

Onion crop down 50%

Shippers in Floyd County describe the onion season so far as being slow. Demand is usually light around the Fourth of July when New Mexico and Arizona move into production.

The South Plains crop is down about 50 per cent from last year according to Mark Prigmore, who is on the sales desk at Floydada Vegetable and Pepper Company. He estimated that there were four to five thousand acres in the Panhandle.

The crop has been described as excellent to only average depending on weather conditions in the area.

Hail along with other severe weather conditions has cut down on yield.

Prigmore said that the prices run between $5 and $8 depending on quality, size and color.

He expects most of their early crop to be shipped by July 25.

Chuck Holmes, Debruyne Produce Co., estimates that they will finish the early crop about July 15.

Debruyne has 400 acres this year with 200 early Granos and 200 early Spanish. They have clipped about 50 acres Holmes said.

Weather has also adversely affected the cucumber crop. Jr. Simpson, Floydada Vegetable and Pepper, estimates that one third of the crop was lost to weather.

The fall cucumber crop is being planted now and is expected to have a heavier yield.

Simpson also said that the pepper crop will "be a couple of weeks late this year."

Holmes estimates that they will begin shipping peppers about September 15. He said that half of the crop is in "real good shape". The other half of the crop is late re-plants.

"It will be touch and go whether it makes it or not," Holmes said.

ONIONS is in process by workers at the Debruyne Produce Shed in Floydada.

Begins 24 hour programming Cable adds news, sports stations

Entertainment and Sports Programming Network and the Cable News Network have been added to the Floydada Cable TV service.

"There is absolutely nothing like it on television," said Floydada Cable TV manager Joe McKinnis. "And we are proud to be offering this unique, exciting service on cable channel 3. Beginning August 1, Floydada Cable TV will carry ESPN, the only network in existence to carry sports 24-hours-a-day, seven-days-a-week. ESPN is truly America's source for sports."

General interest and information programming, including talk shows, analysis and reports by prominent columnists, celebrity interviews, consumer reports, entertainment reviews, health and medical news, and home and lifestyle features are among the news services of Cable News Network (CNN).

ESPN will be broadcast on channel 3 along with "Showtime" the cable network pay television service. The local weather scan will move from channel 3 to channel 2, with the local broadcasts of the Floydada First Baptist Church.

A Floydada Cable TV spokesman said there will be no change in "Showtime" and there will be no price increase.

The Cable News Network will be shown on channel 12, which has been vacant until now. CNN operations are headquartered at Turner Broadcasting System facilities in Atlanta. Other domestic bureaus are located in Washington, New York, Chicago, Dallas, Los Angeles, San Francisco, London and Rome. CNN is the creation of R.E. "Ted" Turner, who created the Turner Broadcasting System, an early cable TV satellite user.

Turner designated that most broadcasts on CNN be live rather than pre-recorded. He claims the on-the-spot coverage will enhance coverage of global as well as domestic issues.

Among the action ESPN offers is a full season of pro football from Canada, from July through the Grey Cup. Canada's Super Bowl, in November; a solid week of WCT tennis championships, plus tournaments from around the globe; at least five college football games every week, with commentary from sportscasters like Jim Simpson, Bud Wilkinson, Sal Marchiano and Terry Hanratty; complete season and championship coverage ever offered in 17 additional NCAA sports (last year including 22 basketball playoff games alone); NHL hockey; the Pro Bowlers tour; PGA and LPGA events; weekly series in boxing and USAC auto racing; international soccer and more.

WINDS program opens new door

BY TERRY WILLSON

The red school house image no longer represents the Floydada School's well-rounded education. Whirlwinds in new dimensions of program is one new approach to the educational needs of every student.

Chairman, C.E. Tyer said, "We are trying to move at a different pace - the student's ability is what we hope to reach."

WINDS is the acronym for Floydada Independent School District's gifted and talented programs. Whirlwinds In Dimensions of Study is the actual program.

The WINDS program is designed to serve students in grades 3 through 8.

Approximately 5% of the total enrollment of the FISD of 1250-1300 students are in the program. These 50 students are screened and reviewed before the program begins with nomination.

The program is made by teachers, parents, students or anyone who believe a student should be in the program.

Annual rodeo

to be held

July 24-26

Entrants from four states will compete in the 24th annual Floydada rodeo July 24-26.

Back from the Lubbock-based Rodeo Company will be ridden by riders from Texas, Colorado, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

McCandles, of the Floydada Rodeo Association, said, "This year's rodeo will be pretty much the same as last year's except the Rough Rider Band from Nazareth will play on Friday and Saturday nights."

Queen entrants will be selling their hand made saddle by Alvin McCandles.

The Texas Shows carnival will be held at the Rodeo grounds again this year.

New priest assigned to Floydada and Lockney

Rev. L.T. Matthiesen, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Amarillo, announced new clergy assignments to be effective Wednesday, July 8.

Joseph E. Bixenman, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Lockney and its mission St. Mary Magdalen, is appointed director of the Catholic Ministries Training Program. He is also to continue to serve as director, with his residence to the Lady of Guadalupe, Amarillo. Bixenman was assigned to St. Joseph's Church, Amarillo, he was appointed associate pastor of St. Elizabeth Church, Lubbock in July 1972. Bixenman was appointed pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Lockney, and

The building principal will call his staff together to determine if the student should be submitted to the WINDS council.

The council consists of the four school principals, two teachers from each building, the school counselor and the superintendent.

The preliminary evaluation involves questionnaires answered by 8 or 9 of the candidate's teachers. If the early response is positive, the student is nominated to the WINDS council that makes final selections.

Student's participation is voluntary. The council has spent 60-70 hours in trained classes conducted by the Texas Education Service Center.

Teachers who will work in the program have fulfilled at least 80 hours of instruction in the WINDS basic curriculum.

The program is multi-level with plans for additional student needs to be fulfilled with teaching methods introduced by 1985.

Selection for students in grades 3-8 includes the student's general intellectual ability.

Grades 8-12 will include general intellectual ability and specific subject matter in the selection of worthy students.

Grades 9-12 will use the above criteria and the creative abilities shown by the student.

The broad, long-range goals for WINDS are 1) to develop higher cognitive and affective thinking

2) to produce a qualitative differentiated curriculum

3) to be taught a creative problem solving process

4) to develop self-directed learning

5) to strengthen their knowledge and understanding of citizenship concepts and competencies

6) to improve their ability to work interdependently as an effective team member

Tyer said the program is new, but not experimental. He said the WINDS program will be fully implemented this fall.

He said parents will be actively involved to evaluate and support the program.

Teachers in the program are Kay Dean Smith, Duncan elementary; Doris McClain and Francis Hambricht, Andrews Elementary; Teresa Hollums and Amy Hollums, Junior High school; Delores Moore and J.E. Waller, high school.

Mrs. Sherry Cannon will be added to the WINDS council next fall. She will be the new elementary counselor.

Sara Probasco brings stained glass art to area residents

BY TERRY WILLSON

The vivacious artist leans over a long work table and explains her craft, but interrupts her explanation with contagious laughter.

She is Sara Probasco, a stained glass artist who has recently opened her studio in Floydada. Studio South is Sara's workplace in her home at 129 Olive.

The studio is not barely decorated but filled with light that enters through six windows, before illuminating stained glass panels that color the room.

Watercolors as well as pencil diagrams cover the walls.

"I put a lot of myself into what I do," said Sara.

She then puts down a sliver of copper and explains her technique.

