The Agriculture Committee of the Chamber, Roger Dawdy, Chairman, had chosen as one of its projects this year, a sheep sale, which was held Saturday. The committee looks to this as an on-going annual project and hopefully can depend upon the fine help that was given this year. Although the Floydada FFA Chapter used this project as a fund raiser, we certainly appreciate their good help in conducting the sale and the fine job done is commended by the entire Board of Directors and members of the Chamber of Commerce. Special thanks also to Gary Brown, Clerk, Stacy Hancock, Secretary, Kathy Purswell, Assistant Secretary, Charlene Brown, Assistant Secretary and all Chamber volunteers who gave up their Saturday to work in the concession stand. Tommy Hancock was project chairman and worked hours on the sale himself as well as recruiting such able-bodied "volunteers" as Keith and Cammy Hancock and Jason Brown to fill jobs for the sale while chamber volunteers were busy elsewhere.

Voting is an American heritage and a privilege. Citizen participation in the electoral process is the foundation of our government and ALL eligible voters should exercise that privilege. The current population of Texas is approximately 9.9 million and only 6.6 million are registered to vote. 3.3 million voters need to be registered.

In addition, 188,000 high school Seniors are eligible to register and vote this year. Thus, it is clearly a public necessity to encourage voter registration and to that end the State of Texas has designated August 11 through October 3, 1982 as voter registration drive and urges all Texans to support this observance.

To assist in this important campaign, the Chamber office has received a supply of voter registration applications. Residents can complete the postage paid voter registration applications on-site and mail it at the nearest mailbox. Applications may also be picked up at the Tax Collector's office in the County Courthouse.

Special Note: If you have a current registration valid 3-1-82 or later (an orange card) you need not re-register. Remember: you must register by October 3 to vote in the November 2 general election.

Don't miss out on the fun at the Beans and Cornbread Supper Saturday night at 8:00 p.m. at Duncan. After the meal many local farmers and merchants will be auctioned off for a day's labor to the highest bidder. All monies collected will go into a scholarship fund for agriculture majors. This event is co-sponsored by the Agriculture Committee of the Chamber and Consumers Fuel and Producers Co-op.

Surplus government cheese will be given away September 23 and 24 beginning at 8:30 a.m. for as long as it lasts. It will be given away at the Caprock Community Action Center at 601 E. Ross.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY LINDA EMERT

The weather has been real nice. A few showers will help the yards and gardens along.

Well, we got us a new ceramic lady that comes from Plainview. The residents enjoy painting and will miss Chuck a lot.

Tuesday we had Bible study. Had a good group but, sure do miss Mr. Cates. He is so faithful and lead us in it.

Wednesday we played bingo. Una Clark and Emmitt Lawrence were our big winners this week. They both won six games each. The others are Sue Thompson with four games, Geneda Roberts with four games, and Vera Duke with two games.

Thursday we had the monthly birthday party for two of our residents. The residents were Walter Craft and Audrey Barnard. The residents enjoyed cake and punch. We appreciate the church ladies for giving the party each month.

Friday we had two movies and popcorn.

We want to thank some of the people in town for giving things from the gardens. Mr. W.A. Hall for the oak, Mrs. Nut for the watermelon, Mr. John Belaska for the tomatoes and James Crowley for the turkey and stuff. And we want to give a special thanks to Williams Flower Shop for the flowers to the resident birthday party.

We lost our own Mr. Ray Reed Saturday and Mr. W.C. Cates is still in the hospital. We hope he will get well and come home very soon.

Here is a list of visitors for the week, Christine Robertson, Lucille Sisson, Burmah Probasco, Estelle Hinkle, Lucille Lobban, Slim and Florine Jarnagin, Jewell Price, Beverly and Deniece Williams, Hazel Bradley and Kim, Maurice and Ella Goodwin, Dana Ellis, Betty Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lancaster, Beulah Baker, Myrtle Switzer, Lorilla Bradley, Joyce Willi-

Winds defeat Mules

The Whirlwinds rallied back for a resounding victory over the Muleshoe Mules Friday in Muleshoe. The Winds put the Mules behind 21-6.

After a good initial spurt the Winds recovered a fumble early in the first quarter. They made no major gains as a result of this and just a few plays later they lost the ball to the Mules.

A busted punt led to a major gain about midway through the first quarter. This was the first time either team got past the 50 yard mark.

The Winds were first on the scoreboard late in the first quarter with a one-yard run by Mark Hatley. Donnell Weeks booted in the PAT.

