United States' Birthday Party

July 3, 1980

By Shelly Harris
I was in Philadelphia for the Bicentennial. The National Federated Press Women convention was in Cherry Hill, New Jersey just across the river from Philadelphia. The preconvention tours over a four day period were all into Pennsylvania.

The Eastern Seaboard was decked out that year in red, white and blue awaiting the waves of tourists that would be making a pilgrimage to the birthplace of our

When we were there the locals were worrying because the crowds weren't coming. Everyone seemed to think that the city would be overflowing so they either stayed away or stayed in outlying cities. The notes were only filling to 60% capacity. Millions had been spent in preparation for the 200 year party but the guests were afraid to come. It was looking like financial disaster. The media wheels were churning out press releases begging people to be patriotic and come celebrate like good Americans.

I don't know how it ever came out. Don't know if the crowds finally showed up. But I do know it was a nice time to be in Philadelphia. There were plenty of people

My four year old recollections are sketchy. I saw the city through a bus window as we were carted about to view national shrines. I believe that you should visit every place twice. Once with a tour to get the lay of the land. The second time on your own to find out what you saw the first time.

My impression of our nation's first capitol was that it looked very foreign; like pictures I'd seen of European cities and country sides. The buildings were ornately scrolled, the roofs were pitched, the barns looked like something out of a Dutch landscape. To this then South Texan, who was used to adobe and flat roofs, it didn't look very American.

It was beautiful though. Every kind of tree you could imagine (except palms, of course). It was clean and had a freshly painted look about it. I had the feeling it would look like that without the Bicentennial. The lawns were lush and manicured. The gardens were a profusion of color and rigidly bound in to well planned beds.

The shops were well stocked, tastefully arranged. and the cierks were all members of the Chamber Commerce. They wore buttons that said "Ask Me." I think that's what they said, anyway it was something intended to put the tourist at ease.

The School Kill river runs through the city. (I know it's not spelled that way, but that's how it's pronounced). The river is wide and beautiful as it winds under arched bridges made of stone. It was a lovely

And one of the most uncomfortable T ve ever been in. None of the chairs were upholstered, everything was bare, stark, the lighting was dim, the air conditioning was poor. I had the feeling that anything that wasn't useful wasn't around. Granted we were taken to the old, the historic, the rustic places, but I certainly would have welcomed a pillow especially after all that bus

One of the highlights was a light show put on at Liberty Hall just after dark. We sat on the lawn. Several hundred of us. There were loud speakers strung through all the trees. A light would go on in the downstairs conference room of the hall and we would hear Patrick Henry or somebody saying what he thought should be done about the British. Then a light would go on in one of the upstairs rooms and we would hear that conversation. Then there were the sounds of a horse galloping up, the front door swung open, the light came back on in the conference room and we heard the rider report. The evening was cool, the grass was soft and the production of the show near perfect.

After that we walked around Liberty Hall and stood in line to touch the Liberty Bell. Two guards were posted to make sure no one tried to ring the bell. Being good newspaper women we tried to interview the guards to find out if the bell was actually that delicate. They, however, weren't wearing "Ask Me" buttons and were dutifully keeping the line moving.

Then we went across the street, which, by the way, was painted at every intersection with a Bicentennial symbol, to a tavern. We sat on hard chairs and were encouraged to order some kind of hard apple cider that was a specialty of the house. The tavern was a hang out for the fathers of our country and the cider their favorite

Crime Call Works

The Crime Call program has paid off. A theft from Andrews Ward Elementary School was averted, the stolen property recovered, and a witness was rewarded, all before the program was officially in effect. It happened like this.

Just after midnight, June 28, the sheriff's department received a call that someone was trying to remove an air conditioner from a window at the east side of Andrews Ward School on White Street in Floydada. The Crime Call phone hadn't been hooked up yet so the call came in to the dispatcher.

The time was 12:10 a.m. A police cruiser in the vicinity answered the call immediately and apprehended a man carrying an air conditioner away from the school. The arrest was made at 12:14

When the police arrived the man, Gilberto Rodriguez, dropped the air conditioner and hid behind some trees. The police ordered him to come out which he did. "I don't know why I did it. I've never done anything like this before," Rodriguez told the police officers. It must have been the heat and the beer that caused me to do it."

