Firefighters Answer Four Calls

Volunteer firefighters responded to four calls during the past week. The first call came in on Tuesday morning for a residential blaze at a home, 514 E. Price, at 10:30 a.m. The house was almost destroyed by the time the units arrived, but the firemen were able to save the rest of the structure. The residence did suffer heavy smoke damage.

Rodriguez was at home when the fire broke out but managed to escape unharmed. No cause has been determined for the fire.

Three units went to put out a grass fire three miles north of Floydada Saturday.

Firemen also responded to a call at a local residence but determined that the owner had accidentally set off her smoke detector while lighting a hot water heater.

Three units and six men rushed out to the city dump late Tuesday afternoon to douse burning rubbish that threatened to ignite neighboring grassland. High winds that began that morning fanned the smoldering pit, creating a dangerous situation.

Special Court To Honor Scouts

A special court of honor recognizing all Eagle Scouts who earned their award from 1978 to September 14, 1979, will be held Sunday, Oct. 14, 3 p.m. at St. John Methodist Church in Lubbock, according to J.W. Anderson, advancement chairman for the South Plains Council.

There have been 8,700 Eagles since scouting started in the United States in 1910. Only one boy in 200 earns the coveted rank, Anderson added.

Bobby Moody, president of the local council, will preside and will be assisted by Bob Bouse, scout executive.

The steps to Eagle include approximately three years advancement from Scout to Tenderfoot, Second class, First class, Star and Life. He must show exceptional leadership skills and do a community project of a major significance. He must have completed 24 merit badges and pass six different progress reviews with his scout and community leaders.

Prominent Eagles include former president Gerald Ford, cartoonist Milt Canif, astronaut Neil Armstrong, Federal district judge Halbert Woodward and Lubbock mayor pro-tem Alan Henry.

Eagle scouts from Floydada who will be honored are Jesse Cedillo, Felix Soliz, Oscar Barrera, Sammy Rodriguez, Mike Salazar and Tony Soliz.

Water District Lowers Tax One Half Cent

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District Board of Directors voted in special session last month to decrease the district's ad valorem tax rate from 5.0 cents to 4.5 cents on each $100 valuation.

The board also adopted a resolution that the district will participate in each of its 15 counties' newly created appraisal districts. These appraisal districts are being created in each county, in accordance with Senate Bill 621, to handle all the appraisal work for all the taxing units in the county, with the exception of the county unit.

Floyd County recently exercised its option to participate in the appraisal districts. The purpose of the districts is to uniformly handle the appraising of property for ad valorem tax purposes for each taxing unit in the county.

The water district will save 14 separate appraisal fees on a per parcel basis to privately contracted appraisers.

The water board is also dealing with House Bill 1060, providing for value-in-water allowances for groundwater depleted in the courses of agricultural operations, when that agricultural land is appraised for tax purposes on its productivity rather than on its market value.

The water board anticipated that the water district will be requested to provide support data to landowners and assessors for use in calculating the value of ground water. Part of the necessary data for providing the initial information, which includes current saturated thickness maps and the annual decline in water levels, is currently being compiled as a part of the district's established Federal cost-in-water income tax depletion allowance program.

Farabee Supports Family Farm Act

State Senator Ray Farabee this week endorsed the Texas Farm and Ranch Security Act Program which will appear as Amendment 3 on the November 6th ballot.

The passage of this constitutional amendment will authorize a State loan program that will make it possible for Texans to purchase farm and ranch land by providing lenders a State guarantee on loans they make to qualified persons.

"This amendment will help Texas' young people who want to enter the farming and ranching business by enabling them to buy the land they need. With present down payment rates of 29 percent on farm and ranch loans, most people simply can not come up with this kind of money. The existence of a similar program in Minnesota has drastically reduced the down payment rate and, in most cases, loans made under the program require no down payment," Farabee said.

There are built-in protections in the law which should serve the public's interest and prevent abuse of the program. These include strict requirements for eligibility for the program and for how the land purchased may be used. Also, the State is not actually loaning the money, but merely guaranteeing loans made by authorized lenders. In the event of a default, the State will take title of the land and resell it to recover the amount it pays the lender.

"This program will keep Texas farm and ranch land in the hands of Texans and will help insure the survival of the family farm. The citizens of Floyd County can have an important say in the future of agriculture in Texas by voting 'yes' on Amendment 3 on November 6th," Farabee concluded.

Lamesa Man Wins Football Forecast

Claude Estes, of Lamesa, picked up an easy $10 this week in the Hesperian Football Forecast contest. Estes turned in a (so far) record four-miss entry.

