Floydada stock show sets stage for county show here

FFA and 4-H members in Floydada participated in the initial competition of the Floydada Junior Livestock Show this past weekend. The local show, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, was held at the Floydada show barns on Saturday, February 9. The long months of hard work were put to the test in this event, and many young people received the first rewards for the care and concern they have lavished on their animals in the past few months.

Fifty-eight competitors showed a total of 92 animals, including 46 sheep, 32 barrows, and 14 steers. This total is not as large as past years, but enthusiasm and enjoyment of those involved more than made up for the difference.

Hunter Smith took the Grand Champion award with a lightweight Hampshire in the sheep division. Jon Garrett, who also showed a lightweight

Showmanship awards were made in each area of competition. Coy LaBaume won the Showmanship award in barrows. Haney Robertson was awarded the honor in the sheep division. Chad Edwards earned the award in the steer division.

Each Grand Champion will receive a belt buckle and each Reserve Grand Champion will receive a desk set. Winners placing in each category will receive cash prizes in the amount of: 1st place, $5.00; 2nd place, $4.00; 3rd place, $3.00; 4th place, $2.00; and 5th place, $1.00. First through fifth places will receive ribbons and the Breed Champion and Reserve Breed Champion will each receive rosettes. Belt buckles were donated by The Loft Western Wear, Producer's Co-op Elevator, and Floydada Co-op Gins. Gary Brown and the Chamber of Commerce donated the desk sets. The ribbons, rosettes and cash prizes were donated by the Chamber of Commerce, as were the showmanship plaques.

The competition will continue next weekend with the County Stock Show being held on Saturday, February 16, and Sunday, February 17. All entries must be in the barn by 6:00 p.m. on February 15 when weighing will begin for barrows and sheep. Steers will be weighed beginning Saturday morning at 9:00 a.m. The lamb competition will begin at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, with barrows following at 2:00 p.m. Steers will be shown at 3:00 p.m. on Sunday. The judging contest will be held at 7:45 a.m. on Monday and the annual buyer's lunch will follow at 11:30 a.m. The stock sale is scheduled to begin at 1:00 p.m. with Kenneth Gregg of Plainview presiding as auctioneer.

The Floyd County Farm Bureau will sponsor the annual banquet at the Lockney Elementary School Cafeteria at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, February 19. Trophies will be awarded to exhibitors at the banquet.

GRAND CHAMPION STEER—Amy Hinsley leads out her heavy weight Cross Breed Champion after he was announced as being the Grand Champion steer at the Floydada Junior Livestock Show.

Police Chief Doug Brewer's resignation, dated February 5, was accepted with regret by the city council on Tuesday night, February 12th. Brewer stated his resignation was for "personal reasons which prevent me from giving a two week notice." He stated he felt that the police department was a good one with good officers and that he had enjoyed working with them. He also expressed his gratitude to the city council for their support. The city council members expressed regret at his leaving and unanimously agreed that Brewer had been a good chief and that he would be missed.

Assistant Chief James Hale was appointed, after an executive session, as Acting Chief of Police and his salary to that of the chief. Officer Roy Muniz was hired fulltime with hours increased from 36 to 45 hours and his salary was increased to that of the assistant chief.

Hale has been a police officer in Floyd County since 1977, serving with the Lockney Police Department and the Floyd County Sheriff's Department, before coming to the Floydada Police Department approximately 2½ years ago.

Hale was born in Lockney February 7, 1941 to Roy and Ruth Hale. Except for some time spent in the Navy, James has lived in Floyd County all his life. He married his wife Jean, a schoolteacher at R.C. Andrews, in 1962, and they will be celebrating 23 years of marriage in June. James and Jean have three children, Joey, 20, who farms; James III who is 21 years old and living in Dallas trying to start a computer firm; and Debbie, a 17 year old senior in Floydada

High School. All of Hale's brothers are involved in the law enforcement field. Two work in the Lubbock Sheriff's Department and one with the City Marshall's office in Ropesville.

James is a member of the First Methodist Church and has been involved in many community activities including Young Farmers, Civil-Air Patrol-Search and Rescue Division, school activities and organizations, and numerous safety lectures in the community.

The resolution to support the Floyd County Appraisal District in the seizing of delinquent personal property failed to pass city council vote. The council further approved cars and light trucks used for personal use to be taken off the 1985 City Tax Roll. However, if the vehicle is used as a business vehicle or it is a recreational vehicle, it will continue to be taxed.

The rate charges for Floydada Cable T.V. were discussed by City Council. A proposal was made to Joe D. McKinnis, manager of Cable T.V., by the council to approve a $1.00 rate increase if SIN cable channel was provided, and only 60 cent rate increase if it was not provided. An increase of $.50 in addition to the current rate of $1.00 was approved for each additional outlet. After checking with his superiors McKinnis approved the proposal from city council, but stated that for the increase the Nashville station and Spanish International would be provided. Donna McClendon, manager of the local office, stated that the customer could pay for a full year before March which would entitle them to a 5% discount and no rate increase for the first year. New rates will go into effect the first of March.

The bids on seal coating paved streets for the 1985 summer program were opened.

Caprock Highway Construction of Lubbock submitted a bid for 58 cents per square yard for a total bid of $29,580 to be complete in 60 days.

Lipham Construction of Aspermont bid 63.7 cents per square yard. Their total bid was $32,487 and 60 days to complete.

The firm of Three-way Construction, of Altus, Oklahoma, sent a bid of 91 cents per square yard for a total of $46,410 with a completion date of five days.

Applan Corp. of Hereford bid the job complete in 120 days at 60 cents per square yard for a total bid of $30,600.

High Plains Pavers of Plainview bid 53 cents per square yard for a total bid of $27,030 and 60 days to complete.

Council accepted the lowest bid from High Plains Pavers of Plainview.

The council also moved to modernize their 20 year old phone system with a newer system from AT&T, the Merlin 820 Communications System. 16 new phones will be installed and replace those at city hall, the fire station and other city buildings. The purchase price will be $337.93 a month for 36 months. Also included was a $15.00 monthly service charge for maintenance of the system.