"The Tiffany foil method is when each piece of glass is wrapped in copper and then soldered together," said Sara.

"The lead-came method is when you solder together the pieces with lead strips," she said.

Sara named the small glass pieces that hand in windows "suncatchers." Suncatchers display a variety of colors, shapes, sizes and ideas.

"It all begins with an idea," Sara said, "then I make a small diagram, enlarge it and work from there."

Sara said the glass is ordered from a wholesaler. She is free to select her own colors, designs and combinations. She has applied for copyrights for several of her own designs.

Sara plans to begin teaching her craft in the fall when she will also give programs to various clubs and organizations.

"I encourage students not to work for more than an hour," she said, "but it is good to have different things going. I stick with it until it is complete."

Sara is not a newcomer to the art world. She received her degree in Interior Design and did post graduate work at Mississippi State University for Women. She has worked as a free-lance designer and at a department store decorating service. She also has a floral design degree. She worked for Perrin Drapery as a sales manager. She has even operated a gourmet catering service.

Sara plans to sell books, glass and all other stained-glass material before her classes begin.

"I'm willing to try new things," she said, "anything that can be brought in and put on a work table, I do."

She also works with watercolors, sculpture, both terra cotta and bronze using the lost wax method.

Sara is meticulous about her crafts. Each piece of glass is carefully labeled and numbered. She follows her own safety rule - that is wearing protective eye glasses and teaching only adults.

"Stained glass is not a child's craft," she said.

SARA PROBASCO works in her home studio where she creates stained glass, commissioned art and other crafts.

Hilton is oldest citizen at Floyd County Reunion

BY DON STRASNER

Warnie Hilton was Floyd County's oldest citizen attending the Floyd County Reunion this year.

Born in Jacksboro, in Jacks Co., Texas in 1882, Warnie will be 100 on January 16, 1982.

After finishing the ninth grade in Jacksboro, Warnie went to work for his father, J.P. Hilton, a German immigrant from Coblenz who came to Texas, met and married Laura Owens Honey and then started farming and raising cattle.

Warnie got his first farming and ranching experience working for his father, but more importantly, learned a skill during those early years on his father's farm which would provide him a lifetime occupation.

Every Sunday morning he cut the hired hands' hair, a job he was to take up in New Mexico, and later in Floydada, where he barbered for 56 years.

Warnie left home and quit farming for his father in 1905, when he was 24. He left the farm 50 miles northwest of Fort Worth that his father farmed and started his own farming operation three miles from Jacksboro. That year he met and married Lola Scoby from Hillsboro, after she visited her sister in Jacks County.

In 1908, Warnie and Lola left Jacks County and moved to a farm 3 1/4 miles east of Lolar, New Mexico (48 miles west of Clovis), raising horses and cattle and farming corn and maize.

Plowing with a team of three mules and a horse, Warnie worked "from daylight until dark," on his own farm of 50 acres, and in addition farmed a half-section for some railroad hands.

"Corn was selling for 50 cents a bushel then," Warnie recalled. "I sold my crop to a local rancher to feed his cows. A good crop was anywhere from 20 to 40 bushels an acre."

In 1915, Warnie and Lola left New Mexico and moved to Floydada, locating their residence on the street behind his present home, which he built in 1918.

Warnie remembers that there were about 600 people when he arrived in Floydada. "There weren't any sidewalks," he said, "just a few windmills around town and a mill and tank near the courthouse to water horses."

Warnie said the courthouse was a frame building, housing all the county officers for the county seat and surrounding county.

"Bill Brown came up to me a few days after I got here and offered me a barber's chair at his shop," Warnie said. "I told him that I didn't have any barber's tools, but he told me it didn't matter, that I could use some of his," Warnie reflected.

Haircuts were 50 cents and shaves were 25 cents in Floydada in 1915.

There were five brick buildings in downtown Floydada when Warnie moved to Floydada in 1915. He said that in all the 66 years that he has resided in Floydada, he can never recall a tornado striking within the city limits, although he can recall some tornadoes doing some damage in the immediate vicinity around Floydada, over the years.

When the Great Depression of the 30s came to Floyd County, Warnie said people in the county "were just like everybody else," working for the WPA or doing anything possible to survive. "The farmers here had no money," he said, "but they came out of it."

Warnie retired from barbering in Floydada at the age of 90, and told his regular customers, many of whom were customers of different generations (father, son and grandson), that he was hanging up his clippers because there was "too much long hair and too many beards."

Warnie has two grandchildren and seven great grandchildren, but no great-great grandchildren. Blanche and Billy's three grandchildren are all married, one of whom has been married two years, but none of them have had children yet.

Warnie's fondest dream is that he live to the ripe age of 100, so that "my children will have something to talk about." May God grant Warnie that dream!

His daughter, Blanche, is his sole surviving member of his immediate family, his wife and another daughter having preceded him in death.

WARNIE HILTON and sister at Floyd County Reunion.

Although patio doors were designed for summer use, they don't keep the inside very cool in the light of direct sun. To remedy the situation, consider building an attractive wind and sun shelter. First, construct a 2 x 4 frame outside the door consisting of two walls and a roof of four feet in width. Follow the slant of the roof of the house through to your door shelter. Once the frame is built and secured to the exterior wall by nailing additional 2 x 4s to the wall, cover the sides inside and out with five-eighths inch plywood paneling. The roof can be shingled to match the house over three-eighths exterior plywood. Add 1 x 6 trim strips cut to fit. Stain or paint to match your house trim. Add a hanging planter inside the shelter for effect and enjoy the shade.

Floydada Post Office undergoing many changes and re-scheduling

Floydada Post Office has made changes since moving to its new building last month. The most significant is the re-routing of mail by Ed Wester.

Wester said the new regular-sized boxes have increased by 1/2 inch to fit the new standards for envelope sizes.

Wester said a corridor that is out of the office view has been plagued by roller skaters and some minor damage. He said there are no plans to lock the mail box area of the building at night, but he would consider locking it if the violations continue.

Wester said he would regret having to lock the doors because a farming community such as Floydada should have the post office open later for farmers and workers who cannot utilize the mail box area during regular hours.

Suit charges grain sold in competition with Plains growers

The Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA) proposes legal action against the Department of Agriculture because corn shipped by the Government from northern corn belt states is being sold in competition with grain produced by High Plains farmers.

GSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp said GSPA has been working with the High Plains Congressional Delegation for several months in an effort to prevent Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) from selling these millions of bushels of corn as proposed.

"We have exhausted every political avenue," Harp said, "but despite our appeal, USDA officials announced last week that this grain will be sold on a bid basis for unrestricted use in the High Plains region."

GSPA believes this action discriminates against High Plains grain farmers by concentrating a disproportionate share of the burden imposed upon all American farmers by the Soviet grain embargo. Harp estimates that these will lower the income of an average High Plains sorghum or corn producer by some $5,000.00 — 50 cents per hundredweight.

In order to determine what legal remedies, if any, are available to the farmers of the region, GSPA has consulted with three of the nation's leading law firms, one in Lubbock and two in Washington, D.C. It is the opinion of these attorneys that farmers and elevators in the High Plains do have legal grounds to initiate a lawsuit to block these sales or recover damages sustained as a result of this policy. Such a lawsuit could result in a landmark decision which would settle the question relating to the legality of the policies of the U.S. Government in implementing and carrying out the Soviet grain embargo.

"GSPA believes the action of CCC is illegal," Harp stated. "We are ready and willing to file a lawsuit against the U.S. Government in behalf of area grain producers if they and others in the grain related industries of the High Plains feel this course is desirable. Of course the cost of a lawsuit of this magnitude would be tremendous and no one farmer, grain elevator or producer would be able to finance it alone."

