To discuss disaster loans

SBA rep to speak here

A representative from the Small Business Administration will meet with local farmers and agribusinessmen tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Floydada High School auditorium to discuss the disaster loan program.

Fred Hodges, of the SBA, will be prepared to issue disaster loan application forms and to offer instruction on how to complete the forms. A complete discussion of what and who is eligible, plus time limits for applications, will be included, Hodges said.

"Once the applications are completed, loans will be processed quickly because of the emergency nature of the situation," Hodges said Wednesday.

He noted that other businesses besides farms were likely to be eligible for disaster loans also.

"It would cover any farm-related business that lost trade as a result of the farm situation," he said. "An implement company, a grain elevator or even a department store whose sales were down because the farmers didn't have the money to buy what they would normally have purchased, in fact almost any business could qualify for low-interest, offsetting SBA loans.

Even insect losses might be attributable to the weather, Hodges noted that, if the cotton had been planted earlier, the bolls would have been tougher than when the bollworms struck and the damage might not have been so heavy.

"It's up to the ASCS inspector," he said, to make the determination, but it's been done before."

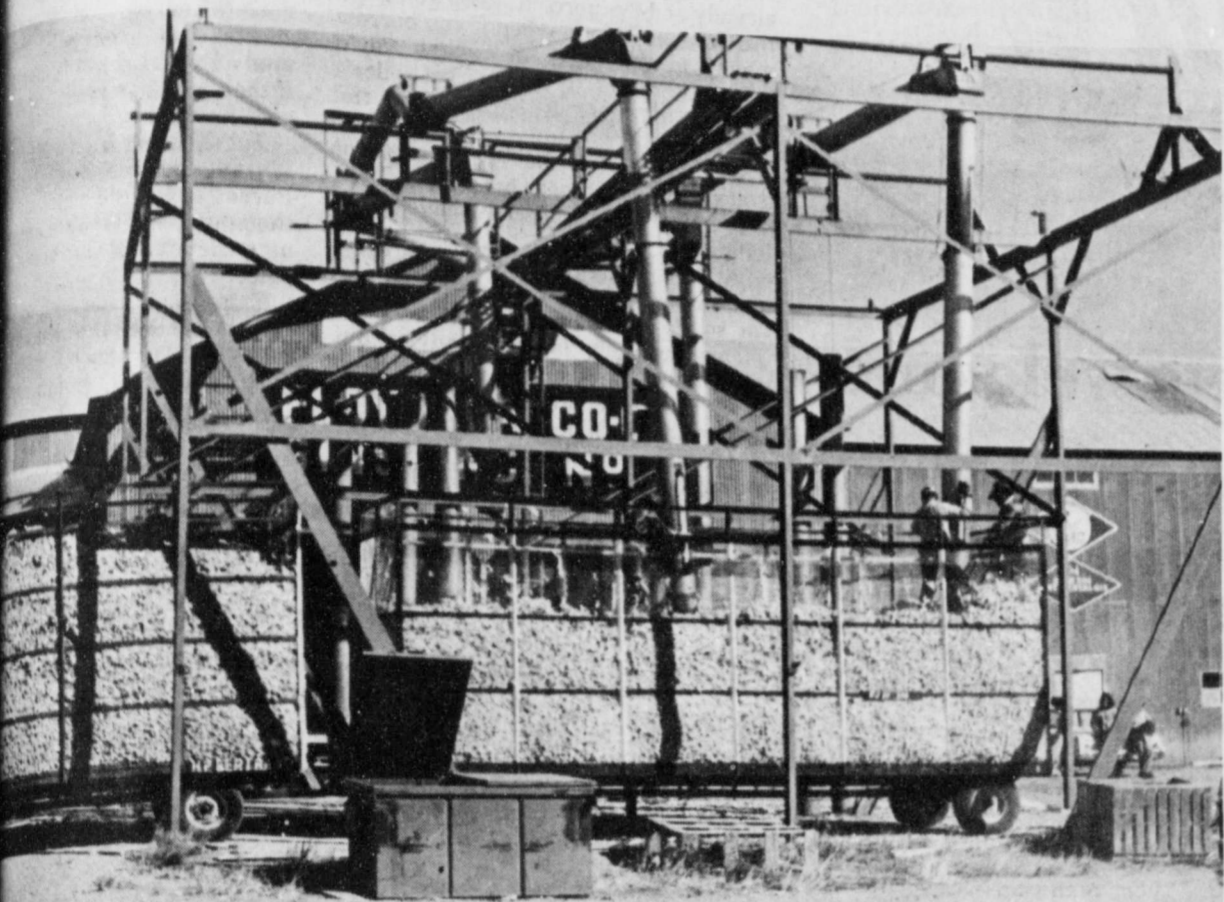

The loans available to crop producers are made at either five percent or seven and three-eighths percent, depending on the applicant's ability to obtain credit from other sources.

The loans are repayable on terms determined by the applicant's ability to repay. Up to half the loan may be used for 1979 operating debt repayment with the balance to be used for crop production next year.

Applicants may borrow up to the amount of the actual loss as verified by the county ASCS committee. The SBA cannot duplicate insurance, ASCS, FmHA or other assistance received. In determining eligibility, the SBA uses the formula Acres planted X established normal yield X percentage of loss X market price - recoveries = loss amount.

The disaster declaration was made in Floyd County Oct. 10 because of damaging weather on June 14 and 23, July 4, 9, 18, 25 and 30. Farmers in the area are eligible for relief on physical losses filed before April 10, 1980 and on economic losses filed before July 10, 1980.

Floyd County was declared ineligible for a disaster declaration on crop losses caused by hail, rain, wind and unseasonably cool weather during the period prior to June 13, 1979. The SBA noted that the 60-day time limit on that declaration had expired.