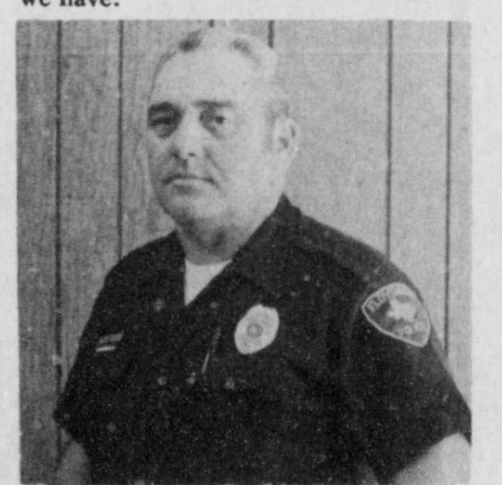

The date for the city officials election was set for April 6, 1985, for the purpose of electing a mayor and two councilmen. The positions expiring are held by Wayne Russell and Frank Breed. Neither Russell or Breed gave any indication if they would run for re-election. Discussion of the proposed city operating budget and revenue sharing budget for the fiscal year April 1, 1985 through March 31, 1985 was set for March 12, 1985 at 7:30 p.m.

Other action taken by the city council was the reappointment of Bill Feuerbacher as the director of the West Texas Municipal Power Agency, for a one year term, the approval of line item adjustments on the current city budget, and the authorization of Glenn Reddick and Larry Gawlik to continue the electric power study started in November, 1984. The discussion of insurance on electric sub-station was tabled until more information could be gathered.

A request to pave south of John Key West property on Garrison and Crockett Streets was tabled.

Jimmie Lou Stewart, city secretary, was surprised with a big red heart shaped Valentine box of candy at the end of the meeting. The candy was given to her by all of the councilmen who named her "the best sweetheart we have."

Caldwell and Westwind to perform

For an evening full of entertaining boot stomping, hand clapping, fiddle playing and all around great country music, don't miss 'A Little Bit Country' on Saturday, February 16th, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. It will feature "West Texas best dressed fiddle player", Cecil D. Caldwell, and our local group Westwind. Cecil Caldwell will catch one's eye with his trademark white hat and suit, and keep those in attendance tapping with his original amplified dancing board and warm their hearts with fiddle playing and impromptu comedy.

Caldwell is probably best known from his association with the West Texas Opry, but this Hunt County, Texas, native has entertained from ranch house dances to the symphony, and even played for the President. He has also shared the stage with notables such as the fiddling Miss Texas, Judy Mallet, and grammy award winning song writer Ken McDuffy. "The biggest honor I've had lately," says Cecil, "is performing with Johnny Gimble in New Mexico at the Lea County Cowboy Hall of Fame."

His famous showmanship has also been used for the aid of others. Benefit performances for Girlstown U.S.A., West Texas Boys Ranch, The United Way and the Multiple Sclerosis Society illustrates his deep community awareness. He has also served as chairman of the "Miss Lubbock Pageant", the ABC Rodeo, and he founded the Old Time Fiddlers Contest at the South Plains Fair.

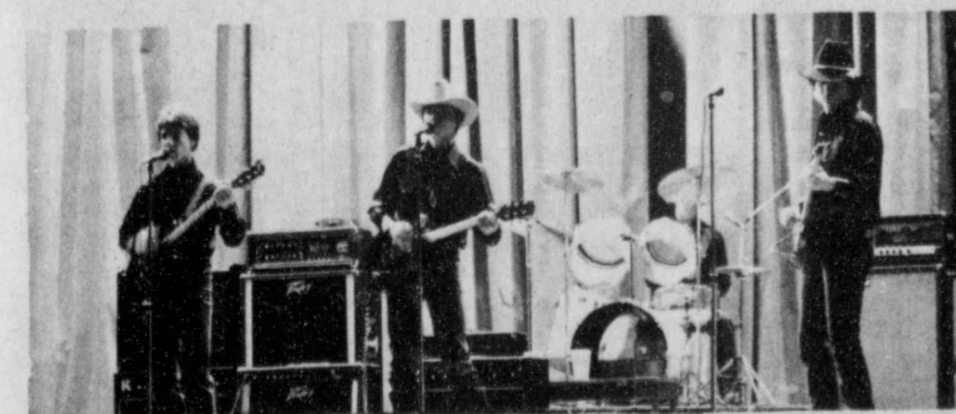

To add to the entertainment will be the country and western band Westwind who will accompany Cecil in some of his numbers in addition to performing in numerous numbers of their own. Westwind has performed in various area towns and have played at the last two Rotary shows. They have also entertained at Old Settlers Day for two years. The Westwind group is composed of our own Floyd County boys, Roger Alldredge, Brian Sanders, Keith Owens, and Tim Burns.

"A Little Bit Country" is the annual Rotary fundraiser. Tickets for the show are $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for students and may be purchased from any Rotarian. All the proceeds for the show go to various civic projects.

Baker Road to be complete mid '86

A public hearing for the Baker Road project was held in conjunction with the regular monthly meeting of the Floyd County Commissioners' Court on February 11. Several representatives from the Texas Highway Department met with the court and interested citizens at 3:00 p.m. in the courthouse to exchange information and comment on the project. Glenn Johnson from Lubbock explained the right of way acquisition and the need for some relocation of utility lines and fencing. The district engineer, James Johnson, stated, "The money is there, and we are ready to go."

The project will begin at U.S. Highway 70 and travel south and southeast along FM road 602 to join FM 1958 about 4 miles east of Lakeview and 5 or 6 miles west of Dougherty. The project is 7.86 miles long and will cost approximately $846,400.00 to complete. The road will have two 10 feet wide paved lanes with two four feet wide paved shoulders when complete.

The estimated date of completion is mid 1986, according to highway department personnel. The completed plans must be approved in Austin and the right of way easements obtained before a bid letting can be held, "sometime in June if there are no major difficulties," said Judge Choise Smith.

Residents of the area voiced comments in favor of the project as they are now inconvenienced by the poor quality of the present road and many have suffered damage to their vehicles when traveling the road.

Actions occurring at the February session of the court included the monthly reports of the County Treasurer, Glenna Orman, and the County Auditor, Bobbie Hamilton. Both reported that monetary matters in the county are adhering closely to the budget adopted by the court. Orman reported that 88.81% of the current tax roll has been collected and that over $27,000 in delinquent taxes have been collected since January 1.

Hamilton reported that the county has $1,267,000.00 on deposit in certificates of deposit which earned $5,770.54 in interest in January. She also told the court, "The equipment purchases made by the court recently have been well planned for over a period of years as funds have accumulated."

