

New Methods are being tried by local farmers

Lyle Miller of the Sandhill Community is using a ripper plow, a lister bottom and an anhydrous feeding in one process to rip across the land instead of three.

BY SHELLY HARRIS

The economic crunch being suffered by farmers is bringing about innovative farming practices to cope with the high cost of fuels, equipment, and maintenance.

Farmers, particularly in the Sandhill area, are combining plows, listers, and even chemical applicators; hooking them up to one tractor and making one trip across the land where it took two or three before.

Lyle Miller has been using a ripper plow, a lister bottom, and an anhydrous feeding in one process. He is re-working land that was in corn last year.

"We did tandem it twice...and then we're running this three-way plow," he said. "I don't know who started it. But because of the farm economy it's more wide spread than it's been in past years."

Cecil Jackson, another Sandhill farmer, is converting to minimum tillage. His objective is to get "it into the bed with as few trips as possible."

"I rip-it and re-list it all in one operation," he said. He is also putting down herbicides at the same time.

True minimum tillage would be a "one trip deal" and is used by many farmers in the northern part of the country. Because of heavy winter snows and spring rains, they are planting at the same time they re-word the soil.

The drier South Plains area has the opposite problem of having to pre-water. Jackson says that that is the most expensive watering a farmer does.

By working the ground in the least trips possible a farmer is able to have his land in readiness so that any winter moisture can be held and not lost by later plowing.

By cutting the number of trips over the land in half, Jackson has his land almost ready.

"If I get a snow or a good rain, I don't have to disturb that ground again," he said. "In years past I have gotten worn and miled without a pre-watering."

Jackson and his father, Fred, have been experimenting with the multiple plowing since the '60's. About five years ago he bought a roto-tiller.

"It's expensive, but it does a beautiful job," he said.

The Jacksons had a problem with cotton stocks when they first began. "I don't know if I grow any better cotton, but I bet I grow more stocks than anybody else," he said laughing. By using the roto-tiller the stocks are wiped out.

The first tillers were only two row and were thought to be hard on tractors. Jackson uses a newer six-row model and considers it a minimum up-keep plow.

"I call it survival"

Cecil Jackson said.

"Everything it saves puts money in my pocket,"

"I've used it on approximately 3000 acres and I replaced my first baring and chain this past week," he said. "But 3000 acres...I've got no gripe."

He said that as far as tractor size, a 90 to 100 hsp can easily handle a six-row roto-tiller unless it is on ground with just the stocks. If the ground has been ripped and re-listed the 90 hsp tractor handles it fine.

The eight-row tiller will take a 100 to 130 hsp tractor. Eddie Foster, Lockney, has an eight-row. Roger Dawdy and Edwin Nutt are two who have the six-row model. There are also several four-row tools in the county.

Jackson said that using the roto-tiller is a slow process with a speed of about four-and-one-half mph. "If you go too fast it gets to walking on top of the ground."

He has saved four trips over the ground by using that tool and though it is expensive he believes it has already paid for itself.

Almost any type of winter plowing, considering the depreciation and cost of equipment and fuel, will cost about 14 per acre. He has completely covered his land in four trips where it used to take him eight. He farms 1100 acres and believes the tool saves him $4400 a year.

"Everything it saves, is putting money in my pocket," he said. "I call it survival."

Farmers have to operate at peak efficiency. He believes that farming is changing so fast that it is the best managers, the most efficient, and the luckiest ones who will make it. There is always the weather to contend with.

The situation, inflation, has "run loose for the past 40 years and now it's caught up with us." The answer, he believes, lies in cutting cost without abusing the land.

City buys new sanitation system

The City of Floydada has recently purchased a new sanitation system at a cost of $194,530. The system includes 100 containers that will completely replace the now used by the city and a new loading garbage truck.

The present system is 11 years old and according to City Manager Bill Feuerbach is wearing out.

The dumpsters are rusting-out, the trucks are old and we can't get them repaired. Feuerbach said. "And it's expensive if we could."

The new garbage trucks have a capacity of 16,781 in the past 10 years he said. The usual budgeted costs are between $8 - $9000.

The City Council plans to pass an ordinance increasing the sanitation charge to its customers at the next regular meeting, February 9. There will be a 30 day period before the charges become effective. The increase will appear on the bills received April 1, for March usage.

The sanitation system was purchased from EMCO, Plainview. The owner, Franklin Ebeling, was interviewed on Chantel 28, Lubbock, this past week. He said that the Company was started about five years ago and manufactured six trucks and 60,000 containers their first year. From that beginning they now furnish systems for the cities such as St. Louis and Detroit.

This week the city will begin receiving the order of: 533, three, cubic-yard, refuse containers; 137, one and one half, cubic-yard, refuse containers; and one IH truck with EMCO body.

A trade-in of the approximately 700 containers and three trucks now used by the city will purchase another truck of the same specifications as the new one. The city will repay the 194 thousand-dollar lease/purchase price over a period of 5 years at 12.5% interest. The city's payment will be $4,331.41 per month.

Councilmen Leroy Burns, Boone Adams, and Frank Breed voted for the sanitation purchase. Councilman Carl Jarrett voted against. Councilman Wayne Russell, acting as Mayor Pro-Tem in the absence of Mayor Parnell Powell, did not vote.

Carthel announces

Charles Carthel announces that he has filed for election to County Commissioner Precinct #2.

Carthel, 36, is a native of Lockney and has farmed in the area for the past 15 years.

He has been a member of the Lockney Volunteer Fire Department for the past 12 years, and a member of the Ambulance Service since it was begun about five years ago.

Carthel's wife, Barbara, is a P.E. aide at Lockney Elementary School. The couple has two children: Robin, 16, is a high school Junior, and Russell, 14, is in eighth-grade.

The family is a member of the Church of Christ, West College and Third.

"I will do the best job I can and treat everybody the same," Carthel said. "Support and influence would be deeply appreciated."

Carthel will be running against incumbent Bob Jarrett in the May primary.

At this time the precinct lines will be the same as they were in 1980. If the new boundaries are approved before March 1, 1982 those lines will be in effect for the coming primary. If there is no approval by that date, the county will be operating under the present boundaries according to Democratic Chairman Ben Ayres.

CHARLES CARTHEL

A review of the Revue

In the truest sense of the words "the show must go on" the 60 member cast of "The 1890 Music Hall Revue" performed to an appreciative audience Saturday night in the FHS auditorium. The show, a musical-comedy history of the last century, has all that it takes to make the show a lot of fun: delightful music, a few corny jokes, profound historic facts, a lot of cute kids, a cast that thoroughly enjoys what it is doing, and a rousing grand finale of when the Saints Go Marchin' In.

In case you missed it Saturday night, you still have another chance. The "1890 Music Hall Revue" will be presented Thursday night (February 4) at 7:30 p.m. at FHS.

In interviews with the audience these comments were made:

Verna Lynn Stewart — "I liked it! I thought it was cute!"

Tommy Ogden — "I thought it was really nice. We really enjoyed it."

Mark Wideman — "When I go back Thursday, I'm gonna watch the slides! I thought it was real good and it used local people I didn't know had talent. I didn't know Elaine Galloway could sing and her piece was excellent. The kids add a lot to it. I loved Roosevelt!"

Carrie Martin — "I loved it! I won a $10 gift certificate from Ponderosa in my crackerjacks!"

Janice Lloyd — "Program sure was good."

Billie Jordan — "When are you going to do it again?"

Humorist will speak at Chamber banquet

The Banquet Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has secured humorist George McKinney as the speaker for their annual Banquet. The event will take place February 27 at Duncan Elementary Cafeteria and will begin at 7:00 p.m.

Mr. McKinney is well-known at Chamber Banquets as he has spoken to 109 in recent years. He says, "I've spoken for two Chamber three time and three Chambers two times. Some catch on faster than others."

Mr. McKinney is an experienced civic worker having served as President of such organizations as Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Industrial Foundation and hospital board. He is Past State President of the Beautify Texas Council and is a member of the Board of Directors of the Texas Industrial Development Council.

Mr. McKinney is a member of the International Platform Association which is the WHO'S WHO of the Speakers and Entertainers on the American Platform.

He is listed in the Dictionary of International Biography. He is also listed with the Men of Achievement in the International Biographical Center.

Mr. McKinney was commissioned an Ambassador of Goodwill by former Governor Dolph Briscoe and has been awarded the same honor by Governor Bill Clements.

Do Rock songs have hidden Satanic messages?

LUFKIN, Texas (AP)— You've heard of reading between the lines. But what about listening between the lyrics?

