"If people don't lease, they won't drill."

Oil lease activity high

Recent reports indicate that oil companies are interested in trying to find oil in various sections of the Palo Duro Basin of which Floyd County is part.

Sparked by the recent producing well drilled in Briscoe County, oil companies have been offering to buy oil leases from landowners in Floyd County.

Only after sufficient land has been leased to form a solid block will the oil company begin to consider whether or not the three-quarters of a million dollar cost of drilling a wildcat well is justified.

Dovle Moore, Floydada, is a leasing agent for Gunn Oil Company, Wichita Falls, which is a "very strong and active" independent oil company.

"An oil company cannot afford to drill until they have a solid block (of leased land)," Moore said. "If enough people hold out and don't lease to the oil company it will keep them from drilling a wild cat well."

The usual size block is 3 to 5000 acres or more, according to Moore. The oil company would like to own 100% of the leases in that block before they attempt to drill a wildcat well. They may go ahead with 95% of the land leased but if there is a hole in the block (land that they cannot lease) they will try and get as far away from it as possible when they drill a wildcat.

"If people don't lease, they won't drill," Moore said.

"It's like putting out cattle. You lease 2000 acres of grass for 400 head of cattle. But you have to have the grassland leased before you put your cattle on it."

Moore went on to say that an oilman cannot afford to drill until he gets a solid block. "If enough people hold out and don't lease to him, it will keep him from drilling a wildcat well."

The oilman has to keep a lease inventory so that he can have a place to go and prospect for oil, Moore said.

No one knows what the land is worth until a well has been drilled on it. Some areas are worth more to the oil company if geological information indicates oil possibility.

Dawson Geophysical Company, which is a seismic crew out of Midland, has rented office space at 507 E. Missouri in Floydada.

They estimate that 20 to 30 families will be moving to the area soon for a stay of several months while the crews run geophysical tests of the area.

Another oil related business, Majestic based in Lubbock, has set up offices at the end of Missouri Street and will bring in an estimated 30 families. Majestic is bringing in crews to construct the gas pipe line that will run from the north end of Floyd County to the south end.

City officials expect more oil related businesses to move into the area bringing with them a boost to the economy much needed at this time of poor agricultural prices.

"The oil companies are definitely interested in trying to find oil along here," Moore said. "Co-operate with them so they will have an opportunity to come in and drill a well."

Stenholm representative to be in Floydada on regular basis

A field representative for Charles Stenholm was in Floyd County Friday talking to constituents in both Floydada and Lockney.

B.P. Cain met with a large group at the Chamber of Commerce office and said that their goal is to have a Stenholm representative come to Floydada on a regular monthly basis to obtain input from residents.

Cain, who is himself mayor of a small town and is engaged in farming, said that these meetings, held informally, are intended to be a two-way communication to provide information for Stenholm.

Cain has found, during his visits, that everyone's prime concern is wrapped up in the economy.

He said that defense had not been mentioned as much as he thought it would be. Most of those he talked to expected Congress to act as watchdog over the defense spending and felt far removed from the situation. They expected those in government more able to evaluate the situation.

One of Stenholm's representatives visited the Soviet Union recently and reported that the Soviets were going into "one of the most diligent military build-up programs imaginable." He said that Stenholm has since gained a healthier regard for President Reagan's military budget.

Jumpers break record

The Duncan Elementary jumpers out did themselves this year by collecting over $2000 for the American Heart Association during their three-day jump-a-thon.

Forty-three teams, made up of six members each, jumped rope for 45 minutes during their P.E. classes. Bobbie Weir, physical education instructor, organized the event now in it's second year.

The jump-a-thon was held March 15, 16 and 17. The exact amount collected was $2052. Last year the youngsters collected $1200.

The top team, made up of second graders, collected $333.03. They are:

Stevie Morales, Christie Benjamin, Alex Gregory, Allen Livingston, Johnny Doachoa and Brad Wilson.

The winning team was awarded warm-up suits for each of the members.

Windbreakers were presented to the individuals bringing in more than $100. They were: Dedra Hardy, Jason Bailey, Brittany Gregory and Moriana Vasquez.

The rest of the participants were given t-shirts.

"We would like to thank the parents and people who donated," Weir said. "The kids did a great job and we were very proud of them."

Books for the homebound available from the library

Library books and materials are as close as the telephone for the homebound person. The Floyd County Library has volunteers who are willing to deliver library materials to the home of any person unable to come to the library.

