and once again the children of this area will be able to enjoy a wide variety of rides and games plus a free circus that the carnival supplies. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burlingame, the owners of the Pride of Texas Shows have gone out of their way to work with the board by supplying advertisements, special passes that can save money, and by purchasing the prizes for free drawings from local merchants. We cannot expect a man from another town to continue to support our fair if the people here do not come out and do the same.

Another activity that needs your attention to make it a success is the Maines Brothers concert. Many people that attended the concert last year gave us favorable comments and felt like it was a good thing, so we contracted for a return engagement. But we need everyone's support and attendance to make it a success.

The fair is one of the best entertainment values around. The price of a 3-day adult pass is the same as many theatre tickets cost now. And the fair has something to offer for every age group. Anyone who says that there's nothing to do at the fair has not attended one lately. From the moment the gates open and exhibits are in place till the gates close the final night, there is something going on of interest to all age groups.

We urge you to check the schedule of events, and if you can't attend every day, at least come out one day and enjoy the fruits of the hard work that has gone into this year's fair.

Please show us your interest and support by attending and commenting on the activities of the fair. Its future depends on YOU!

Sincerely,

The Floyd Co. Fair Association
Board of Directors

PROPERTY TAXES—
GOOD INTENTIONS AREN'T ENOUGH

I want to talk this week about taxes and good intentions.

As I travel around Texas, I notice that what's known as the Peveto Bill is the subject of much talk and controversy. This bill, named after state representative Wayne Peveto, is a tax reform law: legislation of the best intention.

The law was designed to end confusion and unfairness in the way property taxes were assessed. Property was often on different tax rolls at different values. Older properties went years, sometimes decades, without being revalued or updated. New construction and newly sold property was on the rolls at more correct values and so people who owned it paid a higher share of taxes. Some property was simply left off the rolls entirely. The system was confusing and inequitable.

In an attempt to correct these problems, the Peveto Bill created property tax appraisal boards for each Texas county. These boards were charged with the responsibility of setting all property at its full value—as residential or commercial property or as land used for agricultural purposes. Taxes could then be levied on this accurately assessed property according to the needs of the taxing entities.

It sounded good, but it hasn't worked. The biggest problem is that the people on the appraisal boards are appointed, not elected. They are not accountable to the taxpayers. So now we have a new, faceless bureaucracy to deal with. It amounts to taxation without representation.

My opponent has been on both sides of this issue, first supporting the bill in the legislature—then doing an about-face and calling it bad legislation after it was passed.

The Peveto Bill, though well-intentioned, has created problems which must be dealt with in the next legislature and as your next Lt. Governor, I will do just that. If you have any thoughts on this subject, please write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, 78705.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE, Foster Whaley was in Crosbyton August 28, in one of his "get acquainted" stops. The main purpose of this was to get acquainted with the people in the area. He said that it was necessary to communicate with the people in the area he serves because "if you don't communicate with people, the people won't communicate with you."

He mentioned in order to better serve the people he intends to put local phone numbers that would relay questions to his office in Pampa or to its State Capitol.

Layette shower honoring Mrs. John Quebe

A layette shower was a compliment recently for Mrs. John Quebe and infant son Joshua Max.

The event was held in the Providence community home of Mrs. Louie Bybee. She was assisted in hostess duties by Mrs. Mike Mathis, Mrs. Gary Mangold, and Mrs. Martin Stoerner.

Special guest was Josh's sister, Gretchen, and their grandmother, Mrs.

Ewald Quebe of Plainview.

The serving table was laid with blue-checked gingham bordered in white lace. The same material and eyelet were used to create a hooded bassinet from a watermelon filled with melon balls, pineapple and strawberries. Miniature sandwiches also were served with frosted punch.

Hostesses' gift was a nursery lamp.

MRS. MOREHEAD AND L.C. WAHLENMAIER

Favor repayed years later

One cannot say that L.C. Wahlenmaier ever forgets a favor, even if he returns the favor 35 years later.

It seems that Mrs. Morehead of Floydada had baked Mr. Wahlenmaier a cake for his birthday some 35 years ago when he was here buying leases.

Last Thursday he was back in Floydada from Midland to visit his grandson. He stopped by to visit Mrs.

Morehead. During the visit he gave her some muffins he had baked. Jokingly he said that they were to pay back for the birthday cake.

Mrs. Morehead liked the muffins so much he baked some right there in her kitchen.

