Two Tornadoes Tromp Tulia

BY SHELLY HARRIS

Pinky Moreno stood in his front yard and watched the churning black cloud approach Nazareth three miles away. A funnel developed, touched down, and bounced back up. Moreno gathered his wife and three children, sat them in the corner of an inside room of the house, put a mattress over them, and went back outside to check the storm.

The funnel had reformed and was traveling due east directly toward his brick home. Suddenly the funnel verred south and touched down taking out a line of electrical poles. It struck the grain storage buildings about one half mile down the road and then plowed into the Lakeview gin.

Moreno could see cotton trailers swirl in the half-mile wide cone. The tornado continued on land for five more miles and then Moreno lost track of it in the gathering darkness. The time was 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 28.

Spotters had reported a tornado moving east toward Tulia. Five units of the fire department were dispersed one to the south, one unit to the west and the rest went east. They saw two funnels moving parallel, about the same size, one a little in front of the other. The back funnel was much blacker than the first one.

The dispatcher in Tulia radioed to the fire trucks, "Shall I hit the alarm?" "You better believe it" came the quick reply.

Twenty minutes later, what is believed to be the second funnel set down in Tulia's center square. This funnel was not completely organized yet. It knocked out store windows toppled the sheriff department radio tower, tore store front signs, and dropped debris on the show lot of new Chevrolet cars.

Gathering strength it crumbled the back and side walls of a two story brick building, skipped the football stadium and tore up the dressing rooms of the swimming pool, the high school concession stand, and a fence.

Across the street it stripped a house and then reaching full force continued east.

Tommy Beck had just gotten home from work when the tornado alarm sounded. He watched the funnel approach for two or three minutes, decided it was coming toward them and warned his wife they'd better leave. She ran inside the house and gathered up an arm load of things, put them in the station wagon, and ran back for another load.

"Come on," Beck yelled. She started back for a third time. Beck grabbed her, put her in the station wagon. "Go," he commanded.

She drove off, he followed her in his pick-up. One half mile down the road they looked back. One funnel had veered off to the south, the other struck their house full force. The back wall crumbled, the roof flew off and then the house was engulfed in a cloud of churning dirt, and debris.

They watched the quarter-mile wide funnel continue east, snap a cable tower, tumble sheds and buildings across the road and continue cross country.

Nine miles further, one of the funnels crumbled a new combine like a tin can. And then they were gone.

Neighboring towns tried to radio Tulia. The tower was down and they couldn't get through. Telephone lines were down. No one knew how badly the town had been hit. Disaster units were dispersed from Canyon, Lubbock, Hereford, Happy, Kress, Silverton, Dimmitt, Olton and Amarillo.

Assistant Fire Chief, Milton Simon, with the volunteer fire department said, "Lubbock sent six units from the police department. Canyon units got here so fast they almost beat us back in town. We couldn't believe all the people who came to help."

"We needed the help", Simon said, "we couldn't get people off the street. They were driving around trying to see the damage. We were trying to block the damaged streets off."

In talking about the tornado Simon said that they saw the two funnels. "The first one hit Lakeview, it looked like to us, then it broke up, then it seemed to come down between the radio station and the elevators. When it took out the power lines it looked like fireworks."

The electricity went off at 9:15 someone said. Some said they cited three or four funnels, some said only one. The darkened skies and the nearness of night made it hard for people to tell.

Kenny LaGreca and Barry Allen are graduate students working with the Institute for Disaster Research at Texas Tech. They said the funnel that hit Lakeview was about a 1/2 mile wide. They rated the wind speed of medium intensity.

"This (tornado) is an odd one. It's wide and not as strong as you would expect it to be," LaGreca said. The system that spawned these tornadoes started at Clovis, New Mexico. It was moving in a generally west to east direction.

The Lakeview Gin had belonged to Jack Straw of Olton. He sold the gin to a group of farmers in February of this year.

The Gin had been completely overhauled and new equipment had been put in. The work had just been completed and they had two trailers of cotton ready to use to "tune-up" the equipment.

According to Jack Link of Paymaster Oil Mill the damage at the gin would run about $300,000. There were also 59 cotton trailers that had been thrown together making a stack over 30 feet high.

Across the road two grain storage units were picked up and one was thrown along side the stack of trailers. The other was dropped another 200 yards out in the field.