Ricky Strange qualifies for ### ordin-Simmons orienteering

Strange, son of Mr. R.L. and Crawford of Floydada, made the Simons University Cross Orienteering Varsity this fall in

The following weekend yet another win was registered by the Abilene team at the Southern Open Orienteering Meet hosted by Northeastern Louisiana University in Monroe La., on the 20-21 of Oct.

Though he has not made the team of four, which belongs to seniors, Ricky is the youngest of the varsity.

Orienteering is a unique sport that combines cross country running with map reading and compass proficiency in what is commonly called the thinking man's sport. Athletes attempt to out run other competitors while navigating on courses through wooded or hilly terrain between 5 to 6 miles in length.

MAKES TEAM — Ricky Strange, pictured here in his HSU band uniform, made this semester's orienteering squad.

No school classes tomorrow

Classes will be held in the Independent School District this Friday, according to district superintendent Jerry Cannon.

The district teachers have scheduled a meeting for that date, Cannon said. Classes will also be let out early Thursday Nov. 1, Cannon added.

Students will hold 'Haunted House'

'Haunted House' will be held this night, Oct. 27, but the Youth Center of the First Baptist Church

Those attending need to meet in the parking lot of Aiken Church at 8:00 to be taken to the "Haunted House." For the younger set who cannot get a ride, they may meet in the parking lot of First Baptist of Lockney at 7:30, where an Aiken vehicle will take them to the church.

According to Dennis Noblett, minister, "the Haunted House will be a young people from seventh through high school. After that, it's young in heart!"

A fellowship will be held following the "Haunted House" with "food and fun and a true horror story" says Noblett. "The best part is with 'Uncle George.'"

Floydadan becomes fourth generation to enter business here

Collins has carried on a family tradition by becoming the fourth generation of his family to operate a business in Floydada.

Meanwhile, his son, Eugene Morris, moved to Floydada from Leonard. Eugene purchased his father's store and then Mitchell Hardware. He moved the business to 215 S. Main, where it remained until 1975.

Collins is holding his grand opening for his new store, Collins Appliance, in Floydada, which is the fourth line of business in which the family has prospered.

But after a while, Eugene dropped the grocery line and became the local John Deere agency under the name Collins Implement.

Collins family saga began in 1916, when John Steele moved here. He was born in Iowa before the Civil War and lived through Reconstruction, coming to Texas for the first time in 1890.

Eventually he took his son, John Charles, into the business. John Charles took over running the operation from his father until the elder Collins retired in 1960.

Steele supported his family through the hard times during and after the war. His father apparently died while fighting for the Union.

John Charles remained general manager until his sudden death in 1976. The fourth Collins, John Michael, began working in the store early, assisting his father. He stayed there for a short while after his father's death and finally sold his shares.

Collins relocated in Floydada, John Steele in the county's first wood shop. He built many of the homes for the city's pioneer families.

Having obtained a bachelor's degree in mechanical technology from Texas Tech in 1975, John Michael took a job with an Oklahoma engineering firm.

Collins and went into partnership with Stansell, his brother-in-law. The pair bought the Duncan grocery store and operated under the name Steele and Stansell.

He married the former Lu Ann Lovell, of Floydada, in 1976. She currently teaches at Andrews Ward School.

THREE GENERATIONS TOGETHER — Eugene Collins, Mike Collins and John Charles Collins are the three most recent of their family to operate businesses in Floydada.

County library included in grant

The Floyd County library was one of 29 such institutions in the surrounding area to qualify for membership in the West Texas Library System for the year that began Sept. 1.

As a member of the system, the county library will be able to take part in cooperative activities to improve library service and to increase the range of library materials available in the area.

This was not the first time that Floyd County had qualified for membership, according to head librarian Jackie Walls.

"We've been qualified for a long time," she said.

To carry out the programs, the 29-county system will receive a $246,607 grant from the Texas State Library appropriated funds.

"We'll get approximately $2,200 worth of Federally-funded nonfiction books," Mrs. Walls said. "We're also on the film circuit and get paperbacks from the system."

The head librarian explained that she receives films every 30 days which she uses and then passes on to the next library in the system, "a round-robin sort of thing."

"We will be adding a juvenile nonfiction section this year," Mrs. Walls noted, "which is something we haven't had before."

Much of the earlier grant money was used for reference books and encyclopedias, she said.

Under the new grant, system services in the area will focus on providing technical assistance to libraries and on increasing the range of print and audiovisual materials available to them.

Emphasis will be placed on sound filmstrips in children's literature and on guidance for pre-school-aged children.

The 16-millimeter film collection will be expanded for the system, in addition to new rotation packets for the filmstrips.

Lions Art Festival spaces all sold

All the spaces for the Floydada Lions Club Arts and Crafts Festival have been sold, according to Olin Watson, one of the show organizers.

The annual show and sale will be held Dec. 1 at the Massie Activity Center, Watson said. Thirty six artists from the South Plains area will set up booths to display hundreds of art items.

Approximately two thirds of the artists are from Floyd County, with a good representation from other counties, Watson said.

Members of the art show committee are Watson, James Cates and Wilson Bond.

Featured in the show will be the works of Jackie Gregory, Jo Goen, Gayle Daniel, Winnie Carthel, Linda Hinsley, Dwayne Franklin, Lesca Durham, Lanny Glascock, Britt and Margaret Gregory, Juanita Teeple, Byron Hendricks, Mrs. J.D. Nash, and the Alpha Sigma Upsilon service sorority all of Floydada.

Artists from Lockney who purchased spaces were Lisa Mosely, Kathy Kellison, Kathy Thornton, Chuck Wilson, Ginger Mathis and Nita Henderson. Plainview artists appearing at the show will be Terry and June Keltz, the Quincy China Shop and Dale Irvin.

