Sheriff's deputy approved

Sheriff Fred Cardinal was authorized by the Floyd County Commissioners' Court to hire a fourth deputy effective June 1. Sheriff Cardinal and County Attorney Kenneth Bain also pointed out that a supreme court ruling in February makes public employees subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act. This wage and hour law now applies to public employees with the exception of elected officials and some appointed officials.

"This will affect the county road and bridge employees and the deputies," said Cardinal. "We will have to pay them time and a half for their work over 40 hours, and they will have to be paid at an hourly rate for the first 40 hours."

The court was presented with a proposal that the hourly rate be set at $3.35 for the first 40 hours for the deputies. The overtime rate would then be based on that. Local deputies are to continue to work 60 hours a week, and the employment of a fourth deputy will allow each deputy to have regular days off on a staggered basis.

In other action at the May 13 meeting, the court approved the bond for recently-appointed Justice of the Peace C.L. Mooney, approved the relocation of a water line to allow the construction of an addition to the Old Settlers pavilion, and authorized the purchase of a service contract on the County Auditor's computer at a cost of $744.00 per year. The court also declined the suggestion that the county share the cost of paving Menefee Street with the City and the Floydada Independent School District. The one third they were asked to pay totaled over $10,000 which members of the court considered excessive in view of the short distance to be paved.

Justice of the Peace Lowell Bilbrey met with the court to request that the commissioners consider raising the Sheriff Citation Fees for Small Claims Court and Civil Court from $10.00 to $20.00. "I would like to recommend that we raise the fees to $20.00 to bring us into line with the surrounding counties. This would also help to eliminate the burden on the sheriff's department for the car expenses and man hours necessary to serve these citations," stated Bilbrey. The court approved the request by a unanimous vote.

Guy Hazlett, Caprock Hospital administrator, met with the court concerning a hospital bill on a prisoner who fell while in custody. The court was reluctant to pay the bill of over $4,000.00 in addition to doctor fees of around $700.00 which had been paid last month. Hazlett reported that the hospital board of directors was willing to discount the bill by 20% but "feel that it was a fair bill since the hospital provides care as near to cost as it can." He also informed the commissioners that a prisoner being admitted to the facility should fill out the proper forms if he is indigent or a migrant. The hospital has provisions for securing payment from government funds for such patients.

John Abbott, the architect on the elevator installation now being carried out at the courthouse, met with the court to request authorization for two changes in the original plans. The changes will cost about $450.00 and are necessary for safety reasons. An electrical conduit has to be rerouted to go around instead of through the elevator shaft and a steel beam needs to be installed for extra support in the floor between the first and second floor. Both changes were approved.

County treasurer, Glenna Orman, made her monthly report on the financial condition of the county. The finances are in good order, and the county has $911,000.00 in CD's, but the interest accumulating from these investments is down according to Orman. "The interest rate is dropping, and we have collected only $36,477.06 to date this year."

Orman also presented copies of statutes regarding the handling of probation funds for the court to consider. The statutes provide for the separate handling of all probation funds. Orman objected to the county probation funds being handled with all the rest of the county money by the County Auditor, Bobbie Hamilton.

Hamilton answered the objection by saying, "We use fund accounting. All accounts are listed and handled separately. The money may be in the same account with other funds, but it is still handled as a separate account."

Hamilton also gave her monthly report, stating that taxes collected so far have exceeded the budgeted amount and that 90.61% of the tax levy has been collected. "We are in good shape, as we have spent a little less than one third of our budget and a full third of the year is passed," said Hamilton. She also told the commissioners that a bank account had been opened for the county tax assessor and collector's office. This had been done to allow more frequent deposits and to return the handling of the money from that office to the elected official in charge of it, Jonelle Favver.

Farm work contracts considered and approved included: Clar Schacht, 1/4 mile southwest of Lockney, remove an old foundation; H.H. Bennett, 12 miles northeast of Lockney, clean around old improvements; Bill Glasscock, five miles northwest of Lockney, clean out drainage ditch; Richard Lambert, 1/2 mile east of Lockney, grade a runway; and John B. Steele, nine miles south and six miles west of Lockney, dig and fill a pit.

The court voted to send letters to the proper legislative representatives expressing their aversion to an Omnium Fee Bill currently in the process of being developed in Austin. The bill is designed to combine several fee bills into one measure which would raise the state levied fees for court filings. The county would be responsible for collecting the fees and forwarding them to the state. The bill proposes that the additional fees be used to supplement the salary of the district judges whose base salary is now $54,500. The new base salary would be $61,200. A letter favoring the proposed changes in the retirement system was also authorized.

Guffee retires after 35 years

CLARENCE GUFFEE

Clarence Guffee, a long time Floydada resident, retired from his position as secretary for the Germania Farm Mutual Insurance Association on April 30. He had held the post since the organization of the local membership in 1950. He received a plaque to commemorate his 35 years of dedicated service.

"It has been nice working for the people and with the people for all these years. I have made a lot of friends in a lot of places," said Guffee.

Guffee is a retired educator, having taught in rural Floyd County schools for 17 years before assuming the position of county school superintendent. He was reelected several times and retired in 1973 after filling the post for 33 years.