Rodriguez, lives in Plainview, was booked and then released on bond Sunday morning.

The Crime Call informant picked up the reward money on Monday morning at an appointed "drop

"I'd rather have them (the Crime Call Committee) pay off to prevent a crime" Sheriff Fred Cardinal said. "But either way we know it will work.

The Crime Call telephone has been installed in Sheriff Cardinal's office. The number is 983-5200.

Informants from around the county can call collect. There is no need to give the operator a name. When she asks for a name they can simply give the Crime Call. The Sheriff will accept the call and the informant can give the information.

ONION HARVEST in full swing at the Floydada Pepper and Vegetable Co. Onion Shed.

Local Onion Growers Not Affected By HerefordWorkers Strike

The onion workers strike in Hereford didn't effect this area. "We started out paying higher than they did," Gene McFarland with the Floydada Pepper and Vegetable Co., said, "so we don't anticipate any trouble."

McFarland predicted a stronger mediums and prepacks. The only market in the next 10 days. "The sheds get bogged down with onions and no delivery over the Fourth," demand is for jumbo whites.

McFarland said the quality of the crop is excellent although the heat and New Mexico will be cleaning up so there should be more demand.

Price on yellows is $3.50 on prepacks and $5.00 on jumbos. The white market is $4.00 on mediums and prepacks with jumbos selling for $6 to $9 depending on size.

The market is very sluggish on he said. Then after July 4, Pecos is effecting somewhat. The whites are showing some sun scald and the yellows show a loose skin. There has been no problem with transportation this year, the trucks are easy to get, but he does anticipate a rate increase as the season preogresses.

Cucumbers should start about -July 5 and peppers will begin about w August 10. "The market looks good on both cucumbers and peppers, McFarland said.

USDA Announces Interest Rates

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recently announced that effective June 16, interest rates for many loan programs would be reduced to reflect the lower cost of money to the federal government. The announced changes includ-

*CCC crop loans, reduced from 13% to 111/2%. *FmHA economic emergency loans from 14% to 11%. *FmHA operating loans from 12.5% to 10.5%. *Emergency disaster loans, reduced from 14% to 12½% on land, 13.5% on production loans. *FmHA real estate loans from 12% to 11%.

Interest rates were left unchanged for the farm storage facility loan program at 13%, FmHA disaster loss emergency loans at 5% and FmHA "limited resource" loans at 5% on real estate and 7% on operating loans.

Texas Wheat Estimates Down

Texas wheat crop estimates for 1980, which remain at 125 million bushels in the June report issued by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, are down nine percent from a year ago.

Estimates for the total U.S. wheat crop point to a record-breaking 1.76 billion bushels, based on June 1 conditions. Texas, however. is expected to have a harvest that falls 13 million bushels short of the 1979 crop, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown reported.

"Despite the fact that Texas farmers will harvest 400,000 more acres this year, the yield is estimated to be around 25 bushels per acre, 5 bushels less than in 1979," Brown said.

He attributed the drop in yield mainly to the drought that exter. led over South Texas and parts of North Texas and the Panhandle.

Rains in the latter part of May helped to keep the yield from falling lower. Slightly over 13 per cent of the 5-million-acre crop has been harvested.

'Combines are just now moving into the Low Plains, and our yields could be better there," Brown said. The overall U.S. total was increased by 3 percent over May estimates with 49.6 million acres to be harvested for grain this season.

Floyd County Farm Report

The hot dry weather is beginning to take it's toll on area crops. The corn and milo has been affected the most. Wells have not been able to keep up with the need. Also, many farmers have started watering cotton. I heard one farmer tell his wife to get the camera and take a picture of his corn crop because it would be the last one he plans to raise.

Because of the stress the milo and corn is in, spider mites have been doing some damage. Quite a bit of spraying has been going on to control the infestation.

Since wheat harvest and the dry grass in pastures, grasshoppers have been moving into the cotton and soybean crops. The soybeans have been hit hardest, especially in the southeast part of the county.

For those of you not making 60% of your farm's projected wheat yield and are interested in a payment, the application must be made to the ASCS Office within 15 days from the date you completed harvest on that

Also, applications for measuring service will be accepted through July 7th.

Cost-Price Squeeze To Cut Into Revenue

Farmers and ranchers are suffering from an old and persistent ailment—the cost-price squeeze.

