Tailored Lunches For Fall School Semester

The U.S. Department of Agriculture today issued rules that will change lunches served to children in schools starting next fall.

The rules based on recent surveys of children's eating habits and nutritional needs, encourage schools in the national school lunch program to tailor meal and portion sizes to the eating habits of children. This measure is expected to reduce plate waste among younger children and better the nutritional needs of older child-

These rules are the second and final part of a major change in school lunch meal patterns, originally proposed in 1977. The department implemented interim regulations in August 1978 to field test the proposed changes, and also solicited public comment. Today's final regulations reflect findings about the impact of the meal pattern changes gathered during the test phase.

The rules recommended sized portions of food to children of different age groups. For instance, schools and children's eating habits.

will have the option of providing smaller servings to younger children and offering larger portions to older children. Department officials feel this is more in line with the eating habits of young children.

The new rules also require schools to --increase the required servings of eggs and dry beans to make them nutritionally equivalent substitutes for meat and the other meat alternates.

--increase the number of bread servings required to provide children with the higher levels of iron and other nutrients specified in the 1974 RDA's.

Under the school lunch program, meal patterns are used to insure that lunches served across the nation meet nutritional requirements. The approved pattern, formerly called Type A, includes meat or a meat alternate, fruit and/or vegetable, bread or bread alternate and milk. These rethat schools serve different quirements are reviewed periodically to reflect new knowledge about nutrition

Multi-talented Retireee

A good day for Wesley might be putting his dogs in the pickup and taking them out for a workout and a little bird training. He seems to have had a life-long affair with hunting dogs, the Short-haired Pointer variety to be exact, the kind that like to point quail and pheasant and hear the brrooomm of a shotgun and feel the taste of feathers in their months as they race after a fallen bird.

"I have been training and selling these kinds of dogs for the past 20 years, the Wesley western-dressed said, warming up to the subject. I have had dogs before that, for years, but I didn't train them for others," he quickly added.

The owner of four dogs, "three pups that are four and a half months old, and the poppa dog who is nine," Wesley related how he trained them.

"You use live pigeons, quail, a rod and reel, there are different ways, but the thing to remember is that when a pup flushes his first covey the important thing to do is to be sure and bring down a bird, so the dog can see it fall. This eliminates his gun shyness. You need to train the dog at 41/2 to five months old and then shoot over them when they are five and a half to six months old. If they are nervous, I put them with the poppa dog and when I shoot over him (poppa dog) and the pups break, they will come back to him,' he grinned assuredly. What does a good trained dog cost? "From $100 to $250 for a healthy dog and you can expect that they will be hunter about 10 years."

A native of Grayson County, Wesley got interested in Getting the crop to the market used to be the last of farmer's worries. But now that the market may be half way around the world, transportation is moving up as a priority problem for the producer. Soybean growers are especially concerned since the soybean continues to be the nation's leading export crop. As the export market grows, so grows the problem in transportation. Most major soybean associations have now appointed special task forces specifically for the job of researching and recommending ways to improve the transportation system so that American products can remain competitive in the world market place. The problems have become especially acute since the rapid increase in demand for transportation has come at the same time as skyrocketing fuel costs and the shutdown of some key rail had dogs. But dogs aren't the only thing this retired domino buff is interested in. Ever heard the song

'Truck Driver's Dream''? or how about "Footprints", or "Roses"? No? Well then you must have heard "Coon Dog Music". After all, "Coon Dog" and "Truck Driver" were recorded and copyrighted in Nashville.

"I'm a frustrated song writer, among other things. Wesley said without a shade of embarrassment. "Used to play guitar till I broke my wrist and couldn't pick," he said amusingly, flexing his wrist, as if too puzzled about the skill that now eludes him. "A writer? I've always wanted to write but since I didn't have an education, didn't think I could." An education, we asked?" "Well, I just finished the seventh grade," he said with another big grin, "but I have written some short stories, and sold some fishin' pictures to Field and Stream and some newspapers.'

He likes to write nostalgic pieces about his early days in Grayson County, attending the one-room Hackberry School, and he wondered idly if we could identify with a one-room school, horse and buggies and "how things were then." We sorta could, we told him, having been born in the 20's in a Kansas town almost exactly the size of Floydada.

Some of Adam's nostalgia pieces have run in the Hesperian lately. Readers may recall seeing some in the last two or three weeks.

So if you see Wes on the street, or in the domino parlor, or in his pickup with his dogs, you'll know you are seeing a man who has tried his hand at several things maybe lots of us would like to try----writing, song composing, training animals.

