Cotton harvester smashes power pole in Floydada

An undetermined number of Floydada homes and businesses escaped losing their electric power early Tuesday afternoon when an over-height truck became entangled in power lines above Second Street.

A cotton harvester being hauled from Crosbyton to Dimmitt snagged the wires in front of the Minit Mart, splintering the pole.

"We had no trouble in the other towns," said truck driver Isidro Zarazua. "The wire was too low here and it hit."

The trailer truck hauling the harvester belonged to the C and S Equipment Co., of Dimmitt.

Floydada police chief Scott Newton and patrolman Freddie Holmes measured the combined height of the harvester and flatbed trailer at 17 feet and nine inches tall. Noting that the state maximum height for truck loads was 13 feet six inches, the lawmen ticketed the driver for being overheight.

City personnel blocked off traffic for one block between Missouri and California Streets for most of the afternoon while electric department workers removed the remnants of the shattered pole from the wires above the street. The workers dug out the base of the broken shaft and replaced it with a new one.

One dead telephone line had to be cut away. The force of the snapped pole also caused some damage to telephone lines that served approximately 15 homes in the area.

The only known loss in immediate electric service was to the signal light at the intersection of Second and Missouri Streets.

Floydada mayor Parnell Powell and city manager Bill Feuerbacher arrived to survey the damage shortly after the accident occurred.

The city would, indeed, Feuerbacher said, send a bill to the equipment company for the expenses incurred by the city in replacing the pole and tying up city workers and equipment. Feuerbacher declined to make any preliminary estimate of the total cost of making the repairs.

The city manager did note that the damage would have been much more extensive had the driver not noticed that the harvester was tangled and stopped the truck immediately. The harvester did not snap any city power lines.

The bin cover on the harvester was twisted out of shape by the force of the impact.

The remains of the pole dangled precariously above the street, suspended by the power wires, as city workers loosened the fittings. A second extension lift supported the pole top to keep it from crashing to the ground when all the bolts were undone.

The city personnel completed the operation in a matter of minutes, removing the damaged pole from its perch. The workers spent most of the afternoon installing a new pole and attaching the wires and insulators.

C and S employees unloaded the harvester from their truck and drove the machine to the local John Deere dealer for repairs.

A second pole, belonging to the Bell Telephone Co., received damage from connections being pulled from the wood.

Don Marble participates in seminar

COLLEGE STATION — Don Marble of South Plains, president of the High Plains Research Foundation, was among key agricultural leaders of Texas who participated in a recent seminar on "Cotton Marketing and Utilization" at Texas A&M University.

Dr. Perry L. Adkisson, A&M's vice president for agriculture and renewable resources, presided and Dr. Jarvis E. Miller, A&M president, welcomed the group and gave brief remarks.

The outlook for Texas cotton was presented by Dr. Carl Anderson, cotton marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Dr. G.A. Niles, researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and member of the A&M Soil and Crop Sciences Department, discussed genetic manipulation of cotton to meet production and market needs.

Dr. Jim Haskell, deputy administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Economics, Statistics, and Cooperatives Service, discussed research highlights and their present and future market impact.

History books arrive at county museum

A truckload of the long-awaited book "History of Floyd County" arrived at the county museum's front door Wednesday.

Nancy Marble, Georgia Finley and Jim Word, along with helper David Cates from the Farm Bureau and driver Bill Sandefur, spent a chilly morning unloading the books.

An estimated 1,400 Floyd County residents took advantage of the pre-publication prices and ordered their books ahead of time. But, Mrs. Marble noted, there are a limited number of books available for over-the-counter sales at the museum.

The staff will sell the books for $37.50 each, tax included, at the Floyd County museum on the north side of Courthouse Square.

The books will go on sale immediately, Mrs. Marble said. The museum will open early Thursday, Friday and Saturday so persons who pre-ordered may pick up their books. Special hours for the museum on those days will be from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Mrs. Virginia Taylor, of Lockney, suggested that residents of outlying areas who come into Floydada Saturday for the Lions Club art show could also use that opportunity to pick up their books.

The history of Floyd County took two years to compile and print, according to Mrs. Marble. And even then, the book was not complete, she said. Some contributors turned in their family stories after the book was sent to press, leaving open the possibility for a revised edition in a few years.

The book is essentially a collection of family and community histories, Mrs. Marble said. Individual family members gathered and wrote their portions and submitted them to the museum for inclusion. The first material began to come in to the museum in November, 1977.

In addition to a photohistory of the county, sketches by the late Ted Bell and the late Felicia Louise Applewhite illustrate the history book.

The county museum will return to normal operating hours, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, on Monday. The museum is closed Saturdays and Sundays, except for this Saturday.

LOGICAL SUGGESTION

After this week several of us were discussing the possibility of war with the Hesperian staff came up with a suggestion that might be worth considering. Because she hates war, she ought to establish a country for war... a special place where anybody who likes war and blood could go and fight till their hearts' content. She said they could special round tables for strategy sessions and torture chambers for those who have a preference for that kind of thing. You think this is an original suggestion? More irrational war?

Plainview man DOA at Caprock Sunday

A Plainview man was dead on arrival at Caprock Hospital Sunday after his small car collided with a recreational vehicle.

Floydada police this week said that about 2:30 p.m. Sunday John Thomas Tow, of Plainview, was traveling south on Highway 207 (Twelfth Street) when he apparently failed to stop at a stop sign at the intersection of Twelfth and Houston Streets.

The Tow car struck a westbound recreational vehicle driven by Mitchell Johnson, of Las Cruces, N.M. Johnson and his two passengers were unhurt in the accident.

According to witnesses, the automobile went almost completely under the RV, trapping Tow inside. The dead man reportedly suffered massive injuries in the wreck.

Floydada patrolman Robert Glenn investigated the incident.

Santa Claus schedules stopover in Floydada

Santa Claus will arrive in Floydada next Thursday, Dec. 6, according to a bulletin released this week from Santa's North Pole headquarters.

Side Glances

by John Carroll

I HAVE IT ON GOOD AUTHORITY that the forces of evil are not rampaging through the streets of Floydada. That's reassuring news, except that my source went on to point out that the forces of apathy were more of a threat.

