

Commissioners reluctantly redistrict

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS make last minute adjustments on the re-districting plan. Left to right are Bob Jarrett, Mark Turnbough, statistician; Judge Cholsie Smith and Ben Ayers, Democratic chairman.

The County Commissioners Court in a special session that was continued from Monday through Tuesday have adopted a tentative redistricting plan slightly changing the precinct lines in Floyd County.

Texas counties which have an unbalanced population in voting precincts as shown in the 1980 census have until November 30 to present a redistricting plan to the Secretary of State in Austin. "We don't like it a darn little bit," stated County Commissioner Bob Jarrett, "but that's beside the point. We've got no choice."

Jarrett was referring to the fact that several surrounding counties have had suit brought against them by a group called Southwest Voter Registration and Education Project, based in San Antonio.

The group is dedicated to the protection of the voting rights of the minorities. This group is very active in the South Plains according to Mark Turnbough whose company, Southwest Polimetrics, prepared the redistricting plans.

Costly court fees and the precinct lines being drawn by non-residents are a reality in Crosby and Castro counties. Hockley and Gaines Counties have been filed on. There have been reports of court costs of over $50,000 and of precinct lines being drawn with seemingly little regard for any county business except the shuffling of voters numbers.

In order to satisfy the Justice Department and thus to stave off the possibility of being filed against, the redistricting must be done on a one-person, one-vote basis. And there must be one minority precinct with about two-thirds of the minority population in it.

This assures the minorities of a chance to elect a minority representative if they choose to do so as a block vote.

Since Floyd County has a total minority percentage of 38%, one precinct must have over 65% minority population in it.

The one-person, one-vote qualification means that all precincts must have equal population figures according to the latest census. The Justice Department uses only the census figures according to Turnbough.

With some adjustments in the precinct lines in Lockney and Floydada the population and minority specifications have been achieved with little disruption of other county functions.

In fact the new plan has equalized the road miles in each precinct. For instance, precinct three has been given some of the extra miles and population that precinct two has had.

Because Floyd County Commissioner chose to go ahead with their own plan of redistricting they have achieved an almost perfect plan of equalization, not only of road miles but of population.

"I haven't done one that came this close," Turnbough said. The total deviation of the proposed plan is 0.5%, which is remarkably close.

The Justice Department does not like the deviation to be over 4%. At the present time the deviation in Floyd County is 74%.

The total population of Floyd County is 9834. Divided equally between the four precincts would give an ideal size of 2458 people in each precinct.

Under the tentative plan: Precinct 1 would have 2465 population whereas at the present time it has 2249 people; Precinct 2 would have 2457 in population, and they now have 2578; Precinct 3

Clark explains financing

When Sylvia Clark, South Plains Association of Government (SPAG), met with Floyd County business and civic leaders in August it was to set up a Board of Directors for the issuance of Industrial Revenue Bonds.

That Board has been chartered. The Revenue Bonds are a long term issue for $1 million up to $10 million. "There is a need for long term issues of amounts less than $1 million," Clark said. "A loan of $500,000 at 15% for five years will mean a $150,000 payment per year. Whereas, that same $500,000 at the same 15% interest spread over 20 years would be repaid at $80,000 per year."

The local banks cannot afford to make the repayment schedule for more than five to seven years, Clark said.

Caprock Local Development Company was formed as a spin off of SPAG to help communities take advantage of the SBA 503 program which is to stimulate the growth and expansion of small businesses within a defined area of operation.

The Development Company, whose papers are in the final stages of processing, will be authorized to sell debentures.

These debentures will carry an SBA guarantee, and must be used only for land, building, and equipment costs for small business expansion.

These debentures will form only 40% of the loan amount, not to exceed $500,000, needed for the small business. The owner must put up 10%. The remaining 50% would be provided by a

Downtown Halloween carnival

At least seventeen downtown merchants are now getting their games, prize and concession booths ready for the big carnival to be held in the individual participating stores from 4 to 6 p.m. on Halloween - this Saturday.

The parade will begin at 3:00. Judges for best costume in two age categories, (11-18 and 10 and under) will be Nancy Marble, Parnell Powell and Roger Garms. Prizes are $20 for first place, $10 for second and $5 for third.

Tickets for the carnival may be bought at the Chamber of Commerce's ticket booth on the square for five cents apiece.

Merchants participating are: Sears, Lovell-Collins Jewelry, Gene's Cleaners, Hale's Department Store, Hesperian, Anderson's Department Store.

Area lawmen attend seminar

For two days last week, Floydada resembled the location site for the movie production "Sugarland Express." Except that the block-long line of patrol cars parked in front of Lighthouse Electric were the real thing and their drivers represented every branch of law enforcement on the South Plains.

The peace officers were attending a seminar sponsored by area prosecutors and held in Floydada at the invitation of District Attorney Randy Hollums.

Approximately 100 area law enforcement personnel and prosecutors attended one of the two sessions of the workshop which was offered on consecutive days to accommodate as many participants as possible.

Topics covered at these workshops were the elements of crime, effective report writing, and the do's and don'ts of testifying in court.

Stitchin' Pretty, Floyd County Museum, Roye's Merle Norman, KKYN, Sue's Gifts, Script Printing, City Auto, Azteca Cafe, Kirk and Sons, Collins Appliance, Parker Furniture, and Thompson's Pharmacy.

See ad in this issue of the Hesperian to see where you can do what! Don't forget - kids 10 and under must be accompanied by an adult.

PEACE OFFICERS attended a seminar held by District Attorney, Randy Hollums. On the panel were [l-r] Andy Shuval, executive director of the Prosecutor Council; Bill Randy Hollums, Floyd, Briscoe, Motley and Dickens District Attorney; Richard Moore, Hale Heathly, Cottle, Knox, Baylor and King District Attorney; Richard Moore, Hale Heathly, Cottle, Knox, Baylor and King District Attorney; and Joe Thigpen, Haskell, Stonewall, and Kent Swisher District Attorney; and Joe Thigpen, Haskell, Stonewall, and Kent Swisher District Attorney.

Crawford hired as new Floyd County librarian

The protracted search for a qualified person to head up the Floyd county library system came to an end Monday as the county commissioners court unanimously passed a resolution to hire Mrs. Sandra Crawford to the position.

