... where they are wanted and needed.

Aerial Photos Could Help Lower Home - Business Heating Costs

May Be Viewed At City Hall

Aerial photos called thermograms, made with an infrared scanner, are available to Floydada homeowners as well as homeowners in 42 other communities in the 15-county South Plains Association of Governments area. From the thermograms, homeowners will be able to locate their home and determine whether or not they have sufficient insulation to retain heat.

The thermograms were taken in January and February by a Dallas-based company hired by SPAG. The project cost $38,000, with $20,000 coming from an innovative energy grant from the governor's office in Austin. SPAG contributed the remaining $18,000.

Three planes were used in taking the thermograms at a height of 1,800 feet. Several SPAG personnel were trained to interpret the thermograms. These employees trained Dorr Blassingame, building office of Floydada, to interpret the photos for citizens of this community and city employees of other communities.

AID TO HOMEMAKERS

Tim Hogsett, comprehensive planning assistant at SPAG, said the thermograms are principally to be used by Community Action Program agencies (CAP), but also would be helpful to homeowners.

Blassingame will be available at the Floydada City Hall from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday to show these thermograms to citizens.

"We were informed that the grant funds would be available, and we felt that it would be a valid project to help with CAP weatherization programs," explained Hogsett. "It's also part of SPAG's energy conservation program. We're hoping that it will make citizens more energy - conservation conscious."

The CAP agencies are now making use of the thermograms in their weatherization program and to monitor the level of energy efficiency in federally assisted housing.

HEAT LOSS SHOWN

The thermograms look similar to black and white photos. The white areas around rooftops, explained Hogsett, indicate heat loss. From the thermograms, a homeowner will be able to determine if his home is losing heat and if more insulation should be considered.

"We're going to keep control over the thermograms. We don't want them used to sell anything to the homeowner by insulators or builders," emphasized Hogsett. "We will keep the information confidential between the homeowner and the city. We're not trying to tell people they need to insulate or put up storm windows. This is for the homeowner's own benefit and use."

PATROLMAN LEE SETTLE

Woman Cop' Seeks Public Acceptance

When I was nine years old my mother I wanted to be a cop...it was just something I always wanted to be.

That is Cynthia LeeAnn Settle's explanation of her chosen profession. More accurately, it might be called "my dream or a way of life."

Settle is Floydada's female patrolman. She is a member of the city police department.

After two months on the job, Patrolman Settle says she likes the job and the "but her main concern is that many of the kids don't quite know how to take a female officer."

Settle is "more friendly than I had anticipated... unless it is some situation I just can't overcome. All in all, they (youth) have been extremely courteous."

Floydada's fem patrolman notes that "a few adults I have stopped resent me being a female in the first place and really resent me being young. There are maybe four or five I have had to stop whose attitude really stuck in my mind."

"Overall, adults have been friendly — but most don't quite know whether to put me in the category with kids or whether I'm old enough to handle the job."

While a majority of the adults have at least been willing to give Patrolman Settle an opportunity to prove her merits, "one of two didn't like me issuing their children a citation."

Interrupting the interview to explain to a passerby that she really didn't mind being called to the office while not on duty, Settle's face was crossed by a smile as she said matter-of-factly that "I enjoy my job...the only thing I would like better is being a millionaire."

"Yea, about like I like my job," the passerby joked. Again, she reiterated that she enjoyed her work.

Settle is "trying to win general acceptance particularly with the young. She attempts during hours to communicate with youngsters and to gain their confidence. I hope to be sure they will look up to me when they have a problem and I can help them

Does she believe the verdict is still out in the minds of some teenagers?

"I'm certain," she states bluntly.

AGE ALSO PROBLEM

Being a female is only one obstacle Lee Settle knows stands in her way. Her age also categorizes her in the minds of some citizens.

"It's (being young and female) a double side of the coin — it has its good days and its bad!"

The 24-year-old patrolman notes that "a few adults I have stopped resent me being a female in the first place and really resent me being young. There are maybe four or five I have had to stop whose attitude really stuck in my mind."

"Overall, adults have been friendly — but most don't quite know whether to put me in the category with kids or whether I'm old enough to handle the job."

While a majority of the adults have at least been willing to give Patrolman Settle an opportunity to prove her merits, "one of two didn't like me issuing their children a citation."

