Shelly Harris Named Publisher Of Hesperian, Beacon

Harris has been named the new publisher and part-owner of the Hesperian and the Lockney Beacon.

SHELLY HARRIS

Bulletin, is moving to Floydada with her son, Bill, a seventh grader.

Carolyn Fuqua moved into the position as editor of the Floyd County

Hesperian. The remainder of the staff of the two newspapers will continue as it has been with Jim Huggins serving as editor of the Lockney Beacon.

A veteran of 15 years in the newspaper business, Shelly has held key positions of responsibility in five other newspapers.

She has been advertising director of the Del Rio News-Herald, the Pearsall Leader, the Dilly Herald, the Cotulla Record and the Burnet Bulletin.

In addition, she wrote and published her own tourist magazine for two years in Southwest Texas called "The Vinegarron." She also has worked for an Austin advertising agency and has raised five children.

A native of Colorado, she has a strong background in agriculture through her family.

"I am very happy to be in Floydada," she said, "and I am most impressed with the friendliness of the people and the vitality of this county."

Committee Chairman Named For Women's Division Of Chamber

In the regular meeting of the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce March 10, the following women were named as chairmen of standing committees for 1980: hospitality - Donna McClendon; publicity - Janet Lloyd; telephone - Elaine McNeill; membership - Judy Dunlap; beautification - Nancy Willson; welcome - Dorothy Turner; and historian - Peggy Medley.

The regular meeting date has been changed to the first Tuesday of each month at the First National Bank community room.

The next scheduled meeting is April 1.

April 22 has been set for the annual style show and salad supper and the committee chairman for that event are Doris McLain, decoration; Dot Word, models; emcee and program coordinator, Betty Holmes; hospitality, Donna McClendon and Nancy Willson; prizes, Kelli Reddy; hair styles, Pat Jones; and membership table, Judy Dunlap.

At the recent meeting a decision was made to offer fruit trees as well as the usual crepe myrtle bushes for sale this year.

Watch the Hesperian for future information about when and how to place orders. This is planned as a beautification project, not as a fund-raising project.

CAROLYN SELLARS FUQUA has assumed duties as editor of the Floyd County Hesperian. She first became employed at the newspaper in 1966. Carolyn has been advertising director for both the Lockney Beacon and the Hesperian since 1978. Ms. Fuqua is a 1963 graduate of Floydada High School. She has attended Western Texas College and Texas Tech. Carolyn and her husband Jack are Methodists.

Calvary Baptist Youth To Head Bike-A-Thon

Floydada Calvary Baptist Youth Group has been named to head the 1980 spring Bike-A-Thon Campaign. William J. Kirwen, St. Jude's Development Director made the announcement recently and said he would announce the date and location later. "We are proud to find such a dedicated person for this important task," Kirwen said. "St. Jude Children's Hospital is the only research center dedicated exclusively to the study and conquest of catastrophic diseases of children. Its work, particularly in leukemia and other childhood cancers, has been internationally acclaimed and cited as a leading example for basic and clinical research."

No one has ever been charged for the benefits provided by St. Jude Hospital. That includes the extremely expensive total medical care provided to children enrolled in its research studies. "Over two-thirds of this year's 20 million dollar operating budget came from public support. Each year we rely on events like this to pay for the following year's costs," stated Kirwen. "Since Danny Thomas opened this institution in 1962, his dream of conquering the deadly diseases of childhood has continuously been brought closer to reality. Thomas is still the very active president of this organization and inspires us in this cause," Kirwen said. The time and location of the local Bike-A-Thon will be announced in a later edition of The Hesperian.

Pattie Ruth Stewart

Postmaster At South Plains

Sectional Center Manager - Postmaster Elmer J. Reed, Jr., of Lubbock, has announced the appointment of Mrs. Pattie Ruth Stewart as the new Postmaster at South Plains, effective Saturday, March 8.

Mrs. Stewart, 45, a native of Plainview, has served as Postmaster replacement for the past 6 years.

Postmaster selections for offices of this size are made on the basis of merit from a list of qualified candidates submitted to the sectional center manager at Lubbock. He or she selects and recommends to the postmaster general the best qualified person for appointment to each vacancy.

Mrs. Stewart's hobbies include fishing and waterskiing, and she is a member of South Plains Baptist Church. She has two sons and one daughter, one son lives in Quitaque, and the other is a high school freshman at Floydada High School. Her daughter is married to Roby Lutrick. They reside in Floydada.

