

Couple heads north riding on horseback

BY SHELLY HARRIS

The first day back from vacation was not the time to interview the young couple.

I was having enough trouble getting into the work routine.

For six glorious days I had not wound my watch, or done one single thing I did not want to do.

Now here I was on Tuesday morning, slopping through the rain trying to track down two people with pack horses who had been seen on the highway, coming into Floydada.

I finally found them camped on the grass at the far side of Davis Gin.

Five sleek, fat horses were tethered behind the cotton wagons.

A pup tent was set up near by.

I was dripping water and my feet were wet, but the young couple in the tent were dry and smiling.

They were both tall, dressed in ranch clothes, probably middle to late 20's.

He was a nice looking fellow and she was a real beauty. Both were as clear eyed, and healthy looking as their animals.

They were Rusty and Chris Pogue from Wyoming or maybe it was Montana. They had wintered at Eastland, Texas and were now headed back North.

Traveling by horseback is their present way of life. They move at a leisurely pace of 15 to 20 miles a day weather permitting.

"The reason we go slowly is because when you're packing horse's it's better to stay at a walk," Chris said.

Care of the horses is of prime concern to the Pogues. One of the pack horses carried grain for all five horses. The animals do well on this spring's ample grass land, but the grain "keeps them in hard flesh."

The Pogues have packed into the wilderness for several summers but this is the first time they have traveled along the road side.

Last year they were in Lander, Wyoming when their funds ran out.

They went to work for an outfitter and by the time their finances were in better shape winter was closing in. They were in McCloud, Montana in November and the snow had them stopped.

With the help of Rusty's father, who lives in Odessa, they brought the horses by trailer to Eastland. They spent the winter there working for a rancher.

On April 6 they started the trip back to Montana.

"We are headed basically north,"

Chris said, "we want to see some of the mountains in New Mexico. We may go North or we may go further West."

The main thing they look for is a good place to camp. They prefer away from the road if possible.

"Texas people are so hospitable and so kind," Rusty said, "they let us stay on their ranches and some towns let us stay at their parks."

"It's incredible how nice people have been," Chris agreed. The couple generally sleeps out in the open and use the pup tent only against the weather.

This past week they were traveling when the thunder storms hit.

"We were out on the road and a number of people stopped and told us where to go to get under cover in town," Rusty said grinning, "in fact we almost got caught in the storm talking to the people who stopped."

They waited the storm out in a cow shed.

"We always ask permission or people offer," Chris hastened to explain.

Neither one was raised on a ranch. Chris is from the San Francisco Bay area in California, and Rusty though he is from Texas lived in town.

They like horses, traveling, and meeting new people. They "go as long as their finances last and then find a job." They don't have many expenses so it doesn't take long to build up their resources again.

"You kids are a bad influence on me," I said, eyeing the extra horses longingly. "I'd best get back to work."

CHRIS POGUE go through Floydada with their horses. The couple has been on the road since April 6 on their journey north. They came through Floydada on Tuesday.

Water campaign can help

Funds sought for Mackenzie

The administration is tightening its belt. Spending it looks as if long term projects will escape government cut backs according to Neil Taylor, manager of the Mackenzie project.

The cost of building the treatment plant and the transmission line to the connection point is $4,405,000. The Mackenzie authority already has $1,255,000 in unissued bonds. A one-million dollar grant has been approved. The remaining $2,150,000 bond election passed in all four municipality last fall.

The four towns making up the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority are Floydada, Lockney, Tulia and Silvertown.

The financing for the total project has gone like this; The Texas Department of Water Resources already has the bonds that were sold to build the dam.

The cost of building the treatment plant and the transmission line to the connection point is $4,405,000.

The Mackenzie authority already has $1,255,000 in unissued bonds. A one-million dollar grant has been approved. The remaining $2,150,000 bond election passed in all four municipality last fall.

The four towns making up the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority are Floydada, Lockney, Tulia and Silvertown.

The largest dollar amount expenditure is in the transmission phase for the pipe lines to bring the water from the hook-up point to the four towns.