Mrs. Crawford will replace long-time head librarian Jackie Walls who recently resigned with an effective date of November 1. She is presently a resident of Plainview and has been employed in Floydada for the past five years in the office of local attorney Ben Ayres.

The new librarian, who attended Texas Tech University for two years meets all the requirements of the Texas Library Association and the West Texas Library System and will enable the library to enjoy all the benefits of membership in those two organizations. She will be required to be re-certified each year.

Mrs. Walls, at the request of the commissioners court, has agreed to continue on the job until November 20, on which date she estimates that Mrs. Crawford, who has had no previous library experience, will be trained and broken in to her new duties.

Mrs. Crawford has the commissioners court approval to work half days at the library and a half day for Mr. Ayres until the November 20 date so as to give the attorney ample time to find a replacement for her.

When asked for a comment on her appointment, Mrs. Crawford could only say that "I am very happy to be selected for this position and look forward eagerly to the new challenge."

She is married to James Crawford, who is a farmer, and the couple have no children.

Vote for on Four Amendment rundown

Floyd countians will join other Texans Tuesday in voting on seven Constitutional Amendments which are designed to alleviate some of the state's most pressing and long standing problems.

The thrust of the seven proposals are side in scope and range from tax exemptions to cure urban blight, formation of a state financial management committee, establishing increased tax exemptions for homesteads, increasing the veterans land fund program to the use of half of the state's surplus funds for a wide spectrum of water development projects.

Of the seven, Proposition Four is undoubtedly of the greatest interest to West Texans, as it deals with our most limited and most precious resource—water. It is a very rare occasion when West Texans have the opportunity to express their desires through the ballot on this all-important issue.

The last time a constitutional amendment was proposed for a West Texas water import plan was in 1969 when it was narrowly defeated by less than 6,000 votes with the margin of defeat being attributed to East Texas voters generally and Harris county (Houston) particularly. It is expected that this proposal will be contested that closely again this time and it will take an especially heavy turnout of voters in the western half of the state if it is to be successful this time.

Amendment four creates a state water trust fund, which would set aside half of the surplus state revenues (over and above the spending limitations of the state government) for the purpose of development of existing and new water sources. The population of Texas is expected to nearly double within two decades and nearly all parts of the state must have additional sources of water to assure continued progress and prosperity, according to the proponents of the proposal.

It goes without saying that the farmers and ranchers of the West Texas area are in dire need of new sources to replace the water being taken from the rapidly depleting and non-replenishable Ogalalla Aquifer which is their only source at the present time. This amendment has been far and away the most publicized of the seven in this area, probably due to the backing given it by its chief sponsor and would have 2457 in population and they now have 1905, (this is also the precinct that will have a 65.2% total minority population under the new plan); Precinct 4 will have 2456 population and now has 2146 persons.

In order for all resident of the county to fully understand the changes and how it will effect them personally, there have been two public hearing scheduled in the county on November 5.

There will be a public hearing in Floydada in the county court room at 5 p.m.

There will be a public hearing that same day, November 5, at the City Hall in Lockney at 6:30 p.m.

The meeting will be conducted by Turnbough and his partner, Bob Bass. Bass is an attorney, formerly Hale County Attorney.

Turnbough is a professor of government and public administration at Wayland Baptist College. Both men live in Plainview. Bass writes the legal submission and Turnbough does the statics and map work for the company.

The company has recently done the redistricting plan for Hale and Terry Counties. Hale has been approved and Terry is close to approval. They will also prepare the plan for Swisher and Deaf Smith Counties.

Other consideration in the new precinct lines were the hospital districts and the voting boxes.

The changed precinct lines do not effect the hospital districts nor will it effect the tax base.

Since the proposed changes occur mostly in the cities of Lockney and Floydada the new precinct lines will have very little impact on voter precinct lines. None of the small rural boxes will be changed.

Ben Ayres, Democratic Chairman, was informed of the changes during court meeting Tuesday, and he indicated that he was satisfied that the changes would not work a hardship on the rural voters.

Court members and Turnbough expressed the need for residents of the county to attend the public hearings on November 5. "It will allow the citizens an opportunity to examine the proposal and ask questions," Turnbough said.

After the hearings on Thursday, the Court will vote to adopt the redistricting plan at the regular court session Monday, November 9.

The plan will then be sent to the Justice Department for pre-clearance. The county will be notified when the plan has been approved.

The county will then submit the plan to the Secretary of the State of Texas for filing.

Turnbough, who had worked most of Monday night drawing in the changes made by the commissioners to his first draft, said "The commissioners have been very cooperative in a very difficult task. They have been very helpful," and then he added almost as an aside, "Much more so than most."

Motion was made by Sam Spence and seconded by Bob Jarrett that the following election judges and alternate judges be appointed. All in favor.

County residents benefit from library

Statistics for 1980-81 recently released by the West Texas Library System show that Floyd County residents benefitted greatly from library resources and services made available to their public library through the West Texas Library System, a program funded by the State of Texas to help local public libraries.

Films made available at the Floyd

County Library were seen by 21,360 people. Statistics indicate that these West Texas Library System films were shown 378 times in Floyd County in 1980-81. In addition, 399 people saw West Texas Library System filmstrips, which were shown 21 times. Books specially selected for young adults by library consultants at the West Texas Library System were checked out a total of 268 times during the year from the Floyd County Library.

Besides making film, filmstrips and young adult books available, the West Texas Library System allocated $2,381 in 1980-81 to the Floyd County Library to purchase and lease new books for the library's collections. In the course of the year approximately 261 new books were purchased.

In addition to realizing benefits from the West Texas Library System, another state-funded program, the Interlibrary Loan service, provided for library patrons materials not available at the local library. The Floyd County Library requested 108 books and magazine articles from the Interlibrary Loan service, most of which were located at the Major Resource Center in Lubbock or from other such centers in the state or even from libraries outside of Texas. A special computer system is used by Interlibrary loan to locate books and articles requested by the people who use the Floyd County Library. There is no charge for this service.

The Interlibrary Loan Office at the Lubbock Major Resource Center processed over 6,000 requests for interlibrary loans from the West Texas region in 1980-81. During the same period, over 500,000 people viewed films from the West Texas Library System, and a total of 13,100 new books were leased and purchased with state funds for West Texas Public Libraries.

