ANONYMITY IS THE KEY

The informant is given a number when he calls in. An example would be 80-001. The 80 would be the year, the 001 would be the individual. "Anonymity is the key to the operation," Nelson said. "Police officers must honor the anonymity of the informant."

The informant is close enough to the crime so that he knows when the criminal has been arrested and indicted. The informant will then call Crime Line giving his number and asking for the reward money. Either he or the Crime Line representative will set up the drop location.

This is handled by the drop committee. They will put the cash reward money in an envelope, mark it with the informants number and leave it at a small grocery store, or hamburger stand. Generally the drop committee member knows the owner of the store. Then at some time the informant picks up his reward money. He then calls back and confirms that he received the drop.

In Lubbock they have a set fee. For murder the reward is $1000, for rape or robbery it is $500, burglary is $300. If an informant will also testify at the trial, the reward money is doubled.

The grievance committee is called in when two informants call in about the same crime. It is up to the committee to decide how the rewards money will be paid. On one murder case in Lubbock the committee decided to pay both informants. The Chief of Police serves on that committee.

CITIZENS RUN CRIME LINE

The one rule that Lubbock has followed is to keep the operation non-political. There are no elected officials on the Board. "It's made up of private citizens," Nelson said.

He told the 43 citizens in attendance at the meeting that the way to get a program started in Floyd County is to have those interested in serving on the board volunteer. That group then would elect officers. The President would meet with an attorney and set up a Corporation. "Any you'd be in business," Nelson said.

Mayor Powell asked the group if they were in favor of the program in Floyd County. The show of hands indicated total support.

Powell then asked how they wanted to proceed. Brother Floyd C. Bradley of the First Baptist Church suggested that those present who would serve on the board move to the other side of the room.

Mayor Powell heartily approved the suggestion and asked that those interested in serving so indicate. Thirteen Floyd County citizens immediately got up and moved to the back rows of the Court Room.

Brother Bradley nominated Kinder Farris as President of the Board. He was elected by accumulation. Alton Higginbotham was elected Vice President by accumulation as was Fred Thayer elected Secretary-Treasurer.

Board members are: Bill Gray, Floyd C. Bradley, Donnell Gowens, W.R. Bradshaw, Louis Anderson, Lawson Rowell, Higginbotham, Shelly Harris, Gordon Kirtley, Keith Patzer, Fred Thayer, Steve Kelley, R.V. Webster, Carroll Anderson, H. Dewitt Seago and Farris.

Texas Baptists Join Brazilian

Dr. Bradley, pastor of First Baptist Church in Floydada, Texas, will be in Brazil from May 29 from Recife, Brazil. Dr. Bradley was asked to represent the Caprock-Plains area of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board and the Brazilian Baptist Convention are planning three periods of simultaneous revivals. Dr. Bradley related. The Texans will pay their own expenses to participate in the mission effort in Brazil. The first revivals will be in September of 1981, the second revivals will be in June of 1982, culminating in October of 1982 with revivals in the 130 churches in Recife. Texas churches are already actively involved in the Brazilian evangelistic efforts. This month 120 people from the Top of Texas Area will be in 24 different churches near Rio de Janeiro, Dr. Bradley said.

The Texans will share their testimonies in house-to-house visitation during the day and assist with the worship services in the evening, he explained. "Musical groups and choirs from Texas churches will be going to Brazil during the next two years," said Dr. Bradley.

Pointing out that Brazilians enjoy and appreciate good music, he described the music at Igreja Batista Do Cordeiro where he preached May 25 as "absolutely heavenly — I've never heard such beautiful music."

The church in which the Floydada pastor preached is the largest Baptist Church in the State of Pernambuco and is in the city of Recife.

Dr. Bradley will be involved in the overall direction and planning of the cooperative effort between the Texans and Brazilian Baptists. He hopes to go with a group from First Baptist Church in Floydada, as well as other area groups.

"I see our church involved in sending two groups, one in the summer and possibly a larger group in October of 1982," he said.

The Sunday morning service in which Dr. Bradley described his experiences in Brazil will be re-broadcast Friday night at 9 p.m. on Channel 2.