Also exhibiting works at the Lions show will be Brenda Ballew of Sudan; J.Z. Keltz of Matador; Dood's Frames of Sudan; William Minkley from Dumas; Dwayne Cornelius of Crosbyton; Delbert Eubanks of Lubbock; Jacquita Welch of Canyon; Mary Montandon of Aiken; Daryl Brooks of Canyon; the Nail Barn in Brownfield; Lynn Williams of Sudan; and Mike McCullough of Amarillo.

The show will open at 10 a.m. and close at 5 p.m.

Honor Society to induct Floydada students

The National Honor Society will induct 15 Floydada high school students into its ranks at 1:30 p.m. today in the high school auditorium, according to principal Charles Tyer.

Each of the junior and senior students selected for the honor society maintained a grade average of at least 90 percent and were screened by members of the faculty at Floydada High, Tyer said.

Selection for the society was based on each student's scholarship, leadership, character and service to the school and community.

The induction will be followed by a short social gathering to honor the students' parents.

Joyce Kimble is the Floydada National Honor Society sponsor.

Absentee ballots for Nov. 6 election available at county clerk's office

Absentee ballots for the Nov. 6 state constitutional election will be accepted until Nov. 2, according to Margaret Collier, the Floyd County clerk.

The county clerk's office reported Wednesday that they had not received any ballots nor any inquiries.

Persons who plan to be out of the county on election day may pick up their absentee ballots at the clerk's office in the county courthouse in Floydada.

Three items, the proposed amendments to the state constitution, will be on the ballot.

The propositions deal with having the state attorney general appoint notaries public on a statewide basis, giving the legislature authority to review state-agency rulemaking and the legislation that would allow state-guaranteed loans to qualified farmers and ranchers.

KISS - threat or menace?

The music concert scheduled to be put on Halloween night in Lubbock by the rock group KISS has stirred a controversy between teenagers and their parents that has reached even into the homes of many Floydadans.

The colorful (let's be generous) group scares the daylights out of many of the "over 30" generation. They've been called everything from devil-worshippers with actual Satanic powers over their listeners to a bunch of mindless maniacs.

But as a person, I feel, judging from the evidence that I've seen, the whole thing is a tempest in a teapot. My parents got uptight when John Lennon announced that the Beatles "were more popular than Jesus Christ."

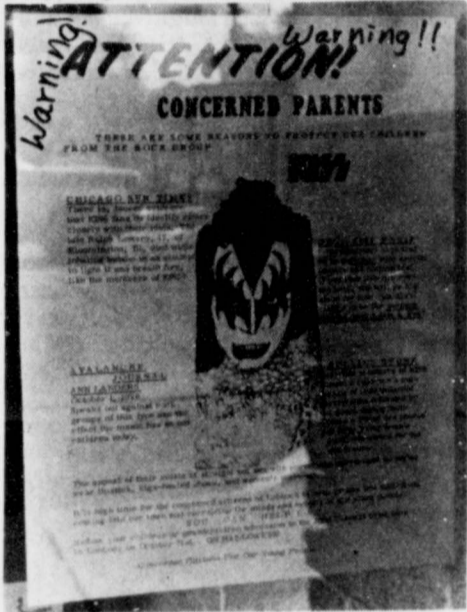

My grandmother forbade my mother to bring Benny Goodman records into the house and my great grandmother almost had a heart attack when her daughter strolled in with bobbed hair.

My father's family were ranchers and didn't get out much.

One of the musicians does a fire-breathing act that some people are afraid youngsters will try to copy. I have a very sharp recollection of being ten years old (long before KISS ever happened) and sneaking off with a can of lighter fluid and matches to practice the same stunt.

It was lots of fun until the day I came home with burned lips and a foul taste in my mouth. Not only did I heal, I also learned a valuable lesson about fire-breathing.

The young are young only once. I suspect that if we give them their head to judge what is right for themselves we may be pleasantly surprised.

WARNING — This anti-KISS poster appeared recently on the post office window.

Rep. Foster Whaley to scrutinize grain marketing procedures

State Rep. Foster Whaley will join a group of Texas legislators taking a hard look at problems concerning the sale and marketing of grain when a House agriculture and livestock subcommittee meets in the Commissioners' Courtroom at Gray County Courthouse at 2 p.m. Saturday (Oct. 27).

State Rep. Susan G. McBee, chairman of the Agriculture Commodities subcommittee, said the newly appointed panel will organize and hear testimony on all phases of the grain marketing procedure. The Del Rio Lawmaker encouraged all area farmers and agri-businessmen to attend and participate in the hearing.

Committee member Whaley said he will ask the subcommittee to launch a study of the feasibility of a state grain insurance corporation similar to the FDIC program for lending institutions. "Instead of guaranteeing one's money, the SGIC would insure the value of farmers' grain. The present cost of adequately bonding any size grain elevator is prohibitive," he explained.

Whaley said he has several ideas about establishing the program, but at this point he is "wide open for suggestions from farmers."

Other subcommittee members are Betty Denton, D-Waco; Bill Keese, D-Somerville; Pete Patterson, D-Brookston; and ex-officio member Forrest Green, D-Corsicana. Agriculture and Livestock Committee chairman.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White Attorney General

Are you tired of exorbitant utility bills? Although we may not be able to amount, there are several things we can do to reduce the amount of energy we use to heat and cool our homes.

Many Texas houses are constructed in such a way that they lose two to four times the total volume of their interior air in one hour's time. This leakage, called "air infiltration," occurs anytime there is an uncontrolled movement of air into or out of a home. Recent studies have shown that the major sources of air infiltration are the sole plate (the bottom 2x4 or 2x6 in the homes' wall construction), electrical outlets, exterior windows, fireplaces, vents for bathrooms, dryers and ovens, and recessed lighting fixtures.

