A Floyd County vet remembers

Battle to Liberate Europe

by Cindy Smith

"People of Western Europe: A landing was made this morning on the coast of France by troops of the Allied Expeditionary Force. This landing is part of the concerted United Nations plan for the liberation of Europe...I call upon all who love freedom to stand with us now. Together, as a united front, we shall achieve victory." This famous broadcast from General Dwight D. Eisenhower ended months of silence and preparation for the D-Day invasion.

The D-Day invasion of June 6, 1944 marked the commencement of the final rescue of Hitler's "Fortress Europe" and was the greatest amphibious assault in history, known as "Operation Overlord". The Allied expeditionary force—a tremendous army supported by thousands of ships and planes stormed the beaches of Normandy.

The invasion force was composed of soldiers from the United States, Canada, France, Poland, and Great Britain, totalling approximately 150,000 troops who went ashore the first day. The landing area on the French Coast was divided into five zones named Omaha, Utah, Gold, Juno and Sword. While the Allies landed in the latter three zones, the first U.S. Army under General Omar Bradley landed on Omaha and Utah.

The Allied Air Forces produced an impressive air umbrella formed by thousands of fighters and medium range bombers as the landing craft began converging upon the beaches. Battleships and cruisers kept up a steadfast bombardment as frogmen swam through the surf to blow up mined stakes and obstructions, known as "Rommel's Asparagus", implanted along the coastline between high and low water.

Concerning the Normandy invasion, one historian remarked, "it was up to the foot soldier with the hand gun who can neither sail nor fly away." The infantry flailing the beach encountered seemingly invincible fire from the crack German 352d Infantry Division. Gradually German positions were knocked out and the Allied soldiers had taken the beach; the liberation of Europe had begun.

Wilfred Stoerner, currently of the Providence Community in northwest Floyd County, served in World War II from February of 1942 until October, 1945. Stoerner was drafted into the 90th Infantry Division and began training at Camp Barkley (near Abilene, Texas). One feature set Stoerner apart from other recruits - his grandparents had been German immigrants and he could speak German.

Stoerner departed New York Harbor in early March and it took 16 days to journey to England, because the convoy often changed direction for safety and secrecy. "The destination of the Allies was the most closely guarded secret of the war", according to General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Reminiscing about D-Day, Stoerner told the Hesperian that "we got on ships the morning of June 6, 1944, without any prior warning. The English Channel was not very wide and the ships were on crossed the channel again and again for two days."

The Allies invaded Normandy during one of the worst gales to sweep the English Channel in twenty years. General Eisenhower stated, "that the weather added to the element of surprise. The Germans never expected us to attack under such adverse weather conditions."

Stoerner recalled that part of the 90th Division landed on D-Day, however his company did not land on Utah Beach until the evening of D+2 (June 8, 1944). When approached about his reaction to the invasion, Stoerner laughed and said, "We were waiting in the English Channel and I saw the greatest show I had ever seen - ships were everywhere! Of course at that time we did not know how successful the invasion was."

Judge George Miller of Floydada remembered D-Day. "I was in high school at the time and was elated. It seemed like the War was coming to an end."

Stoerner said that "he and his fellow troop members disembarked the troop carriers on the landing barges and touched shore sometime in the evening." Stoerner remembered that "the shell craters on the beach were so deep that the soldiers stepped in up to their chins in the water. Fortunately the engineers had already cleared the mines from the beach. The first day Stoerner's troop did not enter into combat, but the shelling in the background was constant. When landing, ambulances appeared everywhere caring for the wounded. The raw soldiers were told to march in a single file while the wounded were loaded back on the troop carriers."

In Floyd County

Hance wins

Kent Hance of Lubbock overwhelmed Lloyd Doggett of Austin Saturday in the Democratic runoff for United States Senate in Floyd County voting. Complete returns in Floyd County showed Hance winning here by 995 to 111. Wire service reports indicated Hance has asked for a recount of the statewide vote which showed him losing to Doggett by a margin of 467 votes, with the final vote being 489,927 for Doggett and 489,460 for Hance.

Complete returns for Floyd County, box by box, may be found on page 3 of today's Hesperian.

State Democratic officials in Austin indicated the recount procedure would get underway quickly and be wrapped up within a week or 10 days. Responsibility for the recount on the local level will rest with county Democratic officials.

Phil Gramm is an equally strong campaigner. He is a hard-nosed conservative who makes no apologies for his conservatism. Both Doggett and Gramm will probably spend the next couple of months perfecting their organizations. From then until November it will probably be a no-holds-barred campaign that will make the endurance of not only the candidates but the voters as well.