ARE YOU IN THE MOOD to curl up with a good book? One of the best I've come across lately is the History of Floyd County. The sections are short, diverse and easy to read. And it's chock-full of photos dating back to the late 1800s. Try it, you'll like it.

SPEAKING OF THE COUNTY, I took a 100-mile guided tour with "Doodle" Milton a few days ago. It seems that the commissioner has been the target of some residents' ire lately on account of the condition of the dirt roads. To be completely honest after seeing the road problem firsthand, the road crews have their work cut out for them for some time to come. Not that some citizens don't have a real cause for complaint, but this year's rains have washed some roads completely out.

NOW THAT EVERYONE IS GETTING INTO the Christmas shopping frenzy, a word of caution may be in order. Some gifts pose hidden dangers, especially to children. This morning I heard about a battery-powered wrist watch, based on a popular space theme, that exploded on a table and propelled the timepiece across the room. These are crazy times we live in.

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The shock of continually rising inflation has blinded most Americans to one bright spot in our economy. Agricultural exports hit an all-time high of $32 billion during the fiscal year 1979, which meant a $15.8 billion positive contribution to the total U.S. balance of trade.

In simple terms, that means that without those agricultural exports to smooth things out somewhat, we would be experiencing even higher inflation rates. All of us who have felt inflation's bite owe the American farmer a word of thanks, for without them, things really "could be worse."

Those agricultural exports are the direct result of agricultural productivity, which has been rising steadily since the 1950s. Agriculture is probably the only industry in this Country that can make that claim.

But, there are warning signs on the horizon.

That productivity — the relationship between resources used and production — is slowing. USDA economists report that agricultural productivity (Not including labor productivity) has been growing at an annual rate of only 1 percent to 1.5 percent since 1974, compared to more than double that during the past two decades.

Those gains in productivity can be linked directly to technology developed through agricultural research in the areas of hybridization, improved machinery, chemicals, and fertilizers.

Not only are researchers in our universities and other institutions feeling the sting of inflation, but research budgets are prime targets for those unaware of their continued importance to the overall economy.

There are those who say those cuts are justified since limited production gains can be expected from research in the future. To those I would have two replies:

First, that's like telling Columbus, "Sorry, but we've already discovered more than we can handle." No one can predict research discoveries and those familiar with agriculture know there are many areas of production-oriented research projects nearing completion that are vitally important to the industry — hybrid cotton varieties, for instance, or glandless, high-protein, edible cottonseed, just to mention two offhand.

Secondly, increases in productivity can be gained in other ways than by production increases alone. Remember the relationship that "resources" play in increasing productivity. We need research programs to improve our efficiency in using such vital resources as water and energy. Gains in these areas alone would mean tremendous boosts to our overall productivity, and therefore our national economy.

No one is more determined to eliminate frivolous government giveaway programs than I am, but we must retain a sense of priorities. Agricultural research must be judged on project merit, but we must beware of "throwing the baby out with the bath water."

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

The holiday shopping season brings with it many special problems because of the volume of consumer buying that occurs during this time of the year. One of these problems is knowing what to do when broken, damaged or the wrong goods are delivered.

Most of us expect, and rightfully so, that when we select a product and pay for it we are entitled to have the product selected delivered to us. Although this is true in most transactions, a consumer's conduct, once the product has been delivered, may well dictate the extent to which we can insist on this "right."

There are three "legal" terms that must be understood if consumers are to take advantage of their rights when the wrong goods are delivered: acceptance, rejection, and revocation of acceptance.

Even though the wrong product is delivered the law will presume that you accept the product, that is, take it like it is, if you do any of the following:

- If you indicate to the business that you will take the product as it is;
- If you say nothing, or
- If you use the goods, damage them or refuse to allow the business to reclaim them.

If a product is accepted, then it can no longer be rejected and you are required to pay for the product at the price which was agreed upon when you made your original selection.

Of course, if the wrong product is delivered, you do not have to accept it. A consumer may reject the product by notifying the business within a reasonable time after the product has been delivered. As is true with all important communications, however, the notice to the business should be in writing and should explain why the product is unacceptable.

If you reject a product that has been delivered, you normally have to give the seller the opportunity to cure the incorrect delivery if the business has reason to believe that the product delivered would be acceptable to you. For example, assume you selected a brown hunting jacket for your favorite uncle but told the salesman that the color was not all that important. When the jacket is delivered, you discover that the store substituted a green jacket instead. Because of your indication that the color was not critical, the store has the right to cure its incorrect delivery by delivering a brown jacket within a reasonable time.

Once a consumer rejects a product, he cannot exercise ownership over it in any way other than to take reasonable care of the product and give the seller a reasonable opportunity to reclaim it.

Even though you have legally accepted delivery of the wrong product, some situations allow you to revoke (or cancel) your acceptance. If the defect in the product substantially reduces its value, then you can revoke your acceptance under either of two circumstances:

- When you have accepted the product on the reasonable assumption that the defect would be repaired; or
- When the product was accepted because the defect was unknown and could not reasonably have been discovered before it was accepted.

If you decide to revoke your acceptance of a product, it must be done within a reasonable time and you must communicate your decision to the business immediately.

Finally, if a broken or damaged product is delivered, it may be rejected by either refusing to take delivery or by holding the product and having it repaired at the seller's expense unless the seller wants to deliver a product that is free of defects.

When broken, damaged or the wrong goods are delivered, there is frustration enough. With these important legal rights and responsibilities in mind, your chances of correcting the problem are much better than they otherwise will be.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements last week accused Attorney General Mark White of overstepping his authority when White met with 34 oil company representatives to discuss oil spills.

Clements charged that White was "politicizing the oil spill issue" and was misrepresenting his authority to the companies.

White is suing SEDCO, Inc., a Dallas-based oil drilling firm founded by Clements, in connection with the Campeche Bay oil well blowout. Clements placed his holdings in the firm in a blind trust headed by his son before he took office.

White told reporters he met with the oil companies to discuss how more effective action could be taken in response to future oil spills. He said the Campeche Bay blowout and the tanker accident near Galveston this month caught authorities by surprise.

The meeting was a "free exchange of ideas concerning oil-spill damage control," according to White, but Clements took hot exception to White's refusal to allow the governor's general counsel to sit in on the discussion.

