

Fourth Of July Celebration Set At Mackenzie Lake

The biggest, best and most exciting celebration ever is planned for Wednesday, the Fourth of July, at Mackenzie Lake.

Lake.

Beginning at 7:30 a.m. there will be a mini-marathon, 10,000 meters (6.2 miles) of it, to be held on the lake property.

Area coaches are urged to enter their track teams in the marathon. There will be ribbons and trophies in five different categories: 18 and under, 19-29, 30-39, 40-49, and 50 and older.

There will be first, second and third place ribbons in each category and a trophy to the overall winner in each category.

Runners may register until 7 a.m. the morning of the race, but, according to John McCommon, public affairs director, participants are urged to register as soon as possible. Call 633-4318 or at night, call 823-2394. Registration fee is $2.

The annual fireworks display will be bigger and better, as the Lions Clubs of Floydada, Lockney, Silverton and Tulia have donated money for the event. The fireworks will begin at dark, so come early, bring a picnic and get a ringside seat.

Hesperian Sets Early Deadlines For Thursday Paper

News and advertising deadlines for next Thursday's Hesperian will be 5 p.m. Monday, July 2. The early deadlines [one day earlier than usual] are necessary because The Hesperian goes to press on Tuesday this week only. The newspaper office will be closed Wednesday, the Fourth of July.

Local subscribers will receive their papers as usual, on Thursday. Cooperation with the early deadlines will be appreciated.

Fair Board To Remodel Restrooms

Eleven members of the board of directors of Floyd and Surrounding Counties Fair Association met Monday night in Lockney.

President Ricky Kellison conducted the business meeting in the vocational agricultural building on the LHS campus.

The group decided to thoroughly revamp the old restrooms at the fairgrounds instead of building new ones.

Work on the catalogs continued as assignments were made to each director to check on workers in each department of the fair.

Phone Co. Requests Rate Increase

Southwestern Bell today asked the Public Utility Commission for $145.2

million in new Texas rates. However, in documents supporting the request, the company emphasized that its actual revenue need is $242.9 million.

The $145.2 million request is in line with President Carter's anti-inflation guidelines, which are endorsed by Southwestern Bell, said Doyle E. Rogers, the company's vice president for Texas.

"The need is clear for $242.9 million in new rates," Rogers said. "All the facts support an increase of that amount."

"However," he pointed out, "we are committed to meet the president's guidelines on price increases. Consequently, we're asking the Commission to approve only $145.2 million."

The $145.2 million would provide an overall increase of 6.09 percent in Southwestern Bell's Texas intrastate revenues.

"Percentage increases for individual services will vary," Rogers said. "The 6.09 increase applies only to the overall revenue increase for the state, and not to specific services."

Included in the $145.2 million request are proposed increases for basic local service, key telephones, PBX equipment, Centrex, miscellaneous equipment, and charges for connecting, changing and moving telephones.

One party residential rates would increase $1.55 per month in each exchange served by the company. The $1.55 increase would apply to both flat rate residence service, and measured one-party residential service, where offered.

Rate increases for two party residential customers would range from $1.30 per month in the smallest exchanges to $1.80 per month in the largest.

One party business rates would increase $4.65 per month throughout the state, under the company's proposal.

Rogers said no rate increases are being sought for in-state long distance calls, WATS, coin telephone calls, private line service, or Directory Assistance calls.

"Continuing growth and inflation leave us no choice but to ask for increased rates," Rogers said.

"In the past three years, we've spent almost $3 billion in construction expenses to keep up with increasing demand for customer service across Texas. This year, we expect to spend another $1.2 billion on construction," Rogers said. "We have no choice but to spend those dollars. Meeting growth is part of our obligation as a public utility," he said.

"Meanwhile, inflation continues at a rapid rate. We've trimmed expenses, we've generated additional revenues through sales efforts, and improved technology has helped blunt the effects of increased costs. Yet, our earnings in Texas still fall well below our need," Rogers emphasized.

In 1978, the Public Utility Commission authorized a return of 9.488 percent on the company's investment in Texas.

Currently, Southwestern Bell is earning 8.35 percent, Rogers said. "With present rates, we cannot hope to reach the 9.488 earnings level, and we certainly cannot achieve the level we need."

Rogers pointed out that approval of $145.2 million in new rates would allow the company to earn only 9.91 percent, still far below the 10.97 percent return actually needed in Texas.

