

Magician delights area children

Jim Bob Hambright captivated the attentive audience when he presented a magic show during the Reading Club program June 27. The Club's theme "Magical Mysteries" has focused on mysteries, magic and adventure stories. The aim of the club has been to encourage reading and the enjoyment of books by providing a wealth of reading materials and activities for children between the ages of three and thirteen. Sandra Crawford, the county librarian, reported that attendance has been high with an average of 30-35 children arriving at each program. Club activities have included movies and story-telling. Wednesday, July 18, is the final session. Sally Galloway, assisted by Alissa Hambright, Rebecca Redding, and Jim Bob Hambright have presented the programs this summer.

KALVIN DICK, son of R.E. Dick, was a '79 F.H.S. graduate.

TANA TYER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyer, joins "TEXAS."

Natives love "TEXAS"

The name of the show is TEXAS, and it is staged each summer in Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo. With a name that assumes an entire state, and with a 600 foot backdrop, the performers who dare to sing, dance, or act in the show had better be something special.

And they are. Eighty performers, supported by sixty technicians and hospitality crew members were selected at auditions and personal interviews held in January and February throughout Texas and New Mexico.

Two Floydada natives share this musical extravaganza. Tana Tyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyer, joins the "TEXAS" hospitality crew for her first year. Tana is a senior business education major at West Texas State University. She absolutely "loves working at 'TEXAS' this summer," explaining that she "likes meeting people. At the performances we have visitors from many different states and several foreign countries every night. I often have the opportunity to talk to members of the audience before and after performances. One memorable experience happened the other day — when I was a senior in Floydada High, we were the host family for the foreign exchange student, Lynley Hudson from Christ Church in New Zealand. After a performance, I spoke with a girl who was from Christ Church also. Just listening to her brought back so many good memories. I could not believe we found each other out of all those people."

Calvin Dick, son of R.E. Dick in Canyon and also a Floydada graduate, completed his bachelor of science in theatre at West Texas State University in Canyon. This is the fourth season for the veteran performer who has been a singer, dancer and actor on the Pioneer Amphitheatre Stage. His theatrical credits at WTSU include parts in "Grease," "Oklahoma" and "The Elephant Man." Dick also performed as a principal dancer with the Lone Star Ballet and WTSU Dance Ensemble for the past three years.

When the season with "TEXAS" was ended, Dick will be moving to Dallas to pursue a career in the theatre. However, er, by chance, he recently became involved in modeling as another outlet for his energies and has been approached by some prestigious agencies in the Dallas area. This may be the direction he will take upon arrival in Dallas.

"TEXAS" is a good place to get a professional start in a theatrical career. The directors are of exceptional quality and by the end of the season, the cast and crew members are more like a family. "We really form close relationships," said Dick, "and a person could not ask for a better setting — the panoramic view of the canyon."

"This year has been memorable, perhaps because of the nostalgia, since it will be my last year to perform in "TEXAS." However, this year I have also been cast as the understudy for the lead. I have always wanted to be a performer and had my first part as a minor character in "The Man Who Came To Dinner" during my junior year in Floydada.

When asked if he had any comments for the citizens of Floydada, Dick laughingly said, "When I acquire fame and appear on the Tonight Show, I will be sure and mention Floydada."

In late May the performers and crew members arrived in Canyon to begin rehearsals and preparations for the opening of "TEXAS" which took place on June 13. The cast and crew members journey from cities and towns in Texas as well as from nine other states.

The directors have taken the monumental task of molding these eighty distinct individuals into a whole that is greater than the sum of its parts. Solo voices will be blended into a chorus that raises goose bumps as it sings familiar western songs. Individual dancers will be formed into a body that creates pictures of drama and fun. Actors will lose themselves and be transformed into pioneers of the 1880's struggling with drought, storm, Indians and their own weakness.

"TEXAS" plays nightly, except Sunday, through August 25, 1984. Ticket prices range from $5-$7 for adults with children's tickets half-price in the lower priced sections. For information or reservations, write "TEXAS", Box 268, Canyon, 79015, or call 806-655-2181.

Davis and Morren tour Washington D.C.

Cindee Davis and Wayne Morren of Floydada recently returned from a trip to the nation's capitol sponsored by Lighthouse Electric Cooperative. Each year for the past twenty years Lighthouse has sponsored a speech contest in which students from area schools are eligible to enter.

The topic for this year's speech was "How Members Benefit from Ownership of their Electric Cooperatives."

On June 8, Cindee and Wayne joined thirty-nine other students from across the state in Lewisville, Texas to begin the trip to the capitol.

Once in Washington the pace was hectic, the first morning Wayne and Cindee met with Congressman Jack Hightower and were able to see the House of Representatives and Senate in action. After the session, the group toured the Kennedy Center for Performing Arts, named in honor for President John F. Kennedy.