The cost of stopping air infiltration depends on the source of the problem and how accessible it is. In most cases, however, caulking and weatherstripping will reduce air infiltration dramatically.

Insulation is another way to greatly reduce the amount of energy used to heat and cool our homes. I also is one of the most cost-efficient in that a properly insulated attic often will pay for itself in energy savings in one year's time. Insulation also is easy to install; an easy do-it-yourself project.

When air infiltration is reduced and a home is insulated, then the air cooling/heating system will not be forced to work as hard and a substantial savings can be achieved.

Perhaps the quickest way to same money is by controlling the air conditioning thermostat. A savings of 4% or more will be gained on monthly air conditioning bills for each degree up in the summer or down in the winter. Further adjustments to the thermostat when the house is unoccupied or when people are sleeping will add even more to the savings. Fans that circulated air enable the thermostat to be set higher in the summer and lower in the winter by boosting the movement of cool air through a house and circulating downward the warmer air that collects at the ceiling.

Next to air conditioning, a hot water heater is the biggest single user of energy in the home. Savings can be had by adjusting the water heater's thermostat down to 120 degrees (Fahrenheit). Also, the efficiency of the water heater can be increased by checking for leaking pipes and faucets, proper insulation and by draining several gallons of water each month to remove rust and sediment.

Many of us love to sit in front of the fireplace on a winter's evening. Unfortunately, while we are sitting there, many fireplaces draw out of the house nearly as much warm air as they put into the house. If your fireplace does not have an outside air intake for combustion, then the fire will draw upon air from the living area. A glass front can be installed to shut off air escaping from the living area and will actually help radiate heat into the home. Finally, dampers should be tight fitting and should always be closed when the fireplace is not in use.

Try to use as many of these energy saving tips as you can. You may be pleasantly surprised at the money you will save.

Ty Williams gets welcome news about diagnosis

The Jerry Williams family of the Providence community experienced what Kay Williams described as "the two greatest shocks of our lives" in the span of about three days last week.

The first shock was learning that the Williams' son Ty, 15, had lymphoma, a malignant tumor of the lymph glands. The second shock was the almost too-good-to-be-true news that the diagnosis of cancer was incorrect!

The second and more pleasant shock came in a Lubbock hospital just as Ty and the family were preparing (they thought) for a series of cancer treatments for the Lockney High School student.

Mrs. Williams said a "knot" was removed from Ty's arm at a Plainview hospital Monday of last week. A doctor there told the Williamses that there was a malignancy, and that they should tell Ty and go immediately to Lubbock or Houston (Lubbock was just as good, he said) to start treatment.

By Wednesday afternoon, the youngster was hospitalized at Lubbock, where a specialist said he would stay for two or three days. Ty had undergone a "body scan" and blood tests before Mrs. Williams' mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Golden, arrived at the hospital about 4:30 p.m. with "slides" of tissue from Ty's arm.

The pathologist at Lubbock looked at the slides, then called in several other doctors to inspect the tissue samples. The slides, the body scan, and the blood tests all showed no signs of malignancy.

The doctors at Lubbock told the Williamses: "We believe there has been a mistake in the diagnosis." They said they believed Ty's problem was "...a viral infection, which has probably already taken care of itself..."

"It was a very easy mistake to make," one of the Lubbock doctors told the Williamses. "We can see how it could have been diagnosed as lymphoma." (Incidentally, Mrs. Williams said the earlier diagnosis was not made at the Plainview hospital but at an out-of-town lab.)

Mrs. Williams said Ty thought his father was kidding when he rushed into the hospital room a few minutes later saying "Get your clothes — we're going home!"

But Jerry Williams wasn't joking — what the Williams family had hardly dared to hope for was true.

The Williams family returned home Wednesday night, and things are nearly back to normal now. But Mrs. Williams says they'll never forget the love and concern shown by all their friends when they thought Ty had cancer.

Congressional Comment:

Rep. Charles Stenholm

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In response to the rapid rise in hospital costs, the House Ways and Means Committee recently reported the Hospital Cost Containment Act. This legislation would place mandatory controls on hospital bills if price increases go above a certain rate.

The bill, as proposed, establishes a cumbersome method for reducing the cost of health care by placing a lid on revenues, but does nothing to decrease the expenses that hospitals must pay.

No one can dispute the fact that rapid cost escalations have occurred in the health services industry because of a combination of factors. The cost of malpractice insurance has risen from $100 million in 1972 to $1 billion a year. The hospital industry is subjected to an extraordinary amount of regulation by government agencies. A recent study found that over $1.1 billion was spent in New York alone to comply with regulations. This amount represents 25 percent of hospital costs in New York state. Also Medicare and Medicaid reimbursements have greatly increased the demand for services by the poor and the elderly. From the inception of Medicare in 1965 to 1977, admissions of persons over 65 increased 62 percent and the number of inpatient days increased 39 percent.

In recent years we have seen a dramatic expansion and improvement in medical care. We have been paying higher prices for what we receive, but people are receiving more and better services. If hospital revenues are curtailed, then the quality and amount of care will be diminished. The implementation of technological innovations would be hampered because their introduction might increase costs. If a revenue shortage became severe then services would have to be rationed and could even be canceled. There is an alternative that is worse than high priced service and that is no service at all. We should give high priority to our health and not take actions that will prevent the delivery of health care.

Hospital Cost Containment could be particularly detrimental to our rural areas where medical services are scarce. The construction of new hospitals and the improvement of treatment has to be paid for. These necessary services cannot be provided if the money is not there.

The rapid rise in hospital costs must be confronted in the true spirit of free enterprise. Measures need to be taken to help lower the expenses that hospitals must pay. A more responsive and consistent regulatory policy that recognizes the needs of the patients and the health care industry would be a step in the right direction. Better utilization of existing services and the prevention of needless care must be addressed.