Although the delivery of library materials will be made on Wednesdays, the homebound person may call the library anytime during the week to order the desired materials. If you do not have a specific request, the librarian will be glad to make a selection for you from whatever kinds of reading you prefer. When you are finished with a book, call the library and the book will be picked up on Wednesday.

The telephone number to call is 983-3578. Tell the librarian, Mrs. Sandra Crawford, that you would like to participate in the homebound service. She will find the materials you want and have them ready for the volunteer to deliver on the Wednesday following your call.

Spring style show set

The Women's Division of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce would like to invite all ladies of the community to the annual spring style show to be held in the Duncan Cafeterium Monday, March 29, 1982 at 7 p.m. Price of admission will remain $1.00 and a salad.

As anyone can tell you, this annual event is fun, informative and fattening.

Fashions for the Spring of 1982 are exciting and the Floydada merchants are anxious to show them off. The following merchants will have models: Hale's Department Store, Perry's, Anderson's, The Loft, Sears, and Stitches' Pretty.

Hundreds of door prizes will be offered, so go on out, take a friend, and sail into spring with the Women's Division. This is also their annual membership drive and would be a good time for you to join and help them get to work for Floydada.

Storm warning system being installed

The tornado alarm system in Floydada, which city manager Bill Feuerbacher had termed inadequate, is now being updated with the installation of two double stack alarms. Each stack contains ten speakers arranged in a circle.

One alarm has already been installed on the east corner of City Park across from Massie Activity Center.

The other, which is expected to be installed in the next two weeks, will be located on Jeffie street about half-way between the Jr. High School and Duncan Elementary.

This brings the system to a total of four alarms. One is attached to the water tower behind city hall. It is the old two-ended fire siren that is no longer used as a fire alarm. Volunteer firemen now wear pagers to alert them when fires are reported.

The fire siren is only sounded as a storm warning and covers the downtown area as well as R.C. Andrews Elementary School even though that school is several blocks away.

The second alarm, located at Napoleon Park, is a single stack and up until recently was the only tornado alarm in Floydada. It was used in conjunction with the fire alarm at city hall.

The newly installed alarm in city park is expected to reach high school, the hospital and nursing home.

Sheriff Fred Cardinal and Fire Chief Bobby Welborn are planning an informational program designed to instruct the public in safety measures to be used in case of severe storms. Program times will be announced later.

City Council Meeting

The Floydada City Council adopted next years budget after a public hearing at their regular March meeting.

They voted to replace the city hall roof and awarded the $3648 job to Pierce Roofing Co. of Plainview.

Council made a unanimous decision to increase the bulk water rate at the dispenser located behind city hall.

The city swimming pool will be leased to Mike Cocanougher for the summer months again this year. A wood fence on the south side of the pool will be added this season.

The new water tower on the south side of Floydada lacks the climate painting on the inside, and painting of "Floydada" on the outside of the tank before it can be filled and put to use.

Installing the new sanitation system has run into a snag this week since the loader, used to install the dumpsters, has broken down. Also one of the old garbage trucks, still being used for some of the dumpsters, has "A burned-out motor". Repairs to both vehicles will have to be made before the conversion to the new sanitation system can be completed.

Map shows the Floydada tornado system. Circles are not meant to indicate sound range of the alarms.

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

March 22, 1982:

Fruit trees in full bloom at South Plains

South Plains, March 22: Spring came in over the week-end, but with a low of thirty degrees this morning, it was cold and is more than likely this is our Easter cold spell, since Easter is late this year. The fruit trees, peaches, apricots, pears and others are full of blossoms, and everybody is hoping they don't have enough cold weather to freeze the fruit. Farmers are busy irrigating their listed fields, and the days have been beautiful the past week.

Dr. David Knight, Dean of Applied Arts and Sciences at Wayland College in Plainview, was present at the South Plains Baptist Church for the morning and evening services this Sunday, March 20, in the absence of Rev. Cecil Osborne, and Dr. David's wife, Carol Knight was a guest with him Sunday night at services.

Next Sunday, March 28, Albert Schult of Plainview will be presiding in the pulpit and on April 4, Mark Morris of Plainview will be coming to fill the South Plains Baptist Church while Rev. Cecil Osborne is convalescing.

