Over 600 attend 46th Lighthouse meeting

We see by the papers that our favorite state politician, Mr. Jim Hightower, is touring the state in company with Mr. Abraham Katz-Oz, the Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Israel. Mr. Hightower says he learned a lot about agriculture when he visited Israel last year, and he wants to share that knowledge with the farmers and ranchers of Texas.

As a result, Hightower and Mr. Katz-Oz are going to appoint a couple of committees to "solidify joint ventures" between Texas and Israel, according to a story in the Lubbock A-J by Kathleen Davis.

One of the things that fascinates Mr. Hightower about farming in Israel, according to his report when he returned from there last year, was the use of "drip irrigation." He hailed it as the coming thing. This time, in answer to reporters' questions, he acknowledged that many of the irrigation methods now being utilized in Israel were developed right here in West Texas.

If he had been around earlier, or rather if he had been interested in agriculture earlier, he would have known that "drip irrigation" is not exactly new. I saw it used in South Texas about 40 years ago. It was used, naturally, on specialized crops, in very small situations. That is also the way it is now used in Israel. It can hardly be used on the scale of Plains agriculture. There is another small difference. It involves money.

There are approximately as many people in Israel as there are in West Texas. But the amount of U.S. tax dollars going into the two regions is not similar at all. This year Israel will receive about $4 billion in U.S. help, part of it in outright grants, the rest in "loans" that may or may not be paid back. The $4 billion headed that way this year is approximately the amount that goes there every year, and has been going there for many years.

If as many federal dollars had been poured into West Texas during the past twenty years as have gone to Israel, we could have diverted the Mississippi River and irrigated every acre of decent farm land on the High Plains.

That situation will not change, evidently. When the President suggested that his new budget would have less than requested by Israel, cries of outrage went up from Congress. Senator Cranston, (D-Calif.) and Rep. Steve Solarz (D-New York) would have none of that. And of course they were joined by Senators and Representatives from both parties. If anything, Israel should have more money, not less, the Congressmen made clear.

This would be somewhat humorous were it not so sad. When Mr. Hightower returned from his "fact finding" tour of Israel last year, he held a news conference in which it was pointed out that with all these "advanced" methods we could place vast new acreage into cultivation. We could replace the brush land in thousands of West Texas acres with new crops etc., etc.

That is just exactly what we need in America. Hundreds of thousands of new acres in cultivation. That comes as welcome news, no doubt, to farmers now faced with declining prices because of worldwide overproduction.

Mr. Katz-Oz was asked how Israel would benefit from the agricultural exchanges. His reply was they were interested in new methods of cultivation, fertilization, and "genetics." Israel is of course small potatoes when it comes to the world agricultural scene. But we have had at least 20 years of this business of encouraging agricultural production abroad, to the detriment, in our opinion, of our own farmers and ranchers. We have spent vast sums of American tax dollars developing the agricultural export capabilities of countries all around the world, and now we see our traditional markets being taken over by those whom we have helped, simply because it was the "right" thing to do, the charitable thing to do. We have exported technology not only in the area of agriculture. American

Over 600 members and guests enjoyed the fish and chicken lunch along with the toe-tapping musical entertainment of Richard Sudduth and his group at the 46th Annual Meeting of Lighthouse Electric Cooperative held Saturday, April 27, at the Cooperative Headquarters in Floydada.

Board President Cecil Baxter called the business meeting to order and welcomed members and guests. The invocation was voiced by the Reverend Cecil Osborne of South Plains Baptist Church. Max Ham of Quitaque served as emcee and conducted the prize drawings throughout the meeting. Board secretary Louis Lloyd was in charge of roll call, the reading of the minutes of last year's meeting, and the reading of the Notice of Meeting.

Cooperative attorney Harry Jung presented the Nominating Committee Report, introduced the Director nominees, and conducted the election of Directors. Incumbents Louis Lloyd of District 2, L.B. Brandes of District 5, and Harold Burk of District 8 were re-elected to the Board of Directors.

Board member J.W. Jackson introduced special guests in attendance. This was followed by the audit report given by Orland Gilbert representing the firm of Bolinger, Segars, Gilbert, and Moss, Certified Public Accountants.

In his report to the membership, General Manager Alton Higginbotham reported that wholesale power costs continue to be the biggest cost to the cooperative, with 70% of every dollar spent going for wholesale power. Higginbotham introduced special guests Bob Bryant, Manager of Golden Spread Electric Cooperative in Amarillo, and his wife Patty, who is vice-chairman of the National Rural Electric Women's Association. He went on to explain the reason for the formation of Golden Spread, a generation and transmission cooperative, by Lighthouse and nine other cooperatives in the area, was to "do the best job we can in holding down power costs." Golden Spread has been involved in rate hearings before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in Washington, D.C. regarding our wholesale power supplier's filing for a rate increase last spring. Higginbotham reported that while there has been no final ruling by the FERC yet, "We look for in the neighborhood of a 6 to 7% increase." He also reported that it looks like we'll be faced with another filing for a wholesale rate increase in May.

