

Smith, Hight win gold star awards

Even the drizzle of rain didn't dampen the spirits of the over 150 families attending the Annual 4-H Achievement Banquet at Duncan Elementary Cafeteria in Floydada Tuesday night.

Jodie Smith and Keith Hight were presented the prestigious Gold Star Awards during the ceremony following a banquet.

Jodie has been an active 4-H member in Floyd County for seven years. Her 4-H projects include clothing, sheep, foods and nutrition, soil-judging, and livestock judging.

Her project work has won many honors for her, including Honorable Mention for an outstanding entry in the 1980 Floyd County 4-H Fashion Revue, and an opportunity to compete at the state level on the Floyd County 4-H Soil Judging Team in 1981.

She has participated for two years in the 4-H Interstate Exchange Program and has attended District II 4-H Electric Camp for three years.

Jodie has served in a leadership capacity on local and county-wide levels, and is currently serving as a junior leader for the 4-H foods and nutrition project. Jodie is the daughter of County Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith.

Keith Hight has been actively involved in 4-H in Lubbock and Floyd Counties.

During his seven years as a 4-H member, he has had projects in beef, lambs, foods and nutrition, leathercraft, poultry, soil judging, and livestock judging.

He has attended District Electric Camp in New Mexico for three years and has participated in the 4-H Interstate Exchange Program for three years.

Keith has held several offices in the Lockney 4-H club and has served on the Floyd Co. 4-H Council. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Hight.

Melanie Foster served as Mistress of Ceremonies.

Entertainment was provided by the "Lost and Found Band" which is a local group made up of Kay Crabtree, Bobby Miller, Jerry Ford, Bryan Sanders and Harvey Allen.

The tables were decorated by individual Floydada 4-H members to depict various projects on their 4-H curriculum. Table themes included: clothing, shooting sports, recreation, livestock, bicycle, foods and nutrition, camping and poultry. Chris Fulton gave the invocation.

The pledge of allegiance was led by Walker Brooks and Mitch Ross gave the 4-H motto and pledge.

Ralph Scheele introduced the guests. Judge Smith presented the awards with Karyn Foster, Brooks, Ross and the county extension agents assisting.

Under the special awards category Warren Mitchell and Betty Edwards were honored as outstanding adult leaders.

Meritorious service awards went to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sherman and Lighthouse Electric.

The "I dare you awards" were presented to Deon Zumwalt and Jill Whitfill. Deon received her award, but Jill is away at school.

hearing slated for 2 p.m. Monday

1982 Revenue sharing budget to be adopted

The commissioner court meeting, October 12, a budget for the Revenue Sharing Funds for the county will be adopted.

The hearing at the September meeting saw several groups receive a share of the estimated government funds.

Funds have been allotted to various areas to be used in the county. Though there are no funds on how the money is used, it was originally intended to be used for parks, libraries, hospitals, buildings, and other public uses.

Floyd County the greater share of funds have been divided among the various groups represented to be used for machinery, road or county maintenance. In the 1981 budget, $54,800 was earmarked for the year. In the 1982 proposed budget, $54,750 has been designated for the year.

Remaining funds have in the past been divided among the various groups represented of the county residents. The Plains Mental Health/Mental Hospital was allotted $3200 in 1981. In the proposed 82 budget for the year.

Senior Citizen - Mini Bus. Even though the Senior Citizens requested funds, they were left out of the adopted budget. They did receive $1,500 a year of money for the Mini Bus.

The Mini Bus expense was originally included in the Revenue Sharing funds. In the past several years it was included in the county tax budget. The fact that the Senior Citizens have been given a share of the Revenue Sharing funds was brought up by the commissioners took the allocation of $1,500 off the tax budget and put it back in the Revenue Sharing funds.

Therefore in the 1982 budget proposal the Senior Citizens have two requests. One for the Mini Bus of $1500. The second request was made at the hearing in September.

The roof on the building used by the Senior Citizens was hail damaged and because the roof is over 20 years old, the insurance would only pay 20% of the repair bill. They asked for $1800 to repair the roof.

The commissioners will discuss all requests before adopting the final budget. Speculation is high that the $1500 will be allotted for the Mini Bus. There is, however, the problem that with government cutbacks the Revenue Sharing funds might not be made available this coming year. Most insiders say that they can't really plan on the funds until the check is received.

If the Revenue Sharing money is not made available, that means there will be no funds for the Mini Bus.

A request for $1000 was made by R.G. Dunlap in behalf of the Soil Conservation saying there would be matching state funds up to $2000. Soil conservation is listed in the proposed budget for $500.

Lockney Library. This year, Janice Lloyd as President of the Friends of the Library made a special appeal for the branch library in Lockney.

The county library is another group that makes requests for funds each year. Their last year request was not included in the budget.

The branch library has no card catalogue. Lisa Mosley, Lockney, said that when students come in for research projects they must scan the shelves to try and locate the books they need.

There are many films available for the Lockney Library but to show them, they must borrow the projector from the main library in Floydada. Both libraries use the films constantly, and receive new films monthly. The library would also need a base for the projector.

"There are materials available for the Lockney library if we have the equipment to use it," Mrs. Lloyd said.

The request for for $2000 and was included in the proposed budget for that amount.

Another $2000 has been included in the budget for a Floyd County Pioneers Shelter Project. A companion story on this page explains the project.

A courthouse fund of $10,000 has been included in the proposed budget for 1982. In the 1981 budget an amount of $28,000 was set aside for the courthouse elevator project. Tentative plans were discussed in the early part of the year, however, the fire inspector vetoed the project, saying the elevator placement would not comply with fire standards. The court then "backed-off" of the project and those funds are in escrow earning interest.

The $10,000 to set up a courthouse fund would reserve money for emergency repairs.

The budget hearing for Revenue Sharing Funds will be held at 2 p.m. on Monday, October 12 in the county courtroom. At this time a budget for the funds will be adopted.

The public is invited to attend.

Funds sought for pavilion on courthouse square

BY NANCY WILLSON

Who needs a courthouse square pavilion?

Floyd County does! Have you ever been downtown on Old Settlers? Kids running, young folks visiting and the Pioneers of our county sitting in the sun. Something needs to be done.

The Community Appearance Committee of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce has decided to take on the responsibility for erecting a Pavilion over the concrete slab on the south side of the Courthouse. This would get the Pioneers out of the sun on Old Settlers and could also be used for various other activities for the young and old alike.

The County Commissioners will be voting on the proposed budget for Floyd County on October 12 at 2:00 p.m. in the County Courtroom of the Floyd County Courthouse. Tentatively there is $2,000.00 revenue sharing earmarked for the erection of this Pavilion.

If you agree that the Pavilion would be an asset for the community, please contact your commissioners, or be present at the meeting, to let them know that we are supporting this project, and hope that they will vote favorably to including this $2,000 in the budget.

Anyone interested in helping or devoting with this project should contact Nancy Willson at 983-3753, or Gene McDaniel at 983-3480.

many youngsters during that time and still be at the front desk and said that it is impossible to do it all.

She said that the filing and the shelf replacement takes a great deal of time.

Also time consuming is the everyday reading about new books to order, and to coincide the ordering with the library in Lockney.

"It seems they just never give anything extra to the library," she said. "It is a good library, but it's just not accessible to the people."

She said that there were many more services that she tried to offer, "but I'm just one." She said that with the library located as it is the county needs a homebound service.

Jackie hastened to say that she didn't mind hard work, but added that she could no longer keep up the pace required to run the library by herself.

One courthouse official said that Jackie had done a tremendous job and cited the improvements that have been made. They went on to comment that in doing so she had worked "every minute." They said that there are certain standards that must be maintained if the library is to continue to get grants from the state of Texas for new books.

County Judge Smith said he feels that each head of a department knows their own situation and if they need help, "I think the court should consider that," he said.