This transmission phase will cost $11,326,000. The Mackenzie officials have sought low interest loans from the FHA for the total amount. But it has been slow in coming.

Their thinking is that if they can get half of that amount from the Department of Water Resources it will be that much easier to get the rest from FHA.

The total loan, interest, and repayment from water contracts would be the same as if the total amount was secured from FHA.

On May 19 representatives from each of the four cities; Lon Davis, Floydada; Owen Thornton, Lockney; Stan Jorgerson, Silvertown; and Donald Bookout, Tulia, will go to Austin to meet with the Texas Department of Water Resources.

"If we can get the people in the four towns to write their governmental representatives it will really help us when we go to Austin," Taylor said.

"Charles Stenholm is very interested in the project, but there is nothing like letters from his constituents to get their (politicians) attention."

Addresses of representatives can be found on page three of this issue.

RECREATIONAL AREA

Taylor also said that the recreational part of Mackenzie Lake has been readied for the coming season.

The boat ramp has been extended to the 3100 foot level. Asphalt parking lots have been completed at each of the boat ramps.

Bar-b-que pits have been added and more roads have been rocked.

They are in the process of building a front entrance with rocked columns and a ticket office.

All financing for the recreational part of the lake comes from sale of permits. No tax money is ever used for the recreational part.

However, taxpayers may get a reduced permit rate of $20 through their own city hall. Gate permit price is $25 for the year.

Fishing is good with large catches of bass, croppie and catfish.

Fifth grade class at R.C. Andrews School will present musical, Walt Disney version, of Cinderella tonight in the auditorium. There is no admission charge. Curtain time is 7 p.m.

Surgeon to explain new heart procedure

Jan Voda, the first surgeon to perform the angioplasty heart procedure in Lubbock, will present a program in Floydada, Monday night.

Angioplasty is the procedure that can be performed in place of an open heart surgery in many cases.

The process involves inserting a balloon catheter into the region of blockage in the heart. Blowing up the balloon pushes the blockage back into the artery wall and opens the vein.

It is not successful in all cases, but if it works surgery can be avoided.

Voda, who is a cardiologist, studied the procedure in Switzerland before joining the Department of Internal Medicine at Tech.

The program, sponsored by the Heart Association, will cover the procedure in layman terms. Voda uses a model heart and actual catheter to explain the life saving technique.

The program will be presented at Lighthouse Electric meeting room on April 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Lynn Marler, President of the Heart Association in Floyd County, asks that anyone interested plan to attend since the program is open to the public.

Congressional Comm

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm introduced legislation this week that he said would provide one of the most important inflation-free tax cuts to effect lower and middle income Americans this year.

The bill, H.R. 2240, would increase the amount of the exemption of certain interest and dividend income from taxation, raising the amount of tax-free interest from $200 to $1,000 for a single person and from $400 to $2,000 for a married couple filing a joint return.

"This will encourage many people to save," Stenholm said, pointing out that U.S. savings performance ranks the lowest of the major industrial countries. "Japanese citizens save 20 percent of their disposable income," he said, "and West Germans save 13 percent, while Americans only manage to save 5 percent of their disposable income. Even the Britons, whose country has become synonymous with high inflation and low productivity, manage to set aside 11 percent of their disposable income."

Stenholm said the measure would not only encourage increased savings, but would help reduce interest rates, control inflation and encourage vitally needed capitol formation.

Stenholm cited a report by the National Association of Realtors that showed that more than 80 percent of all tax returns on which interest income is reported are filed by taxpayers earning less than $25,000.

"When you look at this as a percentage change in taxable income," Stenholm said, "the lower the income level, the greater the tax relief to that individual. The elderly, generally in a low tax bracket, and those whose interest income

Lena Moore celebrates her hundredth birthday

Doyle Moore, Floydada, remembers his mother reciting a Bible quotation, "if you honor your father and mother your years will be long upon this earth."

His mother, Lena Moore, celebrated her 100th birthday on April 20.

On Sunday she was honored by her children and other descendants with a celebration at the Crosbyton Senior Citizens Center.

