Decade comparison of Whirlwind teams

BY SHEILY HARRIS

The 1981 Whirlwinds have turned in a splendid season. What they lacked in numbers and depth they made up for in talent and heart.

Stats prove them to be one of the most outstanding Floydada teams of the decade. In both individual effort and team performance they have held their own in statistical year by year comparisons.

Bruce Williams, 1981, lead the ten year chart with 18 touchdowns. Second was Calvin Ratliff, 1975, with 15; third was Mark Vinson, 1972, with 13.

Ratliff piled up more rushing yards with 1592 in '75 to Williams' 1245 in '81. Mac Collins rushed 1071 in '79.

In the receiving category, Donzell Minner, 1974-75, was a hard act for little brother, Ronnie to follow. Donzell Minner received for the most touchdowns, 10, in 1975, and was second to himself in 1974 with 9 TD's. Kary Helms, 1978, was top man in the catching category with 30. Donzell Minner was right behind him with 27. Ronnie Minner, '81, was in a three-way tie with Steve Puckett, 1969, and Helms, 1978; all had scored four touchdowns on pass receiving.

Todd Vickers, 1978, attempted the most passes, 148, while John Cagle, 1973, completed the most, 70. T. Vickers was second in completions with 63. Jack Gregory, 69, was third with 59 completions and second with 131 attempts.

Yards gained passing was Andy Hale, 1970, with 1090; next was John Cagle, '73, with 1055; Gregory pounded out 978 yards; and Todd Vickers bested big brother, with 856 yards to Mikes' 831 yards.

Mike Vickers, 1974, was top with a 59% in passing, Cagle had 57% in 1973 and 56% in 1972; Todd Beedy, 1981, had 51%.

Beedy had 7 T.D.'s in 4th place to Mike Vickers top number of 13 T.D.'s in '74.

Greg Jones led the number of tackles in 1977 both in assisted, 206, and unassisted, 36. He was second to himself in 1978 with 202 assisted. Jay Lackey, 1976, was second with 34. Norman Allen, 1981, was in 6th spot with 122 assisted tackles.

This brings up one of the most interesting facts about this years Whirlwind team.

Not only did the 1981 team place eight members on the All-District 1st defensive team, but they have out done all previous Floydada teams in defense.

They tied with the 1972 for holding their opponents to fewest 1st downs in the 10 year period. Both teams only gave up 88 first downs in one season.

The '81 team out did all other teams by holding their opponents to only 1136 rushing yards. Closest was the 1969 team who only gave up 1238 rushing yards.

This gave the '81 'Winds a third spot on total offensive yardage by an opponent. They gave up 1667 total yards while the 1978 team gave up only 1650, and the 1972 team lead by only surrendering 1528 total yards.

Again the '81 'Winds were tied in the third place slot with 16 interceptions along with the 1977 team. The 1975 team intercepted 17 times and the leader was 1969 with 21 interceptions.

The '81 team was number three in giving up scores too. They only allowed 65 points against them. The 1971 team allowed only 41 points and the 1970 team only allowed 40.

Greet Santa tonight

BY SUSAN GARMS

Come one, come all to downtown Floydada to meet Santa. Santa will arrive at the courthouse square at 6:00 p.m. Thursday, December 3, 1981.

There will be live entertainment and the annual lighting of the town's Christmas tree. Parents and children alike are invited to stay and shop with the downtown merchants and get in on the treasure hunt.

Also, don't forget to enter the outside Christmas decoration contest. Let us know if you have decorations or your neighbor has decorated around the outside so that we can go by on December 15, 1981 for the judging.

All Floydada merchants are requested to decorate also as there will be recognition for business as well as residential.

Anyone wishing us to come by and look at their place is requested to call the chamber office, 983-3434.

Let's go all out this year and have an old fashioned Community Christmas!

Hamilton appointed Auditor

Bobbie Hamilton, Floydada, has been appointed as County Auditor and will begin her duties on the first of January. Present auditor, Olin Watson, resigned the position after serving for 22 years.

Appointment of Mrs. Hamilton was made by District Judge George Miller. He said, "We're sorry to lose Olin. A person with his experience really can't be replaced, but we are very fortunate to have someone with Bobbie's background and education to apply."

Bobbie, who is a native of Floyd County, graduated from West Texas State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Education.

She has worked for Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. in Lubbock in the land office. More recently she worked for C.P.A. Newell Burk.

She has kept farm books for her husband, Charles R., for a number of years.

The couple has two sons, Calvin Ross, married to the former Phyllis Guffee of Floydada, is studying for his P.H.D. at Columbia University. They have one son Christopher who is two.

The other son, Clay Morgan, is a senior at Texas A&M.

Bobbie began working half-days in the auditor's office the first of December as a training period before she takes over the position on January 1.

"Olin is making it much easier to learn the duties of this office," she said, "the people in the courthouse are so nice, I'm looking forward to working here."

BOBBIE HAMILTON has been appointed County Auditor and will assume full duties January 1. She began working with present County Auditor Olin Watson the first of December.

The above cartoon was received on Monday, following the Regional Playoff game between Floydada and Littlefield. Dirk West sent it to Bill Gray with these instructions: "Bill - if you think they would like this, win or lose - give it to the kids for their bulletin board or coach's office." After being matted and framed, Gray presented the original to Coach L.G. Wilson at Quarterback Club meeting on Monday night.

Dirk West is one of the foremost sports cartoonists in the country and has kept up with the Whirlwinds the past two years. Last year, Dirk conceived the "Wind" character used by Gray in his "Football Gibes" series for the Floyd County Hesperian. West is a former mayor of Lubbock and operates a very successful advertising agency in that city. However, he is best known for his bi-weekly cartoon series which has appeared in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal since the late-1960's. His characters of "Raider Red," "Moss," "Boo Bird," and the lovable "Fred Derf, the Aggie" have brought reactions ranging from amusement to anger, plus phone calls, and lots of mail. According to Gray, "It was swell of Dirk to take time from his busy schedule to recognize the success of the 1981 Whirlwinds in this manner."

Perspectives

I've been thinking about law and order some recently. There are all kinds of reasons given for the increase in crime. Some people like to blame society - without defining just who society is, or in what ways society may be deemed culpable.

Others lay the blame on poverty. People don't have things and so they steal, and once they get into stealing it becomes inevitable that eventually someone will be the victim of a more violent crime.

Some people like to lay the blame on the courts. Penalties are not stiff enough, the courts have hamstrung the police, if we reinstated the death penalty and enforced it, we would see a drop in the crime rate.

Still others blame organized crime. These nefarious evildoers are introducing drugs to our young folk, and their addiction causes them to become involved in crime in order to support their habit.

All of these reasons have a certain amount of support, and they may all be part of the problem. But I would like to suggest another reason, that we are training more criminals in our homes.