Amendment positive step

Ken Campbell of Douglas County, Cattle Chairman of Floyd County, has announced support for proposed Constitutional Amendment Five, saying that passage of Amendment Five would be a positive step in keeping a viable livestock industry in Texas.

Proposition Five proposes to exempt livestock and poultry products already exempt from (ad valorem) taxes, and is now proposed Constitutional Amendment to be considered by Texas voters on November 3.

Those products are exempt inconsistently across the state of a 1976 Attorney General's opinion that livestock and poultry are "products." Texas is the only state among the large cattle-producing states which allows such a tax.

"Any producer of any product recover the cost of production taxes, and shoe some profit, if they stay in business," Ken said. "The passage of Proposition Five would remove property taxes on stock and poultry, some producers conclude that they cannot remain in that business. There is a drop in production which will hurt our local economy."

Postage increase effective Nov 1

The cost of mailing a First-Class letter will rise to 20-cents beginning Monday, November 1 when new rates go into effect, Postmaster Ward Wester reminded customers.

The 20-cent First-Class rate increases for other classes of mail proved last month of the Government Postal Service, take effect at 7 a.m. local time on November 1. "However," Postmaster Wester said, "customers should not wait a week to make their stamp purchases. Now is the time to buy to avoid necessary lines once the new rates come effective."

A new "C" stamp is on sale at a denomination and has a postage of 20 cents, the new rate for the First-Class domestic mail. The brown and white stamp features an eagle with the legend "US Postage" beneath it. The letter "C" appears on the eagle.

drafter, Speaker of the House Bill Clayton of Springlake. He was also chief architect of the measure that was barely defeated in 1969.

In addition to Clayton, amendment four has the strong backing of Governor Bill Clements who says "Contrary to some deliberately misleading propaganda, this is not a proposal designed to favor some parts of the state over others. In the near future this state must have additional sources of water; to assure our continued growth and prosperity and expanded opportunities for future generations of Texans. I endorse all seven of these amendments, but consider number four so important as to warrant additional emphasis."

He went on to state that Amendment 4 would set aside half of surplus state revenues, which, otherwise would be eaten up by current spending demands, to build up the kind of water projects adequate to the needs of our ever-growing population. The amendment also allows the use of the state's credit to guarantee local water project bonds, creates a state bond retirement program and increases interest rates to make authorized but unused, state bonds marketable. The proposal would raise the interest rate from six to twelve percent to make the bonds more attractive to investors.

In an effort to curb residential tax increases and head off so-called homeowners' "tax revolts," Amendment 6 would authorize local jurisdictions to exempt a percentage of the market value of residence homesteads. The amendment would also allow the Legislature to change some current property tax administrative procedures, including the "truth in taxation" notice requirement. The amendment would make it easier for those on low or fixed incomes to buy and keep a home.

It is worth mentioning that other amendments to be voted on November 3 would authorize an additional $250 million in Veterans Land Bonds at marketable interest rates; authorize issuing patents for school lands held in good faith for a half century; make property tax relief available to encourage redevelopment or improvement of blighted areas; and include livestock and poultry with farm products exempt from taxation.

Among the most important of all, Amendment 3 provides significant budget execution authority subject to limitations imposed by law. The finance management committee and procedures to be set up by Proposition 3 are now needed urgently. The committee—to be composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, House Speaker, two key Senators and two Representatives—will provide the vehicle for allocation of tremendous sums in federal block grants anticipated to flow into the State, without the necessity of a special legislative session.

In the future, subject to legislative direction, the committee may become an effective mechanism for meeting other unexpected financial emergencies when the Legislature is not in session, may significantly improve budgeting of State funds and save millions in tax dollars.

Be sure to seek and find the ad-list of merchants participating in the Halloween Carnival downtown this Saturday. We hope to have a good turn-out for the parade that begins at 3:00 p.m. for ages 11-18 and 10 and under. No floats, no bands, just spooks, goblins, and creatures and characters. Even the judges will be in costume! Come to town. Play a game. See a spook!

The Texas State Teachers Association—the state's largest and most influential teachers' organization—is not perfect, but it has represented the teaching profession well and its thoughtful, moderate policies have been instrumental in preventing instances in Texas of the chaos, confusion and damage to the educational process visited upon other regions by the actions of more selfish and militant groups.

Today local educators, including professional and support personnel, will be attending the annual District XVII Convention of the Texas State Teachers Association.

The theme for the convention is, "We Teach the Children." All sessions will be held in Monterey High School. Sectional meetings in various curricular areas are scheduled from 4:30 to 6:00 p.m. A banquet for all personnel will be from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. It will feature a special address by Joyce Juntune, Executive Director for the National Association for Gifted Children.

MR. AND MRS. KEN STEELE

Double-ring ceremony unites Alice Moosberg, Ken Steele

Alice Moosberg and Ken Steele were united in marriage on Saturday, September 12, in the chapel of the First United Methodist Church in Lubbock. Doyle Gilliam of Lubbock officiated at the ceremony.

Gracing the altar for the double-ring ceremony were two brass candelabra adorned with fern and burgundy ribbon. Similar arrangements with fern and silk flowers graced the pews of the chapel.

Soloist Deon Zumwalt of Floydada presented vocal selections accompanied by Mrs. Bill Orman, also of Floydada, at the piano and organ. The vocal selections included "Could I Have This Dance?", "Lady," and "Color My World." Mrs. Orman provided music at the organ for the remainder of the service.

Members of the wedding party included Tim Riggs of Houston as best man, and Alan Dyess of Lubbock as groomsmen.

Attending the bride were her sisters; Mrs. Donny Winslow of Duncan, Oklahoma, as matron of honor and Mrs. Tommy Sherman of Lockney as bridesmatron. Shane Orman of Floydada was the candlelighter for the ceremony and Mrs. Oscar Santos of Floydada registered guests.

The bride's two attendants wore tea-length burgundy dresses featuring tucked shoulders and burgundy satin ribbon at the waist. They wore straw picture hats accented by burgundy ribbon at the crown and a nosegay of silk flowers at the back. They carried bouquets of preserved fern and silk flowers in blue, burgundy, and grey; accented with burgundy ribbon.