Sarah Sanders and Cody Paty, both of Floydada, each missed seven games to tie for second place. Since both also guessed 28 points for Floydada over Olton in the tie-breaker, the Hesperian will award separate second-place prizes to each.

Carmen Soliz took the third prize, also with seven misses but giving Floydada 45 points over Olton.

Correct games in last week's contest were: Littlefield, Baylor, Friona, University of Houston, Dallas, Tulla, Texas, Washington, Amarillo, Valley, San Diego, Tulane, Nebraska, Petersburg, Oakland, Kress, Houston (Oilers), Crosbyton, Perryton, Kansas City, Arkansas and Texas-Arlington. Post and Colorado City tied their game.

Forest Service Now Accepting Applications For Windbreaks

Applications are now being accepted for windbreak seedlings from the Texas Forest Service.

These seedlings, grown from seed collected in West Texas and eastern New Mexico, are produced in the state's greenhouse in Lubbock and in the field nursery near Halfway.

Conifer species available this season include Austrian pine, ponderosa pine and Arizona cypress. These containerized seedlings cost $1 each and are sold in multiples of 30 seedlings only.

A limited supply of hardwood species also are available. Species include honeylocust and sawtooth oak. These bare root seedlings are priced at $20 per hundred.

Seedling ordered now will be ready for pickup and planting in March 1980.

These trees are not available for re-sale, nor may they be used for landscaping or ornamental purposes.

For applications and information on windbreaks, contact the Texas Forest Service, Route 3, Box 216, Lubbock, TX 79401, (806) 746-5801. Applications also are available from county offices of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Soil Conservation Service and extension agents.

Crop Prediction Still Holding

Earlier predictions are still holding that the 1979 Texas cotton crop will be the largest in three decades, according to state agriculture commissioner Reagan Brown.

"Chances for the bumper crop are still good, despite recent severe hailstorms on the High Plains which some farmers termed the worst they'd ever seen," Brown said late last month.

Recent reports issued by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service estimated the Texas Upland cotton production for the year at 5.6 million bales, 48 percent above the 1978 crop and two percent above the 1977 crop.

If realized, the 1979 production will be the largest crop since the 1949 crop of 6,04,000 bales.

Predictions for the bumper crop appeared to be in jeopardy in August because of a period of frequent and severe hailstorms which hit the High Plains area during Aug. 19 through Aug. 25, commissioner Brown noted. "But except for this period, cotton benefitted from a very favorable August with the days generally clear and warm and timely rains providing needed moisture in most areas."

"Of course, the cotton crop on the High Plains still has a long way to go, and if this cooler than normal early fall weather here we've been having turns into an early cold snap, we may find the total Texas production for the year diminished greatly," he said.

Who Decides Farm Futures?

By John Carroll Hesperian Editor

Urban voters this November could decide the future of farming in the state of Texas.

There is an item on the Nov. 6 ballot, the Family Farm and Ranch Security Act, that its supporters say would guarantee the continuance of family farms in the state by guaranteeing loans to buy farmland. But in what is expected to be a light voter turnout the metropolitan areas, with their traditional involvement in the electoral process, could be the key to whether new farmers get that chance to buy land.

The new Republicanism in the cities managed to put the first Republican governor in Texas in more than 100 years last election when predominantly Democratic rural areas failed to vote in large numbers.

While the Family Farm Act is non-partisan, what happened in 1978 could happen again - especially with the new movement toward fiscal conservatism.

An urban voter, in Houston or Dallas for example, would have no reason to vote in favor of a bond issue that he (or she) might believe could cost a tax increase. And since there's a great likelihood that the urban voter would have more items of personal interest in a local election on the ballot, thus enticing him to the voting booth, he would probably have more opportunity to vote against an act that would have no immediate benefit to his area.

If enough Houstonians, Dallasites and San Antonians do that, the issue will be decided by those to whom it is of little consequence.

The average age of Texas farmers is 59 years and increasing every year. The Act reportedly would guarantee loans so individual farmers could buy land rather than have giant corporations purchase more, leaving the actual work to be done by tenant farmers.

The Act, supporters say, would provide an incentive to get young people back on the farms, instead of developing a feudal system.

We don't know whether that's true or not. But we do know that if rural voters don't go to the polls and decide for themselves, the question will be decided by someone else.

If you don't vote on Proposition 3 Nov. 6, don't gripe on Nov. 7.

Floyd Philosopher Thinks He Has Hit On A Way To Lower The Cost Of Government

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on White River comes up with an odd idea this week.

Dear editor: Outside the cost of getting sick, the most expensive item in everybody's budget these days is government. It's even higher than oil, gold, car repairs, potato chips, beer and cigarettes.