The governor's staff was not invited because "they don't respond to me, they don't answer me," said White.

A footnote to SEDCO's oil woes: the firm has filed suits in federal district court to recover $60 million from the National Iran Oil Co. for failure to make payments and return oil drilling equipment. Most of the company's assets still in Iran are drilling rigs.

Clements Busy Week
The governor could still take delight in his role as host to the Republican Governors Association meeting last week in Austin.

Following first day addresses by several presidential hopefuls, including John Connally, Howard Baker and Gerald Ford, the GOP governors blasted President Jimmy Carter's energy policies and later approved Clements' resolution calling for more production of oil, natural gas and coal.

At one point during the gathering Clements told reporters he "might become a favorite son presidential candidate if Connally and George Bush drop out of the race before the GOP Texas primary in May. However, he was careful to stress that as long as the "two Texans" were in the race, he would not take sides or an active role.

More Clements Quotes
Speaking to other issues throughout the week, Clements said:

—A recent White House briefing on energy policy was a waste of energy.

"Really, it was just warming over yesterday's scrambled eggs."

—President Carter was responding effectively to the Iranian crisis and "everyone" should refrain from making political hay of the tense situation. Clements, himself, "has not reached a conclusion" as to whether the U.S. should stop training Iranian pilots at bases in this country, a suggestion made earlier by Texas Senators Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower.

—Dallas computer magnate Ross Perot had been contacted by "some people in Washington" about the holding of American hostages by Iranians. During the Iranian overthrow of the Shah last February, Perot sent a privately financed mini-army into that country to free some of his employees from prison, turning loose some 11,000 Iranian prisoners in the process. Perot later denied having any talks about the hostage crisis.

Sting From Bonilla
Clements and outspoken Ruben Bonilla, fiery national president of the League of Latin American Citizens, used a bit of animal imagery in describing one another.

In a letter to a San Antonio attorney, Clements referred to Bonilla as a "gnat" for lobbying for appointments of two Mexican-Americans to district judgeships.

Bonilla, a Corpus Christi attorney, countered at a LULAC meeting by calling the governor "an asp" (a species of snake) who "strikes out in fear."

Chip Carter Visits
The president's son, Chip Carter, attended an Austin function last week honoring former State Democratic Committeeman Dwayne Holman, and said his father's accomplishments are many but misunderstood. "We have done a fairly bad PR job," he told one reporter. Carter pointed out the president has passed more legislation in his first 2½ years than any of the last five presidents.

AG Opinions
At a request from State Treasurer Warren G. Harding, Atty. Gen. White ruled that interest earned from time deposits of the Fire Fighters Relief and Retirement Fund Account should be credited to the fund rather than deposited.

He also ruled the governor may lawfully appoint the executive director of the Department of Community Affairs to serve as presiding officer of the Committee on Aging.

Floyd Philosopher says

a recent poll about Americans

wound up in the wrong hands

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on White River takes a sidelong glance at the Iranian situation this week.

Dear editor:
The trouble with public opinion polls is that sometimes they get into the hands of the wrong people.

A recent poll reported that we Americans are becoming a nation of pessimists, that we think the past was better than the present and the future will get worse, that we have no confidence in ourselves, that as a world force we've become ineffectual.

The Iranians must have gotten hold of this poll and believed it.

It's possible. You've got to remember they're led by a strange guy who has never been seen smiling. There must be a hundred thousand pictures of him circulating in Iran, I've seen at least a thousand myself on television, and not once has he been caught cracking a smile. Nobody has told him that American polls are taken to make interesting reading, to give columnists something to write about, and frequently have no real bearing on anything.

Commentary: Sen. Lloyd Bentsen

There are crimes, they and then there are cr

There are crimes, say some economists, and then there are crimes. According to this hairsplitting school of thought crimes like robbery and embezzlement do not increase the amount of goods and services produced in this country. These crimes, rather, are only transfers of property and are not considered part of the Underground Economy.

Continuing with this theory, there is another category of crimes that is included in the Underground Economy. Drug smuggling and gambling, for example, while they mean heartache and ruined lives for hundreds of thousands of Americans, result in increased economic output and are a facet of the Underground Economy.

The other facet of this hidden, mushrooming economic world consists of activities that would be legal were they reported to the tax collector or the government regulator.

A plumber comes to install a hot water heater and tells you he'll hook it up for $100 if you pay by check, but only $75 if you give him cash. Chances are that he's part of the underground economy.

The owner of a corner grocery store does $80,000 worth of business a year, but skims off some of the cash and reports only $65,000.

A service station attendant works "on the books" for a few months then works "off the books" and collects unemployment compensation, until it runs out.

The underground economy is a new and disturbing phenomenon in our society. Little is known about it, for obvious reasons.

As Chairman of the Joint Economic Committee I recently presided over hearings in an effort to increase our store of knowledge.

Professor Peter Gutmann, of Baruch College is a pioneer in efforts to better understand the magnitude of the Underground Economy.

"With the growth of taxation and regulations, more and more people have simply been walking away from the system, dealing in cash, not paying taxes on income," he testified.

As evidence of the size of this cash-only hidden economic activity, he reported that there is enough currency in circulation to provide $480 for every man, woman and child in the country and that this amount grew over the past year at a rate of more than $43 per individual.

The Whirlwinds' first-game success pleased coach Cocanougher, who noted that his team "did a very good job considering that it was the first game of the season after only a week to work out."

17 points at the half, when the score stood at 29 to 12. In the third period, Ralls succeeded in whittling the Floydada lead down to 13 points, when the period ended with the... score at Floydada 41, Ralls 28. But in the final action, the Whirlwinds again increased their advantage by 17 points, ending the game 51 to 34.

Seventh grade boys squeak past Lockney, 14-13

The Floydada seventh grade Breezers basketball team Tuesday night won a squeaker against their rivals from Lockney, 14 to 13.

It was a back-and-forth game all the way, with Lockney racking up the first score on a one-point free throw. After being fouled, Floydada's David Morren tied the score with a free shot of his own.

Floydada pulled ahead on a two-pointer by Jeff Galloway but the Shorthorns managed to tie the score at 3-3 just before the first period ended.