THESE YOUNGSTERS are enjoying summer camp which is geared for diabetic children.

Summer Camp Fun Is Good Learning Experience

By Janet Lloyd

Summer means different things to different kids. Baseball, sleeping late, visits to grandma's house, swimming and to many that long awaited week at camp. Unless you are one of those growing number of children who have to depend on a family member or a nurse to help control the sugar level in your blood with insulin injections.

This week a group of kids are enjoying camp—just like their friends who don't have to cope with being a diabetic at Plains Baptist Assembly south of Floydada.

RETA PIERCE has been promoted to the position of Assistant Cashier at the First National Bank of Floydada.

Bank Promotion For Reta Pierce

Reta Pierce has been promoted to the position of Assistant Cashier of the First National Bank of Floydada. Announcement was made by Bank President, Tom Farris.

Reta has been with the bank fifteen years, and has held the position of Head Teller for the past 10 years. She deals with the Federal Reserve Bank in the ordering and receiving of money.

When Reta started with the bank she was working in the proof department. "That's where you begin to learn the ropes of banking," she said. She was promoted to Teller and then to Head Teller.

"As a teller, through the years, I have most enjoyed waiting on the Senior Citizens. They come in to cash their Social Security checks and it's always a pleasure to see them," Reta continued. "I always try to plan my vacations so that I won't be gone the first of the month when they come in."

She said that the changes

Under the sponsorship of the Lubbock Rotary Club, Texas Tech School of Medicine and the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation in the School of Arts and Sciences at Texas Tech, these young people are being given the opportunity to participate in camping activities which they otherwise might not be allowed to enjoy.

"We think the camp plays an important part in the physical, social and emotional development of the individual participants. We emphasize independence and self maintenance," said Dr. Ralph Atkinson, recreation division coordinator in the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at Tech.

The main goals of the camp are to let the children have fun, meet other children and at the same time learn about their disease. The campers are taught about the importance of diet, exercise and insulin. All those who are attending the camp are presently on insulin.

Activities which the children mainly from Lubbock,

Amarillo, Big Spring and Eastern New Mexico are enjoying include swimming, soccer, hiking, archery, arts and crafts, ping-pong, scuba diving and riflery.

As one can see, the camp is primarily recreational in nature and carry-over activities with lifetime sports being emphasized.

The camp is staffed by Dr. S. Varma, M. Rohama and B. Sharma, two nurses and a dietician working together to help the young people between the ages of 6 and 15 understand and learn more about diet and management.

The youth are provided with planned meals and snacks in an effort to teach them the necessary diet requirements. The camp takes a multi-disciplinary approach to its activities and sessions.

"Let's don't forget the Baptist that help make this project possible" said Dr. Atkinson.

The camp will end Friday, and we are sure that many mothers and fathers will be hearing about a wonderful camp in a beautiful canyon near a friendly town called Floydada.

New A&M School Is Introduced

Already enrolled in the first telecommunications school scheduled at the A&M West Texas Regional Training Center in August are six persons from Dodge City, Kansas and three from Artesia, New Mexico said Wayne McCauley, a new instructor at the school.

McCauley and his wife, Alice Virginia, will be moving here from Seymour within the next six months.

"I have some traveling to do for the next several weeks and then we will begin making arrangements to move to Floydada," McCauley explained.

Prof Speculates on Reagan's Running Mate

One of the most important decisions Ronald Reagan will make during his presidential campaign will be his choice of a vice presidential running mate, in the opinion of Eugene Alpert, an assistant professor of political science at Texas Christian University.

A specialist in presidential politics, Alpert noted that, because of Reagan's age, the vice presidential slot will take on added significance.

"This is an area the Republicans have been traditionally weak in," Alpert explained. "Nixon picked Spiro Agnew, who was a complete unknown at the time, and Gerald Ford chose Robert Dole, who projected a very negative image—very vindictive and sarcastic in his public appearances," Alpert said.

Alpert's advice? "Reagan would do best to choose a moderate from a large industrial state," Alpert suggests. Illinois governor James Thompson as a good possibility.

"Illinois has traditionally been a swing state, and Thompson is very popular there. He could easily carry Illinois for Reagan, and that's a state he'll really need," Alpert explained.