Rev. Cecil Osborne was brought home from the South Park Hospital in Lubbock on Thursday, following major surgery Monday of last week. He will be going back this week for a checkup at the hospital. He is getting along very well at his home.

Candy and Ronda Taylor came down last Wednesday from Amarillo to spend the week-end here with their grandmother, Mrs. Letha Mulder. Sunday their parents Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor who had attended the Coin Show in Lubbock, came by to take the girls, Ronda and Candy home with them. Last week was Spring Break here and in Canyon Schools also.

Bryan Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira and Geil Henderson went to the Lockney General Hospital on Thursday to have his tonsils out during Spring Break. He got along fine, and was back at home over the week-end.

Mrs. Hansel Sanders (Connie) was taken to the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Sunday and this Monday she underwent major surgery on her left hand, on her thumb. We hope she regains good use of her hand, and she will be in the hospital only a few days, hopefully.

Coming for the funeral of Mrs. Oma Cummings from San Francisco, California were Mrs. Dan (Monda) Geller, from Denver, Colorado, Mrs. Bob Rose (Jean) and Zach W. Cummings and his family from Glen Rose, Texas. Many other of the Cummings relatives from the Farmersville area, and Mr. and Mrs. Bryan and Helen Karr from Rowlett, Mrs. Carl Calahan of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. H.S. Calahan Jr. (June) from Abilene and their daughters came. Many area friends and relatives were also present. Kim, Monica and little Zach left Thursday for their home in Pineville, Louisiana. Mrs. Cummings services were held Sunday at 3:00 p.m. in Lockney.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kirnibrough spent from Monday to Wednesday in Ruidoso, New Mexico. They report it very cool there.

Ronnie Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor of Canyon and the grandson of Mrs. Letha Mulder won a trip to Washington, D.C. recently. This was an all expense paid trip for a 12 day tour of the Capitol with the action contest being sponsored by the Swisher Electric Cooperatives. Ronnie is a sophomore in Canyon High School. We extend our gladness and pride to Ronnie. John Cummings, son of the Sterling Cummings, will be home for his Spring Break, Sunday night. His basketball team of Henderson County Junior College has been at the National Junior College Tournament. They made it to the semi-finals before losing again to Miami Dade—then they went on to win third. They ended the season with 33 wins and 3 losses.

Mrs. Leighton Teepie (Juanita) was hostess at a bridal shower in her home Thursday, March 18, between the hours of 4:30 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. for Miss Melanie Pace, bride-elect of Steve Kinslow with their wedding vows to be consummated in Austin on April 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teepie went to Amarillo Sunday to visit in the homes of his sisters Mrs. Velma Nelson and Mrs. Wanda Teepie, and they found them getting along just fine.

Fawver represents Senior Citizens at Lubbock

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS
Mrs. Roy Fawver went with other Floydada Senior Citizens to represent the local organization at a meeting in Lubbock Thursday.

David, Deanne and Amanda Watson, children of Mr. and Mrs. Deau Watson went to Lubbock Friday. They met their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Millard Watson of Mt. Blanco and their Robison cousins and all went to the movie, "Robin Hood." While they were at the movie, Brenda and Dean visited Mr. and Mrs. Ken Robison in Lubbock.

Mrs. Dorothy Lamb and son, Dale, of Lubbock, visited her aunt, Mrs. Viola Brown, Monday morning.

Mrs. Howard Bishop's father, Mr. Sid Brown, was moved from home to Caprock Hospital Sunday morning.

When Bob Allredge closed the school house door, week before last, he climbed on his tractor and farmed the first few days of spring break. He and Charlene joined Faye and William Bertrand with their camper at Lake Stamford from Thursday through Saturday. They enjoyed fishing in the warm sunshine. The lake crowd intensified on Saturday when the Allredges returned home. Faye and William stayed over another day.

Little Misses Dee and Brittany Wesley of Morton arrived Thursday evening to spend the weekend with the Q.D. Williams. The girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wesley of Morton, now own a tank rental and vacuum truck service for the oil business in the Levelland area, and specialize in cleaning up oil spills such as occurred when a well blows in. Their machines can vacuum up the oil and dirt and filter out the dirt. This was being done at the oil well site that is blowing 6000 barrels a day near Chilicothe, until the well caught fire.