Fireworks Illegal In City Limits

A REMINDER for Fourth-Of-July fireworks fans: It's against the law to set 'em off inside the city limits of Floydada. A city ordinance prohibits the setting off of any kind of fireworks inside the city limits. Those who really want to see some fireworks should go to Mackenzie Lake Wednesday night...

Rabies Threat!

Cases of rabies in animals are on the increase in Texas. As of mid-June, 1979, there have been over 540 confirmed cases of rabies in animals. This is about 85% above the number found rabid in the same period in 1978, and is far above the expected number.

The Texas Department of Health strongly suggests that the owners of cats and dogs in this area vaccinate them against rabies, prevent them from roaming, and report stray animals to city or county authorities.

The Eternal Foundation Of America

by Calvin Coolidge
In this speech (July 4, 1776) was the Governor of Massachusetts.

It takes men of larger vision and higher inspiration, with a power to impart a larger vision and a higher inspiration to the people, to make history. It is not a negative, but a positive achievement. It is unconcerned with idolatry or despotism or treason or rebellion or betrayal, but bows in reverence before Moses or Hampden or Washington or Lincoln or the Light that shone on Calvary.

July 4, 1776, was a day of history in its high and true significance. Not because the underlying principles set out in the Declaration of Independence were new; they are older than the Christian religion, or Greek philosophy, nor was it because history is made by proclamation or declaration; history is made only by action. But it was an historic day because the representatives of three millions of people there vocalized Concord and Lexington and Bunker Hill, which gave notice to the world that they were acting, and proposed to act, and to found an independent nation, on the theory that "all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

The wonder and glory of the American people is not the ringing declaration of that day, but the action, then already begun, and in the process of being carried out in spite of every obstacle that war could interpose, making the theory of freedom and equality a reality. We revere that day because it marks the beginnings of independence, the beginnings of a constitution that was finally to give universal freedom and equality to all American citizens, the beginnings of a government that was to recognize beyond all others the power and worth and dignity of man. There began the first of governments to acknowledge that it was founded on the sovereignty of the people. There the world first beheld the revelation of modern democracy.

Democracy is not a tearing-down; it is a building-up. It is not a denial of the divine right of kings; it supplements that claim with the assertion of the divine right of all men. It does not destroy; it fulfills. It is the consummation of all theories of government, to the spirit of which all the nations of the earth must yield. It is the great constructive force of the ages. It is the alpha and omega of man's relation to man, the beginning and the end. There is and can be no more doubt of the triumph of gravitation in the physical world; the only question is how and when. Its foundation lays hold upon eternity.

These thoughts are overpowering.

Nuptial Vows Unite Cathy Archer, Gary Hill June 30

Miss Cathy Jean Archer became the bride of Gary D. Hill in a double ring service Saturday, June 30, in First United Methodist Church of Lockney at 10 a.m.

Bobby Hise, Church of Christ minister from Albuquerque, NM, read the wedding ceremony. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. W.G. "Red" Archer of Lockney, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Odum of Floydada.

On each side of the nuptial area was a spiral, brass candelabra holding blue tapers. Greenery and ribbon decorated each candelabra. Centering the area was a white memory candle made by the bride's mother, who had hand-lettered on the candle in blue ink the couple's names, their wedding date and "God Is Love". Surrounding the candle were blue silk daisies. All of the flowers used in the wedding were made by the bride and her mother.

Hurricane lamps and blue silk daisies marked the mothers' pews and other pews were marked with clusters of the same flowers tied with white ribbon.

Wedding guests were registered by Linda Jones. Ushers were Wilmer Archer, the bride's brother, Mark Northcutt of Lubbock and Lloyd Vanderveer of Fort Worth.

Ralph Scheele presented organ preludes prior to the ceremony. The musical program included "You Light Up My Life," sung by Frances McCready; "We've Only Just Begun" by Johnny Arjona; "There Is Love" duet by Mrs. Peggy Bain of Plainview and Oseas Alaniz; "If" by Janie Carter, and "You Needed Me" by Christine Huffman. Virginia Mangum gave a reading.

Candles were lighted by the bride's cousins, Cindy Adams and Lanita Mulanax of Ackerly. The flower girls were Aimee Green and the groom's cousin Christi Rushing of Plainview. Max Green was ring bearer.

Honor attendants were the bride's sister, Janie Archer, and Mike Reeves of Floydada.

Bridesmaids were Virginia Mangum, Penny Taylor, Penny Hight, Tammy Adams, cousin of the bride, and Peggy Reves. The maid of honor wore a blue and white checked dress styled on princess lines with a deep ruffle on the skirt hem. The bodice had bell sleeves edged with white eyelet. The bridesmaids dresses were of the same material but had bodices with necklines edged in white eyelet and short sleeves. The A-line skirts had a deep ruffle at the hemline.