He went on to say that Jackie has asked for help and did use the

EDITORIAL

By Shelly Harris

Most of us who have a project we love approach it with energy and enthusiasm. We have great ideas, plans, and hours to devote.

But things can happen. A person can work too many hours. Face too many frustrations. They can burn themselves out.

I believe this is what has happened with Jackie Walls and with Janice Lloyd and with the many others who have pleaded, (yes even suffered indignity) and have poured time and talent into the libraries they loved so much.

It would be nice to have someone to blame. How about the county commissioners? If you want to see a bored look on a couple of the commissioner's faces just mention the library. If you are looking for support for the library the sound is very quiet in the court meetings.

But citizens of Floyd County, you elect those officials. You are the ones who guide their decisions.

The fact that Floyd County does not have a library that is accessible to the school children past 5 p.m.; that working people cannot use it's facilities after businesses close; that the elderly cannot climb the stairs; that there are not enough funds for the proper staffing and maintenance...that fact is known and understood by everyone in the county.

Yet, we have sat back and let a few carry the load and we have worn them out. The officials are not to blame for this. I am to blame. It's my fault because I should have taken up this cause long ago. The two newspapers should be leaders in a drive for library funds.

You are to blame for not speaking up. Collectively, we as citizens, are allowing one of our proudest institutions to falter when it should, in fact, be growing.

Progressive? When our library is still housed in the county courthouse where it was placed temporarily 30 years ago!

There is money in Floyd County for our libraries. There is county money, revenue sharing money, that can be used. There is tax money that each of us would share. And there is private money for a memorial gift.

I cannot believe that these libraries are not important to our people.

Last night I watched the awards given out at the 4-H Achievement Banquet and was once again filled with that deep-warmth and pride that I feel each time I see the Floyd County adults and youngsters working and playing together.

It is a special thing that you have here and that you have allowed us to become part of.

But to face this world today these kids need every bit of knowledge they can grasp. The teachers at school are handicapped because they can only make assignments that need little library research. Our children are limited...yes limited...held back...not given the same opportunity as the youngsters in surrounding counties.

It is a shame, because our library facilities far outshine anything any of these other counties have to offer.

Jackie is definite about resigning. There is no one of her caliber or her background to take over the duties of county librarian. What to do?

It is up to us, the people of the county. If you want changes tell your commissioner. The library belongs to the county and he oversees the running of it. Let him know how you feel.

Line up some volunteer work, make the library a project for your club. Take part. And if you have been considering a substantial donation for a memorial, please come forward. Now, is the time.

Jackie Walls submits resignation

Jackie Walls has submitted her resignation as Floyd County Librarian to Judge Choice Smith effective on November 1.

Starting her fifth year, Mrs. Walls has been in charge of both the county library in Floydada and the branch library in Lockney.

When asked if she might reconsider she said, "No, I'm going to enjoy being home."

The resignation has caught the County Judge by surprise and he said that they have no one in mind as replacement for the position.

Jim Scheppeke, coordinator of the West Texas Library System has been asked by the Commissioners Court to attend their regular session on Monday, October 12, to discuss the qualifications of a librarian.

Mrs. Walls said that the reason for her leaving a position she has enjoyed is that, "I'm tired of trying to work at my job without being able to do the best that I know how to do." She added, "If you can't do your job the way it's supposed to be done...well, it worries me."

She further cited, "lack of time to do everything that needs to be done," and stated that the running of the library was more than "a one man job."

"The hours are not good for the kids," she said. The only time school children can use the library is from 3:45 p.m. when school is out until the court house closes and thus the library must close at 5 p.m."

Jackie said that she needs to help so

CETA workers, but that program is no longer available.

"But the court has to consider where the money is coming from without raising taxes," he added.

Judge Smith also voiced his regret that she is leaving and said that she had been an excellent librarian and that he didn't know who the county would get to replace her.

Last year, before the county budget was adopted, Jackie Walls requested funding for a part-time employee in the library from the commissioners court. She also requested a new bookshelf for each of the two libraries.

There is no mention in the court minutes about the request for additional help. The bookshelf question was tabled until after January. Finally funds for the shelves was approved.

In June, President of the Friends of the Library, Janice Lloyd, presented a check to the county court for $700 from the "Friends" to be used to purchase a microfilm viewer for the library. At that time Janice asked for extra help in the library. The court took no action on the matter of employees, but aided the library in getting the microfilm viewer.

The libraries are allocated $29,000 per year in county funds. That sum covers all costs from salaries to new book purchase. Off and on there has been a CETA worker in the library. Mrs. Walls explained it is very hard to find someone in the program who qualifies for library work.

4-H week observed by county youth

The Floyd County 4-H Clubs and 4-H members across Texas and the nation are using the theme, "4-H Pathways To The Future," in observing National 4-H Week, October 4-10.

Nearly five million members of America's largest out-of-school youth organization and their 567,000 volunteer leaders are taking part in special activities, notes Dr. John Pelham, state 4-H Leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Texas boasts some 140,000 4-H members and 22,000 volunteer leaders. As the youth program of the Extension Service of state land-grant universities and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, 4-H reaches boys and girls between the ages of 9-19 in every county of the United States. Programs similar to 4-H also involve nearly 4.5 million youth in some 82 countries around the world.

Overall mission of the Extension Service in conducting 4-H programs is the development of youth individually and as responsible, productive citizens, says Pelham.

This year's theme challenges members to become self-directing, productive and contributing members of society.

4-H members learn specific skills of projects such as food-nutrition, animal science, forestry or gardening. They also learn to keep accurate records, make oral presentations and develop life-long management, consumer and communications skills.

They use their skills to contribute to community development through such projects as beautification, historic presentation, work with the elderly, energy conservation and involvement in civic affairs.

Each member works on his or her own "project." Some of these might include auto care and safety, cattle, poultry or swine, bicycling, clothing, dog care and training, child development, foods and nutrition, target rifling, horses or electricity.

There is no membership fee for 4-H. However, each member is responsible for financing his or her own project.

Home economics projects are expanding and growing. These projects no longer include only cooking and sewing. "Members learn practical information and develop skills in home environment, consumer education, child care, home management, clothing and food. The projects help members learn more about their roles in families.

Those in home environment projects learn how to make their homes attractive. Home management projects teach members how to set realistic family goals and take advantage of available resources.

Consumer education projects helps members learn to spend dollars wisely. "They also learn how to shop discriminately and study warranties and time-payment contracts."

Traditional offerings include the 4-H nutrition program and sewing projects.

Upcoming events and opportunities for 4-H members include the county livestock show and fashion revue held January through March; county roundup and district roundup in April and May; state 4-H roundup and teen leader lab in June; district fashion show, county horse show, district trap and skeet shoot, county record book judging and electric camp in July; county camp, county fun fair (project show, poster contest and dog show) and Children's Barnyard in August and September; and National 4-H week, county awards banquet, county food show and district food show in October through December.

Farm Bureau members attend convention

Floyd County Farm Bureau members attending the annual convention and banquet Thursday night in Lockney re-elected Rick Mosley of Lockney as director and chose Ken Campbell of Floydada as a new director.

Campbell replaces Billy Don Colston of Floydada who retired from the board.

M. and Mrs. True of Plainview, district field representative Steve and Mrs. Cochran of Aspermont, district insurance manager Don and Mrs. Grantham of Lubbock.

Chaloupka commended the Floyd County Farm Bureau directors for administering the FB program in the county and urged the membership to be active. "Complacency will kill this organization," Chaloupka admonished.

Although attendance at the banquet and convention was light, those present held lively discussions as to the passing of resolutions to be presented to the state convention.

Martha Gonzales of Lockney reported on the citizenship seminar which she attended this past summer as a representative of the county Farm Bureau, and John Guzman of Floydada told of the firemen's school which he attended through the sponsorship of the Farm Bureau.