Mrs. Lanny Glasscock has been caring for sick children during spring break. Both Angie and Tate have had the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Moses were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Dean Watson, who visited them Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Fawver and Mrs. Roy Fawver enjoyed a Sunday drive to Hamlin. They observed the wheat fields were not too much ahead of Floyd County fields. Mrs. Flora Fawver and Mrs. Nellie Adams shopped in Plainview Saturday.

Dean Watson helped Bryon Kenricks move his farm equipment last week in preparation for the farm sale Tuesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor and children of Crosbyton visited in the Q.D. Williams home Sunday afternoon while Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, Austin and Ashleigh of Lawton, Oklahoma, were here from Friday to Monday.

Mrs. Lanny Glasscock was pleasantly surprised to receive a phone call

YO Ranch 7th Annual Longhorn Trail Drive festivities set to begin Friday, April 23rd

The YO Ranch on April 23-25 will be the scene for the 7th Annual Longhorn Trail Drive. The Trail Drive has been held annually for the past six years in honor of the Ranch's rich heritage.

The Trail Drive festivities beginning with the pre-1900's costume party Friday night is a step back in time to cowboys, campfires, and covered wagons. Capt. Scheiner in the late 1800's drove 300,000 head of longhorn cattle along the Western Trail to Dodge City to amass his fortune.

Each year in April the Schreiner family, Charles III, Charles IV, Walter, Gus, Louis, Mary Helen and Tiffany along with many friends re-enact the Trail Drive of yesteryear.

The festivities begin with a pre-1900s costume party and dance Friday night with the most authentic costumes awarded Clay Dahlberg bronzes.

Breakfast Saturday morning is at the chuckwagon then it's round'em up, head'em out. Cookin' on the trail. Saturday night there will be a great fish fry, cocktails, fiddlin', dancin', awards, sleepin' out under the stars. Sunday morning it's breakfast 'round the campfire, cowboy prayer meeting on horseback and head'm out; lunch is at the chuckwagon.

Everyone is invited to join in and see the Texas Hill Country as the cowboys did in the 1880's from horseback, stage coach or covered wagon. The YO Ranch can even provide you with a horse if necessary.

For sign up or more information contact Kathy McGehee, YO Ranch, Mt. Home, Texas 78058, (512) 640-3222 or 3371.

District II of the Texas Farmers Union to hold annual banquet, March 27th

District II of the Texas Farmers Union will hold its annual banquet on Saturday, March 27 at 7:00 p.m. Melvin Lowrey, District II Director said this year's banquet will be held at the Plainview High School Cafeteria in Plainview.

Lowrey said speakers for the banquet will be Mike Moeller, Texas Farmers Union President and Bob Krueger, former U.S. Trade Ambassador to Mexico and U.S. Congressman. Krueger's keynote address will be on the subjects of trade with Mexico and recent agricultural legislation and the possible effects of these topics on the agricultural community.

"We are already feeling the effects of the 1981 Farm Bill," Lowrey said, "and we need to know every alternative available to us under this legislation. We must make ourselves aware of all possible avenues open to us concerning the marketing of our products. This is a critical time for farmers and every farmer should be actively involved in helping himself to overcome this situation. I urge all our members in District II to come and bring a friend."

A buffet supper will be served at the March 27 banquet and tickets can be purchased at the door for $4.00 apiece. Also included in the activities will be drawings for door prizes. Everyone is invited to come for an entertaining and educational evening. The public is invited.

Poisonous plants can inflict heavy losses

Poisonous range plants inflict losses of up to $100 million each year to the Texas livestock industry. These losses stem from animal deaths as well as reduced animal performance and increased management costs.

Livestock industry losses from poisonous range plants have tended to increase over the past 50 years, according to one official.

Dr. Allan McGinty of Fort Stockton, a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, believes that the trend over the past 100 years toward higher stocking rates and the change from open ranges to fenced pastures has had a lot to do with present poisonous range plant problems.

"High stocking rates generally have reduced range conditions and the carrying capacity of most Texas rangelands," he points out. "Use of fenced pastures has restricted animal movement and choice of forage. These two things combined have altered the diet selection of livestock so that grazing animals are more likely to consume significant quantities of poisonous plants."

McGinty says that good soil moisture conditions in late winter and early spring can bring an increase in poisonous range plants. If such conditions exist, he cautions ranchers to be on the watch for poisonous plants and to take control measures and follow certain management practices to keep livestock losses to a minimum.

"Control measures include mechanical, biotic and chemical methods," says McGinty.