Put simply, most of us are involved in lawbreaking every day. We break the speed limit, and excuse ourselves. If we hit someone's car in a parking lot, we may well drive on off. We let our children drive without a license. If they commit an act of vandalism, they may well get off scott free because we simply buy the victim off (often kids are heard to say, "If we tear it up, my folks will pay to have it fixed).

We are involved in questionable business deals, weasel out of contracts and obligations, cheat on our income tax, the list goes on and on.

The problem with all this is that it shows a subtle disrespect for the law, no matter how much we profess to be law abiders. And then we wonder what has happened to our kids when they pass from youthful pranksterism into full-fledged crime.

Sure, this is a simplistic explanation, and probably does not account for a great deal of the problem, but we need to begin looking to our house before we blame some sort of ethereal "they."

Letter to the Editor

TRIBUTE TO MY "AUNT ARTIE"
(Resident of Local nursing home)

It's difficult to say exactly how I feel this day—because when I looked into those huge beautiful blue eyes of my beloved Aunt and see little if any recognition of her beloved "Pizzie" (my nickname). I recall happier days when those loving eyes saw two little girls who had lost their Mother and felt compassion and love.

This love for my sister, Betty, and I was manifest by my Aunt Artie, Unk Walter, and Grandmother Lincoln by bringing us to their home here in Floydada when our mother, Louella Lincoln Terry died. Our sister, Charlotte who was born at this time was adopted soon after birth and raised as a cousin.

The good times I remember were of trips to the brakes with picnic lunches on the tail gate of an old survey truck. There were circuses, Kidd Springs, the canyon, the sand dunes for us to look forward to. Movies during World War II with a bag of asafetida tied around our neck to ward off that dread disease of polio.

I remember little chicks, cats and dogs for us to love. —the warmth of a kitchen full of the smell of fresh home made bread. Friends were always made welcome for a visit or to go on our outing with us. Unk Walter's camera was always close at hand to snap a cherished memory.

My cousins, Betty, Bud and Gilbert have continued to make us feel at home even though Aunt Artie is now in the local nursing home. On this most recent visit, other out of town family members gathered as we reminisced about happier days of yesteryear. My gratitude extends to the Newell family and all they have meant to my life. They always accepted me as a member of this loving family.

I remember with gratitude how Aunt Artie's life was lived as she taught us that God loved us. I remember as a little girl giving my life to Christ in the Christian Church here in Floydada. I remember their 50th wedding anniversary celebrated at the church. I have a feeling of thanksgiving for each member of the community as we buried our Grandmother and Unk Walter from this lovely Church of their choice. I appreciate each of you for ministering so beautifully to these whom I have loved so dearly.

These tears I shed this day, Dear Aunt Artie, are not for you but for myself as I feel the pain of the loss of a part of my life so beautiful and fulfilling. The memories will never be forgotten. They linger as a memorial of a beautiful loving person who means so much to me. Her life an example to pattern my life after and a home as a refuge of strength so welcome and comforting.

I pray that I may give of myself so that some day my loved ones may say to me as I say to my Aunt Artie today....Thank you for loving me.

What's an average day worth?

On an average day you probably get out of bed, adjust the thermostat, make a pot of coffee, cook breakfast... perhaps use the dishwasher.

Later, maybe you do a load of laundry and listen to the radio. Then you cook dinner and put the leftovers in the refrigerator. You may turn on the television or settle down in your favorite chair next to a lamp to read.

For all of you, all of this and more adds up to one day... just 1/30th of your average monthly electric bill.

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing.

Whirlwinds

By the way, that '70 team also lead in scoring with 363, they were fourth in 1st down, fifth in rushing, first in passing, and first in total offensive yards gained, fourth in interceptions.

Very impressive. The 1972 team would have to take the prize as the best all-around team. That team was in the top 6 in every category except passing yardage. They were in first place with holding opponents to 1st downs and holding opponents to total offensive yardage, and they came in second with 1st downs gained, holding opponents passing yardage, and number of fumbles suffered.

1974 was another great team. With these teams it is easier to tell which categories they didn't make the top 6 than list all the ones they did. The only ones the '74 team was listed for was holding opponents to 1st downs, and interceptions. They weren't as spectacular, as far as statistics go, as the '72 team, but were a fine all around ball club.

It is quite a heritage each year's Whirlwind team assumes on the first day of practice. The 1981 team can be rightly proud that they have set the records to make themselves one of Floydada's finest football teams.

Concert to be presented

The annual Christmas Concert presented by Floydada band students will follow a lunch prepared and served by the band boosters on Sunday, December 13.

The ham dinner, including beans, cornbread, potato salad and cobbler will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. at the high school cafeteria. Price for adults (12 and over) will be $3 a plate, under 12 price will be $1.50 and pre-schoolers will be $1.

Church hosts McMurray

The McMurry College Chanters Choir will be in concert Saturday night at the First United Methodist Church in Lockney. A program of Christmas music is planned.

The public is invited to attend the concert, which will begin at 8 o'clock, according to church pastor, Rev. Michael O'Connor.

The choir will sing a variety of traditional Christmas caroles as well as a composition written especially for them by McMurry associate professor of music Dr. Macon Sumerlin.

The composition, "Tetrad," is a four-movement piece based on Bible text. It is the 31st such composition Dr. Sumerlin has written during his 30-year tenure at McMurry. One member of the Chanters, Chris Huffman, is a 1980 graduate of Lockney High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huffman of Route 1, Lockney, and a sophomore nursing major.

The choir director is Mr. James Pearce. Everyone is invited to bring a covered dish and join the choir for a meal at the church fellowship hall at 6:30 p.m. The Chanters will be staying the night in homes of church members and will be guests at a breakfast Sunday morning at the church before departing for Littlefield, the next stop on their Christmas tour.

Chamber Clips

Jimmy Willson, Jr., one who has done so much for so many, a man involved in life and admired for his many achievements, is being installed as Grand Master of Texas for the Masons in Waco this Saturday, December 5. Many friends from this area as well as statewide will attend the ceremony. And we're proud to have one so honored from our community. One is fortunate to call him friend.

If we are ever in doubt about what to do, it is a good rule to ask ourselves what we shall wish on the morrow that we had done.—Sir John Lubbock

The late President Kennedy put it this way: "Ask not what your country can do for you but what you can do for your country." Some two decades later President Reagan had an answer for Americans: "I believe the spirit of volunteerism still lives in America. We see examples of it on every hand — the community charity drive, support of hospitals and all manner of nonprofit institutions, the rallying around when disaster or tragedy strikes. The truth is we've let government take away many things we once considered were really ours to do voluntarily out of the goodness of our hearts and a sense of community pride and neighborliness. I believe many of you want to do those things again, want to be involved if only someone will ask you or offer the opportunity. Well, we intend to make that offer..."

