

Record crowds for Settlers' Day

Record crowds gathered at the County Square in Floydada to take part in the 53rd annual Floyd County Pioneer Day.

One of the highlights is to honor the pioneer woman and pioneer man, and to recognize the oldest man and woman present.

Myrtle Payne, 95, of Lockney, was honored as the Outstanding Pioneer Woman and also as the oldest woman present at the reunion.

Earl Edwards of Floydada, 84-year-old retired farmer, was named the Outstanding Pioneer Man. He and Mrs. Payne were presented plaques "for their many contributions to the county which have enriched all of our lives."

Warnie Hilton of Floydada, who was 99 on January 16, received the award as the oldest man present at the gathering. Born and reared in Jacksboro, he moved to Floydada in 1915 from New Mexico. He was a barber for 56 years.

Born in Chattanooga, Tennessee, Mrs. Payne moved to Texas when she was about eight and married F.U. Payne in Josephine, Texas in 1910. They came to Floyd County in 1917 from Hunt County. He died in 1970, Mrs. Payne, now resides in Lockney Nursing Home.

1916 from Swisher County where he had lived in the Whitfield Community. Oldtimers began registering at 9 a.m. under a tent set up on the courthouse lawn. The program, presented on the stage at the concrete slab, opened with prayer by Hester Moore.

Judy Allen conducted a memorial service, calling the roll of 193 Floyd County citizens who had died since the 1980 reunion.

Featured speaker was Georgia Mae Smith Erickson of Crosbyton, granddaughter of Crosby County pioneer ranchers Henry Clay (Hank) Smith and his wife Elizabeth.

The Floyd County Museum held an open house Friday night. Over 500 people registered at the museum Friday and Saturday.

The Friends of the Library held a used book sale Saturday with the proceeds to go to the library fund.

The 1959 Study Club sponsored an arts and crafts show. About 10 booths displayed goods from Lubbock and Plainview as well as the surrounding area.

Following the morning business meeting the oldtimers of 50 years were guests at a barbecue.

A wildflower show was held at the museum that Saturday afternoon.

Fiddlers played on the concrete slab.

An afternoon parade circled the square.

Several dances followed the day long activities.

First Baptist Church holds Vacation Bible school

Vacation Bible School for children from age 3 through age 6 will be conducted at First Baptist Church here June 1-5. Pre-enrollment and registration will be Sunday, May 31, at 6 p.m.

The Monday through Friday sessions will be held from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. and children will need to bring a sack lunch each day. Kool-Aid will be provided as a refreshment for lunch. The church bus will run its normal Sunday route each day to provide transportation.

Bible study, creative activity and recreation will be included in this fun-filled and exciting week. "We hope that parents will encourage their children to attend VBS," said David T. Seay, minister of education and VBS director. "This week of concentrated Bible study and learning is important in the spiritual growth of every child. What they will learn in one week of VBS would require 15 Sundays of Sunday School."

Concluding the week will be Commencement and Family Night on Friday, June 5, at 7:30 p.m. Parents will be invited to attend and to visit in the children's departments to see the work that they have created during the week. Certificates of attendance and perfect attendance will be presented at commencement.

Council okays mower purchase

In a brief meeting May 12, the city council approved the purchase of a diesel lawnmower from Western Implement Company of Lubbock for the bid price of $4,995.00.

Discussion of summer mowing of alleys and right-of-ways followed the approval of the clean-up project.

The council also approved the purchase of a walkie-talkie for the city police department.

$5000 record reward in local tractor theft

A record setting reward of $5000 has been offered through Crime Call for information leading to the recovery and arrest and conviction of person or persons responsible for the theft of a John Deere Tractor model 4440. It is a 1978 model with serial number 16161R. Value is set at $32,000.

The tractor was parked behind a barn at the C.C. Burns farm three miles south, and a mile and three-quarters west of Floydada.

A plow was attached to the tractor. The thieves apparently unhitched the plow and left it setting next to another tractor.

Sheriff department officials stated that the tractor was apparently driven west for one quarter mile, then south to FM road 37 and then westward again. The theft was reported the morning of May 24.

Anyone having information about this stolen tractor is asked to call Crime Call 983-5200.

Red Cross marks its 100th anniversary

The Floyd County chapter of the American Red Cross opened its 1981 finance campaign this week according to O.M. Watson Jr., chapter chairman.

"There will not be a personal contact for the Red Cross," Watson said, "an envelope addressed to the Floyd County Chapter will be furnished in which to mail a 1981 contribution."

"Last year we reminded Floyd County residents to put the Red Cross into their 1981 budget. We hope they did. Now we ask that they mail their check to the Red Cross, Floydada or deposit it in the First National Bank, Floydada."

In addition to disaster aid throughout the nation, activities in Floyd County this year included service to men and women in the Armed Forces, a class on chapter also sponsored two meetings to coordinate disaster plans in the county with the Floyd County Sheriff's Office, County Municipalities, and county officials.

The Red Cross and NBC Television will sponsor a campaign this summer to teach Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation classes throughout the United States.

Committee members of the Floyd County chapter include Sam Spence, service to Armed Forces personnel; Jerry Finley, First Aid instructor; Marilyn Tate and Jett Major, Health Education; and the chapter team to teach how to take blood pressure. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Marquis, Mrs. Joyce Williams and Mrs. Hester Moore.

Recommend water funds

The staff of the Texas Water Development Board has recommended the board approve a $7.37 million state loan sought by the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority to finance construction of water treatment facilities and lines to serve Lockney, Floydada, Tulia and Silvertown.

However, the board, meeting in Austin, delayed action on the loan until its June meeting.

The general manager of the Mackenzie Authority, Neil Taylor, said the reason the board delayed action was to give the authority more time in its efforts to secure a $7.3 million loan and a $1 million grant from the Farmers' Home Administration to cover the rest of the costs of the project.

Authority board member George Sparkman sees the delay as a good sign. "The delay is more positive than negative," Sparkman said. "By delaying action they virtually assured us they'd fund the project once we got the other half out of Washington."

The hang-up now, Taylor said, is getting that other half out of the federal government. Former President Carter, Taylor said, ordered a freeze of FmHA funds for water projects.

Now, Taylor said, it's up to Congress to decide what to do about the funds.

The House, Taylor said, voted to release the funds, but the Senate voted against the release. Now the issue has been referred to a conference committee for resolution of the differences.

Taylor said this would be a good time for area residents to write to Texas Senators Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower urging that the funds be released.

Taylor said he expected a final decision out of Congress in the next week or two.

The money from FmHA would provide enough money to build the $4.4 million treatment plant. The money from the Texas Water Development Board would be used for construction of the transmission lines and related costs.

Summer library program planned

The Floyd County Library summer reading program will feature films, games, prizes and diplomas every Wednesday morning for six weeks.

Jackie Walls, librarian, said the theme for the program, "Star Trek", will be carried out each week as young readers in grades one through six try to guess the location of a secret planet on a library chart. Each reader will place a miniature starship on the chart to indicate his or her guess.

The first day will be registration day. Four "Star Trek" films will be shown: "Animals of Australia," "Banner Into the Sky," "The Nut Cracker" and "The Cat's Paw."

Mrs. Walls said that a Top Secret envelope will be opened to reveal the winner of the prize for the closest guess to the location of the secret planet on the book chart.

Prizes will be awarded at the end of the program to the reader who has read the most books and to the reader who has guessed the location of the

THESE SUMMER READING PROGRAM PARTICIPANTS WILL UNCOVER THE SECRETS OF THE SECRET PLANET.

This Week

FHS reception

All Floydada High School graduates and their families will be honored at a reception in the high school cafeteria immediately following the graduation ceremony, Friday evening, May 29.

All graduates and their families, teachers and past members are invited to attend the reception, hosted by the City Park Church of Christ.

So, if your blooming is dropping their flowers, the reason why. A little attention paid to your plants during the period will result in more flowers on the dinner table. Educational programs in Texas Agricultural Extension serve people of all socioeconomic levels, religion or national origin.

Commencement

Commencement exercises for the 1981 graduating class will be held tomorrow night (Friday) in the high school auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Summer Band

Are you interested in joining the Floyd County Summer Band? An organizational meeting will be held June 4 at 7 p.m. at the Floydada Jr. High Band Hall.

A rehearsal is planned followed by an ice cream supper. The band will be directed by Mike Kenner, FHS band director, and Kerry Kirk.

Story time

Story time for 4-and-5-year olds begins June 4 at 10:00 a.m. at the Floyd County Library.