Door prizes of two tires each were won by Mrs. Ernie Widener of Lockney and Mike Dietrich of Providence.

President McCormick reported to the membership that Don Morrison who was insurance agency manager of Floyd County most of this year is returning to Plainview to work as a career agent. The county directors are presently attempting to hire a new county insurance manager.

McCormick introduced the county office staff of Mitzi Nixon and Linda Cunyos, secretaries, and Donice Casey and Max Jones, insurance agents.

A gavel plaque was given to both president McCormick and last year's president, Kenneth Pitts. A gift certificate was presented to Mrs. McCormick.

The roast beef dinner was prepared by the Lockney Elementary School cafeteria workers. Pledge of allegiance was led by Lockney Boy Scouts Daron Widener and Chad Jackson.

Gary Ball to lead gospel meeting

Evangelist Gary Ball of Abilene, will be the speaker at gospel meetings Sunday, October 11 through Wednesday, October 14, at the City Park Church of Christ, corner of 5th and Tennessee, Floydada.

This area is not new to him as he formerly served as the minister for the South Plains Church of Christ in Lubbock; in fact, he was instrumental in helping to establish that congregation. After leaving Lubbock he worked as a minister in Arizona for a time before making his recent move to Abilene.

The schedule of services begins with Bible classes at 9:30 a.m. on Sunday, followed by the morning worship service at 10:30. This worship service will consist of congregational singing, prayer, observance of the Lord's supper, free-will contributions, and a lesson from God's word.

The Sunday evening service is at 6:00 o'clock and the weekday services are at 7:30 p.m. These will be similar to the Sunday service with the exception that there will be no communion nor collection. These are designed to afford you an opportunity to worship God in "spirit and truth" as taught in the New Testament (John 4:24).

Pastor Zumwalt cordially invites everyone to attend any or all of these meetings. "A warm welcome awaits you," he adds.

One thing we've probably all learned is to have an appreciation of things that have worth and to know their value. How would you rate yourself on knowing the value of the electricity you use? Take this simple exercise:

1. How much was your electric bill last month? $ _____
2. Divide 30 into your answer to Number 1. This was the approximate cost of your electricity per day. $ _____
3. How many people are in your family? _____
4. Divide Number 3 into Number 2. This was the cost of your electricity per day per family member. $ _____

MAKING A DREAM—The two young Antolini girls are shown here with Tony Francioso and Mariangela Melato in a scene from the movie "Help Me To Dream," that they recently completed in Rome. The two girls were recent visitors for several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Golden of Lockney.

Maria's Daughters are visiting

Two Italian girls who were recent visitors to Lockney have made a definite mark for themselves on the movie scene in Italy. And they may very soon make that same mark in America.

Sandra and Paola, daughter of Tony and Maria Antolini, of Romc, Italy, recently spent several days as the guest of Larry and Jill Golden, at which time their story came out.

The two girls had a prominent part in the motion picture "Help Me To Dream," which was filmed in northern Italy and featured an all-star cast. Tony Francioso headed the cast, with Mariangela Melato, considered second in among Italian actresses only to Sophia Loren, as the leading lady. Also in a prominent role was Jean Pierre Leaud, a leading European actor.

The picture, which was recently released in Italy for movie theater showing, is scheduled for release on television in the United States in 1982. It will also show as a three-part mini-series on Italian television in 1982.

The plot concerns Francioso, an American Army pilot, shot down by the Germans in World War II and hidden out by Italian partisans until the end of the war. He decides to stay in Italy and eventually marries and has a family consisting of a wife and the two Antolini girls.

Tony Antolini explained to the Beacon that the theme of the picture is the dream of Italians to come to the United States which, to them, is a Valhalla of freedom and opportunity—thus the title "Help Me To Dream."

The Antolinis were visiting in Lockney and Floydada in the course of picking up their 12-year-old son Stefano (Steve) who had been staying with the Golden since July and who had been attending school in Lockney. The two families' friendship goes back many years, since Steve's mother Maria was an exchange student here and graduated from Floydada High School with Mrs. Golden in 1964.

The Women's Division of the Chamber has formally adopted this project for their annual January musical-comedy show.

Congress passed a bill last week that allows the federal government to go more than $1 trillion in the red.

Consider for a moment how much money that is.

If you were a trillionaire, you could give every man, woman and child in America $4,695. If you chose to hand out that money in $1 bills and did so at a rate of one bill a second, your gift-giving would take 31,688 years. Or, if everyone who showed up for the Don

Williams reception were given $1 million every year, the fund would not run out for 50 generations.

Lockney Care Center

BY VICKIE HUTTON

This has been one busy week. Our Administrator, Laverne Christian, is in Central Plains Regional Hospital where she had surgery Tuesday morning. We send her our love and hope she is back with us soon. We really miss her, things aren't the same without her lovely smile and her enthusiasm for life.

During Mrs. Christian's absence, Jane Martinez is helping in activities. Jane has worked at the Care Center for 6 months as a Nurses Aide and in the Dietary Department. She has really been a help to me and the residents. Now the residents have someone else to hit with the ball instead of me.

We were really disappointed Monday when we weren't able to go on the bus trip. Our bus driver went on vacation and we didn't know it until after we were already and waiting for the bus. These trips are very important to the residents. They look forward to the trips

The quilting ladies are still on the job. They say they have 2 or 3 quilts they would like to sell and they have one quilt top for sale. These would make good Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Rebecca visited cousins in Lubbock last week. She also had a cousin, Rose Collier, from Crosbyton as a guest at the dinner one day recently.

The Center is serving from 25 to 35 meals every day now. From 1 to 8 or 10 meals are carried out to those at home who cannot or do not come to the Center. The Seniors would like to encourage all who can and will to come to the Center to eat. The association with others helps all to feel better.

Every Monday and Thursday night are game nights. Some 10 to 30 people gather to play "42" or "84". Other games could be played if any are interested. If any were interested they could play after eating their noon meal.

Remember the third Thursday of each month is the regular covered dish luncheon. Bring your dish and come enjoy the day.

Ethel Cross is back in her home now. She has to go back to see her doctor periodically. She seems to be improving slowly.

Study Club hears first aid program

Mrs. Louise Wright gave some useful hints on what to do for shock and heart attack patients. She stressed the need to be calm in time of emergency both for ourselves and for the patient.

She said the E.M.C. and the E.C.A. people really care and give good assistance in time of crises. Anyone can call their hospital for such help.

During the business meeting a letter from Girls Town was read thanking the club for their donation after the fire in the spring that destroyed a dormitory. They invited them to the dedication service, on October 25 at 2 p.m. for a new building to replace the lost one.

Members are to bring Christmas gifts for the Mental Hospital to their November meeting so they can be sent in time. Sugar substitute to be available

A new sugar substitute— aspartame—is expected to be on the market in about six months.

Aspartame, to be marketed under the tradename "Equal" by G.D. Searle Co., was approved recently by the Food and Drug Administration.

The new product is made up mainly of two amino acids, phenylalanine and aspartic acid, points out Al Wagner, food technologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

These, along with other amino acids, are the normal building blocks of protein in foods consumed as part of any healthy diet.

Phenylalanine and aspartic acid combined in a certain manner produce an intensely sweet-tasting substance called aspartame that is about 180 times sweeter than sucrose (sugar), says Wagner.

According to Wagner, aspartame has FDA approval for use as a sweetener in the following foods:

Dry, free-flowing sugar substitute for table use in package units not to exceed the sweetening equivalent of 2 teaspoonfuls of sugar.

Sugar substitute for sweetening hot beverages, including coffee and tea.

Cold breakfast cereals. Chewing gum.

Dry bases for beverages; instant coffee and tea; gelatins, puddings and fillings; and dairy products and toppings.

FDA approval is based on four additional conditions regarding final product labeling and Searle's record keeping.