Interrupting the interview to explain to a passerby that she really didn't mind being called to the office while not on duty, Settle's face was crossed by a smile as she said matter-of-factly that "I enjoy my job...the only thing I would like better is being a millionaire."

"Yea, about like I like my job," the passerby joked. Again, she reiterated that she enjoyed her work.

DETERMINED FOR CAREER

Had she not been determined to pursue her career as a peace officer, Lee Settle would have long since sought another type work.

"In some places, I don't care how bad you want it (job) you're not going to be

4-H Methods Demonstration

The Floyd County 4-H Method Demonstrations will be given at 6 p.m. Thursday (May 10) in the Lockney Elementary School Cafeteria.

Seven method demonstration teams and two "Share The Fun" teams are scheduled to participate in the program, which should last "not more than two and a half hours."

CAROL MARROQUIN MADE HONOR ROLL

Carol Ann Marroquin made the sixth grade A honor roll for the fifth six weeks. Her name was unintentionally omitted from the list school officials report.

A "kite-fly" will be the opening event of the first Early Childhood Learning Festival to be held in the area. The festival is being sponsored by the Caprock Education Cooperative. Children from Petersburg, Lockney, Floydada and the surrounding area are expected to fill the air with kites between 5 and 7 o'clock, Tuesday, May 8, at Della Plains School in Floydada as the festival begins.

Other activities are planned "to make the evening a happy and profitable one for both children and parents."

The Mize Musical Puppeteers will be performing through-out the entire evening. The troupe of puppets are directed by Mrs. Jan Mize, speech pathologist of Lockney.

The local chapter of Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Mrs. Peggy Neeley will serve as volunteers for kite flying. "Parents who feel this activity is too strenuous for them may sit back and watch how it's done by experts."

ROMPER ROOM

The FTA is also in charge of the gymnasium romper room under the supervision of Mrs. Neeley and Mrs. Ilda Vasquez, Floydada Early Childhood aide. This area will include tumbling activities, finger painting, and drawing, and wheel toy races.

Picnic type food will be sold at reasonable prices by the Floydada VEH class under the direction of Mrs. Joyce Williams. The menu will feature sandwiches, home baked cookies, pop corn and soft drinks.

A cradle room will be provided for children under two years of age. The space is being contributed by the Floydada Day Care program, under the direction of Mrs. Betty Fuller.

CHILD DEVELOPMENT

While children are enjoying these activities, their parents will have an opportunity to listen to discussions concerning child development. Dr. Tom Jones and Dr. Julie Jones will offer short sessions on practical teaching methods for pre-school children.

Dr. Julie Jones will discuss behavior management and language development. Dr. Tom Jones will talk on the subject of self-help skills needed before school. The young couple is from Lubbock. They are working with the College of Education at Texas Tech University.

They have conducted successful workshops in this region and are well known for their vigorous and energetic presentations. The Drs. Jones are sponsored by Child Serve Region XVI.

Sessions will begin at 7 and 7:45 p.m. Also of interest to parents will be a showing of a video-tape of Early Childhood students from Lockney, Petersburg, and Floydada. These films were taken by Sonny Holmes in a classroom setting and show the sort of developmental activities involved in the Early Childhood Curriculum. Teachers of the groups pictured are Gean Christopher, Floydada; Jean Slocum, Petersburg; and Vickie Schaffer, Lockney.

The Floydada Four-year-old Migrant Program will be featuring a continuous slide presentation showing students that are enrolled in the current program. Mrs. Shelia Phillips of Lubbock is the program instructor.

MOVIES FOR PARENTS

Reggie Eure will be presenting two movies of particular interest to parents. They are "Free to Be You and Me" and "Resolving Conflict Between Parents and Children." Ms. Eure is caseworker with the Department of Human Resources.

Registration at the door will be in charge of Vickie Schaffer, Mary Martinez, aide, Migrant 4, and Maria Arellano, aide, Early Childhood, Lockney. In conjunction with registration, all children between the ages of two and six will be asked to register for a free airplane ride.

The winner will be permitted to invite his parents as his guests. The plane ride is contributed by Brown Flying Service.

Kites and string will be sold on the school grounds but children who have their own kites may use them. Mrs. Jean Slocum will conduct the sales.

Any questions concerning the festival may be directed to the publicity and community involvement committee. Contact Mrs. Beth Faulkenberry, speech pathologist, Floydada; Mrs. Mary Degge, Caprock Cooperative Counselor, Lockney; or Mrs. Sue Swearingen of Floydada.