Mrs. Ray McDonald will be reading the stories that will accompany films every Thursday morning.

Librarian Jackie Walls said members are invited to discuss while their children are entertained by Mrs. McDonald.

Auto Clinic

A free women's auto care clinic will be taught at City Hall June 1 and 2 by Dale Perryberry.

The clinic, sponsored by Cirock Community Action, will last one hour each evening.

For information call Kathy Green at 983-3134.

Post Office

New post office will be open Sunday morning. People need to pick up their keys. Doors on the old post office will be locked Saturday night.

Senior dinner

Senior Citizens will be having a "Big Feed" on June 2 from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Everyone is invited to come and enjoy all you can eat of a big dish of beef stew and cornbread. Cost will be $1.50 per person.

No services

The VFW-American Legion members will not be conducting services at the cemetery this Memorial Day, May 31.

The annual services have been cancelled due to lack of community participation. Flags will be put on the graves.

Letter to the Editor

(Editor's note: We received Bill Hams letter in the mail today and were delighted with the prospect of having these photos from the 1930's to play with this summer.

We are answering his letter immediately and will begin printing "old" pictures as soon as possible.

We have also shown the letter to Nancy Marble and have been assured that the museum is interested.)

304 Country Club Park
Grand Junction, Colo. 81503
The Hesperian
Floydada, Texas

Dear Editor:

A long, long time ago I used to work for The Hesperian as a reporter, photographer, ad salesman, etc. It was back in 1937-40 when Homer Steen was editor and publisher of the paper. He hired me directly from Texas Tech upon my graduation and I reported the day after graduation so green to newspapering the sap still was running. It ran all three years I worked for Homer although he did his best to staunch the flow.

I was reminded of those times the other day when I was threshing around through some old negatives and found a fistfull of pictures I shot while working for The Hesperian. Some are pretty good and some are terrible because Homer hired me with the understanding that I could use a camera and, being as jobs during The Depression were a mite tough to find, I fibbed a little or stretched the blanket a lot and said I could handle a camera. I really could use an old Kodak Autographic 120 but not anything resembling a Speed Graphic.

Anyhow after I hooked on with Homer, I bought a film plate camera and started learning the hard way with a fellow by the name of Frogge who opened a studio just off the Square. Frogge showed me the basic elements of processing film and so I cranked out some pics, all very overexposed, by the way. I didn't like the film-plate camera so I soon acquired a twin-lens reflex for my news work and it performed excellently. Later old A.J. Arwine, who ran the drug store just cater-cornered across from The Hesperian office let me buy a 35-mm Perflex 44, a real pot-metal American-made camera, and I shot 35mm as well as 2 1/4 square pix.

I didn't know it at the time but I was one of the first news photographers in Texas to use 35-mm and 2 1/4 in news work, and Steen certainly was one of the first to ever publish any from those formats. But that got me started in photography and I stayed with it right up until now, although in recent years it has been for fun instead of professionally. After I left Homer, I worked at Corpus Christi as regional editor, copy editor and wire editor, Midland Reporter-Telegram as managing ed, Goose Creek (Baytown) Sun as ME, Lufkin Daily News as ME, and 16 years with the Lubbock Avalanche, starting as assignment reporter-photog and closing out as city editor in 1964 to join the Grand Junction Daily Sentinel. Here I took over the Opinion Page in 1970 and headed that department until September 1980 when I took partial retirement. I now just write a few editorials and a column called the Crow's Nest.

I think I have been back in Floydada a couple of times since I left, very briefly, and a couple of times I passed through on my way to other ports. But those short stops in no way reflect my feelings for the town. Floydada still is dear to me because I sort of cut my newspaper teeth there with the help of a lot of caring people, and no one ever really forgets caring people.

But back to these pictures. I would like to give them to your museum, if you have one, or let you place them in your files if there is no museum to accept them. Just let me know.

Something through them, it appears that I have two photos of the last QA&P (Quit Achin' and Push) passenger train to pull out of Floydada, probably 1938. There also is a photo (neg.) of the Floydada railroad station. There are a batch of the courthouse as it was when it had a dome with a clock in the tower. There are some scenes of main street and the business section. Assorted street scenes, locations long ago forgotten.

Apparently I shot the hell out of a Pioneer Day event, probably in '1938, although I have no clue as to what the year was from the negs. There also are a lot of negs of crowds and speakers on the Courthouse lawn, must have been a political rally of some sort along with the Pioneer Day celebration. There are various floats, costumed Floyd County residents and the like. There are some mugs of old timers, both men and women. Seems I also have some negs showing the start-up of the first REA power station and the ceremonies marking the beginning of that service.

You can be sure there are photos of field trips, experimental sugar beet plots, wheat harvesting and the like. A big batch of pix showing football players, probably the 1938 team as I think I see a Lider in the bunch. Some are in formal groupings and some are less formal. There also are some cheerleaders. These kids now should be in their 50s and 60, I reckon. The coach, as I recall, was named Winter(s) and was quite innovative, also unlucky. Floydada played a very interesting and winning brand of football in those years, but Flomot and Matador were real pains in the caboose. Flomot had a flash by the name of Ammonett who caused the Whirlwinds a great deal of misery. As you can guess, I lived and died with the Whirlwinds and went with the coaches to every game for miles around, scouting and the like, usually three games every weekend, cutting Tech, if they could be weaked.

Well, there are others of dusters, rain and stuff. I don't suppose any are of any particular value but they would fit in a museum collection nicely. Certainly old negs never should be thrown away. I have found that such material grows more and more valuable as the years pass. In fact what once were junk negs now are being collected by nostalgia buffs.

Film speed was miserably slow in those days and color was pretty rare (and expensive). Super XX, as I recall, was the "speed" film. My photo lab was in a shower stall behind the press next to the john in the back room. The enlarger was tiny little thing and when I was in there the fit was very, very snug. But we made it work.

That is enough nostalgia. Let me know what the score is and whether there is a museum now in Floydada which would like to have the material.

Sincerely yours,
Bill Hams

Interest on checking and the strings attached.

In banking circles, it's almost revolutionary. All that hard-earned money in your checking account actually working for you. Collecting interest just like a savings account. Terrific, right? Absolutely. But behind the silver lining there are just a few pint-sized clouds. Minimum balance. Average balance. Limits on check writing.

In other words, you can't treat your balance like a seesaw. Or sign checks like there's no tomorrow.

Now, keeping track of it all doesn't take an Einstein, but it does take someone pretty smart. A Full Service Bank.™ The folks there invented modern checking, so you can count on getting good advice. Advice that can help you squeeze the most out of every cent you've got.

MRS. ROBERT LLOYD COPELIN JR.

Double ring ceremony unites Moore-Copelin in Plainview

Adrienne Beth Moore and Robert "Bobby" Lloyd Copelin Jr. were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony Saturday evening May 23, at 7 p.m. in the chapel of the Family Life Center in Plainview. Dr. Floyd C. Bradley of First Baptist Church, Floydada, officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. George Moore of Amarillo, formerly of Plainview. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Copelin of Lubbock.

Nuptial music was provided by Martin Duckett at the piano and Mrs. Roy Loanman at the organ. Soloist was Ed Wittner of Waco. He sang "Wedding Song" as the attendants approached the altar. "Lady" was sung after the couple said their vows. "One Hand, One Heart" was sung when the memory candle was lit.

The altar was illuminated with five candelabras holding white tapers, entwined with garlands of gypsophila that featured pink bows. Also featured at the altar was a table holding a Bible that was a gift to the couple from Rev. and Mrs. Jack Maddox, a large memory candle and two pink tapers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown designed and made especially by her mother. As the bride approached the altar she presented her mother with a burgundy long stem silk rose. As she left the altar she presented the groom's mother with a long stemmed silk rose. Her gown was of Sernade Satin with an overlay of Polyorganza. The bodice featured a sheer English net yolk, high Victorian neckline with Alecon lace appliques that were decorated with sequins and pearls. The back of the bodice featured satin buttons and loop closings. Bishop sleeves and wide lace cuffs also had satin buttons and loop closings. The center back and the entire hemline of the gown featured scalloped Chantilly lace appliques. The center front of the gown also had scattered lace appliques. Lace, decorated sequins and pearls covered her elevated Juliet cap held a two-tiered chapel length veil of silk illusion edged in Chantilly rose lace.

Her bridal bouquet, carried on a lace New Testament, featured white open silk roses and pink silk rose buds, white flocked babies breath and white streamers.

Something old was her paternal grandmother's wedding ring, that belonged to Myrtle Moore, dating back to 1915.