Always active in community and civic affairs, Guffee continues to be associated with the Rotary Club and the Lions Club. He is also a member of the Chamber of Commerce. The family attends the First Baptist Church.

Guffee and his wife Opal have two children. Their son Corkey works for Lighthouse Electric and their daughter, Sonja Kay Ragsdale teaches school in Stratford. The Guffees have three grandsons and one granddaughter.

"I am looking forward to doing a little less with my retirement," said Guffee. "But I still intend to keep working a section and a half of land that I have a few cattle and a little wheat on."

Proclamation

"NATIONAL MENTAL HEALTH MONTH"

WHEREAS, Central Plains Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center was begun in Plainview in 1986 to work with the community to develop, provide, and coordinate the delivery of mental health and developmental disability services to residents in Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Hale, Lamb, Motley, Parmer, and Swisher counties; and

WHEREAS, a primary objective of Central Plains MHMR Center is to help individuals who experience problems creating an inability to handle everyday situations; and

WHEREAS, a very important part of the services delivered to the Center's nine-county catchment area concerns consultation with various agencies plus education in the form of programs and classes;

THEREFORE, I Parnell Powell, Mayor of the city of Floydada, hereby urge all our citizens to support mental health services in our community; promote their operation and encourage people to use them.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, I have here set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Floydada to be affixed this 10th day of May, 1985.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,

This is in response to the May 9th letter of Mrs. Jackie Wheeler of Silverton, Texas.

Mrs. Wheeler is either uninformed, or like many others, if you mention extra curricular activities, they think only of Sports. There are many activities, just as important, that fall under that name such as: Band, FFA, Speech, Debate, Drama etc. One would think if you read the papers and listen to the reports from Austin, that by doing away with extra curricular activities all the ills of the Public Schools will be solved and there would be no failures. But, the Statistics show the 4th 6 weeks of school, 39% of the students in Texas High Schools were failing one or more courses; yet, only 15% of those participated in extra curricular activities. The 5th 6 week of school, the overall failure rate rose by 2%.

The people I'm associated with are not opposed to the no-pass, no play rule; only the length of the punishment period. We feel that a student who works hard and can bring their grade up in 1 week should be allowed to return to their activity. Recently, one of our State Senators, who is Chairman of the Senate Election Committee, was indicted on a charge of making and distributing pornographic movies as well as distributing Cocaine. This indictment does not mean he's guilty, but it is an indication of a serious problem in that community, as well as other communities across our State. Some of the "Stars" in those movies were teenagers. I had rather my teen-age Grandchildren be on a football field, in a Band Hall or at a Stock Show, as to participate in that type extra curricular activity.

Our Schools and Teachers have been asked to provide many of the things that are the responsibility of the parent, but you cannot legislate parental involvement, nor social and moral values. We should support our Teachers, Coaches and Administrators and let them know you support them in their quest for higher salaries and better working conditions, for, without them our schools could not exist.

I would like to commend Mrs. Wheeler for her work with young people. Anyone willing to donate their time and energy, to enrich a child's life, must be a wonderful person. However, I'm sure, when she begins her workshops, it's not with the expectations of making professional clowns of her young pupils, anymore than Coaches expect their young people to be professional athletes. I'm sure, Mrs. Wheeler and Coaches, share one common goal, and that is the hope, "That each young student they come in contact with, will be a better person for having passed their way."

Powell signs proclamation

Mayor Parnell Powell signed a proclamation in his office, designating the month of May, 1985, as "National Mental Health Month." The mayor urges all citizens to support mental health services in our community, promote their operation and encourage people to use them. Witnessing the Mayor's proclamation were Robert Alldredge, trustee for MHMR and Kathy Himes, Branch Office Manager for Floydada Counseling Center.

The Floydada Counseling Center, located in Room 111, Floyd County

Courthouse, provides professional counseling on an individual, marital or family basis, in addition to psychological testing. A primary objective of the Center is to provide professional help for people who are experiencing problems that interfere with daily living. Nearly everyone has occasional trouble coping with the stresses and strains of modern life. Early attention and assistance often prevent small problems from becoming big ones. For more information about the services available from the Floydada Counseling Center, call 983-2584.

First commemorative stamps purchased by Higginbotham

A 22-cent commemorative stamp was issued on May 11 in Madison, South Dakota, to honor the 50th anniversary of the Rural Electrification Administration (REA). The stamp is now available at the Floydada, Texas post office. The design for the stamp was unveiled February 5, in New Orleans, Louisiana.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt created the REA by Executive Order on May 11, 1935. It was permanently established by Act of Congress on May 20, 1936, which authorized it to serve as a lending agency and develop a program for rural electrification. The REA is now part of the Department of Agriculture.

In 1935, only about one out of 10 farms had electricity. Since its inception, the REA has approved almost $60 billion in loans to assist millions of consumers of electricity and telephone service subscribers. Today, there are almost 1,000 user-owned rural electric systems in the United States, delivering electricity to 25 million rural Americans.

Procedures for ordering first day cancellations are posted at the Floydada post office.