Legislation that confronts the results of high costs instead of the causes is doomed to failure. Hospital Cost Containment will not be effective and would provide an entirely inappropriate mechanism for attempting to reduce the rate of increase in hospital costs.

Bullock calls tax proposal

'An invitation to an income tax'

In a statement released to a House Ways and Means Subcommittee and read by assistant comptroller Walt Lillie, Bullock said "increasing the one percent city sales tax is nothing short of greed."

Bullock said the Governor's Mayors Advisory Committee is advocating a ridiculous proposal.

He said the 20 mayors who supported the idea and put it forward this week should first have their heads examined and then be given the "bad idea of the year" award.

Bullock warned that "opening the barn door to a mass raid on the sales tax will lead to an income tax, something I am convinced Texans want to avoid at all costs."

Bullock pointed out that Texas would be on the "same sad slide as New York City" with an eight percent sales tax if Texans had to pay a four percent state, three percent city and one percent transit tax as advocated by these mayors.

"And, it won't stop there, whatq we'll end up with is a sales tax for the mosquito control district, the drainage district, the navigation district, each city council member and so forth and so forth," he said.

He said by the time the dust has settled it won't be a question whether a person can afford a pair of shoes but rather pay the sales taxes on them.

Bullock said the state has reduced the ad valorem tax to next to nothing so state government won't be competing with property taxing efforts at local levels and that cities shouldn't be lusting after the state's chief tax resource.

State sales taxes last year produced about $2.5 billion in income — or nearly 42 percent of the taxes collected to pay for state government.

"I imagine that the counties and the school districts will want a sales tax too if the cities are going to continually grab every sales tax dollar they can to meet their budgets," he said.

"It's a rotten idea. Shame on these mayors for even suggesting it."

Floyd Philosopher comes up with an idea for still one more department in Washington

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on White River comes up with some more ideas this week, perhaps.

Dear editor:

I was just thinking, if interest rates, already at 14 1/2 percent, keep going up, the time may come when if you borrow money at one desk in a bank you'd better then race to the nearest teller's window and pay it back before the interest eats you up.

In the face of the rising costs of everything you touch, financial leaders and government officials have been telling us the only way to handle inflation is to tighten our belts. "We're in for a period of austerity and we've all got to clamp down," they say.

This probably is sound advice but they ought to get somebody else to tell us. A Congressman making $57,300 a year with all utilities paid, coming out on the steps of the capitol after just voting himself a $3,000 raise, is just not

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The curtain opened last week on the second act of a political drama that has promised for weeks to put the Governor of Texas and the Texas Attorney General on a collision course in the courtroom.

Attorney General Mark White filed suit in a Houston federal court last week seeking $10 million in damages from SEDCO, the oil drilling firm founded by Gov. Bill Clements, and a Mexican drilling firm, Permargo.

White told reporters he will seek to prove negligence on the part of both drilling firms in connection with the Ixtoc I oil well blowout, the largest in history, which washed millions of barrels of crude oil onto Texas beaches this summer.

Although the well is still flowing, engineers last week managed to slow the flow with a giant metal cap placed over the wellhole on the Gulf floor.

White told reporters he declined to sue PEMEX, the Mexican government-owned oil company, because he did not want to interfere with U.S.-Mexico negotiations for damages in regard to the oil spill.

However, he left open the door on such legal action, should the negotiations fail to satisfy Texas interests. "We are refraining (from suing PEMEX) until it is certain that all negotiations by the U.S. Department of State for damages from Mexico have been exhausted," he said.

Clements Says "Politics"

White said several weeks ago, after he discovered SEDCO had scuttled the damaged drilling rig in deep international waters, that he would include SEDCO in the negligence lawsuit.

The Dallas-based drilling firm was founded by Republican Gov. Bill Clements, who turned it over to his son in a blind trust when he took office. Clements has charged that the suit is "politically motivated."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton are two leaders whom Democrats are considering running against Clements in 1982. Several Clements supporters think White is maneuvering to have himself become a third choice, but so far White has mentioned only lawsuits, not gubernatorial races.

Meanwhile, SEDCO filed suit early last month to have all liability limited in a suit against SEDCO.

Fuel Tax Increase

Regarding tax issues, Clements last week said he will propose that the next Legislature increase the state gasoline tax, the lowest in the nation.

In concurrence with Hobby, Clements said the drop in gasoline sales has caused a shortage of revenues for highway construction. The gas tax is levied on the pumps, and motorists are driving because of the tax. The VA office is located at North Valley Mills...

Earlier, Clements said Texas mayors are pushing for an increase in the tax for cities from five cents.

The Mayors' Alliance had urged him to increase to replace all or part of the revenues. Current revenues are one-cent sales tax and a four-cent state sales tax.

The mayors would like lower property taxes and with the sales tax increase said he had no objection this time.

Floydada netters finish fifth in Plainview Invitational tournament

Floydada high school tennis netters finished fifth in the Plainview Invitational tennis tournament Saturday but were outplayed by larger schools with a number of players to draw from.

It's like a fat doctor prescribing a diet for a patient, and the doctor telling him to eat out smoking.

Let's change the subject. The Department of Education is short on energy. Why not get the idea.

Washington has come up with a bureau to cut red tape, and the staff at its source in the clearly calls for another thought. They may have a better getting qualified members.

Floydada defeated Dimmitt's Vera 6-2, 6-3 for 11th position.

In the first round of boys' doubles, David Galvan and Sammy Rodriguez outgunned Chuck Wilson and Mike Grimley of Abernathy 6-1, 6-0. Tommy Myrick and James Hale fell to Coronado's Nirmal Jayaslelan and Eddie Cervoski 6-1, 6-4.

Galvan and Rodriguez won their second round match over Larry Fintel and Robbie Couch of Monterey 6-0, 6-1. The Myrick-Hale team defeated David Byrd and Robert Box of Plainview 6-1, 6-2.