Her home is in Crosbyton where she maintains her own residence.

"Whenever we go to see her she always has to fix lunch or dinner," her granddaughter Carolyn Moore said.

When Mrs. Moore was 97 she said there were two things she hadn't done, one was fly in a jet airliner and the other was ride a motorcycle. So at 97 she took her first airplane trip from Lubbock to Dallas.

"But I think I'll pass on the motorcycle ride," she told Doyle.

Lena Moore has 84 direct descendants, 79 of whom are living. In addition to her nine children, this includes 21 grandchildren, 40 great-grandchildren and nine great-great-grandchildren.

All of the living Moore offspring reside in Crosbyton except Doyle and Reed L. who lives near Ralls.

County Drug Abuse manual is available from sheriff

The 1981 Drug Abuse Manual for Floyd County is being distributed in schools, hospitals, doctor's offices, and local stores in Floyd County.

Sheriff Fred Cardinal introduces the manual. "To the many who purchased advertising space in this Drug Abuse Journal and contributed their time and effort, we say thank you from the bottom of our hearts."

The manual is an annual project supported through advertising purchased by local merchants with the purpose of educating youth and their parents about drug abuse.

The manual describes through pictures and text the appearance, content, and effects of frequently abused drugs.

A LARGE CROWD was present to see and hear the Floydada bands in concert on Tuesday night at Floydada High School. The concert, sponsored by the Band Boosters, consisted of the sixth grade, Jr. High and Whirlwind bands all performing on the same night.

OLE ROCKIN' CHAIRS GOT ME-- AND I'm GLAD!!!

You see, before my Pat Walker's program my "lumps" poked thru the spokes of my rocker. Now, after losing 28 1/2 pounds and 4 1/2 inches I can sit in my rocker, or an airplane seat, and feel slim and trim. There is space on each side!!

Before Pat Walker's I wore only full skirts — to cover up. Now when I wear full skirts it is only because I want to.

Before Pat Walker's I felt heavy, my choice of clothes was limited. Now my body feels strong, I feel healthy — and I shop in size 7, with nothing to hide.

The above testimony is important. But equally important — I've been able to maintain my present weight this past year even though I had surgery and 2 three week vacations. There was no problem, I followed the Pat Walker's method of eating. Sound good??? IT IS!!

Not only have I purchased a "new body", I now know the lovely ladies at the Pat Walker's Figure Salon as my friends. THEY CARE! I'd love for you to meet them. Tell them I sent you.

A LOOK AT SOME IMPORTANT ITEMS

If you die tomorrow, do you have an estate plan which will:

- 1) Provide security for your wife and children?
- 2) Provide income for an older widow for her lifetime?
- 3) Treat children equitably?

- 4) Minimize costs?
- 5) Minimize erosion of the estate?
- 6) Reduce death taxes and estate settlement costs?

Without an estate plan, it is entirely possible your property will be distributed contrary to your wishes. Why? In the absence of a will, your property will be distributed according to the law of descent and distribution.

For an up-date on the latest information and laws concerning estate planning, attend the Estate Planning Program on Thursday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m., County Extension Office, Agriculture Building, in Floydada. Speaker for the program will be Marvin Sartin, Economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"IT'S A BIG JOB ..."

Slowing down the rising costs of anything these days. Even your electricity.

You've got someone working on it for you in the Southwest. Southwestern Public Service is using Wyoming coal to make electricity in its new power plants. Because some of the old plants run on fuel that just plain costs too much.

Electricity could cost a lot more than it does. But thank goodness it doesn't — because of coal."

Quarterback Club sponsors track meet

The Floydada Quarterback Club will sponsor a Jr. track meet Saturday, May 9, at the Floydada High School Track.

The meet is open to boys and girls who are four through twelve-years-old.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. with the field events beginning at 10 a.m.

The registration fee is $2 per participant. There is limit on the number of events a youngster can enter.

Ribbons will be awarded in each event.

There will be a concession stand. Sandwiches, candy and soft drinks will be provided by the Quarterback members.

Funds from this project will be used to support activities of the club.

What do all of these people have in common?