Everybody agrees something ought to be done about the high cost of government but nobody seems to know what. The problem needs analyzing. First, one trouble is the people who appropriate the money don't have to collect it. No need to go any further. I think I've put my finger on the trouble right there. It's obvious. What Congressman wouldn't think twice before voting to spend some money if he knew he had to get out and collect it? Although expecting some Congressmen to think twice is of course a flight of the imagination.

Like it is, Congress spends money as though it was... explain the... building for... million dollars... when they're... There's no... work. This thing... This will... Instead of... man from... Congressmen... Or the Senat... State Legislat... ty Commission... I don't know... lower the cost... sure would raise... overs in public...

Sorghum Producers Oppose Eligibility Designations

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is considering a new regulation which a local farmers group believes would have a negative effect on participation in farm programs.

In a recent statement, the Grain Sorghum Producers Association opposed a rule that would require farmers to be approved by the Soil Conservation Service before the farmers would become eligible to participate in government programs like the feed grain set-aside and the price support program.

"To attach such requirements, with the complications and red tape inherent in such a plan, to the price support programs would destroy the producer's interest in participation," the statement said. "Production control programs are essential to maintaining a balance of supply and demand, so it is important to have as many farmers as possible in the program for it to work effectively."

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congress is currently involved in a debate on the proposed 1980 budget. The very essence of this process is the setting of goals and priorities. We must allocate our scarce resources among an infinite number of competing demands. In recent years we have been unable to face up to our limitations and restraint has not been forthcoming.