In the opening of the second period, Lockney gained an unearned two points when Breezer Frankie Morales got turned around and sank one into his own net, something that happens even on the best of college squads.

But Morales redeemed himself moments later, evening the score at 5 to 5. Michael Saens put one into the net to place Floydada once again in the lead, but the Shorthorns were able to tie it up at 7 to 7 at halftime.

Starting off the second half, Lockney inched ahead by two points. Ricky Poole narrowed that lead to one by sinking the second of two free throws.

Jeff Galloway again pushed the Breezers ahead with a good shot but 27 to 27. Scoring for the green team were Rhonda Ratliff with nine points; Sandra Robinson, nine; and Angie Anderson, eight. The next game will be with Tulia Monday, December 3 in Floydada.

SELECTED FOR ALL-DISTRICT — Whirlwind selected for the District 4 AA team this week were (left to right, above) Mike Self, Jeff Rainey, Neal Becker and Danny Nutt. Eighth grade trounces Shorthorns

The eighth grade Floydada Breezers basketball squad Tuesday evening won a decisive 31 to 24 victory over the Lockney Shorthorns.

The Shorthorns took an early two point lead that Floydadan Wayne Morren immediately negated. Morren then tapped another two points onto the Breezer scoreboard and it became a Floydada show all the way.

Mark Hatley followed Morren's score with a basket of his own. The Shorthorns quickly added another two points to their side of the scoreboard but Hatley and Max Bearden each went up for one more to put Floydada ahead, 10 to 4. The Shorthorns managed to make one more score before the first period ended.

Floydada was able to continue their lead during the second period with a lead-off foul shot by Bobby Emert. Morren went up for another score putting Floydada even farther ahead, 14 to 6.

Lockney came back with a free throw that Hatley immediately negated with a two-pointer. The Shorthorns put up two more baskets before the half, one free shot and one regular score, narrowing the Floydada lead to six points.

Early in the third period the Shorthorns pushed to within two points of the Floydada squad. Morren built the Breezer lead again but Lockney came back with a free shot and a regular-play score to come to within one point of the Floydada team, 18 to 17. But three baskets in quick succession by Joe Faulkenberry, Hatley and Bearden again put the Floydadans out front with an acceptable margin of 24 to 17.

The Lockney team started off the fourth period with a score but Morren, Emert and Hatley broadened the Breezer lead to 30 to 19.

One free shot each by Hatley and a Lockney player temporarily cancelled any point spread increase. The Shorthorns came back with one two-pointer and two free throws to make the final score Floydada 31, Lockney 24.

Talk is cheaper than you think.

How to save up to 60% on Long Distance.

If you're one of those who thinks a Long Distance call is a luxury, read on. The trick to saving money while keeping in touch with family or friends is knowing when to call, and calling One-Plus.

make a ten-minute call to Atlanta for only $1.55. That's almost worth making a new friend in Atlanta for.

Call between 11pm and 8am.

Before you groan about how you can't stay up late or see straight in the morning, think about it. You'll be saving up to 60%! If you're a night person, you probably don't start counting sheep until after 11 pm anyway. And if you've got friends and family to call out west, it'll be a perfectly civilized 9 or 10 pm when their phone rings. If you like to see the sun rise, and you know folks back east, it'll be an hour later on their end.

Call out of state anytime before 8 am and you can talk all day if you want and still save 60%. In-state calls are also greatly reduced. Just remember to dial One-Plus.

Reach out on the weekend and save up to 60%. Now this is a stroke of good luck: a really cheap Long Distance phone call just when you may want it most. Call any time between 11 pm Friday and 5 pm Sunday and really save. For instance, dial One-Plus and you can Even on weeknights, save up to 35%.

Sometimes you can't wait for the weekend. Or you don't want to. But you can still save plenty Sunday through Friday from 5 pm to 11 pm. Think about what a bargain it is to call someone 1900 miles away, talk it up for ten minutes, and only run a tab of about $2.00. There's just no other way to get close to a faraway friend or relative so quickly, so cheaply.

On weekdays it's still a bargain.

Here's a surprise. From 8 am to 5 pm, a Long Distance chat still doesn't cost very much. A five minute call out of state, to anywhere in the continental U.S. is only about $2.50 when you dial One-Plus. Think of how good the sound of your voice would be to a friend (not to mention your mother!) right in the middle of the day.

Reach out and touch someone.

Facts about fabric types

Every fabric type displays certain characteristics — both good and bad, says a clothing specialist, Becky Culp.

The combination of the fabric type, fiber content and finishes applied combine for the fabric's total characteristics, she explains.

Fabrics are most often made by knitting or weaving but can also be netted, braided, bonded, fused or felted.

WOVENS

Woven fabrics are made by interlacing yarns one over the other, the specialist points out.

The pattern of interlacing is varied to result in different fabrics such as twills or satins.

When woven interlacings are compact, fabrics are durable, firm, water and wind repellent, strong, stable and have increased fire retardance.

Correspondingly, fewer interlacings result in fabrics that are more open, flexible, permeable to water and wind, drapable, raveling and flammable.

Woven fabrics with loose threads on the surface have greater luster, smoothness, flexibility, resiliency and tendency to ravel and snag.

KNITS

Knits are made by looping yarns together, Ms. Culp continues.

This looped structure generally results in elasticity, stretch, wrinkle resistance, instability and snagging. The smaller the loop, the greater the durability.

Tricots are one major knit variety. They have lengthwise ribs on the right side and crosswise ribs on the wrong side.

Tricots are smooth, flowing, resist bagging and sagging and do not run or ravel. Single knits are smooth on the right side and textured on the wrong side. They stretch equally in the crosswise and lengthwise direction and edges curl.

Double knits have lengthwise ribs on both sides of the fabric. They do not curl but lie flat, stretch more in the crosswise than lengthwise direction and snag.

Lockney Locals

Dan McAnally and son Danny Russell of Copperas Cove were Thanksgiving holiday guests of his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jackson and sons at Providence.

Other Thanksgiving day guests of the Jacksons were Keith's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Wofford, Nicki, Scooter, Dandi and Gabi of Lubbock, Mrs. Nell Stuart of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jackson, Mrs. Opal Jones, Aaron Wilson, Janie Bayley, Lori, Jeff and Jenny.