Watch for Mr. Wahlenmaier's recipe for the muffins in next week's Floyd County Recipe Exchange.

Holts enjoy New York

Burle and Helene Holt visited in New York state recently with their son Bobby and his wife Margarite and their daughter Robyn, who is five.

The Holts visited and toured in the New England states during their 3-week stay, going as far as Mystic, Connecticut, near the Rhode Island line. They visited the largest submarine base in the world there and the beautiful aquarium.

They also attended some productions by college students at summer theatres. The weather was ideal while the Holts were there July 25 through August 14.

The highest temperature recorded was 89° and the lowest was 68°. "Just cool enough to sleep under a blanket," Mrs. Holt said.

Since this made the Holts' third time to visit in the area this year, they got to accomplish a longtime goal of theirs. They took a carriage ride through Central Park.

Bobby is employed at the City Corporate Bank and Marketing. His wife is in the computer programming for the Pepsi Corporation. She also placed fifth in the 26-mile race promoted by the company this year.

Pioneer honors Cummings

Zach Cummings, native of Lockney and a Lockney High School graduate, was honored as the August Employee of the Month by the Southwestern Division of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc.

As area supervisor for grain sorghum production at Pioneer, Cummings is responsible for all field activities of grain sorghum production in his area from planting until harvest. Lone Star and the Texas South Plains are included in his area of production.

After his graduation in 1975, Cummings attended West Texas State University. He received a degree in plant science in 1979. He and his wife Sandra have two children Adam and Courtney.

Veterans notice

Veterans and dependents whose Veterans Administration checks are deposited directly with financial institutions should keep those accounts open when they make a change in such mailings.

If you are cancelling your direct deposit and want your future checks to be mailed to you, don't close your account until you receive the first check at your address, advises the Director, Waco VA Regional Office.

If you are changing financial institutions, don't close your account at the former bank until your first check is direct deposited in the new bank. This will prevent any unnecessary delays in check delivery whenever you effect a change to your direct deposit arrangement.

For additional information, telephone the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your telephone directory.

Whirlwinds capture the Cats

Just when the Dimmitt 'Cats thought they had the game sewed up, the Floydada Whirlwinds came from behind with a resounding 19-6 victory.

Dimmitt was first on the board with a six yard run by Mark Bruegal with 3:02 left in the first quarter. The first quarter was dominated by Dimmitt. Floydada had started a strong comeback when Dimmitt intercepted a pass early in the second quarter.

The Winds came close to scoring in the second quarter only to lose a fumble to the 'Cats. Penalties and fumbles played havoc during the first half. The closest Floydada came to scoring was inside the five yard line.

The first half was dominated by Dimmitt. However the second quarter was more evenly matched, but Dimmitt still had the slight edge due to fumbles and penalties.

Floydada showed promise early in the third quarter. The quarter was more even with more stringer plays from Floydada.

Floydada had good penetration through Dimmitt's lines during the third and fourth quarters.

The Winds burst onto the scoreboard about midway through the fourth quarter. Bruce Williams, a second team all star tailback last season made the initial score with a nine yard sprint. A PAT from Donnel Weeks gave the Winds the winning edge.

An intercepted pass by the Winds yielded an approximate 45 yard stretch toward the goal. This set up a 14 yard TD from Williams. The Winds scored once more in the last few seconds of the game from yet another Williams TD. The last half was led by the Winds, especially in the last half of the fourth quarter, where all of Floydada's scoring took place.

Dimmitt only allowed Floydada to gain just 89 yards rushing. Williams accounted for 67 of those 89 in 19 carries. Floydada did lead in the passing game with 50 yards compared to Dimmitt's 45.

Meanwhile the Bobcats had 140 yards rushing toward a 185 yard total.

The Whirlwinds will be home to face the Frenship Tigers Friday night.

Defense ready

I was pleasantly surprised and pleased with the defense in last Friday's game. The defense was ahead of the offense in this game.

We're going to sputter a little because most of the boys have not played in a game before Friday. The players continued to improve as the game progressed.

I am pleased that we came through the game without any apparent serious injuries. We should be in good shape for the game this week.

Frenship has a veteran team with size and experience from last year. Before the season is over they should be one of the top teams in the area.

Local & Yocal

Well what can I say I was either 50% wrong or 50% right I'm not sure which. The Green and White came through with flying colors. Sure glad the game wasn't shorter by 3 minutes. The pride of the Longhorns was dampened for a short period of time but should be on the rebound this week.