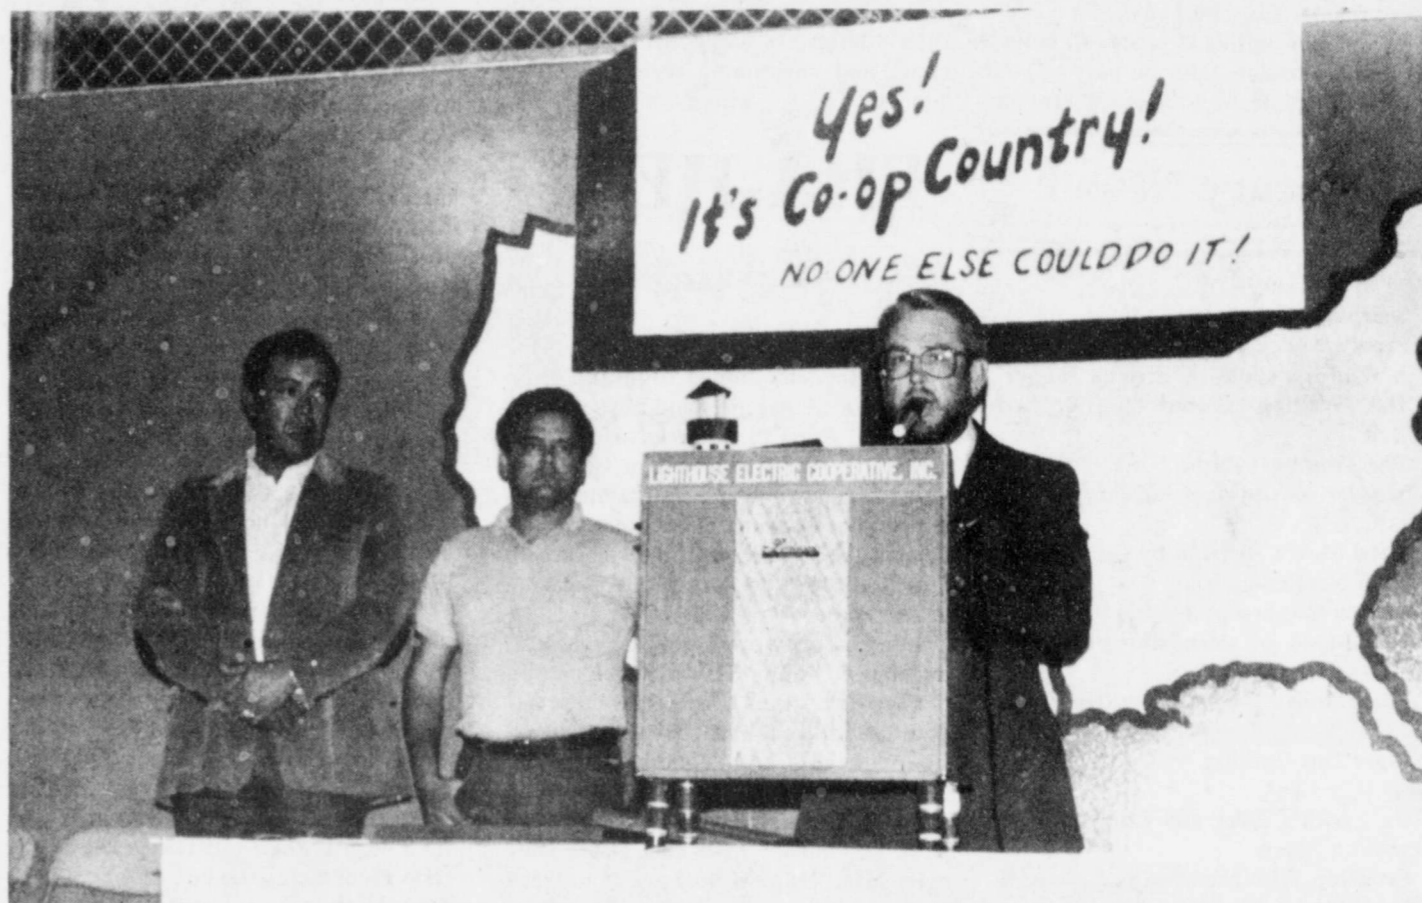

Larry Baker, representing the Electric Power Utilities Training Division of the Texas A&M University System, presented two awards to board president, Cecil Baxter. The Safety Accreditation Award from the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association was presented to Lighthouse in recognition of its accomplishments in accident prevention and its dedication to the training and welfare of its employees. The 1984 Texas Job Training and Safety Program Safety Award sponsored by the General Electric Company was also presented to Lighthouse, an annual award presented to one of 80 rural electric cooperatives in Texas in recognition of their outstanding safety achievement.

Other special events commemorating this historic milestone included a display of antiques and a photographic exhibit of the history of REA entitled the "Heritage Gallery." A special presentation of a video produced by Texas Electric Cooperatives called "Legacy of a Dream" which included interviews with people throughout the State of Texas reminiscing about their experiences during the Depression years, the beginners of REA and their local electric cooperatives and finally getting the REA lines built into their areas when the $5 membership had to be paid by "people who did not have it." Many of the customers were persuaded to sign up as members because they could afford electricity for the cost of batteries for a radio or the cost of ice.

Door prizes were given throughout the meeting. The grand prize, a choice of nine appliances, was won by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rainwater of Dougherty, who chose the 13" color television as their prize.

The following is a list of the other prize winners: Raymond Hamilton, Floydada; Arnold Ratheal, McAdoo; Neal Bertrand, Floydada; Virgil Brasher, Lockney; Mrs. Roy Hunter, Quitaque; Mrs. John Redding, Floydada; Steve Ferguson, Floydada; Tom Emert, Floydada; Mrs. O.D. Himes, Floydada; Mrs. Jimmy Kelly, Abernathy; Steve Trowbridge, Petersburg; Curtis Sanders, Floydada; Jessie Pernel, Dougherty; Mrs. Cecil Jackson, Floydada; and Mrs. John Kelly, Lockney.

LARRY BAKER, representative of the Electric Power Utilities Training Division of Texas A&M, presented the 1984 Texas Lifesaving Award to Junior Martinez and Billy Joe Villarreal, two Lighthouse employees, "whose prompt and correct action saved the life of a fellow human being" during last February's blizzard when they rescued a motorist who had been stranded for over 10 hours in his car which was covered by drifting snow.

Swindle stated, "Although total sales were down by about $46,000 from last year, total operating expenses were also lower by more than $60,000. This resulted in a net profit of $29,345.41 as opposed to the loss of $74,867.72 the

Nichols family loses home to fire

An early morning blaze destroyed the possessions of the Ray Nichols family at 629 East Georgia on Sunday, April 28. Nichols and eight children escaped without injury, but his wife Sue was hospitalized for minor burns, smoke inhalation and mild shock. The cause of the fire is still under investigation according to Carroll Sims of the Floydada Fire Department.

Sims said, "They were just real lucky to get out with their lives with the fire happening so early in the morning."