In case you go to Floyd County Abstract and they're not there, they've moved. Floyd County pioneer, R.C. Scott, built the abstract plant in 1914. The Elliott-Waldron conglomerate bought the company in the 40's. It was leased to various people in the interim before L.B. and Verna Lynn Stewart purchased it in 1962. So...they've been at 215 W. California since 1956 and now are in beautiful new offices at 108 W. Missouri. Verna Lynn is having a coffee-opening Friday morning, December 4.

1956 Study Club voices objections

Members of the 1956 Jr. Study Club joined 16 other federated clubs in Caprock District and voiced their objections to offensive products advertised on television by signing petition to the three major television networks. Members also wrote letters to the manufacturers of these products asking that they remove their commercials from public viewing.

The meeting was held in the home of Connie Bertrand who was assisted by Stacey Smith.

Sheree Cannon reported that the Floyd County Child Welfare Board is in need of financial help for the Christmas expenses of the four children who are in foster care homes. The members were encouraged to donate as individuals to help with this need.

In other business, discussion was held on the club's annual Christmas projects, Santa Land and Santagrams. JenniSu Smith will serve as chairman of the Santagrams

What to do about those "baby blues"

Are you a new mother suffering from post-partum depression — more commonly known as "baby blues?"

Typical symptoms of "baby blues" include crying for no reason and feeling sad or depressed after giving birth, says Cindy B. Wilson, a family life education specialist.

"Baby blues" can range from mild to severe emotional changes due to physical changes and exhaustion, she explains.

Experiencing "baby blues" is a normal condition for many new mothers, and it can be stabilized to a great extent, the specialist notes.

To control these downward spiraling feelings, new mothers can do a few simple things, Wilson recommends.

*eat well-balanced meals and rest adequately.

*share inner feelings with someone else — don't bottle them inside.

*plan "alone time" to relax, nap, read or participate in a quiet, enjoyable activity and.

*call on family, friends and neighbors to help out with housekeeping, cooking and care for the newborn the first month after giving birth.

Wilson is with the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Area woman celebrates 100 years of living

By MARIE HARRIS
Herald Regional Editor

TULIA — Salome Koger's keen perception of life and sense of humor have not faded through the past century although she shakes her head and says, "I've lost a lot" when someone comments on her alert mind and sharp memory.

Born Nov. 10, 1881, the Collin County native was honored on her 100th birthday with a party that was marked by the attendance of a number of friends and out-of-town relatives, a decorated birthday cake, cards, letters and calls.

Mrs. Koger received letters of congratulation from President Ronald Reagan, Governor Bill Clements, Congressman Jack Hightower and Senator Lloyd Bentsen. Later she was presented a Texas flag that flew over the Capitol building in Austin on her birthday and a certificate, both secured for her by State Rep. Pete Laney.

"I GET A kick out of things," said the centenarian, but added, when she was wished another happy birthday next year, that she didn't think she could stand another one as exciting as this year's celebration.

Mrs. Koger has lived in her present home in Tulia since 1945 when she left the farm, which she still owns in Swisher County southeast of Tulia. After the death of her husband, E.T. (Lige) Koger, in 1932 she continued to farm.

"I had to be rough-headed to get by," she stated. "I fought it out for 13 years during the Depression at the time the banks closed."

Her only child, a son, Leo Koger, lives with her. "He still needs me to correct him," she smiled, "but there is no crime in my boy. He is just like his mama — hard-headed."

MRS. KOGER has one grandchild, Russell Koger of Albuquerque N.M., and two great-grandchildren. A girl she reared, Oleta Lanham of Dalton, Ala., came to Mrs. Koger's party. Three nephews and two great-nieces also came. Mrs. Koger had one sister, Erma, who died two years ago at age 91.

When Salome was 10 years old she moved to Floyd County with her parents, John J. and Sarah Elizabeth Roberts. While her mother drove the wagon with Erma inside, Salome and her father herded their cattle all the way from Jack County to Floyd County. As the wagon was full of their possessions, Salome usually slept on the wagon seat and sometimes on the ground. The trip took them four weeks and they camped along the way because the country was not settled.

Arriving in Floyd County, Salome had to keep the stock rounded up until her dad could build fences. The Roberts family lived in a two-room house built by a bachelor settler who decided to move and sold his land to Roberts. At the end of the house, they added a dugout where they kept milk, groceries and a bed and spent the night there during storms.

THE FAMILY MOVED in to Lockney which then had nothing but a grocery store and school, and Salome attended the old Lockney College.

The Roberts family had a brief stay in Oklahoma and also lived in Briscoe County where Salome's dad filed on land. Later he decided to move to New Mexico.

"Mother had to leave her new stove and go," remembered Mrs. Koger. "Dad just loved to move. He could see the horizon where the earth and sky came together and wanted to see what was on the other side. We would load up what we could and leave the rest behind."

"When my father said he was going to New Mexico, I told him I was going to stay in Floyd County," Mrs. Koger continued. "I was 19 and wanted to ranch by myself and my husband-to-be was close."

KOGER, MEMBER of another Floyd County pioneer family, and his partner moved their sheep to New Mexico and sold out to ranchers and moved back to Lockney. Salome and Koger were married Nov. 20, 1901.

"He was 10 years older than I was and said he had been waiting for me to grow up," Mrs. Koger reminisced.

While Mrs. Koger lived with other women and children in what was known as "Shanty Town" in Lockney, in order to send their children to school, her husband operated a grain and feed barn and lived most of the time in its little office. He ate breakfast with a family from Arkansas that opened a boarding house in Lockney.

"WHEN SUPPLIES got low, we had to do with what we had until someone could go to the nearest town by team and wagon to get what we needed," Mrs. Koger recalled.

"My husband loved pretty stock and had registered sheep and Poland China hogs, and we both enjoyed that kind of life," Mrs. Koger said. In 1912 they moved to a place just across the line in Briscoe County, bordering Floyd and Swisher, swapping it later for one partly in Briscoe and partly in Swisher before trading for the present land in Swisher.

Mrs. Koger was a good doctor and nurse when someone was ailing. "I patched Leo's ribs and sewed his thumb back on," she stated. In high school she took physiology which she described as "nursing and diseases." She refused to take Latin and any other subject that she thought was useless for girls. Salome studied only the courses she believes she would need. When she took a test once for a teacher's certificate, she failed the rhetoric or composition part, but took the test again at age 17 and obtained her teacher's certificate. She never taught, however, because "I did not want to be deviled with other people's spoiled kids!"

MRS. KOGER IS confined to a wheelchair after breaking her hip about three years ago. In the past she enjoyed raising many flowers and cross-breeding them, including roses and poppies. "I raised pecan trees — everything!" she exclaimed.

"When anyone wanted to know how to do something, he or she went to Mrs. Koger," explained her good friend, Nancy Pepper of Tulia.

Mrs. Koger, who is not a member of a church, recently was told by a friend, "When you get to heaven, please put in a good word for me."