A Kaufman preacher thinks messages of evil and wrongdoing on rock 'n' roll records may be affecting listeners on a subconscious level, and a Lufkin teacher agrees.

They are particularly concerned with a subliminal technique called backward masking whereby messages that cannot be heard when played forward are implanted in the song.

James Gilbert, a Church of Christ minister in Kaufman, southeast of Dallas, says he's trying to find out how it's done and why, and what effect it is having on the young people who listen to it.

And they are listening to it, he says, every time they turn on the radio or phonograph and hear Led Zeppelin's "Stairway to Heaven" or Queen's "Another One Bites the Dust," among others.

Backward masking is apparent to the conscious-level mind only when the record is played backward. These masked messages cannot be heard by the conscious mind when played forward, but the mind is able to retain, unscramble and understand it, Gilbert said.

"So I was talking with some of my kids about it and some rumors we'd heard about some songs containing backward satanic messages and decided to get some of these albums and see for ourselves what they had to say," Gilbert said.

"We listened to these backwards segments by putting the record on a neutral turntable and then spinning it by finger backwards at approximately the right speed," he said. "It surprised us.... These rumors seemed clearly to be true."

A Lufkin news reporter who listened to the records Gilbert and others have pointed out found in "Stairway to Heaven."

when played backward, a segment says, "My sweet Satan. The one will be the sad one who makes me sad, whose power is Satan." Forward the lyrics are, "Yes, there are two paths you can go by, but in the long run there's still time to change the road you're on."

Although some words are not clearly discernable, the word Satan is, the reporter found.

Gilbert says the two messages, the conscious and the subliminal, together can influence the listener to believe Satan's path is the path to follow.

When Frank Latimer Jr., television lab instructor and drama teacher at Lufkin High School, read about backward masking, he decided to do some research on it with the help of his students.

"I have the neutral turntable and the kids have these records," he said, "so we turned them backwards by hand just to see if we could hear something being said."

Led Zeppelin's "Stairway to Heaven" was again the target of the experiment. "Most of us could hear something, but not entire sentences," Latimer said. We could hear words and phrases here and there.

Some students said they could clearly hear the satanic message, but others were skeptical.

Rock songs that seem to contain masked messages, according to Gilbert and Latimer, include Queen's "Another One Bites the Dust," and the Beatles' "Revolution No. 9."

Played in reverse, the segment at the end of the Queen song that repeats the line, "Another one bites the dust," again and again, says, "Decide to smoke marijuana," over and over.

"Revolution No. 9" contains a segment that, played backward, has another message. The repetition of "number nine, number nine..." in reverse says, "turn me on, dead man, turn me on, dead man..."

Gilbert says he has listened to these selections and has heard rumors of others. But, he says, he doesn't point out a particular song until he's heard it for himself.

Gilbert says a Black Oak Arkansas song, "The Day Electricity Came to Arkansas," contains the backward message, "Satan, Satan, Satan. He is God. He is God. He is God."

Electric Light Orchestra not only backward masked a segment of lyrics, but an entire song, "Fire on High" on their "Face the Music" album. When played forward, a garbled voice can be heard just before the music begins. When played in reverse, the voice can clearly be understood to say, "The music is reversible, but time is not. Turn back. Turn back. Turn back. Turn back." Then the music begins.

Latimer, a Sunday school teacher at First Baptist Church, says there are two questions to answer: "First, is there something there or isn't there? Second, is the $64,000 question — is it affecting and how is it affecting the mind?"

Answering his first question, Latimer says, "I heard it. Others heard it, and record producers say backtracking is done. So, yes, I say something is there."

Latimer and some area disc jockeys say they know that the backward masking technique is used in recording studios. Efforts to reach some of these record producers were unsuccessful; they all failed to return calls from the News.

"Can the mind interpret or understand these lyrics backwards?" Latimer asks. "I don't know, but I think it's worth a try."

At least two psychologists know of any data on the subject.

"I don't know of any data on the subject," says Dr. Hal Becker, a behavioral psychologist at the University of Louisiana. Asked whether the mind can understand a subliminal message, he says, "I believe it's entirely possible that drop in price is a very long message. I don't know if it's entirely possible that drop in price is a very long message."

Dr. Jerry Lackey, professor of psychology at Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches, says he has evidence to prove the effectiveness of backward masking in rock music.

The Rev. Michael O'Connor's

Perspectives on above Rock song article

BY MICHAEL O'CONNOR

Down in Lufkin, they have discovered a new menace to the moral fiber of our fine youth. Sort of. It is called "back masking," and it involves recording messages backwards on rock albums. The supposed idea is that the messages are picked up subconsciously, and perhaps the subconscious is able to understand the backward message.

This idea is not really as new as it sounds. More than ten years ago, a disc jockey thought he had found some kind of nefarious message recorded backward on one of the Beatle albums. Religious leaders had a field day with that one.

How should we respond to this kind of news? I'm a natural skeptic, especially with this sort of thing. I want to hear the evidence for myself. According to the press accounts not everyone could hear the messages as clearly as the discoverer of this fiendish plot. In the near ancient Beatle controversy, I heard the alleged subliminal message and only understood the words because somebody told me what they were supposed to be. Was it real or was it just somebody convincing me that that was what was happening?

Beyond this there is a good deal of question concerning the effects of any kind of subliminal suggestion. We need to be careful of jumping on a scare wagon over something that may not be all that dangerous.

Even if subliminal suggestion is valid, Christians need to start believing what they preach. If God is the powerful God we say he is, and if He gives us His Spirit, then certainly He should be able to counter the effects of subliminal suggestion. We seem to act like the devil is so tricky that he can even outwit God. If that is true, devil is more powerful than God, and I just can't buy that.

Finally, we should be more concerned about the overt messages in the music today. One punk rocker does a number about Satanic mass, and on stage the number is done complete with pentagrams, and other trappings of witchcraft. Some groups are still into destroying their instruments, others sing songs with explicit sexual references. These are things I know are being understood by the people listening to them, and bother me more than something that might be done and might be understood. Let's spend our time fighting the devil we know, rather than the one we don't.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

We would like to tell Lockney just in case you don't know how superb your town is. There were two young ladies in a car wreck there Saturday, January 23, one was my daughter. We have never met people like you before so everyone should know.

The hospital is great-all of the staff and your Dr. Gary Mangold. A special thank you to the men on the Fire Department and the ambulance team. We only have names of three of the men Craig Ellison, Bill McCarter and Barry Hooten.

God Bless everyone of you and thank you very much.

Weather and rate increase send gas bills up price increase coupled with a drop in temperatures in January in some cases, doubled and tripled residential and commercial bills.

Customers have used more Mcfs of gas this month because of a drop in temperatures straight through for eleven straight days. The average temperature included one day which was a high of only 16 degrees.

Customers started calling me Friday about their bills. Floydada Energas said, "Then I called me at home all day."

There was a 11% increase of 11% was possible on it. However, the figure is not on the total bill, but 11% on each Mcfs level.

Gas is used during the winter months. The fourth level for Mcfs used during the month is $1.854 per Mcfs.

There are other changes in the new rate chart. Customers are now charged the gross amount and receive a discount if the bill is paid by the due date. Before, the lower rate was charged the customer and then the gross amount was due as penalty for late payment.

A minimal charge of $4.91 has been added to the new rate chart. This only pertains to customers who use less than one Mcfs of gas per month.

There is also a cost-of-gas (C.O.G.) charge added on to the bill. That figure reflects the fluctuating cost of gas at the well-head and is passed on to the customer. There are other company gas costs figured in and has been approved by the Railroad Commission.

The Hesperian building used 34 Mcfs of gas in January 1981. Eight more Mcfs were used the past month. On a gas consumption bill of $150.82 the C.O.G. charge was $4.4935.

The building housing the Lockney Beacon used 12 Mcfs of gas in January, 1981, and used 26 Mcfs this past month.

There is also a sales tax charged to non-residential customers. The city is paid 1% and the state 4%.

The price increase does not effect irrigation-well customers, Garms said. "This increase is in the general service rate in the cities served by Energas and its environs."

The new rate does not effect the contract with the City of Floydada used for the electrical plant.

Queenie wins in spite of injury

Southwestern Exposition and Rodeo in Will Complex last Saturday. Ty Williams, 18-year-old son of Jerry and Williams of Lockney, won grand champion with his 22-month-old Angus Queenie, otherwise known as Queenie or Flashy Queen. This was the first time Williams had produced in years of showing.

Queenie lost 200 to 300 pounds during the recuperative period, but with lots of daily tender loving care the animal returned to her 1,250 gorgeous pounds. "We tried everything in the book," Williams said. They used DMSO, a controversial medication, horse liniment and aloe vera.