Spending last week at Providence with Mr. and Mrs. James Landtroop were their former pastor and family of Fergus Falls, Minnesota. They were Rev. and Mrs. Merv Kelley, Brad, Shanda and Brent. Coming for Thanksgiving Day were the Landtroops' daughter, Rev. and Mrs. Doug Yates and Beau of Ballinger.

Their other guests for Thanksgiving Day included the Eddie Hill family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Belk, and the James Starkey family, all of Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baughman, Scott, Teri and Jami of Canyon visited during Thanksgiving with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Reynolds and Mrs. Frank Baughman.

Education and Marriage

Girls finishing high school are not as likely as female dropouts to enter into early marriages, and they stand a better chance for the survival of the marriage and for a later start on parenting responsibilities, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Buckle Up

Don't be afraid to wear your car safety belt, even if you're pregnant, advises Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

One study shows that 47 percent of unborn babies died when their mother was thrown from a vehicle, but 89 percent of the women who stayed in their vehicles saved both their lives and their babies' lives, Mrs. Piernot reports.

Food stamp allotments to increase January

Low-income families will get a 2.5 percent cost-of-food increase in food stamps starting January 1, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Carol Tucker Foreman has announced.

"The January increase will be the smallest in two years because the rise in food prices has slowed in recent months," Foreman said.

The increase reflects the rise in food costs between March and September 1979. By law, the U.S. Department of Agriculture adjusts food stamp allotments twice a year, on January 1 and July 1. The adjustment varies with changes in the cost of economical foods used in the thrifty food plan.

On January 1, the maximum monthly allotment for a family of four with no net income will increase from $204 to $209 in the District of Columbia and all states except Alaska and Hawaii.

Nearly all food stamp households will get less than this amount, though, because allotments are reduced if families have income. Currently, food stamp benefits average 37 cents per person per meal.

The maximum food stamp allotments for households of various sizes, effective January 1, are as follows:
One-person household...$

63; Two-person household...$115; Three-person household...$165; Four-person household...$219; Five-person household...$273; Six-person household...$327; Seven-person household...$381; Eight-person household...$435.

For each additional member over eight, allotment increases $37.60.

The amount of the eligible household's income is determined by subtracting 30 percent of the household's gross income from the plan amount for the appropriate size household's allotment. Each month.

Before buying a mattress, check five major areas: MATTRESS — mattress containing bag or bladder made of heavy-duty vinyl with only a few air cells. CONTOUR — LINER — should surround the mattress permanently attached to frame, so it will not shift and cause sagging. Make sure the mattress is held all the way around by the HEATER — should be Underwriters Laboratories approved unit. Decide whether you want a preset or a variable thermostat. Thanksgiving at the Q.D. Williams'

Thanksgiving holiday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams included their son, Monte Williams, Miss Kelli Brian, and their nephew, Billy Brown, all of Texas Tech University; Little Misses JoAnn Dee and Brittany JoAnn Wesley of Morton; Sonsee and Eddie Mobley of Plainview, her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lee and daughters Lori and Tonya of Farmington, New Mexico; their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams and Austin of Midland; another sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Brown and Mrs. Vivian Truscott; her father, Edgar Jones of Tarrant, and her mother, Mrs. Bobby Jones, of Tarrant.

Most of the guests were students in the family. Friends, including Moore, Greg Bishop, Nixon and Keith, Wednesday evening, a hunting party from hunters brought Christmas turkey families.

Foreign holiday food suggestions

"Old Country" flavors add a special Christmas magic to New World holiday foods — especially those with the unique touch of Germany, Austria or Czechoslovakia, says Dr. Rose Tindall, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

In fact, holiday foods and traditions throughout the United States owe much to those countries for the rich heritage of celebration they've influenced, she says.

FROM GERMANY...

German homemakers pride themselves on their baked-goods creations. Specialties include springerle, lebkuchen, pfeffernusse and Christollen. Springerle are "picture" cookies. Carved rolling pins (usually with animal patterns) press over rolled-out dough to make the pictures. Then they're cut into separate rectangles and baked. Anise is the traditional licorice-flavored spice for this German treat.

Lebkuchen are gingersnaps — or gingerbread cookies — trimmed in white frosting.

Pfeffernusse (pepper nuts) are baked as little balls of dough. They're spiced with cloves and cinnamon and hot with black pepper.

Christollen is a real artist's delight, since it's an oblong, yeast-raised cake filled with raisins, currants, candied fruits, and nuts. A glaze of fruit sauce or a sprinkling of white sugar tops this festive delicacy.

In addition to sharing its foods, Germany also gave us our legendary Santa Claus — from their Kriss Kringle inspired by Saint Nicholas, who lived in Asia Minor during the 4th century and was known as the bestower of gifts to children on Christmas Eve.

PFEFFERNUSSE

- Shortening or margarine
- 4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon double-action baking powder
- 1 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 3/4 cup honey
- 1 cup medium or dark corn syrup
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Lightly grease a baking sheet with shortening or margarine. Bring honey, corn syrup and sugar to a boil over moderate heat in a heavy 4-to 6-quart saucepan.

Stir until sugar dissolves. Reduce heat to low; simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add butter or margarine and mix well. Combine flour, baking powder, cloves, allspice, pepper and cinnamon in a bowl. Add flour mixture to syrup mixture approximately 1 cup at a time and blend until smooth.

Drop by teaspoonfuls onto baking sheet (1" apart). Bake until firm to touch (approximately 15 minutes). Cool on cake rack. Makes approximately 3 dozen.

CHRISTOLLEN

- 1/2 cup raisins
- 1/2 cup dried currants
- 1 cup mixed candied fruit peel
- 3/4 cup candied cherries (both red and green)
- 1/2 cup rum
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour

Combine above ingredients and soak 1 hour. Drain fruit (save rum) and sprinkle fruit with 2 tablespoons flour. Toss with a fork until fruit is covered. 1/4 cup lukewarm water

2 packages dry yeast

- 1/4 teaspoon sugar
- Combine water, yeast and sugar; blend, set in warm area for at least 8-10 minutes.
- 5 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 2 eggs
- 3/4 cup butter (cut into 1/4" bits)
- 8 tablespoons melted butter
- 1 cup slivered almonds
- 1/4 cup confectioners sugar

Combine milk, 1/2 cup sugar and the salt in a heavy 2-quart saucepan. Heat to lukewarm, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat; add rum, almond extract, lemon peel and the yeast mixture.