GSPA has established a "GSPA Legal Fund" and is asking farmers and others who will support this suit to make their checks to that fund. If enough interest is shown by July 10, 1981, they will proceed with the lawsuit. If not, the money will be returned, less any expenses incurred by GSPA pertaining to this proposed suit.

"No action will be started," Harp said, "unless adequate funds are available to take any and all actions to prosecute this issue to the Supreme Court if necessary."

Harp encouraged farmers to call the GSPA office at 806-298-2543 for more information.

Once a student has been selected for the WINDS program, he will be introduced to a free-style classroom.

Independent projects and specific areas of interest are pursued at an accelerated rate.

Students can work with mini-centers that are designed to stimulate a child's interest in a certain subject. The student develops a pattern of learning that enables him to surpass that of the average student.

Some upper-level students will construct mini-centers for younger WINDS participants.

Upper level students will also be involved in seminar-type learning and in group and individual projects.

Whatever level the student is in, he will be encouraged to pursue the areas in which his performance is above average.

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY TAYLOR

Jana Sue Elza, Jimmy Leon Taylor pledge vows in Durant, Oklahoma

Miss Jana Sue Elza and Mr. Jimmy Leon Taylor recently recited vows of marriage in a ceremony at the Durant Northwest Church of Christ.

Van Ledbetter directed the double-ring ceremony as the couple made their pledges.

Miss Elza is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Elza of Madill. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Taylor of Durant are the parents of the groom.

Spiral candelabras and a heart-shaped candelabra were used for the altar setting in the ceremony. Yellow and blue wild roses trimmed with blue ribbon accented the setting.

Completing the decorations were the unity candle, marked by white flowers tied with white satin ribbon, palm trees and settings of yellow mums.

Blue and yellow tapers tied in ribbons of matching colors lighted the aisle.

Presented for marriage by her parents, the bride was attired in a gown styled in a Victorian fashion featuring a stand-up collar, long lace sleeves and a full skirt. The bodice was embellished with Chantilly lace and pearls with lace cuffs gathering the sleeves.

Her flowing skirt fell into a chapel length train edged in lace. Her chapel length veil was edged with antique Chantilly lace.

She carried a hand-made pearl cascade interlaced with white roses, orchids, gardenias, Vanda orchids, wild roses, tube orchids, orange blossoms and lily of the valley tied with blue, yellow and white ribbon.

For something new, the bride had her gown. Observing other traditions she wore her mother's pearls, a blue garter and a penny in her shoe. Her attire also included a set of pearl earrings, a gift from the groom.

Kara Copeland of Amarillo, attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Shelley Crook and Tammy Benton of Madill. Each wore floor length gowns of the bride's chosen colors fashioned of qiana with off-the-shoulder ruffles and each carried bouquets of roses tied with ribbons matching their gowns.

Others in the wedding party included Susan and Chuck Miller, niece and nephew of the groom who were candlelighters. Flower girls were Cara Manning and Melissa Ellexson of Durant and Adriene Ables of Madill. They wore eyelet gowns of the chosen colors trimmed in white lace and white flowers in their hair.

Two of the flower girls carried blue-trimmed white baskets of rose petals with the third carrying red, long-stemmed roses which were presented to the mothers.

A special observance of the ring ceremony centered on the groom's gold band, created from the first wedding rings of her parents.

Formal white attire was worn by the groom who had his father as best man. Groomsman were Jay Elza and Bill Taylor, brothers of the couple. Tuxedo attire was also worn by the attendants.

Ushers for the ceremony were Albert Miller, an uncle of the groom from Durant; James Elza, brother of the bride from Amarillo, and Verlin Manning of Durant.

Wedding music was provided by the Harding Christian Chorus. "More" was presented during the candle lighting with "We've Only Just Begun" sang as the couple lighted the unity candle. Also presented during the entry was the traditional "Wedding March."

Sterling Elza, a nephew from Amarillo, served as the ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Elza selected a blue linen suit with a silk blouse. Her corsage was a yellow Cattleya orchid.

Mrs. Taylor selected a gown of voile floral print with a capelet collar, full skirt and tie waist. She also had a yellow Cattleya orchid corsage.

A blue cloth overlaid with white lace covered the guest registration table. A bouquet of daisies and blue baby's breath and the bride's book completed that setting with Katrina Crowe of Madill registering guests.

The bride's table for the reception following the ceremony was covered with a blue cloth overlaid with white lace. Floral decorations included an arrangement of yellow and blue roses with white tapers and Cattleya orchids and the bridal bouquet.

The three-tiered wedding cake was trimmed in yellow roses topped by a bride and groom in a gazebo. A cut glass punch bowl and gold dishes completed the appointments.

A white linen cloth was used for the groom's table which held a chocolate cake shaped like a baseball field. The centerpiece was of green ivy trimmed with a blue bowl and a picture of the groom in uniform. Yellow roses and blue candles completed that setting.

Serving at the reception were Janet Miller, Lori Norman, Linda Benton, Jena Conrad, Neta Boyer, Geneva Beaird and Connie Manning. For their wedding trip, Mrs. Taylor selected a lilac bordered eyelet suit with white camisole, lilac shoes and purse. Her corsage was of two Cattleya orchids.

As a pre-nuptial courtesy, the groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner on the Thursday prior to the June 5 ceremony. That event was held at Kemp's Barbeque of Durant.

Rebekah Lodge met June 30

Floydada Rebekah Lodge met on Tuesday night, June 30, for a regular meeting.

FLOYD DATA

Mr. and Mrs. S.V. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. John Cockrell attended the Connelley reunion in Los Cruces, New Mexico over the weekend.

The reunion was held in the Howard Johnson motel with 78 members present. There were relatives attending from Texas, New Mexico, Illinois, California and Arizona.

South Plains News

43 members of Wilson family reunite

South Plains, July 6:

Sunday, July 5th, was a day for members of the Wilson families to remember. The Wilson reunion gathered in Floydada on Saturday for a family reunion with 43 in attendance, and coming from Jacksonville, Florida, was the one coming the farthest, but some from Los Angeles, California and other far away places created a wonderful gathering for the families who got to come. Saturday there was a catered lunch in Floydada and Sunday morning 22 of the family members who at one time or another had lived here, or had connections in South Plains, gathered at the South Plains Baptist Church for a wonderful church service. A delightful experience was the beautiful singing "Because He Lives" by Mrs. Tom Blythe, who was Sue Wilson, and went to church and school here at South Plains, and now lives in El Paso. The Wilson families held their final Sunday dinner gathering at the Senior Citizen's Club, and going there with them from here were the Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton. The reunion lasted from Saturday to Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary on May 23rd at the home of their granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cypert who lives near Plainview. Other members of the family were there to be in the celebration.

Your correspondent is recently home from the Highland Hospital in Lubbock after an absence of several weeks. Mrs. Julian went into the hospital on May 28, for a week of tests, and Monday, June 1, she underwent knee surgery. There were several weeks of therapy following the surgery, and she was home after about a month in the hospital on June 27. It was very good to get to see all the friends, neighbors and relatives, as they came to visit.

Rain has fallen in the South Plains area for three days straight and running this past week, and some of the rainfall amounted to about three inches. It just hit about the same area each day, but of course it was very welcomed.