A tour of the national Archives provided the group with an insight into American History since it houses valuable government documents including the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, and the Bill of Rights. Later that day the group toured the White House and were able to see many rooms normally off limits to tourists.

The highlight of this year's trip was the visit to Arlington National Cemetery. The students were able to lay a wreath at the tomb of the unknown soldier and to pay tribute to those who have died for our country.

The tour also included a visit to the Smithsonian Institute, the Washington Monument and the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, Mount Vernon, Ford's Theatre, and the Bureau of Printing and Engraving.

On the trip home the group had a devotional on Lookout Mountain in Tennessee and a final get together in Lewisville before departing for home.

Business of the week

Thompson Pharmacy

Thompson Pharmacy, in the spotlight as Floydada's Business of the Week, has been in business since 1969. Jerry Thompson graduated from Southwestern University in Oklahoma and arrived in Floydada from Wellington. Thompson said, "We were faced with the opportunity to buy the pharmacy, which was sheer luck, because we have really enjoyed living in Floydada."

Not only a businessman, Jerry is involved in the Rotary, is the vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce and teaches the first grade class at the First Baptist Church.

Jan, his wife, works part time at the pharmacy and is the payroll clerk for the Floydada Independent School system. A member of the 1956 Study Club, Jan also teaches a third grade class at the First Baptist Church.

The couple have two sons, Greg, who is seventeen, and Mark, who is thirteen. The Thompsons, who are in the student exchange program, will serve as the host family for Lars Alkemade from Rotterdam, Holland. Lars and Greg will both be seniors this year.

Thompson Pharmacy underwent extensive remodeling last year and the Thompsons acquired a new franchise, the Health Mart. They offer prescription service and feature home delivery, which is particularly beneficial to the shut-in. Thompson now has an expanded line of cosmetics, greeting cards, school supplies, records and tapes, first aid and over the counter medicines, and a line of natural vitamins. Jerry and Jan also feature household items, small kitchen appliances and a unique selection of gift ideas. The Thompsons are especially proud of their jewelry line, emphasizing gold jewelry and engraving service.

Thompson Pharmacy employs Margie Young, Ann Glasscock, Kay Lynn Rainer, Dee Ann Evans, David Morren, Greg Thompson and, of course, Jerry and Jan Thompson.

Thompson emphasizes, "We have a very good selection of items and try to be competitively priced. We hope that we offer as friendly a service as anyone in town."

$500 reward issued for Allsup's armed robbery

Crime Call of Floyd County is offering a $500 reward for information leading authorities to the arrest and indictment of the persons responsible for the robbery of the Allsup's Convenience Store in Floydada.

According to Sheriff Fred Cardinal, "on July 29, at 3:30 a.m., two young black men wearing ski masks and armed, robbed the Allsup's store at 102 E. Houston. Money was stolen from the cash register and drop safe, although the amount taken was not determined. The clerk was told to remain in the bathroom and she would not be harmed. The gunmen then fled through the back door."

Former manager Pat Martinez, who spoke with the shaken clerk, surmised that "the weapons were a 38 caliber handgun and a sawed off twenty-two rifle. The ages of the black males were thought to be about 19 and 25."

Sheriff Fred Cardinal said he was "surprised that the Allsup's store has not been hit before. A store open twenty-four hours a day is a target for robbers in the early morning hours."

However, Martinez disclaimed this theory, citing that the convenience store in Tula was robbed at 10 p.m. Martinez also states that the policemen on duty drop into the store frequently between twelve midnight and 8:00 a.m. The police stopped at the store about ten minutes before it was hit, which led Martinez to believe that the criminals had this information.

Bill Gray, president of Crime Call, reported to The Hesperian that if informants choose to testify, additional reward funds are available.

Anyone having information concerning this armed robbery is urged to call 983-5200, 652-2416 or 1-800-252-8477 (Texas Crime Stoppers). Callers may remain anonymous and do not have to identify themselves. Citizens are reminded that Crime Call offers rewards for information on all unsolved felony crimes occurring in Floyd County.

Crime Call is supported entirely by private funding and tax-deductible contributions may be made at the First National Bank of Floydada and First National Bank of Lockney, or may be mailed to: Crime Call of Floyd County, Inc., 122 E. California, Floydada, Texas 79235.

Education reform depends on tax bill passing July 3

By Cindy Smith
During a House recess, July 3, Representative Foster Whaley reported to The Hesperian at press time that a conference committee for the tax bill had not been formed. However, leaders of the House and Senate met in Governor White's office and drafted a compromise acceptable to both sides.