FLAG FOR A CENTENARIAN — Mrs. E.T. (Salome) Koger of Tulia was presented a Texas flag that flew over the capitol at Austin on her 100th birthday, Nov. 10. She was honored with a reception at her home to celebrate her century of living.

Donations needed for Boys Ranch suit fund

For the nearly 400 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, happiness at Christmastime means new clothing.

The annual drive to outfit that many boys at the Ranch has begun through the Christmas Suit Fund. This has become a traditional way of giving for many people who contribute a $45.00 gift that makes it possible for one of the boys to have a new suit or clothing package. Amarillo department stores cooperate with special discounts on boys' suits. Younger boys receive gift packages that include jackets, trousers, ties, shirts or other articles according to needs.

"The new suits and clothing packages will be the best Christmas presents the boys will receive," Virgil Patterson Ranch president. "We want to make it a Christmas, not only for the boys now at the Ranch but for those who will be coming to us in 1982. This drive also serves as a year-end reminder of those who care."

Contributions to the Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas.

VA News

From Donna Anderson

Many veterans and their dependents and survivors are required to furnish the Veterans Administration with an annual income report in order to retain eligibility for such disability or death benefits. According to Donna Anderson, Acting Service Officer for Floyd County, the annual income cards were sent to all claimants on November 1, 1981. If the completed reports are not returned to the VA by January 1, 1982, benefit payments will be stopped.

Those receiving the income cards include veterans, widows and children receiving disability and death pension, as well as dependent parents who are in receipt of death compensation or dependency and indemnity compensation based upon the service-connected death of a son or daughter. Also receiving cards this year are veterans whose service-connected disability ratings are 30% or more and who are in receipt of additional benefits because of dependent parents. For this latter group, the income of the dependent parents only must be reported.

Some claimants will not be required to complete the income card this year. Those persons exempted are veterans and widows of veterans who are age 72 or older and have received VA benefits for two years or longer with no material change in income.

Everyone receiving the income card must complete and return it to the VA by January 1, 1982, or no benefit check will be sent on February 1, 1982. Persons needing assistance in completing the income card should contact their local veterans Service Officer.

Tax scheme that hasn't worked explained by IRS

Should a taxpayer have faith in avoiding income taxes by buying a church charter through the mail? The people who sell the church charters say "yes," but the IRS says "no!" The federal tax agency routinely audits tax returns filed by the so-called mail-order ministers, according to IRS District Director

Richard C. Voskuil.

"While there are legitimate tax benefits for churches, and for people who donate to religious organizations, the mail-order schemers use the money to the benefit of the organizer. There is no poverty in spite of a signed vow of poverty statement," the director said. "Wei no tax benefits."

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY DARTHA WESTBROOK

What a lovely Thanksgiving week we had, with turkey and all the trimmings, including a few extra pounds when we weighed.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the lovely people in Floydada who are so kind to do the little things that mean so much to our residents all year. The ones who are so faithful to come out weekly and monthly for the devotions. We know that you sacrifice your time to do this for our residents. The regular visitors who come by just to make the day go better for us, and to cheer those who live here.

We have a group who provide a monthly birthday party, with all the refreshments, flowers, name tags and everything including a poem to make birthday's worth having. These ladies have been doing this for over 10 years I know, and they have never missed a month. That really takes dedication and love, and we love you for it City Park ladies. I hesitate to mention individuals, for fear of missing someone.

We have a lady who has a ministry of doing toenails, what a needed ministry. She is faithful, comes in and goes about her work, and you never hear much from her, but the residents look forward to her coming.

So many clubs, church groups, civic groups, and individuals come so often, and that's what makes this home. Thanks to all of you - if you have done anything for this nursing home, I want you to know you are truly appreciated.

Gene Watts brought a beautiful bouquet of flowers from the Perry funeral for our residents to enjoy last week. The Jr. 4-H Club brought cookies for a Thanksgiving treat, and we sure appreciate these expressions of love.

Thanks to all our visitors last week: Lois Jones, Allene Henry, Corene and Mury Stewart, Charley L. Berry, Sr., Gene Baird, Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Hartness, Worth Gwendolyn Howard, Mr. and Mrs. P.L. Hart, W.H. Eubanks, Hazel Bradley and Kim, Estelle Hinkle, Lucille Lebban, Kari Bunjes and Pauline Pierce.

Inch of rain falls at South Plains

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN

South Plains, November 30: The Attendance at Sunday School and Baptist Church services Sunday morning and Sunday night were low, due to fog, rain, cold weather and mud on the rural roads which kept people home. Sunday night there was thunder and lightning with wind and rain.

An inch of rain fell here over the wet spell during the weekend. This Sunday, it is good to see the sun, and the wind will soon be drying up the fields so farmers can get back into the stripping of their cotton.

There will be a combination Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner this coming Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Lois Lyons, on the Silverton Highway, south of town, who will host all the South Plains Baptist Church folks at a dinner in her home. The dinner will begin at 7:00 p.m. and the Rev. Cecil Osborne will be in charge of the services. Mrs. Lyons is planning to move from our vicinity the first part of the year, and she will be hostess at the dinner for all her friends from the church and to her pastor and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman and Mildred Thornton have recently moved to Plainview and are making their home there. They have lived in our vicinity many years southwest of South Plains on their farm, and will now be renting out their farm and will be living close to their son, Rusty, who lives in Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan and Bobbie Kinnibrugh returned home from Ruidoso, New Mexico Sunday night after spending part of the Thanksgiving holidays out there. They had gone out here with their children. Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Horne and Melissa and Mrs. Beth Dickens and Latham, and her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ray and Edith Dillard of Lockney here with them for Thanksgiving dinner and the day.

Mrs. M.M. Julian returned home Saturday from Roscoe where she had gone Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her children Terry and Leona Julian and son, Dickie. They all spent Thanksgiving Day in Roscoe with Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Althof, having dinner and supper there. The cotton harvest is about all through down that way, and Terry is finished with their cotton and has done some outside work, but had already finished that stripping for the year. Great modules of cotton stand everywhere there.

Mrs. Letha Mulder went to Amarillo this Monday to take her granddaughters Ronda and Candy Taylor home after they had spent the Thanksgiving holidays here and they had stayed with their grandmother, while their parents went back home. The weather was too foggy and bad for them to return home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure went to Plainview to spend their Thanksgiving Day and have dinner and supper with their daughter, Mrs. Jean McClure and others present were the Rev. and Mrs. Jeff Messer and son from Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cypert, Jennifer and Lindsey, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd and Marjorie McClure, from Kerrville, who were just recently wedded. They were here with his folks until Saturday.

Jim Harper of Haskell came here on November 17, to enter the Caprock Hospital still is in the hospital and very ill. His family is at his bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Monk, Leslie and Cody from Farwell, New Mexico were here for the Thanksgiving holidays with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Bethel, Shelli and Jamie, and they were all visiting with the Bethels at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning.