The groom's attendants, the groom, and the candlelighter wore grey tuxedos.

The mother of the bride wore a two-piece street-length burgundy dress accented with beige accessories.

The groom's mother wore a navy street-length dress and navy accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink, white, and burgundy silk rosebuds.

The groom escorted each mother into the chapel for the ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white, tea-length dress with a white organza jacket accented by lace at the cuffs and neckline and a white satin ribbon tied at the waist. The bride's waist length veil fell from a white lace hat accented with flower appliques and pearls. She carried a bouquet of burgundy silk roses and white lily-of-the-valley with burgundy and white ribbon streamers.

As "something old", the bride carried her maternal grandmother's wedding ring tied in her bouquet; "something new" was her dress; "something borrowed" were her earrings, and "something blue" was her garter.

The bride presented her mother and the mother of the groom with a long-stemmed rose as she proceeded to the altar.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The four-tiered, heart-shaped wedding cake was decorated with pink, burgundy, and grey silk flowers and a figurine of two white birds at the top.

Raspberry punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. Mints and nuts were served from blue crystal serving plates.

The bridal bouquet and two white candles in candlewick crystal candelabra centered the table. Silver appointments and burgundy napkins completed the setting.

Mrs. Monroe Shannon of Shamrock served the cake while Misti Orman of Floydada served the punch. Kristy and Stacey Dawdy of Floydada passed out rice and bird seed bags to the guests at the reception.

As the bride and groom left the church, the bride wore a blue and white striped skirt and jacket with a navy camisole top and navy accessories.

After a wedding trip to Orlando, Florida, the couple are now at home in Perryton, where Ken is employed by Halliburton Services and Alice is a homemaker.

REHEARSAL DINNER

The rehearsal dinner hosted by the groom, was held at K-Bob's Steak House in Plainview. After the dinner, the bride and groom presented their attendant's gifts.

BRUCE WILLIAMS makes his way through the Lockney defense for a touchdown in Friday night game.

MICHAEL SAENS makes an outside sweep for more yardage in Thursday's game against Idalou.

Winds blow Lockney away 42-0

By GAR FRY
Herald Sports Writer

LOCKNEY — Floydada tailback Bruce Williams exploded for 205 yards rushing in 35 carries while the Whirlwind defense held Lockney's rushing attempt to 15 total yards as the Whirlwinds shut out the Longhorns 42-0 in District 3-3A rivalry competition here Friday night.

Williams put on an amazing performance in the clash sprinting to the goal line for three touchdowns as the Whirlwinds remained undefeated in district play after three games. Floydada holds the top spot in District 3-3A obtaining a 6-1 seasonal record, being defeated only by top-ranked Littlefield in a non-district clash.

Lockney quarterback Jeff McCormick again found the airway successful to complete five passes for 89 yards in 20 attempts. Meanwhile, the Longhorn secondary was able to hold the Whirlwinds to 38 yards passing as quarterback Todd Beedy completed four of nine attempts.

THE INITIAL score for Floydada was set up by a 6: yard punt return by Williams to the two-yard-line. It took only one play for the touchdown as Beedy ran up the middle. The PAT attempt failed and the Whirlwinds had a 6-0 lead with 3:29 left in the first quarter.

Williams recovered a fumble on the Longhorn 43 and later capped the scoring drive with a two-yard-run with 7:07 remaining in the first half. Williams then sprinted into the endzone for two more points.

The following possession for the Whirlwinds resulted in the last score in the half as Floydada drove the ball 43 yards with Carlos Rainwater grabbing the scoring eight-yard pass from Beedy with 1:59 left on the clock. Donell Weeks booted the extra point to give the Whirlwinds a 21-0 lead at the half.

Lockney threatened to score just before the intermission as Jeff Reece intercepted a pass attempt on the Lockney 35 and sprinted 50 yards before being stopped at the 15-yard-line as time ran out.

IN THEIR second possession after the half Floydada drove the ball 75 yards for another TD as Williams sprinted 15 yards for the score. Weeks again booted the PAT with 3:43 left in the third period.

Lockney then fumbled on the kickoff return and Calvin Coleman recovered the ball on the Lockney 30 for Floydada. The Whirlwinds moved the ball to the 14-yard-line, but Longhorn Jeff McCormick put an end to the drive by intercepting a pass attempt by his counterpart.

Whirlwind defender Ronnie Minner ended the succeeding scoring threat by Lockney by grabbing an interception on the Floydada 10. The Whirlwinds then drove the ball 88 yards as Williams broke for a 44-yard scoring sprint with 6:07 left in the competition. Weeks successfully booted the extra point putting Floydada on top 35-0.

On the next possession Floydada marched the ball 66 yards climaxed by a 22-yard sprint by Todd Beedy for the last touchdown of the evening. Weeks booted the PAT to cap the scoring for the Whirlwinds with only 36 seconds remaining in the clash.

"Our boys played real good football," commented Floydada Coach L.G. Wilson. "Lockney played tough but we eventually wore them down. We were able to make the big plays when we needed to."

In a clash of rivalries the competition was relatively free of penalties as both clubs were flagged on only three occasions. The dominated possession they drove for 11 able to come up with seven.

"I'm glad to see because you never what will happen to play them," said Wilson. "I think we definitely a contest district race, but we tough game against the next week. We have problems with the past and I think it's a good game."

The defeat gives a 2-5 record remaining district competition being defeated by their district opponent.

Turbines suspended in the Mississippi River current may one day provide electric energy. This possibility along with many others is being investigated today.

The electric cooperative is working with industry and government leaders in the exhaustive search for alternate, less costly energy sources to produce electricity.

But for the present we have only five ways to meet the demand; gas, coal, hydro, nuclear and conservation. Of these five, conservation, available nationwide, is the surest way to stretch kilowatts and save on your electric bill.

