School honored with reception

School Administrators, Teachers and Board of Education members from Floydada Independent School District, Dougherty Independent School District and South Plains Independent School District were honored by the Floydada Masonic Lodge No. 712 A.F.&A.M. Monday evening at the Masonic Hall in Floydada.

Worshipful Master Bob Kendrick welcomed the 125 people to the kick off of Public Schools Week in this area. This is one of the 1,100 public school systems in the state which will be observing the 127 annual Texas Public Schools week.

Jimmy Willson spoke of the Masonic support for education in Texas since 1845 and the organizations belief in the necessity for good public education as a development of young leaders for the future of our Nation. He pointed out the importance of providing our children with the values, skills and means for living productive lives and thanked our school leaders for the part they had played and were playing in this effort.

As a part of this years observance of Public Schools Week Scottish Rite Masonry is offering six scholarships to a boy and girl for the best essay on Americanism. First prize is $3,000; Second prize is $2,000; third prize is $1,000 for each boy and girl who are chosen. Willson read a very excellent essay written by Floydada's visiting student under the American Field Service program from New Zealand, Lynley Hudson who wrote on America-Why Gamble?

The Order of the Eastern Star under the leadership of its Worthy Matron, Mrs. Wayne Russell, served cake and coffee to all in attendance.

Simplicity is key of woman world day of prayer

World Day of Prayer 1981 will be an occasion for Christian women worldwide to reflect upon the goodness of the earth and its resources, the goodness of God who created and sustains the earth. and to worship with one heart and one

The theme, "The Earth Is The Lord's", has been prepared by the American Indian women, and the program seeks to make us aware of our dependence upon the earth, our responsibility as Christians in using the earth rightfully rather than in abuse, the challenge presented to us to heal the earth's wounds and help preserve the earth for the future.

The World Day of Prayer service will be held Friday, March 6, at the First United Methodist Church in Floydada. Beginning at 10:30 a.m., the program will be presented by the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church.

Extending the call to worship and bringing thoughts from her own background of the American Indian heritage will be Mrs. Fred Lipham.

Other program participants include Mrs. S.J. McIntosh, Mrs. Newell Burk, Mrs. Joe Mack Jarnagin, Mrs. Bill Orman, organist; Mrs. Bill Gray, pianist; Mrs. Tom Farris, guitar and special music. Mrs. Ed Wester will conduct the song service.

Lunch will be served following the program in the Fellowship Hall of the church, and a nursery will be available for pre-school children.

Interested persons in the community are urged to attend this meaningful service as Floydada joins with women in over 150 countries and islands throughout the world-women of many languages, customs, traditions-who pray with one another on this first Friday in March each year.

Floyd farm values up sharply and $15.8 million; poultry and poultry The market value of agricultural products sold by the 691 farms in Floyd County amounted to $96.6 million for 1978 or an average of $139,867 each, up from $60.1 million in 1974 with an accompanying increase in production costs, according to a preliminary report of the 1978 Census of Agriculture released today by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Com-

A breakdown of the county's total agricultural sales for 1978 followed by that for 1974, is as follows: Crops, $57 million compared with $44.3 million; livestock and livestock products, $39.7 products, $1,000 and $6,000.

While the value of gross sales rose, the farmers' costs also climbed since 1974. For example, expenditures for feed for livestock and poultry for 1978 were $10 million compared to $6.3 million; costs of gasoline, diesel and other petroleum products were $8.7 million compared to $3.8 million. Farm energy costs of all types totaled $11 million for 1978. The estimated market value of machinery and equipment per farm increased from $48,030 to $85,331.

Of the total farms in the county, 200 had gross sales of $100,000 or more and 122 had sales of under $10,000. Farms operated by individuals or families represented 86 percent of the total; farms operated by corporations accounted for 3 percent. Some 69 percent of the operators owned all or part of the land they operated.

In 1978 the average age of farm operator was 49.3 years. Since 1974 the proportion of operators listing farming as their principal occupation changed from 90 percent to 86 percent.

Data in the reports for acreage and inventories for 1978 and 1974 are generally comparable; however, improved coverage in 1978, especially of smaller farms, should be taken into consideration in making direct comparisons of farm counts. Dollar values have not been adjusted for changes in price

Other results of the census show the 691 farms counted in 1978 had an average size of 1,005 acres. For 1974, 729 farms were counted with an average size of 846 acres. The land in farms totaled 694,440 acres in 1978 and 616,979 acres in 1974. Crops were harvested from 344,685 acres in 1978 and 350,758 acres in 1974. Land irrigated increased from 230,823 acres in 1974 to 233,861 acres in 1978.