The heifer that was lost belonged to Matt, Williams' brother. His sister, Libby, was scheduled to show Elba in the show, but Williams took her place. Elba took first in the late-summer yearling class. Jim Gillooly, judge from Washington, Inc., was very impressed with both animals.

Leslie Lewis, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lewis of Kerens, showed the reserve grand champion Angus heifer, Blossom.

A special plaque was presented to the winning Angus by the D-Bar-H Ranch, a ranch in the Decatur area owned by Dean and Barbara Hancock of Richland Hills.

Last chance this Thursday night to see this year's Women's Division's Musical - Comedy show "The 1890 Music Hall Revue." A repeat performance will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Floydada High School. Don't miss it!

Public Apology: The Town & Country Store (a new Chamber member) is NOT connected with the former Minit Mart in any way. I had mistakenly called it the Town & Country Minit Mart and do hereby apologize.

Reminder: Production Credit Association is sponsoring a Forward Contracting Hedging and Marketing seminar conducted by Dean Whittier & Reynolds at 7:00 p.m. Monday, February 8 in the PCA office. The seminar is open to area farmers free of charge.

There are so many activities coming in the near future that the Chamber office has become a centrally located ticket office. Available are: "1890 Music Hall Revue (Women's Division Show) Thursday, February 4, Heart Hoe Down (Heart Association Dance) Saturday, February 13, "A Little Bit Country" (Rotary Show) Saturday, February 20, Chamber of Commerce Banquet, Saturday, February 27.

Gregorys honored with anniversary party

A surprise party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gregory on their 40th Wedding Anniversary was held in their home south of Floydada on Saturday January 23, 1982.

Hosting the party were their children: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Woodson of Del Rio; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Bunch of Carrollton; Mr. and Mrs. Britt Gregory and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gregory of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Mosley of Lockney.

The Gregorys were greeted at their home after a lunch in Lubbock by sixty family members and friends. A shadow box containing Gregory's war medals, some jewelry and old photographs of the couple during their courtship and marriage was presented to them by their children.

Other guests had been asked to write down some special memory or event that they had shared with them and these memories along with a scrapbook was presented from their friends and family.

Two special gifts - a phone call from Marleen Packle - Kessels from Holland and a letter from Migakee Sato, the two AFS students who stayed with the Gregorys and attended Floydada High School, lent a very special touch to a memorable day.

The Gregorys were married January 22, 1942.

Il Penseroso Study Club learns flower arranging

Il Penseroso Jr. Study Club met January 28th in the home of Ricky and Kathy Kellison. Co-hostesses were Kay Martin and Reeda Cay Smith.

The meeting was called to order. Thank you notes were read. Members were reminded their quilt square will be due February 25. The March meeting was changed to March 9.

Members were encouraged to help with the cataloging of the books at the Lockney Library. Those wishing to help could get in contact with Dowlene Dipprev.

Judy Fitzgerald of Plainview gave an interesting and educational program on the making and arranging of silk flowers. Each of the members selected a kit, then were taught how to assemble four different flowers. Various arrangements and displays were shown.

Members and guests enjoyed a six foot submarine sandwich and chips as a special treat.

Members present were Sandy Adrian, Treena Aston, Cathy Barnette, Anita Bigham, Marilyn Biggs, Cindy Ford, Kelly Fortenberry, Lynda Gant, Julie Hickerson, Gavle Jackson, Jessie Johnson, Kathy Kellison, Kim Lambert, Brenda Mangold, Kay Martin, Ginger Mathis, Cindy Means, Reeda Cay Smith and Janette Workman.

McAdoo School to celebrate Homecoming

The eighth bi-annual Homecoming for McAdoo School will be held Friday and Saturday, February 12-13 at the school. Ex-students, ex-teachers and ex-members are invited to attend.

On Friday night, there will be a basketball game (McAdoo vs. Guthrie). The homecoming queen will be crowned at that time.

On Saturday morning, visitation and viewing pictures, hobbies, arts and crafts will be held. Following the catered lunch will be a business meeting and election of officers. A former teacher and superintendent will be honored.

Honor classes this year will include 1930, 1940, 1950, 1960, 1970 and 1980.

On Saturday night there will be musical entertainment in the school gym.

El Progreso Study Club "get away from it all"

The El Progreso Study Club met in the home of Linnie Abbott on January 27. As the guests arrived refreshments were served.

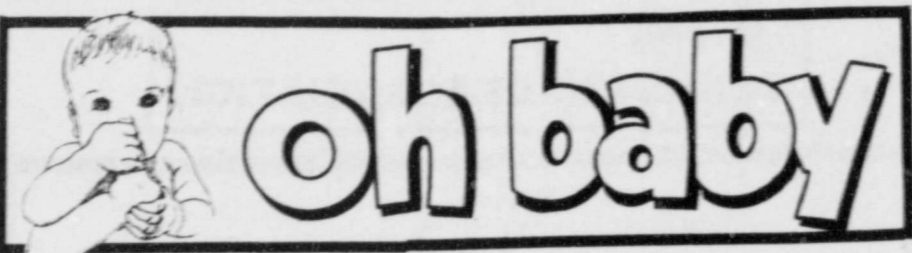

In a business meeting conducted by President Dorothy Smith, roll call was answered by each member telling of a "getting away from it all" place. The club voted to send a check to the Nellie Brown fund at school.

A report from the nominating committee named the following for officers for next year: President, Arla Copeland, Vice president, LaVerna Sams, Secretary, Pauline Sams, Treasurer, Cornelia Johnson, Parliamentarian, Hazel Johnson, and Reporter, Linnie Abbott.

The secretary, LaVerna Sams, introduced Fay Ferguson, who gave part 2 of Back Roads of America. The journey began on a longhorn cattle ranch in Texas, progressed through New Mexico, Arizona, California and Oregon to Seattle where the young man boarded a ship for a cruise to Alaska. Back to the lower forty-eight, he travelled through Montana into the Black Hills, into Nebraska, Iowa and the last night out in West Virginia before completing his round trip to Washington, D.C. He had visited many out-of-the-way places and had done many unusual things and come to love his great country with a better understanding of its greatness.

Members present were Dorothy Smith, Alice Mitchell, LaVerna Sams, Josie Taylor, Hazel Johnson, Fay Ferguson, Faye Holmes, Katherine Ball, Arla Copeland, Dimon Schacht, Pauline Sams, Jeanette Marr, Bobbie Kathleen Thornton, and hostess Linnie Abbott.

Nichols hosts meeting for Alpha Sigma Upsilon

The regular meeting of Alpha Sigma Upsilon was called to order on January 19 in the home of Jan Nichols.

It was decided that for their monthly social, they would go to Lubbock to a show and eat at Nelson's. Instead of a program, they enjoyed just visiting and exchanging ideas.

The next meeting will be held at Mary

Emerts on February 2.

Those attending were Rhonda Guthrie, June McGaugh, Barbara Edwards, Vikki Yeary, Janice Poteet and Jan Nichols.

ADA meeting set for Lubbock February 8th

The Greater Lubbock Chapter of the American Diabetes Association will have its monthly meeting Monday, February 8, at 7:30 p.m., in room 5A-100, Texas Tech Medical School.

A representative from the accounting firm of Mason, Nickels, and Warner will be the guest speaker. There is no charge, and the public is invited. For more information call 792-0675.

Responsible ownership urged for new pets

Many households in Texas received a new puppy or kitten for Christmas, and have already discovered what great pleasure and joy can be found in owning these cuddly, playful pets. Along with the pleasure of a new pet, comes the responsibility for its proper care.

"New pet owners need to be aware of the basic care required to keep their puppy or kitten healthy," said Dr. Ben Johnston, president of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association (TVMA).

It is important that an animal have good living conditions: adequate shelter; exercise and fresh air; lots of water and a balanced diet.

Johnston advises feeding your dog or cat only a good commercial pet food, or a diet recommended by your veterinarian. People food is for people, and pets require a diet balanced for their needs, he said.

Your puppy or kitten should also be kept free of external parasites such as fleas.

A new pet owner should select a veterinarian and take their puppy or kitten in for examination and immunizations.

Six weeks is the usual age for both puppies and kittens to begin the immunizations needed to protect against the major infectious diseases: Distemper, hepatitis, parvovirus, leptospirosis and parvovirus. Innoculations required for the puppy. Keep in mind that a series of inoculations, including annual boosters, is necessary to insure the health of both dogs and cats.