Judge Smith said "We are not in debt, and we have a little surplus. I think that shows we are tending to business, and we are prepared for an emergency if one arises."

The Friends of the Library have applied for tax exempt status and will now be handling the funds being set aside for the construction of the Floyd County Library. The court voted to release the funds under their control which are earmarked for the project to the organization. A total of $13,037.36 will be transferred to the Friends of the Library and all future donations will be forwarded to the organization.

The bids for the county depository were opened at 10:00 a.m. First National Bank of Floydada was the only bidder and the institution will continue to be the agency of deposit for the county as it has in the past.

Karen Stallings, a representative of Blue Cross from Lubbock, met with the court to report the health insurance rates for the county will remain the same as last year when the contract comes up for renewal in April. "The rate for life insurance will decrease by $0.07 per $1,000 of coverage. The rate last year was $1.43 and the new rate will be $1.36," she stated. "Rates for health insurance are based on the benefits package chosen and the amount of usage the plan receives."

The court made necessary line item adjustments to the budget and approved a farm work contract for Louis and Robert Pyle 1 1/4 miles south of the Lakeview Gin. The request was for a pit to be dug and an old foundation moved.

Miss Floydada contestants must sign up deadline is March 14

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce is making tentative plans to present a Miss Floydada Pageant on the night of Saturday, April 13.

Whether the Chamber proceeds with the project will depend on the number of girls who enter the contest. A minimum of 15 contestants is needed.

The application forms are available in the junior high and high school offices. There will be a $25 entry fee, which will be used to defray the expense of trophies, crown, decorations, printing, etc. To be eligible, contestants must be a student of Floydada High School next school term and must secure parental consent. Those who wish to do so may ask a merchant or an organization to be her sponsor and pay her $25 entry fee. The deadline for entry is March 14.

Impartial, out-of-town judges will conduct a private interview of all the contestants on the afternoon preceding the pageant. During the pageant, girls will model formal gowns and sports or casual wear. Although there will be no talent portion in the contest, the contestants as a group may perform a song-and-dance routine.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three contestants chosen by the judges. There will also be a plaque awarded to the girl chosen as "Miss Congeniality." The winner will be given a crown (which she may keep), a bouquet of roses donated by Williams Florist, the first place trophy, and will have her photo made by R Photography. She will also be presented in the parade on Old Settlers Day.

Other merchants wishing to sponsor a contestant or wishing to contribute merchandise or gift certificates to the winners may contact James Williams. Girls who would like more information about the pageant, or who wish to enter, should contact James and Cindi Williams, or Nettie Ruth Whittle.

VERA LYNN STEWART, winner of $1,000 in Buddy's IGA Gamorama, says, "I was very surprised. Even though I have the money I still can't believe it is true." James Widener, manager of the local store, presented the prize money to Stewart on February 11.

Personnel changes made

An executive session following the regular meeting of the Floydada Independent School District yielded some changes in the administrative end of the system. The contracts of several principals and program directors were to be reviewed before renewal. Ronnie Wood, principal of high school, was extended for one year, which will carry his appointment through the 1986-87 school year. Charles Tyer, principal of Andrews Elementary, and Joe Paty, director of the athletic program, received extensions of their contracts through the same date.

One of the most significant changes occurring Monday night was the transfer of Jimmie Collins, currently principal of the junior high, to the administrative office at the end of this school year. Effective June 1st, Collins will become the administrative assistant to superintendent Jerry Cannon. Cannon said, "Mr. Collins will be handling purchasing, transportation, curriculum, cafeteria and other business affairs."

Bob Copeland and Bob Alldredge, principal at Duncan and Caprock Plan A Director, respectively, failed to have their contracts renewed. The two current contracts will expire with the 1985-86 school year. Copeland, in a telephone conversation on February 12, stated, "I am planning to retire at the end of the 1985-86 school year." Alldredge stated, "I have not made up my mind beyond the 1985-86 school year, so I saw no point in the board extending my contract to the '86-'87 school year."

In other action at the regular session, Herman Graham appeared before the board to propose purchasing the Sandhill School building and the land it occupies. Herman offered the board $1,500.00 for the 1.19 acres the deteriorating building rests on. Graham stated his intention of "demolishing the structure and erecting a marker to commemorate the location of the school." Board members unanimously agreed to accept the offer.

Cannon reported that Duncan Elementary School is being warmed by heaters on loan from Consumers Fuel, courtesy of Larry Barbee. The district has the use of the heaters until the heating system has been repaired.

The board amended a previous action, replacing Darlynn Hambricht with Margaret Collier in overseeing absentee voting for the trustees election to be held April 6. Absentee balloting will take place in the County Clerk's office in the courthouse.

Information concerning proposed House Bill 402, a discipline bill, was distributed along with copies of two appraisal forms to be used for the evaluation of teacher performance. The board was asked to familiarize themselves with this information for future discussion.

Cannon told the board that Ricky Burns from City Auto had indicated that delivery of the long awaited ag pickup could be expected around February 18.

An inventory conducted by band director, Paul Stapp, brought to light a number of missing items. "It has been so long since an inventory was done," said Cannon, "that it is not possible to determine when or how the equipment was lost." A claim submitted to the insurance company brought a check for $3750.00 in return. "It was a surprise, but one we welcome," stated Cannon.

Current ad valorem tax collections stand at $774,131.96 as of January 31, making collections 84% complete as opposed to 88% at the same time last year. A balance of $145,597.22 remains to be collected on the current tax roll.

Alyne Evans resigned her position as finance coordinator in a letter read during the meeting. Evans has left the position to accept other employment. Board members voted to employ two new teachers. Katie McAdam will be the new Title I reading teacher at Duncan Elementary, and Lavelle Bradford will be teaching 3rd grade, also at Duncan.

CREWS started casing the oil well in the Lakeview community late Monday.

Breezers finish season 8 - 0

On January 28, the Floydada seventh grade Breezers made their season record 8-0 by defeating Dimmitt 29-17.

Players involved in the scoring were: Craig Forbes, 8 points; Grant Stovall, Joe Cisneros, and Harvey Soliz each scored 4 points; Frank Suarez made 3 points; and Shay Hearon, Kenneth Collins, and Jesse Suarez had 2 points each.

