The Lamplighter Fire destroys family's home and possessions

By Ken Towery

The legal formalities have finally been accomplished. Our City Fathers have been served with the necessary documents and citizens of our fair community can look forward to months of uncertainty until the matter of single-member districts is settled in the Courts, if it is not settled somewhere

And, in the end, they can look forward to digging deep in their pockets to pay the bill. That bill will be paid by everyone who lives and works in this town, whether they are black, brown, or

As we have said before, we do not wish to advise our council on a course of action, but our own thoughts are clear. Single-member districts would not be good for a town of this size. They would lead to divisiveness where there ought to be cohesion, and rancor and bitterness where there ought to be a spirit of

We have some additional thoughts on the matter, but before we spell them out, we first want to say that this should not be considered as anything approaching a battle of Hispanics against Anglos, or Anglos against Hispanics, or any combination thereof. The races have lived in relative peace and tranquility in this community, and, Lord willing, will continue to live and work together as long as we remain a community. This battle is about a few individuals who wish to achieve political power they cannot achieve any other

Now. As we understand the situation, Floydada, like all other Texas cities of less than 5,000, operates under a general statute governing towns of this size. It is not a "Home Rule" city, determining for itself how it will operate with respect to how it elects its City Council. That law was passed by the Legislature, and exists as such.

State law also says that the Attorney General is charged with the duties and responsibilities of defending the state and its laws against attack.

The suit against Floydada is essentially an attack, as we see it, against the state law under which this city is governed. It would seem to us that it is the duty and responsibility of the Attorney General of the State of Texas to enter this case on the side of the City of Floydada and those councilmen legally elected to serve this city, in accordance with laws passed by the Legislature; laws the Attorney General swears to uphold when he takes the oath of office.

It would seem further that it is the duty and responsibility of our elected State officials, that is, our Legislators, to bring pressure to bear upon the Attorney General, if such pressure is needed, to see that the laws they passed are indeed defended by those whose job it is to defend them.

As far as we can determine, this will be a precedent-setting case. We know of no other case in which the law governing small town elections has been challenged as being unconstitu-

It is true, of course, that the Attorney General now has problems of his own, in court. But he has a massive staff of lawyers, many of whom would probably like to cut their teeth on a case like this. In time this case will be "discovered" by the state's media, whether we like it or not, simply because the outcome will likely affect small towns similarly situated all across the state.

In the meantime we shall all have to gird our loins and prepare for the battle, if that is what is before us. Our councilmen are being understandably silent on the matter at this stage. It would serve no useful purpose for them to become excessively vocal, at this point. But that doesn't mean the rest of us can't express our views to our legislators, our governor, our attorney general, anyone who will listen.

Their home and all the family possessions were destroyed in a fire that engulfed their residence on the corner of Kentucky Street and the Silverton Highway, Tuesday, January 15, during the early afternoon.

The Floydada Volunteer Fire Department received the call shortly after 1 p.m. and arrived on the scene in just a few minutes. "The structure was fully involved at the time of our arrival," said Carroll Sims of the department. "We have about determined that the fire originated in the northeast corner of the house and that it was caused by a gas space heater."

The small wood frame dwelling was quickly consumed by the wind-whipped flames. A pickup, a storage building, a car and a camper shell were destroyed despite the efforts of local firefighters and the three units dispatched to the scene. Local firefighters, using depart-

Anyone having purchased cookies from them may call Elizabeth Simms, at 983-3414 or 983-2256, and give her their order again so their requests can be filled and the girls will get credit for their sales.

THIS WAS THE SCENE as firefighters arrived to battle the January 15 blaze which destroyed the Frankie Luna home along with all the family possessions.

Commissioners' Court to retain auto tax

The board of the Floydada Independent School District voted to continue the taxation of licensed vehicles for the purpose of personal property tax collection. The discontinuance of the tax would cost the district approximately $65,000 per year in revenue. Board members agreed that the best interests of the local students would be better served if the tax is levied as usual. A unanimous vote carried the action at the January 14 meeting.