My compadre in arms or Yocal as he is known around the newspaper business was 50% wrong last week. I am surprised his guesses were that accurate. Not that he can't guess but!

This week I am supposed to tell you a clue as to who or whom I am. Yocal said he was a jack of all trades. This statement I can also use. My time is crowded with occupations that vary and carry me from North to South. Guess who I am and I will shut my mouth. Not too good but that Yocal person's rhymes were.

Here are this week's winners:

Tech plays New Mexico and should start the year with a win. Moore's boys will do better this time.

The Cowboys should start this season as they have the past 16 with a win. Look for the Cowboy's to win it all this year.

The Oilers under Coach Biles and behind the Tyler Rose should do better this year without the Snake. The Oilers by 7 over the Bengals.

The Longhorns from Lockney will be on the rebound from last Friday and should outclass and outscore the Petersburg team. Horns by 1 touchdown.

The Whirlwinds started slow but played hard to close with a win. Their opponents were upset last week so look for my old coaches team to come in strong. The Winds should be ready 19-17 over Frenship.

Yokel now your guesses can't be 50%. You should get another coin.

Only one weekend into the season and Local and I are both batting 500 on the local front. But now, looky here ole wise, fiercest forecaster in Floyd football land, you done gone and slipped your dripper ranking the "Bummers" against my Cowboys. Local. I do declare, son, you're walking at least a quarter of a bubble off plumb. No way could those slickers from Houston be any kind of a match for Landry and his powder keg. Twenty-two seconds left in the game was all that was needed, as Dallas has shown in seasons past. Final score, Dallas 20 - Oilers 14.

Well now, we both got waylaid by that Horns game against Tulia. Who would have ever thought that Tulia could come back after the way they've been playing in the past. Well, I've said it before and I'll say it again - nothing these boys do surprises me.

Now how about those Bobcats from Dimmitt. Seems as though they got their tails all up in the air over nothing. After the mean green fighting machine got through with them, I heard tell that those little kittens are still looking for their mittens. Way to go big green. Local. I congratulate you on a superb pick on this one, son.

This week we have a little more action on the line up. Now talk around the domino hall has Tech as far down on the totem pole as one can get without being spiked in the eye. I can't quite grasp this. Let's put those Raiders bombing New Mexico by 14 points.

We find the Longhorns tippy-toeing over to Petersburg and they're going to pick up "chips" to the tune of at least 13 points. Now the Whirlwinds have got another tough one this week facing Frenship at Floydada. Better watch 'em mean green. My prediction, Winds by 3. Dallas shouldn't have too much trouble outstepping Pittsburg by 8. Beat THAT one, Local!

Now for another poetic clue: When I portray Yocal, I can't be beat. And if you've noticed, I have size 10 1/2 feet. Pay particular attention to all future rhymes, see which characteristics best fit mine.

See y'all in the funny papers!

The FFA officials for the 1982-83 term are as follows: President, Marty Covington; Vice-President, Garland Easter; Secretary, Walker Brooks; Treasurer, Don Cheek; Reporter, Melissa Bigham; and Sentinel, Kevin Helms.

A second major topic at the meeting was the nominations for FFA Sweetheart.

Bluebonnets swaying in the cool breeze

BY DR. JERRY PARSONS

Texas Agricultural Extension Service
Does anyone remember the beautiful fields of bluebonnet flowers swaying in the cool breezes of spring? Now, why would anyone be reminiscing about spring bluebonnets and cool breezes in late summer? The only remnant of the picturesque bluebonnet scene is a fried field and the only cool breeze in Texas is from the nearest air conditioner vent!
The simple answer is that if you want to have bluebonnets swaying in the cool breezes of spring next year, you must plant seeds now.

I know it is difficult to dream of a blue sprintime while you're standing in a puddle of perspiration in your garden in the summer heat, but that is the way it works.
Bluebonnets are a cool weather annual. That means they need heat to germinate the seed, but cool weather to develop the root structure. The seed look like pea-gravel and are multi-colored, with slate blue and light tan being the most common hues.

Bluebonnet seeds are coated with a lacquer-like substance and are very hard. The tough seed coat helps them survive. If you shell out green—but mature—bluebonnet seeds in the spring and plant them immediately, they will germinate in just a few days.

If that happened in nature, it would be tragic. The young seedlings would be quickly melted by the hot sun and they would die, causing a halt in seed production for the future.