In a large bowl, place 5 cups flour and stir in the yeast mixture, a cup or so at a time. Stir in beaten eggs; then beat in the bits of softened butter. Knead the dough on a lightly floured surface for approximately 15 minutes until dough is smooth and elastic. Divide the combined fruit and almonds into 3 portions and press each portion into the dough, being careful to not over-knead.

Place the dough in a deep bowl that has been coated with 1 teaspoon melted butter. Brush the surface of the dough with 2 teaspoons melted butter, cover with a towel and set in a warm area to rise until double in bulk (approximately 2 hours).

Punch down and divide the dough into 2 loaves. Each loaf should be about 4" wide and 12" long. Place the loaves on a greased jelly roll pan, brush the loaves with the remaining 2 tablespoons melted butter.

Let rise until double in bulk; then bake in an oven preheated to 375 degrees F. (approximately 45 minutes).

After cooling, sprinkle with confectioners sugar.

FROM AUSTRIA

Austria gave us auszugezner (pulled out) strudel dough, which they adapted from the Hungarians.

Auszugezner features fruit fillings laced with cinnamon, sugar, nuts and butter all wrapped in numerous tissue-thin layers of dough and baked to make a moist, flaky, delicate dessert.

Austria also gave us the Christmas carol, "Silent Night," composed by the priest and the choirmaster of the church at Oberndorf as "emergency" music for a Christmas Eve service.

traditions for Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

For the Christmas Eve meal a perfectly fresh carp (fish) is a necessity.

It's such a necessity that the menu includes carp soup in carp sauce, along with another "family favorite" dish containing carp.

Stewed or fresh fruits served with spicy cookies complete the menu.

Dinner on Christmas Day is a festive meal of soup, roast goose, bread dumplings, braised red or green cabbage and hard, spiced cookies.

In addition, a folk custom on Christmas Eve sets the stage for the upcoming New Year, since it involves "Christmas fortune telling." Each person slices an apple in half horizontally.

If the exposed seeds form the outline of a star, good luck will be in store for that person all year.

Good eating is in store for New World families who add a touch of the Old World to their holiday festivities.

It's easy to see where many of our priorities are.

The children of today are looking to us for ways they can prepare for their own style of life... families... and job opportunities.

To help, we'll need more electricity. True, electricity will play a big role toward helping expand the job market to include these adults of tomorrow.

The modern use of electricity has contributed to a better educational system to prepare our young people for the new experiences yet to come.

Almost 10 years ago, the folks at Southwestern Public Service wanted to make sure there was enough electricity to keep today's wage earner working. They decided that the fuel used in their power plants should be coal because, coal would be more abundant and cheaper to use than the conventional fuel... natural gas.

Now, Southwestern Public Service has a new coal plant in operation and more on the way. Yes, coal plants will help stabilize fuel costs while providing a long-term, reliable, energy source to provide electricity.

It's good to be able to tell someone what they can depend on.

BY MRS. CLYDE BAGWELL

November 26 — Weather conditions are still good for cotton harvest. However, the wind has been high and dusty the past two days. There has been no moisture of any kind lately.

The joint farm sale held at the C.W. Payne farm Saturday was a great success for all concerned. Mrs. Lola Pohl of Matador was by recently and visited Mrs. C.W. Payne. Lola said she was passing by and wanted to stop to visit and see the place again, as she lived there until she was 14 years of age. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knierim, owned the farm and built most of the house. At that time it was only a two room house.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walls were dinner guests Thanksgiving in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Walls.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell enjoyed a phone visit from their brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. P.L. Joiner, Saturday afternoon. They reported plenty of rain there the past several days and Saturday it was just pouring rain.

Jerry Cardinal of Houston spent a week here during Thanksgiving with his mother, Mrs. Verna Lee Cardinal. On Thursday, Thanksgiving day, a long-time friend of Jerry, E.J. Matsler of Lubbock, spent the day with them.

SHOULDER PADS

Shoulder pads emphasize fashionable width in the shoulder area.

Make or buy shoulder pads in different sizes and thickness. The trick comes in adjusting pads to the proper size and thickness for the figure type (sloping or square shoulders) and the amount allowed by the pattern or garment designer.

More thickness is needed at the end of the shoulder at the armhole if extra diagonal folds form along the underarm area above the bustline toward the neckline. Sleeves will not hang properly.

Correct this problem by raising the garment at the end of the shoulder until the garment lies smoothly. A thicker shoulder pad is needed.

Experiment with existing loose-fitting garments to see if shoulder pads can be successfully added.

When sewing patterns that do not allow for shoulder pads, alter the pattern for square shoulder to add pads. Add length at the outside of the shoulder for both front and back pattern pieces.

"Besides that, what would you like for Christmas?"

Eye examinations more important than you think

Eye exams are more important than some people think, says a health education specialist.

Almost half of the nation's entire population needs visual correction, Carla Shearer explains.

Mrs. Shearer is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Also, one of every 20 children ages three to five has an eye problem, she says.

Have your child's eyes examined by age three, the specialist advises.

After that, you and the doctor should decide how often to return for eye exams.

Most children should have eye exams every year — or every other year — until they reach age 20, the specialist adds.

Between the early 20's to ages 35-40, you may need an eye exam every three or five years, since visual acuity (seeing ability) doesn't change very rapidly during this time.

After ages 40-45, it's a good idea to have an eye exam every two years to test for glaucoma and other diseases, along with visual acuity.

NINE-POINT EXAM
A thorough eye examination generally includes nine points:

- 1) Taking of a general health history.
- 2) A thorough examination of the eye — including the eyelid and any scars or inflammation around the eye.
- 3) An internal examination of the eye with an ophthalmoscope, which illuminates the interior portion of the eye.
- 4) A check for coordination of eye movement.
- 5) Close examination of the cornea.
- 6) A test for glaucoma — usually done for persons over age 30.

7) A depth-perception test — usually done for children.

8) A refraction test to measure near and far vision.