The final game of the season pitted the Breezers against Tulia on their court. The Breezers won a well-played game 39-25, ending the season with a perfect record, 9-0, and winning the District Championship.

Joe Cisneros made 10 points, Jesse Suarez 9, Frank Suarez 8, Ray Lopez 4, and Craig Forbes, Shay Hearon, Kenneth Collins, and Adrian Pleasant each had 2 points.

"I am very proud of each player on the team. If they will stick together, they should continue to be very successful in the future," said Coach Tim James. "I feel very lucky to be able to coach such fine young men."

Chief of police resigns

Doug Brewer resigned his position as Chief of Police on Wednesday, February 6th. This brought to an end almost five years of service on the police force of Floydada.

The reason given by Brewer for resigning is, "It is personal and does not reflect in any way any unhappiness with my job." Brewer said, "I have had more cooperation from the citizens and support from the city council than in any other job I've ever had in my 10 years as a police officer. The city council never turned down a request by the police department while I was the chief. I want to thank them for their support and also the support of the citizens of this town."

Brewer's parents, Riley and Inez Brewer, moved to Clovis, New Mexico, in 1940, where Doug Brewer was born in 1947. His career in law enforcement started in Clovis as a deputy sheriff.

Brewer moved to Lubbock in 1977 and began work in January of 1980 for the Lubbock County Sheriff's Department.

In May of 1981 he came to Floydada and started working with the City Police as a patrolman. When Chief Scott Newton resigned in August 1982, Brewer was appointed acting chief. Following on September 15, 1982, he was appointed the chief of police of Floydada.

The future is uncertain for Brewer at this time. "I'm not sure what I am going to do now, or whether I'll leave town," Brewer said, "but personal reasons have brought about this decision, and there is one thing for certain, I'm sure sorry about leaving, and I'll miss working for and with the City of Floydada."

Come out to the County Stock Show.

Sylvia Adair made 4 points and 2 rebounds. Angie Bertrand also came up with 2 rebounds. Angie Hinsley, Joey Thayer, Denise Morren, and Tana Turner each had 1 rebound.

The girls next appearance on the boards was January 26 at the Crosbyton Tournament. Frenship was the preliminary opponent the girls faced. They defeated Frenship 46 to 25. By Mrs. Murray Julian
 South Plains, February 11:
 February is hurrying by us, but with chilling winds the last few days it does now seem near to spring. Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays are upon us and spring is just around the corner. The fields here are still muddy, as soon as they thaw in the mornings.
 A lovely birthday party for Mrs. Wanda Teeple, given at the Floydada Nursing Home in Floydada, was enjoyed by guests as they gathered Sunday afternoon at 3:00 in the dining area there with many friends and relatives joining in the birthday celebration. A lovely birthday cake with ice cream and punch was enjoyed by those who gathered including Leighton and Juanita Teeple, Sybil Teeple, Mildred Hamm, Addie and James Hartline of Levelland, Gloria Ann Gross from Petersburg, Mike and Terry Thompson with children, Jonathan and Julie of Plainview, all joining in wishing Mrs. Teeple a happy birthday.
 Kristi Julian visited her folks, the Kendis Julians, over the weekend from Lubbock. She attended South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning.
 Grigsby Milton was confined to his home over the weekend with a virus. The cold wind and weather was not conducive to being out in it very long.
 The home of Mrs. Margaret Kitchens on the Silvertown highway was the setting for a baby shower on Saturday.

February 9 from 3:40 p.m. honoring baby, Tasha Powell and her mother, Mrs. D'Lee Powell.
 The serving table was laid with a white linen cloth and a beautiful bouquet of pink flowers in a bowl for the baby, centered the table. Crystal appointments were used for serving dainty cookies and punch to guests.
 Specially honored guests were grandmothers of Tasha, Mrs. Neta Marble and Mrs. Ouita Powell.
 About thirty guests were present. Hostesses for the shower were: Mamie Wood, Tonya Kitchens, Ann Hartman, Ruby Lee Higginbotham, Teresa Lutrick, Ronnette De Prieste, Dee Ann Evans, Sherre Holmes, Bonnie Julian, Dot Carthel, Kim Powell, Pat Wood, Pat Stewart, Nina Upton, and Arlene Crowner.
 The Baptist church here at South Plains will go to Floydada next Wednesday night, Feb. 20th at 7:00 p.m. for the associational evangelism meeting, which will be in the main auditorium of the First Baptist Church.
 The Blue and Gold banquet of the boy scouts will be held in fellowship hall of the Baptist church on February 21.
 Wednesday, Feb. 6, was a cold and gray day, with ice crystals heavy on each and every bush and tree on this very cold day.
 Ruby Higginbotham, Nell McClung and Sue Higginbotham left Friday for Temple where they visited over Saturday and part of Sunday, coming home Sunday evening, after visiting Kelly Higginbotham at Temple, where she is teaching the second grade. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Cypert and Mrs. Edith Guggenheim of Amarillo are here visiting Ruby Higginbotham Monday and Tuesday.

Information about your changing telephone service from Jim West, Manager-Community Relations

Divestiture revisited: one year later

A little over three years ago—January 8, 1982, to be exact—we were stunned by the announcement that AT&T would divest itself of 22 operating companies, including Southwestern Bell, in exchange for the federal government dropping its 8-year-old anti-trust suit.

Most of us remember that moment: where we were when we heard the news, the looks on the faces around us, the feeling in the pit of the stomach as it slowly dawned on us what it was going to take to dismember the world's largest corporation.

We did what we had to do—all the while wondering if it would work.

Today, it works. Although every one of us is still analyzing divestiture's effects on our responsibility areas and working out the glitches, we've come a long way.

Service has remained at quality levels

A year ago, when divestiture took place, some thought the Bell System breakup would cause local telephone service to deteriorate drastically. But it hasn't.

And the many changes haven't always been easy—on you or on us. We still don't know where some of our longtime work friends in other departments wound up. And I can imagine the consternation of many customers who had been accustomed over the years to one call doing all, being told overnight they would have to get their own telephones.

To help you with your questions, we introduced a series of informational booklets in 1984 called "Tele-Help." And, as a result of your questions, more booklets are coming this year, including a series for small businesses.

New revenues, new services and budget cutting

One of the principal axioms of our business has always been, "to serve well, we must earn well." Since divestiture, that's never been truer in Texas.