CHILDREN INVITED

All children in the area between the ages of two and six are invited. Each child should be accompanied by an adult. All activities will be continuous so that all may come and go at times that are convenient with the home schedule. Casual clothing will be suitable.

"It is hoped that community support will make this festival an exciting event for both children and parents," sponsors say.

Rose Bushes On DP Campus

As part of the Della Plains School campus beautification program which was originated by Al Galloway and his VEH classes, rose bushes are to be on sale.

Parents are invited to buy a rose bush which will be tagged with their child's name and planted on the Della Plains campus.

BETH PRATT

Ronnie Sawyer and Bob Kendrick attended a media education workshop in Lubbock on Monday and Tuesday of this week. John Hack of the Church Library Department, Baptist Sunday School Board, led the group in methods of teaching people to use all kinds of printed and audiovisual media in the education ministry of the church. Patsy Sawyer has spent some time typing cassette tape catalog cards.

We had a good group present for the book review at the Media Center/Library Munch Bunch on Wednesday. Ann Willson did her usual great job reviewing First Ladies Of Texas. Plan to spend your lunch hour with us the first Wednesday in June at the Floyd County Library enjoying an excellent film and fellowship.

Occasionally a book is outstanding enough that I feel a need to reread it. Say It With Love by Howard G. Hendricks is that kind of book. Communication is the subject and the first chapter is entitled "God Said It With Love." Part 2 deals with sharing this message of love and Part 3 gets down to the real nitty-gritty of living the message of love, first with God, your mate, your children, your church, your neighborhood and in your daily contacts. This is a book written with joy that communicates with the reader and gives the secret to experiencing a joyful lifestyle.

Pinch Hitting for Grace Lemons

Grace Lemons was admitted to the hospital on April 25, to have a hernia repaired. Her recovery was unremarkable and she was discharged on May 2. Her condition improved, although she still has some discomfort in the area of the incision. She is being discharged to her home in Kingsland.

Durrel Fortenberry spent a productive week at Lake Stamford — fifty pounds of dressed fish plus supplying enough for a public gathering near Stamford. Patricia and girls were called to join Durrel near Stamford for the last rites of a friend of Patricia's family. All of them returned home Sunday.

Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry visited Sunday afternoon with Henry Love in Floydada's Convalescent home. They also visited with Etta Love's mother, Mrs. Ray, and report that she is doing real good.

Albert and Clara Mize and others of our community attended the funeral services for Lee Pearson in Lockney. Edna Gilley, her mother, Ruth Hill, and her aunt, Clara Redd, took dinner in Plainview Sunday with Ruth's sister, Mrs. Clay Anderson and Mr. Anderson. Following dinner the three continued on to the First Baptist Church in Hart where they enjoyed a concert featuring Kenneth and Virgie Flowers. Virgie is a close relative of the three ladies.

Edna Gilley reminds us of the bridal shower for Kim Lackey, bride-elect of Kelley Mixon. The shower is to be at two thirty p.m. Saturday, May 5, at Edna Gilley's home. Imogene and Gladys Fortenberry, and Edna Gilley attended the District Council of the Assemblies of God Churches in Lubbock last Tuesday.

Mrs. Billy Hinkle kept three of her grandchildren from Snyder during the past week; and that's not all; she had all of her children for dinner last Sunday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Max Yeary and Charla; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fulton; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Hinkle, Chad and Pepper; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maxwell, Becky, Jay, and Ben; and Joe Hinkle.

Services for William Luther Hartline, 75, of Floydada were at 11 a.m. Saturday in the First Baptist Church of Floydada with the Rev. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Floydada Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Hartline died at 2:30 a.m. Thursday in Caprock Hospital following a short illness.

WHOZITS . . .

LOCKNEY WHOZIT — The little girl was three years old, the baby boy eight months, when this snapshot was taken in 1959 or 1960. Call The Beacon, 652-3381, Monday through Thursday, if you can figure out who the brother-sister pair are.

Rainey Davis Lockney Whozit

No Mystery — Bob Alldredge Floydada Whozit

Every person who submitted a guess on last week's Hesperian Whozit was correct! The mystery personality — who was really no mystery to most — was Bob Alldredge, principal of Floydada Junior High School. Correctly identifying Alldredge were: Audrey Spence, Elmer Norrell, Michael Leatherman, Lee Moss, and Betsy Dempsey, all of Floydada, and Sterling Cummings of Lockney.