They went halfway around the world, crawled through the sweltering heat of insect infested jungles, slept in mud puddles, have been scared and scared nearly to death and returned home without a complaint. Who are they? They are Vietnam Veterans and they still get a lump in their throats when they think of those who didn't make it back. So do we.

Let's remember the Vietnam Veteran. Write: "Welcome Home" The American Legion National Headquarters P.O. Box 1055 Indianapolis, IN 46206

A passenger in the vehicle, Billy Sandefur, 60, of Lockney suffered breaks to both his ankles and wrists and was taken to Caprock Hospital. He was in satisfactory condition Saturday night.

FHA raises charity money

Last week was Texas Future Homemakers of America Week.

The local Chapter at Lockney High School used "March of Dimes: Healthy Babies - Chance or Choice," as their theme.

Each year the chapter selects a national, non-profit organization to donate money to and this was their choice this year.

The March of Dimes is an organization dedicated to the cause of preventing birth defects. They do this by making available free counseling, materials, films, and other resources to those in need.

The Lockney FHA raised money by selling homemade brownies to the student body before showing a March of Dimes film.

The chapter also had a hot submarine sandwich lunch in the homemaking department to highlight the week's activities.

South Plains, April 20:

Easter Sunday dawned sunny, bright and beautiful after a whole week of much needed rain and cloudiness. I think our community had over 4 inches of rain, and in some places more than this. Wednesday a slow rain fell almost all day, and it did more good than some of the hard, driving rains. This Monday again the sky is clear, and the sun is shining. Most of the rural roads are navigable again.

Around 50 were present for Easter Sunday church services at the South Plains Baptist Church with visitors Mr. and Mrs. Adena and Mark Morris of Plainview, Bruce and Janet Julian, Clay and Wade of Perryton, Kristi Julian of San Angelo, Edell Moore of Floydada, and John Burson of Silverton.

Mrs. Bobbie Kinnibrugh got to come to her home on Thursday, and she had been at her daughter's, Mrs. Teddy Horne of Plainview since Tuesday. She had undergone major surgery on Wednesday of the week before.

Kelvin Cummings underwent major surgery for an emergency appendectomy Thursday night at the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview. He is home and doing fine this week.

Mrs. Cecil Osborne (Joyce) left early Sunday morning for Dallas and plans to be gone several days on a business trip. We expect her home by the coming weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce and Janet Julian and boys, Clay and Wade of Perryton arrived here Friday afternoon for visits with her folks. Mr. and Mrs. Edell Moore in Floydada, and with Mr. and Mrs. Kendis and Janis Julian, and Kristi, who was home from San Angelo College for Easter, Mitzi and Tim and Mrs. M.M. Julian. Easter was spent at the Kendis Julian home. They returned to Perryton Sunday evening.

Mrs. Letha Mulder went to Amarillo Friday morning to spend Easter with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry and Kathy Taylor and children. She returned home Sunday evening.

South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

Saving Time until October 25, 1981.

Mrs. Lottie Stewart of Lockney, mother of Dean Stewart, was in the Lockney hospital last week, but was able to come home Thursday.

We were very sorry to hear of the death of Billy Bean, 55, of Winters, who formerly was of this community. Billy is the brother of Mrs. Shelby Calahan from here, and he passed away after a sudden illness. Services were held this Monday morning at 11:00 a.m. in Winters at the First United Methodist Church, with burial in the Wingate Cemetery in Winters. Among those who went from here for the services this Monday morning were Mrs. Mamie Wood and Glen Wood.

We extend sympathy to the family members of Mrs. Oleta Collier of Floydada. Mrs. Collier died in the Methodist Hospital of Lubbock on Saturday morning and she had been ill only a brief time. Services were held at the First Baptist Church in Floydada this Monday at 2:00 p.m. She was the niece of Mrs. Ruth Smitherman of Floydada.

Wednesday was work day at the South Plains Baptist Church, and the men and women of the church spent all day fixing pews, painting, cleaning and working. Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham assisted by Mrs. L.N. Johnson prepared a delicious lunch for all those who were working. The new carpet and the recovered pews are very beautiful, and you will want to attend church and see the transformation of the whole church, with new curtains and fresh paint down in the Fellowship Hall.