The number of cattle and calves decreased from 42,076 in 1974 to 34,935 in 1978, while farms with 500 or more on hand accounted for 56 percent. There were 75,094 cattle and calves sold in

The number of hogs and pigs changed from 4,801 in 1974 to 1,854 in 1978. The number of sheep changed from 2,880 to 1,916.

Acreages of crops harvested for 1978 and 1974 were as follows: corn for grain. 19,622 acres vs. 2,800 acres; wheat, 58,778 acres vs. 94,880 acres; sorghum for grain, 43,560 acres vs. 101,872 acres; soybeans, 11,982 acres vs. 12,161 acres; cotton, 206,047 acres vs. 134,035 acres; vegetables, 1,615 acres in 1978.

Production of cotton for 1978 was 159,400 bales compared to 84,200 bales

A really dirty story!

BY MARGIE SAVAGE Bang! Roar/ Clank! What was that awful noise, I wondered as I covered my head with the pillow.

Wow! What was that noise in our driveway?

Bright lights filtered through the bedroom curtains. Screak, clang, sweep. It sounded like a street sweeper. But what was a street sweeper doing in our unpaved driveway at 5 o'clock in the morning!

I jumped up onto the bed, only stepping on my sleeping husband once, and looked out the window.

Lo and behold! It was a street sweeper unloading its earthy cargo right in our driveway. Then I remembered! I had asked for it! A long time ago, I had asked the city if they would bring us a load of dirt to fill up a few pot holes in our drive-

But I had forgotten all about it. By now, the machinery, having faithfully obeyed my orders, was gone leaving behind my pile of

I snuggled back under the covers, being careful not to disturb my still sleeping husband, although I needn't have bothered, after all, he had just slept through a landfill.

I began planning how I would arrange my dirt. I would put a little in this pot hole and a lot in the that chuck hole. I would especially fill the hole in the place where I park. Everytime I got out of the car I almost sank to my knees in that deep hole.

My landscaping had almost lulled me to sleep when I heard splashing. Raising up on my elbow, I listened. Splash, slurp, drip. Pant, pant. Splash, slurp, drip. I again looked out the window, being more mindful of my feet this time. In the semi-darkness I could make out the shadowy figures of two beasts, they must have been ten feet tall with huge, glaring eyes; gaping, drolling mouths; sharp, flashing teeth; long lean bodies, and droopy, floppy ears. Droppy, floppy ears! Where had I seen those ears before. Yes, that was it! They were the neighbor's beagles. "Watch out for the pile of dirt when you leave for work." I warned.

"What dirt?" He yawned. "The dirt the street sweeper brought." I replied. "Oh, ok." He said matterof-factly like we got dirt brought to us every morning at 5 a.m.

I needn't have warned him, though, because all of the dirt was piled behind my car. It took some mean maneuvering to get out of that driveway.

All morning, at odd moments, I would think about how I would arrange my dirt. I would fill all those nasty holes and might even have some dirt left to make a flower bed. Roses here, daisies there, zinnias over yonder. I had such fine plans for my dirt.

During the morning, unknown to me, the city had sent out a bulldozer and had leveled the pile of dirt.

it wasn't much.

But I did notice that it was rather trashy having bits of paper, cans and even an old innertube that the street sweeper had picked up in its tidiness. Well, I would clean it up when I got home from work in the afternoon.

On the way home, I stopped for a jug of milk, the kind that is "sealed" with a foil lid. I sat the milk on the floor in the back of my little

Turning into the driveway, I hit the knee deep chuck hole that the dirt hadn't filled. The jug turned over. The lid came off. The milk spilled. The cat, who always comes to meet me, smelled the milk as I opened the door. The cat jumped into the car and began licking up the

That was ok with me until the Slurpy Twins, who always come to meet the cat, jumped into the car too. Talk about a cat and dog fight!

While the hissing and barking was going on, I jumped out of the car and ran around to the other side to open the door for an escape route for the cat.

My husband, who was in the house, came tearing out to see what the commotion was. He slipped on one of the trashy cans and fell flat on his back in the soft dirt just beside the escape route.

Just about that time, the cat flew out of the car landing squarely on Jesse's stomach.

He grunted and tried to get up just as one of the lop-eared dogs jumped out and flattened him to the ground. Again Jesse attempted to recover and get up. Thud! The other dog landed four-footed on his diaphragm. Jesse groaned and lay flat, looking straight up

BY FOSTER WHALEY STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Foreign ownership of Texas farmland has been undergoing hearing the past week in the Texas House of Representatives. There seems to be an overwhelming majority of Texas citizens in favor or prohibiting non-resident alien ownership. There is a strong lobby among real estate people and one of the major oil companies that have blocked passage of this legislation. I'm personally opposed to foreign owner-

Speaker Clayton's bill, to place surplus State money in a State Trust fund to fully develop our State water needs, looks like it has an excellent chance to pass. This bill will be handled by the Constitutional Amendments Committee.