Each attendant carried a nosegay of pale blue silk daisies with blue ribbon streamers.

The groomsmen were Wilmer Archer, Mark Northcutt, Steve Savage of Plainview, Lloyd Vanderveer and Kent Stansell.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her special day a white organza gown over taffeta. Venice lace enhanced the bodice and trimmed the full, sheer sleeves. The scooped neckline was raised in back and was edged in delicate lace. The flowing A-line skirt curved into a sweeping chapel train.

Her veil of illusion, held by a comb, was cathedral-length, and was completed edged in lace.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of pale blue silk daisies and white baby's breath with streamers of white ribbon tied in love knots.

"Something old" was a heart-shaped locket which had belonged to the bride's maternal great grandmother, the late Eula Moffett of Plainview; "something new" was her wedding gown; "something borrowed" were shoes belonging to the bride's cousin, Tammy Adams; and "something blue" was the traditional garter which was made by the bride. In her shoes were pennies made in the birth years of the couple.

"Rainbow girls" stood in the aisle with each holding a half-arch covered with white silk daisies and ribbons to match her dress color. Four arches were formed by the half-arches meeting as they were held over the heads of the bride and groom as they left the church. The "rainbow girls" were Rhonda McCulloch, in a lime green dress; Bonnie Moffett, the bride's cousin from Haysville, Kansas, in yellow; Kim McAda in orange and Patti Christy in pink. Their dresses were gingham and styled like those of the bridesmaids.

Reception

The fellowship hall of the church was scene of the reception. The bride's table was laid with an off-white cloth with a blue net overlay. Blue bows caught the net at intervals on the edge of the table. Centering the table was a white seven-branch candleholder with blue votive cups. Blue silk daisies surrounded the candles. The traditional three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a bride and groom figurine. Serving dishes belonged to the bride's maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Virgil Adams of Plainview.

Serving cake and punch were Rhonda McKay of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, and Brenda Williams. In the houseparty were Mmes. Wayne Bramlet, Tommy Montandon, Phil Green, Johnny Adams and Jim Huggins.

MRS. GARY HILL

Rice bags were distributed by the bride's cousin, Justin Adams.

Rehearsal Dinner

The rehearsal dinner was held in fellowship hall of Main Street Church of Christ. Host was the groom's father, Everett Hill of Slaton. After a short wedding trip, Gary and Cathy Hill will reside in Slaton.

The bride was a spring graduate of Lockney High School. Until her marriage, she was employed in the business office of Central Plains Regional Hospital in Plainview.

The groom was a 1978 graduate of Floydada High School. He is a welder.

GENERATIONS....Jason Scott Noyes, who is one year old May 12, is the first grandson of C.L. Jarrett [back right] and the great grandson of C.L. Jarrett [back left]. Hall Noyes of Dumas, a former teacher at Floydada schools, is Jason's mother, and J. Hall of Canyon is grandmother.

More Old Settlers List

Myria's name was inadvertently omitted from the list which was published in an earlier edition of the Hesperian.

August 18 is the wedding date chosen by Plainview residents Miss Cindy Diane Parsley and Mr. Grady Louis Simmons. Vows will be exchanged in the First United Methodist Church of Hale Center. The bride-elect is the daughter of Kenneth G. Parsley of Plainview and the late J. Ann Parsley. Her fiancé is the son of Mary Simmons of Amarillo, formerly of Lockney. Miss Parsley is a graduate of Plainview High School and is a teller at Hale County State Bank. Simmons is a graduate of Lockney High School and is a butcher at Home Town Market in Plainview.

Bridal Shower Honors Kathy Chappell

Kathy Chappell was the bride-elect at a bridal shower given at the home of Sandy Lutrick. Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Lutrick, the honoree, and her mother.

Mrs. Ozell Chappell. Special guests were the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Burl Huckabee and her sister, Mrs. Steve Lloyd, both of Floydada.

Guests were served refreshments by Mrs. Joann Cagle and Janice Lloyd. An assortment of fruit breads, melon balls, other fresh fruits, coffee and hot tea were served.

Assisting Mrs. Lutrick with hostess duties were Mesdames Joann Cagle, Janice Lloyd, Ernestine Gilly, Barbara Willis, Wilma Colston, Pauline McCormick, Johnie Reed, Mary Lewis, Louise Fawver, Charlene Langley, and Ethel Graham. Hostess gift was a stainless steel mixer and the table centerpiece which was an arrangement of blue silk flowers in an antique container.