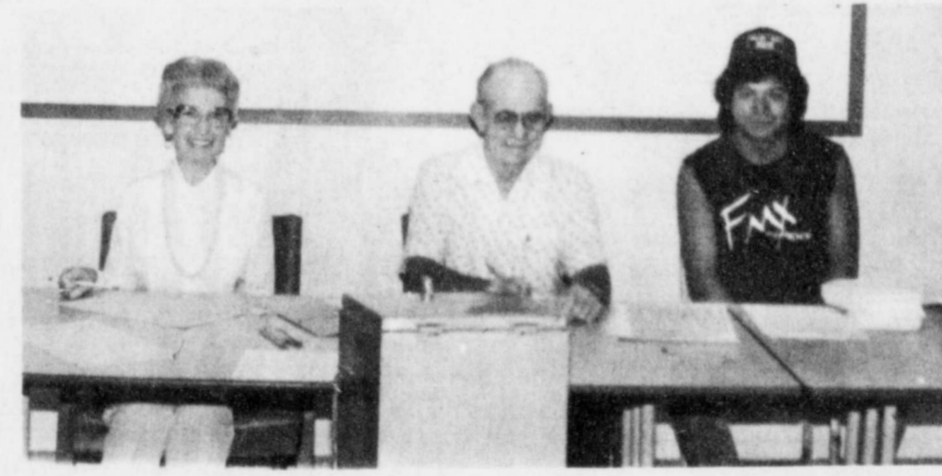

Those who voted with Hance will probably feel much more comfortable with Gramm than with Doggett. Those who voted with Krueger in the first Democratic primary may well split their vote, with much of his minority support going to Doggett, and most of the rest going to Gramm.

Personally, I don't think a Krueger endorsement for either of the candidates will have much influence, one way or the other. Krueger endorsed Hance in the runoff, but here in Floyd County it is apparent that most of his support went to Doggett. Krueger received only 83 votes in the county during the first Democratic primary. Doggett got even less, 48 to be exact. But during the runoff, Hance gained only seven votes, while Doggett gained 63. Obviously Krueger's endorsement did not send his supporters into Hance's camp. It hardly mattered, since Hance was racking up impressive totals all across the county. The falloff in voting, so common during runoffs, did not occur here. Only 13 fewer people showed up to vote in the runoff as compared to those who voted in the May primary.

And that, gentle reader, is good citizenship.

The Official Floyd County Sesquicentennial Committee met Tuesday evening to plan a public sanctioning ceremony, to be held at 9:00 a.m. on Friday, June 15, in the country court room of the Floyd County Courthouse, in Floydada.

State Senators and Representatives, as well as dignitaries from around the county are being invited to participate in this important event.

Mr. Lee Story, area Program Officer for the Texas Sesquicentennial Commission will be here from Austin to recognize and sanction Floyd County as an Official Texas Independence County, in keeping with the guidelines set forth by the State Commission.

By gaining this official status, Floyd County, through the Official Sesquicentennial Committee, will be priileged to grant the use of the Sesquicentennial logo to organizations and townships throughout the county for identification and promotional purposes between now and the end of 1986, our Sesquicentennial year. Also, Floyd County Sesquicentennial programs and projects will gain national recognition through various official publications that will be promoting the historical and tourism aspects of this celebration.

Many important projects are already being planned for 1986 by various organizations in Floyd County. A master plan for all official projects and events of permanent historical significance (as well as those that would attract tourism to our county) is being drawn up and coordinated through the Official Floyd County Committee. Every organization in the county is encouraged to participate.

The official sanctioning ceremony will be open to the public, and everyone is urged to attend. The brief ceremony will be followed by refreshments and an opportunity for those present to visit with Mr. Story and to ask any questions they may have concerning this important historical event.

Meters to be installed soon

Residents living or having property along the same side of the highway where the Mackenzie Transmission Lines are installed and had water taps made on the lines will have meters set soon. A check valve will be installed which will keep water from being siphoned or drawn back into the transmission lines.

If you had a tap installed and want to start using treated water from the Mackenzie Water Treatment Plant you must call 633-4318 or 633-4326 or come by the office. Residents or land owners will pay for Water Authority for the cost of the meter and for its installation. The minimum monthly charge will be $25.00 for the first 2,000 gallons of water and a charge of $2.00 per thousand gallons used thereafter.

Those who do not have taps on the water lines and would like to have one should call one of the above telephone numbers and taps will be made as soon as possible.

"Texas" kicks off June 13

"Texas" will kick off its nineteenth season on June 13 this summer. The show, which sparkles in Palo Duro Canyon's Pioneer Amphitheatre, will leap into action for the first of its sixty-four scheduled performances for 1984.

A wave of singers and dancers sweeps across the stage in the opening of "Texas", the musical drama of Panhandle history. This burst of movement and familiar song brings back the sights and sounds of the 1880's. During a performance, the company of 80 actors and singers reached into the past to reveal the struggles of the settlers, the strengths of the cowboys, the land love of the Indians, and the burials, politics, business and celebration. Great lights and soaring sound recreate the blazing of a prairie fire, the crash of thunder and the flash of lightning as background for this story of battles against change and dust and drought and storm.

When working on the script for "Texas", the author, Paul Green, wrote: "Palo Duro is in my thinking day and night...its great voice speaking... the tempest of wind and weather...man, the valiant striver...the warm creative earth...the lousy buffalo skinner of the late '70s would deride such words, but it's his story too."

"Texas" is produced by the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, a non-profit corporation, in cooperation with West Texas State University. It plays in the Pioneer Amphitheatre, built as a memorial to the people of the Panhandle in cooperation with the State of Texas. It has received international recognition and is an Official Play of the State of Texas.