A corn field behind the grain storage tanks had been mowed to the ground in a perfect circle, the rest of the field was standing.

In town, about a quarter mile from the Beck home a storage barn was demolished. Three horses were pastured between the house and the storage barn. One was killed, the others injured.

There were no other casualties in Tulia. Mayor T.A. Hayhurst attributed that to the early warning the residents had. "We were very lucky," he said. He could not give any estimated figure for damage loss.

Weather Modification Election June 11

Two elections will be held in Floyd County during the next two weeks. The Democratic Primary will be a state run-off of three positions and is not expected to generate local voter interest.

The second election has been called by the Plains Weather Improvement Association, Inc. of Plainview to ask voter approval so that they may apply for a permit to institute a program of weather modification.

The hail suppression issue has been the subject of heated debates and called meetings. The controversy is between the farmers and ranchers who believe that cloud seeding stifles rainfall and the opposing farmers who believe that cloud seeding can control hail storms, and avert total crop loss from hail.

Voter interest in the weather modification should be high but only five precincts in Floyd County are involved. Those precincts are Almond, Sandhill, Providence, Harmony and West Lockney. There are 1253 qualified voters in those precincts.

Two years ago voters put a stop to the weather modification program in the South Plains area. A two year waiting period was necessary before the issue could be brought before the voters again.

Plains Weather Improvement Association secured 25 names on the initial petition to ask for permission to circulate a petition calling for an election. That petition had to be signed by 10% of the qualified voters in the precincts involved. There were 11 petitions distributed that were signed by 163 qualified voters. The petitions were then presented to the County Court who then ordered the election to be set for June 11.

The Plains Weather Improvement Association was then required to turn over a cashiers check for the estimated cost of the election to the County Clerk. The check was in the amount of $500 and is held in escrow. If the election fails that money will be used to pay the election costs. If the election carries the check will be returned and the County will pay all expenses.

Other counties that will be voting on this issue will be precincts in Hale, Lamb and Castro.

Tax Rate Reduced

The Board of Review will be in session at the County Courthouse at 9 a.m. on June 17 for the purpose of determining, fixing and equalizing the value of taxable utility property in Floyd County. The Board will be reviewing 1980 taxes for pipelines, power lines, telephones and railroad. Representatives from Latham and Stults of Dallas will be on hand.

A letter will be sent to the property owners in Floyd County by the Board of Equalization giving the appraisal and tentative tax rate on their property.

The amount of taxes an owner has to pay is not an item of consideration by the Board of Equalization, the Board can only see that properties are equal and uniform.

In the event the property owners feel their property is appraised at more than it will sell for on today's market, they may meet with representatives of McMorries and Company. That meeting date has not been set. Notice of that date will appear in the paper.

Members of the Board of Equalization are Doris Jones, Chester Carthel, J.R. Turner and Jimmy Wilson, alternate.

Under S.B. 621, all properties within Floyd County must be and will be appraised for the year 1980 and the following years.

The tax rate will be greatly reduced from last year.

Applications are being taken for Chief Appraiser for Floyd County. The Board would appreciate it if those interested would apply by June 1.

BECK HOME was destroyed Wednesday night. Many personal items of furniture were blown away. Friends of the Becks came in trucks and helped them move the things that were left.

TORNADO that hit downtown Tulia had not completely formed, but it was strong enough to blow these walls down. By noon the next day workers had cleaned up all the debris.

STORAGE BARN belonging to C.D. Cagel was flattened. A mobile home was gone. This building was about 1/4 mile from the Beck home. Horses were killed between the two and one of the horses was killed.

GIN didn't explode from pressure. The wind hit a side wall pushing it 10 feet. The roof collapsed without support. New equipment had been recently installed and the building remodeled. See Farm Page for other pictures of the gin.

Citizens Meeting Monday

A meeting of citizens in Floyd County who are exploring the possibilities of starting a Crime Line has been scheduled for Monday, June 2, at 7:30 in the District Courtroom.

Sergeant Doyle Nelson of the Lubbock Police Department will be on hand to explain how the program works in Lubbock and how to set up a similar program in Floyd County.

The Floydada City Council endorsed the idea of a Crime Line type operation at their last meeting.

Law enforcement officers have expressed their support of the program stating that they feel it would help their departments in solving crimes.