And food containing aspartame must display a warning statement for phenylketonurics (persons sensitive to phenylalanine, much like diabetics are to sugar) that the product contains phenylalanine.

A statement not to use aspartame in cooking and baking must appear on the label. Aspartame breaks down when exposed to prolonged heat, with a consequent loss in sweetness.

If a food containing aspartame is represented to be for special dietary use as might be expected of a low-calorie product, the food must be labeled in compliance with FDA's special dietary foods regulation.

Searle Co. is to monitor actual use levels of aspartame for the FDA.

Advantages that aspartame is supposed to have over other non-nutritive sweeteners are that it is virtually indistinguishable from sugar in taste, has no bitter or metallic aftertaste, and seems to act like a flavor enhancer for some fruits, such as MSG (monosodium glutamate) does for high-protein foods.

A major disadvantage is that it is not stable to heat for prolonged periods.

Consumers sensitive to the somewhat bitter aftertaste

often associated with saccharin sweeteners will be delighted with this new product as will others who use non-nutritive sweeteners, believes Wagner.

Gonzalez participates in "Reforger '81"

Staff Sgt. Noe C. Gonzalez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Gonzalez of Floydada has participated in "Reforger '81," a series of training exercises conducted by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces in Europe.

Advantages that aspartame is supposed to have over other non-nutritive sweeteners are that it is virtually indistinguishable from sugar in taste, has no bitter or metallic aftertaste, and seems to act like a flavor enhancer for some fruits, such as MSG (monosodium glutamate) does for high-protein foods.

A major disadvantage is that it is not stable to heat for prolonged periods.

Consumers sensitive to the somewhat bitter aftertaste port agreements between military and civilian transportation agencies of both the United States and its NATO partners.

The exercise, stated Department of Defense officials, provided soldiers and airmen the best possible peacetime training for performance of duty under simulated combat conditions.

Nearly 17,000 people along with 27,000 tons of equipment were sent to Europe from the United States in support of Reforger '81.

His wife, Yolanda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Balderas of Lockney.

220 South 2nd - Floydada

Winds give Wildcats run for their money

For three quarters last Friday night, Floydada and Littlefield battered each other on equal terms, but in a five-minute span of the fourth quarter, the Wildcats came up with the deciding factors—big plays.

The big plays, engineered by Littlefield quarterback Bryan Gregory, not only ended the Winds' quest for a perfect season but they rang a 21-7 score for the Wildcats on an otherwise evenly-matched game.

Like a pitcher protecting a 1-0 lead and a no-hitter in progress, Floydada was poised to scratch out a hard-earned victory in the battle of unbeaten and highly-rated AAA clubs. However, each time the Winds seem to have the Wildcats in hand, Gregory reached into his magical bag and turned things around.

Ironically it was a big play on the part of Floydada that got the Winds offense going in the first place and it was big defensive plays by FHS that always preceded Littlefield's shockers.

Slotback Mike Salazar was the first to pull off something big with a 24-yard romp on the third play of the Whirlwind scoring drive. Up until that time (third play of the second quarter), a five-yard gallop would have been considered a breakaway threat. From their own 19 and facing third and seven, Salazar's dash seemed to be just what the Winds needed to get going.

The Winds ground things out for 10 more plays before Bruce Williams followed a Wynsdell Davis block into the end zone from three yards out. Even on the last play things weren't that easy because Williams was hit on the one and had to fight his way in.

Donnell Weeks booted the extra point with 7:30 to go in the first half.

Gregory tried to forewarn the Winds of his later intentions by driving the ball on the ensuing series to the FHS 23 before watching Weeks bat down his fourth down pass on the goal line.

Following a lost Floydada fumble, three plays later at the FHS 38, Gregory ran and passed his team to the Wind 25 where Weeks, Todd Beedy and the FHS secondary spent some anxious moments knocking down potential scoring passes in the end zone as the half ended.

While protecting the 7-0 lead late in the third quarter, Floydada felt the results of one of Gregory's telling blows.

After setting up shop on its own 41, Littlefield faced an aroused Wind defense. Linebacker Mark Nutt sacked Gregory for a five-yard loss on first down while Williams smelled out a screen pass to tailback Scott Blakely and dumped him for a minus two leaving the 'Cats facing third and 17 from their own 34.

Gregory went to work on the next play rolling around his own left end, turning the corner and going 22 yards to the FHS 44 for a fresh set of downs.

The Winds were stunned but by no means out as they forced Littlefield to go 10 more plays before scoring its first touchdown of the evening.

The ground was contested so strongly that it took the 'Cats four downs to go the last three steps with 1:37 to go in the third quarter. Blakely got the score on a one-yard plunge.

Jim Burks kicked the tying point for Littlefield and the game remained a stalemate with seven points apiece and each owning one long, grueling scoring drive. Big plays were soon to change that.

Littlefield got the ball back on its own 48 following a Floydada punt and on the first play, the Winds still appeared to be in control when Nutt pressured Gregory into tossing an errant pass. The next play, however, Gregory tried the left side of his line and got around the corner again for a 39-yard dash to the FHS 13.

Three plays later Blakely got the call again and went over two yards out with 10:35 remaining in the game.

Weeks tried to get something out of the kickoff return when he picked up the ball on his own five and raced cross country to the FHS 31. However, four plays later Floydada was forced to punt.

Littlefield got the ball on its own 39 and four plays later was setting on the FHS 49 with a first down.

The first play was ruined by Robert Nixon when he broke through to nail Gregory for a four-yard loss. The next play was just as good for the Winds as Gregory was chased from his passing pocket and had to dump the ball.

Gregory didn't seem to learn his lesson and the next down wasn't good for the Winds as the 'Cat passer found George Brockington a step ahead of the coverage and hit him with a 53-yard touchdown pass with 5:39 to go in the game.

FHS still wasn't going to roll over as Williams got a good kickoff return and set up the Winds at their own 41.

Following a 10-yard romp by Beedy and a 16-yard effort by Williams, the Winds were at the Littlefield 33. On first down from that point, Weeks tried a halfback pass and Brockington picked it off on the LHS 10.

The Floydada defense wasn't ready to give away any more presents and held the Wildcats at the FHS 39. As punter Clark Pylant set up to punt, Richard Vella broke through with a host of Whirlwinds and literally grabbed the ball off Pylant's toe.

On first down from the Littlefield 28, Lady Luck frowned on the Winds again as Beedy's first pass was intercepted on the LHS 10 by Mark McCanlies and the 'Cats ran out the clock.

The loss drops Floydada to 4-1 on the season as the Winds take a week off to prepare for the opening for District 3-AAA action against Childress. The win gives Littlefield a 5-0 record.

Vinson qualifies for PGA

Mark Vinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerrold Vinson of Floydada, club professional at the Ocotillo Park Golf Course in Hobbs, qualified for the PGA National Club Professional Tournament in West Palm Beach, Florida, last weekend.

Vinson qualified for the tournament, which will be held November 19-22, by placing in the top four during 36 holes of qualifying play last Friday through Sunday at the Rio Ranchos Country Club in Albuquerque. Vinson shot rounds of 72 and 69 for a 141 total, which tied him for third place with Terry Jennings of El Paso.

Joe McDermott of the Albuquerque Country Club was the top qualifier with a 139 total followed by Jim Dixon of Rio Ranchos at 140.

The Club Professional Tournament qualifying rounds were one of three tournaments that were combined last weekend. The first 36 holes of Club Tournament qualifying were combined with the final 18 holes of play Sunday to determine the finishers for the New Mexico Open and the New Mexico Sun Country PGA Sectional. The Open drew 60 professionals and amateurs while the PGA Sectional and the Club Tournament qualifying portion included 40 professionals from New Mexico.

