One-percent Tax Rebates Holding At Two Percent Under 1978

October rebate check for local option sales tax slightly over the October, but continued to reflect a decline overall for the year. Paul Bullock for $3,589.55, last October's $3,078.21.

Lockney's rebate also showed a decline for the year. To date, Lockney has received $28,622.60 in rebates, compared with the $28,983.12 figure in October, 1978.

Statewide, Texas cities shared more than $22.2 million in rebates, with metropolitan areas accounting for much of the gain. Houston and Dallas, for example, each received more than a 10 percent increase in rebates over the same period last year.

Floydada Couple's Grandchildren Fight Up In California 'Quake

The worst earthquake in eight years Monday leaving Mr. and Mrs. E. Willis and family of California, temporarily "camped" on the lawn. Willis is the son of Paul Willis of Petersburg, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Floydada.

Although the Willis were not injured, their home was badly damaged, and late Monday they were unable to enter the house because of the continuation of small tremors.

Officials reported that the quake, which was along the Imperial Fault about 150 miles southeast of Los Angeles, caused "$10 to $12 million" damage and left at least 91 persons injured.

Religion Poll:

Should Religion Be Allowed In Public Schools?

Lockwood Independent School District recently been involved in a controversy involving the use of religious activities in public school assemblies.

separation of church and state. The problem comes in knowing where to draw the line. I personally favor voluntary participation."

Randy Hollums "Yes, but schools should not teach specifics and be made into a Sunday School. As long as we have 'In God We Trust' on our money, general type prayers should be allowed. Still I believe in the separation of church and state."

Rudy Ochoe "I affirm the opportunity for religious programs in public schools, provided they are non-sectarian in nature."

Jim Smith "Yes, I think it is appropriate. Presentations should not be prescribed, but voluntary participation is permissible."

Floyd C. Bradley "I firmly agree with the policy of showing religious programs in our public schools. Our country was founded by people who believed in God and in the rights of one another."

I also believe that the children should have the right to participate or not to participate in viewing the religious sponsored programs. Those who are attempting to deny our children their right of freedom of religion are themselves in violation of the whole purpose of the bill of rights."

Floydada Future Farmers Elect Sweetheart And Plowgirl

Kelly Higginbotham, a Floydada high school senior, recently was named the Future Farmers of America Sweetheart in the annual penny vote contest.

Miss Ward, a junior, was nominated by the Ag Co-op II class.

Other candidates were Shelly Beard-en, Julie Faulkenberry, Jonna West, LaDonna Hefflin and Carrie Woody.

The Sweetheart and Plowgirl were chosen in a vote taken from Sept. 14 through Sept. 18.

PLOWGIRL AND SWEETHEART — Kelly Ward and Kelly Higginbotham won this year's top Future Farmers of America honors.

The search is on throughout Texas for outstanding cattle brands to include on county panels at the Kleberg Center's "branded stairway" at Texas A&M University.

L.A. Maddox, chairman of the unique branding project, said that some 3,500 brands, or more, are expected to be imprinted on the 254 "county oak panels" in the University's new $9.5 million Robert J. Kleberg Animal and Food Sciences Center.

"County Extension agents are working with their local beef cattle committees to select eight brands per county, and with historical societies to select other brands for the panels," Maddox, Texas Agricultural Extension Service beef cattle specialist, said.

Recently, a delegation from Floyd County added local brands to the county's oak panel. Participating were: Travis, Gladys and Jay Jones, Clay Hamilton and Floyd County Extension Agent, Steve Herber.

There are some 200,000 brands recorded in Texas and on file with the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Fort Worth. This is the state's most complete record.

The "branding" was an idea of Dr. O.D. Butler, for many years head of Texas A&M's Animal Science Department and now associate vice president for agriculture and renewable resources. He said that not only are cattle brands a rich part of Texas livestock history but a prized possession of ranchers in identification of their cattle.

"We felt that the branding ceremonies would bring about a closer tie-in between cattlemen and our animal science facilities on campus as well as with research and educational work throughout Texas," Butler said.

Maddox said that branding ceremonies will be conducted by Extension district groups until "all panels are branded."

Ogallala Aquifer Level Continues To Decline

The level of water in the Ogallala Aquifer from which South Plains cities receive their water, reached a record low for August, according to the Texas Department of Water Resources.

The water level of 123.44 feet below land surface showed a rise of 0.1 foot above the July measurement but was 0.96 foot below the measurement made in August, 1978.

The Water Department used a well in Plainview for the measurement. The level has dropped approximately 25 feet in the past 10 years, about the same rate that the level fell in the preceding ten years, 1959 to 1969.

The Mackenzie Reservoir water level held at 31 percent of its 46,250 acre-foot capacity for August, with 14,510 acre-feet behind the dam. That figure was two percent lower than the 33 percent capacity behind the dam in August of 1978.

The lower water levels in Lake Mackenzie persisted despite rainfall this year of more than 125 percent normal.

White River lake, in contrast, was 82 percent full in August. While that figure was down two percent from the July report, it was a full 10 percent above the August, 1978 level.

Floydadan Elected To CofC Board Of Directors

Jimmy Willson, of Floydada, was one of 21 West Texans elected recently to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

The elections took place during the Chamber mid-year meeting in Amarillo, October 11-12.

Second In A Series

Legislature Could Review Rules

(Editor's Note: Texas voters will go to the polls Nov. 6 to consider three proposed amendments to the state constitution. The following is an analysis of the three items, based on a report submitted by the Texas Legislative Council.)

Amendment No. 2 would authorize the legislature to enact a law establishing procedures for legislative review of state-agency rulemaking. The law would prescribe conditions for agency rules to take effect and could provide for suspension, repeal or expiration of existing rules.

The law could delegate this authority to one or both houses. The proposed amendment recognizes that such a law would be an exception to the separation of powers doctrine of government.

Legislative delegation of rulemaking power to agencies in the executive branch is described as "a 20th century phenomenon" since the practice was relatively unknown in this country until the early 1900s.