Bluebonnet seeds, in nature, need three to five years for the hard coat to soften enough to germinate. That means the seeds produced this year probably will not germinate until 1985 or 1986 in their natural stands.

You probably don't want to hang around until then for your bluebonnet crop to bloom, so what you have to do is cheat on nature just a tad. You can do this by scratching the seed—a technique known as "scarifying"—or by soaking the seeds overnight in baby-bottle-warm water. Or a combination of both techniques: scratch, then soak.

Poor germination usually occurs unless something is done to soften the hard seed coat to allow moisture to penetrate. The oft-recommended practice of puncturing the seed with a needle or ice pick will sometimes work, but it is a rather time-consuming task as well as hard on the hands.

Scratching the seed coat between two layers of sandpaper that have been glued to wooden blocks will also help.

To treat large quantities of seed, some commercial landscape companies often mix the seed with sharp sand and tumble the mixture in a cement mixer to scratch the seed coat.

Since most of us do not have a cement mixer in the backyard, we have conned Carroll Abbott, the wild man of the nature flower cult, into scarifying a limited quantity of seed.

These rapidly germinating, fresh bluebonnet seed are available from Green Horizons, 500 Thompson Dr., Kerrville, TX 78028. One thousand seed (enough for 200 square feet of spring blue) will cost $4, five thousand will cost $11, ten thousand will cost $16 and one pound of seed will cost $20. Those prices include sales tax and postage.

Abbott will accept credit card orders over $10 by telephone at 512/257-5141.

One can plant the seed later—even into January with scarified seed—and still get a bountiful crop of bluebonnets. But if you plant now, the plants will be larger and the blooms will be much brighter and bigger.

Bluebonnet seedlings can be transplanted all during the fall and early winter. Valentine's Day is the cut-off date for successful transplanting.

Many seeds are wasted each year due to improper planting. Just tossing the seed into a grassy area along the road or in the corner of the yard does little else than provide expensive food for the birds.

Plant the seed in a sunny location. Bluebonnets will not thrive in the shade. Cover the seed lightly with soil and then gently walk on the seedbed. This makes for a firm bed which helps germination. Water gently, but thoroughly. And if it doesn't rain in a week, water some more. The seed will start germinating within a week and will continue for many weeks thereafter.

The wee seedlings look like two little watermelons, fat and juicy. They are a feast for sow bugs and pill bugs. To avoid a complete massacre of your tasty seedlings, sprinkle the seedbed liberally with an insecticide.

During their early growth, bluebonnets form ground-hugging rosettes. The whole plant will not be over an inch or so high, but the leaves will cover an area the size of a dinner plate. Don't worry. They are merely waiting for the warmth of spring to make them form flowering stalks.

Beneath the rosette of leaves, a large mass of roots are growing. They also are forming nodules along the roots which contain nitrogen and will enrich the soil with naturally-grown fertilizer when the bluebonnet completes its life cycle.

For flower enthusiasts who do not want to look at the rather unexciting, definitely-not-beautiful bluebonnet rosette all winter, try interplanting hardy annuals such as ornamental kale, ornamental cabbage or dianthus.

Plant the bluebonnet seeds in rows approximately 24 inches apart, then transplant the hardy annuals on rows between the bluebonnet rows.

You will enjoy the color of the annuals all winter while bluebonnet plants are growing. In the spring, bluebonnets will overpower the annuals or will mingle with them to make a beautiful combination.

Bluebonnets make exquisite cut flowers, bright and fragrant. It is not against any law to pick bluebonnets on private property.

Mostly bluebonnets are blue, but you frequently will see a patch of albinos which are sparkling white and—if you really are fortunate—you will find plants with pink flowers!

So, this is the time and place to plant bluebonnets. We are fortunate that Carroll Abbott has such a good source of treated seed. Obviously, now is the time to act to insure that this will be the "Year of the Bluebonnet" at your house!

THIS PLAYFUL YOUNG calf gives its mother a quick lick on the horn in an apparent display of affection. During the coming months the sight of mother and calf will become a common one. Texas leads the nation in cattle production, producing an average of 13.7 million head each year. (TDA photo)

COTTON TODAY

Senate passes immigration bill: The Senate has approved an immigration bill by a 81-18 vote. Strongly supported by the Administration and organized labor, it provides amnesty for illegal aliens who have lived in the U.S. continuously since 1977 and temporary residence status for those residing here since 1980. It also calls for civil and criminal penalties for employers who knowingly hire illegal aliens, development within the next three years of a counterfeit-proof national identity card, and a revised program for temporary foreign workers. The bill now goes to the House where the Judiciary Committee is working on similar legislation.