TODAY'S BABY: AN $85,000 BUNDLE

Shocking as the figures sound, current estimates place the cost of raising children at about $85,000 from birth through 4 years of college at a public university. This is 33% higher than in 1977 when the figures were last updated. However, when you look at the cost of rearing a child as a percentage of your total income over the years—then that percentage—or chunk of your income has not changed all that much and it isn't expected to in the near future. But here are two estimated costs for 18 years of child-rearing (excluding the costs of childbirth and a college education) in the United States. It will cost a farm family in the South $47,973 and an urban family about $900 less. These figures only include direct maintenance costs for food, clothing, housing and medical care and education to age 18 in family that earns about $18,000 a year. Families with higher after-tax income will have greater costs associated with child-rearing. For example, southern families with an after-tax income of $22,500 to $27,500 could expect costs to be $71,478 (farm), and $74,568 (urban). Add the costs of childbirth and a college education and the over-all cost approaches $85,000. Averaged over 18 years, the cost of child-rearing takes about 19% of after-tax family income.

SELF RELIANCE—BIG VALUE CHANGE ACROSS NATION

A "big" value change across the nation is underway — self-reliance, or "keeping down with the Jones," as some like to call it. It has lots of different characteristics, too: handwork is increasing in prestige, the simple life is "in" and conservation is "the Thing" to do.

Why? Inflation, nostalgia and a desire for a simpler, less-complicated lifestyle — long a disenchantment over quality of workmanship done by others and a larger chunk of leisure time — are some of the reasons.

How encompassing and different is the change from values and lifestyles of the past few years? Self-reliance seems to be sweeping the nation, and this rush to do things for one's self instead of paying someone else to do it reflects a substantial change in values.

Instead of ranking people by what they own, this emerging "prosumer" ethic (production for personal Consumption) is placing a status value on people for what they can do.

Handwork is increasing in prestige — whether it's to build one's own home, mend a fence, cook a great meal, make one's own clothes or create a bountiful garden. What might have started as a hobby is becoming "personal Production" and it's likely to be economically significant as well as relevant to the molding of an individual's social character.

In fact, it appears likely that in the future human traits considered favorable by a large portion of society will include self-reliance: the ability to adapt and survive under difficult conditions and the ability to do things with one's own hands.

This "new" trend has an especially eager following in younger, more educated homeowners along with middle-income families — the two groups more prone to adopting the simplistic lifestyle, according to a California study.

Its findings report that such a lifestyle includes conservation through biking for transportation, self-sufficiency in services and goods, recycling of resources, such as metal and glass, recycling of durable goods, such as furniture and clothes, and living productively with nature.

Implications for the next few years — and decades — to come are many.

Acceptance of voluntary simplicity — in addition to the changing values — could affect American society's consumption patterns, lifestyles and organization structure.

Some specific implications are these:

1. more widely accepted conservation.
2. an increased market for do-it-yourself products and recycled durable goods.
3. more interest in self-help programs, and
4. more control over individual quality of life with less concern for socio-economic status.

To say all this in just a few words: Simplicity is "in," and work, indeed is respectable.

Lubbock to host state vet. reunion

The Texas Department of the China-Burma-India Veterans' Association (CBIVA) will hold its fall reunion at the Holiday Inn on October 30, 31, and November 1.

The CBIVA is made up of members of the Armed Forces who served in the China-Burma-India theater during World War II. There are a number of CBIVA servicemen, who live in West Texas area, but this reunion is statewide.

The meeting will be hosted by the Lubbock BASHA (Chapter), of which Harry Herber, 4503 78th Street, Lubbock (792-0303) is commander. There are approximately 30 members of the Lubbock BASHA (each chapter is named for the bamboo huts that were the barracks for most of the men who served in this theater).

Of the more than 9,000,000 men who were in service in World War II, only about 400,000 served in the China-Burma-India Theater. This theater of war, often called the Forgotten Theater, was the supply line and support for the Republic of China, as all supplies and communications across the Pacific were blocked by the Japanese.

The American forces succeeded in tying up many divisions of the Japanese troops, which made the taking of the Pacific Islands much easier. American troops also built the famous Ledoburma Road that served as a supply route to China, once it was opened.

Prior to the opening of the road, all supplies were flown in and, at one time, Kun-

Drivers must have proof of compulsory insurance

Beginning January 1, 1982, Texas drivers contacted by Department of Public Safety officers during traffic stops and vehicle accident investigations will be required to furnish proof of compulsory liability insurance law.

Under House Bill 197, an amendment to the Safety Responsibility Act approved this year by the Texas Legislature, all drivers must carry minimum liability coverage for medical expenses of $10,000 per person ($20,000 for two or more persons) and property damages of $5,000.

Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director, said troopers will accept as evidence of insurance coverage the policy for the vehicle being operated or a document issued by the insurance company.

"Such a document must contain a statement that the liability coverage for the motor vehicle is the minimum prescribed by the law," Adams said. "The document must also include the name of the insurance company, name of the insured person, policy period and policy number. This document may take the form of a letter or a card, depending upon the preference of the insuring company."

Adams pointed out that DPS troopers will be enforcing the provisions of this law along highways and rural roads.

"Local police officers and sheriff's deputies also have the authority to request this information from drivers," the DPS director said. "I am sure most law enforcement agencies in our state will also be enforcing this statute in their respective jurisdictions."

Drivers who do not maintain the specified coverage risk being fined at least $75 for the first offense and a minimum $200 for subsequent violations. In addition, a conviction under this new law will result in the suspension of the violator's driver license and motor vehicle registration unless the violator establishes and maintains proof of financial responsibility for five years from the conviction date.

Adams also said vehicles which are to be used in the driving test by new driver license applicants must be covered by the minimum liability insurance specified by the law. Applicants will have to certify on the license application that the minimum coverage is in effect for the vehicle before they will be permitted to take the driving test.

The DPS director predicted that more Texans will obtain the required liability coverage when the new law goes into effect.

"Current figures show that approximately 74 percent of the drivers involved in accidents carry liability insurance," Adams said. "This indicates that a substantial number of people must secure the required coverage or face the possibility of heavy fines and loss of driving privileges."

Out-of-state, government-owned and self-insured vehicles are exempt from the insurance requirements of the new law. However, drivers of self-insured vehicles will be asked by DPS officers to produce evidence of self-insurance at accident scenes and traffic stops.