Early attempts to delegate rulemaking power to executive agencies was strongly challenged on the separation of powers doctrine. Though the courts never discovered a rational justification for the practice, the complexity of government has forced the legislative branch to focus on the major problems and leave the "details" to the administrators. Thus executive rulemaking has generally become accepted.

Those arguing in favor of the proposed amendment say that it would provide for the close and continuing supervision needed by the state bureaucracy to make it more responsive to the people and the policies of the legislature.

If legislative committees are given the responsibility of reviewing agency rules, supporters say, it is likely that they will learn to be more careful and precise in the processes of delegating powers.

Since the agency rules have the effect of laws, the legislative branch should be able to control the rules, they say.

The amendment would provide the legislature with a counter-balance to the executive's veto power, as a check on the executive's powers.

Opponents claim that the amendment would be an obvious encroachment on the executive power and would infringe on the separation of powers doctrine — a fundamental principal of American government. Under this principal the legislature makes the law, the executive branch carries it out and the courts resolve disputes under the law.

If legislative committees get involved in the day to day process of agency rulemaking, according to the faction against the law, then special interest groups will have one more chance to impose their will on the public. In many cases four or five sympathetic legislators might be able to block administrative actions that are necessary to carry out policies set by the legislature, the opposition says.

Opponents note that the electorate has consistently rejected attempts to expand the time the legislature is in session. If this amendment is adopted, they say, legislative committees may be "in session" on a year-round basis.

Finally, opponents cite the lack of experience with specific problems that legislative committees would evidence as compared to an agency official who dealt with the problems daily. Also, the time that a legislative committee would spend on reviewing and making decisions could postpone the effectiveness of regulations.

Congressman

Stenholm
Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. — This past week, I was prepared to present an amendment to the House of Representatives which, standing alone, might have been confusing to those who recognize my stand on government intervention in the private sector and, in particular, on the subject of price controls.

The amendment was to be offered to the Department of Energy Authorization Bill and read, "All coal deposits known as of 1973 shall be immediately placed under Federal price controls at 1973 levels."

The purpose of this amendment was not, as it might appear, to add further to the burden currently faced by the coal industry, but to point out the political duplicity of singling out oil and gas as the only energy source to be kept under the crippling yoke of price controls.

The coal amendment, fortunately, was not necessary to achieve the goal I sought: The defeat of another amendment which attempted to reverse decisions to gradually decontrol the price of petroleum.

My logic was simple: To present the choice of either voting for both the continuation of mandatory controls on domestic crude oil and the placement of such controls on coal, or the choice of opposing both proposals. Obviously, the latter choice is the most sensible and would be in the best long-range interest of all American consumers.

A great deal of attention has been focused on rising petroleum costs and the effect of those increases on our economy. Little note has been made, however, of the fact that from 1973 through 1978, the price of coal rose 224 percent. Rolling back the price of coal to the 1973 level would initiate a savings of some $11.77 billion for the American consumer. A practical course? Not when taking into consideration the need for increased energy supplies in this country. Such a move would break the back of the coal industry and serve only to further decrease current energy supplies. But, when you think of it, is it any more absurd than posing these same restrictions on the petroleum industry, or any other industry in this country?

To support the continuation of mandatory price controls on domestic petroleum, while voting against an amendment such as the one I would have proposed, is political hypocrisy that does little to promote the interests of the consumer or to solve our nation's serious energy problems. Decontrol will increase oil production, help balance our trade deficit and will best serve the long-term interests and prolong the need to take actions which might prove unpopular at home, but which are necessary to solve our energy crisis.

The price control system is a bureaucratic nightmare. The fact of the matter is that those who advocate controls in the interests of the consumer are actually the ones doing the consumer the most harm.

Commentary:

If You Spare The Rod, Do You Spoil The Brat?

By Edwin Feulner

Though the bleeding hearts have declared this the International Year of the Child, in my house, like most, every day revolves around the moral, intellectual, and physical well-being of my kids.

I must admit that, compared to their father at their age, they are remarkably well-behaved.

But they do occasionally step out of line. And when that happens, they are appropriately punished.

Now I personally don't consider my children and our relationship all that unusual. So I was quite taken aback several weeks ago when I turned into a re-run of a CBS "Sixty Minutes" segment dealing with violence in the schools — not students who "cut-up" in the fine tradition of yours truly a generation ago, but students who are literally cutting-up their teachers, and worse.

In case you are a reluctant believer, let me assure you that it is only too common. In fact, when I was a part-time high school teacher in Philadelphia a number of years ago I had a high school girl pull a switch-blade on me.

Now I turn to the pages of The American School Board Journal and a tongue-in-cheek essay by Philip M. Carlin (Assistant Professor of Educational Administration at Loyola University, Chicago) proposing that we "Shoot troublesome kids."

Now obviously, "Ayatollah" Carlin, as he is affectionately called, is not to be taken literally — but he is to be taken seriously. Violence cannot and should not be tolerated in our public schools, and Year of the Child or not — all the bleeding hearts notwithstanding — something has to be done to stop it.

Writes Carlin: "Before you say, 'Hold on there, Carlin, that's a bit harsh,' let's examine how our schools got into this current sorry state. It's simple — we've been afraid to beat up students. We've spared the rod and spoiled the brat. Spurred on by teachers and administrators who do not recognize the efficacy of a good beating, we have let corporal punishment slip by the wayside. And with it has gone any semblance of order, decency, or what in an earlier age was called values. But now, thank heaven, it is slowly dawning on people that instilling old-fashioned notions of right and wrong requires old-fashioned means."

The squeamish among you might protest. "After all," says Carlin, "hitting children with a birch is so primitive, so cruel, so...barbaric. But, by golly, it gets the job done, and no do-good psychologist or namby-pamby social worker can convince me otherwise. All my experience says: Nothing ensures good behavior like a credible threat of force."