Late in the first quarter a 45-yard run by Weeks put the Winds in good field position. But the score remained 7-0 throughout the remainder of the half. The first half was fairly even but the Whirlwinds lost quite a few yards due to penalties.

The third quarter was fairly uneventful with neither team making any major gains.

During the first half of the fourth quarter the Winds marched down the field to set up a Mike Salazar 25 yard TD. And once again the Weeks kick was good.

Weeks capped the game for the Winds with an intercepted Mule pass and ran 85 yards for a touchdown. He also added the final PAT.

The Mules only scored on a one-yard run by Sammy Gonzales and the two point conversion failed.

Although the Winds outscored the Mules, the Mules had 214 yards rushing to the 199 yard for the Winds. Penalties proved a major factor against the Winds.

DONNELL WEEKS #32 managed to get past Jeff Hamilton #10 and Hector Flores #44 before being tackled.

Coach's Comments

BY COACH L.G. WILSON

We thought our kids really played an inspiring ball game last week. They were playing a little short handed in some respect. Some of the guys were playing new positions, but they seemed to over-compensate for what happened to us last week.

They played probably a better ball game than they would have played if some of these things had not had happened.

I was real pleased the way they rose to the occasion. I was pleased because all along I thought one of our shortcomings was our team leadership this year. And yet they jacked it up and really got after it.

We came out of that ball game without any apparent injuries. We have some boys that are kind of bruised up. Some are still having trouble getting around. But I believe by the time the game rolls around Friday, we are going to be in a pretty good position and in pretty good shape.

We will go basically with the same line up this week as we had last week. There may be just a few changes because we were pleased with the way some of our younger kids played. We may include them as starters this week.

Tulia has a pretty good ball club. They are pretty aggressive. They are a young club like we are, but they will try a lot of things. When you are in a situation like that you will try a lot of things you wouldn't ordinarily try. So we can expect anything.

So far they have run a lot of trick plays especially against Idalou. We have to be ready to play a good ball game.

We encourage all of the fans to come up and support us in Tulia. We are real pleased with our crowd support in Muleshoe.

BY COACH MIKE COCANOUGH

The Muleshoe JV managed to edge past the Whirlwind JV Thursday. The final score was 20-0 — Muleshoe.

They broke two long runs up the middle that hurt us and we had some fumbles and interceptions that broke out back at the last of the game.

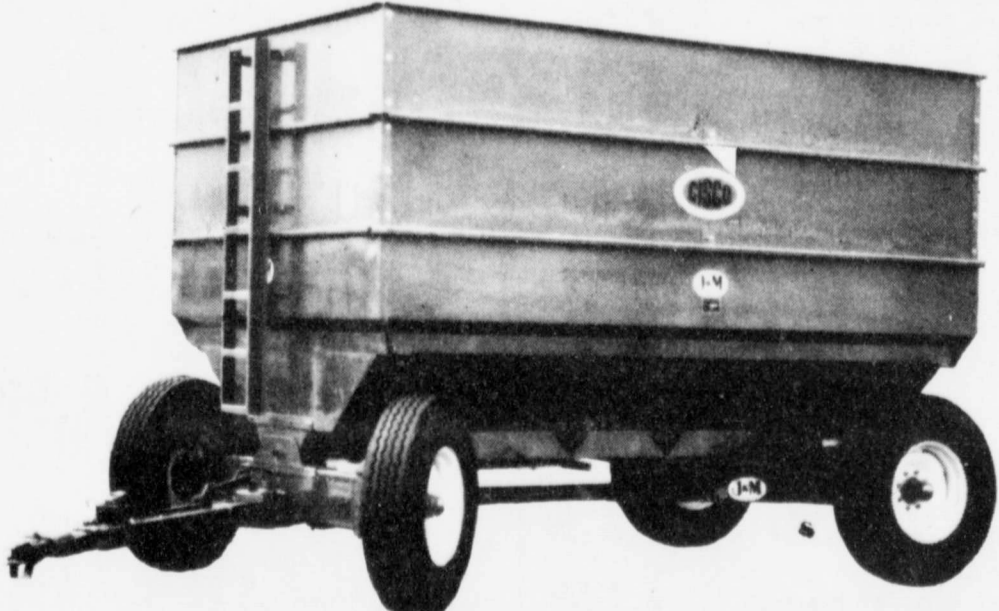

We are in the process of changing people around. We are putting a new quarterback in this week and a new tailback. We are switching personnel around to find the right combination. We will be playing Tulia here tonight.