Flood victims tax relief now available

The Internal Revenue Service advises victims of flooding caused by the recent heavy rains that they may be eligible to claim casualty losses on their 1981 returns. Losses to business property are generally deductible in full. Personal property loss deductions are limited to the amount of loss exceeding $100 for each occurrence. To claim a casualty loss a taxpayer must be able to substantiate the loss. Victims should compile a list of those items damaged or destroyed and determine their value immediately before and after the loss occurred. Before-and-after photographs of damaged property are important records to maintain, as are judgments of independent appraisers. Of course, any portion of a loss covered by insurance and subsequently reimbursed is not deductible. Further information for taxpayers is available by calling IRS toll free and asking for Publication 547, "Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses, and Thefts," and Publication 584, "Workbook for Determining Your Disaster Loss." ## Aviation course at WBC

A course designed to meet the requirements for the written Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Private Pilot Exam will begin next week at Wayland Baptist University. The course, which begins next Tuesday, October 27, will meet three hours each Tuesday and Thursday from 7 until 10 p.m. for six weeks in Flores Bible Building on the WBU campus. Also aimed at enhancing the skills and knowledge of the right-hand seat companion of the pilot, the course will be taught by Lance Henderson of Plainview. An experienced flight instructor and professional pilot, Henderson holds the private, commercial, instrument, SFI, and CFII certificates for single-engine aircraft. Cost for the course is $40 per person for tuition, plus approximately $9 more for books and other learning aids, which will be sold on the first night of class. Enrollment will be limited to the first 30 persons who register. Registration will be open until the limit is reached in the Academic Services Office (Room 102, Gates Hall). If the limit has not been reached, new students will be accepted the first night of class. For more information contact Dr. Bill Hardage, assistant academic vice president, at 296-5521.

Christmas selections vary at Cogdell's Store

Old-fashioned ornaments in 1981, try popcorn and ornaments designed in 1980 two-story Col. C.C. White face ter of The Museum of Texas Tech University. The 1981 ball depicts the Long S Two-Story dugout from the outdoor exhibit. The 1981 ornament is the fourth in a series of ornaments depicting structures at the center. A few of the second balls, made in 1979, and depicting the center's mid-1870s Jowell House, are still available. The 1978 ornament, depicting the 1887 Masterson JY Bunkhouse, and the 1980 ornament, depicting the 1883 Harrell House, sold out. Each ornament comes with a description of the building and its historic significance. A Christmas card picturing the Masterson JY Bunkhouse is available at the store.

Other ornaments reflecting a traditional Christmas include old-fashioned foil-covered, chocolate Santas and cornucopia box ornaments—boxes decorated with Christmas scenes from yesteryear. They can be filled with candy or small toys. For the western or Texas Christmas tree, the store has leather cowboy boot and cowboy hat ornaments and ceramic Texas ornaments including the map of Texas, stars, longhorns, armadillos, pioneer ladies and cowboys. White, crocheted angels, bells, snowflakes and hearts could add an elegant touch to a tree. Other items of decoration include cornhusk and cinnamon wreaths, stuffed wreaths complemented by lace and dried flowers and stuffed wreaths in a variety of shapes including one that spells J-O-Y.

Those looking for rare and unusual Christmas gifts will find a spaghetti measure, a boot-puller, reproductions of McGuffey's 1870s Electric Reader, tree-bark birdhouses and industrial artifact candle holders—spools and bobbins hand-crafted for a variety of spinning and weaving machines in the nation's textile mills.

For children, there are reproductions of antique pop-up-books "A Day In The Zoo" and "The Doll's House," wooden rocking horses, stuffed farm animals and doll furniture replicas of pioneer furniture.

Doll collectors will find cornhusk, clothespin, china and porcelain dolls and reproductions of 1924 Marcellles dolls, large and small. Large raffia dolls, made from the fiber of raffia palms, duplicate those hung on a garden fence by pioneer women who would pluck strands from the doll to tie their vegetables.

The store will participate in Lubbock's "Holiday Happening," November 19-21 at the Lubbock Civic Center and will be open both evenings of Candlelight at The Museum, December 2-3. Profits from the store, patterned after the old-time general store, go to the Ranching Heritage Association for support of the center.

Key Notes to appear in Floydada at First Baptist

A Gospel Trio from Perryton, Texas will be singing in First Baptist Church in the Adult 2 Sunday School department and in the Morning Worship Service on Sunday, November 1.

The group is composed of Charlotte Davis, who also plays guitar; Margaret Swinney, Colleen Jones, accompanist, and Esther Parker.

now of Floydada. The group began singing together in the 1960's—mostly at Key Heights Baptist Church, then began travelling in 1973 averaging 5,000 miles a year and including five states.

Church worship services, weekend revivals, banquets, civic clubs, and company parties were the varied places of service for their ministry. Two long-play record albums (and tapes) were also made during this period and will be available.

The appearance here will be a reunion of the group which has not sung together since Esther Parker moved to Floydada in February.

You are cordially invited to hear the Key Notes this Sunday, November 1 at First Baptist Church in the 11:00 Worship Hour.

LET'S KEEP THE WATER RUNNING IN TEXAS!

In cities and towns all across Texas, local water problems are threatening to erupt into one enormous statewide crisis. Countless communities are facing growing water supply, water treatment, sewage treatment and flood control problems estimated to cost a staggering $50 billion over the next 25 years. To make matters worse, federal funds for water projects have recently been slashed.

But on November 3, Texans have the opportunity to adopt a plan, already passed by two-thirds of the Legislature, which would harness a portion of our state's budget surplus to help shoulder that heavy local burden.

Passage of Amendment No. 4 would:

- Make possible the sale of more than $200 million in authorized and urgently needed state bonds to address a backlog of needed projects.
- Create a loan guaranty program to enable local communities to save millions of dollars in issuing future bonds.
- Begin to build a "nest egg" for the future from a part of the state's budget surplus to assist local governments in financing future water and sewage projects.

Texas' water needs must be met, either now or in the future. We can act now, and save money... or pay the higher price later for our neglect, with possible increased taxes. Sensible action now makes much more sense for Texas.

Continuing bollworm threat demands farmers attention, conference told

A serious onslaught by bollworm this year, cotton yield losses were only half what they were last year, according to an entomologist with the Agricultural Extension Service in the 29th annual meeting of Agricultural Chemicals Institute in Lubbock.

Dr. James Leser, entomologist, is due to producers becoming more aware of the problem. Losses from bollworm might have reached more than 50,000 bales if effective control had been applied, he said.