UIL Explains Stand On Summer Activities

To camp. Or not to camp. This question, involving the University Interscholastic League's sanction on specialized summer football, basketball and volleyball camps, is suddenly a hot item of discussion among high school athletic officials and enthusiasts.

The rule states that students attending specialized camp will lose one year's eligibility in the sport or sports in which he or she attended the camp. Despite a setback in court last August and Legislative attempts to circumvent the rule — not to mention probability of further litigation — Texas school administrators voted 670-259 last April to retain the ban on camps.

"The basic question is this: Does the member school have a vested interest in the activities of students during summer months?" said Bill Farney, UIL athletic director. "The answer is 'yes.'"

"The UIL is one of the few remaining amateur organizations in the nation," Farney said. "In order to retain this amateur status, some rules must be enforced throughout the year. For example, the League has restrictions on gaining college instruction in all activities: Music, literary and academic, as well as athletic.

"There are varying degrees of restriction from event to event, and these degrees of restrictions arise from the pressure on students inflicted by members of the community, coaches and other peer groups."

This explains in part why camp participation is allowed in tennis and golf, band and one-act play, but not football or basketball. Community pressure has not come to the point where golfers and thespians are pressured to attend summer camps. In basketball and football, this is not the case. Prior to the rule, students were "indirectly coerced" to attend camps, whether they wished to or not.

League officials contend that already, junior high students (who are not bound by camp prohibitions) are pressured into camps against their will, being told by coaches and others, "You cannot play on the high school team unless you attend a camp this summer."

Farney said, "It is the feelings of the school people that there are a lot more who would be forced into going to camps than there are those who want to go but cannot. In other states, we find this happening."

In addition, sports such as golf and tennis are individual sports, considered lifetime avocations. Football, basketball and volleyball are team oriented sports and, except for a small fraction, most do not participate regularly past the high school level.

Furthermore, golf and tennis as well as baseball are traditional summer sports. Football and basketball are not.

The rules do not prohibit students from attending these camps but state that a student who attended a specialized camp cannot represent the school on the varsity squad. He may play for the junior varsity. The rules do not prohibit summer workouts. An athlete may practice the entire summer, so long as the practices are not organized. Most high schools open gymnasiums in order to allow students workout time of their own.

Rules governing out-of-season participation are not unique to the UIL. The NCAA and other sports organizations, including the professionals, have rules governing organized practices outside the regular season.

"These rules are not adopted by irascible school administrators for no good reason," Farney said.

"These people are not given to capricious or arbitrary behavior and the actions they take are given grave consideration. One thing to keep in mind is that every rule in the League Constitution was placed there in order to relieve some abuse of educational competition.

"The League program is structured so that each program is in coordination and perspective with the others," he said. "While some states may allow some activities Texas does not, we here allow quite a bit they may not."

For example, Minnesota allows its schools to play only 19 basketball games per year, in contrast to Texas schools, which can play as many as 35-40.

"We allow more games than most states," Farney said. "We allow schools to conduct a year-long off-season program whereas many states do not allow the one-hour practice period during the school day."

"This is a master plan by the school people to keep our program educational by not allowing one program to infringe upon another school program, and not allowing any of these programs to infringe upon the educational process," Farney said.

Farney said contentions that the camp ban has hurt basketball in Texas are absurd.

"In the first place, just because other states have camps does not mean they don't have problems with them," he said. "We attend national meetings and one of the major concerns is summer camps."

"As for the idea that no camps has hurt Texas, consider that there are no football camps and football in Texas doesn't seem to be suffering. In addition to that, we have the same rule for girls and the overwhelming majority of girls playing for Texas colleges last year were from Texas, playing the five player game despite the fact they've played the six-player game up to this year. And three Texas collegiate teams were ranked in the top ten nationally."

The question is one of interest. Better athletes in Texas traditionally went the football route, not only in high school but in college. Today, more interest is building in basketball and the sport is stronger today than ever and will continue to grow.

Consider the adverse effects of camps: Minority students or those from poorer school districts are at a disadvantage because they cannot afford the high costs of camps. Outstanding players from poor districts could face disqualification in violation of amateur rules if it is found he allowed a coach or other person to pay his way to a camp.

The camps, more often than not, are showcases for college recruiters. The basic activities are fundamentals and playing time. In some cases, the players are taught different fundamentals than the high school coach would teach and problems can arise when the coach attempts to correct or change what the player was taught.