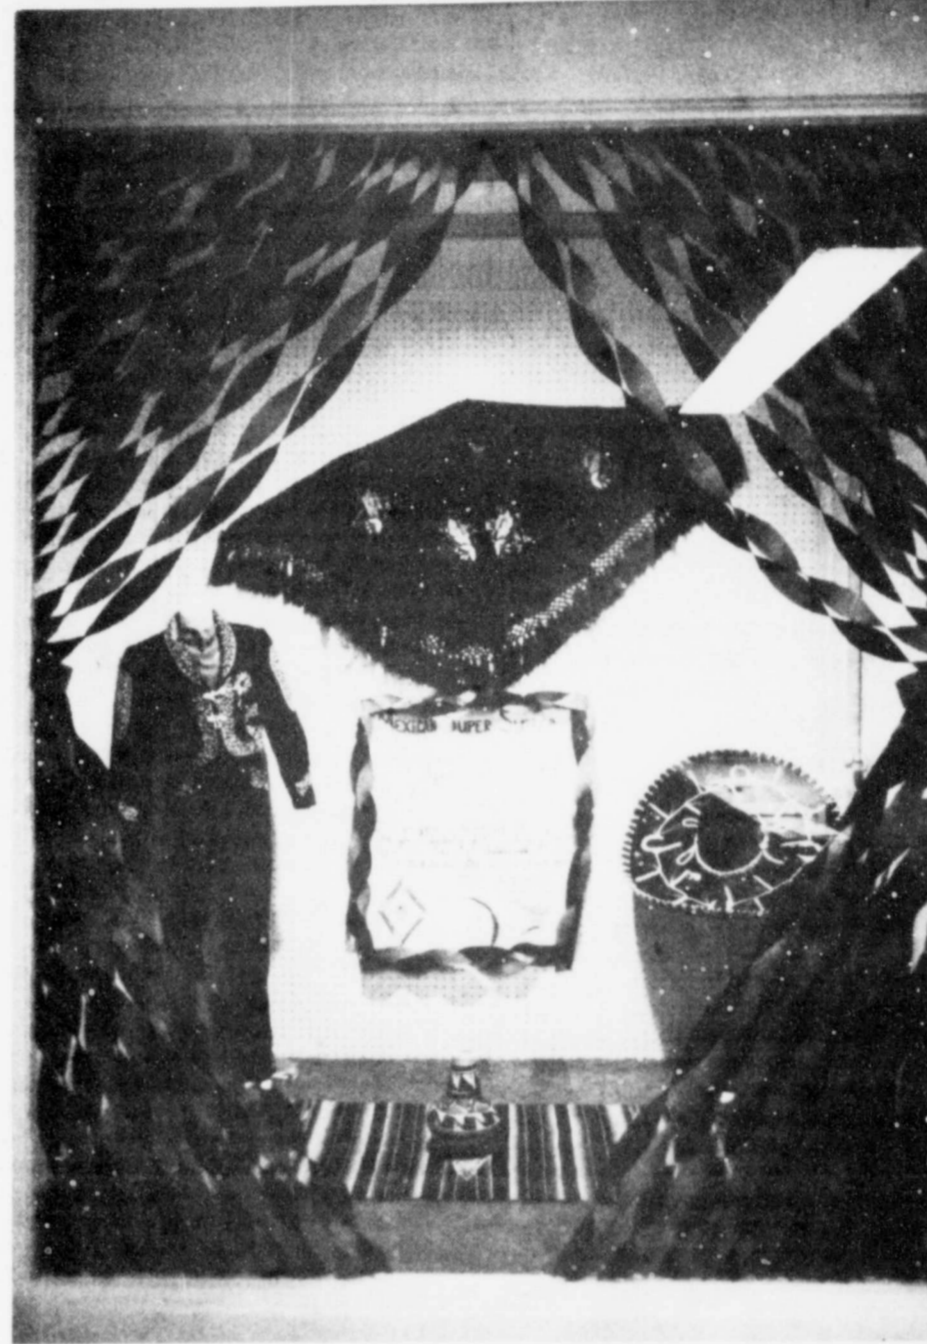

The Second Budget Resolution calls for expenditures of $548.2 billion and revenues of $519.5 billion making a deficit of $28.7 billion. This figure represents a continuation of the trend towards more federal growth. Government expenditures have outpaced the growth of the Nation's Gross National Product over the last quarter century. Since 1950 the annual growth in GNP has averaged 7.2 percent while total federal expenditures have grown at a 9 percent rate.

The chief reason for this rapid growth rate has been transfer programs and grants-in-aid to state and local governments. Transfer payments only accounted for 15 percent of the budget in 1955 — now they are more than 40 percent. Almost half of all Americans are dependent on some sort of federal payment. Twenty-five years ago grants-in-aid accounted for 4 percent of the budget — now they make up 16 percent of total expenditures. More and more revenues have been transferred to unproductive segments of the public sector. Less resources are available for private investment and this has limited the level of output and employment.

The budget reflects the majority of Americans' preference for short term benefits instead of long term stability. As transfer payments have increased the investment in America's assets have decreased. In the mid-1950's military expenditures accounted for 56 percent of total federal outlays — today the figure is near 22 percent. In real terms our defense spending has shown no real growth for the past 10 years. Thus our military strength has declined relative to the rapidly growing defense forces of the Soviet Union. The Soviet Union has overcome our once superior advantage in strategic nuclear arms and has achieved superiority in almost every category of conventional military strength. Our Nation has not responded to this threat and thus the world is becoming an increasingly more dangerous place to live. The President has made a commitment to our NATO allies that the 1980 defense budget will increase by 3 percent in real terms. The proposed budget does not meet that commitment. I do intend to support a substitute budget that will meet the President's commitment to NATO and make possible a balanced budget by fiscal 1981.

Our federal spending priorities are becoming more and more myopic in their scope. Large deficits, more spending, and the lack of investment in America's fixed assets have, in a large part, been responsible for our declining position in the world. If we are going to reassert our position in the international arena, then we must reevaluate our shortsighted priorities and start planning for our future.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Hispanic groups and leaders, both in Texas and in Mexico, held center stage briefly last week in several arenas, testing clout that is predicted by many to wield more political influence in the coming decade. A low-key announcement from Mexico's nationally-owned oil industry PEMEX that it may pay for oil damages on Texas beaches was a bright note.

PEMEX's new public relations manager, Reynaldo Zentella, said the company, if pushed, will pay damages resulting from the Ixtoc I oil well blowout in the Bay of Campeche.

Zentella cautioned "we'll do our best not to pay when we're not supposed to... They'll have to prove it was oil from Ixtoc I" that damaged the beaches.

The company is still trying to cap the blowout, but an attempt to put a giant $3 million "sombbrero" designed by Brown and Root of Houston over the hole in the gulf floor was disrupted by choppy seas.

Texas Protocol Chief A native of Floresville was sworn in Thursday as chief of protocol. Abelardo L. Valdez was named to that position and to the title of ambassador by President Jimmy Carter.

Earlier last week Valdez addressed the Federal Bar Association convention at San Antonio and said Texas is a key port of entry for imports from Mexico and the rest of Latin America.

Sixty-four percent of all U.S. trade with Mexico (some $6 billion) and one-fourth of U.S.-Latin American trade ($8 billion) passes through Texas, he said.

He also pointed out that 82 percent of U.S. direct foreign investment in the developing world is in Latin America, our third largest trading partner.

Meanwhile, Ruben Bonilla of Corpus Christi, national president of the League of Latin American Citizens, announced a commission has been established to coordinate discussions between the Mexican government and Hispanic groups in the U.S.