Mrs. Stewart says she is very happy to be the new Postmaster and says she looks forward to serving South Plains postal customers.

Whirlers To Dance Saturday Night

The Floydada square dance club, The Whirlers, have scheduled their regular monthly dance Saturday, March 15 at 8 p.m. at the Massie Activity Center, Floydada. Eldred Parker, Lubbock, will call. There will be no admission charge. The public is invited to join in the dancing or to come as a spectator.

Tower To Open Lubbock Office

U.S. Sen. John Tower (R-Texas) announced today he will open a regional office in Lubbock to serve the West Texas-Panhandle area.

"The needs of citizens in the vast and vital West Texas area can no longer be adequately served by existing state offices in Dallas, Austin and Houston," Tower explained. "Opening an office in West Texas will give me better insights into the needs and concerns of the area, and will give citizens there faster and easier access to their senator. I hope people will use the new office for help with federal-related problems, to get information and to make their views known."

The senator chose Lubbock as the site for the new regional office because of its central location. Lubbock is within relatively easy driving distance of Amarillo, Abilene, San Angelo and Midland-Odessa. Tower noted.

"I would like to have offices in all of Texas' major cities so that no one would face inconvenience in getting in touch with my staff, but unfortunately we have had to stretch limited resources to fund this fourth office, I believe, however, I will be better able to serve all West Texans when the new office opens," the senator said.

Tower also emphasized that the Lubbock office director will travel throughout the region whenever that seems to be the best way to meet local needs.

The office is scheduled to open in June, with an initial staff of two persons. The West Texas office will serve the Panhandle, South Plains, Permian Basin and El Paso area.

Tower first was elected to the Senate in 1961. He has been re-elected three times and now is the fourth most senior Republican in the Senate. As chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, he is a key member of the Senate GOP leadership. He is ranking Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee and second-ranking member of the Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee. In addition, Tower serves on the Committee on Rules and Administration.

Heller To Speak

At University Center

Novelist Joseph Heller will speak on "What It's Like To Be a Writer" at 8:15 Thursday, March 27, in Texas Tech University Center Theatre.

Heller is author of "Catch 22," "Something Happened" and, most recently, "Good as Gold." He also wrote the play "We Bombed in New Haven."

Heller spent eight years writing his first novel, "Catch 22." The book is based on his experience as a bombardier in World War II. There are 8,000,000 copies of "Catch 22" in print and it has been translated into more than a dozen languages.

The author was born in 1923 in Brooklyn, N.Y. Formerly a professor of English at City College in New York and a Fulbright Scholar at Oxford University he now lives in Manhattan.

This Sunday (March 9) at the University Center, the film version of "Catch 22" will be shown. Open to Texas Tech students, faculty and staff, the movie begins at 7 p.m. Tickets are $1.

Tickets for the March 27 speech are on sale at the University Center ticket office. The cost is $2 for Texas Tech students, $2.50 for Texas Tech faculty and staff and $3 for the general public.

Cathey noted that homeowners are eligible for a $5,000 school homestead exemption, and that certain disabled persons and those aged 65 or older may qualify for additional exemptions from the value of their property.

Also, farmers and ranchers have the option of having their agricultural land taxed at its productive rather than market value.

To qualify for exemptions and productivity valuation, however, application must be made to the school tax office before the district's rendition period ends April 30, 1980.

"District residents are encouraged to review the pamphlet and make application for all tax relief to which they are entitled before the rendition period ends," Cathey said.

The local tax office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., five days a week. Location of the office is 208 South Main, phone 983-2144.

Cathey says the office will be closed the week of March 17 to March 21 for spring break.

The public is urged to call or go by the office for answers to any questions concerning the application forms.

Governor Clements Designates March 1-April 6 Easter Seal Campaign

Governor William P. Clements proclaimed the period of March 1 through April 6, 1980 as Easter Seal Appeal Campaign in Texas.

Jeanette Alvarado, National Easter Seal Child from San Antonio, joined by Walt Garrison, presented Governor Clements with the first sheet of 1980 Easter Seals. The Easter Seals represent the Easter Seal Society's traditional mail campaign.

The Easter Seal Society was founded in 1929 by Abe Goldberg, a prominent rotarian. 1979-80 marks the Society's 50th anniversary in Texas.