Something new was pearl and diamond earrings, a gift from the groom. Something borrowed was a New Testament from Mrs. Joe Arrott, the groom's sister. (It originally belonged to the groom's great grandmother.) The bride wore the traditional "blue" garter and six pence in her shoes for good luck, which were purchased on her recent trip to Europe.

The maid of honor was Alice Kirby of Hayes, Kansas. Bridesmaids were Linda Rhoads of Rule, and Camille Lewis of Canadian. Attendants wore floor-length Blosson dresses of pink polyester with long raglan sleeves that featured a burgundy and pink printed chiffon yolk and lower sleeve. The dresses had rounded necklines, gathered waists, and featured bias cummerbunds at the waistline. All the attendants carried white ruffled lace fans featuring silk mini-pink carnations, pink open silk roses, pink and burgundy, bows and streamers. These were also designed and made by the bride's mother.

Candles were lit by Crystal Smith of Tatum, New Mexico.

Flower girls were Mandy and Jacy Arrott, nieces of the groom, of Mineral Wells. They wore pink polyester dresses, topped with pink and burgundy printed chiffon ruffled pinafores. They carried white lace baskets with pink and burgundy streamers.

Ring bearer was Paul Campbell of Plano, cousin of the bride. He wore a burgundy tuxedo, pink ruffle shirt and carried a heart-shaped pillow made from the lace of the bride's gown.

Pink satin rice roses were distributed by Jennifer and Melissa Copelin, nieces of the groom, of Gainesville, Florida. They wore pink and burgundy printed polyester dresses.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Steve Payton of Lubbock. Groomsman were Larry Copelin, cousin of the groom, Sunray, and Dan Wittner, of Waco.

Ushers were Johnny Copelin, brother of the groom, of Gainesville, Florida. Byrel Moore, brother of the bride, of Abilene, and Eric Arnold of Snyder. All male attendants were attired in burgundy tuxedos and pink ruffled shirts.

The grooms parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at K-Bobs.

COURTESIES

The bride was honored with a bridal luncheon hosted by Dorothy Bess, Gayla Smith, and Sherry Taylor.

A lingerie shower in Abilene was hosted by Alice Kirby, Linda Rhoads, and Camille Lewis.

A miscellaneous shower in Lubbock was hosted by: Clemmie O'Neal, Faye Bell, Pat Jones, Evelyn Slater, Vivian Lincecum, Janice Burch, Iris Kinard, Dorothy Pate, Ina Jo Lincecum, Mildred Allen, Betty Dicky, Barbara Payton, Helen Seale and Erma Brownfield.

A miscellaneous shower in Amarillo was hosted by: Mmes Charles Thrasher, Perry York, Bill Downing, Haskel Shelton, Frank DeWright and Tom Petropoulos.

Bridal courtesy compliments Miss Julie Mitchell Thursday

Miss Julie Mitchell of Somerset, bride-elect of Larry Marble, was complimented with a nuptial shower Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Doyle Davis in Hart.

As guests arrived between the hours of 4 and 5:30 p.m., Mrs. Davis presented them to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Billy T. Mitchell of Somerset; and Mrs. Keith Brock, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

Mrs. Joe Percy Hart presided at the guest book which was placed on a round table covered with a white linen cloth and adorned with an open wicker chest filled with fresh iris and yellow daisies.

Other special guests at the shower included Mrs. Max Marble; grandmothers of the future groom, Mrs. Johns Cox of Lockney and Mrs. Ethyl Marble of Plainview and his aunts, Mrs. Mel Holcomb of Lockney and Mrs. James Stair of Plainview.

The serving table was laid with a white cutwork cloth over yellow and featured an arrangement of blue iris and yellow daisies. On either side of the centerpiece were three brass candlesticks holding yellow and white tapers. White bridal napkins with a crystal punch bowl and matching appointments completed the table decor.

Mmes. Glyn Reed and Bob Bowden served frosty punch and an assortment of breads, finger sandwiches, cookies and mints.

Assisting in the gift room to display gifts was Mrs. Jerry Allen.

Hostesses presented the honoree with a vacuum cleaner and bedspread. Assisting with hostess duties were Mmes. Allen, Bowden, Reed, Hart, Preston Upshaw, Jimmy Ray Davis,

The couple took a trip to Ruidoso, N.M. They will reside in neckline bordered a bodice of illusion and lace, with embroidered seed pearls. The fitted bodice came to a point just below the waistline, and the fitted sleeves of Chantilly lace featured a ruffle of lace at the wrists. The back of the dress featured a neckline which came to a low point, accenting the illusion and lace. The full skirt in the front was of one solid panel of Chantilly lace, and the sides and back of the skirt were in five wide rows of lace, which swept into a full chapel train.

Her fingertip veil featured three tiers of illusion, each tier edged in wide Chantilly lace to match the lace on her dress. The veil was gathered onto a headpiece covered also in Chantilly lace and featuring embroidered seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of apricot, yellow and white silk roses, accented by greenery.

Following tradition, for "something old" she wore a gold watch which had belonged to the groom's mother, for "something new" her wedding dress, she borrowed a diamond drop necklace from Mrs. Tim Dea, and "something blue" was the garter she wore.

Maid of honor was Jean Reeves, sister of the bride, of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Tim Dea of Snyder and Mrs. Doug Clower of Arlington. They wore floor length yellow dresses with accordin pleats and lace capes.

Best man was Quinn LeBeouf of Littlefield, son of the groom. Groomsmen were Tommy Davis, son-in-law of the groom and Mark Reeves, brother of the bride, both of Lubbock. The men wore light yellow tuxedos with white ruffled shirts.

Miss Erin Kloiber, cousin of the bride, and Miss Shawna Wagley, both of Littlefield were flower girls.

Candlelighters were Miss Kelli Kloiber, cousin of the bride, and Miss Shelley Wagley, both of Littlefield. As she entered the sanctuary with her father the bride paused momentarily and presented an apricot rose to her mother. Leaving with her husband following the ceremony, she also presented a rose to Mrs. Leslie Davis.

Julie Hignight of Lubbock registered the guests.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. The table was covered with a lace trimmed white cloth. The centerpiece was the bride's bouquet. Next to her bouquet was a silver candelabra with apricot tapers. The wedding cake was three-tiered accented by yellow daisies and an arrangement of wedding bells on top. Apricot punch, yellow rose mints and nuts were served in silver and crystal appointments.

Serving during the reception were Mrs. Leslie Davis, daughter of the groom and Julie Hignight, both of Lubbock.

For traveling the bride wore an apricot two piece suit with white accessories, made for her by her mother. Following a wedding trip to Santa Fe, the couple will

Senior class history

Class officially began in September, but for many senior men, school started in August with football practice. Two-a-day workouts started three weeks before classes.

At the end of August, school registration began and appointments were made for senior pictures.

Class meetings were held in September to elect officers. Seniors selected were: Shelley Bearden, president; Sylvia Coleman, secretary; Julianne Lipham, treasurer.

Football officially began in September as did pep rallies. Senior cheerleaders who led the Mean Green spirit were Tana Tyer, Carrie Woody and Julie Faulkenberry, head cheerleader.

The band and twirlers added to the spirit as they began every pep rally with the familiar "Green and White."

The marching band participated in the Panhandle

South Plains Fair opening parade.

Flag corp seniors were Julianne Lipham, Melissa Morren, Terri Gentry, Debra Allen and Darryn Boothe.

October brought more football games, poster parties and louder pep rallies.

Melissa Morren was selected as the Daughters of the American Revolution representative. She was one of the students nominated by senior class officers with Principal C.E. Tyer making the final selection.

Yearbook sales were started by WHIRLWIND editor, Carrie Woody.

The senior members of the National Honor Society planned the induction of new junior members. Seniors were: Sylvia Coleman, Debra Fry, Terri Gentry, Terri Lloyd, Melissa Morren, Bart Patzer, Jeff Rainey, Tim Radloff, Kelby Sue, Tana Tyer, Carrie Woody, Moody Younger.

Lawrence, Cates tie in bingo tourney

BY DOROTHY NEFF
Steve and Larry have been in Austin all week and we have had the pleasure of working and visiting with Dartha. The residents enjoyed the piano playing and giving the devotion Friday. We would like to thank Doris Snodgrass and Jean Miller for the beautiful flower arrangements for our lobby. Mr. Emmitt Lawrence and

W.C. Cates tied for top winner in bingo with two games each. Clara Williamson, A.G. Eubanks, Geneda Roberts, Ray Reed, Henry Love and Clara McNeely all won one game each.

