Service

This is the fourth week of the Hesperian/Beacon campaign to acquaint you with the advantages of doing business in our city. Your response has been gratifying.

Although quality and fair prices are important in every business transaction, service can be the real difference between a purchase that fulfills your need and desire and one that is unsatisfactory, frustrating and even costly.

"COURTESY AND SERVICE WEEK" is the banner under which our business community welcomes you this week.

Teacher Shortage Critical Statewide

"It is getting critical," school superintendent, Jerry Cannon, told the Floydada School Board in reference to the teacher shortage.

"We are in pretty good shape in comparison with the other school districts in Texas, but we are still one math teacher short."

He emphasized that the entire area is short. "I don't know what the solution is, there's just not the people available." He said that it made no difference whether the town is large or small, they are all having the same problem.

One of the reasons given is that there are 25% fewer students going into teacher education. The salary figure is a factor. Plus there are more opportunities for women. Women are going into managerial positions and are able to get into a wider range of fields than they have in the past. The high cost of education is another reason that there are less teachers. Public opinion and school discipline were also listed among the reasons.

The school board visited the remodeled girl's P.E. facility at the high school before their regular August meeting. All members voiced their satisfaction with the improvements.

The 1980-81 budget was discussed. The school board like the other agencies dependent upon the new tax appraisal for an operating figure can only adopt a tentative budget.

City Council Accepts Re-bid On Four Houses Under Rehabilitation Program

Barbara Ellis, representative of Barber-Taylor Associates, and Don Ingram, rehabilitation contractor, met with the city council Tuesday night, August 12. A Lubbock contractor had failed to complete the contract with the city on the rehabilitating of four houses have been re-negotiated with other contractors. Roy Jackson was low bidder on one of the houses. The other three repair jobs was awarded to Torres Construction, Lubbock. he renegotiated contracts were at an increase cost of $1456.

Council members voted to demolish four more houses in accordance with the rehabilitation program. A limited amount of funds was still available for clearance and demolition. However, the increase in the repair contract depleted the funds so that the demolition will not be possible at this time.

The rehabilitation program has been termed very successful with 21 houses having been repaired and 23 demolished under the federal program.

Another federal program which required all traffic control devices for streets and highways to be uniform has been completed. A grant from the Texas Traffic Safety Program (funded by the Federal Government) in the amount of $3869.81 was awarded to the city to pay for the signs. Total bill to the city to comply with the federal regulation was $5020.00 plus labor. The sign replacement program began in 1979; 333 signs were completed this week.

The next project in uniform sign placement will involve the school crossing signs.

Repair of the Municipal Airport continues to present problems to the city government. Council voted to hire engineer Bill McMorris to get advice on how to complete repairs to the airstrip.

Council voted to buy a part of the computer equipment and to lease the services of a Plainview based company computer in what will be a long range program to put the city on its own computer system.

ANNUAL STAFF MEMBERS: Hope Hartsell, Carrie Woody, and Karen Pruitt.

Annual Staff Wins Award At Texas Tech

Annual staff of Floydada High School won one of the outstanding year-book design awards for the 1980-81 Whirlwind edition.

Competition was judged at Texas Tech, on the last day of the annual journalism workshop. Four plaques were given by Taylor Publishing Company. The Floydada group was presented one of the plaques.

Those annual staff members attending the three day workshop were: Carrie Woody, editor; Hope Hartsell, and Karen Pruitt, who are assistant editors. Janet Milan, sponsor, accompanied the girls.

The staff members worked up a dummy, that represented 20% of the coming annual, including lay-out pages, cover, division pages, and end sheets.

This is the first time that a Floydada group had won one of the awards at the Tech workshop.

Insect Workshop To Be Held

The Floyd County Extension Service is sponsoring a crop insect scouting workshop for all interested producers in Floyd County. The workshop will be held from 1:30-4:00 on Friday afternoon, August 22, at the Lockney High School Vocational Agriculture Building.

The workshop will focus on training producers how to identify and scout fields for both beneficial and problem insects in corn, grain, sorghum and cotton. The session will begin with a short slide presentation at the Agriculture Building, after which the group will proceed out to the county where producers will learn and actually practice the scouting procedures discussed.