Vinson shot a 72 the final day to finish third behind Dixon and Jim Marshall of Phoenix, Arizona, in the Open. His three-day total was 213. Dixon led the way at 209 while Marshall shot 211. Since Marshall lives outside this section, Vinson finished second to Dixon in the sectional standings.

"I played better than what I thought I would," Vinson said of his performance "but I think I played up to my potential. If I could have putted a little better, I would have surprised myself even more."

The key to Vinson's performance, he said, was his driving. He missed only two fairways over three days, which kept him out of the long rough on the Rio Ranchos course.

Vinson is a 1973 graduate of Floydada High School.

Bumper stickers still available

There is still a supply of "Go Floydada Whirlwinds Beat" bumper stickers and are available at several businesses, including Consumers Fuel, Thompson's Pharmacy, Russell's Equipment, and The Hesperian.

The Quarterback Club points out that District 3-AAA play opens with the Childress game on October 16 and would like to see a large circulation of the stickers to show our Fighting Whirlwinds we are behind them all the way.

The price has been reduced to 50 cents each and will have all the remaining games on the tear-off sheet.

J.V. squeak by 'Cats 7-4

The Junior Varsity scored a 7-4 victory over the Littlefield team on the wildcats home territory Thursday afternoon.

In the first quarter Mark Hatley passed to Mike Ruff for 4 yards and a touchdown. Mac Bearden scored the extra point on a kick.

The game remained a defensive battle until the fourth quarter when the ball was snapped over the Winds punter's head resulting in a safety and 2 points for Littlefield.

With the Winds in possession of the ball on the fourth down situation with 21 seconds left in the game, Max Bearden took an intentional safety from punt formation deep in Floydada territory.

The following kick left Floydada in possession of the ball as the clock ran out.

It was a good defensive effort with the Winds stopping Littlefield twice from inside the 10 yard line.

Next game will be tonight at Childress at 6 p.m.

Breezers battle against the Wildcats

The seventh grade met a tough challenge from Littlefield with one of their best efforts of the year. Johnny Davis scored a touchdown and a two-point conversion. James Toney scored two T.D.'s. Final score was Floydada 20 Littlefield 6.

The eighth grade defense played a good game by not allowing a T.D. to be scored against it. All 24 of the Littlefield points resulted from the kicking game. A punt return, kick-off return, blocked punt. Score was Littlefield 24 and eighth grade Breezers 0.

The seventh grade has a

3-0 record. The eighth grade has a 0-3 record.

Both teams will meet Childress here Thursday with the seventh grade game beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Texas student loan corporation operations deemed success

The Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation announced that over $100 million dollars in student loans had been guaranteed by the corporation since it began its administration of the guaranteed student loan program for the state of Texas in January of this year.

The corporation, TGSLC, was created by the Texas Legislature in 1979 as a public, nonprofit corporation to guarantee loans to college students made by private lenders in the GSL program.

TGSLC was created, in part, to improve private lender participation in the guaranteed student loan program and to provide college students greater access to student loans. Joe L. McCormick, Executive Director of TGSLC noted that the positive response of banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions throughout the state has been tremendous. McCormick pointed out that of the $100 million dollars guaranteed to date, over 96 percent of these guaranteed student loans were made by private lending institutions.

Recently passed federal legislation will restrict the student's eligibility to families with $30,000 income or less. Families with higher incomes will have to demonstrate financial need in order to qualify for a guaranteed student loan. It is difficult to predict just how many Texas students will be adversely affected by these new restrictions which go into October 1, 1981.

TGSLC is confident that the lending community in Texas will continue to provide loans to students and the corporation is dedicated to administering the guaranteed student loan program to maintain their support. In addition, Texas is fortunate in having its own state loan program, the Hinson-Hazlewood Student Loan Program, to assist eligible students who may qualify. Hinson-

Hazlewood Student Loans are also guaranteed by the Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation.

Students interested in making application for a Texas Guaranteed Student Loan are encouraged to contact the financial aid office of the school they plan to attend.

BLAYNE WHITE

Ex Floydada resident at Kilgore College

Blayne White, a graduate of Canyon High School where he played under Coach Dean Wright, is one of 14 returning sophomores on the roster of the nationally-ranked Kilgore College Rangers, seventh-time champions of the Texas Jr. College Football Assn.

White is the grandson of Marie Baxter of Floydada and a nephew of Mrs. Richard Burns, also of Floydada. As a former Floydada resident, Blayne played football with the Floydada Jr. High Breezers while they resided here.

The Rangers went undefeated in regular season play in 1980, and for four weeks were rated in first place by the National Junior College Athletic Assn. poll. They went on to play in the national championship game at the Garland Bowl to finish third in the nation.

Jim Miller, head coach of the Rangers, was also named Coach of the Year in 1980 for the third time by Texas Sports Writers Assn. He is assisted by Jim Prewit, defensive coordinator since 1976, and Marion Turner, offensive coordinator since 1975.

White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry White, of Canyon, lettered in football, baseball and track while in high school. He was named Player of the Week, Defensive Player of the Year, and to the All-District team.

At Kilgore College, he is an oil and gas technology major, and plays rover and weakside linebacker for the KC Rangers.

Block withdraws proposed school lunch

U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block said he is withdrawing the U.S. Department of Agriculture's proposed revisions in meal patterns for federally-assisted school food programs.

Block's statement came shortly after he discussed the issue with President Reagan at the White House today. He said the president agreed the proposed revisions should be reconsidered due to adverse public reaction.

"The president and I both strongly feel that the intent of the proposed revisions was sound and in step with the administration's goal to reduce federal regulation and return flexibility to local units of government," Block said.

"However, it appears that the administration's intent was not clearly understood in the form that the proposals were drafted. Our task now is to study the proposals, restructure them if necessary and again present them for public inspection."

Block said he has been in contact with the White House on the matter throughout the past two weeks. But it was not until after his meeting with the president that Block made the decision to withdraw the revisions.

The regulations, which under administrative procedures were to be commented on until October 5, basically gave local school districts and local school dietitians more flexibility in meal planning.

"The proposal set minimum standards that local school districts must face for federal reimbursement purposes. It did not set maximums or establish school menus as critics of the measure lead the public to believe," Block said.

Pest Management Report

Two meetings have been scheduled to discuss field storage of cotton and harvest aid chemicals. The meetings have been scheduled for 9:30 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 8th at the American Legion Hall in Hale Center, Texas and 2:30 p.m. on the same day at the Chamber of Commerce Meeting Room in Plainview, Texas. All persons interested are invited to attend.

Last week we mentioned the use of light applications of defoliants on rank cotton to take off a few of the top leaves. After talking with Dr. Supak very little is known about what reduced rates would be acceptable. Under some conditions defoliants at low rates still have a potential for excessive defoliations. If this happens to immature cotton reduction in yield and grade may occur.

We hope to look at several rates which a few growers in the area are going to apply. Hopefully this will provide inside into this practice for future years.

Board members heard two reports describing efforts to increase U.S. cotton exports.

Dan Miller, Marianna, Ark., producer and Board chairman of Cotton Council International, said that in July and August the organization had sent trade teams to China, Japan, Korea, and six other Far East countries that account for 80 percent U.S. cotton exports.

He also reported that CCI, the overseas of the Council: (1) will conduct an orientation tour of the Belt in November for foreign mill executives, (2) has launched a cooperative market development program for U.S. cotton in Indonesia, and (3) is exploring opportunities for direct cooperative promotion of U.S. made cotton textiles in certain foreign countries.

David C. Hull, Washington, D.C., CCI executive director, reported that Council President Frank M. Mitchener, Jr., at the invitation of Agriculture Secretary John Block, will participate October 9-21 in a special overseas mission to expand exports.

Discussions will be held with key officials in Japan, Korea, and China. These countries accounted for 61 percent of U.S. cotton exports over the past two seasons, Hull explained.