We offer our best wishes and love to Mr. and Mrs. Marc Smitherman who were wed on Friday, April 17, at 6 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bean in Floydada. The young couple are now on their wedding trip.

Little Amy Bethel, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rogene Bethel here in South Plains underwent an emergency appendectomy two weeks ago Saturday at the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview. She was out of school a week, but has gone back to school, and is getting along fine at this time.

Those who went to Crosbyton last Tuesday for the Vacation Bible School clinic from here were Mrs. Joyce Osborne, Mrs. Janis Julian, Mrs. Connie Johnson, Mrs. Kathy Mulder and Mrs. Kay Bethel.

Vacation Bible School Clinic will be held this Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. at the Baptist Church for all those who are working in the VBS this coming spring.

Services for Eugene Edmonds, 67, of Floydada, were held at the Moore-Rose Funeral Home in Floydada Friday morning at 10:00 a.m. with Rev. Cecil Osborne from South Plains officiating. Edmonds had died Thursday at the Lockney General Hospital after a short illness. Edmonds lived in the South Plains area for many years, and then moved to Floydada where he and his family made their home. We offer sympathy to his family.

Guests Easter day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Kinnibrugh were her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dillard of Lockney, and the Kinnibrugh daughters, Mrs. Teddy Horne and Melissa, and Mrs. Beth Dickens and Latham, of Plainview. Melissa had spent the past week down at Gilliland with her other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Horne.

Bingo! Bingo Fever! That's what we have, we are playing Bingo twice a week now at resident's request. This Friday was special in two ways. One being the second time this week for Bingo but the best part was DeLinda Glasson and Almada Phillips who brought us ice cream sandwiches for after Bingo. These ladies are great volunteers and so helpful with anything that needs doing, we surely do appreciate them.

Our bus was full Monday when we went to Providence Community, those going were Sally Carpenter, Donnie Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Poole, Myrtle Payne, Richard Lanham, Alma McDonald, Bertie Bradley, and myself. The fields were so pretty, freshly plowed, we had a good time, especially the ice cream at the Dairy Queen.

While the gents were in Bible Study with Jerry Kline Thursday, we ladies went for a walk. Those starting were Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Burke, Mrs. Fielding, Mr. Hester, Mrs. Wofford, and myself. Mrs. McDonald got headed off at the pass and came back. The rest of us walked to my house, visiting Dorothy Hooten and Mary Hutton on the way. Of course Mrs. Wofford had the best time being as she stayed in her chair and I pushed, and pushed and pushed, fell over my tongue a few times but except for that we had a blast. Looking forward to doing it again, (after I rest up!)

Mrs. Sally Carpenter expressed her feelings about living in the Care Center by saying "There is no place like home but this is a good second."

Our sympathy goes to the Allena Francis family. This lovely lady had been a special member of our family here at the Care Center for almost five years, she will be missed by all of us.

We have about 12 residents attending ceramic class. The residents have made some beautiful pieces and have such a good time. Come see all their pretties.

Lisa finally got back for Music therapy, we do miss our music. It's our chance to kick up our heels and act silly.

Friday the Fiomont First Baptist Church group were too sick to come up so we played one of the tapes Brother Earl Cantwell had given us. The residents enjoyed the sermon even if it left a few foot prints on us. Thanks, Brother Cantwell.

We have Mrs. Ona Cummings and Mr. Albert Poole in the hospital, we send our hopes for a quick recovery to these folks, we miss them both and want them to come home soon.

We are looking forward to hunting Easter eggs and maybe eating a few too.

Well, we have a flat ball, I was not exaggerating when I told you how the residents love to hit me with it. Now they are taking up a collection to buy a new ball to start all over on me again.

Why starve libraries?

Why should Texans be starving their public libraries?

This question is being asked by Books for Texans, an organization formed by Texas Library Association, Friends of Texas Libraries, Texas for Libraries, and the Trustees Roundtable of the Texas Library Association.