Maybe beating is severe, but certainly an occasional spanking, administered (as it was in my day) by the appropriate school official, would harm nobody. On the contrary, it might do some good.

For too long we have been overly concerned with the "rights" of brats, and have forgotten about the rights of teachers, taxpayers, and all the kids who are in school to learn something and who have to put up with the troublemakers.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

Winter is fast approaching and with it the holiday season. Many consumers will do some of their holiday shopping by mail and will begin placing orders this month. Shopping by mail is convenient. Unfortunately, shopping by mail can be risky.

Mail order problems have bothered consumers for years. And the numbers of mail order complaints filed with various consumer protection agencies indicate that the complaints are widespread. In fact, more than twenty-five percent of all complaints logged in by the Federal Trade Commission during a recent six month period involved a purchase through the mail.

Unfortunately, the most frequent consumer complaint about mail orders is the failure of the merchant to get products to the buyer on time. When the product purchased by mail is intended as a gift, its timeliness in arriving is most important.

The Federal Trade Commission has a rule that gives buyers some rights when they order by mail. In a nutshell, the rule requires that sellers ship you the product when they say they will. If a seller does not promise delivery within a specified period of time, then the product must be shipped no later than thirty days after the order comes in.

The teeth of the rule is its requirement that if the product is not received shortly after the thirty day period, a buyer can cancel the order and get a refund.

If a seller is unable to meet the promised delivery date (or the thirty day limit), the rule says that the seller must notify the buyer and specify what the new shipping date will be. The seller must then give the buyer the option of either canceling the order and receiving a full refund or of agreeing to the new shipping date. The seller also has to provide a free way for a buyer to respond to this notification, such as a stamped, self addressed envelope or a postage paid postcard. A buyer who fails to answer is assumed to have agreed to the new shipping date.

If a buyer cancels an order because of the seller's failure to meet the shipping date, the refund must be made within seven business days. If the sale was on credit, the seller must adjust the account within one billing cycle.

With a business as varied as the mail order industry, it would be impossible for one rule to apply to all situations. For instance, the FTC's rule does not apply to mail order photo finishing, magazine subscriptions and other serial deliveries (except for the initial shipment). Nor does the rule apply to seeds and growing plants, COD orders or credit orders when the buyer's account is not charged until the merchandise is shipped.

Whenever any product is ordered by mail, consumers should take these precautions:

—Read the product description carefully. Don't rely on pictures alone; make sure the product as described is what you want.

—If possible, investigate the advertiser's claims. Find out if the product will really do what the advertiser says it will.

—Make special note of the delivery time stated. Allow plenty of time for delivery and keep a record so you will know when to begin looking for the goods.

—Hold on to all cancelled checks and charge account records. If problems do develop later, these records will be most useful in getting your complaint resolved.

If you have a mail order complaint, contact the Federal Trade Commission in Washington, D.C. or the Attorney General's Consumer Protection and Antitrust Division office nearest you.

Floyd Philosopher Comes Up

With A Last Ditch Proposal

To Win The Fight Against Inflation

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on White River may have his tongue in his cheek this week, although it's hard to tell.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, the latest move to whip inflation is the raising of interest rates. Right now they've been raised to 14½ percent and no telling what they'll be by the time you read this.

Now this may work, I hope so, but if it doesn't I've got an idea.

As I recall, the fight on inflation began when they raised the price of a tractor bolt from 15 cents to 85 cents. That didn't work, so next they tried soda-water, from 5 cents a bottle to 25 cents on up. Didn't work.

Then they tried raising the price of all sorts of things, gasoline, heating oil, shoes, cars, houses, Congressmen...but none worked. Inflation kept on rising.

Now here's my idea. If raising interest rates does one thing, it will stop farmers from fighting inflation. As farmers know that what they get for their crops is dropping every year, they will raise their prices to cover their losses.

Nonetheless, the three basic needs are food, shelter and clothing. Farmers ought to be on the side of the consumer except them is on a platform of a platform of a platform. But take heart, we might be just what we need.

Col. Wilson Speir To Resign As Head Of Texas DPS

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, this week announced he will retire December 31, 1979, after a total of more than 43 years of public service.

He made the announcement during the annual conference of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, of which he has served as president during the past year.

Speir, 62, was named director of the DPS by the Texas Public Safety Commission after the death of Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr. He had been assistant director since June 1, 1962.

Wilson Speir

As director, he has commanded a diverse agency which employs over 4,500 enforcement and support personnel. The department is responsible for programs related to traffic law enforcement and driver regulation, criminal law enforcement, and disaster emergency preparedness within the state.

Speir said: "As I conclude this wonderful year as president of the IACP, I think the time has also come to announce my plan to retire December 31 as director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"It was a very difficult decision to make. But after 43 years of public service, including 38 years with the DPS, I felt the time had come to retire.

"Certainly I have mixed emotions, particularly on leaving my wonderful co-workers who are to be credited with making the department into what I believe to be the best organization of its kind in the nation. I thank each of them for their loyalty, dedication, and sacrifice on behalf of the people of Texas.

"In addition, I want to express my appreciation for the fine support we have received during the past 11 years from the several Governors, members of the Legislature, other state officials, and police chiefs and sheriffs throughout the state.

"I am particularly proud of progress in discharge of our law enforcement mission, and in support improvements such as expansion of our crime laboratory system to 12 locations, development of our modern law enforcement telecommunications system which serves all policing agencies, and completion of our project to computerize both traffic and criminal records.

"The DPS has also made great strides in the provision of police training, in a building program which has improved our ability to serve the public while substantially reducing lease expenses, and in development of an aircraft and helicopter fleet to augment traffic safety, criminal law enforcement, and search and rescue activities throughout the state.

"We have also been able to accomplish an administrative reorganization of the department into three major divisions, thus better centralizing responsibility for discharge of our various statutory functions."

Speir, a native of Gilmer in Upshur County, graduated from East Texas State University at Commerce in 1940 and was named as outstanding alumnus of that University in 1971. From September 1936 to 1941, he served as teacher and principal of Harmony High School in Upshur County. He joined the Department of Public Safety on November 1, 1941, and was assigned to the Highway Patrol. He was promoted to sergeant in 1951, and to captain in 1955.