There will be no charge for this workshop which will be conducted by Paul Treptow, County Extension Entomologist for Crosby and Floyd Counties. With insect activity nearing its peak in Floyd County, all producers are encouraged to attend this insect scouting workshop.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

RAINS finally came this week to most parts of the county.

Drought Reduces Grain Crop

Sorghum Crop Prospects

The 1980 grain sorghum crop has been reduced as much as one-third by this summer's drought, reported Elbert Harp, executive director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association. "The crop could be off as much as fifty percent if general rains don't fall in the next two weeks throughout much of the sorghum belt," he said.

Harp reported a telephone survey he conducted during the last week of July. "The crops are now in critical condition even where they had not suffered earlier in the year," he said. "The crops have gone as far as they can go without rain and they will deteriorate rapidly from this point. Even irrigated crops have suffered from the extreme heat."

Harp found that much of the crop is beyond the point of return. Large areas are being baled as hay, chopped as ensilage, or grazed out. These areas include a region west and south of San Antonio, Texas and another strip through North Texas, Oklahoma, Southeastern Kansas and Missouri. The irrigated crops of the Texas High Plains and Western Kansas are fair, but need supplemental rain and cooler weather. Western Kansas is spotted with much of the crop still in fair condition, provided rains fall very soon. The same is true of Nebraska.

Most of South Texas and South Central Texas sorghum matured before the onset of the heat wave. Harvest there produced fair-to-good yields.

The drought is already affecting market prices. Short crop prospects have strengthened prices to the "call level" for sorghum in the reserve program. On July 25, the last of the reserve sorghum was called. This means that more than 80 million bushels of sorghum will be forced into the market within 90 days following the call.

If the market continues to strengthen, reserve corn will be called. Then, over a billion bushels of reserve corn will be dropped into the market. (USDA is presently considering a plan to raise the call levels.) The "called" grain will tend to hold a ceiling on prices—at least temporarily.

The extent of damage to the corn crop will ultimately determine the price of both corn and sorghum. Some analysts are now predicting the 1980 corn crop to be 6.4 billion bushels or less. If the corn crop drops below this level, all reserve stocks will be absorbed and both corn and sorghum prices will remain strong throughout the coming year.

COTTON

Moderate to high bollworm egg laying activity is continuing in many fields in Crosby and Floyd County. Most activity can be found in fields that have been recently irrigated. Higher activity continues to be found in Floyd County. Egg counts of from 12 to 133 per 100 plants have been reported in the last several days. Bollworm counts of less than 10 per 100 plants in fields checked indicate worm numbers to be low at this time however hot spots do exist. High egg counts recorded last week have not materialized into treatable worm numbers.

In Crosby County a moderate egg lay is being seen in irrigated fields. Egg numbers of 14 to 36 and worm counts of 3 to 7 per 100 plants are being reported. Beneficial numbers are increasing rapidly in many fields. Hardly noticeable to those not used to looking for them, the minute pirate bug is one of our better small worm and egg predators. High numbers of spiders and lacewing fly larvae can be found in many fields.

Unfortunately some fields have extremely low beneficial populations. I guess you could call 1980 the year of the worm. In addition to bollworms we have present in cotton fields the beet armyworm, cabbage looper, yellow-striped armyworm and even a few fall armyworms and cotton square borers.

Beet armyworm eggs are laid in masses covered by a whitish, velvety material on both the top and bottom of leaves. Newly hatched worms feed together but eventually disperse to surrounding plants. These worms skeletonize the leaves rather than chewing large holes in them. Beet armyworms will also feed on squares, blooms and bolls. Infestations are usually spotty within a field so careful scouting is needed to determine the need for control measures. Worms over 1/4 inch are difficult to control.

Cabbage looper eggs are laid singly, usually on the lower surface of leaves. Eggs are similar in appearance to bollworm eggs but looper eggs are more flattened, finely ribbed and do not turn brown before hatching. When feeding these worms cause leaf ragging and large holes in the leaves. Small green, oblong objects that you have noticed associated with loopers are actually cocoons of a parasitic wasp that has developed within the worm. Loopers with these parasites attached are in a weakened condition and will eventually die.

Well-defined economic thresholds do not exist for these pests in our area. While treatment for leaf feeding of worms is seldom economically justifiable we cannot use the word never.