Leaders in Books for Texans are convinced that Texans will do something about the starvation diet for their libraries when they know the facts and reflect on just how important libraries are to citizens of Texas.

Texas now ranks 39th in the U.S. in state library support with 16 cents per capita. Largest per capita state aid is paid by West Virginia at $3.61, followed by Georgia at $2.47. Even states poorer than Texas pay significantly more in aid to their libraries. Alabama's state aid is 42 cents per capita; Arkansas 63 cents and Mississippi 53 cents.

As long ago as 1978, the Texas Conference of Libraries and Information convened in Austin to study library problems, recommended state support of $1.00 per capita and urged the Texas Library and Archives Commission and the Texas Library Association to go to work to seek $1.00 per capita funding "at the earliest possible date."

Wendell Mayes, Jr., Austin, and Wayne C. Sellers, Palestine, chairman and secretary of Books for Texans, have noted that an appropriation of $1.00 per capita which can do so much for libraries is minuscule when compared to the total state budget.

"We can think of no appropriation which can do so much for so little," they said, pointing out that in 1979 Texas public libraries circulated 43 million items to the public, answered 7 1/2 million reference questions, hosted 3 million persons at library programs and showed films to 5 million persons.

"In many communities, public libraries are the only adult education facilities. Information ranging from performance of the stock market to how to unstop a sink or fix a lawnmower is available for grownups. One library has made it possible for 300 adults to obtain G.E.D. certificates. Others have conducted classes for adults wanting to learn to read and write. Books are provided for nursing homes by public libraries. These are but a few of the services rendered," the Books for Texans officials added.

Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the Texas Press Association, representing virtually all of the newspapers in Texas, have passed resolutions favoring the $1.00 per capita support. Texas League of Municipalities has also endorsed the request.

Prospects are bright for reaching the goal set by the Austin Conference back in 1978. Books for Texans officials added.

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

What nice spring weather we have been having. And rain, rain nearly every day or night last week. But Sunday was an ideal Easter, and today is clear and partly cloudy. Grass sure is growing and needs a mower.

Sunday services at church were inspiring and well attended.

There were family get-togethers and some very sad ones when a loved one has just passed on.

The Wayne Carpenters of Atlanta, Georgia who have been visiting his parents, the Marion Carpenters, and other relatives, left for home just before the weekend.

Mrs. Leo Frizzell spent the Easter holiday in Plainview with her daughter, Mrs. Jane Beedy.

Mrs. Ava Jackson's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Wright came for the week-end and she returned home with them to their more recent home in Colorado City.

Mrs. Anthony Latta and Mrs. Green visited the Peck sisters recently.

Mrs. Plumlee is able to be up and about but not out yet. Wiley Rogers has been in the hospital, but was able to be at church Sunday.

Bro. and Mrs. Clay Muncy spent Easter Sunday with Miss Vera Meredith. Other visitors during last week were Mrs. Mize, and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas, and a friend from Matador and others.

Mrs. C.M. Meredith was out of town eleven days, including visits in Dallas with her daughter and family. Sunday she was with a group who dined in Plainview.

Easter dinner was enjoyed in the Anthony Latta home on Mississippi Street by the parents, by daughter Carol, the Doley's and the Victor Greens of Plainview and a son, Sam Latta, and family of Mt. Blanco, and Mrs. Green, city.

There were 23 of the Henry Brewers present for Sunday dinner: Irvin Brewer and family, Harry Glen Brewer and family, the Ken Robersons and family, all of Lubbock, the Fred McDougles of Crosbyton and the Millard Watsons of Mt. Blanco.

Our sympathy is with loved ones of Mr. Cox and with all who knew and loved Mrs. Oleta Collier. Both passed on just before the weekend.

Less time in the feedlot for leaner beef and lower costs is the outlook for the future according to a number of cattle experts. Many authorities now believe that because of two important developments: 1) the 30 percent increase in grain prices; and, 2) the American consumer's demand for leaner beef, feedlot operators are going to be changing their ways of finishing cattle. Research indicates cattle, after reaching certain weight levels, and depending on breed, tend to lay on only fat which must be trimmed and discarded. In order to provide cattle which will efficiently produce greater amounts of quality lean beef in a shorter feeding time, cattlemen believe an increase of larger-framed, higher cutting cattle is needed.