Kittens should receive inoculations for distemper, rhinotracheitis (respiratory disease).

Heartworms are an increasing problem in Texas, so you should consult your veterinarian about heartworm prevention.

A rabies vaccination is needed for your pet is three to four months given at a later age because puppies and kittens are not able to build effective resistance to the disease, said Johnston, a veterinarian.

By the time the family pet is months old, owners should be neutering. Pet overpopulation is a growing public health concern. Responsible animal lovers should consider spraying or neutering their pets.

Give your new pet its best chance for a healthy life by taking proper steps from the start.

Lockney Girl Scout Council launches sale

Girl Scouts picked up cookies last Friday for their annual sale, which started Friday. Pictured (l-r) are Pam Woody, Julie Smith and ... of Girl Scout Troop #450.

Blend until finely chopped. Combine chopped candy and ice cream; mix well. Spoon over crust; freeze until firm. Loosen edges of ice cream from sides of pan; remove foil and ice cream. Cut into squares to serve. Makes 8 inch square pan. of dessert. Variation: Substitute 1/2 gallon of favorite ice cream for vanilla ice cream; omit candy.

ICE CREAM SUNDAE PIE

Crust:
1 1/2 cups finely crushed Dutch-n-Such (about 17 cookies)
3 tbsps. butter or margarine, melted
Filling and Topping:
1/2 gal. vanilla ice cream, softened
2 tbsps. chopped walnuts or pecans
2 tbsps. caramel flavored topping
For crust, heat oven to 375 degrees. Combine all ingredients; mix well. Press evenly onto bottom and sides of very lightly oiled 9-inch pie plate. Bake at 375 degrees for 6-7 minutes or until edges are light golden brown; gently press crust back into place while still warm with metal spatula, if necessary. Cool; freeze.

For filling and topping, spoon softened ice cream into prepared crust; freeze several hours or until firm. Let stand at room temperature about 5 minutes before serving. Sprinkle with nuts; drizzle with topping. Makes 9-inch pie.

CRUNCHY PEANUT BUTTER BALLS

Savannah Cookies
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 cup shredded or flaked coconut
1 cup raisins
1/2 cup chunk style peanut butter
2-3 tbsps. milk
Place cookies in blender container; cover. Blend about 1 minute or until finely chopped. Combine remaining ingredients, mixing until mixture holds together. Shape to form 30 1-inch balls; roll in cookie crumbs. Chill; store in refrigerator. Makes 2 1/2 doz. no-bake cookies.

Girl Scouts began selling cookies in 1936 as a fund-raising project. It has since become a tradition to which many people look forward each year.

All money collected from the cookie sale remains in the Council. Girls are presented awards according to the number of boxes they sell. Top prize of an $85 campership is given to those selling 180 boxes or more. Certificates, posters, patches, T-shirts and a $55 campership are also awarded.

According to Mrs. Nolan Swain, Council president, funds help support seminars, workshops and other troop and Council sponsored activities. Proceeds also enable local girls to participate in National Girl Scout events such as the Wider Opportunities program.

1/4 cup toasted slivered almonds or coconut
Line 2 1/2-quart glass bowl with cookies; layer remaining cookies and bananas in bowl. Combine pudding mix and milk in 3 quart saucepan; bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring frequently. Pour pudding over cookies and bananas; cool. Cover; chill until pudding is set. Spread whipped cream over pudding mixture to cover; sprinkle with almonds. Makes 10-12 servings.

PEPPERMINT ICE CREAM SQUARES

Crust:
12 Chocolate & Vanilla Creme Cookies
2 tbsps. butter or margarine, melted
Peppermint Ice Cream:
1/2 cup peppermint candy
1/2 gal. vanilla or chocolate ice cream

For crust, line 8-inch square baking pan with aluminum foil, extending edges of foil over sides of pan. Place 6 cookies in blender container; cover. Blend about 1 minute or until finely chopped; repeat with remaining cookies. Combine chopped cookies and butter; mix well. Press firmly onto bottom of prepared pan.

For peppermint ice cream, place candy in blender container; cover.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY LYNN DANIEL

With January almost out of sight and hearts popping up all over, we have all seemed to have started our new year right. The volunteer program, "companions-n-caring" is a great success. The entire staff is pleased to have this program as a part of Floydada Nursing Home.

The residents and I, would like to say hello to everyone at Lockney Nursing Home, and extend an invitation to come and visit anytime. On our bus trip Wednesday we happened to pass by, and wished we had made arrangements to stop and say hi.

Residents and staff offer their sympathy to the family of Ella Finley. We feel a great loss and will always have her memory in our hearts. Ella was kind and sweet, and a dear friend to all that knew her. Heaven has grown richer with the return of this angel.

Our Bingo winners were: Emmit Lawrence, Nora McKnight and Vera Duke. Prizes were given and we all had a blast.

Last Friday, just in time for a snack, for our movie, the sunshine class from the First Baptist Church, brought bananas and cup cakes. The residents really enjoyed them and look forward to their return.

A hearty thank you to all who make our lives so meaningful, churches, families and those who just come by to share their love.

Visitors included: Illa Beile McPeak, Estelle Hinkle, Ethel Carmack, Burmah Probasco, Lucille Lobban, Clyde and Billie Clifton, Marie Baxter, Melanie Ross, Kirk McIntosh, Jackson and Daniel McIntosh, Dorothy Neff, Hallie Richardson, Elvis and Lucille Childs, Gene Baird, Edith Richardson, Rena Barris, Hallie Richardson, Nealey Richardson, Hazel Bradley and Kim, Debra, Jason and Justin Bailey, Sherry Colston, Worth Howard, Mrs. George

Bible Baptist ladies' hold meeting

The home of Julianne Cornelius was the place of the Bible Baptist ladies' monthly meeting, on Tuesday, January 19 at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting was opened in prayer voiced by Renie Chapman. Lila Taylor then presented the first lesson of a series on the Tabernacle. Following a discussion, Julianne Cornelius closed in prayer.

The ladies then enjoyed refreshments of soft drinks and cookies.

The ladies next meeting will be on Tuesday, February 16 at the home of Debra Jo Fawver at 7:30 p.m.

Those attending the January meeting were: the hostess, Julianne Cornelius, Jaynette Harrison, Lila Taylor, Linda Holbert, Debra Jo Fawver, Lela Mae Burns, Renie Chapman and Helen Lipham.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reynolds of Crosbyton invite friends and relatives to attend the marriage of their son, Robert Randal [Randy] to Miss Jamie Westbrook. The ceremony will be Saturday, February 6, at 8:30 p.m. in the Wedding Chapel of First Baptist Church in Snyder. If you are unable to attend, we ask your presence in thought and prayer.

Lakeview News

Lakeview receive 3 inches of snow

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Lakeview received about 3" of snow Saturday afternoon and evening.

Johnny and Jack Ward were here Saturday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thurston, when the blowing snow storm intensified from the light sleet that had melted as soon as it hit the ground all afternoon. The Wards decided they'd better try to get back to Lubbock. They left the Thurston farm about six p.m., just as the storm became blinding. They could hardly see the end of the car hood, as they drove through the canyon. If they could have turned back they would have, but could not see to do so. Johnny reported later. Finally they got through and out of the canyon, and to their relief, out of the storm. Lubbock received only about three-tenths of an inch of snow. The snow was very wet and the 55 degree sunshiney weather on Sunday melted it into wheat fields and pastures.

Mr. Holt Bishop is still in Caprock Hospital and doing much better, his family reports. His daughter, Mrs. Shirley Pegram, has been with her father since he had a heart attack last Monday just minutes before funeral services for his mother, Mrs. Lily Bishop. Holt's condition is so much improved that Shirley left for her home in Dimmitt on Sunday. She'd stayed with her aunt, Mrs. Riley Teague, whose home in Flovilla is near the hospital.

Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson and Mrs. O.D. Williams attended a luncheon at the Texas Tech University Women's Quarters Club Thursday. Mrs. Anne Burnett Phillips, of the 1066 ranch and the Tech Board of Regents, was guest speaker.