REA STAMP—Floydada postal employee Elvis Warren presents Lighthouse Rural Electric Corporation general manager Alton Higginbotham with the first sheet of stamps commemorating the 50th anniversary of REA. The stamps are now on sale at the local post office.

Old Settlers Day plans finalized

The 57th Annual Floyd County Pioneer Celebration will be held May 25, with registration, under the direction of Mrs. Jonelle Fawver, beginning at 9 a.m. on the courthouse lawn.

Those who have resided in Floyd or adjoining counties for 50 or more years or who lived in Floyd County 50 or more years ago will receive complimentary tickets for the barbecue dinner served at 12 noon and catered by Smokey's Barbecue of Plainview. Extra tickets may be purchased for $4.00 per plate at the pavilion.

The Louis Ray Stapp group of Lockney will furnish music during the lunch hour.

The morning session will include the business meeting, the memorial service by Mrs. Judy Allen, and the recognition of the oldest person present, the outstanding pioneer man and woman of the year, the outstanding pioneer couple, and the person having traveled the furthest distance.

The guest speaker, Mr. J.I. Goins, a Floyd County resident several years ago, will be presented at 11 a.m.

A special feature this year will be an auction sale at 1:30 p.m. of articles of arts, crafts, antiques, etc., donated by artists, craftsmen, and others of the area. The Floyd County Pioneers Association deeply appreciates these donors who are helping the organization pay for the 20-foot extension of the pavilion, which will provide more space for chairs under the canopy.

Anyone who would like to donate an article for sale may take it to the office of Aldine Williams. A minimum value of $25.00 has been suggested for the articles donated. The articles will be auctioned by Sam Fortenberry, Kenneth Gregg, and Tom Assiter as compliments to the Pioneer Association.

President Raymond Martin wishes to emphasize that the pavilion was built not only for the Old Settlers celebration but is available for any group, concerts, family reunions, etc., which are under proper supervision. It is the desire of the organization that the pavilion be of benefit to the public. Anyone wishing to use it should make arrangements with Judge Choise Smith or Sheriff Fred Cardinal. Registration for entering the parade at 2:30 p.m. will be held in the Duncan Abstract office under the supervision of Mrs. Olin Lyles. All organizations, merchants, and individuals are urged to enter a float.

Those entering a float are requested not to plan for those on the float to throw candy, gum, etc. out into the street. Small children dashing out into the street to pick up the candy or gum are in danger of being run over.

Those children who enter the bicycle contest are cautioned to stay in their assigned places in the parade and not to ride into or among other groups. This precaution is given also to avoid accidents.

The winners of the parade prizes will be announced as soon as possible after the parade and the prizes will be awarded at the pavilion.

The annual flower show will be held in the museum under the supervision of Mrs. Carolyn Marble. Prizes are offered in several categories.

A dance will be sponsored by the Old Settlers organization at the Massie Activity Center with music furnished by the Five-Star Band. All ages are invited to attend; it is not just for the pioneers. Men who dance will pay $5.00 admission, and women are admitted free. There is no charge for spectators.

Everyone make your plans to attend this celebration for a full day of entertainment and visitation.

UNCLOUDED DAY—Gospel favorites performed by fresh country talent are part of the 90-minute country music revue headed for Floydada. South Plains College's summer production of Country Caravan is set for a performance on May 25, at 3:30 p.m. on the south side of the courthouse square. The show features excellent vocal talent this season, including (left to right) Justin Mathias, a sophomore from Miami, Texas; Lee Ann Womack, a sophomore from Jacksonville; Tracy Brasell, a sophomore from Lubbock; and Marcla Miller, a sophomore from Duncanville. The gospel favorite "UncloUded Day" is just one of more than 30 country music hits featured in the show. Country Caravan is being sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce in connection with Old Settler's Day.

Students are May artists

Two talented Floydada High School students have art work on display in the lobby of the First National Bank, Floydada, during May. Both young men have shown a keen interest in drawing and painting for a number of years, and are examples of the good result of Art instruction in our school system.

Larry Smith, a graduating senior student, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Smith. His interest in drawing was evident at an early age. "I was interested in cars and trucks," said Larry, "and I began drawing these when I was seven years old."

In Junior High School, Larry enrolled in the art program under Dewane Franklin, and his interest was broadened through instruction. Franklin encouraged him to try drawing portraits, and Larry developed an eye for features. His primary interest still centered on the drawing aspect of art, the pencil drawing media.

"One of the things that has helped me improve is the book, Drawing On The Right Side Of The Brain," Larry continued. "I have learned to see things that people don't normally see or look for. I learned more about the principles and elements of design."

At the first of this year, Larry took oil painting from Donna McClendon, and found another medium of art to explore and enjoy.

In addition to art, Larry played varsity football and basketball, enjoys T.V., and works at the My-T-Burger. He plans to continue his education and become a commercial artist.

Tony Shipley, a junior student in Floydada High School, has a number of works on display in the bank lobby. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shipley, Tony prefers the pencil drawing medium of art. Patrons who attended the dinner-theater presentation of "Harvey" saw examples of Tony's work on the programs.

