informed was UIL District Jim McClesky, who is the president at Slaton. In checking to see if any other schools were in violation of that particular rule, he found that indeed his own school had an ineligible player.

The ruling concerns player eligibility and requirements for participation in athletics. Under the UIL ruling students enrolled as a junior must complete three credits in two different academic areas. A student from Slaton and one from Tahoka were in violation of the rule.

Both students involved were special education students for which the same UIL ruling applies. Each received three credits as necessary although they were received in only one course, not meeting the UIL requirement that they be earned in at least two separate courses.

Because of the ineligibility of the students, and their participation in football programs, both teams had to forfeit all the games in which the ineligible players had participated. The decision meant that both Slaton and Tahoka forfeit all of their season games.

Neighbors harvest crop

BY BILL SAYERS

In what might be termed a "friendly invasion" a swarm of some 55-60 of his neighbors descended like a swarm of voracious locusts on the Jerry Cawley farm northeast of Lone Star Friday. Their intentions, however, were just the opposite of that of the historical locust plagues — they were there to save a crop, not destroy it.

Cawley had been unable to tend to the harvest due to a serious illness in his family that has kept him beside a hospital bed in Lubbock. His neighbors decided to pitch in and get his crop out while the ideal harvesting weather remained.

Following a fried chicken luncheon held at the Lone Star school building, which was prepared by farm wives of the area, where the participants mapped their strategy and assigned areas for various groups to work. They then descended upon the 200 acres of cotton with some seventeen strippers, five huge module builders and cotton trailers by the score.

With such a huge task force, the stripping operation took just a little over four hours, with the modules and trailer loads of cotton departing for the gins in a regular stream. This same operation, using the equipment of a single farmer, would have taken several days and would have risked the return of bad weather and the consequent delay in completing the harvest and the lowering of the cotton grade.

"This is not really that unique," explained one of the organizers of the massive harvesting effort, "whenever someone in this community needs some help, people around here and in most other communities on the High Plains, turn out to help in any way they can."

The cooperative effort was not just limited to farmers, with several businesses also giving an assist to the Cawley family. Consumers Fuel Association of Lockney furnished the large amount of fuel required for the harvest operation and Bill Evans Gin of Lone Star and Sterley Gin were to expedite the processing of Cawley's cotton.

When the Beacon reporter arrived at the luncheon and planning session, he was given strict instructions by those assembled that they did not want anyone among them singled out by name or featured in any pictures that might be taken because they were all in it equally as a neighborly gesture and were not doing it for individual credit.

This was best explained by one individual who asked not to be identified: "You know that if something happened to you, your neighbors would do the same thing for you. It's just being a good neighbor and a good Christian." He explained his reluctance to be identified because "this is a community effort. It's not right to single out a few people since everyone's taking part and helping out."

Thus is demonstrated the true spirit of neighborliness in West Texas.

Reception to honor the Floyd C. Bradleys Sunday

BY JANET LLOYD

Members of the First Baptist Church are honoring the Floyd C. Bradley family with a reception to celebrate the 25th Anniversary with the church. The reception will be held in the Wall Room of the church on Sunday, November 22 from 2-4 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Guests have the honor of being a new baby to a family, that baby grow and join the child and his family in a few escapades and then his wedding, all the while in the same church.

A minister is a unique position and one to become acquainted with members of a community. The fact that anyone who lives in a small town the size of Floydada more than three years can be pretty well acquainted with everyone in town, it is not hard to see. Bradley the community of the joys of being a pastor is a great deal of work. Vernon Parker related that he has worked with Bro. Bradley since he and his wife Eva began their photography studio in 1963. Parker said that he would estimate that they have worked at 75-100 weddings together.

He was reluctant to share any one incident that was humorous for fear of embarrassing someone, but it was obvious by the twinkle in his eye that many funny things have taken place over the years.

"We have worked together long enough now that we know exactly what to expect from each other," Parker said. "He is always prepared and can put the family at ease with a minimum of effort on everyone's part," he added.

There is no way to estimate the number of visits that he and Aline have made to persons in the hospital, those who have had a death in the family or just to share a word of encouragement. Nor of the countless miles that they have driven to area hospitals.

"The community owes a great deal of gratitude to both Bro. Bradley and Aline for all the work they have done and the family that they have ministered to," said Edell-Moore, co-owner of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

"The funeral is only a small part of the work he has done. He's been fabulous and I love him and appreciate him very much," Moore added.

A very real estimate of the number of funerals that Bro. Bradley has performed the last 20 years is 700. Of these, close to 500 have been in Floydada.

Moore added, "I have never seen him in a situation that would put you in a strain. He is always thinking ahead of you."

"There have been times when he was tense inside but you would never know it. He does things with such ease."

One of the Bradley's main loves is the young adults of the community. Aline has served as the Director of the Young Adult Department for several years. There is no way to know the number of newly married couples that they have visited, the new babies that they have held or the number of cakes and other goodies that have been baked in the Bradley's kitchen and taken to someone else.

"Bro. Bradley and Aline may have three biological children but they can claim parenthood to countless others," said one church member.

"They are fine Christian examples, especially to young adults of this community."

She added, "It gives a church member a very warm feeling to know they have a pastor who is always there for help, counseling or just a listening ear."