Paved free parking, drinks, snacks, souvenirs, and photographs are available. A barbecue dinner is served before every performance from 6:30 to 8 p.m. For reservations and ticket information call 806-655-2181.

Probasco attends seminar

Don Probasco of Pro-Lock Shop, at South Plains, recently completed an intensive course on Vehicle Entry. This training course was presented in Lubbock by All-Lock Service Institute of North Brunswick, New Jersey. Some 35 locksmiths from all over Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma attended this seminar.

Because of the increase in theft of vehicles throughout the country, auto manufacturers are constantly changing and improving the locking mechanisms of vehicles so that it is more difficult to gain entry without a key. This has not only helped to prevent vehicle theft, but also has made it necessary for the locksmith to continually add to his knowledge of proper entry methods.

Improper methods of opening locked vehicles by untrained persons can cause broken parts and damage to the inside of the door. New entry procedures as well as new types of tools are required to avoid this type of damage.

Upon completion of this course in vehicle entry procedures, each person received a certificate as a factory-trained vehicle-entry technician.

"at Sainte-Mere-Eglise, a town astride the key crossroads behind Utah Beach, paratroopers came down like confetti. German soldiers had sprayed the sky with rifle and machine-gun fire, and killed the luckless jumpers who had landed in trees and dangled there helplessly." Stoerner noted that it was twilight when they finally put the return wounded on the troop carriers and ventured farther along the beach. He remembered that "medics were so busy that the dead paratroopers still hung in the trees. The first few nights were eerie, weird. The Germans had wired the trees with speakers that continuously played ominous messages forecasting the Allied's demise in the Channel."

Grimly Stoerner recited, "Casualties were heavy during the invasion of Normandy. His company lost a third of its men, one third were seriously wounded and the remaining third were lightly wounded. Every man in the company had been awarded the purple heart excluding three soldiers. Stoerner was fortunate to be one of the three."

The reaction from the French varied. In the beginning, French families would stand in front of their farmhouses in shock. It was several days before they would converse, but Americans were always made welcome in their homes and villages.

Germans captured in the initial fighting were not talkative. Stoerner describes them as gravely disappointed. However, Eisenhower noted that "even after the invasion had been termed a success, the Germans still could not believe that it was happening...they had considered themselves invincible." Stoerner and another soldier were the only ones in the company who could converse in German and as the United States permeated inland into Germany, this talent was put to the test. Stoerner was often called upon to interpret conversations with German civilians. It was his impression that "initially the German people regarded Hitler as a savior, however towards the end of the War, the majority of the populace realized that this assumption had been a mistake."

One of Stoerner's most vivid memories was of General George Patton, Stoerner saw him several times, especially when the U.S. Army was moving across Germany. The infantry often rode tanks to enable them to make faster time. Patton often rode in his command car speaking to the troops.

According to folklore, you can expect rain if an ant covers the hole to his anthill.

When asked if Stoerner had ever realized that D-Day and its participants would be immortalized, he said his "main concern then had been that there was a job to do." Stoerner's "goal was to complete the job and return home safely."

Ed Wester of Floydada replied "that the fifth Marine Division, of which he was a part, had been prepared to take off for Guam on June 6. Wester had been expecting an invasion of some kind and although he had friends involved in the invasion, he knew it had to be done."

Stoerner emphasized that "he was not at Normandy by himself. It took a concerted effort on the part of all branches and all soldiers combined--the Navy, engineers, Airforce and the infantry. "If I had to do it over again, would I? I do believe in defending this country, but I look back and I cannot believe that we survived the hardships without more casualties. The bone-chilling winters were unbearable! D-Day and World War II took place 40 years ago - I was only 26."

Continuing, Stoerner said, "I think if the leaders today - the President and Congress - had a taste of War, they would deal with the world situation differently. People simply do not realize - War is not fun, it is hell!"

Lieutenant General Omar N. Bradley, Invasion Commander, U.S. ground force, stated, "The resoluteness of our fighting men and of our Allies on the Normandy beaches have given us the opportunity to build a better world and a more bountiful life with roots nourished by sacrifice, devotion and service." The fate of the free world hung on the outcome of the Normandy invasion and thousands of good men will never leave that strip of sand.

Information about your changing telephone service from Jim West, Manager-Community Relations

Strength is vital

A strong Bell is good for Texas. It has a nice ring, and it's true.

When I meet with many of you at meetings and on the street, I usually talk about how important it is for Texas to have a strong and financially sound Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

My message is simple: The strength of Southwestern Bell Telephone is vital to the strength of a growing Texas.

Texas always has been a leader in telecommunications — and Texas must remain a leader. Top quality communications service is imperative to attract and hold the high technology, "clean" industry which is an integral part of the state's economic future.

And Texas must have a strong framework to assure that the state draws those high-tech firms. Education and transportation, for instance, are essential aspects. Telecommunications, a must in that framework, cannot be a second-class partner in the future of the Lone Star State.

Our state's high-tech companies thrive on communications. We know we must be able to meet their needs, and the needs of every Texas customer, efficiently and quickly. However, our ability to take care of the needs of every Texan we serve is in direct relationship to the revenues we have available.