The exceptional athlete will win the college scholarship. The rules affect not only the outstanding few but also the 96-97 percent who'll never participate in college football, basketball or volleyball.

ball. These rules are necessary in order to protect that 97 percent, to make certain they can go out on their own during the summer months rather than being pressured by coaches and other parties to attend an expensive camp.

CAUSES OF POOR EGG PRODUCTION — A drop in egg production in small flocks is most often due to reduced daylight, health problems, old age, improper nutrition and poor management. A poultry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, suggests the use of artificial light and providing plenty of fresh water and a high-protein (17 percent), well-fortified, properly balanced ration for laying hens.

WHOZITS . . .

Floydada Whozit Stumps Guessers

Nobody guessed the last Floydada Whozit's identity. It was Elaine Anderson Galoway.

FLOYDADA WHOZIT — Anybody recognize this four-year-old cutie pie from a picture taken — well, several years ago?

Weldon And Frances Graves Are Whozits

Despite a picture that was not very clear, several persons have been able to identify Weldon and Frances Graves as last week's Lockney Whozits.

Mrs. Elmo (Lily) Savage says that she identified Weldon from the way he was standing in the picture. Annie Smith of Kress dropped by the Beacon office Tuesday afternoon to tell us that her husband Junior Smith believed the couple to be Weldon and Frances Graves.

One little girl is dark, one little girl is fair, but they are more than just "kin". Their outfits are made of blue velveteen trimmed with white fur. The picture was made right after Christmas in 1941. Call the Beacon office at 652-3318 to make a guess about these little girls' names.

Baptist Young Women met Monday in the kitchen of First Baptist Church in Lockney.

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

4-H NEWS

Three Lockney 4-H members from Floyd County will model their own fashions in this year's District 2 4-H Fashion Revue Friday, July 6, at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Members from 4-H Clubs in 20 South Plains counties will compete for honors and the right to represent the district in state competition.

The theme for this year's event is "Fashion Fever," County Extension Agent Sharon Hillis said. The contest and revue will be held in the Home Economics Building at Tech.

Representing Floyd County will be Jill Whitfill-Sr., Libby Williams-Jr. II, and Lisa Terrell-Jr. I.

Already these entrants have won in county competition. Contestants are judged on their sewing and construction skills, overall appearance, modeling abilities, and their 4-H record books.

Contestants in the district competition will register at the Tech Home Economics Building at 2 p.m. Judging will begin at 2:30 p.m. At 5:30 p.m., participants and their parents will be guests of Flains Co-op Oil Mill at a dinner in the University Center ballroom.

The contestants will model their fashions in a revue at 7 p.m. in the home economics auditorium. The revue is open to the public.

In addition to naming the top seniors who will compete in the State 4-H Fashion Revue this September in Waco, awards also will go to the contestants making the best all-cotton outfit and the best all-wool/mohair garment, and those having the best record books.

Two junior level contests will be staged at the same time as senior competition. Agent Hillis said. These younger 4-H members, ages 9-11 and 12-14, will not compete beyond the district level.

Awards to the participants will be presented by the Plains Co-op Oil Mill.

Another two inch rain Sunday night and an inch and 3/4 Saturday night put enough water in the lakes that they have overflowed across the highway. The high winds Saturday night did much damage in the community. The Cedar Hill gin blew away, some buildings on the Bramlet place were destroyed and several television antennas were twisted. There was quite a bit of wheat that had not been harvested. Some parts of Cedar Hill had as much as five inches of rain during Saturday and Sunday.

The churches both dismissed their services Sunday morning. The electricity was out about seventeen hours although the REA was busy fixing breaks.

Edna Gilly and her granddaughters went to Plainview Sunday and later to Floydada where they visited Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Gilly.

Janice Lackey and children Kelly and Troy of Burleson spent from Wednesday until Friday with Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Lackey. They were on their way to Glorieta to attend the Baptist encampment as representatives from their church. They will return the latter part of the week and visit the Lackeys before returning to their home in Burleson.