And Wesley likes to recall his days as a car salesman in Bishop, Calif. and how he shot a huge hole in the side of his new 1950 Chevy one day on a hunting trip when he reached in the car and grabbed his favorite pump gun, acccidentally sliding the action back and cocked it just before it went off as he was from one room to another. Efficiency in circulating air more air a fan moves in a given time, the better its cooling potential. The less electricity it requires to move the air, the cheaper and more efficient it will be to operate. Generally, a 12-inch blade will move less air than a 20-inch blade, and the fan with the more power will thrust air further into the room. An oscillating fan distributes its cooling effect best when set to turn from side to side. Some models permit adjustments in the arc or stationary operation by adjusting a control knob. A clutch that slips or disengages when the swinging fan meets an obstruction is a desirable feature on an oscillating fan. This feature prevents a serious pinch if fingers are caught between the fan head and the pedestal. It also keeps the fan from tipping over if it meets an obstruction as it swings.

Since fan speed is often related to how noisy a unit is during operation, units that give a choice of low, medium and high speeds offer some flexibility. Expect a higher level of operation noise at higher fan speed than low or medium speed. If the unit will be used at night or in a child's room, make sure the unit operates quietly on a low setting.

County Extension Agent

Popular in the early 1900's, ceiling-mounted fans are making a strong comeback because of their energysaving potential as well as the nostalgic touch they add to an area. Today's ceiling fans come in a wider assortment of colors and styles, but their operation is essentially the same as the original models. Paddle blades, propelled with about the same power required for a light bulb, stir up stagnant air to keep room temperatures within the comfort zone.

Because of size and location, the ceiling fan is capable of redistributing sizable amounts of air over a wide area. Since they use less than 200 watts, they're an economical substitute for air conditioning on those not-so-hot days, as well as an economical and effective supplement for those higher air-conditioning settings. Units which permit a change of pitch on the paddles or blades will make for more effective use during both heating and cooling seasons. Heavier, cool air that accumulates near the floor will be drawn upward and recirculated by the revolving paddles during the summer season.

During winter when heated air accumulates at the ceiling, the fan works to move warm air gently downward for a more consistent temperature from floor to ceiling. Some units accomplish this dual-season feat by a motor that permits directtion of the paddles to be reversed, or tilt of the blades to be changed. While most models are equipped with variable speed motors, this

The L.C.C. Associates had their final meeting of the year Monday, May 19 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Gammage. Janie Carter was co-hostess. The evening was designated as family night with the husbands and children in attendance. A delicious meal was served including charcoaled hamburgers with all the trimmings and homemade ice cream, cake and cookies.

Following the meal, Van
Bradley led a prayer, and Ham Gammage led the group in a devotional.

The ladies moved to another room for their business meeting and installation of new officers. While installing the officers, Cheryl Bradley likened each one to builders of a home

The Senior Class In

By Renee Sanders

Even though school did not start until September, many seniors began their final year of school in August. Football started the year off with two-a-day workouts beginning three weeks before school. Band practices began two weeks before school started.

At the end of August, everyone registered for school and made appointments for senior pictures.

Class meetings were held in September to elect officers. Elected by the seniors were: Lori Bice, president; Kelly Marble, vice president; Kelly Higginbotham, secretary; Sammy Bradley, treasurer; Larry Westbrook, reporter; and Dwayne Marble, Julie Morton, and Renee Sanders, co-poster chairmen.

September also brought pep rallies which featured the varsity cheerleaders leading the school spirit.

Senior cheerleaders who were responsible for that Mean Green Spirit were Rosemary Barnes, Kelly Higginbotham, and Jonna West. The band and twirlers helped to add to the spirit as they began each pep rally with the fight song. Debbie Dobbins gave senior leadership to the twirling squad.

Football season had officially begun.

The Panhandle South Plains Fair was kicked off with the Parade of Bands marching down Lubbock's Broadway Street. The band captured third place in the AA band division.

South Plains News

Small rain showers this Monday morning are keeping the farmers out of their fields, as they wait for them to dry so they can get the cotton in the ground. It was fifty degrees this morning, and a heavy dew fell during the night.

This is an exciting day for the school children of South Plains as it is the end-ofschool picnic, which is held at the Plainview Park. Thebig school bus driven by Frank Lorilard carried the children, and Frank treated all of them and the sponsors to doughnuts when they reached Plainview. The group toured a dairy, skated at the skating rink and then went to the park where they had hamburgers at noon and games during the day. Mrs. Connie Johnson and Mrs. Linda Clark brought the kindergarten children home after lunch, and sponsors for the picnic were Mmes. Helen Teeple, Annelda Staples, Beckie McNeece, Sharon Shipley, Janis Julian, Gail Henderson and Kathy Mulder. Nathan Mulder went on the bus with the children. There were around 45 children who attended the picnic.