The objectives of the organization are to assist disabled persons and their families in finding and making effective use of the resources which will be helpful to them in developing their necessary and appropriate resources for disabled persons; to establish and maintain appropriate and realistic programs in accordance with state and local needs; and to create a climate of acceptance which will permit and encourage their self-fulfillment as individuals and as contributing members of their communities.

The Easter Seal Society provides orthopedic equipment including wheelchairs, walkers, and braces; occupational, physical and speech therapy and transportation to rehabilitation centers.

The Society helped nearly 13,000 Texans last year.

Farabee Blasts High Interest Rates

State Senator Ray Farabee recently blasted the federal government's policy of fighting inflation by the use of high interest rates.

In letters sent to President Carter and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul A. Volcker, Farabee called for the use of other approaches such as reduced federal spending, a balanced budget and credit controls in lieu of high rates.

"Since early 1977 the prime rate has increased from less than 7 1/2 percent to 17 1/2 percent, the highest level in history, with no noticeable accompanying dent in the inflation rate," Farabee stated.

Farabee called the high interest rate policy cruel and ineffective. Not only has it priced low and middle income people out of the housing market, he

Commentary:

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen

Senator Lloyd Bentsen on Tuesday urged President Carter to seek a United Nations investigation of an alleged Soviet-led massacre in Kerala, Afghanistan that resulted in the deaths of from 1,170 to 1,300 men and boys.

Bentsen said the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency advises him that press reports about the shooting in the small town, on April 20, 1979, are almost certainly true. The CIA has also advised Bentsen of other atrocities that occurred in Afghanistan during 1979.

"We are almost certain that the alleged Soviet-ordered massacre of Afghan citizens (in Kerala) did occur," CIA Director Stansfield Turner said in a letter to the Senator.

Bentsen had asked the CIA for confirmation of the atrocity last month after the CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR reported that Afghan troops, under orders from Soviet "advisers," shot and killed some 1,170 men and boys in the Kerala incident.

Turner, in his reply, noted that a Pakistani newspaper reported last year that 1,300 residents of an Afghanistan village were massacred and added "We believe this is the same incident described by the MONITOR."

By comparison, 179 people were slain in the infamous atrocity at Lidice, Poland during World War II. "These allegations, if proven, demonstrate the callous Soviet disregard for the principles of the United Nations Charter and the Nuremberg War Crimes Trials, a disregard that is reminiscent of the Nazi atrocities of World War II. These charges must shock the conscience of civilized people everywhere and should be exposed before the world," Bentsen said in a letter to the President.

"I would suggest the possibility of an investigation under the auspices of the United Nations Security Council. I know of no better forum for accomplishing this than the Security Council. If the Soviet Union were to veto such an inquiry, then the veto itself would speak volumes about Soviet conduct and the debate leading to the veto will insure that the whole world will be able to evaluate the charges," Senator Bentsen said.

Bentsen suggested the President, as alternatives, might want to consider an investigation by the full U.N. General Assembly or one by the International Red Cross.

The CIA letter to Bentsen listed three other atrocities that reportedly occurred in Afghanistan in 1979, though it omitted details "to protect our sources."

"In retribution against a village that refused to cooperate with the Kabul (capital of Afghanistan) regime, Afghan troops destroyed the village and killed 20 of its inhabitants. The children among the victims were mutilated in front of their parents before the entire group was slain."

"In another incident reportedly motivated by retribution, Afghan troops killed 300 villagers."

* There have been reports of several incidents of aggravated rape by Afghan soldiers, some of which have resulted in the victims' deaths.

Poster On New Federal Minimum Wage Available

The federal minimum wage increased to $3.10 an hour January 1, 1980. Five million workers became eligible for a pay increase on that day.

A poster which provides information on this and other changes due to 1977 amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act is available from the U.S. Department of Labor.

The FLSA sets overtime pay and child labor standards in addition to the minimum wage rate. The wage and minimum wage rate. The wage and minimum wage rate. The wage and minimum wage rate.

In addition to providing information about the minimum wage increase, the poster notes changes in the amount of tip credit which can be claimed toward the minimum wage for employees. The percentage was increased from 45 to 60 percent, effective January 1.

Federal law requires that all employers containing information regarding new provisions be disseminated to prominent and accessible places where employers, employment agencies and labor organizations covered by the act can readily see it.

Single copies of the poster are available free of charge from the office of the wage and hour division in most telephone areas under U.S. Department of Labor.