"I could go to either Aline or Bro. Bradley with any problem or situation and feel comfortable talking about anything and feel confident that conversation will not leave the room."

What are the words that come to mind when thinking of two people who have given so much of themselves to others?

"Friendship, trust and respect are three important words I think of when speaking of the Bradleys," said one person.

But maybe the best words came from a small child who said very sincerely, "Preacher" is one of my best friends."

Pipelines... make good neighbors

America has over 220,000 miles of petroleum pipelines carrying crude oil and products to refineries and storage terminals across the United States. Each day, more than 1.5 billion ton/miles of crude oil and products move through this network. These pipelines have a safety record second to none in the transportation industry... and we want you to help us keep it that way.

When you see signs like those shown above, they tell you that there's a pipeline nearby. If it's underground, you can't see it, of course. But it's there, working quietly to provide energy for you and other consumers throughout this nation.

Some of these signs list the commodity transported in the pipeline, the name of the operator, and a telephone number where the operator's representative can be reached at all times.

Although pipelines have an exceptionally good safety record, once in a while a leak can occur. Indications of a leak might include:

- A strange or unusual odor in the vicinity of a pipeline.
- A hissing or roaring sound (caused by petroleum or product escaping from a pipeline).
- A dense white cloud or fog.
- A spot of dead or discolored vegetation.
- An accumulation of petroleum liquids on or a mist above the ground in the area of a pipeline.

• Flames originating from an opening in the ground.

If you become aware of a pipeline leak...

- LEAVE THE LEAK AREA IMMEDIATELY.
- Avoid driving into vapor clouds.
- Avoid direct contact with the escaping liquids.

• Avoid creating sparks or sources of heat which could cause the liquids or vapor to ignite and burn. If you find yourself in a suspected vapor area, do not light a match, start an engine or even switch on an electric light.

• Notify the pipeline operator as soon as you reach a safe area. Call collect. Give your name, a description of the leak and its location. If you do not know who the pipeline operator is, call your local fire, police or sheriff's department, or the state police. Advise them of the nature and location of the emergency.

If you see someone digging near a pipeline or doing other construction work... or if you plan to do such work near a pipeline yourself... please call the telephone number shown on the sign and let the pipeline company know so damage can be avoided. It's in your interest... and the nation's.

Chamber Clips

BY SUSAN GARMS

As we gather together to count the Lord's blessings on the 361st celebration of Thanksgiving, it is not amiss - despite the sea of Middle East troubles and economic problems at home - to be thankful for harvests and harbors and harpists and hearths, for heart surgery, harmonicas, handymen and health. No Thanksgiving ever celebrated a world without care.

We are grateful, God of our fathers, for strong sons and service, for sermons and salads and salmon and sales, for Shakespeare and shamrocks and schools. For the roller-skate revival and punk rock's wane, for blue jeans that fade and dream that don't, we thank Thee, Lord.

O God, our help in ages past, our hope for years to come, we voice our praise for progress and proms and promotions, for pretty daughters and prairies and prayer. For a pope who is Polish and jokes that are not, for "Your baby's just perfect" and "The surgery was a success," and "You're hired," and "I love you," we thank Thee.

God of grace and glory, for elections and energy, for elephants and Einstein, for elegie, Edison and elms, we offer thanks this season. And for debates and rebates, for tax revolt and grass roots revolution, for "God so loved the world..." and "When in the course of human events..." and "They lived happily ever after" and "Boy, the way the Whirlwinds played."

Our father's God, to Thee, Author of Liberty, we offer thanks for red beans and once-in-a-blue-moons, for yellow submarines and purple mountain majesties. For industry and interns, blood banks and butterflies, atoms and ants and the ancient assurance that "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

My Savior, God, to Thee we give thanks for fairways and favors, for farmers and families; for friends and husbands and husbands who are friends.

Our thankful praise, Lord, for weddings and waffles and winks and woks. So, too, solar heat and lemon sole, anything chocolate and everything without calories. For homes and homecomings, for Christmas and crayons, for fleece and flamingos and flags, we are truly grateful.

Lord of all, to Thee we raise our Thanksgiving praise for healing beyond hurt, for love beyond measure, for life beyond life, and mysteries beyond comprehending. But most of all we are grateful that "neither death, nor life...nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature shall be able to separate us from the love of God."

Applications for Auditor being accepted

Applications for the position of County Auditor are now being accepted by District Judge George Miller. The office is presently held by Olin Watson who has resigned after 22 years of service.

The County Auditor is appointed by the District Judge for a two-year term. Judge Miller will consider any qualified applications for the office that will become vacant on January 1, 1982.

Qualifications set out in the law are as follows: Article 1648, V.A.T.S. "Said auditor shall be a citizen of the county of at least two years residence, and must be a man of unquestionable good moral character and intelligence, thoroughly competent in public business details; and he must be a competent accountant of at least two years experience in auditing and accounting. The judges making such appointment must first carefully investigate and consider the qualifications of said person. If no such qualified citizen of the county can be procured, said judges may appoint a qualified citizen from another county." Applications from men and women should be written and mailed to Judge Miller in care of the Floyd County Courthouse in Floydada.

District controversy over championship

That is how things stood the last week in October. With Tahoka and Slaton out of the running, Frenship was the team most likely to represent 4-AAA in bi-district play.