Mechanical methods include cultivation in restricted areas, mowing, hand pulling, cutting, grubbing or burning.

Biotic methods include heavy grazing of limited areas by large numbers of livestock so that none are allowed to get a lethal dose, grazing of different classes of livestock, or deferring infested areas.

Various chemicals are available to control poisonous plants. This type of control is expensive but is effective in controlling large acreages of poisonous plants in a short time, notes the specialist.

Management practices that can influence the severity of livestock losses from grazing poisonous plants, according to McGinty, include the following:

1. Do not overgraze range and. Many poisonous plants will increase under low range conditions.
2. Be cautious when bringing in livestock from another county or state. Such stock are more likely to eat toxic plants.
3. Do not put hungry stock on ranges infested with poisonous plants since they will not be as selective in their grazing.
4. Make sure livestock have free access to salt, phosphorous and other needed elements. Deficiencies of any of these will reduce the selective grazing behavior of livestock.

5. Provide adequate water.

6. Do not feed hay cut from areas infested with poisonous plants.

7. Minimize grazing when poisonous plants are the most dangerous. Use flexible grazing systems to avoid high risk areas.

8. Use the proper kind and class of livestock. One class of livestock is often more resistant to toxic plants than another.

9. Move stock carefully through infested areas, avoid crowding them, and make sure they have full stomachs when trailed or penned.

10. Be aware that special environmental conditions, such as periods of drought, extreme cold or wetness, may restrict animal movement or change diet selection.

11. Be cautious with livestock grazing areas recently burned or sprayed with a herbicide. Both practices can increase the palatability of toxic plants.

12. Be able to recognize toxic plants and watch for grazing use of such plants. Early detection can often keep losses to a minimum.

An orderly marketing plan can raise grain prices

A national marketing program is being developed that will raise grain prices one dollar per hundred pounds ($6 cents per bushel) in a very short period of time, according to Elbert Harp, Executive Director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association. The 20-10-20 Orderly Marketing Plan, designed by Congressman Charles Stenholm (D-Texas), has been endorsed by GSPA.

Under the 20-10-20 Plan, farmers would place at least 20% of their supply and production in the farmer-held reserve and use the Government Loan Program for the balance where financing is needed. Other provisions of the plan are:

1. Farmers would sell no grain until the price reaches the reserve "trigger" price which currently is $3.00 per bushel ($5.36 per cwt.) on sorghum and $3.15 ($5.62 cwt.) on corn.

2. After market prices reach the trigger, farmers would sell only 10% of their remaining stocks in any 30 day period during the first 3 months. This action will keep pressure on the market to raise prices.

3. After the first 3 month sales period, each farmer could sell 20% of his remaining stocks during a 30-day period.

4. Minimum sales prices will move up throughout the year as storage and interest costs are added to the Reserve trigger price.

"This program will work," Harp said, "if it is coordinated with reduced planting when a surplus exists and if farmers are willing to cooperate to make it work." Harp urges grain farmers to carefully study the plan which is expected to have the support of most farm and commodity organizations.

Nail down your costs

Are you producing soybeans at a profit — or taking a loss? If you know how much it costs you to produce a bushel of beans, you know your personal profit margin from a glance at the latest soybean price quote on the board at the elevator. And if you know your cost per bushel you can formulate both a production plan and a marketing plan — to help you optimize your profits for 1982.

In the march issue of Soybean Digest, American Soybean Association economist Bob Acton urges farmers to develop production and marketing plans.

"They should relate to each other to maximize production and income," says Acton. "While these plans by themselves cannot ensure you a profitable year, they are an important first step. A good production plan will include varieties, tillage practices, chemical programs and a good estimate of your production costs."

"Likewise, your marketing plan will answer the what, when, where and how much you hope to sell and at what price levels. It's not too early to think about your expected selling price for your 1982 crop," Acton reminds.

"Knowing your production costs and potential yield is the key to building good production and marketing plans," continues Acton. Identifying either is not easy. We can only estimate them — based on recent trends. You may want to budget several options before you finalize your production and marketing plans, Acton says. "The challenge is to shoot for maximum yield — yet control your costs."

"Another point to remember: Your cost per bushel goes down as yields increase. If you can produce more beans per acre, your production costs don't rise nearly as fast as your return per acre since you're producing more beans per acre," Acton adds.

"If you're trying to cut production costs, don't do anything that may reduce your yields. That will raise your cost per bushel — and reduce your profit margin per bushel," he points out.

