

Floyd County to be "Texas Highways"

Floyd County will be featured in a state wide publication sometime this year because one resident wrote to the magazine and described the beauty in the area.

Buddy Lutrick has been reading "Texas Highways" magazine ever since he started working at the Texas Highway Department in Floydada.

The publication spotlights different parts of Texas each month with strong emphasis on color photographs.

Lutrick wrote to Sandy that most of the photos were of lush green parts of the state.

"I saw all those pictures of trees and lakes," she said, "but I think our area is a real beauty, too."

Lutrick expressed her feeling about West Texas in a letter to Frank Lively, editor of the magazine. She mailed the letter in June. Monday she received a reply from Lively thanking her for writing.

Lively said that because of her letter they were definitely interested in spreading the word on Floydada and set the date tentatively for the middle of the year.

Lutrick confirmed their intention during a telephone conversation, from his home in Austin, with the Hesperian.

"We are interested in photographing the crops," Lively said, "a photograph can find the beauty when the average person can't see it. The photographer is an artist."

Lutrick went on to say that one of his staff members was particularly impressed with the color possibilities of maize in full head. They weren't interested in the cotton crop since the October issue will carry an article about the Lubbock area.

Lutrick said that they were also interested in photographing the Caprock as they flew off into the canyon.

Lutrick said that he is definitely going to send a team here but is not sure when it will be this fall or next spring.

Lutrick said that he was impressed with the description in Sandy's letter. A copy of the letter follows.

born and raised in West Texas, and am employed by the Department of Transportation and Public Transportation, where I first became aware of the Texas Highways Magazine.

Understanding pictures of creeks, rivers, mountains, lush greenery and rolling hills around lakes, water falls cold and clear. Flowers that grow in abundance without any trouble.

In Floydada, Texas where we are dry most of the year, sandstorms blow days on end, yards and gardens struggle just to stay alive, a thunder storm is a welcome sight. Where hail storms are a menace to us, where tornados can destroy in minutes what's taken years to build, you can lean a double barrel shot gun on a fence, it will rain in one hand and sand blow in the other at the same time.

When you see young cotton coming out of the ground "rowing" it in the early morning or late afternoon sun, to see mile in full head, silks hanging dry on stalks of matured corn, alfalfa green "wind-rowed" ready for baling. Old barns barely standing and a new irrigation well close by. Old barns gone that once housed horse drawn farm machinery. Land so flat you can see the horizon at night you can see a complete circle of lights of the surrounding towns. Where the Plains kneel to over look the canyons of the West.

This is a different kind of beauty. Maybe the old saying "Beauty is in the eye of the beholder" was meant for us in West Texas.

Maybe you could catch some of this in one of your issues and let us share the rest of Texas a little of what God has blessed us with. Thank You.

Energas requests rate increase

Energas Company notified the 63 cities on its West Texas City Plant System that the company is filing for new rates for natural gas service to residential and certain business customers, effective September 4, 1981. Floydada and Lockney will be effected.

For the average residential customer on the system, the proposed new rate would increase the cost of a thousand cubic feet of gas by 63 cents, from $3.40 to $4.03.

The proposed new rates apply to domestic and commercial type, small industrial, and large air conditioning customers on the West Texas City Plant System of Energas. About 180,000 customers are affected, in an area extending from Pampa to Odessa.

Energas officials said the decision to file for new rates was made after a study by an independent consulting firm revealed that revenues from the West Texas City Plant System in 1980 were $22.4 million less than the cost of service. The new rates are expected to increase Energas revenues about $18.5 million, they said.

"It has been three years since the last rate increase was requested in West Texas City Plant System rates," Charles Vaughan, Energas president, said. "During that time, the consumer price index has increased about 40 percent and our costs for material, labor and taxes have increased proportionally. These increases coupled with certain inadequacies in our purchased gas adjustment clause have produced a serious deficiency in earnings from the system."

Vaughan said that, while the new rates cannot change the imbalance between revenues and costs that occurred in recent years, they can restore the balance somewhat for the future.

"To provide the service our customers expect, Energas must be able to make commitments for gas supplies well into the future. To do that, the company obviously must have revenues that approximate its present costs," he said.

To the West Texas system customers affected by the change, the new rates will mean an average increase of about 18.5 percent. For an average residential customer on the system, using 107 thousand cubic feet per year, the typical monthly bill would increase $5.61, from $30.32 to $35.93.

After receiving notification of the rate change, the governing bodies of the 63 cities and towns on the system may take no action at all, in which case the rate change becomes effective September 4, 1981. If the cities decide to act on the request, they are required by law to study the filing made by the Company and set rates accordingly. However, when the 1978 change was proposed, the cities formed a committee to study the request and to recommend what action be taken. Energas officials said it is possible that a similar procedure may be followed on the current rate request.