Speaking in San Antonio, Bonilla said the commission was suggested by Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo. Bonilla said the Mexican government would insist upon tying discussions of U.S. purchases of Mexican petroleum with a discussion of human rights for hispanics and Mexican aliens in the U.S.

Clements Taunted On the same day Bonilla made his announcements in San Antonio, Mexican-Americans demonstrating in El Paso pushed, taunted and spat upon Gov. Bill Clements as he tried to shake hands with them.

Clements had been attending a reception hosted by LULAC and had pledged a new era in Texas' good-neighbor policy with Mexico. He did not know why the protesters had gathered outside the reception and had been warned not to try to soothe them.

When the governor plunged into the crowd to shake hands, he was pushed back and taunted with flags and placards.

Justice Raps Clements Texas Supreme Court Justice Joe Greenhill took a milder approach, but all the same criticized Clements and the Legislature for "making it difficult for judges to do their jobs."

Greenhill told the Judicial Section Conference meeting at Abilene that the judiciary needs to present a unified front in the future to secure higher salaries and funds to ease over-loaded dockets.

He rapped the Governor's Office for failing to supply the funds necessary to ease caseloads in urban areas.

Spier Resigns Department of Public Safety Director Col. Wilson Spier, who resigns at the end of 1979, has recommended his top assistant to fill his shoes.

Spier tapped Lt. Col. Leo Gossett, a 30-year DPS veteran. His replacement will be appointed by the DPS commission sometime in November or December.

Tax Opinion Sought The governor has asked Attorney General Mark White for a legal opinion on the constitutionality of the assessment method for the state property tax.

The 10-cent tax is dedicated to construction at 17 state colleges but will go out of existence at the end of the year. In his opinion request Clements suggested the tax is unconstitutional because it is based on property values as assessed by counties.

Commentary: Sen. Lloyd Bentsen Are Economic Reports 'E'

IN THE OLD TESTAMENT the Book of Judges tells the story of Jephthah, "a mighty warrior" and leader of the Gileadites.

When his people were attacked by the followers of E'phraim, Jephthah was victorious on the field of battle and as the E'phraimites fled he placed his men at strategic spots along the River Jordan.

The password was "shibboleth," chosen because the people of E'phraim could not pronounce the "sh" sound.

Anyone trying to cross the river claiming to be a Gileadite who responded to the challenge by saying "shibboleth" was found out and put to death.

The word shibboleth has survived to this day, meaning a peculiarity or pet phrase of a sect or group.

One of the shibboleths of economics, for example, is that slow growth is required in any effort to combat inflation. When the economy is booming along, expanding rapidly and creating jobs, according to this shibboleth, rising prices are an unavoidable consequence.

The only way to fight this, goes the common wisdom, is to rein in the economy, slow it down. It's too bad if people are thrown out of work. There's no other choice.

THE 1979 MIDYEAR REPORT of the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, supplemented by a staff study analyzing economic trends for the 1980s, punched this economic shibboleth full of holes.

Projections in the staff study show, in fact, that slow economic growth will not mean price stability in America. Indeed, the slower the growth, the more rapid the rise in prices.

Using an econometric model, the study made three different projections for the U.S. economy during the coming decade: an optimistic projection, a baseline projection.

Under the pessimistic, or least hopeful, projection, our economy will grow at a puny annual rate of only 1.5 percent during the last half of the decade while inflation rockets along at 9.5 to 10 percent.

The baseline projection sees growth

Time For Fire Prevention

October 8-14 is National Fire Prevention Week, but this observance should not be necessary. Common sense dictates that fire prevention should be a year-round custom.

Unfortunately, common sense about fire hazards appears none too common, so one week is set aside each year as a reminder.

Fire Prevention Week originated because of a fire that shouldn't have happened. On October 9, 1871, carelessness sparked a fire in a modest midwest home. It didn't seem threatening or uncontrollable, but by the next day, more than 2,100 acres of Chicago were burned, claiming more than 200 lives and direct losses in excess of $168 million.

On the same day, the worst forest fire in U.S. history broke in Peshtigo, Wis., claiming 1,152 lives and burning more than 1.28 million acres.

As a reminder, Fire Prevention Week is observed annually on the anniversary of the Chicago and Peshtigo tragedies. In 1922, it became a national observance by presidential proclamation. The proclamation stated: "Fires are not deplorable accidents, but the consequences of neglect and carelessness."