Galvan and Rodriguez lost in the third round to Coronado's Chad Northington and Jordan Taylor 6-3, 6-4. Myrick and Hale dropped their third round match also, to Sam Doominguez and Robert Pinson of Abernathy, 7-6, 6-1.

Galvan and Rodriguez defeated Plainview's Havenhill and Reecer to win the third place spot 1-6, 6-3, 6-2. Myrick and Hale took the 11th-place position by downing Abernathy's Wilson and Grimley 6-0, 6-2.

In the girls' singles matches, Susan Hendrix lost her first round to Sharon Landry of Plainview 6-0, 6-0, while Christi Norrell dropped hers to Lupe Saucedo of Dimmitt 6-2, 6-1. Hendrix won her second round match over Dimmitt's Ross 6-4, 6-3, while Crystal Zinser of Hereford defeated Norrell 7-5, 6-1.

In the third round, Hendrix downed Carol Benton of Abernathy 6-3, 7-6. Norrell won her match with Julie Terrell of Plainview 6-0, 6-1.

Hereford's Zinser defeated Hendrix in the seventh place playoffs 6-1, 6-0, putting Hendrix in ninth place.

Norrell defeated Dimmitt's Ross 6-1, 7-5 to capture the 12th-place spot.

Floydada's Stacy Graham and Mary Trevino defeated Rhonda Royal and Delores Flores of Abernathy 6-0, 6-0 in the first round of girls' doubles. D'Lee Marble and Yolanda Medrano lost their first-round match to Beverly Smith and Sandra Nannini of Coronado 6-0, 6-1.

The Floyd County Hesperian Sports

Storms, accidents on the lines, or lightning may cause an occasional interruption of electric service in urban as well as rural areas. But when it happens on the electric cooperative lines, radio controlled service people are on their way in seconds. With no traffic jams or signal lights, the cooperative service people can speed to the trouble spot and restore service. The member-owned electric cooperative was first to serve their rural areas. They're still first in service.

Younger may return to lineup Friday

Moody Younger, the Floydada Whirlwind player who suffered a knee injury three weeks ago that kept him out of the lineup so far, may resume playing against Idalou Friday, according to head coach L.G. Wilson.

In the other positions, Wilson elected to keep the team positions that took the Whirlwinds to victory last week over the Lockney Longhorns.

Troy Marquis will call the signals for the 'Winds, with Mac Collins, Jeff Rainey and Mike Self in the backfield.

On the offensive line, Danny Nutt and Tracy Womack will be at the end positions. Rex Reves and Mike Allen will hold down the tackle spots with David Welborn and either Keith Nixon or Duncan Woody at guard.

Tim Radloff will snap the ball and Bill Gray will handle the punting game.

On the defensive squad, Neal Becker and Jeff Rainey will be at the ends. Tim Radloff and Keith Nixon will keep a lid on the opposing line at tackle. Mac Collins and Duncan Woody will play inside linebacker. Norman Allen or Mark Nutt will share the corner linebacker spot with Danny Nutt.

Tracy Womack and Mike Self will be at the halfback positions with Todd Beedy at safety.

Joey Luna will do the kickoffs and points after touchdown.

The Floydada Whirlwinds will face the Idalou Wildcats. Many observers rate the Wildcats as the toughest team the Whirlwinds will face in district play.

Jenny Paty wins $10 in football contest

All three top prizewinners in this week's Hesperian Football Forecast contest had to be determined by the tie breaker.

All three missed only five guesses in the contest, but Jenny Paty had the entry closest to the actual total points scored in the Floydada-Lockney game. She said that Floydada would win and that 28 points would be scored. The score was 21 to nothing.

Christi Pruitt came in second, also with five misses, and guessing that 32 points would be scored in the game.

Mrs. Bill Tye missed five games and thought that 38 points would be scored in the Lockney game.

The correct answers to this week's contest were Abernathy, Morton Arkansas, Seminole, Houston, Tascosa, Lorenzo, Texas Tech, Dallas Cowboys, Abilene, Canyon, Washington Redskins, USC, TCU, Coronado, Valley, UCLA, Slaton, North Texas State, Roosevelt, Happy, Muleshoe and Littlefield.

Floydada won the tie breaker.

Female dogs hunt better after being spayed

Female dogs are good hunting dogs, but the dog owner who spends time training his female dog, only to have her come into heat when hunting season arrives, is often a disappointed hunter.

That's a shame, because females seem to hold their own with males as hunting dogs. For example, in the past four years that the United Kennel Club has chosen World Coonhound Champions, females were champions during two of those years, according to Fred T. Miller, President of UKC.

Spaying has been a logical answer to the problems of female hunting dogs coming into heat for some hunters. But many hunters don't like the permanence of spaying and have turned to Cheque, a liquid contraceptive available from veterinarians, which keeps a female out of heat with a daily dose of drops placed either on the dog's food or in her mouth.

Developer of the unique drug did 10 years of testing on well over 2,000 dogs in both field situations and laboratories. One hunter who participated in the field tests was Justin R. Kromminga of Kalamazoo, Michigan. He started his Brittany Spaniel, Babe, on Cheque in 1972, and continued administering the birth control drops through her reproductive years. Even at age 15 she was able to hunt every day of the season.

Kromminga says he decided to start Babe on the birth control drug after six years of untimely heat periods and periodic episodes with false pregnancy.

He believes that an unspayed dog is a better hunter. "The biggest factor affecting hunting ability must be related to natural instincts, and I can't help but feel that removal of reproductive organs just might negatively affect these instincts," he says.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon member Lynn Daniel displays the 3rd place ribbon and $10 check won by Alpha's scrapbook entry in the convention held in Wichita Falls October 20. Others attending the convention were Rhonda Guthrie, Gaya Hale and June McGaugh.