Superintendent Jerry Cannon presented the monthly tax report showing the current levy at $919,729.18 with current collections of $608,858.17. 66% of the collections are complete as opposed to 72.61% at this time last year.

Ricky Burns from City Auto appeared before the board to explain the delay in the delivery of the new ag pickup. Burns said that the 454 engine specified in the original bid was on hold, and none were being manufactured until at least March and possibly not at all due to federal emission controls which went into effect in January. The board was offered two options for handling the matter. The current order could be allowed to stand in anticipation of possible delivery at an unknown date, or the order could be modified for a smaller engine and delivery could be made in approximately six weeks. The board voted to change the order to a 350 cubic inch engine with a 410 rear end and a 400 transmission if

Two bids were received and opened for renewal of the school's property insurance. Floyd County Insurance bid $28,262 and the bid from Goen and Goen Insurance was $14,983. The bid was awarded to Goen and Goen.

Other action at the evening meeting included the approval of a tentative school calendar for the 1985-86 school year, setting an $84.00 per month tuition fee for the 1985-86 school year, and setting April 6, 1985 as the date for the school trustee election. Stella Benjamin was approved to fill the aide position left vacant by the December resignation of an Andrews Ward reading aide.

The audit of the 1983-84 financial records has been completed and was presented for board approval by Mickey Henry of Gary, Thayer, and Bowers, CPA firm. The board reviewed the reports and voted to accept the report as and registered vehicles on the personal property tax rolls of the county. The motion was seconded by Bob Jarrett who stated, "I am in favor

Other action taken on the lengthy agenda the court had to deal with on January 14 included hearing and approving the financial reports of the County Auditor and the County Treasurer. The court also considered the payment of officials on a fee basis rather than a salary basis. They again elected to pay on a salary basis as they have in past years.

The court voted to set the salary on the newly elected Constable for Precinct 3 and $1.00 per year. The motion for the action was made by Sam Spence and stated, "The Commissioner's Court of Floyd County finds that the Sheriff's Office is performing the duties of the Constable's Office of Precinct 3 in relation to the administration of justice in Floyd County and therefore sets salary at $1.00 per year." Bob Jarrett seconded the motion and the vote in favor of the action was unanimous.

The existing County Historical Commission was reappointed to an additional term of two years. Members of the commission are James Word, Joyce Williams, Lela Henry, Mrs. Don Marble, Frank Brown, J.D. Copeland, Tommy Assiter, Choise Smith, and Mrs. Henry Hinton.

A grievance committee for settling employee complaints regarding salaries was chosen from among the names of persons participating in the last grand jury. Four names were drawn at random

Reeves home vandalized

The Harry Reeves residence, on the Ralls Highway, was the site of a break-in which was discovered on Monday, January 14. Reeve's son, Keith, went to check on the house while his parents were out of town and discovered the break-in which he then reported to Sheriff Fred Cardinal.

Cardinal stated, "The house was pretty well messed up inside. It appears to be mostly vandalism although we did recover a few items which may have come from the house in an abandoned house here." Cardinal went on to say, "There were big burned places in the carpets and just general malicious destruction all over.'

Jonelle Fawver, County Tax Assessor and Collector, presented a list of new rules and regulations from the state comptroller's office regarding accountability and security in the tax office. who, with George Christian was at the Shivers home. The governor, he said, had had a massive heart attack.

We shall have more to say about the Governor later, when we have had time to collect our thoughts, but for now it can be said that Texas has just lost a man who was probably one of the best Governor's this state has ever had. His contributions to the political development and maturity of this state are without parallel in modern times. All Texans owed him a great debt, but it was a debt he never asked us to repay. He merely kept working, and contributing, until the day he died. Much will be said, and much will be written, of the life and times of Allan Shivers. We have lost a great and good friend.