The next week's headlines in the Slaton newspaper read, "Parents file suit against UIL."

Parents of football players called a meeting in Tahoka. Some Slaton parents of football players also attended. The Slaton group agreed to split the cost of attorney fees with the Tahokians and the firm of Huffaker and Green was engaged to bring action in district court.

The suit was against the district executive committee of the UIL and to seek a restraining order reversing the committee's ruling that the teams must forfeit all football games played before the preceding week.

Slaton and Tahoka were scheduled to play each other that coming Friday night. Slaton emerged victorious without using their ineligible player. Tahoka used theirs.

That same night the Winds defeated Abernathy and began to gear up for Tulia.

On Thursday a district judge overruled the UIL decision and reinstated the two schools to their positions on the teams and allowed the games of the two squads to count in the district race.

The decision was made in the 106th District courtroom in Lamesa. District Judge George Hansard handed down a temporary injunction against the UIL. Lamesa is in the same judicial district as Tahoka.

The eight hour court proceedings took place before a packed crowd with Huffaker on the one side and UIL head Dr. Bailey Marshall and two Austin attorneys on the other. Also present an attorney representing Frenship High School, acting as a friend of the UIL.

Huffaker, Tahoka attorney, explained that Hansard ruled the UIL discriminated against the senior Tahoka tackle and senior Slaton linebacker because they are handicapped under the definition set out by the Texas Education Agency and the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Officials at both the offending schools claimed they were not aware of the rule interpretations cited by the UIL as the basis for its decision.

In an interview with Floydada High School principal Charles Tyer, he produced a letter dated several year ago from the UIL giving an opinion and explaining fully the rule in question as it pertained to special education students.

Such an opinion could have been written for by either Tahoka or Slaton school officials. One report quoted the Slaton principal as saying he had called the UIL office for an opinion on the rule at the first of the season, but misunderstood that opinion. Tahoka principal, it was reported, said that they read the rule in the book and thought they were in compliance.

The University Interscholastic League, UIL, is made up of over 1000 schools in the state of Texas. Each school is allowed one vote by the Superintendent of schools.

All rules are made by the Superintendents of schools and are enforced by the schools.

The UIL office in Austin has a full time staff which acts as interpreters of the rules.

Tyer said, "This is the first time I've ever known anyone to take this type of ruling, the scholarship rule, to task."

After the Thursday court decision, the UIL appealed to Amarillo court. An Appellate Judge upheld the district judge.

On Friday night Slaton lost their bid for championship as they were defeated by Post. Tahoka with a win against Roosevelt emerged as the district contender.

The Floydada win over Tulia that same night merely cinched their title.

On Saturday, representatives of both Floydada and Tahoka schools met for the usual bartering for field advantage of the bi-district game.

Winner of the coin toss has their pick of stadiums for the game. However, according to UIL rule, anytime those two teams meet under the same circumstances in the next six years the other team will have their choice of field.

Tahoka won the toss and picked Snyder. Later that day they found out the Snyder Field was not available. An other meeting was set up, this time in Abernathy and Tahoka picked Lowery Field in Lubbock. Saturday was the only night that field was available.

Coach L.G. Wilson would like to forget about the 4-AAA's problems and just concentrate on playing football. He is building his team to play Tahoka.

And yet, in a televised statement after the court decision, Dr. Billy Marshall said the UIL would "take the case to the supreme court."

Also standing in the wings is Frenship. They have been given permission to continue practice this week while all other schools not involved in post district play are required to stop.

It looks as if it is up to the Whirlwinds to solve the district 4-AAA dilemma Saturday night.

BEEDY [11] takes off on a wide sweep, with the help of Donell Weeks [32] for a touchdown in Friday nights win over Tulia 30-6.

Coach's Comment

...were real pleased with... effort turned in by... last Friday night. ...enthusiasm of repre... district plus the con... of who we would be... ally did a lot to take... the real goal —

winning district outright. The Winds went about the task of winning the game in work-man like fashion. Not much of that Rah! Rah! stuff, but as something that needed to be done before going into the play-offs.

Not only was it good to win the district with a 5-0 record (9-1 for the season) it was also good not to test the ole heart with those last minute heroics that had prevailed the past two games. We are busy preparing for the tough Tahoka Bulldogs this week. We will play on Saturday night which should help us to have all our injured in better condition. We should be at full strength for the game.

of the drive was on the ground with Williams ripping off two big runs of 11 and 20 yards and Nutt adding a 19-yarder to the cause. On third and goal from the six, Beedy went to the passing game again and this time a green shirt, in the form of Carlos Rainwater, snared the ball for the touchdown. Donnell Weeks booted the go-ahead point with 6:22 left in the first quarter.

that point and drove to the Tulia seven in 11 plays. Then when the Hornet defense stiffened, Weeks booted a 28-yard field goal with 4:39 to go in the third quarter. The Winds' defense turned stingy on the next possession as it not only held the Hornets on three consecutive plays, but Allen raced through on fourth down to block Stringer's punt and set FHS up in business on the Tulia eight.

three plays of the game and season as the Green Sack Pack came alive. On first and 10 from the Floydada 17, Collins nailed Sperry back to the 24 and on second down, Davis put the quarterback down on the 30. The final play of the game was much the same as the Tulia signal caller bit the dust under four Whirlwinds on the 40 and the game ended as it started...Tulia going the wrong way.