He is active in community and church affairs. The Buffalo Trails Council of the Boy Scouts of America honored him in 1962 with the Silver Beaver Award for outstanding leadership and tireless efforts on behalf of boys, and he is a past president of the Capitol Area Council.

He served as president of the Austin Rotary Club and as district governor of Rotary District 587. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge and of Austin's First Baptist Church.

Speir and his wife, the former Marie Allen of Gilmer, are parents of three sons: Dr. Larry Speir, of Seguin; Dr. Elwyn Speir of Austin; and USAF Captain John Speir, stationed in Florida.

Prairie Chicken Season Opens For Two Days

An increase in the lesser prairie chicken population in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains should provide a good season for sportsmen Oct. 20-21.

Our surveys indicate a 25 percent increase in the populations along the Texas-New Mexico line and a five percent increase in the eastern part of the Panhandle," said Richard DeArment, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist.

"The bag limit for hunters will be the same as 1978 with a daily limit of two birds and a possession or season limit of four birds," DeArment continued.

Shooting hours in the 12 Texas counties will be 30 minutes before sunrise to 30 minutes after sunset for the two-day season.

More than a million acres of prime prairie chicken habitat still exist in these counties with an estimated prairie chicken population of 10,000 birds.

In 1978, hunters harvested 724 birds or about seven percent of the population. Figures compiled by the P&WD indicate there is an annual production rate of 26 percent or 2,600 birds. The chicken season is set in October to allow a limited harvest of the birds as they start feeding in grain fields in northwest Texas.

These figures are used each year to set the season and bag limits as the P&WD monitors the annual status of the lesser prairie chicken. Any drastic reduction in the overall chicken production could prompt the P&WD either to reduce the hunting dates or bag limits or, stop the hunting until the population returns to a level considered normal by the department.

Treva Hambright Wins Football Forecast Contest

The Football Forecast guesses are getting more accurate. And it seems to be women who are winning more and more often.

Treva Hambright carried off this week's contest with only three incorrect guesses out of 23 games.

Treva beat out last week's winner, Sherree Cannon, by being two points closer to the tie breaker. Sherree also missed three guesses, but gave a total point entry of 40 points to Treva's 35.

The actual total in the Floydada-Wellington game was 33.

Lindan Morris took the third-place prize with four misses.

The correct answers in this week's contest were: Childress, Lockney, Muleshoe, Morton, Tahoka, Frenship, Seminole, Abernathy, Sunray, Hale Center, Valley, Coronado, Odessa Permian, Arkansas, Baylor, Houston, TCU, Texas, Tennessee, Arizona State and the Dallas Cowboys.

Motley County vs. Claude resulted in a tie. The Lorenzo vs. Ralls game was listed incorrectly and was not counted either way.

County Quail Bag Limit Set

Floyd County was among the Texas counties assigned the smallest bag limits on quail in the upcoming hunting season.

A limit of 12 birds taken each day and 36 in possession was placed on counties in the western Panhandle and East Texas by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission.

In other parts of West and South Texas the bag limits were set at a record high of 20 birds a day and 60 in possession.

The higher limits for taking birds was the record since the Parks department was given the authority to set limits in the 1950s.

Some regions were given increased limits of 16 birds each day and 48 in possession.

Very good quail production this year accounted for the increased bag limits, according to Don Wilson, quail species leader for the department.

Local Teacher Leads Workshop In Lubbock

Roberta Hardin, a migrant teacher at Duncan Elementary in Floydada, was recently invited to conduct one of 15 conferences at Lubbock Memorial Civic Center for the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading (TAIR). The emphasis in Mrs. Hardin's session was on "self confidence."

Other migrant personnel who assisted Mrs. Hardin were Elaine Gee, Linda Stark, Opal Ashton and Juanita Martinez. The group presented a skit adapted from Sidney Simon's book, "I Am Lovable and Capable."

Mrs. Hardin husband Bill is a farmer. They have one daughter, Rosemary, who is a sophomore at Texas Tech.

1950 Study Club To Sponsor Christmas Greeting Page

Members of the 1950 Study Club decided at their October 2 meeting to sponsor a Christmas greeting page in the Floyd County Hesperian. Listings will be sold for $3.50 each. Persons who are interested in participating in this project are invited to call Lovene Moore or Doris McLain. Previous participants will be contacted by club members. The club would like to urge community residents to take this means of sending Christmas greetings to their friends and neighbors in the Floydada area and at the same time support the 1950 Study Club in their community projects. All money raised by the club will be used to help support local endeavors.

The regular meeting of the club was held at the Light-house Electric Community Room with Lovene Moore as hostess. Vice-president Jean Kendrick presided at the business meeting in the absence of the president. A new member, Shirley Darr, was voted into club membership. Members were reminded of the Federation Day program to be held in First United Methodist Church on October 16 with the district president, Mrs. E.H. Boedecker, as guest speaker.

The program for the evening continued the theme of "Community Update" as the guest speakers reported on community health care. Billie Jordan, clinic supervisor for the South Plains Health Provider, reported on how that facility serves a large portion of our community's citizens. Nell McClung, administrator of Caprock Hospital, gave the club a report on the hospital and its current status. Both reports were very interesting and informative.

Members present for the meeting were Charlotte Campbell, Marjorie Collins, Nina Copeland, Jean Kendrick, Lovene Moore, Sue Moore, Jo Payne, Noma Lou Rainer, Nettie Ruth Whittle and Shirley Meredith.

Miss Marsha Elaine Giesecke became the bride of Michael Elgin Ruland, Saturday, October 13, at 7 p.m. in the First Christian Church of Floydada. Tom Pauley, minister of City Park Church of Christ officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Giesecke of Floydada. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Austry Ruland of Follett.