Kimberly Ann Lackey and Kelly Kyle Mixon were united in marriage in a family wedding in the First United Methodist Church in Floydada last Saturday June 16 at 7 p.m. with Reverend Isaac Butterworth, Vernon, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Lackey of Cedar Hill are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Kieth Mixon of Levelland are parents of the groom. The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a candlelight gown of ivory sheer tulle and Venise lace. The V-neckline was outlined with the Venise lace. The bodice was sprinkled with lace medallions, and the high rise waistline was overlaid with lace. The A-line skirt, which fell into a chapel length train, was accented with a flounce ruffle, headed by a lace band. Linda Turner, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor and Carla Burleson served as bridesmaid. The groom was attired in a candlelight tuxedo which was trimmed in brown at the lapels. Keith Mixon served as best man and Teddy Basye of Levelland served as groomsmen. Guests were seated by Kelly Wade and Marty Toombs. Penny Bertrand, organist accompanied

Ann Ford, soloist as she sang "There Is Love" and "It Seems I've Always Loved You." Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall. Beverly Burleson served coffee and finger foods from copper and brass appointments at the groom's table. The couple will reside in Hereford after a wedding trip to Colorado. The groom's parents were hosts Friday evening for the rehearsal dinner at King's restaurant in Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F.

Lemons had supper Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lemons near Lockney.

Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Bourland of Arlington visited Mattie Davis in Plainview last Friday. They were enroute to visit Mrs. Bourland's mother in Clovis, who is a patient in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. VanHoose spent Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. VanHoose in Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Tucker visited Evelyn and Frances Tucker, Viola Hoole and Mrs. Robison in Lubbock Saturday.

Bruce Conner came from Lubbock Monday but due to the rains he returned home.

Claude Keeter, 87, of Lockney died Tuesday morning and funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Lockney with DeWitt Seago of the Lockney First United Methodist Church. Burial was in the Lockney Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home. Survivors include four sons: Clinton Keeter of Sun City, California; Olan Keeter of Plainview; Bob Keeter of Tulsa; Joe Keeter of Amarillo; and five daughters, Mrs. Alda Miller of Corona, California, Mrs. Lois Johnston of Salinas, California; Mrs. Mildred Reagan of Hollis, Oklahoma; and Mrs. Joy Assister of Floydada; a sister Mrs. Lois Martin of Lockney and nine half sisters, 27 grandchildren, 28 great-grandchildren and a great-great-grandchild. Dale Taylor, a son-in-law, and Grace Keeter, a daughter-in-law, lived in Cedar Hill until they both married. Several from Cedar Hill attended the funeral.

Frank Taylor of Hollis, Oklahoma, and Alfred Seay of Clovis, New Mexico, and also Mary Doris of Clovis visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortenberry Thursday.

Mrs. Marvin Lemons, David, Jessica, Diana and Kim Carthel of Lockney had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lemons Sunday evening.

Commission Registering Artists

The Texas Commission on the Arts is now accepting registration cards to be included in the Texas Artists' Registry, according to Allan Longacre, Commission executive director.

Primary purpose of the new program is to enable persons and organizations seeking professional artists to locate them. The Commission will file registrations by artistic discipline and geographical area and will make all registrations available to persons requesting them.

"The Commission will not screen registrations for qualifications, but will accept all registrations received," said Longacre. "It will be up to the user of the registry to determine the ability or suitability of the individual artist."

Longacre also stressed that the registry should not be considered as an offer of employment for artists. "We want to know what artists are available and where to find them," he said.

To register, an artist should provide the following information on a plain white 3x5-inch card:

- Artistic Discipline/Skill in upper right-hand corner
Name
Address (home and business)
City, State, Zip Code
Telephone Number (home and business)

The individual may also provide any other information which can be given within the area of the card. Such additional information might include a brief educational or employment background; shows, productions, and exhibits; awards or other credits; and references.

Registrations will be accepted in all areas of arts activity such as musicians (instrument), visual artists (media), filmmakers, photographers, dancers, choreographers, writers, actors, directors, and designers (specify field).

Registrations should be sent to the Texas Commission on the Arts, P.O. Box 13406, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. For information, call (512) 475-6593.

SUMMER ROSE CARE — Roses need a little special care this spring and summer to help insure attractive and abundant blooms this fall, contends a landscape/horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Remove spent flowers regularly. Apply a complete fertilizer every four to six weeks until mid-August. Water plants thoroughly to a depth of 8 to 10 inches each week during hot, dry weather. And control blackspot and mildew with regular fungicide sprays (every 10 days to 2 weeks).

proof that some unlineal hand, some barbarism, without or within, shall not wrench the sceptre of democracy from our grasp? The rule of princes, the privilege of birth, has come down through the ages; the rule of the people has not yet marked a century and a half. There is no absolute proof, no positive guaranty, but there is hope and high expectation, and the path is not uncharted.