Outstanding players this week were James Burns offense and Cory La-Baume defense.

It's a lot cheaper than a truck

Great helper!

Cut the cost of every trip between turnrow and elevator

You see here a more economical way to haul grain to elevator or storage. It's the J&M 450-bushel gravity wagon mated with a husky 14-ton running gear. This big wagon tows easily behind a pick-up, a tractor, or another truck. (Think of hauling nearly twice the load behind just one engine!) If there's a long wait at the elevator, the J&M wagon can stay there and free the towing vehicle for other work. Think of the trips you'll save. Think of the time you'll save. J&M wagons give you big, useful hauling capacity for a lot less investment in rolling stock.

Center dump model also available in 300-bushel capacity. Side dump models; 250-, 300-, 350-bushel capacities. Hydraulic Augers optional on side-dump models. Great for serving grain drills. Check 'em out now.

Ask about J&M wagons where you buy equipment.

DAYS SIGNAL TIME TO PLANT RYE
 That fall weather is finally here. Weather forecasters say that the last of our 90° days should start to grow better garden plants will breathe a sigh of relief and begin to stretch their new growth. Tomatoes will stop dropping blooms and harvest will be assured. Spinach seeds will pop out when planted rather than when they did earlier if planted in cooler conditions.

Time is signaled by cool temperatures. Many rye-seeded lawns or barren areas to prevent erosion during fall and winter. Of course, rye enjoys cold temperatures and green throughout the winter. The most commonly planted rye are dormant.

Many nurseries and garden centers are selling rye grass seed. You should understand that annual ryegrass is not the best choice for lawns. Annual ryegrass remains green in winter but does not provide much more organic matter than other grasses. It can be worked into the soil. Elbon rye should not be planted in hot soils as it is susceptible to frost. Pull them up and put them in a garbage pile. Not all rye grasses are equally attractive, but it can have a more successful garden. For instance, when you plant garden plants (especially beans, and okra). Examine the roots for the presence of "knots". However, you should be aware that not all nematodes cause problems on plants cause roots, and, in the case of nematodes, the knots may not be present when the roots are removed. Good healthy roots are white and slick if not for nematodes. Roots which are rotted may indicate the presence of nematodes in your garden. Digging up those plants which are destroyed by cold weather, and with the prospect of some empty space in your garden for the next three or four months. If nematodes have been discovered, till up the empty space and treat it with Vapam, following label directions. Organic gardeners who would rather not use Vapam are truly faced with a dilemma since ignoring the nematodes will cause decreased spring production. Planting Elbon rye in these areas will beautify your garden, decrease nematode populations and increase the soil organic matter.

After several years of testing, cereal rye has proven to be the fastest growing, most cold tolerant annual grass available to home gardeners in Texas. You can plant cereal rye anytime between now and late fall. You should have a thick mat of grass approximately 10 to 15 inches high in late winter or early spring. The rye should be shredded with a lawnmower or flexible string trimmer and tilled into the soil so that rotting can occur before you plant in the spring. Ideally shredding and tillage one month before planting will allow for good decomposition.

There are many advantages to following this practice of planting cereal rye in your garden. It beautifies the area with greenery. It will add high levels of organic matter to the garden soil. This type of "Green manure" crop decomposes rapidly. If these benefits were not enough, the roots of cereal rye serve as a trap-crop for nematodes. Once nematodes enter the cereal rye roots, they cannot escape and are doomed. When cereal rye decomposes it releases organic acids which tend to help reduce the alkalinity of garden soil, which is a problem on the soils in Floyd County.

As mentioned earlier, gardeners should be careful to purchase cereal rye rather than annual ryegrass. Annual ryegrass is used to overseed lawns, and should not be used in your vegetable garden.

Cereal rye can be planted by merely seeding directly on top of the garden soil and raking in. Apply seed at about the rate of 3/4 to one pound per hundred square feet of garden area to insure good coverage and adequate growth. Raking may not even be necessary. Be sure to water the rye regularly and fertilize for maximum growth. Always shred the rye before it forms seed heads since sprouting rye seed in early spring may become a nuisance. There is no danger of rye seeded in the fall becoming a weed problem during the spring since rye plants cannot withstand the hot temperature and will die.

Plant some cereal rye in your barren garden areas this year. It will reduce nematodes, add organic matter to the soil, reduce soil alkalinity, and decorate your neighborhood with greenery all winter long.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

BY DAN SMITH

The Floyd County Farm Bureau recently met and elected new directors and officers for 1982-83. Officers are: Dan Smith, president; Warren Mitchell, vice-president; and Larry Schneider, secretary-treasurer.