Energas Company is a division of Pioneer Corporation, a diversified energy resources corporation, headquartered in Amarillo.

IRS says motor vehicle tax due by August 31

Owners of most large trucks, truck-tractors, tractor-trailers or buses must file a Federal Use Tax Return for Highway Motor Vehicles by August 31, 1981, the Internal Revenue Service says. The return is filed on Form 2290, available at any IRS office.

The tax year for the Highway Use Tax begins July 1, 1981, and runs through June 30, 1982. Taxpayers who place vehicles in service after July must have Form 2290 filed with the IRS Service Center which services their area by the last day of the month following the month a vehicle is first used on a public highway.

The Highway Use Tax applies to single unit trucks weighing 13,000 pounds or more, 2-axled truck-tractors weighing 5,500 pounds or more, 3 or more axled truck-tractors regardless of weight, trucks of 9,000 or more pounds equipped for use in combinations, and buses with a gross weight of more than 26,000 pounds.

The tax is imposed on those vehicles using any public highways, city streets, state roads and interstate highways. Revenue from the tax help states in financing the Interstate Highway System.

For 2990 and the free IRS Publication 349, "Federal Highway Use Tax on Trucks, Truck-Tractors and Buses," can be ordered by calling the IRS forms/tax information number listed in the telephone directory.

Whirlwind band moves into second phase

The Whirlwind Band is in what has been described as the second phase of the director's building process.

Tuesday rehearsal had as many as 106 members for morning practice. Twenty-eight of those were freshmen.

Band Director Bruce Kenner said, "Everything is much smoother this year, we are much further ahead than we were this time last year."

NEW DIRECTION

Kenner took over direction of the Floydada band program in fall 1980. He began the first phase of building an award-winning band. In this second phase he said he plans to continue to improve. He stressed attitude improvement as the key factor in deciding the band's future. Kenner said that the band is improving daily.

REHEARSALS

Kenner said the schedule for next week's rehearsals will be 9:00 a.m. brass sectionals; 9 a.m. flag practice;

10:00 woodwind sectionals; and 11:00 a.m. percussion sectionals. All of the above will be Monday through Friday of next week.

Twirlers will practice Monday through Thursday from 6:00 to 7:00 p.m. and the full band will rehearse from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

"We have had good turn-out and good response so far this year," said Kenner, "a lot of that is due to good leadership and the band booster program."

BAND BOOSTERS

"I couldn't ask for a better band booster organization. They work hard and are very responsive to new ideas," said Kenner.

The band boosters plan an ice cream supper at the Floydada High School cafeteria for all high school band members and their families next Tuesday after full band rehearsal.

This Week

Ice cream supper

The Floydada Band Boosters will host an ice cream supper for all high school band students and their families on Tuesday August 11 at 8:30 p.m. in the FHS cafeteria.

Social security

A social security office representative will be in the Floyd County courtroom on Wednesday, July 13 to answer any questions or problems with social security.

Hesperian closed

The Hesperian office will be closed next Thursday, August 13, and Friday, August 14. It will reopen for regular business hours on Monday, August 17.

Small businesses

The SPAG small-business workshop will be tonight in Lubbock. Contact Susan Gams at 983-3434 if you want to attend.

Floydada police chief and family members endure water mishap

The Floydada police chief and his family recently experienced a brush with death as they vacationed at Port Mansfield on the Texas Gulf.

Police Chief Scott Newton, his wife Louise and their son Willie, his wife Karen and grandson Steve had gone to help Karen's father with a small building he was constructing on an island.

Upon their return at 4:30 p.m., the boat throttle jammed.

"A large wave hit the rear of the boat and lifted it as the front end went down. Another wave swamped us and we were all underwater within five seconds," said Mrs. Newton.

Steve, the Newton's four-year-old grandson was wearing a life jacket. Mrs. Newton was struck in the head.

"Karen grabbed Steve and went down deep. She came up slowly to an air pocket under the boat. Willie was caught on something that kept him under the boat beneath the air pocket," she said.

Willie then began searching for his wife and son. He went after Steve as Karen took off Steve's life jacket under the boat. He failed the first time, but managed to retrieve his family on the second attempt, said Mrs. Newton.

"Scott was still missing. He appeared on the opposite side of the boat. He was apparently hit and stunned by something. He had swallowed a lot of water," said Mrs. Newton.

The water-logged group could see only one boat in the distance. Ernesto and Conrad Cantu from Raymondville were fishing and spotted the capsized vessel. Mrs. Newton said the two fishermen were quite a distance away.

"Within five minutes the brothers had loaded us into their boat and pulled in the boat, upside down," said Mrs. Newton.