Mrs. Jean McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure of South Plains, and Terry Lee of Plainview were united in marriage on November 27, Friday morning, at 10:00 a.m. in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Cypert, who lives north of Plainview. All her children were present for the wedding, including Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cypert and girls, Jennifer and Lindsey, the Rev. and Mrs. Donna and Jeff Messer and son, from Shamrock, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd McClure from Kerrville. Her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure also present. The Rev. Jeff Messer pronounced the wedding vows, and a served following breakfast was following the marriage ceremony.

The couple will make their home in Plainview. We extend all good wishes to them for a happy life together.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marble and Cindy had guests for Thanksgiving dinner and the afternoon. With them were Carolyn's brother, Mr. and

Mrs. Bill and Edna Bethel of Floydada, and their daughter, Mrs. Jim and Britta Tye and their children, Tye and Joshua, and Marble was home with folks from Texas Tuesday afternoon visitors with were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Tonya Marble, Justin and Mel Holcomb.

BOVINE-O-METRICS ... the exercise program for cattle! Although the sight of a 600 pound cow exercising on a treadmill may be a little hard to swallow, that's exactly what animal scientists at Kansas State University are doing. It's being done so researchers can learn more about stress in relation to bovine respiratory diseases. Significant losses, primarily because of reduced growth rate, have been traced directly to respiratory diseases in cattle. Early symptoms are deviated body temperatures, nasal discharge, inflamed nasal passages and lethargic behavior. The K-State veterinary researchers are trying to pinpoint and alter the factors which make animals susceptible to the diseases. The end result, hopefully, will be preventive measures which can be taken by every cattleman to reduce this potential animal killer.

Coach's Comments

BY COACH L.G. WILSON

It was a case of a "good little team" playing a good big team. I was real proud of our boys for the scrape they put up. They came back after two early mistakes that led to Littlefield scores and battled right down to the wire. They were completely worn out physically after the game. What they had was left on the field. Nothing physically was saved, but in doing so they gained and still have that

Whirlwind Pride.

The knowledge will remain with them forever that they went out as champions — not on the scoreboard but in the eyes and hearts of a lot of people — especially their coaching staff.

Boy, did you see that crowd of supporters! Both towns are to be complimented on rallying to the support of their teams. We lost to a class team and we wish them well in their quest for the state championship.

FROM A T.D. as Carlos Rainwater just misses this behind the goal line in the Friday night game with...

JUBILANT WHIRLWINDS signal the touchdown which put the Winds on the scoreboard.

Littlefield pulls out 3-AAA Regional football victory

by DANNY ANDREWS Herald Managing Editor

LUBBOCK — If statistics told the story, you'd have thought Littlefield and Floydada played to a virtual standoff in a AAA regional confrontation between two state-ranked clubs Friday night at Lowrey Field. But the scoreboard said it was Littlefield 28, Floydada 14 and that spells a second straight ticket to the quarterfinals for Jerry Blakely's unbeaten Wildcats (12-0) who are making their sixth playoff appearance in his 11 years at the Lamb County school. Floydada closed its season at 10-2 with both losses being inflicted by Littlefield. The Whirlwinds lost in regular season, 21-7 when the Cats scored three times in the final quarter.

THE WILDCATS staggered Floydada with a 37-yard touchdown sprint by talented junior quarterback Bryan Gregory the first time they touched the ball, then added another seven by driving 53 yards in eight plays on their next possession with Blakely's son, Scott, a 165-pound senior tailback, crashing over left tackle for the final 12. On the previous play he ripped off an 18-yard gain. Jim Burks boomed both PATs and it was 14-0 with 4:27 still to play in the first quarter.

Blakely finished the night with 165 yards on 23 carries while Gregory picked up 72 on 11 tries and completed 5 of 8 passes for an additional 39 yards and a touchdown. On his TD run, he raced around right end and then cut back across the middle at the 20 and raced home untouched. It was set up when Bruce Williams was knocked loose from a pass at the Floydada 37 with Rocky Bowman recovering the fumble.

After falling behind, Floydada settled down to hold LHS to only 20 yards on just nine plays the rest of the half. In fact, Floydada had the ball almost 17 minutes of the first 24 and had nothing to show for it on the scoreboard.

completed three passes to Minner along the way before Williams, who gained over 1,300 yards on the year, crashed in from the three at 6:28 of the third quarter. Donnell Weeks kicked the extra and suddenly FHS was back in the game. But soon what Coach L.G. Wilson termed the key play of the game loomed ahead for Littlefield. Facing third and five and a stiff wind, Gregory hit big tight end Clark Pylant over the middle for 13 to keep the drive going.

"WE WERE in the right coverage but we just missed an assignment," said Wilson who felt it was crucial to hold the Cats at the point and drive again while Floydada had the wind at its back. On the very next play, Price scooted 35 yards to the FHS 27 and 10 plays later the Wildcats were on the board again as Gregory scrambled to the right and hit George Brockington who picked off the low pass in the end zone. Burks missed the PAT at 1:24 of the third quarter but it didn't matter. Backed up to their own eight early in the fourth quarter after holding Littlefield at the 32, Floydada got a big break when Beedy turned a busted play into a 71-yard footrace to the LHS 11 before Gregory caught up with him. But three plays

 The Floydada Whirlwinds opened the season with a loss to the Rabbits last Tuesday night. The game started slow as the Rabbits took the lead. At the end of the first half, the Rabbits were still leading by 10. As both teams entered the second quarter, the Rabbits led 32-20. With only four minutes left on the clock the Rabbits were now even at 37 as they kept the ball on the court by using quick defense as they scored two points in the lead. Ralls re-lead in the last minutes of play and the Rabbits widened the gap as they ended 49-41. Minner lead the

Winds with 15 points while Carlos Rainwater had 11 and Donnell Weeks had 9. The Winds will be traveling today to compete in the Idalou Tournament. Varsity Girls
 Ralls
 The Whirlwinds fell to a 2-3 record as they were defeated by Ralls 57-45 last Tuesday night. The Whirlwinds were never in command of the game but closed within one point in the first quarter as Ralls went on to take a 30-23 half time lead. In the second half Ralls took a ten point lead and held it to defeat the Floydada Girls. Coach Baxter replied "Ralls is a real good team as their 4-1 record show it." Sandra Robinson lead the scoring with 10 points while Debra Alfaro had 8. Also scoring were Karla Williams and Terri Pleasant with 6 points each. Williams lead with 7 rebounds as Alfaro, Pleasant and Angie Anderson all had 6 apiece. Hart

 The Whirlwinds opened the season with a 47-44 win over Hart to get them started on the right foot. Leading the scoring were Alfaro with 18, Pleasant with 10 and Rhonda Ratliff with 7. Post

Anti-freeze is a tasty but deadly poison

One laboratory-confirmed death of a dog due to anti-freeze poisoning has already been reported by the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory in Amarillo.