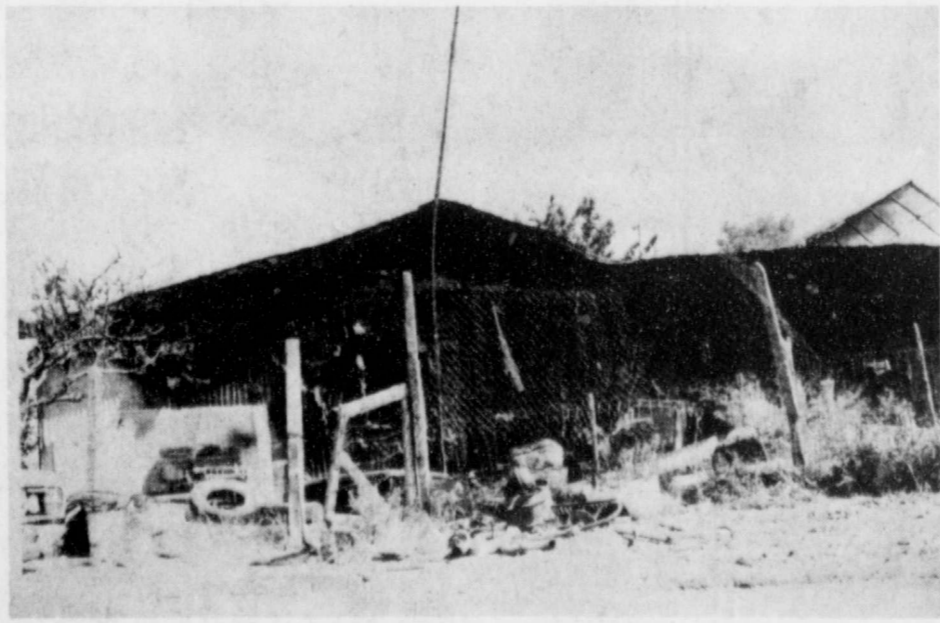

The fire department answered the call to the fire at approximately 6:25 a.m. and had water on the fire within minutes after connecting over 1300 feet of hose to the nearest fire hydrant. The firemen remained on the scene until the fire was out, returning to the firehouse around 9:45 a.m. The wood frame house was gutted by the fire.

The family is staying with another of their sons, Nathan Nichols, until other arrangements can be made. All of their clothing, furniture, and personal belongings were lost in the fire. Anyone wishing to donate needed items may leave their contributions at the firehouse. A love fund has been established at the First National Bank of Floydada for those wishing to make monetary contributions.

A list of the family members and their sizes follows. Dana wears size 8 in boys clothes and a size 10 shoe. Scott also wears a size 8 boys and a size 11 shoe. Brian wears boys size 10 and a 13 1/2 shoe. Roy wears a size 12 in boys clothing and a 1 1/2 shoe. Jason takes a 14 in boys and needs shoes size 7. Johnny wears a 14 1/2 shirt, pants with a 30 inch waist and a size 8 shoe. Both Roger and Jimmy take a 15 1/2 shirt and pants size 29, 33. Roger needs size 8 1/2 shoes and Jimmy wears size 10 shoes. Nichols wears a 14 in men's shirts and 29, 32 pants. He takes a size 7 1/2 shoe. Mrs. Nichols wears a size 16 and a 9 1/2 in shoes.

FIRE DAMAGED HOUSE—This is all that remains of the Ray Nichols home on East Georgia. The interior of the house was destroyed by fire early Sunday morning, leaving the family homeless and without possessions.

Rules given for lightning safety during bad weather

When it comes to a brilliant display of lightning in Texas skies, "better safe than sorry," is a good motto.

Deaths from lightning may be rare, but it's shortsighted for anyone to ignore the simple precautions and slight inconvenience of safety measures, says Texas A&M University agricultural Extension Service health education specialist Dr. Mary Ann Heussner.

She says the first rule of lightning safety is to get away quickly from any open space — a field, golf course, hill-top, beach or pool. Get away before the rain starts, since lethal bolts sometimes strike during the muggy lull before a storm.

"If you're caught outside, the best kinds of shelter are buildings equipped with a lightning protection system, steel-framed buildings, and cars, buses or tractors with metal tops and closed windows," advises the specialist. "But don't trust a flimsy shelter on a golf course."

When you can't take cover, you can better your chances by taking refuge in a ravine, culvert or ditch — keeping away from pipes and staying alert for flash floods, Heussner says.

When none of this is practical, crouch as low as possible with no part of your body except knees and toes touching the ground. Also remember to avoid tall isolated objects, like a lone tree, staying twice as far away as the tree is high.

Just being indoors doesn't entirely protect you from lightning, Heussner points out.

Stay away from open doors and windows, fireplaces, radiators, stoves, metal pipes, sinks, bathtubs, shower stalls and plugged-in electrical appliances. Electricity of lethal strength can enter a home not only by a direct strike, but also by a side flash from another object like a tree, and through pipe lines and wiring.

"Unfortunately, when someone is struck by lightning, bystanders often don't know what to do," remarks the specialist. "Others won't touch the victim for fear he is still electrically charged."

But a lightning victim can be safely touched, and often revived by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, Heussner says.

Adults who work outdoors or enjoy outdoor sports may have a healthy respect for lightning, but children are often unaware of its danger. The specialist recommends that parents review lightning safety precautions with their youngsters along with safe bicycling and swimming rules for the summer.

IN RECOGNITION of the 50th anniversary of REA, the oldest member attending, W.F. Saul, 88, of the Gray Mule Community near Flomot (above) and the youngest member, Bryan Fortenberry of the Cedar Hill Community northeast of Floydada, were given a $50 credit.

technology and capital, quite often paid for by tax dollars, has been used all around the world to set up industrial competitors as well as agricultural competitors. Our chickens are now coming home to roost.

We are not suggesting here that any of Mr. Hightower's activities are apt to have any bearing, one way or another, on what happens on the agricultural scene, either here or abroad. It is his thinking that bothers us. His actions, and his words, reveal that he is part and parcel of the movement that has helped get us in the predicament we now find ourselves.

We enjoyed a delicious supper of our choice steak, fish, chicken, salad bar, potatoe, ice cream and drink. We were given a separate party room.

After eating we went to Showplace 6, and saw "The Last Dragon," a Kung Fu movie. The class sponsors were Mr. Dale Smith and Mrs. Joyce Williams. Fourteen girls and 21 boys went. Mr. Smith drove the bus.

The junior high and high school boys liked the movie, food and girls. They even said, "High school needs to learn manners."

Social Security News

by Terry J. Clements

Most social security benefits to dependents or survivors of retired, disabled or deceased workers end if the person divorces or marries.