Net agricultural income in Texas is expected to decline to about $1 billion this year despite higher cash receipts, points out Dr. Carl Anderson, economist in marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. That would put it at the 1978 level.

Cotton growers, cow-calf operators, sheepmen and dairy farmers will likely fair somewhat better than wheat, milo, corn and soybean farmers, swine producers and poultrymen, speculates the economist.

Anderson foresees production costs this year jumping up around 12 percent, with fuel, fertilizer and interest expenses leaping much higher. Although this rise trails last year's big jump, cash receipts may increase only 4 to 6 percent. With the cost of pumping water skyrocketing, Texas farmers will be especially hard hit since production from irrigated farms represents about 60 percent of the state's total crop

While money is generally available for farmers to borrow, the greatest concern is the cost of that money and the income that it might generate, says Anderson. With the current cost-price squeeze, farmers and ranchers will be hard-pressed to repay high-cost loans.

All this is putting a growing number of agricultural operators in financial stress, particularly young farmers and those depending heavily on credit capital to run their farming business.

It's also changing the financial potential of operators using a lot of credit compared with more conservative farmers that depend less on credit and more on debt-free capital. When the rate of inflation exceeds the cost of money, it generally pays to borrow money to expand your operation. Inflation boosts the net worth of assets which helps support weak cash flow statements. But interest rates higher than inflation shifts the financial situation in force of the operator with a large proportion of equity in his business and little

The cost-price squeeze places a premium on financial management skills of farmers, contends the economist. Some operators will reduce their dependence upon credit capital to minimize financial risk by reducing replacement livestock and machinery purchases. Farm expansion will also slow down and marginal cropland may revert to grassland for grazing livestock. High cost of money tends to cut down on cash leasing agreements and increases crop-share renting arrangements, adds Anderson. However, prolonged inflation strongly favors landowners relative to tenant operators. Farming systems using the least amount of inputs for maximum returns and minimum tillage practices gain more rapid acceptance.

Pressures from the cost-price squeeze also encourage forward pricing. More producers decide to contract for an agreed price upon delivery. Hedging in the futures market is an alternative for some individuals who understand this forward pricing strategy. It is easier to finance an operation when assured a reasonable price for at least a part of the expected crop or livestock production. High money costs also encourage farmers to sell at harvest time to avoid storage and interest costs.

A possible "plus" from tight and expensive credit is that producers take a stronger interest in marketing, notes the economist. Yearround marketing strategies become essential, and there is an increased tendency to shift some of the financing burden to the marketing agency. Emphasis is on a total production-marketing system that is cost-effective.

With the overall supply-demand relationship for farm commodities affecting farm prices regardless of production costs, producers will need to look at different enterprises in the years ahead, suggests Anderson. With reasonable efficiency, diversification of enterprises may substantially reduce the possibility of financial disaster resulting from long periods of low prices and income for a given enterprise. The old saying, "Don't put all your eggs in one basket," is still worthy of consideration.

Municipal Swimming Pool Hit By Vandals

Monday morning swimming pool manager, Coach Mike Cocanougher, discovered roof shingles and garbage floating in the municipal pool. The wood carving was magnificent. It adorned the

Double-Ring Ceremony Unites DeAun Wilson, David Lee Criswell

The First United Methodist Church of Floydada was the setting for the Saturday evening doublering ceremony uniting in marriage Kella DeAun Wilson and David Lee Criswell. Tom Pauley, minister of the City Park Church of Christ, officiated the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.G. Wilson of Floydada. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lee Criswell of Plainview and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Criswell, also of Floydada.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Drew Lloyd of Floydada. The register table was decorated with an aubergine and mauve silk flower arrangement in a brass container. A prelude of musical selections on the piano was presented by Mrs. Bill Orman of Floydada.

The church was centered with a floral arrangement of white mums with greenery. Arched candelabra holding white tapers were entwined with greenery and ivory satin bows. On either side of the area were large potted palms and white Grecian urns containing aubergine silk flowers. Ivory bows and greenery marked aisle pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a formal length gown of candlelight chif-fon and silk venise lace. The gown featured a Queen Anne neckline edged in lace and the fitted bodice was accentuated with a sheer yoke of English net and detailed with lace motifs and pearls. A double capelet of chiffon covered the arms and dipped in back. The flowing chiffon skirt fell from a slightly raised waistline and formed a chapel train.