Veterinary Medical Association (TVMA).

"It's probably more common than anyone realizes. An owner may find his pet in a coma or dead and not know what has happened," said Johnston.

A small amount constitutes a toxic dose for an animal - two to three c.c.s per pound of weight for a dog, and even less for a cat, said the TVMA president.

Anti-freeze poisoning accounts for about 15 percent of reported animal poisonings, but many are never reported because owners don't realize that their pet has gotten into.

Johnston recommends that old anti-freeze be flushed down the sewer drain since it is biodegradable. Any that has spilled onto the driveway or street should be washed for 10 minutes toward the street drain. No puddles should be left for pets to get into. And no residue should be left behind because the dried crystals contain the poison. The drain pan should also be washed thoroughly.

The substance in anti-freeze which animals find tasty is ethylene glycol, a sweetish colorless liquid that also is an ingredient in other compounds found around the house. The toxin also is found in brake fluid, windshield de-icers and wallpaper remover.

Don't forget that ethylene glycol is also a coolant and Texas motorists use it year round. So caution should always be used when disposing of anti-freeze or coolant.

An animal that has ingested any amount of anti-freeze will appear drunk. He may be apprehensive, depressed, listless, uncoordinated or wobbly. If your family pet exhibits these symptoms could be suffering from anti-freeze poisoning and should be taken immediately to a veterinarian. Treatment of anti-freeze poisoning can wait.

Prevention is always the best medicine though, the Texas Veterinary Medical Association president says. Pet owners and all animals to use caution when disposing of anti-freeze coolant.

World's original indoor rodeo set for January 27th

The world famous Sons of the Pioneers have been signed to entertain at each of the 22 performances of the World's Original Indoor Rodeo during the January 27 through February 7 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, reports W.R. Watt Jr., show president-manager.

"We are pleased to bring this superb talent with their songs of the American West to the Fort Worth Rodeo audience," Watt said. "In song and on film, no group has been more representative of the spirit of the west."

The group's 1982 appearance will be the second time for the Sons of the Pioneers to sing during the Stock Show Rodeo. They were part of the cast of the 1958 Roy Rogers Chevy Show which was televised nationally on NBC during the February 2 closing night performance at that year's Stock Show Rodeo.

Blended harmony has become the group's trademark since its start as a trio in 1933 when Len Slye (Roy Rogers) and songwriters Bob Nolan and Tim Spencer pooled their talents. Throughout their career, the Sons of the Pioneers have endeared themselves to Western music lovers through a combination of harmony, instrumental effects and colorful tales in such favorites as "Cool Water," "Blue Shadows on the Trail," "Tumbling Tumbleweeds," "Red River Valley," and many more American classics.

Their long list of awards and honors, including designation as a "national treasure" by the Smithsonian Institution in 1979 for their substantive and continuing contributions to American culture, indicates international recognition as the premiere Western band of time.

Specialty acts to be presented during each rodeo performance include the Lora Family, seven members of a professional charro family from Monterrey, Mexico, who will present unbelievable routines of expert and precision-oriented rope tricks; and a group of the most talented trick riders in the business will exhibit a remarkable athletic ability, agile balance while riding fast horses around the

The rodeo ticket office opens Monday, December 14. Will Rogers Coliseum. Mail orders are being taken at the Stock Show, P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101. Tickets are $3 for all night and $5 for matinees, and $5 for matinees. Mail orders include $1 per order return postage and handling.

Outstanding 4-Hers honored in Lubbock

Outstanding 4-Hers honored — Jodie Smith (left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chose Floydada, and Keith Hight, son of Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Hight of Lockney, were among 44 members honored.

LUBBOCK — Forty-four outstanding members of 4-H Clubs in the South Plains were honored here Monday night, November 23rd.

In addition to receiving the Gold Star Award, highest honor presented at the county level, the youths were challenged by a top administrator of Texas Agricultural Extension Service to strive for a good finish as a climax to their outstanding start in life.

Joining the youths at the awards banquet in the cafeteria of Coronado High School were parents, government officials, Extension leaders, fellow 4-H'ers, educators and other community leaders.

Honored from Floyd County were Jodie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chose Smith of Floydada; and Keith Hight, son of Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Hight, of Lockney.

The belief that we need to get off to a fast start is deeply ingrained in American custom, Dr. Uel Stockard of College Station, state leader for county programs with the Extension Service, told the audience. But he stressed that the long run of life requires more than a good start.

A good start is important, whether it's eating a good breakfast to provide a nutritious start for the day or getting a good education to prepare for life, he said.

He told how Curtis Bickey of Bryan, now a professional football player with the Baltimore Colts, became a world class track star by practicing his start for sprinting events.

"He spent hours upon hours practicing getting out of the blocks," Stockard said, because he knew that fast start gave him an advantage over runners as fast as he was, but who were slower starting.

"But getting off to a fast start is more important in the short run than it is in the long run," Stockard cautioned.

He told of another youth who got off to a fast start as a West Texas farm boy who grew up in 4-H. This boy went into agribusiness "and literally walked with Presidents," Stockard said. But he was convicted of fraud and now is a convicted felon unable to take part in much of the life of his community, Stockard noted.

"You 4-H'ers have gotten off to a fast start," Stockard said. "You've been involved in projects that have taught you leadership and followship." And he said the ability to follow good leadership is just as important as being a leader.

He suggested five things they should do to assure a good finish for their fine start in life. He urged them to develop a set of beliefs; develop goals for their career, their family life and their community life; chart a course of action to achieve these goals; be patient in working toward their goals, and take advantage of the many opportunities they receive.

Master of ceremonies for the banquet were Dr. Sam Curl, dean of agricultural science at Texas Tech University. Guests were welcomed by Jim Roberts, general manager of South Plains Electric Cooperative, one of the 12 electric cooperatives which annually sponsor the banquet. The others are Bailey County, Cap Rock, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Lamb, Lea County, Lighthouse, Lone Wolf, Lyntegar, Midwest and Swisher electric cooper-

The awards presentation was narrated by 4-H'ers Tanay Tyer of Hale County and Katie Montandon of Swisher County. The awards were presented by Dr. Catherine Crawford and Billy C. Gunter, district Extension directors.

Dinner music was by 4-H'ers Justin Sharp of Swisher County and Mandy Igo of Hale County. Cleet Griffin, Dawson County 4-H'er presented a patriotic closing ceremony. Also on the program were 4-H'ers Ralph Scheele of Floyd County, Linda Smith and Lonnie Howard, both of Hale County.

FLOYD DATA

Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Denison spent Thanksgiving in Lubbock with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Denison, their children and families, and other relatives. About 30 were present for the occasion.