FLOYDADA WHOZIT — This fellow, one of Floydada's best known citizens, should be recognized by more than a few people. A pipe in his mouth would make the Whozit even easier to identify. If you would like to guess, please contact The Hesperian [983-3737] Monday through Wednesday.

Floyd Citizens At Conservation Event

Several Floyd County citizens attended the 1979 Awards Program and Banquet for Region I Tuesday night at the University Center at Texas Tech in Lubbock. Local Soil and Water Conservation district directors attending the awards banquet were G.L. Fawver, R.G. Dunlap, Junior Taylor and Mrs. Taylor, Herman King and Mrs. King. Guests attending with the directors were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Davidson of Lubbock and Jon L. La Baume and James Cox. Soil Conservation Service personnel in Floydada, and the district's bookkeeper, N.S. Abbott and Mrs. Abbott. Regional I consists of 47 South Plains and Panhandle counties and 269 people from this area attended the awards banquet to honor those "who have done an outstanding job in conservation." Master of ceremonies was Frank Gray, chairman of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board, welcome was given by Dr. Wayland Bennett, associate dean, school of Agricultural Sciences, Texas Tech University, and presentation of awards was by Charles Wood, vice president of the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Jesters Tour Tornado Area

Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Jester and their daughter, Lois Hodges of Lubbock, left Sunday April 22 for a week long trip through tornado stricken Vernon and several Oklahoma towns. Mr. Jester reports that they crossed the tornado line several times in the Vernon area and viewed much of the destruction. Torrential rains in parts of the country have left "water seeping out of the ground" and the creeks are full and some overflowing their banks. The trio spent two nights at Texhoma Lake in Oklahoma and visited many friends and relatives in Broken Bow, Oklahoma, McAlister and near Fort Smith, Arkansas. They returned home Sunday April 29, from a very enjoyable trip.

American Ag Movement Meeting Slated Monday

Cotton Center School will be the site Monday, May 7, of a district American Agriculture Movement meeting. AAM leaders say the 8 p.m. session "will be for the purpose of deciding if we farmers want to organize."

Jerome Freimel of Hereford is to be the speaker. He will give current information from Austin concerning organization.

All towns and farmers from various communities are encouraged to have representatives present at the Monday meeting.

"Does the American Agriculture Movement need to get organized? Do you feel that we would have stronger support if we did organize?" AAM leaders question.

They point out that "a state organizational meeting was held in Dallas last weekend. Everyone in our district needs to be present to review the by-laws and elect a delegate to represent us."

Refreshments are to be served and get-acquainted time will be allowed prior to Freimel's talk.

"Do try to come," leaders say, adding: "Whether you support the American Agriculture Movement ideas or not, we do need you there to represent your own thoughts about our future."

AFTER

I hated myself fat & every new year I promised to really get with it & lose; however it never happened. Finally my doctor advised me, tactfully, to stay out of his office until I decided to lose weight. He just couldn't help me. Out of desperation, not believing, I called for a courtesy treatment, at Pat Walker's. This was the turning point in my life, with a 51 pound loss & several inches; I began to enjoy my life with my friends & family, especially my 3 grandchildren. The Pat Walker program gave me a positive approach to every day living.

Thank you, Pat Walker
S. Nelson, National Director

The association is not a state agency and must rely on private contributions to carry on its work on behalf of the mentally ill and to promote mental health.

Man Cop' Seeks Public Acceptance

Particularly Interested In Youth explains.

GETTING ACQUAINTED Lee Settle is getting acquainted with Floydada, especially at night. She is on duty from 3 p.m. until midnight, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday. After being off Wednesday and Thursday, Patrolman Settle serves from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. Friday and from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. Saturday (and Sunday morning).

Her philosophy, she believes, is different from many rookie patrolmen — "Some people come out of the academy thinking they are 'hot dogs', issuing many citations. I'm different I want to give people a break."

The thing she most likes about her work is "dealing with the public. You get to meet so many different people...this is helping me mature. I don't understand why people are so afraid of an officer when they are stopped! When we take the uniform off, we are just people...we have feelings and cry like everybody else."

Settle's biggest boosters have been fellow officers. "They are very helpful. They know this is my first time out and they told me to call them at home or any time I have a problem."

ONE OF THE GUYS Lee Settle is treated like any other rookie patrolman by her peers. "They told me I was one of the guys and should quit blushing at dirty jokes."