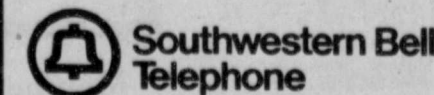

It's important to point out we've managed to get through the first year on our own as a stand-alone company without any significant increase in local residence rates. In fact, flat-rate residential service increased only 30 cents per month in 1984—and that was the result of a rate filing a year earlier.

And despite all the havoc of divestiture, our internal measurements tell us service has never been better in Texas.

But more than ever, we understand that really satisfying customers requires a great deal more than looking good on a monthly service report. We know we have some weak spots, but we're working on them.

You see, the ultimate judge is not what our surveys tell us, but what you tell us.

And serving you is our only business. We appreciate the opportunity to do so.

BY DON & SARA PROBASCO

You can't fool all of the people all of the time. Some of them are busy fooling you.

The reason so many people don't recognize opportunity is that it often comes disguised as hard work.

Archaeologists recently unearthed some Egyptian writings thought to be about 3,000 years old. One paragraph contained the following thought: "The three worst things in life are (1) To lie in bed and sleep not, (2) To wait for one who comes not, and (3) To try to please and please not.

One of the greatest mistakes in life is to do nothing because you can only do little.

Exhilaration is that feeling you get just after a great idea hits you, and just before you realize what's wrong with it.

Ninety percent of the friction of daily life is caused by the wrong tone of voice.

While we're young, a lot of us spend a great deal of time worrying about what the world thinks of us. By the time we reach 40, we come to realize that the world wasn't really paying all that much attention.

District Probation Officer lectures on county crime

Mrs. W.B. Parrack was hostess to the 1929 Study Club on February 1. Roll call was answered by naming a county official. After reports of the ill were given, it was voted to donate to the Crime Line program.

James Williams, guest speaker, was then introduced. He is District Probation Officer serving Floyd, Motley, Briscoe and Dickens counties. He is a busy man trying to help people who are in trouble. He said there is some shoplifting, some prostitution, and too much beer drinking in Floydada. He aims to motivate violators to get jobs, keep jobs and become better citizens. He told of some interesting cases he had dealt with. Refreshments, carrying out the Valentine theme, were served to: Mrs. Nettie Adams, Mmes. H.O. Cline, Roy Fawver, C.W. Denison, Clarence Goins, C.M. Meredith, Miss Frances Mitchell, Anne Swepston, Mrs. Ben Whitaker and guests, Mrs. Marie Tardy, James Williams and the hostess, Mrs. Parrack. The club's next meeting will be March 7 with Mrs. Goins and Mrs. Meredith hosting.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Florence Van Hoose
Monday morning devotions were by Trinity Church. The singers were the Rev. G.A. Van Hoose, Dartha Westbrook, and Shirley Varner. The Rev. Van Hoose spoke about divine guidance and dedication. In the afternoon some of the residents painted ceramics and some of them made book markers. The men got all spruced up with a new haircut.
Tuesday morning devotions were by Brother Neeley Richardson. He spoke from Luke 15 about the prodigal son. We enjoyed the devotions and also the banana break. Brother Neeley brings bananas each Tuesday for all the residents and the staff. We appreciate this act of kindness. In the afternoon we had a good time of Bible study, sharing, and prayer.
Wednesday morning devotions were by City Park Church of Christ. The singers were Eunice Hardy, Elva Blum, Ruby Hartsell, Lula Teague, Mary Spears, Beulah Baker, Mary Hale and Lorilla Bradley. In the afternoon Jo Bryant came and played Bingo with us. The big winner this week was Myra Hall.

Thursday morning devotions were by Dartha Westbrook and Florence. In the afternoon we played three hot games of "42". Charlie Lewis and Charlie Spence beat Ruth Benson and Florence 2 out of 3 games.
Friday morning devotions were by Mary Coreley and Flora Fawver and Freida Simpson. Mary spoke about love in missions. In the afternoon we had a rhythm band session.