Shipley has always been very interested in wildlife, and has devoted a lot of time to the study of wildlife and the behavior of animals. This interest is apparent in the realism of his sketches on display. A student of Dewane Franklin, Shipley says that "Mr. Franklin has helped me with my depth perception as well as in many other ways."

Tony strives to make his work detailed and accurate in every respect. He attempts to "get the feel" of the animal that he draws. Among the many artists in the world, he believes that too few try to capture the reality and beauty of the animal world. "I hope that through my art, I can show people some of the nature around them that is being destroyed," said Shipley.

Tony has some of his work on display in the Floyd County Museum as a part of their permanent collection. He plans to continue using his art in the future, not only for pleasure, but toward a related career. Although he has tried a little work in oils, acrylics, pen and ink, he prefers the exacting demands of the pencil.

The First National Bank invites the people of Floydada and the surrounding area to view the art of Larry Smith and Tony Shipley during regular banking hours this month.

Fireworks declared illegal

Floydada now has a comprehensive fireworks ordinance. Passed at the May 14 council meeting, Ordinance #676 prohibits the sale, storage, or use of fireworks within the city limits of Floydada. The new ordinance provides for the confiscation of any illegal fireworks plus a fine of not less than $10.00 and not more than $200.00 per violation. The ordinance becomes effective upon passage and publication.

The Floydada City Council voted unanimously to approve paving Menefee Street from Crockett Street to the alley north of Cedar Street. The action came during the regular meeting of the council. It followed the county commissioners' decision to decline to participate in the paving project. The school board tabled the question at their Monday meeting after learning of the county decision. City officials continue to feel that this is an important project, therefore they voted to approve the measure stating they stand ready to complete the project whenever the county and school board decide they are willing to share the cost of paving the street.

Mayor Parnell Powell reported the withdrawal of Floydada Cable TV's request to close the local office. The office will remain in operation in Floydada under the stipulations of the company franchise. Powell also reported the resignation of Doctor A.E. Guthrie as City Health Officer. The council appointed Doctor Andy Hale to the position which has a token salary of $15.00 per month.

Council members discussed the appointment of a three member utility board to act in an advisory capacity to the council on matters pertaining to local utilities. Mayor Powell stated "I think we are about 20 years late in doing this. A panel of citizens who are 100% interested in what is best for the residents of this town could do a lot for us." The matter will be taken into consideration and addressed following the return of the city manager and further study.

Renewal rates for city employee health and life insurance were approved. Cost for each employee to be covered will be raised $3.87. The city will now pay $46.50 for insurance coverage on each employee. The employee will also have to pay more for family coverage. This cost will increase by $7.53 each month. A request that a dental plan be added to the coverage was made by employees. The request was approved and the city will pay the $5.30 additional cost for each employee. Employees will have to pay an additional $17.30 each month to cover their families under the dental plan.

Bids will be taken on several matters, including painting the exterior brick walls and windows of City Hall and the sale of three city vehicles. Bids will be solicited for the sale of a 1979 Pontiac, 4-door automobile, a 1974 GMC pickup, and a 1971 Chevrolet pickup.

Bidders for the demolition of property on the site of 318 West Ross will be offered the opportunity to withdraw their bid as the property is in the process of being sold and renovated. The council granted a 30 day extension to Dorothy Lloyd. If sale or renovation is not complete at that time, demolition procedures will ensue.

Local resident Beatrice Covington appeared before the council to request that a fire hydrant be installed in her area of town. "We have had two homes destroyed by fire in our neighborhood recently," she said. "The fire department did not have a ready water supply to use on either blaze." The council agreed with the need and will investigate the matter. It will appear on a later agenda.

Friends of Library slate book sale

Adding an additional event to Old Settler's Day, the Floyd County Friends of the Library will sponsor its annual used book sale on May 25 in Floydada. The sale will be held in the building south of Sears on the west side of the square.

Children's books, fiction, biography, science fiction and other books in hardback and paper back will be featured.

Library Friends president Sally Galoway said, "We hope everyone will come to our bargain book sale and, perhaps, find just the book they are looking for."

Floyd County Friends of the Library use all profits from the used book sale to furnish the libraries in Floydada and Lockney with additional equipment which will help make the libraries more useful to the people of Floyd County.

Student council ends year with elections and cookout

by Rickey Benjamin

Elections and a cookout climaxed another great year of good work by the Floydada High School Student Council. Officers for the 1985-86 school year were elected on May 7. Jamie Thayer was selected by the student body to serve as president. Rickey Benjamin will fill the post of secretary. Jeff Matsler will handle the office of treasurer, and Teresa Gentry will be the reporter.

On the evening of May 7, a cookout honoring the faculty was held on the high school patio. The council has worked very hard this year to re-open and develop this particular area. Nice landscaping arrangements now enhance the area along with a redwood deck. The deck was provided by the Jerry Perry family as a memorial to their late daughter, Sheryl Perry.

In addition to enjoying great food, good conversation, and fun, the student council members and the faculty revealed their "secret pals" for the year. The revelation was made by solving a puzzle and exchanging gifts. This idea was contributed by Ronnie Wood who has been very helpful to the council during his first year as principal of Floydada High School.