Aspects of this compromise included the following proposals:

- * There will not be a tax levied on advertising.
- * Repair to tangible property will be taxed such as watch repair, appliance repair, etc.
- * Amusement services such as massage parlors, dating services and theater tickets will be taxed.
- * Vehicles will be taxed at a higher rate, but this rate will depend on the year and expense of the auto. Weight will cease to be a criteria for taxation.
- * The existing sales tax will be increased an eighth of a percent.

* The liquor and cigarette tax will be increased, but at this time the amount is undetermined. However, the House proposal including a one cent increase per pack in the cigarette tax that would have gone to cancer research was not included.

At press time, Senator Farrabee's office reported that the House and Senate were voting on the compromise tax bill that would provide funding for the educational reform bill. The Hesperian was assured that the tax bill would be passed thus ending the necessity for calling another special session. Governor Mark White intimated that he intended to call another back-to-back special session of the Legislature if the bill was not passed.

Will Davis, of the State Board of Education referred to this session on educational reform as a "landmark occasion which will be a cornerstone for future educational excellence in Texas."

FLOYD DATA

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell were accompanied to Petersburg by Mrs. Grady Dunavant for the graveside services of Leon Rascoe, a cousin to Mrs. Bagwell.

This plastic box is important to you.

It's your connecting link to the telephone network.

This plastic box is a "network interface." That's where you join the local telephone network, which can also connect you to a long distance network.

It's this box where we terminate a pair of wires from our switching center to your residence. That's technically where our service ends, but not our concern for our customers. We want you to understand the importance of this interface device and the other changes which have taken place with the breakup of the Bell System so that you can relax and continue to enjoy good telephone service.

The network interface is being installed on the outside of most new homes, usually adjacent to the power meter. For others it may be found on the wall of a walk-in closet, a utility room or garage. Southwestern Bell Telephone began installing network interfaces in 1982, therefore, wiring installed prior to 1982 may not have a network interface. Unfortunately, not all of the older network interfaces are exact look-a-likes, but they are similar.

From the network interface, you have at least three options on how to handle installation and repair of inside wiring and jacks to your telephones:

- (1) hire Southwestern Bell Telephone to do it,
- (2) hire another contractor,
- (3) or save the money by doing the work yourself.

(Materials are readily available from numerous retail stores.) If you choose Southwestern Bell Telephone to do the inside work, you should know about recently approved "Premises Work Charges," which include both time and materials. Premises Work Charges are billed according to the time required to do the job.

Here is Southwestern Bell Telephone's schedule of charges:

PREMISES WORK CHARGES FOR JACKS AND INSIDE WIRING	8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Mon.-Fri.		Other Times Mon.-Fri. and All Day Saturday	Sundays and Holidays
	INSTALLATION
Initial 15 min.	$18.50	$22.75	$27.00
Each Addl. 15 Min.	$10.50	$12.50	$14.75
REPAIR
Initial 15 Min.	$28.25	$31.75	$35.25
Each Addl. 15 Min.	$10.50	$12.75	$15.00

These charges are similar to those made by other service personnel for work performed on customers' premises. Remember, too, that while inside wiring and the workmanship required to install or repair it may be obtained from many sources today, we're still in the business, if that's your choice.

When we complete the work, you get a 30-day warranty against defects and malfunctions from the date of installation or repair. For your convenience, keep your Southwestern Bell Telephone warranty handy.

We sincerely hope this information will be helpful to you in the future. We know most of our customers still have a lot of questions about the changes which have taken place since divestiture.

While we are no longer responsible for every facet of your telephone service like we used to be, serving you is still our only business. After all, it's AT&T we separated from... not you. And, in the coming weeks, we will be reviewing other information you'll need to help you understand—and enjoy—the benefits of the new Information Age.

Thank You

When we say thank you, words seem so empty for all the love and concern that has been shown to us during the loss of our Mother and Father. Your expressions of concern by your prayers, memorials, beautiful flowers, delicious food, lovely cards of sympathy and the many kind words of encouragement by so many have been a source of inspiration which we needed.

Our sorrow has been lightened with God's help and loving friends like each of you.

South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

South Plains, July 2:
The wheat has been cut and almost all of it has gone into the elevators at this time. The Lockney Gin here at South Plains is being made ready for the cotton which is looking pretty good, after some rain the past few weeks. The weeds are showing up, too, and making themselves known everywhere. The nights are still cool, and the showers have been welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Probasco attended the regional meeting of the High Plains Locksmith Association on Saturday, June 16th, at Clovis, N.M. On their return trip they were delighted to get to see the entourage on the other side of Muleshoe, Texas, the torch runner for the Olympics, and all the excitement of those accompanying the runner. Clovis is the half-way mark for the torch running carrier across the United States. They had also come through Lubbock.