The bride wore a formal length gown of white re-embroidered lace and sheer-gauze with a modified Queen Ann neckline, long fitted sleeves, and a cummerbund overlaid to give the look of the natural waistline. The A-line skirt was bordered in re-embroidered lace and medallion trim, with a wide self-fabric ruffle peeping out from under the scallop of lace extending up the chapellength train. The headpiece was re-embroidered lace bandeau with fingertip bridal illusion. The bride was escorted by her father.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of tiny apricot color rose buds and staphonotis with six large apricot roses in center. One of the large apricot roses was presented to the groom's mother by the bride as she was being escorted out of the church by the groom. The going away corsage was in the center of the bouquet, white ribbon's were tucked among the flowers, and long streamers with loveknots tied in some, hung from the cascade. The bride wore a traditional blue garter, and for something old, she wore a pair of earrings that had belonged to her Grandmother Gage. For something borrowed, she wore her mother's wedding ring. Something new was her wedding attire.

The altar of the church held one gold candelabra with fifteen white candles entwined with greenery and baby's breath. Two large baskets of greenery with large apricot bows adorned the altar, and a large unity candle, with apricot candles on each side, was on a gold floor stand. Large Apricot bows and greenery decorated the pews.

Organist was Mrs. Jimmy Parker, cousin of the bride of Canyon. Solist Jerry Pollan of Amarillo sang "There Is Love" before the procession, and "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Mike Giesecke, sister-in-law of the bride of Lubbock. Geneva Giesecke, mother of the bride and matron of honor, wore a floor-length apricot dress and carried a cascade of brown leather fern, baby's breath and tiny apricot rosebuds. A bow of Brown ribbon was nestled at the base with streamers that hung down the dress.

Norville Ruland, Tulia, brother of the groom, served as best man; Mike Giesecke, Lubbock, brother of the bride, served as usher; and registering guests was Andrea Yeates, Lubbock, cousin of the bride.

The reception following the wedding was held in the fellowship hall at the church. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth with white illusion drapes tied with apricot ribbons. The centerpiece was brown leather fern apricot flowers in a footed brass candelabra.

The two-tiered wedding cake was decorated with apricot roses between layers and on an ornament of bells.

Punch was served from a crystal punch set and gold tableware was used. Nuts and mints were served from brass appointments. Serving at the Bride's table were Mrs. Bob Forbis, Afton, and Mrs. Gerald Yeates, Lubbock, aunts of the bride.

The groom's table was covered with a brown floor length cloth with ecru lace cover belonging to the groom's grandmother. An arrangement of apricot, yellow and brown silk flowers in a brass pitcher, flanked by two brass candle sticks with apricot tapers, centered the table. A brass and copper coffee service and gold tableware were used by Sharla Ruland, Follett, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Norville Ruland, Tulia, sister-in-law of the groom, to serve German chocolate loaf cake and coffee.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will live in the Barwise community, where the groom is engaged in farming.

Athena Club Girlstown Director

Athena Study Club met recently in the home of Martha Sue Lusk with Janie Kleen as co-hostess. Marshall Cooper, executive director of Girlstown, presented a short slide presentation. The campuses at Whiteface, Bergum, and Austin were pictured and discussed and their goals and purposes were given. A question-answer time followed the slide show. Cooper said that their most pressing need is for house parents. The girls at Girlstown range in age from 2 to 18. Most girls come during their junior high school years. When asked about other needs Cooper said that they always need cut-up towels, towels, and wash rags. Each club member drew a name of a resident of Girlstown to be her "pal" for this club year.

Following refreshments, grocery coupons were exchanged. During the business meeting it was decided to donate large print copies of Readers Digest to the Lockney Care Center. Some other topics of discussion were a sign for the Lockney Branch Library, the possibility of an auditorium, and a method to check on elderly people in our community.

Members present were Mary Ann Kreng, Deane Koester, Janet Houdeshell, Margie Fuiten, Barbara Mathis, Donnie Merriweather, Judy Seacht, Virginia Owens, Karen Koonsman, Charlotte Mitchell, and Martha Sue Lusk. Mary Holly was a guest for the evening. Athena's next meeting will be November 8, at the

Pat Walker's presents: the Splendor of being Slender

IRENE E. GETTYS WEARS BRIDAL GOWN AGAIN AFTER LOSING 35 POUNDS

(She looked great on her 30th wedding anniversary!)

It was a day of genuine triumph for Irene E. Gettys. With help from Pat Walker's, she had lost 35 pounds, thus becoming slim enough to meet the difficult challenge she had set for herself. She describes her experience:

"I wanted to lose enough weight so I could wear my wedding dress on our 30th wedding anniversary. My husband liked this idea and urged me to begin treatments at Pat Walker's. So, weighing 153 pounds, I began the treatments—and easily and comfortably lost weight and inches and was able to wear my size 10 wedding dress on our 30th anniversary. We were both pleased.

"I have my old pep and energy back, and shopping for smaller sized clothes is indeed a joy. Also, I have enjoyed the many compliments I get from my friends on how nice I look now. Life is a pleasure, thanks to Pat Walker's."

Consumer Ideas

"Good buys" in food will await Texas shoppers this fall, says Marilyn Haggard, a foods and nutrition specialist.

Several "price drops" and supply increases are responsible, she explains.

Miss Haggard is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

PORK — shows promise throughout the fall since prices fell six percent in June and supplies are 16-18 percent over August 1978 levels.

BEEF — likely will remain stable due to a slower economy, although earlier forecasts promised higher prices.

CHICKEN — saw a 16-percent drop in prices last June, and prices should stay very favorable due to a 10-11 percent supply increase over August 1978.

TURKEY — prices should also be rosey for the fall.

EGGS — prices will depend on meat prices. Lower meat prices should result in a lesser demand for eggs — so steady or lower egg prices are in the forecast.

FISH — prices vary greatly from species to species, so compare cost per serving for the best buys.