When the boaters docked, Mrs. Newton found her purse, full of water. To her surprise, most of her belongings had remained in the upside-down boat. Only a couple of pairs of shoes, eyeglasses, a camera, two shirts and an empty tackle box were lost.

The Newtons had taken four days off to visit their new granddaughter, Traci Lee Newton at her grandparents', Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Jones. The baby was on shore with her mother's parents during the mishap.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Earlier this month a group of thirteen 4-Hers and I spent a week with 4-H families in Floyd County. We had a super time!

We are from South Central Missouri, near the Lake of the Ozarks. Here at home we are surrounded by hills and water; both of which are scarce in Floyd County. However, while there we were surrounded by warmth and love. What a replacement!

The purpose of the 4-H Interstate Exchange is to experience different lifestyles and surroundings. I have mentioned the difference in terrain, but must admit though the lifestyles vary we were compatible. The host families and Agents worked very hard to assure that we enjoyed our stay. We appreciate their successful efforts.

The purpose of this letter is to let the non-4-H people in Floyd County know what a great thing they have and encourage them to get involved in the 4-H program; and, to publicly thank the host families—Choise Smith, G.L. Hight, Buck Ford, Buster Terrell, Bill Whitfill, Waylon Jones, Dean Morris, Eddie Foster, Kenneth Broese and Agents—Jett Major, Ken Langley and Marilyn Tate for their warm hospitality. We're looking forward to hosting them in Miller County, Missouri next year.

Best Regards,

Beth M. Wheeler

The bride and groom are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Davis of Lockney, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip DeLuna of Plainview. The bride was escorted by both her mother and father to the altar.

Linda DeLuna of Plainview was the bride's maid of honor and Larry Beasley, also of Plainview, was the best man.

A formal length white gown was chosen by the bride. It was designed with a ring collar fashioned with the bodice featuring an oval shaped opening at the center front, outlined in lace.

Her full length pleated skirt fell from the lower-tier of the gown. Long fitted sleeves extended to points of the wrists with overpanels of lace on the edges.

To compliment her attire the bride wore a half length veil which fell from a leave shaped headpiece fashioned with seed pearls.

Completing the bridal look the bride carried a cascade of shepanotis cymidium orchids and ivory roses.

Following bridal tradition, something old were the two pennies of the birth dates of both the bride and groom worn in the bride's left shoe, something new was a white gold pendant, a gift from the groom, something borrowed was the half length veil, which belonged to Mrs. June Taylor, sister of the bride and something blue, the traditional blue garter, a gift from the bride's sister, Mrs.

Frances Carlson of Lubbock.

A formal gown designed with a summertime look with an orchid color was worn by the maid of honor. It was fashioned with a lace ribbon for a tie at the waist. Complimenting her attire was the bouquet of cascade orchids and ivory roses.

RECEPTION

There was a luncheon held in the Saint Alice Church Hall followed by the reception. A white cloth covered the table arranged with two cream colored candles and a cake with four layers of orchid and white ripples.

Noland, Gowens pledge vows Saturday evening

Miss Vivian LaDelle Noland and Mr. David Lee Gowens pledged their wedding vows in a double ring candlelight ceremony on August the first in the New Salen Primitive Baptist Church in Floydada.

LaDelle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Richard Noland of Floydada and David is the son of Elder and Mrs. Bernard Gowens of Friona.

Guests were registered at a table in the front foyer by Kay Faulkenberry of Lubbock. The table was covered with a white ecru lace table cloth and contained an arrangement of silk burgundy carnations and roses, and wine candles. Guests were then seated by ushers, Mark Noland of Floydada, brother of the bride; Wade Cargile of Muleshoe, cousin of the groom; and Kelly Reed, of Hart, friend of the groom.

Seated by her eldest son, Mark Noland, the mother of the bride wore a deep grape evening gown of chiffon with long sleeves and accented with a shoulder corsage of pink sweetheart roses and burgundy trim.

The mother of the groom was seated by Kelly Reed. She wore an evening gown of aqua seafoam pleated chiffon accented also with a shoulder corsage of pink sweetheart roses and burgundy trim.

Mothers and grandparents were seated to the piano selection of "A Time for Us."

Following, candles were lit by Karlton Noland, brother of the bride and Penny Kirtley, cousin of the bride, both of Floydada. The lighting of the candles was accompanied by the piano selection "I Can't Help Falling in Love."

All piano selections were performed by Mrs. Rick Covington of Lubbock.

Mrs. Covington accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Strayhorn as they performed a vocal duet of "Sunrise, Sunset." Mr. Strayhorn also sang a solo of the Lord's Prayer. They are cousins of the groom from Snyder.

"Tara's Theme - My Own True Love" theme from Gone With the Wind was then played at the piano as the groomsmen and bridesmaids entered.