Our partnership

We are in partnership with this state, and all Texans. We must have the dollars necessary to keep up and keep Texas in the forefront of telecommunications.

The demands of Texas as a high-growth area put intense pressures on our resources. That's why every one of the company's employees has to take on the personal responsibility of assuring that our revenues stretch as far as possible.

Why am I telling you all this? Because we feel our message of service and financial strength is one for all Texans.

Texans for Texans. It's what Southwestern Bell Telephone is all about.

A good value

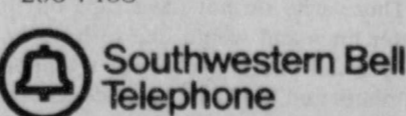

Your service. Take a closer look — it's a value!

Even though your rates for local telephone service will be going up a few cents, compare your monthly bill in relation to many other items. I think you'll find that it's a bargain.

Just think about some of the items you buy every month. The average cost of cable television is about $33 (basic package and two movie channels) and the cost of a fast-food meal for a family of four once a week for a month is about $40. Even a carton of cigarettes a week will run you about $32. And if you are like most Texans, you probably purchase about 800 gallons of gas a year. That's about $75 a month — just for one car.

Residential customers in Texas with basic, one-party service now pay an average of $10.35 per month for telephone service. When you think about it — and compare — it's so little for 24-hour, 7-day-a-week service that gives you access to your friends across town, across Texas and to any of the world's 450 million telephones.

Student loans considered community service

Are you worried about the expense of college tuition, not to mention all the necessities vital to a student's college life? Parents and students who have tried unsuccessfully to borrow money for college expenses may be surprised to learn that there is actually an abundance of long-term, low-interest money available for that purpose. The trick is to find a banker interested enough in making such loans to go through the paper work involved.

Monte Williams, vice-president in charge of student loans of the First National Bank in Floydada, explained, "We consider our student loans as a community service to customers and their children. The first step in securing a student loan is to go through the financial aid department of the chosen school. After the application is completed, and the needs test applied, the school determines whether the student is a candidate for a student loan. The student then submits the application to a financial institution. The bank or loan company processes the remaining paperwork and disburses the funds. In Texas, the ultimate approval rests with the Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation. The proceeds from the loans can be used at any Texas school, including vocational schools, or by ending Texas resident attending an out-of-state school, providing the school is sanctioned by the Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation."

Williams stated that the volume of student loans varies from year to year. Due to the size of Floydada and the surrounding community, the amount of student loans disbursed has been small.

According to JoAnn Cagle, secondary counsellor at Floydada High School, "approximately 52% of the 77 member graduating class will continue their education through a 2 or 4 year college. 13% of the 1984 graduating class have plans to attend vocational schools. The majority of students have applied for grants or loans. The school personnel has always strived to make students aware that these avenues are available."

In cooperation with the Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation, Williams said that the bank will lend qualified undergraduate students up to $2,500 per year and up to $12,000 total over the course of his or her college years. Graduate students may qualify for as much as $5,000 per year or up to $15,000 total in student loans.

No interest is charged on the loans until six months after the borrower ceases to be enrolled as at least a half-time student. Then repayment at 8% interest may be made over five to ten years, depending on the amount borrowed.

The amount of loan for which a student may qualify depends on the cost of attending college, other financial aid which may be received and the family's financial condition. Determination of the amount of the loan and approval of the application are made by the financial aid officer of the college.

Although all Texas banks, savings and loan associations, and credit unions may make such loans with the Texas Guaranteed Student Loan Corporation insuring them against loss, apparently few are agreeable to handling the paper work or to lending money over such a long period of time at low interest rates.

According to Williams, "the student loan is often the first opportunity a student has had to establish a credit history." He encourages a student to examine his needs and sources available. "If there is a financial deficit, the student loan is an excellent possibility for filling that gap. It also takes the burden off of a student, so that the student can devote more time to academic pursuits rather than trying to supplement his income with a part-time job."

Floydada I think has a name of being a good small town with honest people living. I still think so. I had heard this but could not believe that some were missing flowers from the graves in the cemetery.

I put flowers on Rileys grave on his birthday which happened to be Easter Sunday. They have stayed pretty and are still there. I was in Dallas the first week in May, we got our marker up April 25. I thought it would be nice to have my granddaughter Jennifer Teague Boyce to make an arrangement since she works in a silk flower shop. It was beautiful. I had Elton Goen to take it out on Saturday before memorial day. It was there on Sunday. I went to Bud Sparks funeral yesterday morning. I could tell our flowers were gone before I walked over to our grave. I hope who ever loved them more than I did will enjoy them. I feel sure they were not put on a grave but made a beautiful arrangement for some one. I hope and pray this won't ever happen to you.

plan to be there, weather and health factors to be considered, but would like to enter a plea for all members that possible can, to be there. 1924 was a very unusual class, in that there were an equal number of boys and girls graduating that year - 25 of each. Also we were the first class to graduate from the "new high school", in south part of town, which I understand, is now a grade school.

When I attended the homecoming on a spur of the moment in 1980, there were only six members registered from the 1924 class. I would love to see and meet many more from that class in 1984.