Acton cautions that while one should plan and strive for the best price the marketplace permits, it is interesting to note that net income increase more rapidly as you increase yield from 20 to 30 to 40 bushels per acre — than as your selling price increases from $6.00 to $6.50 to $7.00 to $7.50 per bushel.

For example: With production costs of $150 per acre and $7.51 beans, your net income with 22 bushel yields is $15 per acre. If you could push yields to 30 bushels per acre you need only $5.51 beans to earn the same $15 profit. A 40 bushel yield, even at the $5.51 price would give you an even more respectable $70 profit per acre. Or you could shoot for both the higher price and higher yield and earn $135 per acre. (See table)

"The bottom line," concludes Acton, "is that you need to analyze your production practices in terms of potential yield and related cost. Then select the option that gives the net income per acre you're shooting for."

Early calving cows more profitable

Early calving cows bring in more dollars per head at marketing time.

"Producers who only wean their calves at one specific time during the year need to be aware of the importance of early calving," says Dr. L.R. Sprott of Bryan, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Late calving cows usually wean lighter calves which mean fewer pounds of beef going to market," he notes.

A demonstration on the Nash Ranch in Brazoria County bears this out. Heifers were bred from late May to early September, 1980, and calved from early March to mid-June, 1981. All calves were weaned in late September.

Records show that the calves born between March and April had higher weaning weights and sold at higher prices at marketing time, Sprott explains. Early born steers brought $72 more per head and early born heifers brought $64 more.

To shorten the calving period of cows, Sprott suggests these steps:

1. Replace late calvers with early calving cows.
  2. Take bulls out of the breeding herd 10 to 15 days earlier than the past year for three to four consecutive years until a 60- to 75-day breeding season is reached.
  3. Don't let cows get thin before calving because thin cows are slow to rebreed.
  4. Synchronize estrus to enable more uniform breeding.
- "Shortening the calving season can be an important step in improving the efficiency of cow-calf operations," says Sprott. "And it's something producers can do with a minimum of management."

Eye injuries among farmers stem from the use of chemicals and machinery

Eye injuries on the farm can happen from doing something as complex as spraying chemical fertilizers or something as easy as chopping wood, reports the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness. Some 3,000 farmers were treated in hospital emergency rooms for eye injuries in 1980. This figure does not include farmers who sought private medical attention.

Eye injuries from pesticides, fertilizers and other agricultural chemicals account for nearly one-third of the reported injuries. The remaining two-thirds of farm accidents stemmed from work with hand-tools, threshing machines, combines, milking machines and numerous other farm tools and equipment.

Among the most commonly used chemicals on the farm today is the fertilizer anhydrous ammonia. This important fertilizer also presents great danger to the eyes.

"Anhydrous ammonia has a natural affinity for water," explains R.E. Margo, M.D., State Medical Chairman. "The eye is about 80 percent water. Upon impact, damage to tissue is almost instantaneous, and often results in partial or total blindness."

In addition to wearing tight-fitting chemical goggles when working with anhydrous ammonia and other agricultural chemicals, the Society recommends that farmers carry a plastic squeeze bottle filled with water in their shirtpockets. A five gallon tank of water should be attached to the tractors and applicators. All equipment should be carefully checked for possible leaky valves or faulty hoses. Protective eye-wear should be worn when examining equipment.

"Immediate washing of the eye with fresh water is essential upon contact with chemicals. Water must be circulated on the affected area for at least 15 minutes, and then prompt medical attention sought," says Dr. Margo.

Cuts and punctures to the eye and eyelids from work with machines and farm tools are among the other most common causes of farm eye injuries.

If an unprotected eye is cut or punctured from work with tools or machinery, the Society recommends that the affected area be lightly bandaged, and a doctor immediately contacted. Unlike procedures for chemical burns, the eye should not be washed in case of a puncture.

untrained hand attempting to remove foreign object stuck in eye.

"Industrial quality safety goggles should be worn when working with chemicals," says Dr. Margo. "Farmers are not unlike their counterparts. Industry eye protection success stories are years. The use of protective eyewear on the farm will likewise prevent a number of senseless injuries."

The potential hazards of anhydrous ammonia are dramatized in a film, "For the Rest of the Movie is available for loan from the Texas Society to Prevent Blindness, P.O. Box 20/20, Houston, Texas 77202. For a copy of the film, send a stamped envelope to the Society.