In the two-day conference, Lubbock Memorial Civic Center speakers discuss the threat of bollworm, weed and growth regulators and the use of computers in farm management and the agricultural chemical industry. The educational program is held each year by the West Texas Agricultural Chemicals Institute participants from Texas, New Mexico and other states.

worked for Shamrock Oil Co. and was manager of Hale Center Butane Co. for several years before starting his farm supply business.

Garretson will be installed as president of the Texas LP Gas Association later this year. He also is a member of the Texas Oil Marketers Association, Texas Plant Food Institute, and has served two terms on the Hale Center city council.

Ivie is director of the agricultural and environmental sciences division of the Texas Department of Agriculture. He received the institute's award presented annually to a representative of a public institution.

The institute cited his leadership in grasshopper control and diapause boll weevil control programs, which saved thousands of acres of rangeland from devastation and limited the spread of the weevil. He also was lauded for working closely with industry representatives in getting federal designation of appropriate chemicals for state special local needs and for his active support for establishment of reasonable guidelines for aerial application of chemicals.

A native of Denison, he is a 1958 graduate of East Texas State College and has worked with TDA since his graduation. He served as an agricultural inspector at Longview, assistant supervisor at Tyler, and district supervisor at both Odessa and Lubbock before assuming his current post in 1972.

Ivie is a member of the Texas Structural Pest Control Board, the Texas Boll Weevil Advisory Committee, the National Plan Board Advisory Council and the American Association of Pesticide Control Officials. He has served as secretary, vice chairman and chairman of the Southern Plant Board.

In the session on hazardous wastes, a Dow Chemical Co. representative, John Drenckpohl, predicted that future issues on hazardous wastes will be "cradle-to-grave". The person who starts a project will be responsible from beginning to end, said Drenckpohl, quality assurance manager for Dow's agriculture production department.

Dr. James Supak, cotton agronomist with Extension, reported on work being conducted with growth regulators. "Many people feel growth regulators will become as important to us as herbicides and insecticides," he said. Preliminary tests indicate some yield benefits, but the chemicals still are being researched to determine their effect on fiber quality and consistent results from specific applications, he said.

SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENT—Texas Tech University senior agriculture engineering major Ricky Covington has received a $1,000 scholarship from Farmland Industries. Present at a luncheon honoring Covington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Covington of Floydada, and other scholarship recipients

Covington is scholarship recipient

Four Texas Tech University students have been awarded $1,000 scholarships from Farmland Industries.

Recipients of the scholarships are senior agricultural entomology major Brad Lance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy and senior agricultural engineering major Ricky Covington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Covington of Floydada.

Lance of Farwell; junior agricultural economics major Mark Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Moore of Lorenzo; junior management information systems major Janet Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Medlock of Lorenzo;

On hand for a luncheon honoring the scholarship recipients were Agriculture Dean Samuel E. Curl, Business Dean Carl H. Stem and Farmland Industries representatives Michael Goolsby, member relations consultant for the southern region, and John Barstow, regional market representative in Amarillo.

Farmland Industries, one of the country's major farm supply companies, has been giving scholarships to Texas Tech students for 20 years.

Brucellosis control will continue this year

The Texas livestock industry will continue its progress in brucellosis control during the coming year, John Armstrong, Kingsville, chairman, Texas Animal Health Commission, said.

He made that assessment following a study of proposed changes by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and recommendations to them made at a recent meeting of the U.S. Animal Health Association in St. Louis. The changes are scheduled to go in effect January 1, 1982.

Armstrong noted these features of the Texas Plan will continue for 1982:

1. A two-area concept which rewards progress in brucellosis control:

2. Incentives for Texas producers to clean up infection;
3. Emphasis on vaccination which reduces the number of tests for brucellosis on eligible cattle;
4. Certified brucellosis free herds.

"A great deal of progress has been achieved in a short time by cowmen in this state with the present Texas Plan. We can see an increase in this effort as we have in place a program for Texas with which producers can and are cooperating," Armstrong said.

More than 98 percent of cattle herds in Texas are free of brucellosis. "Our Texas program is designed to be epidemiologically sound, yet one which will be flexible enough to allow as much free movement as possible for those cattle herds which are not infected with this disease. Proposed changes continue this positive program," Armstrong said.

USDA proposals for 1982 include a four status classification: Free, A, B, and C. Rates of infection will determine the status for the state or area within a state. Free means no herd infection; A means herd infection rates from 0 to .25 percent; B will be from .25 percent to 1.5 percent; C will be 1.5 percent herd infection rate and over.

"Preliminary data suggests that Texas will be in a B and C classification. The B area will generally be the western half of the state; the C area will be in the eastern half," he said. (They likely will coincide closely with the present brucellosis control areas.)

"The proposals carry on our Texas plan of rewards and incentives. As producers continue to clean up infection, the two-area plan will permit upgrading our status classification which will lead to fewer restrictions on movement of cattle.

"Producers in the western half of the state can receive the benefits of their labor by having a higher classification than the eastern half. And the plan will encourage producers in the eastern half of the state to increase their efforts to clean up the disease so they, too, can be faced with fewer restrictions as their progress continues," Armstrong explained.

Vaccination, he noted, is strongly emphasized in the proposals in that a vaccinated animal will be able to move more freely than one which is not vaccinated. "One of the main parts of the Texas Plan is vaccination with the reduced dosage of Strain 19. It is a key element in our total program," he said.

Armstrong also suggested that every cattle producer in the state, both registered and non-registered and beef and dairy, consider working towards a certified brucellosis free herd. "This will provide the producer with freest movement of cattle possible," he said.

Armstrong is vice chairman of the brucellosis committee of the U.S. Animal Health Association. That organization is nationwide in membership, and is made up of industry spokesmen and state and federal regulatory personnel. It reviews and recommends any changes that appear needed in regulations affecting animal diseases in the U.S. USDA proposes changes to USAHA for its advice.

Range water vital to ranching

Plenty of good quality water well-distributed over a ranch is essential for balanced forage and livestock production, says Dr. Wayne Hanselka of Corpus Christi, a range specialist.

"Water is essential for the well-being of livestock," explains Hanselka, who is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Watering facilities contribute to daily grazing behavior and influence grazing distribution."

Water for livestock comes from three main sources, notes Hanselka. These are rain water, surface water and underground water. Developing the sources includes drilling a well, constructing a tank or reservoirs or piping water.