The state prison system chief, W.J. Estelle, has called on the legislature for over $141 million to update the prison system in order to comply with a federal judge mandate to bring the system up to a prescrible standard.

The House of Representatives is still moving very slowly. The committees can now have hearings. Because the rules were not suspended, no bills, other than those declared an emergency by the governor, can be heard on the floor of the House for the first 60 days.

This means a big log-jam of bills will hit the house floor on March 14.

If by luck the desired effect is partially achieved, Newton said, large hailstones might be altered in size, but because the quantity of water is constant, the greater number of smaller stones could do more damage to crops than fewer large ones. Large stones do greater roof damage to a building but less damage to a crop because they usually are fewer in number, he said.

Newton added that if at some future time cloud seeding becomes scientific and predictable beyond dispute, the courts would be flooded with litigation because "one man's medicine would be another man's poison." Not every farmer wants rain at the same time, Newton said, adding one crop might be ready for harvest while a neighboring one might desperately need rain.

Search for suspect continues

A search for an 18-year-old man continues by Floyd County sheriff's deputies in connection with the stabbing death last week of a 30-year-old Providence man.

The suspect, wanted in the February 26 slaying of Juan Gomez Vargas, has been traced to Plainview where he was given a ride to Petersburg, Sheriff Fred Cardinal said. The man was last seen at a convenience store in that town. Three men taken into custody shortly after the incident were questioned and released to the Border Patrol over the weekend, the sheriff said. No charges were filed against them.

Vargas died about 2 a.m. February 26 at the Providence Gin where he lived in what Cardinal described as a "Barracks." Witnesses reported Vargas was killed during an argument over a Social Security card.

He apparently died from a blow to the heart, the sheriff said, after receiving several pounds from a pocket knife with a 4-inch blade. Cardinal said the weapon was recovered.

All the men involved in the incident are believed to be Mexican nationals, the sheriff said.

Mexico and was married there to Adelina Fonseco in February 1966. He came from Leon, Guanawato, Mexico four months ago to Floyd County. Vargas was a field laborer and member of the Catholic Church.

Farm value

The figures are for farms qualifying under the definition: Any place from which $1,000 or more of agricultural products were sold, or normally would have been sold, during the census year.

The agriculture census was conducted in 1979 to obtain data on the Nation's farm production and sales for calendar year 1978. Information from the farm census, the 21st of a series which began in 1840, will be used by Federal, State and county agencies, agricultural colleges, agricultural and business groups, and farmers to help make a variety of decisions about agricultural programs and policies.

I can't complain that I wasn't warned. Everyone said that the Jr. Livestock Show was the big event of the year.

I stocked up on film (20 rolls) picked up two notebooks and prepared to cover the events.

The shock came when I realized that it was likely I would shoot-up all 20 rolls of film and fill both notebooks. Another revelation was that that's not

"I'm having trouble breathing," I said, keeping panic out of my voice.

"Dust" someone answered nonchantly. "Quit breathing with you mouth open.

So I breathed through my nose and Ooooooeeeeee!

Eating lunch at the barns that first day was more than I could manage. But by Tuesday I came out to the barns especially for lunch because the food was so good. How about those homemade pies? I had one piece of apple with as perfect a crust as I've ever tasted.

But it wasn't all easy, let me tell you. I climbed in and out of that ring so many times I thought sure someone would give me a ribbon. I was almost knocked down by the pigs, sneezed on by a steer, and completely ignored by the sheep.

But the real test came in the darkroom back at the paper. First, all that film had to be processed. Then we had to try and pick the right exhibitor from negatives.

Finally we just went ahead and printed most of them up. Then there was the problem of identifying the kid, and if he or she was showing more than one animal, we had to make sure we had the winning one.

Finally on Monday night of this week, Floyd Easter and Mark Nutt came down to the Hesperian to help us identify the photos and make sure they were

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

As you undoubtedly know, the problems of agriculture are as numerous and varied as they are complex. One problem that has plagued us for the last decade concerns weather modification or cloud seeding. As if commodity prices, drouth, insects, and other problems weren't a heavy enough burden, it seems that we who must depend more and more on dryland farming must contend with this MAN MADE problem.

There is little if any scientific evidence that the weather can be controlled according to a particular pattern because all cloud formations are different. Cloud seeding has different effect on different types of clouds. As a matter of fact we believe that efforts to prevent hail or increase rainfall can have the opposite effect, even on those doing the seeding. We also believe that any successful attempt to dissipate hail clouds also dissipate rain clouds.

We also continue to hear reports of government grants being used to foster cloud seeding experimentation. If this is true (and we believe it is) then we who oppose weather modification are forced to pay for this experimentation with our tax dollars, while on the other hand we are fighting it with private funds!