SBA disaster loans may be forthcoming for West Texas: A Small Business Administration official notified National Cotton Council President Ed Breihan this week that economic injury disaster loans will be made available to business-ses in the weather-stricken West Texas area. The action hinges on Agriculture Secretary Block's approval of a request by Texas Governor William Clements to make 26 counties in the area eligible for emergency loans. Breihan earlier had urged the SBA loans in support of a request by Earl Jalufka, president of the Texas Independent Ginners Association.

Export sales advance: Net new cotton export sales for 1982-83 delivery were 66,200 running bales during the week ended August 12. The National Cotton Council reports that South Korea bought 48,000 bales of the total and Japan, 7,700.

Total commitments for the new season stand at 1,936,600 bales. The week's export shipments totaled 69,500.

Field Day scheduled for September 10th in Silverton

Agricultural Equipment and Chemical Field Day will be held in Silverton Friday, September 10th according to Earnest Kiker Briscoe County Extension Agent.

Farmers are urged to meet at the First State Bank in Silverton at 8:30 a.m. for coffee and donuts, and begin the program.

Equipment demonstrations, chemical use, limited tillage in cotton, reducing cost with minimum tillage and 1983 Farm Program are a few of the topics to be discussed by Randy Underwood, Agronomist for Soil Conservation Service, Dr. James Supak, Cotton Agronomist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service; and James Griffin, County Executive Director of ASCS.

Equipment and Chemical Companies will discuss and show slides of equipment and chemical use during the morning session. At 10:30 a.m. an equipment demonstration will be held 1/4 mile west of Silverton on the north side of the Tullia-Silverton Highway. Dealers that will be present for this Field Day are Brown McMurtry Implement Company, John Deere, Ray Teeple Fertilizer, Eversman, Felix King, Ciba Geigy, Monsanto and Dupont.

A free bar-b-que will be sponsored by the dealers for all attending the Field Day. The bar-b-q will be held at the Bryant Eddleman barn 1 mile west of Silverton on the south side of the Tullia-Silverton Highway.

After the noon meal farmers may visit the Briscoe County Weather Station located at the Eddleman Barn and return to the Equipment Demonstration.

Herb Burns, Agronomist for Soil Conservation Service, Elston Grubburgh, Extension Agricultural Engineer-Mechanization; Pat Morrison Extension Entomologist, for soybean, sorghum, and sunflowers; Joe Bryant, Extension Communications specialist; Dr. James Supak, Extension Agronomist Cotton; and Randy Underwood, Agronomist Soil Conservation Service will be available for questions during the afternoon. Everyone is encouraged to attend any or all of the Equipment Field Day sponsored by Caprock Soil and Water Conservation District and Briscoe County Extension Service Agricultural Committee.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of social-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

September Safety Corner

Make it a Safe Harvest

All harvesting equipment is not alike. Yet there are enough similarities so that the following guidelines can help make September a safe harvest.

- Read and follow operator's manual for each harvester.
- Make sure workers are trained and competent.
- Keep shields in place.
- ALWAYS turn off engine before unclogging, adjusting or servicing.
- Watch where you are going. Adjust ground speed to conditions. Avoid ditches, steep slopes, etc.
- Keep riders off and away from harvesters.
- Wear appropriate personal protective equipment.
- Take breaks to maintain alertness and reduce fatigue.

TEXAS STOCKS of wheat, sorghum and corn increased 31 percent according to a Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service report. This increase may be partially blamed on a slowdown in export and an increase in cattle feeding, reports Commissioner Reagan Brown.

Destructive rodents can cost consumers

Rats and mice. They can cost consumers and farmers up to $25 a year per animal by eating and contaminating food. They are known carriers of more than 35 diseases such as plague, leptospirosis and salmonella. And on farms they can be particularly destructive by killing and eating young pigs, chicks and eggs.

Havoc (TM) rodenticide is now available to control rats and mice in and around homes, industrial, commercial, agricultural and public buildings. Havoc is marketed by ICI Americas Inc.

Havoc is the only anticoagulant rodenticide registered by the Environmental Protection Agency available to consumers that kills warfarin-resistant Norway rats and house mice. Warfarin-resistant rodents have been appearing in significant numbers in 16 cities across the United States and in many rural areas.