Dear Ms. Redding:

I am enclosing a news article that I took out of the old Floydada Hesperian fifty three years ago.

This news item shows that in those years students had to complete 11 years (grades) of the Floydada Public Schools to earn their High School diploma.

The first group was for the High Seventh Grade of which I was a member, that finished their requirements and graduated January 15, 1932. The second group, which was the Low Seventh Grade Class, finished their work in the Spring and graduated May 19, 1932, with 49 students in their class.

Thanking you in advance, I remain -- Sincerely,

Clint Riddley sentenced to 18 years

A six-man, six-woman, all Caucasian jury took just under two hours to convict a 26-year-old Floyd County man of a first degree felony charge. Accused armed robber Clint Riddley was sentenced to 18 years in prison for a $40 holdup of the Allsup's Convenience Store at 1406 Quincy in Plainview last October. The punishment carried by the conviction ranged from five years to life in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The two day trial before Judge Jack Miller climaxed when the jury took only 45 minutes to decide the convicted man's fate. Riddley showed no emotion when sentence was passed by Judge Miller. Riddley did not testify in his own defense.

Key testimony in the trial came from the store clerk, Juanita Magana, and from Delbert Turner, a former friend of Riddley's. Turner, a Plainview resident, testified that Riddley had bragged about committing the 2 a.m. holdup. He stated that Riddley had shown him a newspaper clipping about the October 24 robbery. Turner said that he had tipped the police about Riddley because Riddley was telling people that Turner had committed the crime.

Turner, a parolee after a Castro County conviction for armed robbery, gave testimony which was filled with inconsistencies and defense attorney, Morris Overstreet of Amarillo, pointed this out during his summation. "Take a very critical look at the evidence and the testimony. Are you sure Clint Riddley did it?" Overstreet asked jurors. "Nobody but a three time loser says he did. Could you send anyone to the pentitentiary on Delbert Turner's word?"

"I don't believe the clerk's description is enough to convict. Her description doesn't fit Clint Riddley," said

Magana's testimony on Tuesday described the holdup man as wearing a ski mask, but she said she was able to provide the police with a description because he had "slanted eyes" and an accent "like he couldn't talk English right." She further testified that the bandit was about 6 feet tall, of medium build and weighed about 175 pounds.

Overstreet said Riddley, a light skinned black man with Oriental features, was of stocky build, weighs over 200 pounds and stands about 5 feet 10 inches tall.

The prosecuting attorney was District Attorney Ron Felty.

Hickerson and Cooper complete auction school

Having successfully completed all the requirements of the winter session at the Gregg School of Auctioneering in Plainview, Texas the graduating students are now qualified to cry and completely manage any type of auction sale. Completing the course were Mack Hickerson of Floydada, Barton Cooper of Lockney, John Atterbury of New Deal, George Reynolds of Wellington, Stan Ward of San Marcos, and Steve Wolf of Commerce.

Col. Kenneth Gregg presented each student with a diploma during an impressive ceremony held January 3.

Special awards were presented to John Atterbury as best auctioneer and George Reynolds as best ringman. Mack Hickerson and Stan Ward tied for honors as Most Improved student, so each received an award.

Col. Cecil Rhoades of Marble Falls assisted Col. Gregg in all phases of the instruction covering auctioneering, sales management, and animal evaluation. The winter session was held from December 27 to January 3. The next session will be conducted this summer from July 19 to July 26, 1985.

Whaley transfers WATTS

State Representative Foster Whaley of Pampa recently transferred his incoming toll-free WATTS line number to his Austin office from his Pampa office.

Constituents from Whaley's 84th Legislative District can now dial his Austin office toll-free by dialing 1-800-692-1389. For the past two years, any resident of the 84th District could call Whaley on this same number and reach him in his Pampa office. Now, by dialing the same number, the call will terminate in his Austin office.