Mrs. Bonnie Moore has moved into Floydada where she is living in a lovely apartment. She had been living here west of South Plains, but the heat has been very oppressive lately, and they decided on the move into Floydada. We will miss her here.

Last Tuesday, Mrs. Jim

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN

King and daughter, Joyce King of Lubbock, and another daughter, Mrs. Isabelle King of Dallas, came on a surprise visit to see Mrs. Letha Mulder. They had not seen each other for many years, but were friends of long standing.

We were very sad to hear of the death of Mrs. Josie Hester of Post, who passed away on Friday at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, and her funeral services were held at the Calvary Baptist Church in Post on Sunday. Mrs. Hester was the sister of Bill Thomas of Lockney, and who attends church here each Sunday. We offer our sympathy to Bill and his family.

We were very sorry to hear this past week of the falling of Mrs. Madge West in Floydada. She broke her arm and it is a bad break. We hope she gets better soon.

Mrs. Joyce Osborne went to Muleshoe Tuesday and spent the night visiting her mother, Mrs. Cordy Taylor. Mrs. Osborne has recently been staying in Dallas with her daughter, Karen and family, after she had the misfortune to fall and break her arm.

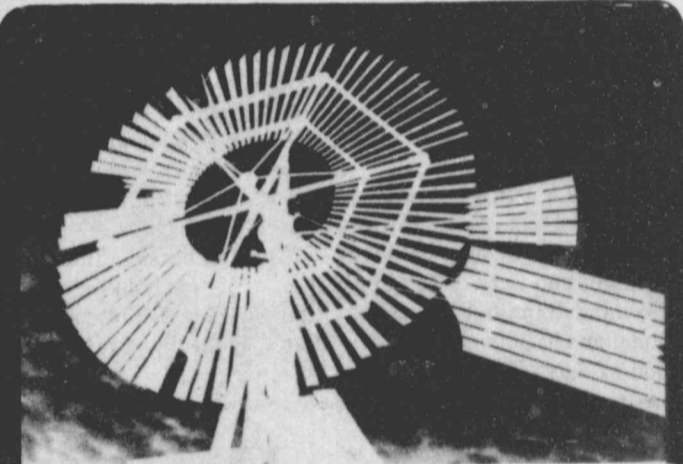

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor of Amarillo arrived here Sunday to have lunch with Kathryn's mother, Mrs. Letha Mulder, and they left one grandchild, Candy, to spend the coming week while Kathryn, Jerry and Ronnie plan to go on to Dallas where they will be attending a coin show, among other places.

Mrs. Janelle Reeves spent this past Saturday and Sunday down at Memphis at the Memphis Hospital with Bob's mother, Mrs. Sally Reeves, who fell last week, bruised and hurt herself. Her family is all taking turns helping stay with Mrs. Reeves who lives on her ranch there at Memphis. We hope to hear Sally is better very soon.

There will be no July or August. The first meeting of the fall will be in September at the home of Mrs. Bonnie Julian.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton accompanied by Mrs. Elva Blum, went to Los Alamos, New Mexico by way of Amarillo where they spent the night with grandchildren, Christy and Richard Abel. They went on to Los Alamos where on June 27th at 2:00 p.m. they attended the wed-

AUSTIN—Vacation time is here again and many people will be leaving their homes in search of fun in distant places. There is always the possibility that you may find serious problems when you return if you fail to take certain precautions before you leave on your trip this summer.

It is this time of year, with the migration away from the home in full force, that law-enforcement experts say is the prime time for burglaries in residential areas.

To offset this flight from the suburbs, they suggest that you burglar-proof your home before leaving, so the odds of your being burglarized while you are away will be reduced and you will not return to find yourself the victim of a burglary.

The following check-list is suggested as a vacation crime-prevention measure:

1. Check with your local police if you plan an extended vacation trip; many police forces offer a "close patrol" of homes where persons are known to be away on vacation. You will need to tell them what cars or persons, if any, will be making authorized visits to your home.
2. Avoid mentioning to casual acquaintances or strangers that you will be on vacation. Also, avoid telling your newspaper society editor of your trip until you have returned.
3. Stop mail, newspaper and other delivery services.
4. Have someone come by every few days and pick up any circulars that might accumulate.
5. Leave a few lights on or buy an automatic timer that will turn certain lights on and off after dark. The newest timers on the market can switch on and off at different times each night.
6. Cut your lawn before you leave, and if you will be gone for a long time, make arrangements with someone to have it cut periodically during the course of your vacation.
7. Lock all windows and doors securely. A sliding glass patio door can be more securely fastened by wedging a stick or metal instrument at the top or bottom of the door.
8. Leave blinds, shutters or curtains open or partially open. Windows that are tightly covered all day, every day, are an indication no one is home.
9. Tell a neighbor or your apartment manager that you will be gone and ask them to keep an eye on your place for you.
10. Before leaving, engrave all valuables in your home and those you will be taking with you in the car with your driver's license or social security number. Some police forces will lend you an engraver to mark your belongings, so register your number on their master list and they will give you a bright sticker for a window or door which shows that you are protected. This may discourage burglars from taking your goods, and it will make identification of recovered items much easier.
11. Keep a list of all items of value with an estimate of their cost. Many insurance companies suggest this be done and that photographs be taken of the valuables as well. This can be of major importance if you have to file a claim for loss with an insurance carrier. Your insurance agent can provide you with information on how frequently such lists should be updated.

If you'll take the time to follow the above check-list, you can at least have the benefit of knowing that you have done everything in your power to insure a burglar-free home upon your return from your vacation. Don't do criminals a favor by making their task easier for them.

Social Security News

BY RAY PURCELL

The heat wave that we have been experiencing for almost a month now has served to slow many activities. Especially affected is the urge to get out of an air conditioned building to conduct necessary business in the heat of the afternoon. At Social Security we are trying to help this situation by providing as many services as possible by phone.

We have specialized our services to a large extent and as a result we have three numbers with which to serve you. Our local number, 293-4371 can be used to apply for social security or supplemental security income. We can also help you apply for Medicare or complete the Medicare claim forms. Of course, if you have recently filed an application for benefits and have not received any type of award letter this is the number to call. We will gladly follow-up on your claim.

The best time to call Social Security is after the middle of the month. This is because the first week or so is usually very busy and we might have to return your call. Of course, if a person has urgent business, he should call at any time.

If you have a general question or need to report a change that would affect a check you are already receiving, call our toll-free number, 1-800-392-1603. The operators who answer these calls are specifically trained to help you change a name or address on social security records, process reports of changes in marital status, and change of address. You may also report lost or stolen checks or delayed payment in addition to changes in your work status. For the most part, if you are already receiving a check or need general information, this toll-free number will provide the most efficient service.

Our other toll-free number deals strictly with Medicare, 1-800-442-2620 provides information concerning Medicare claims that have already been filed. It usually takes the insurance company 4 to 6 weeks to process claims for Medicare. However, if you have not received any word after 6 weeks, this number provides the fastest follow-up service.

The local office is located at 1401-B West 5th, Plainview. Our staff will be glad to assist you in every way possible, by phone or in person.

If you work as a truck driver, you know all about a Department of Transportation form called the "Driver's Daily Log." On it, a driver must record the amount of time he spends on the job. If you wonder why DOT needs this, you're not the only one — the General Accounting Office also would like to know.

Recently the GAO examined the paperwork burden imposed on the trucking industry by DOT and the Interstate Commerce Commission. Its report is one of a series of paperwork studies prepared at my request for the Joint Economic Committee.