Alpha Sigma Upsilon scrapbook wins at area convention

Four members of Alpha Sigma Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi — Lynn Daniel, Rhonda Guthrie, Gaya Hale and June McGaugh — attended the Northwest Texas Area Convention in Wichita Falls on October 20 and 21. Upon arrival, members registered at the Trade Winds Motel, where they received 'tote bags' containing various items, including a charm by which to remember the convention. The many scrapbooks and yearbooks that had been entered in the competition were on display, and a flea market was held in the Clipper Room.

The theme of the convention was Red River Roundup, and some 350 members arrived at the activities center wearing western attire. Convention chairman Barbara Cagle presented the welcome for the evening's activities and introduced special guest Marge Thomas of the International Office in Kansas City, Missouri. The program included a style show by Wichita Western World. Among the models were the cow chip throwing champion and the barrel racing champion of Wichita. Members of Red River Square Dance Association danced several popular musical numbers. A "chili pow wow" of chili, beans, crackers, saucy bars, coffee and iced tea was served by the Muleskinners of Iowa Park.

Sunday morning, members enjoyed a continental breakfast in the Bounty Room. After returning to the activities center, a program was presented by members of the Wichita Falls High School acappella choir. A "Hollywood Squares" program was presented by several Wichita members. In the process, many questions about the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority were answered. Members enjoyed a chuck wagon barbecue consisting of ham, beef, sausage, beans, potato salad, cole slaw, relish tray, pudding, iced tea and coffee.

West reunion held in Alabama

Mrs. Paul Murff and Mrs. Lucile Lynch of Lamesa flew to Tuscaloosa, Ala. to attend the West Family Reunion held Oct. 15, 16 and 17 at the Stafford Inn. A chartered bus tour was made of the ancestral homes, the churches and various cemeteries where the Wests' ancestors were buried. The Wests' ancestors settled in the area in the 1830's.

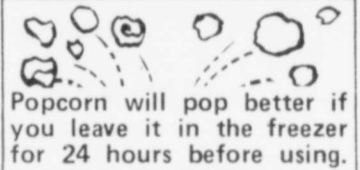

A highlight of the reunion was meeting descendants of two West families who were lost to relatives after the men were killed in the Civil War. The younger relative had made contact last summer and were invited to the reunion. They are working on their family "lines" to be added to the West family records.

There were 68 relatives from 8 states present. 20 first cousins attended.

The next reunion will be in 2 years, with the locale, time of year and arrangements to be set by an elected committee.

Check Halloween Costumes For Safety

Halloween, check costumes for children's safety. (1) Check labels or packaging on bought costumes for flame-retardant finishes. Children may be exposed to many direct sources of fire such as lighted pumpkins, colorful candles or open fires for toasting marshmallows. (2) Sew or glue reflective tape to both front and back of the costume. Be creative and incorporate the tape into the costume design. (3) When possible, choose light-colored costumes — they will be more visible to motorists. (4) Check labels or packaging on bought costumes for flame-retardant finishes. Children may be exposed to many direct sources of fire such as lighted pumpkins, colorful candles or open fires for toasting marshmallows. (5) For home-sewn costumes, select fabrics with a flame-retardant finish.

To cheer these ones along...
So get your "vocals" ready And burst right out in song!

Thursday, October 18 was birthday party time again at the rest home, with ladies of the City Park church of Christ hosting the occasion. Residents of the home were ushered into the dining room with the honorees being seated at the "honor" table, where their places were marked with special cards. The table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of silk flowers in a hand painted bowl.

The birthday poem was read and all joined in singing the "birthday" song. A delicious refreshment plate of tangy fruit punch and zucchini cake was served to residents, honorees, guests and employees. An added delight to the refreshment plate was a special birthday cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Charlie Hargus and her sister Ruth Carr of Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Verna McSwain welcomed as her guests, her brother Earl Crawford and grandsons Byron and Larry Kendrick. A special delight to Mrs. Iris Colston was having her granddaughter-in-law Sherry Colston with her, and sharing the festivities with Mrs. Jessie Freeman was her husband Merell and a son and his wife Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gene Freeman of Odessa. A guest of the entire group was Vel Darden. We welcome all guests who will join us each time and we hope those of you who have a relative or close friend being honored will make a special effort to be present.

The next party will be Thursday, November 15, at 2:30 p.m.

Catastrophe

The destruction of Pompeii, Italy more than 1,900 years ago still ranks as the world's greatest catastrophe, according to many observers. Mt. Vesuvius, a volcano, woke Pompeii's 25,000 residents on the morning of August 24 in the year 79 A.D. Pompeii and two near by towns were quickly covered under a layer of black volcanic pumice — killing more than 18,000 people.

Should children be protected from talk about death and dying? Some families believe a child should never attend a funeral. There are young adults who have never had any contact with persons in mourning.

Eda LeShan, educator, writer and family counselor, has written a book for older children entitled LEARNING TO SAY GOOD-BY and subtitled "When a Parent Dies." She answers the questions that a child may have been afraid to ask and explains something about the process of grief and the emotions that can be expected. She says, "It hurts when you grieve for the loss of someone you love. You might think it is better to act strong and brave — that painful experiences that are not discussed will just be forgotten. But people who try to run away from their feelings suffer longer than those who express them."

The child will learn from this book about death and grieving but also about living. If the child is too young to read the book, it would be a good one for someone to read to him.

Love — at least a form of "love" — is the theme of most popular songs. There's a tremendous amount of talk about love...but how much genuine love is there? In JESUS LOVES ME, R. Earl Allen assures you that you can have love in a world of violence and hate. If you are a person who feels, at least for now, "nobody loves me," this book has a message for you. It is a testimony of reassurance from this former pastor.