A recent houseguest of Mrs. Georgia Mae Erickson at Casa del Sol, was her Connecticut neighbor, Mrs. Merrick Monroe. This eighty-two year old lady gets water for her house from a mountain stream that freezes during the winter, so she goes to warmer lands. She visited first in California, then Texas, and Georgia Mae put her on the plane to Florida. Mrs. Monroe has five ancestors who came over on the Mayflower. She is researching the family of the late Uncle Charlie Hayes, family friend of the Hank Smith family. Mr. Hayes was a union soldier from Bangor, Maine. He came west with the army and met up with Hank Smith, a former Confederate soldier, in Lincoln County, New Mexico, and came to Texas with Smith. He lived as part of the family, and is buried at Old Emma Cemetery in the Hank Smith family plot. Hayes is a very common New England name and Mrs. Monroe is tracing to see why he left Maine and stayed in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson and children were Sunday dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore, in Flovilla. Brenda's brother, Bill Moore, was home for the weekend from West Texas University.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Hambricht visited in Lubbock Saturday with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Green, and Todd Hambricht. They are teaching school and going to college. The Hambrichts drove to Floyd County and were assaulted by the blinding snow storm as they reached the canyon about 6 p.m., thankful they didn't have a long drive in the storm.

Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Flukie Smith in Lubbock Saturday and ate supper with them. When they arrived home about ten p.m. the storm had died down.

Mrs. O.D. Williams was driving home from Lubbock Saturday afternoon and about a mile from home, the car slid into the ditch during the thickest part of part of the snow storm. She had woolen clothing in the car to be taken to the dry cleaners. She put all the clothes on and walked to the ranch house, safely.

Jodi Smith is readying her sheep for the livestock show in El Paso next week. She will enter with FFA students.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Edwards stayed close to the fire Saturday and watched the snow. Their children have all been in and out visiting them the past month.

IRS telephone assistance; taxpayers find it fast, easy, free

"People are pleased whenever you can save them time and money. I think that's one reason the toll-free telephone taxpayer assistance operation is so popular among Texas taxpayers," noted John Sloan, Director's Representative from Lubbock.

Last year over 2 million taxpayers received help from IRS through the Dallas telephone operation. "Taxpayers appreciate the convenience of being able to stay at home and get tax help," he added. "They save gasoline; they avoid waiting in line; and they can sit and have a cup of coffee while they do their forms." The telephone tax assistance operation is available Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. in Lubbock dial 1-800-492-4830.

The Lubbock office will provide walk-in assistance Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. Taxpayer assistance provided includes forms, publications, group self-help assistance in the preparation of some individual tax returns and answers to tax questions.

Catholic Scouting Comm. holds Bishops Dinner for Scouting

The Catholic Scouting Committee of the South Plains Council will hold its annual Bishop's Dinner for Scouting on Sunday, February 7. The dinner will be at 4:00 p.m. at St. Mary's Hospital. Bishop L.T. Mathiesen will host this meeting, which will bring together at one time Catholic clergy and parish lay leadership to discuss the potential that Scouting offers to reinforce Christian religious and moral training.

Bishop Mathiesen will deliver the key address of the meeting. Emphasis will be upon the Catholic Religious Awards program and the status of Scouting in the Catholic Church. Also, attention will be focused on the need of the church and community to accept the challenge and responsibility for reaching more youth with the opportunity for religious, vocational and educational growth that Scouting offers. The basic ideals and values stressed in Scouting are the Christian foundations needed by youth.

All Catholic clergy and lay leaders from each parish are urged to participate in the Bishop's Dinner.

Willson Lecture Series made possible by J.M. Willson family

Willson Series lecturer, the Rev. Dr. Ruth Tiffany Barnhouse, an ordained priest in the Episcopal Church, will be on the West Texas State University campus on Thursday and Friday, February 18 and 19, to present her series of lectures, "The Role of Women in the Bible."

The series will begin at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, February 18, with "The Confessions of a Female Chauvinist Sow," in the Room 191 of the Classroom Center. "Women's Ordination Threat or Promise," will be the topic of the Soup and Sandwich Seminar sponsored by the United Campus Ministry at the Methodist Center, Thursday at noon. The Baptist Student Center will host Barnhouse when she presents her lecture "The Word Was Made Flesh, Not Man," at 7 p.m. Thursday. Barnhouse will complete her series with "A New Look at the Virgin Mary," 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. on Friday in Room 191 of the Classroom Center.

The Willson Lecture Series is made possible by the J.M. Willson family of Flovilla. The series was started to promote religious emphasis on the campus, resulting in opportunities for students and faculty to hear and enter into dialogue with outstanding persons in a wide range of Christian disciplines. The lecture series has been an annual

Sorghum team return report on Mexico

Mexico may buy as much as one million metric tons (40 million bushels) of U.S. grain sorghum this year. A sorghum promotion team returning from Mexico reports that a very large 1981 grain crop in that country will cut imports in half this year. The team predicts, however, that Mexico will continue to be a good customer for U.S. sorghum.

The team was led by Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA) Executive Director Elbert Harp and GSPA President Mabry Foreman of Felt, Oklahoma. John Brethour, a beef cattle research specialist for Kansas State University, accompanied the team. He conducted nutrition seminars and consulted with livestock producers in Torreon and Guadalajara. The team met with government and railroad officials in Mexico City. The U.S. Feed Grains Council sponsored the project and made arrangements.

Other team members were sorghum farmers: Walter Cox of Abernathy, Texas; Donald Epperson of Hutchinson, Kansas; and H.H. Deaver of Bishop, Texas. The expenses of the three farmers were paid by Funk Seeds International, Ciba-Geigy Agricultural Division and Pioneer Seed International, Inc.

Sorghum is virtually the only grain used in livestock feed in Mexico. Corn is regarded as a food grain for human consumption. The Mexican government requires a license, issued by its agency, CONASUPO, for all grain imports. President Lopez Portillo has pressed for self-sufficiency in grain production by the end of his term and is using the large 1981 crop to drastically cut imports in this, his last, year in office. Livestock producers throughout Mexico, however, are facing severe hardships because of the lack of adequate feedgrain supplies. Government officials admit that more grain will be necessary to finish the year.

The U.S. Feed Grains Council and GSPA are planning projects to demonstrate to the Mexican government and livestock producers that higher grain rations will result in more efficient livestock feeding.

"There is no doubt that the demand for feed grain imports by Mexico will increase," Harp said. "Their domestic production will not be able to keep pace with the rapid rise in livestock feeding needs. We expect their needs to vary greatly from year to year in relation to the size of Mexico's domestic crop. We see Mexico as a growing market for our grain," Harp continued. "but much work needs to be done to develop its potential."

Landscape & Gardening

BY JETT MAJOR
FLOYD COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

The greatest investment any homeowner makes is the selection, planting and care of fruit trees. Because a fruit tree is a long-term investment, it must be well adapted to the area. So it's best to purchase varieties recommended by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The County Extension Office has information on varieties that do well in Floyd County.

Unfortunately, not all fruit tree varieties are sold in local nurseries are adapted in that area. Remember that buyer demand generates seller supply. If buyers demand a fruit variety, even though it does not produce well locally, a seller will stock that variety to satisfy customers.

Tradition usually determines what people buy. When most people think of grapes, they think of Concord or, in Texas, Thompson Seedless. They think of Bartlett pears or Red Delicious apples. And, everyone has eaten Elberta peaches — or were they?

Many people fail to realize that there are hundreds of varieties of each kind of fruit. Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station personnel are constantly testing the many varieties to evaluate their potential in your area. This is quite a job since each variety may perform differently in each location. Remember, Texas is a big state with several climates!

How can a change in climate affect something as tough as a fruit tree? Many fruit trees have what scientists call a "rest period." This is a natural season of inactivity for the plant due to internal causes, such as chemical or growth factors. During this rest period most plants will not grow regardless of weather conditions.

Have you ever purchased a peach tree with a short rest period and had it bloom in the winter? Unfortunately, if a homeowner in a cold area of Texas purchases such a tree, the rest requirement can be fulfilled early in the season, and the tree will start growing during warm spells in midwinter. This results in reduced fruit production since the blooms are killed or the tree may even die.

The Elberta peach, with which most of us are familiar, requires around 1000 hours of temperature below 45 degrees F. before leaf buds will open. The fruit bud needs only 750 to 800 hours below 45 degrees. This means that a homeowner who plants an Elberta peach in northern San Antonio might get some blooms in a cold year, but his tree soon would be weakened since the temperature would not be cold enough to break the dormancy of leaf buds. This same Elberta would grow and do well in Lubbock where it would receive enough cold.

Now is the time to start selecting fruit trees for your yard. A fruit tree can add beauty to your spring landscape, cooling shade in the summer, and a colorful dress of fall foliage while adding nutritious fruit to your dining table. Plant now to enjoy the fruits of your labor.

Farmers Union seeks "set asides" for commodities

With commodity prices hitting rock bottom and with large surpluses of wheat, feed grains and cotton saturating the market, Texas Farmers Union President Mike Moeller is urging support of voluntary acreage "set asides" in 1982. "By voluntarily agreeing to remove a percentage of our 1982 acreage from production, we hope to convince the Reagan Administration that a mandatory set aside is absolutely essential in order to provide uniform supply management for all farm crops."