As our underground water supply decreases and energy and pumping costs increase, we must depend more and more on natural rainfall. We simply cannot afford to have rain clouds headed in our direction aborted.

> Sincerely. Larry Bramlet

A floral arrangement of blue and white china mums. carnations, stephanotis and stock centered the altar. Floor-standing candlabra flanked the ceremony area.

Traditional pre-nuptial music and the wedding march was played at the organ by Mrs. Margaret Skinner of Amarillo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal length gown of white chiffon and alencon lace which featured a cameo neckline embellished with seed pearls and crystals. Lace covered the fitted bodice and cascaded onto the skirt. Sheer split shadow sleeves were detailed with lace appliques and cuffed in lace which came to petal points over the wrists. The flowing chiffon skirt dipped to form a chapel length train.

Her headpiece was a bandeau of white stephanotis and minature white carnations. She carried a white lace fan decorated with white china mums and minature carnations and tied with white satin streamers and loveknots.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Tommy Dale Chatham of Plainview. Her dress was a floor length gown of aurora blue satin crepe styled with an empire bodice, a flowing skirt and topped with a capelet of blue background with daisy floral print in white and shades of blue. She carried a white lace fan with white and blue-dipped daisies attached matching the floral motif of the capelet. Blue and white satin streamers completed the fan's decoration.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was David Reckamp of Amarillo. Ushers were Marlon McDonald of Lockney, brother of the bride, and Macey Inmon of Amarillo, brother-in-law of the groom.

1929 Study Club tours Day Care Center

The 1929 Study Club met at the Floyd County Day Care Center for their February meeting, February 5.

Mrs. Q.D. Williams was hostess to the club in the Homemaking classroom at Della Plains school.

Mrs. Frances Easter, Homemaking teacher, was introduced. It was discovered that she and the Swepston sisters are cousins.

Mrs. Vance Campbell, club president, introduced the speaker, and director of the Day Care Center, Mrs. Betty Fuller.

Mrs. Fuller recalled the initial meeting in 1969, during which the county-wide, locally funded day care center was chartered and housed in the vacated Della Plains school building.

Originally planned for low income mothers, it soon became apparent these mothers preferred to keep their children at home, and it was the middle income working women of Floydada who required the services of a day a day care center yet. Mrs. Fuller said the center is equipped for 51 children and is full, with a waiting list. Charges are made on a sliding scale according to family income and number of children enrolled.

The local people are very supportive, she praised, allowing the center to be independent of Federal control. It does meet state requirements and receives a CETA funded worker and a greenthumb worker.

FASHION IS REFRESHED FOR SPRING '81

The attitude for Spring is decidedly easygoing. Shapes are fuller, fabrics are lightweight, color is paler and details are fresh.

The blouson is showing up in jackets and blouses. The sportiness of the shape is often softened with touches of floral embroidery and tucking.

Fuller skirts are in with coulottes being the newest trend, making skirts more wearable and casual. The tiered skirts will make a comeback with lots of lace and ruffles.

Pants remain full, and the trend toward wide leg is catching on slowly. Most pants are 22 inches at the

Lots of jacket news again with lots of variety - blousons, short and shaped styles that hug the waist, tuniclength jackets, unstructured classics.

Beautiful blouses with fragile touches - lace insets. embroidery, tucks, ruffles, elegant cut-work. Sleeves will remain fuller and often

Watch for dropped waist and shoulder lines, as well as shorter lengths in skirts, dresses and pants, as rumor has it the sixties are not dead and gone!

Jumpsuits are remaining popular for comfortable onestep dressing.

The natural fabrics will include cotton jersey, poplin, chenille, chino and oxfords. Also, strong are seersucker and plisse; sheers - solid or printed, many with jacquard designs; madras effects; georgettes; lacy openwork knits; animal skin prints. Prints are bolder and brighter with geometric motify, inspired from primitive art or from the jungle. Shantung and linen surfaces everywhere to add texture.

