It's Rodeo Time In Floydada

The usually-quiet 12th Street rodeo grounds will explode with sound and fury Thursday night as cowboys and cowgirls from all over the high Plains begin competition in the 22nd annual Floydada Rodeo.

For three successive evenings, spectators in the dirt-packed arean will cheer their favorite riders, ropers, racers and calf-scramblers, each vying for their share of the prizes.

Among the featured events will be bare back, saddle bronc and bull riding, individual and team roping, a kids' calf scramble and girls' barrel race.

A live western band will entertain for dancing and listening on the slab after each performance.

The action will begin at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Admission for adults is $3 and $2 for children.

At the Saturday performance, an Alvin Durham saddle, its value conservatively estimated at $750, will be given away to some lucky raffle ticket holder. The saddle has been on display in the First National Bank of Floydada.

One of four young women from the city will be named Rodeo Queen. The one who sells the most chances for the saddle will win first prize, a silver trophy buckle and a $100 gift certificate. The three runners-up will each receive gift certificates for lesser amounts. The hopefuls are Sally Bagwell, Lisa Bice, Shele Morris and Carrie Woody.

In the main arena the dust should be quite a while in settling, as several of the bulls entered for riding were in the national finals last year, according to Joe Cluck, coordinator for the rodeo.

The yearly event is sponsored by the Floydada Rodeo Association and produced by the C-T Rodeo Co., of Lubbock.

Number 59

The rodeo is expected to just about break even financially this year. The Rodeo Association has been holding fundraisers, publishing advertisements, selling chances on the saddle and taking private donations to fund the event, Cluck said. The dance proceeds will also go to help pay the cost of putting on the rodeo.

The books for contestants in the different events closed Wednesday at 6 p.m. No information on the number of contestants or their identities was available at press time.

Comptroller's Rep Due Here Aug. 9

AUSTIN - State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced he is sending a representative from his Lubbock office to Floydada on Thursday, August 9, 1979, to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer, Gene Cannon will meet with local taxpayers at the Floyd County Courthouse from 10:00 A.M. to 12:00 noon. 'If Floydada-area merchants, or anyone else for that matter, have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Cannon will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office and we believe these face-toface sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

Bullock reminded those taxpayers who are unable to meet with his representative on August 9, 1979 that they can still get their questions answered quickly by calling his TOLL-FREE tax information number in Austin. That number is 1-800-252-5555. 4-

Dr. Jerry Rice Named County Sales ACCO Cotton Breeder Reach $15 Million

Dr. Jerry R. Rice has been named Cotton Breeder for the Paymaster division of ACCO Seed Co., Plainview, developing cotton varieties for the High and Rolling Plains of Texas while Mr. Lee Leonard will continue to operate the recently established cotton research station in Temple.

Reminder

The Floydada High School Class of '69 will hold its 10-year reunion Saturday, July 28, at the Massie Activity Center, 513 W. Georgia. The gathering will begin at 2 p.m. and last until midnight. A pot luck supper will be served at 6 p.m. Visitors are welcome.

Aug. 1 will be the last day for reserve seat holders to renew their seats for the 1979 Whirlwind football season.

Those who are on the reserve list will be assigned those seats remaining at that time.

If anyone desires to sign up for the reserve list, they should telephone the school office at 983-5167.

'HOLD IT - IVE GOT TO CARRY THIS LOAD !'

Some very grim statistics crossed our editorial desk a few days ago from the Texas Department of Public Safety. It appears that Texans are continuing to slaughter and maim one another in record numbers on our highways.

For the first five months of this year, traffic deaths jumped eight percent over the same period of 1978. By the end of May, 1,553 persons died and another 75,575 were injured in traffic accidents, about half of them on city streets.

Cities the size of Floydada have one small consolation. There was no change in the rate at which we spread our fellow humans on the pavement.

But how do you console the mother of a lifeless child lying tangled in his crumpled bicycle, or the parents of the teenage couple who didn't make it home by midnight or a man's family when a state trooper tells them that Daddy was killed by a drunken driver?

Cities like Lockney, however, chalked up an 18 percent increase in fatal accidents. That put them second in total deaths only to cities of more than 250,000 population.

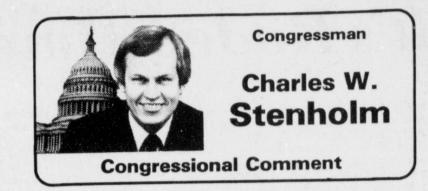

Now, that's what we call progress, don't you agree?

To borrow a phrase from Smokey the Bear, only you can prevent traffic deaths.