But, benefits to widows or widowers who remarry at age 60 or older and benefits to disabled widows and widowers 50-60 who remarry are not affected and will continue unchanged.

Benefits to a child getting checks because he or she is under 18, 19 if a student, or disabled will end if the child marries. Checks to a spouse getting benefits on the record of a retired or disabled worker will end if the marriage ends in divorce unless the spouse is 62 or older and the marriage lasted 10 years or more.

Checks for a widowed mother or father getting benefits because she or he is caring for an entitled child will stop if she or he remarries.

There is an exception to these general rules. If an otherwise eligible person receiving benefits as a widow, widower, or adult disabled in childhood marries a person also getting one of these kinds of benefits, he or she can continue to get benefits.

Benefits will also continue if a person getting benefits as a widowed mother or father or adult disabled in childhood marries a person getting benefits as a retired or disabled worker. A retired or disabled worker's benefits are never affected by marriage or divorce.

For more information about how marriage or divorce affects social security benefits you may contact us at 1401-B West 5th street or call us at 293-9623.

Old Settlers Day activities and parade in early planning stages

The Old Settlers Day activities and parade are in the early planning stages. The president of the Floyd County Pioneers Association is Raymond Martin of Lockney, and the vice president is Lon Davis of Floydada. C.O. Lyles of Floydada is in charge of the parade and can be contacted at 983-3863.

Anyone interested in being in the parade, according to Lyles, should meet at the First Baptist Church at 1:30 p.m. on May 25, the day of the parade.

There will be competitions for cash prizes and plaques in the categories of best pioneer float (1st, 2nd, 3rd), best commercial float (1st, 2nd, 3rd), best club float (1st, 2nd, 3rd), best sheriff's posse or riding club (1st, 2nd), best decorated bicycle (1st, 2nd, 3rd), best modern cowboy, best modern cowgirl, best dressed old time cowboy and cowgirl, best Shetland pony (1st and 2nd), best junior cowboy and cowgirl up to 12 years old, best antique auto (1st, 2nd, 3rd), oldest tractor (1st, 2nd), plaques for oldest man and woman in parade, and platform prizes will be given to the oldest man and woman at the reunion.

Anyone wishing to compete for the prizes should register at the Duncan Abstract office.

"We really would like to have the Floydada and Lockney bands in the parade," said Lyles, "and in an effort to encourage that we will pay a cash prize to any band that joins in the parade. We haven't had the bands the last few years, and we have all really missed them. The bands really make the parade and it just isn't the same without them."

Floydada band director, Paul Stapp, said, "It could really be a problem to get the band there, but I will look into it and see what we can do."

There will also be old timers dance at the Massie Activity Center at 8:00 p.m. on Old Settlers Day. The men have to pay admission and the women and spectators get in free.

A complete list of the scheduled events will be provided by the Hesperian as soon as they become available.

District approves budget

Shiela Faulkenberry, chief appraiser for the Floyd County Appraisal District, reported that collections for the 1984 tax year were 92% complete with a total of $3,219,997.75 collected as of April 30. This indicated that collections are running about 1% behind collections last year at the same time. Faulkenberry also noted that "$227,904.95 in delinquent taxes have been collected, bringing the total of delinquent collections in the last three years up to more than $600,000."

The board was also informed that 70 lawsuits against owners of real property on which taxes are delinquent will be filed in district court on May 2. "So far, we have been fortunate," stated Faulkenberry. "We have not been forced to seize any property, and the taxes are being paid."

After authorizing the payment of the monthly bills, the board adjourned the regular meeting and convened the scheduled budget hearing for the 1985 budget. Board president, Tom Duvall, noted that, "Our budget has decreased each year for the past three years. Not many government entities can say that."

The proposed budget totaling $137,468.00 was adopted as presented. Figures included in the budget indicate that the estimated tax levy is down from previous years because of re-evaluation of the taxable property on the rolls. The City of Floydada will not be collecting $18,567.00 in taxes which would have been on the levy in the form of vehicle taxes. The city voted to discontinue taxing these vehicles earlier this year.

Wylie opens Git and Go store

A locally owned and operated convenience store and deli is soon to join the Floydada business community. Arthur Wylie is opening the Git and Go Store at 102 South 2nd Street. Judy Forbes has been employed to manage the venture with Diana Maldonado serving as assistant manager. Also employed by the store will be Vickie Covington.

Although the business is now open, a grand opening is in the works for the near future. Delicatessen equipment is due to arrive this week and will be installed shortly. Booths which are to be delivered soon will allow the seating of customers who wish to eat on the premises. A small but varied selection of competitively priced grocery items is already in stock and both unleaded and regular gasoline is already on sale.

The deli will feature a variety of foods, including fried chicken, barbeque, corn dogs, chicken nuggets, and catfish nuggets. French fries and fried okra will be served as will burritos. Coffee, assorted soft drinks, and fresh doughnuts will round out the proposed menu.

Forbes, whose husband Jimmy is a market manager for Shop Rite, has previous experience in the grocery business as an employee of Town and Country stores. The couple has four children: Cory, Craig, Jennifer, and Wendy.

Forbes plans to maintain store hours from 7:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. seven days a week. "We want to offer fast, friendly service, the best in town," said Forbes. "Customers will soon be able to come in and eat in air conditioned comfort as well as buy gas for their cars and pick up a needed grocery item or two." She added, "We want to invite everyone to come in and let us treat them right."

GIT AND GO MANAGER—Judy Forbes, manager of Wylie's Git and Go, checks out the cash register as preparations continue for opening.

Yandell and Tooley exchange vows April 27th

Kay Yandell and Keith Tooley of Lubbock were married in a double ring ceremony Saturday, April 27, 1985 at 11 a.m. in St. John's United Methodist Church, Lubbock, Dr. R. L. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Yandell of Brownfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Tooley of Tulia.

The ceremony took place before an altar centered with an arrangement of mixed white garden flowers and caladiums. A pair of tall huckleberry trees formed the background for the altar. Large Boston ferns and English Ivy atop white pedestals were placed as focal points in the sanctuary. Aisles were marked with clusters of white lilies, caladiums and English Ivy.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a formal length gown of white lace and tissue taffeta. The fitted bodice was designed with an English illusion yoke outlined in ruffled chantilly lace. The Victorian neckline was accented by an overlay of embroidery and pearl beading. The full skirt was designed with a lace panel in the back forming a chapel train.