Among other names she has acquired is "Pistol Packing Mama."

Lee's mother is one who has been slow to accept her daughter's role as a law officer. When showed her daughter's badge, Mrs. Settle teased "why, I bought you one just like that at the variety store when you were a girl."

Part of Lee (she signs citations and official papers as "Cynthia", but prefers "Lee") Settle's desire for a law career stems from the fact that some relatives have had problems with the law.

"I've been punched out because of some cousins who have been on the other side of the law," she explains. "The trouble is, I wouldn't know these cousins if I met them on the street."

What about the future? "I try to take one day at a time," emphasizes the "rookie cop" who is trying gamely to gain acceptance in the public's eye... with young and old alike!

Record World Cotton Crop Seen

A record world cotton crop of 64.4 million bales is in prospect for the 1979-80 cotton year, according to economists at Cotton Incorporated.

If growing conditions continue to be favorable as the year progresses, the crop should exceed the previous record crop of 64.3 million bales in 1974, they say.

Meanwhile, say the Cotton Incorporated analysts, world cotton use should reach a level of about 62.3 million bales in the upcoming cotton year that begins August 1, a 300,000-bale increase over this year's estimated use of 62 million bales.

Lawrence Shaw, CI associate director for supply economics, says nearly 14 million bales of cotton are likely to be produced in the United States this year.

"While changes in cotton prices and the prices of alternative crops have probably reduced the number of acres planted to cotton from the amount likely at the first of the year," Shaw says, "moisture conditions in the Southwest support the likelihood of better-than-average yields and lower-than-average abandonment."

As of late March, Shaw adds, it appears that 13.8 million acres will be planted to cotton in the United States this year, up 400,000 acres from last year. "All of the increase will be in the West and Southwest," he adds. "Due to the recent strength of soybean prices, producers in the Mid-South are now expected to reduce cotton from 1978 levels while cotton acreage in the Southeast will be little changed."

World cotton supply in the 1979-80 marketing year will also be boosted by a significant increase in foreign production, Shaw reports. "All signs point to a 1.5 million bale increase in the foreign crop in 1978-79," he says.

Looking at the picture for cotton consumption, Daniel Troxler, associate director for demand economics, says textile mill production is good at this time but the likelihood of a downturn in the general economy could dim textile business prospects for the last half of this year and early 1980.

"Even a mild recession restricts fiber use, including cotton, by mills," Troxler adds. "Consequently, domestic mill consumption of cotton in 1979-80 is likely to decline 300,000 bales, to 6 million bales.

"This decrease in cotton use may be tempered, however, since synthetic fiber producers recently increased prices and indicated that further increases were likely. The Iranian political situation has spurred oil prices and synthetic fiber manufacturing costs upward. In contrast to a year ago, when cheap prices were being used to encourage the substitution of synthetics for cotton, impending higher synthetic fiber prices could benefit cotton use in 1979-80."

Troxler said foreign cotton use in 1978-79 is estimated at a record level of 55.7 million bales, up 1.2 million bales from last year. Foreign cotton consumption in 1979-80 is expected to show a modest increase of about 500,000 bales.

"An economic slowdown in the United States would be felt in many parts of the world," Troxler notes. "However, most foreign industrialized nations appear to have the business momentum to withstand most of the effects of a milk recession in this country."

While projected increases in foreign cotton production could cut into demand overseas for U.S. cotton, Troxler says, another good year of U.S. cotton exports seems to be shaping up for 1979-80. As of now, he says, the potential for U.S. cotton exports in the upcoming cotton market year is seen around 6 million bales, the same as this year's strong estimated shipments.

The Cotton Incorporated economists say 1979-80 supply and demand forecasts make it appear very likely that cotton prices at harvest this year will be lower than current quotations.

In such a year, they say, it is especially important that cotton producers develop marketing plans along with their planting plans.

Energy Needs 'Challenge'

Meeting America's growing energy needs will be one of the nation's greatest challenges, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said.

Per capita energy use has risen 35 per cent in the U.S. over the past 10 years, he noted. By 1985, it is estimated the nation's annual energy requirements will be nearly double those of 1971, and by the year 2000 will have almost tripled.

"As competition for energy becomes more intense, we must maintain our sense of priorities," Brown commented. "Adequate energy, whether it be electricity, natural gas, diesel fuel or gasoline, must be available to those industries of greatest importance to the nation's well-being."