A canvass of Floydada businesses and individuals has shown that 96% of those surveyed were in favor of the program.

Crime Line is a volunteer organization financed by private donations. The donations are used as reward money for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for crimes.

Since the program is implemented by volunteers it will be up to the citizens to show the interest necessary to put the plan into effect. Turn-out at the meeting will be an indication of whether or not the people want to get involved.

Participation in the program will include those willing to donate to the fund, and those who can give a few hours of their time. The telephone Crime Line will have to be manned 24 hours a day. The Sheriff's Department has been approached to see whether their dispatcher could handle calls if the program is put in action.

A series of vandalisms to public buildings including damage to the First Baptist Church and the Senior Citizens Center prompted the interest in the program. Store break-ins have also been on the rise in the community.

Sight Restored After 20 Years

While many people take their blessings for granted, Robert Price counts his every day. For 20 years, he was blind due to an explosion. Then, thanks to the Lions International Eye Bank, he was given a corneal transplant two and one-half years ago, and sight was restored in one eye.

Price and his bright yellow school bus rolled into Floydada May 22 to address the Lions Club at their weekly meeting. He also promoted the signing of Eye Bank donor cards with the help of former seeing eye dog, Lady.

"I've signed up more than 7,000 donors personally," the Hollywood, California native said.

When asked why he chose to have surgery on only one eye, Price said, "I don't want to be greedy. There are so many other blind people."

Price and Lady travel throughout the United States sharing their story and gaining new eye donors along the way. Their mission is an admirable one, and Price has great personal faith in it. "Your sight's a wonderful thing," he said, "and so is the Eye Bank."

LEONA WARREN was honored at a surprise reception honoring her 21 years' service at Andrews Ward. Mrs. Warren served for six years in the Andrews library and 15 as secretary. Pictured (l to r) are principal, Preston Watson, Mrs. Warren, and superintendent, Jerry Cannon.

32 Miles of Roughest Terrain

Bracketville, Texas—The Alamo West 250 Off Road Races cross country on a 32 mile course on some of the roughest terrain is set at Alamo Village, the movie capitol of Texas. The high powered race cars being driven by experienced and well known race car drivers will be competing for top performance, trophies and cash prizes.

The races start promptly at 11:00 a.m., on Saturday, June 7th. Eleven different classes of specially built, precision crafted vehicles start at thirty-second intervals in race against time.

It is exciting and anything can happen to cars entered. It is not unusual for motors to burn out, wheels to run off and the cars to turn over. The rocky, rugged terrain combined with the hairpin curves make it an extraordinary scene to behold. The 1979 over all winner came in on three wheels. Spectators will also see the cars make pit stops. All of the excitement of the behind-the-scenes of racing is kept alive by the Border Amateur Radio Society and San Antonio Repeater Organization who set up their communications covering the entire 32 mile course, including 11 check points. In the event of an emergency, instantaneous transmissions will be available from anywhere on the tracks, back to the control point.

Rancher Happy Shahan and the Bess Brothers of Bedias, Texas, are promoting the race which is sanctioned by "Score International" rules.

According to owner Shahan, spectators will be able to see the most exciting features of the races from a high vantage point near the Alamo set where the race will begin. It will be an exciting day for visitors who will enjoy not only the races, but tour the movie site and the Village Cantina will be open serving food and soft drinks.

The Shahan Express Band, featuring Valentino; Johnny Shackelford, Vince Kavanaugh, Terri Marsh, Linda Davis, Penny Campbell and the Sellers Sisters will be performing five live shows daily, consisting of music, singing and western melodrama.

So for an exciting weekend the whole family can enjoy, why not come out and tour the famous movie location, catch the shows and watch the races. Alamo Village is seven miles north of Bracketville, Texas, on Fm 674. Additional information regarding the races can be obtained by writing or calling: Bess Brothers, 713/394-2699, Rt. 2, Box 36B, Bedias, TX 77831 or Happy Shahan, Alamo Village, 512-563-2580, Box 528, Bracketville, TX 78832.

Cancer Diagnostic Equipment Being Designed at A&M

New cancer diagnostic equipment, even more sophisticated than the kind that attracted the Shah of Iran to the United States for treatment, is being designed at the Texas A&M University Physics Department.

Dr. John A. McIntyre, Professor of Physics at A&M, is heading a research team building the prototype of a gamma ray CAT scanner that will produce a sharper picture at less cost than models now available. His research is supported by an American Cancer Society grant.