...tried the first two... finished the third and... paid the price as... hanging a 30-6 loss on... season favorites to... with an undisputed... the 3-AAA title.

After trading punts, Tulia was back in business on its own 24 and made another mistake...going wide. It was bad enough that Davis wrapped up Tulia's Kevin Powell for what appeared to be a four-yard loss, but before the back could be wrestled to the ground, Williams raced in, relieved him of the ball and raced untouched to the goal line before anyone knew he had the ball.

Four plays later, Beedy went over with a quarterback sneak from one yard out and with 1:33 left in the third quarter, Weeks widened the margin to 24-6. Tulia was forced to punt again and Floydada's offense put the finishing touches on the evening with a 59-yard, 13-play drive that not only scored but used 5:57 of the final period.

Beedy rescued the drive twice on fourth down situations—once by land and once by air. Facing fourth and one at the Tulia 28, Beedy kept the ball around left end for 14 yards and a new set of downs at the 14. Then with fourth and six on the Hornet 10, the quarterback flipped a quick pass to Grant Turner as the split end raced into the end zone with 6:03 left in the game.

Two more times the Winds knocked at the door in the first half by driving to the Tulia 21 and 32 yard lines. But each time they were held at bay with Weeks falling short on a 43-yard attempted field goal the first time and Bernard picking off another pass to end the second drive.

Mark Stringer got another interception for Tulia in the second half and gave the Hornets their best scoring opportunity to that point with the ball at the FHS 32, trailing 14-6. Four plays later all the Hornets could come up with was a missed 48-yard field goal.

Tulia then took its best shot of the night in the final minutes by driving from its own 20 to the FHS 17. The Floydada defense, however, turned mean again. Quarterback Rick Sperry ran into trouble on his final

JIM AND [the late] DOT WORD received one of the highest awards given by the American Heart Association. A research grant was awarded in their honor to Jeffrey Nordstrom, Texas A&M. The title of the grant is Molecular Cloning of the Gene for the Key Regulated Enzyme of Cholesterol Biosynthesis. Jim and Dot have been active American Heart Association volunteers since 1975. At a Regional Workshop held in Lubbock for American Heart Association volunteers from a twenty county area, Jim was presented a plaque by Larry McEachern of Plainview, who is the Regional Representative to the state organization in Austin. Also pictured is Pauline Hefley of Amarillo, Council I Vice President of the American Heart Association.

Mrs. Willie Mae Stambough, mother of Mrs. Harold Bertrand, was buried at Plainview Monday, after services in the First Baptist Church at Floydada that morning. Darrye Munday, grandson-in-law of Mrs. Stambough, conducted the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Odell Breed assisted at the estate sale for Mrs. Green in Floydada Saturday.

Lakeview artists displaying work at the Floyd County Extension Clubs Christmas Bazaar Saturday included Mrs. Lanny Glasscock, who showed hand-painted wood crafts; Mrs. James Lee Nichols, ceramics; Jim Nichols, wood burning art; Mrs. Jimmy McGaugh and Mrs. Jim Nichols with their sorority's booth.

Among those present for the meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the First National Bank Monday were Mesdames Buell Neff, Bill Norris, and Q.D. Williams.

Mrs. Viola Brown spent Saturday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Billy Joe Hambright. Kathy Green of Lubbock was home for the weekend while her husband was deer hunting at Justiceburg. Todd Hambright was home from Texas Tech.

Jodi Smith came home from Caprock Hospital last Tuesday. She and her mother, Mrs. Choise Smith, are teaching junior 4-H cooking class at the Agricultural Building each Monday.

Mrs. Mike Bishop was named honoree at a bridal shower given Saturday morning in the home of Mrs. Norman Muncy.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bishop, and Mrs. Donie Hanson ate lunch with Sid Brown Saturday.

Mrs. B.L. Breed is getting around with a cane now. Her daughter, Mrs. Ella Lloyd, took her to the doctor for a check-up on her phlebitis condition last week and she is improving somewhat. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Pam Rogers and baby came from Crosbyton Sunday to visit Mrs. Breed, as did Mrs. Frank Breed.

Tye Stovall spent Friday night with Hunter Smith. On Saturday Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith and children, Dean, Hunter and Jodi, went to Lubbock to visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Flukie Smith, and Charley's mother, Mrs. Berd Oats, also is a patient in Methodist Hospital.

The 80 degree weather the first part of the week is drying out the cotton.

Greg Bishop and Gary Nixon camped at Roaring

Springs Sunday night to be ready to go deer hunting.

Mrs. Pete Calloway, Mrs. Donie Hanson and Sid Brown visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop Sunday.

Mrs. Q.D. Williams attended the Texas State Teachers Association banquet at Duncan school Tuesday evening.

Molecular cloning of the gene for the key regulated enzyme of cholesterol biosynthesis

Cholesterol is an important biological molecule that confers rigidity to membranes of cells. Cholesterol for membranes is obtained in two possible ways: from food (i.e. eggs) and from enzymes inside the cell that are capable of synthesizing cholesterol. Cholesterol levels are maintained within closely set limits. Thus, when cholesterol is obtained from the diet, cholesterol synthesis inside the cells is shut down.