Students honored as citizen of the month for this semester were David Morren and Lisa Smith (January), Terry King and Jamie Thayer (February), David Beaty and Lisa Enriquez (March), and Rickey Benjamin and Joey Thayer (April).

PLAY IT SAFE AROUND ELECTRICITY

REMEMBER THESE SAFETY TIPS

- Watch for power lines when climbing in trees.
- Do not climb electrical poles, towers or structures.
- Do not trim trees near power lines.
- Do not set ladders or scaffolds near power lines.
- Do not shoot at insulators on poles, towers or structures.
- Never climb on or go inside a substation fence. Call SPS to help you retrieve anything thrown into the substation or caught in its fence.
- Avoid using electrical tools like lawn mowers or hedge clippers when grass and leaves are wet.
- Be careful when digging. Call SPS to find out if there are any buried electrical lines in the area.
- Electrical cords should not be spliced or taped. Repair by shortening them or replace them entirely.
- Beware of exposed wires.
- Don't touch portable appliances (coffee makers, radios, hair dryers, etc.) with wet hands or while standing or sitting in water.
- Don't post signs on utility poles. A lineman hitting a nail with his cleat could slip and fall. Also, nails can snag protective gloves and destroy their insulation value.

Doll program presented to Il Penseroso

Members of the Il Penseroso Jr. Study Club met in the home of Cynthia Bybee April 25. Co-hostesses were Ginger Mathis and Sandra Cummings.

Members present for the meeting were: Cynthia Bybee, Sandra Cummings, Lesca Durham, Cindy Ford, Lynda Gant, Julie Hancock, Judy Jackson, Jessie Johnson, Kathy Kellison, Sharron Kleypas, Kim Lambert, Linda Marr, Kay Martin, Ginger Mathis, Rhonda McCain, Sherry McDonald, Lisa Mosley, Patti Purser, Reeda Cay Smith, Robin Stoerner and Janette Workman.

The program was presented by Mrs. Bill Shugart from Plainview. Her topic for the evening was "Doll Collecting." She gave tips on what dolls to collect, what condition they should be in, how to store dolls and many other tips. She also told about the different kinds of dolls that are valuable now.

The business meeting opened with prayer and roll call was answered with "What was your favorite doll?" Patti Purser returned the donation made for "Project Graduation." She told the club it was cancelled due to lack of money. The craft show was discussed; the attendance for the show was down. It was decided that one more attempt would be made by putting more advertising into it; more people were needed for cleanup.

The blood drive was cancelled because of the fire in Lubbock. They could not afford to come to Lockney for the few that signed up. When the drive is rescheduled, the club wants to encourage much more participation.

A report on the children's packets for the hospital was given. The cost of $90.00 for 100 packets was voted on and passed. The PTA raffle for 1/2 beef was announced. Tickets are on sale for $1.00 each. It was reported that work on the community center would be too expensive for the club to manage. Club members voted to donate $1000.00 to the Ronald McDonald House to be built in Lubbock, a place for families with relatives in the hospital to stay with a home like atmosphere where a room will be designated from Lockney if $15,000.00 is donated in three years.

Officers for next year were elected. They will be: Lisa Mosley, president; Sandra Cummings, vice president; Julie Hancock, secretary; Brenda Mangold, treasurer; Kay Martin, reporter; Patti Purser and Cindy Ford, yearbook.

LACY GOLIGHTLY, daughter of Dayne and Penny Golightly, was 1st alternate winner in talent; and 3rd alternate winner in beauty, in the Kids of America Pageant recently held in Floydada. She competed in the 7-9 year old division.

RYAN WELBORN, son of David and Drew Welborn, was the winner of the 12-23 month old division in the Kids of America Pageant held in Floydada.

KEMBER EVERETT, daughter of Rob and LaShay Everett, won 3rd alternate in the 3-6 year old division of the Kids of America pageant held in Floydada.

Harmony club sees 4-H skit

The Harmony Extension Homemakers Club met in the home of Bess Carr. The president, Blanche Williams called the meeting to order. The hostess read the devotional: Psalms 36:7. The roll call was answered by a fond memory from childhood.

Arvie Schulz led recreation. This was a quiz on television commercials. Blanche Williams gave the council report. The county-wide picnic will be May 28 at Roaring Springs. Guests are invited to go with the club members. They are to meet at the Ag building and be ready to leave at 9:00. Each person is to take a picnic lunch and drinks of their choice.

The program was presented by members of the 4-H club. Jason Brown and Chad Edwards presented a skit on "Ring necked Reserves." They stressed that farmers reserve places for the pheasants to nest and places for their protection. There is an estimated 25,000 pheasants killed each year.

Jennifer Crow and Brittany Gregory presented the skit, Humpty Thump Thump. They stressed appropriate food, feeding schedule, amount of feed, water, salt and cleanliness for rabbits.

These were very interesting and informative programs. These members will present these programs at College Station in June. They will go with their agent, Mary True.

The hostess served refreshments to Anna Maude Hopper, Lucille Miller, Imelda Murry, Juanita Pool, Arvie Schulz, Blanche and the guests, Jason Brown, Chad Edwards, Jennifer Crow, Brittany Gregory and Mary True.