What was daringly bright the last few seasons has become quiet and soft. Pastels will be seen everywhere such as ice-blue, baby pink, soft citrus yellow, coral and pistachio. Exotic earth tones will surface in copper, dark brown, ruby oxblood, batik blue, and a blued forest green. Tropical colors like hot orange, yellow and bright green will be seen. The naturals will consist of burlap, almond, ivory, straw and oyster gray. Khaki is in, whether in British tan or American army green. The traditional navy and white will return. Shoes have lower heels and are definitely either active or dressy. Track and bowling shoe styles are front runners with tasseled loafers and folkloric sandals right in step. Metallic leathers and floral fabric pumps show up for day wear along with strippy, bare sandals on stacked heels. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

ESTATE PLANNING AND

CAUTIONS Writing a will should start with a plan based on specifics. Then it should state those specifics throughout to eliminate some of the estatesettlement hassles which seem to happen all too often. Errors tend to occur as a result of carelessness even though an attorney may have drafted the original docu-

TODAY'S ECONOMY

WILL-WRITING

Make your will a precise document. To avoid law suits, make your will specific enough that it leaves no questions about anything to the probate judge nor to your survivors. For example, you may create problems if your will leaves "half the value of my residence" to a particular person. Judges and survivors might question whether "residence" means just the "house" or if it means

"house AND the land." Protect your children in your will, especially minor children. Think about a "trust" rather than a guardianship. A trust can provide a flexible and workable arrangement for a child as compared to a costly and inflexible guardianship.

Remember special situations, too, such as the deaths of several family members in an auto crash. Include provisions for these unusual circumstances.

Once the will is written, be sure to update it as holdings and family standings change. Family changes -- divorce, remarriage, births, deaths and interstate moves -- can change the settlement of an estate drastically. For example, differences in state laws can nullify a will made in one state if you move to another state. Also, make changes in the will as you acquire new assets. Here are some that make changing any will a necessity: additional real-estate holdings. insurance policies, investments and individual retirement plans. Keep your will easy for heirs to obtain. The best place for the signed copy of your will is with your lawyer. You can keep an additional copy at home or in the safe deposit box, but be sure to inform someone, possibly your nearest survivor, of your plans. If you're tempted to store the signed copy of your will at home, remember this makes it easy to misplace. Or, if you're thinking of storing it in a safe deposit box, be aware that this can lead to frustrating delays if the boxes are sealed at death and can be opened only upon court order and in the presence of a tax or legal

Good recordkeeping also can make the settling of your estate even easier for heirs. A trusted friend or family member should have a list specifying the location of all your major assets and personal documents, along with the name and location of your Crystalballing agriculture five years down the road is risky, but agri-economist John Marten has done just that, and predicts some interesting developments. Export is the key word for 1985, given a hefty boost by a 250 percent overall increase during the last decade. Marten looks for total grain tonnage of at least 150 million metric tons at a total dollar volume of $75 billion - at least. That may sound high, but the world is hungry, inflation will stay with us and the U. S. farmer has the ability to produce the crops. Marten predicts an eight to nine billion bushel corn yield in 1985, meaning average U.S. yields of 110 + per acre and, despite higher input costs, prices will remain strong enough to encourage production. Russia, Japan, China and Europe will continue to be major U.S. grain markets. Feed grain yields will increase by 2 percent per year, soybean acreage may increase only slightly and wheat acreage will continue to depend on price and set-aside decisions.

President Reagan Deregulates Oil Industry... Strike It Rich Your Chances Are Better Than Ever.

A little known Federal law (the 1920 Mineral Leasing Act) makes it possible for you to compete equally with Exxon, Gulf, Texaco and other giants of the oil industry, because under the law a company or individual may submit only one application to lease per parcel.

More residents of Floyd County are filing in the Bureau of Land Management Oil and Gas Lease

To Qualify for this drawing you need only be an adult and an American citizen.

The oil and gas regulations are complex and this letter offers only a thumb-nail sketch of the various ways to obtain a federal lease. The complete regulations are contained in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 43, Part 3100. This book may be found in most public libraries.

The simultaneous oil and gas leasing system is administered by the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Land Management. On the 1st business day of January, March, May, July, September and November the BLM posts a list of lands within its jurisdiction that are available for leasing. Applications are accepted until the close of business on the 15th working day after the list is posted. If more than one application is received for a given tract, a drawing is held to decide who will get the lease. Three Application cards are drawn for each parcel, and the other in which they are drawn fixes their order of priority.

NOTE: No assignment of a lease may be filed before the lease is issued by BLM. No agreement to assign a lease may be made before the lease is issued, or before 60 days after the drawing, whichever is sooner. Any assignment entered into as a result of an agreement which violates these restrictions will be disapproved by BLM. These restrictions are intended to allow all interested parties an equal opportunity to negotiate for the lease and to protect applicants from being unduly influenced to enter into agreements to make transfers not in their best interest.

If you are the successful applicant, you are given 30 days to pay the first year's rental after you receive offical notice. Upon payment the BLM will issue the lease. Currently the rental rate is $1.00 per acre per year.

MOST IMPORTANT FACTS TO CONSIDER

1. We urge you to be cautious! You should consider the speculative nature of your investment in time, effort and money before filing an application. Oil Service performs a number of services as your agent for a fee. Oil Service is not an authorized agent of the BLM or Government. It is not necessary to patronize our service to apply for an oil and gas lease.