SORGHUM
Problems with mites, greenbugs and headworms continue in sorghum. Parasitic wasp activity is beginning to build up on greenbugs in some areas. Fall armyworms which were present two weeks ago in sorghum heads are now being replaced by corn earworms (bollworms). Mites have built rapidly in some sorghum fields. Treatment of fields for mites nearing the hard dough stage may not be necessary.

Most areas of the county received some rainfall this past week. The northernmost part of the county had around 1/2 inch in spots on Tuesday night.

The worms are doing great. One farmer is trying to hire an entire fleet of airplanes to fly on chemical on his cotton. He swears that one plane will not be able to keep up with the worms.

There should be a little corn cut within the next week if no more rain falls. Some tested around 28% on Wednesday of this week. Ground is being plowed getting ready for planting wheat.

Cotton futures were up the limit on Wednesday. Contracts were being offered at 2700 points over the 1980 loan.

Combating Weeds Theme Of Field Day

New weapons in the war against an old foe of the farmer—weeds—will be examined during the 71st annual field day of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock and Halfway.

This year's program will be from 12:30 to 5 p.m. Tuesday, September 9, at the Halfway research site, 14 miles west of Plainview on U.S. Hwy. 70.

The report on weed control will be one of four major stops during tours of the test plots and facilities, said Dr. Douglas F. Owen, research scientist at the station and field day chairman.

At the stop, Dr. John Abernathy, TAES weed research scientist, will present the latest information on new application systems and new chemicals for combatting weeds. He also will present results of research at Lubbock and Halfway to help area farmers combat perennial and annual weeds.

"There are many different types of new application systems for herbicides," Abernathy said. Among those to be demonstrated and discussed are various rope and wipe-on applications of spot sprayers.

Abernathy said visitors on research and Halfway facilities "making some progress" against weeds such as lakewood, white and blueweed.

He also will discuss methods for some weeds, such as spurred anoda and Hour, which cause area.

Meet The Whirlwinds Held Along With Open House

Cars and pick-ups lined the streets around the football practice field Friday night as parents and fans watched the Whirlwinds go through their practice paces.

The annual "Meet the Whirlwinds" served a double purpose this year since the reception was held in the new field house.

The players were in full uniform except for pads. They looked in good condition despite the heat and summer lay-off.

At 8 p.m. the Open House started. The cheerleaders and coaches wives provided homemade ice cream, cookies and punch. Tables were set up in the 100' long dressing room.

Team members were the first to arrive. They sounded off with practice yells that vibrated throughout the room, conned the cheerleaders out of a glass of punch and began peeling off their sweat soaked jerseys. They were the first ones served and each sat on the bench in front of his locker.

Fans began arriving shortly thereafter, milling about, meeting the new Jr. high coaches, Dennis Jeeter and Don Pair and talking to the players.

Bill Gray had done a cartoon showing the "Mean Green" and their quaking opponents with many characters giving insider type dialogue about the upcoming season. The cartoon covered most of the bulletin board it was pinned to.

Guests explored the new building. The first time though, this reporter saw five children playing on the machines in the weight room. Next time through five fathers were doing the same thing.

It was hard to estimate the crowd size but there were well over 100 people there to "Meet the Whirlwinds" and kick off the season.

MRS. RAY McMAHAN

Bradley - McMahan Vows Exchanged

A double-ring wedding ceremony read Saturday evening in First Baptist Church of Lockney united in marriage Miss Pamela Jo Bradley and Mr. Ray Len McMahan.

Rev. Bill Hatler of Broadview Church in Lubbock officiated at the wedding for the children of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bradley of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. Don McMahan of Plainview.

Setting for the 7 o'clock exchange of vows was centered with a bridal arch covered with tropical foliage. In flanking positions were candelabras holding yellow tapers and entwined with tropical foliage tied with yellow satin.

Guests attending the wedding were registered by Mrs. Christy Meriwether of Lubbock. Ushers were the bride's brother, Doug Bradley, Jim James and Jerry Miller, both of Plainview.

Mrs. Charles L. Record played organ selections prior to the wedding and accompanied Kent Harris and David Turpin, both of Plainview, as they sang "Longer" and "I Pledge My Love".