The CAT, as it is popularly known, stands for "Computerized Assisted Tomography." It is a half-million-dollar instrument that uses x-rays or gamma rays to produce a picture of the "insides" of a solid object or a human body and can disclose malfunctioning organs or the beginning growths of cancer.

The original models used revolving x-ray machines shooting beams through the body. Electronic receptors, opposite the x-ray source, transmitted the rays to a computer which "drew" a picture of the interior being viewed. Each view was that of a vertical "slice" of the subject pictured.

The gamma ray CAT creates its computer image from impulses received by electronic receptors encircling the body. The gamma rays are emitted by radioactive elements injected into the patient's system. The chemicals shortly lose their radioactivity and are eliminated by natural body processes.

The gamma CAT's advantages over its x-ray predecessor is its ability to pinpoint a specific object in the body and even trace physiological processes and record changes in body fluids and structures and in body chemistry. Normal as well as diseased organs in living creatures can be studied in detail for the first time. Yet the present gamma instrument's picture is less sharp than that of the x-ray machine.

Now Dr. McIntyre has found an economical way of improving the gamma CAT's picture. The problem would normally call for a vast increase in number of gamma ray detectors and expensive photo-multipliers. To match x-ray clarity as many as 16,000 of both devices would be required with the price tag of photo-multipliers at about $100 each.

A way around this expensive quandary was devised by Dr. McIntyre and his colleagues by using an ingenious "new math" system of counting that would require only 42 photo-multipliers to register the individual "flashes" from 16,000 detectors.

The device transmits the gamma ray emissions by optical fibers to five groups of photo-multipliers, ten in each of four groups, and two in the fifth. These multipliers then "count" simultaneously, much in the same fashion as the old abacus, in single digits, then in tens, hundreds, thousands and two ten thousands.

This maneuver reduces a potential cost of $1.6 million, down to only $4,200 for the photo-multipliers, and mass production of the electronic detectors can bring this item down to an acceptable cost, Dr. McIntyre believes.

The improved CAT is expected to maintain the United States' position as the leader among a score of nations now employing this device in research and for cancer treatment.

IT'S A FACT!

The physical therapist is an important member of the medical team. All of the more than 32,000 physical therapists in the U.S. have completed at least a baccalaureate degree program and have a specific period of clinical training. Each day, more than 150,000 benefit from their expertise as they seek to overcome pain and physical disability.

Physical therapists do more than restore function to traumatized limbs. They also work with children to overcome crippling birth defects and with stroke victims to restore movement and independent living. For most post-operative patients, they are the link in the health-care team that speeds successful recovery. Because of their importance to total recovery, the American Physical Therapy Assn. points out, it's important that you make sure your health-care insurance includes coverage for recovery health services — the kind provided best by the trained physical therapist.

LAKEVIEW NEWS

By Joyce Williams

Mrs. Carl Moose entertained their birthday party for Mrs. Sherman of the Sherman family. Other guests were Mrs. Elfin Sherman, Mrs. Ed Lee of

On Monday she built a brick patio and sidewalk for her parents at their ranch.

She left Tuesday to rest a few days before going to Magnolia, Arkansas to stay with her mother and father-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Goodwin, where she will attend the first summer session of the college there.

While Rex Harrison and the other farmers are planting cotton, their families are attending end-of-school activities. Beverly Harrison has been making ceramic recipe boxes and kitchen caddies, and painting on glass. Milton Harrison sawed round wooden lids for glass canisters which Beverly will paint. She and her sons, Jason and Brandon, attended Old Settler's Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Bunch returned home Wednesday afternoon from a visit in Carrollton, with their two sons and their families. Mamie and Willie went to Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Bunch's home Friday to attend the high school graduation of Darrell's daughter Tanya. Their other daughter is Brenda.

They then visited with Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Bunch and children, Kalisa, Brandon, and Jeremy.

Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Gentry of Slaton visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Gentry on Memorial Day.

Trava Gentry and a guest, Tim May of Earth, also visited her parents Monday. Trava is staying in Lubbock with Tammy this week.

The rain Tuesday averaged about seven tenths of an inch over the community, a very hard rain with lots of wind.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl Edwards had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Maxie McKnight of Kress on Wednesday and Thursday.