He added that the agriculture industry must be placed at the top of the energy priority list.

WINDBREAKS RELIEVE ENVIRONMENTAL STRESS ON SPRING PLANTED VEGETABLES

Young tomato and pepper plants usually wilt to some degree soon after being transplanted into the garden. Imagine the shock to a tender tomato plant that began life in a warm, humid greenhouse, when it is suddenly uprooted from a pleasant environment, planted in cold soil, buffeted by strong, dry West Texas wind all afternoon and "treated" to 12 hours of temperatures ranging from 40 to 50 degrees.

It is no wonder that its stem turns purple, its leaves droop and it gets that ragged look. This plant may take weeks to recover and begin to grow again.

Next to a spring frost, wind is the worst enemy of young vegetables especially tomatoes and peppers. Contrary to popular belief, the tomato plant cannot be hardened to cold or to wind desiccation. So, it makes sense to give it all the protection that you can until the weather calms down.

There are many ways to protect transplants and seedlings from the wind and cold. Hotcaps are reinforced waxed paper domes which are set over young plants or newly seeded crops like squash and melons and anchored down with soil around the edges. You must cut a little hole in the side of the hotcap away from the prevailing wind to keep the temperature from rising too high inside the hotcap.

A cage can be constructed from concrete reinforcing wire and wrapped in plastic film, then placed over the tomato plant to shelter it from wind, cold, and hail while letting in most of the sunlight.

Placing tin cans (with the top and bottom cut out) over the plants is not recommended because the sides of the can shade the plant. Only the upper leaves get enough light. The plant stretches toward the light coming through the top of the can. Soon, the leaves reach the rim and are whipped about by the wind.

Empty plastic bottles (the transparent kind used for milk and distilled water) make good plant covers. Be absolutely sure to cut the top off just above the handle to allow ventilation during the day.

Just breaking the force of the wind will be very helpful to the survival and early growth of newly set vegetable plants or seedlings that have just recently emerged. Shakes (the kind used on roofs) or shingles stuck upright in the soil about six inches to the southwest of a newly set plant will shelter it from the hot, dry afternoon wind. Rows of temporary windbreaks can be set up in small gardens using shakes, snow fence or scrap lumber.

The idea is to stop only about half of the wind volume and let half pass through the windbreak. Each successive rank of wind-break material will further slow down the wind speed until the air around your tender young vegetable plants will be relatively calm.

Crop Planting Intentions Reveal Production Plans

Strong interest in cotton, soybeans and sunflowers has been reflected in the latest survey of producer's planting intentions, the Texas Department of Agriculture has announced.

Wheat Harvest Placed At 150 Million Bushels

Texas wheat producers are expected to harvest some 150.3 million bushels this year, almost twice the small 1978 crop, but still below the 1977 level, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

Brown said the latest Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service surveys show increases in all wheat-growing areas, but that expected production would still be 10 per cent below that of 1977.

Many farmers cut back on their planting last year in response to low prices and in compliance with the government's set-aside program. The 1978 yield was 54 million bushels.

The prospects are good for the growth of wheat this year.

Tornado damage to crops in the Wichita Falls and Vernon areas has not been assessed as yet. There are around 200,000 acres of wheat planted in Wilbarger and Wichita counties each year, Brown said.

In an annual survey by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, the total planted acreage will increase in both upland and American Pima cotton, wheat, soybeans, peanuts and sunflowers.

In addition to sorghum and corn, acreage is expected to be less for rice, oats, barley, potatoes, and sweet potatoes, the survey indicated.

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown stressed that this is an initial survey taken to provide farmers with information that can help them shape their plans for the season. The acreage could change as weather, fuel costs and marketing conditions dictate.

If full intentions are realized, the Upland cotton crop could be the largest since 1955 with 7.6 million acres in the planting.

Soybean prices have improved in the past year, Brown said, and could be a major influence in the increased acreage which could make a 1.1-million-acre record for Texas.

"Reports from Brazil, a large producer of soybeans for the world market, show that their crop this year has been diminished by adverse weather. That should increase the demand for American soybeans," Brown added.

"In the past, farmers have experienced insect and harvesting problems in sunflower production, but management practices are improving the outlook for successful yields. The demand has risen nationwide for sunflower oil also," Brown said.