This change was made effective January 1, 1985, to coincide with the beginning of the 69th Legislature which convened on January 8, 1985. Mae Beth Palone, Administrative Assistant to Rep. Whaley in Austin, can quickly retrieve information on the status of any bill pending before the legislature or help with other inquiries.

Whaley was granted special permission to have his toll-free WATTS number because of the large 13-county elongated district that runs from Pampa to Reese Air Force Base west of Lubbock. The district is bound on the southern end by Crosby, Dickens and part of Lubbock Counties. The eastern part of the district covers Dickens, Motley, Hall, Childress and Collingsworth Counties. The western counties include Lubbock, Floyd, Briscoe and Armstrong.

Whaley said, "I'm very pleased that every citizen in my legislative district can have equal access to me and my office through the WATTS line." He also added that his 84th District was the first in Texas to have this service.

total contribution of $4,000.

Q. Do I have to contribute the same amount to my IRA every year?

A. No. You can even skip some years if you wish.

O. When can I put money into an IRA for tax year 1984?

A. You can put money into an IRA for a particular tax year anytime until the regular due date for your tax

A. You can put money into an IRA for a particular tax year anytime until the regular due date for your tax return for that year. For tax year 1984, this means that you can contribute to your IRA anytime between January 1, 1984 and April 15, 1985.

Under a new ruling by the Internal Revenue Service that favors taxpayers, you can file your tax return before it is due and still take a deduction for your IRA even if you have not yet made this contribution into your IRA. All you have to do is make sure that you actually make your contribution to your IRA before your return would have been due. For example, you can file your tax return in January and take a deduction for your IRA contribution provided that you actually deposit the amount of your deduction in an IRA before April 15 [the regular tax return due date] of the same year.

I.R.A.

Q. When can I start to withdraw money from my IRA?

A. You can begin to withdraw money from your IRA without penalty when you reach the age of 59½. You have to, however, start drawing out your funds from your IRA once you reach age 70½. At that time, a minimum amount must be withdrawn from your IRA each year [based on estimates from IRS tables.]

Q. Can I have more than one IRA?

A. Yes, you can have two or more different IRA's. You do not have to put all of your money in one account.

Q. Can I open a joint IRA with my spouse?

A. No, you must each open separate accounts. You can, however, each designate the other spouse as the beneficiary in the event of death.

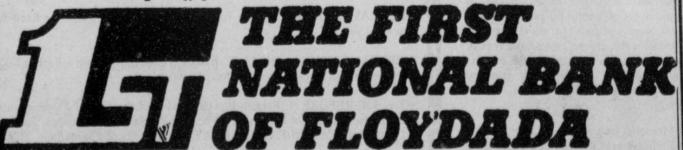

Q. What is the immediate tax advantage of contributing to an IRA? How does it save me money?

A. The money you put in an IRA is deducted from your taxable income for that year. In other words, you pay less in federal income tax. For example, if you are in the 30 percent tax bracket, you would save $600 in federal taxes if you contribute $2,000 to an IRA since you would subtract the $2,000 from your taxable income $[$2,000 \times 30\% = 600 in taxes you would not have to pay].

Q. When do I pay taxes on my IRA?

A. You pay taxes on your IRA when you withdraw money from the account. You pay taxes on all the money you withdraw as ordinary income in the year that you take it out of your IRA. At retirement time, however, most of us will probably be in much lower tax brackets because our annual taxable income will have dropped substantially. Most importantly, the funds in your IRA will have grown tax-free over the years.

Bank employees share favorite art works

An interesting exhibit has been set up mountain lake scene by Terri Marquis throughout the First National Bank of nicely portray a different view of the Floydada for the enjoyment of area world around us. The windmills done in citizens. As the 'artists of the month', the bank employees are sharing their own favorite art works with the public. They have brought many fine pieces of art from their own homes and personal collections to be displayed in the bank.

Local artists on display include Nancy Graham, Florence Van Hoose, Francis Rose, and Terri Marquis.