Alpert also cited Pennsylvania Senator John Hines as a potential running mate. "Pennsylvania is a big state—it would be a real plus for Reagan to keep it out of the Democratic column," Alpert said.

And, there is George Bush. Alpert said he would be a good choice, even though he doesn't have a statewide constituency.

MRS. JAMES EARNEST FRANKLIN

Schwertner-Franklin Repeat Vows

Doris Marie Schwertner became the bride of James Earnest Franklin as they exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony on Saturday, May 31 at 3:00 p.m. at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church in Lubbock.

The Rev. Timothy Schwertner, uncle of the bride, of St. Michael's Catholic Church in Levelland, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August E. Schwertner of Floydada. The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Franklin of Lubbock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown designed and made by her mother. The formal length gown of white nylon overlaid the white polyester, fashioned with a high neckline outlined in lace.

The bodice was accented in lace and beads. Three tucks accented the full length sleeves with lace cuffs. The full length skirt was accented with three tucks. The hemline was caught up with a white satin bow above an inset of lace. The long train was trimmed with lace matching her dress and veil. The two tiered lace trimmed fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held in place by a crown of beads.

Her bouquet was of white daisies; yellow, apricot, mint green, blue, and pink carnations; and white baby's breath. A white rosary was woven in her bouquet, which was crocheted by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Rudolph Schwertner.

Barbara Schwertner of Floydada, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a sheer yellow flocked formal gown over a solid yellow slip. A solid yellow belt complimented her dress. The dress had a round neckline and

Family Night Set By Baptist

All-American Barbecued Beef Takes On Mexican Accent

Few foods are as American as barbecued beef, but to keep the sandwich interesting, variations are always welcome.

Grilled Cheese Mexicana is one of the infinite variations, using more cheese than ground beef (12 ounces of the dairy product to eight ounces of beef) and a South-of-the-Border flavor accent with tomato paste and chili powder.

Just how does one-half pound of ground beef extend to make six sandwiches? Therein lies the novel treatment: the sandwiches are triple-decker, and the seasoned beef mixture is placed inside circles cut in the middle slice of bread. There's no need to be concerned about heartiness or protein since the cheese gives both.

It will also give a very neat sandwich which is first grilled, then baked. Serve it on a summer's day with a crisp, chilled green salad and ice cold milk, and reap compliments aplenty.

"Once again we feel like we have had a successful Vacation Bible School," said Seay. "Boys and girls from several denominations attended and we're pleased to have had the opportunity to minister to each of them. Our prayer is that all of them will grow up to be committed Christians serving the Lord wherever they may live".

The Wendell Tooley home in Tulia was the setting for the wedding of their daughter, Wendelyn Tooley, and Kent Bridenstine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Bridenstine of Albuquerque, N.M. Saturday, Dr. R. Luther Kirk of Lubbock, grandfather of the bride, officiated the 11 a.m. ceremony.

Fourth Annual Writer's Workshop Set For Wayland Baptist College August 11-13

A writing competition has been added to the list of activities slated for the Fourth Annual Writer's Workshop August 11-13 at Wayland Baptist College. Entries of 3,500 words or less are being accepted through July 12 in three categories, fiction, non-fiction and poetry, according to Dr. Dan G. Kent, director of this year's Workshop. Winners in each category will receive a $15 first prize cash award and will be recognized on Tuesday evening of the Workshop. "We've added the writing competition this year to encourage greater participation from those who will be attending the Workshop, and hope that it will also provide incentive for people who have never attended before," Kent explained. Writers may submit as many entries as they wish, although a $2 entry fee must accompany each submission. The writer's full name and address should appear on a cover sheet, with no identifying marks on the manuscript. Each entry will be submitted to an experienced judge, and all participants will receive a certificate and a brief critique of their work. Entries should be mailed to Kent at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas 79072. A group of 11 writers, including five from Plainview, will lead the fourth annual Workshop on the WBC campus. Keynoting the three-day event will be William H. Stephens, editor of Biblical Illustrator Magazine in Nashville, Tennessee, and his wife Shirley, a free-lance writer. Also featured will be Dr. Jerry Craven, associate professor of English at West Texas State University and widely-published poet; Linda Craven, a free-lance writer who has contributed to numerous national publications; David C. Strawn of Lubbock, veteran writer for the Baptist Sunday School Board; and Mrs. Etta Lynch, a full-time free-lancer from Lubbock. Plainviewians who will be leading conferences are Danny Andrews, managing editor of the Plainview Daily Herald, Louise Harper, columnist for the Plainview Reporter-News; Dr. Fred Howard, professor of religion at Wayland and widely-published writer; Arch Mayfield, assistant professor of English at WBC; and Eddie Owens, Wayland's director of public relations. Advance registration for the Workshop is $30 per person ($35 after August 1) and includes two evening meals. Housing on the WBC campus will also be available for $6 per night, and reservations should be made August 1 (294-5551) for registration information. The first was an American Vladimir earth and aboard spacecraft