Mother's Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamm were two of their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Huff and Duane of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Staples, Billy, Stacy and Kevin.

Rain fell here Wednesday and Thursday, with most of our area getting around three inches. Here in South Plains we received around 2.70 inches, and farmers are plowing and getting ground ready to plant cotton, since the rains of the past week.

Dr. Strauss Atkinson who has been in the Plainview Central Plains Hospital with a heart condition, is reported to be getting along fine at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mc-Clure returned home recently from Irving where they had been visiting their brother-in-law Eddie Branch

Mrs. Murry Julian who was out of the hospital on Monday following several day's sickness. They spent about a week down there and came home last Saturday.

There will be no evening services at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday night, May 25, because of Baccalaureate Services which will be held at the First Baptist Church in Floydada for the graduates who attend Floydada High School. Services begin at 8 p.m. FHS graduates from South Plains include Renee Sanders, Breck Stapleton, Monty Lyons, Kelly Marble, Lori and Lisa Bice, Kristi Julian, Dwayne Marble, Joey Luna, Glenna Powell and Kenny Young. The latter two have moved to Floydada. Mrs. Edythe Caldwell, 76, of Plainview died last Monday at the Central Plains Hospital and her services were held on Wednesday morning, May 14, at the Lemons Memorial Funeral Chapel in Plainview. Additional services were held in Hanford, Calif. and burial was there at the Grangeville Cemetery in Armona, California. She was the grandmother of Mrs. Rogene Bethel (Laura) of South Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh went to Vera Friday to be at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Kinnibrugh. Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh cooked and cared for the parents while she was there, as Mrs. J.A. Kinnibrugh is an invalid, and they have a woman who cares for her during the week.

Mrs. Rancy Young (Nancy) has been attending college the past year at Plainview, and this coming fall and winter she will be teaching first and second grades at the South Plains Elementary School, taking the place of Mrs. Alice Peters.

Richard Powell has had a case of the chicken pox, but is about to get over them this week, and is doing fine. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Powell went to Perryton the past weekend to visit their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gilbreath and boys. Gary and Wanda are both better from illnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian and Tim and Mrs. M.M. Julian went to Lubbock Sunday afternoon to take Mrs. B.E. Sandusky to the plane where she went home to Denver, Colorado after she had visited here the past two weeks with her relatives.

Grigsby Milton, Jr. is recovering well from major surgery Saturday at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, and friends and relatives are glad to hear he is getting along well at this time.

Mrs. Leighton Teeple (Juanita) is flying this Tuesday, May 20, from Lubbock to New Orleans, Louisiana, where she will arrive this evening and will visit until next Tuesday with her daughters, Mr. and Mrs. David Reddout, Tonya and Ricky, and with another daughter, Rhonda. They all reside at Boutte, out from New Orleans. Hobby Club members met at the home of Mrs. Keith Marble (Neta) for a luncheon on Wednesday, May 14, at 11 a.m. Each member brought covered dishes to have at noon, and brought an unwrapped gift. Vice-president, Mrs. Letha Mulder presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Kendall Cummings (Dot) gave the "Thought For the Day." Roll Call was answered with, 'My Most Embarrassing Moment," and each one was most hilarious.

It was suggested that the club make arrangements with T.M. Whitely of Floydada to teach the club as a group in CPR and the Heimlack Maneuver. After the luncheon, Dot Cummings was auctioneer at a Chinese Auction where white elephant gifts were auctioned off. The proceeds were given to the club, and $34.65 was donated to the club from the sale. Present at the club meeting were Mmes. E.J. Kinslow, Kendall Cummings, Harold Hamm, How ard Staples, Letha Mulder, Nathan Mulder, Mike Mc-Neece, Mike Marble, Sterling Cummings and hostess Mrs. Keith Marble.

The next club meeting will be on June 11, at 8 a.m. for the annual "Breakfast at Mamie's", Co-hostesses with Mrs. Wood will be Mrs. M.M. Julian, Mrs. Harold Hamm, Mrs. Sterling Cummings and Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham.

Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teeple have been in the process of redoing their home the past two weeks. They have repainted and re-papered the entire house, and they have put new carpet down in the kitchen area, bathroom, and service area and utility part of their house. We know it all looks very beautiful.

Mrs. Inez Minyard of Littlefield came by here on Friday and got her sister, Mrs. Letha Mulder and they went to Clarendon to spend the weekend with her other sisters, Mrs. Pete Land and Mrs. Dale McGaugh of Clarendon. They stayed at the Land home during the weekend for a reunion of the four sisters. Mrs. Mulder returned home Sunday even-

OBITUARIES

Summer Youth Classes Will Be Held At The Texas Tech Museum June 2

All insects have six legs, but while the critters are walking, only three legs are on the ground to create a tripod balance -- just in case you didn't know.