We learned a new exercise from Mrs. Una Clark this week, which she learned from her grandson. The exercise was hold your feet and legs straight out and pat your stomach at the same time. It has been lots of fun for the residents.

We were all certainly disappointed Wednesday when Grady Freeman called and told us the bus was having transmission trouble and would not be able to go on our ride. We're hoping it will be fixed by next week.

Several of the residents and myself have been working on pom-pom pillows this week.

Jessie Freeman enjoyed a short visit with a long time friend and neighbor, Mrs. Roxie Lewis of Roaring Springs, this week.

Val Darden brought her mother, Mrs. Icy Biggs, a beautiful magnolia blossom Thursday afternoon, brings back memories of when I lived in East Texas and all the magnolias were in full bloom around graduation time.

My apology to Girl Scout troop 362 and their leaders, Julia Finley, Linda Emert, Glenda Wilson and Jan Richardson for overlooking the handmade cloth butterflies they made for our residents to wear for Mothers Day. I handed them out to the residents and they have been enjoying them this week.

We thank these girls and ladies for their thoughtfulness.

Many thanks to our visitors which included: Ruth McIntosh, Gladys Widner, Sherry Colston and Zane, Dixie, Tate and Zacha Harris, Lula Green, Jettie Moss, Doris Snodgrass, Jean Miller, Dana Ellis, Helen Johnson, Marion Bailey, Wanda Davenport, Gene Baird, Evelyn and Jack Crull, Charley L. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. P.L. Hart, Mrs. Edith Hart and G.W. and Alta Smith.

Floydada team bests Lockney

The Floyd County Implement baseball team sponsored by Jerry Perry of Floydada, traveled to Lockney for a 13 and 14 year old tri-county baseball game with the local Floydada team coming out on top by a score of 13 to 5.

Outstanding performances were by pitchers, Dale Miner and Ricky Poole who combined to strike out 14 Lockney batters.

An exceptional fielding job was turned in by center fielder Joey Kemp and the outstanding play was by left fielder, Jeff Arney with two fine catches.

The next game will be here against Abernathy, Friday night, May 29 at 8:30 p.m.

Camp deadline Friday

A basketball camp will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. July 27-31 at the Lockney High School gymnasium.

Boys and girls who will be in grades sixth through ninth next year may enroll.

The camp will be instructed by Lockney High School boys varsity basketball coach Mike Leiby and girls varsity coach Sherri Haynes.

Enrollment will be limited to the first 50 who sign up. The camp will cost $40 and the fee includes a personalized T-shirt and insurance.

Picture Pretty

Pretty as a picture, isn't she? She looks "downright" angelic. Yet, five minutes from now, she may be a little bundle of fury!

Children change faster than the wind. They haven't learned to hide their feelings. But while grown-ups may present a better camouflage to the world, there are few of us without inner conflicts. And these conflicts can be serious.

It would be a lonely world if we had to keep all our problems to ourselves.

We don't. God never intended that we should have to solve all our difficulties single-handed. Remember, He established His church on earth for us. In that Church we will find understanding fellowship, and the faith to work out our own destinies.

Take your problems to Church. Pray that you will find a solution to them. Talk them over with your minister. And what seems a maze today may become a straight road tomorrow.

Pre-school graduates attend Old Settlers Day

The pre-school graduates of the First United Methodist Church had their graduation ceremony May 22. All sixteen classes gave speeches and "I'm Something Special" songs. LuAnn Smith presented the graduates with T-shirts that were made by the church. The graduates were Pyle, Shea, Sanders, Jennifer and Stephanie Rainey, Whittier, Hinojosa, Kristin, Esther Hong and Tate. The graduates were accompanied by their parents and grandparents. The ceremony was held at the church again and will soon be repeated.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lemons visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortenberry Thursday. Grace Lemons and Sylvia Yearly attended the band concert held at the cafeteria in Lockney Elementary school Tuesday evening. David Lemons played the saxophone in the band and also played a solo. Roxanne Ford, granddaughter of Raymond Ford also participated.

Christy Conner of Oklahoma is visiting with her brother and wife. Bruce and King of Flomot visited them in the afternoon and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortenberry visited them in the evening.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortenberry for Sunday dinner were Mrs. Lizzie Seay, Mrs. Peat Kelley, Mrs. Belle Lemons, Patsy Boone, Norma Welch and Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor of Lockney. Patsy returned to her home in Lubbock Monday and Mrs. Seay stayed with them a few days.

Mrs. Peat Kelley and Mrs. Lizzie Seay visited Edna Lackey in Lockney Friday. Sylvia Yearly was also visiting Edna. They went to Floydada and had lunch in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. VanHoose and visited Donie Hanson and Syd Brown and Mollie Burleson.

Grace Lemons attended her granddaughter, Jessica Lemons school play at the elementary school Tuesday afternoon. Jessica played the part of Mother Goose. Rance Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ford played the part of Spider.

There isn't much fun in medicine...but there is a lot of medicine in fun.

WINDJAMMER

Harnessing the wind (when it blows) is a possible auxiliary source of energy to produce electricity. Wind chargers presently seem best utilized for charging storage batteries. River currents, ocean tides, solar heat, geo-thermal and other exotic sources are being studied. But today the only sources we can rely on to meet the demand are gas, coal, hydro, nuclear and conservation. Of these, conservation, available in any weather, is the surest way to stretch kilowatts and save on your electric bill.

Bishops host Memorial Day fish fry

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop and sons, Mike and Greg, were hosts for a Memorial Day fish fry at their ranch near Roaring Springs Monday evening. Enjoying the supper beneath giant pecan trees were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Muncy, and daughter, Pamela, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Giescke, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Holt Bishop, and Bob and Robert Cooper of Roaring Springs.

T.D. Custer and Mr. and Mrs. E.B. Custer came over from Slaton to visit their sister-in-law, Mrs. O.K. Custer, and see friends at the Old Settlers Reunion Saturday. They are former Floyd County residents.

Members of the Mt. Blanco Club met at Casa del Sol with Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson last Thursday. The ladies brought dishes of favorite foods for a tasting bee, and all exchanged recipes. Mrs. Viola Brown enjoyed the afternoon at her cousin's home as did the other members.

Austin Williams spent Old Settlers weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Williams of Midland, visited at Ft. Sill with Mr. and Mrs. Monte Williams.

Mrs. Pat Brown and son, Scott, took Andy Brown, their grandson and nephew, to his home at Garden City, Kansas Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Harrison attended Old Settlers Day Saturday. The Milton Harrisons and Don Harrisons had been looking forward to a visit from the ladie's cousin, Lee Fletcher and Mrs. Fletcher, of Salinas, California, whom they had all visited earlier in the spring. About two weeks ago Mrs. Fletcher called on Thursday, before they were to depart for Texas on Saturday, that Lee had suffered a massive heart attack and died that day. His mother and the late Mrs. R.C. Smith were sisters, and he had grown up at Post, Texas. After high school he went to California, where he was an overseer in the sugar refinery business.

Mrs. Dee Adams has been a regular visitor at the Caprock Hospital this past month at the bedside of her father, Mr. Craft, of Roaring Springs. He was dismissed over the weekend and started to Ft. Worth with a son but became ill en route and was brought back to the Floydada Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hammonds have recently entertained a stream of visiting relatives from Foard County area. Mrs. Mona Moore of Thalia and Mrs. Annabelle Henry of Vernon visited their brother and family last Sunday night. Mrs. Hammond's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis of Vernon visited here Tuesday and Wednesday. Also on Wednesday Ruth's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Gafford came from Crowell on their way to dental appointments in Lubbock and took Ruth along with them.

Mrs. Roy Fawver ate Sunday lunch with Mrs. Nettie Adams. An inveterate reader, with a good memory for what she reads, Mrs. Fawver earnestly recommends the book, "The Late Great Planet Earth," and its sequel, which she bought at a Plainview bookstore during a recent business trip to that city. Mrs. Fawver reports the book is also available at the Floyd County library.

Gay Lynn and Chuck Carpenter and son, Cody, of Canyon, visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hammonds during Old Settlers weekend.

Someone said during Old Settlers day they had counted six northers that had blown in during the month of May. One day temperatures might be in the 90's and the next in the 40's. Light showers Sunday cooled everyone off from the Saturday heat.

Mrs. Howard Bishop's

father, Sid Brown, won the prize as oldest man in the Old Settlers Parade Saturday. He rode on a float.