The bride's headpiece was a circlet of silk blossoms and ruffled chantilly lace with a cascade of double face satin streamers in back. For something old she wore a wristwatch given to the paternal grandmother on her wedding day; new, an English lace handkerchief, borrowed, the mother's pearl eardrums; blue, satin bows on her petticoat; new, a penny in her shoe.

Miss Barbara Yandell, sister of the bride of Lubbock, was maid of honor. She wore an opera length dress of white cotton lace designed with batwing neckline and a dropped waist, accented with a satin sash.

Brad Tooley of Canyon, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Mike Bean and Bryan Hunt of California; Kelly Turner and Steve Yandell, brother of the bride, both of Lubbock and Jim Foster. They wore dark grey cutaway coats with Victorian-stripe trousers, accessorized with pearl grey vests and matching Victorian-stripe ascots.

Mr. William Hartwell sang "The Lord's Prayer". The trumpet procession "Trumpet Voluntary" by Purcell, and the recessional "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee," were played by Mr. Richard Tolley, organist was Jane Ramsey, all of Lubbock.

A reception was held at the Lubbock Women's Club following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a cloth of embroidered lace enhanced with white seed pearls. All reception tables featured French garden baskets flowing with caladiums, Ivy and mixed garden flowers. Antique English silver appointments were used throughout.

what kind of help is given. This is organized for the Plainview vicinity and is rather new. It is wonderful for homebound people who need some professional care.

Old fashioned wedding unites Burlison-Jones

The soft glow from antique lanterns lit the altar as Carla Burlison and Steve Jones exchanged vows on April 27. The 5 p.m. double-ring wedding ceremony with old fashioned touches was held in the First Christian Church of Floydada.

The bride is the daughter of Stanley and Lou Burlison of Floydada. Parents of the groom are Bill and LaRue Jones of Levelland.

A cousin of the bride, Danny Jones of Plainview, directed the impressive ceremony before the altar decorated with red geraniums, red candles, ficus trees, trailing grape ivy, and country baskets of dried wildflowers.

Pre-wedding selections on the piano and organ were offered by Tammy Payne. Miss Payne sang the "Wedding Song" as the mother of the bride and mother of the groom each lit a single taper symbolic of the life given to her child. While the bride and groom lit a unity candle, Miss Payne and Blake Kitchens sang "My Only Love."

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore an old fashioned Victorian-styled wedding gown with a high neck and V-shaped lace inset and fitted bodice. Long sleeves of the cotton dress were edged in ribbon and lace matching the apron effect of the long ruffled skirt.

Accenting the gown was an heirloom cameo on a golden chain which was a wedding gift to the bride's great-great-grandmother Mollie Moreland by her betrothed Al Barton in 1878. It was handed down to a namesake, the bride's grandmother Mollie Barton Burlison.

Wearing prairie dresses of blue dotted cotton with lace trim accented by red roper boots were matron of honor Caren Campbell Mitchell and bridesmaid honoree D'Les Jones, sister of the groom. Distributing decorated wheat bags to well-wishers was niece of the bride, Christy Potts, dressed in a red dotted prairie dress trimmed in lace.

The groom was dressed informally in an off-white blazer with oxford shirt, Wranglers, and ropers. His best man Rusty Rose and groomsman Clint Stone, both of Levelland, wore blue oxfords, Wranglers and ropers. Serving as ushers were Randy Coleman of Morton and Todd Beedy of Floydada.

Sandy Coleman registered reception guests as they entered Fellowship Hall, decorated in keeping with the old fashioned theme. At the bride's table, a western decorated three tiered off-white cake was topped with a cowgirl and cowboy. Serving the cake and pouring punch from a crock into jelly jars were Kim Mixon, Connie Pritchett, and Donnette Hancock.

Trailing ivy, baskets of broomweed, and various antiques were featured on an authentic chuckbox which served as the groom's table. Serving cherry cobbler prepared by the bride's grandmother Mrs. Burlison, and coffee from a graniteware pot into red splatterware cups were Shonda Fulton, Tiffany Glover, and Beverly Brock, sister of the bride.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will be at home in Levelland. Carla, an office manager at Keeling Buick, is a graduate of Floydada High School and South Plains College. A graduate of Levelland High and South Plains, Steve is a self-employed welder.

The bride has been honored by several pre-nuptial courtesies including a shower in Levelland and a luncheon at Hemphill-Wells, Lubbock, given by Mrs. Lon Davis and Ms. Joy Smitherman. In Floydada at the home of Mrs. Laron Fulton, a shower was extended with the luncheon following given by Mrs. Johnny West and Ms. Smitherman. A western-themed party for the bride, groom, and guests was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beedy and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bean in the Beedy home.

At the Floydada Country Club on Friday evening, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jones of Levelland, hosted a rehearsal dinner which was catered by Southern Seas of Lubbock.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective May 6, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the Commission. The Public Utility Commission of Texas has received the application as Docket 6200.

While proposals as to specific rates vary, it is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 10.5 percent increase in the Company's unadjusted test year intrastate revenues or a 9.7% increase in test year revenues as adjusted for test year customer growth and annualization of test year rate increases. The rate application seeks an annual increase of $323.9 million in revenues. All customers and classes of customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company within Texas will be affected by the proposed changes.

Most rates proposed for increase would increase by about 18.5 percent, including local exchange rates. However, there are some exceptions. For example, those customers residing in cities that will be reclassified into larger rate groups will experience local exchange rate increases greater than 18.5 percent. Also, the rate increases proposed for private line services in El Paso, due to a proposal to restructure such rates, are greater than 18.5 percent.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas and with each affected incorporated municipality served by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's rate application. This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for local exchange service, intraLATA long distance, intraLATA interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

This filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for intraLATA long distance and for intraLATA, interexchange private line service (which includes foreign exchange service) and to decrease certain access service rates. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide certain services in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell Telephone Company's tariffs.