Artists of month named

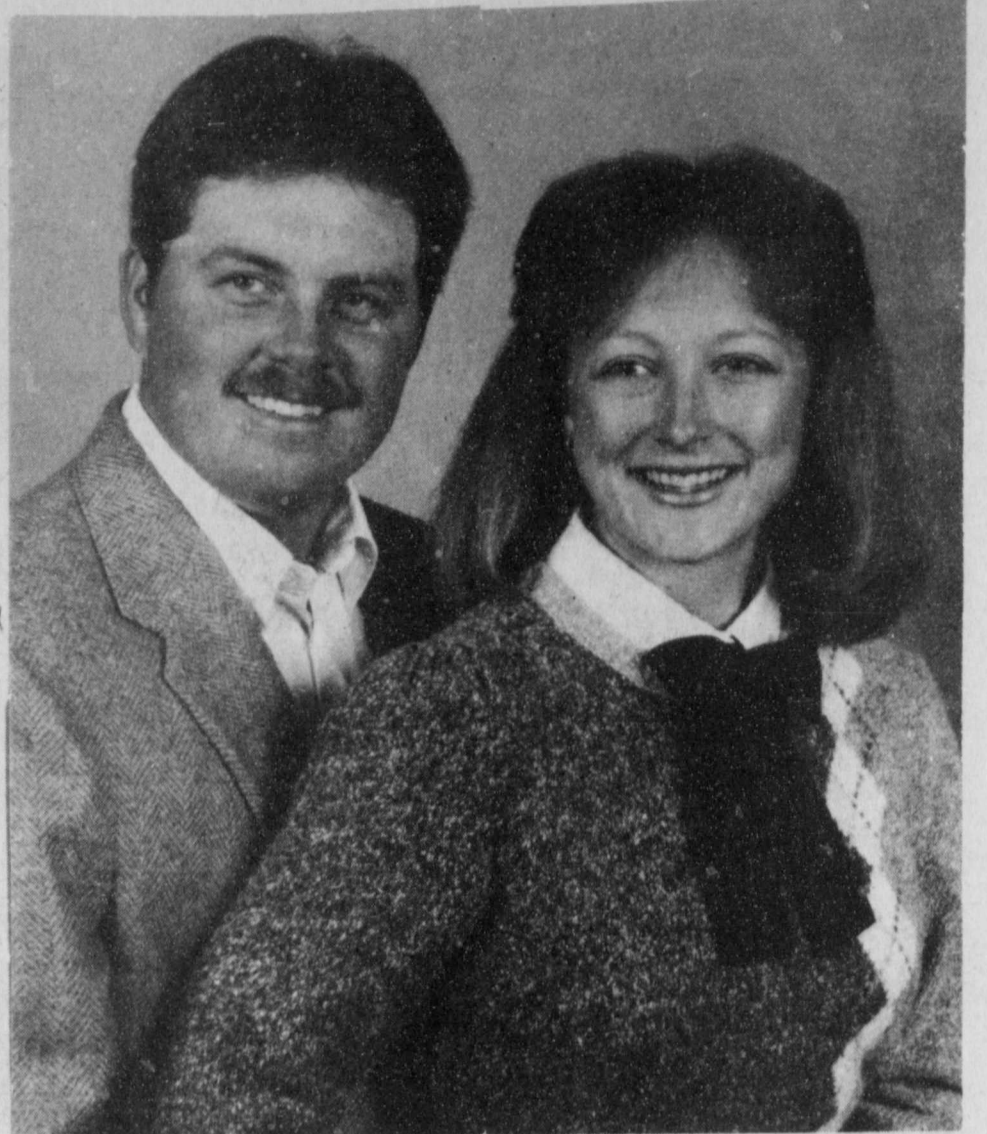

Co-artists of the month at the First National Bank of Floydada this month are Juanita Teeple and Navolia Kinslow for the month of February.
Juanita Teeple works in oils and says, "I have enjoyed oil painting most of all, even though I have worked in ceramics, stained glass, and have knitted in the past."
Teeple has studied with Ricky Davis of Plainview and Ruth Barnett of Hale Center. She has also been involved in workshops with Kathy McKenzie, Geraldine Hipps, Kathryn Stephens, Nell Pritchett, Jean Green, and Paul Melosevich of Lubbock.

Lifelong residents of Floyd County, Teeple and her husband Leighton, a farmer, have been residents of the South Plains Community since 1949.
Navolia Kinslow began painting as a hobby after her children left home for college to fill her spare time. She began with China painting and studied with Eva Tackett and Mary Webb.
"It wasn't until later that I began the study of oil painting," said Kinslow. "I have studied under Nell Pritchett, Ricky Davis, and Ruth Barnett. I have found it to be very interesting and rewarding."

DAR Liberty Love Day proclaimed February 14

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution has proclaimed Thursday, February 14, 1985, as LIBERTY LOVE DAY. On this day, all 211,000 members will participate in a one-day nationally coordinated effort to raise funds for the restoration of the Statue of Liberty. Locally the Buffalo Grass Chapter is sponsoring this effort, with each member making her own contribution and contacting at least five non-members for donations.
The Statue of Liberty will be 100 years old in 1986 and a major undertaking is in progress to restore this majestic monument. The ravages of time, salt air and pollution have taken serious toll. Work is being done on the skeletal structure as well as the outside to insure the preservation of this great symbol of Freedom. It will take over two years to complete the restoration and cost a total of $45 million, according to the Statue of Liberty/Ellis Island Foundation. The rededication is scheduled for the Statue's birthday - October 28, 1986.

Both the Statue, built in France, and its pedestal, built in the United States, were funded by private citizens. The total restoration is being paid for in the same way. The DAR has chosen Valentine's Day as an appropriate time for an outpouring of love and support for Lady Liberty...over 200,000 Daughters united to help another damsel in distress.

You were cute then and you are cute now.
Happy Valentine, Ray

Nuptial vows exchanged by Heinrich-Irwin

Darlene Frances Heinrich and Patrick Dail Irwin were united in marriage at 2:00 p.m. Saturday, February 9 at St. Joseph's Church in Slaton. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Hanly of St. Elizabeth's of Lubbock and co-celebrant Monsignor Peter Morsch of Slaton, assisted by Deacon Darris Linder.

The bride is the daughter of Franklin and Josetta Heinrich of Slaton. The groom's parents are Sherman and Audene Irwin of Lubbock, formerly of Floydada and Fairview community.

The church was decorated with arrangements of gladioli, snapdragons, and carnations. Two nine-branch spiral candelabra were lit by altar boys Craig Schniers and Derick Dodson, cousin of the bride, during an organ prelude by Laverne Jones of Slaton, who also accompanied vocalist Mickey Miles, also of Slaton.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of satin overlaid with English net and floral motifs. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline, with a yoke of sheer net and beaded lace. The sleeves were Princess Diana puffs of satin embellished with rosebuds, closing beneath the puff to long, sheer, fitted sleeves with floral lace accents. The full satin skirt and cathedral train were overlaid with English net and floral lace, with a pleated flounce of satin crystal. She wore a fingertip veil edged in floral lace motifs, anchored by a headpiece covered in Alencon lace, with a looped cascade of pearls accenting one side. She carried a cascade bouquet of white cymbidium orchids with purple throats, white sweetheart roses, and stephanotis with streamers.

For something old, she wore a white sapphire engagement ring belonging to her grandmother Acker. Something new was a newly minted penny which she wore in her shoe. She carried a Bible covered in mother-of-pearl which was brought from the Holy Land by Mrs. V.D. Turner, grandmother of the groom, as something borrowed, and wore the traditional blue garter.

Serving the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Brenda Heinrich of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Shelli Johnson of Lubbock, sister of the groom; Gayle Gage of Lubbock; and Debora Arnold, also of Lubbock.

They wore matching gowns of Satinerra in a deep amethyst shade, with a dramatic, tightly pleated bodice, puffed sleeves, and a full circle skirt. They carried cascade bouquets of fresh rubrum lilies and mini-carnations accented with eucalyptus and streamers. In their hair, they wore fresh clusters of mini-carnations and tiny amethyst ribbon streamers.

Serving as flower girl was Amanda Wines of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, who wore a dress identical to the other attendants and carried a basket of pink and purple flowers decorated with amethyst streamers.

The ring bearer, Derrick Pate of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, was resplendent in a dove gray tuxedo and purple cummerbund matching those of the groom and his attendants.

Serving the groom as best man was his brother, Mike Irwin of Lubbock. Groomsmen were Lonny Heinrich, brother of the bride, Chris Nicklas, and Edwin Gage, all of Lubbock. Ushers were Randy Heinrich of Lubbock, brother of the bride; Craig Heinrich of Slaton, also a brother of the bride; Jimmy Johnson of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the groom; and David Womak of Lubbock, friend of the couple.