Armyworm outbreaks have been reported on small grains from several locations in the state. Several species of armyworms attack small grains. Armyworm outbreaks are generally favored by cool, damp weather and their larvae are attracted to green, lush growing small grains. As their name suggests, armyworms may attack small grain fields in large numbers, devouring all plant foliage in their path.

In taller, more mature small grains, armyworms may feed below the crop canopy causing extensive damage before being detected. Periodic inspections of wheat fields should be made in the fall and spring. Early detection is very important because small larvae are more easily controlled with insecticides. Where 4 to 5 larvae per square foot occur and seedling stand loss and foliage loss on older plants are occurring, control measures are recommended.

Insecticides applied by aerial or ground methods will effectively control most species of armyworms. Application rates should be sufficient to penetrate the crop canopy. Baits impregnated with pesticides also have been effective in controlling armyworms.

Greenbugs, the same aphids which damage sorghum, also attack small grains. Greenbugs develop in large numbers on small grains and can cause economic losses. During the winter infested fields may have yellow spots preceding the appearance of small dead areas.

Later, Greenbug may increase and spread throughout the field. Greenbug damage can be increased during periods of moisture stress in midwinter and cool springs. Greenbug damage is often confused with moisture stress or nitrogen deficiency.

Greenbugs reproduce rapidly at temperatures below 55 degrees and 95 degrees F. natural enemies of Greenbugs reproduce slowly when temperatures drop below 65 degrees F. Therefore in cool weather Greenbugs can reproduce and spread, with little control from natural enemies.

Occasionally Greenbug populations of 25 to 50 per foot of drill row in very young, small grain plants may warrant treatment.

Better Business alerts public to solicitors

Consumers and businesses are urged to use caution when being approached by individuals soliciting for donations that will be used to assist the Special Olympics program.

The Better Business Bureau has been advised by Missy Dyer, Area 17 Coordinator for the Texas Special Olympics, that one and perhaps two groups are soliciting in the name of Special Olympics without the approval of Special Olympics Organization.

One group is, via telephone, soliciting funds for tickets to a Special Olympic bowling tournament which, according to Ms. Dyer, is non-existent. Later this EXPORT PROSPECTS APPEAR GOOD: Prospects appear good for the U.S. to increase its share of world cotton exports during the 1981-82 season, the National Cotton Council Board of Directors heard recently.

Council Economist Gaylon B. Booker told the Board that a U.S. "export level somewhat above seven million bales seems a reasonable expectation."

Booker reported that foreign cotton stocks are low in relations to expected use. "This season's beginning stocks represent 31 percent of expected consumption. That compares with stocks at 47 percent of consumption in 1975 and an average of 35 percent over the past 10 years," he explained.

Another factor, Booker said, is that the price of U.S. cotton is more competitive, both in absolute terms and in relation to prices of other growths, than it's been in quite a while.

VA also operates the National Cemetery system.
President Reagan's VA budget authority request for fiscal year 1982 would provide $24.8 billion for VA programs, $1.7 billion more than was spent in the current fiscal year.

The budget provides $12.8 billion in compensation and pension payments to veterans and eligible survivors and $7.2 billion to operate the nation's largest medical system.

Another VA program, GI Bill education, has helped educate some 18 million veterans during its 37-year life span.

Garland Tucker undergoes emergency open heart surgery

BY GRACE LEMONS

It is misting rain again today although there is no measurable amount. Cotton is opening fast and harvest will soon be here.

R.C. and Myrt Guest accompanied their son and wife, Dick and Joy Guest of Floydada, to the farm at Flomut and enjoyed a picnic lunch while viewing the crops Sunday.

Garland Tucker underwent emergency open heart surgery Thursday evening and is reported to be doing as well as could be expected. He is in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. We trust that he will soon gain his strength and our prayers are with him and his wife, Mary Ann.

Albert Mize celebrated his 88th birthday in his home with his wife Clara. Visitors who called during the afternoon were Edna Beth Tye, Winnie Beedy, Thelma Jones of Stockton, California and Cecil Fyfe, Walton and Veda Wilson. The day was filled with joy for Albert who attended Sunday School and church that morning and had two telephone calls from Missouri, two from Arkansas, one from California, one from New Mexico and one from Minnesota. We wish him many more happy birthdays.

Gladys Fortenberry went to Lubbock to take care of her great grandson, Patrick Vick in the home of her daughter, Patsy Boone. Tuesday they went to Albuquerque, New Mexico to take him home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Vick.

House guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Taylor last Monday were Martha's brother and wife, Jess and Lillie Glover and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer all of Van Buren, Arkansas. The couples were in route to join others to attend a motorcycle convention in Ruidoso, New Mexico and then ride their motorcycles on in Colorado to several points before making their tour back to Arkansas.

Janette Lackey of Floydada visited in the home of Edna Gilly Sunday afternoon.

Ruthie Clark of Plainview accompanied her daughter, Edna Gilly, to Amarillo Tuesday on business.

Edna Gilly, Ruthie Clark and Mildred Anderson of Plainview, Edith Marr, and Virginia Flowers of Amarillo had dinner in the home of Juanita and Leighton Teeple Monday.

Edna Gilly, Ernestine Gilly, Edith Marr and Glenda Orman attended the Lubbock Fair Friday.

Verna and Monroe Botler of Aztec, New Mexico visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lemons and Mrs. Belle Lemons Wednesday. They visited other relatives in Floydada. Verna is the former Verna Lyles. Thursday they left to go to Abilene to visit other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lemons and grandchildren, Twyla, Traca and Vance Lemons had supper in the home of Linda Lemons and children and Kara Carthel of Lockney Wednesday evening.

Linda Lemons (Mrs. Phil Lemons) Twyla, Traca, and Vance attended a birthday celebration for Mrs. Laverne Cooper in her home in Lockney Saturday. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bigham and family, Mr. and Mrs. L.T. Cooper and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Shackelford and son of Plainview.

Grace Lemons received word that her sister sustained a broken leg in a freak accident in Abilene while she was on vacation. She slipped and fell when she stepped on some spilled liquid and remained in a hospital in Abilene a few days before returning to her home in Amarillo. Lavena Decker is in much pain but improving very nicely.

Sports being offered

Wayland Baptist University is now offering pre-collegiate programs in a wide variety of lifetime sports for towns in the Plainview area, according to Dr. Sylvia Nadler, chairman of the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.
Instruction is available in areas such as gymnastics, karate, aerobics, archery and golf, among others, Nadler said. "All that we require is a facility and a minimum of 20 persons."

The program is an outgrowth of Wayland's already successful efforts at supplying on-site instruction for adults at various off-campus centers, including Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock, Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, the Pantex Ordnance Plant in Amarillo, and at various military bases in Hawaii.

Similar adult courses in aerobics met with tremendous success in many towns in the Panhandle-South Plains area during the past two years, with as many as 1,300 persons enrolled at one time.
"We're making available the same educational opportunities to young persons that we've made available to adults in the past," Nadler explained. "Our primary emphasis is on service to the student, and if there is a need, we will deliver the instruction."

The pre-collegiate program is open to all youngsters between 6 and 18 years of age. Cost is $58 per person per course.
Persons interested in organizing a class in their area should contact Nadler at 296-5521 as soon as possible.

Cotton opens at Center

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN
Oct. 5, 1981:

Sunday was a beautiful day, but today is cloudy and rainy. Harvesting is on, cotton opening. Hopefully, no heavy rains desired just now.

Dinner guests Friday at the Henry Brewster's were Mr. Buren Forman of Leveland Rest Home and his daughter, Mrs. Inez Jackson, also Mrs. Millard Watson of Mt. Blanco was present. After dinner the Leveland party resumed their journey to Wichita Falls to visit other relatives.

Mrs. Carpenter of Lockney Rest Home is doing well.