The bride's sister, Mrs. Connie Seale of Lubbock was matron of honor. Mrs. Seale and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Edwina Henslee of Hobbs, New Mexico, and Mrs. Melinda Thompson of Lubbock, were dressed in floor-length gowns of maize-colored dotted swiss fashioned with spaghetti strap bodices and lace-trimmed jackets. Each carried a white daisy nosegay showered with gypsophila and tied with soft yellow satin.

When given in marriage by her father Melvin Bradley, the bride was dressed in a formal-length gown of white qiana designed with a Queen Anne neckline edged in silk Venise lace. The sleeveless, fitted bodice had an overlay of lace floral motifs. The A-line skirt flowed into a lace-edged, chapel-length veil train. The fingertip-length veil was trimmed with matching lace and was sprinkled with lace flowerlets. The bride carried a bouquet of white daisies, yellow pixie carnations, ming fern and gypsophila in a cascade arrangement.

The groom was attended by best man Steve O'Neal of San Antonio and groomsmen Chris Sue and Edward Jones, both of Lubbock.

RECEPTION

A reception held in the church fellowship hall honored the newly-married couple. Reception attendants were Sherry McCauley, the groom's step-sister of Plainview, Katherine Moore and Mrs. Tammie Zachary.

The table was arranged in a modified "V" and was covered with a sheer overlay and yellow undercloth. The five-tier wedding cake centered the table. It was decorated with yellow roses surrounded by pastel daisies and was topped with wedding bells and silk pastel flowers. The top two layers were separated by filigree pillars and bells. Arrangements of fresh daisies, pastel pixie carnations and white tapers graced the table. Strings of pearls were draped from the table edges and were caught at intervals with handmade roses and pastel silk flowers.

The groom's cake was shaped like double wedding bells and was frosted in chocolate. Yellow borders and pastel flowers similar to those on the bride's cake trimmed the cake. Both cakes were made by the bride's aunt, Arletta Bowlin of Carnegie, Oklahoma.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple is now at home at 4835 Barnett Road, Apt. 229, Wichita Falls. The groom is co-manager of 84 Lumber and Home Center in that city.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McMahan are graduates of Lockney High School. He attended Wayland Baptist College and she will be a December graduate of Texas Tech University. Until her marriage, the bride was employed by Texas Tech University Center as a food service secretary.

LCC Associates Hold First Meeting

L.C.C. Associates met Wednesday, August 18, for the first time this summer, with sandwiches and all trimmings.

Those attending were Wynona Allison, Cindy Ward, Mildred Gammage Myrl Wofford, Mavis Reger, Tommie Williams, Jane Archer, Mary Glenn Degge, Janie Carter, Janie Klein and Alma Baxter. Visitors were Mary Lois Montandon and Phyllis Hays.

Business meeting reviewed work outline for the fair booth here in Lubbock. A donation of $500.00 was made by the Associates to help pay for carpeting the boy's dorm at L.C.C.

Mrs. Buell Neff had "driveway" guests this week end during the Neff reunion at the MAC. Mr. and Mrs. Seth Neff of Tuscola, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Renfro of Roscoe parked their campers at Ona Ruth's to use the electrical hook-ups. They had not been to Floydada for some time and couldn't find their way around to the trailer park, so she invited them to park at her place. Mrs. Sara Neff, age 82, and the oldest person at the reunion, stayed inside at Ona Ruth's during her visit from Tuscola.

There were over a hundred Neff's present for the gathering. More would have attended but Hurricane Allen had hit their homes and they had to stay and clean up.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moosberg visited their daughter, Carla, and her husband Don Wisdom, in Duncan, Oklahoma this weekend.

Mrs. Carrie Brown of Haskell, Texas, stopped by at her sister-in-law's, Mrs. Viola Brown's house for lunch Wednesday. She had been visiting her son in Acuff. Since neither lady gets out much anymore, both highly enjoyed the visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane McClintock went to Possum Kingdom, Wednesday, for the McClintock family reunion. All stayed at the Bayley Camp and visited until Sunday, including Duane's mother, from Ft. Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayne Golithly and children, Rance and Lacy, went to the McClintock reunion Friday, returning home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Georgia Mae Smith Erickson has had her former Connecticut neighbors, two little girls, visiting with her the past two weeks from Germany. The girls, age twelve and fourteen, were joined by Mrs. Hank Smith III, from San Antonio.