Notice to All Customers Concerning Access Charges and Certain New Service Charges

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, as a part of this filing, is also proposing to reduce certain access rates charged such customers as AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI and other carriers. The resulting reduction in revenues is proposed to be offset by revenues from two new service charges, late payment charges applicable to business customers only and for certain operator services such as busy line verification, plus stimulation of access service charge revenues. Since this portion of the filing, if granted, would have essentially a zero net revenue effect on Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company is proposing that this portion of the filing be expeditiously handled by the Commission and not await Final Order.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso Público

En conformidad con las disposiciones de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company anuncia mediante el presente aviso su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas telefónicas en Texas, con vigencia a partir del 6 de mayo de 1985, salvo disposición en contrario de la Comisión. La Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas a registrado esta solicitud bajo el Docket 6200.

Si bien existe variación entre las propuestas en cuanto a las tarifas precisas, se anticipa que el arancel tarifario solicitado aumentará en un 10.5% los ingresos intrastatales no ajustados de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company durante el año de prueba, o sea, un aumento del 9.7 por ciento en los ingresos del año de prueba, después de realizar el ajuste por la expansión de los usuarios y por la anualización del aumento de tarifas para el año de prueba. El objeto de esta solicitud de tarifas es lograr un aumento anual en los ingresos de $323.9 millones. Los cambios propuestos afectarán a todos los usuarios y grupos de usuarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company en el estado de Texas.

La mayoría de las tarifas que resultarían afectadas por el propuesto aumento aumentarían aproximadamente en un 18.5 por ciento, incluyendo las tarifas de centrales locales. Sin embargo, existen algunas excepciones. Por ejemplo, los usuarios que residen en ciudades que se reclassificarán para formar parte de grupos tarifarios mayores experimentarán aumentos más elevados del 18.5 por ciento. Por otra parte, los aumentos de las tarifas propuestas para servicios de línea privada en El Paso aumentarían en más de 18.5 por ciento, como resultado de una propuesta para reestructurar tales tarifas.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se halla archivada en las oficinas de la Comisión de Servicios Públicos en Austin, Texas, así como en cada municipalidad incorporada afectada que tenga servicio de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa se halla sujeta a cambio toda vez que Southwestern Bell Telephone Company solicite nuevas tarifas. El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de centrales locales, de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada interLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio de acceso.

Aviso a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono

El registro de esta tarifa incluye, pero no en forma limitativa, las propuestas de aumentar las tarifas por servicios de larga distancia intraLATA y por servicios de línea privada intraLATA entre centrales (incluyendo servicios de centrales externas) así como las propuestas de reducir ciertas tarifas de servicio de acceso. Los cambios en dichas tarifas también afectarían a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono, puesto que dichas compañías proporcionan ciertos servicios de acuerdo con las tarifas especificadas en los aranceles tarifarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Aviso a todos los clientes con respecto a los cargos de acceso y a determinados cargos nuevos de registro

Al registrar esta tarifa, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company también propone reducir ciertas tarifas de acceso que se les cobran a clientes como AT&T Communications, Inc., MCI y otras compañías de larga distancia. La consecuente reducción de ingresos se piensa compensar por medio de dos cargos nuevos de servicio (cargos por pago atrasado que se aplicarían solamente a usuarios comerciales, y cargos por ciertos servicios de operadora, tales como verificación de línea ocupada) además de la estimulación de los ingresos por cargos por servicios de acceso. En vista de que, en caso de otorgarse esta parte del arancel tarifario registrado, su efecto real en los ingresos de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company sería igual a cero, esta propone que la Comisión tramite dicha parte de la tarifa en forma expeditiva sin esperar la Orden Definitiva.

Toda persona que desee intervenir o participar en el presente proceso debe notificar a la Comisión lo antes posible. Las solicitudes de intervención, participación o información deben dirigirse a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Para obtener mayor información debe llamar a Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division, (512) 458-0223, o (512) 458-0227, o al (512) 458-0221 si requiere teletipo para personas con impedimentos de audición.

LANDSCAPE AND GARDENING

CONTROLLING PEACH SCAB

Peach trees need special attention now to control peach scab, a fungus disease that attacks young fruit. Peach scab causes black spots or freckles on fruit. The spots can be over the entire surface of the fruit but most often are found in greatest numbers on the stem end.

During the first few weeks of the peach's life, the fungus is prevented from coming in contact with the peach by various parts of the flower and by the peach "fuzz." But as the fruit grows, the fungus comes in contact with the surface of the peach and infection can occur.

In Texas, this occurs between petal fall and shuck split, or the first two to three weeks immediately after bloom in the spring. Infection rarely occurs after this period of time, and if it does, the fruit will mature before the fungus is visible on the fruit.

Growers and gardeners can control peach scab by applying fungicides during the susceptible period. Make the first application when about 75 percent of the petals have fallen from the blooms. Repeat the application in 10 days.

Several fungicides can be used, but some have proven to be better than others in Extension demonstrations conducted in different areas of Texas. Benomyl and chlorothalonil are two of the better materials. Benomyl (Benlate and Topsin-M) is used at 1/2-pound per 100 gallons of water or 1 pound per acre of trees. Chlorothalonil (Bravo 500 and Bravo W-75) is used at the rate of 1.5 pints per 100 gallons of water or 4.5

pints per acre of trees. Several homeowner products have both chlorothalonil and benomyl as their active ingredient. Rates for these products are on the container label and should be followed closely.

Other materials that can be used for peach scab include captan, maneb and sulfur. These are less effective but can be used in areas where scab is not a major problem. They can best be used during the period following the last scab spray and the harvest period. Sprays applied during this period are commonly called cover sprays. Generally, disease pressure is low during this period, and these materials will do an excellent job of control.

Insecticides can be applied with any of the fungicides. Insecticides are important because areas damaged by insect feeding can be entry points into the fruit by the various fungi that cause decay.

With the arrival of the scab infection period, peach growers and gardeners should give careful attention to a spray schedule. Spray guides for disease and insect control in peaches as well as apples, pears, plums, blackberries, and grapes are available free of charge at the County Extension Office.

Reference to commercial products and trade names is made with the understanding that no discrimination is intended and no endorsement by the Cooperative Extension Service is implied. Educational program conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

A recent decision by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) constitutes one of the rare pieces of good news finding its way into farm circles of late, "and we are delighted to see it," says Ed Dean, Field Service Director for Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Unexpectedly, Dean reports, OSHA on April 12 announced it will not issue final rules requiring agricultural employers to provide toilets, hand washing facilities, and drinking water for field laborers.