Mr. and Mrs. H.B. "Jack" Johnson of Floydada announce the engagement of their granddaughter, Jobe Coffman of Canyon, to Rodney Hales, also of Canyon. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Hales. He is a 1975 graduate of Canyon High School and attended West Texas State University. He is currently engaged in farming in the Dimmitt area. The bride-elect is a 1975 graduate of Floydada High School and has attended WTSU for three years. The couple plan to be married December 1 in the John A. Hill Chapel on the WTSU campus in Canyon.

Old Fashioned Church Bazaar Slated Floydada

If you've always wanted to attend an "old-fashioned" church bazaar, here is your chance. Saturday, November 3, the First United Methodist Church will be sponsoring one.

A variety of hand-made items: paintings, sewn items, Christmas decorations, wood-work, etc. — will be available — All just in time for you Christmas shoppers. Church members are also bringing home-made jellies and baked items.

To highlight the day, a delicious Thanksgiving — style meal will be served. Tickets for the meal are now being sold by members.

Come early for the best selections. The baked-goods and smaller items will be sold in the morning and the larger items will be auctioned following the noon meal.

Single Adults Plan Tackey Party

Single Adults will meet at 7 p.m. Saturday October 20 at the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative party room for cornbread and stew. Food will be furnished by hostesses Georgia Finley, Lila Kendrick and Alma Dunn. Games will be played after the supper.

All singles are invited to wear something tackey and "come on out."

Lunch: Hamburgers/mustard, French Fries/catsup, Sliced tomato, dill pickle, Peach half, 1/2 pint milk. Friday: No School.

TRIPLE DECKERS: Blend a five ounce can of chicken spread with two tablespoons of sour cream; spread on three slices of toast; top with three leaves of lettuce. Cover each with another slice of toast; spread with about two ounces of deviled ham. Top with three tomato slices and three slices of toast — and you'll have three delicious triple decker sandwiches!

Motley County Singing Convention

Becomings -

(Reprint.)

The small group of Floydada fans attending the state track meet in Austin a few years ago were cheering Lockney's Danny Clark as he participated in the finals of the Hurdle events. We were reminded of how brothers and sisters in a family fight and argue with one another, but each would stand up for the other if someone outside intervened or threatened.

The Lockney-Floydada sense of competition and rivalry has been a long lasting one, but just as long lasting and just as evident is the underlying goodwill and sense of cooperation between the two Floyd County towns. This 42 year old news clipping from the October 21, 1937 edition of the Floyd County Hesperian makes our point. The Hesperian editor is making sure that Lockneyites do not think that he said what had appeared in a Fort Worth paper. He says:

"The following article is clipped from the Sunday Amarillo News and Globe, and also appeared in the Fort Worth Star Telegram on the same date:

"FLOYDADA, October 16 - The Floydada-Lockney High School football game was played in a cow pasture near Lockney yesterday after a woman living near the regular playing field was stricken with paralysis. A doctor said the patient could not be moved and that the noise would be detrimental, therefore a new field was laid out...south of the city...no extra points were attempted from place-kicks since the field was without goal posts."

The Hesperian sports editor then makes this explanation.

This article did not come from this reporter, at no time were the goal posts missing. The field was good and fairly dry in spite of the rains. It was a cow pasture if the presence of cows on a pasture makes a pasture a "cow pasture," but the field was laid off with ten yard markers, fence and above all, good "goal posts."

Lockney is our neighbor and friend so we don't want a misunderstanding, therefore this explanation. We hope this same sense of friendship continues the next 40 years. For now, though, all we have to say is BEAT LOCKNEY! to which we receive a not so distant reply... BEAT FLOYDADA!

LCC Associates Discuss

Gift Fair Projects

The Lockney L.C.C. Associates held their October meeting in the home of Leo Montandon. Tommie Williams was co-hostess. Alma Baxter began the meeting with a devotional on "Peace of Mind." President Janie Carter led the business meeting. There was a good profit made on the local fair booth.

The rest of the meeting was spent discussing the "Gift Fair" to be held in Lubbock November 8, 9, and 10. All items will be displayed in the newly renovated Arnet House on the L.C.C. Campus. Several members brought items they thought might be appropriate for the club to make. It was decided that the club would make Christmas tree skirts. A work night has been scheduled for October 22 at 7 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church. Refreshments and visiting were then enjoyed by those present, who were: Madge Huff, Jane Archer, Janie Klein, Mary Glenn Degge, Mildred Gammage, Mavis Reecer, Annabel Bramlet, Cindy Ward, Carol Huggins, Dorothy Sith, Cheryl Bradley, Miss Carter, Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. Williams, and Mrs. Montandon.

“Good News”

There's "good news" for grown children faced with the problems of elderly parents who need nursing home care, says a family life education specialist-aging. High-quality institutional care creates many positive "building blocks" in the foundation of family relationships for many grown children and their elderly parents, says Vivian Blair. Mrs. Blair is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Citing a study by the University of Southern California Andrus Gerontology Center, she says recent findings "provide good news for many families." Their research addressed the problem when it was first faced by such families, and it looked at the outcome. "Often grown children facing such a problem are consumed with anguish and guilt once they are forced to seek nursing home care for an elderly parent or other relative," Mrs. Blair explains. "They may have a sense of failure and begin to think of themselves as cruel and even as criminal." And now for the good news in detail.

BY COGDELL TRUST

Grant Given To Scott And White

A $100,000 gift has been received by Scott and White Memorial Hospital in Temple from the Martha Ann Cogdell Hospital Trust, based in Lockney, Texas. The gift was made in response to Scott and White's $25 Million Expansion Fund and will be used for the Radiation Therapy Department. In particular, it will fund a new Linear Accelerator which was recently installed to be used in the treatment of cancer patients.

Dr. Richard D. Haines, President of Scott and White Memorial Hospital and Scott, Sherwood and Brindley Foundation, in announcing the gift said, "Once again, Scott and White is the recipient of a fine gift from the Cogdell family. This West Texas family has been extremely generous to us, beginning with the original gift in 1960 of Mr. and Mrs. D.M. Cogdell, Sr. We are most grateful for their help."