Mrs. Vernon McPeak visited Mrs. Leo Frizzell and Mrs. Ava Jackson one day last week.

Mrs. Mayfield was busy all week attending revival and camp.

Sunday dinner guests at the Thomas Warren home were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Alldredge, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Warren and son Danny, and Don of the home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Warren and family of near Lubbock were Labor Day weekend guests of his mother Mrs. Elmer Warren.

We were so sorry to hear of the car wreck Friday evening that so badly injured Wiley Rogers near Dallas. He sustained a broken arm and hip and other bruises. He is now in St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas. Also in a Dallas hospital is Miss Esther Peck's sister, Edith, who spent the summer here with Miss Peck. We hope for both and any other sick, a speedy recovery, and remember them in prayer.

I am home again after a pleasant short visit with most of my children. Thursday nite, September 24, the Clyde Greens of Peralta, New Mexico arrived on the way to Waco for parents day at Baylor where the son Kenneth Mack is a student. I went along and visited the Ryman at Hubbard meanwhile. Margaret and I visited Saturday p.m. in a Hillsboro Rest Home with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Tarpley (Mattie) Matthews who resides there recovering from a broken hip. Sunday the Clyde Greens and I attended church and afterwards partook of a bountiful Sunday dinner, then left for Big Springs to be with son Doa Clark Green and wife over nite. Monday the Clyde Greens went on home, and Don Clark brought me home Tuesday afternoon.

Such a nice weekend. We also stopped awhile in Brownwood on the way down, a short view of Howard Payne.

Making a difference with United Children's Fund

Something good is happening in the world today. UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, is improving the lives of children in 111 developing countries. And every year, Americans of all ages support this life-giving effort through National UNICEF Day activities and UNICEF greeting cards. October 31 is National UNICEF Day by Presidential proclamation. Since 1950, hundreds of thousands of volunteers have raised more than $60 million by participating in UNICEF Day collections and other activities. Thanks to this nationwide humanitarian effort, Halloween has come to mean nutritious food, medicines and vaccines, basic education, and safe water and sanitation for the world's neediest children. And throughout the year, thousands of Americans put their greetings to work with UNICEF cards. Acclaimed for their message of peace,

LVN testing begins

Those interested in entering next year's Licensed Vocational Nursing (L.V.N.) program at South Plains College at Plainview may begin making preparations this month. Persons interested in the program of study are urged to begin the admittance procedure as soon as possible.

The first step in gaining entrance into the program is to pick up an admission form from the College at 708 Yonkers. This admission form must be completed and presented before the prospective student may take the L.V.N. entrance exam.

The first exam will be given on Friday, October 30 in room 101 of the Wheeler Building. The test will begin at 8:30 a.m., but students are urged to come no later than 8:15. A completed admission form will be required for entrance into the exam room. The cost of the exam is $4.00.

The L.V.N. entrance exam will be given the last Friday of every month except during school holidays, with the final exam to be given on June 26, 1982. The dates for the exam will be as follows: October 30, November 20, December 18, January 29, February 26, April 2, April 30, May 28, June 26.

Students should plan to take the exam as early as possible to begin the admittance process. Anyone needing further information may contact Rick Hudson or Donna Womble at 293-3605.

Early cancer detection center opens

Community Hospital of Lubbock congratulates Mr. Carl Fogleman and staff on the October 1st opening of Lubbock's new early cancer detection screening center, 2402 52nd Street.
Open week days from 9 a.m. until 12 noon and from 1 until 5 p.m. daily, the center is now taking appointments. These may be arranged by telephoning 793-3214.
Emphasizing the preventative aspect of the center, Fogleman refers to participants in the program as "clients" instead of "patients", pointing out that his philosophy behind the center is to reverse the customary procedures.

Having worked for seven (7) years in the nuclear medicine field, specifically in the detection of malignancies, he has observed that following the onset of pain, it is often too late to do much for a patient. At the screening center, every effort will be made to detect any carcinomatous process early.

At the initial visit of the client, an exhaustive health history is taken. This includes medical data of all blood relatives and environmental factors that could be pertinent. This data is then fed into a computer which points to high risk factors, furnishing this valuable information to a physician (either one at the center or the patient's own physician), who then gives the client a thorough examination. For all male patients, this includes a prostate examination.

In addition, the center has planned, in conjunction with the American Cancer Society, free clinics wherein women will be instructed in self-breast examinations. Other clinics will offer assistance to individuals desiring to stop smoking.

The early cancer detection screening center is a private center, receiving no governmental funding.

What's invisible, odorless and kills?

What is invisible, odorless and gives no warning before it kills? The only clue you may get is drowsiness or confusion. It also combines with your blood 210 times faster than oxygen. Any incomplete combustion of a fuel that contains carbon will produce this deadly gas, carbon monoxide. Adequate ventilation or elimination of the source is your best protection. Never cook with charcoal in a closed area or run a vehicle in a closed garage. Carbon monoxide can easily destroy heart and brain tissue even with very small doses.

Chemicals conference to examine waste disposal, computer use

LUBBOCK — A symposium on disposal of hazardous wastes and discussion of the challenges of computerization will highlight the 29th annual West Texas Agricultural Chemicals Conference in Lubbock October 13-14.

Some 500 agribusiness leaders, chemical dealers and educators from southwestern and midwestern states are expected to attend the two-day meeting at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center. It is sponsored by the West Texas Agricultural Chemicals Institute (WTACI).

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 13, said Eugene King of ICI Americas Corp., Lubbock, institute president. The program begins at 1:15 p.m. with Ernie Houdashell, farm director for KGNR Radio, Amarillo, moderating the session on hazardous wastes. Representatives of Dow Chemical Co. will lead the symposium.

Awards for outstanding contributions to agriculture in the region will be presented during the awards banquet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 13. Award recipients will be a representative of the chemical industry and of an educational institution or government agency.

Sessions Wednesday, Oct. 14, will begin at 9 a.m. and focus upon weed and insect control, growth regulators and nitrogen use. Bob Etheredge, agricultural manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, will be moderator.

Weeds of the area and herbicide application techniques will be discussed by Dr. John Abernathy, weed scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Lubbock. Dr. James Supak, cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will discuss growth regulators and nitrogen.

The insect situation during 1981 will be reported by Dr. James Leser, Extension entomologist at Lubbock. David Ivie of the Texas Department of Agriculture, Austin, will outline current pesticide regulations.

The Wednesday afternoon session will examine the computer age and its application to the agricultural chemicals industry. Calvin Pigg, editor of The Southwest Farm Press, Dallas, will be moderator. A representative of International Business Machines Corp. will discuss computer hardware. Computer software will be discussed by a representative of Systemic Computer Service.

Contract computer service will be explained by Lubbock Data Service. Joe King, who operates Western 66 Co. in Muleshoe, will discuss use of computers in a dealership. Ways computers are used by the grower will be examined by Rodney Kitten, Slaton farmer.

Throughout the conference the latest in computer and chemical equipment and products will be on display in the Civic Center, King said.

Tractor efficiency saves more diesel fuel

COLLEGE STATION — High fuel prices ought to make farmers think twice about riding high on oversized tractors. Large tractors have more power than necessary for many farm operations and burn more diesel fuel.

Properly matching tractors to jobs as well as maintaining engine efficiency are important, says Henry O'Neal, an agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"The excess power of a 150-horsepower tractor doing a 75-horsepower job is not used, even though the diesel fuel is burned," O'Neal says. In such cases he recommends throttling the engine back.

"Operating in a higher gear at reduced engine speed can save up to 1/4 of the fuel consumption," says O'Neal. "For a 150-horsepower tractor that could mean almost two gallons per hour."

Diesel engines don't need service as frequently as gasoline engines but they should not be neglected. O'Neal points out that failure to service the pump, fuel filters, injectors and air filters can waste one gallon of fuel per hour on a 150-horsepower tractor before any mechanical problems become obvious.