Mrs. Buell Neff returned home last week from a month's stay with her daughter, Pat Smith, who had surgery the early part of July.

Mrs. Viola Brown was among the celebrants at the Crosby County Old Settler's Reunion, Saturday, at the Pioneer Memorial building in Crosbyton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Appling returned home Monday from Farmington, New Mexico where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Don Sanders and children. Mrs. Sanders is the former Judy Appling. Their children are Kerry, age nine, Cindy, age seven, and Misty, age five. The Appling's got to travel in rain from Planview on Thursday to Santa Fe. When they came home they stopped in Albuquerque to visit Wayne's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L.T. Archer. A five inche rain had fallen there and caused flooding. The road was washed out at Cuba, New Mexico, but was being repaired.

While in Farmington the Sander's and Appling's went to the Little League World Series Parade. The little Sander's girls were in the parade with their ballet class. Teams and floats were there from all over the world. The Appling's enjoyed the scenery on their trip. Don Sanders works at El Paso Natural Gas, and the family has lived there six years. The children's school starts this week and Judy is a teachers aid in the elementary school there.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn have enjoyed having their two daughters home with them the past two weeks. Mrs. Norma Hughes and children, Elyse, age 14, and Patrick age 17, arrived by plane from Los Angeles, California on Monday, August 4. Then Mrs. Snow Drop Gaut and son Jason, age 6, drove in on Monday, August 10, from Springfield, Missouri where she teaches speech therapy at the college.

Mrs. Joe Dunn's, daughter's and grandchildren visited in Amarillo with her mother, Mrs. Hattie Fuqua in the rest home, and with her sister, Mrs. Hubert Scott. She reports Mrs. Fuqua's memory was sharp and clear, better than since her first stroke, and all enjoyed recalling family occasions together during their visit with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunn and their family also visited with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ashon, and Joe's sister, Mrs. Harmon Roberts, in Floydada.

While the Dunn girl's were here they all went to Lubbock for a luncheon at the Gold Room at Hemphill-Wells with Mrs. Gerald Fugit and daughter, Debra Susan. Betty Fran Fugit was engaged to the Dunn's son, Joe Mack, before he was killed in a car accident years ago, and still keeps in contact with the family. Her daughter, Debra Susan, is a junior speech major at Texas Tech University and she and Snow Drop had lots of ideas to exchange. Mrs. Q.D. Williams went to Midland Friday and Saturday to attend the fifth birthday party of her grandson, Austin Williams. Mrs. Louis Pyle has been at Crowell, the past two weeks, to be near her mother, Mrs. Hester Hammonds, who is seriously ill in the Crowell hospital.

Mrs. Lanny Glasscock, Robert Pyle, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Smith went to Crowell last Sunday to see their grandmother, Mrs. Hester Hammonds, in the hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hammonds spent Sunday and Monday at Crowell, at the hospital with his mother, Mrs. Hester Hammonds.

Mrs. Weldon Hammonds and Mrs. Lanny Glasscock went to Canyon last Monday evening to attend a layette shower for their daughter and sister, Mrs. Chuch Carpenter (Gay Lynn.)

August 18: Wonderful rain showers here left 1.20 in South Plains, and as much as 1.80 in other areas. Farmers have not been able to stop watering the whole summer, or most of them have not, and this moisture and coolness will help keep fields going. The rain came Thursday evening, August 14, and it was spread over a large area. Mrs. Raymond Upton (Nina) entered the Central Plains Hospital for tests Sunday, August 10, and on Monday underwent major surgery for a hernia. Raymond was there with her during the week, and this Monday, she is scheduled to get to come home, where she will be confined to her home for awhile to recuperate. The wedding was held at the First Christian Church in Hereford at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Pauline Starke, teacher at the South Plains School went into the Central Plains Hospital a week ago Friday, and underwent major surgery there. She was in the hospital a week, but she is home and doing well now. Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborn at the South Plains Baptist Church have had much illness in their immediate families recently. Father of Rev. Osborn, Cecil Osborn Sr. of Tulia, was in the hospital in Amarillo but he is doing just fine at this time. Their granddaughter, Janie, had eye surgery in Dallas last week, and Mrs. Osborn went there to be with her. She is also doing well at this time. Visitors at the South Plains Baptist Church, Sunday