The electric cooperative is member-owned and operated; its directors are members who serve without salary and pay the same rates for power that other members pay.

Thus, when the cost of power goes up, the directors (who are the first to know) have a double desire to make certain that the price is never a penny more than it has to be.

When they serve the members best interests, they are serving their own as well.

Time to treat peach trees for pests

For homeowners with peach trees, fall is the best time to treat for one of the most destructive of all peach tree pests, the peach tree borer. A sure sign of the pest, says county Extension Agent-Entomology Paul Treptow, is the gum oozing down the trunk or branches of the tree. "This insect is mostly a pest of peach but is also found infesting plum, cherry and apricot trees," Treptow explains.

Actually, two borers commonly attack peach trees, he adds. The larval stage of the peach tree borer feeds just beneath the tree's bark in an area approximately six inches above the soil line to six inches below. The lesser peach tree borer attacks the upper portion of the tree's trunk and larger branches. The approach to controlling these pests is basically the same, but the method of application differs.

A fumigant generally used for peach tree borer control is paradichlorobenzene (PDB) crystals.

Using fumigants around peach trees is a delicate operation and should be done with great care. Over-treatment can damage the tree. The crystals, when applied to warm soil, quickly volatilize into a heavy gas which penetrates through soil crevices into burrows of overwintering borers and kills them. Crystals should only be applied when the soil is dry and the temperature is 55 degrees or above.

"When using PDB for peach tree borer control," Treptow recommends, "weeds should be removed from around the base of the tree and the soil leveled one foot from the tree trunk. PCB crystals should be placed in a narrow groove encircling the tree about two inches from the tree trunk. Care should be taken to keep crystals from directly contacting the tree. Clean soil should be placed over the crystals to form a cone-shaped pile about six inches high around the base of the tree. This soil should be removed from the base of the tree in late March or early April."

Entomologist Treptow adds that the amount of PDB to use is determined by age and size of the tree. In general, one-half ounce of crystals should be used for two- to three-year old trees, three-fourths ounce for four-to-five-year old trees, and one ounce for mature trees.

Treptow says that both PDB and ethylene dichloride can also be used to treat peach trees infested by the lesser peach tree borer. Affected areas, recognized by masses of gum mixed with grass and sawdust running down the surface of the trunk and branches, should be treated after the leaves fall from the peach trees. A mixture of four ounces PDB in one pint of miscible oil diluted in two pints of water or a smaller amount at the same proportions should be prepared. The mixture should be painted on the wounds and damaged areas, without encircling the trunk or limb.

For the homeowner with peach trees infested with either the peach tree borer or the lesser peach tree borer, Treptow concludes, "control measures can greatly lengthen the life of the trees."

Further information on control of the peach tree borer is available at the county Extension office.

Wind energy used for pumping water

Rural residents and agricultural producers may throw more money to the wind than they get from it with windmills and other wind machines.

In most areas, wind machines are not yet economical for pumping water if another means is available, says an agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Without electricity or an engine-powered pump, however, a windmill is the best way to pump water for home or livestock use, says engineer Wayne Keese. "But the choice between a windmill and existing electrical power for pumping water should be thoroughly analyzed," he cautions.

For comparison, select a windmill and an electric pump that can provide the necessary amount of water. "Then compare the cost of owning and operating both systems," suggests Keese, "including depreciation, interest on investment, repairs, the cost of power for the electric pump and the cost of water storage for the windmill system."

Irrigation generally requires a higher pumping rate than a multi-blade farm windmill provides, Keese notes that modern wind turbines are being tested in combination with electric pumps to provide "wind assistance" for irrigation.

Such a system reduces the load on the electric motor while providing a dependable and constant flow of water, explains Keese. However, he says the wind-assist concept does not work as well for pumps driven by internal combustion engines.

"If wind power becomes economically feasible," Keese says, "research indicates it could provide as much as 40 percent of the energy now used for irrigation. The economic feasibility depends on several variables, but it may improve as electric power costs continue rising."

State hay show entries needed in December

Texas farmers and ranchers wanting to see how well the hay they harvested this year stacks up have until December 11 to enter samples in the Texas State Hay Show.

The show is set for January 27 at the Waco Convention Center and will feature hay samples from the 1981 crop, points out Don Dorsett, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The Texas State Hay Show has attracted some 300 entries in past years, but this year's show has gained a lot of interest and entries could reach the 400 mark, notes Dorsett.

Producers may submit one sample in each of the seven show classes, which include coastal bermudagrass, other bermudagrasses, other perennials, mixed grasses, summer annuals, winter annuals and legumes.

Samples should be sent to Billy M. Collier, McLennan County Extension Agent, 420 North 6th St., Waco, TX 76702. Producers should include their name and address, county in which the hay was produced, and class to be entered.

In addition to hay samples from throughout the state, the show will feature a program of interest to hay producers, users and commercial suppliers, points out Dorsett. Keynote speaker will be Dr. Monte Rouquette of Overton, forage researcher with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The show also will feature 4-H and FFA hay judging contests.

Dorsett adds that the Texas State Hay Show will culminate several days of agricultural activities in Waco. The three-day Mid-Tex Farmland and Ranch Show starts January 25, and the following day features meetings of the Blackland Income Growth (BIG) program and the Texas Forage and Grassland Council.

Stocker gain contracts provide insurance

Small grain crops will likely produce an abundance of forage this fall and early winter due to good moisture conditions over most of the state. To get the most from this forage, producers may want to consider grazing stocker cattle under a gain contract.

"With continued high interest rates and uncertain livestock prices, a stocker gain contract can provide some price insurance," points out Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist in management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"However, a producer needs an accurate estimate of his costs before entering into such a contract," cautions the economist. "This is essential for determining the price needed per hundredweight of gain to make the agreement profitable."

Assuming 1.25 acres of small grain pasture per head (in the Central Texas Blacklands), Lovell estimates per acre forage costs (variable and fixed) at $102.50 and livestock costs (feed, labor, death loss and related expenses) at $47.77, for a total of $175.90 per head.

As net gain per head increases from 150 to 300 pounds, total variable cost of gain per hundredweight declines from $87.58 to $43.79 while total cost of gain per hundredweight drops from $117.27 to $58.63.

So, depending on the expected average daily gain per animal and total days of grazing, a producer can determine his position regarding a stocker gain contract. Armed with his cost figures, he can make sure the contract entered into is reasonable and offers some assurance of covering all costs, including a return for management time.

"Of course, in accepting the minimum compensation as determined by cost estimates, producers need to consider the likelihood of lower than anticipated net gains per head, unexpected forage production costs or higher than normal stocker death losses," cautions the economist.

In addition to considering a stocker gain contract, producers also have several other options, including grazing owned stockers until small grains play out or grazing them for a shorter period and then harvesting small grains for grain or hay.