Good management also plays a part in fuel economy, says O'Neal. "A 150-horsepower tractor idling for an hour wastes half a gallon of diesel fuel. Remember that stops for lubrication, refilling of sprayer tanks, measuring land or lunch breaks can add up."

Fuel wasted because of poor tire traction also adds up. O'Neal says soft soil and inadequate tractor weight can easily result in 20 percent wheel slippage. For good power use, he says there should be no more than 15 percent slippage.

"Improper tractor operation and maintenance add up to sizable fuel costs," warns O'Neal. "Efficient operators get more hours of work from their tractors than inefficient operators on the same fuel. Some day that may be a crucial difference."

Sorghum producers elect fair directors

Four sorghum farmers were elected to six-year terms on the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board (TGSPB). Three of those elected were incumbent candidates. They are: Larry Witten of Olton, the current TGSPB Chairman; Ralph Mabry of Lubbock and K.B. Parish of Springlake. New to the Board is Bob Gillispie of Gruver.

Elections are held biennially to fill four positions on the twelve-man Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board. The election was conducted by mail balloting which concluded on September 15. A canvassing committee met on September 29 to tally the votes and certify the election. Chairman of the canvassing committee was Lubbock County Judge Roderick Shaw. Other members of the committee were Hale County Extension Agent Ollie Limer, Assistant Marketing Director for the Texas Department of Agriculture Bob Gray and TGSPB Executive Director Elbert Harp. The Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board is composed of farmers who are elected by their fellow-producers to administer the program of market development, research and education that is supported by producer assessments of five cents per ton collected at the elevators in a 29-county area of the Texas High Plains. The sole objective of the TBSPB is to work on projects that will improve the profitability of grain sorghum production.

New TBSPB Director Bob Gillispie lives on a farm north of Gruver in Hansford County. He has about 640 acres in grain sorghum this year. Bob and his wife, Kathy, have two sons and a daughter.

TGSPB directors are non-salaried elected officials of the state of Texas. The newly elected Board members will be sworn in at the next TGSPB meeting scheduled for October 13 in Dumas. At that time, the Board will elect its officers for the next year.

New safeguard established for the herbicide 2,4-D

Users and producers of the herbicide 2,4-D from many segments of industry have recently established a national, single-issue coalition to safeguard 2,4-D from irresponsible or regulatory action at the federal, state and local levels.

The National Coalition for a Reasonable 2,4-D Policy demonstrates a collective and concerted effort to confront unreasonable and ill-founded assaults on agricultural chemical tools.

Incorporated as a non-profit organization, the Coalition provides a clearing-house for farmers, foresters, applicators, chemical formulators, agri-women, cooperatives and all others concerned with 2,4-D to challenge unwarranted restrictions on the herbicide, while relating the socially-redeeming contributions of safe herbicide use.

"Various social activist groups and certain state/local government regulatory agencies are resigned to restricting this herbicide which has been widely studied and applied for over 37 years with an enviable safety record," said Coalition board chairman Robert Miller.

"The National Coalition for Reasonable 2,4-D Policy recognizes that the availability and cost of food and fiber hinges on the safe and responsible use of herbicides. Our efforts will constructively assist in managing the destiny of 2,4-D and related agri-chemical tools."

The Coalition's by-laws outline the following objectives:

- *Ensure that scientific facts and risk/benefit considerations are recognized in any 2,4-D regulatory action.
- *Establish a network of pro-pesticide coalitions at state and local levels.
- *Obtain congressional recognition of the benefits of 2,4-D to industry and the public.

While the Coalition will concentrate on the 2,4-D issue, involvement is anticipated in a number of generic pesticide issues such as aerial application and water quality standards.

2,4-D or 2,4-Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid is a vegetation management tool used in control broadleaf weeds principally in cereal grain crops, sugar cane, turf, pasture and non-crop land,

Ft. Worth Stock Show & Rodeo

FORT WORTH — A record $400,000 in prizes and purse money was announced this week for the 1982 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show and Rodeo with the mailing of over 6,000 premium lists for the Jan. 27 through Feb. 7 exhibition.

President-manager W.R. Watt Jr. said the 86th anniversary year of the Stock Show will be one of the best ever presented. He urged potential exhibitors to read the premium list carefully before mailing entries.

"Rules may have changed from last year," Watt said, "and a number of the exhibition times are different due to added classes in many departments." He said exhibitors who do not receive the book may request one at the Stock Show office P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101 or pick up one at the office, 3400 Crestline.

Entry deadlines for cattle, sheep, swine, horses, donkeys and mules are Dec. 10 and for poultry rabbits and pigeons are Jan. 15.

Junior division premiums jumped more than $4,000 to $55,926. Two prestigious breeding cattle shows, the Register of Merit Hereford Show and the Standard of Perfection Polled Hereford Show, are scheduled along with 14 other cattle breeds.

Among the quality cattle auctions planned are commercial Hereford females Angus, Shorthorn, Polled Hereford, Brahman, Maine Anjou, Simmental and Limousin. Sales are also scheduled for Paint and Quarter Horses and donkeys and mules.

A variety of breeds and types of horses will show with an expected entry of over 2,000 head. The Quarter Horse division will be an approved point show for amateurs. Amateur numbers will be required on entry cards. Open and non-professional cutting horse contests are

October favorable planting for legume pastures in Texas

COLLEGE STATION — Legumes are a good bet for permanent pasture in Texas, and planting time is here.

Legumes offer several benefits for Texas pastures, points out Dr. J. Neal Pratt, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

They provide higher quality forage than perennial grasses growing in most Texas pastures. Legumes can improve the total production of quality forage on most farms and ranches.

Legumes also can lengthen the Defoliation meeting to be held for Floyd producers

Crosby, Floyd and Garza County Agricultural Extension Services will be sponsoring an educational meeting concerning the use of desiccants and defoliant on cotton this fall. Due to the large amount of cool, wet weather experienced in late summer and early fall, the cotton crop has excessive vegetative growth and is maturing slower than normal. Because of this condition, some farmers may be able to use desiccants to their advantage this year.

The defoliation meeting for Crosby, Floyd and Garza County producers will be held at the High School Vocational Agriculture Building in Ralls at 2:00 p.m. on Friday, October 9. The Vocational Building is located on the north side of the High School at the northeast corner of the football field.

Floyd County producers are also invited to attend a cotton defoliation meeting in Plainview at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, October 8, in the Plainview Chamber of Commerce Meeting room. This will be the same program given in Ralls on Friday and may save producers in the Lockney area some time and miles if they plan to attend.

Presenting the programs will be James Supak, Extension Cotton Agronomist in Lubbock; Elston Grubaugh, Extension Agricultural Engineer-Mechanization in Lubbock; and Roy Childers, Extension Agricultural Engineer-Cotton Ginning and Mechanization in Lubbock. All interested producers are encouraged to attend one of these meetings if at all possible.

Bankers Ag Credit Conference December 4-5

Bob Boykin, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, will be the featured speaker at the Ninth Annual Bankers Agricultural Credit Conference December 4-5 at Texas Tech University. Approximately 200 are expected to attend.

"Of the total amount Texas banks provided for agriculture, $2.35 billion went for non-real estate purposes, while over $550 million was devoted to agricultural real-estate lending," said Bob Greer, TBA president, citing results of the American Bankers Association's annual agricultural credit activities report.

"By comparison, Production Credit Associations provided $963 million; the Federal Intermediate Credit Banks, $146 million; the Farmers Home Administration, $865 million; and the Commodity Credit Corporation, $90 million in non-real estate farm loans in 1980," Greer said.

In real estate loans, Federal Land Banks provided $1.8 billion; Life Insurance Companies, $994 million; Farmers Home Administration, $324 million; and individuals and others, $1.9 billion.