The candlelight bridal hat was edged and banded in venise lace. Silk roses spilled over one side of the brim and the other side was caught up with a cluster of roses. French veiling covered with crown and draped to form a face blusher.

The bride wore a diamond drop necklace, a gift from her parents. She also wore her maternal grandmother's wedding ring and diamond earrings given to her by the groom. Pennies minted in the years of the bride and groom's birth were worn in her shoes.

She carried a nosegay of mixed white baby mums, sweetheart roses, and aubergine baby's breath tied with long ivory streamers.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ricky Mosley of Lockney. Bridesmatrons were Mrs. Mike Giesecke of Floydada and Mrs. Van Steed of Bryan. All wore floor length gowns of aubergine Quiana jersey. They featured a Grecian cummerbund bodice, waistline, and flowing skirt of sunburst pleats. Aubergine silk roses, a gift from the bride's mother, were worn in their hair. They each carried a long stemmed white rose tied with satin streamers.

The groom's brother, Don Criswell of Plainview, was best man. Serving as groomsmen were Stan Wilson of Albuquerque, New Mexico, brother of the bride, and Paul Pierson of Bartletsville, Oklahoma. Seating guests were Tracy Dickson of Plainview and Keith Poe of Midland.

The Mothers of the bride and groom were escorted to their seats by their sons, Stan Wilson and Don Criswell.

RECEPTION Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a white floor length cloth with a white lace overlay. It was centered with a silk floral arrangement in bride's chosen colors set in a lead crystal bowl. The three tiered white wedding cake was decorated with aubergine roses and topped with satin bells. A crystal punch bowl and mints in a crystal dish completed the table setting. Serving at the bride's table were Miss Laurie Shedd of Sweetwater, Mrs. Mike Brownlee and Mrs. Don Green, both of Floydada.

The groom's table was laid with a brown cloth covered by a hand crocheted tablecloth made by Mrs. Buddy Brown of Silverton. Centering the table was an arrangement of brass candlesticks on a brass tray. Brown candles entwined with ivy completed the centerpiece.

Coffee was served from a brass coffee service, and a chocolate cake made in the shape of a western boot was served by the groom's aunts, Mrs. Wayne Dunnam of Abilene, Mrs. J.B. Smith of Plainview, and Mrs. Buddy Brown of Silverton. Quartet tables, placed throughout the reception hall, were covered with gingham and lace cloths made by the bride's mother. Each table held a small white vase filled with aubergine silk flouse a mat with the frame or a frame only. Some pictures don't need a mat.

To help you decide, consider each of these questions. If you answer yes to any of them, your picture needs a mat:

1. Is the wall where the picture will hang patterned? 2. Does the picture seem to need a rest space between it and the wall? Is the picture too small for the space it is to occupy? 4. Does the picture show motion? 5. Do the lines in the picture carry your eye quickly away from it? 6. Does the object in the picture need more background space to set if off?

Mats and glass are generally used with most pictures except oil paintings. Oil paintings and pictures sprayed with a protective coating don't

Mats generous in size are fashionable now. You may choose large mats for large pictures if the space where they are to hang allows this, or use large mats for pictures strong in

The school system there is similar to the schools in America. They attend 13 years and then a student can attend a university. The better jobs go to those with a degree.

Several years ago, a test was taken at the end the ninth grade to determine who qualified to attend the academic high school. The remainder attended a less difficult school. Now, everyone attends the same high

There is an investigation going on now to try to stop this exploitation. Many of the Vietnam "boat people" have come to France. South Plains News

Mrs. Murry Julian

Hot searing winds, and high temperatures are with us. This Monday it is somewhat cooler, and wheat harvest is about 95 percent complete, according to Lon Colvin at the Lockney Cooperatives here in South Plains. The wheat turned out pretty fair this year, making 10 to 20 bushels an acre. Some of the irrigated wheat made much more than this. Children have surely enjoyed the swimming pools during this hot season, and the gardens and lawns have really had to have the water to stay alive.

Burt Reiff preached at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning with a nice audience present and visitors included Mrs. Mary Grisham of Plainview, here with her daughter, Mrs. Nina Sanders and family. Melissa and Nik-ky Powell came Saturday to vist grandparents, the Tillman Powells, and were present at church.