Caprock Trappers Association held its second annual election. Election of new officers is as follows: President, Dean Shaw of Dickens; Vice President, Larry Burke of Afton; Sec-Treas, Clifton Shaw of Dickens; Public Relations, Preston Mynatt of Roaring Springs; General Organizer, Buck Danil of Lorenzo; National Trappers Association Representative, R.E. Hatcliff of Sundown, with 2 alternates - Larry Pate of Idalou and Dean Waldrip of Sudan; Board of Directors - Chapter 1, Dean Waldrip of Sudan; Chapter 2, Jimmy Rios of Lorenzo; Chapter 3, A.J. Leasure of Abilene; Chapter 4, Larry Kaul of Miami and Director at Large, Ray Bumpus of Dumont.

The trap shoot, big bore rifle shoot and pistol shoot was a big success. The turnout was terrific for all events. Larry Pate had a trap setting demonstration and a snare setting demonstration. Larry Kaul of Miami Fur Co. was there with lots of equipment and supplies.

We would like to thank all the merchants and different organizations that donated door prizes. Mike Hancock at McAdoo Coop; Benny Ball at White's Auto in Spur; Charlie Waters at Frmer's Exchange in Lubbock, THE TRAPPER magazine at Sutton, Nevada; Sam Shumaker at Ralls; Larry Kaul of Miami Fur Company in Miami; National Trapper's Association, Michigan; Central Ill. Fur Takes Chapter 17, Wilmington, Ill; Larry Pate of Pate Lure Co. in Idalou and Kieth Gregerson of Gregerson Snare Co. in Roundup, Montana. We would like to thank these merchants personally for helping us in our fight against the anti-trap movement and against the Senator from Mass., who is trying to deprive us of our right to keep and bear arms. Without people like these our fight would be next to impossible.

CRTA's next scheduled event will be an all day turkey shoot, Sat. Nov. 17 at the Dickens Rifle Range. There is a small CHANGE in the dates of our fur sale and auction in Roaring Springs, Texas. The first sale will be Saturday, January 5, the second sale will be Saturday, Feb. 2, the third sale will be Saturday March 1, and there may possibly be one in April.

Also thanks to Stanley Hash of Dickens for handling the photography for the event which will turn up in one of the national trappers papers. Thanks too to the Dickens Rifle and Pistol Club for the use of their facilities during our event. We also thank game warden Larry Rider of Jayton for being there and going over the latest laws with us.

We especially thank this paper for giving us space to keep our members and those interested, informed about this event and other events we've had. Watch this paper for time and details of upcoming events.

Study Club Has Musical Evening

Two lovely and delightful ladies, Mary Glen Degge and Lucy Dean Record, favored the Il Penseroso Junior Study Club members and guest with a memorable musical program last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Mike Mathis.

Mrs. Degge, vocalist, and Mrs. Record, pianist, who incidentally have the same birth date, grew up in the depression era (when you made your own fun) have been entertaining themselves and friends for many years.

Mrs. Degge and Mrs. Record asked club members and guest to sing along as songs were played and Mrs. Degge narrated some types of music played and sung in America.

Mrs. Degge related that early types of songs were folksongs brought to America from the "Old Country," and were often of love and sentiment as "My Bonnie Lies Over The Ocean" and "Loch Lomond."

Mrs. Degge said that even in wartime or maybe because of wartime songs must often be fun as with the still popular "Yankee Doodle."

Recognition of the Black influence was made with the well known "Swing Lo, Sweet Chariot," and regional influence by the Old South songs "Shenandoah," "Dixie," and "Old Grey Mare."

Mrs. Degge joined Mrs. Record at the piano to play "funny duets that everyone knows" as "Chopsticks." These duets were usually learned from friends as piano teachers were few. Mrs. Record said she memorized most of her early music because she didn't have money to buy sheet music.

The ever popular and fun "rounds" were sung with a few bobbles. Among them "Row, Row, Row Your Boat" and "Why Didn't My Goose."

Also presented were love songs, songs for the ukulele, and popular songs.

After singing the cowboy favorite, "Home On The Range," Mrs. Record told how this beautiful old song is often sung at funerals for old cowboys as it has deep meaning for ranch families whose lives have centered miles from town and nearest neighbors.

Guests for the sing along musical evening were Julie Hickerson, Kelly Fortenberry, Lynn Reves, and Karen Herber. Il Penseroso members present were hostess Ginger Mathis, co-hostess Judy Jackson, Treena Aston, Kim Lambert, Cheryl Bradley, Kathy Kellison, Reeda Cay Smith, Cynthia Bybee, Jessie Johnson, Anita Bigham, Robin Stoerner, Sandy Adrian, Kay Martin, Brenda Mangold, and Lesca Durham.

Dr. John W. Dorman, will speak at the next regular club meeting, October 11, in the home of Reeda Cay Smith.

NEWS 'N' NOTES

(by Sharon Hillis)

4-H Builds Leaders

There are five keys to successful leadership.