Much of the rodent damage to food and farm crops comes from contamination. By leaving their droppings, rats and mice adulterate 10 times more food than they eat. In one year a pair of rats will excrete, usually in their food, 50,000 droppings and 3 gallons of urine. A pair of mice will excrete 40,000 droppings and only 3 pints of urine. Mice get most of their water needs from their food and drink very little.

Rodents cost farmers millions of dollars each year by gnawing buildings, doors, walls, wiring and insulation. Rodents' teeth grow at the rate of 4 to 6 inches a year, so gnawing is necessary to keep their teeth from growing too long. They will chew through many materials including lead sheathing, cinderblock, aluminum sheeting, glass and improperly cured concrete. The openings rodents create need not be large. Rats can squeeze through a one-half inch space, and a one-fourth inch crack is large enough for mice.

A single-feeding anticoagulant, Havoc controls rats and mice in four to eight days. When used according to label directions, it is low in hazard to applicators and domestic pets and animals. But in case of misuse, Havoc has a readily available antidote, Vitamin K-1, kept in supply by physicians and veterinarians.

For control of these rodents, Havoc is available in a bait pack constructed with a special film that allows the odor of Havoc to escape. The bait pack should be placed both inside and outside buildings at intervals of 100 feet. Rats and 8 to 12 mice are attracted to the bait. Labels show that as little as 1/2 ounce is lethal for rats and 1/4 ounce for mice.

Bluebonnets swaying in the cool breeze

BY DR. JERRY PARSONS
Texas Agricultural Extension Service
 Does anyone remember the beautiful fields of bluebonnet flowers swaying in the cool breezes of spring? Now, why would anyone be reminiscing about spring bluebonnets and cool breezes in late summer? The only remnant of the picturesque bluebonnet scene is a fried field and the only cool breeze in Texas is from the nearest air conditioner vent!
 The simple answer is that if you want to have bluebonnets swaying in the cool breezes of spring next year, you must plant seeds now.

 I know it is difficult to dream of a blue sprintime while you're standing in a puddle of perspiration in your garden in the summer heat, but that is the way it works.
 Bluebonnets are a cool weather annual. That means they need heat to germinate the seed, but cool weather to develop the root structure. The seed look like pea-gravel and are multi-colored, with slate blue and light tan being the most common hues.

 Bluebonnet seeds are coated with a lacquer-like substance and are very hard. The tough seed coat helps them survive. If you shell out green—but mature—bluebonnet seeds in the spring and plant them immediately, they will germinate in just a few days.
 If that happened in nature, it would be tragic. The young seedlings would be quickly melted by the hot sun and they would die, causing a halt in seed production for the future.