The goal of the research in this proposal is to determine how dietary cholesterol regulates the capacity of cells to make cholesterol. Knowledge of this process is important because aberrations in the process can result in over-production of cholesterol. This results in the accumulation of cholesterol-rich deposits in arteries and is known as atherosclerosis.

Many enzymes are required to synthesize cholesterol, but only one, HMG-CoA reductase, is regulated. Thus, when dietary cholesterol is taken up by cells, HMG-CoA reductase ceases to function, and the whole pathway for making cholesterol shuts down. Experimental evidence suggests that HMG-CoA reductase disappears after cells take up dietary cholesterol.

Appearance and disappearance of enzymes is controlled by genes. The specific goal of this research is to determine how cholesterol controls the expression of the gene for HMG-CoA reductase.

In order to study the gene for HMG-CoA reductase, it is necessary to isolate it. A typical mammalian cell has about one million genes, only one of which is that for HMG-CoA reductase. Using recently developed techniques that involve recombinant DNA molecules and cloning, it is now possible to isolate a gene that is present as one part per million.

Two different, but complementary strategies for the cloning of the HMG-CoA reductase gene are presented. Cloning the gene is the primary goal of this proposal. Once the gene is cloned, it will be used to study the molecular details by which cholesterol turns the gene off.

Successful completion of the project should shed valuable insight into how cholesterol levels are maintained in normal cells and how abnormal conditions like atherosclerosis might be prevented.

AWARDS WERE PRESENTED to the Floyd County Division of the American Heart Association at a recent Regional Workshop held in Lubbock, Texas. Accepting the Award of Achievement [above] which represents an outstanding campaign year, is Ted Jordan 1981-82 President of the local organization. Nancy Willson [below] accepted an Outstanding Program Award-Honorable Mention. This award is presented to counties in the state who reach the most people per capita on the risk factors of heart disease. Floyd County was in the top ten counties in the state of Texas reaching the most people. Nancy Willson is the Program Chairman for the local division.

Electricity. Knowing what it's worth is worth knowing.

One thing we've probably all learned is to have an appreciation of things that have worth and to know their value. How would you rate yourself on knowing the value of the electricity you use? Take this simple exercise.

- How much was your electric bill last month? $ _____
- Divide 30 into your answer to Number 1. This was the approximate cost of your electricity per day $ _____
- How many people are in your family? _____
- Divide Number 3 into Number 2. This was the cost of your electricity per day per family member. $ _____

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. Just look around.

damental parliamentary practices.

Among those attending the conference from SPC was Teresa Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fuller of Floydada.

The state OEA conference will be March 4-6, 1982 at Brazosport.

South Plains News

Autumn continues at South Plains

South Plains, November 16: Beautiful, beautiful bright blue autumn weather has been with us the past two weeks, with cool nights and sunny days. Cotton gins are running day and night, and farmers are trying to take advantage of all the great weather. Even so, some of the fields are not ready for stripping. Great modules of cotton stand in the stripped fields, and we are all so thankful for the good weather and for crops already garnered.

Mrs. Letha Mulder went to Tulia and spent Sunday with relatives there who had come for the funeral of E.L. Gardner, 92, whose services are this Monday, November 16, at 3:30 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Silverton, with burial there in the Silverton cemetery. He had passed away Saturday. He was the grandfather of Don Dell Mulder of Albuquerque, New Mexico, but he was unable to be present, because of his illness at this time. His mother, Mrs. Alta Whorton and her granddaughter Shawn of Albuquerque, were present at Tulia.

Mrs. Cecil Osborne was confined to the parsonage over the weekend with illness, but is better this Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grisyb Milton returned Sunday evening from a Flying Farmers trip which took them to Nashville, Tennessee over the past weekend.

Hobby Club Meeting

The South Plains Hobby Club met on Wednesday, November 11, 2:00 p.m. at Lockney in the home of Mrs. Fred Fortenberry. Mrs. Letha Mulder presided over the business meeting, and roll call was answered with: A Trip I would like to make. This is the last real Hobby Club meeting for them this year, as the next meeting will be the Christmas party in December. Plans were made for the Christmas Club meeting and for the Christmas menu. Husbands of the members will be invited, and each member will bring a dish, and gift for exchanging under the Christmas tree. The home of Mrs. Fred Marble (Carolyn) will be the meeting place, and you will receive word of what dish you are to bring. Time for the Christmas party is 7:00 p.m. December 12. Mrs. Bonnie Julian gave the program with "My trip to Alaska." Hostess Jewel Fortenberry served cheese tidbits, delicious fresh apple cake, and coffee and fruit punch. Present were: Mmes. Louzilla Nichols, Leighton Teeple, Kendall Cummings, Harold Hamm, Letha Mulder, Bonnie Julian, Mildred Wells, Grigsby Milton and hostess Mrs. Fortenberry.

Many of our community have been visiting with Mrs. J.P. Taylor (Trudie) who is in the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview, following a serious operation last week. She has been in the hospital two weeks, and hopefully she will soon be able to go home.

Mrs. Early Pritchett returned here to her home last Wednesday, and was present for Sunday morning Baptist Church services. We have missed her sorely all the past summer, as she has been out at their Ruidoso, New Mexico home all the past months. We are glad for the killing frost, because Mrs. Pritchett's allergies do not bother her after frost comes.