Men of every clime have lavished much admiration upon the first part of the Declaration of Independence, and rightly so, for it marked the entry of new forces and new ideals into human affairs. Its admirers have sometimes failed in their attempts to live by it, but none have successfully disputed its truth. It is the realization of the true glory and worth of man, which, when once admitted, wrought vast changes that have marked all history since its day. All this relates to natural rights fascinating to dwell upon, but not sufficient to live by. The signers knew that well; more important still, the people whom they represented still, so they did not stop there. After asserting that man was to stand out in the universe with a new and supreme importance, and that governments were instituted to insure life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, they did not shrink from the logical conclusion of this doctrine. They knew that the duty reciprocal, the citizen and the State called on its citizens for their property and their lives; they laid down the proposition that government was to protect the citizen in his life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness.

At some expense? Yes. At cost of life? Yes. While they required all, they gave all. Let us read their conclusion in their own words, and mark its simplicity and majesty: "And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor." There is no cringing reservation here, no alternative, and no delay. Here is the voice of the plain men of Middlesex, promising Yorktown, promising Appomattox.

power and resource of the State, and a government that does any less is false to the teachings of that great document, of the name American. Beyond this, the principle that it is the obligation of the people to rise and overthrow government which fails in these respects. But above all, the call to duty, the pledge of fortune and of life, nobility of character through nobility of action: this is Americanism. "Woe for us if we forget, we that hold by these."

Research Tracks Fertilizer Needs Of Area Soils

LUBBOCK — New soil testing techniques developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station here are helping High Plains farmers know how to fertilize their fields to produce the most profitable yields.

Fertilizer needs change from year to year as certain nutrients are depleted and certain nutrients are built up. "It is necessary to try to understand and account for these changes for the next year's crop," said Dr. Arthur B. Onken, professor of soil fertility with TAES.

Years of research, including more than 200 off-station tests involving every county on the Texas High Plains, have helped develop new tests for nitrogen which now are routine. Similar research is focusing on phosphorus, after nitrogen the next most limiting nutrient to plant growth.

Use of fertilizer materials has wide acceptance on the High Plains, particularly under irrigated conditions, Onken noted. Fertilizer use in this area has increased from 55,000 tons in 1955 to more than 666,000 tons today.

Returns on each dollar invested in fertilizers are high, ranging from $2 to $10, depending upon the soil, crop and yield obtained.

"The use of fertilizer materials is an economic investment and must be considered in the light that too much applied is an unwarranted production cost, whereas too little applied results in lost returns due to less than optimum yields," Onken said.

The soil fertility and soil chemistry research program conducted by TAES at Lubbock is directed toward the most efficient use of fertilizer materials for optimum production and quality.

The research is designed and conducted to develop soil fertility programs that fit within the various cultural practices used by producers. These practices are dictated by soil type, availability of irrigation water and climatic factors, Onken noted.

The research is conducted not only at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center but in fields throughout the High Plains. More than 200 tests have been conducted at off-station locations on major soil types in cooperation with producers and county extension agricultural agents.

It has resulted in the development of a soil test to determine build-up and depletion patterns of nitrogen in soils of the area. Nitrogen most often is the first limiting nutrient in plant growth. This test has been adopted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Soil Testing Laboratory at Lubbock and is used routinely on all soil samples.

This test has significantly improved recommendations for use of nitrogen fertilizers, the TAES researcher said. Current research has developed a procedure which increases the ability to predict responses by crops to phosphorus, most often the second limiting nutrient to plant growth.

"Slight modifications of this same procedure are being used to study the solubility — and thus the plant availability — of native soil phosphorus and the reaction products of applied fertilizer materials," Onken said.

"While this research has just begun, we have established some solubility and rate of release guidelines based on known crop response. We feel that this research approach is going to greatly increase our knowledge of the behavior of phosphorus in High Plains soils. We need this information to make most efficient use of that which is native to the soil and that which we apply as fertilizers."

Plants obtain nutrients required for growth from several sources. These include the supply native to the soil, previous fertilizer applications and fertilizer applied in the current crop year.

"From a production standpoint it is more desirable to be able to determine, prior to planting, the nutrient status of the soil and make a reasonable estimate of the amounts of nutrients to be applied to produce a projected yield," Onken said.

Soil testing is the best tool available to meet these needs, he said. Soil test correlations must be based on research data from carefully controlled plots. Natural soil variations must be taken into account and the materials must be applied to the test plots with a relatively high degree of accuracy to assure a reasonable degree of certainty of the amount of fertilizer applied.