Bob Bullock Announces New Sales Tax Return

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday unveiled a new streamlined sales tax return—the best and shortest in the nation—that he says will reduce paperwork and book-keeping chores for most Texas businesses.

Bullock said the short form sales tax return is about the size of a postcard and will be into use this month.

"The best and shortest in the nation, bar none," he said of the new return, "and it won't take a fancy-pants Dallas lawyer to fill it out."

Bullock said 85 percent of all Texas sales tax permit holders will be able to use the short form.

"Now more than a quarter-million taxpayers can fill out their taxes on a pre-printed 9-by-4 inch card in probably less time than it takes to make out a grocery list."

The new short form requires less information from taxpayers than the current sales tax return and state, city and metropolitan transit authority tax rates are combined in one computation.

The new form will also shorten processing time within the Comptroller's office.

Bullock said the design of the form is the result of a concentrated effort by his department to adopt reform measures that assist taxpayers by "making paying taxes as uncomplicated as humanly possible."

"Cumbersome forms at the Comptroller's office are going the way of gas-guzzling cars—into the junk heap."

Bullock said federal officials say government required paperwork at state and local levels nationwide costs between $5 to $9 billion to prepare each year.

"And, they didn't count the frustration level of those who have to do this paperwork and bookkeeping," he said.

"Our new return is just short of being revolutionary. It's a current application of some old advice: Keep it short and keep it simple," he said.

Monthly taxpayers will begin using the new form in June to report their May taxes and quarterly taxpayers will use the new form starting in July to report April, May and June sales.

Retarded Citizens Convention

Representatives from the 85 local member units of the Texas Association for Retarded Citizens will assemble in Corpus Christi June 5-8 for the association's 30th annual convention. The theme - Bridging The Gap - focuses on the efforts being made to bring to the mentally retarded the quality and quantity of services which is their right.

Featured speakers include Dr. Marc Gold of the University of Illinois at Champaign-Urbana, Lyn Isbell of Utah, and Dr. William Bronston, M.D. of Sacramento, California. In addition to the main speakers and general business sessions there will be 20 workshops with topics including: communication, legislation, education services, mental health needs of the mentally retarded and their families, services for the elderly mentally retarded, residential services, and fundraising.

In conjunction with the convention will be a special conference attended and run by retarded citizens of Texas. These mentally retarded people - self advocates - will be organizing in an attempt to personally bring to the attention of all citizens of Texas their needs and capabilities.

Approximately 500 people are expected to attend the conference and convention.

Book Reviews

1940s to the tragic death of Bob Wills in 1975. This is Al Stricklin's story—the story of a band, a music and an era that still holds fascination for fans all over the nation. The road from that first job in a Fort Worth radio station to that sentimental day in 1971 when the Playboys performed together for one of the last times in Bob's presence—was a rocky one filled with lonely all-night rides on a creaky bus, exhaustion, and continual rehearsals. It was also a road lined with thousands of adoring fans, autograph seekers, applause, and the many good things that success in any field brings. This book describing that road in fascinating detail—and the trip is guaranteed to be as thrilling as was the Texas Playboys' rise to fame!