The brides attendants were Nesa Jackson, of Lubbock, maid of honor; Jeanie Powell, of Ralls; Lisa Noland of Amarillo, both cousins of the bride; and Lisa Welborn and Tammy Payne, both of Floydada, friends of the bride. They wore identical gowns of burgundy wine Tinaseta knit and chiffon. The criss-cross draped bodice featured stitched spaghetti straps. A slightly gathered skirt swept to floor length. A separate chiffon peplum jacket with dyed to match Venise lace trim at the high neckline and cap sleeves topped the gowns. A self fabric spaghetti belt encircled the waistline. They each carried a shower of long stem pink roses wrapped in burgundy wine satin ribbon and were showered with gypsophila. Each attendant wore miniature pink sweetheart roses and gypsophila in their hair. The flower girl, Ellen Strayhorn of Snyder, cousin of the groom, wore a floor length dress of pink tulle. Gathered at the waist, the dress was accented with a ruffle of material and lace at the neck and hemline and on the cuffs of the sleeves. She also wore pink sweetheart roses and gypsophila in her hair.

Kevin Noland, of Floydada, brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsmen were Randy West of Plainview, David Norton of Farwell and Keith Pryor of Lubbock, all friends of the groom and Daniel Gowens of Friona, brother of the groom. The ring bearer was Brian Hedges of Amhearst, friend of the groom. They were attired in identical Silver Lord West Tuxedos accented with silver satin lapels and grey ruffle shirts. Each wore a burgundy wine rose boutonniere. The groom wore the Formal White Lord West Tuxedo with Bennett Tails. His attire was also accented with the burgundy wine rose boutonniere completed with baby's breath and greenery.

"The Bridal Chorus," played by Kelby Sue of Floydada, friend of the bride, began as LaDelle was escorted to the altar by her father. The altar setting was guided on either side with graduated candelabra meeting on the altar with towering and arched candelabra. The setting was completed as each candelabra was enhanced with English ivy, lemon leaf and fresh leather greenery complimented with large wine and pink satin bows.

Presented in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a formal length gown of white organza, fashioned with a high Victorian neckline edged in Venise lace. The empire bodice had lace motifs enhanced with seed pearls. The dress had long slender lace sleeves that came to a point on the wrist. A full open bishop sleeve overlaid the other and gathered at the wrist. The A-line skirt had lace at the hem line that cascaded into a chapel length train.

To complete the setting the bride wore a derby hat of white chiffon accented with matching Venise lace and seed pearls sprinkled throughout. A silk rose held the brim at the left side and a large bow at the back of imported illusion flowed into a fingertip veil. The bride carried a bouquet of white Jack Frost sweetheart rosebuds and bridal stephanotis showered with white baby's breath. The bouquet was carried over a white Bible given to the bride on her thirteenth birthday, by her mother's late maternal grandmother. For something old she wore pennies in her shoes that contained the year of the bride and groom's births, something new was her wedding apparel, something borrowed was a one carat diamond pendant from her step-grandmother, Mrs. Gerald Sams of Fort Worth. Something blue was the garter her mother wore in her wedding.

After the vows were completed by Elder Bernard Gowens of Friona, father of the groom, the couple then lit the unity candle as "Songs of Life" was sung by Neil Diamond.

Special guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sams, of Fort Worth, grandparents of the bride; Mrs. Bettie Counts, of Lockney, great grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Larry Simmons, of Waldorf, Maryland, cousin of the bride's mother. Elder and Mrs. S.B. Gowens of Lubbock and Mrs. Estella McBride of Roswell, New Mexico, all grandparents of the groom.

RECEPTION

The reception was hosted by the bride's parents in honor of the bride and groom and was held at the First Baptist Church Parlor.

The round table which held the bride's cake was laid with candlelight satin that came to floor length and was draped with matching illusion held at points by wine satin bows and streamers. A pink flowing fountain surrounded by fresh English ivy, lemon leaf and green leather was accented with wine and pink roses and baby's breath and served as the foundation. Above the fountain were three graduated tiers each separated by tall airy columns. Under the top layer were Gumpaste figurines, identical miniature replicas of the bride and groom in their wedding attire. They were designed especially for the bride and groom by Charline Langley, friend of the family and presented as a wedding gift.

At the top of the cake was a pair of pearlized ceramic doves intertwined and encircled by fresh greenery and roses.

Extending on either side of the bottom layer of cake were stairways flocked in freshcut greenery and roses leading their way down to two heart-shaped cakes suspended by crystal cylinders and supported by two more identical heart cakes. The stairs then led from the top two hearts to two more hearts centered in front of the fountain.