And the planet Pluto, discovered in the 1930s, is closer to the sun now than it has ever been since its discovery. Pluto will also remain at its present distance from the sun for the next 30 years during its elliptical orbit.

These and other interesting facts about critters, planets, dolls, rocks, cowboys and a variety of other things will be included in the 1980 Summer Youth Classes for students from grades one through 12.

The youth classes, sponsored by the Women's Council of the West Texas Museum, Association (WTMA), will be held in The Museum of Texas Tech University, June 2-13 and July 14-25.

Registration fees for the classes range from $8 to $15. The classes will be held in the morning and early part of > fine line between cutting ting production and I am ost down and product-

"I have run a ripper and bedder in the same operation and on some fields have applied chemical with this rig,"

He has gone to alternate row watering, the use of row dikers, and planting more cotton than usual.

One thing that worries Smith is the unforseen breakdowns. "If a pump or piece of machinery breaks down when we need it, we have no option but to repair. These things are hard to plan

"We try to rotate our equipment purchases but it is becoming increasingly difficult to do. It is necessary to watch this closely because you could get to the place that your old equipment is worn out completely and not worth anything. So we are holding equipment purchases to a minimum and doing more repairs but at the same time trying to keep it in good shape."

Smith, like all farmers has hopes that this year's crop will be a good one and the economic situation changes. "If there is no change; there will be less of us next year.'

H.E. Frizzell who farms in the Lone Star community situation is different in some ways. The water on his places is weak. He has had to pull wells this year and change his operation to some extent by going to dryland farming on some places.

Where he still has water, he prewatered every other row and plans to water those same rows when the crop needs it. He has added a diker to his operation and ran it on every other row to hold the rainfall.

He also cut the rate of seed he plants from 22 pounds per acre to about 12 pounds. He is planting every row. On his dryland. He prepared the land by applying chemical, listing, and then running a chisel about 18 inches deep in the bottom of the furrow in order to catch the large rainfall and not lose any to runoff. The diker was run on this land

"The main difference I see in farming now is that we are going to have to depend more on the good Lord for rainfall and be prepared to use that rainfall the best we can," said Frizzell.

Asked about his view on the future of farming, Frizzell said, "Things are going to change. We are going to more cotton, wheat, and livestock. With our water running out, we will no longer be able to grow the maize, corn, and soybeans we have in the past. I think we will have more livestock than before, and will have to grow some kind of feed for them. I plan to have some sweet sioux this year for grazing and possibly

Cotton Outlook Seen As Good

National Cotton Council President Herman Propst sees the 1980's as a remendous growth period for cotton.

Pointing to the expansion that has occurred in cotton's markets this season, he told the National Cottonseed Products Association at its annual meeting here today that he believes it's "only the beginning" of a brighter outlook for cotton as a fiber and food

"We've already seen the impact of favorable economic development on our fiber consumption in the Far East,' Propst said, "and as world food needs grow, we're confident that demands are going to increase, too, for cottonseed oil and meal.

Even with prospects for a recession in the season ahead, the Council president said cotton still has a favorable outlook.

On the domestic scene, he noted that mill inventories are lean, and it's possible that mill fiber consumption could hold up better than the general economy in a recession.

Even if the total fiber market declines somewhat, Propst said it is entirely possible that cotton's domestic consumption in 1980-81 will be near or only slightly below this year.

On the foreign market side, the Council president said the world carryover is expected to be at a relatively low level when the new season begins, and cotton's export prospects appear excell-

"In looking at the industry's record of success over the past season, I think there's no question but that a big factor has been the growth climate provided by the market-oriented farm programs of the 1970's," the Anson, Tex., cotton producer said. "Under the strict acreage allotment programs of the past, we never could have achieved the growth we've experienced this season."

Regarding new farm policies that must be written next year, the Council president warned that attempts may be made to apply the same legislative remedies for grain and soybeans to cotton "even though cotton isn't experiencing the same problems and may not need or want the same remedies.

Propst asked the crusher segment's leadership in formulating and building support for a sound government cotton program tailored specifically to cotton's

He also assured the group that "the very highest" priority is being given by the industry to securing funds for a cash research program on cotton dust. With top officials from all segments now actively involved in a dust policy committee and with scientists, health and safety specialists, and economists from both industry and government working on a technical subcommittee, Propst said cotton has "the right people on the job and the right emphasis on the

While cash receipts from crops were up last year in Texas, net farm income made only slight gains due to increased production costs, points out Anderson. And in the wake of high interest rates and high levels of inflation, the squeeze between costs and sales receipts will be even more severe in 1980. Thus producers will likely hold off on purchasing certain inputs, such as machin-