Jerry Taylor of Canyon was here on Friday for the funeral services of his friend, Richard McCown of Amarillo, who had died last Wednesday at Amarillo in the High Plains Hospital. The family lived in Floydada, but had moved to Amarillo a few years back. Taylor is the son-in-law of Mrs. Letha Mulder.

Mrs. Alvin Nichols went to Plainview last Tuesday morning to attend funeral services for an old friend, Les Taylor, 82, Tuesday morning, with the services being held in the Lemons Funeral Chapel.

Mrs. Grady Spivey arrived here Tuesday afternoon from Navasota, and has visited here with sister-in-law, Mrs. Sylvin Kinnibrugh and Sylvin. She also was in Lockney with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dillard, and Wednesday they all had supper in Plainview with the Kinnibrugh's daughter and family, the Teddy Hornes and Melissa. Also present from Odessa was another sister-in-law, Mrs. W.H. Smith.

We are so glad to hear that little 6 year old Amy Bethel, who lives here in South Plains with her parents, the Rogene Bethels, got to come home from the Caprock Hospital Saturday. She had been there 2½ weeks, and was lucky to get to come home now. She fell from the slide at school, and broke her right arm, and will still have to have the cast on her arm for four weeks. She got to go back to school this Monday with the admonition to be very careful not to fall and she cannot go outside on the playground.

Krisit Julian was home for the weekend with her parents, the Kendis Julians. She attends Texas Tech and got to attend Sunday Baptist morning church services.

Renee Sanders was at the Baptist Church morning services, also, from Plainview, and had Sunday with her parents, the Richard Sanders.

Bridal Shower honors Denise Johnson

A lovely bridal shower, honoring Miss Denise Johnson of South Plains, bride-elect of John Burson of Silverton, was held on Saturday, November 14, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham in South Plains. The brides chosen colors of cranberry and candlelight were used in corsages and in decorations.

Special guests were John's grandmothers, Mrs. Iris Burson and Mrs. Nannie Bomar; mothers, Mrs. L.N. Johnson and Mrs. Mary Burson; John's sister-in-law Debbie Burson; Denise's sisters, Mrs. Shari Smith, her twin sister, Deneen Johnson, her sister-in-law Mrs. Carlton Johnson, her aunts, Mrs. Beth Burgess and daughter, Mrs. Trena Brown and Tony of Dumas and Amarillo, her aunt Mrs. Inez Johnson and her grandfather, Mr. O.A. Johnson of Pampa. Mrs. Shari Smith and twin sister of Denise, Deneen Johnson, presided at the serving area. The serving table was laid with a lace cloth over a cranberry colored cloth, and the brides colors of cranberry and candlelight were used in the floral centerpiece. Cake squares, punch, nuts and mints were served from crystal appointments.

Residents enjoy birthday party

Nov. 12 is the time of year for birthdays and Thanksgiving... this very special time we're glad we're living!

Mrs. Icy Biggs was 88... though she's slowed her pace, she's still great! Her friends all call her a lot of "fun" and she's a "fan."

A lovely lady, Mrs. Clark... Her years are 92... A friendly smile will bring a spark... She loves to visit, too!

Our Mr. Reed is with us... His parents named him Ray... He always is a gentleman... What nicer can we say!!

To serenade these people Let's do the birthday song... So loosen up your "vocals" And sing out good and strong!

Thursday, November 12, was party time at the rest home with ladies of the City Park Church of Christ acting as hostesses.

The dining room was the scene of the festivities with the honorees being seated at the "honor" table. Everyone was sorry Mrs. Biggs was unable to attend.

The table was laid with an ecru cloth and centered with a floral arrangement in autumn colors of orange, gold and green. Matching birthday cards marked places for the honorees. A beautiful birthday cake decorated in a floral design matching the centerpiece, including autumn leaves, also graced the "honor" table.

The poem was read and all joined in singing the "birthday" song.

Mrs. Brown had as her special guests her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. A.E. Guthrie.

A tangy fruit punch complimented the birthday cake and was served to the honorees, guests, residents of the home and employees. Immediately following the party pictures were made by the Hesperian photographer.

The next party will be Thursday, December 17, 2:30 p.m. Please come and be with your loved ones and close friends.

Tarps protect modules

With winter weather moving in, tarpaulins offer good insurance against weather damage to cotton modules, says an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Rain and snow may cause excessive damage to cotton modules stored in the field or gin yard, said Elston K. Grubaugh, the Extension specialist. He cautioned that moisture may penetrate the module and result in serious deterioration of lint and seed quality due to rotting and heating.

"Since the harvest season on the Plains is usually characterized by dry weather, many modules aren't covered with tarps," Grubaugh said. "Nevertheless, provisions should be made to cover modules if wet weather is forecast."

Snow or rain on unprotected modules can endanger more cotton than any given gin can handle before damage to lint and seed occurs, the agricultural engineer warned.

Cotton tarps are usually best suited for protecting modules, he said. In addition to protecting the module, a cotton tarp will permit air movement and eliminate any buildup of condensation under the cover.

"A tarpulin should be at least twelve feet wide and six feet longer than the module so it will still cover the sides and ends of the module after shrinkage," Grubaugh said.