9) A visual field test to determine the peripheral vision (side to side) of the patient. Some eye doctors perform this test; others do not.

It's time to recompute your income

The Veterans Administration today reminded approximately 670,000 veterans that it's time to compute their income for the year to make certain they meet VA pension requirements.

The agency said a reminder of its pension standards will be closed with the pension checks.

VA officials said they wanted to make sure, however, to bring the attention of veterans 72 and older receiving pensions under laws that effect prior to December 1978.

Last year, for the time, this group received annual income questionnaires that are sent to a million other recipients.

But these elderly veterans who have not elected the improved pension program will not receive questionnaire this year.

This doesn't mean, however, that they are from the income limit under the new law. They report any change in number or status of dependents and any increases which would exceed the limit.

Concealed tax on horizon

The Board of Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, during its fall board meeting held recently in Amarillo, went on record as strongly opposing proposed legislation that would create a value added tax.

Basically, VAT would be a tax on value added to a product at each production step on its way to market. As each manufacturer increases the value of a product, the difference between the buying and selling price would be taxed. The retail price paid by the ultimate consumer would include that total of all value added taxes paid along the manufacturing chain. Some exemptions might be allowed such as food.

Ed Coltharp, WTCC Executive Vice President, reported that Chairmen of Congress' two tax-writing committees, Al Ullman of House Ways and Means and Russell Long of Senate Finance, had indicated support for a 10 percent value added tax, predicting that such a tax may come as early as 1980 or 1981.

The WTCC National Affairs Committee points out that most of the information presently available concerning VAT proposals is still speculative. Rumors about a value added tax indicate that it supposedly would be enacted as a dollar for dollar replacement tax aimed at reducing Social Security taxes and allowing a cut in personal income taxes.

The committee voiced strong opposition to the value added tax proposal, labeling it as a concealed tax that, if enacted, will end up as another source of citizen funding for increases in burgeoning federal spending programs.

Ullman estimated VAT would bring in between 120 and 150 billion dollars annually. Both senators stressed it would not increase the overall tax burden and could result in elimination of double taxation of corporate earnings and accelerated depreciation of plant and equipment.

Richard Bacon of Abilene, chairman of the WTCC National Affairs Committee, commented that while the promises of reduced taxes and accelerated depreciation for capital investments sounded good and were issues supported by the WTCC, they should be achieved through means other than a value added tax and not used as enticements for passage of Vat legislation.

Scientists have developed and are currently testing nuclear-powered artificial ears — completely implantable organs that could run continuously and automatically for more than the average human life span.

Making the move...

Making moving as smooth a transition as possible for every member of the family, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

DISCUSS DECISION
Give family members an opportunity to discuss the decision. Talk about why a move is important and the factors which are involved.

Consider family needs as well as those of individual members, she suggests.

ANTICIPATE REACTIONS
Anticipate differing reactions from family members and make allowances for normal stress that will come as a part of the change. New job responsibilities, new living environments and new friends all bring adjustments for family members.

Talk about exciting aspects of the move as well as apprehensions and anxieties.

LEARN ABOUT NEW PLACES
Learn as much about the new place of residence as possible before the move.

As a family, talk about what to expect -- the climate, schools, neighborhoods, cultural and recreational activities, churches and the business community.

If materials and maps are available from the Chamber of Commerce or tourist bureau, secure them and review them as a family unit.

If there are friends, acquaintances or business associates in the area to which the move is being made, write letters for information about specific questions, Mrs. Welch continues.

LOCATE HELP
Locate sources of help.

Many communities have newcomers' social groups, "Welcome Wagons" and other service aids to new residents.

In some larger cities, real estate firms offer a referral relocation service to assist clients.

EXPECT PROBLEMS

Finally, recognize that even at best a move is unsettling and usually is accompanied by some emotional wear and tear.

Being informed, prepared and organized as a family for the move reduces psychological adjustment and makes relocation easier for all concerned, she adds.

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

Surprising Survey?
Perhaps surprisingly, a recently released study indicates that 90 percent of Americans in nursing homes are satisfied with their environment.

The survey, conducted by the Census Bureau, measured the reaction of residents and their families to such factors as lodging, food, social relationships and activities to determine the quality of care provided.

Next-of-kin were also asked to evaluate the level of care provided to their relatives. A total of 91.5 per cent believed that the care met the resident's needs and only 1.6 per cent reported that there was a lack of personal attention to the nursing home resident. Approximately 3.5 per cent contended there was inadequate treatment, 0.2 per cent, inadequate facilities, and 3 per cent pointed out other reasons for dissatisfaction.

The Survey is available from the Government Printing Office for $6.00 and the Superintendent of Documents number is C 3.186:23/69.

Christmas Facts And Fancies Around The World

The Christmas Seal originated in Denmark in 1903 when a Danish postal clerk decided to ask people to buy a special Christmas stamp to help raise money for sick and needy children.

The world's largest Christmas wrapping, 42 feet long and seven feet in diameter, was constructed as a showroom display at a garage in Essex, England, according to the Guinness Book of Records. It took two weeks to build and concealed a Ford Escort car.

Flowers are among the most popular Christmas gifts throughout the world, ranging from the traditional evergreen wreath in northern Europe to the gay floral tributes used to decorate for South America's Christmas Fiestas. With Interflora, the international affiliate of FTD, it is possible to send a floral holiday greeting to almost any country in the world in less time than it takes to send a Christmas card!

Jolly old Santa Claus is not the only one delivering gifts at Christmastime. In Scandinavia, they are brought by little gnomelike creatures called "Yule Men," who are said to live hidden in the attic all year long. In Italy, they are left on Epiphany Eve (January 6th) by a wrinkled old woman called Befana, whose arrival is announced by a bell. The Magi, the three wise men, bring gifts to Mexican children who, instead of hanging stockings, place their shoes on the windowsill.

One of the longest Christmas celebrations in the world takes place in Sweden, where the holiday lasts an entire month. It begins on December 13th with Saint Lucia's feast day.

Egyptian artifacts from the collection of Miss Frances Mitchell have been featured in the library window the past three weeks. Included are several dolls in native dress and the likeness of Queen Nefertiti on papyrus, framed for preservation. Miss Mitchell has many interesting items gathered in her travels around the world. We appreciate the loan of these items for our window display.