Pruning insures peak production, but wait until winter is almost over.

Since the average first frost-free day is considered to be April 11, this month can be thought of as an early spring month. Do not prune while wood is frozen since freezing causes brittle wood.

The possibility of selecting poorly matured wood for main branches is another reason for not pruning in the fall or winter months. This wood may then die in the winter, causing reduced yield the next growing season. After prolonged winter exposure, this dead wood is easily recognized and removed. On the other hand, late spring pruning may cause sap bleeding or weeping, but it is better to prune late than not to prune at all.

Why prune at all? First of all, pruning promotes large, well-flavored fruit. A plant cannot produce the quality of fruit desired when it's allowed to mature the quantity of fruit which it is capable of maturing. Pruning removes some of the fruit buds which would mature fruit. By growing fewer fruit, the tree can use all available nutrients for those few fruit, thus producing a large, juicy product.

The fruit grower must be sure he wants many small adequate number of high production capacity.

Another valuable advantage is to establish a proper framework for fruit. A strong framework will support fruit matures. Even though enhances even ripening throughout the tree. Preventing age results in longer life attractive landscape plant.

Feeder Pig Show and Sale announced

Swine producers from across the state will have an opportunity to exhibit and sell feeder pigs at the Texas State Championship Feeder Pig Show and Sale at Brenham April 16-17. Deadline for entries is April 12.

Site of the event will be the Washington County Fairgrounds, announces Bill Thane, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Any Texas producer may submit up to three entries, with an entry being five pigs (barrows, gilts, registered, cross-bred, grade or any combination thereof) totalling 200 to 350 pounds.

There will be three classes based on weight and a total of $1950 in premiums will be awarded. A grand and reserve champion pen also will be selected during judging which begins at 8 a.m. April 17.

All entries will be sold beginning at 1:30 p.m. April 17.

Entries will be tagged and shown the first day starting at 8 a.m. April 16. Also feature a trade show from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. April 16 and a barbecue from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. April 16.

The trade show will be held in the fair building. Entries, with a $15 fee should be sent to the Championship Feeder Pig Sale, P.O. Box 964, Brenham, Texas 77833.

TFU asks for set-aside modifications

In an effort to increase participation by Texas farmers in the recently announced USDA crop acreage reduction program, Texas Farmers Union President Mike Moeller has asked U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block to consider two important changes in the program.

As outlined by the USDA, a farmer will be prohibited from planting his 1982 crops into the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program unless he reduces his planted acreage by 15 percent (using 1981 acreage as a base) for cotton, wheat, or rice or by 10 percent for corn or grain sorghum.

Moeller, who farms in Hays and Guadalupe counties, says that unless concessions are made in the set-aside program, most Texas farmers will be unable to participate in 1982. According to Moeller, "Most of us in Central and South Texas had already planted much of our 1982 crops before the set-aside program was announced. It's not fair to ask us to forfeit the $50 to $100 an acre we've already invested in planting this year's crop in order to participate in the program while farmers in the Northern states have not begun planting and can sign up for the set-aside without having invested any money in planting their 1982 crops."

"Furthermore," Moeller said, "Many of us rotate our crops which means that, in most cases, we'll be drastically reducing some crops and significantly increasing others. Under the existing rules, many Texas farmers will only be able to qualify about half of their 1982 crops for the program."

Moeller reiterated that Texas Farmers Union supports the need for a fair and equitable program to reduce surplus crops. "We fully understand that the situation requires a Federal set-aside," he said.

In order to be fair to Texas farmers and encourage them to take part in the program, TFU is calling for a change in the official method used to determine a farmer's "base acreage." For farmers who had planted their crops prior to announcement of the program, Moeller says their base acreage should be the acreage planted on the day of the announcement.

In addition, TFU is asking the USDA to reimburse farmers who had planted prior to the set-aside announcement for their planting costs incurred on the acreage they will now have to plow under.

Moeller said, "Most Texas farmers didn't have the luxury of waiting until after the set-aside was announced to plant and plant this year's crops. Unless the USDA will at least help these folks recoup their planting costs for the acreage to be set aside, many of them simply, won't be able to participate."

"We're not asking Secretary Block to do anything that is outside his legal authority. All we're really asking is to be allowed to do our part in solving the economic crisis in agriculture without having to sacrifice any more or less than the other farmers in America."