A good leader believes in people, encourages them and gives them responsibility. The leader also acts as a talent scout and develops a positive attitude toward getting things done.

Anyone who is willing to tackle a job that requires cooperating with others can learn to be an effective leader.

This is where the 4-H program comes in — it can help youth become effective leaders.

The national 4-H leadership program, supported by Reader's Digest, stimulates young people to become leaders through a variety of learn-by-doing activities. These activities help turn girls and boys 9-19 into the creative, inspiring individuals that others just naturally want to follow.

As a first step, 4-H members gain self-confidence by becoming experts at something, whether it's baking a cake, fixing a bike or playing a game. Then they share their expertise with others through demonstrations, speeches and exhibits. Soon they are serving on committees and holding offices in their 4-H clubs. As junior and teen leaders they are assisting younger 4-H'ers with their projects.

Finally, leadership skills learned in 4-H are carried over into the larger community. Nine national 4-H leadership winners reported activities that ranged from spearheading local charity drives and organizing leadership conferences for inner city teens to chairing a county youth committee for a congressional candidate.

Each national winner received a $1,000 scholarship donated by Reader's Digest. The high ranking girl and boy won silver rays presented in the name of President Jimmy Carter.

Other recognition for program members includes an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago for one 4-H member per state and up to four medals of honor in each county.

Winners are chosen by the Extension Service, which conducts the 4-H program, and awards are arranged by the National 4-H Council.

Further details on becoming involved in the 4-H leadership program are available at the Floyd County Extension Office, temporarily located in Room 207 at the Courthouse.

Bartering, An Old Idea With A New Twist

Bartering is an old idea with a new twist - to beat inflation, says Bonnie Piernot, family resource management specialist. It's catching on again, even among dentists, lawyers, doctors and other professionals who are bartering for food, gardening services, leisure equipment, ads and other products, she says.

Mrs. Piernot is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

IDEAS TO WATCH FOR With bartering, families can get living essentials without using their limited money.

They can trade time, skills, products and services. Some include mechanical, sewing, needlework or shopping skills.

Swapping can be among friends, families or even within the same family.

For example, in your own family, trade babysitting services for sewing skills.

Energy savings are possible with bartering, too.

Zoning restrictions in some communities may limit the types of bartering if they become similar to a business.

For example, some ordinances limit the number of unrelated children cared for in a household.

Also, health or sanitation rules may limit the bartering of baked goods in any large quantity or with any regularity.

Time can become the great expense in bartering. To combat this, some communities may want to set up a "trading post" to assist residents.

Legal snarls can result if traders aren't careful, such as with bartering homes or vacation cottages.

Since guarantees or warranties don't apply, barterers only have personal integrity to rely on.

Finally, be sure to discuss values of products or services before you actually trade them.

Any barter should satisfy both parties.

 Lois Lyons is employed now full time, and was not able to have the club at this time.
 Roll call will be answered with an amusing story.
 South Plains residents have their own water systems or get water from other wells in the town. Most of the wells are deep and the water is cold and delicious. Last week a well rig moved into South Plains and dug a new well on the property of I.H.
 Parks, across from the Parks
 Oil Station where Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Evans and Weston reside. They got a fine well of water and this week the men are putting down an electric pump on the well.
 They struck water at 285 feet, and are now pumping the well. When free of sand, they will connect the water to the house. Fresh water is a wonderful commodity.

Angel Martinez To Lead Services At First Baptist

Revival services with Dr. Angel Martinez are scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church, and continue daily through Saturday at 7:30 p.m. He will also speak at noon services Tuesday through Friday in the Chapel. A meal will be served in Fellowship Hall following each noon service. The public is invited to all of the services and to the noon luncheons.

Reverend Martinez is a native of San Antonio where he was converted in a Baptist Mission in July, 1935 at the age of thirteen. He preached his first sermon that same year and has averaged preaching better than a sermon-a-day during the past 44 years.

He is a graduate of Baylor University, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and has completed two years study on a law degree. A popular and dynamic evangelist, Dr. Martinez has memorized the entire New Testament. He holds an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree and has authored seven books.

Angel Martinez is married and the father of two sons, Fort Smith, Arkansas, is his home and headquarters between revivals.

Mosquitoes Leave Trail Of Heartworm Disease Behind

Mosquito season may soon be over but the mosquitoes have left a trail of Canine Heartworm Disease behind, says Dr. David T. Bechtol, President of Texas Veterinary Medical Association.

Canine Heartworm Disease is transmitted to dogs by mosquitoes. When biting and infected dog, a mosquito may take up blood containing immature stages of the Heartworm. After a 2-week incubation period in the mosquito, they develop into infective larvae. If these larvae are transmitted by the mosquito to another dog, they migrate through the body to the heart, where they grow to adult size and can eventually lead to death for the dog, states Dr. Bechtol.