We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Charles and Lori Bradford, Desiree and Shiloh as visitors at the South Plains Baptist Church recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings were in Sunday morning church services after returning from Athens where they had attended the wedding of the last of their children, John, who was married to Tammy Busch. The wedding was held at the Calvary Temple Assembly of God Church in Athens June 30, Saturday afternoon. John and Tammy are both attending the University of Texas at Austin, and both are employed there. We wish the young couple a happy life together. John grew up here in our community.

Miss Jonna West and Jeffrey Cunningham of Abilene were united in marriage also on Saturday, June 30 in Floydada at the First United Methodist Church. We extend best wishes to them. Jonna was also a South Plains native. Her husband is from Abilene and many from our area attended the wedding services.

Mrs. Keron Mauney from Lewisville, near Dallas, arrived this week-end to stay through Fourth of July with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne. She was a visitor at both church services at the Baptist Church here Sunday.

Jaine Guest and Kelly Higginbotham, both of Floydada, received their bachelor of science and bachelor of arts degrees at the WTSU at the spring commencement exercises in Canyon. Jaine received a nursing degree and Kelly received a degree in elementary education. We are proud of them both. Kelly's grandmother, Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham lives here in South Plains.

Mrs. Mamie Wood's home was the setting for the bridal shower honoring John Cummings and Miss Tammy Busch of Athens held June 16, from 2-4 p.m. Hostesses for the party were Mes. Nell Pritchett, Lillie Mae Milton, Bobbie Kinnibrugh, Nita Marble, Maurine Parks, Janis Julian, Ruby Higginbotham, Mildred Hamm, Connie Sanders, Charlotte Brock, Marie Brock, Margaret Kitchens, Pat Wood, Pat Stewart, Carolyn Jackson, Gayle Jackson, Gay McPherson, Pat Frizzell, Retha Fortenberry, Kim Lambert and hostess, Mrs. Wood.

Mrs. Bonnie Julian returned home Saturday, June 30, from a ten-day visit to Denver, Colorado. She had flown there June 21 to attend the wedding of her grand niece, Hollis Huntley and Kelly Thomas on June 23. Good visits with relatives from around Colorado were enjoyed, and she was a guest in the home of her sister, Mrs. Bernice Sandusky. After so much snow during the past winter, the mountains and scenery were like gardens, the greenest I ever saw. She took a special trip to Estes Park while there and rides into the mountains. It was a wonderful, happy trip. The weather was especially cool at nights. It is good to be home again though.

The Fitzgerald family reunion was held this year Thursday to Sunday, June 24, in the Doris Encampment in the Reserves near Altus, Oklahoma. Around thirty attended. Mrs. Letha Mulder, and sister, Mrs. Inez Minyard from Littlefield, went from here. Others who came on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Mulder of South Plains and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor of Amarillo.

We express sympathy and love to the family of Hilburn Casey, 89, who passed away on Saturday, June 30th. His funeral was held Sunday afternoon, July 1, at 3:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Lockney. Hilburn's brother-in-law, Rev. Jr. Calahan of Abilene, conducted the services along with several other family members participating. Most of our community attended the services, for he and his family have been a part of South Plains.

We send congratulations and best wishes to Mrs. Nancy Marble and her family. Her nephew, Robert Messer, will be wed to Donna Bridgman at Marengo, Illinois, on July 21.

Best wishes, also, to Mr. and Mrs. Marion McGrew from Austin on their twenty-fifth anniversary, July 3rd. She is the daughter of Mrs. Louvinia Brown of Floydada, and grew up here in the South Plains area, and attended schools here.

Tim Julian is spending this week at Perryton, visiting with his cousins, Clay and Wade Julian, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Julian.

Mrs. Louzilla Nichols, formerly of here but now of Sweetwater, was here Sunday for funeral services for Hilburn Casey. Her daughter and family in Sweetwater have sold their business and will spend this summer vacationing and traveling.

Mr. and Mrs. Early and Nell Pritchett were here at their home for a week recently, but are again in Ruidoso, N.M. Mrs. Pritchett cannot live here while crops are growing because of allergies. We surely do miss them.

Prayer services here at South Plains have been dismissed for this coming Wednesday night because of the Fourth of July, and many people will be away from home.

Lakeview News

By Joyce Williams
July 5, 1984:

Mr. Walter Craft, father of Mrs. Dee Adams, was buried Sunday afternoon at Roaring Springs. Services were held at Moore-Rose Funeral Chapel. Mr. Craft had been a patient in the Floydada Rest Home for several years. Many Lakeview neighbors attended the services.

Louis Pyle and sons, Robert and David, have been at their place near Spur, completing their wheat harvest and plowing.