New directors are Doug Galloway and Martin Stoerner. Holdover Directors are: Rick Mosley, Craig Gilly, Delmas McCormick, and Ken Campbell.

In this column, we will report on issues of interest to Floyd County farmers, ranchers, and agri-businessmen.

Government Payments

The United States Department of Agriculture expects to distribute $4.1 billion for storage of reserve grains and advance 1982 and 1983 deficiency and diversion payments. This level of government support will account for approximately 20% of the estimated 1982 net farm income. This is the highest level of government payments since 1970. In 1978, payments reached approximately $3 billion, but they constituted only about 11% of the net income.

On September 7, 1982, Governor Clements called the 3rd Special Session of the 67th Legislature for legislation to "maintain the solvency of the Unemployment Compensation Fund" and "to ensure school districts are able to continue to borrow money until their property tax funds are received."

In response, the Legislature passed the following:

Unemployment Compensation

HB 1, by Clayton, will maintain the solvency of the Unemployment Compensation Fund by making certain changes. The fund is financed by a tax on payrolls of from 1/10% to 4% of the first $6,000 of salary of each individual on the payroll. The percentage varies for each employer according to the number of employees he fires who are eligible to then draw benefits from the fund. The percent also automatically increases whenever the fund used to pay benefits drops below $225 million.

The current weekly payment for an unemployed person who has worked long enough to earn benefits and who is actively seeking employment is $147 a week for up to 26 weeks. The benefit payments were not changed by this bill. Agricultural employers are exempt from payment of this tax. The agricultural exemption was not changed by the bill.

One purpose of HB 1 was to avoid the automatic increases brought about because a record number of people are out of work. The automatic increase would have been over 2,000%, so that the minimum tax would rise from $6 per employee to over $120 per employee. This amount has been changed to $24 for the last quarter of 1982, $42 for the first quarter of 1983, and $36 for the rest of 1983.

Changes:

1. Increases for any employer was limited to 5/10% for 1983 and 1984.

2. An additional tax of 3/10% for the last quarter of 1982 and 1/10% for the first quarter of 1983 is levied and set aside to pay interest on a loan from the Federal Fund to maintain the state fund until the increased tax replenishes it. Texas employers have for years been paying into this Federal Fund which was established so that states could borrow when their funds were temporarily depleted. The interest is only 10%, since Texas surplus funds are currently earning higher interest, borrowing from this Federal Fund was thought more economical.

3. The ceiling of the State fund is increased from $325 million to $500 million and the automatic tax increase (or decrease) is changed from 1/10% for each $5 million to 1/10% for each $45 million so that Texas employers will not again face such a dramatic increase.

4. The maximum tax for employers who fire a larger number of employees is changed from 4% to 6% (Federal law required an increase to 5.4% by 1985.)

5. The amount of salary subject to the tax is changed from $6,000 per employee to $7,000 (this change was required by Federal law.)

6. The interest on overdue tax is changed from 12% to 18%.

School Finance

HB 1, by Atkinson, will allow school district to borrow money before the tax roll is certified; previously they could only borrow after the roll was certified. The problem arose because school districts no longer have control over the time their roll is certified, since this function has been transferred to the single appraisal district within each county.

Salt buildup increasing in Texas farmlands

Salt buildup in the soil due to saline seeps is becoming a growing problem in Texas farms and is affecting crop production.

"The problem has been with us for some time but continues to become worse," said Dr. Ed. Colburn, regarding the gradual buildup of salt in farmland. "It's basically a result of certain farming practices and the natural movement of water through soil."

As water moves through the soil, it dissolves salts that are present and moves them down to a compacted layer, explained Colburn, an agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The water then moves laterally to the lowest possible level, where it comes to the soil surface carrying all the concentrated salt that has been leached down.

"Farming practices that have made Texas agriculture successful are contributing to the salinity problem," said Colburn. "These include soil and water conservation practices such as terracing, contour farming and maximizing crop residues on the soil surface."

The agronomist noted that salt buildup was not a problem years ago when perennial vegetation covered much of the land and used moisture throughout the year. Thus salts did not have much opportunity to leach down and concentrate in the soil. Now, with land in field crops only 120 to 150 days or so out of the year and remaining bare the rest of the time, moisture is not used up so it leaches downward, carrying salts along. After 20 to 40 years of such cropping patterns, particularly on marginal land, saline seeps often develop.