They were on their way to Galveston to attend the graduation of their son, Dell, from Galveston Medical College. It was the ninetieth graduation for the Medical school. Many early-day West Texas doctors studied there.

Dell's wife, also from Kress, is a medical technician at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston. After interning, Dell plans to practice medicine in a small town.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn were part of the bus tour from Floydada to John Knox Retirement Village in Lubbock Monday. They enjoyed seeing Floydada people such as Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Arwine, Lonelle Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Noman Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morkel, who are residents at the Village. J.B. Jordan, formerly of Floydada, works at the Village.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bertrand kept their grandson, Will Warren of Tahoka, over the weekend. Also here for Memorial Day were their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Bertrand and Shelly of Vernon. Ronnie planted cotton while here.

Congratulations to Miss Mary Ann Quilantan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reynaldo Quilantan, who received an award Wednesday at Andrews Ward School for making straight A's all year long.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Bunch visited their daughter, Mrs. Joy Finley, in Midland recently on Mother's Day.

Mrs. A.N. Ganibel of Lubbock visited her brother, Earl W. Edwards, on Friday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Kathleen Edwards, Earl's sister-in-law of Silver City, New Mexico, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphee and son of Silver City. Mr. Murphee is Mrs. Kathleen Edwards daughter.

Mrs. Frances Balfuada of Wolfforth visited her sister, Mrs. Reynaldo Quilantan, over the weekend. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Becerra, of Floydada.

Mrs. Randy Bertrand and daughters Angie and Misty attended open house at Girl Scout Camp Rio Blanco Sunday afternoon. Also in the party were Mrs. William Bertrand and Mrs. Ronnie Bertrand and daughter, Shelly. Connie says the two new buildings have full basements for storm shelters and are beautiful additions to this Blanco Canyon camp where so many girls have shared camping experiences over the years.

Mr. Albert Jones, uncle of Mrs. Q.D. Williams, died in the Medi Park Rest Home in Amarillo Tuesday afternoon.

He was born in a dugout on the family ranch, on Palo Duro Creek in Moore County between Sunray and Dumas in 1900. The night he died twelve inches of rain fell in the county and the bunk house, built near the dugout was flooded by the Palo Duro Creek. His grandson, home from college and high school, and running the ranch, reported the high water swept away water gaps, corrals and caused horses and cattle to drown. The boys scooped the bunk house out with wheat shovels. Their classmates from Sunray helped them round up horses and cattle. They worked until ten o'clock Wednesday night repairing water gaps. Mr. Jones' funeral was planned for Friday.

FLOYD DATA

Mr. Carl Tardy of Roaring Springs, and son Don of Hereford, were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tardy Monday evening.

THIS GRAIN STORAGE TANK was carried about one-quarter mile and dumped beside these trailers. The CONSERVATION COOKIN' "Conservation cookin'" saves time, money and energy — and "the proof" is in some actual recent tests. Homemakers and industry both share the task of making kitchen ranges more energy efficient — and recent tests prove big savings are possible and easy. Volunteers in a "conservation cookin'" test saved a whopping one-third in energy — just by the way they cooked, according to all the reports. Of course, that's the homemaker's part.

learn what to do, remember the "what not to do's" first — since they make the big difference. During the recent "conservation cookin'" tests, the energy wasters were found "guilty" of these practices: (1) they opened the oven door frequently, (2) they cooked on the high setting too long, (3) they turned on the surface unit, and (4) they often failed to reduce the heat during cooking.

resist the temptation to open the oven door unnecessarily? keep from leaving the oven door too long? If you had to say "no" to any of the questions, you need to change those cooking habits before you are an expert at "conservation cookin'."

But what about industry? It, too, has a share in the task, and the appliance world is abuzz with word of new designs on the drawing boards and in testing stages — all focusing on greater energy efficiency for ranges. As consumers learn of the innovations in ranges, they can be on the lookout for them to study and compare — then consumers will be more apt to insist on the most energy-saving features for their money whenever they actually buy. But, until industry's "brightest energy stars" hit the market, homemakers can save one-third — or more — right now just by learning the easy techniques of "conservation cookin'." Before you use flat-bottomed pans that hug the surface element closely? use a pan size equal to the size of the surface element? turn the heat down as soon as they're red? preheat only as long as necessary — and only for products that require a preheated oven (mainly baked items containing sugar)?