A large family gathering was held recently at the Grady Dunavant's. Present for the family dinner and reunion were Mr. and Mrs. True Kirk, Marlon, Lori and Lance of Durango, Colorado. From Ft. Worth were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Dunavant, Lisa and Brent. From Floydada were Ray Dunavant, Melvin and Shane Dunavant, also Mr. and Mrs. John Redding, Rebecca and Matthew.

Mrs. Nancy Goodwin and children, Hilary and Courtney Harrison, left Saturday afternoon for their return home after a week's visit with her parents, the Q.D. Williams, friends and relatives. She planned to visit several days at Truscott with her grandfather, Edgar Jones. However, she discovered his rock fireplace had been invaded by wild bees. The family had removed over five gallons of wild honey from the chimney but bees were still appearing, so she decided to not take the chance of having her small children get beesting. She spent the night at the Brown's ranch and departed next morning. The rock chimney can be cleared by building a fire and smoking out the bees, and if the queen bee is killed the others will leave. Jack Brown, Truscott, is an apiarist and keeps the family supplied with honey from his hives. He served as consultant on the problem.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pyle were at Lubbock International Airport Wednesday to meet his brother, Joe Ray Pyle who is moving back to Texas from 27 years of living in Hawaii. Louis and Joy Ray's sister, Mrs. Iona Adkins of Crowell drove up Sunday afternoon to pick up Joe and take him to Ft. Worth where he will work for an oil company.

Mr. and Mrs. James McLaugh and family were at the swimming pool in Roaring Springs Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop attended the wedding of Miss Nancy Herrin and Steve Moore in Anton Saturday evening.

Mrs. James Williams went to Clyde, Texas Friday to pick up her children, Austin and Ashleigh, who had visited her mother, Mrs. Brian Akins.

Mrs. Georgia Mae Smith Erickson recently returned from New England. She visited her step-son, Charles Erickson, of Brockton and Boston, Massachusetts. From there she traveled to Plymouth College at Plymouth, New Hampshire for the college graduation of her great-nephew, who will soon be going into the Navy. The young man's father was killed in Vietnam while in the Marines. A Yale University graduate, member of Skull and Bones, the man had requested his widow to live in the New England area where fellow members of his club would help look after her and his son. Graduation over, Georgia Mae then visited in Harrison, Maine with her friend, Mrs. Miriam Monroe, who is related to numerous ancestors who came over to America on the Mayflower. She also traveled to Saratoga Springs, New York with her sister-in-law. Representatives of the Texas State Archeologists Society will be meeting soon at Georgia Mae's Blanco Canyon home, Casa del Sol. She and other members of the Crosbyton Historical Museum will be dedicating a historical marker Wednesday, July 4, at the Crosbyton Cemetery. The state marker will be backed on a monument constructed of antique paving bricks from the original street paving in Crosbyton.

Recent widespread moisture lends to progress

The recent widespread moisture, almost perfect temperatures combined with almost no catastrophic weather (knock on wood) have contributed to the prodigious progress of this year's cotton crop.

FFA members attend convention

Six thousand Texas FFA members and guests are expected to attend the 56th Annual Convention of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America, July 11-13, 1984, at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center.

The FFA is composed of students who are studying vocational agriculture in the public schools in preparation for a variety of careers in Agriculture and Agribusiness. Vocational Agriculture is well known for providing learning experiences to students through the FFA with the theme this year - "Keeping America On The Grow." The ultimate objective is to produce future leaders for American agriculture with its vital role of producing food and fiber. Texas now has more than 900 FFA chapters with over 60,000 active members and more than 500,000 former members.

During the convention, over 2,000 award winners will be recognized with more than 1,700 members receiving the Lone Star Farmer Degree, the highest level of recognition by the state association. FFA students from Lockney earning the degree are Keith Owens, Carlos Molinar, and Jerald Johnson. Educational scholarships totalling more than $450,000 will be presented to many of Considering cotton sidedress fertilizer?

The recent rains and generally favorable growing conditions continue to improve the prospects for the 1984 cotton crop on the Texas High Plains. As a result, many producers are considering sidedress applications of fertilizers to either supplement what's already been applied or to replace nutrients lost through leaching by rainfall.

Typically, it takes about 40 pounds of nitrogen (N) and 20 pounds of phosphorus (P2O5) to produce a bale of cotton. In most area soils, sufficient nitrogen is mineralized from organic matter to produce about 200 to 250 pounds of lint per acre. If yield goals are above this production level, additional nitrogen will have to be added either through irrigation water or as a sidedress treatment.

Hence, if no fertilizer has been applied and the yield goal is a bale per acre, a producer would need to apply approximately 30 units of N to supplement that being supplied by the soil. If the members in attendance.