For all our sakes, people, be careful. You have friends and family who want your good company for many years to come

"Didn't happen to give any thought to moving the truck, eh, Hooper?

Washington, D.C. - For most of this century agriculture has been a depressed or subsidized sector of our economy. This situation has not occurred because of obsolescence, or poor management, or low productivity as has happened in other ailing industries. The reason that agriculture has been experiencing difficulties is because the farmer has been encouraged to produce to the point where he more than satisfies the needs of the market. The problem we have beeen facing most of this century is not shortages - but surpluses. And with surpluses have come less expensive food and low farm income.

We are continually faced with the dual problem of providing for the world's nutritional needs and at the same time insuring an adequate return to our producers. One of the most successful programs that addresses both of these goals is the farm loan system and more recently the grain reserve. This program is administered by the Commodity Credit Corporation. Farmers can store their produce in government warehouses and receive a loan payment. If the market prices go above the loan rate, then the farmer can withdraw his crop in an orderly fashion and sell it in the marketplace. If the market price is below the loan rate for a sufficient period of time, then the loan expires and the produce becomes property of the government. This policy, when administered properly, as is the case recently, can provide a goood return to producers and insure an adequate supply to the consumer at a fair price. The cost to the taxpayer is relatively low. Over the 40 year history of the loan program, for every dollar paid out by the government, 90 cents has been recovered from the market. Currently the 1980 wheat program is being developed. The secretary of Agriculture is considering a program which will call for all-out production. I have written the Secretary outlining my proposals on this issue. I fee strongly that we should not provide for a zero set aside without adequate compensation to the farmer. Experience has taught us that too great a level of output will depress prices below the cost of production. I can still recall the effects of the 1974-5 program which encouraged the farmer to produce fencerow-tofencerow, and from which we are just now recovering. I fear that just as the American grain farmer is beginning to enjoy relative prosperity, we will produce a record domestic crop which could wreck our market if foreign output increases. In response to this situation, I am calling for minimum loan prices on wheat of $2.43 per bushel, which will result in a trigger price of about $4.80 and a $6.00 call price. Also the target price should be set near the $4.20 bushel mark, which will allow all Americans to share the risk if we once again over-produce. Farmers have suffered greatly from the high cost and unavailability of diesel and I feel these price levels are justified if we are to ask our farmers for all out production. Some voices will be raised to say that the prices I have outlined are excessive. But we must remember that in order for

Floyd Philosopher Fears Latest Proposals To Solve The Energy

Problem May Fall Short

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes another look at the energy problem this week. Dear editor:

One trouble with this country's attack on the energy problem is we don't go far enough.

For example, two years ago, recognizing the problem, Washington created the Department of Energy with a budget of 11 billion dollars a year and a staff of 20,000.

Now, two years and 22 billion dollars later, finding the energy problem is even worse, bills higher, gas lines longer and people bogged down in regulations, Washington is proposing another department to oversee the Department of Energy

Its purpose as I understand it is to expedite things, cut red tape and get straight to the job of solving the energy groblem.

But even that falls short of the mark. For instance, anybody knows that to cut

Applications Being Accepted

Applications are now being taken by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce for the annual Maid of Cotton selection, according to Howard Yandell, chairman of the Lubbock Chamber.

Maid of Cotton applications should be filled out and returned to the Chamber no later than 5 p.m., Sept. 26. The winner will be named Oct. 27.

Any interested young woman between the ages of 19 and 23, who has never been married, was born in a cotton-producing area and stands five feet, five inches tall or more may contact the Lubbock Chamber for an application.

HSA Receives Designation

The Lubbock-based South Plains Health Systems, Inc. recently became a fully designated health systems agency for the South Plains area.

Under full designation, SPHS will continue to develop and implement plans for the delivery of needed health services; review proposals for expenditures and development of services of area hospitals, nursing homes, and other health care providers. In the future, SPHS will approve or disapprove applications for federal funding for certain local health projects. Within the next three years, SPHS must conduct reviews of existing institutional health service providers. Thereafter, this review must be done every five years. The health systems agency may, also award federal dollars to local organizations seeking to improve health care and implementation objectives outlined in the Agency's Annual Implementation Plan. These funds would come from a regional health services development fund when such a fund becomes available through an act of Congress.

South Plains HSA Schedules

The project Review Advisory Group of the 15-county South Plains Health Systems. Inc. has scheduled a meeting Aug. 2 to hear arguments for and against three applications pending before the Group.