The decision by OSHA Administrator Robert Rowland apparently ignored the recommendations of mid-level OSHA officials who had spent years studying the need for a federal rule and had recommended its adoption.

Under the 1982 consent agreement, OSHA was required to publish a final field sanitation standard or justify why one is not necessary. And it had been widely assumed by all concerned that OSHA would, in fact, finalize a standard.

On March 1, 1984 OSHA had issued a proposed rule which would have required employers of 11 or more field laborers on any given day to provide one toilet for each 20 employees and hand washing facilities (soap and water) within one-quarter mile of the work place. Potable drinking water at "suitably cool" temperatures would also have been required under the OSHA proposal.

The National Council of Agricultural Employers (NCAE) was the only national association to testify on behalf of employers during OSHA's public hearings on the proposed standard.

PCG is a charter member of the NCAE and Dean is a former director and executive committee member of the organization.

NCAE argued, in part, that because of the substantial existing state regulations a federal standard was unnecessary. Thirteen states, including Texas, have farm worker field sanitation standards. In addition OSHA had over 100 compliance officers in the State enforcing the Occupational Safety and Health Act which covers industry in general, including agriculture but not dealing specifically with farm workers.

In its April 12 announcement, OSHA acknowledged that most farm workers are now protected by state standards. OSHA also emphasized that enforcement of a federal standard would "reduce scarce resources available to enforce higher priority standards."

The OSHA announcement said the agency has assigned low priority to the enforcement of sanitation standards for industry in general and that its decision not to finalize standards for farm workers is consistent with that "emphasis."

The Migrant Legal Action Program (MLAP), as well as other farm worker advocate groups strongly protested the OSHA decision. And further litigation by MLAP, Dean says, which began its crusade for a federal standard in 1972, is to be expected.

Fifty years - A proud tradition

April 27, 1985 marked the Golden Anniversary of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service—a milestone in a voluntary conservation movement that has involved more than two million farmers, ranchers, and other landowners and operators.

"SCS can be proud of what it has done," said Billy C. Griffin, State Conservationist for SCS in Temple. "It has helped to reduce soil erosion, conserve water, reduce flooding, improve rangeland, and protect other natural resources."

"In Texas, about 200,000 landowners and operators voluntarily apply conservation measures with SCS assistance," Griffin continued. "They have built more than 220,000 miles of terraces, applied conservation tillage on 2.9 million acres of cropland, and are using planned grazing systems - with regular rest periods - on 13 million acres of grassland."

Griffin said SCS technical assistance is available through 201 locally run soil and water conservation districts.

SCS efforts in promoting conservation tillage and planned grazing systems today parallel the agency's early efforts in convincing farmers to use contour stripcropping, terraces, crop rotations, and other practices that returned eroded fields to productive cropland and pasture. Along the way, SCS has achieved an international reputation in the field of soil and water conservation.

What has been accomplished in 50 years is the result of Federal and State agencies and local groups working together to solve the Nation's soil and water problems along with the leadership and investments of farmers and ranchers. These accomplishments also needed the support of conservation districts and professional organizations and the dedication of people from all walks of life who feel a sincere sense of stewardship for the land.

Everyone in the United States has benefited from the protection of soil productivity and a cleaner environment.

"It's time for celebration as we observe 50 years of soil conservation and it's time for renewed commitment as we look ahead," Griffin concluded. "After all, it's the next 50 years that matter."

Congressman Beau Boulter Reports from Washington

Export Markets Must Be Expanded

In 1855 Horace Greely advised aspiring young men that "the best business you can go into you will find on your father's farm." Were he alive today, Mr. Greely would surely advise otherwise.

Although the change that has taken place in the last 130 years cannot be traced to one particular event, it can definitely be attributed in part to the growing role of the federal government in agriculture. One glaring example of government intervention damaging American agricultural exports involves "cargo preference" regulations.

Presently, these regulations require that whenever the government is involved with export cargo, at least half of that cargo must be shipped on U.S. vessels. This is, simply put, a subsidy for U.S. shipping interests that hurts the agriculture economy severely.

Costs on U.S. vessels are much higher than on foreign vessels, and being restricted to U.S. vessel use, therefore, forces farmers into non-market priced shipping cost. A recent District Court decision, applying cargo preference to the USDA's Blended Credit program, will make matters even worse. The arguments for bringing the Blended Credit program under cargo preference regulations, are, in my mind, full of holes. Blended Credit is designed to make credit available to foreign buyers. But now, we will be providing foreign buyers with credit, and at the same time greatly increasing U.S. shipping costs.

The maritime industry says this plan is okay — it won't cost the buyers, and it won't directly cost farmers. But the maritime industry is not being honest with the taxpayer or the farmer. Cargo preference hurts both the taxpayer and agriculture exports.

I have co-sponsored legislation which will reverse the court decision, and exempt agriculture exports from Cargo Preference requirements. They present one more restrictive block to American commodities in international trade. Predatory foreign subsidies and unfair trade practices have already taken a serious toll on our farmers.

In my opinion, cargo preference serves only one purpose, lining the pockets of maritime unions at the expense of other industries, such as agriculture. Current regulations add more than $50 a ton to the costs of shipping. In an already tight market, this type of uncompetitive disadvantage is crippling the ability of our farmers to regain a share of the world market. I have said many times that I believe that part of the long-range solution to our agriculture problems has to include the development of export markets. If the cargo preference regulations are not lifted agriculture will continue to be in the unfair position of subsidizing bigger labor unions.

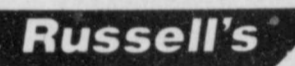

Along with the bill's sponsors, I will be working hard for the passage of this legislation to exempt agriculture exports from costly cargo preference requirements. Without this legislation, cargo preference requirements on Blended Credit will cost the government $50 to $70 million in 1985.

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

The trouble with doing something right the first time is that nobody appreciates how difficult it was.

You have to do your own growing up...no matter how tall your grandfather was.

The probability of someone watching you is in direct proportion to the stupidity of your actions.

Riddle: If you had only one match and entered a room where there were a lamp, an oil heater, some kindling wood, which would you light first? (answer may be found below)

South Plains News

by Mrs. Murray Julian

South Plains, Monday, April 29th: Well, May is almost here. Sunday, Daylight Saving Time crept in on us with such soft feet that some of us (?) never even heard it, and were tardy at church services. Everyday has been rainy, for many days, and the farmers are jubilant with a fairly good moisture already fallen. Wheat is looking green and beautiful. There was quite a bit of hail that fell around the Silverton highway, near where paved road cuts through to Flomot.