Symptoms of Heartworm Disease are often not apparent until the disease has reached the advanced stages. Dr. Bechtol notes that death can occur before the owner notices any illness in the dog. Symptoms that may exist in many dogs include frequent coughing, rapid tiring, and labored breathing.

Heartworm Disease can be detected by a simple blood test conducted by a veterinarian. Dr. Bechtol recommends that dogs should be examined for heartworms following the mosquito season and then again in the spring. Heartworms are not detected, the veterinarian can then prescribe a sound preventive program.

"Don't wait until you see the dog is ill" urges Dr. Bechtol. "Heartworms can be detected and treated successfully in most dogs by a veterinarian before it is too late."

"Prevention is the best medicine," says Dr. Bechtol. "But owners who have had their dogs on the preventive and then stopped the program for a short while, should not put the dog back on the preventive without first testing for heartworms again or consulting their veterinarian. The preventive should only be given to a dog that is free of heartworms."

For years the disease was found primarily along the eastern seaboard and gulf state regions. Today, the disease is present in almost every area where mosquitoes exist. The disease has now spread even to West Texas.

Dr. Bechtol suggests that all dog owners consult a veterinarian in their area.

Years Ago

Sept. 30, 1971
"DOWNPOURS PLAGUE FAIRGOERS" - Light showers started late Wednesday, just ahead of the arrival of both fall and the Floyd County Fair and Surrounding Counties on Thursday. By morning, rain was coming down in sheets. Over four inches later, it stopped late Friday and skies had cleared by Saturday afternoon. Valiant efforts by fair officials made it possible for individuals to visit the fair grounds Saturday. Most events that day progressed under "near normal" conditions...

"NEW QUEEN Crowned" - A tall, blond beauty from Floydada went away from the Saturday night fair queen pageant finals wearing a new crown and title. Lisa Gregory, 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gregory, was crowned Miss Floyd County Fair queen by her predecessor, Patsy Morgan of Plainview...

"LOCKNEYITES PLACE IN 4-H HORSE SHOW" - Three Lockney misses representing Floyd County and this district in the Texas 4-H Horse Show last weekend gained the finals in four events and narrowly missed in another...The trio were Shari Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.N. Johnson, Ginger and Mona Henderson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Deanie Henderson...

"VOTER FORMS mailed" - Voter registration applications have been mailed to Floyd County individuals who were registered in 1971, according to information from tax assessor-collector C.J. Payne...

"POWER' MEETING IN 3-AA OPENER" - Remember the awesomely large, strong Littlefield Wildcats who amazed everyone last season because they were not winning football games after dropping back from AAA. Those same 'Cats have come of age. And they will be lining up against the Longhorns tomorrow (Friday) night in a crucial District 3-AA test, the first for both clubs. The game is at Littlefield...After upsetting Levelland, 20-14, the Longhorns have downed Post, 27-7, and Idalou, 19-6. Both Lockney and Littlefield have surprised the 'experts' with their strong takeoffs this fall. They are now rated as prime contenders for the 3-AA title...The Wildcats are a tremendously physical squad...says Hustling Horn mentor Jerry Cannon...

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

We started the week off with a tacky party Monday afternoon and most resident and employees dressed for the occasion. Nineteen pies, along with tea and coffee, were served to all residents by Evelyn Huggins, Bessie Martin, Gladys Widner, Laurita Bertrand, Mary Neff, Leona Neff, Lavada Neff, Ruth McIntosh, Ruby Davis, Ona Ruth Neff, Mary Hargis, Dessie Turner, Doris Snodgrass and Hazel Bradley. We appreciate all the hard work that went into making this party a success.

Victoria Asher, Verna McSwain, Francis Childs and Mamie Gray helped in making items for the residents this week, while Mr. Emmitt Lawrence was working with his owl plaques.

There were only two residents able to make our bus trip this week. We made a short trip to the Plains Baptist Assembly because Mr. Lawrence had never been there before. He enjoyed every minute and wants to go back soon. Dacia Manning is always eager to see the canyon because it brings back memories of her youth.

Clara Williamson was top winner in bingo with three games. Mr. W.C. Cates and Mr. Reed won two games each and Victoria Asher, Genedea Roberts, Mamie Gray, Emmitt Lawrence, Sallie Kreis and Willie Starbough all won one game each.

We would like to thank Irene Holland for the apples she brought from Ruidoso, New Mexico. They are really good.

Mrs. Avis Franks is improving slowly, but she needs the visits of all her friends to make her days happier.