Completing the setting was greenery and roses between the columns of the cake and featured also in the crystal cylinders. Cake was served by Patricia Anderson of Floydada and Kay Faulkenberry of Lubbock, both friends of the bride.

A separate long table held strawberry punch served, from crystal appointments, by Melissa Hale of Floydada and Kara Copeland of Amarillo, both friends of the bride. Silver trays held the strawberry mints of white chocolate and the mixed nuts. The bride's attendants and her bouquets completed the candlelight setting.

The grooms table was a round table covered in a floor length wine cloth and overlaid with parchment colored lace. On the table were two handmade Porcelain Roses in wine and parchment color, they held two wine candles.

The grooms cake was a three layer red velvet cake with parchment icing and a spray of wine colored roses in icing. Also the inscription of "Today, Tomorrow, Always" was on the cake in metallic gold lettering. Parchment napkins with the same inscription, the bride and grooms names and date were used. The table was complete with a silver coffee service. Servers were Shelly Gowens, of China Springs, cousin of the groom and Terrie Martin, friend of the groom, of Muleshoe.

Following a honeymoon trip to Galveston, the couple will be at home in Muleshoe.

REHEARSAL DINNER

On Friday evening, the rehearsal dinner was held at K-Bobs Steak House in Plainview immediately following the rehearsal. The dinner was hosted by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gowens of Friona.

Three long tables were covered with white linen cloths and decorated with twenty brass candlesticks holding pink tapers. The tables were complete with three pink silk rose arrangements with greenery in brass containers.

Monte Williams raises thoroughbreds for polo

BY DON STRASNER

Monte Williams is quick to point out that Texas Cowboys are as good or better than the gauchos of Argentina. And when it comes to polo, the world's "dark horse" contender for a professional spectator sport, Monte is certain that American horses, on the whole, are superior to those bred in Argentina for the sport. Working in the living room of the old historical T-Bar Ranch headquarters 14 miles south of Floydada in Blanco Canyon, Williams admitted that the Argentines are the world's best polo players, but said "I'm a Texan. I'll argue about them with the world's best horsemen."

At the time of this interview was on leave from Ft. Sill, Oklahoma where he was a Pershing Missile platoon leader with the rank of 2nd Lieutenant in the U.S. Army. When he gets out in 1983, he plans to come back to the ranch and pick up where he left off, assisting his father, Q.D. Williams, in running the five-section polo operation — and — most importantly — raising thoroughbreds, working them as horses on the ranch until they are ready to turn over to a professional trainer who will be trained for polo.

Monte became interested in polo when he was a student at Texas Tech and participated in a polo club there. Afterward he worked with world-famous polo player, Harold Barry, of Truscott, intensifying his knowledge of training for polo.

An established polo horse might sell for as much as $5,000 to $10,000. The T-Bar Ranch was established by Civil War Veteran Thomas Montgomery in 1880. At one time it was free range. After homesteaders came in there were 14 sections deeded to the ranch in Blanco Canyon. "The water level dropped in Blanco Canyon and the river in the canyon when irrigation came into use," Monte explained. Williams hired on as foreman of the ranch in the mid 50s for Tom Montgomery's daughter and J.S. Hale was in charge of the farming. Eventually W.W. Johnson sold the ranch to J.S. Hale and Q.D. Williams. The Williams' ran a cow-calf operation on four of the sections and lease the section of land to Howard Bishop.