Clocks were set ahead one hour at 2 a.m. this last Sunday in April, and are to stay that way until 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October. Daylight Saving Time was started way back in 1784 by Ben Franklin.

Raymond Upton is in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock in the Coronary Care Unit, since Saturday evening, having had a heart attack Saturday. We pray for a good report this Monday.

Mrs. Charlene Starke is to undergo gall bladder surgery this Monday morning at Plainview Central Plains Hospital. She is to have surgery at 7:30 a.m. and we hope and pray for a quick and full recovery. Mrs. Starke is principal of the South Plains School.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain and Bobbie Kinnibrugh held a family reunion at the Massie Activity Center in Floydada Saturday, April 27th. The inclement weather played a factor in the attendance as many of the family live at a far distance. Many who planned to come were not able to, on account of the rain. Guests over the Sunday week-end at their home were Bobbie's sister, Mrs. W.H. Smith; a niece, Mrs. Joan Vencil, both of Odessa, and others from there were Mrs. Nancy Copeland, and her daughter Allison, who came from Lubbock. Mrs. Cecilia Spivey of Navasota, and Mrs. Elizabeth Sanders, also were there from Navasota. Mrs. W.H. Simmons of Truscott, and Mr. and Mrs. Edith and Ray Dillard of Lockney. 19 were there for Sunday dinner. Twenty-eight were registered for the family reunion.

Penny Mulder returned home Sunday night with the Floydada High School group of youngsters who flew to Dallas for a fun trip over the week-end. With the bad rains they could not fly back, and came home on a bus on Sunday. They got in a deep fog and did not arrive in Floydada until late, but they saw many exciting sights, went to Six Flags and had a good time and arrived safely home.

Mrs. Edith Guggenheim of Amarillo came Sunday morning to stay until Wednesday with her sister, Ruby Higginbotham. Edith had been at Turkey for Bob Wills Day and the activities over the week-end there. Friday night the population of Turkey was growing by sundown, and the camping spots at the Bob Wills Park were full. Saturday Mrs. Bob Wills was on hand for the jamboree and the playing of about three dozen Texas Playboys. This was all held in the old football stadium at Turkey.

Thursday night we had rain and we awakened Friday to more thunder showers. As I traveled the Silverton highway Friday afternoon, a heavy thunder cloud had emptied hail to a depth of several inches on the Silverton highway between the Sanders and the Ira Hendersons, making the road look like a heavy snow fall. It was a strange sight to suddenly find yourself in hailstones as deep as snow. The winds have really blown hard and steadily this spring.

Many from here attended the 46th Annual Lighthouse Electric Coop Inc. meeting on Saturday, April 27th, with a good program at the Lighthouse building in Floydada. An interesting program, and a delicious catered lunch were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kathy and Nathan Mulder spent Saturday in Clovis, New Mexico with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W.3. Blalock. Kathy's grandmother is in the hospital there in Clovis following back surgery, but she is doing fine.

Hobby Club of South Plains will meet at Neta Marble's on Thursday, May 9th at 11 a.m. The annual luncheon is a covered dish affair and is greatly enjoyed by those attending each year. This has become a favorite with all the Hobby Club members, and so we call the day an annual affair. The program will be given by Dot Cummings, thought for the day by Sara Probasco, and roll call will be, "My most embarrassing moment--eating out."

President Reagan has proclaimed May 2 as the National Day of Prayer, saying "We are God's handiwork, and it is appropriate for us as individuals and a nation to call on Him in prayer." Every president has proclaimed an annual day of prayer since 1952, when Congress passed a resolution calling for the setting aside of such a day.

Mrs. Sara Probasco was honored with 80 other women at West Texas State University in Canyon Saturday, April 20th. These women have distinguished themselves in different fields of community service. Sara has many accomplishments but especially in the arts in Floydada. Her other involvements include little theatre, the museum and library. She has a stained glass creations shop at her home here in South Plains. We are very proud of Sara, her enthusiasm spreads to everything she has a hand in, and we send congratulations to her.

Best wishes to Miss Christina Lynn Carr of Denton and Greg Taylor, formerly of South Plains and Lockney on their recent wedding. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Joe Taylor of Tullia. Their wedding was held in Denton on April 13th at the First United Methodist Church there. Good wishes to the couple for a long and happy life.

To the school personnel who notified parents of our late arrival because of bad weather and to the parents; you have the best group of kids in the world! They were courteous and nice, not only to sponsors, but to bus drivers, people at the hotel, restaurants and other places we visited. A special "Thank You" to Mr. Stapp for making all the arrangements for the trip. Buses did have to be chartered on short notice after flights to Lubbock were delayed. The drivers made the trip here and had to immediately turn around and go back to Dallas. Anyone wanting to express their appreciation to these people can write: Shuttlejack, Pres. Robert Aldridge, Box 59897, Dallas, TX 75229. Floydada Band Boosters

We wish to thank all our friends and neighbors for their many thoughtful deeds and acts of kindnesses toward our family since we lost our home to fire.
 Thank you,
 Ray Nichols Family

PUBLIC NOTICE

AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. ("AT&T Communications"), in accordance with the Public Utility Regulatory Act and the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("PUC") hereby gives notice of its intent to implement a new schedule of rates for its services. The new rates will be effective May 14, 1985, unless otherwise determined by the PUC. All customers and classes of customers would be affected by the proposed rates.

AT&T Communications has filed a reprice of its tariffs designed to more closely recover access and other costs for WATS and 800 Service and all private line services including Channel Services, Foreign Exchange (FX), DATAPHONE Digital Service, and OCC Facilities.

Also proposed is the institution of a charge for Directory Assistance to begin to recover access costs incurred for such service and increases in rates for operator assisted AT&T Long Distance calls. The initial minute charge for all AT&T Long Distance calls and additional minute rates for AT&T Long Distance calls 51 miles or less are proposed for increases to reflect the access charges approved by the PUC for such calls.

The proposed new rates for all services would result in an increase in adjusted test period revenues of $139 million or 12.7 percent.

A complete copy of the proposed tariffs are on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.