Mrs. Jim Roberts (Peggy) is in the Central Plains Hospital in Room 428 at Plainview at this time suffering with a virus. We sincerely hope she can soon be brought home. Mr. and Mrs. Grigsby Milton Jr. accompanied by their daughter, Darla, Mrs. Jerry Chappell, flew to California recently and spent eleven days there with relatives, including his brother, Otto, and other members of both families. Darla was co-pilot of the plane and piloted the plane. They arrived home last Saturday after a fine trip. Mrs. M.M. Julian arrived back home Saturday evening after spending the past week in Perryton with her youngest son and family, Bruce and Janet Julian and boys, Clay and Wade. They received a good rain on Thursday night, and it literally poured for about an hour. Mrs. Julian got to see Bruce and his team win the softball championship there in Perryton on Tuesday night. The members all received trophies. We are sad to hear the news about Mrs. Walter Wood (Kate) who is in the Whitney Hospital there at Lake Whitney, after she suffered a broken hip following a fall last Sunday morning. She is 93 years old, and we so hate to hear of her being confined to her bed at this time. Send her cards to: Whitney Hospital, Whitney, Texas 76692. Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, (Oleta and Johnny) got home a week ago, Friday, from Cuchara, Colorado, where they, with her father, Menard Field, had spent a pleasant vacation in Cuchara with her sister and family, the Billy Stanforth's, at their mountain resort home. They report a low of 39 at nights and about 69 degrees during the day. The Billy Stanforth's have spent much of their summer up there. Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson have recently moved from South Plains to their new home in Floydada, are fast getting settled there. We feel sad to have them move, but they are happy in their new surroundings. Mrs. Wood was home Friday night. We are sorry to report the death of Mrs. Myrtle West of Amarillo, who died today, Monday, August 18, and funeral services are pending at this time. She had spent most of her life here in South Plains and Silverton, and had been in Amarillo the past months in a nursing home where her daughter, Mrs. E.T. Evans looked after her. Her husband, George, passed away about two months ago in Plainview where he had been in a nursing home, with another daughter, Mrs. Lucille Smith, to see about him. South Plains Baptist Church will have an evening of gospel music on August 31, beginning at 6:30 p.m. and the gospel singers from Plainview and piano player from Amarillo will be here for the evening's song service. # 180 Years Of Service Honored

Nine Lions were honored with service pins at the regular luncheon meeting last Thursday. Their years of service totaled 180. E.A. Williams and Kenneth E. Bain Jr. have each given 30 years of service to their community through the Lions Club.

Dr. O.R. McIntosh and Ed Wester have been members for 25 years; Dallas Ramsey, Wilson Bond, J.W. Gilbreath and Boone Adams have been members for 15 years, and Bob Alldredge for 10 years.

The annual Family Picnic will be held tonight at 7 p.m. at the Floydada Country Club. Dennis Sweargin is chairman of the picnic committee.

Bill Gray and Gordon Kirtley were named Co-Lions of the month. They were co-chairmen of the Band Boosters activity day for children during Old Settlers. Kids Day was organized to provide a means for children to participate in the annual event.

Crosbyton City Secretary, Norton Barrett, was guest speaker at the meeting. He gave a slide show presentation of the Solar Power Installation in Crosbyton.

Last year Crosbyton was named one of the four national facilities for solar energy. "It is nothing but research," Barrett said, "it's not designed to do anything other than research."

In 1974 the city had it's own municipal plant like Floydada does. They read in the National Registry of $80,000,000 in funds available for research on solar energy. They approached Dr. Bradley at Texas Tech to see if the University would be interested in the project. Tech sent two engineers, the government funded the program and now six years later, "it has done more than the engineers ever thought it would," Barrett said.

OLD FASHIONED SATURDAY NIGHT found this youngster enjoying himself at the watermelon feast.

For What It's Worth

By Nancy Carthel

If you didn't attend Old Fashioned Saturday Night you really missed some good times. There was a very good crowd for the occasion and I think everyone agreed that it was one of the best Lockney has ever had. Every store owner I talked to was pleased with the turnout. There was good participation in the games for the children and even some of the adults got conned into a little water balloon competition. (Some of us got very wet in the process) Gail Kring and Sam Fortenberry did a good job of organizing the games.