Gasohol

the High Octane Unleaded

TRY IT YOURSELF

Floydada Travel Center

GASOHOL

Gasohol is a motor fuel blended of 9 parts gasoline, 1 part distilled alcohol. The alcohol is made from corn and other grains which are RENEWABLE energy sources.

Gasohol offers an exciting potential for extending our limited and costly petroleum supplies.

BETTER FOR YOUR CAR

Extensive tests, laboratory and "on the road," show that the gasohol blend provides...
... a higher octane fuel
... increased mileage per gallon
... better engine performance, with less "knock" and "ping"
... reduced engine deposits
... less gas-line freeze-ups
... cleaner exhaust emissions

A no-lead product, a gasohol blend will work in your vehicle without engine or carburetor modification...and work better!

BENEFITS FOR FARMERS

Because grain alcohol uses corn and other farm-grown products, its use for automotive fuel offers a new and sizeable market for surplus farm products.

Even limited use of gasohol would provide enough demand for America's corn to utilize the current grain surplus and allow farmers to continue to profitably produce grain at capacity.

BENEFITS FOR ECONOMY

Our domestic supply of oil is limited, paying $22 a barrel for imported oil, volume which is creating a huge trade deficit and undermining the dollar.

By using gasohol, using alcohol-based, renewable, domestic sources, we can...
... reduce costly oil imports
... protect against another embargo
... boost the farm economy
... give Department of Energy a major contribution to its search for "alternative" fuel sources.

GASOHOL

Makes your car run better
Increases M.P.G., cuts pollution
Helps agriculture
Creates jobs
Extends fuel supplies

Deserves Everybody's Support
If gasohol makes sense to you, let us know. We can help make it widely available.

Buy and use gasohol in your car. Let your friends know about gasohol. Urge the gas stations you deal with to carry gasohol, and let those gasohol dealers know you appreciate their services.

Lubbock Chamber of Commerce
 Announces Livestock
 Show Cancellation

The Lubbock Chamber of Commerce announced today that the Southwest Junior Livestock Show would not be held in 1980 and subsequent years. It has been deleted from the program of the Chamber and will be replaced by other programs of support of the livestock industry and of youth activities in the West Texas area.

These activities will include "know how" seminars on livestock production, individual work with local 4H and FFA Chapters and a greater participation of the Chamber in local West Texas county stock show activities beginning in January, 1980.

It was the feeling that the Southwest Junior Livestock Show in some respects was a duplication of effort insofar as stock shows are concerned. Funds were difficult to raise to support it and more good could be done for the livestock industry and youth activities programs by realigning the Chamber's emphasis.

When using a stone to sharpen your knife, hold the back of the blade at a 10 to 15 degree angle from the stone and stroke the cutting edge against the stone in one direction (see arrow). Stroke from the heel of the blade to the point, first one side, then the other. Honing oil applied to stone assures smooth strokes, floats loose particles away.

Big day planned at First Baptist Church

Sunday is going to be a big day at First Baptist Church in Floydada, according to Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor. Several scheduled events promise to make it an exciting day of Bible study, worship and praise.

The church will be participating in the Southern Baptist Convention's annual high attendance day, called "Great Day in the Morning." An attendance goal of 700 in Sunday School has been set by department directors and workers at First Baptist. Members and visitors are invited to help reach the goal.

Sunday is also Picture Day at First Baptist. A group photograph will be taken in every Sunday School department. These photographs will be displayed in the departments at a later date. Children who ride the

Rural poor and elderly from Food Stamp Program

The rural poor and the elderly are the chief beneficiaries of changes in the food stamp program which took effect last January, according to a study soon to be issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Testifying before the House Committee on Agriculture, Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland said dropping the requirement that people must come up with a lump sum of cash to buy their food stamps added 2.9 million people to the program. Nearly half that number, he said, are the rural poor. At the same time, he said, the number of elderly households in the program increased by 32 percent while all others increased by only 14 percent.

Citing the study, which evaluates the effect of 1977 food stamp reform legislation, Bergland said, "the gap between the poor and the rest of the country appears to be widening."

While overall incomes have increased by 31 percent between February 1976 and April 1979, he said preliminary department data suggest incomes of people using food stamps increased at less than one-third that rate. These same data indicate that the majority of food stamp households have gross incomes of less than $300 a month or $3,600 a year.

In addition, the study showed that between 500,000 and 700,000 people were dropped from the program when income eligibility limits were lowered this year. In addition, several million people received cuts in benefits, according to Bergland.

Bergland also said each 1 percent increase in unemployment adds 750,000 people to food stamp rolls. Because of rising unemployment and continued inflation, he said, the cost of the food stamp program could increase from $6.9 billion in fiscal 1979 to $8.3 billion in fiscal 1980.

Bergland said increases in participation as a result of

Library News

November 15 is the day of the White House conference when delegates from every state in the union will meet to promote the needs of libraries and to urge the President and Congress to enact a National Library Act. The act would be based on the principles contained in the Javits/Kennedy study bill (S. 1124) which was filed in May.

To focus attention on the emphasis of that day, November 15 has been designated "Be with a book for a day." Everyone is encouraged to carry his or her favorite book for a day and to explain why, to anyone who will listen.

Nice Things That Have Happened To The Floyd County Library

Some of the nice things that have happened to the Floyd County Library recently are:

The heirs of the late Miss Winnie McLain, a former Floyd County resident, donated a slide projector and numerous slides of trips to Europe, Canada, Puerto Rico and other sites. The Floyd County Library staff say "Thanks to the thoughtfulness of Doris McLain."

Vernon Parker gave a copy of the book "The Eagle Squadron" by Vern Haigland.

Several fine art books have been presented to the library by Mrs. Nell Gilley of Fort Worth, who is a cousin of Olin Watson, Jr.

The library staff is always appreciative of memorial books.