In the report, GAO pointed out that DOT supposedly uses the information collected from the Logs to help enforce trucking safety regulations. Transportation inspectors must ferret out cases involving fatigued drivers and then take action against their particular company.

But when GAO looked into the matter, they found that DOT doesn't bother to show the Logs to its inspectors, who instead rely on their memory of earlier incidents to track down carriers in need of safety checks.

The Transportation Department rule requiring the Log has stayed on the books, virtually unchanged for the past 40 years. Meanwhile, American truck drivers continue to spend about 32 million hours annually completing these forms. And each year they use 1.2 billion sheets of paper in the process.

In other cases, the GAO found that the ICC had illegally required trucking firms to complete certain forms which the Office of Management and Budget had not approved. (The Federal Reports Act requires OMB to clear all government forms before the various agencies and departments can issue them.)

The trucking industry devoted some 362,000 hours and $5.4 million to complete these "bootleg" forms. On top of that, the accounting office learned that the data gathered in two instances was totally useless.

According to GAO investigations, the ICC isn't the only federal agency dodging the Federal Reports Act. In another study commissioned at my request for the Joint Economic Committee, the GAO revealed that the Environmental Protection Agency ignored the act when setting 126 business reporting requirements.

Like their colleagues at Transportation and the Commerce Commission, EPA officials don't seem to mind printing one form after another, whether they're repetitive or superfluous. The officials have grossly misjudged how much time a firm must take to fill out EPA forms. The GAO found that large firms devote as much as five hours to one form which EPA insists is only a 10-minute chore.

Granted, much of the information which federal agencies gather is crucial for the welfare of both American workers and industry. But the American people have every right to be fed up with the cavalier methods employed by regulatory agencies to accomplish their ends.

IN THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

BY THE REVEREND JIM SMITH
Pastor First United Methodist Church

"Holy Spirit Confirms Salvation"

Romans 8:14 — "For all who are led by the Spirit of God..." The Apostle Paul implies a contrast between those persons who are "led" by the Holy Spirit and those persons who are "not led" by the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is operative in all person's lives, either leading them to God or producing guilt because they refuse to be led to God. It is the Holy Spirit that produces guilt in the heart of the unbeliever according to Jesus' word in John 16:8-9, "because they do not believe in me." And it is the same Holy Spirit that produces confidence in the heart of the believer according to St. Paul in Romans 8:16. When we by faith commit our lives to Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, the Holy Spirit becomes our partner and helper, and we stop fighting against Him and allow Him to lead us.

8:14-15 — "...are sons of God. For you did not receive the spirit of slavery to fall back into fear, but you have received the spirit of sonship." St. Paul says the Holy Spirit causes our attitude toward God to change from fear to filial love. We feel or experience a new relationship with God which can only be described as "sonship." God is no longer distant and unrelated. He is now our Father and is concerned with our fullest satisfaction, our deepest needs and concerns. Our attitude toward Him is so changed that we cry out, "Abba Father," which means "my Father."

8:16 — "It is the Spirit Himself bearing witness with our spirit that we are children of God." We not only "feel" a difference in our relationship with God, but we are "convinced" it is true. The Holy Spirit verifies with our spirit that we, in reality, have a new relationship with God. This convincing or telling of the Holy Spirit is not just our subjective imagination or inference. There is an unmistakable presence and work of God's Spirit which we consciously recognize as being from above. We know that no amount of good work or positive thinking on our part could erase the guilt of sin in our hearts. Only the Holy Spirit could take it away and give us inner peace. As a result, we feel an assurance that we are in a right relationship with God which we could not muster on our own.

God does not leave us in doubt about our standing with Him. We know where we stand: guilty or forgiven. For those who are still guilty, He invites you to accept forgiveness through faith in Jesus Christ and become part of His forever family.

Guthrie speeds to fame

Guthrie III is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. Guthrie of Floydada. He has won his regional and national titles with his partner, E. Guthrie III.

national success could be just ahead. Guthrie lives in Hurst, is a 1981 graduate of Trinity High School in Euless and skates for the Mid-Cities Speed Club in Irving.

His success can be measured by the fact he is uncertain how many trophies he has won.

The next big meet on the horizon is the South Central Regional Championships Sunday, July 5, through Sunday, July 12, at Will Rogers Coliseum in Fort Worth. A top finish there could send him on to the national competition back at Will Rogers Aug. 8-20.

Guthrie sees hope for a strong regional effort and another berth at nationals because he recently won a pre-regional competition at Big Wheel Skateland in Arlington in the Senior Man Division.

His biggest competition at Fort Worth should come from his teammate Mike Vouklizas of Irving. "Mike has a good chance to win first at nationals," said Barbara Guthrie, Aubrey's mother. "Even though he would like to beat Mike, is top concern is to place."

Guthrie's is at his best in the long-distance speed skating events, although he will be competing in five events during the weeklong tournament.

He is in the senior man division, senior 4-man relay, senior 2-man relay, senior division 4-mixed relay and senior 2-mixed relay.

He qualified for nationals last August in Lincoln, Neb. by placing second in the senior 4-man relay last summer at the South Central Regionals, which was also at Will Rogers.

Aubrey has been competing since he was 10 years old although most of his 50 odd trophies have come during the past two or three years. He has won meets in Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

Vouklizas is not only his top competition, but one of his top teammates, along with Jack Sutton, who will be Aubrey's 2-man relay partner.

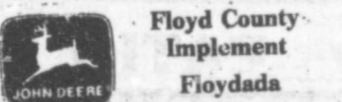

The speed racing division of the regionals will kick off the event at noon Sunday.

The construction of Stonehenge required an estimated 1.5 million hours of labor.

The one thing no cattle here is immune to is fly problems. But, there are some steps you can take to significantly reduce the problems and now early in the fly season, is the time to take those steps. Most effective control, of course, is through mist-blown, water based insecticide, especially if protection of pastured cattle. Entomologists say the effectiveness is due to the exposure of insects resting on grass, fences, in and around trees, as well as on the herd. Impregnated ear tags will help to control hornflies and face flies, although not effective against stable flies. Insecticidal dust bags and back oilers are also popular in some areas and provide protection against some pests. Whatever particular fly problem you have now is the time to take step effective into the fall.

Interest on checking and the strings attached.

In banking circles, it's almost revolutionary. All that hard-earned money in your checking account actually working for you. Collecting interest just like a savings account. Terrific, right? Absolutely. But behind the silver lining there are just a few pint-sized clouds. Minimum balance. Average balance. Limits on check writing. In other words, you can't treat your balance like a seesaw. Or sign checks like there's no tomorrow. Now, keeping track of it all doesn't take an Einstein, but it does take someone pretty smart. A Full Service Bank. The folks there invented modern checking, so you can count on getting good advice. Advice that can help you squeeze the most out of every cent you've got. Advice that's free, incidentally. No you-know-whats attached.

Joel Harrison writes about the baseball strike

Joe Harrison in The Texas Spur: The man on the street interviews I have seen concerning the baseball strike, puts the blame square at the feet of the players.

I don't see it this way. The Supreme Court and Congress have granted baseball exemption from antitrust laws, etc., but to my way of thinking, it is the owners who are asking too much.

Looking at it from the players stand point, if I'm a player and some owner offers to pay me six million dollars to play ball for his team for six years, I'm just fool enough to take it. But, after six years, the player achieves free agent status. This means for the first six years of his career he can be traded at the owners' whim. After those six years, he can deal with any club on the open market; but...and here's the rub...the owners say if the player signs with another team that team must reimburse the owner with another major league player!