The merchants really came through on the drawing. Nearly every business in town donated something and this is what made it a success. Thanks to Wilbur, Betty, Beverly, and Lawson.

Watermelons always go over big. The Chamber of Commerce and Rotarians did a great job of distributing the slices to the crowd.

The police department deserves a big thanks for their help. They roped off the area and gave the use of their loud speaker when the one to be used at the drawing failed.

The night was successful and the Chamber, of Commerce, Merchants Association, police, city, and the citizens of Lockney worked together for that success.

Lamesa Police Chief Lee Bartlett reported that Cope, his brother, Joe, and another friend were target practicing at the Cope Sand and Gravel Co., south of the city.

Bartlett said that Joe Cope's rifle hammer slipped and that the gun discharged, with the .22-caliber bullet going through Samuel Cope's left wrist and then entering his left chest. Reports indicate that the two brothers were about 30 feet apart when the incident occurred about 7:25 p.m.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

We have several people to thank for being so thoughtful this week.

Don Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Lesol Parker brought some of the largest and best cantalopes for the residents. They have really enjoyed them.

Donna Yeary brought a sack of snapped green beans that were really good.

Billy Ruth and Lindsey Lackey brought two gallons of shelled black-eyed peas. The residents have enjoyed all these fresh vegetables and fruits.

Mr. Emmitt Lawrence was our big winner in bingo with three games. Clara Williamson and A.G. Eubanks won two games each. Iva Simpson, Mamie Gray, W.C. Cates, Ray Reed, Leona Bell, Clara McNeely and Velta Pricer all won one game each.

The City Park Church of Christ ladies gave our monthly birthday party Thursday afternoon. We had two honorees, Mrs. Susie Mooney, 93, and Mrs. Sallie Kreir, 83. Everyone enjoyed cake and punch.

Mrs. Mollie Jones is back in Caprock Hospital. We send Mollie our love and prayers.

Mrs. Iva Simpson enjoyed a trip and lunch with her children in Lubbock, last week.

Mrs. Velta Pricer spent the weekend at home visiting her brother and three sisters.

Those attending Bible Study Wednesday were: Mr. W.C. Cates, Mr. A.G. Eubanks, Myrtle Roy, Willie Stambaugh, Verva McGwain, Francis Childs, Hallie Bertrand, Iva Simpson and Leona Bell.

Many thanks to our visitors this week which included: Flo Ella Jarboe, Clara E. McNeely, Marie Baxter, Julianne Lipham.

Sherry Colston, Doris Snodgrass, Earl and Thelma Crawford.

Christine Robertson, Estelle Hinkle, Mrs. Vernon McPeak, T.S. Brown, Josephine Bursiango, Mrs. A.H. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Hartness, Maurice and Ella Goodwin, Tom B. Jarboe, Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry, Charley L. Berry Sr., Mr. and Mrs. E.H. Childs, Jack and Beth Ray, Betty Draper, Otis, Dana, Kim and JoLee Ellis.

Until the late nineteenth century, psychology was not considered a science!

Floyd Philosopher

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a look at political conventions this week, from a safe distance.

Dear editor:

There's an argument going on among the heavy thinkers about national nominating conventions.

It used to be that a convention actually nominated somebody for President. Now it merely whoops and hollers for the man nominated several months ago.

One proposal to change this argues that delegates ought to arrive uncommitted: "Delegates should be a group of thinking people."

The trouble with this is that it's hard to whoop and holler and think at the same time. A delegate standing up in his seat waving a placard and blowing a tin whistle is in a poor position to do much thinking. I've heard that in 1928 a man claimed he was influenced by a sign some delegate kept holding aloft, but the claim has not been substantiated. Probably belongs with the myth that there was once a candidate who promised to cut taxes and when elected did it.

A political convention these days is like a Shakespearean play. You already know how it's going to come out.

Well this is not quite true. There were over 12,000 reporters at the Republican convention and nearly every one of them at one time was wrong about who the vice presidential candidate was going to be. It's one thing to be wrong for two minutes on the evening news, happens all the time, but quite another to be wrong for half the night.