FFA members from Floydada attending the annual convention will be Haney Robertson, Shannon Barbee, Pam Richardson, Tim Burns, Brent Williams, Jeff Matsler, Coy LaBaume, Shannon Edwards, Shannon Shurbet and Keith Hancock.

Durwin Hill, Executive Secretary, reports that deserving adults who have supported the FFA and its activities will be recognized by the presentation of Honorary State Farmer Degrees, Distinguished Service Awards, and VIP Awards.

Outstanding speakers scheduled during the three-day convention include State Senator Bill Sarpalius, Amarillo, Texas; Dan Clark, nationally known motivational speaker, Salt Lake City, Utah; and Bill Caraway, National FFA Secretary, Clovis, New Mexico.

Brad Bass, state president from Mount Vernon, Texas, will preside at the general sessions. These sessions will include the election of the 1984-85 state president from the state officer candidates nominated by the 10 area associations. From 10 area nominees, voting delegates will also select the state FFA sweetheart to represent the state association during 1984-85. Those in attendance will hear and recognize the Outstanding Public Speaker who will represent Texas at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

Recreational activities will include the Fun Night and Talent Contest where the delegates will select the Outstanding Talent Team from 10 area nominees.

The Texas FFA Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting on Thursday afternoon along with the State FFA Convention. In addition, the alumni will host a reception for the past state FFA officers and participate in the presentation of its publicity award.

Convention participants will have the opportunity to visit with approximately 60 commercial exhibitors to observe new methods, products, and equipment in the agribusiness industry.

Co-op Gin said, "In Floyd County quite a bit of the standing cotton acreage has started to produce fruit and, for the first season in many years, the fields will be donning white blossoms in early July."

"The price of cotton has dropped after the rains we acquired during the past weeks, but I anticipate that cotton will be around 65 cents by October or November." Ferguson added that "right now, everything looks real good, above average for this time of the year and the area farmers need a good year."

the yield goal is 1.25 to 1.5 bales per acre, than an additional 45 to 60 units of N would be required.

Nitrate-nitrogen (the form most available to plants) is not strongly absorbed in the soil and, therefore, is subject of leaching in the sandy land areas. Generally, if rainfall amounts exceeded 2 to 3 inches, some nitrogen losses probably occurred and application of additional nitrogen should be considered. Leaching of nitrogen can also occur on heavier textured (loam to sandy clay loam) soils. Soil tests can be used to check the nitrogen levels in these soils.

In some states, growers have been able to utilize petiole testing as a means of determining late season nitrogen requirements. This technique was evaluated on the High Plains, first in a 2-year study by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researchers in the early 1970's and again in the early 1980's in field trials that were conducted by the Extension Service and supported by Cotton Incorporated.

In both studies, it was demonstrated that environmental variables greatly influence the nitrate-nitrogen levels in cotton petioles, regardless of the amount of nitrogen applied to the crop. Consequently, this limits the utility of petiole analysis as a diagnostic tool for recommending late season nitrogen applications to cotton.

Phosphorus may also be limited in some area fields. Since cotton generally fails to exhibit any foliar symptoms of phosphorus deficiency, a soil test is usually required to detect and confirm problems with this nutrient. Unlike nitrogen, this element is not subject to leaching and residual levels readily carry over from one cropping season to the next.

Consequently, if phosphorus was applied prior to planting of the current crop, additional applications are not likely to be warranted. Likewise, if the previous crop was fertilized with phosphorus, a response from sidedress applications to the present crop is unlikely.

On the other hand, if soil phosphorus levels are known to be low, sidedress applications are warranted and may provide to be profitable. Generally, banding 20 to 30 pounds of P2O5 per acre should be adequate to meet this year's crop needs.

Cotton has its heaviest plant nutrient requirement while actively fruiting. When practical, sidedress fertilizers should be applied prior to the time cotton starts to square and certainly before it begins to bloom. Sidedress applications of fertilizers after the bloom stage are usually not profitable.

To minimize root damage, sidedress fertilizers should be knifed or chiseled into the middle of the furrow, 18 to 80 inches away from the plants. Placing the fertilizer closer to the plants often results in excessive root pruning which not only tends to "shock" the plants but also makes them more vulnerable to attack by soil borne diseases.

Placing the fertilizers at least 4 to 6 inches deep in the soil will position the nutrients in moist soil were root penetration and development is possible. This is especially important when phosphorus is being applied; since this element moves very little in the soil, it must be placed in the active root zone to be available to plants.

In areas with sprinkler irrigation, nitrogen can be applied through the irrigation water. Nitrogen is used most efficiently when the total amount to be applied is divided among two or three irrigations applied between the early squaring and peak bloom stages of development.