Frank is an unabashed Texas conservative Independent who has spent his lifetime telling people how to stand on their own two feet. Free the North Wind is Frank Driskill at his best and is entertainment with a capital "T". With the height of his Texas Poise, he can set straight a proper Boston lady, or sharpen his Bowie knife on a Texas political opponent. Spending a lifetime selling other folks, Frank plows his own forty acres with disarming modesty. "I'm a nobody...a common man," Frank insists, and proceeds in some 200 pages to cast doubts over that allegation.

FREE THE NORTH WIND by Frank Driskill

Frank Driskill has rubbed shoulders with the great and near great. He's a Texas "P.R." man loaded with opinions and yarns—and if you don't agree with one, you'll smile and maybe guffaw at the other. Besides, he's one of those 80,000 Texas Aggies who still believes in the old traditions and can hum the Aggie fight song in one minute and convince you to vote for his favorite candidate the next.

The north wind has blown a long-time for Frank Driskill. His fascination with people drew him into the book business, then into public relations and politics and finally into a Dale Carnegie type who has been in every county in Texas to preach the power of positive thinking. This Texas "Will Rogers" has met as many people as any contemporary native son. When he isn't selling books, politics or self-improvement, he is listening. He has a reporter's ear for a headline, a politician's eye for timing and a "P.R." man's sixth sense for telling story.

MARXISTS And Utopias in Texas

By Ernest G. Fischer
This book has been ten years in the making. This is an inquiry not only into socialistic and communistic colonies in Texas, but also into cooperative colonies in the same area in the 19th and 20th centuries. The author asks: Is there an alternative to Marxism? Author Fischer has uncovered some fascinating aspects of pioneer "communism" in Texas, and raised some tantalizing questions. Did the so-called pirate, Jean Lafitte return to Europe to help Karl Marx finance the publication of "Das Kapital"? Why did the hill country German "free thinkers" give up communal living? How close was the Mormon's first century Christian communal life to Marxist ideas? Why did the French and Danish socialists not find fallow plowing in the fertile Texas soil? Were the "Sanctified Sisters" of Belton Marxist-socialists or merely pioneers of the women's liberation movement of the Twentieth Century? Fischer, a life-long student of world politics, has turned the spotlight on the Texas socio-political scene and posed some unusual questions and theories. While the reader may disagree with the extent that Karl Marx influenced pioneer and Twentieth Century Texas, he will have to agree that author Fischer has uncovered new evidence and written a spell-binding account of a Texas that has been blatantly relegated to dusty record books.

REMOVE OBSTRUCTIONS

Overgrown shrubs, weeds and grass growing close to the air conditioner's condensing unit can restrict the flow of air and seriously impair the unit's efficiency. However, shrubs and trees that shade the unit from direct sunlight help keep it from getting too hot.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,
I am writing in regard to the upcoming election on June 11 concerning weather modification. Only the five western voting precincts in Floyd County are allowed to vote on this matter, but if the vote passes, all Floyd County taxpayers will pay for the election. I don't like having my weather "experimented with" when I don't have a vote in the matter, and I especially resent having to pay for an election that I didn't want in the first place.
I farm two miles downwind from the proposed target area and I believe my rainfall will be directly affected by cloud seeding in the target area. When clouds are modified for the purpose of hail suppression, rain clouds are also suppressed; it's just that simple!
Therefore, I strongly urge all qualified voters in voting precincts 7, 18, 4, 16 and 3 in western Floyd County to vote against weather modification on June 11.

Sincerely,
Larry Bramlett

May 13, 1980
I would like to comment on the cloud seeding issue. It is claimed by Plains Weather Improvement Association that cloud seeding prevents hail and enhances rain. If this were true, not one person would be in opposition to this program. The facts show that during the cloud seeding years, the target and surrounding areas had MORE hail, MORE tornadoes and MORE violent weather and had LESS rainfall. It has been proven that seeding the clouds affects normal weather patterns for up to 200 miles and cloud seeders themselves cannot guarantee what a single cloud will do when seeded.

A record flood in South Dakota in 1972, which killed 200 people, occurred shortly after a nearby cloud seeding. Idaho experienced a severe drought which they blamed the nearby state of Washington for their cloud seeding efforts, and seriously considered suing the state. The worst storm and flood in Southern California history came only hours after cloud seeding.