 Bluebonnet seeds, in nature, need three to five years for the hard coat to soften enough to germinate. That means the seeds produced this year probably will not germinate until 1985 or 1986 in their natural stands.
 You probably don't want to hang around until then for your bluebonnet crop to bloom, so what you have to do is cheat on nature just a tad. You can do this by scratching the seed—a technique known as "scarifying"—or by soaking the seeds overnight in baby-bottle-warm water. Or a combination of both techniques: scratch, then soak.
 Poor germination usually occurs unless something is done to soften the hard seed coat to allow moisture to penetrate. The oft-recommended practice of puncturing the seed with a needle or ice pick will sometimes work, but it is a rather time-consuming task as well as hard on the hands.
 Scratching the seed coat between two layers of sandpaper that have been glued to wooden blocks will also help.
 To treat large quantities of seed, some commercial landscape companies often mix the seed with sharp sand and tumble the mixture in a cement mixer to scratch the seed coat.
 Since most of us do not have a cement mixer in the backyard, we have conned Carroll Abbott, the wild man of the nature flower cult, into scarifying a limited quantity of seed.
 These rapidly germinating, fresh bluebonnet seed are available from Green Horizons, 500 Thompson Dr., Kerrville, TX 78028. One thousand seed (enough for 200 square feet of spring blue) will cost $4, five thousand will cost $11, ten thousand will cost $16 and one pound of seed will cost $20. Those prices include sales tax and postage.
 Abbott will accept credit card orders over $10 by telephone at 512/257-5141.
 One can plant the seed later—even into January with scarified seed—and still get a bountiful crop of bluebonnets. But if you plant now, the plants will be larger and the blooms will be much brighter and bigger.
 Bluebonnet seedlings can be transplanted all during the fall and early winter. Valentine's Day is the cut-off date for successful transplanting.
 Many seeds are wasted each year due to improper planting. Just tossing the seed into a grassy area along the road or in the corner of the yard does little else than provide expensive food for the birds.
 Plant the seed in a sunny location. Bluebonnets will not thrive in the shade. Cover the seed lightly with soil and then gently walk on the seedbed. This makes for a firm bed which helps germination. Water gently, but thoroughly. And if it doesn't rain in a week, water some more. The seed will start germinating within a week and will continue for many weeks thereafter.
 The weed seedlings look like two little watermelons, fat and juicy. They are a feast for sow bugs and pill bugs. To avoid a complete massacre of your tasty seedlings, sprinkle the seedbed liberally with an insecticide.
 During their early growth, bluebonnets form ground-hugging rosettes. The whole plant will not be over an inch or so high, but the leaves will cover an area the size of a dinner plate. Don't worry. They are merely waiting for the warmth of spring to make them form flowering stalks.
 Beneath the rosette of leaves, a large mass of roots are growing. They also are forming nodules along the roots which contain nitrogen and will enrich the soil with naturally-grown fertilizer when the bluebonnet completes its life cycle.
 For flower enthusiasts who do not want to look at the rather unexciting, definitely-not-beautiful bluebonnet rosette all winter, try interplanting hardy annuals such as ornamental kale, ornamental cabbage or dianthus.
 Plant the bluebonnet seeds in rows approximately 24 inches apart, then transplant the hardy annuals on rows between the bluebonnet rows.
 You will enjoy the color of the annuals all winter while bluebonnet plants are growing. In the spring, bluebonnets will overpower the annuals or will mingle with them to make a beautiful combination.
 Bluebonnets make exquisite cut flowers, bright and fragrant. It is not against any law to pick bluebonnets on private property.
 Mostly bluebonnets are blue, but you frequently will see a patch of albinos which are sparkling white and—if you really are fortunate—you will find plants with pink flowers!
 So, this is the time and place to plant bluebonnets. We are fortunate that Carroll Abbott has such a good source of treated seed. Obviously, now is the time to act to insure that this will be the "Year of the Bluebonnet" at your house!

THIS PLAYFUL YOUNG calf gives its mother a quick lick on the horn in an apparent display of affection. During the coming months the sight of mother and calf will become a common one. Texas leads the nation in cattle production, producing an average of 13.7 million head each year. (TDA photo)

Senate passes immigration bill: The Senate has approved an immigration bill by a 81-18 vote. Strongly supported by the Administration and organized labor, it provides amnesty for illegal aliens who have lived in the U.S. continuously since 1977 and temporary residence status for those residing here since 1980. It also calls for civil and criminal penalties for employers who knowingly hire illegal aliens, development within the next three years of a counterfeit-proof national identity card, and a revised program for temporary foreign workers. The bill now goes to the House where the Judiciary Committee is working on similar legislation.
SBA disaster loans may be forthcoming for West Texas: A Small Business Administration official notified National Cotton Council President Ed Breihan this week that economic injury disaster loans will be made available to business-ses in the weather-stricken West Texas area. The action hinges on Agriculture Secretary Block's approval of a request by Texas Governor William Clements to make 26 counties in the area eligible for emergency loans. Breihan earlier had urged the SBA loans in support of a request by Earl Jalufka, president of the Texas Independent Ginners Association.

Export sales advance: Net new cotton export sales for 1982-83 delivery were 66,200 running bales during the week ended August 12. The National Cotton Council reports that South Korea bought 48,000 bales of the total and Japan, 7,700.
 Total commitments for the new season stand at 1,936,600 bales. The week's export shipments totaled 69,500.

September Safety Corner

Make it a Safe Harvest

All harvesting equipment is not alike. Yet there are enough similarities so that the following guidelines can help make September a safe harvest.

- Read and follow operator's manual for each harvester.
- Make sure workers are trained and competent.
- Keep shields in place.
- ALWAYS turn off engine before unclogging, adjusting or servicing.
- Watch where you are going. Adjust ground speed to conditions. Avoid ditches, steep slopes, etc.
- Keep riders off and away from harvesters.
- Wear appropriate personal protective equipment.
- Take breaks to maintain alertness and reduce fatigue.

TEXAS STOCKS of wheat, sorghum and corn increased 31 percent according to a Texas Cattle and Livestock Reporting Service report. This increase in stock may be partially blamed on a slowdown in export and an increase in cattle feeding, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown reports.