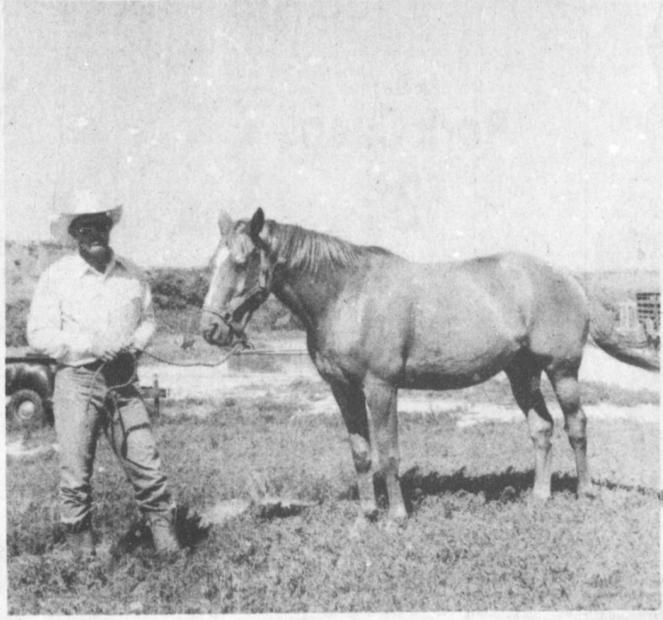

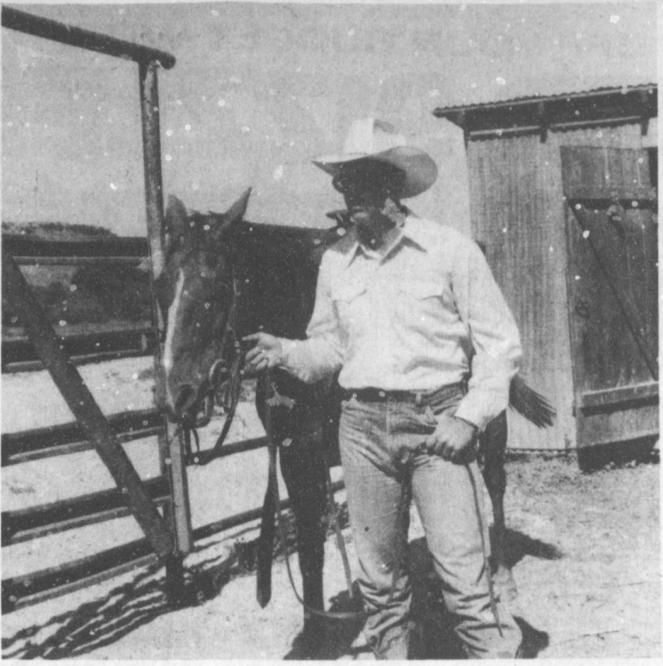

Williams, the matron at the ranch, still cooks for the household, but has been active in helping with the T-Bar Ranch replica in the museum at Floydada, is active in civic affairs there and writes occasionally for publications. Monte's brother, James Williams, is also an MP in the military and is also stationed at Ft. Sill. Monte's older sister, Nancy is married to Andrew Goodwin, a rancher at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. Q.D. and Joyce are the grandparents of three, soon to be four, grandchildren.

Monte patiently explained the game of polo: There are four players on each team. The object of the game is to hit the ball between the goalposts, which are 24 feet apart. Every time a score is made, the teams change directions. A game is made up of eight "chukkers" (periods) of play at 7½ minutes each. The field is 300 yards long and 200 yards wide if unboarded and 300 yards long and 160 wide if boarded. A point is scored each time the ball is driven between the uprights, which are placed on both ends of the playing field as in football. The ball, of willow root, is about 4½ inches across and about 4¼ ounces heavy. Players use 50-53 inch-long mallets. At the T-Bar Ranch the Williams' raise thoroughbreds, because as Monte explains, "a quarter horse is built more for a burst of speed and a thoroughbred is built for endurance."

Monte went out to the corral and Monte rounded up two polo horses (Monte explained that they are no longer referred to as "ponies"), a six-year-old thoroughbred mare "prospect" and a 20-year-old retired veteran polo horse belonging to Harold Barry.

Monte said the retired horse belongs to Barry and that Barry had used the horse in England twice, playing against Prince Phillip and Prince Charles of England; in Texas twice and all over the East and West Coasts. "He played 9 or 10 years longer than the average," Monte said.

It takes two to three years to train a polo horse. "This horse," Monte said, referring to the veteran horse, "is big, powerful and fast. A polo horse has to have stamina, but he has to have discipline and disposition and agility. We do our ranch work on them first. When we sell them to a player they have a stick and ball practice session. Riders get out in an open area and hit the ball while riding them. We need them out here at the ranch all along the way. Some don't have the ability. They might have the stamina but not the ability. Or they might not like the stick. And some get lame."

Century III Leaders to award $200,000-plus in scholarships

More than 200 college scholarships, ranging from $500 to $10,000 each, will be awarded this fall to high school seniors across the United States in the Century III Leaders program.

Applications, which must be filed by October 16, 1981, are available through local school principal's offices. The scholarship awards will total more than $200,000.

Sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, which represents more than 35,000 secondary school administrators, the Century III Leaders program seeks to stimulate creative thinking among those young people who will be solving the problems of tomorrow.

Finalists are awarded $1,500 scholarships and two alternates are given $500 scholarships.

These 102 finalists receive all-expense-paid trips to Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia, to attend the national Century III Leaders conference. During this conference, one student is selected for the top award of a $10,000 scholarship while nine others get $500 each, in addition to the $1,500 won at the state level.

All state finalists and alternates become members of the Century III Leaders Alumni Program. In addition to receiving a newsletter, alumni may apply for grants of up to $5,000 (beginning in their senior year of college) for post-graduate study or to support research in a public service agency. As many as six grants are awarded each year.

The scholarship selection process begins at the local high school level. There, students are judged on their leadership abilities, community involvement and awareness of current events.