Better Business Bureau Offers Information On Employment

As the time nears for the start of construction on a second Alaska pipeline, this one for gas, advertisements have begun to appear in numerous magazines and newspapers offering employment on the project at high salaries. The Better Business Bureau Of the South Plains, Inc., has learned that many of these offers provide job seekers, for a fee of $10 to $20, useless job applications or only vague information on employment.

While it is true that the new gas pipeline is the largest privately financed project in history and, at its construction peak, may employ over 10,000 persons, anyone interested in pipeline work should be aware that the two companies handling the project are not accepting applications for jobs, and do not expect to hire until at least late summer.

The companies, and the contractors, who are not yet doing most of the hiring for the work. When project contracts are awarded, announcements will appear in the press and trade organization journals. People to work in the pipeline should apply directly to the selected company according to the Better Business Bureau.

Information about employment economic situations may be obtained from the Better Business Bureau.

MRS. JACKIE LYNN CARTHTEL

Miss Assiter, Carthel Pledge Wedding Vows In Floydada

Miss Darla Jo Assiter and Jackie Lynn Carthel exchanged wedding vows Saturday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Floydada. Reverend Jim Smith, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Assiter of Floydada; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gene Carthel, also of Floydada.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length wedding gown of sheer organza and chantilly lace. The dress featured a lace covered empire bodice fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline and full bishop sleeves. The full A-line skirt was accented with a deep lace ruffled flounce in front, which formed the bustle back. Tiers of lace and organza swept into a cathedral-length train. She also wore a waltz length veil of imported English illusion edged with chantilly lace. The veil attached to a lace covered boudeau headpiece.

She carried a cascade bouquet of miniature white carnations with baby's breath. In the bouquet was a pin which belonged to Mr. C.O. Spence's mother. The pin, which was over a hundred years old, served as the bride's "something old and borrowed." "Something new" was her wedding attire. She also wore the traditional blue garter.

Matron of honor for the occasion was Roni Summer-ville of Canyon. Serving as bridesmaids were Tana Tyer, Dara Carthel and Jonna West. Bridal attendants wore floor-length pink silk organza dresses with embossed flowers and ruffle accented necklines. They carried brass lamps with pink candles and flowers around the base.

Best man was Ricky Carthel, brother of the groom, of Floydada. Groomsmen were Shannon Norris of Canyon; Monty Smitherman, Lubbock; and Calvin Dick. Tim Assiter and Tom Assiter, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

The church was decorated with brass candelabra with globes, pink and burgandy flowers and green palms. White rope marked the altar area.

Wedding music was provided by organist Terry Willson of Dallas and vocalists Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gregory. The Gregory's selections were "This Is The Day," "Love Will Make Us One," and "Evans Song," accompanied by Darrell Goodall of Amarillo.

Reception
Terry Willson provided organ music at the reception held in the fellowship hall of the church following the wedding ceremony. At the reception, Beverly Vickers registered guests.

Rehearsal Dinner
A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Friday evening before the wedding. The event was held at the First United Methodist Church hall.

Bridal Brunch Honors

Kathy McCarter Hargis

Kathy McCarter Hargis was honored Saturday morning, March 8, with a bridal brunch in the home of Mrs. Roy Turley.

Tables were decorated in Kathy's chosen color of blue. White daisies were used in the head table centerpiece and in the individual vases given as table favors.

A buffet of sausage balls, egg casserole, fruit salad, biscuits, blueberry muffins and orange juice was served. Guests were the bride; her grandmother, Laura Manning; her mother, Mary Louise McCarter; her sisters, Kim Murdock, Karen Hooten and Karla McCarter; her matron of honor, Kelly Fortenberry; her bridesmaids, Kathy Stanford and Melanie Bixler; the flower girl, Jennifer Fortenberry; the groom's mother, Joyce Hargis; and the groom's sister, Janett Hargis.

GOLD! BUYERS, SELLERS BEWARE

Only karat gold jewelry is real gold -- no matter how bright the glitter, so know what you are doing before buying or selling gold jewelry. Understanding certain words and other points about gold is a must. Karat refers to the percentage of gold in an item. Always look for the karat stamp. An item marked 24K (24 karats), or 999, is 100 percent pure gold. Each karat represents 1/24 part of pure gold. The finest gold jewelry is usually 18K (eighteen parts pure gold and six parts of another metal), since 24K generally is considered too soft to use for jewelry.