Can you imagine private industry working in this manner. For example: Say the Amarillo paper hires the sports editor of the Lubbock paper. Then the Lubbock paper says you have to send them a society editor, a general reporter and one copy boy as compensation. And this is fair? The baseball owners say yes...I say no.

Drawing in Lockney for afghan

A drawing will be held at 2:30 tomorrow at First National Bank in Lockney for an afghan to raise funds for Lockney High School senior Kara Carthel, who has been selected to perform with the Continental Singers on their overseas tour.

The afghan was made and donated by Georgia Ford. Chances, which cost $2 each, are being sold at the bank, the Lockney Co-op, the office of the justice of the peace, J.D. Copeland's office, and by Lockney High School band director Larry Williams.

The Continental Singers are an interdenominational religious musical organization with headquarters in metropolitan Los Angeles.

Each year 280 vocalist and 190 musicians are chosen for the group, from high schools and colleges around the country.

After a week of rehearsal in California, the vocalists and musicians are divided into 15 groups which travel around the U.S. and overseas as the Continental Singers.

Kara's group leaves Monday for a tour of Holland, West Germany, Switzerland, Holland and Spain and the southeastern United States. She will return home August 27.

Funding for each student is paid half by the student and half by the organization.

So far, about $1,000 has been raised for Kara and $1,500 is needed.

A special account for Kara has been set up at First National Bank and anyone wishing to make a contribution may do so at the bank.

THIS SCENIC panorama can be seen off Highway 83 in the Junction area. Approximately five hours from Floydada.

Lockney Care Center news

BY VICKIE HUTTON

We have really been gadabouts the past month.

We enjoyed picnics at Mackenzie Lake, 7th Street Park in Plainview, and Monday we journeyed to Roaring Springs where we enjoyed a lovely picnic lunch prepared by our excellent dietary department.

Those enjoying the trip were Alm McDonald, Julia Garrett, Richard Lanham, Donnie Hester, Mary Jo Fielding, Bertie Bradley, Myrtle Payne, Joe and Estella Castro, and myself.

The scenery was beautiful. On our way to Roaring Springs we took the long way around and went to McAdey and on the way back Richard Lanham pointed out points of interests and shared with us some of his experiences when he lived around the Matador community. Overall the trip was very enjoyable and I had plenty of help driving. I guess everyone has a back seat driver once in their lifetime.

We had three blackout winners this week, Myrtle Payne, Richard Lanham, and Albert Poole. It was really something watching those three divide the blackout prize, a bag of orange slices. We look forward more and more to our games, it becomes more and more enjoyable as the weeks go by.

The ladies of the Main Street Church of Christ gave another lovely birthday party. Those lovely ladies are truly gems. Our birthday honorees are Richard Lanham, 84 years young and Rosella Trowbridge, 82 years young.

We were sure glad to have Chuck Shockley back for ceramics. We truly missed him during his absence. We have really made some beautiful things.

Friday we celebrated the 4th of July by having a picnic on the front lawn. We enjoyed hot dogs, chips, and many different covered dishes brought by the families and the employees. The best part of the picnic was the watermelon we had. It really hit the spot.

We welcome new resident, L.A. Jones from Crosbyton. We are looking forward to having Mr. Jones join in all our activities.

We have Sally Carpenter, Belva Gibson, and Mattie Readhimer in the hospital. We hope their health improves so they can return home to us. We miss their lovely smiles and sweet personalities.

A special thanks goes to Charlie Starker of Flomot for bringing us some delicious peaches. They were a very special treat.

Lockney checks down animals

Lockney City Council is starting a program on livestock and junk kept within city limits.

The council has instructed city manager Paul Lyle to prepare the legal papers to compel property owners with city ordinances dealing with livestock in the city.

J.D. Copeland said there is a problem where one property owner has a pasture within city limits.

Councilmen cited numerous complaints they have received about chickens and horses kept within city limits.

"A little bit of everything is allowed within city limits," according to Lyle.

"Persons who have chickens and other junk and waste on their property and who do not remove the same within two weeks will be officially notified of their violation of city ordinances and actions will be taken against them."

Lyle said residents may file complaints against those keeping livestock on their property by filing a complaint before the city judge.

Anyone wishing to make a complaint, Lyle said, may also call the Lockney City Department and citations will be issued for violations of litter and ordinance.

Grilling is versatile. You can sizzle a steak, grill a burger, barbecue a bird, roast an ear of corn. You can cook many different ways, many at the same time. Grilling is delicious. Get that great outdoor taste at the charcoal mess. No light and a gas grill requires very little heat, no wait either, because cooking temperature is fast.

Grilling is economical. You can cook a full family meal. Gas grilling costs less than electric. It would cost on an electric grill a tenth of the cost for charcoal. Grilling is cooler. Keeps the heat out of the kitchen. Grilling won't have to work so hard during the summer. Grilling is the perfect meal-maker for your car.

Gas Grilling is now 20% off. Buy now and you'll save 20%. This has been reduced 20% since last 1, 1981... and you have sizes to choose from, with all the take grilling fun, convenient.

RONEE THORNTON of Lockney was one of 20 4-H'ers from District 2 that qualified to participate at the state 4-H Horse Show in Waco.

Thornton qualified for Waco 4-H Show

A total of 136 contestants from the 20 counties which make up the South Plains District of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service competed in the two-day show at the Panhandle-South Plains Fairgrounds here. Douglas Shores of Houston judged the show.

High point counties, which received banners, were Castro, first; Gaines, second; and Lubbock, third. Four-H members from Floyd County were among the winners; County Extension Agent Jett Major said.

Ronee Thornton of Lockney was one of twenty 4-H'ers who qualified to represent the district in the State 4-H Horse Show which is to be held July 14-17 in Waco. Thornton competed in several classes, but qualified to go to state by taking top honors in the Western Pleasure Class.

Jim Waller of Floydada also competed at the District Horse Show in several classes and roping events. Both Thornton and Waller represented Floyd County very well at the District Horse Show and are to be commended for their contribution to this 4-H project.

Depression hampers

Cross efforts

in a series of four articles written by S.W. Ross)

Secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce depression period of 1928-1931. The activities of the Red Cross seemed to fall naturally into the Chamber of Commerce which was the only active organization in Floyd County at that time that was capable of handling the various situations which had developed. In many instances weather conditions caused financial disaster for many Floyd County residents.

The Chamber of Commerce had few activities then so we devoted to the programs which the Red Cross was offering. Our Chamber of Commerce office was the busiest because people were coming in constantly for help with food, clothing, and other needs the Red Cross provided in Floyd County.

The American Red Cross segment of the American Red Cross sent many thousands of dollars to the Floyd County Society for help to the needy of this area. I remember one check for $2,500.00 which was a lot of money at that time.

As a result of the flood I was fortunate in having Floyd County people who generously devoted their time, and their money to help others. A few of these friends were Ed Brown, Sr., Lon Davis, Sr., Fred Zimmerman Sr., Mark Martin and others, all of whom have received heavenly reward. Many other friends gave freely and anonymously to the Floyd County Red Cross for the various needs of the county. This, of course, is an otherwise almost unbearable task bearable only because of the many, many times, "The American Red Cross" organizations. God bless the American Red Cross.

World War II the American Red Cross filled many families and individuals who otherwise would have been in need. One sad duty of the Floyd County Red Cross worker was to notify Floyd County families that their son had been killed or wounded in the war. Service to families with men in the armed forces became most important during those years.