PWIA adds that hail insurance will go up. The fact is that EVERYTHING is going up - car insurance, taxes, groceries, gasoline, etc. And, have they mentioned the cost of the proposed cloud seeding program? This will be expensive in itself and will be another added charge for everyone.
Don't be led into a dream world; find out the facts for yourself and go to the polls and vote June 11.

Thank you for this opportunity,
Mrs. Clifton Stodghill

VOTE (NO) AGAINST Weather Modification on June 11

Do you believe a cloud can be seeded over Lockney, (Precinct 18), to modify the weather, and effect the weather across Main St. to the East (Precinct 18) Street in Lockney to vote for cloud seeding when a person living East of Main Street cannot vote?
Do you believe it is fair for NON VOTING East precinct citizens to help pay for a positive vote in an adjoining Precinct?

A Weather Modification District may ultimately be a TAXING DISTRICT, then you will pay for cloud seeding whether or not you want it. In 1977, the last year the Weather Improvement Association was in operation locally, $282,000.00 was secured by a special appropriation in the Texas Senate Finance Committee to monitor cloud seeding and hail suppression. You have already paid whether or not you wanted to!

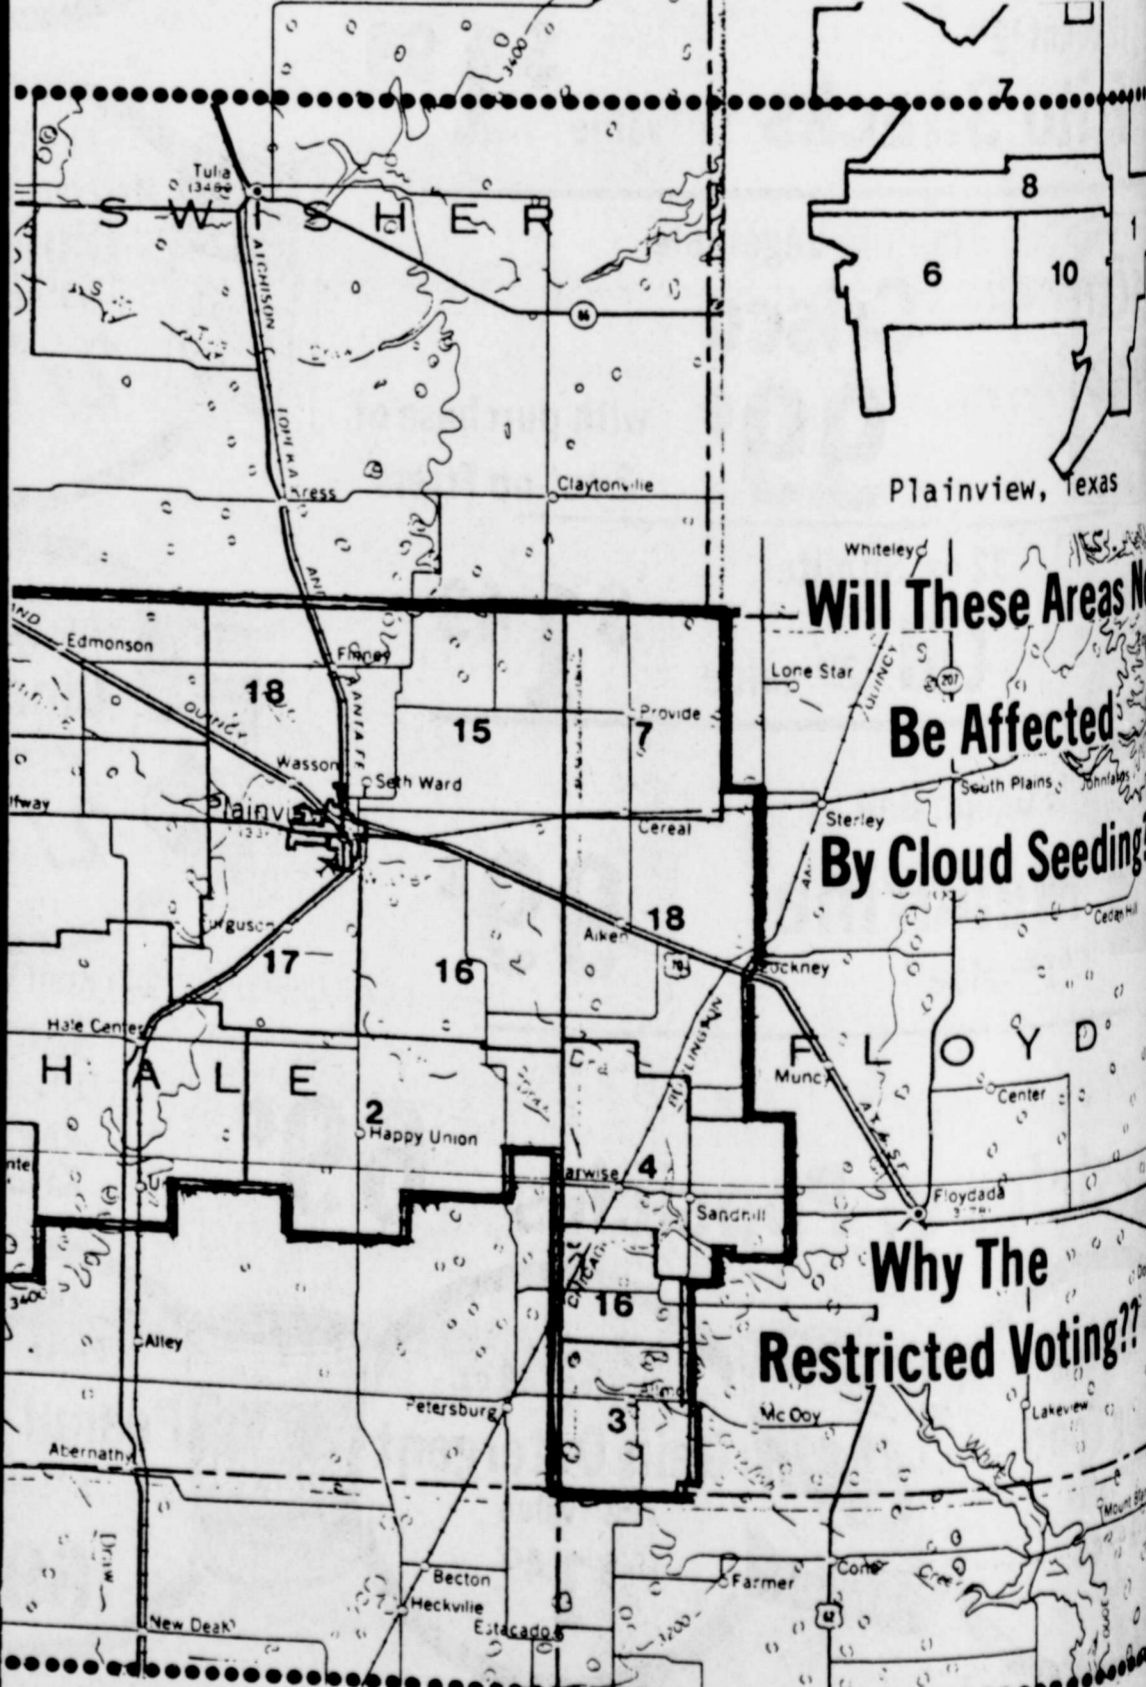

During seven years of Weather Modification almost 200 million dollars run off occurred on the Mackenzie water shed. Two years without Weather Modification and hail suppression Lake Mackenzie is a reality with fishing, boating, skiing.

People who live downwind cloud seeding operations they are damaged by cloud seeding. They believe it will result in LESS rainfall. Two years ago Brisco county voters voted 430 to 1 against. 430 to 1 opposed to Weather Modification.

Other area votes were:

|----------------|--------------|
| Swisher County | 1878 to 34 |
| Floyd County | 727 to 124 |
| Randall County | 123 to 1 |
| Hockley County | 478 to 14 |
| Bailey County | 763 to 51 |
| Castro County | 812 to 306 |
| Lamb County | 1648 to 712 |
| Hale County | 1416 to 1732 |

Vote NO to Weather Modification on June 11. If you are a restricted NON-VOTERS...Voice your opinion to the voters who have the opportunity to VOTE NO!!!