2. Most winners in the BLM drawings will tell you, "To win you need to be consistent in your filings..." While a few people have won a lease on their first time to file — most of us aren't that lucky. Decide the number of applications you want filed each period, then stay with it!! Your chances to win will be greatly improved.

Oil Service will select for you a parcel we believe to be the most desirable at $20.00 per parcel (which includes the $10.00 filing fee). The lease is 100% yours. Oil Service nor anyone associated with them does not have any interest of any kind in any lease you win as a result of our service. It is our continued desire that you consider using our service in the sale of your lease, and we will assist you in gaining financing of your lease payment, if required. After your application has been sent to BLM, we will send you a card telling you the State, Parcel Number, Description, Acres and estimated value of your filing.

March 10 Is The Last Day Oil Service Will Accept Applications For The Month Filing Period-Applications Received After This Date Will Be Filed In The May Filing Period.

Please enter my name in the earliest possilbe BLM drawing for parcels. l enclose payment of $ ($20.00 per parcel). Address

When they hurried to see what was happening, they discovered a Negro funeral was being held on the main floor of the capitol rotunda. The grieving mother had thrown herself on top of the casket and the minister and other relatives were trying to pull her off. When she was seated, the minister revealed it was a mock funeral by a group of high school students from Houston for Black Awareness Week, Students proceeded to enact the childhood influences that had led to the alcohol and drug induced death of a fellow classmate. At the conclusion of the drama, the lid of the casket flew up and a fully clothed black student stood up and jumped out, to the surprise of all. He begged forgiveness for his wasted reward.

If you've ever experienced a pilot light failure on your gas water heater, you know it's no easy job to relight. First of all, it's all but inaccessible, especially for fingers holding a kitchen match. Secondly, there is the small matter of holding the pilot button in - for what seems like hours, until the safety sensor becomes hot enough to keep the pilot burning. Next time, don't reach for a match. Reach for a small propane torch. The curved burner tube of the torch will reach easily back to where the blue flame should be. A torch will also stay lighted much longer than a kitchen matach and the flame is hot enough to reduce the warm-up time of the safety sensor.

A $100 FACTORY REBATE

Install Gas Air Conditioning now, and you'll not only be cool the first day this spring . . . you'll save a cool $100! Buy before May 1st and you'll receive a $100 rebate direct from the factory . . . plus you can defer monthly payments until May, too. But $100 and deferred payments are not the only reasons for installing Gas Air Conditioning. Gas Air Conditioning Systems are very energy efficient. They now use less gas energy because the constantly burning gas pilot has been replaced with a new pilotless ignition system. Pilotless ignition saves gas, and saving gas will save you money.

Gas Air Conditioning is also very dependable. It's built to last and last with no loss of cooling capacity. Hand-crafted of sturdy stainless steel components, Gas Air Conditioning has fewer moving parts and no compressor to wear out or break down. That means less wear and lower maintenance costs. And to prove its dependability, Gas Air Conditioning gives you the longest warranty - the 10year "No Sweat" limited warranty** twice as long as all others.

Gas Air Conditioning. It's energy efficient. It's designed to lower maintenance costs, to lower operating costs. Gas Air Conditioning will save energy and that will save you money. And when you combine Gas Air Conditioning with adequate conservation measures, like caulking, insulation, storm doors and windows, you'll save even more. But don't wait too long. The $100 rebate ends May 1, 1981. Call now for a free home cooling survey and cost estimate. There's no obligation. **Manufacturer's limited warranty covers all defects in material and workmanship on the sealed refrigeration unit for ten years from date of installation of the air conditioner when it is installed in a single-family residence. All other parts are warranted for one year from date of

An RLR plan is really a combination term policy and savings plan with amounts confirming to a group plan. The term policy belongs to the employee and is paid for by the employer who deducts the premiums. The employee is not charged with any taxable income for the first $50,000 of coverage. The savings plan belongs to the employer with funds used to operate the plan. Contributions are made and deducted by the employer and the employee has no taxable income from it. e 4-H emblem, pledge, d motto provide a guide r young people to follow

The 4-H club emblem is a four leaf clover with the letter "H" on each leaf. The four "H's" stand for Head, Heart, Hands, and Health. Leaves of the clover are green and the 'h's" are white. The white is for purity. Green is nature's most common color, and is symbolic of youth, life and growth.

The 4-H's represent the 4-square development of: Head - To help you learn new and better ways of doing things.

Heart - To help you develop ideals and standards for living in society. Hands - To give you the opportunity to develop useful skills and to apply them. Health - To help you develop habits of good "I pledge --My Head to clearer thinking My Heart to greater loyalty, My Hands to larger service, My Health to better living, for my club, my community my country and my world."