I have no proposals for changing national political conventions. I'm sure both parties will continue to nominate somebody, one man will get elected President, and six months after he's been in office a lot of people who voted for him will begin to wonder if they should have.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

The rich European cultural heritage of this region of Texas which has been largely ignored will be fully documented by the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum.

This summer and fall researchers will visit the towns of Slaton, Wilson, Follett, Oslo, Waka, Paken, Wichita Falls, Thurber and others in search of interviews with descendants of immigrants, objects of historical interest, photographs, and historical data. ### The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

Prospective home buyers should be aware of a new type of mortgage being offered in this area. The new mortgage is being offered on a non-recourse basis. This means that if you default on the mortgage, the lender cannot sue you for the balance of the loan. This is a significant change from the traditional recourse mortgage where the lender can sue you for the full amount of the loan. The new mortgage is being offered by several lenders in the area. It is important to understand the differences between the two types of mortgages before you decide which one to choose. The non-recourse mortgage is generally considered to be a safer option for the borrower, but it may also have higher interest rates. It is always best to consult with a professional before making any financial decisions.

without having to refinance. There are differences in contracts being offered by the state and federal savings and loan associations. Consequently, the renegotiable rate mortgage offered by each lender should be considered very carefully so that the prospective home buyer will know exactly what to expect. The federal and state regulatory authorities attempted to insure that the prospective borrower will be given adequate information concerning the renegotiable rate mortgage. When you are considering the purchase of a home, you should review the information provided very carefully so that you fully understand the differences between the renegotiable rate mortgage and the fixed rate mortgage. Ask questions and get answers. Remember, under the renegotiable rate mortgage, if interest rates rise, your monthly payment will also increase at renewal. Conversely, a decrease in the interest rates will operate to lower your monthly payment.

The purchase of a home represents a significant investment. Take the time to understand fully what you are doing. Shop for your financing carefully. The rates between lenders may vary even with the new mortgage instruments.

One... two or three? About the same amount of time is involved in making one or several storage cubes out of particle board. Sitting stacked or side by side, storage cubes can be arranged as a room divider or rearranged into wall shelves, etc., again and again. To make shelves which can be used many times over, decide on a size which will work well for most locations. Whatever size you chose, be sure the cubes are square for easy arranging. An adaptable cube is one 24 inches square and 11 inches deep. When strength is desired and using particle board, a butt joint is recommended. Join the two pieces in a 45 degree angle using glue to secure. Nails won't hold tightly on particle board. To make the cubes more versatile, inside shelves can be braced which will add extra strength. If any type of hardware is needed, use sheetmetal screws instead of wood screws.

Caprock Girl Scout Council Designates "Invitation Day"

Thursday, September 4, has been designated "Invitation Day" for girls of all ages in the eighteen-county area of the South Plains, according to Mrs. Nolen Swain, President of Caprock Girl Scout Council. Girls between the ages of six and eighteen and adult men and women are invited to attend evening meetings at schools or community buildings near them and learn about the exciting world of Girl Scouting.

Mrs. Swain recently returned from a White House reception in Washington, D.C., at which Rosalyn Carter previewed new Girl Scout uniforms, badges and top awards. The event marked completion of a modernization of Girl Scout programs and activities in step with changing times. The first major update of Girl Scout programs since 1963, innovations include revision of handbooks, uniforms, proficiency badges and official recognition for girls.

Special invitations to evening meetings will be issued to girls in both public and private schools. Troop organizers, troop leaders and Girl Scouts will greet guests and explain the program.

The Girl Scout program is the largest voluntary organization for girls in the world and is international in scope. Ninety-four countries are affiliated with the World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides.

The organization, with Caprock Girl Scout Council headquarters at 2567 74th Street in Lubbock (and a professional worker based in Plainview), served 5,000 girls in an eighteen-county area this past year. Twenty-four men and women from the area serve on the board of directors and give direction to council policy and program.

Dr. Harvey Joanning, chairman of the personnel services committee on the Board of Directors, has announced that approximately thirty workshops and training sessions for adults will be held this Fall. Beginning with conferences for service team personnel, the calendar includes camping courses, first aid, leader training sessions, group dynamics workshops and bowling clinics. Mrs. Billy M. Hall, program services committee, states that in addition to regular troop meetings and field trips for girls, arrangements have been made for a Brownie Junior Council... for trip to World Camp... both areas... year-round... and troop...