Currently, all commodity prices are at 59 percent, the lowest level on the parity index since 1932. "Anytime prices fall below 75 percent of parity, TFU policy states a mandatory set aside should be established to control production and maintain prices," Moeller stated. "When wheat, cotton, feed grains or any commodity falls to a price which is costing the producer more to grow his crop than he can expect in return, both the farmer and ultimately the consumer will suffer. We need to have an orderly program which will benefit both producers and the consumers of this country," Moeller said.

Because of USDA has yet to call for any mandatory set asides, Moeller said it is up to producers to band together and exercise supply management techniques. "Ultimately, we hope the voluntary set aside will lead to a mandatory one enforced by the government. Only with the uniform participation of producers from across the country can we expect to have a workable program."

Moeller said the current problem of oversupply and low prices was due to the lack of an organized planting and marketing system, high production costs and excessive interest rates. "We need to have a system where the producers can democratically control their supply through a direct referendum. We also need a direct voice in setting the prices we are receiving and in the import/export market on agricultural commodities," he stated.

"If the Reagan Administration is really interested in getting government off the backs of producers, they will give us the chance to democratically control our own destiny with these supply management and cost control techniques," he confirmed. "Otherwise, with continuing high interest rates, trade restriction, and increasing production costs, we will be losing thousands of irreplaceable family farmers in 1982," Moeller concluded.

Billy Colstons attend leadership conference

Floyd County Farm Bureau was represented by two persons at the Texas Farm Bureau Leadership Conference January 25-26 in Fort Worth. The meeting was conducted for county presidents, and chairmen of state affairs, young farmers and ranchers, and various commodity committees.

Attending from this county were Billy Don Colston and his wife Sherry, county wheat committee chairman, State committee member.

General session speakers included TFB President Carrol Chaloupka; TFB Executive Director Warren Newberry; Bob Walsh, trust officer, First National Bank of Fort Worth; and Jack Jackson, training officer for American Airlines, Fort Worth; and Cecil Miller, president of the Arizona Farm Bureau.

FARM NEWS

Six nutrients needed by swine

Six classes of nutrients are needed to promote optimum growth and reproduction in pigs, but three of these classes often aren't adequately considered, says a swine specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Vitamins, minerals and water as well as carbohydrates, fat and proteins are important, said Dr. Robert S. Cohen, the Extension specialist. "All of the required nutrients must be provided in adequate quantities and balance, without emphasis of any one nutrient or nutrient class over the others," he said.

Vitamins are important in aiding the utilization of carbohydrates, fats, proteins and minerals, he explained. Vitamins serve much as a "lubricant" in that they enable chemical reactions occurring in the body to proceed and at a much lower energy cost.

Vitamin premixes serve as the source of needed vitamins. These premixes are formulated by the addition of proper quantities of man-made vitamins. There are two major classifications of vitamins: fat soluble, those that will dissolve in oil; and water soluble, those that will dissolve in water. This distinction is important because in periods of excess intake the fat soluble vitamins can be stored in the body, but the requirement for water soluble vitamins must be met on a day to day basis.

The fat soluble vitamins important in swine nutrition are vitamins A, D, E and K, Cohen said. The important water soluble vitamins are riboflavin, pantothenic acid, niacin, choline and vitamin B12.

"Vitamins are needed in very small amounts because they are used over and over many times before eventual destruction," the Extension specialist explained.

Minerals are important in structure or bone development, he noted. They also aid in the utilization of carbohydrates, fats and proteins; furthermore, minerals help maintain the water content of the body.

Minerals required in the diet of the pig are classified as major and minor (or trace) minerals. The major minerals are sodium, chlorine, calcium and phosphorus. "Sodium and chlorine are the elements of table salt and this feedstuff serves as a source of these minerals. Calcium and phosphorus both can be added to the diet by the addition of defluorinated phosphate and dicalcium phosphate; whereas calcium alone is added by the addition of ground limestone."

The pig has an individual level of requirement for calcium and for phosphorus, Cohen said. Additionally these two minerals must also be in a proper ratio with each other. The acceptance of the total calcium to total phosphorus is 1 to 1.5 to 1.

Trace minerals required in the ration are copper, iron, iodine, manganese, zinc, and selenium. Primary ones are the trace mineral premixes.

Trace minerals are required in amounts, but small excesses are good for the pig. The "if a little bit is good is better" philosophy will get you in trouble here, the swine specialist cautioned.

Water is the most important nutrient of the six, Cohen stressed. "Deprived of water will perish before a pig deprived of carbohydrates, fats, proteins, vitamins or minerals. Water serves as the transport medium by which all the other nutrients are delivered to the cells of the body for utilization."

Water is the least understood, studied and most taken for granted nutrient of the six, he said. The requirement of the pig is typically specified.

"Because it is the least expensive of all the nutrients, the recommendation to give the pig all the fresh, clean water it wants any time it wants it."

The table summarizes the six classes of nutrients, lists important nutrients provided and major feedstuff sources.

Nutrient Classes	Important Nutrients Provided	Major Feedstuff Sources

TEXAS TO CONTINUE TWO-AREA BRUCELLOSIS PROGRAM

(Agent's Note: This is the first of a three-part series on brucellosis.)

Faced with several changes which will affect Texas this year in the federal brucellosis eradication program, commissioners of the Texas Animal Health Commission have taken action which will allow Texas to continue its two-area brucellosis program.

Members of the Texas Animal Health Commission requested the U.S. Department of Agriculture to reclassify the present brucellosis control areas of the state.

Based on this action, the present Class A control area—generally the western half of the state—would become Class B area. The present Class B control area—generally the eastern half of the state—would become Class C when the recommended changes in the Uniform Methods and Rules (UM&R) take place.

The TAHC took the action so that Texas livestock producers will be aware of impending changes as soon as possible.

The new federal regulations are expected to be in place not later than the end of January. Even then, however, it will take additional time to fully implement them.

Until the new regulations are in effect, Texas producers should continue to operate under the present Texas brucellosis program, according to Dr. John W. Holcombe, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

The proposed Class B area would include 140 counties, as recommended by Commissioners. Additionally, the proposed Class C area would include 114 counties.

Changes in the rules of the federal brucellosis program were recommended by the U.S. Animal Health Association, which has responsibility for making recommendations to the Secretary of Agriculture in regard to UM&R.

The classification categories are based on the number of percentage of infected herds—not individual animals—in the state.

States with a zero percent infection rate would receive a free classification status, where no tests would be required for shipment within a state or area, but certificates would be required for shipment between states or areas.

To obtain Class A status, individual states could not exceed a 0.25 percent infection rate. No tests would be required for shipment within an area or state, but one would be required before movement between states or areas.

Class B status, obtained by any state with less than 1.5 percent but more than 0.25 percent infection rate, would require one test before shipment within an area or state, and one before and one after shipment between states or areas.

Class C status, for all states and areas with greater than 1.5 percent infection rate, would require one test before movement within states or areas for vaccinated and non-vaccinates. For shipment between areas and states for vaccinated animals, one test would be required before movement and one after movement. Non-vaccinates would require two tests before movement and one after movement.

In all classifications, animals that would be exempt from the testing requirements include steers and spayed heifers, official calfhood vaccinates of dairy breeds under 20 months of age or beef cattle under 24 months of age; and non-vaccinated cattle under 18 months of age, unless six months or more pregnant.

This material is provided by Dr. Jimmy Howard, Extension veterinarian-brucellosis.

Young Farmers' Field Day set for Sat., Feb. 6

The 1982 Area I Young Farmer Field Day has been set for Saturday February 6. The group will meet at 10:00 a.m. at the American Cotton Growers denim mill in Littlefield (on FM 54 across the railroad west from US 84 - FM 54 junction toward Spade).

The tour of the mill will take about 1 to 1 1/2 hours. They will then travel to Levelland for lunch. At 1:30 p.m. they will tour Girlstown campus near Whiteface. This last tour will last about 1 1/2 hours.

Silverton Young Farmers encourage all local and Area I members and wives to attend this informative and interesting tour. Non-members and wives are welcome to attend.

Smith hosts Homebuilders meeting Jan. 26

Homebuilders Extension Club met in the home of Lillian Smith on January 26. Lela Mae Burns conducted the business meeting.

Roll call was answered on "a technique I use to make me a wiser consumer." Some ideas were: do not buy food just because they are on sale, double stamps, or coupon discounts, if you do not need the product, be sure you are acquainted with the manufacturer's warranty and read labels on clothing.