Center News Mrs. J.E. Green

Here it is nearly July-and I think the last week has been the hottest June of all. How nice a good rain would be! Good, though, that wheat harvest must be nearly over.

The T.E.L. Sunday School class of Calvary Baptist Church had their lesson in the home of Miss Vera Meredith, a member of our class who is a shut-in.

Miss Meredith's company last week included: Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas, who came Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Warren, who visited Thursday afternoon, and Bro. and Mrs. Clay Muncy and Miss Mary Pearl Cowand, who came Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Vida Cook of Amarillo spent the weekend with Mrs. Fred Battey.

We have a letter from our missionary to Mexico, Mrs. Ruth Jordan Moss. She reports they were embarking on two weeks of meetings; one on the other side of Mexico City and one at their associated camp.

We are proud of this former Center girl, her hus-band, J.U. Moss and their family-thankful for their great work. They send greet-

Mrs. Green and all the rest are proud of her first greatgrandbaby, who arrived June 24. The nine-pound son of Sarah and Doug Chandler of Hubbard, and grandson of Dr. and Mrs. J.M. Ryman of Hubbard has not been named yet. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brewer and son Harry Glen went to Wichita Falls Tuesday and visited relatives. They will be returning home in a day or so. Temperatures are about 112° and 114°

Mrs. Brewer and daughters, Mrs. Millard Watson and Mrs. Fred McDougle were in Lubbock Saturday. One attraction there was the new great-granddaughter baby of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Robinson.

A son and family, Irvin Brewer of Lubbock, were involved in a wreck with a truck one day last week. Irvin and some others got broken bones, but all were thankful no one was killed.

Mrs. Ed Warren is home again after a few days in a Lubbock hospital.

Mrs. Letha Mulder and granddaughter Cindy spent Wednesday and Thursday in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor and children, and they returned home over the weekend, bringing Can-dy and Ronda home with them to spend this week here with their grandmother. Wheat harvest is almost over out Fairview way and everyone is busy plowing the wheat land. What we need is a good rain for the dry land crops but there is the onion harvest that is coming up just now and a rain would not be the best for it. I know these town yards could sure use a good rain.

The special service at First Baptist Church Sunday morning, when a recognition service of veterans of both wars and government officials was held, was a very impressive service and a large crowd attended. The pastor, Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, brought a special message on Americanism.

Charles Beedy, of the Beedy ranch near Claude, spent last week here with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy and helped in the wheat harvest.

By GENE WHITE Globe-News Staff Writer

Mrs. Helen Bryan says her 10year-old son Tuesday night "became my protector at a time I felt I should be protecting him-but had no strength."

Mrs. Bryan was speaking of her son, Ralph, from her hospital bed where she is recovering from a life-or-death struggle in the flood waters of Swisher County.

She and Ralph survived the raging waters in a night of fear, but 'Rowdy" as folks call her son, is credited with saving his mother from death in the flood.

Mrs. Bryan and Rowdy Tuesday were returning from a Little League ball park in Happy where Rowdy was to participate in a softball game. But heavy rains caused the game to be cancelled. The boy and his mother stopped at a restaurant before going home.

'We live about 10 miles northeast of Happy," said Mrs. Bryan, "and my husband was out of town, so I had not cooked that night."

The Bryans operate a small trucking firm as well as their farm, and her husband was on his way to Wichita, Kan.

While we were eating we heard the tornado siren," Mrs. Bryan said. "It kept going for the longest time without a letup, and everyone thought it was shorted out or something. After a while we didn't pay much attention to it."

Mrs. Bryan and her son finished their meal and started home. Along the way they saw hail on the roads, but it had fallen before they came along.

The water was up over the road, and pretty deep," said Rowdy. Big hailstones were washing across the road, and our car stalled.

Mrs. Bryan said they sat there a few minutes thinking the car would dry out and start after a while, "but instead of getting better, things got worse." As the water rose, she said they decided to leave the car and try to

"By that time the water was so high on the car we could not open the doors against the pressure," she said. "And when the water began filling the car, we got a little

She said when the water inside the car covered the seats, the pressure was equalized enough that they got a door open and left the

We got out and started walking toward a house, and when we stepped away from the car the current was so swift it swept us off our feet and began washing us toward the field.