Weather cause poultry losses

COLLEGE STATION — Poultry and producers agree that 1980 was not a blue, marked year for them but that 1981 will be a better one.

The year's blistering summer weather caused heavy losses in poultry and was hard on the total industry. Feed prices also rose sharply, into profits.

Despite the bad year, early figures show the 1980 gross income from eggs and eggs in Texas will be $501 million, says Dr. Dave Mellor, poultry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University. This estimated figure is up from $464 million in 1979.

These 1980 income figures, however, should maintain its sixth place among the leading states in poultry and egg production.

Production in the first half of 1980 flock reduction, explains Mellor. This smaller flock size will keep production high in the first quarter of 1981. There were 235 million dozen eggs produced in Texas.

Mellor notes the specialist, increased demand for high protein foods and meat prices will probably result in higher egg prices later in 1981.

Consumption increased in 1978 and 1979 and producers may benefit if it continues in 1980 and 1981.

But prices in 1980 were below production costs until the summer heat set in. Mellor points out, but things look better in 1981. Feed costs are expected to drop but broiler prices are expected to rise when the economy expands and supply declines. About 925 million broilers were produced in Texas last year.

Egg production in Texas increased in 1980 to 145 million pounds. Mellor explains that turkey prices for the first half of 1981 are expected to be 1980 prices, but he believes prices in production cost may still be higher for turkey producers in a cost-price squeeze.

Mellor points out that the availability of grain will have a direct effect on 1981 poultry and egg profits.

But further processed items will be beneficial to both turkey and egg consumption and prices, he says. But vegetable protein substitutes may affect the poultry and egg industry. With more pressure on grains, more grain may be consumed by humans rather than through products.

TRACTOR BLADES are designed to push or pull things — not hit them, according to Howard Hadler, Division Engineer with Kewanee Machinery Division. He advises farmers to take time, moving big loads with two or three passes rather than taking the whole load at once.

Haste could be the cause of many accidents and broken equipment

Life is so full of things to do, that often just getting essentials done is all we can manage. The extra chores around the farm — grading the road or building waterways — require an extra push to fit into a work schedule.

But, careless haste in using a tractor blade can lead to accidents or broken equipment, according to Howard Hadler, Division Engineer with Kewanee Machinery Division.

"Patience is definitely a virtue when operating this piece of equipment," Hadler states. "Tractor blades are designed to push or pull things — not hit them. Often, farmers hurry and attempt to move a big load all at once rather than taking two or three passes to push smaller loads."

Obstacles hidden under a pile of dirt or manure can also cause problems for the tractor blade operator.

"The farmer knows the obstruction is there. He sees it all the time," Hadler said. "But he may forget about it if it's covered for a few weeks. Or, he may misjudge its location."

Sudden jolts from hitting objects could unseat the tractor operator. Consequently, Hadler cautions farmers to always use seat belts.

"If you don't have them on your tractor, get them," he states. "Also use the blade so you can maintain a firm, level footing for the tractor. Stay away from ditches. If you have an offset capability, adjust it so you're working to the side. Or, turn the blade so you're pushing instead of pulling the load."

Tractor blades are low maintenance pieces of equipment, according to Hadler, but should be checked out frequently for cracks or broken welds.

"While it doesn't happen often, a blade may be cracked or a weld start to break as a result of some jolt during operation. Checking for and repairing these small cracks will avoid a major failure during a busy work season," Hadler said.

"Farmers should also avoid trying to do more than the blade is capable of doing. It is possible to take on a load so big as to damage the tractor," Hadler says. "So, don't force it."

Most tractor blades are purchased for one specific purpose such as road grading, but Hadler suggests farmers also take time to consider the other uses the blade may have. He outlines factors buyers may want to consider.