Ruth Trapp and Muri Mayfield were elected nominees to council as delegates to the District meeting.

Lela Mae Burns gave the program on "Consumer Redress." Have you had a problem with a product that did not live up to claims? You can do something about a complaint when the blame falls on the manufacturer or merchant, but be sure you have all records on your purchase. To help you is the Better Business Bureau, Chamber of Commerce or Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Refreshments were served to Gladys Widener, Blanch Williams, Angie Walker, Ruth Trapp and Lela Mae Burns.

Jarboe picked Friona's Man of the Year

The Friona Chamber of Commerce banquet was held in Friona on Thursday night, January 28. The speaker was Ray Stone. A syndicated radio network program, "Cowboys Football Report," his stories about the members of the Friona team and coaches kept the audience in stitches.

"He is truly one of the most respected men in our community," was a statement about Jarboe. It was pointed out that he takes a personal pride in the students and their welfare, as well as the school plant. "He takes pride in his family, church, community and country."

Jarboe taught sixth grade when he moved to Friona. His career in the school system has been continuous except for a two-year hitch in the service during the Korean War.

Jarboe is a native of Floyd County. He is the brother of Malvin Jarboe and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mal Jarboe, all of Floydada.

Center watches as weather changes abruptly

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

It was a beautiful sunny day! And how long ago! The weekend snow. But it was a very wet one.

Mrs. Marion Carpenter were in Lockney Saturday. His mother, Mrs. Carpenter in Lockney Rest Home, was not the same.

Mrs. Jackson spent over the weekend in Odessa with a son and Mrs. Millard Watson are in Odessa with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry, also with a son and Mrs. Dean Watson's.

Mrs. Floyd Montgomery of Lockney visited Mrs. Frank Dunn Saturday. Mrs. Thomas Warren, Mrs. Fred Batty were in Lockney Sunday afternoon seeing Mrs. Perry of Petersburg is in Odessa with her mother, Mrs. Perry.

Mrs. Milton Mensch and son of Lockney visited Sunday with Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas, of Lockney is visiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. Betty Jo Horton are in Odessa with her mother, Mrs. Walter. The rest home there is feeling better.

Mrs. Rogers, recovering at home with a week, seems doing very well. Also his sister Opal Rogers.

recently an inmate of Floydada Rest Home.

We sympathize with the Lloyd Poole family in the loss of their home by fire one day last week. Let us help them replace their loss as we can.

Son Don Clark Green of Big Spring called last night. The snow was evidently just reaching them.

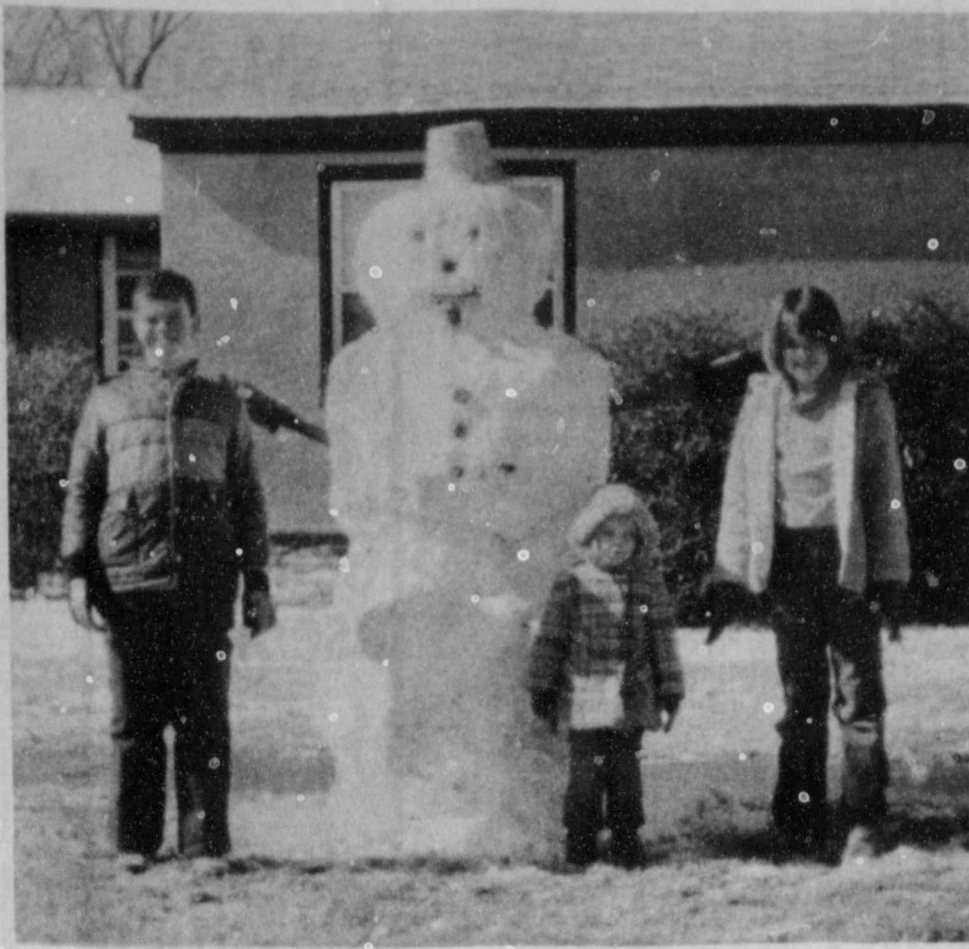

And how we grieve with the Perry family in the loss of their precious daughter, Sheryl, while on a search for health. Let us remember the loved ones in our prayers.

Wayland Baptist announces Deans Honor Roll

The Fall 1981 Dean's Honor Roll at Wayland Baptist University includes 31 students from Plainview.

Students who carried at least 12 semester hours and whose overall grade point average was 3.50 or above on a 4.00 scale, were listed on the Dean's Honor Roll.

Sharon D'Lyn Morris, a sophomore, with a 4.0 grade average was among those students listed. D'Lyn is Mrs. Lyndon Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Mathis of Lockney, and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Morris of Floydada.

ENJOYING THE SNOW—These youngsters made use of Saturday's snow as they built a 7 foot snow man at their home at 810 S. 4th. The creators of the snowman were Scottie, 14, [left], Elizabeth, 4, [center], and Kim, 12. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Watts. The 7 ft. giant was the first snowman Elizabeth had helped in making.

South Plains News

South Plains experiences first snow of the year

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN

South Plains, February 1:

4-5 inches of wet snow fell in South Plains on Saturday, making it the first snow of this winter, although we have seen snowflakes earlier in the winter. The snow was wonderful, and Saturday was a day for popping corn, enjoying games with the children, reading a good book, while the snow fell silently. Our community had much more than Plainview and for a while the storm shut out the world. Farmers were so glad to have the moisture on their fields.

Sunday School and church services were cut to a minimum Sunday morning as bad roads, snow drifts and cold weather kept many at home. At the Baptist Church Sunday morning visitors were Sylvia Castille of Texas Tech, with Kristi Julian. She was a guest over the week end here with Kristi, Bodie Teague of Lubbock and three boyfriends from Lubbock were with him, as they spent Saturday night with Bodie's grandmother, Mrs. Mamie Wood and had Sunday here with her. Evening church visitors from Plainview included Terry Babcock and three boyfriends from Wayland Baptist College.

Renee Sanders has moved back to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders, and is working out of her home for the time being. She has been living in Plainview for several months. She was present at prayer meeting at the Baptist Church Wednesday evening.

Several from here attended services for Sheryl Perry, 16, on Friday at the First Baptist Church in Floydada. We extend our sympathy to the parents and relatives of the little girl.

Sunday, March 7th, at the evening church services there will be a musical evening with the Ladies Ensemble and the Men's Gospel Choir from the First Baptist Church in Plainview giving the program at 6:30 p.m. The community is cordially invited to attend. There will be a Fellowship meeting following the music hour. Please come for an evening of entertainment and good cheer.

February 3rd, at the noon hour at the South Plains Gin office in South Plains there will be a meeting of Elanco, on Treflan, and a luncheon will be held, with wives invited to attend the luncheon with the men.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold and Mildred Hamm left here last Thursday and came back home Monday, February 1, after visiting over the week end with their daughter and family in San Antonio, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Aufdemorte and little Christy. They missed the snow which fell during their absence.