The Advisory Board of Directors of the Martha Ann Cogdell Hospital Trust, who authorized the gift, are: Mr. and Mrs. D.M. Cogdell, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William M. Cogdell and Mrs. Ernest A. Birdwell.

The Martha Ann Cogdell Hospital Trust Fund was created by the will of the late David M. and Johnny Kate Cogdell, ranchers from Snyder, Texas. The Trust is named for their daughter, Martha Ann, who died at the age of 13. West Texas hospitals, clinics and educational institutions have been the recipients of grants from the Trust.

This contribution brings the total gifts from the Cogdell family to $575,000. In 1960, Mr. and Mrs. D.M. Cogdell, Sr., gave the first gift to help establish the Radiation Therapy Department at Scott and White. In 1975, the Trust made a $250,000 grant to Scott and White to fund the installation of a new EMI Brain Scanner.

Floydada High Media Center

Floydada High School Media Center plays an important part in the life of the school. Librarians and teachers are encouraged to use and share many resources available. There are more than 9,000 books in the library. In the past there are 560 cassette tapes, 162 cassette records, plus slide recordings. The library also has a growing collection of audio-visual aids equipment used daily by students. There are many carrels with individual study tables for the day.

Local newspapers and magazines are kept in the library. Materials are kept on file in a room for five many students. Bridged Readers' research papers are material from magazines of the loss of lives during the war. Local people have copies to be complete. 900 books on the shelves. 2,000 volumes which is the most in the library.

Popular area of the school is the sports area. It has over 200 books with all kinds of information from football to basketball.

The 1979-80 school year has been a busy one for the school. Reading for pleasure is encouraged. The English teachers have class periods for pleasure reading, student free to read, and reading times classes for the entire school. The library, through the services of Mrs. Frizzell, has been a great help in the 1977-78 school year. Reading Enrichment started in high school in each classroom and in the library. Mrs. Frizzell and students have used these through the year. This year a set of papers were added, one for each of the others in the library. The support a high circulation of these books from the first quarter of the year. Mrs. Carol Frizzell and Mr. Hubert, Jack and Paul of Lockney and Mr. Zell of Silvertown; Mrs. Denzil Lubbock and Mrs. Long of Silvertown; Mrs. Claude Carpenter; Mrs. Frizzell and Mrs. Frizzell; Mrs. Fred Cone of Falls; 15 grandchildren; Mrs. Royce Green; Mrs. Lynn, Jerry and Long.

rious class projects and assignments

Two student assistants work in the library during each class period each day. These students must be either a junior or a senior, and they receive one credit for the year. These library aides work at the check-out desk, shelve books, read shelves, file magazines, and are trained to process books and file library cards.

Because a need for it has been shown in testing scores, Mr. Tyer asked Mrs. Bell this year to bring all English classes to the library for more instruction on using the library for research. Each class is viewing a series of filmstrips entitled "Library Tools" and then spending two or three days working individually or in small groups actually learning by looking up information found in the many types of reference books in the library. This is followed up by a test on library tools administered by the English teachers in their classrooms.

Floydada High School has not always had the fine library facilities that we have at present. Miss Vera Meredith does not remember any library at all when she finished high school here in 1923. Mr. J.C. Wester remembers that when the first class graduated from high school in the new high school building (now Junior High School) in 1924, the library was "a few books in the English classroom." Miss Daltis Rea was one of the first librarians, but she kept the library only when she was not teaching her classes. Mrs. Hal Thomas, then Miss Sudie Miller, remembers that after Miss Rea left in 1944, she was given charge of the library, in addition to her teaching duties. She told the superintendent that she knew nothing about the library, and he asked her to "do the best thing that she could." At that time the library had some kind of numbering system for the books. "Mostly made up," Mrs. Miller recalls. Mrs. Miller was librarian from 1944 until 1951, Vi Jones in 1951-52 and Jane Hales from 1952-54.

It was not until Mrs. Helen Patterson took over the library in 1954 that the entire library was reorganized, enlarged, and completely classified according to the Dewey Decimal System. From 1954 until Mrs. Patterson retired in the spring of 1978, she saw the library grow from only a few volumes to over 9,000 books, and expand to include many other types of media and visual aids equipment. Carol Bell, former teacher in Floydada Junior High School and a graduate of Floydada High School, became librarian in the fall of 1978 and feels that she stepped into a very well organized high school library. The greatest need today is for more up to date and better visual aids equipment.

Carol Bell was born in Hall County, Texas, and has lived in Floyd County since she was one year old. She is a graduate of Floydada High School, attended Wayland College and graduated from Hardin Simmons University with a BA degree. She also received an MRE Degree from Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth. Before her marriage to Ted Bell in 1956, she taught school in Brownfield Junior High and Buckner Home at Dallas. She has taught school in Floydada for about 20 years.

Mrs. Bell has two children, a son Rex and daughter Shannon, both students at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

South Plains News

October 16— Beautiful weather still holds on in this part of Texas, and harvesting of some soy beans and maize is in progress. Cotton is beginning to burst forth, and even the late fields have some cotton opening.

The pollinated milo maize is coming into the elevator at the South Plains Co-Op Gin and Elevator at about a 100,000 pounds a day on the strongest day. Soy beans are coming in about the rate of 50,000 pounds a day. The maize harvest is getting less each day, that is with the earlier grain, according to the officials at the elevator.

Mr. and Mrs. Bary Kinslow, Jennifer and Grant of Carrollton, Texas, spent the past weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Kinslow.

There will be a Home Interior Show at the home of Mrs. Carolyn Marble on Thursday October 18 at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Mary Shaw of Plainview, mother of Mrs. Richard Sanders, hurt her back this past week, and has been going to the doctor for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Johns Cox of Lockney were Sunday visitors at the home of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols.