The women volunteer Red Cross workers throughout the United States were as energetic and as enthusiastic as were the men volunteers during this war period. They knitted 140,089,000 garments for the Army and Navy, and in addition they made 253,196,000 surgical dressings, 22,255,000 hospital garments and 1,464,000 refugee garments. The work was done under the direction of 3870 chapters of the Red Cross with more than 8,000,000 workers. Floyd County women contributed hundreds of hours of volunteer work to the war effort.

Texas livestock receipts down in 1980

Total cash receipts from Texas livestock in 1980 totaled about $5.2 billion, down some $800 million from 1979, according to preliminary estimates.

These estimates include cash receipts for meat animals, dairy productions, poultry, eggs and livestock products.

The $5.2 billion in livestock receipts should have an estimated agribusiness impact of more than $19 billion on the Texas economy.

Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, says downward pressure on beef and hog prices and fewer cattle marketings accounted for most of the decline in cash receipts from livestock last year.

Cash receipts from crops totaling about $3.9 billion and $633 million in agriculturally related income pushed the state's estimated agricultural income to the $9.7 billion mark, down somewhat from the $10.4 billion recorded in 1979.

Based on these figures, Texas still ranks third in the nation, behind California and Iowa, in total agricultural production, but leads other states in sales from marketing cattle and calves, sheep, wool, goats and mohair, points out Anderson.

Texas also accounts for 12 percent of the U.S. cattle and calf herd and 15 percent of all beef cows.

Cash receipts from cattle and calves totaled about $4 billion in 1980, representing about 40 percent of the state's total agricultural sales. The South Plains, Panhandle and Southwest Texas led the state in cattle and calf sales.

During 1980, cattle feeding in Texas represented 18 percent of the total fed in major cattle feeding states.

Cash receipts from milk totaled $505 million last year, second to beef in Texas' animal industry. Northeast Texas led the state in milk production with Central and North Central Texas closely behind.

Poultry came in third in cash receipts from animal agriculture in Texas last year with a total of almost $500 million. Cash receipts from broilers totaled $254 million, with East Texas leading sales followed by the Coastal Bend and Northeast Texas. Egg sales totaled $165 million, with the Coastal Bend leading in sales followed by East and South Central Texas. Cash receipts from turkeys totaled $57 million, with Central Texas having highest sales followed by the Coastal Bend and South Central Texas.

Cash receipts from hogs are estimated at $108 million, with the South Plains, South Central and Central Texas the top producing areas.

Texas leads the nation in sheep, wool, goats and mohair production. Cash receipts from sheep and lamb production totaled $70 million in 1980 while wool added another $18 million. Leading the state in sheep production last year were West Central, Far West and Southwest Texas.

Cash receipts from goats totaled $6 million and mohair sales reached $31 million, with the top producing areas being Southwest, West Central and Central Texas.

Honey sales also contributed to cash receipts for animal agriculture in Texas last year to the tune of some $5 million. The Upper Coast, Southwest Texas and the Coastal Bend were the top honey producing regions in the state.

While cash receipts from animal agriculture were down some last year, net income came under even more pressure due to ever-rising production rates and inflation continued to be major factors in the continuous squeeze between costs and receipts.

Prospects are for some improvement in 1981 agricultural income, adds the economist. Yet, high interest rates, rising production costs and sagging farm prices remain a challenge to producers.

Corn sales to be subject of regional meetings

High Plains grain farmers and interested businessmen are preparing to take their case to court. Believing that the Commodity Credit Corporation's sale of imported grain in the High Plains is unjust, damaging and illegal, the farmers, elevator managers and bankers are raising the necessary legal fund to block any further sales and collect damages from CCC.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA), with headquarters in Abernathy, is ready to file a lawsuit in behalf of area grain farmers and others in the grain-related industry if executive funds can be raised. GSPA Executive Director Elbert Harp stated, "We have worked with USDA and our High Plains congressmen for months, seeking a solution to this problem. All political avenues have been exhausted." Harp reports that GSPA has been joined by Texas Corn Growers Association, Texas WIFE, Texa Farmers Union, and members of all area farm organizations.

Grain farmers and concerned businessmen have scheduled regional meetings throughout the High Plains to discuss the grain sales and consider the proposed legal action. A spontaneous "kickoff" meeting in Muleshoe on June 29 drew a large audience.

Farmers in the Eastern High Plains area will meet in Plainview on Thursday, July 9, at 8 p.m. in the Hale County State Bank Meeting Room.

July 10 has been set as the deadline for raising the legal fund. It is estimated that the CCC sales will cost a million-pound producer at least $5,000.00 in lost market prices. Farmers are being asked to invest at a rate of $250.00 per million pounds of production to support the legal action. Harp said, "I am now convinced that we will raise the money if the farmers and elevators continue their interest."

Checks are being mailed to GSPA Legal Fund, Box R, Abernathy, Texas, 79311. Harp encourages organizers to call 806 298-2543 or any of the organizers listed above for additional information.

Use rainfall efficiently for top quality hay

COLLEGE STATION — Recent rains over much of Texas have greatly improved pasture and hay conditions. Producers can capitalize on these much needed rains by following a few key steps.

Dr. Neal Pratt, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, suggests several practices for producers to improve hay and forage production.

First, harvest excess forage as hay while its quality is still good. Spring and early summer normally are times of greatest rainfall. With excess rains, it's important to conserve forage growth and quality. As grasses mature, quality declines rapidly. Unharvested forage becomes almost worthless later in the season.

Next, remove low quality grass and stubble from pastures. Even if the hay will not be harvested, it's best to mow, shred or otherwise remove stemmy, low quality grass to encourage fresh, leafy, good-quality growth into summer months.

Third, forage producers can apply fertilizer to improve quality and grow hay for harvesting later in the season. It's also important to get hay tested for quality as soon as possible after harvesting. This enables producers to plan supplemental feeding practices.

County Extension agents and program building committees throughout Texas conduct field demonstrations each year to show the advantages of these and other pasture management practices notes Pratt. Information on county studies is available at the county Extension office.

Lynn Futch named FmHA State Director for Texas

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block announced the appointment of J. Lynn Futch, Washington, D.C. as State Director of the Farmers Home Administration for Texas effective July 6, 1981.

Futch, 55, had previously served as FmHA State Director in Temple, Texas from 1969 to 1977. Since then he has served as Program Assistant to the FmHA Administrator at the agency's national office in Washington, D.C.