School board discusses capital improvements

Capital improvements were the major topic of discussion at the Floydada Independent School District board meeting on May 13. Superintendent Jerry Cannon stated, "I feel it is wise to spend about $100,000.00 a year on capital improvements for our district. This will help us to maintain the high standards we all want in our facilities."

Among the improvements being considered are the athletic requests for a weight room addition to the field house, aluminum seats for the grandstands, renovation of the fieldhouse parking lot, lights for the track, sidewalks to the fieldhouse, a cedar tree windbreak, renovation of the tennis courts, and renovation of the basketball dressing rooms. A.B. Duncan is being considered for the addition of a physical education facility, and a clock and bell system is under consideration for R.C. Andrews. Installation of a natural gas line to service the science lab at junior high school was requested. New chalkboards, student desks, teacher desks, and chairs have been requested by all schools. High school submitted requests to have curbs and sidewalks repaired, purchase computer software, and install an overhead door in the ag shop as well as paint it.

The board voted to take bids on the P.E. facility at Duncan, the clock and bell system at R.C. Andrews, the weight room, the aluminum grandstand seats, the basketball dressing rooms, and the tennis courts as well as the furniture and chalkboards. Also approved was the installation of the gas line at junior high and the purchase of the computer software for high school. After the bids are received, a decision will be made to determine which of the major projects will be funded this year.

The next order of business at the meeting was the approval of the local career ladder criteria and the appointment of two local teachers to the five member committee. Sally Lyles and Sue Crow will join Jerry Cannon, Ronnie Wood, and Charles Tyer on the local committee. Twenty-four teachers will be appointed to the career ladder after evaluations are completed.

Sherre Cannon reported on the Texas Assessment Basic Skills tests and the results for those students tested this year. The results this year were encouraging, as the percentage of students demonstrating mastery of the various areas covered in the test has increased in almost all levels. All graduating seniors this year have demonstrated a mastery of the exit level TABS test.

Jimmy Collins gave the annual evaluation of the five year plan, the object of which was to improve the reading skills of the students in grades 1 through 9 by 2% on the SRA reading achievement battery and for all students completing Floydada High School to show mastery of the TABS reading tests. The plan was successful in grades 2 and 4, but did not achieve the desired result in the other classes with the exception of the graduating seniors who were 100% successful on their reading TABS tests. The board accepted resignations from Brenda Watson, Rodney Purswell, Tommy Hancock, Opal Ashton, and Cynthia Francis. Hired after due consideration of the board were Diane Mitchell (girls basketball and science for the junior high), Gean Christopher (special education coordinator), and Robert Allan Akers (ag).

Cannon reported that tax collections for the district are 91% collected with collections totaling $836,978.65 and a balance to be collected of $82,750.53. Last year at this time 91.47% had been collected for a total of $879,650.57 collected.

Bill Orman was selected to be the voting delegate to the school board convention in San Antonio in the fall. Hulon Carthel will serve as alternate.

"A Night in Heaven" held

The cafeteria at Duncan Elementary was transformed from the mundane world of daily school lunches on May 11. For an all too brief period last Saturday evening, "A Night in Heaven" beckoned Floydada High School Seniors. The Junior class was responsible for the transformation and the event. Silvery streamers and balloons festooned the room as guests were seated at tables decorated ever so elegantly.

Lynn Mulder served as Toastmistress and Haney Robertson was the Master of Ceremonies for the festivities. Mary Ann Quilantan gave the invocation followed by a welcome speech from Jeff Matsler. Senior Greg Thompson accepted on behalf of the senior class.

The menu for the dinner consisted of chicken Kiev and rice, buttered green beans, tossed salad, cherry cobbler, and tea. A musical group from El Paso, Cimmaron, provided the entertainment. The group performed a music and comedy act which proved to be very popular with those in attendance.

Teresa Gentry gave the benediction after the class sponsors were recognized. Junior class sponsors were Rodney Purswell, Gene Moore, Lee Hurt, Sonya Gore, Julie Morton, and Sharon Lockwood. Senior class sponsors were Polly Cardinal, Mike Vickers, Jan Thayer, Carol Reese, and Robert Lockwood.

The sophomores served the meal and helped with the clearing away that preceded the dancing. All in all, the junior class created a night to remember for the 1985 seniors.

Green Thumbers attend seminar

Green Thumb, an older worker program, is funded by the Department of Labor through Title V of the Older Americans Act. Sponsored by Texas Farmers Union, Green Thumb provides part-time work opportunities for seniors in rural areas. Program operation began in 1970 and currently includes 111 counties employing over 1,000 older Texans who are placed with local non-profit organizations to provide needed community services.

Local Green Thumb workers and sponsors attending the seminar included Kathryn Edwards, June Van Cleve, Mary Adams, Georgia Finley, Allen Rendon, Andres Solis, Lee Campbell, Petrolito Ortiz, and Laverne Carthel.