Now for a peek into the industry crystal ball at what's to come in ranges. Industry is working on several design changes to improve range energy efficiency. Among those are smaller ovens, more and better insulation, no-window ovens, possibly smaller oven vents, improved oven doors and seals and flatter surface elements. In addition, researchers are studying the use of oven-construction materials that absorb less heat. All in all, these insights and developments should go a long way toward making the energy picture a bit brighter. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or origin.

Hale Awarded M.D.

Samuel Andrew Hale, Jr. has graduated with a Doctor of Medicine (M.D.) degree from The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio. Dr. Hale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Hale. He is a graduate of Floydada High School, New Mexico Jr. College, Southwestern Oklahoma State University School of Pharmacy. Beginning in July, Dr. Hale begins a Family Practice Residency in Lubbock at the Texas Tech University Health Science Center. Dr. Hale is married to the former Sherry Crutchfield also from Floydada, and they have a daughter Laura Lynn. The degree candidates, 93 men and 37 women, who finished their studies this spring were honored at a convocation and reception May 31. Principal speaker was Dr. Carlos Pestana, professor of surgery and associate dean for student affairs in the medical school.

Attending from Floydada were Mr. and Mrs. Grady Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Meek, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Walters, Mrs. Nettie Lowrance, Beady Owens, Lorene Reasoner, Mary Smith, Ethel Cross, Myria Dade, Ethel Warren, Sarah Plumlee, Charlie Spence, and Mrs. Dartha Westbrook. Thirty-six senior citizens from South Plains counties won awards at the event.

Jerry Perry

Arab real estate may go back to just being a lot of dry sand if our farmer's interest in farm production of fuel alcohol stays as high as it is now. In fact, if farmers can produce half as much energy as this issue has interest, then the fuel problem may be well on the way to being solved. Because of the unusual amount of attention being paid to the production of alcohol fuel from grain and other farm crops, we are setting aside the next couple of weeks to take a look at some of the facts and expert opinions surrounding what could be one of the most dynamic factors ever to influence American agriculture. There has been a lot of misinformation passed along through the media, and there are still more questions than answers, but we'll take a look at some of the known facts next week.

Center News

By Mrs. J.E. Green

Hello, everybody! I am home again after a sasha down state. It is that time of year.

On the eighth instant I caught a ride to Plainview with son Victor (since we don't have an area bus out of this town anymore). I spent a pleasant night at their home, then took the bus from Plainview to Big Spring and spent another pleasant night with son Don Clark and wife.

Early Saturday, Don Clark and I drove to Brownwood where we joined the Dr. Rymona family to attend the commencement exercises of Howard Payne University. A chief attraction was to see my third granddaughter of the family graduate from that Institution Sunday. It was wonderful. Don Clark had graduated from H.P. 32 years before.

The drive thru this "Lone Star State" was beautiful all the way. Everything was green from plenty of rain. The roadside was dotted with patches of primroses, brown-eyed Susans, etc. The bluebonnets were about gone.

I joined the Rymons to go on to Hubbard for a visit. Next day was Mother's Day and as usual I captured the corsage for the nth time for being the oldest mother present at the First Baptist Church. My daughter got the corsage for having the most children present.

And soon it began to rain. For over a week it rained either day or night. One evening we women attended a stork shower. (It rained double that time.)

The other grandmother, Mrs. Ryman Sr. was also present for the graduation at Howard Payne and was also visiting with her son and family, the Doc Rymans. We had a good time. There were Green relatives in Hubbard, too.

Time marches on. Old Settler's time was drawing near. I just couldn't miss this one. And there was another visit I wanted so much to make. Mrs. Ryman was ready to go home too, so Margaret and two daughters set out Tuesday for Wadsworth (near the Gulf Coast) with the two grandmothers. They spent the night in that spacious home, and next day we went by Alvin and visited in a Rest Home with my dear former Center neighbor of 32 years. Yes, Mrs. Walter Sims. We had such a good visit. She looked so well, although she had been sick not long before.

Friday Margaret brought me home.

On our way, we stopped at the Hillsboro Rest Home to see my sister-in-law, Mattie Matthews. She has just been moved from the Hillsboro Hospital in Waco. We had seen her in Waco, too. She is convalescing nicely from brain surgery.