In addition to cotton tarps, some manufacturers are offering vented weave polypropylene tarps suitable for tarping modules. When considering polypropylene tarps, be sure they are woven, vented types, not solid polypropylene sheets, he suggested.

Tarps are difficult to hold in place in the windy regions of West Texas. Bringing the tarps down over the sides and ends of a module will help keep wind from blowing under the tarp and loosening it, Grubaugh said. A wire looped around the module and through the tarp pins provides additional assurance of keeping pins and tarps in place, he advised.

Securing tarpaulins with ropes placed under the module as it is set on the ground will also help keep tarps in place during windy periods, he said. Only cotton ropes should be used for securing tarps, he noted.

"Make sure black poly twine is not used to tie down tarps. Serious lint contamination resulting in lower lint value can result if poly twine gets mixed in with seed cotton prior to ginning," Grubaugh warned.

Standing water will eventually penetrate tarps. Water-holding depressions can be eliminated, he said, by placing the last stripper dump in the middle of the module builder. "Doing so permits a firmly packed, rounded top that can be protected better with a tarp."

Check the tops of modules after every rain and snow and remove all collected water, he urged.

In considering cotton module protection during the period from harvest to ginning, a producer should consult his insurance company for their specific requirements regarding field or gin yard storage of modules, the Extension engineer said.

Top 4-H members earn salute at banquet

Floydada — two outstanding 4-H Club Members from Floyd County will be honored at the South Plains District 4-H Gold Star Banquet at 6:30 p.m. Monday, November 23 in Lubbock.

Among the top 4-H'ers in the district being honored will be Jodie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Choise Smith of Floydada, and Keith Hight, son of Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Hight of Lockney.

Dr. Uel R. Stockard of College Station, state leader for county programs with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will be the banquet speaker. Dr. Sam E. Curl, dean of the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University, will be master of ceremonies. The program will be in the cafeteria of Coronado High School, 34th Street and Vicksburg Ave., Lubbock.

Some 450 persons, including parents, distinguished guests and special friends of 4-H will attend the banquet to salute the county winners. Ken Langley, county Extension agent said.

To qualify for the Gold Star Award, highest 4-H honor at the County level, a 4-H'er must be at least 13 years old, have completed three years of club work and be active in 4-H. The award is intended to stimulate winners to higher achievement and to encourage other young people to participate in the county 4-H program, Langley said.

The awards will be presented by Dr. Catherine Crawford and Billy C. Gunter, district directors for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Four-H is the youth program of the Extension Service.

Farm-City Week is set for November 20-26

Farm-City Week, November 20-26, focuses on the involvement of farm and city people as partners in growing, processing, marketing and consuming food and fiber.

"In Texas, movement of food and fiber from field to factory to the family table provides jobs and income for about a fourth of the working force," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, marketing economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"One out of every 30 Texans is a farmer or rancher, and 30 percent of the state's retail trade business is directly associated with agricultural production and selling of food and fiber products," says Anderson.

Many businesses, financial institutions and individuals are involved in providing supplies, credit and services to farmers and ranchers and in processing and marketing agricultural commodities.

While the overall cost of living has increased about 11 percent from a year ago, food prices in the grocery store have increased 6.4 percent and apparel has risen less than 5 percent, notes the economist. This compares with an increase of nearly 13 percent in housing, 16 percent in fuels, 11.5 percent in medical care and 25 percent in public transportation.

"Americans spend far less of their take-home pay on food than people in other countries of the world," Anderson points out.

"Together, farm and city people make the best food and fiber team in the world," he believes. "This gives a country the capacity to feed its own people and to export for economic gain as well as for humanitarian purposes."

With more than $3 billion in farm exports last year, Texas is one of the leading states in shipment of agricultural products abroad. Texas led the nation in shipments of cotton, cottonseed and animal fats; was second in meats and meat products, hides and skins; and third in rice, peanuts and peanut oil.

On a national scale, farm exports total about $44 billion. Anderson estimates that production from about one out of every three acres of cropland is exported. Leading customers are Japan, Netherlands, Mexico, China, Canada, Germany and Korea.

"Farm exports support more than a million jobs, and the added business stemming from agricultural exports about equals the value of products shipped," says Anderson. "Exports help both farm and city people make a living. At the same time, they boost the economy and offset some of the cost of imported oil."

Nutt competes with livestock judging team

Abilene Christian University's senior livestock judging team just returned from a successful trip to Louisiana, where it took the overall top spot at the Louisiana State Fair last week.

The team of agricultural majors collected a total of 15 trophies in the judging competition, said Stuart, who is the Block and Bridle club president. Besides the team's first place, members of the judging team received individual overall first, second, third and sixth place honors, Stuart said.

Winning first place was Britt Stuart, sophomore from Roby, Danny Nutt, sophomore from Floydada, took second place and Mike Bragg, sophomore from Coleman, third place.

Future Farmers of America chapter president Brent Carpenter, junior from Webb City, Missouri, finished sixth in the competition. Others who participated in the individual competition were Jana Jackson, freshman from Worcester, Massachusetts; Jennifer Johnson, sophomore from Boulder, Colorado; Grant Sandusky, junior from Merkel; and Kyle White, freshman from Knox City.

The judging team, coached by Edwin DuBose, agriculture professor, took first place in the market steer judging and second place in the sheep judging. The team also won third place in horse judging, fourth place in breeding beef judging and fifth in swine judging, Stuart said.