Most domestically produced gold jewelry is 14K (14 parts gold and ten parts of another metal -- or about 58.5 percent pure gold). No American-made gold jewelry may be stamped with percentages other than karats according to a Federal Trade Commission regulation. What is meant by '585' or '750'? This appears on some European jewelry. This marking states gold karatage in percentages of 1,000. So, 750 equals 18K (75 percent pure gold), and 585 equals (58 percent pure gold).

Color of gold depends on the other metals alloyed with it. Gold alloyed with copper has a reddish cast. Gold alloyed with nickel or palladium produces the "white gold" used in setting diamonds.

Understand certain words, so you don't pay "karat gold" prices for gold-plated jewelry. Gold filled -- Gold filled jewelry has a layers -- or layers -- of gold mechanically bonded to a base metal, such as copper. The gold layer must have a fineness of at least 10K and must be at least 1/20 the total weight. The jewelry should be marked "gold filled" or "G.F." and state the karatage of the gold layer -- 14 G.F., for example.

Rolled gold plate -- Rolled gold plate is often used in high-quality costume jewelry. This type is made like gold-filled, but the gold later is less than 1/20 the total weight. Markings should indicate the ratio of gold to the metals used -- "1/40 12K Rolled Gold Plate." Heavy gold electroplate -- At least 100 millionths of an inch of gold is electroplated to a metal base. Gold electroplate -- At least 7 millionths of an inch of gold is electroplated to a metal base. Gold washed or gold flashed -- Less than 7 millionths of an inch of gold is electroplated to a metal base.

FACTS & FIGURES

According to energy experts, our "energy crisis" is really a "fuels crisis," caused by increased consumption, rising prices and uncertain availability of imported oil.

A bright spot in the energy picture, point out the experts at the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, is electricity. At present, well over two-thirds of the nation's electricity is generated from domestic coal, nuclear and hydro sources. We expect this to rise to 75 percent in the mid 1980's.

Thus increased use of electricity in our homes and industries actually saves oil. And using electricity for home heating, through heat pumps or zoned resistance heating, will make our finite supplies of natural gas last longer, and make gas available to replace imported oil in industrial processes.

Inflation - Fighting IDEAS

More Miles From The Gallon

If you want to slow down your fuel costs, step up your personal conservative program. These tips, suggested by the Colonial Penn Insurance Company, can help you get more miles from each gallon of gas.

Regular maintenance may increase mileage by up to 14 percent -- that might mean 40 to 50 extra miles per tank!

Sudden movements of the gas pedal increase gasoline consumption. Anticipate situations that might require you to reduce speed so you can slow down gently. Maintaining speeds just under the speed limit helps stretch your time between fill-ups, and you'll hardly notice the increase in travel time.

Regular car maintenance enhances gas mileage. Keep your engine tuned; replace worn-out plugs regularly. Correct ignition tuning is essential -- rapid idling wastes gas.

Clean or replace your oil and air filters at recommended intervals to keep the engine operating at peak efficiency.

recently their purpose was to keep the child confined and elevated for a better view rather than for protection. Today, however, many crash-tested restraining devices, both seats and harnesses, are available. Basically, there are three types: the child safety seat, the shield restraint, and the simple harness.

The child safety seat has a five-point harness that cinches the child across the waist, between the legs and over the shoulder. The automobile safety belt secures the seat in place. Some models have anchoring straps at the top to keep the seat from toppling forward or sideways in an accident. Parents should follow the manufacturer's instructions for anchoring them to the car.

"The shield restraint is a simpler device," explains Murphy. "But a determined youngster may eventually work his way out of it. The child is protected in the front by the padded shield, and this is secured to the car by the seat belt."

A child harness is a restraint that holds a youthful passenger to the car's seat without a special child seat. This allows more freedom of movement, but provides less side protection.

All child restraints offer the best protection when they are placed in the middle of the rear seat.

Generally, the safety seat, the child restraint, and the simple harness should be used when the baby reaches 20 pounds, or can sit up alone. For infants up to nine months, it's best to use a rearward facing infant carrier especially designed for automobiles. The carriers contain a safety harness in them and are held firmly in place by the seat belt.

At the age of five, most children are ready to use an adult safety belt. "Shoulder belts should never be used if they cut across the child's neck or face," emphasized Murphy.

"Safety restraints should be used every time the child is in the car, not merely on long trips. Statistics show that the majority of accidents happen close to home. All passengers must be belted in, both for their own protection and for the sake of others in the car. Unbelted passengers can injure children," he said.