South Plains Hobby Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Jewel Fortenberry on Wednesday, February 10, at 2:00 p.m. in Lockney. New officers for the year will take their place, and club books will be distributed.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Probasco moved to their farm here in South Plains Community this past week and are getting settled at this time. We wish to welcome them here, and invite them to church and all activities here. We are glad to have them settling here.

Mrs. Leighton Teplee (Juanita) will be hostess at a coffee in her home east of South Plains for Mrs. Don Probasco (Sarah) on Tuesday, February 9th, between the hours of 9-11 a.m. to welcome Mrs. Probasco to South Plains. Every lady in the community is urged to come and meet and welcome Mrs. Probasco.

Noel Deavenport underwent heart surgery in Lubbock this Monday morning for heart surgery, and we understand there were three by-passes to the heart. We hope for a good and complete recovery for him.

Galvan enlists in the United States Army

Ernest Galvan, a senior at Lockney High School, and the son of Mrs. Josephine Galvan of 602 S.E. 2nd Street in Lockney, has enlisted in the United States Army special two year enlistment program.

After graduation Ernest will be trained as an administrative specialist. Upon completion of his two year active duty commitment Ernest will qualify for a scholarship of $15,200 through the Army College Fund.

Blowing snow hits Cedar Hill hard Saturday

BY GRACE LEMONS

Blowing snow Saturday and Sunday night, that caused some deep snowdrifts, the sun came out and it was a beautiful day.

Mrs. Vance Mitchell were in Odessa who attended the funeral of Mrs. Perry at 3:00 o'clock Friday at the Baptist Church in Floydada. Mrs. Floyd Bradley officiating.

Mrs. Mitchell also attended the funeral Sunday afternoon of Clyde Perry in Crosbyton.

Guests here were present at the Collectible Auction with Mrs. Weisley and others as owners of the Courthouse in Plainview.

Guests in the home of Edna Lacey were Mr. and Mrs. Craig Lacey, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lacey and Bud Taylor.

Mrs. Lacey accompanied Edna Lacey Thursday on business.

Mrs. Clark of Plainview and Mrs. Lacey and Clara Redd of Odessa spent the day Monday with Mrs. Lacey.

Mrs. Jack Yeary, Emogene Hammett, Dorothy Lacey, Edna Lacey, Norma Welch and others were among those who attended the funeral of Carrie Carthel in Odessa Tuesday at the West Side Baptist Church.

Mrs. Peat Kelley and Norma Welch attended the funeral of Trannie Malett, 86, at the First Baptist Church in Crosbyton Wednesday at 3:00 o'clock with Rev. Jim Guest officiating.

Mrs. Belle Lemons was honored with a birthday dinner in the home of her son, Carl F. Lemons Sunday. She was 85 last Wednesday. Those present were the Carl F. Lemons, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lemons and family of Lockney, Kara Carthel of Lockney, and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Lemons and family.

Word was received that Karl Whately, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lemons escaped serious injuries when his car overturned on an icy road in Dallas Sunday morning as he started to work.

We are glad to report that Sid Brown is much improved.

You get credit for what you finish, not what you start.

Channel Five Highlights

BY MELISSA CREAMER

The production department of KXTV-TV/Channel 5 produces shows on a local and regular basis that attend to the broadcast needs of our viewing area. Two specific instances of this occurred after receiving telephone calls from several of Channel 5's viewers. Two women called our program manager in September, 1981 and asked if we could put "an exercise program" on for those people who could not regularly attend an aerobic or jazzercise course. As a result, we now have Jazzercise airing Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 7:30 to 7:45. This is a lively program produced by Greg Blais and it is quite enjoyable to participate in-even in the mornings!

Another instance involved the recent requests for a jazz show. The result of that is Jazz Jam—also produced by Mr. Blais. This is a 4 part series airing Saturday in February at 10 p.m. The program manager—Maria Smith—also said that prior to each Jazz Jam, she has scheduled several 1 to 2 hour jazz specials, such as Swingin' the Blues, Ella Fitzgerald guest starring on Previn and the Pittsburgh Soundstage specials with guests Sarah Vaughn and Doc Severinson and many others. So, see? If you have an interest, let us know (806) 742-2209.

We have received raves on the new PBS series—American Playhouse. This Tuesday's episode at 8:00, is "Sense of Humor: Who Am I This Time" with Christopher Walken and Susan Sarandon. This is the story of two actors in a small town play who eventually find love in this, the teleplay of Kurt Vonnegut's acclaimed short story.

At 9:00 p.m., Tuesday is "Hills of Green, Palace of Gold". This is a documentary on the religious sect—Hare Krishna's farm community in West Virginia. The program features the lifestyle of the 300 devotees and assesses the sometimes difficult relations they have with their neighbors.

Wednesday at 7:00 p.m. is another National Geographic Special—this time the subject is "Egypt: Quest for Eternity." This shows footage of the spectacular monuments and temples the Ancient Egyptians left behind to immortalize themselves and their culture. In this documentary, scientists and archaeologists use sophisticated methods to investigate and explain this colossal legacy.

Willie Nelson and Guy Clark are guest stars on Thursday nights Austin City Limits. Clark, Texas songwriter/storyteller, paints vivid images of dusty towns and dead-end love in this great show.

How to Be a Financially Secure Woman continues on Fridays at 9:00 p.m.

University Center cultural events

"Morning's at Seven," the triple Tony Award-winning hilarious Broadway comedy about a whacky family and their constant feuds, will be presented at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium on February 10, at 8:15 p.m.

Plainview Theatre welcomes patrons

Plainview Civic Theatre, now in its sixth successful season, would like to invite the citizens of the surrounding area towns to enjoy a night at the theatre. Instead of driving to Lubbock to enjoy a fine play and a night out, why not come to Plainview?

At the present time, PCT is performing its four-play seasons at Wayland University's Black Box Theatre located at the corner of 7th Street and Utica. Every year, theatre-goers are treated to a comedy, a musical, a mystery and a drama for the price of $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students.

The next offering is a mystery, "Slueth" which will be performed at 8 p.m. nightly on February 4-6. Reservations are encouraged because of limited seating and can be made from 1-5 daily beginning February 1st at 293-3515.

At the present time, the theatre enjoys serving members located in various surrounding towns such as Lockney, Tulia and Floydada. Memberships can be bought in the fall before the first play, but non-members are welcome all year round.

PCT would like to welcome you to a night at the theatre as an alternative to another night of television.

Former Floydadian runs in Swisher county for Judge

Jay Johnson announced his candidacy for election as County Judge of Swisher County recently.

Johnson was born and reared in Floyd County, graduating from Floydada High School. He served in the U.S. Navy as a pilot training instructor and attended Jacksonville University.

Johnson and his wife, Patsy, who is office manager for L.M.C., Inc. of Kress, reside in Tulia. They have five children, ranging from Texas Tech senior to a fourth grader at Highland Elementary in Tulia.

Johnson is the son of Jack and Lillie Mae Johnson of Floydada.

Johnson has been farming and raising cattle in Swisher County since 1977.

and an intense wallflower who has been trying to get hitched for twelve years, verbally spar in the backyard that connects their houses. Sister Cora and her husband Thor live in one house, along with maiden sister, Arry ("I never saw a man worth the powder to blow him up with.")

Sister Ida lives next door with her husband Carl, who has spells. Homer, their 40-year-old unmarried son, has been dating his girlfriend Myrtle for twelve years, but has never brought her home for a visit, and still isn't ready for the big leap - ("I've got all my things here.") Sister Esther lives a few blocks away with her husband, David, who thinks everyone else is a moron and has forbidden his wife to visit them.

Cora wants to move so she and Thor can be alone, while Homer is counting on the same house for him and Myrtle. Meanwhile, Carl's spells are becoming more and more goofy: David catches Esther visiting the "morons," and spinster Arry is hoping a secret about her and Thor won't be revealed! The result is a hilarious mixup in a family where everyone is just a little bit crazy.

There has never been another play in Broadway history with the amazing record of "Morning's at Seven." Tickets will be available at the UC Ticket Booth, Hemphill Well's in the Mall and by phone. For more ticket information call 742-3610.

Card of Thanks
Words cannot express our love and gratitude for each of our friends who have shared their love and concern during our time of sorrow. The loss of my wife, our mother and grandmother, Lillie Bishop. Thanks for Dr. Hong and the nurses. To Bro. Bradley and Bro. Zumwalt for the beautiful service. Mr. and Mrs. Payne for the sweet song service. Also to Mr. Moore and Mr. Rose for their loyal service. For the food that was brought to our home, to the Baptist Church and to each lady who helped serve, thank you. The flowers, memorials, cards, most of all your prayers have strengthened us in our time of need. May God bless each of you.