Scripture readings preceding the rite of marriage were given by Randy Heinrich and Don Vogel, brother-in-law of the groom. During the mass, the offertory gift was presented by the bride's godparents, Aurelia and Al Schoenberger. The registry was attended by Trish Nieswiadomy.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in St. Joseph's Hall. The bride's table, draped in white linen overlaid with lace and caught up at the corners with amethyst bows, was centered with three votive candles surrounded by an arrangement of eucalyptus, carnations, and purple daisies. A background of lattice-work was decorated with plumosa and greenery, with a large amethyst bow in the center. The three-tiered wedding cake and grape punch were served from silver appointments by Kathleen Weaver, Elaine Orr, Becky Freeman, and Ronna Whitson.

The groom's table, which was covered in dove gray linen, featured a large chocolate cake in the shape of a double heart, a large brass coffee urn and other brass appointments. Attendants at the groom's table were Lori King, Kim Vogel, and Carol Womble, all cousins of the groom.

Another circular table draped in white linen overlaid with lace held an ornate brass champagne fountain.

Following the reception, a dinner catered by Priscilla's of Lubbock and hosted by the bride's parents, was served to over 200 family members and friends.

St. Joseph's Hall was also the site of a dance at 7:30 featuring live music by the Rex Thomas Band. Leading the wedding party in the Grand March to begin the dance were Grand Marshalls Regina and John Warren, aunt and uncle of the bride.

A rehearsal dinner hosted by the parents of the groom was held Friday evening at the Roadhouse restaurant in Lubbock.

The bride, a graduate of Texas Tech University, is employed by Sentry Savings. The bridegroom, also a Texas Tech graduate, is employed by Irwin Steel Erectors.

The couple will reside in Lubbock, following a wedding trip to Runaway Bay, Jamaica.

FARM NEWS

FmHA combines Floyd and Briscoe offices

The county offices of Farmers Home Administration have been combined in Floyd and Briscoe Counties. The change is the result of a restructuring of the offices throughout the state. Several changes in the location of county and headquarters offices were necessary to provide adequate service in many areas of the state.

The two counties will now be served out of the office in Floydada which will remain in district two with headquarters in Plainview. FmHA state director J. Lynn Futch said that "combining the county offices will not affect individual loan customers with FmHA." Prior to the restructuring, Briscoe County was served out of the Swisher County office in Tula.

The Floydada office is located at 107

West California in Floydada and the phone number is (806) 983-2430. The county supervisor is Becky Via who said "The addition of the Briscoe area to the office will just about double the case load of this office."

FmHA has steadily been making loans available to farmers and other rural and small town people or groups who are unable to obtain financing elsewhere. The FmHA makes loans for housing, agricultural purposes, and a variety of community facilities in addition to guaranteeing repayment of housing, farm, business, and industry loans made by private lenders under some circumstances. The Farmers Home Administration is a rural credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Heifers facing vaccination

Many heifers born late last winter or early spring will be a year old soon and will be facing the deadline of brucellosis vaccination.

A new regulation on brucellosis vaccinations was adopted by the Texas Animal Health Commission last November, point out Richie Crow, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. The key part of the regulation focuses on the vaccination of heifers before they reach one year of age.

With heifers approaching this target date, producers must decide how such animals will be handled, says Crow. Their decision must be based on the provisions of the brucellosis vaccination regulation, which applies to 113 eastern, coastal and northern counties:

1. Heifer calves born after January 1, 1984 which are between 4 and 12 months of age and acquired and used for breeding, grazing, dairying, or confinement in a dry lot not under quarantine must be officially vaccinated according to the amended regulation.

2. Heifer calves born after January 1, 1984, which are unvaccinated when they are over 12 months of age may change ownership only after being spayed or consigned to a livestock market to be spayed or "S" branded prior to the sale; or consigned directly to slaughter, quarantined feedlot or quarantined pasture.

State funds are available for free vaccinations, notes Mr. Crow. Producers should contact their own private veterinarian or their area Texas Animal Health Commission office for complete details.

Livestock producers should make sure their calves are properly identified

Samples can still be tested

It's not too late to collect soil samples for testing to determine fertilizer needs for this year's crops.

Collecting soil samples now and getting them tested can help farmers get a jump on the spring rush at soil testing labs, says Benny Butler, County Agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Once fertilizer needs are determined, farmers can place their orders, Butler says. Again, by ordering early, they can avoid the spring rush. Also fertilizers usually cost more in the spring when demand is greater and supplies tighter.

With fertilizer at hand, farmers can begin application when field conditions permit. This minimizes spring planting delays because of tight dealer schedules and reduces the potential for moisture loss just prior to planting.

For more information concerning soil testing, contact the Floyd County Extension Office at 983-2806.

4-H and FFA members to participate in show

Troy L. Bigham, a 14-year-old FFA member from Lockney, will participate in the 1985 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo calf scramble on February 23 in the Astrodome. The calf scramble is an exciting part of the rodeo action starring Charley Pride as part of that evening's performance.

Troy, the son of Billy and Anita Bigham, will compete for one of the 264 calf purchase certificates to be awarded at the 1985 Rodeo. Additionally, as many as two youngsters from each rodeo performance are awarded a "hard luck" certificate for their strong efforts in attempting to catch a calf, resulting in an additional 32 certificates given.

Thirty-four FFA members, 14 from Floydada and 20 from Lockney, will be participating in the 1985 Houston Livestock Show, held February 16-March 3. Animals exhibited by these competitors are a part of the 16,313 junior show entries expected for this year's show. Additionally, 8,960 open show entries and 3,011 horse show entries are expected for exhibition at the 1985 Show.

Competing from Floydada in the barrow category are Shannon Barbee, Shayla Barbee, Cammy Hancock, Keith Hancock, Coy LaBaume, Kelli LaBaume, Charles McMurrain, David Pyle, Ty Stovall, Mark Thompson, Brent A. Williams, and Daralyn D. Williams for a total of 11 animals.

Don Chesshir will compete with a lamb and Troy Don Faulkenberry will exhibit a steer.

Lockney exhibitors in the steer division will be Clint and Troy Bigham, Ricky Key, and Matt Williams, who will show heifers.