Cotton production could become profitable again

Plant spacing, plant population and variety selection may be keys to making cotton production on the Texas High Plains profitable again. "For two years in a row now we have seen a very strong impact on yield increases due to changing the row spacing and controlling our plant population," states Dr. Dan Krieg, Crop Physiologist with the Plant and Soil Sciences Department of the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University.

One of the keys to managing production according to Dr. Krieg's research is matching your cotton growth habit, or variety selection, with the amount of water available. "We need to know what we have available in terms of our water supply. Then we need to choose the growth habit of the cotton we are going to plant accordingly."

"We have found that the more indeterminate our variety selection is under irrigated conditions, the less yield we get. But under dryland conditions in our research the indeterminate beat the determinate. So, if you've got water, plant something that is going to grow and mature; something with more determinancy." Determinate cotton varieties are classified as short season cottons, that tend to start fruiting earlier, they make the crop early, and don't have the ability to re-grow in the fall of the year. However, Dr. Krieg states, "If you don't have water and you have to count on rainfall, you want the indeterminate." Indeterminate varieties delay the onset of fruit. They are very responsive to water stress and shed fruit when there is water stress. But if they get a rain, they have the ability to come back.

Another important aspect of Dr. Krieg's research deals with the plant population operators normally have. "All of our research has been done at a constant plant population of 40,000 plants per acre," states Dr. Krieg.

"We have been planting one seed per two inches, or six seeds per foot of row, and then we hope that we only get three of those six to survive."

"What I want to emphasize is that plant population control is first and foremost the most critical factor. If you can control that population, and don't get beyond 50,000 plants per acre, then you can make that plant work in the temperature environment we have to live with. You can get earlier development and more mature fiber just by reducing the population."

"In our research during 1983 and 1984 we have been looking at three different plant spacings as far as changing the width within the row," Dr. Krieg explains. "We used the traditional 40-inch row, a 30-inch row and then two rows per bed on 40-inch centers spaced 12 inches apart. Basically all we are doing is giving each plant a little more room."

"One of our biggest problems out here is water use efficiency. Our average rainfall is less than desirable, but at the same time if we use that water which is available to us properly, and make as much of that water go through the plant and not lose it to runoff and free evaporation, we can do quite well with the rainfall we get. So, our purpose is to try to change the amount of total water available and give the plant an opportunity to have more of that total water supply and not lose so much to evaporation."

In summary, population control according to Krieg's two year's of field research is the single most critical factor. The secondly, if you can change row spacings and select your variety properly based upon your water, then you can make more yield and consequently profit gains in cotton production in the High Plains of Texas.

Soil Stewardship Week is May 12-19

Soil Stewardship Week is May 12-19, and its purpose is to call greater attention to soil and water conservation.

Theme of this year's nationwide observance is "Tomorrow Together."

This year's theme focuses on human survival, which is dependent on other living things, such as grasses and grain, fishes and birds, and wild and domestic animals, as well as on soil and water.

"Together, we must think about ways to preserve and renew the topsoil from which all our food comes," emphasizes Dr. B.L. Harris, soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Together, we must work to purify and protect our waters."

The Extension Service is joining the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the State Board plus the Soil Conservation Service and others in this weeklong observance, which was begun in 1955.

1985 is the 50th anniversary of the state and federal agencies established during the "Dirty '30s" to combat erosion, notes Harris. During that Dust Bowl era, local soil and water conservation districts, the State Soil and Water

Many area lakes and ponds have poor quality fish populations

The relaxing moments fishing provides can turn to frustration for many West Texas anglers when they catch a lot of fish but none big enough to keep for the frying pan.

The problem is that many lakes and ponds in West Texas have poor quality fish populations, according to Texas Tech University wildlife management Professor Brian R. Murphy.

"Many of the lakes and stock tanks in our area are dominated by crappie and other sunfish," Murphy said. "Because there are so many crappie, they have forced out the bass populations and have even stunted their own growth rates."

Murphy has conducted experiments on a 35-acre private lake near Matador to see if introducing a hybrid striped bass will help control the crappie populations.

The traditional management technique — drawing down lakes before chemical reclamation and restocking — to control unwanted fish species is not practical in West Texas. With the arid conditions, Murphy said draining lakes and ponds is unwise because it may be a long time before enough rains fill them again.

Murphy also said that without draw-down techniques the average costs of using the chemical rotenone and then restocking can be prohibitive for the private individual wishing to upgrade his tank for the fishing enjoyment of family and friends.

Murphy said it appears his technique may be much more inexpensive than the traditional methods. The cost of using rotenone and restocking usually runs about $8,000. The costs for his work on Matador lake were only about $2,500.

In 1982, Murphy and his associates sprayed the shallow water areas of the Matador lake along the bank with rotenone where most of the small crappie feed. They then introduced five-to-eight-inch advanced fingerlings to control the unwanted fish and to replenish the bass population.

Murphy said results showed the crappie population had been significantly reduced by 1984 and the remaining fish had increased in average length.

Before Murphy began his work, the crappie averaged only about seven inches at four years of age in 1982 because of the overcrowding. In the spring of 1984 surveys of the lake showed a 128 percent increase in length, he said.