Advancing to the state level, each school winner then prepares a brief projection which outlines not only a particular need or challenge America is likely to face in its third Century but also how that problem should be solved. In each state (plus the District of Columbia) two

Funding for the Century III Leaders program is provided by Shell Oil Company, which has supported the program since 1976 when it was called "Bicentennial Seniors." The Century III Leaders program is an outgrowth of that project.

Additional information is available by writing: Century III Leaders, Box 1262, Arlington, Virginia 22210.

It's Not Easy

I have my virtues, but I found the same old grey-green eyes looking back at me.

Another time when I was a little older. I decided I needed to have ESP. Surely, if I just thought hard enough I could know the future. Just like Jean Dixon. I would lie awake waiting for a prophetic dream.

I may be a little older now, but I'm afraid I'm not too much wiser. I don't waste my time wishing for violet eyes or ESP anymore, but I do find myself wishing for a snowstorm on a hot August day.

In the book Shogun, which was made into a television movie, the English sailor marooned in Japan attempts to learn patience the Japanese way by learning to sit quietly and drink tea from an empty cup. Supposedly, if you tried hard enough, you could really taste the tea that wasn't there.

Perhaps learning to drink tea from an empty cup would be easier than acquiring violet eyes. At least, if I could master the technique, perhaps I could learn to eat ice cream from an empty dish. Then I might really have a surprise some morning.

Losing five pounds might be almost as good as having violet eyes.

Social Security News

BY RAY PURCELL

One of the strengths of the social security system has been its ability to change over the years to meet society's changing needs. When the Social Security Act became law in 1935, the country was in the midst of a depression. The population of the United States was 125 million, about 100 million less than it is today. Out of a labor force of 53 million people, almost 11 million were unemployed.

The very magnitude of the problem precluded any of the remedies that private charitable organizations had been providing until that time. Some kind of income replacement on a massive scale clearly was needed.

It was against this background, and with the recognition that individuals are subject to economic conditions over which they have no control and for which they cannot adequately prepare, that the Federal Government began taking an increasingly active role.

The Social Security Act from the very beginning was intended as a piece of legislation that would evolve with the times. President Roosevelt referred to it as the "cornerstone in a structure which is being built but is by no means complete." So it should not be surprising that the program has been amended on several occasions during the 40-plus years of its existence.

The original Act was rather modest in design. In regard to social security, it established a Federal system of benefits for retired workers only. However, the program has been amended on a number of occasions as the country has decided that additional protection should be part of the program.

The first significant changes, in fact, were made even before the original Act became effective. Recognizing the need of persons other than the retired wage earner for some form of income replacement, Congress extended coverage to dependents and survivors of retired workers. During the years following World War II, the same philosophy prompted further extension of coverage to include many types of jobs that had been excluded, such as regularly employed farm and household employees, self-employed persons, and, on a voluntary basis, employees of State and local governments and nonprofit organizations.

Through the years, other amendments to the Social Security Act liberalized the work requirement needed to qualify for benefits, increased payment levels, and provided more adequately for dependents of insured workers.

Even more significant was the addition of disability insurance in the 1950's, and health insurance for the aged—or Medicare—in 1965. Then Medicare was extended to persons who have been entitled to disability payments for at least 24 consecutive months, and to individuals who have permanent kidney failure.

These changes were all designed to keep the social security system responsive to current needs. The fact that the program is subject to change demonstrates its dynamic nature.

Today social security is once more being called upon to adapt to society's changing needs. The system is being influenced by a host of economic and demographic factors—such as a high rate of inflation, lower birth rates, and the changing role of women in the labor force and the program will have to adjust to these new conditions.

It is this characteristic of adaptability to changing needs that makes social security as relevant for the decade of the 1980's and beyond as it was for the period in which it was enacted.

Any questions regarding social security and its program may be obtained by calling our toll-free number 1-800-392-1603.

Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives

The President has won. Both parts of his economic recovery plan has passed the Congress, and the success or failure of the plan will be credited to Reagan.

There has been a great deal of justifiable concern over the plight of the aged and elderly. With most of the cuts coming in social areas, and with the cuts rumored, and possibly true, fixes on the Social Security system, some people are going to suffer.

Without bothering to get into the volatile issue of military spending, it seems to me that there are some things that the government ought to be doing in their mad dash to cut government spending.

One thing they could do is learn to be more efficient in how they spend money. A recent study by a New York insurance firm showed that independent charitable organizations are something like five times more efficient in distributing services and keeping the overhead costs down, and figures for major denominations are even better. Maybe when you have to beg for your money, you tend to be more responsible.