The team's next judging meet will be the American Quarter Horse Association Contest November 19-21 in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. This contest consists only of horse judging, Stuart said.

Predation losses point to need for remedy

Predators continue to inflict heavy losses to livestock, poultry and other wildlife, pointing to the need for an effective remedy.

That remedy could come in the use of toxic chemicals, but use of such materials, particularly Compound 1080, is not yet sanctioned by the Environmental Protection Agency.

However, some inroads are being made toward legalizing the use of these chemicals, points out Dr. Dale Wade, a wildlife specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Information presented at recent informal hearings may warrant the EPA to open formal hearings before an administrative law judge.

"If such hearings do come about, they would include information on the use of the 1080 toxic collar to protect sheep and goats as well as possible use of 1080-treated baits," notes Wade.

While such hearings might finally lead to an effective predator control technique for ranchers, they likely would not be completed in time to allow use of toxic chemicals during the coming winter season, adds the specialist.

"Coyotes continue to cause the heaviest losses to livestock and poultry, and their populations are increasing," says Wade. "They have been a problem to sheep and goat producers for many years, but now they also are causing increased losses in cattle. And the problem is no longer confined to western states; several eastern states now report increased coyote populations and significant livestock losses."

In addition to preying on livestock and poultry, coyotes also have inflicted heavy losses in pronghorn antelope, mule deer and other wild species in recent years, adds Wade. This has led some state wildlife agencies to support the use of toxic agents against predators.

"With ranchers currently operating at low profit margins or even losses due to poor prices, livestock losses to predators are a major concern," points out Wade. "Furthermore, these losses will ultimately be reflected in reduced meat supplies at higher prices."

An added factor is the loss of agricultural land to other uses when small operators can no longer produce and predator control this happens, producers, consumers and the whole nation suffers, says the specialist.

Hog prices continue to look bleak in Nov.

COLLEGE STATION — Although hog prices continue to look bleak, many producers are starting to expand their operations in anticipation of better prices next year.

Such action could further hamper any improvement in hog prices, says a livestock marketing economist.

"Indications are that the liquidation phase of the hog cycle is slowing and pork producers are preparing for increased production," says Dr. Ernest Davis with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Nationally, producers farrowed 2.735 million sows during the June-August period, 3 percent more than expected. Also, September-November farrowings are expected to be 5 percent more than previously anticipated.

But Texas June-August farrowings of 35,000 sows were off 34 percent from a year ago while September-November farrowings are expected to remain unchanged.

The September inventory of all hogs and pigs for the 14 major producing states was estimated at 52.2 million head, 5 percent below last year, points out Davis. The breeding inventory at 52.2 million head also was off 5 percent while the market inventory was at 45.1 million head, 6 percent less than a year ago.

Texas' September breeding inventory of 90,000 head was the lowest on record, down 10,000 head from June 1 and 36 percent from last September. Production and hog prices were down 10 percent from a year ago, notes Davis. Hog and pig numbers in Texas September 1 totaled 700,000 head, lowest since June 1, 1965, and the lowest on record.

"This is the fifth straight quarter hog inventory reductions in Texas," says Davis.

"All these reductions mean that supplies during the first quarter (January-March) could be down 10 percent from the same period a year ago."

What about the market outlook? Fourth quarter price prospects for 1981 have dropped $2 per hundredweight, Davis notes. He expects market barrow and gilt prices October-December to average $49 per hundredweight.

And considering total meat supplies and a still recovering economy, he expects market barrow and gilt prices to stay in the $42 to $45 per hundredweight range early next year.

"With those market prospects, producers may want to tread carefully while rather than expanding their operations," cautions Davis.

Seventeen textile executives from 13 European countries and two from the People's Republic of China were in Lubbock November 8 and 9 to study High Plains cotton production, processing, merchandising and research facilities.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. of Lubbock coordinated the foreigners' activities for the Lubbock visit, which was part of the annual U.S. Cotton Orientation Tour sponsored by Cotton Council International, National Cotton Council, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service and local hosts. Joining PCG as hosts in Lubbock were Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains Cotton Cooperative Association.

Bob Squires, this year's President of Cotton Council International, received the visiting dignitaries at his Lubbock home on their arrival November 8.

The People's Republic of China for the past two years has been the largest single importer of U.S. cotton, purchasing 2.2 million bales of the 1979 crop and 1.4 million bales in 1980.

Combined annual U.S. exports to the 13 European countries in recent years is estimated at something over 500,000 bales.

Europeans in the touring group represented Belgium, England, Finland, Germany, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Morocco, Norway, Poland, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland.

"There is a real opportunity for us to expand the markets for our cotton in these countries," said PCG President Gary Ivey of Ralls, "and our purpose in having them here was to impress upon them our capacity to continue producing their fiber needs in the quantities and the qualities desired, our constant efforts to improve our product and our ability to prove its spinning value."

The group came to Lubbock after touring the mid-South and a stop in Dallas. The remaining itinerary includes El Paso and the cotton growing regions of California.

In Lubbock the delegation saw the extensive facilities at Texas Tech University's Textile Research Center, the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center, USDA's South Plains Ginning Research Laboratory and the instrument classing line and merchandising facilities of Plains Cotton Cooperative Association.