Graham has several works on exhibit including two in the drive through which have never been displayed before. Her jungle animals are amazingly life-like and the nostalgic country scenes such as "The Barn" are reminiscent of a time gone by.

Van Hoose's sea scape and the oils by Rose evoke the lonely plains area everyone here is familiar with.

Debbie Davis of Muleshoe, Patricia Loree of Taos, New Mexico, and Sam Oswald of Espanola, New Mexico are among the out of town artists being displayed. Loree's watercolor titled "Taos Pueblo" adds a softly cool winter scene in contrast to the brilliant fall colors present in the acrylic titled, "Autumn Meadow" by Oswald.

The First National Bank of Floydada would like to cordially invite the public to view the exhibit at any time during the bank's regular business hours which are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through take care of that equipment used to spray the garden for diseases and insects. Wash the sprayer thoroughly to remove any chemical left in the tank.

Also wash out the nozzles to remove any trash or wettable powders. Once this has been done, fill the tank with clean water and then add a small amount of summer oil. Shake thoroughly and spray a quart to the suspension through the nozzle. Once this has been done, release the pressure and drain the tank thoroughly. Store the sprayer with the lid off in an area that is out of reach of young children. This well help insure that the sprayer is ready for next year.

A hose-on-sprayer should be washed the nozzle tip to insure that no

Many gardeners have chemicals left from last year. In most cases the material, if stored properly, will still be effective for next year. Most fungicides should be protected from exposure to high level of humidity. Place them in a large plastic or glass jar with the lid tightly sealed. Do not remove the chemical from the original container.

Remember, the label on the bag is your final authority on how you can use the fungicide and at what rate. This should be placed in a locked cabinet where it will not be exposed to extreme hot or cold temperatures and out of direct sunlight. With liquid insecticides, seal the container thoroughly and place this directly in a locked cabinet. Destroy any

Brown expresses positive outlook

Steve Brown, owner of Brown Implement, Inc. of Floydada, has a very positive outlook concerning the effect of the proposed purchase of International Harvester's Agricultural Equipment Group by Tenneco. "I believe that it will be a good thing for my business," said Brown. "This dealership is not among those which will be consolidated or closed." 400 dealerships have named for closing or consolidation, but Brown indicated those would come where there is a Case dealer and an IH dealer in the same town.

Brown indicated that the familiar IH logo and red color is expected to remain in evidence after the proposed consolidation is complete. The final go ahead for the consolidation is expected to be forthcoming from the Federal Trade Commission later in January or early in February. A new name for the company has not yet been chosen.

"My business and my customers will continue to receive the same services from the same people they always have.

The Lakeview oilwell is down past 7300 feet, and the crew is drilling at a rate of about 3 feet per hour.

The Rudolph McCurdy's were holiday hosts to their sons and families. Dr. and Mrs. Phil McCurdy and family arrived Christmas Eve and stayed several days. The Larry McCurdy's were also here. Rudolph's mother, Mrs. Nola McCurdy of Floydada was with her family for the tree and dinner on Christmas Day.

Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith and children visited in Spearman with Kay Dean's mother, Mrs. Gertha Gamble a few days before Christmas. They returned home for Christmas Eve. Then, on the 25th they drove over to Lubbock to visit Mr. and Mrs. Flukie Smith.

The Carl Moosbergs were in New Orleans Jan. 5 to the eleventh for the Mechanization and Production Conferences. They returned home Friday evening just as the snow began to fall. Some of the nine hundred people registered for the conference represented all aspects of cotton improvement. The convention was sponsored by the National Cotton Council.

Dean and Hunter Smith attended the Floydada 4-H regular meeting Monday, Jan. 14. They helped provide refreshments for the group. Mrs. Choise Smith accompanied her sons.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison were visited Monday by Milton and Jo Harrison. Also Blanton and Ruby Hartsell dropped in. And Ruth and Don's former neighbors, Charlie and Flukie Smith, now of Lubbock stopped by to say hello.