Respectively,
George Slaughter

I have recently received an invitation to the Floydada High School homecoming October 12th and 13th, 1984. I

Kay Counsellor-Record pledge marriage vows

Miss Kay Lynn Counsellor became the bride of Breck Charles Record during a 3 p.m. wedding ceremony June 2 in the Amarillo Hilton Garden Room, Amarillo. The couple pledged their marriage vows before James Wert, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Amarillo.

Parents of the couple are Bill Counsellor and Marilyn Counsellor, both of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Record of Lockney.

Tropical plants and Boston ferns, against a background of white lattice-work trellis, provided the background setting. Burgundy and mauve bows marked the aisles leading to the ceremony setting.

Traditional processional and recessional music was played by Mary Ruth McCulley on the piano. The "Theme from Somewhere In Time" was presented solo by Denise Smith on the harp.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of chantilly and re-embroidered lace. Her sweetheart neckline accented the bodice, which was molded of hand clipped re-embroidered lace. Pleated chantilly lace formed the Bishop sleeves and peplum. Her traditional tiered lace bouffant skirt flowed to a cathedral train. She carried a cascading silk floral arrangement of burgundy and mauve rose, baby's breath and English ivy. Ribbons of burgundy and mauve completed her bouquet.

Mrs. Kelley Gardner of Amarillo served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Tandy Massucci of Amarillo, Mrs. Patty Yedinak of Corona, California, and Mrs. Brenda Gregg, sister of the bride of Andrews.

Bridal attendants wore burgundy quiana dresses styled with yoke insets and lace collars. Their bodices featured a sheer voile gathered overlay. Their headpieces were halos of silk burgundy roses. Nosegay bouquets of mauve silk flowers accented with burgundy roses and baby's breath were carried.

Acting as best man was Thomas Allen (Tag) Gay of Lubbock. Attending as groomsmen were Denton Rose, cousin of the groom of Lubbock, and Guy Roberson, brother-in-law of the groom of Lubbock and Bob Counsellor, brother of the bride of Denton who both also escorted guests to their seats.

Male attendants wore grey Bedford coats, striped trousers with matching ascots and matte grey vests. Mauve rosebud boutonnières completed their attire.

The groom was attired in an eaton grey with tail coat, white wing tip shirt, white vest and ascot tie. He wore a burgundy rose boutonniere.

At the reception following the ceremony, the bride's table was draped with a sheer white floor length cloth with lace insertion at the hemline and a lace band at the top. A fountain cake, decorated with mauve and burgundy silk flowers, highlighted the table. Floral arrangements in the bride's chosen colors were in silver vases on either side of the cake. Silver appointments were used to serve punch, coffee, nuts and mints. Crystal Roberson, niece of the groom of Beaumont, Kaye McCasland, Carol McCasland and Karen McCasland, all of Canyon presided at this table.

The groom's table was laid with a mauve cloth and burgundy criss-cross runners. A freeform floral arrangement in a brass vase centered the table. Brass appointments were used in serving chocolate swirl cheesecake, coffee, mints, and nuts. Servers were Julie Roberson and Amy Roberson, nieces of the groom of Lubbock.

Securing guests names at the register was Donna Roberson, sister of the groom of Lubbock.

A 1979 graduate of Lockney High School, the groom studied court reporting curriculum at both Amarillo College and San Antonio College.

The bride graduated from Canyon High School in 1979 and from Amarillo College in 1981 with an Associate Degree in Court Reporting. She attended Lippert Court Reporting College in Plainview, graduating in August 1982. She is a member of the Texas Shorthand Reporters Association, National Shorthand Reporters Association and is also a registered professional reporter.

Both the bride and groom are Certified Shorthand Reporters in the state of Texas and employed as freelance court reporters for the firm of Eddie Morris-Court Reporters, Inc., San Antonio.

Following a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple will be residing in San Antonio.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Record, hosted a rehearsal dinner at 7 p.m. the previous night, June 1, in the Hilton Garden Room.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Florence Van Hoose

We would like to welcome our new resident to the Nursing Home. She is Ruth Smitherman. We hope she will be happy here.

Monday morning devotions were omitted because of the Memorial Day holiday.

Tuesday morning we had a good group together for coffee time. Mrs. Addie Lindley's daughter, Letha, was here with us. We enjoyed the socialization. Morning devotions were brought by Rev. Neeley Richardson. He spoke to us concerning the subject of Jesus washing the Disciples feet. Also we all enjoyed the banana break. We appreciate Neeley bringing the bananas for all the residents and the staff each week. In the afternoon we had a good Bible study about faith.

Wednesday morning devotions were by City Park Church of Christ. The singers were, Perry Zumwalt, Lorilla Bradley, Mary Spears, Zelda Zumwalt, Eva Tackett, and Beulah Baker. Perry Zumwalt spoke from I Timothy 6-6 concerning the true values of life and living a life of contentment.

In the afternoon we played Bingo. Myra Hall bingo'ed first and got the 30 cents coke money. Sue Thompson bingo'ed the most times and Ollie Birnie bingo'ed on the blackout. Sugar-free candy, and bananas were the prizes.