Mr. and Mrs. Syvin Kinniburgh had as Sunday visitors in their home, their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Dickens and Latham of Plainview. The occasion was the birthday of Beth Kinniburgh Dickens. Melissa Horne of Plainview was also present for the day.

T.B. Cox, who has been in the St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo for the past two months, was taken home Thursday to Canyon, and will be in bed for three more months. He is the brother of Mrs. Alvin Nichols.

Mrs. Bonnie Julian left Tuesday for Perryton where she spent the week with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce and Janet Julian, Clay and Wade. The occasion was the birthday of Bruce, October 9, with a surprise party given for him at the home.

Seventeen persons attended. Mrs. Julian attended services Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church in Perryton and returned home Sunday afternoon.

Hobby Club members met Wednesday, October 10, at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Harold Hamm, with a program on making items for nursing home patrons. Roll call — an "Amusing Story," brought forth some funny stories. The "thought for the day" was given by Mrs. Tillman Powell. Gifts were made for the convalescent homes, and refreshments of party sandwiches, coffee, cold drinks, and pumpkin pie with whipped cream were served. Present for the meeting with Mrs. Hamm were Mmes. Ruby Higginbotham, E.J. Kinslow, Grigsby Milton Jr., Tillman Powell, Leighton Teeple, Kendall Cummings, J.P. Taylor and Mrs. Pat Huff (Jeaneva Hamm) was a visitor. The next meeting will be on November 14, at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. E.J. Kinslow. October 2 the Fred Blakes of South Plains and a family friend, Mrs. Irene Hogue of Lamesa, left for Littleton, Colorado, where they visited in the home of the Blakes' daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Sharbutt, Al and Candy, until Saturday morning, October 6. From Denver they drove to Riverton, Wyoming, to visit another daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Grant, Monica and Jeremy. Also visiting in the Grant home were Leon's parents, sister and nephews, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grant of Wickett, Texas, Mrs. Lou Williams, and Steve and David of Odessa. They had flown from Odessa the previous Thursday. The special occasion for the visit was the ordaining of Leon Grant, along with two other young men, as deacons for the Hillcrest Baptist Church of Riverton. Bro. Blake had the privilege of preaching the ordination message.

This was the second time Bro. Blake had assisted in ordaining a son-in-law as deacon. Several years ago the Blakes went to Houston for such a service when their son-in-law, A.C. Sharbutt was ordained. He is presently chairman of deacons in the Araphoe Road Baptist Church in Littleton, Colorado. Bro. Blake baptized Leon, his parents and his sister in 1968, and performed the wedding ceremony for Fredene and Leon in Leveland. ### FROM THE FILES OF THE LOCKNEY BEACON

October 8, 1959
"The Lockney Longhorns play their final non-conference encounter Friday night when the Slaton Tigers invade Mitchell-Zimmerman Field...The 'Horns are idle next week before waging their opening District 2-AA battle at Abernathy...Local coaches felt that the Longhorns lost to an exceptionally fine team last Friday at Floydada. The Whirlwinds have one of the best Class AA clubs in the state. However the Big Red mentors thought the wet, sloppy field hampered their charges much more than it did the heavier Floydada boys..."

"The mighty Floydada Whirlwinds flexed their muscles against the Longhorns Friday night, overpowering the local boys 33-0. Rain, which started falling shortly after the opening kickoff and poured throughout the contest, greatly hampered play. The traditional Floyd County battle was fought on Western Field, Floydada."

Floydada's Don Vickers romped 34 yards to paydirt on the Whirlwinds' first play from scrimmage. This inspired the Whirlwinds who dominated much of the encounter. With the win Floydada extended their record of being undefeated and unscathed on to five games. Lockney has won three, lost two this season..."

"Sheriff Walter Hollums announced this week that he had appointed W.F. (Cap) Carthel of Lockney as a deputy sheriff to assist Deputy Billy Tigert in the Lockney area during the fall. Carthel began his duties October 1st and will probably work until January 1st, Sheriff Hollums said, and maybe longer..."

October 10, 1929

"October 18 is the date set for the gala opening of the new Municipal Auditorium, swimming pool and community center. Entertainment including dinner at noon is planned for the entire family during the day-long celebration."

"Dr. C.D. Henry, local physician, spoke before the Lubbock Medical Society Tuesday and Wednesday."

"Born to Mr. and Mrs. Goree Applewhite, north of Lockney, Oct. 4, a girl; to Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Pemberton, a 12 lb. boy, Oct. 1; to Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Bryant, Sept. 26, a girl; to Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rhine, Oct. 5, a girl."

October 10, 1947

"Petitions have been filed asking for $300,000 road bond vote. A number of farm-to-market roads are on the proposed paving program."

"First National Bank, Lockney, hit a new high in deposits this month according to a statement from the bank Oct. 6. Now on deposit is $1,270,543.99. The previous high was $1,254,600."

Use Trees And Shrubs To Save Heating Energy

As trees and shrubs grow up they can help hold your heating bills down. The U.S. Department of Commerce reports that a windbreak of ten pine trees protecting a residence in New Jersey reduced heat loss 42 percent in winds of 12 mph.
With government sources predicting that energy costs will double over the course of the next five years, that kind of fuel economy takes on increased importance.
In South Dakota, fuel consumption in identical houses was 25 percent less in the one with a tall windbreak on the north side. When the house was sheltered on three sides, but exposed on the south side, the fuel consumption was reduced by 40 percent.
In a test comparing houses warmed by electrical heaters—a fully exposed home, and identical counterpart, but sheltered by a windbreak of trees and shrubbery—the difference in fuel consumption for an entire winter was 33.92 percent.
Information about the most effective placement of trees and shrubs for energy conservation has been provided by the American Association of Nurserymen. The location of windbreaks, the AAN says, is the key to their efficiency.
Almost any kind of trees and larger shrubs will provide valuable results; however, evergreens are ideal in most climates since they retain their fullness over the winter months. They should be on the north and west sides of the building, with an extension on the east if space permits. The southern exposure should be left open to permit the sun to enter.