Match blade size to tractor size. Too small a blade could get torn up because it's difficult to sense from the tractor the amount of force being put on the blade. Too large a blade is a waste of money since it can't be used fully and is unwieldy for the tractor.

Where will the blade be used? If it will be used to clear feedlots or buildings or for grading or leveling around farm buildings, the farmer should know the width of gates or doors through which he will want to move the blade.

How will the blade be used? For light farm construction such as building waterways or ditching, he may want to select a blade that will tilt so it can be offset and used at an angle.

"Sure you may want to get a blade today to clear a feedlot, but the smart farmer will get the most from his money by thinking of other tasks for which the blade can be used," Hadler says.

International Roundup to be hosted by Del Rio

DEL RIO — Many critical problems facing ranch owners, ranch managers and working cowboys of arid regions of North America will be discussed and analyzed during the International Rancher's Roundup (IRR) at the Del Rio Convention Center August 10-14.

Organized by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Rancher's Roundup is designed to give participants ideas for making individual ranching decisions much easier and more profitable. It will also provide an opportunity for ideal exchanges among ranchers of similar areas beset with common problems.

Heading the week-long meeting will be some of the ranching industry's best known speakers from arid lands of the southwestern U.S., Mexico and several other countries. These authorities will present the latest and most practical and timely information available.

International agricultural trade, Mexican-American agricultural interdependence, market development and plans for market expansion will all be studied.

Plans are being finalized through U.S. Cong. Tom Loeffler's office to have a Chinese trade delegation participate in the conference, a move to strengthen U.S.-Chinese agricultural trade relations. The Chinese ranching industry will be a major topic of discussion along with a demonstration of veterinary acupuncture.

A large contingency of key Mexican ranchers is also expected to attend. The program will include concurrent sessions for producers of working quarter horses, beef cattle, sheep and goats, range and wildlife. Ranch business management will also be addressed.

A sub-surface mineral management and mineral lease agreement session will be conducted by experts in these fields. The increasing incentives and need for domestic energy production and its value to landowners makes this session especially important.

A general theme, "Nutrition: The Key of Production to Profit," has been incorporated into the livestock, range and wildlife sessions. Land managers will learn key factors involved in integrating the production of quality range lands, their harvest of quality animals and progressive product marketing.

Proceedings of the conference will be provided each participant for future reference and use. Workshops will be held to assist ranchers with actual application of the information obtained in concurrent sessions.

Two day-long ranch tours are planned — one each in Texas and Mexico — allowing participants to observe progressive ranch management in both countries.

Pre-registration packets can be obtained by writing IRR, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, Texas 78801. Ranchers are encouraged to return completed forms promptly as space will be limited. To help defray conference expenses, participants will be assessed a tax deductible registration fee.

Farm bill chances for veto increase

COLLEGE STATION) — "Farm proposals of Secretary of Agriculture John Block to the Congress have the chances of veto of the 1981 bill," believes Dr. Ronald D. Knutson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Block's proposals for eliminating price supports and providing increased discretion for loan rates and release prices as well as storage interest charges within the reserve designed to provide a safety net for farmers," says Knutson.

"The safety net concept is the same philosophy that has been used for years calling for cuts in welfare payments," points out Knutson. "This type of farm program and welfare objectives is not likely to be accepted by producers. Farmers traditionally looked upon government programs that stabilize farm and incomes as being necessary to maintain high levels of productivity in the producer and consumer interest."

Knutson notes that under the Block proposals, the farmer-held reserve and the related price support loan program would become the only tools for price and income protection for cotton and grain producers.

"It is doubtful that the farmer-held reserve can provide either an economically or politically acceptable level of price and income protection for agriculture," emphasizes Knutson. "The chances of the reserve not providing adequate price and income protection is enhanced by proposed limitations on the size of the reserve."

"The bottom line is an increased chance that the Congress and the President will be unable to get together on an acceptable farm policy package in 1981," says Knutson. "This being the case, the Congress and the Administration would find it necessary to simply extend the 1977 farm act for another year. Then the farm policy debate would start over again in 1982."

"The bottom line is an increased chance that the Congress