Foliar applications of fertilizers can also be made, however, the quantities of nutrients applied in these treatments are generally too low to result in substantial yield increases. Generally, foliar applications are best suited for correcting deficiencies of micro-nutrients such as zinc.

More and more Texans are raising game birds according to William Cawley, poultry specialist, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The Texas Game Bird Conference will be held Saturday, July 28, 1984 in response to the increased interest in game bird production. This all-day conference kicks off with an 8:00 a.m. registration, with the program getting under way promptly at 9:00 a.m. It will be held in the Kleberg Center on the campus of Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas. The conference is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Department of Poultry Science, all of the Texas A&M University System.

This year's list of speakers reads like a game bird "Who's Who". They include Mickey Olsson, Glendale, Arizona. His all-around bird collection is reported to be the best and largest in the U.S.A. Olsson will be leading the ornamental game bird workshop.

Long time Director of Conservation for Winchester/Western, Alton, Illinois, Dr. Edward L. Kozicky will outline a program for developing strong flying quail.

Mallards will be the subject of a talk by Bill Whalen, Hanover, Illinois. They may not be in a pear tree, but partridge production will be covered by Jean Marc Ridel, Pepperlaw, Canada.

Two of the nation's leading avian pathologist, Drs. Charles F. Hall and Leland C. Grumbles will be discuss "Quail Disease" and Avian Influenza, respectively. Both are professors in the Department of Veterinarian Microbiology at Texas A&M University.

Other highly qualified personnel will focus on producing quality stock, dog-health and care, and improving hatchability.

There will be an $18.00 individual registration at the door. A spouse may accompany the participant for an additional $6.00. These fees include the cost of conference, a barbecue lunch, and two coffee breaks. There will also be a $2.00 charge for the proceedings.

Local breeders may wish to take advantage of the "early bird special". Applications postmarked by midnight July 21, the individual registration will be only $14.00 and will receive a free copy of te printed proceedings plus a barbecue lunch and coffee.

For further information and a copy of the complete program, contact the Floyd County Extension Office or call Kaye at (409)845-4318, she will be glad to help you.

County Judge collects artifacts

Ancient bones, spearpoints, and Indian burial grounds consume what spare time veteran Indian artifact hunter, Choise Smith has. Smith, the Floyd County Judge, who farms as a sideline, arrived as his hobby when he was six or seven years old. He picked up his first arrowhead near the native stone house where he was born in Blanco Canyon north of Crosbyton, built by Smith's great grandfather, pioneer rancher Hank Smith, in 1876.

Smith hunted arrowheads throughout his school years and his interest in archaeology increased when he attended West Texas State University in Canyon. Smith and cohort, Wayne Parker of Ralls, have located more than 80 sites of Indian habitation in Crosby County. The two men have also investigated sites in New Mexico, Arkansas, Mexico, Utah, Idaho, and Arizona. However, Smith confirms that most of his collection has been found locally in Blanco Canyon.

Smith and Parker have also found artifacts in the sand country around Lamesa. In nearby Welch, Smith located a perfect Folsom point, which was fluted on both sides. It is an Ice Age point dating back 12,000-14,000 years.

Smith discovered one dart point in perfect condition firmly embedded in the vertebra of a skeleton which was thought to have been a buffalo. Dart points, which are tiny chipped points and often called bird points, were thought to have been used as tips of shafts thrown as spears.

Discoveries such as this add excitement to archaeological explorations. Smith related, "I wonder if the hunter who threw that dart got his supper or went to bed hungry?"

Smith has collections on display in the museum at Crosbyton and at West Texas State University in Canyon. An extensive collection in the basement of his home is also on display to friends and other artifact hunters.

Smith's wife, Kay Dean teaches the second grade at Duncan Elementary in Floydada. When asked about her husband's hobby, Kay Dean said, "I think artifact hunting is good for him. It gives him a release, getting him into the sunshine and fresh air. It also takes his mind off daily pressures."

The couple have three children, Jody, who is a sophomore at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Hunter, who is fifteen and Choise Dean, who is fourteen.

Hazard Planning program starts October 1

by Cindy Smith

Duck tails, Elvis Presley, hoola hoops — during the fifties the United States rode a crest of prosperity and goodwill. People had more money than they ever had before — the future was optimistic and everyone like Ike!

Then the Cold War reared its ugly head, not suddenly, but gradually as a wound began to fester. The Russians, who had been our allies (?) during World War II, began slithering out of their shell and in the forefront was Nikita Khrushchev. The encroaching advent of Communism alarmed millions of terror-stricken Americans. Russia now had a nuclear capability of its own, neutralizing the nuclear advantage of the West, thus erasing the United States' strong bargaining position and its nuclear monopoly.