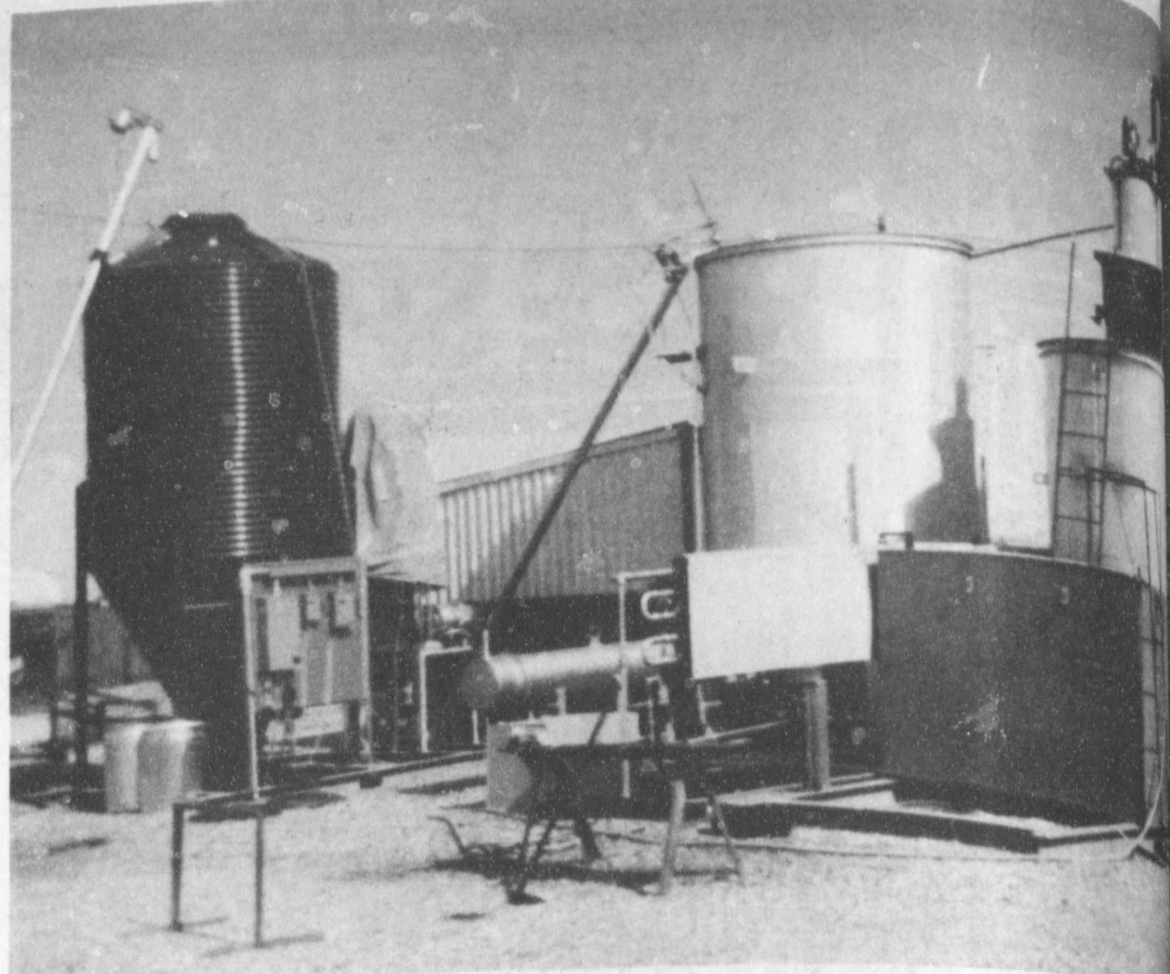

Before joining FmHA, Futch served as Assistant Manager (1954-1960) and Vice President (1960-69) of the Canadian Production Credit Association, Canadian, Texas.

A native of King County, Texas,

Futch was reared on a cotton and livestock farm. He maintained an interest in a cattle feeding operation in the Texas Panhandle area until 1976.

Futch received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Agriculture Education from Texas Technological College, Lubbock in 1949. He served as a pilot in the U.S. Air Force from 1943-45.

The Farmers Home Administration is a credit agency of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. As State Director, Futch will be responsible for the loan and grant activities of 486 employees in 147 county and 20 district offices in Texas. The FmHA State Office is located in Temple.

LUBBOCK'S FIRST FUEL ALCOHOL PLANT goes into production this week and is scheduled to produce 500 gallons of fuel alcohol per day.

First fuel alcohol plant to start production in Lubbock area

Lubbock's first fuel alcohol plant goes into production this week and the new industry carries with it important implications for the South Plains agricultural economy. A.R.D. Inc., composed of area business men and farmers, has spent more than a year building the prototype plant, located at 2715 Slaton Road, Lubbock, Texas.

According to A.R.D. President Bill Casey, the Lubbock pilot plant is capable of producing in excess of 500 gallons of fuel alcohol per 72 hours. Initial batches of the fuel alcohol will be made from outdated milo and corn planting seed acquired from Hunt Seed Co. of Lubbock. Casey says that long range plans include the using of cotton burrs and gin trash for the alcohol feed stock. A.R.D. and a research task force from Texas Tech University, headed by Dr. L.D. Clements of the Chemical Engineering Department, are participating in a grant of $179,800.00 from the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council (TENRAC) for the development of this new process. Texas Tech researchers have already produced fuel alcohol from gin trash in the laboratory. The A.R.D. prototype plant will be used by the University for refining this new technology.

A.R.D. plans to integrate fuel alcohol production systems at area feedlots, using the Lubbock plant as a model. This phase of A.R.D.'s operation is being coordinated by chairman of the board Durward W. Lewter, who built the large Lubbock feedlot in the 1950's. Lewter managed plants. Integrated production are the "waste of the morning" who is now an assembly of the morning worship a gram to operate a workshop. A "Media Day" is available for a tour of the plant will be the near future. Area public officials, including Governor Bill Clements, Claydon, Senator E.L. Clifton and others will be present for the opening ceremony.

NOTICE

As of July 1, the Cotton Board will be located in the E.H. Crump Building on 5350 Poplar, Suite 210, Memphis, Tennessee. We will have a new phone number which is (901) 683-2500. Our mailing address will remain the same, P.O. Box 2121, Memphis Tennessee 38159.

Landscape & Gardening

BY KEN LANGLEY

OKRA
Grown extensively in home gardens in the South, okra is commonly served as a main dish vegetable. It can be used fresh or may be frozen or canned.

A 25-foot row of okra should produce 25 to 75 pounds of edible pods, depending on variety, care, weather conditions, and length of harvest season.

HARVEST CAREFULLY
Cut the pods with a knife or shears. In any case, harvest very carefully so as not to give a good yield but before they become fibrous. This is usually when the pods are about four inches long or between the fourth and seventh day from the time the bloom opens, depending on variety and weather conditions. Perference of the harvester as regards pod size is also a consideration.

You can grow your own seed if you raise only one variety of okra and have no near neighbor growing another variety. Late in the season allow a few plants to develop mature seed. After removing seed from the pod, dry thoroughly and store it in the refrigerator in a closed container until the next spring. Then you can be assured of having seed of the kind wanted as planting time.

The okra pod becomes fibrous from the tip down. To be edible a pod should allow a knife blade to pass through it without providing noticeable resistance. Okra pods that get fibrous or tough on the plant will slow down the plant's growth and decrease yield.

Several pests can injure okra, with nematodes probably the most serious. Gardens that have remained in the same location for several years usually are infested with these small round worms. The only remedy is to periodically treat the soil with materials that will kill most of them. Obtain directions for treating soil from your county agent.

Periods between harvest should be short, usually not over two or three days. Even then there will be considerable variation in the length of pods harvested.

With other conditions favorable, a fair crop of okra may be produced despite nematodes. But the harvest season is likely to be shortened.

The harvested pods should be handled with care, as they bruise easily. The pods will wilt rather quickly when harvested during warm periods. Therefore they should be used or stored at 45 degrees to 50 degrees F and relatively high humidity as soon as possible after harvest. A home refrigerator provides adequate storage conditions.

Wilts may kill or injure okra plants. The organisms that cause wilt are soil-borne and require soil treatment.

CUTTING BACK
Sometimes when plants get too large they are cut back and allowed to sprout again near the soil surface. If this is done, apply a top-dressing of a readily available nitrogenous fertilizer.

Several insects also may cause damage to okra. These include the corn earworm, which eats into the pod, and stinkbugs and ants which are especially troublesome late in the season.

Recommendations for producing pests vary as new products become available or old ones are taken off the market.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.