Paul Atterberry, who cowboys on the T-Bar, won the prize as best dressed old time cowboy in the parade.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Alldredge were visited Sunday by his sister and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Trice of Hobbs, New Mexico. The Alldredges were planning to host a salad supper in their home for the Della Plains teachers on this Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Randy Bertrand helped at the 1956 Study Club's booth at the Arts and Crafts exhibit during Old Settler's Day. They had many beautiful items handmade by club members.

Western Geophysical trucks are still thumping soundings around Lakeview, so maybe there is oil somewhere out here. The young man said they were sounding for Gulf Oil. A company called the Williams from Louisiana last week wanting to lease.

Homebuilders Club to host luncheon

The Floyd County Extension Homemakers council met in the council room. The president, Lillian Smith, called the meeting to order.

It was announced that the Homebuilders club will host a luncheon for the other clubs in the council room June 23. The luncheon will start at 11:30 a.m. Each club member is asked to bring a salad. Also each member is to bring a handmade craft to be auctioned.

Officers for council for the 1982 term were elected. They are president, Ruth Trapp; vice-president, Syble Teeple; treasurer, Mattie Norrell; and secretary, Lucy Eastham. The Extension Homemakers Club state meeting will be in Austin, September 7, 8 and 9.

The following delegates were elected: Homebuilders, Ruth Trapp; alternate, Lillian Smith; Harmony, Bess Carr; alternate, Anna Maude Hopper; Lone Star, Trudy Taylor, and alternate, Syble Teeple.

Recreation, a quiz game, was led by Murl Mayfield.

Those present were: Lucy Eastham, Ruth Scott, Bess Carr, Murl Mayfield, Mattie Norrell, Lillian Smith, Gladys Widner and county agent Marilyn Tate.

Pernell wins tourney

Donna Pernell won the Floydada Women's Golf Association play days tournament, held May 12, 19 and 26. Pernell had the most one-putts and the most pars. Teresa Hale won the longest drive with her shot on the fifth hole.

The next meeting will begin at 9:30, June 2, at the country club. A salad luncheon will follow the meeting.

Center News

Center enjoys family get togethers

May 25: One busy week went by. Weather is getting hotter and dryer. At all the get togethers people seem to be having a good time.

The first was the Workers conference at Calvary Baptist on Tuesday evening. Not as large as usual, but good.

Our sick are, we hope, improving. Mrs. Amelia Ashton in the Lockney Care Center. Mrs. Sally Carpenter still in the Lockney Hospital; but better. Mrs. Lucille Dun can is at home again, but house bound. Miss Vera Meredith is home again. Visitors were coming again, the Muncy's today, one day Mrs. Edna Patton, and a cousin from Hale Center.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Patton and Mrs. McPeak visited Mrs. Green. Later Mrs. Victor Green came for me and I attended the quiet but beautiful home wedding of the Victor Green's son, James Matthew to Miss Zaphryn Lucy Tandy of Plainview. So I have a lovely granddaughter-in-law. Sue brought me home Thursday morning and dropped me off at the Senior Citizens.

That was something nice, too. I understand there were around 100 present.

My children were scheduled to come home for the weekend and Old Settlers. So Margaret Ryman and five of her children arrived Friday night (or Saturday morning) at 1 a.m. Then an hour later the Clyde Greens, four of them, of Peralta, New Mexico came in. Some of us got up early enough to register at the Old Settlers. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Victor Green of Plainview arrived. All together at our usual Saturday night supper except Don Clark of Big Spring who met us Sunday morning at Calvary Baptist Church. Mrs. Henry Brewer was sick all week at home. Glenna and Millard Watson came Friday and Saturday and the Fred McDouglas came Sunday afternoon from Crosbyton.

The Thomas Warrens children were all home Saturday and Sunday. Elaine and Paul Stout and three daughters of Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Warren, near the home, son Don of the home and Joyce and Jim Owens and three small ones were all present. Mrs. Ola Warren and Mrs. Fred Batty came in the afternoon.

The Hal Thomas children from Lubbock came Saturday, the Milton Mensch's and son David and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gound of Ft. Worth came Sunday.

Mrs. Ethel Warren dined Sunday with Mrs. Dorree Turner. Mrs. Cleo Goen dined with Mrs. C.M. Meredith Monday.

Mrs. J.D. Welborn was in Ft. Worth Sunday and attended the Commencement sermon of the class in which a granddaughter is a member. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James David Welborn.

Mr. and Mrs. Boenig of New Braunfels were with her mother, Mrs. Charles Fulkerson, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O.G. Mayfield were in Henrietta from Tuesday to Friday high school graduates of their area of Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield.

Floydada students named on WTSU honor roll

West Texas State University's spring semester has ended with 830 students being placed on the honor roll.

The Dean's List names 667 students while the President's List includes 163 students.

Students from Floydada on the Dean's List are Brenda Jackson, sophomore accounting major and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Jackson; Jon Jones, junior agricultural economics and Mrs. Travis L. Kirk, major and son Mrs. David L. F. Moore, freshman major and son Mrs. Tom Moore Pruitt, son of Weldon Pruitt, majoring in business and economics.

Bill Norman receives degree

Bill Norman, formerly of Dougherty, received a doctor of engineering degree in commencement ceremonies at Texas A&M University Friday, May 8.

The 1973 Floydada High School graduate has accepted a position with Bush Hog Continental Gin Co. in Fresno, California. He will serve as regional field engineer for the California-Arizona region beginning June 1.

Waller named honor student

Dr. Ken Martin, Dean of Instruction at Clarendon College has announced the names of students who have been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the Spring 1981 semester.

More than 3,000 Texas A&M students received degrees during the three commencement ceremonies held May 8 and 9.

Subjects are listed on the Dean's Honor Roll at the end of each semester. Vocational students who are taking a full program and maintain a grade of A in all subject work are also listed. The students major field of study will be identified. The list includes Jay Waller, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Waller of Floydada.

Cindy Day receives master's degree

Cindy H. Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Day of Floydada, received her Master of Education from Texas Tech University on May 15, 1981.

Engineer to retire

Retirement of George C. Wall Jr., district engineer of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation in Lubbock, was announced by Engineer-Director Mark Goode.

June 1 as top man for the department in 17 West Texas counties by C.W. Nall Jr., 55, currently the assistant district engineer in Lubbock. A native of Paris, Texas, Wall has been district engineer since 1973.

THIS GENTLEMAN FROM LUBBOCK stopped by the museum to kill some time while he waited for a customer. He ended up studying a history of Floyd County. Many visitors who just "drop-by" are impressed with the size and scope of the county museum.

Army wants journalists

Aspiring, but untrained, broadcast journalists now have an opportunity for free formal and on-the-job training plus a substantial fund for college later.

The U.S. Army says it now has a shortage of broadcasters at home and overseas for positions in American Forces Radio and TV (AFRTS) stations and public affairs offices. AFRTS has been the training ground for hundreds of now-civilian broadcasters.

Qualified applicants, in addition to free training at the well-known Defense Information School, are entitled to a non-contributory, post-secondary education fund of $7400 for two years service or $12,100 for three years or $14,100 for a four-year enlistment.

According to recruiters, applicants must be high school graduates, physically and mentally fit, score in the upper half of the qualification exams and pass a special audition for diction, voice quality, and communication ability.

December sales of Series EE & HH United States Savings Bonds in Floyd County were reported by County Bond Chairman Oscar G. Hernandez to be $4,905. Sales for the first twelve month period totaled $88,958 for 59% of the 1980 goal of $150,000.

County receives state funds

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Texas counties were paid $627,542 in state funds under a law designed to encourage voter registration and accurate voting lists. Floyd County received $303.60.

He said 219 counties shared in the funds which represent reimbursement for county voter registration efforts. The Texas Election Code permits the Comptroller to pay counties 40 cents for each new registered voter and 40 cents for each cancellation made to update lists. Bullock said the payments were made to help reimburse registration activities from February 1, 1980 through January 31, 1981.

Payments to the state's larger counties included: Harris County, $111,286.40; Dallas County, $88,612; Bexar County, $42,145.60; Tarrant County, $54,196; Travis County, $31,200; Borden County, $14,600; Loving County, $10,000; state's least populous counties received the least amount of reimbursement.

Cotton farmers advised to take time evaluating hail damage

Landscape & Gardening

BY KEN LANGLEY

(LUBBOCK)—Planting of the 1981 cotton crop on the Texas High Plains is progressing rapidly under generally favorable conditions. But already, cotton farmers in the area are much like the resident of a downstairs apartment who has been awakened by one shoe tossed onto the floor of the apartment above, and now awaits anxiously for the other shoe to drop.