"Whatever the choice regarding small grains and stocker cattle, first identify all the alternatives and the expected rewards for each," advises Lovell.

Management critical for forage-fed beef

"Management" is the key to a forage-fed beef production program—management of cattle and grazing.

This emphasis on management was a key part of the recent South Central Texas Cow-Calf Clinic which dealt with forage-fed beef and attracted some 300 cattlemen.

"Because forages are seasonal, management of grazing and cattle is critical in a forage-fed beef production program," said Dr. Bill Turner, head of the Department of Animal Science at Louisiana State University. "To gain weight, cattle must graze forages that are highly digestible. That means forages must be young and growing vigorously."

"The concept of forage-fed beef calls for a 365-day-a-year grazing program and keeping cattle on forage longer," said Turner. "Feeder cattle must be in the 800-900-pound range before going on a short-term feeding program while slaughter cattle must be kept in the 900-1100-pound range."

"You will have to select the type of cattle that will do best on forage," Turner emphasized. "There is no one best breed just like there is no one best type of grass to grow."

"The main thing is to produce lean, meaty carcasses. We still have to produce beef that is tender, juicy and flavorful whether we do it on grass or through the feedlot," Turner said.

Regarding breed selection, he noted, "You can't beat a Brahman-British breed (Hereford or Angus) crossbred cow. You want each of your cows to have a calf each year, to be a good milkier and to give her calf good potential for growth."

"Pick those breeds with traits important to you," Turner emphasized. "I think in this area (South Central Texas) you need a crossbred cow with some Brahman in her. The choice of bull depends on the market you're shooting for. If the market changes, change your bull."

While advocating crossbred cows, Turner emphasized that good purebred cattle are still essential because they provide a base for the industry.

Another speaker, Dr. Dennis Stiffler, emphasized the need for cattlemen to provide consumers with the kind of product they will use. Stiffler, a meats specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, advised cattlemen to consider a production system oriented to providing leaner beef.

While forage-fed beef meets this objective, there are other things to consider, said Stiffler. These are that forage-fed production systems have greater variability, the growth rate of animals is reduced, animals have a lower dressing percentage, and total production costs are greater because animals must be kept longer. However, carcasses from forage-fed animals tend to have a higher cutability.

"Feeding grain to forage-fed animals for at least 60 days can make for a more desirable meat flavor and will improve the color of the animal's body fat," Stiffler. "Grain feeding also can provide a little more fat covering on the outside of the carcass which reduces cold-shrink leading to toughness."

He also cited such techniques as electrical stimulation of the beef carcass, cooler aging, pelvic suspension (tenderstretch), and blade tenderization as improving beef tenderness.

"We can use science and technology to produce a more consistent product that today's consumers demand," Stiffler said.

The Cow-Calf Clinic was sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System and beef committees in Austin, Brazos, Burleson, Fayette, Gillespie, Harris, Lee, Waller and Washington counties.

American Agriculture Station Convention set in Abilene

American Agriculture Movement members will gather December 4 and 5 at the Sheraton in Abilene for their annual state convention.

Featured speaker at noon Saturday will be Wayne Cryts, the gutsy Missouri farmer who made national headlines when he and 3,000 other farmers removed his soybeans from the bankrupt Ristine, Missouri elevator in defiance of court orders. Bankruptcy trustees planned to sell Cryts' soybeans, which he had stored on warehouse receipts, to pay off the debts of the elevator. Legal action is still pending against Cryts in what will be a landmark case.

A well-known Arkansas farmer, Chapman, will deliver the banquet address Friday night, December 4, p.m.

National AAM Chairman Mark Meeke of Plainview and National Washington Coordinator David Seaton of Burleson, will speak Saturday afternoon, December 5.

AAM members will discuss the bill that is coming out of Washington and plan strategy for 1982.

All interested persons may attend the banquet Friday night is by reservation only. For more information contact Key Crawford, Texas state coordinator in Hereford at 806-364-7820.

Rangeland brush control must be continuous

Once you start a range brush control program, you'll likely have to keep it up or reinfestation will result.

"Range brush control rarely eradicates a brush species," says Dr. Tommy Welch, range brush and weed control specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Though some practices provide high percentage control, most offer only partial control."

Often the brush species regains or surpasses pretreatment density.

Fall and winter is a good time to control brush to improve rangelands, says Welch.

Several brush control methods are available, Welch says, including both mechanical and chemical treatments. Among mechanical methods are chaining and grubbing while chemical treatments include kerosene, diesel, 2, 4, 5-T and pelleted or granular herbicides.

"Grubbing plants is an excellent way to control brush and may be done by hand if plants are small, says Welch. "However, a more common method is power grubbing with a grubbing unit mounted on a crawler-type or rubber-tired tractor."

Chaining involves drawing a heavy anchor chain (40-90 pounds per foot and 150-300 feet long) between two crawler-type tractors. Chaining will uproot most large trees (4 or more inches in diameter) and is most effective about three years after a herbicide has been used. Also, moisture should be plentiful to allow removal of the bud zone from the soil to keep the tree from resprouting.

As far as chemical methods for maintenance controls are concerned, basal treatment is probably the most common use of a herbicide, Welch notes.

Kerosene, diesel or a diesel-2, 4, 5-T mixture may be poured around the base of many brush species on rangeland. Basal treatment is time-consuming but provides excellent control when the brush stand is thin.

Pelleted or granular herbicides are also available for individual plant treatment on rangeland, adds Welch. Ten percent picloram (Tordon 10K) will control many brush plants when applied around the base of plants. However, moisture is necessary to move the herbicide into the soil and the plant's root systems.

Nation's soil & water appraisal available

The most comprehensive appraisal ever conducted of the Nation's soil and water resources is now available for reference in the local USDA Soil Conservation Service offices and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office (SCS and ASCS).

Jon J. La Baume, SCS district conservationist in Floyd County said that the appraisal—which was called for by the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA)—reveals that soil erosion is critical in many important farming areas of the United States. If continued, La Baume said, these high erosion rates will reduce the future ability of the country to produce food and fiber. He added that upstream flood damage and other resource losses also are likely to increase if current trends continue.

These documents replace earlier drafts of the RCA appraisal. Extensive public comments on the drafts are reflected in the final appraisal. Limited numbers of copies will be available in each SCS state office for use by interested individuals and groups.

A recommended conservation program of the Secretary of Agriculture, which will be based on the appraisal and on public response to earlier RCA draft documents has been released for public comments. A RCA informational meeting will be held in the South Plains Association of Soil and Water Conservation District's area on Tuesday, December 8, at the South Plains Co-op Oil Mill, 2901 Ave. A, Lubbock. The meeting will begin at 10:00 a.m. and conclude at noon. Respond bulletins are now available at the local SCS, 208 South Wall in Floydada for comments by interested individuals and groups, responses must be in to the state Soil Conservation Service office by January 15, 1982.