In October of 1962 "the Cuban Missile Crisis witnessed the United States and the Soviet Union staring eyeball to eyeball." Although the Soviet Union blinked first, even Khrushchev conceded that the two great powers had come to the brink of a thermonuclear war. This sobering realization shook Americans out of their apathy nationwide.

It was immediately after the Cuban Missile Crisis that the U.S. government plunged headlong into the business of erecting community fallout shelters. The initial thrust in 1962 cost the United States approximately 250 million dollars. This massive program included an intricate survey effort, stocking major shelters with provisions, supplying radioactive monitoring devices, installing warning and communication systems and training the shelter manager. Designated shelters in Floydada were the County Courthouse, the basement of the First National Bank, the basement of the First Baptist Ed Building, Andrews Elementary School and Caprock Hospital. In Lockney, intended shelters were the Lockney General Hospital, the basement of the First National Bank, the basements of the Barker building and Mize Pharmacy, and the basement of the Lockney High School.

Should a catastrophe arise, these shelters would still be used. However, on October 1, 1984, the ALL HAZARD PLANNING program goes into effect. The new government program will consist of the same guidelines that applied during the sixties and seventies. New shelters will be surveyed and added to the list. This new program will not be as involved or as expensive as the initial one. Shelters will not be stocked with provisions; however the monitoring devices are still in use.

County Judge Choise Smith reported that a representative from the Division of Emergency Management recently visited in Floyd County. Programs are being implemented throughout the United States, instructing sheriff and police departments, fire departments, city employees and shelter managers of methods used to control any disaster, whether it is a natural disaster such as a tornado or a man-made disaster like a nuclear waste spill. The program is tentatively scheduled for Floyd County in September or October.

In case of nuclear attack a wavering siren will sound continually for three to five minutes. Residents are instructed to proceed cautiously to the nearest designated shelter, bringing a change of clothes and essential supplies such as medication and canned milk for infants. If a nuclear weapon explodes on or near the ground, according to William Dourte, who is a Nuclear Civil Protection Planning Officer, tons of earth are drawn up with the "fireball" produced by the explosion. The falling soil mixes with the radioactive materials produced by the explosion and eventually fall back to the ground as particles of "fallout". This radioactive dust may fall as far as several hundred miles from where the weapon exploded and may arrive within minutes or hours depending on the distance from the point of explosion and the velocity and direction of high atmospheric winds.

The primary danger from fallout is caused by the "gamma rays," which like X-rays can harm living things exposed to them. Persons exposed to radioactive fallout do not become radioactive. They are neither contagious or infectious. People who have fallout particles on their bodies or clothing probably would not carry enough to endanger other people, but should brush themselves off for their own protection.

Food and water are contaminated only to the extent that they contain the fallout particles. Exposed food can be eaten after washing or peeling.

Radioactive fallout decays rapidly. Seven hours after an explosion the radiation level is only one-tenth as high as it was an hour after the blast. Two days after a blast, radiation is only one-hundredth as strong.

Dourte emphasizes that the biggest

"Laugh Lines"

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom
BY DON & SARA PROBASCO

NOTES ON PATRIOTISM:

We should behave toward our country as women behave toward the men they love. A loving wife will do anything for her husband except stop criticizing and trying to improve him. We should cast the same affectionate but sharp glance at our country. We should love it, but also insist upon telling it all its faults. The noisy, empty "patriot", not the critic, is the dangerous citizen. --J.B. Priestly Patriotism isn't marching behind a band and puffing out your chest. Patriotism isn't a flash of fireworks one day of the year, and then submerging one's emotions the rest of the year. Patriotism isn't found in the whooping of the crowd or maudlin flag-waving.

Patriotism is the sum of the three cardinal virtues: Faith, Hope, and Charity. Faith in the principles of our government; Hope in the future of our country; Charity toward all and malice toward none.

Patriotism is that spirit that makes us help our neighbors when they are in distress, and extend sympathy when they are stricken.

Patriotism is the tugging at our heartstrings, and a sincere kinship with those who toil in field or shop or marketplace.

Patriotism is the emotion that makes a lump rise in the throat when some intrepid spirit strives to achieve something that no human being ever before achieved.

Patriotism is to be unashamed at the moisture that comes welling up in our tear-ducts with the passing of some great and noble soul, who unselfishly devoted his life to the cause of mankind.

Patriotism is loving one's country, respecting its traditions, and honoring its people, high or low, rich or poor.

Patriotism is standing firm and unselfish for the right, for the common good, for the peace and well-being of all; sacrificing self, if need be, and standing tall and unafraid against all opposition. --the U.C.A. Lantern

Let's keep our patriotism alive and well all the year long.