The farmers know that this is the time of year when needed rains are often accompanied by high winds and hail. Resulting damage may range from a few punctured leaves to destruction of the stand, necessitating replanting.

Since the High Plains has a short growing season, cotton farmers who have suffered hail damage must decide quickly whether to save the damaged stand or replant, noted Dr. James R. Supak, area cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Unfortunately, the extent of damage and potential yield loss is usually difficult to evaluate until several days after a storm," Supak said.

The best procedure for dealing with a hail damaged cotton crop is to provide immediate protection against blowing sand, wait three or four days and evaluate the damage, and decide if the remaining stand (an average of at least two plants per foot of row without too many skips) is adequate to make an acceptable yield, the Extension agronomist recommended.

Experienced cotton farmers and research scientists with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock generally agree that the worst time to decide the fate of a damaged crop is on the day following a storm, the agronomist said.

"They suggest that producers first concentrate on protecting the damaged crop from further injury by blowing sand," Supak said. Frequently, a day or two after a hailstorm, high winds accompanied by blowing and wipe out a damaged but acceptable stand of cotton, he noted. The first priority following a storm is to run a sandfighter, rotary hoe or other equipment to prevent sand damage, he stressed.

"Delay the critical examination of the damaged field until three to five days after the storm to insure a more accurate estimate of how many plants will survive," Supak urged. He advised farmers to inspect the entire field to determine if the damage is uniform or more severe in a certain area. It may be that only part of a damaged field will require replanting, he noted.

He recommended that farmers closely examine the plants to determine the extent of leaf loss, stem bruises and the number of buds remaining that are capable of starting new growth.

"If as much as 25 percent of the leaf tissue remains, including portions of damaged leaves, and the stem is not badly damaged, the crop has a good chance of recovering and producing a near-normal yield," the Extension agronomist said. On the other hand, if it is totally defoliated and the bark on the stem is stripped or broken, recovery will be slow and many plants will die, he said.

The appearance of new leaf tissue four or five days after injury is a good sign that the plants will recover. But if the stems are bruised and this new tissue is turning black, it indicates that the plants are unable to supply adequate moisture to sustain growth and will probably die. This condition frequently occurs when the storm is followed by a period of low humidities, high temperatures and strong winds. "In this case, replanting will be necessary," Supak said.

Loss of the terminal bud does not necessarily mean the plant is doomed, he noted. "As long as at least one undamaged bud remains, the plant can recover fully. If, however, the plant was cut off or heavily damaged (shattered stem) below the first leaf buds, it has no chance of recovery."

The final part of the evaluation process is estimating how many plants will survive and whether their spacing constitutes an adequate stand. To do this, the Extension specialist advised farmers to count the number of plants likely to survive in 25 feet of row at various spots in the field. Numerous research studies have shown that if at least two plants remain per foot of row and if skips greater than two feet in length occur on less than 15 percent of the row, then the stand is adequate to produce optimum yields, he said.

"Cotton is an extremely hearty plant with a tremendous capacity for recovery from injury, especially if it occurs fairly early in the season. A May planted crop with damage often has a better chance of producing a good yield of well developed seed and fiber than a June-planted crop."

In most years, the last practical date for replanting cotton in the northern counties of the Texas High Plains is June 10 and in the southern counties June 15-20. Early maturing, determinate varieties should be used for June plantings.

"Unless extreme moisture stress develops, summer irrigation of late planted cotton is generally not profitable. If watering is necessary, alternate furrow irrigation is recommended. An early watering of a late planted crop will not hasten crop maturity. In fact it will tend to have the opposite effect. Likewise, late applications of nitrogen fertilizer also encourage vegetative growth, delay fruit set and maturity," Supak said.

The application of foliar fertilizer on hail damaged crops is not recommended, the agronomist advised. The leaf area of hail damaged cotton plants is generally too limited for foliar applied fertilizer to be much benefit, he said.

Ranchers can use pelleted and granulated herbicides to control range brush (COLLEGE STATION) — With good odds for spring rain, ranchers can use pelleted and granulated herbicides to control range brush.

Three pelleted and granulated herbicides are registered for use on range-land—10 percent picloram pellets (Tordon 10K), 10 percent and 20 percent tebuthiuron pellets (Graslan 10P and 20P), and 5 percent and 10 percent dicamba granules (Banvel 5G and 10G).

"Because these are applied to the soil surface, moisture is necessary to move the herbicide into the soil," explains Dr. Tommy Welch, range brush and weed control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Thus Tordon 10K and Graslan should be applied before an expected rain while Banvel should be applied in spring or early summer (before July 1)."

Tordon 10K pellets can control pricklypear, huisache, whitebrush, redberry juniper, macartney rose, hawthorne and sumac. Apply 20 pounds of Tordon 10K pellets per acre or 1/4-ounce per 100 sq. ft. for pricklypear control. Increase the rate to 30 pounds or 1 ounce for huisache (small undisturbed plants), whitebrush and macartney rose and 40 pounds or 1 1/2 ounces for redberry juniper, hawthorne and sumac.

Graslan pellets are currently registered for use on post oak, blackjack oak, winged elm, whitebrush, running live oak, blackbrush and sand shinnery oak, says Welch. Use 10 pounds per acre of the 20 percent Graslan pellets to control post oak, blackjack oak, winged elm, running live oak and blackbrush but only 5 pounds to control whitebrush. Five to 7 1/2 pounds of the 10 percent Graslan pellets will control sand shinnery oak. Banvel 5G or 10G can be used to control common or eastern persimmon. Welch recommends one level teaspoon of Banvel 10G or two level teaspoons of Banvel 5G per inch of trunk diameter of the plant to be treated.

Graslan pellets are only available for aerial broadcast application through Elanco Products Co. approved aerial applicators, notes Welch. Tordon 10K pellets may be applied by aerial broadcast application, ground broadcast application or individual plant application while Banvel granules are registered for individual plant treatment of eastern persimmon.

"Research and demonstration works have shown that these pelleted and granulated herbicides provide good to excellent control of specific brush species," says Welch. "Pellets and granules are safe because of minimum drift and are ready to apply without mixing. And spring is a good time to use these herbicides."

Replanting should be considered with slow-emerging, sickly stand of cotton (LUBBOCK) — High Plains cotton farmers can expect to face the old question of whether or not to replant damaged stands as the new growing season advances. Emergence time of the seedlings is a key consideration when farmers are faced with replanting decisions, says a specialist with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

With planting in full swing, optimism is high about the prospects for the area's 1981 crop, said Dr. James R. Supak, area cotton agronomist with the Extension Service. But he noted that hail, wind, sand, seedlings disease and Ascochyta blight are among the hazards which can transform a beautiful patch of cotton into a field of sickly, weakened plants that appear to have little or no chance for survival.

"Should this happen on your farm, bear in mind the manner in which this planting came up to a stand," Supak advised. "Did the crop come up to a fairly uniform stand in four to seven days, or was emergence slow and spread out over two weeks or more?" As indication of how cotton plants in these two situations are apt to perform is revealed in results of a study conducted several years ago by U.S. Department of Agriculture engineers at Lubbock. In this study, Supak said, the engineers used two seed lots varying in quality, one with 65 and the other with 85 percent germination. The seeds were planted at two-, three- and four-inch depths under nearly optimum conditions of soil moisture and temperature.

Part of their findings, shown in the accompanying table, indicate that emergence time has a dominant influence on yield, the Extension agronomist said. Regardless of planting depth, seedlings that emerged within five days produced the best yields. "Rapid, uniform emergence indicates strong, vigorous plants that quickly establish good root systems, have strength to overcome many adversities, and have the potential to produce a good crop," Supak said. Slow stand development indicates that much of the seeds' energy reserves were depleted in the germination and emergence process, he cautioned. The late-emerging seedlings are in a weakened condition and any adversity tends to further reduce stands and lower the yield capability of the surviving plants. "Should the need arise to decide whether to replant or save the existing stand, keep in mind how the crop came up to a stand," Supak urged. Rapid, uniform emergence with good early growth means the stand is apt to recover from moderate damage by hail, sand or wind, from Ascochyta blight or other hazards and still make a good yield, he said. But a slow-emerging, sickly stand is apt to have higher mortality and sustain more permanent damage that limits its yield potential. "Often, it is best to replant in this situation," Supak advised.

st load of wheat brought to Floyd County
The first load of wheat in Floyd County was brought to the Elevator at Matador Monday morning. Charles Renfro of Matador brought in the wheat which had been cut in Motley county.

Producer's manager, Bill Cagle said the load of wheat weighed 20,840 lbs. with a test weight of 60 lbs. Cagle said the moisture content was 10.20.