Romeo Araujo, Terri Bailey, Billy

Sherman and Lori Smith will exhibit lambs.

Clay Adrian, Rusty Carthel, Clay Harrison, Scott Howard, Boyd Jackson, Jerald Johnson, Monty Means, Ricky Patterson, Heath Rexrode, Wyman Rexrode, Joe Widener and Robert Wofford will all compete in the barrow category.

4-H participants from Floyd County include Jennifer Crow, Chad Edwards, Shannon Edwards, Chad Golden, Colt Golden, Amy Hinsley, Angie Hinsley, and Zach Nutt in the steer division; Shannon Edwards will also exhibit a heifer.

Competing in the lamb category will be Jennifer Crow, Jennifer Fortenberry, Joel and Matt Mitchell, Dean and Hunter Smith; Lisa Terrell will participate in both contests.

Program looks advantageous for area cotton farmers

Because of a large cotton crop in the United States and abroad the past year that has depressed market prices, producers need to take a hard look at participating in the 1985 farm program.

With the March 1 sign-up deadline looming ahead, farmers must decide soon whether or not the benefits and risk reduction associated with the program will outweigh any lost revenue from acres taken out of production.

The '85 cotton program is much the same as last year, points out Dr. Carl Anderson, economist in cotton marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

The target price remains at 81 cents a pound, the base loan rate has increased slightly to 57.3 cents a pound, and the maximum deficiency payment per pound has dropped 2.3 cents. The main change is in the acreage reduction phase; last year it was 25 percent of the base acreage while this year farmers will have to idle 30 percent of their land. Ten percent of that will qualify for 30 cents per pound diversion payments, explains Anderson.

"With cotton farmers facing average prices for their 1985 crop that will likely be near the loan rate, those taking part in the farm program may receive near maximum deficiency payments (the difference between the target price and loan rate)," Anderson points out. "This makes the program fairly attractive to producers."

He notes that a study by the Extension Service has shown that producers in all the major cotton growing areas of Texas would benefit from participating in the farm program. Increased returns would range from more than $15 per acre on dryland production in the Rolling Plains to over $63 per acre on irrigated cotton in the Rio Grande Valley.

Since the '85 farm program for cotton has no cross compliance requirements

SUPPLEMENTAL FEEDING IN A NUTSHELL

Supplemental feeding means providing those nutrients to livestock which are not provided by forage or obtainable from the animal's body store.

A "common sense" approach to supplemental feeding includes the following:

1. Feed salt and an 8-12 percent phosphorus supplement of similar calcium content free choice year round unless the mineral is included in a complete supplement. Other minerals including magnesium and certain trace minerals may be needed in certain areas.
2. Inject or feed vitamin A if in doubt.

LANDSCAPE AND GARDENING

By Benny Butler

SOIL INSECT CONTROL IN VEGETABLE GARDENS

As vegetable gardeners in Floyd County prepare for spring planting, their first step should be to control soil insects.

Soil insects can reduce vegetable quality and yields if left uncontrolled. For effective control, mix insecticides into the soil to a depth of 4-6 inches at least two weeks before the garden plot is planted.

Among destructive soil insects are wireworms, white grubs, seed corn maggots, cabbage maggots, mole crickets, sowbugs, slugs, snails and cutworms. Some destroy plant seeds, roots, tubers and underground stem parts while others cut off young plants at or near the soil surface.

Most soil insects can be controlled with diazinon 25 percent liquid concentration or Spectracide 6000 applied as a 5 percent granule. Granules usually give the best control. If cutworms or sowbugs become a problem after the garden has been planted, broadcast 5 percent Sevin bait over the soil surface. This bait containing metaldehyde will also control slugs and snails. However, it is not formulated to be mixed into soil.

Garden sites planted for the first time or those previously in grass or weeds are more likely to harbor damaging numbers of soil pests. Before treating with an insecticide, inspect the garden site by taking soil samples at several locations to a depth of 5 to 6 inches. Remove one square foot section of soil from each location and record the number of soil insect pests present. As a general rule, an average of one or more soil insects per sample suggests the need for insecticide treatment.

Before applying any pesticide always read and follow label instructions.

Educational program conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Solar Powered Surge

P & R Surge Systems introduces the AUTO PRO CONTROLLER with solar power, completely internal batteries, and an automatic setting for progressively lengthening surge cycle times. The AUTO PRO is totally energy self sufficient. A solar panel mounted to its lid continuously trickle charges the enclosed battery pack. In the absence of any sun, the batteries will sustain the system for 15 days. With an average of only 3 hours of sun a day, the system will run perpetually. The controller offers both manually programmable cycle/time settings and a user-simple auto mode.

In the manual mode the user can set one, two, three, or up to four different programs of any time and number of cycles to run one after another. In the auto mode the user sets one number - an "out time". The controller automatically sets cycles and progressively longer surge times to push the water out to the end of the field. It then automatically changes to a constant surge time for continuous cycling. The controller holds both the manual and auto modes in memory simultaneously.

The cast aluminum butterfly surge valve is tough, small, light and easy to move. Five valve sizes are available to fit 4, 6, 7.8 and 10 inch gated pipe. They are portable, weighing from 20 to 55 lbs., and compact in widths from 20 to 30 inches including couplers.

P & R also offers an inexpensive controller with a single program for continuous cycling (solar optional). For information contact Perry Farm Machinery, 1202 Plainview Hwy. 667-3505.

Second suit filed against hospital

The School of Nursing at Texas Tech's Health Sciences Center has filed suit against Caprock Hospital Medical Services, Inc. of Lubbock for alleged unpaid debts. The suit, filed on February 4 in 137th District Court in Lubbock, claims that more than $3,500 is owed by CHMS for an 8 week continuing education program on coronary care. The classes were held for the benefit of hospital employees during June and July of 1983. In addition, the suit claims CHMS cancelled courses scheduled for September of 1983.

This second suit for alleged unpaid debts follows closely a suit filed on January 24 by Allied Pharmaceutical Company of Abilene claiming non-payment of over $100,000 owed for pharmacy services at the Floydada health care institution.

Administration of the local hospital reverted to the local board of directors on June 30, 1983 when the board's contract with two Lubbock firms, Caprock Hospital Medical Services, Inc. and YDP, Inc. was terminated. The board then engaged an administrator, Guy Hazlett, and began overseeing the operation of the hospital without outside assistance.