Depending on the amount of rainfall and soil type, reservoirs, and stock ponds may or may not provide enough water during summer dry spells. When constructing water facilities, use care to provide as much water as possible while limiting the surface area to reduce evaporation," urges Hanselka.

Pumping is one of the most common means of obtaining water. However, problems may arise during the "dog days" of late summer when there is little or no wind.

"Use of PVC (polyvinyl chloride) and plastic pipe to transport water to livestock has become popular in recent years and has opened up a great deal of rangeland for grazing," explains the range specialist.

Location and number of watering facilities are important considerations for the rancher, adds Hanselka. Cattle should travel no more than two miles round-trip for water which should ideally be located in the center of the pasture. This distance should be less with rough or brushy terrain. If the pasture is continuously grazed, the specialist recommends one watering facility for every 50-60 head.

"Even though cattle and horses can travel greater distances for water than sheep and goats, they require water more often," notes Hanselka. "Water intake will be less on green forage in the spring when weather is cool. Minimum water requirements for a cow with a calf is 10 gallons per day, but this increases to 15-20 gallons during summer days."

Water is also a major concern to wildlife production, says the specialist, but it's generally sufficient for the needs of wild animals.

"One final consideration for ranchers is the quality of water for livestock. Good quality water is clear and odorless, contains no disease organisms, has no undesirable flavors and no objectionable gases. Even though water may not measure up to these standards, it may be suitable for consumption," adds Hanselka.

He suggests caution when using water from old oil bores perforated for use as water wells. Such water may be high in salts and gases and could be contaminated with caustic chemicals used in well drilling.

Texas farms increasing while nation's total drops

While the total number of farms in the United States continues to decline, Texas is bucking the trend.

The most significant reason for the increasing number of farms in Texas is the division of medium-sized farms in East Texas, according to Dr. William E. Black, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"But a relatively small portion of the total number of farms are now producing an increasingly larger share of agricultural products," Black notes. "This is called concentration."

According to the 1978 Census of Agriculture, about 2.8 percent of the Texas farms produced 60 percent of the value of farm cash receipts. This compares with about 2.8 percent of the U.S. farms producing about 36 percent of the nation's cash receipts from agriculture.

The U.S. Census Bureau defines a farm as "any place from which $1,000 or more worth of agricultural products were sold or normally would have been sold in the previous year."

This general definition of a farm, which has been changed since the 1974 Census of Agriculture, is part of the reason for an increasing number of farms in Texas, adds Black. Along with this is the disappearance of medium-sized farms.

"In West Texas, medium farms are being consolidated to form bigger, more profitable farms," Black explains. "But in East Texas, medium farms are being subdivided into smaller farms to be used as weekend retreats by folks who have to live and work in the city during the week."

In 1974 there were about 174,000 farms in Texas and in 1978 the number had increased to 194,253, according to Census Bureau figures. During the same period, the number of U.S. farms declined.

"Technical advances since the '50s, market pressures and growth in non-farm employment in rural communities are three reasons for the overall decline of this nation's farms," notes Black.

Silverton Young Farmers meet

Silverton Young Farmers held their regular business meeting on Thursday October 22 with Brad Ziegler presiding.

The club will host an appreciation supper on Tuesday, November 3, for all people who helped the Young Farmers with the rodeo held in August.

February 20 was set for the annual Silverton Young Farmers Awards Banquet to be held in the Silverton school cafeteria. The banquet committee was appointed with Bill Reid, chairman, assisted by Donnie Perkins and Tobe Riddell.

Members discussed the upcoming halloween carnival to be held Saturday October 31 in the Briscoe County 4-H Barns. The club voted not to have a booth this year.

The Young Farmer Club voted to have an amateur rodeo in August, if the club can. Wayne Stephens was appointed to get prices from the rodeo producers.

Wayland Fitzgerald will get the guest speaker for the November 12 meeting.

"Candlelight At The Museum" to be held December 2nd and 3rd

Visitors to the 4th annual "Candlelight At The Museum." December 2-3 will walk down Christmas memory lane at The Museum of Texas Tech University and the Ranching Heritage Center.

Christmas scenes will include an austere 1840s Christmas at the El Capote Log Cabin, a traditional frontier German Christmas at the Hedwigs Hill Log Cabin and an elegant turn-of-the-century Christmas in the Barton House.

At The Museum, visitors will see "Holiday Excursions," demonstrating ways people travel during holidays, and "Collector's Treasures," with collections such as dolls, Christmas plates, nativity scenes, 1930s toys, toy lead soldiers and music boxes.

Focusing on the theme, "A Time for Remembering," "Candlelight at The Museum," will be 6-8 p.m. both Wednesday and Thursday. Admission is $2 per family or 50 cents per person. The annual event is sponsored by The Museum.

Caroling, a Christmas puppet show by the Texas Tech Puppets, music by the South Plains College Country and Bluegrass Department, and refreshments served by the Women's Council of the West Texas Museum Association will be part of the festivities.

Volunteers and staff members of The Museum, dressed in pioneer attire, will be housed in the lighted buildings at The Ranching Heritage Center to demonstrate Christmas activities typical of the era and heritage of each building. Activities will include baking, tree-trimming, wreath-making, gift-wrapping, needlework and whittling.

Corn grinding and corn-husk doll making will be part of the activities in the El Capote Log Cabin while a pinata will be the center of attention in the Picket and Sotol House.

The Victrola will be played in the Harrell House, the pump organ in the Box and Strip House and the piano in the Barton House, while guitar strumming and harmonica playing take place in the Masterson JY Bunkhouse and the Matador Half-Dugout.

A Christmas ball is planned in the Las Escarbasas ranch headquarters.

Girl Scouts will make tree decorations and trim the tree in the Bairfield Schoolhouse. After "Candlelight At The Museum," the tree will be donated to a local nursing home.

Cowboys will be gathered around the campfire near the Reynolds-Gentry Barn, settlers will be feasting on Christmas goodies at the Jowell House and a cowboy will be awaiting the arrival of Christmas in the Long S. Two-Story Dugout.

Lanterns, candles and luminarias will light the paths of visitors during the event as firelight flickers in the fireplaces of several buildings and in the Edith McKanna Whatley Parlor.