Texas Wheat Board to hold election June 26

Wheat Producers Board will hold a biennial election on June 26 to elect a new chairman. The terms of three members expiring at that time are: Troy Sloan, Spearman; Charles Panhandle; and W.R. Munday.

The election will be held by mail ballot, which will be provided to all eligible voters 15 days prior to the election, Witkowski said. He also indicates that any person qualified to vote who does not receive a ballot 15 days before the election date, may obtain one at Agricultural Extension Service offices in the 34-county area as provided by the Texas Commodity Referendum Law.

qualifying to vote in the election may place his name in nomination for membership on the Texas Wheat Producers Board by application to the organization, signed by himself and at least ten other persons eligible to vote in the election, at least 30 days prior to the election date, in order to have his name placed on the ballot.

Wheat producers fund TWPB with a 1/2 cent assessment on their deliveries of wheat at commercial handlers. Proceeds from such participation supports programs of foreign and domestic market expansion, food and feed wheat technical service, insect control demonstrations and other activities designed to strengthen wheat producers income. In addition to Witkowski and the three members with expiring terms, other TWPB members are: Dwight Hamilton, Olney; Cagle Kendrick, Stratford; Otis Harman, Tulia; Robert Graves, Perryton; and Wiley Tabor, Quanah.

Applications for names to be placed on the ballot should be sent to the organization headquarters office, 600 Texas Commerce Bank Building, Amarillo, Texas, 79109.

Hobby Club meetings postponed until September

By Mrs. Murray Julian South Plains, May 25th:

There will be no Hobby Club meetings during the summer months of July and August, because of vacation plans for families. The June 10th meeting will be a delightful breakfast for members and guests at the home of Mrs. Mamie Wood, who lives east of South Plains, and who throughout the past few years has been hostess for the "Breakfast at Mamie's," where the gathering in the sometimes very chilly morning, numbers around forty and breakfasts never tasted so delicious as those served out in the beautiful backyard of the Wood residence where hot biscuits, scrambled eggs, and all the good breakfast things are served, and where games are played, and everyone has a happy memory of the time shared with neighbors and friends. Time for the gathering is June 10th, Wednesday at 8:00 o'clock, with assistant hostesses Ruby Higginbotham, Gleyenne Earle Cummings, Mildred Hamm and Dot Cummings.

Mrs. Ernest Smitherman (Ruth) came home Friday morning from the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview after surgery on her knee, May 12th. She is getting along wonderfully well, and can walk and take care of herself since the surgery.

Jacob Galheim was a visitor at the morning services at the South Plains Baptist Church. This Sunday night there were no services so everyone could attend Baccalaureate services at either Lockney or Floydada. John is our only senior graduate from South Plains this year. Congratulations, John.

Harold Hamm is much better this Sunday, after he has had a stay in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock since last Tuesday. He became ill at his home southeast of South Plains. Hamm is expected to be able to come home this coming Tuesday. His wife, Mildred and other members of his family have been at his bedside.

Mrs. Louzila Nichols is expected back at her home here at South Plains this Tuesday after spending the past two weeks down at Sweetwater, where she visited her daughter and family, Ruby Jewel and Glen Whitfill, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Nichols all of Sweetwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Chappell who now live in South Plains, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grigsby Milton flew to Duncan, Oklahoma Tuesday, May 19th, where at 8:00 p.m. they all attended the commencement exercises at Cameron University, in Lawton, Oklahoma, and Darla Chappell received her Bachelor of Science Degree in Accounting-Business Administration. Darla and Jerry had lived at Duncan for several years, and she went back and forth to Cameron University where she received her college education. Congratulations to Darla, who worked, kept house for herself and husband, and yet went to college to obtain her degree.

Mrs. Kendis Julian (Janis) and Kristi Julian and Mrs. M.M. Julian left early Saturday morning for Roscoe, Texas where they spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Terry Julian and Dickie and other guests, Dr. and Mrs. Bill and Dee Julian and wee son, Jason, about six weeks old, who were there from Commerce. They enjoyed dinner together and they also visited Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Althof in their new home in Roscoe, where they have just recently moved. They came back home Saturday night after a good visit, and this was the first time to get to see great-grandson, Jason, who is six weeks old.

Many from here went to Floydada, Saturday, May 24, to attend the 53rd Pioneer Reunion which went on during the day culminating in the dance Saturday night, which was held at the Veterans Hall. Mrs. Mamie Wood was Wild Flower Show Chairman, with Mrs. Letha Mulder assisting.

Mrs. Rex Mauney (Karen) daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne in Dallas underwent surgery on her broken right arm last Friday, and her mother, Mrs. Osborne is down there, staying with the family while she is recuperating from her broken arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings were hosts for the dessert course of the Senior Progressive supper, where 25 adults and the senior class of the Lockney High School were guests last week.

Mr. and Mrs. B.T. O'Connell from Copeville, Texas were luncheon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings last Thursday. Mrs. O'Connell is the twin sister of Gleyenne Earle's mother.

Visitors at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning included Mrs. Linda Bradley from Duncan, Oklahoma, with Mrs. Jerry Chappell. Mrs. Bradley, her husband and three children were weekend visitors here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Chappell, and among other things, they attended the Pioneer Day at Floydada on Saturday with Darla and Jerry.

At the Lockney Jr. and Sr. banquet at the Lockney High School, John Cummings was chosen the Most Popular Senior for the Junior Class, and at the Senior Awards Program, John received the award of Who's Who, both in track and basketball at Lockney.

Tuesday morning, May 26, at 9:30 at the South Plains Baptist Church there will be a Vacation Bible School meeting, and afterwards the women will stay and work in the church to clean and polish the pews, among other jobs they wish to accomplish.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Geller of San Francisco, California, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rose from Denver, Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Zach W. Cummings of Glen Rose, Texas and from here, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Cummings and Mrs. Z.C. Cummings were all dinner guests last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Russell (Beth) and son of Liberal, Kansas were here over the Memorial Day weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Calahan.

WHILE THE OLD SETTLERS gathered on the square, the youngsters carried out a tradition of their own that has grown the past 10 to 15 years. It started out with water pistols and water balloon fights.

Marjorie Jones remembered that when she worked at the Penney's store across the street they wouldn't allow the youngsters to fill their water guns.

Now, however, there are the youngsters as in the top photo with water balloons.

The bottom photo shows something new has been added. Shaving cream fights, though relatively harmless, left some participants coated in the soft goopy foam.

Rest Home Birthday Party

Spring has "sprung" all over....
And a birthday, too, is here....
Along with "Mother Nature"
Lets celebrate with cheer.

To greet our Mrs. Stambaugh
Makes us very happy....
And when she has a party
She likes it pretty "snappy!"

To cheer this lovely lady
Lets do the Birthday Song....
So join right in the singing
And come out good and strong!

Thursday, May 14, was birthday party time again at the Rest Home and was hosted by ladies of the City Park Church of Christ.

The party was a bit unusual this time as we had only one honoree, Mrs. Willie Stambaugh. She had as her special guests her daughter, Mrs. Harold Bertrand and granddaughter Kim Bertrand. They were seated at the "honor" table with her to help her better enjoy the festivities.

The table was laid with an ecru cloth and centered with a floral arrangement in orange and yellow. Her place was marked with a special birthday card.

The poem was read and everyone joined in singing the "birthday" song. Dorothy Neff made pictures of the honoree and others attending the party.

A most delicious birthday cake iced in yellow creamy icing and a delightful fruit punch made from "yellow" juices graced the refreshment plate which was served to the honoree, guests, residents of the home and employees.

The next party will be Thursday, June 18, 2:30 p.m. Please join in the celebration.

The American farmer who, for years, has been on the short end of the telecommunications stick will soon be the beneficiary of satellite technology which can place as many as 60 television stations on home receivers through the installation of an "earth station" which will pick up those signals directly from the satellites. And, these stations include everything from children's programming to religious, sports, movie and news networks. 24-hour market information and a great deal more. One Texas-based company has started production of the necessary parabolic or dish antenna and receiver system for exclusive marketing to the farm and ranch community. It is, according to a company principal, a jump for American farmers - right into the 21st century.

of a family Sunday dinner has little to do with the legislature, blue laws, or buying an eraser on Sunday.

How did the bill fail then, when it is supported so whole heartedly by the people of Texas. The legislators are supposed to reflect the desire of their constituents in the vote.

Rep. Doyle Willis, author of the repeal, said "It was a superb, beautiful job by the lobby."