Thursday we went on the bus ride. We went over to Ralls and bought an ice cream cone then we came back out by the country club. Patsy Mitchell treated us to a coke. We all appreciated it much. After we got back home a group of children from the Calvary Baptist Vacation Bible School came and sang for the residents. They surely did enjoy the children.

Friday morning devotions were by Nettie Adams. She taught about the time Jesus fed the people with the five loaves and two fishes. In the afternoon we had a craft class and did some antique prints on gold foil.

We would like to say that we

Jewel Teague recognized

Nurses appreciation day has recently passed and Ralls Nursing Home would like to express their appreciation to a "special" nurse. She is 81 year old Jewel Teague from Floydada. Mrs. Teague has been a full time nurse at the Home for five years. She drives sixty miles round trip and works the 3-11 shift. She is always on time and never misses a work day. She arrives with a smile, jaunty step, snow white uniform, and freshly polished shoes, looking every inch the professional nurse that she is. She is at work, come rain or shine. If the weather is going to get bad she will come in the day before and spend the night to be sure she's at work. If the weather is bad when she gets off she will stay overnight, one time staying four days before she could get home. The local policeman in Mrs. Teague's home town will meet her at the edge of town and see her safely home and in the house. She also has a C.B. radio in her car and uses it to check road and weather conditions.

The Nursing Home has a hard time hiring licensed nurses. Mrs. Teague came to the Nursing Home one summer when just she and the Director of Nurses were all the licensed nurses the Home had for several months, with the help of the aides, they kept things going in the Nursing Department and the home received a superior rating from the Texas Department of Health.

Mrs. Teague has one sister, Mrs. Ethel Graham of Floydada.

Happy 53rd Anniversary to a pair of wonderful parents!

Make Sure You're Only A Call Away.

You never know when a youngster may need to call from a coin phone. So, it's a good idea to have your child keep a quarter handy to telephone.

Southwestern Bell Telephone has a card for that purpose. It's called a "Quarter Keeper."

In addition to a slot designed to hold a quarter, it includes names and numbers to contact during an emergency.

To order your "Quarter Keeper," just complete the coupon.

The card reminds your child you're only a phone call away.

ELM LEAF BEETLES AND BAGWORMS ACTIVE NOW

Elm Leaf Beetles
Elm leaf beetle larvae are now actively feeding on leaves of elm trees. This insect is a serious pest of elm trees in West Texas. Feeding from this insect skeletonizes the surface of leaves and premature defoliation of elm trees can occur.

Damage from this pest was severe in 1983. Treating with an insecticide now will help minimize damage to elm trees this year.

The overwintering adult beetles are emerging from houses, sheds and other protected areas where they spent the winter and are not laying eggs on elm trees. The beetles are oval and about one-fourth inch long. They are yellowish to olive-green in coloration with a black stripe along each side of the wing covers.

The female beetles lay eggs on the underside of leaves which hatch into small worms in a few days. These worms are nearly black in coloration and feed on the underside of leaves. They skeletonize the leaves, leaving the veins intact.

To protect the foliage of elm trees from feeding damage, trees may be sprayed with Sevin or Orthene. Mix and apply sprays according to manufacturer's directions on the label of the chemical container. Thorough coverage of the trees with the insecticide spray is necessary to obtain satisfactory control of this insect.

To secure additional height and better coverage of the tree, a hose-on sprayer may be tied to a fishing pole or other sturdy object and raised up in the air to spray the tree. Caution should always be exercised when applying insecticides.

Bagworms
Bagworms are one of the major pests of junipers and other trees and shrubs in Texas. Spring hatch began in mid-May in the Lubbock area this year and is now almost complete. Insecticides control is most effective in late May and early June when the bagworms are small.

In the spring, bagworm larvae emerge from hatching eggs inside last year's bags and begin feeding on leaves. They soon begin to construct their own protective bag of silk, twigs and leaves, making them camouflaged and hard to see. As the larvae and their bags continue to grow, control becomes more difficult.

Bagworms feed throughout the summer months, building their bags until the bags are about 1 1/2 inches long. In the fall, the bagworms become adults, mate and the females lay eggs inside their bags. They then overwinter in these bags in trees and shrubs. Each overwintering female bag on a tree contains from 500 to 1500 eggs.

Since the bagworm only completes one generation a year and spreads very slowly from plant to plant, picking the bags off infested plants in the winter will help a lot toward controlling this pest. But if bagworms were present on the plant last year and control measures were not applied, chances are very good that an insecticide will be needed this spring.

Insecticides which can be used to control bagworms include sevin, dursban, diazinon, malathion, dylox and orthene. The biological insecticide Bacillus thuringiensis can also be used. To obtain effective control, thorough coverage of the foliage is important. Always read and follow label instructions when applying insecticides.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Official figures just released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service show 1983 cotton production from the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, at 1,346,450 bales of 480 pounds net weight.

That is slightly above the 1,285,600 bales grown in 1982, but far below the 2.3 million bale five-year production and just over a third of the record 3,522,000 bales harvested in 1981.