How we enjoyed the Old Settler's! We saw so many old friends of yester years. It was good to be in Calvary Church Sunday. After church we enjoyed dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Latta at a local cafe, and visited later in their beautiful new home.

We are sorry to learn that Miss Mary Pearl Coward is in the hospital. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Miss Vera Meredith's company sometime last week was Bro. and Mrs. Clay Muncy, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas and Mrs. C.M. Meredith.

Mrs. Roe Jones enjoyed having all four of her daughters home over the weekend. Helen, Christine, Clara Mae and Wanda.

Mrs. Vernon McPeak spent weekend of May 18th in Levelland visiting her sister, Mrs. Vera Thompson, who was in the hospital. Mrs. Thompson was able to go home the next Sunday May 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ashton visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn Sunday.

Mrs. Claud Carpenter of the Lockney Rest Home spent Sunday with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carpenter.

De Wayne Brewer and family of Dallas spent the weekend with his parents, the Henry Brewers. They brought the children in to see the parade.

Mrs. Cora Hartline is home again after spending eight days in a Plainview hospital.

Monday, Mrs. Ethel Warren, accompanied by Mrs. Ava Jackson, Mrs. Leo Frizzell and Mrs. Lovell were in Lockney with Mrs. Warren's sister, Mrs. Workman, to help her sister celebrate her ninetieth birthday.

After dining at the church Sunday, the Thomas Warren's visited her sister and family, the Bob Allredges.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mensch and son David of Lubbock visited Monday and Monday night with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas. They are on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes visited Mr. and Mrs. Plumlee Sunday.

Mrs. Ethel Warren reports she was with the group who visited the John Knox City of Lubbock one day last week. They saw so many former Floydadians they must have had a good time. And don't you know that J.B. and Maurine Jordan were on the receiving line.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huckabee of Dumas (formerly of Center) were home for the Old Settler's and visiting relatives.

helping in Bible School, please offer your services to Mrs. Nina Upton, who is in charge of serving refreshments each day to the Bible School children, teachers and workers.

Mrs. O'Lean Luna of La Von, near Dallas, arrived in Lubbock last Saturday to be met by her sister, Mrs. Fletcher Powell, and is here visiting with them until June 7 while her niece, Glenna Powell is graduating from Floydada High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh and their daughter, Mrs. Beth Dickens, and Latham spent Saturday to Monday afternoon in Ruidoso, New Mexico, where they enjoyed pleasant weather and a good time.

This Thursday Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh and her sisters, Mrs. Ray Dillard of Lockney, Mrs. W.S. Simmons of Truscott, and Mrs. W.S. Smith of Odessa, plan to go to visit their only brother, Grady Spivey who resides at Navasota. They will visit with him and his family until Sunday.

Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham was hostess to Dr. and Mrs. Fred Howard of Plainview at a Sunday dinner following services at the South Plains Baptist Church. Guests at the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Grigsby Milton, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Chappell of Duncan, Oklahoma, Dr. and Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Letha Mulder, Mrs. Mamie Wood and Mrs. Bonnie Julian. There were no Sunday night services at the South Plains Baptist Church.

Old Settler's Day was celebrated in Floydada Saturday of last week with many from here attending, including Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham, Mrs. Mamie Wood and Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Taylor. Prizes for flower arrangements were won by both Mr. and Mrs. Taylor for their entries.

Visiting here as house guest since Saturday with her sister and husband is Mrs. M.B. Griffin (Minnie) from Los Angeles, California, who is going to be here until next Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure and other members of the family.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols over the past weekend for celebration of Mrs. Nichols birthday were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whitfill of Sweetwater, Texas. Luncheon and supper guests with them on Sunday were Glen's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jennings of Tulsa, who visited that afternoon at the Nichols home. Granddaughters Mrs. Judy (David) Allen of North Carolina and Mrs. Terre Michaels, who was in Bloomington, Illinois, called Mrs. Nichols to wish her happy birthday greetings.

Mrs. Letha Davis from Irving was visiting relatives here the past week, including her brother, Mr. and Mrs. John Cox of Lockney, and they all came during the weekend to visit Mrs. Davis' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols.

Many from the South Plains Community went to Floydada Sunday evening to attend Baccalaureate Services at the First Baptist Church, where the Rev. James W. Smith introduced the Bishop Alsie H. Carlton, who gave the sermon for the Baccalaureate address. The services began at 8:00 p.m. with the Floydada High School graduates attending in a body for the services. There are 79 seniors this year.

Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham received a telephone call this Monday from her brother Albert Cypert, who is stationed in the Marshall Islands. They are planning a family reunion in June, and the brothers, sisters and others will meet here in South Plains for the reunion.

Alvin Nichols is in the Central Plains Hospital at Plainview this Wednesday where he is taking medical tests. He was taken there Tuesday and will spend a few days in the hospital for a check-up.

Mr. and Mrs. R.Q. Botkin are here visiting their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Johnson, Tracy and Troy. They attended the end-of-school program which was held at the South Plains School Auditorium on Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

The South Plains end-of-school program and plays from each school grade and room were held at the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon, May 27 at 1:30 with everyone in all six grades taking part in the plays. Sixth grade graduates were issued their awards and certificates, and other awards were given children in the school, such as those for good attendance, good grades and several other awards.

Mrs. Alice Peters was honored as she has resigned her first and second grade classes, and we all hate to see her leave us. Mrs. Wayne Hunter, teacher of the fifth and sixth grades, awarded the diplomas. These children will be going to Floydada Junior High School next term. Those who graduated were: Martha Garibay, Terri Bailey, Ted Flores, Tony Shipley and Martin Pena. We congratulate them all, and wish them a happy year ahead. Refreshments of cookies and cold drinks were served to everyone who attended, and each room served to those who came. Many parents, grandparents, other relatives and friends were present for the pleasant occasion. South Plains School was formally out for this year on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.

duce if the area experiences unseasonal cool weather during the coming weeks," the Texas Tech vegetable expert said.

Downes offered some tips on how to grow vegetables in the backyard.

"Homeowners should avoid shaded areas for planting vegetables and also make sure that the vegetables are not planted near trees, grass or shrubs, to reduce competition for water among the various plants," Downes said.

If the backyard soil is not well drained, or if the soil contains rocks and other foreign material, homeowners can plant vegetables in large containers, especially tomatoes, peppers and cucumbers.

Not Too Late To Plant

Amateur gardeners still can plant or replant tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, okra, peppers and other warm season vegetables in the backyard, but a Texas Tech University professor says homeowners should plant soon.

"Warm season vegetables, which also include sweet corn, beans, southern peas and melons, can be planted now. Backyard producers need to be aware, however, that some of these are long season vegetables that need to bear fruit before the first frost hits in mid-October," said Dr. John D. Downes, professor of plant and soil science at Texas Tech.

The warm season vegetables that have a long growing period include okra, watermelons, cantaloupes and peppers, he added.

"It is late to plant or replant cool season vegetables such as lettuce, radishes, onions and potatoes. These vegetables may pro-

Mrs. Murry Julian

Dr. Fred Howard will be with the South Plains Baptist Church this Wednesday night May 28, and he will preach morning and night services Sunday for his last work here at this time, as he will be leaving for California where he will be teaching this summer at the Golden Gate Seminary at San Francisco. We will all miss him and his wife, who have been with us the past weeks since Pastor and Mrs. Fred Blake went to their new church in Winslow, Arkansas.

Visitors Sunday at the Baptist Church included Mr. and Mrs. Zach Cummings from Lockney, their daughter, Mrs. Jean Rose from Denver, Colorado, who is visiting here with relatives, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Chappell, of Duncan, Oklahoma, who were here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grigsby Milton, Jr. As this was the first time in church since the surgery and illness of Mr. Milton, it was a time for rejoicing for everyone to see him back in church.

Vacation Bible School begins at the South Plains Baptist Church on June 2 and concludes June 6th. Each day the school will be starting at 9 a.m. If you are not

Who benefits from supplemental retirement plans such as IRA and RR-10?

These plans are designed to benefit any working American. Most work because of necessity and most, when they quit work, need and want retirement income . . . a result of their past efforts. Unfortunately, a high percentage of this work force either changes jobs before becoming eligible for retirement or work where there is no retirement plan. On September 1, 1974, President Ford signed into law a portable retirement plan, making it possible to have a retirement income even if you must change jobs frequently or work where there is no retirement plan. Portable retirement plans that work for the earning individual is what IRA (Individual Retirement Account) and RR-10 (Keogh) are all about. Learning your ABC's . . . planning for the future.