A Texas metro newspaper said "the hatchet work done on the repeal was performed by Texas Automobile Dealers Association (TADA) and the Texas Retailers' Association (TRA) whose membership is dominated by small, independent retailers who have long opposed repeal.

The thing is that those merchants who, under the free enterprise system, get ahead by out-hustling the competition, by going to work earlier and staying later, by providing better service and more convenience to customers," will continue to do so.

That is what free enterprise is all about. It is not the place of the state to intrude unnecessarily into the economic situation.

Texas voters showed in the last election that we are tired of living with ludicrous laws forced on us by a legislature that thinks we don't have the ability to carry out a family dinner without their help.

Or that our merchants do not have the integrity to handle their own business and the treatment of their sales personnel with out interference by the government.

The legislature declares its undying support for free enterprise and then when it has a chance to bow out of an unnecessary intrusion into the economic system it reverts back and lets the lobbyists tell it what to do.

A few votes like this one may cost some more legislatures their seats this next election.

Back to Bryan, and did I ever get my coffee pot. Well, yes, I did. The clerk listened to my sad story, glanced around to see if the manager was looking, and took my money.

A good test of a bad law has always been if the people will comply with it.

Senator Ray Farabee

DISTRICT 30

State Senator Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls secured passage of the "Drug Trafficking Bill" in the Texas Senate Friday. HB 730 by Representative Pete Laney of Hale Center, the companion bill of SB 393 by Senator Farabee, was passed without amendment by the full Senate.

One of five bills included in the "War on Drugs" package, the "Drug Trafficking Bill" is the second of the package to pass both houses. The "War on Drugs" campaign, which developed the five bills, is directed by H. Ross Perot.

The bill will crack down on large drug dealers by establishing graduated, higher penalties for offenses involving large, commercial quantities. Provisions will be tightened so that major drug traffickers cannot escape getting a criminal record and so that probation and suspended sentences can be granted only by recommendation of a jury. Seizure and forfeiture provisions related to drug offenses are brought into conformity with other states, and with Texas laws for other subjects. A new provision permits prompt destruction of excess quantities of illegal drugs.

Now that the drug trafficking bill has passed the Senate, it will be sent to the Governor for his signature. It is anticipated that the Governor, who designated the bill as an emergency measure early in the Session, will sign it in the next two weeks.

Senator Farabee stated the "something's wrong with our existing laws when a person who sells or finances the sale of five tons of marijuana receives no more penalty than the person who sells or possesses five pounds. Texas has become a haven for big dealers in narcotics. This bill is similar to legislation recently passed in Florida and will send a message to the drug world not to do business in Texas."

Drive In banking is supposed to be fast. "Just drive through and leave it to Tilly," is the bank's motto.

Well, Tilly was a little slow on the day I decided to do business with her. There was a car ahead of me. I waited and waited. I watched the diamonds on my simulated ring sparkle for about 15 minutes. I counted the smushed bugs on my windshield for another 10 minutes.

I wondered what was taking so long. Perhaps it was a robbery. I quickly took off my diamond and looked around for a safe place to put it. I thought the safest place would probably be in my mouth along with my gold fillings.

I almost swallowed it as I heard Tilly announce over her microphone so the whole neighborhood could hear, "Just a moment, let me check these amounts."

So that was it. The car ahead was asking for a huge withdrawal in small bills. Quite clever of them to have small children in the car. Who would suspect a child for passing a $20.

I couldn't escape. A car had pulled up behind me. There I was sandwiched in between a hold-up-in-progress in front of me and who-knows-what behind me. At last, Tilly pushed the deposit drawer out.

A hand slunk out of the car window scooping up what I assumed to be ill-gotten gain. Then the drawer went inside the window taking the hand with it. At the last possible moment, the hand withdrew. Robbery or not, at last, the car sped away.

My car sputtered, it was about to run out of gas, and lurched forward. I noticed the inscription on the deposit drawer that said, "Die Bold."

Well, I would try. All I really wanted to do was make a deposit. My husband had threatened my life if I forgot again. He didn't know that I had just saved his money from a robbery.

The sign said, "Ring bell for teller." She was standing right there, but I rang the bell so I could tell her. She jumped. She was probably nervous from her robbery experience. I mumbled through the diamonds in my mouth that I wanted to make a deposit.

While she was writing me a letter, I noticed that there was a trophy in her window. I'm not sure what it was for, but I don't think it was for track.

At last she handed me the letter, which turned out to be a deposit slip, and told me to come back. I ignored her invitation and started to drive through the Drive In Window, but her frown stopped me. Thank goodness she didn't use her microphone.

I felt safer now and removed my diamond from its safe deposit box and returned it to my finger. I watched it sparkle as I turned and waved good bye to Tilly.

Social Security News

Many persons continue to work after they become eligible for social security retirement benefits.

While such employment may be economically, psychologically, and socially beneficial, retirees should be aware that their employment may affect their social security benefits.

The purpose of the social security program is to provide partial replacement of income to workers and their families when earnings are cut off or reduced because of the worker's retirement, disability or death. Consequently, a person who continues to work and, as a result, does not suffer a loss of income from earnings may not be entitled to full benefits.

The law does not require complete retirement for a person to be eligible for social security monthly cash payments. A retiree can receive full benefits as long as his or her earnings do not exceed the annual exempt amount.

During the first year of retirement, (called "grace year"), however, it is the performance of "substantial services" that determine whether a self-employed person who has no wages, is, in fact retired. After this first "grace year," the amount of annual earnings is the only criterion for payment of benefits.

There are a number of reasons for using different standards for self-employed persons than for wage-earning employees in determining whether an individual is retired.

In the first place, the income of self-employed persons may vary greatly from one month to the next. In fact, in any given month a self-employed person may suffer a loss rather than realize a profit.

Secondly, the income a self-employed person actually receives in a given month may be for work performed in a prior month, or occasionally for work not to be performed until some time in the future.

For these reasons, "substantial services" rather than income is used to determine whether a self-employed individual is retired.

Whether or not services are substantial depends on a number of factors. They include the amount of time devoted to a business or profession, not only in terms of physical labor but in planning and managing as well; the kind of work done; and how the work compares with what the person previously did.

In general, more than 45 hours of work devoted to a business during the course of a month constitutes "substantial services." 45 hours a month or less generally does not.

If a person is involved in the management of a sizable business or is engaged in a highly skilled occupation, fewer than 45 hours a month may constitute substantial services. However, the services are never considered substantial when an individual works less than 15 hours a month.

Occasionally it may not be possible to arrive at a decision about substantial services solely on the basis of the amount of time devoted to a business or profession. In such cases, the kind of work done by the person becomes more important. The more valuable and highly skilled the work performed, the more likely it is to be considered substantial.

Additional information about the retirement test for self-employed individuals can be obtained by calling our toll-free number 1-800-392-1603 - that number will also provide you information with other social security questions. By using our toll-free number you will be able to save yourself time and energy.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Friends: We would like to express our appreciation to all of the fine people who have helped us after the loss of our large dormitory by fire. We want to thank everyone that has given us clothing, bedding, linens, personal items, and school supplies for our girls. We could not have continued to provide for their needs without your help.

Thank you for sending in the cash contributions that will help us to start a building fund. We must build three cottages to take care of the staff and girls that were in the old building.

Thank each of you who gave your time to come out and help us sort through the items and fit the girls. It is only because of people like you that we will be able to care for our girls at Girlstown.

Sincerely,
Marshall W. Cooper
Executive Director

To the Editor: We are very grateful to the citizens of Floyd County for their generous gifts to the Texas Easter Seal Society. Without their continued support, we would be able to accomplish little. Because of this generosity, we will be able to continue our many services for the disabled in this community; and we even hope to expand those in the coming year.

Donation checks-ranging from a few dollars to several thousand dollars continue to come into Texas Easter Seals, as area residents follow through on the record $430.00 in pledges made locally during the recent Easter Seal Telethon. It is not only those who donated their money, but also those who gave their time, whom we wish to thank. We are very proud of the way this community has gotten behind us, both as contributors and volunteers, in our efforts to help the handicapped. We also truly appreciate Channel 11 and the staff there for the wonderful job they did putting on the telethon.

Over 200 volunteers staffed the local telethon set at Channel 11 during the 20 hour fund-raising extravaganza that aired nationally during the weekend of March 28 and 29. Pledges here helped the national organization set a new record with a total of over $17.2 million.

On behalf of all of those we are able to help. THANK YOU!!!!

Sincerely,
Dick Radley, Executive Director
Karen Hall, Area Representative