Another thing the government could do would be to eliminate wasteful spending, beginning with their own house. The GAO has determined that there is still an impressive amount of unnecessary travel taking place in the government. Former senator Henry Talmadge appeared on the Atlanta recently. At the end of the interview, the commentator more or less gratulated the senator on the size of his pension after so many years in Congress, his reply was, "Yes, the Congress takes care of its own. Sometimes a little too well, I'm afraid." We need to eliminate the "little too" as much as we need to eliminate welfare cheating.

The Church, on the other hand, needs to do more that just call the government to fiscal responsibility. In the early days of the Church, it took care of the needs of the elderly, the poor, the widows and the orphans. It was one of the elect need to examine our priorities as much as the government.

They were joined there by another son Bobby Plumlee and family members of Amarillo. Among those attending the Henry Brewers 60th anniversary reception at Crosbyton Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warren, Anthony Latta and Mrs. James E. Green. There were 65 for dinner and many came through the afternoon. It was a delightful occasion. We were happy Sunday to have the Bro. Hollis Paynes home again. But glad they had such a good time on their vacation.

The Clyde Greens, touring Europe on their vacation have taken an apartment in Austria as headquarters for their other visits and are joined by their married daughter from Pakistan. They are getting a bit homesick, we hope, for sunny New Mexico. It had been raining for 10 days, and floods all over Europe. Then the sun came out.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mayfield were in Lubbock last Wednesday for last rites of Mrs. John D. Phillips of Amarillo, a sister of Mr. Mayfield.

A brother of Gordon, Otis Mayfield of New Home in a Tahoka Hospital passed on late Wednesday and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mayfield attended last rites at Tahoka. They have word this morning that a cousin, Claud Suddeth, whom they visited in the Crosbyton Hospital last week, passed away this morning.

Another brother Wiley Mayfield of Portland, Oregon is in a hospital. Let us uphold these in their more than triple sorrow with our prayers. Our sympathy is with them all.

Lakeview News

Lakeview rain was between 3-4 inches

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

A good general rain last week, Tuesday and Thursday night, left 3 to 4 inches of rain over the community. Several farm families decided to take advantage of the rain and no irrigation duties to go away for short vacations before school starts later in the month. 1/2" of rain fell Sunday night of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Bertrand and daughters, Angie and Misti, and their guest, Angie Hinsley, went to Six Flags Over Texas Thursday through Saturday. On the way home they stopped by the Ronald Bertrand's at Vernon.

Jim Bob Hambright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hambright, had his tonsils removed at Methodist Hospital Wednesday and was home on Thursday. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Hambright, visited him at his home.

Mrs. Benny Golightly of Lubbock was hostess to her two grandchildren, Rance and Lacy, this past weekend. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dayne Golightly celebrated their wedding anniversary over the weekend.

Mrs. Agnes Robinson of Crosbyton visited her cousin, Mrs. Viola Brown, Thursday. Both ladies went to Floydada on business, and visited their cousin, Frank Smith. Later in the evening the ladies traveled to Falls to visit their cousins, Josephine and the J.A. Wheelers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn visited in Floydada Sunday with Mrs. Dunn's sister, Mrs. Clarence Ashton, who was brought home for the day from the Lockney Care Center. Mrs. Armalee Scott called from Amarillo to report to her sister, Mrs. Dunn, that their mother, Mrs. Fuqua, is doing very well in the rest home there.

Mrs. Dunn has been freezing and canning peaches and apricots, and looking forward to a visit next week from her two daughters, Snowdrop and Norma, who plan to arrive August 11.

I HAVE SET THEE A WATCHMAN

"For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?" (1 Cor. 14:8).

The Prophet Ezekiel was appointed by God as a "watchman" over the house of Israel (Ezek. 33:7). He was held responsible to warn the wicked from their way, for while God must deal justly with sin, He had declared: "I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live" (Ver. 11).

If Ezekiel failed to warn the wicked, they would die in their sins, but their blood would be required at his hand. If he faithfully warned them, however, and they refused to heed the warning, they would die in their sins, but he would be absolved of all responsibility (See verses 8,9).

Would some Christian reader remind us that we are living under another dispensation and that our message is one of grace? True enough, but this does not diminish, it increases our responsibility toward the lost.

If we believers carelessly allow the lost to go to Christless graves, are we not morally responsible for their doom? Will we not be held accountable at the Judgment Seat of Christ? (See II Corinthians 5:10,11). This is why we find Paul reminding the Ephesian elders that he had not ceased to "warn" men "night and day with tears" (Acts 20:31).

As the apostle looked back over his ministry among the Ephesians he could say: "I take you to record this day that I am pure from the blood of all men" (Ver. 26). And this had been so of his ministry in general. Indeed, it was now his desire that whatever the cost, he "might finish his course with joy, and the ministry which he had received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God" (Ver. 24).

May Ezekiel and the Apostle Paul, that great warrior for the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, be memorials to us—of our great responsibility toward the lost!