The Visiting Nurse Service of Lubbock applied to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare for a $315,000 grant to be used as start-up funds to begin delivery of home health services in rural counties of the area and to provide care for people who do no qualify for third party reimbursement. Bond Rate Increase Approved

The Treasury Department has announced the approval of an increase in the interest rate paid by the United States government on Series E and H savings bonds. Bonds issued on or after June 1 will receive six and one-half percent $(6-1/2^{1/2})$ if held to maturity, which will remain at 5 years for E bonds and 10 years for H bonds. The current interest rate is six percent (61/2).

The annual interest rate on outstanding E and H bonds and U.S. savings bonds (Freedom Shares) for the remaining period to their next maturity will be effective for bonds and notes which begin a semi-annual interest period on or after June 1.

The Interest Rate Increase will benefit American families which hold about $81 billion in outstanding savings bonds and notes. No action on their part is necessary to take advantage of the higher rate. The rate on the recently announced Series EE and HH bonds, which will go on sale in January, 1980, will also be increased to six and one-half percent (6-1/21/2).

Azie Taylor Morton, director of the U.S. Savings Bonds Division, and treasurer of the United States, said that the 6-1/21/2 Interest Rate, coupled with the tax advantages available to Savings Bond Owners, represents a fair return and makes the bonds more attractive as a long-term investment.

Friends of the Floyd County Library sponsored a studio and gallery tour of Chamber's Studios Sunday July 22. Guests were guided through the studio area, which has been decorated in such a way that combines the atmosphere of country living in the past with modern uptown living in the present.

Janis Lloyd, representative of the Friends of the Library organization, greeted guests at the door and presided over a drawing held in the afternoon. Alta Smith won an 8 x 10 environmental color portraiture.

Photography as a art form dominated the gallery showing. The interaction of shape, form and color was prevalent in many pieces of work. On display were examples of Chamber's portraiture, candid, photo journalistic, commercial, nature and abstract work.

Everyone attending was impressed with the artistic renovation of the home and with the photography work which was displayed.

Special Appreciation

Friends of the Library organization express their appreciation to Tom and Cynthia Chambers for the proceeds, which will benefit the library construction fund.

On Sunday July 29, Georgia Mae Smith Ericson will sponsor a tour of the gallery. Proceeds will benefit the Stanlev Ericson fund. Everyone is invited to attend. Tickets are $1, may be purchased at the door, and entitle the ticket holder to have a chance at winning a free portrait.

Monday and Tuesday, the rural roads are drying up considerably. However, the flooding six inches which hit parts of our area left roads in a bad state, with washed out places as big as cars, and ruts so deep vehicles cannot get through them without difficulty. Some of the roads had just undergone construction work, but the floods took out culverts and left deep gullies, and also washed out much of the new dirt which had been put on the roads. Several families are gone from our community this week after their fields became too wet to work. Congratulations to the Floyd County History Book Committee, who have been working long hours on the final phase of the Floyd County Historical Book entitled "Memories." The book will be out about Christmas. Those from here who have been working at the Museum in Floydada are Mrs. Nancy Marble, Mrs. Norma Welch, Mrs. June Ware and Mrs. Neta Marble. Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham arrived home from a three week trip with her sister, Mrs. Edith Magnusson, of

Amarillo, to Giddings. They went to visit their brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cypert. Another brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Cypert of Columbus, Georgia, joined them at the Warren Cyperts, Warren had back surgery before they all arrived, and he is doing fine at this time. On July 4th, Ruby and Edith drove to Wichita, Kansas, where they visited Edith's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Wade and daughters until Friday. They drove on to Brookings, South Dakota, to visit another sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Larsen from Friday to Wednesday. They started back home and drove to Valley, Nebraska, to spend the night with their niece, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Foremost and boys. They went back to Wichita, Kansas and spent more time with the Wade family. It was hot, humid and everywhere there had been plenty of rain. Glen Whitfill, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols in Sweetwater, suffered a second heart attack Friday at his home, and was taken back to the Sweetwater Hospital and is in the intensive care unit. He will go to Lubbock as soon as he is able to make the trip to see a specialist. We hope that he gets better soon.

Rev. Jeff Messer is due home this coming Wednesday from a trip which took him to Indonesia, Hawaii, and other places. His wife Donna and son have been staying with her mother, Mrs. Jean McClure, in Plainview, and with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure.

Weldon McClure

Gets In Shape For

Greenbelt Game

Weldon McClure is at home after having undergone surgery July 11 in Highland Hospital in Lubbock. Weldon hopes this was the last of many hospital trips all over Texas and that he will be back into shape by August 11 to see the Greenbelt football game at Childress.

Just for the record, Weldon's grandson, Greg Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Jones, will be participating in that game.