Unfortunately, it is not possible to tell how safe a device is by merely examining it. Devices that have been crash-tested at 30 mph afford the greatest measure of safety. For a list of these restraints, write the National Safety Council, 444 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611.

Statistics for 1978, the latest year available from the Texas Department of Public Safety, show that 75 children ranging in ages up to four years old, died in Texas automobile accidents. For the same year, 5,595 were injured. Of the 50,000 persons who lost their lives on the nation's highways in 1978, some 900 were child passengers under the age of five.

Automobile seat belts are mandatory now on all cars, but — unfortunately — if you have young children, buckling up won't protect them.

"Infants and young children weighing less than 40 pounds cannot be protected by belts," says John P. Murphy, with the Emergency Medical Services Division of the Texas Department of Health. "Because a child's bones are soft, an adult belt can cause internal injuries in a collision."

"Nor are children safe when sitting in an adult's lap. The force of a collision, even at low speeds, can tear a child from the person holding him or her. If the adult is not wearing a seat belt, the child can be crushed between the adult's body and the dashboard or the front seat."

Murphy said a belt around a child sitting in an adult's lap can inflict critical internal injuries because the weight of the adult, greatly increased by the crash force, will press into the child's body.

THURMAN DAVIS
If you work with wood, you probably use plywood much of the time. Splintering often presents problems. Here are a few tips to avoid splintering.
Sawing - Use a fine-toothed saw. Before sawing, prescore both sides of the sheet at the cutoff point with a sharp chisel or shop knife. Scoring should be deep enough to separate the top layer of veneer. Another way is to press a layer of cellophane tape along the cutoff line on the bottom side of stock.
Boring - Clamp a piece of scrap wood behind stock where the bit will come through. The scrap accepts the tip of the bit and helps pull it through.
Planing edges - Push plane in both directions to avoid dragging the plane blade off end of stock. Begin at the end of the stock and run plane half-way across the edge, then reverse and go the other way. If possible, first cut a tiny bevel on each end of the stock.

Calhoun, an active member in Water, Inc., since its founding 13 years ago, is vice president and general sales manager for New Mexico Electric Service Co. Calhoun has been involved in numerous civic activities and in several organizations concerned with energy and water resources.

Other Water, Inc., officers for 1980 are Russell Bean of Lubbock, first vice president; A.C. Verner of Lubbock, second vice president; Ray Oglesby of Dumas, secretary; and Jim Ed Waller of Lubbock, treasurer.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Springtime, to many of us, means new growth—in gardens, in our yards, in the open fields, hills and mountains of our beautiful State. Things start over. To the attorneys in my Consumer Protection Division, springtime often means something else—roads jammed with "gypsies" perpetrating home improvement frauds. That's right: the "gypsies" are back.

Now, by "gypsies" I do not mean those colorful individuals who dress in strange, gay clothing, shake tambourines and travel in painted wagons. Instead, I am referring to modern day, American itinerants who live in new mobile homes, drive luxury automobiles and set up "camp" in trailer parks just outside the reach of municipal law enforcement authorities. These traveling salesmen

"gyp" Texas consumers out of hundreds of thousands of dollars each year by going door-to-door soliciting paving, painting, roofing and other home repair jobs. The essence of the frauds perpetrated by these repairmen is poor quality work for which exorbitant prices are charged.

The itinerants carefully select their victims by driving through low to middle income neighborhoods looking for homes that appear to be occupied by senior citizens who live alone. When the first victim is hooked, the repairmen often ask for the names of additional potential customers, operating on the assumption that people similarly situated tend to associate and become friends. Because of this fact of human nature, "gypsies" know that elderly widows most often will recommend other elderly widows; invalids will recommend other invalids. Being a modern "gypsy" is big business. One raid of a nomadic camp in Arkansas netted the police $50,000 in cash which was found in one of the trailers. The equipment used by the itinerants frequently is brand new—dump trucks, asphalt spreaders, pick-up trucks—all in mint condition. The number of such drifters presently in Texas is estimated by the Division to be in the hundreds, if not thousands.

A special, Texas statute is designed to protect consumers against itinerant, door-to-door sellers. This statute, the Home Solicitation Transactions Act, requires a three day "cooling off period" between the time the sales pitch and agreement are made and the work is commenced. During this period, consumers may unilaterally cancel any contract for any reason.