"You can catch all the crappie you want, but if they're only three to five inches long, they're just not big enough to eat. The average four year old crappie should be 11-12 inches and if the conditions are too crowded they just won't grow like they should," he said.

Though this is the first time Murphy has used this species management technique, he believes he may have found an inexpensive and successful means to maintain proper balances in West Texas fishing lakes and ponds.

depend on it. Our farmland is under a lot of pressure—from erosion, urbanization and pollution. Everyone can help conserve our natural resources," he says.

Conservation Board, the Soil Conservation Service, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and other units of government were founded to improve the delivery of soil conservation information and techniques to farmers and ranchers.

Now that job has expanded to include work with urban and suburban citizens in protecting construction sites, school yards, shorelines and parks from erosion. Efforts are also made to clean up the nation's waters, Harris says.

"We must all make a commitment to protect our natural resources, for it is from them that we reap the food and fiber that enable our very existence," emphasizes Harris.

"We must accept primary responsibility as caretakers of God's earth," adds the specialist. "We are prepared to eat the fruit, but often we leave the task of caring for the land to a handful of people who sincerely care about perpetuating our forests, preserving our rivers and renewing the topsoil."

Harris emphasizes that there is no time like the present to join the common commitment to soil and water conservation. "Our long-range food supply may

Solar Powered Surge

P & R Surge Systems introduces the AUTO PRO CONTROLLER with solar power, completely internal batteries, and an automatic setting for progressively lengthening surge cycle times. The AUTO PRO is totally energy self sufficient. A solar panel mounted to its lid continuously trickle charges the enclosed battery pack. In the absence of any sun, the batteries will sustain the system for 15 days. With an average of only 3 hours of sun a day, the system will run perpetually. The controller offers both manually programmable cycle/time settings and a user-simple auto mode.

In the manual mode the user can set one, two, three, or up to four different programs of any time and number of cycles to run one after another. In the auto mode the user sets one number—an 'out time'. The controller automatically sets cycles and progressively longer surge times to push the water out to the end of the field. It then automatically changes to a constant surge time for continuous cycling. The controller holds both the manual and auto modes in memory simultaneously.

The cast aluminum butterfly surge valve is tough, small, light and easy to move. Five valve sizes are available to fit 4.6, 7.8 and 10 inch gated pipe. They are portable, weighing from 20 to 55 lbs., and compact in widths from 20 to 30 inches including couplers.

P & R also offers an inexpensive controller with a single program for continuous cycling (solar optional). For information contact Perry Farm Machinery, 1202 Plainview Hwy. 667-3505.

Vocational students make trip to Roaring Springs

by Melissa Perez
 Friday, May 10th, the Junior High and High School FHA-HERO and boys vocational classes went on a trip to Roaring Springs Ranch Club. When we got there we found our camping space and we waited until Mrs. Williams and the High School got there. We had signed up into work committees and we set up the grills and the food for the bar-b-que.

When the High School got there Coach Cocanougher and Mrs. Cocanougher took us swimming. We swam for 45 minutes and then went back to the bus. When we got back we ate and then went walking and hiking.

We had the choices of going walking, playing volleyball, mountain climbing and walking in the river. When we left the club it was about 9:00 p.m. We had been there since 5:30 p.m.

The food was cooked by Michael Smith and Leonard King. We had hamburgers, hot dogs, cold drinks, chips and cookies. The boys who were signed up to cook went swimming, so Leonard and Michael stepped in and did the job. They had the food ready when we got through swimming.

The girls cooked and prepared all last week to get ready. The boys did the work at the camp. We all helped clean up the camp.

Mr. Dale Smith and Mr. Al Galloway drove the buses. Mr. and Mrs. James Lovell and John Collins, and Mrs. Joyce Williams went with us.

Many of the students said they had a lot of fun and hoped we could go again sometime. The teachers said everyone behaved and no parents had to be called. About 65 attended.

Card of Thanks

FLOYDADA --- OUR TOWN

Twice in the last five years the realization has come to us in a very real and personal way of what it really means to live in Floydada:

It means being blessed by having a hospital staffed with good and dedicated people who care about you and show that they do.

It means having a doctor who is genuinely interested in you as a patient and a friend, and who does everything he can to make you well.

It means friends being with you when you need them most.

It means people calling and coming to see you asking, "What can we do help?"

It means receiving 110 "get-well" cards - books - plants - flowers - food - and other gifts and good wishes.

It means friends and neighbors doing chores and errands for you -- taking care of your yard - your mail - and looking in on your mother.

It means local merchants and businesses going out of their way to see that you have something you need.

It means going to town, or in a store, and everyone you meet asking, "How's Bill feeling? Tell him we're thinking about him and praying for him."

It means having a minister who is truly a "Pastor" and not just a "Preacher."

It means knowing that there are special prayers being said for you in many of our local churches--not just the one you belong to.

It means your employer saying, "Take all the time you need--We understand," and knowing that your fellow employees will get the job done in your absence.

It means experiencing the love and caring of Christian people. That doesn't happen anywhere--but it does in Floydada.

We haven't mentioned any names for fear of leaving someone out -- but you know who you are and what you did -- and we love you and thank you for everything.

Sincerely,
Bill and Norma