Representative visits auntie

Mary Jo (McCracken) Polk, of El Paso visited her aunt, Mrs. Mary Ellen McCracken Thursday. She said she usually visits twice a year with her aunt. This time is between special sessions of the legislature. She was back in Austin Tuesday.

Mrs. Polk, a namesake of Mrs. McCracken's and her Grandmother Chandler's, was in the area visiting her parents. Of the 150 members of the House of Representatives she is one of 11 women serving in the legislature of the State of Texas.

She is representative for the 73rd District which, since redistricting, is located totally within El Paso County.

Mrs. Polk said she felt very much at home having grown up on a farm at Gasoline, attending schools there and in the nearest "big town" Quitaque, until she left to attend college in 1945. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon McCracken, still make their home there. Her father is a retired farmer. He still owns the land his family has worked and owned since 1903. He rented it out in 1973.

Her grandfather was one of the first students at Della Plain in 1887 and his father served on the board of trustees for the school.

She attended North Texas University where she met her husband, Wade Polk. After living at Temple and Odessa, the Polk family moved to El Paso in 1963 where she and her late husband both taught in the El Paso schools. After she earned her bachelor degree in business administration and taught in the Ysleta Elementary School for 15 years, she turned to politics in 1977. At that time she ran in a special election and was defeated.

In November of 1978 she defeated the previous year's opponent to become the only Democratic woman to take a Republican incumbent's seat.

The representative has three grown children: Linda, who resides in El Paso also, an R.N.; Paul who works with a law firm in Houston and dabbles in community theatre, his first love; and Laura Ellen, (also a name sake of Mrs. McCracken's) who is married and works in a hospital in Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Polk visited Caprock Canyons State Park (Lake Theo) on Wednesday. She was very impressed with the beauty of the park. "It's as though someone has sculptured every little ridge," she said. She said she would not have guessed so much beauty and so much history was so close to her as a child. "Why didn't they teach us about those things?"

Mrs. Polk has served on the Energy Resources Committee and Ways and Means Committee. Late in 1981 she was appointed Chairperson of the Select Committee on Teenage Pregnancy by House Speaker Billy Clayton. In referring to her work on that committee, Mrs. Polk pointed out that Texas ranks second only to California. "We're talking about 10, 11 and 12 year olds. I just feel like we are at least working on it. It cannot be solved without a start, and that is what we are doing."

"Sometimes I suffer from frustration. I feel like we are not doing enough on many of the problems with which we are faced. The only way I console myself is to recall the old Chinese adage about the little old man who started digging on a mountain. He said if he did as much as he could and his sons did as much as they could and their sons did as much as they could, their goal would some day be accomplished."

Speaking of the acceptance of the male members of the House, Mrs. Polk said she thought that as a female she had been treated different in that her co-workers showed some reservations about her capabilities. "Maybe we have to prove ourselves," she confessed, "but I have never had any of them (representatives) to treat me ugly or rudely at all."

Mrs. Polk said that she and her aunt, whom she affectionately refers to as "Toot" lived in adjacent houses in the country when she was growing up. She said she spent 2 to 3 hours a day at her aunt's house. "We both enjoyed good conversation. I either stopped by going to school or on the way home or both."

"And she really liked those pickle and peanut butter sandwiches," her aunt inserted, laughing.

"We discussed world affairs and everything else. I owe it all to you," Mrs. Polk said, turning to her aunt.

"I guess so. My mother used to tell me I should have been a lawyer. She said I could argue at the 'drop of a hat." Mrs. McCracken said.

Mrs. Polk's grandfather, L.A. (Lornie) McCracken, served as the constable of Gasoline and the deputy sheriff of Briscoe County in the early 1900's.

It was apparent that Mrs. Polk "has come to enjoy an undeniable position of respect and leadership in this traditional male stronghold" as quoted from The Weekly Journal, El Paso. She said she considered running for Congress this time as their Congressman did not campaign again, but it would have taken between $350-$500 thousand to run. "A female candidate finds it much more difficult to secure financial backing," but on a survey done her name came up more times than any other one candidate. "I realized I had the name identification if I just had the money."

When she campaigned the first time she had friends who helped her with fund raisers and breakfasts where $5 and $10 donations were typical.

"Very rarely was $100 donated at one time. It's a lot easier now than it was six years ago."

Mrs. Polk will be working on funding for battered families. "This is an area that really needs some work," she concluded.

MARY JO POLK and MRS. MARY L. McCracken