This year's sorghum crop could be the smallest since 1949 with 5.2 million acres expected. Corn acreage is estimated to be down to 1.5 million acres.

Wheat seedings are up 2 per cent from 1978, but are still less than the acreage for 1977.

With low sugar prices, sugarbeet acreage is expected to total 22,000 acres, a decrease of 21 per cent from 1978.

FILL 'ER UP — Texas Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown and State Rep. Dan Kubal recently demonstrated a gasohol demonstration project. The project, sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture, provided free gasohol for the legislature and to promote the agricultural industry.

We are "encouraged" that potentially damaging cotton research funds and Commodity Credit Corporation credits, proposed in the President's budget, will be approved by the House Agricultural Appropriations Subcommittee. This was how officials of Plains Cotton Growers Association, Lubbock, felt April 25 on their return from Washington, D.C. where they attended a two-day meeting of the Producer Steering Committee and joined that group in registering opposition to a cut of $3.42 million in agricultural research funds for 1980. Almost half that amount, $1.6 million would come from research on cotton and cottonseed.

"In view of the overall increase of 7.7 percent in the President's budget," points out PGC Executive Donald Brown, "we think it unfair that agriculture be singled out for a drastic research cut. Moreover," he adds, "it seems inequitable for almost half the total reduction to come from cotton money."

CCC credits, if the President has his way would be almost in half. "These are vital to cotton exports," Brown argues, "and are used for interest bearing loans with excellent record of repayment, so in the long run they are the government's nothing."

The High Plains area is particularly upset by the proposed research fund reduction because it is almost certain approval of the President's budget as it was sent to Congress would result in the loss of approximately $170 million in Federal funds for the 15-year-old PCG Boll Weevil Control Program. The program is conducted each year under a matching funds agreement with USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

"So a loss of $170,000 in Federal funds in effect would reduce moneys available for the weevil program by about $340,000," notes Ed Dean, PCG Field Service Director. "And such a loss would seriously endanger the effectiveness of a joint producer-government program that has kept the boll weevil off the High Plains and out of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona cotton since 1964."

Johnson, Dean, PCG President Lloyd Cline of Lubbock, and Board Chairman W. B. Criswell of Idalou, Texas, Washington met with Congressman Jack Hightower of St. Louis, Missouri, and Senator Charles Stenholm of Texas, who visited the offices of Texas Senators John Tower and Bentsen. All expressed support for restoring boll weevil research funds and CCC credit.

Hightower, a member of the Agricultural Appropriations Subcommittee, voiced confidence that the budgetary reflect his support when it comes from the Subcommittee. Each of the three Congressmen has counties in his district that are involved in and/or protected by the boll weevil program.

Pre-Registration Tuesday, Wednesday At Duncan Elementary School For 1979-80 Year

Pre-registration is scheduled next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at A.B. Duncan Elementary School, beginning at 1:30 p.m. each day.

Parents of children who fall into the three following categories are encouraged to pre-register their offspring:

- * Migrant children who will be four years old by September 1
- * Children who will be five years old by September 1.

- * Children who will be six years of age by September 1 and who are not presently attending kindergarten.

Parents are reminded to bring their child's birth certificate and immunization record, signed by their family doctor. Those who do not have a health record are encouraged to "come anyway and talk with our school nurse."

IMMUNIZATION DATA
State of Texas requirements for immunization of all public school students are as follows:

(1) Diphtheria/tetanus: Ages 5 through 11 years. At least three doses of DTP or TD of which at least one dose has been received since the fourth birthday.

(2) Oral polio: A minimum of three doses of which at least one dose has been received since the fourth birthday.

(3) Measles: One dose of measles vaccine on or before their first birthday.

(4) Rubella: One dose of vaccine.

(5) Mumps: Mumps vaccine will be required for students below the second grade, or those under eight years of age.

Principal B.L. Copeland of A.B. Duncan Elementary School says "if you do not have a birth certificate it will be necessary for you to get one; also, if your child has not had the required immunizations, it will be necessary for him to do so. The State Department of Education has stated that no kindergarten, first grade student will be allowed to enroll in the public school of Texas without a birth certificate. Your child's birth certificate and immunization records will be recorded in the office and returned to you.

"Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated by your school officials," Principal Copeland says.

★ THE RAY McDONALD children donate books to the Friends of the Library. The books will be sold March 26 (Old Settlers' Day) from 10 to 4 in Allen's TV Sales and Service.