The payment-in-kind acreage reduction program reduced planted acres for the year to 2,486,800, the lowest since 1970 when the 25 counties seeded only 2,277,000 acres. Subsequent abandonment in 1983, the result of both drought and hail come to 371,300 acres or almost 15 percent of planted acres.

Average yield on the remaining 2,115,500 acres come to 305.5 pound per harvested acre, considerably better than the 259 pound per acre average recorded in 1982. The ten-year average yield on the Plains through 1983 is 314.3 pounds per harvested acre, down almost 120 pounds from the ten-year average through 1973 and the lowest 10-year average since 1958. The all-time record for the 25 counties, 513 pounds, went on the books in 1965.

Gaines County, with 164,800 bales, led the area in total production for the third consecutive year. The High Plains yield acre title in 1983 goes to Castro County where farmers averaged 413 pounds.

The chart below shows 1983 planted and harvested acres, yield per harvested acre and total production in 480 pound net weight bales for each of the 25 PCG counties.

Home Economics Today

Each year over 50,000 children are either kidnapped or simply wander off by themselves. It is estimated that 60% of all children stolen are from rural areas. National efforts are being made to help parents become more alert to how this occurs.

A non-profit agency called Child Find has been established to locate missing children. Child Find estimates that only 5,000 of these missing children are found alive and reunited with their families each year. Many are murdered or are never found.

Parents need to be alert to possible situations that could lead to a kidnapping. Here are some suggestions for parents:

*Do not leave your child alone in a car, store or other public places. Know where your child is at all times.

*Teach your children how to use the telephone and make sure they know your number, including the area code. Children should also know how to dial the police for an emergency.

*Fingerprint your child and keep the prints for identification purposes.

*Develop a secret code or secret word that only you and your child can use, especially in case of emergency or danger.

*Tell your child never to go with a stranger.

*Encourage your neighbors to participate in a neighborhood self-help program. Establish a safe home where children can go for help if they are pursued by a stranger while playing outdoors or going to school.

Parents can take preventive measures by teaching their children to be aware of dangerous situations and to say "no". If more parents take the time to help their children understand what possible dangers exist, perhaps the alarming number of missing children can be reduced.

South Plains News

By Mrs. M.M. Julian
June 4th, Monday.

What a wonderful rain! The showers started early Saturday night, June 2, and silently during the night and part of Sunday morning, June 3, with nice showers of around 6 tenths, which all soaked in, because there was no wind, and the fall was general all around us. This rain will help the little cotton coming up, and help to get that which hasn't come up, started. We are most grateful for every drop which came.

Sunday evening at the Baptist Church services the Vacation Bible School which was held here at the church all last week, held the exercises which they had enjoyed all week under direction of Rev. Cecil Osborne and the teachers and helpers. The program of teachers and children in the Vacation Bible School was a delight to parents and visitors. Teachers and helpers in the school were Mrs. Joyce Osborne, Mrs. Connie Johnson, Mrs. Janis Julian, Mrs. Gail Henderson, Mrs. Nina Sanders, Mrs. Diane Johnson, Mrs. Jolene Cummings, Mrs. Annela Staples and Mrs. Sue Givens. Visitors included Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Ford from Lockney. Delicious refreshments were served to everyone following the service.

The wedding of Miss Lori Jean Lohrenz of Lawrence, Kansas and James Earl Teague of Lubbock, Texas will be held on Saturday, June 2, in Lawrence, Kansas at the First United Methodist Church at 10:00 a.m. Parents of Miss Lohrenz in Lawrence are Dr. and Mrs. Leander Lohrenz and in Lubbock parents of James Teague are Mr. and Mrs. James and Juanell Teague. Following the wedding, reception will be held there in Lawrence. Mr. and Mrs. James and Juanell Teague and Mrs. Mamie Wood left this Thursday for Lawrence to attend the rehearsal and wedding.

Earl Norman, father of Mrs. Sterling Cummings, has pneumonia, and he has also suffered a light stroke there at the convalescent home in Dimmitt. We pray he recovers well. Mr. and Mrs. Cummings have been with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred and Jessie Cox of Dallas arrived here Tuesday to be with her brother, Ernest Smitherman, who is in the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview following his surgery Tuesday morning there. They have also visited here with Mrs. Ruth Smitherman who is in the Floydada Convalescent Home while Ernest is in the hospital.

We extend our sympathy to Raymond Upton and all his family in the death of his sister, Mrs. Velma Solomon, whose funeral was held this Wednesday in Plainview.

Most of us were aware of the eclipse that was noted here last week from about 9:30 a.m. to around noon, and about all we got to see was the darkened atmosphere. It was an eerie feeling as the world darkened during the middle of the day.

Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham was at the South Plains Voting Polls at the schoolhouse Saturday, June 2nd, and assisting her were Mrs. Mildred Hamm and Mrs. Joyce Osborne.

Mrs. Gertrude Smitherman was in the hospital in Floydada taking tests on Monday and later in the week, but we are glad to know she is home and doing fine now.

The Vacation Bible School at the South Plains Baptist Church has been going on all this past week, and Sunday night we will all have the lovely occasion to see the work that the children have made the past week, and to hear part of the wonderful truths and verses they have learned. The ladies of the church will be hostesses at the fellowship hall for a time of refreshments and will give everyone a chance to go to the different rooms to see work that has been made during the past week.