Tips for a good lambing season

Lambing time is close at hand for many flocks and an lowa State University extension veterinarian has some tips which may save many lambs. John B. Herrick advises that the lambing quarters be thoroughly scrubbed down with a lye-water solution. One pound of lye to 15-20 gallons of water is effective. A well-ventilated barn using heat lamps instead of closing up the quarters will help keep the facility dry, comfortable and help avoid wet bedding.

Abortions may occur in some flocks due to vibrio infections, as well as toxoplasmosis and enzootic ewe abortion (EAE). If abortions occur, the flock should be placed on a high level of antibiotics immediately if vibrio exists.

An aborted lamb should be taken to a diagnostic laboratory as soon as possible for a definitive diagnosis.

Pneumonia in lambs can be a severe problem, Herrick says.

before lambing with sulfame-

He suggests one pound of sulfamethazine or one gallon of a 12.5 percent solution, to 128 gallons of water. Treatment should be carried out for five days, off for two days, on for two days, off two days and finished with a two-day treat-

This treatment has been beneficial in controlling pneumonia caused by pasteurella ssp. organisms in newborn lambs, he

Nursing lambs can be protected from enterotoxemia by vaccinating the ewes before lambing. Herrick recommends the vaccine be given in two doses: the first 30 days before lambing, the second, one week before lambing.

He says some veterinarians administer a mixed bacterin at the same time. Worming of the ewes can be done at this time.

Vaccine available prevents calf scours

A new calf scours vaccine, called Vicogen, which is administered to the pregnant cow, is now available to veterinarians in the United States.

John Herrick, extension veterinarian at Iowa State University, says scours (enteritis) of newborn calves is a scourge to both dairymen and beef cow producers. There is nothing more discouraging than to see a beautiful calf deteriorate within five days of birth because of dehydration caused by uncontrollable diarrhea. Bacteria the culprit

The culprit in 60 to 70 percent of all cases of scours is a group of bacteria called Escherichia coli (E. coli). Herrick says Canadian scientists have isolated a protein antigen called K99 which appears to be associated with most types of E. coli. K99 attaches itself to the gut wall of the calf and produces toxins which cause the scour syndrome.

The trigger mechanisms

promoting the growth of E. coli are wet calving stalls, pens or yards, and filth on the cow's teats that is swallowed by the calf when it first nurses. Ingested bacteria contained in filth immediately attack the calf's intestinal lining.

The new vaccine works because the cow, when exposed to certain disease-producing organisms, has the ability to proauce protective antibodies in her blood. Milk is made from blood, thus the first milk or colostrum contains high amounts of these disease-preventive an-

Protective antibodies Vicogen contains K99 antigen and should be administered to the pregnant cow six and three weeks prior to calving. This induces the cow to produce the scours-protective antibodies in her first milk. Calves not nursing within 12 hours after birth should be given two quarts of the cow's colostrum via a stomach tube. Herrick says this should be repeated two or three Vicogen, developed by Connought Laboratofies, Inc., has a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) license and is sold only to veterinarians within the United States.

Pest management plan under revision

Organization and identification of research, Extension and regulatory needs for the next five years is the goal of the Texas Statewide Pest Management Plan.

The 1980 plan is a revision of the 1974 plan developed at the request of the Texas Pest Management

Association, said Dr. Ray Frisbie "The revised plan includes more commodities, but the biggest change is that it is interdisciplinary," explained Frisbie. "It does not center on controlling only insects but also includes weeds, plant diseases and nematodes.' The plan is currently in the final draft stage and is being reviewed by TPMA, commodity organizations, individual farmers and private consultants.

"Their suggestions and ideas will be incorporated into a final document of about 200 pages that will be joint Extension Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station publication," Frisbie noted.

The document is scheduled to be printed in early summer and will be used for planning by farmers, TPMA, commodity organizations and interested individuals. The Texas Department of Agriculture will also use the document, Frisbie said. Another conference speaker, Dr. Ron Lacewell, Experiment Station agricultural economist, explained the economic impact of IPM.

Lacewell reviewed several examples of increased profits by farmers adopting IPM, one relating to improved irrigation efficiency. He cited research conducted by Dr. Bill Lyle with the Experiment Station at Lubbock that showed a 50 percent reduction in water and a 64 percent reduction in energy used through effective IPM pro-

Experimental sorghum hybrid

Hybrid is greenbug resistant

(PLAINVIEW) - Sorghum breeders commercially until they are thoroughly for Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., have discovered three of their experimental hybrids apparently have strong resistance to the new Biotype E greenbug that is threatening High Plains agriculture.

Discovered by researchers only last year, the new greenbug could attack virtually all areas of the regional sorghum belt. Therefore, sorghum hybrids previously thought to be greenbug resistant may well be susceptible to the new insect and its deadly toxin.