Colburn said that the problem of saline seeps is evident over much of Texas, particularly in the Rolling Plains, North Central Prairies, Rio Grande Plains, Trans-Pecos, Coastal Bend and claypan areas. The problem also exists in all the plains states, especially in the Dakotas, Montana and Wyoming.

"Saline seeps causing loss of crop production may range from just a few feet in diameter to several hundred acres," noted Colburn. "In smaller areas, subsurface drainage using an underground tile system would help solve the problem."

But for the most part, there is no easy answer, said the agronomist. While there has been much research on the effects of salinity on crops, little work has focused on saline seeps. It is not an easy problem for researchers and will likely call for an interdisciplinary approach.

Pest Management

BY DALE W. SPURGEON
 General Situation

Most cotton fields have open bolls and almost all are at least beginning to "cut out".

Many sorghum fields are flowering. The latest fields I've seen are flowering now.

Most soybeans fields are well into pod fill, with some nearly finished filling pods.

Many corn fields are being harvested now.

Cotton

As a general rule, bollworm numbers appear to be very low at this time. However, there are still some individual fields around with fairly high numbers of worms.

Sorghum

In the past week I have seen no new headworm infestations, unfortunately this does not mean they are not out there. I have seen plenty of moths in the field. I would be particularly concerned about fields in flowering, milk, or early soft-dough stages.

If you have sorghum fields which are flowering, I strongly suggest you check them for midge. This is one insect I've had no problem finding this past week.

Spider mites may still be a potential problem in some fields. Current population levels and the coming weather will determine whether or not they become a problem. Spider mite populations increase rapidly under hot, dry conditions.

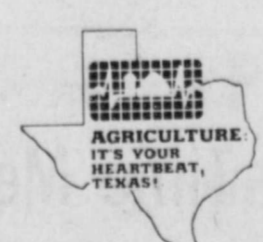

Soybeans

Podworms have been light in all the fields I have checked. Once again, as with the headworms in sorghum, this does not mean there are no soybean fields with podworm problems. Make a beat cloth (40"x36") and check your fields, you'll be amazed at how easy they are to check.

Corn

For your own information, some corn fields are having some lodging problems now. I examined one such field last week and from my observations it appeared that most of the lodging was caused by a stalk rot, more specifically, charcoal rot. Plants which were allowed to water stress are more susceptible to charcoal rot.

To determine if lodging is due to Southwestern corn borer, split the stalk and examine for tunneling, then dig up

Now I know what's meant by the term "thrill of victory and the agony of defeat".

Folks, when I'm bad - I'm real bad, and when I'm good - I'm simply wonderful! Wonderful beng the word, 4 out of 5 being the result.

Local, I know you're despondent and blue, but let me help, son. Hold your head high, chest out, firm up that chin. I figure about now you're feeling somewhat like the official who got the "curds and whey" knocked out of him by the Seahawk's receiver that intercepted Houston's pass. Bad call, Sir! Oh well, you lose. Local - no camera playback to decide that one. End of time, Houston Oilers 23-Seahawks 21. Houston's on a roll and should slap Buffalo up beside the head by at least 10 points in next Sunday's game.

Local

I have improved. I am getting the knack of the prediction business. I got 3 out of 5 this last week. Mr. Campbell of the Oilers was better than Mr. Zorn. What can I say Tech won a ballgame and on the anniversary of the Air Force.

I have once again uncovered my crystal ball to forecast this weeks football frenzy.

The Horns from the north have found the secret to winning. The boys will continue their winning ways this week against the Jackrabbits of Ralls. Horns by 17.

Texas Tech at home against Baylor. Homecoming game. Fan support. Sold out stadium. Disappointed crowd. Bears by 3. Sorry Raiders just can't see you winning this week.

The Winds found new confidence this last week. This confidence should carry over this week into another win. The Hornets of Tulia will lose their sting. Winds by 14 or more.

And now my fine feathered fortune telling competitor. You beat me to a pulp last week by staying with the Oilers. I have yet to yield to the fact that your guesses can beat my high priced quality crystal ball from the five and dime. I bow to you this week and pay homage to your guesses.

One last prediction this week. The strike can't last long unless it is backed by the S.R.T.W. of A. (strife ridden televisionless wives of America). SRTW of A could be behind this whole thing.

The clue oh yes the clue. I am known by the North and the South and travel in a Cowboy Cadillac.