"In this way, then, the guesswork can be taken out and the responses from different types of soils for different crops and different climatic conditions can be taken into account," Onken explained.

Soil test results and correlations are generally used in conjunction with anticipated yield potential to make fertilizer use suggestions, he said.

The soil scientist noted that ferti-

Herbicide Application Seminar Planned

PLAINVIEW — Presentations on proper herbicide use and calibration of recirculating and broadcast sprayers, demonstrations by 17 equipment manufacturers, and examination of test plot results will highlight the agenda as farmers and dealers from southwest Oklahoma and the Texas High Plains gather in Plainview for a herbicide application seminar Monday, July 9.

The afternoon session, sponsored by Monsanto, is being held at the Hale County Agricultural Center in Plainview, and will get underway at 12:30 p.m.

Two Monsanto weed control specialists — Dr. Domingo Riego of Oklahoma, and John Mason of Texas — will be joined by Texas A&M weed experts in making presentations to the gathering. Discussions will focus on test plot results, new application concepts, guidelines for calibrating circulating and broadcast sprayers, and proper use of Roundup herbicide. Roundup is the first chemical to be cleared by the Environmental Protection Administration specifically for use through the recirculation machinery.

Local farmers wishing further information can call the Monsanto District Office in Dallas at (817) 461-2223.

COTTON INCORPORATED

Even though cotton has made a strong comeback in the fabric marketplace in the past few years, sales of all synthetic fibers combined continue to surpass sales of cotton.

One key factor in the past growth of synthetics is the aggressive promotion by synthetic manufacturers of their product. Dupont alone is reported as spending three times as much for advertising as does cotton, and 10 times as much for research as cotton.

Does this mean that cotton will be forced into a smaller and smaller role in the world apparel market?

Not necessarily. Continued support by cotton growers of Cotton Incorporated, which conducts research and promotion on behalf of producers, has been instrumental in helping cotton overcome the overwhelming odds in favor of synthetics in the marketplace.

"In 1960, cotton enjoyed a two-thirds share of the U.S. fiber market," said Hal Brockmann, vice president for textile research and development for Cotton Incorporated. "In just 13 years, by 1973, we were down to only a 29% share of the market. We consider 1973-74 the leveling-out year."

"The success of synthetics was due to their very aggressive marketing program... was that there was no... side. There was no... behalf of cotton... years."

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS

Official figures just released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service (TCLRS) show 1978 cotton production in the 25 High Plains counties represented by Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, at 2,049,100 bales of pounds net weight.

The 1978 crop year yield was 1,166,200 bales per acre, an all-time record of 3,215,400 produced in 1977.

Planted acreage according to TCLRS was 4,043,100 acres in 1977. But after drought and other adverse weather conditions only 3,584,300 acres were harvested in 1978. The per harvested acre came to 274.4 pounds in 1978, compared to 424.1 pounds in 1977 and an average of 378.5 pounds per acre for the 10-year period 1968 through 1977. The highest average per-acre yield ever achieved on the High Plains was the 513.2 pounds recorded in 1965.

Lubbock County with 228,000 bales, led the production. Second, third and fourth places were taken by Gaines (172,000), Floyd (164,900), and Hale (154,000). The top four producing counties in 1978, respectively, were Lubbock, Gaines, Hockley and Terry.

Per-acre yield leaders in 1978 were Parmer (414.9), Terry (398), Hale (388) and Lubbock (359). The chart shows planted and harvested acres, yields per harvested acre and total production in 480 pound net weight bales each of the 25 PCG counties.

NFU Dismayed At Rule 9 Revocation

Washington, D.C. — National Farmers Union President Tony Dechant today expressed dismay at President Carter's decision to revoke Special Rule Number 9, which permitted agricultural producers to receive needed supplies of diesel for planting and harvesting this year's crop.

"Many agricultural producers are still in a critical energy need situation," Dechant said. "There are several significant production regions which need diesel fuel to power irrigation pumps during the summer. At the same time, harvest season is upon us and we will need diesel to get the crops out and to market points. It will have been in vain to have provided farmers with the necessary diesel to plant their crops if they don't have the ability to harvest and transport those crops to market."

"We are, however, mindful of the fact that many perishable agricultural products are rotting in the fields for lack of transportation services. Additionally, there is a need to move industry equipment and supplies if we are to avoid a serious economic disruption," Dechant acknowledged.

The Administration now needs to give immediate attention to establishing procedures that will put into priority position the fuel needs generated by the production and harvest cycle in the immediate weeks and months ahead.