The filmstrips "Temples of the Pharaohs" and "Egypt and the Bible" would make interesting background material for the "read-the-Bible through" emphasis this year.

To find helps for your Christmas parties look in the card catalog under CHRISTMAS. We have books of Christmas dramas, poetry, stories, and "how to" books for making Christmas decorations.

There are several cassette tapes of Christmas stories including Paul Harvey's "Story of the Birds" and two plays for children narrated by Dick VanDyke. Also available are disc recordings of Christmas music. The Christmas story is a part of the cassette tape program of the "Life of Christ" taken from the four gospels and done in a dramatic interpretation by professional actors and actresses.

Filmstrips which tell the Christmas story are available. A popular Christmas story on filmstrip is "The Other Wise Man." This particular one is not a Bible story and the person using it

Learning To Cope

Learn to accept your feelings when you suddenly realize your parents are old by facing the issue, coming to terms with it, and hopefully resolving any problems. It's natural to avoid thinking about the inevitable deaths of those who are close, particularly parents.

FACE THE ISSUE
Face the issue by thinking about it. Parents do not remain invulnerable forever.

COME TO TERMS
Come to terms with your feelings. — You may feel a desire to be close to your parents — wanting to protect and do things for them. You feel this way because you love them, because it would be a nice thing to do.

near each other — often in the same house.

RESOLVE PROBLEMS
Remember, you are not alone in your confusion of feelings confronting the idea of a parent's aging and death.

If love, not resentment or guilt, is what you feel, you will help your parents as much as you are able.

But, if the demands are too great, you may find that resentment blocks out the love.

When complaining to a store or manufacturer doesn't work, you should send a copy of your letter to the Better Business Bureau, which will get in touch with the firm.

You Ask ? Ovens

Question: I'm finally getting a new oven. Hurray! I want one that needs minimal cleaning. Can you explain the difference between a self-cleaning and a continuous cleaning oven?

A COOK'S TOUR OF NEW OVENS reveals some that even clean themselves!

Answer: The home economists from Whirlpool Corporation explain that the finish of the porcelain enamel on a continuous cleaning oven is porous. When fat splatters hit this surface, they break down into many smaller splatters which gradually burn away at regular oven temperatures used for baking and roasting. This is a continuous process and keeps the oven in a presentably clean condition. The finish of the porcelain enamel on self-cleaning ovens is smooth. To clean the surface, you heat the oven cavity to a high temperature (around 830 to 875 degrees). This decomposes the soil to a white ash. When the oven is cool, the ash can be wiped out with a damp cloth or paper towel. MONEY SAVING TIP: Preheat your oven only for items like cakes, pies and rolls. It isn't necessary to preheat for meats, casseroles or broiling. "Small minds can never handle great themes." St. Jerome

Stand-by electric generators important for farms, ranches

Emergency stand-by electric generators proved their worth to Texas farms and ranches this year when flooding and tornadoes caused power failures. "A stand-by electric generator is a good investment on any farm with mechanically ventilated production facilities, bulk milk handling equipment, mechanical feeding equipment, or facilities requiring continuous heat, such as brooders," said Dr. Gary Nelson. Nelson is an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Nelson noted that stand-by generators are either engine driven or tractor driven; stationary or portable; manual or automatic start; and powered by gasoline, bottled gas or diesel fuel. "Generators must provide the same type of power at the same voltage and frequency as that supplied by power lines," he explained. "This is usually 120 or 240-volt single phase, 60-cycle alternating current." For generators up to 15 kilowatts, an air-cooled engine is often used. A liquid-cooled engine is necessary for larger generators. The engine must have about a two-and-one-quarter hp capacity with the proper drive system for each 1,000 watts of generator output. "A full-load system will handle the entire farmstead load," Nelson said. "Automatic engine-powered full-load systems will begin to furnish power immediately, or up to 30 seconds after power goes off." Small, less expensive part-load systems may be enough to handle essential equipment during an emergency. Power-take-off generators are about half as costly as engine-operated units. Under a part-load system, only the most essential equipment is operated at one time. This would be adequate for most farms. However, the generator must be sized to keep certain necessary equipment, such as a milk cooler or ventilation fan, running continuously with enough extra power to start a large piece of equipment, such as a feeder. "Check with your electrician or power company representative for instructions on equipment installation according to applicable codes, local requirements and regulations." "Locate large generators in a protected, well-ventilated building, away from buildings, and away from power lines." An automatic unit should start when power stops when power is restored. When using an engine generator with start, or when using a tractor-driven unit, the generator should start the engine. Then start the generator when each unit is up to speed, explains Nelson. As far as an emergency generator is concerned, Nelson said that a tractor PTO generator costs about $1,600 and has the same capacity as a stand-by unit with a $4,000. Determining the need for stand-by electric generators is the probable cause of production loss and likely to occur during a failure. FLOYDADA CARE CENTER HAPPENINGS

FOCUS ON YOUR EYES

If you're holding this newspaper a little closer than you used to or find close work such as sewing or making arts and crafts more difficult than it once was, you could be one of the more than 90 million Americans over 35 who are the prime victims of presbyopia. That's the official name of the normal deterioration of close-range focusing ability that often occurs as people grow older. Fortunately, there may be a way you can correct your sight without crushing your budget. If you get regular eye examinations, are not suffering from glaucoma, cataracts, eye infections or other eye problems, and have equal vision in both eyes, you may be able to buy your glasses over-the-counter. Variety stores, drug stores, department stores, discount stores, and others sell these reading glasses for under $10 and have been for many years. Many physicians have suggested that their patients save the high cost of prescription glasses by getting them ready-to-wear. It should be reminded that ready-to-wear glasses aren't intended to replace examinations by an eye doctor. Continuous eye check-ups, especially after the age of 40, will maintain the health of your eyes. The reading glasses are made in varying focus numbers, from 32 (the weakest) to 8 (the strongest). These can be matched to diopters (diopters measure lens power) that consumers receive from an eye doctor. If you would like to learn more about ready-to-wear reading glasses you should: Send for a free booklet, "Focusing in on Presbyopia" available by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Vision Aid Reading Glasses, c/o Grey & Davis, 800 Third Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022.