Wayland International Choir To Perform At Aiken Church

The Wayland International Choir of Wayland Baptist College will be presented in concert this Friday night at the First Baptist Church of Aiken at 7:30 in the church sanctuary.

Directed by Mr. W. Duane Harris, the choir will present sacred music, spirituals and choral arrangements of several familiar hymns. Following the concert there will be a fellowship in which the choir will present a program of music and comedy. Included in this fellowship is a small farce opera entitled "Grasshopper Opera" performed by the choir's graduating Seniors. The concert by the 38-member choir begins a series of performances as they embark on their annual week-long spring tour the following Saturday. The choir will be performing in several Texas churches in Lubbock, Dallas, San Antonio, Portland, Houston, and McGregor and in New Orleans, La. They will return Sunday night, March 23 after their final performance at First Baptist of Lubbock. Four of the choir members are also members of the Aiken church's College and Career Department. They are Kellie Chrisman, Teresa Calhoun, Keith Harris and Dennis Noblett, Aiken minister of music and youth.

Congressional Comment

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Charges and counter-charges regarding the management of Cotton, Inc., the research and promotion program financed by some 90,000 U.S. cotton farmers, have been bouncing around for months.

The entire issue was given a thorough airing during recent oversight hearings held by the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Cotton, of which I am a member. Following some 15 hours of testimony, I feel a great deal of the misunderstandings and misconceptions which clouded the issue were cleared up and steps were reviewed that I believe will ease tensions and tempers and put Cotton, Inc. back on the right track: solving problems facing the cotton industry and effectively promoting cotton products.

Cotton, Inc. has been a unique program since its inception. Since 1976, when the last government funds were appropriated for the program, it has been totally financed by the per-bale check-off program. Since farmers have the option to request a refund of that hard-earned money, producer confidence is essential. While many of the charges have, in my opinion, stemmed from personality conflicts among some national figures, it was the complaints by the producers themselves that I noted most of all.

Keeping in mind the fact that the producer is, in effect, a share-holder in Cotton, Inc. the same as in any large corporation, I could not help but agree with many of their proposals. Basically, the most common request involved increased accountability for the financial actions and directions of the program.

Other recommendations included the direct election of members of the governing boards by producers themselves and possible merger of the Cotton Board and the Cotton, Inc. Board to avoid duplication, division and unnecessary expense. They also asked for more detailed reporting to producers of the program's budget and expenditures.

None of these requests are unreasonable and all, I believe, will now be seriously reviewed by the Cotton Board, the Cotton, Inc. Board and U.S.D.A. Then it is time to put aside any personality differences and get on with the job at hand.

That job is by no means a small one. Despite the many contributions made by Cotton, Inc. in past years, there is much work that demands immediate attention. Just one critical area is the need for continuing cotton dust/byssinosis research. Lack of such applied research, with particular emphasis on the ginning level, can cripple the entire industry. Initial efforts to solve this complex problem must come from the cotton producers themselves.

After months and years of letters, innuendoes, allegations and generally the "trial by the press" of Cotton, Inc., I am pleased to reach the point where I feel we have heard "the rest of the story." I have every confidence in the producer leadership of Cotton, Inc. to make the right decisions.

Now it is time to move ahead and time to begin thinking in terms of "100 percent cotton" again.

AGAINST THE ODDS

Poor, black and uneducated, George V. Smith nevertheless managed to become a millionaire and the owner of the seventh largest black-owned business in America, the largest in Texas. Now, he hopes to help others do likewise.

The 53-year-old Smith heads three companies: Smith Pipe Testing Service Co., Continental Inspection Co. and Smith Pipe and Supply Co. The pipe they deal in is used mainly by the oil industry. In 1978 the companies grossed an impressive $24 million.

Smith has some 100 accounts. One of the major ones is the Sun Company. Smith Pipe is a key supplier in Sun's Minority Vending Program which helps Sun boost its volume of purchases from minority-owned businesses.

Smith points out that about half the Fortune 500 industrial companies have similar programs, and other black entrepreneurs can find them avenues to success.

One hundred million dollars is what Smith hopes his own three companies will gross by 1985, but his ambition is to reap more than mere profits. "My prime motivator is giving people opportunity," he says.

About 70 percent of his employees are black. "We need to quit talking about others hiring blacks and hire ourselves," he suggests. Smith employs high school dropouts and gives them incentives to better themselves. He volunteers his time to talk to troubled youths in poor neighborhoods and points out that he is an example of what can be accomplished against the odds.