Mrs. Kathy Mulder was in Floydada all of last week helping at the Calvary Baptist Church with their Vacation Bible School.

Mrs. Louzilla Nichols of Sweetwater, who used to live here, came Sunday evening to spend the night and several days here with Mrs. Sylvan Kinnibrugh and family. She was with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whitfill, also of Sweetwater, who were in their travel trailer. Mrs. Nichols, granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. David Allen, formerly of Virginia Beach, Virginia, have moved to Nevada, and their daughter, Daveyonna, will go on to Dallas to be with her aunt and uncle, after school is out in Virginia, then come to Nevada later on.

Mr. and Mrs. James and Juanell Teague and Mrs. Mamie Wood plan to be home early this week after going to Lawrence, Kansas where last Saturday James Earl Teague and Miss Lori Lohrenz were married at the First United Methodist Church in Lawrence.

THE AVERAGE DAILY ATTENDANCE at Calvary Baptist Vacation Bible School was 65.

Calvary Baptist holds VBS

The Calvary Baptist Church kicked off its Vacation Bible School Friday, May 25, with registration and a picnic. The initial classes began Monday, May 28, and ended Friday, June 1. The average attendance each day was 65.

On Thursday, the children took a bus trip to the Floydada Nursing Home. Commencement exercises were scheduled for Friday night. The highlight of the week was a slide showing of Paul's Missionary Journey presented by Miss Francis Mitchell.

Tonya Jones, Delanda Watson and Charity Lancaster were recognized for bringing one visitor. Daniel McMurrin and Becky Turner brought two guests. Acknowledged for bringing three visitors were Melinda Smith, Jeremy Hill and Buster Powell. Joe Lee Ellis brought four visitors.

Earning awards for inviting five guests were Lanny McMurrin and Melanie Covington. Attendance awards were also presented.

Teachers during Vacation Bible School were Arlene Homes, Judy Griggs, and Pam Woody for the 3 year olds; Crystal Rawley and Cynthia Covington, 4 year olds; Dana Ellis and Kim Ellis, 6 and 7 year olds; Cathy Hill, Pam Enriquez, and Vickie Eikenhorse, 8 and 9 year olds; Bill Muller, Sherry Lambert, and Laurie Knight, 10 and 11 year olds; Mildred Haile, Kathy Mulder, Juanell Farmer, Francis Mitchell, and Hollis Payne, ages 12 through 17.

Hollis Payne reported that "Vacation Bible School was a success for both the children and adult leaders."

Edna Gilly, Juanita Teeple and Clara Redd returned home Wednesday from New Orleans where they attended the World Fair and report an interesting and enjoyable trip. They visited Rhonda and Bill Parker, Juanita's daughter and stayed with them while there. Sherlene and David Reddout, Juanita's other daughter and husband were there on business and also visited with the group. They strolled the grounds of the World Fair on Friday and Monday and enjoyed every minute of it and on Thursday took a Riverboat Ride down the Mississippi River.

Edna Gilly visited her mother, Ruthie Clark in Plainview Friday. Ruthie has been ill and will enter Central Plains Regional Hospital and undergo surgery Friday. We trust that the operation will be successful and she will gain her strength rapidly.

Word was received Saturday that John D. VanHoose suffered a heart attack and is in intensive care in the Burnet Hospital and is in serious condition. Our prayers are with he and the family that he may have a speedy recovery. They have been at Kingsland for several months at the LBJ Lake with their son Cecil VanHoose and family.

Norma Welch visited Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry Friday.

Friday Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry visited an uncle, Dosier Dillard who is a resident in the Floydada Nursing Home.

Edna Lackey accompanied her daughter, Dorothy Nerrell to Dallas to visit another daughter, Dora Faye and Jack Craft and other relatives.

Clara Redd and Golden Nabors of Floydada visited Edna Gilly Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Lemons attended the Golden Wedding Anniversary of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. S.A. Decker held in the Gayland Room of the Camelot Inn in Amarillo Sunday. Their children, Mr. and Mrs. Shields Decker and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Decker and children honored the Deckers with a reception from two until five o'clock Sunday afternoon and there was a huge crowd of relatives and friends who attended. Among the group was an uncle and aunt to Mrs. Decker and Mrs. Lemons. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leach of Denver, Colorado, a brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Anderson of Guyman, Oklahoma, and another brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Anderson of Abilene. Mr. Decker's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Decker of Waco, aunt Erma Ray and uncle Roy of Houston. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Lemons and family of McKenzie Lake were also present. The family enjoyed supper on the patio at the home of the Deckers following the reception. Family members had dinner at K-Bobs Saturday evening.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has filed a tariff with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to make end user common line charges associated with Centrex CO service equal to those to be billed to Private Branch Exchange service. The Commission has suspended the proposed tariff until October 1, 1984, or before, and assigned the matter to Docket No. 5686.

The equalization of end user common line charges for Centrex CO service is to be accomplished by a reduction in Centrex service charges. The net effect of the Centrex service charge adjustment and an interstate end user common line charge will be an increase in total billing.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.