Our community received from one to three inches of snow over the weekend. The wind blew the country roads clean, but city streets were like glass for those who ventured out.

The report cards have been handed out and a new semester has begun for the students of our community. Best wishes for the rest of the school year, young people.

to save thousands more by ordering one of the Miles Homes Meriden Models in January or February.

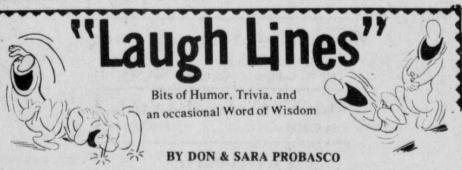

According to the company, the savings come from the fact that the finishing materials, including trim and kitchen cabinets and plumbing, heating and electrical packages described in the Miles Homes Catalog are included with the houses at a significant discount. Normally these packages are sold as optional extras.

"The family that orders in the first two months of 1985 can save several thousand dollars," says Ed Dabrowski, Vice President, Miles Homes. "The Meriden models (I-VI) are some of our most popular models. They are Cape Cod designs that are easily expandable to fit the needs of a growing family. The basic design (Meriden I) offers two comfortable bedrooms, plenty of closet space and ample living room, kitchen with dinette area and large bathroom. The special January/February price, which may vary slightly by region, is $25,400 on an existing slab or $27,800 on an existing foundation."

According to the company all orders for The Meriden Series placed between January 1 and February 28, 1985 will qualify for the special offer provided the customer agrees to accept delivery by May 31, 1985. The normal Miles Homes credit plans as described in the catalog will apply to this offer. In addition, all Miles Homes customers are eligible to attend seminars and workshops conducted by experienced building professionals. These educational sessions are held throughout the year in almost a hundred locations and are designed specifically to help families with little prior experience in building. The sessions are free of charge to all Miles Homes customers.

Miles Homes, founded in 1946, was a pioneer in the build-it-yourself home-building market. Over 20,000 models have been built by their owners, utilizing the company's instruction manuals and pre-cut, coded materials.

The 1985 Miles Homes Catalog illustrates and describes 36 home designs and floor plans and contains information on the company's build-it-yourself program, credit plans and design personalization. The four-color, 68-page catalog is available by writing to Miles Homes, 2408-89th St., Lubbock Texas 79423 or by calling collect (806) 745-3576.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. (AT&T Communications) gives notice to all of its Texas customers that a new procedure for long distance billing was made effective on an interim basis on August 6, 1984 in Docket No. 5800.

The procedure referred to is "Rate Period Specific Billing" and it applies to all message telephone service (AT&T Long Distance calls) including non-REACH OUT Texas calls within the State of Texas. This new procedure effects all AT&T Long Distance customers. All intraLATA long distance calls and all interstate long distance calls are currently billed using this procedure.

Under this procedure, customers are billed a specific charge for long distance calls according to the rate or rates in effect throughout the time of each call. If a call begins in one rate period and extends into a different rate period, the customer will be charged whatever rate is in effect for each portion of the call.

For example, if a customer places a call at 4:58 p.m. on a week-day and talks for ten minutes, the first two minutes of the call would be charged at the full weekday rate which extends from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The remaining eight minutes of the call would be billed at the evening rate which extends from 5:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. and includes a 25% discount. If Rate Period Specific Billing were not in effect, the entire call would have been billed at the higher day rate. Calls which extend from the evening rate period (25% discount) to the night and weekend rate period (40% discount) or from the night and weekend rate period (40% discount) to the day rate period (no discount) would also be billed according to the actual minutes of use during each rate period.

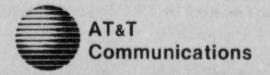

AT&T Communications anticipates a minimal increase of approximately .02% in its revenues or approximately $250,000 annually.

A complete copy of the "Rate Period Specific Billing" tariff is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.