However, greenhouse research on sorghums at the Plainview facility of Pioneer has indicated sorghum hybrids with resistance to the Biotype E greenbug could be available to farmers as early as next year, said Dr. Gene Dalton, director of sorghum breeding

"If the hybrids continue to demonstrate resistance to Biotype E greenbug damage during extensive field tests this summer, they might be available for 1982 planting," said Dalton. "But Pioneer will release none of the hybrids

Greenbugs first became a problem for sorghum farmers in the late 1960s. The insects, not much larger than a pin head, suck fluids from plant leaves, then excrete poisonous wastes into the

"It's the greenbug toxin, not the bug itself, that kills the plant." said Dalton. By the mid-1970s, researchers had developed sorghum hybrids resistant to greenbugs. The Biotype C greenbug was, and still is, the main culprit.

The Biotype E was discovered only after researchers found that plants thought to be resistant to Biotype C were nonetheless dying from greenbugs. Even though they were not widespread last year, the new insects pose a potentially-severe problem for growers.

"Pioneer had many tests scattered throughout the sorghum belt last summer." said Dalton. "but we were able to confirm Biotype E greenbug damage in only one of these locations. We will not know how widespread the new Biotype is until after the next crop is planted.

The greenhouse discoveries of apparently resistant hybrids involved seed that was developed from an inbred line on which Pioneer began research in the research effort.'

Dalton said farmers "must take a sensible approach in sorghum production, weighing all benefits against all costs. They should select hybrids based on all performance traits and use careful inspection in their insecticide application program."

Jim Lindsey, president of the Southwestern Division of Pioneer, added that the promising discovery "vividly demonstrates" the value of an aggressive. well-funded and comprehensive research program.

"We feel the discovery is a real tribute to our sorghum breeding staff and the project to which they committed themselves over a decade ago."

"The work we began in the late '60s was designed to broaden the genetic base of Pioneer parent lines," Dalton said. "We used a number of exotic lines, collected from all over the world. And the new inbred line carrying this Biotype E resistance is a product of that

"Seed with a high acid content often shows a high germination test, initially, but these seed will deteriorate rapidly in storage and germination will drop,' explained the cotton specialist. "Of course, a low acid content does not insure top quality seed. Immature seed may be low in free fatty acid content."

Supak advised producers against saving cottonseed for planting that has 1.5 percent or more free fatty acid. Seed delinting companies can assist producers in obtaining an acid test on their planting seed, he noted. Numerous laboratories in the state also are equipped to check the acid content of cottonseed, the specialist said.

"Have your seed tested and if the free fatty acid is not a serious problem. store in a dry location." Supak recommended. "The use of high quality planting seed is very important in getting a crop up to a good, vigorously growing stand.

HEREFORD - WAC Seed, Inc., a forerunner in the commercial production and marketing of hybrid sorghum seed, will begin doing business as SeedTec International, Inc. The name change was announced by Armon Lauderback, vice president and general manager of SeedTec operations, at Hereford.

Incorporated in the fall of 1957, WAC Seed. Inc. took its name from the company's three founders-Chester Wiggains. Wilburn Axe and Troys Carmichael. That same year Mr. Hugh Clearman joined the firm as a partner. Mr. Lauderback joined the firm shortly afterward and eventually became a Pacific Oilseeds, Inc. of Woodland, California. POI has been a leader in the research, development, and distribution of commercial sunflower hybrids and safflower varieties. During the same year, WAC expanded its operations into the marketing of hybrid seed corn and sunflower seed.

POI changed its name to SeedTec International, Inc., reflecting the firm's production. From its office here Seed-Tec serves growers in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, and Nebras-

In addition to its domestic operations, SeedTec has two foreign subsidiaries. Semillas Pacifico S.A. is a major distributor of safflower, sunflower, wheat, and bean seed in Spain. And Saffola Seeds Ltd. has become one of the leading suppliers of safflower. sunflower, corn and sorghum seed in the Republic of South Africa. Lauderback noted that these international operations allow Seed Tec to conduct year-round hybrid research, thus reducing the normal time span required for

Trend to 'super-farms' is growing

Farmers Union also finds substantiation of its policies by the report in areas such as prohibition of foreign and corporate ownership of farm land, and investment of pension funds and reserves in land speculation that drives prices out of reach for young farmers.

We have cried out repeatedly for attention to the escalation of control of food and fiber resources by foreign and domestic corporations and the serious ramifications of losing America's family farm structure." Moeller said. "From what we know about John Block, we're encouraged that he will be a defender of the family farm. The big question that remains, however, is who his key advisors will be and how much influence Reagan economists in other departments, men who have already made position statements that are anti-farmer, will have on agricultural policy." Moeller concluded.