Will These Areas Be Affected By Cloud Seeding?

Floyd Philosopher Comes Up With A Suggestion

Dear editor:

Some people are having trouble understanding the automobile business these days.

Why, they ask, are the big three car makers giving you a $500 rebate if you'll buy one of their new cars? "Buy a car from a dealer and we'll mail you a check for $500 direct from Detroit," the ads read. Why don't they just reduce the price $500 and save the postage, some people are asking.

They shouldn't ask such questions. Rather, they should keep quiet and let the idea spread to other areas. Maybe even the government will catch on.

For example, next year well ahead of April 15 Washington ought to take out an ad in the Hesperian saying "Pay your income taxes early and we'll mail you a check for $1,000."

You might say, why doesn't Washington just reduce taxes and save the trouble of mailing me a rebate, but that's because you don't understand the automobile business of the government either.

You see, when you get a check for buying a car you feel like you're getting something for nothing, while sometimes when you pay your taxes you feel like you're getting nothing for something. A government rebate might offset that feeling, if you can overlook the fact it'll be added to your next year's taxes.

Of course the idea can be carried too far. I'm not in favor of sending anybody a check for buying something produced out here on this farm. No use going hog-wild over it.

On the other hand, a judicial use of the idea has great merit. I'll be glad to trade in my old subscription and buy a new one to the Hesperian if you'll mail me a check for $10.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Fed's Bank Move Unnecessary

The Federal Reserve Bank's recent move toward credit controls may have been unnecessary in the opinion of distinguished economists Robert Solomon, a senior fellow of the Brookings Institution.

On a recent visit to the Texas Christian University campus, Solomon said consumer spending had already started to drop when the Federal Reserve Board put controls on credit cards and other unsecured consumer loans.

"The consumer binge is peetering out," he said in pointing to weak retail sales during the past quarter. "I don't think consumer credit controls will be needed for very long," Solomon said. "The economy will begin to weaken—in fact, it already has—and the demand for credit will drop."

"In fact, I believe the slowdown had already begun when the Federal Reserve enacted controls. If I'm right (about the recession) we didn't need controls at all," he explained.

Solomon, who has been a member of the Federal Reserve Bank, is the former chief staff economist for the President's Council of Economic Advisors. He was visiting TCU as part of the University's Green Honors Chair program, which brings experts from around the world to campus for a week to give guest lectures to students and the community.

High Plains Study Offers Promise for Water Importation

The six-state, $6 million High Plains Study offers great promise for water importation to the High Plains. Dr. Herb Grubb, the director of planning and development for the Texas Department of Water Resources, told the board of Water, Inc., Friday.

During his hour-long presentation, Grubb reviewed the work of the High Plains Study Council, which is the appointive body overseeing the study, and the four importation routes that have been selected by the council for additional investigation. The study, involving Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas, marks the first time the problem of the Ogallala has been examined on such a wide basis. That is a major step toward eventual water importation, Grubb said.

"With the High Plains Study Council in place and with a broader base of participation than before," said Grubb, "I think you have a better foundation on which to move. There will be recommendations made to Congress at the end of this particular study. I believe there is a chance for this study to lead to something, but it is up to you to help me make sure that it does."

Grubb said Water, Inc., and the people of the region must follow this study up by demanding action for it to be a keystone in solving the decline of the Ogallala aquifer and the resulting economic dislocations.

Although the High Plains Study is primarily an economic endeavor to determine the impact of a dwindling water supply on the local, regional and national economies, it does provide for limited studies of potential importation routes into the area. Of the six that were originally selected for closer examination, four have been approved by the council for additional study. The water sources for those four routes are: (1) the Missouri River in Nebraska and South Dakota (2) the Missouri River on the Kansas-Missouri border (3) the White, Arkansas, Ouachita and Little Rivers in Arkansas and (4) from rivers in Arkansas and Eastern Oklahoma. Grubb said one of the routes or a combination of routes could prove feasible for alleviating the region's growing water problems. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers will make the study of the four alternative routes.

Unless something is done, Grubb noted, the agricultural productivity of the Great Plains region will be greatly diminished because the area relies heavily on irrigation.