Mrs. Bryan said the car had stalled on a large culvert, "about 12 feet high," and she and her son were washed over the side.

As they were washed down the ditch filled with water, Mrs. Bryan grabbed her son with one hand and a barbed-wire fence with the other. The force of the current was so strong it continued to move the two a few feet downstream as the mother gripped the wire, her hand slipping along the sharp barbs.

Flesh from the four fingers on her left hand was ripped to the bone. Nerves and tendons in the fingers were torn and cut.

We finally got braced against the current and thought we would be all right until the water went down." said Mrs. Bryan. They positioned themselves at the fence with Rowdy hugging a post and Mrs. Bryan holding to the top strand of wire, one hand on each side of the post and her son between her body and the post. They were set to hold on until the water subsided.

"But it didn't go down. It kept rising," said Mrs. Bryan.

When it became apparent the water soon would be over their heads, mother and son began to inch their way along the fence toward higher ground.

"We were doing OK until my mother got her feet tangled in loose wire from the bottom strand of the fence," said Rowdy. "When she turned loose of the wire with one hand to get her feet untangled, she lost her grip and was washed Mrs. Bryan said she began screaming at Rowdy: "Don't let go. The water will go down pretty soon. Hang on.

Instead of hanging on, Rowdy turned loose and let the water carry him toward his mother.

Mrs. Bryan had the strap of her purse hanging around her neck, and as Rowdy reached his mother, he grabbed for the purse strap.

Then I began to dog-paddle as hard as I could and tried to pull her back to the fence.

Rowdy said he doesn't know how to swim, "but they taught us how to dog-paddle in Cub Scouts." Mrs. Bryan said by then she was so weak she couldn't help much. "I am still recovering from major surgery I had a few months ago and was just about out of strength," she said. "But when I saw him working so hard. I tried to help as much as I could. He kept reassuring me by promising God would take care of us.

She said she is sure she would have drowned if her son, who cannot swim, had not somehow pulled them back to the fence.

When we got back to the fence, we were in shallow water," she said. "By then we had lost our bearings. We didn't know where we were or how far we were from our car. But we saw the outline of a house.

On their hands and knees they began to crawl through the shallow water and mud toward the

Finally, after hours of struggle. the reached the house they had seen against the dimly lit sky. It was boarded up.

'It was probably about 5 o'clock - just before daylight. We had been out in the storm since about 10:30 the night before and were so exhausted we could barely move." Mrs. Bryan said. "We thought we had found refuge, and when we discovered everything was boarded up, we sank pretty low. All we could see in any direction was water.

Rowdy worked his way around to the back of the house, where he found an enclosed porch with the door missing. Inside the small enclosure was one bale of alfalfa hay.

"Rowdy broke it up and spread it out, and we lay down - wet, cold. muddy, exhausted and confused," Mrs. Bryan said.

The two rested for perhaps an hour and a half. The sun was coming up, and the rain had stopped.

Just then, Rowdy, who said he never went to sleep, heard the sound of a car on the road. He left the house and went toward the road as fast as he could.

The car passed within a few yards of me, and I was waving to the driver. But he was looking out at the field on the other side of the road and drove on by.

It was another hour before any one came that way again.

"It was Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rat-jen and Larry Harvey," said Mrs. Bryan. "They were out searching

The boy and his mother later learned that other neighbors and duputies from the Randall County Sheriff's Department also were searching for the missing pair.

"Lee Doughtery had been down the road about 12:30 the night before, after the worst of the water came through, and had seen our car," Mrs. Bryan said. "He had looked until 2:30 and then went home to wait until he could see. At daylight he took his brothers, Joe and Glenn, and began searching. He had notified the sheriff and our neighbors, and they After a night in the storm ... "Rowdy" visits his mother at hospital all were looking."

When they were found about 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, they were taken to their home. From there an ambulance was called, which took them to Palo Duro Hospital in Canyon. Mrs. Bryan's hand was so badly torn that she was transferred to High Plains Baptist Hospital here, where plastic surgery was performed.

And Rowdy? Well, he's subdued somewhat, but doing well. Both hands and one arm have barb punctures which are sore and will be slow healing. But physically and mentally he's no worse for the experience.
